2 Samuel 12:19 When David saw that his servants were whispering to one another, he realized that the child was dead. So David asked his servants, “Is the child dead?” They replied, “Yes, he’s dead.”

2 Samuel 12:20 So David got up from the ground, bathed, put on oil, and changed his clothes. He went to the house of the LORD and worshiped. Then, when he entered his palace, he requested that food be brought to him, and he ate.

2 Samuel 12:21 His servants said to him, “What is this that you have done? While the child was still alive, you fasted and wept. Once the child was dead you got up and ate food!”

2 Samuel 12:22 He replied, “While the child was still alive, I fasted and wept because I thought, ‘Perhaps the LORD will show pity and the child will live.

2 Samuel 12:23 But now he is dead. Why should I fast? Am I able to bring him back? I will go to him, but he cannot return to me!"‍"

2 Samuel 12:24 So David comforted his wife Bathsheba. He went to her and had marital relations with her. She gave birth to a son, and David named him Solomon. Now the LORD loved the child

2 Samuel 12:25 and sent word through Nathan the prophet that he should be named Jedidiah for the LORD's sake.

2 Samuel 12:26 So Joab fought against Rabbah of the Ammonites and captured the royal city.

2 Samuel 12:27 Joab then sent messengers to David, saying, "I have fought against Rabbah and have captured the water supply of the city.

2 Samuel 12:28 So now assemble the rest of the army and besiege the city and capture it. Otherwise I will capture the city and it will be named for me."

2 Samuel 12:29 So David assembled all the army and went to Rabbah and fought against it and captured it.

2 Samuel 12:30 He took the crown of their king from his head– it was gold, weighed about seventy-five pounds, and held a precious stone– and it was placed on David's head. He also took from the city a great deal of plunder.

2 Samuel 12:31 He removed the people who were in it and made them do hard labor with saws, iron picks, and iron axes, putting them to work at the brick kiln. This was his policy with all the Ammonite cities. Then David and all the army returned to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 13:1 Now David's son Absalom had a beautiful sister named Tamar. In the course of time David's son Amnon fell madly in love with her.

2 Samuel 13:2 But Amnon became frustrated because he was so lovesick over his sister Tamar. For she was a virgin, and to Amnon it seemed out of the question to do anything to her.

2 Samuel 13:3 Now Amnon had a friend named Jonadab, the son of David's brother Shimeah. Jonadab was a very crafty man.

2 Samuel 13:4 He asked Amnon, "Why are you, the king's son, so depressed every morning? Can't you tell me?" So Amnon said to him, "I'm in love with Tamar the sister of my brother Absalom."

2 Samuel 13:5 Jonadab replied to him, "Lie down on your bed and pretend to be sick. When your father comes in to see you, say to him, 'Please let my sister Tamar come in so she can fix some food for me. Let her prepare the food in my sight so I can watch. Then I will eat from her hand.'"

2 Samuel 13:6 So Amnon lay down and pretended to be sick. When the king came in to see him, Amnon said to the king, "Please let my sister

Tamar come in so she can make a couple of cakes in my sight. Then I will eat from her hand."

2 Samuel 13:7 So David sent Tamar to the house saying, "Please go to the house of Amnon your brother and prepare some food for him."

2 Samuel 13:8 So Tamar went to the house of Amnon her brother, who was lying down. She took the dough, kneaded it, made some cakes while he watched, and baked them.

2 Samuel 13:9 But when she took the pan and set it before him, he refused to eat. Instead Amnon said, "Get everyone out of here!" So everyone left.

2 Samuel 13:10 Then Amnon said to Tamar, "Bring the cakes into the bedroom; then I will eat from your hand." So Tamar took the cakes that she had prepared and brought them to her brother Amnon in the bedroom.

2 Samuel 13:11 As she brought them to him to eat, he grabbed her and said to her, "Come on! Get in bed with me, my sister!"

2 Samuel 13:12 But she said to him, "No, my brother! Don't humiliate me! This just isn't done in Israel! Don't do this foolish thing!

2 Samuel 13:13 How could I ever be rid of my humiliation? And you would be considered one of the fools in Israel! Just speak to the king, for he will not withhold me from you."

2 Samuel 13:14 But he refused to listen to her. He overpowered her and humiliated her by raping her.

2 Samuel 13:15 Then Amnon greatly despised her. His disdain toward her surpassed the love he had previously felt toward her. Amnon said to her, "Get up and leave!"

2 Samuel 13:16 But she said to him, "No I won't, for sending me away now would be worse than what you did to me earlier!" But he refused to listen to her.

2 Samuel 13:17 He called his personal attendant and said to him, "Take this woman out of my sight and lock the door behind her!"

2 Samuel 13:18 (Now she was wearing a long robe, for this is what the king's virgin daughters used to wear.) So Amnon's attendant removed her and bolted the door behind her.

2 Samuel 13:19 Then Tamar put ashes on her head and tore the long robe she was wearing. She put her hands on her head and went on her way, wailing as she went.

2 Samuel 13:20 Her brother Absalom said to her, "Was Amnon your brother with you? Now be quiet, my sister. He is your brother. Don't take it so seriously!" Tamar, devastated, lived in the house of her brother Absalom.

2 Samuel 13:21 Now King David heard about all these things and was very angry.

2 Samuel 13:22 But Absalom said nothing to Amnon, either bad or good, yet Absalom hated Amnon because he had humiliated his sister Tamar.

2 Samuel 13:23 Two years later Absalom’s sheepshearers were in Baal Hazor, near Ephraim. Absalom invited all the king’s sons.

2 Samuel 13:24 Then Absalom went to the king and said, “My shearers have begun their work. Let the king and his servants go with me.”

2 Samuel 13:25 But the king said to Absalom, “No, my son. We shouldn’t all go. We shouldn’t burden you in that way.” Though Absalom pressed him, the king was not willing to go. Instead, David blessed him.

2 Samuel 13:26 Then Absalom said, “If you will not go, then let my brother Amnon go with us.” The king replied to him, “Why should he go with you?”

2 Samuel 13:27 But when Absalom pressed him, he sent Amnon and all the king’s sons along with him.

2 Samuel 13:28 Absalom instructed his servants, “Look! When Amnon is drunk and I say to you, ‘Strike Amnon down,’ kill him then and there. Don’t fear! Is it not I who have given you these instructions? Be strong and courageous!”

2 Samuel 13:29 So Absalom’s servants did to Amnon exactly what Absalom had instructed. Then all the king’s sons got up; each one rode away on his mule and fled.

2 Samuel 13:30 While they were still on their way, the following report reached David: “Absalom has killed all the king’s sons; not one of them is left!”

2 Samuel 13:31 Then the king stood up and tore his garments and lay down on the ground. All his servants were standing there with torn garments as well.

2 Samuel 13:32 Jonadab, the son of David’s brother Shimeah, said, “My lord should not say, ‘They have killed all the young men who are the king’s sons.’ For only Amnon is dead. This is what Absalom has talked about from the day that Amnon humiliated his sister Tamar.

2 Samuel 13:33 Now don’t let my lord the king be concerned about the report that has come saying, ‘All the king’s sons are dead.’ It is only Amnon who is dead.”

2 Samuel 13:34 In the meantime Absalom fled. When the servant who was the watchman looked up, he saw many people coming from the west on a road beside the hill.

2 Samuel 13:35 Jonadab said to the king, “Look! The king’s sons have come! It’s just as I said!”

2 Samuel 13:36 Just as he finished speaking, the king’s sons arrived, wailing and weeping. The king and all his servants wept loudly as well.

2 Samuel 13:37 But Absalom fled and went to King Talmai son of Ammihud of Geshur. And David grieved over his son every day.

2 Samuel 13:38 After Absalom fled and went to Geshur, he remained there for three years.

2 Samuel 13:39 The king longed to go to Absalom, for he had since been consoled over the death of Amnon.

2 Samuel 14:1 Now Joab son of Zeruiah realized that the king longed to see Absalom.

2 Samuel 14:2 So Joab sent to Tekoa and brought from there a wise woman. He told her, “Pretend to be in mourning and put on garments for mourning. Don’t anoint yourself with oil. Instead, act like a woman who has been mourning for the dead for some time.

2 Samuel 14:3 Go to the king and speak to him in the following fashion.” Then Joab told her what to say.

2 Samuel 14:4 So the Tekoan woman went to the king. She bowed down with her face to the ground in deference to him and said, “Please help me, O king!”

2 Samuel 14:5 The king replied to her, “What do you want?” She answered, “I am a widow; my husband is dead.

2 Samuel 14:6 Your servant has two sons. When the two of them got into a fight in the field, there was no one present who could intervene. One of them struck the other and killed him.

2 Samuel 14:7 Now the entire family has risen up against your servant, saying, ‘Turn over the one who struck down his brother, so that we can execute him and avenge the death of his brother whom he killed. In so doing we will also destroy the heir.’ They want to extinguish my remaining coal, leaving no one on the face of the earth to carry on the name of my husband.”

2 Samuel 14:8 Then the king told the woman, “Go to your home. I will give instructions concerning your situation.”

2 Samuel 14:9 The Tekoan woman said to the king, “My lord the king, let any blame fall on me and on the house of my father. But let the king and his throne be innocent!”

2 Samuel 14:10 The king said, “Bring to me whoever speaks to you, and he won’t bother you again!”

2 Samuel 14:11 She replied, “In that case, let the king invoke the name of the LORD your God so that the avenger of blood may not kill! Then they will not destroy my son!” He replied, “As surely as the LORD lives, not a single hair of your son’s head will fall to the ground.”

2 Samuel 14:12 Then the woman said, “Please permit your servant to speak to my lord the king about another matter.” He replied, “Tell me.”

2 Samuel 14:13 The woman said, “Why have you devised something like this against God’s people? When the king speaks in this fashion, he makes himself guilty, for the king has not brought back the one he has banished.

2 Samuel 14:14 Certainly we must die, and are like water spilled on the ground that cannot be gathered up again. But God does not take away life; instead he devises ways for the banished to be restored.

2 Samuel 14:15 I have now come to speak with my lord the king about this matter, because the people have made me fearful. But your servant said, ‘I will speak to the king! Perhaps the king will do what his female servant asks.

2 Samuel 14:16 Yes! The king may listen and deliver his female servant from the hand of the man who seeks to remove both me and my son from the inheritance God has given us!’

2 Samuel 14:17 So your servant said, ‘May the word of my lord the king be my security, for my lord the king is like the angel of God when it comes to deciding between right and wrong! May the LORD your God be with you!’“

2 Samuel 14:18 Then the king replied to the woman, “Don’t hide any information from me when I question you.” The woman said, “Let my lord the king speak!”

2 Samuel 14:19 The king said, “Did Joab put you up to all of this?” The woman answered, “As surely as you live, my lord the king, there is no deviation to the right or to the left from all that my lord the king has said. For your servant Joab gave me instructions. He has put all these words in your servant’s mouth.

2 Samuel 14:20 Your servant Joab did this so as to change this situation. But my lord has wisdom like that of the angel of God, and knows everything that is happening in the land.”

2 Samuel 14:21 Then the king said to Joab, “All right! I will do this thing! Go and bring back the young man Absalom!

2 Samuel 14:22 Then Joab bowed down with his face toward the ground and thanked the king. Joab said, “Today your servant knows that I have found favor in your sight, my lord the king, because the king has granted the request of your servant!”

2 Samuel 14:23 So Joab got up and went to Geshur and brought Absalom back to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 14:24 But the king said, “Let him go over to his own house. He may not see my face.” So Absalom went over to his own house; he did not see the king’s face.

2 Samuel 14:25 Now in all Israel everyone acknowledged that there was no man as handsome as Absalom. From the sole of his feet to the top of his head he was perfect in appearance.

2 Samuel 14:26 When he would shave his head– at the end of every year he used to shave his head, for it grew too long and he would shave it– he used to weigh the hair of his head at three pounds according to the king’s weight.

2 Samuel 14:27 Absalom had three sons and one daughter, whose name was Tamar. She was a very attractive woman.

2 Samuel 14:28 Absalom lived in Jerusalem for two years without seeing the king’s face.

2 Samuel 14:29 Then Absalom sent a message to Joab asking him to send him to the king, but Joab was not willing to come to him. So he sent a second message to him, but he still was not willing to come.

2 Samuel 14:30 So he said to his servants, “Look, Joab has a portion of field adjacent to mine and he has some barley there. Go and set it on fire.” So Absalom’s servants set Joab’s portion of the field on fire.

2 Samuel 14:31 Then Joab got up and came to Absalom’s house. He said to him, “Why did your servants set my portion of field on fire?”

2 Samuel 14:32 Absalom said to Joab, “Look, I sent a message to you saying, ‘Come here so that I can send you to the king with this message: “Why have I come from Geshur? It would be better for me if I were still there.”‘ Let me now see the face of the king. If I am at fault, let him put me to death!”

2 Samuel 14:33 So Joab went to the king and informed him. The king summoned Absalom, and he came to the king. Absalom bowed down before the king with his face toward the ground and the king kissed him.

2 Samuel 15:1 Some time later Absalom managed to acquire a chariot and horses, as well as fifty men to serve as his royal guard.

2 Samuel 15:2 Now Absalom used to get up early and stand beside the road that led to the city gate. Whenever anyone came by who had a complaint to bring to the king for arbitration, Absalom would call out to him, “What city are you from?” The person would answer, “I, your servant, am from one of the tribes of Israel.”

2 Samuel 15:3 Absalom would then say to him, “Look, your claims are legitimate and appropriate. But there is no representative of the king who will listen to you.”

2 Samuel 15:4 Absalom would then say, “If only they would make me a judge in the land! Then everyone who had a judicial complaint could come to me and I would make sure he receives a just settlement.”

2 Samuel 15:5 When someone approached to bow before him, Absalom would extend his hand and embrace him and kiss him.

2 Samuel 15:6 Absalom acted this way toward everyone in Israel who came to the king for justice. In this way Absalom won the loyalty of the citizens of Israel.

2 Samuel 15:7 After four years Absalom said to the king, “Let me go and repay my vow that I made to the LORD while I was in Hebron.

2 Samuel 15:8 For I made this vow when I was living in Geshur in Aram: ‘If the LORD really does allow me to return to Jerusalem, I will serve the LORD.’“

2 Samuel 15:9 The king replied to him, “Go in peace.” So Absalom got up and went to Hebron.

2 Samuel 15:10 Then Absalom sent spies through all the tribes of Israel who said, “When you hear the sound of the horn, you may assume that Absalom rules in Hebron.”

2 Samuel 15:11 Now two hundred men had gone with Absalom from Jerusalem. Since they were invited, they went naively and were unaware of what Absalom was planning.

2 Samuel 15:12 While he was offering sacrifices, Absalom sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David’s adviser, to come from his city, Giloh. The conspiracy was gaining momentum, and the people were starting to side with Absalom.

2 Samuel 15:13 Then a messenger came to David and reported, “The men of Israel are loyal to Absalom!”

2 Samuel 15:14 So David said to all his servants who were with him in Jerusalem, “Come on! Let’s escape! Otherwise no one will be delivered from Absalom! Go immediately, or else he will quickly overtake us and bring disaster on us and kill the city’s residents with the sword.”

2 Samuel 15:15 The king’s servants replied to the king, “We will do whatever our lord the king decides.”

2 Samuel 15:16 So the king and all the members of his royal court set out on foot, though the king left behind ten concubines to attend to the palace.

2 Samuel 15:17 The king and all the people set out on foot, pausing at a spot some distance away.

2 Samuel 15:18 All his servants were leaving with him, along with all the Kerethites, all the Pelethites, and all the Gittites– some six hundred men who had come on foot from Gath. They were leaving with the king.

2 Samuel 15:19 Then the king said to Ittai the Gittite, “Why should you come with us? Go back and stay with the new king, for you are a foreigner and an exile from your own country.

2 Samuel 15:20 It seems like you arrived just yesterday. Today should I make you wander around by going with us? I go where I must go. But as for you, go back and take your men with you. May genuine loyal love protect you!”

2 Samuel 15:21 But Ittai replied to the king, “As surely as the LORD lives and as my lord the king lives, wherever my lord the king is, whether dead or alive, there I will be as well!”

2 Samuel 15:22 So David said to Ittai, “Come along then.” So Ittai the Gittite went along, accompanied by all his men and all the dependents who were with him.

2 Samuel 15:23 All the land was weeping loudly as all these people were leaving. As the king was crossing over the Kidron Valley, all the people were leaving on the road that leads to the desert.

2 Samuel 15:24 Zadok and all the Levites who were with him were carrying the ark of the covenant of God. When they positioned the ark of God, Abiathar offered sacrifices until all the people had finished leaving the city.

2 Samuel 15:25 Then the king said to Zadok, “Take the ark of God back to the city. If I find favor in the LORD’s sight he will bring me back and enable me to see both it and his dwelling place again.

2 Samuel 15:26 However, if he should say, ‘I do not take pleasure in you,’ then he will deal with me in a way that he considers appropriate.”

2 Samuel 15:27 The king said to Zadok the priest, “Are you a seer? Go back to the city in peace! Your son Ahimaaz and Abiathar’s son Jonathan may go with you and Abiathar.

2 Samuel 15:28 Look, I will be waiting at the fords of the desert until word from you reaches me.”

2 Samuel 15:29 So Zadok and Abiathar took the ark of God back to Jerusalem and remained there.

2 Samuel 15:30 As David was going up the Mount of Olives, he was weeping as he went; his head was covered and his feet were bare. All the people who were with him also had their heads covered and were weeping as they went up.

2 Samuel 15:31 Now David had been told, “Ahithophel has sided with the conspirators who are with Absalom. So David prayed, “Make the advice of Ahithophel foolish, O LORD!”

2 Samuel 15:32 When David reached the summit, where he used to worship God, Hushai the Arkite met him with his clothes torn and dirt on his head.

2 Samuel 15:33 David said to him, “If you leave with me you will be a burden to me.

2 Samuel 15:34 But you will be able to counter the advice of Ahithophel if you go back to the city and say to Absalom, ‘I will be your servant, O king! Previously I was your father’s servant, and now I will be your servant.’

2 Samuel 15:35 Zadok and Abiathar the priests will be there with you. Everything you hear in the king’s palace you must tell Zadok and Abiathar the priests.

2 Samuel 15:36 Furthermore, their two sons are there with them, Zadok’s son Ahimaaz and Abiathar’s son Jonathan. You must send them to me with any information you hear.”

2 Samuel 15:37 So David’s friend Hushai arrived in the city, just as Absalom was entering Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 16:1 When David had gone a short way beyond the summit, Ziba the servant of Mephibosheth was there to meet him. He had a couple of donkeys that were saddled, and on them were two hundred loaves of bread, a hundred raisin cakes, a hundred baskets of summer fruit, and a container of wine.

2 Samuel 16:2 The king asked Ziba, “Why did you bring these things?” Ziba replied, “The donkeys are for the king’s family to ride on, the loaves of bread and the summer fruit are for the attendants to eat, and the wine is for those who get exhausted in the desert.”

2 Samuel 16:3 The king asked, “Where is your master’s grandson?” Ziba replied to the king, “He remains in Jerusalem, for he said, ‘Today the house of Israel will give back to me my grandfather’s kingdom.’“

2 Samuel 16:4 The king said to Ziba, “Everything that was Mephibosheth’s now belongs to you.” Ziba replied, “I bow before you. May I find favor in your sight, my lord the king.”

2 Samuel 16:5 Then King David reached Bahurim. There a man from Saul’s extended family named Shimei son of Gera came out, yelling curses as he approached.

2 Samuel 16:6 He threw stones at David and all of King David’s servants, as well as all the people and the soldiers who were on his right and on his left.

2 Samuel 16:7 As he yelled curses, Shimei said, “Leave! Leave! You man of bloodshed, you wicked man!

2 Samuel 16:8 The LORD has punished you for all the spilled blood of the house of Saul, in whose place you rule. Now the LORD has given the kingdom into the hand of your son Absalom. Disaster has overtaken you, for you are a man of bloodshed!”

2 Samuel 16:9 Then Abishai son of Zeruiah said to the king, “Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? Let me go over and cut off his head!”

2 Samuel 16:10 But the king said, “What do we have in common, you sons of Zeruiah? If he curses because the LORD has said to him, ‘Curse David!’, who can say to him, ‘Why have you done this?’“

2 Samuel 16:11 Then David said to Abishai and to all his servants, “My own son, my very own flesh and blood, is trying to take my life. So also now this Benjaminite! Leave him alone so that he can curse, for the LORD has spoken to him.

2 Samuel 16:12 Perhaps the LORD will notice my affliction and this day grant me good in place of his curse.”

2 Samuel 16:13 So David and his men went on their way. But Shimei kept going along the side of the hill opposite him, yelling curses as he threw stones and dirt at them.

2 Samuel 16:14 The king and all the people who were with him arrived exhausted at their destination, where David refreshed himself.

2 Samuel 16:15 Now when Absalom and all the men of Israel arrived in Jerusalem, Ahithophel was with him.

2 Samuel 16:16 When David’s friend Hushai the Arkite came to Absalom, Hushai said to him, “Long live the king! Long live the king!”

2 Samuel 16:17 Absalom said to Hushai, “Do you call this loyalty to your friend? Why didn’t you go with your friend?”

2 Samuel 16:18 Hushai replied to Absalom, “No, I will be loyal to the one whom the LORD, these people, and all the men of Israel have chosen.

2 Samuel 16:19 Moreover, whom should I serve? Should it not be his son? Just as I served your father, so I will serve you.”

2 Samuel 16:20 Then Absalom said to Ahithophel, “Give us your advice. What should we do?”

2 Samuel 16:21 Ahithophel replied to Absalom, “Have sex with your father’s concubines whom he left to care for the palace. All Israel will hear that you have made yourself repulsive to your father. Then your followers will be motivated to support you.”

2 Samuel 16:22 So they pitched a tent for Absalom on the roof, and Absalom had sex with his father’s concubines in the sight of all Israel.

2 Samuel 16:23 In those days Ahithophel’s advice was considered as valuable as a prophetic revelation. Both David and Absalom highly regarded the advice of Ahithophel.

2 Samuel 17:1 Ahithophel said to Absalom, “Let me pick out twelve thousand men. Then I will go and pursue David this very night.

2 Samuel 17:2 When I catch up with him he will be exhausted and worn out. I will rout him, and the entire army that is with him will flee. I will kill only the king

2 Samuel 17:3 and will bring the entire army back to you. In exchange for the life of the man you are seeking, you will get back everyone. The entire army will return unharmed.”

2 Samuel 17:4 This seemed like a good idea to Absalom and to all the leaders of Israel.

2 Samuel 17:5 But Absalom said, “Call for Hushai the Arkite, and let’s hear what he has to say.”

2 Samuel 17:6 So Hushai came to Absalom. Absalom said to him, “Here is what Ahithophel has advised. Should we follow his advice? If not, what would you recommend?”

2 Samuel 17:7 Hushai replied to Absalom, “Ahithophel’s advice is not sound this time.”

2 Samuel 17:8 Hushai went on to say, “You know your father and his men– they are soldiers and are as dangerous as a bear out in the wild that has been robbed of her cubs. Your father is an experienced soldier; he will not stay overnight with the army.

2 Samuel 17:9 At this very moment he is hiding out in one of the caves or in some other similar place. If it should turn out that he attacks our troops first, whoever hears about it will say, ‘Absalom’s army has been slaughtered!’

2 Samuel 17:10 If that happens even the bravest soldier– one who is lion-hearted– will virtually melt away. For all Israel knows that your father is a warrior and that those who are with him are brave.

2 Samuel 17:11 My advice therefore is this: Let all Israel from Dan to Beer Sheba– in number like the sand by the sea!– be mustered to you, and you lead them personally into battle.

2 Samuel 17:12 We will come against him wherever he happens to be found. We will descend on him like the dew falls on the ground. Neither he nor any of the men who are with him will be spared alive– not one of them!

2 Samuel 17:13 If he regroups in a city, all Israel will take up ropes to that city and drag it down to the valley, so that not a single pebble will be left there!”

2 Samuel 17:14 Then Absalom and all the men of Israel said, “The advice of Hushai the Arkite sounds better than the advice of Ahithophel.” Now the LORD had decided to frustrate the sound advice of Ahithophel, so that the LORD could bring disaster on Absalom.

2 Samuel 17:15 Then Hushai reported to Zadok and Abiathar the priests, “Here is what Ahithophel has advised Absalom and the leaders of Israel to do, and here is what I have advised.

2 Samuel 17:16 Now send word quickly to David and warn him, “Don’t spend the night at the fords of the desert tonight. Instead, be sure you cross over, or else the king and everyone who is with him may be overwhelmed.”

2 Samuel 17:17 Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz were staying in En Rogel. A female servant would go and inform them, and they would then go and inform King David. It was not advisable for them to be seen going into the city.

2 Samuel 17:18 But a young man saw them on one occasion and informed Absalom. So the two of them quickly departed and went to the house of a man in Bahurim. There was a well in his courtyard, and they got down in it.

2 Samuel 17:19 His wife then took the covering and spread it over the top of the well and scattered some grain over it. No one was aware of what she had done.

2 Samuel 17:20 When the servants of Absalom approached the woman at her home, they asked, “Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?” The woman replied to them, “They crossed over the stream.” Absalom’s men searched but did not find them, so they returned to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 17:21 After the men had left, Ahimaaz and Jonathan climbed out of the well. Then they left and informed King David. They advised David, “Get up and cross the stream quickly, for Ahithophel has devised a plan to catch you.”

2 Samuel 17:22 So David and all the people who were with him got up and crossed the Jordan River. By dawn there was not one person left who had not crossed the Jordan.

2 Samuel 17:23 When Ahithophel realized that his advice had not been followed, he saddled his donkey and returned to his house in his hometown. After setting his household in order, he hanged himself. So he died and was buried in the grave of his father.

2 Samuel 17:24 Meanwhile David had gone to Mahanaim, while Absalom and all the men of Israel had crossed the Jordan River.

2 Samuel 17:25 Absalom had made Amasa general in command of the army in place of Joab. (Now Amasa was the son of an Israelite man named Jether, who had married Abigail the daughter of Nahash and sister of Zeruiah, Joab’s mother.)

2 Samuel 17:26 The army of Israel and Absalom camped in the land of Gilead.

2 Samuel 17:27 When David came to Mahanaim, Shobi the son of Nahash from Rabbah of the Ammonites, Makir the son of Ammiel from Lo Debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite from Rogelim

2 Samuel 17:28 brought bedding, basins, and pottery utensils. They also brought food for David and all who were with him, including wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, lentils,

2 Samuel 17:29 honey, curds, flocks, and cheese. For they said, “The people are no doubt hungry, tired, and thirsty there in the desert.”

2 Samuel 18:1 David assembled the army that was with him. He appointed leaders of thousands and leaders of hundreds.

2 Samuel 18:2 David then sent out the army– a third under the leadership of Joab, a third under the leadership of Joab’s brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and a third under the leadership of Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, “I too will indeed march out with you.”

2 Samuel 18:3 But the soldiers replied, “You should not do this! For if we should have to make a rapid retreat, they won’t be too concerned about us. Even if half of us should die, they won’t be too concerned about us. But you are like ten thousand of us! So it is better if you remain in the city for support.”

2 Samuel 18:4 Then the king said to them, “I will do whatever seems best to you.” So the king stayed beside the city gate, while all the army marched out by hundreds and by thousands.

2 Samuel 18:5 The king gave this order to Joab, Abishai, and Ittai: “For my sake deal gently with the young man Absalom.” Now the entire army was listening when the king gave all the leaders this order concerning Absalom.

2 Samuel 18:6 Then the army marched out to the field to fight against Israel. The battle took place in the forest of Ephraim.

2 Samuel 18:7 The army of Israel was defeated there by David’s men. The slaughter there was great that day– 20,000 soldiers were killed.

2 Samuel 18:8 The battle there was spread out over the whole area, and the forest consumed more soldiers than the sword devoured that day.

2 Samuel 18:9 Then Absalom happened to come across David’s men. Now as Absalom was riding on his mule, it went under the branches of a large oak tree. His head got caught in the oak and he was suspended in midair, while the mule he had been riding kept going.

2 Samuel 18:10 When one of the men saw this, he reported it to Joab saying, “I saw Absalom hanging in an oak tree.

2 Samuel 18:11 Joab replied to the man who was telling him this, “What! You saw this? Why didn’t you strike him down right on the spot? I would have given you ten pieces of silver and a commemorative belt!”

2 Samuel 18:12 The man replied to Joab, “Even if I were receiving a thousand pieces of silver, I would not strike the king’s son! In our very presence the king gave this order to you and Abishai and Ittai, ‘Protect the young man Absalom for my sake.’

2 Samuel 18:13 If I had acted at risk of my own life– and nothing is hidden from the king!– you would have abandoned me.”

2 Samuel 18:14 Joab replied, “I will not wait around like this for you!” He took three spears in his hand and thrust them into the middle of Absalom while he was still alive in the middle of the oak tree.

2 Samuel 18:15 Then ten soldiers who were Joab’s armor bearers struck Absalom and finished him off.

2 Samuel 18:16 Then Joab blew the trumpet and the army turned back from chasing Israel, for Joab had called for the army to halt.

2 Samuel 18:17 They took Absalom, threw him into a large pit in the forest, and stacked a huge pile of stones over him. In the meantime all the Israelite soldiers fled to their homes.

2 Samuel 18:18 Prior to this Absalom had set up a monument and dedicated it to himself in the King's Valley, reasoning "I have no son who will carry on my name." He named the monument after himself, and to this day it is known as Absalom's Memorial.

2 Samuel 18:19 Then Ahimaaz the son of Zadok said, "Let me run and give the king the good news that the LORD has vindicated him before his enemies."

2 Samuel 18:20 But Joab said to him, "You will not be a bearer of good news today. You will bear good news some other day, but not today, for the king's son is dead."

2 Samuel 18:21 Then Joab said to the Cushite, "Go and tell the king what you have seen." After bowing to Joab, the Cushite ran off.

2 Samuel 18:22 Ahimaaz the son of Zadok again spoke to Joab, "Whatever happens, let me go after the Cushite." But Joab said, "Why is it that you want to go, my son? You have no good news that will bring you a reward."

2 Samuel 18:23 But he said, "Whatever happens, I want to go!" So Joab said to him, "Then go!" So Ahimaaz ran by the way of the Jordan plain, and he passed the Cushite.

2 Samuel 18:24 Now David was sitting between the inner and outer gates, and the watchman went up to the roof over the gate at the wall. When he looked, he saw a man running by himself.

2 Samuel 18:25 So the watchman called out and informed the king. The king said, "If he is by himself, he brings good news." The runner came ever closer.

2 Samuel 18:26 Then the watchman saw another man running. The watchman called out to the gatekeeper, "There is another man running by himself." The king said, "This one also is bringing good news."

2 Samuel 18:27 The watchman said, "It appears to me that the first runner is Ahimaaz son of Zadok." The king said, "He is a good man, and he comes with good news."

2 Samuel 18:28 Then Ahimaaz called out and said to the king, "Greetings!" He bowed down before the king with his face toward the ground and said, "May the LORD your God be praised because he has defeated the men who opposed my lord the king!"

2 Samuel 18:29 The king replied, "How is the young man Absalom?" Ahimaaz replied, "I saw a great deal of confusion when Joab was sending the king's servant and me, your servant, but I don't know what it was all about."

2 Samuel 18:30 The king said, “Turn aside and take your place here.” So he turned aside and waited.

2 Samuel 18:31 Then the Cushite arrived and said, “May my lord the king now receive the good news! The LORD has vindicated you today and delivered you from the hand of all who have rebelled against you!”

2 Samuel 18:32 The king asked the Cushite, “How is the young man Absalom?” The Cushite replied, “May the enemies of my lord the king and all who have plotted against you be like that young man!”

2 Samuel 18:33 The king then became very upset. He went up to the upper room over the gate and wept. As he went he said, “My son, Absalom! My son, my son, Absalom! If only I could have died in your place! Absalom, my son, my son!”

2 Samuel 19:1 Joab was told, “The king is weeping and mourning over Absalom.”

2 Samuel 19:2 So the victory of that day was turned to mourning as far as all the people were concerned. For the people heard on that day, “The king is grieved over his son.”

2 Samuel 19:3 That day the people stole away to go to the city the way people who are embarrassed steal away in fleeing from battle.

2 Samuel 19:4 The king covered his face and cried out loudly, “My son, Absalom! Absalom, my son, my son!”

2 Samuel 19:5 So Joab visited the king at his home. He said, “Today you have embarrassed all your servants who have saved your life this day, as well as the lives of your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your concubines.

2 Samuel 19:6 You seem to love your enemies and hate your friends! For you have as much as declared today that leaders and servants don’t matter to you. I realize now that if Absalom were alive and all of us were dead today, it would be all right with you.

2 Samuel 19:7 So get up now and go out and give some encouragement to your servants. For I swear by the LORD that if you don’t go out there, not a single man will stay here with you tonight! This disaster will be worse for you than any disaster that has overtaken you from your youth right to the present time!”

2 Samuel 19:8 So the king got up and sat at the city gate. When all the people were informed that the king was sitting at the city gate, they all came before him. But the Israelite soldiers had all fled to their own homes.

2 Samuel 19:9 All the people throughout all the tribes of Israel were arguing among themselves saying, “The king delivered us from the hand of our enemies. He rescued us from the hand of the Philistines, but now he has fled from the land because of Absalom.

2 Samuel 19:10 But Absalom, whom we anointed as our king, has died in battle. So now why do you hesitate to bring the king back?”

2 Samuel 19:11 Then King David sent a message to Zadok and Abiathar the priests saying, “Tell the elders of Judah, ‘Why should you delay any further in bringing the king back to his palace, when everything Israel is saying has come to the king’s attention.

2 Samuel 19:12 You are my brothers– my very own flesh and blood! Why should you delay any further in bringing the king back?’

2 Samuel 19:13 Say to Amasa, ‘Are you not my flesh and blood? God will punish me severely, if from this time on you are not the commander of my army in place of Joab!’“

2 Samuel 19:14 He won over the hearts of all the men of Judah as though they were one man. Then they sent word to the king saying, “Return, you and all your servants as well.”

2 Samuel 19:15 So the king returned and came to the Jordan River. Now the people of Judah had come to Gilgal to meet the king and to help him cross the Jordan.

2 Samuel 19:16 Shimei son of Gera the Benjaminite from Bahurim came down quickly with the men of Judah to meet King David.

2 Samuel 19:17 There were a thousand men from Benjamin with him, along with Ziba the servant of Saul’s household, and with him his fifteen sons and twenty servants. They hurriedly crossed the Jordan within sight of the king.

2 Samuel 19:18 They crossed at the ford in order to help the king’s household cross and to do whatever he thought appropriate. Now after he had crossed the Jordan, Shimei son of Gera threw himself down before the king.

2 Samuel 19:19 He said to the king, “Don’t think badly of me, my lord, and don’t recall the sin of your servant on the day when you, my lord the king, left Jerusalem! Please don’t call it to mind!

2 Samuel 19:20 For I, your servant, know that I sinned, and I have come today as the first of all the house of Joseph to come down to meet my lord the king.”

2 Samuel 19:21 Abishai son of Zeruiah replied, “For this should not Shimei be put to death? After all, he cursed the LORD’s anointed!”

2 Samuel 19:22 But David said, “What do we have in common, you sons of Zeruiah? You are like my enemy today! Should anyone be put to death in Israel today? Don’t you realize that today I am king over Israel?”

2 Samuel 19:23 The king said to Shimei, “You won’t die.” The king vowed an oath concerning this.

2 Samuel 19:24 Now Mephibosheth, Saul’s grandson, came down to meet the king. From the day the king had left until the day he safely returned, Mephibosheth had not cared for his feet nor trimmed his mustache nor washed his clothes.

2 Samuel 19:25 When he came from Jerusalem to meet the king, the king asked him, “Why didn’t you go with me, Mephibosheth?”

2 Samuel 19:26 He replied, “My lord the king, my servant deceived me! I said, ‘Let me get my donkey saddled so that I can ride on it and go with the king,’ for I am lame.

2 Samuel 19:27 But my servant has slandered me to my lord the king. But my lord the king is like an angel of God. Do whatever seems appropriate to you.

2 Samuel 19:28 After all, there was no one in the entire house of my grandfather who did not deserve death from my lord the king. But instead you allowed me to eat at your own table! What further claim do I have to ask the king for anything?”

2 Samuel 19:29 Then the king replied to him, “Why should you continue speaking like this? You and Ziba will inherit the field together.”

2 Samuel 19:30 Mephibosheth said to the king, “Let him have the whole thing! My lord the king has returned safely to his house!”

2 Samuel 19:31 Now when Barzillai the Gileadite had come down from Rogelim, he crossed the Jordan with the king so he could send him on his way from there.

2 Samuel 19:32 But Barzillai was very old– eighty years old, in fact– and he had taken care of the king when he stayed in Mahanaim, for he was a very rich man.

2 Samuel 19:33 So the king said to Barzillai, “Cross over with me, and I will take care of you while you are with me in Jerusalem.”

2 Samuel 19:34 Barzillai replied to the king, “How many days do I have left to my life, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem?

2 Samuel 19:35 I am presently eighty years old. Am I able to discern good and bad? Can I taste what I eat and drink? Am I still able to hear the voices of male and female singers? Why should I continue to be a burden to my lord the king?

2 Samuel 19:36 I will cross the Jordan with the king and go a short distance. Why should the king reward me in this way?

2 Samuel 19:37 Let me return so that I may die in my own city near the grave of my father and my mother. But look, here is your servant Kimham. Let him cross over with my lord the king. Do for him whatever seems appropriate to you.”

2 Samuel 19:38 The king replied, “Kimham will cross over with me, and I will do for him whatever I deem appropriate. And whatever you choose, I will do for you.”

2 Samuel 19:39 So all the people crossed the Jordan, as did the king. After the king had kissed him and blessed him, Barzillai returned to his home.

2 Samuel 19:40 When the king crossed over to Gilgal, Kimham crossed over with him. Now all the soldiers of Judah along with half of the soldiers of Israel had helped the king cross over.

2 Samuel 19:41 Then all the men of Israel began coming to the king. They asked the king, “Why did our brothers, the men of Judah, sneak the king away and help the king and his household cross the Jordan– and not only him but all of David’s men as well?”

2 Samuel 19:42 All the men of Judah replied to the men of Israel, “Because the king is our close relative! Why are you so upset about this? Have we eaten at the king’s expense? Or have we misappropriated anything for our own use?”

2 Samuel 19:43 The men of Israel replied to the men of Judah, “We have ten shares in the king, and we have a greater claim on David than you do! Why do you want to curse us? Weren’t we the first to suggest bringing back our king?” But the comments of the men of Judah were more severe than those of the men of Israel.

2 Samuel 20:1 Now a wicked man named Sheba son of Bicri, a Benjaminite, happened to be there. He blew the trumpet and said, “We have no share in David; we have no inheritance in this son of Jesse! Every man go home, O Israel!”

2 Samuel 20:2 So all the men of Israel deserted David and followed Sheba son of Bicri. But the men of Judah stuck by their king all the way from the Jordan River to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 20:3 Then David went to his palace in Jerusalem. The king took the ten concubines he had left to care for the palace and placed them under confinement. Though he provided for their needs, he did not have sexual relations with them. They remained in confinement until the day they died, living out the rest of their lives as widows.

2 Samuel 20:4 Then the king said to Amasa, “Call the men of Judah together for me in three days, and you be present here with them too.”

2 Samuel 20:5 So Amasa went out to call Judah together. But in doing so he took longer than the time that the king had allotted him.

2 Samuel 20:6 Then David said to Abishai, “Now Sheba son of Bicri will cause greater disaster for us than Absalom did! Take your lord’s servants and pursue him. Otherwise he will secure fortified cities for himself and get away from us.”

2 Samuel 20:7 So Joab’s men, accompanied by the Kerethites, the Pelethites, and all the warriors, left Jerusalem to pursue Sheba son of Bicri.

2 Samuel 20:8 When they were near the big rock that is in Gibeon, Amasa came to them. Now Joab was dressed in military attire and had a dagger in its sheath belted to his waist. When he advanced, it fell out.

2 Samuel 20:9 Joab said to Amasa, “How are you, my brother?” With his right hand Joab took hold of Amasa’s beard as if to greet him with a kiss.

2 Samuel 20:10 Amasa did not protect himself from the knife in Joab’s other hand, and Joab stabbed him in the abdomen, causing Amasa’s intestines to spill out on the ground. There was no need to stab him again; the first blow was fatal. Then Joab and his brother Abishai pursued Sheba son of Bicri.

2 Samuel 20:11 One of Joab’s soldiers who stood over Amasa said, “Whoever is for Joab and whoever is for David, follow Joab!”

2 Samuel 20:12 Amasa was squirming in his own blood in the middle of the path, and this man had noticed that all the soldiers stopped. Having noticed that everyone who came across Amasa stopped, the man pulled him away from the path and into the field and threw a garment over him.

2 Samuel 20:13 Once he had removed Amasa from the path, everyone followed Joab to pursue Sheba son of Bicri.

2 Samuel 20:14 Sheba traveled through all the tribes of Israel to Abel of Beth Maacah and all the Berite region. When they had assembled, they too joined him.

2 Samuel 20:15 So Joab’s men came and laid siege against him in Abel of Beth Maacah. They prepared a siege ramp outside the city which stood against its outer rampart. As all of Joab’s soldiers were trying to break through the wall so that it would collapse,

2 Samuel 20:16 a wise woman called out from the city, “Listen up! Listen up! Tell Joab, ‘Come near so that I may speak to you.’“

2 Samuel 20:17 When he approached her, the woman asked, “Are you Joab?” He replied, “I am.” She said to him, “Listen to the words of your servant.” He said, “Go ahead. I’m listening.”

2 Samuel 20:18 She said, “In the past they would always say, ‘Let them inquire in Abel,’ and that is how they settled things.

2 Samuel 20:19 I represent the peaceful and the faithful in Israel. You are attempting to destroy an important city in Israel. Why should you swallow up the LORD’s inheritance?”

2 Samuel 20:20 Joab answered, “Get serious! I don’t want to swallow up or destroy anything!

2 Samuel 20:21 That’s not the way things are. There is a man from the hill country of Ephraim named Sheba son of Bicri. He has rebelled against King David. Give me just this one man, and I will leave the city.”

The woman said to Joab, “This very minute his head will be thrown over the wall to you!”

2 Samuel 20:22 Then the woman went to all the people with her wise advice and they cut off Sheba’s head and threw it out to Joab. Joab blew the trumpet, and his men dispersed from the city, each going to his own home. Joab returned to the king in Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 20:23 Now Joab was the general in command of all the army of Israel. Benaiah the son of Jehoida was over the Kerethites and the Perethites.

2 Samuel 20:24 Adoniram was supervisor of the work crews. Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was the secretary.

2 Samuel 20:25 Sheva was the scribe, and Zadok and Abiathar were the priests.

2 Samuel 20:26 Ira the Jairite was David’s personal priest.

2 Samuel 21:1 During David’s reign there was a famine for three consecutive years. So David inquired of the LORD. The LORD said, “It is because of Saul and his bloodstained family, because he murdered the Gibeonites.”

2 Samuel 21:2 So the king summoned the Gibeonites and spoke with them. (Now the Gibeonites were not descendants of Israel; they were a remnant of the Amorites. The Israelites had made a promise to them, but Saul tried to kill them because of his zeal for the people of Israel and Judah.)

2 Samuel 21:3 David said to the Gibeonites, “What can I do for you, and how can I make amends so that you will bless the LORD’s inheritance?”

2 Samuel 21:4 The Gibeonites said to him, “We have no claim to silver or gold from Saul or from his family, nor would we be justified in putting to death anyone in Israel.” David asked, “What then are you asking me to do for you?”

2 Samuel 21:5 They replied to the king, “As for this man who exterminated us and who schemed against us so that we were destroyed and left without status throughout all the borders of Israel–

2 Samuel 21:6 let seven of his male descendants be turned over to us, and we will execute them before the LORD in Gibeah of Saul, who was the LORD’s chosen one.” The king replied, “I will turn them over.”

2 Samuel 21:7 The king had mercy on Mephibosheth son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, in light of the LORD’s oath that had been taken between David and Jonathan son of Saul.

2 Samuel 21:8 So the king took Armoni and Mephibosheth, the two sons of Aiah’s daughter Rizpah whom she had born to Saul, and the five sons of Saul’s daughter Merab whom she had born to Adriel the son of Barzillai the Meholathite.

2 Samuel 21:9 He turned them over to the Gibeonites, and they executed them on a hill before the LORD. The seven of them died together; they were put to death during harvest time– during the first days of the beginning of the barley harvest.

2 Samuel 21:10 Rizpah the daughter of Aiah took sackcloth and spread it out for herself on a rock. From the beginning of the harvest until the rain fell on them, she did not allow the birds of the air to feed on them by day, nor the wild animals by night.

2 Samuel 21:11 When David was told what Rizpah daughter of Aiah, Saul’s concubine, had done,

2 Samuel 21:12 he went and took the bones of Saul and of his son Jonathan from the leaders of Jabesh Gilead. (They had secretly taken them from the plaza at Beth Shan. It was there that Philistines publicly exposed their corpses after they had killed Saul at Gilboa.)

2 Samuel 21:13 David brought the bones of Saul and of Jonathan his son from there; they also gathered up the bones of those who had been executed.

2 Samuel 21:14 They buried the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan in the land of Benjamin at Zela in the grave of his father Kish. After they had done everything that the king had commanded, God responded to their prayers for the land.

2 Samuel 21:15 Another battle was fought between the Philistines and Israel. So David went down with his soldiers and fought the Philistines. David became exhausted.

2 Samuel 21:16 Now Ishbi-Benob, one of the descendants of Rapha, had a spear that weighed three hundred bronze shekels, and he was armed with a new weapon. He had said that he would kill David.

2 Samuel 21:17 But Abishai the son of Zeruiah came to David’s aid, striking the Philistine down and killing him. Then David’s men took an oath saying, “You will not go out to battle with us again! You must not extinguish the lamp of Israel!”

2 Samuel 21:18 Later there was another battle with the Philistines, this time in Gob. On that occasion Sibbekai the Hushathite killed Saph, who was one of the descendants of Rapha.

2 Samuel 21:19 Yet another battle occurred with the Philistines in Gob. On that occasion Elhanan the son of Jair the Bethlehemite killed the brother of Goliath the Gittite, the shaft of whose spear was like a weaver’s beam.

2 Samuel 21:20 Yet another battle occurred in Gath. On that occasion there was a large man who had six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot, twenty-four in all! He too was a descendant of Rapha.

2 Samuel 21:21 When he taunted Israel, Jonathan, the son of David's brother Shimeah, killed him.

2 Samuel 21:22 These four were the descendants of Rapha who lived in Gath; they were killed by David and his soldiers.

2 Samuel 22:1 David sang to the LORD the words of this song when the LORD rescued him from the power of all his enemies, including Saul.

2 Samuel 22:2 He said: "The LORD is my high ridge, my stronghold, my deliverer.

2 Samuel 22:3 My God is my rocky summit where I take shelter, my shield, the horn that saves me, my stronghold, my refuge, my savior. You save me from violence!

2 Samuel 22:4 I called to the LORD, who is worthy of praise, and I was delivered from my enemies.

2 Samuel 22:5 The waves of death engulfed me; the currents of chaos overwhelmed me.

2 Samuel 22:6 The ropes of Sheol tightened around me; the snares of death trapped me.

2 Samuel 22:7 In my distress I called to the LORD; I called to my God. From his heavenly temple he heard my voice; he listened to my cry for help.

2 Samuel 22:8 The earth heaved and shook; the foundations of the sky trembled. They heaved because he was angry.

2 Samuel 22:9 Smoke ascended from his nose; fire devoured as it came from his mouth; he hurled down fiery coals.

2 Samuel 22:10 He made the sky sink as he descended; a thick cloud was under his feet.

2 Samuel 22:11 He mounted a winged angel and flew; he glided on the wings of the wind.

2 Samuel 22:12 He shrouded himself in darkness, in thick rain clouds.

2 Samuel 22:13 From the brightness in front of him came coals of fire.

2 Samuel 22:14 The LORD thundered from the sky; the sovereign One shouted loudly.

2 Samuel 22:15 He shot arrows and scattered them, lightning and routed them.

2 Samuel 22:16 The depths of the sea were exposed; the inner regions of the world were uncovered by the LORD's battle cry, by the powerful breath from his nose.

2 Samuel 22:17 He reached down from above and grabbed me; he pulled me from the surging water.

2 Samuel 22:18 He rescued me from my strong enemy, from those who hate me, for they were too strong for me.

2 Samuel 22:19 They confronted me in my day of calamity, but the LORD helped me.

2 Samuel 22:20 He brought me out into a wide open place; he delivered me because he was pleased with me.

2 Samuel 22:21 The LORD repaid me for my godly deeds; he rewarded my blameless behavior.

2 Samuel 22:22 For I have obeyed the LORD’s commands; I have not rebelled against my God.

2 Samuel 22:23 For I am aware of all his regulations, and I do not reject his rules.

2 Samuel 22:24 I was blameless before him; I kept myself from sinning.

2 Samuel 22:25 The LORD rewarded me for my godly deeds; he took notice of my blameless behavior.

2 Samuel 22:26 You prove to be loyal to one who is faithful; you prove to be trustworthy to one who is innocent.

2 Samuel 22:27 You prove to be reliable to one who is blameless, but you prove to be deceptive to one who is perverse.

2 Samuel 22:28 You deliver oppressed people, but you watch the proud and bring them down.

2 Samuel 22:29 Indeed, you are my lamp, LORD. The LORD illumines the darkness around me.

2 Samuel 22:30 Indeed, with your help I can charge against an army; by my God’s power I can jump over a wall.

2 Samuel 22:31 The one true God acts in a faithful manner; the LORD’s promise is reliable; he is a shield to all who take shelter in him.

2 Samuel 22:32 Indeed, who is God besides the LORD? Who is a protector besides our God?

2 Samuel 22:33 The one true God is my mighty refuge; he removes the obstacles in my way.

2 Samuel 22:34 He gives me the agility of a deer; he enables me to negotiate the rugged terrain.

2 Samuel 22:35 He trains my hands for battle; my arms can bend even the strongest bow.

2 Samuel 22:36 You give me your protective shield; your willingness to help enables me to prevail.

2 Samuel 22:37 You widen my path; my feet do not slip.

2 Samuel 22:38 I chase my enemies and destroy them; I do not turn back until I wipe them out.

2 Samuel 22:39 I wipe them out and beat them to death; they cannot get up; they fall at my feet.

2 Samuel 22:40 You give me strength for battle; you make my foes kneel before me.

2 Samuel 22:41 You make my enemies retreat; I destroy those who hate me.

2 Samuel 22:42 They cry out, but there is no one to help them; they cry out to the LORD, but he does not answer them.

2 Samuel 22:43 I grind them as fine as the dust of the ground; I crush them and stomp on them like clay in the streets.

2 Samuel 22:44 You rescue me from a hostile army; you preserve me as a leader of nations; people over whom I had no authority are now my subjects.

2 Samuel 22:45 Foreigners are powerless before me; when they hear of my exploits, they submit to me.

2 Samuel 22:46 Foreigners lose their courage; they shake with fear as they leave their strongholds.

2 Samuel 22:47 The LORD is alive! My protector is praiseworthy! The God who delivers me is exalted as king!

2 Samuel 22:48 The one true God completely vindicates me; he makes nations submit to me.

2 Samuel 22:49 He delivers me from my enemies; you snatch me away from those who attack me; you rescue me from violent men.

2 Samuel 22:50 So I will give you thanks, O LORD, before the nations! I will sing praises to you.

2 Samuel 22:51 He gives his chosen king magnificent victories; he is faithful to his chosen ruler, to David and to his descendants forever!”

2 Samuel 23:1 These are the final words of David: “The oracle of David son of Jesse, the oracle of the man raised up as the ruler chosen by the God of Jacob, Israel’s beloved singer of songs:

2 Samuel 23:2 The LORD’s spirit spoke through me; his word was on my tongue.

2 Samuel 23:3 The God of Israel spoke, the protector of Israel spoke to me. The one who rules fairly among men, the one who rules in the fear of God,

2 Samuel 23:4 is like the light of morning when the sun comes up, a morning in which there are no clouds. He is like the brightness after rain that produces grass from the earth.

2 Samuel 23:5 My dynasty is approved by God, for he has made a perpetual covenant with me, arranged in all its particulars and secured. He always delivers me, and brings all I desire to fruition.

2 Samuel 23:6 But evil people are like thorns– all of them are tossed away, for they cannot be held in the hand.

2 Samuel 23:7 The one who touches them must use an iron instrument or the wooden shaft of a spear. They are completely burned up right where they lie!”

2 Samuel 23:8 These are the names of David’s warriors: Josheb-Basshebeth, a Tahkemonite, was head of the officers. He killed eight hundred men with his spear in one battle.

2 Samuel 23:9 Next in command was Eleazar son of Dodo, the son of Ahohi. He was one of the three warriors who were with David when they defied the Philistines who were assembled there for battle. When the men of Israel retreated,

2 Samuel 23:10 he stood his ground and fought the Philistines until his hand grew so tired that it seemed stuck to his sword. The LORD gave a great victory on that day. When the army returned to him, the only thing left to do was to plunder the corpses.

2 Samuel 23:11 Next in command was Shammah son of Agee the Hararite. When the Philistines assembled at Lehi, where there happened to be an area of a field that was full of lentils, the army retreated before the Philistines.

2 Samuel 23:12 But he made a stand in the middle of that area. He defended it and defeated the Philistines; the LORD gave them a great victory.

2 Samuel 23:13 At the time of the harvest three of the thirty leaders went down to David at the cave of Adullam. A band of Philistines was camped in the valley of Rephaim.

2 Samuel 23:14 David was in the stronghold at the time, while a Philistine garrison was in Bethlehem.

2 Samuel 23:15 David was thirsty and said, “How I wish someone would give me some water to drink from the cistern in Bethlehem near the gate!”

2 Samuel 23:16 So the three elite warriors broke through the Philistine forces and drew some water from the cistern in Bethlehem near the gate. They carried it back to David, but he refused to drink it. He poured it out as a drink offering to the LORD

2 Samuel 23:17 and said, “O LORD, I will not do this! It is equivalent to the blood of the men who risked their lives by going.” So he refused to drink it. Such were the exploits of the three elite warriors.

2 Samuel 23:18 Abishai son of Zeruiah, the brother of Joab, was head of the three. He killed three hundred men with his spear and gained fame among the three.

2 Samuel 23:19 From the three he was given honor and he became their officer, even though he was not one of the three.

2 Samuel 23:20 Benaiah son of Jehoida was a brave warrior from Kabzeel who performed great exploits. He struck down the two sons of Ariel of Moab. He also went down and killed a lion in a cistern on a snowy day.

2 Samuel 23:21 He also killed an impressive-looking Egyptian. The Egyptian wielded a spear, while Benaiah attacked him with a club. He grabbed the spear out of the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear.

2 Samuel 23:22 Such were the exploits of Benaiah son of Jehoida, who gained fame among the three elite warriors.

2 Samuel 23:23 He received honor from the thirty warriors, though he was not one of the three elite warriors. David put him in charge of his bodyguard.

2 Samuel 23:24 Included with the thirty were the following: Asahel the brother of Joab, Elhanan son of Dodo from Bethlehem,

2 Samuel 23:25 Shammah the Harodite, Elika the Harodite,

2 Samuel 23:26 Helez the Paltite, Ira son of Ikkesh from Tekoa,

2 Samuel 23:27 Abiezer the Anathothite, Mebunnai the Hushathite,

2 Samuel 23:28 Zalmon the Ahohite, Maharai the Netophathite,

2 Samuel 23:29 Heled son of Baanah the Netophathite, Ittai son of Ribai from Gibeah in Benjamin,

2 Samuel 23:30 Benaiah the Pirathonite, Hiddai from the wadis of Gaash,

2 Samuel 23:31 Abi-Albon the Arbathite, Azmaveth the Barhumite,

2 Samuel 23:32 Eliahba the Shaalbonite, the sons of Jashen, Jonathan

2 Samuel 23:33 son of Shammah the Hararite, Ahiam son of Sharar the Hararite,

2 Samuel 23:34 Eliphelet son of Ahasbai the Maacathite, Eliam son of Ahithophel the Gilonite,

2 Samuel 23:35 Hezrai the Carmelite, Paarai the Arbite,

2 Samuel 23:36 Igal son of Nathan from Zobah, Bani the Gadite,

2 Samuel 23:37 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Beerothite (the armor-bearer of Joab son of Zeruiah),

2 Samuel 23:38 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite

2 Samuel 23:39 and Uriah the Hittite. Altogether there were thirty-seven.

2 Samuel 24:1 The LORD's anger again raged against Israel, and he incited David against them, saying, "Go count Israel and Judah."

2 Samuel 24:2 The king told Joab, the general in command of his army, “Go through all the tribes of Israel from Dan to Beer Sheba and muster the army, so I may know the size of the army.”

2 Samuel 24:3 Joab replied to the king, “May the LORD your God make the army a hundred times larger right before the eyes of my lord the king! But why does my master the king want to do this?”

2 Samuel 24:4 But the king’s edict stood, despite the objections of Joab and the leaders of the army. So Joab and the leaders of the army left the king’s presence in order to muster the Israelite army.

2 Samuel 24:5 They crossed the Jordan and camped at Aroer, on the south side of the city, at the wadi of Gad, near Jazer.

2 Samuel 24:6 Then they went on to Gilead and to the region of Tahtim Hodshi, coming to Dan Jaan and on around to Sidon.

2 Samuel 24:7 Then they went to the fortress of Tyre and all the cities of the Hivites and the Canaanites. Then they went on to the Negev of Judah, to Beer Sheba.

2 Samuel 24:8 They went through all the land and after nine months and twenty days came back to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 24:9 Joab reported the number of warriors to the king. In Israel there were 800,000 sword-wielding warriors, and in Judah there were 500,000 soldiers.

2 Samuel 24:10 David felt guilty after he had numbered the army. David said to the LORD, “I have sinned greatly by doing this! Now, O LORD, please remove the guilt of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly.”

2 Samuel 24:11 When David got up the next morning, the LORD had already spoken to Gad the prophet, David’s seer:

2 Samuel 24:12 “Go, tell David, ‘This is what the LORD says: I am offering you three forms of judgment. Pick one of them and I will carry it out against you.’“

2 Samuel 24:13 Gad went to David and told him, “Shall seven years of famine come upon your land? Or shall you flee for three months from your enemy with him in hot pursuit? Or shall there be three days of plague in your land? Now decide what I should tell the one who sent me.”

2 Samuel 24:14 David said to Gad, “I am very upset! I prefer that we be attacked by the LORD, for his mercy is great; I do not want to be attacked by men!”

2 Samuel 24:15 So the LORD sent a plague through Israel from the morning until the completion of the appointed time. Seventy thousand men died from Dan to Beer Sheba.

2 Samuel 24:16 When the angel extended his hand to destroy Jerusalem, the LORD relented from his judgment. He told the angel who was killing the people, “That’s enough! Stop now!” (Now the LORD’s angel was near the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.)

2 Samuel 24:17 When he saw the angel who was destroying the people, David said to the LORD, “Look, it is I who have sinned and done this evil thing! As for these sheep– what have they done? Attack me and my family.”

2 Samuel 24:18 So Gad went to David that day and told him, “Go up and build an altar for the LORD on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.”

2 Samuel 24:19 So David went up as Gad instructed him to do, according to the LORD’s instructions.

2 Samuel 24:20 When Araunah looked out and saw the king and his servants approaching him, he went out and bowed to the king with his face to the ground.

2 Samuel 24:21 Araunah said, “Why has my lord the king come to his servant?” David replied, “To buy from you the threshing floor so I can build an altar for the LORD, so that the plague may be removed from the people.”

2 Samuel 24:22 Araunah told David, “My lord the king may take whatever he wishes and offer it. Look! Here are oxen for burnt offerings, and threshing sledges and harnesses for wood.

2 Samuel 24:23 I, the servant of my lord the king, give it all to the king!” Araunah also told the king, “May the LORD your God show you favor!”

2 Samuel 24:24 But the king said to Araunah, “No, I insist on buying it from you! I will not offer to the LORD my God burnt sacrifices that cost me nothing.” So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty pieces of silver.

2 Samuel 24:25 Then David built an altar for the LORD there and offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings. And the LORD accepted prayers for the land, and the plague was removed from Israel.

1 Kings

1:1 King David was very old; even when they covered him with blankets, he could not get warm.

1 Kings 1:2 His servants advised him, “A young virgin must be found for our master, the king, to take care of the king’s needs and serve as his nurse. She can also sleep with you and keep our master, the king, warm.”

1 Kings 1:3 So they looked through all Israel for a beautiful young woman and found Abishag, a Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

1 Kings 1:4 The young woman was very beautiful; she became the king's nurse and served him, but the king did not have sexual relations with her.

1 Kings 1:5 Now Adonijah, son of David and Haggith, was promoting himself, boasting, "I will be king!" He managed to acquire chariots and horsemen, as well as fifty men to serve as his royal guard.

1 Kings 1:6 (Now his father had never corrected him by saying, "Why do you do such things?" He was also very handsome and had been born right after Absalom.)

1 Kings 1:7 He collaborated with Joab son of Zeruiah and with Abiathar the priest, and they supported him.

1 Kings 1:8 But Zadok the priest, Benaiah son of Jehoiada, Nathan the prophet, Shimei, Rei, and David's elite warriors did not ally themselves with Adonijah.

1 Kings 1:9 Adonijah sacrificed sheep, cattle, and fattened steers at the Stone of Zoheleth near En Rogel. He invited all his brothers, the king's sons, as well as all the men of Judah, the king's servants.

1 Kings 1:10 But he did not invite Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, the elite warriors, or his brother Solomon.

1 Kings 1:11 Nathan said to Bathsheba, Solomon's mother, "Has it been reported to you that Haggith's son Adonijah has become king behind our master David's back?

1 Kings 1:12 Now let me give you some advice as to how you can save your life and your son Solomon's life.

1 Kings 1:13 Visit King David and say to him, 'My master, O king, did you not solemnly promise your servant, "Surely your son Solomon will be king after me; he will sit on my throne"? So why has Adonijah become king?'

1 Kings 1:14 While you are still there speaking to the king, I will arrive and verify your report."

1 Kings 1:15 So Bathsheba visited the king in his private quarters. (The king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite was serving the king.)

1 Kings 1:16 Bathsheba bowed down on the floor before the king. The king said, "What do you want?"

1 Kings 1:17 She replied to him, "My master, you swore an oath to your servant by the LORD your God, 'Solomon your son will be king after me and he will sit on my throne.'

1 Kings 1:18 But now, look, Adonijah has become king! But you, my master the king, are not even aware of it!

1 Kings 1:19 He has sacrificed many cattle, steers, and sheep and has invited all the king’s sons, Abiathar the priest, and Joab, the commander of the army, but he has not invited your servant Solomon.

1 Kings 1:20 Now, my master, O king, all Israel is watching anxiously to see who is named to succeed my master the king on the throne.

1 Kings 1:21 If a decision is not made, when my master the king is buried with his ancestors, my son Solomon and I will be considered state criminals.”

1 Kings 1:22 Just then, while she was still speaking to the king, Nathan the prophet arrived.

1 Kings 1:23 The king was told, “Nathan the prophet is here.” Nathan entered and bowed before the king with his face to the floor.

1 Kings 1:24 Nathan said, “My master, O king, did you announce, ‘Adonijah will be king after me; he will sit on my throne’?

1 Kings 1:25 For today he has gone down and sacrificed many cattle, steers, and sheep and has invited all the king’s sons, the army commanders, and Abiathar the priest. At this moment they are having a feast in his presence, and they have declared, ‘Long live King Adonijah!’

1 Kings 1:26 But he did not invite me– your servant– or Zadok the priest, or Benaiah son of Jehoiada, or your servant Solomon.

1 Kings 1:27 Has my master the king authorized this without informing your servants who should succeed my master the king on his throne?”

1 Kings 1:28 King David responded, “Summon Bathsheba!” She came and stood before the king.

1 Kings 1:29 The king swore an oath: “As certainly as the LORD lives (he who has rescued me from every danger),

1 Kings 1:30 I will keep today the oath I swore to you by the LORD God of Israel: ‘Surely Solomon your son will be king after me; he will sit in my place on my throne.’“

1 Kings 1:31 Bathsheba bowed down to the king with her face to the floor and said, “May my master, King David, live forever!”

1 Kings 1:32 King David said, “Summon Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah son of Jehoiada.” They came before the king,

1 Kings 1:33 and he told them, “Take your master’s servants with you, put my son Solomon on my mule, and lead him down to Gihon.

1 Kings 1:34 There Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet will anoint him king over Israel; then blow the trumpet and declare, ‘Long live King Solomon!’

1 Kings 1:35 Then follow him up as he comes and sits on my throne. He will be king in my place; I have decreed that he will be ruler over Israel and Judah.”

1 Kings 1:36 Benaiah son of Jehoiada responded to the king: “So be it! May the LORD God of my master the king confirm it!

1 Kings 1:37 As the LORD is with my master the king, so may he be with Solomon, and may he make him an even greater king than my master King David!”

1 Kings 1:38 So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah son of Jehoiada, the Kerethites, and the Pelethites went down, put Solomon on King David’s mule, and led him to Gihon.

1 Kings 1:39 Zadok the priest took a horn filled with olive oil from the tent and poured it on Solomon; the trumpet was blown and all the people declared, “Long live King Solomon!”

1 Kings 1:40 All the people followed him up, playing flutes and celebrating so loudly they made the ground shake.

1 Kings 1:41 Now Adonijah and all his guests heard the commotion just as they had finished eating. When Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, he asked, “Why is there such a noisy commotion in the city?”

1 Kings 1:42 As he was still speaking, Jonathan son of Abiathar the priest arrived. Adonijah said, “Come in, for an important man like you must be bringing good news.”

1 Kings 1:43 Jonathan replied to Adonijah: “No! Our master King David has made Solomon king.

1 Kings 1:44 The king sent with him Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah son of Jehoiada, the Kerethites, and the Pelethites and they put him on the king’s mule.

1 Kings 1:45 Then Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anointed him king in Gihon. They went up from there rejoicing, and the city is in an uproar. That is the sound you hear.

1 Kings 1:46 Furthermore, Solomon has assumed the royal throne.

1 Kings 1:47 The king’s servants have even come to congratulate our master King David, saying, ‘May your God make Solomon more famous than you and make him an even greater king than you!’ Then the king leaned on the bed

1 Kings 1:48 and said this: ‘The LORD God of Israel is worthy of praise because today he has placed a successor on my throne and allowed me to see it.’“

1 Kings 1:49 All of Adonijah’s guests panicked; they jumped up and rushed off their separate ways.

1 Kings 1:50 Adonijah feared Solomon, so he got up and went and grabbed hold of the horns of the altar.

1 Kings 1:51 Solomon was told, “Look, Adonijah fears you; see, he has taken hold of the horns of the altar, saying, ‘May King Solomon solemnly promise me today that he will not kill his servant with the sword.’“

1 Kings 1:52 Solomon said, “If he is a loyal subject, not a hair of his head will be harmed, but if he is found to be a traitor, he will die.”

1 Kings 1:53 King Solomon sent men to bring him down from the altar. He came and bowed down to King Solomon, and Solomon told him, “Go home.”

1 Kings 2:1 When David was close to death, he told Solomon his son:

1 Kings 2:2 “I am about to die. Be strong and become a man!

1 Kings 2:3 Do the job the LORD your God has assigned you by following his instructions and obeying his rules, commandments, regulations, and laws as written in the law of Moses. Then you will succeed in all you do and seek to accomplish,

1 Kings 2:4 and the LORD will fulfill his promise to me, ‘If your descendants watch their step and live faithfully in my presence with all their heart and being, then,’ he promised, ‘you will not fail to have a successor on the throne of Israel.’

1 Kings 2:5 “You know what Joab son of Zeruiah did to me– how he murdered two commanders of the Israelite armies, Abner son of Ner and Amasa son of Jether. During peacetime he struck them down like he would in battle; when he shed their blood as if in battle, he stained his own belt and the sandals on his feet.

1 Kings 2:6 Do to him what you think is appropriate, but don’t let him live long and die a peaceful death.

1 Kings 2:7 “Treat fairly the sons of Barzillai of Gilead and provide for their needs, because they helped me when I had to flee from your brother Absalom.

1 Kings 2:8 “Note well, you still have to contend with Shimei son of Gera, the Benjaminite from Bahurim, who tried to call down upon me a horrible judgment when I went to Mahanaim. He came down and met me at the Jordan, and I solemnly promised him by the LORD, ‘I will not strike you down with the sword.’

1 Kings 2:9 But now don’t treat him as if he were innocent. You are a wise man and you know how to handle him; make sure he has a bloody death.”

1 Kings 2:10 Then David passed away and was buried in the city of David.

1 Kings 2:11 David reigned over Israel forty years; he reigned in Hebron seven years, and in Jerusalem thirty-three years.

1 Kings 2:12 Solomon sat on his father David’s throne, and his royal authority was firmly solidified.

1 Kings 2:13 Haggith’s son Adonijah visited Bathsheba, Solomon’s mother. She asked, “Do you come in peace?” He answered, “Yes.”

1 Kings 2:14 He added, “I have something to say to you.” She replied, “Speak.”

1 Kings 2:15 He said, “You know that the kingdom was mine and all Israel considered me king. But then the kingdom was given to my brother, for the LORD decided it should be his.

1 Kings 2:16 Now I’d like to ask you for just one thing. Please don’t refuse me.” She said, “Go ahead and ask.”

1 Kings 2:17 He said, “Please ask King Solomon if he would give me Abishag the Shunammite as a wife, for he won’t refuse you.”

1 Kings 2:18 Bathsheba replied, “That’s fine, I’ll speak to the king on your behalf.”

1 Kings 2:19 So Bathsheba visited King Solomon to speak to him on Adonijah’s behalf. The king got up to greet her, bowed to her, and then sat on his throne. He ordered a throne to be brought for the king’s mother, and she sat at his right hand.

1 Kings 2:20 She said, “I would like to ask you for just one small favor. Please don’t refuse me.” He said, “Go ahead and ask, my mother, for I would not refuse you.”

1 Kings 2:21 She said, “Allow Abishag the Shunammite to be given to your brother Adonijah as a wife.”

1 Kings 2:22 King Solomon answered his mother, “Why just request Abishag the Shunammite for him? Since he is my older brother, you should also request the kingdom for him, for Abiathar the priest, and for Joab son of Zeruiah!”

1 Kings 2:23 King Solomon then swore an oath by the LORD, “May God judge me severely, if Adonijah does not pay for this request with his life!

1 Kings 2:24 Now, as certainly as the LORD lives (he who made me secure, allowed me to sit on my father David’s throne, and established a dynasty for me as he promised), Adonijah will be executed today!”

1 Kings 2:25 King Solomon then sent Benaiah son of Jehoiada, and he killed Adonijah.

1 Kings 2:26 The king then told Abiathar the priest, “Go back to your property in Anathoth. You deserve to die, but today I will not kill you because you did carry the ark of the sovereign LORD before my father David and you suffered with my father through all his difficult times.”

1 Kings 2:27 Solomon dismissed Abiathar from his position as priest of the LORD, fulfilling the decree of judgment the LORD made in Shiloh against the family of Eli.

1 Kings 2:28 When the news reached Joab (for Joab had supported Adonijah, although he had not supported Absalom), he ran to the tent of the LORD and grabbed hold of the horns of the altar.

1 Kings 2:29 When King Solomon heard that Joab had run to the tent of the LORD and was right there beside the altar, he ordered Benaiah son of Jehoiada, “Go, strike him down.”

1 Kings 2:30 When Benaiah arrived at the tent of the LORD, he said to him, “The king says, ‘Come out!’“ But he replied, “No, I will die here!” So Benaiah sent word to the king and reported Joab’s reply.

1 Kings 2:31 The king told him, “Do as he said! Strike him down and bury him. Take away from me and from my father’s family the guilt of Joab’s murderous, bloody deeds.

1 Kings 2:32 May the LORD punish him for the blood he shed; behind my father David’s back he struck down and murdered with the sword two men who were more innocent and morally upright than he– Abner son of Ner, commander of Israel’s army, and Amasa son of Jether, commander of Judah’s army.

1 Kings 2:33 May Joab and his descendants be perpetually guilty of their shed blood, but may the LORD give perpetual peace to David, his descendants, his family, and his dynasty.”

1 Kings 2:34 So Benaiah son of Jehoiada went up and executed Joab; he was buried at his home in the wilderness.

1 Kings 2:35 The king appointed Benaiah son of Jehoiada to take his place at the head of the army, and the king appointed Zadok the priest to take Abiathar’s place.

1 Kings 2:36 Next the king summoned Shimei and told him, “Build yourself a house in Jerusalem and live there– but you may not leave there to go anywhere!

1 Kings 2:37 If you ever do leave and cross the Kidron Valley, know for sure that you will certainly die! You will be responsible for your own death.”

1 Kings 2:38 Shimei said to the king, “My master the king’s proposal is acceptable. Your servant will do as you say.” So Shimei lived in Jerusalem for a long time.

1 Kings 2:39 Three years later two of Shimei’s servants ran away to King Achish son of Maacah of Gath. Shimei was told, “Look, your servants are in Gath.”

1 Kings 2:40 So Shimei got up, saddled his donkey, and went to Achish at Gath to find his servants; Shimei went and brought back his servants from Gath.

1 Kings 2:41 When Solomon was told that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath and had then returned,

1 Kings 2:42 the king summoned Shimei and said to him, “You will recall that I made you take an oath by the LORD, and I solemnly warned you, ‘If you ever leave and go anywhere, know for sure that you will certainly die.’ You said to me, ‘The proposal is acceptable; I agree to it.’

1 Kings 2:43 Why then have you broken the oath you made before the LORD and disobeyed the order I gave you?”

1 Kings 2:44 Then the king said to Shimei, “You are well aware of the way you mistreated my father David. The LORD will punish you for what you did.

1 Kings 2:45 But King Solomon will be empowered and David’s dynasty will endure permanently before the LORD.”

1 Kings 2:46 The king then gave the order to Benaiah son of Jehoiada who went and executed Shimei. So Solomon took firm control of the kingdom.

1 Kings 3:1 Solomon made an alliance by marriage with Pharaoh, king of Egypt; he married Pharaoh’s daughter. He brought her to the City of David until he could finish building his residence and the temple of the LORD and the wall around Jerusalem.

1 Kings 3:2 Now the people were offering sacrifices at the high places, because in those days a temple had not yet been built to honor the LORD.

1 Kings 3:3 Solomon demonstrated his loyalty to the LORD by following the practices of his father David, except that he offered sacrifices and burned incense on the high places.

1 Kings 3:4 The king went to Gibeon to offer sacrifices, for it had the most prominent of the high places. Solomon would offer up a thousand burnt sacrifices on the altar there.

1 Kings 3:5 One night in Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream. God said, “Tell me what I should give you.”

1 Kings 3:6 Solomon replied, “You demonstrated great loyalty to your servant, my father David, as he served you faithfully, properly, and sincerely. You have maintained this great loyalty to this day by allowing his son to sit on his throne.

1 Kings 3:7 Now, O LORD my God, you have made your servant king in my father David’s place, even though I am only a young man and am inexperienced.

1 Kings 3:8 Your servant stands among your chosen people; they are a great nation that is too numerous to count or number.

1 Kings 3:9 So give your servant a discerning mind so he can make judicial decisions for your people and distinguish right from wrong. Otherwise no one is able to make judicial decisions for this great nation of yours.”

1 Kings 3:10 The Lord was pleased that Solomon made this request.

1 Kings 3:11 God said to him, “Because you asked for the ability to make wise judicial decisions, and not for long life, or riches, or vengeance on your enemies,

1 Kings 3:12 I grant your request, and give you a wise and discerning mind superior to that of anyone who has preceded or will succeed you.

1 Kings 3:13 Furthermore, I am giving you what you did not request– riches and honor so that you will be the greatest king of your generation.

1 Kings 3:14 If you follow my instructions by obeying my rules and regulations, just as your father David did, then I will grant you long life.”

1 Kings 3:15 Solomon then woke up and realized it was a dream. He went to Jerusalem, stood before the ark of the Lord’s covenant, offered up burnt sacrifices, presented peace offerings, and held a feast for all his servants.

1 Kings 3:16 Then two prostitutes came to the king and stood before him.

1 Kings 3:17 One of the women said, “My master, this woman and I live in the same house. I had a baby while she was with me in the house.

1 Kings 3:18 Then three days after I had my baby, this woman also had a baby. We were alone; there was no one else in the house except the two of us.

1 Kings 3:19 This woman’s child suffocated during the night when she rolled on top of him.

1 Kings 3:20 She got up in the middle of the night and took my son from my side, while your servant was sleeping. She put him in her arms, and put her dead son in my arms.

1 Kings 3:21 I got up in the morning to nurse my son, and there he was, dead! But when I examined him carefully in the morning, I realized it was not my baby.”

1 Kings 3:22 The other woman said, “No! My son is alive; your son is dead!” But the first woman replied, “No, your son is dead; my son is alive.” Each presented her case before the king.

1 Kings 3:23 The king said, “One says, ‘My son is alive; your son is dead,’ while the other says, ‘No, your son is dead; my son is alive.’“

1 Kings 3:24 The king ordered, “Get me a sword!” So they placed a sword before the king.

1 Kings 3:25 The king then said, “Cut the living child in two, and give half to one and half to the other!”

1 Kings 3:26 The real mother spoke up to the king, for her motherly instincts were aroused. She said, “My master, give her the living child! Whatever you do, don’t kill him!” But the other woman said, “Neither one of us will have him! Let them cut him in two!”

1 Kings 3:27 The king responded, “Give the first woman the living child; don’t kill him. She is the mother.”

1 Kings 3:28 When all Israel heard about the judicial decision which the king had rendered, they respected the king, for they realized that he possessed supernatural wisdom to make judicial decisions.

1 Kings 4:1 King Solomon ruled over all Israel.

1 Kings 4:2 These were his officials: Azariah son of Zadok was the priest.

1 Kings 4:3 Elihoreph and Ahijah, the sons of Shisha, wrote down what happened. Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was in charge of the records.

1 Kings 4:4 Benaiah son of Jehoiada was commander of the army. Zadok and Abiathar were priests.

1 Kings 4:5 Azariah son of Nathan was supervisor of the district governors. Zabud son of Nathan was a priest and adviser to the king.

1 Kings 4:6 Ahishar was supervisor of the palace. Adoniram son of Abda was supervisor of the work crews.

1 Kings 4:7 Solomon had twelve district governors appointed throughout Israel who acquired supplies for the king and his palace. Each was responsible for one month in the year.

1 Kings 4:8 These were their names: Ben-Hur was in charge of the hill country of Ephraim.

1 Kings 4:9 Ben-Deker was in charge of Makaz, Shaalbim, Beth Shemesh, and Elon Beth Hanan.

1 Kings 4:10 Ben-Hesed was in charge of Arubboth; he controlled Socoh and all the territory of Hepher.

1 Kings 4:11 Ben-Abinadab was in charge of Naphath Dor. (He was married to Solomon’s daughter Taphath.)

1 Kings 4:12 Baana son of Ahilud was in charge of Taanach and Megiddo, as well as all of Beth Shan next to Zarethan below Jezreel, from Beth Shan to Abel Meholah and on past Jokmeam.

1 Kings 4:13 Ben-Geber was in charge of Ramoth Gilead; he controlled the tent villages of Jair son of Manasseh in Gilead, as well as the region of Argob in Bashan, including sixty large walled cities with bronze bars locking their gates.

1 Kings 4:14 Ahinadab son of Iddo was in charge of Mahanaim.

1 Kings 4:15 Ahimaaz was in charge of Naphtali. (He married Solomon’s daughter Basemath.)

1 Kings 4:16 Baana son of Hushai was in charge of Asher and Aloth.

1 Kings 4:17 Jehoshaphat son of Paruah was in charge of Issachar.

1 Kings 4:18 Shimei son of Ela was in charge of Benjamin.

1 Kings 4:19 Geber son of Uri was in charge of the land of Gilead (the territory which had once belonged to King Sihon of the Amorites and to King Og of Bashan). He was sole governor of the area.

1 Kings 4:20 The people of Judah and Israel were as innumerable as the sand on the seashore; they had plenty to eat and drink and were happy.

1 Kings 4:21 Solomon ruled all the kingdoms from the Euphrates River to the land of the Philistines, as far as the border of Egypt. These kingdoms paid tribute as Solomon's subjects throughout his lifetime.

1 Kings 4:22 Each day Solomon's royal court consumed thirty cors of finely milled flour, sixty cors of cereal,

1 Kings 4:23 ten calves fattened in the stall, twenty calves from the pasture, and a hundred sheep, not to mention rams, gazelles, deer, and well-fed birds.

1 Kings 4:24 His royal court was so large because he ruled over all the kingdoms west of the Euphrates River from Tiphsah to Gaza; he was at peace with all his neighbors.

1 Kings 4:25 All the people of Judah and Israel had security; everyone from Dan to Beer Sheba enjoyed the produce of their vines and fig trees throughout Solomon's lifetime.

1 Kings 4:26 Solomon had 4,000 stalls for his chariot horses and 12,000 horses.

1 Kings 4:27 The district governors acquired supplies for King Solomon and all who ate in his royal palace. Each was responsible for one month in the year; they made sure nothing was lacking.

1 Kings 4:28 Each one also brought to the assigned location his quota of barley and straw for the various horses.

1 Kings 4:29 God gave Solomon wisdom and very great discernment; the breadth of his understanding was as infinite as the sand on the seashore.

1 Kings 4:30 Solomon was wiser than all the men of the east and all the sages of Egypt.

1 Kings 4:31 He was wiser than any man, including Ethan the Ezrahite or Heman, Calcol, and Darda, the sons of Mahol. He was famous in all the neighboring nations.

1 Kings 4:32 He composed 3,000 proverbs and 1,005 songs.

1 Kings 4:33 He produced manuals on botany, describing every kind of plant, from the cedars of Lebanon to the hyssop that grows on walls. He also produced manuals on biology, describing animals, birds, insects, and fish.

1 Kings 4:34 People from all nations came to hear Solomon’s display of wisdom; they came from all the kings of the earth who heard about his wisdom.

1 Kings 5:1 King Hiram of Tyre sent messengers to Solomon when he heard that he had been anointed king in his father’s place. (Hiram had always been an ally of David.)

1 Kings 5:2 Solomon then sent this message to Hiram:

1 Kings 5:3 “You know that my father David was unable to build a temple to honor the LORD his God, for he was busy fighting battles on all fronts while the LORD subdued his enemies.

1 Kings 5:4 But now the LORD my God has made me secure on all fronts; there is no adversary or dangerous threat.

1 Kings 5:5 So I have decided to build a temple to honor the LORD my God, as the LORD instructed my father David, ‘Your son, whom I will put on your throne in your place, is the one who will build a temple to honor me.’

1 Kings 5:6 So now order some cedars of Lebanon to be cut for me. My servants will work with your servants. I will pay your servants whatever you say is appropriate, for you know that we have no one among us who knows how to cut down trees like the Sidonians.”

1 Kings 5:7 When Hiram heard Solomon’s message, he was very happy. He said, “The LORD is worthy of praise today because he has given David a wise son to rule over this great nation.”

1 Kings 5:8 Hiram then sent this message to Solomon: “I received the message you sent to me. I will give you all the cedars and evergreens you need.

1 Kings 5:9 My servants will bring the timber down from Lebanon to the sea. I will send it by sea in raft-like bundles to the place you designate. There I will separate the logs and you can carry them away. In exchange you will supply the food I need for my royal court.”

1 Kings 5:10 So Hiram supplied the cedars and evergreens Solomon needed,

1 Kings 5:11 and Solomon supplied Hiram annually with 20,000 cors of wheat as provision for his royal court, as well as 20,000 baths of pure olive oil.

1 Kings 5:12 So the LORD gave Solomon wisdom, as he had promised him. And Hiram and Solomon were at peace and made a treaty.

1 Kings 5:13 King Solomon conscripted work crews from throughout Israel, 30,000 men in all.

1 Kings 5:14 He sent them to Lebanon in shifts of 10,000 men per month. They worked in Lebanon for one month, and then spent two months at home. Adoniram was supervisor of the work crews.

1 Kings 5:15 Solomon also had 70,000 common laborers and 80,000 stonecutters in the hills,

1 Kings 5:16 besides 3,300 officials who supervised the workers.

1 Kings 5:17 By royal order they supplied large valuable stones in order to build the temple's foundation with chiseled stone.

1 Kings 5:18 Solomon's and Hiram's construction workers, along with men from Byblos, did the chiseling and prepared the wood and stones for the building of the temple.

1 Kings 6:1 In the four hundred and eightieth year after the Israelites left Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel, during the month Ziv (the second month), he began building the LORD's temple.

1 Kings 6:2 The temple King Solomon built for the LORD was 90 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 45 feet high.

1 Kings 6:3 The porch in front of the main hall of the temple was 30 feet long, corresponding to the width of the temple. It was 15 feet wide, extending out from the front of the temple.

1 Kings 6:4 He made framed windows for the temple.

1 Kings 6:5 He built an extension all around the walls of the temple's main hall and holy place and constructed side rooms in it.

1 Kings 6:6 The bottom floor of the extension was seven and a half feet wide, the middle floor nine feet wide, and the third floor ten and a half feet wide. He made ledges on the temple's outer walls so the beams would not have to be inserted into the walls.

1 Kings 6:7 As the temple was being built, only stones shaped at the quarry were used; the sound of hammers, pickaxes, or any other iron tool was not heard at the temple while it was being built.

1 Kings 6:8 The entrance to the bottom level of side rooms was on the south side of the temple; stairs went up to the middle floor and then on up to the third floor.

1 Kings 6:9 He finished building the temple and covered it with rafters and boards made of cedar.

1 Kings 6:10 He built an extension all around the temple; it was seven and a half feet high and it was attached to the temple by cedar beams.

1 Kings 6:11 The LORD said to Solomon:

1 Kings 6:12 "As for this temple you are building, if you follow my rules, observe my regulations, and obey all my commandments, I will fulfill through you the promise I made to your father David.

1 Kings 6:13 I will live among the Israelites and will not abandon my people Israel."

1 Kings 6:14 So Solomon finished building the temple.

1 Kings 6:15 He constructed the walls inside the temple with cedar planks; he paneled the inside with wood from the floor of the temple to the rafters of the ceiling. He covered the temple floor with boards made from the wood of evergreens.

1 Kings 6:16 He built a wall 30 feet in from the rear of the temple as a partition for an inner sanctuary that would be the most holy place. He paneled the wall with cedar planks from the floor to the rafters.

1 Kings 6:17 The main hall in front of the inner sanctuary was 60 feet long.

1 Kings 6:18 The inside of the temple was all cedar and was adorned with carvings of round ornaments and of flowers in bloom. Everything was cedar; no stones were visible.

1 Kings 6:19 He prepared the inner sanctuary inside the temple so that the ark of the covenant of the LORD could be placed there.

1 Kings 6:20 The inner sanctuary was 30 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 30 feet high. He plated it with gold, as well as the cedar altar.

1 Kings 6:21 Solomon plated the inside of the temple with gold. He hung golden chains in front of the inner sanctuary and plated the inner sanctuary with gold.

1 Kings 6:22 He plated the entire inside of the temple with gold, as well as the altar inside the inner sanctuary.

1 Kings 6:23 In the inner sanctuary he made two cherubs of olive wood; each stood 15 feet high.

1 Kings 6:24 Each of the first cherub’s wings was seven and a half feet long; its entire wingspan was 15 feet.

1 Kings 6:25 The second cherub also had a wingspan of 15 feet; it was identical to the first in measurements and shape.

1 Kings 6:26 Each cherub stood 15 feet high.

1 Kings 6:27 He put the cherubs in the inner sanctuary of the temple. Their wings were spread out. One of the first cherub’s wings touched one wall and one of the other cherub’s wings touched the opposite wall. The first cherub’s other wing touched the second cherub’s other wing in the middle of the room.

1 Kings 6:28 He plated the cherubs with gold.

1 Kings 6:29 On all the walls around the temple, inside and out, he carved cherubs, palm trees, and flowers in bloom.

1 Kings 6:30 He plated the floor of the temple with gold, inside and out.

1 Kings 6:31 He made doors of olive wood at the entrance to the inner sanctuary; the pillar on each doorpost was five-sided.

1 Kings 6:32 On the two doors made of olive wood he carved cherubs, palm trees, and flowers in bloom, and he plated them with gold. He plated the cherubs and the palm trees with hammered gold.

1 Kings 6:33 In the same way he made doorposts of olive wood for the entrance to the main hall, only with four-sided pillars.

1 Kings 6:34 He also made two doors out of wood from evergreens; each door had two folding leaves.

1 Kings 6:35 He carved cherubs, palm trees, and flowers in bloom and plated them with gold, leveled out over the carvings.

1 Kings 6:36 He built the inner courtyard with three rows of chiseled stones and a row of cedar beams.

1 Kings 6:37 In the month Ziv of the fourth year of Solomon's reign the foundation was laid for the LORD's temple.

1 Kings 6:38 In the eleventh year, in the month Bul (the eighth month) the temple was completed in accordance with all its specifications and blueprints. It took seven years to build.

1 Kings 7:1 Solomon took thirteen years to build his palace.

1 Kings 7:2 He named it "The Palace of the Lebanon Forest"; it was 150 feet long, 75 feet wide, and 45 feet high. It had four rows of cedar pillars and cedar beams above the pillars.

1 Kings 7:3 The roof above the beams supported by the pillars was also made of cedar; there were forty-five beams, fifteen per row.

1 Kings 7:4 There were three rows of windows arranged in sets of three.

1 Kings 7:5 All of the entrances were rectangular in shape and they were arranged in sets of three.

1 Kings 7:6 He made a colonnade 75 feet long and 45 feet wide. There was a porch in front of this and pillars and a roof in front of the porch.

1 Kings 7:7 He also made a throne room, called "The Hall of Judgment," where he made judicial decisions. It was paneled with cedar from the floor to the rafters.

1 Kings 7:8 The palace where he lived was constructed in a similar way. He also constructed a palace like this hall for Pharaoh's daughter, whom he had married.

1 Kings 7:9 All of these were built with the best stones, chiseled to the right size and cut with a saw on all sides, from the foundation to the edge of the roof and from the outside to the great courtyard.

1 Kings 7:10 The foundation was made of large valuable stones, measuring either 15 feet or 12 feet.

1 Kings 7:11 Above the foundation the best stones, chiseled to the right size, were used along with cedar.

1 Kings 7:12 Around the great courtyard were three rows of chiseled stones and one row of cedar beams, like the inner courtyard of the LORD’s temple and the hall of the palace.

1 Kings 7:13 King Solomon sent for Hiram of Tyre.

1 Kings 7:14 He was the son of a widow from the tribe of Naphtali, and his father was a craftsman in bronze from Tyre. He had the skill and knowledge to make all kinds of works of bronze. He reported to King Solomon and did all the work he was assigned.

1 Kings 7:15 He fashioned two bronze pillars; each pillar was 27 feet high and 18 feet in circumference.

1 Kings 7:16 He made two bronze tops for the pillars; each was seven-and-a-half feet high.

1 Kings 7:17 The latticework on the tops of the pillars was adorned with ornamental wreaths and chains; the top of each pillar had seven groupings of ornaments.

1 Kings 7:18 When he made the pillars, there were two rows of pomegranate-shaped ornaments around the latticework covering the top of each pillar.

1 Kings 7:19 The tops of the two pillars in the porch were shaped like lilies and were six feet high.

1 Kings 7:20 On the top of each pillar, right above the bulge beside the latticework, there were two hundred pomegranate-shaped ornaments arranged in rows all the way around.

1 Kings 7:21 He set up the pillars on the porch in front of the main hall. He erected one pillar on the right side and called it Jakin; he erected the other pillar on the left side and called it Boaz.

1 Kings 7:22 The tops of the pillars were shaped like lilies. So the construction of the pillars was completed.

1 Kings 7:23 He also made the large bronze basin called “The Sea.” It measured 15 feet from rim to rim, was circular in shape, and stood seven-and-a-half feet high. Its circumference was 45 feet.

1 Kings 7:24 Under the rim all the way around it were round ornaments arranged in settings 15 feet long. The ornaments were in two rows and had been cast with “The Sea.”

1 Kings 7:25 “The Sea” stood on top of twelve bulls. Three faced northward, three westward, three southward, and three eastward. “The Sea” was placed on top of them, and they all faced outward.

1 Kings 7:26 It was four fingers thick and its rim was like that of a cup shaped like a lily blossom. It could hold about 12,000 gallons.

1 Kings 7:27 He also made ten bronze movable stands. Each stand was six feet long, six feet wide, and four-and-a-half feet high.

1 Kings 7:28 The stands were constructed with frames between the joints.

1 Kings 7:29 On these frames and joints were ornamental lions, bulls, and cherubs. Under the lions and bulls were decorative wreaths.

1 Kings 7:30 Each stand had four bronze wheels with bronze axles and four supports. Under the basin the supports were fashioned on each side with wreaths.

1 Kings 7:31 Inside the stand was a round opening that was a foot-and-a-half deep; it had a support that was two and one-quarter feet long. On the edge of the opening were carvings in square frames.

1 Kings 7:32 The four wheels were under the frames and the crossbars of the axles were connected to the stand. Each wheel was two and one-quarter feet high.

1 Kings 7:33 The wheels were constructed like chariot wheels; their crossbars, rims, spokes, and hubs were made of cast metal.

1 Kings 7:34 Each stand had four supports, one per side projecting out from the stand.

1 Kings 7:35 On top of each stand was a round opening three-quarters of a foot deep; there were also supports and frames on top of the stands.

1 Kings 7:36 He engraved ornamental cherubs, lions, and palm trees on the plates of the supports and frames wherever there was room, with wreaths all around.

1 Kings 7:37 He made the ten stands in this way. All of them were cast in one mold and were identical in measurements and shape.

1 Kings 7:38 He also made ten bronze basins, each of which could hold about 240 gallons. Each basin was six feet in diameter; there was one basin for each stand.

1 Kings 7:39 He put five basins on the south side of the temple and five on the north side. He put “The Sea” on the south side, in the southeast corner.

1 Kings 7:40 Hiram also made basins, shovels, and bowls. He finished all the work on the LORD’s temple he had been assigned by King Solomon.

1 Kings 7:41 He made the two pillars, the two bowl-shaped tops of the pillars, the latticework for the bowl-shaped tops of the two pillars,

1 Kings 7:42 the four hundred pomegranate-shaped ornaments for the latticework of the two pillars (each latticework had two rows of these ornaments at the bowl-shaped top of the pillar),

1 Kings 7:43 the ten movable stands with their ten basins,

1 Kings 7:44 the big bronze basin called “The Sea” with its twelve bulls underneath,

1 Kings 7:45 and the pots, shovels, and bowls. All these items King Solomon assigned Hiram to make for the LORD's temple were made from polished bronze.

1 Kings 7:46 The king had them cast in earth foundries in the region of the Jordan between Succoth and Zarethan.

1 Kings 7:47 Solomon left all these items unweighed; there were so many of them they did not weigh the bronze.

1 Kings 7:48 Solomon also made all these items for the LORD's temple: the gold altar, the gold table on which was kept the Bread of the Presence,

1 Kings 7:49 the pure gold lampstands at the entrance to the inner sanctuary (five on the right and five on the left), the gold flower-shaped ornaments, lamps, and tongs,

1 Kings 7:50 the pure gold bowls, trimming shears, basins, pans, and censers, and the gold door sockets for the inner sanctuary (the most holy place) and for the doors of the main hall of the temple.

1 Kings 7:51 When King Solomon finished constructing the LORD's temple, he put the holy items that belonged to his father David (the silver, gold, and other articles) in the treasuries of the LORD's temple.

1 Kings 8:1 Then Solomon convened in Jerusalem Israel's elders, all the leaders of the Israelite tribes and families, so they could witness the transferal of the ark of the LORD's covenant from the city of David (that is, Zion).

1 Kings 8:2 All the men of Israel assembled before King Solomon during the festival in the month Ethanim (the seventh month).

1 Kings 8:3 When all Israel's elders had arrived, the priests lifted the ark.

1 Kings 8:4 The priests and Levites carried the ark of the LORD, the tent of meeting, and all the holy items in the tent.

1 Kings 8:5 Now King Solomon and all the Israelites who had assembled with him went on ahead of the ark and sacrificed more sheep and cattle than could be counted or numbered.

1 Kings 8:6 The priests brought the ark of the LORD's covenant to its assigned place in the inner sanctuary of the temple, in the most holy place, under the wings of the cherubs.

1 Kings 8:7 The cherubs' wings extended over the place where the ark sat; the cherubs overshadowed the ark and its poles.

1 Kings 8:8 The poles were so long their ends were visible from the holy place in front of the inner sanctuary, but they could not be seen from beyond that point. They have remained there to this very day.

1 Kings 8:9 There was nothing in the ark except the two stone tablets Moses had placed there in Horeb. It was there that the LORD made an agreement with the Israelites after he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

1 Kings 8:10 Once the priests left the holy place, a cloud filled the LORD's temple.

1 Kings 8:11 The priests could not carry out their duties because of the cloud; the LORD's glory filled his temple.

1 Kings 8:12 Then Solomon said, "The LORD has said that he lives in thick darkness.

1 Kings 8:13 O LORD, truly I have built a lofty temple for you, a place where you can live permanently."

1 Kings 8:14 Then the king turned around and pronounced a blessing over the whole Israelite assembly as they stood there.

1 Kings 8:15 He said, "The LORD God of Israel is worthy of praise because he has fulfilled what he promised my father David.

1 Kings 8:16 He told David, 'Since the day I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I have not chosen a city from all the tribes of Israel to build a temple in which to live. But I have chosen David to lead my people Israel.'

1 Kings 8:17 Now my father David had a strong desire to build a temple to honor the LORD God of Israel.

1 Kings 8:18 The LORD told my father David, 'It is right for you to have a strong desire to build a temple to honor me.

1 Kings 8:19 But you will not build the temple; your very own son will build the temple for my honor.'

1 Kings 8:20 The LORD has kept the promise he made. I have taken my father David's place and have occupied the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised. I have built this temple for the honor of the LORD God of Israel

1 Kings 8:21 and set up in it a place for the ark containing the covenant the LORD made with our ancestors when he brought them out of the land of Egypt."

1 Kings 8:22 Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in front of the entire assembly of Israel and spread out his hands toward the sky.

1 Kings 8:23 He prayed: "O LORD, God of Israel, there is no god like you in heaven above or on earth below! You maintain covenantal loyalty to your servants who obey you with sincerity.

1 Kings 8:24 You have kept your word to your servant, my father David; this very day you have fulfilled what you promised.

1 Kings 8:25 Now, O LORD, God of Israel, keep the promise you made to your servant, my father David, when you said, 'You will never fail to have a successor ruling before me on the throne of Israel, provided that your descendants watch their step and serve me as you have done.'

1 Kings 8:26 Now, O God of Israel, may the promise you made to your servant, my father David, be realized.

1 Kings 8:27 “God does not really live on the earth! Look, if the sky and the highest heaven cannot contain you, how much less this temple I have built!

1 Kings 8:28 But respond favorably to your servant’s prayer and his request for help, O LORD my God. Answer the desperate prayer your servant is presenting to you today.

1 Kings 8:29 Night and day may you watch over this temple, the place where you promised you would live. May you answer your servant’s prayer for this place.

1 Kings 8:30 Respond to the request of your servant and your people Israel for this place. Hear from inside your heavenly dwelling place and respond favorably.

1 Kings 8:31 “When someone is accused of sinning against his neighbor and the latter pronounces a curse on the alleged offender before your altar in this temple, be willing to forgive the accused if the accusation is false.

1 Kings 8:32 Listen from heaven and make a just decision about your servants’ claims. Condemn the guilty party, declare the other innocent, and give both of them what they deserve.

1 Kings 8:33 “The time will come when your people Israel are defeated by an enemy because they sinned against you. If they come back to you, renew their allegiance to you, and pray for your help in this temple,

1 Kings 8:34 then listen from heaven, forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land you gave to their ancestors.

1 Kings 8:35 “The time will come when the skies are shut up tightly and no rain falls because your people sinned against you. When they direct their prayers toward this place, renew their allegiance to you, and turn away from their sin because you punish them,

1 Kings 8:36 then listen from heaven and forgive the sin of your servants, your people Israel. Certainly you will then teach them the right way to live and send rain on your land that you have given your people to possess.

1 Kings 8:37 “The time will come when the land suffers from a famine, a plague, blight and disease, or a locust invasion, or when their enemy lays siege to the cities of the land, or when some other type of plague or epidemic occurs.

1 Kings 8:38 When all your people Israel pray and ask for help, as they acknowledge their pain and spread out their hands toward this temple,

1 Kings 8:39 then listen from your heavenly dwelling place, forgive their sin, and act favorably toward each one based on your evaluation of his motives. (Indeed you are the only one who can correctly evaluate the motives of all people.)

1 Kings 8:40 Then they will obey you throughout their lifetimes as they live on the land you gave to our ancestors.

1 Kings 8:41 “Foreigners, who do not belong to your people Israel, will come from a distant land because of your reputation.

1 Kings 8:42 When they hear about your great reputation and your ability to accomplish mighty deeds, they will come and direct their prayers toward this temple.

1 Kings 8:43 Then listen from your heavenly dwelling place and answer all the prayers of the foreigners. Then all the nations of the earth will acknowledge your reputation, obey you like your people Israel do, and recognize that this temple I built belongs to you.

1 Kings 8:44 “When you direct your people to march out and fight their enemies, and they direct their prayers to the LORD toward his chosen city and this temple I built for your honor,

1 Kings 8:45 then listen from heaven to their prayers for help and vindicate them.

1 Kings 8:46 “The time will come when your people will sin against you (for there is no one who is sinless!) and you will be angry with them and deliver them over to their enemies, who will take them as prisoners to their own land, whether far away or close by.

1 Kings 8:47 When your people come to their senses in the land where they are held prisoner, they will repent and beg for your mercy in the land of their imprisonment, admitting, ‘We have sinned and gone astray; we have done evil.’

1 Kings 8:48 When they return to you with all their heart and being in the land where they are held prisoner, and direct their prayers to you toward the land you gave to their ancestors, your chosen city, and the temple I built for your honor,

1 Kings 8:49 then listen from your heavenly dwelling place to their prayers for help and vindicate them.

1 Kings 8:50 Forgive all the rebellious acts of your sinful people and cause their captors to have mercy on them.

1 Kings 8:51 After all, they are your people and your special possession whom you brought out of Egypt, from the middle of the iron-smelting furnace.

1 Kings 8:52 “May you be attentive to your servant’s and your people Israel’s requests for help and may you respond to all their prayers to you.

1 Kings 8:53 After all, you picked them out of all the nations of the earth to be your special possession, just as you, O sovereign LORD, announced through your servant Moses when you brought our ancestors out of Egypt.”

1 Kings 8:54 When Solomon finished presenting all these prayers and requests to the LORD, he got up from before the altar of the LORD where he had kneeled and spread out his hands toward the sky.

1 Kings 8:55 When he stood up, he pronounced a blessing over the entire assembly of Israel, saying in a loud voice:

1 Kings 8:56 “The LORD is worthy of praise because he has made Israel his people secure just as he promised! Not one of all the faithful promises he made through his servant Moses is left unfulfilled!

1 Kings 8:57 May the LORD our God be with us, as he was with our ancestors. May he not abandon us or leave us.

1 Kings 8:58 May he make us submissive, so we can follow all his instructions and obey the commandments, rules, and regulations he commanded our ancestors.

1 Kings 8:59 May the LORD our God be constantly aware of these requests of mine I have presented to him, so that he might vindicate his servant and his people Israel as the need arises.

1 Kings 8:60 Then all the nations of the earth will recognize that the LORD is the only genuine God.

1 Kings 8:61 May you demonstrate wholehearted devotion to the LORD our God by following his rules and obeying his commandments, as you are presently doing.”

1 Kings 8:62 The king and all Israel with him were presenting sacrifices to the LORD.

1 Kings 8:63 Solomon offered as peace offerings to the LORD 22,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep. Then the king and all the Israelites dedicated the LORD’s temple.

1 Kings 8:64 That day the king consecrated the middle of the courtyard that is in front of the LORD’s temple. He offered there burnt sacrifices, grain offerings, and the fat from the peace offerings, because the bronze altar that stood before the LORD was too small to hold all these offerings.

1 Kings 8:65 At that time Solomon and all Israel with him celebrated a festival before the LORD our God for two entire weeks. This great assembly included people from all over the land, from Lebo Hamath in the north to the Brook of Egypt in the south.

1 Kings 8:66 On the fifteenth day after the festival started, he dismissed the people. They asked God to empower the king and then went to their homes, happy and content because of all the good the LORD had done for his servant David and his people Israel.

1 Kings 9:1 After Solomon finished building the LORD’s temple, the royal palace, and all the other construction projects he had planned,

1 Kings 9:2 the LORD appeared to Solomon a second time, in the same way he had appeared to him at Gibeon.

1 Kings 9:3 The LORD said to him, “I have answered your prayer and your request for help that you made to me. I have consecrated this temple you built by making it my permanent home; I will be constantly present there.

1 Kings 9:4 You must serve me with integrity and sincerity, just as your father David did. Do everything I commanded and obey my rules and regulations.

1 Kings 9:5 Then I will allow your dynasty to rule over Israel permanently, just as I promised your father David, ‘You will not fail to have a successor on the throne of Israel.’

1 Kings 9:6 “But if you or your sons ever turn away from me, fail to obey the regulations and rules I instructed you to keep, and decide to serve and worship other gods,

1 Kings 9:7 then I will remove Israel from the land I have given them, I will abandon this temple I have consecrated with my presence, and Israel will be mocked and ridiculed among all the nations.

1 Kings 9:8 This temple will become a heap of ruins; everyone who passes by it will be shocked and will hiss out their scorn, saying, ‘Why did the LORD do this to this land and this temple?’

1 Kings 9:9 Others will then answer, ‘Because they abandoned the LORD their God, who led their ancestors out of Egypt. They embraced other gods whom they worshiped and served. That is why the LORD has brought all this disaster down on them.’“

1 Kings 9:10 After twenty years, during which Solomon built the LORD’s temple and the royal palace,

1 Kings 9:11 King Solomon gave King Hiram of Tyre twenty cities in the region of Galilee, because Hiram had supplied Solomon with cedars, evergreens, and all the gold he wanted.

1 Kings 9:12 When Hiram went out from Tyre to inspect the cities Solomon had given him, he was not pleased with them.

1 Kings 9:13 Hiram asked, “Why did you give me these cities, my friend?” He called that area the region of Cabul, a name which it has retained to this day.

1 Kings 9:14 Hiram had sent to the king one hundred twenty talents of gold.

1 Kings 9:15 Here are the details concerning the work crews King Solomon conscripted to build the LORD’s temple, his palace, the terrace, the wall of Jerusalem, and the cities of Hazor, Megiddo, and Gezer.

1 Kings 9:16 (Pharaoh, king of Egypt, had attacked and captured Gezer. He burned it and killed the Canaanites who lived in the city. He gave it as a wedding present to his daughter, who had married Solomon.)

1 Kings 9:17 Solomon built up Gezer, lower Beth Horon,

1 Kings 9:18 Baalath, Tadmor in the wilderness,

1 Kings 9:19 all the storage cities that belonged to him, and the cities where chariots and horses were kept. He built whatever he wanted in Jerusalem, Lebanon, and throughout his entire kingdom.

1 Kings 9:20 Now several non-Israelite peoples were left in the land after the conquest of Joshua, including the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.

1 Kings 9:21 Their descendants remained in the land (the Israelites were unable to wipe them out completely). Solomon conscripted them for his work crews, and they continue in that role to this very day.

1 Kings 9:22 Solomon did not assign Israelites to these work crews; the Israelites served as his soldiers, attendants, officers, charioteers, and commanders of his chariot forces.

1 Kings 9:23 These men were also in charge of Solomon's work projects; there were a total of 550 men who supervised the workers.

1 Kings 9:24 Solomon built the terrace as soon as Pharaoh's daughter moved up from the city of David to the palace Solomon built for her.

1 Kings 9:25 Three times a year Solomon offered burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar he had built for the LORD, burning incense along with them before the LORD. He made the temple his official worship place.

1 Kings 9:26 King Solomon also built ships in Ezion Geber, which is located near Elat in the land of Edom, on the shore of the Red Sea.

1 Kings 9:27 Hiram sent his fleet and some of his sailors, who were well acquainted with the sea, to serve with Solomon's men.

1 Kings 9:28 They sailed to Ophir, took from there four hundred twenty talents of gold, and then brought them to King Solomon.

1 Kings 10:1 When the queen of Sheba heard about Solomon, she came to challenge him with difficult questions.

1 Kings 10:2 She arrived in Jerusalem with a great display of pomp, bringing with her camels carrying spices, a very large quantity of gold, and precious gems. She visited Solomon and discussed with him everything that was on her mind.

1 Kings 10:3 Solomon answered all her questions; there was no question too complex for the king.

1 Kings 10:4 When the queen of Sheba saw for herself Solomon's extensive wisdom, the palace he had built,

1 Kings 10:5 the food in his banquet hall, his servants and attendants, their robes, his cupbearers, and his burnt offerings which he presented in the LORD's temple, she was amazed.

1 Kings 10:6 She said to the king, “The report I heard in my own country about your wise sayings and insight was true!

1 Kings 10:7 I did not believe these things until I came and saw them with my own eyes. Indeed, I didn’t hear even half the story! Your wisdom and wealth surpass what was reported to me.

1 Kings 10:8 Your attendants, who stand before you at all times and hear your wise sayings, are truly happy!

1 Kings 10:9 May the LORD your God be praised because he favored you by placing you on the throne of Israel! Because of the LORD’s eternal love for Israel, he made you king so you could make just and right decisions.”

1 Kings 10:10 She gave the king 120 talents of gold, a very large quantity of spices, and precious gems. The quantity of spices the queen of Sheba gave King Solomon has never been matched.

1 Kings 10:11 (Hiram’s fleet, which carried gold from Ophir, also brought from Ophir a very large quantity of fine timber and precious gems.

1 Kings 10:12 With the timber the king made supports for the LORD’s temple and for the royal palace and stringed instruments for the musicians. No one has seen so much of this fine timber to this very day.)

1 Kings 10:13 King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she requested, besides what he had freely offered her. Then she left and returned to her homeland with her attendants.

1 Kings 10:14 Solomon received 666 talents of gold per year,

1 Kings 10:15 besides what he collected from the merchants, traders, Arabian kings, and governors of the land.

1 Kings 10:16 King Solomon made two hundred large shields of hammered gold; 600 measures of gold were used for each shield.

1 Kings 10:17 He also made three hundred small shields of hammered gold; three minas of gold were used for each of these shields. The king placed them in the Palace of the Lebanon Forest.

1 Kings 10:18 The king made a large throne decorated with ivory and overlaid it with pure gold.

1 Kings 10:19 There were six steps leading up to the throne, and the back of it was rounded on top. The throne had two armrests with a statue of a lion standing on each side.

1 Kings 10:20 There were twelve statues of lions on the six steps, one lion at each end of each step. There was nothing like it in any other kingdom.

1 Kings 10:21 All of King Solomon’s cups were made of gold, and all the household items in the Palace of the Lebanon Forest were made of pure gold. There were no silver items, for silver was not considered very valuable in Solomon’s time.

1 Kings 10:22 Along with Hiram’s fleet, the king had a fleet of large merchant ships that sailed the sea. Once every three years the fleet came into port with cargoes of gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks.

1 Kings 10:23 King Solomon was wealthier and wiser than any of the kings of the earth.

1 Kings 10:24 Everyone in the world wanted to visit Solomon to see him display his God-given wisdom.

1 Kings 10:25 Year after year visitors brought their gifts, which included items of silver, items of gold, clothes, perfume, spices, horses, and mules.

1 Kings 10:26 Solomon accumulated chariots and horses. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horses. He kept them in assigned cities and in Jerusalem.

1 Kings 10:27 The king made silver as plentiful in Jerusalem as stones; cedar was as plentiful as sycamore fig trees are in the lowlands.

1 Kings 10:28 Solomon acquired his horses from Egypt and from Que; the king’s traders purchased them from Que.

1 Kings 10:29 They paid 600 silver pieces for each chariot from Egypt and 150 silver pieces for each horse. They also sold chariots and horses to all the kings of the Hittites and to the kings of Syria.

1 Kings 11:1 King Solomon fell in love with many foreign women (besides Pharaoh’s daughter), including Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonians, and Hittites.

1 Kings 11:2 They came from nations about which the LORD had warned the Israelites, “You must not establish friendly relations with them! If you do, they will surely shift your allegiance to their gods.” But Solomon was irresistibly attracted to them.

1 Kings 11:3 He had 700 royal wives and 300 concubines; his wives had a powerful influence over him.

1 Kings 11:4 When Solomon became old, his wives shifted his allegiance to other gods; he was not wholeheartedly devoted to the LORD his God, as his father David had been.

1 Kings 11:5 Solomon worshiped the Sidonian goddess Astarte and the detestable Ammonite god Milcom.

1 Kings 11:6 Solomon did evil in the LORD’s sight; he did not remain loyal to the LORD, like his father David had.

1 Kings 11:7 Furthermore, on the hill east of Jerusalem Solomon built a high place for the detestable Moabite god Chemosh and for the detestable Ammonite god Milcom.

1 Kings 11:8 He built high places for all his foreign wives so they could burn incense and make sacrifices to their gods.

1 Kings 11:9 The LORD was angry with Solomon because he had shifted his allegiance away from the LORD, the God of Israel, who had appeared to him on two occasions

1 Kings 11:10 and had warned him about this very thing, so that he would not follow other gods. But he did not obey the LORD's command.

1 Kings 11:11 So the LORD said to Solomon, "Because you insist on doing these things and have not kept the covenantal rules I gave you, I will surely tear the kingdom away from you and give it to your servant.

1 Kings 11:12 However, for your father David's sake I will not do this while you are alive. I will tear it away from your son's hand instead.

1 Kings 11:13 But I will not tear away the entire kingdom; I will leave your son one tribe for my servant David's sake and for the sake of my chosen city Jerusalem."

1 Kings 11:14 The LORD brought against Solomon an enemy, Hadad the Edomite, a descendant of the Edomite king.

1 Kings 11:15 During David's campaign against Edom, Joab, the commander of the army, while on a mission to bury the dead, killed every male in Edom.

1 Kings 11:16 For six months Joab and the entire Israelite army stayed there until they had exterminated every male in Edom.

1 Kings 11:17 Hadad, who was only a small boy at the time, escaped with some of his father's Edomite servants and headed for Egypt.

1 Kings 11:18 They went from Midian to Paran; they took some men from Paran and went to Egypt. Pharaoh, king of Egypt, supplied him with a house and food and even assigned him some land.

1 Kings 11:19 Pharaoh liked Hadad so well he gave him his sister-in-law (Queen Tahpenes' sister) as a wife.

1 Kings 11:20 Tahpenes' sister gave birth to his son, named Genubath. Tahpenes raised him in Pharaoh's palace; Genubath grew up in Pharaoh's palace among Pharaoh's sons.

1 Kings 11:21 While in Egypt Hadad heard that David had passed away and that Joab, the commander of the army, was dead. So Hadad asked Pharaoh, "Give me permission to leave so I can return to my homeland."

1 Kings 11:22 Pharaoh said to him, "What do you lack here that makes you want to go to your homeland?" Hadad replied, "Nothing, but please give me permission to leave."

1 Kings 11:23 God also brought against Solomon another enemy, Rezon son of Eliada who had run away from his master, King Hadadezer of Zobah.

1 Kings 11:24 He gathered some men and organized a raiding band. When David tried to kill them, they went to Damascus, where they settled down and gained control of the city.

1 Kings 11:25 He was Israel’s enemy throughout Solomon’s reign and, like Hadad, caused trouble. He loathed Israel and ruled over Syria.

1 Kings 11:26 Jeroboam son of Nebat, one of Solomon’s servants, rebelled against the king. He was an Ephraimite from Zeredah whose mother was a widow named Zeruah.

1 Kings 11:27 This is what prompted him to rebel against the king: Solomon built a terrace and he closed up a gap in the wall of the city of his father David.

1 Kings 11:28 Jeroboam was a talented man; when Solomon saw that the young man was an accomplished worker, he made him the leader of the work crew from the tribe of Joseph.

1 Kings 11:29 At that time, when Jeroboam had left Jerusalem, the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite met him on the road; the two of them were alone in the open country. Ahijah was wearing a brand new robe,

1 Kings 11:30 and he grabbed the robe and tore it into twelve pieces.

1 Kings 11:31 Then he told Jeroboam, “Take ten pieces, for this is what the LORD God of Israel says: ‘Look, I am about to tear the kingdom from Solomon’s hand and I will give ten tribes to you.

1 Kings 11:32 He will retain one tribe, for my servant David’s sake and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel.

1 Kings 11:33 I am taking the kingdom from him because they have abandoned me and worshiped the Sidonian goddess Astarte, the Moabite god Chemosh, and the Ammonite god Milcom. They have not followed my instructions by doing what I approve and obeying my rules and regulations, like Solomon’s father David did.

1 Kings 11:34 I will not take the whole kingdom from his hand. I will allow him to be ruler for the rest of his life for the sake of my chosen servant David who kept my commandments and rules.

1 Kings 11:35 I will take the kingdom from the hand of his son and give ten tribes to you.

1 Kings 11:36 I will leave his son one tribe so my servant David’s dynasty may continue to serve me in Jerusalem, the city I have chosen as my home.

1 Kings 11:37 I will select you; you will rule over all you desire to have and you will be king over Israel.

1 Kings 11:38 You must obey all I command you to do, follow my instructions, do what I approve, and keep my rules and commandments, like my servant David did. Then I will be with you and establish for you a lasting dynasty, as I did for David; I will give you Israel.

1 Kings 11:39 I will humiliate David’s descendants because of this, but not forever.”

1 Kings 11:40 Solomon tried to kill Jeroboam, but Jeroboam escaped to Egypt and found refuge with King Shishak of Egypt. He stayed in Egypt until Solomon died.

1 Kings 11:41 The rest of the events of Solomon’s reign, including all his accomplishments and his wise decisions, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of Solomon.

1 Kings 11:42 Solomon ruled over all Israel from Jerusalem for forty years.

1 Kings 11:43 Then Solomon passed away and was buried in the city of his father David. His son Rehoboam replaced him as king.

1 Kings 12:1 Rehoboam traveled to Shechem, for all Israel had gathered in Shechem to make Rehoboam king.

1 Kings 12:2 When Jeroboam son of Nebat heard the news, he was still in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon and had been living ever since.

1 Kings 12:3 They sent for him, and Jeroboam and the whole Israelite assembly came and spoke to Rehoboam, saying,

1 Kings 12:4 “Your father made us work too hard. Now if you lighten the demands he made and don’t make us work as hard, we will serve you.”

1 Kings 12:5 He said to them, “Go away for three days, then return to me.” So the people went away.

1 Kings 12:6 King Rehoboam consulted with the older advisers who had served his father Solomon when he had been alive. He asked them, “How do you advise me to answer these people?”

1 Kings 12:7 They said to him, “Today if you show a willingness to help these people and grant their request, they will be your servants from this time forward.”

1 Kings 12:8 But Rehoboam rejected their advice and consulted the young advisers who served him, with whom he had grown up.

1 Kings 12:9 He asked them, “How do you advise me to respond to these people who said to me, ‘Lessen the demands your father placed on us’?”

1 Kings 12:10 The young advisers with whom Rehoboam had grown up said to him, “Say this to these people who have said to you, ‘Your father made us work hard, but now lighten our burden.’ Say this to them: ‘I am a lot harsher than my father!

1 Kings 12:11 My father imposed heavy demands on you; I will make them even heavier. My father punished you with ordinary whips; I will punish you with whips that really sting your flesh.’“

1 Kings 12:12 Jeroboam and all the people reported to Rehoboam on the third day, just as the king had ordered when he said, “Return to me on the third day.”

1 Kings 12:13 The king responded to the people harshly. He rejected the advice of the older men

1 Kings 12:14 and followed the advice of the younger ones. He said, “My father imposed heavy demands on you; I will make them even heavier. My father punished you with ordinary whips; I will punish you with whips that really sting your flesh.”

1 Kings 12:15 The king refused to listen to the people, because the LORD was instigating this turn of events so that he might bring to pass the prophetic announcement he had made through Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam son of Nebat.

1 Kings 12:16 When all Israel saw that the king refused to listen to them, the people answered the king, “We have no portion in David, no share in the son of Jesse! Return to your homes, O Israel! Now, look after your own dynasty, O David!” So Israel returned to their homes.

1 Kings 12:17 (Rehoboam continued to rule over the Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah.)

1 Kings 12:18 King Rehoboam sent Adoniram, the supervisor of the work crews, out after them, but all Israel stoned him to death. King Rehoboam managed to jump into his chariot and escape to Jerusalem.

1 Kings 12:19 So Israel has been in rebellion against the Davidic dynasty to this very day.

1 Kings 12:20 When all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, they summoned him to the assembly and made him king over all Israel. No one except the tribe of Judah remained loyal to the Davidic dynasty.

1 Kings 12:21 When Rehoboam arrived in Jerusalem, he summoned 180,000 skilled warriors from all of Judah and the tribe of Benjamin to attack Israel and restore the kingdom to Rehoboam son of Solomon.

1 Kings 12:22 But God told Shemaiah the prophet,

1 Kings 12:23 “Say this to King Rehoboam son of Solomon of Judah, and to all Judah and Benjamin, as well as the rest of the people,

1 Kings 12:24 ‘The LORD says this: “Do not attack and make war with your brothers, the Israelites. Each of you go home, for I have caused this to happen.”‘“ They obeyed the LORD and went home as the LORD had ordered them to do.

1 Kings 12:25 Jeroboam built up Shechem in the Ephraimite hill country and lived there. From there he went out and built up Penuel.

1 Kings 12:26 Jeroboam then thought to himself: “Now the Davidic dynasty could regain the kingdom.

1 Kings 12:27 If these people go up to offer sacrifices in the LORD's temple in Jerusalem, their loyalty could shift to their former master, King Rehoboam of Judah. They might kill me and return to King Rehoboam of Judah."

1 Kings 12:28 After the king had consulted with his advisers, he made two golden calves. Then he said to the people, "It is too much trouble for you to go up to Jerusalem. Look, Israel, here are your gods who brought you up from the land of Egypt."

1 Kings 12:29 He put one in Bethel and the other in Dan.

1 Kings 12:30 This caused Israel to sin; the people went to Bethel and Dan to worship the calves.

1 Kings 12:31 He built temples on the high places and appointed as priests people who were not Levites.

1 Kings 12:32 Jeroboam inaugurated a festival on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, like the festival celebrated in Judah. On the altar in Bethel he offered sacrifices to the calves he had made. In Bethel he also appointed priests for the high places he had made.

1 Kings 12:33 On the fifteenth day of the eighth month (a date he had arbitrarily chosen) Jeroboam offered sacrifices on the altar he had made in Bethel. He inaugurated a festival for the Israelites and went up to the altar to offer sacrifices.

1 Kings 13:1 Just then a prophet from Judah, sent by the LORD, arrived in Bethel, as Jeroboam was standing near the altar ready to offer a sacrifice.

1 Kings 13:2 With the authority of the LORD he cried out against the altar, "O altar, altar! This is what the LORD says, 'Look, a son named Josiah will be born to the Davidic dynasty. He will sacrifice on you the priests of the high places who offer sacrifices on you. Human bones will be burned on you.'"

1 Kings 13:3 That day he also announced a sign, "This is the sign the LORD has predetermined: The altar will be split open and the ashes on it will fall to the ground."

1 Kings 13:4 When the king heard what the prophet cried out against the altar in Bethel, Jeroboam, standing at the altar, extended his hand and ordered, "Seize him!" The hand he had extended shriveled up and he could not pull it back.

1 Kings 13:5 The altar split open and the ashes fell from the altar to the ground, in fulfillment of the sign the prophet had announced with the LORD's authority.

1 Kings 13:6 The king pled with the prophet, "Seek the favor of the LORD your God and pray for me, so that my hand may be restored." So the prophet sought the LORD's favor and the king's hand was restored to its former condition.

1 Kings 13:7 The king then said to the prophet, “Come home with me and have something to eat. I’d like to give a present.”

1 Kings 13:8 But the prophet said to the king, “Even if you were to give me half your possessions, I could not go with you and eat and drink in this place.

1 Kings 13:9 For the LORD gave me strict orders, ‘Do not eat or drink there and do not go home the way you came.’“

1 Kings 13:10 So he started back on another road; he did not travel back on the same road he had taken to Bethel.

1 Kings 13:11 Now there was an old prophet living in Bethel. When his sons came home, they told their father everything the prophet had done in Bethel that day and all the words he had spoken to the king.

1 Kings 13:12 Their father asked them, “Which road did he take?” His sons showed him the road the prophet from Judah had taken.

1 Kings 13:13 He then told his sons, “Saddle the donkey for me.” When they had saddled the donkey for him, he mounted it

1 Kings 13:14 and took off after the prophet, whom he found sitting under an oak tree. He asked him, “Are you the prophet from Judah?” He answered, “Yes, I am.”

1 Kings 13:15 He then said to him, “Come home with me and eat something.”

1 Kings 13:16 But he replied, “I can’t go back with you or eat and drink with you in this place.

1 Kings 13:17 For the LORD gave me strict orders, ‘Do not eat or drink there; do not go back the way you came.’“

1 Kings 13:18 The old prophet then said, “I too am a prophet like you. An angel told me with the LORD’s authority, ‘Bring him back with you to your house so he can eat and drink.’“ But he was lying to him.

1 Kings 13:19 So the prophet went back with him and ate and drank in his house.

1 Kings 13:20 While they were sitting at the table, the LORD spoke through the old prophet

1 Kings 13:21 and he cried out to the prophet from Judah, “This is what the LORD says, ‘You have rebelled against the LORD and have not obeyed the command the LORD your God gave you.

1 Kings 13:22 You went back and ate and drank in this place, even though he said to you, “Do not eat or drink there.” Therefore your corpse will not be buried in your ancestral tomb.’“

1 Kings 13:23 When the prophet from Judah finished his meal, the old prophet saddled his visitor’s donkey for him.

1 Kings 13:24 As the prophet from Judah was traveling, a lion attacked him on the road and killed him. His corpse was lying on the road, and the donkey and the lion just stood there beside it.

1 Kings 13:25 Some men came by and saw the corpse lying in the road with the lion standing beside it. They went and reported what they had seen in the city where the old prophet lived.

1 Kings 13:26 When the old prophet who had invited him to his house heard the news, he said, “It is the prophet who rebelled against the LORD. The LORD delivered him over to the lion and it ripped him up and killed him, just as the LORD warned him.”

1 Kings 13:27 He told his sons, “Saddle my donkey,” and they did so.

1 Kings 13:28 He went and found the corpse lying in the road with the donkey and the lion standing beside it; the lion had neither eaten the corpse nor attacked the donkey.

1 Kings 13:29 The old prophet picked up the corpse of the prophet, put it on the donkey, and brought it back. The old prophet then entered the city to mourn him and to bury him.

1 Kings 13:30 He put the corpse into his own tomb, and they mourned over him, saying, “Ah, my brother!”

1 Kings 13:31 After he buried him, he said to his sons, “When I die, bury me in the tomb where the prophet is buried; put my bones right beside his bones,

1 Kings 13:32 for the prophecy he announced with the LORD’s authority against the altar in Bethel and against all the temples on the high places in the cities of the north will certainly be fulfilled.”

1 Kings 13:33 After this happened, Jeroboam still did not change his evil ways; he continued to appoint common people as priests at the high places. Anyone who wanted the job he consecrated as a priest.

1 Kings 13:34 This sin caused Jeroboam’s dynasty to come to an end and to be destroyed from the face of the earth.

1 Kings 14:1 At that time Jeroboam’s son Abijah became sick.

1 Kings 14:2 Jeroboam told his wife, “Disguise yourself so that people cannot recognize you are Jeroboam’s wife. Then go to Shiloh; Ahijah the prophet, who told me I would rule over this nation, lives there.

1 Kings 14:3 Take ten loaves of bread, some small cakes, and a container of honey and visit him. He will tell you what will happen to the boy.”

1 Kings 14:4 Jeroboam’s wife did as she was told. She went to Shiloh and visited Ahijah. Now Ahijah could not see; he had lost his eyesight in his old age.

1 Kings 14:5 But the LORD had told Ahijah, “Look, Jeroboam’s wife is coming to find out from you what will happen to her son, for he is sick. Tell her so-and-so. When she comes, she will be in a disguise.”

1 Kings 14:6 When Ahijah heard the sound of her footsteps as she came through the door, he said, “Come on in, wife of Jeroboam! Why are you pretending to be someone else? I have been commissioned to give you bad news.

1 Kings 14:7 Go, tell Jeroboam, ‘This is what the LORD God of Israel says: “I raised you up from among the people and made you ruler over my people Israel.

1 Kings 14:8 I tore the kingdom away from the Davidic dynasty and gave it to you. But you are not like my servant David, who kept my commandments and followed me wholeheartedly by doing only what I approve.

1 Kings 14:9 You have sinned more than all who came before you. You went and angered me by making other gods, formed out of metal; you have completely disregarded me.

1 Kings 14:10 So I am ready to bring disaster on the dynasty of Jeroboam. I will cut off every last male belonging to Jeroboam in Israel, including even the weak and incapacitated. I will burn up the dynasty of Jeroboam, just as one burns manure until it is completely consumed.

1 Kings 14:11 Dogs will eat the members of your family who die in the city, and the birds of the sky will eat the ones who die in the country.”‘ Indeed, the LORD has announced it!

1 Kings 14:12 “As for you, get up and go home. When you set foot in the city, the boy will die.

1 Kings 14:13 All Israel will mourn him and bury him. He is the only one in Jeroboam’s family who will receive a decent burial, for he is the only one in whom the LORD God of Israel found anything good.

1 Kings 14:14 The LORD will raise up a king over Israel who will cut off Jeroboam’s dynasty. It is ready to happen!

1 Kings 14:15 The LORD will attack Israel, making it like a reed that sways in the water. He will remove Israel from this good land he gave to their ancestors and scatter them beyond the Euphrates River, because they angered the LORD by making Asherah poles.

1 Kings 14:16 He will hand Israel over to their enemies because of the sins which Jeroboam committed and which he made Israel commit.”

1 Kings 14:17 So Jeroboam’s wife got up and went back to Tirzah. As she crossed the threshold of the house, the boy died.

1 Kings 14:18 All Israel buried him and mourned for him, just as the LORD had predicted through his servant the prophet Ahijah.

1 Kings 14:19 The rest of the events of Jeroboam’s reign, including the details of his battles and rule, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

1 Kings 14:20 Jeroboam ruled for twenty-two years; then he passed away. His son Nadab replaced him as king.

1 Kings 14:21 Now Rehoboam son of Solomon ruled in Judah. He was forty-one years old when he became king and he ruled for seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city the LORD chose from all the tribes of Israel to be his home. His mother was an Ammonite woman named Naamah.

1 Kings 14:22 Judah did evil in the sight of the LORD. They made him more jealous by their sins than their ancestors had done.

1 Kings 14:23 They even built for themselves high places, sacred pillars, and Asherah poles on every high hill and under every green tree.

1 Kings 14:24 There were also male cultic prostitutes in the land. They committed the same horrible sins as the nations that the LORD had driven out from before the Israelites.

1 Kings 14:25 In King Rehoboam’s fifth year, King Shishak of Egypt attacked Jerusalem.

1 Kings 14:26 He took away the treasures of the LORD’s temple and of the royal palace; he took everything, including all the golden shields that Solomon had made.

1 Kings 14:27 King Rehoboam made bronze shields to replace them and assigned them to the officers of the royal guard who protected the entrance to the royal palace.

1 Kings 14:28 Whenever the king visited the LORD’s temple, the royal guard carried them and then brought them back to the guardroom.

1 Kings 14:29 The rest of the events of Rehoboam’s reign, including his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

1 Kings 14:30 Rehoboam and Jeroboam were continually at war with each other.

1 Kings 14:31 Rehoboam passed away and was buried with his ancestors in the city of David. His mother was an Ammonite named Naamah. His son Abijah replaced him as king.

1 Kings 15:1 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam son of Nebat, Abijah became king over Judah.

1 Kings 15:2 He ruled for three years in Jerusalem. His mother was Maacah, the daughter of Abishalom.

1 Kings 15:3 He followed all the sinful practices of his father before him. He was not wholeheartedly devoted to the LORD his God, as his ancestor David had been.

1 Kings 15:4 Nevertheless for David’s sake the LORD his God maintained his dynasty in Jerusalem by giving him a son to succeed him and by protecting Jerusalem.

1 Kings 15:5 He did this because David had done what he approved and had not disregarded any of his commandments his entire lifetime, except for the incident involving Uriah the Hittite.

1 Kings 15:6 Rehoboam and Jeroboam were continually at war with each other throughout Abijah’s lifetime.

1 Kings 15:7 The rest of the events of Abijah’s reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah. Abijah and Jeroboam had been at war with each other.

1 Kings 15:8 Abijah passed away and was buried in the city of David. His son Asa replaced him as king.

1 Kings 15:9 In the twentieth year of Jeroboam’s reign over Israel, Asa became the king of Judah.

1 Kings 15:10 He ruled for forty-one years in Jerusalem. His grandmother was Maacah daughter of Abishalom.

1 Kings 15:11 Asa did what the LORD approved like his ancestor David had done.

1 Kings 15:12 He removed the male cultic prostitutes from the land and got rid of all the disgusting idols his ancestors had made.

1 Kings 15:13 He also removed Maacah his grandmother from her position as queen because she had made a loathsome Asherah pole. Asa cut down her Asherah pole and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

1 Kings 15:14 The high places were not eliminated, yet Asa was wholeheartedly devoted to the LORD throughout his lifetime.

1 Kings 15:15 He brought the holy items that he and his father had made into the LORD’s temple, including the silver, gold, and other articles.

1 Kings 15:16 Now Asa and King Baasha of Israel were continually at war with each other.

1 Kings 15:17 King Baasha of Israel attacked Judah and established Ramah as a military outpost to prevent anyone from leaving or entering the land of King Asa of Judah.

1 Kings 15:18 Asa took all the silver and gold that was left in the treasuries of the LORD’s temple and of the royal palace and handed it to his servants. He then told them to deliver it to Ben Hadad son of Tabrimmon, the son of Hezion, king of Syria, ruler in Damascus, along with this message:

1 Kings 15:19 “I want to make a treaty with you, like the one our fathers made. See, I have sent you silver and gold as a present. Break your treaty with King Baasha of Israel, so he will retreat from my land.”

1 Kings 15:20 Ben Hadad accepted King Asa's offer and ordered his army commanders to attack the cities of Israel. They conquered Ijon, Dan, Abel Beth Maacah, and all the territory of Naphtali, including the region of Kinnereth.

1 Kings 15:21 When Baasha heard the news, he stopped fortifying Ramah and settled down in Tirzah.

1 Kings 15:22 King Asa ordered all the men of Judah (no exemptions were granted) to carry away the stones and wood that Baasha had used to build Ramah. King Asa used the materials to build up Geba (in Benjamin) and Mizpah.

1 Kings 15:23 The rest of the events of Asa's reign, including all his successes and accomplishments, as well as a record of the cities he built, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah. Yet when he was very old he developed a foot disease.

1 Kings 15:24 Asa passed away and was buried with his ancestors in the city of his ancestor David. His son Jehoshaphat replaced him as king.

1 Kings 15:25 In the second year of Asa's reign over Judah, Jeroboam's son Nadab became the king of Israel; he ruled Israel for two years.

1 Kings 15:26 He did evil in the sight of the LORD. He followed in his father's footsteps and encouraged Israel to sin.

1 Kings 15:27 Baasha son of Ahijah, from the tribe of Issachar, conspired against Nadab and assassinated him in Gibbethon, which was in Philistine territory. This happened while Nadab and all the Israelite army were besieging Gibbethon.

1 Kings 15:28 Baasha killed him in the third year of Asa's reign over Judah and replaced him as king.

1 Kings 15:29 When he became king, he executed Jeroboam's entire family. He wiped out everyone who breathed, just as the LORD had predicted through his servant Ahijah the Shilonite.

1 Kings 15:30 This happened because of the sins which Jeroboam committed and which he made Israel commit. These sins angered the LORD God of Israel.

1 Kings 15:31 The rest of the events of Nadab's reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

1 Kings 15:32 Asa and King Nadab of Israel were continually at war with each other.

1 Kings 15:33 In the third year of Asa's reign over Judah, Baasha son of Ahijah became king over all Israel in Tirzah; he ruled for twenty-four years.

1 Kings 15:34 He did evil in the sight of the LORD; he followed in Jeroboam's footsteps and encouraged Israel to sin.

1 Kings 16:1 Jehu son of Hanani received from the LORD this message predicting Baasha's downfall:

1 Kings 16:2 "I raised you up from the dust and made you ruler over my people Israel. Yet you followed in Jeroboam's footsteps and encouraged my people Israel to sin; their sins have made me angry.

1 Kings 16:3 So I am ready to burn up Baasha and his family, and make your family like the family of Jeroboam son of Nebat.

1 Kings 16:4 Dogs will eat the members of Baasha's family who die in the city, and the birds of the sky will eat the ones who die in the country."

1 Kings 16:5 The rest of the events of Baasha's reign, including his accomplishments and successes, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

1 Kings 16:6 Baasha passed away and was buried in Tirzah. His son Elah replaced him as king.

1 Kings 16:7 The prophet Jehu son of Hanani received from the LORD the message predicting the downfall of Baasha and his family because of all the evil Baasha had done in the sight of the LORD. His actions angered the LORD (including the way he had destroyed Jeroboam's dynasty), so that his family ended up like Jeroboam's.

1 Kings 16:8 In the twenty-sixth year of King Asa's reign over Judah, Baasha's son Elah became king over Israel; he ruled in Tirzah for two years.

1 Kings 16:9 His servant Zimri, a commander of half of his chariot force, conspired against him. While Elah was drinking heavily at the house of Arza, who supervised the palace in Tirzah,

1 Kings 16:10 Zimri came in and struck him dead. (This happened in the twenty-seventh year of Asa's reign over Judah.) Zimri replaced Elah as king.

1 Kings 16:11 When he became king and occupied the throne, he killed Baasha's entire family. He did not spare any male belonging to him; he killed his relatives and his friends.

1 Kings 16:12 Zimri destroyed Baasha's entire family, just as the LORD had predicted to Baasha through Jehu the prophet.

1 Kings 16:13 This happened because of all the sins which Baasha and his son Elah committed and which they made Israel commit. They angered the LORD God of Israel with their worthless idols.

1 Kings 16:14 The rest of the events of Elah's reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

1 Kings 16:15 In the twenty-seventh year of Asa's reign over Judah, Zimri became king over Israel; he ruled for seven days in Tirzah. Zimri's revolt took place while the army was deployed in Gibbethon, which was in Philistine territory.

1 Kings 16:16 While deployed there, the army received this report: "Zimri has conspired against the king and assassinated him." So all Israel made Omri, the commander of the army, king over Israel that very day in the camp.

1 Kings 16:17 Omri and all Israel went up from Gibbethon and besieged Tirzah.

1 Kings 16:18 When Zimri saw that the city was captured, he went into the fortified area of the royal palace. He set the palace on fire and died in the flames.

1 Kings 16:19 This happened because of the sins he committed. He did evil in the sight of the LORD and followed in Jeroboam's footsteps and encouraged Israel to continue sinning.

1 Kings 16:20 The rest of the events of Zimri's reign, including the details of his revolt, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

1 Kings 16:21 At that time the people of Israel were divided in their loyalties. Half the people supported Tibni son of Ginath and wanted to make him king; the other half supported Omri.

1 Kings 16:22 Omri's supporters were stronger than those who supported Tibni son of Ginath. Tibni died; Omri became king.

1 Kings 16:23 In the thirty-first year of Asa's reign over Judah, Omri became king over Israel. He ruled for twelve years, six of them in Tirzah.

1 Kings 16:24 He purchased the hill of Samaria from Shemer for two talents of silver. He launched a construction project there and named the city he built after Shemer, the former owner of the hill of Samaria.

1 Kings 16:25 Omri did more evil in the sight of the LORD than all who were before him.

1 Kings 16:26 He followed in the footsteps of Jeroboam son of Nebat and encouraged Israel to sin; they angered the LORD God of Israel with their worthless idols.

1 Kings 16:27 The rest of the events of Omri's reign, including his accomplishments and successes, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

1 Kings 16:28 Omri passed away and was buried in Samaria. His son Ahab replaced him as king.

1 Kings 16:29 In the thirty-eighth year of Asa's reign over Judah, Omri's son Ahab became king over Israel. Ahab son of Omri ruled over Israel for twenty-two years in Samaria.

1 Kings 16:30 Ahab son of Omri did more evil in the sight of the LORD than all who were before him.

1 Kings 16:31 As if following in the sinful footsteps of Jeroboam son of Nebat were not bad enough, he married Jezebel the daughter of King Ethbaal of the Sidonians. Then he worshiped and bowed to Baal.

1 Kings 16:32 He set up an altar for Baal in the temple of Baal he had built in Samaria.

1 Kings 16:33 Ahab also made an Asherah pole; he did more to anger the LORD God of Israel than all the kings of Israel who were before him.

1 Kings 16:34 During Ahab's reign, Hiel the Bethelite rebuilt Jericho. Abiram, his firstborn son, died when he laid the foundation; Segub, his youngest son, died when he erected its gates, just as the LORD had warned through Joshua son of Nun.

1 Kings 17:1 Elijah the Tishbite, from Tishbe in Gilead, said to Ahab, "As certainly as the LORD God of Israel lives (whom I serve), there will be no dew or rain in the years ahead unless I give the command."

1 Kings 17:2 The LORD told him:

1 Kings 17:3 "Leave here and travel eastward. Hide out in the Kerith Valley near the Jordan.

1 Kings 17:4 Drink from the stream; I have already told the ravens to bring you food there."

1 Kings 17:5 So he did as the LORD told him; he went and lived in the Kerith Valley near the Jordan.

1 Kings 17:6 The ravens would bring him bread and meat each morning and evening, and he would drink from the stream.

1 Kings 17:7 After a while, the stream dried up because there had been no rain in the land.

1 Kings 17:8 The LORD told him,

1 Kings 17:9 "Get up, go to Zarephath in Sidonian territory, and live there. I have already told a widow who lives there to provide for you."

1 Kings 17:10 So he got up and went to Zarephath. When he went through the city gate, there was a widow gathering wood. He called out to her, "Please give me a cup of water, so I can take a drink."

1 Kings 17:11 As she went to get it, he called out to her, "Please bring me a piece of bread."

1 Kings 17:12 She said, "As certainly as the LORD your God lives, I have no food, except for a handful of flour in a jar and a little olive oil in a jug. Right now I am gathering a couple of sticks for a fire. Then I'm going home to make one final meal for my son and myself. After we have eaten that, we will die of starvation."

1 Kings 17:13 Elijah said to her, “Don’t be afraid. Go and do as you planned. But first make a small cake for me and bring it to me; then make something for yourself and your son.

1 Kings 17:14 For this is what the LORD God of Israel says, ‘The jar of flour will not be empty and the jug of oil will not run out until the day the LORD makes it rain on the surface of the ground.’“

1 Kings 17:15 She went and did as Elijah told her; there was always enough food for Elijah and for her and her family.

1 Kings 17:16 The jar of flour was never empty and the jug of oil never ran out, just as the LORD had promised through Elijah.

1 Kings 17:17 After this the son of the woman who owned the house got sick. His illness was so severe he could no longer breathe.

1 Kings 17:18 She asked Elijah, “Why, prophet, have you come to me to confront me with my sin and kill my son?”

1 Kings 17:19 He said to her, “Hand me your son.” He took him from her arms, carried him to the upper room where he was staying, and laid him down on his bed.

1 Kings 17:20 Then he called out to the LORD, “O LORD, my God, are you also bringing disaster on this widow I am staying with by killing her son?”

1 Kings 17:21 He stretched out over the boy three times and called out to the LORD, “O LORD, my God, please let this boy’s breath return to him.”

1 Kings 17:22 The LORD answered Elijah’s prayer; the boy’s breath returned to him and he lived.

1 Kings 17:23 Elijah took the boy, brought him down from the upper room to the house, and handed him to his mother. Elijah then said, “See, your son is alive!”

1 Kings 17:24 The woman said to Elijah, “Now I know that you are a prophet and that the LORD really does speak through you.”

1 Kings 18:1 Some time later, in the third year of the famine, the LORD told Elijah, “Go, make an appearance before Ahab, so I may send rain on the surface of the ground.”

1 Kings 18:2 So Elijah went to make an appearance before Ahab. Now the famine was severe in Samaria.

1 Kings 18:3 So Ahab summoned Obadiah, who supervised the palace. (Now Obadiah was a very loyal follower of the LORD.

1 Kings 18:4 When Jezebel was killing the LORD’s prophets, Obadiah took one hundred prophets and hid them in two caves in two groups of fifty. He also brought them food and water.)

1 Kings 18:5 Ahab told Obadiah, “Go through the land to all the springs and valleys. Maybe we can find some grazing areas so we can keep the horses and mules alive and not have to kill some of the animals.”

1 Kings 18:6 They divided up the land between them; Ahab went one way and Obadiah went the other.

1 Kings 18:7 As Obadiah was traveling along, Elijah met him. When he recognized him, he fell facedown to the ground and said, “Is it really you, my master, Elijah?”

1 Kings 18:8 He replied, “Yes, go and say to your master, ‘Elijah is back.’“

1 Kings 18:9 Obadiah said, “What sin have I committed that you are ready to hand your servant over to Ahab for execution?

1 Kings 18:10 As certainly as the LORD your God lives, my master has sent to every nation and kingdom in an effort to find you. When they say, ‘He’s not here,’ he makes them swear an oath that they could not find you.

1 Kings 18:11 Now you say, ‘Go and say to your master, “Elijah is back.”‘

1 Kings 18:12 But when I leave you, the LORD’s spirit will carry you away so I can’t find you. If I go tell Ahab I’ve seen you, he won’t be able to find you and he will kill me. That would not be fair, because your servant has been a loyal follower of the LORD from my youth.

1 Kings 18:13 Certainly my master is aware of what I did when Jezebel was killing the LORD’s prophets. I hid one hundred of the LORD’s prophets in two caves in two groups of fifty and I brought them food and water.

1 Kings 18:14 Now you say, ‘Go and say to your master, “Elijah is back,”‘ but he will kill me.”

1 Kings 18:15 But Elijah said, “As certainly as the LORD WHO RULES OVER ALL lives (whom I serve), I will make an appearance before him today.”

1 Kings 18:16 When Obadiah went and informed Ahab, the king went to meet Elijah.

1 Kings 18:17 When Ahab saw Elijah, he said to him, “Is it really you, the one who brings disaster on Israel?”

1 Kings 18:18 Elijah replied, “I have not brought disaster on Israel. But you and your father’s dynasty have, by abandoning the LORD’s commandments and following the Baals.

1 Kings 18:19 Now send out messengers and assemble all Israel before me at Mount Carmel, as well as the 450 prophets of Baal and 400 prophets of Asherah whom Jezebel supports.

1 Kings 18:20 Ahab sent messengers to all the Israelites and had the prophets assemble at Mount Carmel.

1 Kings 18:21 Elijah approached all the people and said, “How long are you going to be paralyzed by indecision? If the LORD is the true God, then follow him, but if Baal is, follow him!” But the people did not say a word.

1 Kings 18:22 Elijah said to them: “I am the only prophet of the LORD who is left, but there are 450 prophets of Baal.

1 Kings 18:23 Let them bring us two bulls. Let them choose one of the bulls for themselves, cut it up into pieces, and place it on the wood. But they must not set it on fire. I will do the same to the other bull and place it on the wood. But I will not set it on fire.

1 Kings 18:24 Then you will invoke the name of your god, and I will invoke the name of the LORD. The god who responds with fire will demonstrate that he is the true God.” All the people responded, “This will be a fair test.”

1 Kings 18:25 Elijah told the prophets of Baal, “Choose one of the bulls for yourselves and go first, for you are the majority. Invoke the name of your god, but do not light a fire.”

1 Kings 18:26 So they took a bull, as he had suggested, and prepared it. They invoked the name of Baal from morning until noon, saying, “Baal, answer us.” But there was no sound and no answer. They jumped around on the altar they had made.

1 Kings 18:27 At noon Elijah mocked them, “Yell louder! After all, he is a god; he may be deep in thought, or perhaps he stepped out for a moment or has taken a trip. Perhaps he is sleeping and needs to be awakened.”

1 Kings 18:28 So they yelled louder and, in accordance with their prescribed ritual, mutilated themselves with swords and spears until their bodies were covered with blood.

1 Kings 18:29 Throughout the afternoon they were in an ecstatic frenzy, but there was no sound, no answer, and no response.

1 Kings 18:30 Elijah then told all the people, “Approach me.” So all the people approached him. He repaired the altar of the LORD that had been torn down.

1 Kings 18:31 Then Elijah took twelve stones, corresponding to the number of tribes that descended from Jacob, to whom the LORD had said, “Israel will be your new name.”

1 Kings 18:32 With the stones he constructed an altar for the LORD. Around the altar he made a trench large enough to contain two seahs of seed.

1 Kings 18:33 He arranged the wood, cut up the bull, and placed it on the wood.

1 Kings 18:34 Then he said, “Fill four water jars and pour the water on the offering and the wood.” When they had done so, he said, “Do it again.” So they did it again. Then he said, “Do it a third time.” So they did it a third time.

1 Kings 18:35 The water flowed down all sides of the altar and filled the trench.

1 Kings 18:36 When it was time for the evening offering, Elijah the prophet approached the altar and prayed: “O LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, prove today that you are God in Israel and that I am your servant and have done all these things at your command.

1 Kings 18:37 Answer me, O LORD, answer me, so these people will know that you, O LORD, are the true God and that you are winning back their allegiance.”

1 Kings 18:38 Then fire from the LORD fell from the sky. It consumed the offering, the wood, the stones, and the dirt, and licked up the water in the trench.

1 Kings 18:39 When all the people saw this, they threw themselves down with their faces to the ground and said, “The LORD is the true God! The LORD is the true God!”

1 Kings 18:40 Elijah told them, “Seize the prophets of Baal! Don’t let even one of them escape!” So they seized them, and Elijah led them down to the Kishon Valley and executed them there.

1 Kings 18:41 Then Elijah told Ahab, “Go on up and eat and drink, for the sound of a heavy rainstorm can be heard.”

1 Kings 18:42 So Ahab went on up to eat and drink, while Elijah climbed to the top of Carmel. He bent down toward the ground and put his face between his knees.

1 Kings 18:43 He told his servant, “Go on up and look in the direction of the sea.” So he went on up, looked, and reported, “There is nothing.” Seven times Elijah sent him to look.

1 Kings 18:44 The seventh time the servant said, “Look, a small cloud, the size of the palm of a man’s hand, is rising up from the sea.” Elijah then said, “Go and tell Ahab, ‘Hitch up the chariots and go down, so that the rain won’t overtake you.’“

1 Kings 18:45 Meanwhile the sky was covered with dark clouds, the wind blew, and there was a heavy rainstorm. Ahab rode toward Jezreel.

1 Kings 18:46 Now the LORD energized Elijah with power; he tucked his robe into his belt and ran ahead of Ahab all the way to Jezreel.

1 Kings 19:1 Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, including a detailed account of how he killed all the prophets with the sword.

1 Kings 19:2 Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah with this warning, “May the gods judge me severely if by this time tomorrow I do not take your life as you did theirs!”

1 Kings 19:3 Elijah was afraid, so he got up and fled for his life to Beer Sheba in Judah. He left his servant there,

1 Kings 19:4 while he went a day’s journey into the desert. He went and sat down under a shrub and asked the LORD to take his life: “I’ve had enough! Now, O LORD, take my life. After all, I’m no better than my ancestors.”

1 Kings 19:5 He stretched out and fell asleep under the shrub. All of a sudden an angelic messenger touched him and said, “Get up and eat.”

1 Kings 19:6 He looked and right there by his head was a cake baking on hot coals and a jug of water. He ate and drank and then slept some more.

1 Kings 19:7 The LORD’s angelic messenger came back again, touched him, and said, “Get up and eat, for otherwise you won’t be able to make the journey.”

1 Kings 19:8 So he got up and ate and drank. That meal gave him the strength to travel forty days and forty nights until he reached Horeb, the mountain of God.

1 Kings 19:9 He went into a cave there and spent the night. All of a sudden the LORD spoke to him, “Why are you here, Elijah?”

1 Kings 19:10 He answered, “I have been absolutely loyal to the LORD, the sovereign God, even though the Israelites have abandoned the agreement they made with you, torn down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword. I alone am left and now they want to take my life.”

1 Kings 19:11 The LORD said, “Go out and stand on the mountain before the LORD. Look, the LORD is ready to pass by.” A very powerful wind went before the LORD, digging into the mountain and causing landslides, but the LORD was not in the wind. After the windstorm there was an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake.

1 Kings 19:12 After the earthquake, there was a fire, but the LORD was not in the fire. After the fire, there was a soft whisper.

1 Kings 19:13 When Elijah heard it, he covered his face with his robe and went out and stood at the entrance to the cave. All of a sudden a voice asked him, “Why are you here, Elijah?”

1 Kings 19:14 He answered, “I have been absolutely loyal to the LORD, the sovereign God, even though the Israelites have abandoned the agreement they made with you, torn down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword. I alone am left and now they want to take my life.”

1 Kings 19:15 The LORD said to him, “Go back the way you came and then head for the Desert of Damascus. Go and anoint Hazael king over Syria.

1 Kings 19:16 You must anoint Jehu son of Nimshi king over Israel, and Elisha son of Shaphat from Abel Meholah to take your place as prophet.

1 Kings 19:17 Jehu will kill anyone who escapes Hazael’s sword, and Elisha will kill anyone who escapes Jehu’s sword.

1 Kings 19:18 I still have left in Israel seven thousand followers who have not bowed their knees to Baal or kissed the images of him.”

1 Kings 19:19 Elijah went from there and found Elisha son of Shaphat. He was plowing with twelve pairs of oxen; he was near the twelfth pair. Elijah passed by him and threw his robe over him.

1 Kings 19:20 He left the oxen, ran after Elijah, and said, “Please let me kiss my father and mother goodbye, then I will follow you.” Elijah said to him, “Go back! Indeed, what have I done to you?”

1 Kings 19:21 Elisha went back and took his pair of oxen and slaughtered them. He cooked the meat over a fire that he made by burning the harness and yoke. He gave the people meat and they ate. Then he got up and followed Elijah and became his assistant.

1 Kings 20:1 Now King Ben Hadad of Syria assembled all his army, along with thirty-two other kings with their horses and chariots. He marched against Samaria and besieged and attacked it.

1 Kings 20:2 He sent messengers to King Ahab of Israel, who was in the city.

1 Kings 20:3 He said to him, “This is what Ben Hadad says, ‘Your silver and your gold are mine, as well as the best of your wives and sons.’“

1 Kings 20:4 The king of Israel replied, “It is just as you say, my master, O king. I and all I own belong to you.”

1 Kings 20:5 The messengers came again and said, “This is what Ben Hadad says, ‘I sent this message to you, “You must give me your silver, gold, wives, and sons.”

1 Kings 20:6 But now at this time tomorrow I will send my servants to you and they will search through your palace and your servants’ houses. They will carry away all your valuables.”

1 Kings 20:7 The king of Israel summoned all the leaders of the land and said, “Notice how this man is looking for trouble. Indeed, he demanded my wives, sons, silver, and gold, and I did not resist him.”

1 Kings 20:8 All the leaders and people said to him, “Do not give in or agree to his demands.”

1 Kings 20:9 So he said to the messengers of Ben Hadad, “Say this to my master, the king, ‘I will give you everything you demanded at first from your servant, but I am unable to agree to this latest demand.’“ So the messengers went back and gave their report.

1 Kings 20:10 Ben Hadad sent another message to him, “May the gods judge me severely if there is enough dirt left in Samaria for my soldiers to scoop up in their hands.”

1 Kings 20:11 The king of Israel replied, “Tell him the one who puts on his battle gear should not boast like one who is taking it off.”

1 Kings 20:12 When Ben Hadad received this reply, he and the other kings were drinking in their quarters. He ordered his servants, “Get ready to attack!” So they got ready to attack the city.

1 Kings 20:13 Now a prophet visited King Ahab of Israel and said, “This is what the LORD says, ‘Do you see this huge army? Look, I am going to hand it over to you this very day. Then you will know that I am the LORD.’“

1 Kings 20:14 Ahab asked, “By whom will this be accomplished?” He answered, “This is what the LORD says, ‘By the servants of the district governors.’“ Ahab asked, “Who will launch the attack?” He answered, “You will.”

1 Kings 20:15 So Ahab assembled the 232 servants of the district governors. After that he assembled all the Israelite army, numbering 7,000.

1 Kings 20:16 They marched out at noon, while Ben Hadad and the thirty-two kings allied with him were drinking heavily in their quarters.

1 Kings 20:17 The servants of the district governors led the march. When Ben Hadad sent messengers, they reported back to him, “Men are marching out of Samaria.”

1 Kings 20:18 He ordered, “Whether they come in peace or to do battle, take them alive.”

1 Kings 20:19 They marched out of the city with the servants of the district governors in the lead and the army behind them.

1 Kings 20:20 Each one struck down an enemy soldier; the Syrians fled and Israel chased them. King Ben Hadad of Syria escaped on horseback with some horsemen.

1 Kings 20:21 Then the king of Israel marched out and struck down the horses and chariots; he thoroughly defeated Syria.

1 Kings 20:22 The prophet visited the king of Israel and instructed him, “Go, fortify your defenses. Determine what you must do, for in the spring the king of Syria will attack you.”

1 Kings 20:23 Now the advisers of the king of Syria said to him: “Their God is a god of the mountains. That’s why they overpowered us. But if we fight them in the plains, we will certainly overpower them.

1 Kings 20:24 So do this: Dismiss the kings from their command, and replace them with military commanders.

1 Kings 20:25 Muster an army like the one you lost, with the same number of horses and chariots. Then we will fight them in the plains; we will certainly overpower them.” He approved their plan and did as they advised.

1 Kings 20:26 In the spring Ben Hadad mustered the Syrian army and marched to Aphek to fight Israel.

1 Kings 20:27 When the Israelites had mustered and had received their supplies, they marched out to face them in battle. When the Israelites deployed opposite them, they were like two small flocks of goats, but the Syrians filled the land.

1 Kings 20:28 The prophet visited the king of Israel and said, “This is what the LORD says: ‘Because the Syrians said, “The LORD is a god of the mountains and not a god of the valleys,” I will hand over to you this entire huge army. Then you will know that I am the LORD.’“

1 Kings 20:29 The armies were deployed opposite each other for seven days. On the seventh day the battle began, and the Israelites killed 100,000 Syrian foot soldiers in one day.

1 Kings 20:30 The remaining 27,000 ran to Aphek and went into the city, but the wall fell on them. Now Ben Hadad ran into the city and hid in an inner room.

1 Kings 20:31 His advisers said to him, “Look, we have heard that the kings of the Israelite dynasty are kind. Allow us to put sackcloth around our waists and ropes on our heads and surrender to the king of Israel. Maybe he will spare our lives.”

1 Kings 20:32 So they put sackcloth around their waists and ropes on their heads and went to the king of Israel. They said, “Your servant Ben Hadad says, ‘Please let me live!’“ Ahab replied, “Is he still alive? He is my brother.”

1 Kings 20:33 The men took this as a good omen and quickly accepted his offer, saying, “Ben Hadad is your brother.” Ahab then said, “Go, get him.” So Ben Hadad came out to him, and Ahab pulled him up into his chariot.

1 Kings 20:34 Ben Hadad said, “I will return the cities my father took from your father. You may set up markets in Damascus, just as my father did in Samaria.” Ahab then said, “I want to make a treaty with you before I dismiss you.” So he made a treaty with him and then dismissed him.

1 Kings 20:35 One of the members of the prophetic guild, speaking with divine authority, ordered his companion, “Wound me!” But the man refused to wound him.

1 Kings 20:36 So the prophet said to him, “Because you have disobeyed the LORD, as soon as you leave me a lion will kill you.” When he left him, a lion attacked and killed him.

1 Kings 20:37 He found another man and said, “Wound me!” So the man wounded him severely.

1 Kings 20:38 The prophet then went and stood by the road, waiting for the king. He also disguised himself by putting a bandage down over his eyes.

1 Kings 20:39 When the king passed by, he called out to the king, “Your servant went out into the heat of the battle, and then a man turned aside and brought me a prisoner. He told me, ‘Guard this prisoner. If he ends up missing for any reason, you will pay with your life or with a talent of silver.’

1 Kings 20:40 Well, it just so happened that while your servant was doing this and that, he disappeared.” The king of Israel said to him, “Your punishment is already determined by your own testimony.”

1 Kings 20:41 The prophet quickly removed the bandage from his eyes and the king of Israel recognized he was one of the prophets.

1 Kings 20:42 The prophet then said to him, “This is what the LORD says, ‘Because you released a man I had determined should die, you will pay with your life and your people will suffer instead of his people.’“

1 Kings 20:43 The king of Israel went home to Samaria bitter and angry.

1 Kings 21:1 After this the following episode took place. Naboth the Jezreelite owned a vineyard in Jezreel adjacent to the palace of King Ahab of Samaria.

1 Kings 21:2 Ahab said to Naboth, “Give me your vineyard so I can make a vegetable garden out of it, for it is adjacent to my palace. I will give you an even better vineyard in its place, or if you prefer, I will pay you silver for it.”

1 Kings 21:3 But Naboth replied to Ahab, “The LORD forbid that I should sell you my ancestral inheritance.”

1 Kings 21:4 So Ahab went into his palace, bitter and angry that Naboth the Jezreelite had said, “I will not sell to you my ancestral inheritance.” He lay down on his bed, pouted, and would not eat.

1 Kings 21:5 Then his wife Jezebel came in and said to him, “Why do you have a bitter attitude and refuse to eat?”

1 Kings 21:6 He answered her, “While I was talking to Naboth the Jezreelite, I said to him, ‘Sell me your vineyard for silver, or if you prefer, I will give you another vineyard in its place.’ But he said, ‘I will not sell you my vineyard.’“

1 Kings 21:7 His wife Jezebel said to him, “You are the king of Israel! Get up, eat some food, and have a good time. I will get the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite for you.”

1 Kings 21:8 She wrote out orders, signed Ahab’s name to them, and sealed them with his seal. She then sent the orders to the leaders and to the nobles who lived in Naboth’s city.

1 Kings 21:9 This is what she wrote: “Observe a time of fasting and seat Naboth in front of the people.

1 Kings 21:10 Also seat two villains opposite him and have them testify, ‘You cursed God and the king.’ Then take him out and stone him to death.”

1 Kings 21:11 The men of the city, the leaders and the nobles who lived there, followed the written orders Jezebel had sent them.

1 Kings 21:12 They observed a time of fasting and put Naboth in front of the people.

1 Kings 21:13 The two villains arrived and sat opposite him. Then the villains testified against Naboth right before the people, saying, “Naboth cursed God and the king.” So they dragged him outside the city and stoned him to death.

1 Kings 21:14 Then they reported to Jezebel, “Naboth has been stoned to death.”

1 Kings 21:15 When Jezebel heard that Naboth had been stoned to death, she said to Ahab, “Get up, take possession of the vineyard Naboth the Jezreelite refused to sell you for silver, for Naboth is no longer alive; he’s dead.”

1 Kings 21:16 When Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, he got up and went down to take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

1 Kings 21:17 The LORD told Elijah the Tishbite:

1 Kings 21:18 “Get up, go down and meet King Ahab of Israel who lives in Samaria. He is at the vineyard of Naboth; he has gone down there to take possession of it.

1 Kings 21:19 Say to him, ‘This is what the LORD says: “Haven’t you committed murder and taken possession of the property of the deceased?”‘ Then say to him, ‘This is what the LORD says: “In the spot where dogs licked up Naboth’s blood they will also lick up your blood– yes, yours!”“

1 Kings 21:20 When Elijah arrived, Ahab said to him, “So, you have found me, my enemy!” Elijah replied, “I have found you, because you are committed to doing evil in the sight of the LORD.

1 Kings 21:21 The LORD says, ‘Look, I am ready to bring disaster on you. I will destroy you and cut off every last male belonging to Ahab in Israel, including even the weak and incapacitated.

1 Kings 21:22 I will make your dynasty like those of Jeroboam son of Nebat and Baasha son of Ahijah because you angered me and made Israel sin.’

1 Kings 21:23 The LORD says this about Jezebel, ‘Dogs will devour Jezebel by the outer wall of Jezreel.’

1 Kings 21:24 As for Ahab’s family, dogs will eat the ones who die in the city, and the birds of the sky will eat the ones who die in the country.”

1 Kings 21:25 (There had never been anyone like Ahab, who was firmly committed to doing evil in the sight of the LORD, urged on by his wife Jezebel.

1 Kings 21:26 He was so wicked he worshiped the disgusting idols, just like the Amorites whom the LORD had driven out from before the Israelites.)

1 Kings 21:27 When Ahab heard these words, he tore his clothes, put on sackcloth, and fasted. He slept in sackcloth and walked around dejected.

1 Kings 21:28 The LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite,

1 Kings 21:29 “Have you noticed how Ahab shows remorse before me? Because he shows remorse before me, I will not bring disaster on his dynasty during his lifetime, but during the reign of his son.”

1 Kings 22:1 There was no war between Syria and Israel for three years.

1 Kings 22:2 In the third year King Jehoshaphat of Judah came down to visit the king of Israel.

1 Kings 22:3 The king of Israel said to his servants, “Surely you recognize that Ramoth Gilead belongs to us, though we are hesitant to reclaim it from the king of Syria.”

1 Kings 22:4 Then he said to Jehoshaphat, “Will you go with me to attack Ramoth Gilead?” Jehoshaphat replied to the king of Israel, “I will support you; my army and horses are at your disposal.”

1 Kings 22:5 Then Jehoshaphat added, “First seek an oracle from the LORD.”

1 Kings 22:6 So the king of Israel assembled about four hundred prophets and asked them, “Should I attack Ramoth Gilead or not?” They said, “Attack! The sovereign one will hand it over to the king.”

1 Kings 22:7 But Jehoshaphat asked, “Is there not a prophet of the LORD still here, that we may ask him?”

1 Kings 22:8 The king of Israel answered Jehoshaphat, “There is still one man through whom we can seek the LORD’s will. But I despise him because he does not prophesy prosperity for me, but disaster. His name is Micaiah son of Imlah. Jehoshaphat said, “The king should not say such things.”

1 Kings 22:9 The king of Israel summoned an official and said, “Quickly bring Micaiah son of Imlah.”

1 Kings 22:10 Now the king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah were sitting on their respective thrones, dressed in their robes, at the threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria. All the prophets were prophesying before them.

1 Kings 22:11 Zedekiah son of Kenaanah made iron horns and said, “This is what the LORD says, ‘With these you will gore Syria until they are destroyed.’“

1 Kings 22:12 All the prophets were prophesying the same, saying, “Attack Ramoth Gilead! You will succeed; the LORD will hand it over to the king.”

1 Kings 22:13 Now the messenger who went to summon Micaiah said to him, “Look, the prophets are in complete agreement that the king will succeed. Your words must agree with theirs; you must predict success.”

1 Kings 22:14 But Micaiah said, “As certainly as the LORD lives, I will say what the LORD tells me to say.”

1 Kings 22:15 When he came before the king, the king asked him, “Micaiah, should we attack Ramoth Gilead or not?” He answered him, “Attack! You will succeed; the LORD will hand it over to the king.”

1 Kings 22:16 The king said to him, “How many times must I make you solemnly promise in the name of the LORD to tell me only the truth?”

1 Kings 22:17 Micaiah said, “I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains like sheep that have no shepherd. Then the LORD said, ‘They have no master. They should go home in peace.’“

1 Kings 22:18 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Didn’t I tell you he does not prophesy prosperity for me, but disaster?”

1 Kings 22:19 Micaiah said, “That being the case, hear the word of the LORD. I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, with all the heavenly assembly standing on his right and on his left.

1 Kings 22:20 The LORD said, ‘Who will deceive Ahab, so he will attack Ramoth Gilead and die there?’ One said this and another that.

1 Kings 22:21 Then a spirit stepped forward and stood before the LORD. He said, ‘I will deceive him.’ The LORD asked him, ‘How?’

1 Kings 22:22 He replied, ‘I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets.’ The LORD said, ‘Deceive and overpower him. Go out and do as you have proposed.’

1 Kings 22:23 So now, look, the LORD has placed a lying spirit in the mouths of all these prophets of yours; but the LORD has decreed disaster for you.”

1 Kings 22:24 Zedekiah son of Kenaanah approached, hit Micaiah on the jaw, and said, “Which way did the LORD’s spirit go when he went from me to speak to you?”

1 Kings 22:25 Micaiah replied, “Look, you will see in the day when you go into an inner room to hide.”

1 Kings 22:26 Then the king of Israel said, “Take Micaiah and return him to Amon the city official and Joash the king’s son.

1 Kings 22:27 Say, ‘This is what the king says, “Put this man in prison. Give him only a little bread and water until I safely return.”‘“

1 Kings 22:28 Micaiah said, “If you really do safely return, then the LORD has not spoken through me.” Then he added, “Take note, all you people.”

1 Kings 22:29 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah attacked Ramoth Gilead.

1 Kings 22:30 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and then enter into the battle; but you wear your royal robes.” So the king of Israel disguised himself and then entered into the battle.

1 Kings 22:31 Now the king of Syria had ordered his thirty-two chariot commanders, “Do not fight common soldiers or high-ranking officers; fight only the king of Israel.”

1 Kings 22:32 When the chariot commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they said, “He must be the king of Israel.” So they turned and attacked him, but Jehoshaphat cried out.

1 Kings 22:33 When the chariot commanders realized he was not the king of Israel, they turned away from him.

1 Kings 22:34 Now an archer shot an arrow at random, and it struck the king of Israel between the plates of his armor. The king ordered his charioteer, “Turn around and take me from the battle line, because I’m wounded.”

1 Kings 22:35 While the battle raged throughout the day, the king stood propped up in his chariot opposite the Syrians. He died in the evening; the blood from the wound ran down into the bottom of the chariot.

1 Kings 22:36 As the sun was setting, a cry went through the camp, “Each one should return to his city and to his homeland.”

1 Kings 22:37 So the king died and was taken to Samaria, where they buried him.

1 Kings 22:38 They washed off the chariot at the pool of Samaria (this was where the prostitutes bathed); dogs licked his blood, just as the LORD had said would happen.

1 Kings 22:39 The rest of the events of Ahab’s reign, including a record of his accomplishments and how he built a luxurious palace and various cities, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

1 Kings 22:40 Ahab passed away. His son Ahaziah replaced him as king.

1 Kings 22:41 In the fourth year of King Ahab’s reign over Israel, Asa’s son Jehoshaphat became king over Judah.

1 Kings 22:42 Jehoshaphat was thirty-five years old when he became king and he reigned for twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother was Azubah, the daughter of Shilhi.

1 Kings 22:43 He followed in his father Asa’s footsteps and was careful to do what the LORD approved. However, the high places were not eliminated; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense on the high places.

1 Kings 22:44 Jehoshaphat was also at peace with the king of Israel.

1 Kings 22:45 The rest of the events of Jehoshaphat’s reign, including his successes and military exploits, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

1 Kings 22:46 He removed from the land any male cultic prostitutes who had managed to survive the reign of his father Asa.

1 Kings 22:47 There was no king in Edom at this time; a governor ruled.

1 Kings 22:48 Jehoshaphat built a fleet of large merchant ships to travel to Ophir for gold, but they never made the voyage because they were shipwrecked in Ezion Geber.

1 Kings 22:49 Then Ahaziah son of Ahab said to Jehoshaphat, “Let my sailors join yours in the fleet,” but Jehoshaphat refused.

1 Kings 22:50 Jehoshaphat passed away and was buried with his ancestors in the city of his ancestor David. His son Jehoram replaced him as king.

1 Kings 22:51 In the seventeenth year of King Jehoshaphat’s reign over Judah, Ahab’s son Ahaziah became king over Israel in Samaria. He ruled for two years over Israel.

1 Kings 22:52 He did evil in the sight of the LORD and followed in the footsteps of his father and mother; like Jeroboam son of Nebat, he encouraged Israel to sin.

1 Kings 22:53 He worshiped and bowed down to Baal, angering the LORD God of Israel just as his father had done.

2 Kings

1:1 After Ahab died, Moab rebelled against Israel.

2 Kings 1:2 Ahaziah fell through a window lattice in his upper chamber in Samaria and was injured. He sent messengers with these orders, “Go, ask Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron, if I will survive this injury.”

2 Kings 1:3 But the LORD’s angelic messenger told Elijah the Tishbite, “Get up, go to meet the messengers from the king of Samaria. Say this to them: ‘You must think there is no God in Israel! That explains why you are on your way to seek an oracle from Baal Zebub the god of Ekron.

2 Kings 1:4 Therefore this is what the LORD says, “You will not leave the bed you lie on, for you will certainly die!”‘“ So Elijah went on his way.

2 Kings 1:5 When the messengers returned to the king, he asked them, “Why have you returned?”

2 Kings 1:6 They replied, “A man came up to meet us. He told us, “Go back to the king who sent you and tell him, ‘This is what the LORD says: “You must think there is no God in Israel! That explains why you are sending for an oracle from Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron. Therefore you will not leave the bed you lie on, for you will certainly die.”‘“

2 Kings 1:7 The king asked them, “Describe the appearance of this man who came up to meet you and told you these things.”

2 Kings 1:8 They replied, “He was a hairy man and had a leather belt tied around his waist.” The king said, “He is Elijah the Tishbite.”

2 Kings 1:9 The king sent a captain and his fifty soldiers to retrieve Elijah. The captain went up to him, while he was sitting on the top of a hill. He told him, “Prophet, the king says, ‘Come down!’“

2 Kings 1:10 Elijah replied to the captain, “If I am indeed a prophet, may fire come down from the sky and consume you and your fifty soldiers!” Fire then came down from the sky and consumed him and his fifty soldiers.

2 Kings 1:11 The king sent another captain and his fifty soldiers to retrieve Elijah. He went up and told him, “Prophet, this is what the king says, ‘Come down at once!’“

2 Kings 1:12 Elijah replied to them, “If I am indeed a prophet, may fire come down from the sky and consume you and your fifty soldiers!” Fire from God came down from the sky and consumed him and his fifty soldiers.

2 Kings 1:13 The king sent a third captain and his fifty soldiers. This third captain went up and fell on his knees before Elijah. He begged for mercy, “Prophet, please have respect for my life and for the lives of these fifty servants of yours.

2 Kings 1:14 Indeed, fire came down from the sky and consumed the two captains who came before me, along with their men. So now, please have respect for my life.”

2 Kings 1:15 The LORD’s angelic messenger said to Elijah, “Go down with him. Don’t be afraid of him.” So he got up and went down with him to the king.

2 Kings 1:16 Elijah said to the king, “This is what the LORD says, ‘You sent messengers to seek an oracle from Baal Zebub, the god of Ekron. You must think there is no God in Israel from whom you can seek an oracle! Therefore you will not leave the bed you lie on, for you will certainly die.’“

2 Kings 1:17 He died just as the LORD had prophesied through Elijah. In the second year of the reign of King Jehoram son of Jehoshaphat over Judah, Ahaziah’s brother Jehoram replaced him as king of Israel, because he had no son.

2 Kings 1:18 The rest of the events of Ahaziah’s reign, including his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 2:1 Just before the LORD took Elijah up to heaven in a windstorm, Elijah and Elisha were traveling from Gilgal.

2 Kings 2:2 Elijah told Elisha, “Stay here, for the LORD has sent me to Bethel.” But Elisha said, “As certainly as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not leave you.” So they went down to Bethel.

2 Kings 2:3 Some members of the prophetic guild in Bethel came out to Elisha and said, “Do you know that today the LORD is going to take your master from you?” He answered, “Yes, I know. Be quiet.”

2 Kings 2:4 Elijah said to him, “Elisha, stay here, for the LORD has sent me to Jericho.” But he replied, “As certainly as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not leave you.” So they went to Jericho.

2 Kings 2:5 Some members of the prophetic guild in Jericho approached Elisha and said, “Do you know that today the LORD is going to take your master from you?” He answered, “Yes, I know. Be quiet.”

2 Kings 2:6 Elijah said to him, “Stay here, for the LORD has sent me to the Jordan.” But he replied, “As certainly as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not leave you.” So they traveled on together.

2 Kings 2:7 The fifty members of the prophetic guild went and stood opposite them at a distance, while Elijah and Elisha stood by the Jordan.

2 Kings 2:8 Elijah took his cloak, folded it up, and hit the water with it. The water divided, and the two of them crossed over on dry ground.

2 Kings 2:9 When they had crossed over, Elijah said to Elisha, “What can I do for you, before I am taken away from you?” Elisha answered, “May I receive a double portion of the prophetic spirit that energizes you.”

2 Kings 2:10 Elijah replied, “That’s a difficult request! If you see me taken from you, may it be so, but if you don’t, it will not happen.”

2 Kings 2:11 As they were walking along and talking, suddenly a fiery chariot pulled by fiery horses appeared. They went between Elijah and Elisha, and Elijah went up to heaven in a windstorm.

2 Kings 2:12 While Elisha was watching, he was crying out, “My father, my father! The chariot and horsemen of Israel!” Then he could no longer see him. He grabbed his clothes and tore them in two.

2 Kings 2:13 He picked up Elijah’s cloak, which had fallen off him, and went back and stood on the shore of the Jordan.

2 Kings 2:14 He took the cloak that had fallen off Elijah, hit the water with it, and said, “Where is the LORD, THE God of Elijah?” When he hit the water, it divided and Elisha crossed over.

2 Kings 2:15 When the members of the prophetic guild in Jericho, who were standing at a distance, saw him do this, they said, “The spirit that energized Elijah rests upon Elisha.” They went to meet him and bowed down to the ground before him.

2 Kings 2:16 They said to him, “Look, there are fifty capable men with your servants. Let them go and look for your master, for the wind sent from the LORD may have carried him away and dropped him on one of the hills or in one of the valleys.” But Elisha replied, “Don’t send them out.”

2 Kings 2:17 But they were so insistent, he became embarrassed. So he said, “Send them out.” They sent the fifty men out and they looked for three days, but could not find Elijah.

2 Kings 2:18 When they came back, Elisha was staying in Jericho. He said to them, “Didn’t I tell you, ‘Don’t go’?”

2 Kings 2:19 The men of the city said to Elisha, “Look, the city has a good location, as our master can see. But the water is bad and the land doesn’t produce crops.”

2 Kings 2:20 Elisha said, “Get me a new jar and put some salt in it.” So they got it.

2 Kings 2:21 He went out to the spring and threw the salt in. Then he said, “This is what the LORD says, ‘I have purified this water. It will no longer cause death or fail to produce crops.”

2 Kings 2:22 The water has been pure to this very day, just as Elisha prophesied.

2 Kings 2:23 He went up from there to Bethel. As he was traveling up the road, some young boys came out of the city and made fun of him, saying, “Go on up, baldy! Go on up, baldy!”

2 Kings 2:24 When he turned around and saw them, he called God’s judgment down on them. Two female bears came out of the woods and ripped forty-two of the boys to pieces.

2 Kings 2:25 From there he traveled to Mount Carmel and then back to Samaria.

2 Kings 3:1 In the eighteenth year of King Jehoshaphat's reign over Judah, Ahab's son Jehoram became king over Israel in Samaria; he ruled for twelve years.

2 Kings 3:2 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, but not to the same degree as his father and mother. He did remove the sacred pillar of Baal that his father had made.

2 Kings 3:3 Yet he persisted in the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who encouraged Israel to sin; he did not turn from them.

2 Kings 3:4 Now King Mesha of Moab was a sheep breeder. He would send as tribute to the king of Israel 100,000 male lambs and the wool of 100,000 rams.

2 Kings 3:5 When Ahab died, the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

2 Kings 3:6 At that time King Jehoram left Samaria and assembled all Israel for war.

2 Kings 3:7 He sent this message to King Jehoshaphat of Judah: "The king of Moab has rebelled against me. Will you fight with me against Moab?" Jehoshaphat replied, "I will join you in the campaign; my army and horses are at your disposal."

2 Kings 3:8 He then asked, "Which invasion route are we going to take?" Jehoram answered, "By the road through the Desert of Edom."

2 Kings 3:9 So the kings of Israel, Judah, and Edom set out together. They wandered around on the road for seven days and finally ran out of water for the men and animals they had with them.

2 Kings 3:10 The king of Israel said, "Oh no! Certainly the LORD has summoned these three kings so that he can hand them over to the king of Moab!"

2 Kings 3:11 Jehoshaphat asked, "Is there no prophet of the LORD here that we might seek the LORD's direction?" One of the servants of the king of Israel answered, "Elisha son of Shapat is here; he used to be Elijah's servant."

2 Kings 3:12 Jehoshaphat said, "The LORD speaks through him." So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat and the king of Edom went down to visit him.

2 Kings 3:13 Elisha said to the king of Israel, "Why are you here? Go to your father's prophets or your mother's prophets!" The king of Israel replied to him, "No, for the LORD is the one who summoned these three kings so that he can hand them over to Moab."

2 Kings 3:14 Elisha said, "As certainly as the LORD who rules over all lives (whom I serve), if I did not respect King Jehoshaphat of Judah, I would not pay attention to you or acknowledge you.

2 Kings 3:15 But now, get me a musician." When the musician played, the LORD energized him,

2 Kings 3:16 and he said, “This is what the LORD says, ‘Make many cisterns in this valley,’

2 Kings 3:17 for this is what the LORD says, ‘You will not feel any wind or see any rain, but this valley will be full of water and you and your cattle and animals will drink.’

2 Kings 3:18 This is an easy task for the LORD; he will also hand Moab over to you.

2 Kings 3:19 You will defeat every fortified city and every important city. You must chop down every productive tree, stop up all the springs, and cover all the cultivated land with stones.”

2 Kings 3:20 Sure enough, the next morning, at the time of the morning sacrifice, water came flowing down from Edom and filled the land.

2 Kings 3:21 Now all Moab had heard that the kings were attacking, so everyone old enough to fight was mustered and placed at the border.

2 Kings 3:22 When they got up early the next morning, the sun was shining on the water. To the Moabites, who were some distance away, the water looked red like blood.

2 Kings 3:23 The Moabites said, “It’s blood! The kings are totally destroyed! They have struck one another down! Now, Moab, seize the plunder!”

2 Kings 3:24 When they approached the Israelite camp, the Israelites rose up and struck down the Moabites, who then ran from them. The Israelites thoroughly defeated Moab.

2 Kings 3:25 They tore down the cities and each man threw a stone into every cultivated field until they were covered. They stopped up every spring and chopped down every productive tree. Only Kir Hareseth was left intact, but the slingers surrounded it and attacked it.

2 Kings 3:26 When the king of Moab realized he was losing the battle, he and 700 swordsmen tried to break through and attack the king of Edom, but they failed.

2 Kings 3:27 So he took his firstborn son, who was to succeed him as king, and offered him up as a burnt sacrifice on the wall. There was an outburst of divine anger against Israel, so they broke off the attack and returned to their homeland.

2 Kings 4:1 Now a wife of one of the prophets appealed to Elisha for help, saying, “Your servant, my husband is dead. You know that your servant was a loyal follower of the LORD. Now the creditor is coming to take away my two boys to be his servants.”

2 Kings 4:2 Elisha said to her, “What can I do for you? Tell me, what do you have in the house?” She answered, “Your servant has nothing in the house except a small jar of olive oil.”

2 Kings 4:3 He said, “Go and ask all your neighbors for empty containers. Get as many as you can.

2 Kings 4:4 Go and close the door behind you and your sons. Pour the olive oil into all the containers; set aside each one when you have filled it.”

2 Kings 4:5 So she left him and closed the door behind her and her sons. As they were bringing the containers to her, she was pouring the olive oil.

2 Kings 4:6 When the containers were full, she said to one of her sons, “Bring me another container.” But he answered her, “There are no more.” Then the olive oil stopped flowing.

2 Kings 4:7 She went and told the prophet. He said, “Go, sell the olive oil. Repay your creditor, and then you and your sons can live off the rest of the profit.”

2 Kings 4:8 One day Elisha traveled to Shunem, where a prominent woman lived. She insisted that he stop for a meal. So whenever he was passing through, he would stop in there for a meal.

2 Kings 4:9 She said to her husband, “Look, I’m sure that the man who regularly passes through here is a very special prophet.

2 Kings 4:10 Let’s make a small private upper room and furnish it with a bed, table, chair, and lamp. When he visits us, he can stay there.”

2 Kings 4:11 One day Elisha came for a visit; he went into the upper room and rested.

2 Kings 4:12 He told his servant Gehazi, “Ask the Shunammite woman to come here.” So he did so and she came to him.

2 Kings 4:13 Elisha said to Gehazi, “Tell her, ‘Look, you have treated us with such great respect. What can I do for you? Can I put in a good word for you with the king or the commander of the army?’“ She replied, “I’m quite secure.”

2 Kings 4:14 So he asked Gehazi, “What can I do for her?” Gehazi replied, “She has no son, and her husband is old.”

2 Kings 4:15 Elisha told him, “Ask her to come here.” So he did so and she came and stood in the doorway.

2 Kings 4:16 He said, “About this time next year you will be holding a son.” She said, “No, my master! O prophet, do not lie to your servant!”

2 Kings 4:17 The woman did conceive, and at the specified time the next year she gave birth to a son, just as Elisha had told her.

2 Kings 4:18 The boy grew and one day he went out to see his father who was with the harvest workers.

2 Kings 4:19 He said to his father, “My head! My head!” His father told a servant, “Carry him to his mother.”

2 Kings 4:20 So he picked him up and took him to his mother. He sat on her lap until noon and then died.

2 Kings 4:21 She went up and laid him down on the prophet’s bed. She shut the door behind her and left.

2 Kings 4:22 She called to her husband, “Send me one of the servants and one of the donkeys, so I can go see the prophet quickly and then return.”

2 Kings 4:23 He said, “Why do you want to go see him today? It is not the new moon or the Sabbath.” She said, “Everything’s fine.”

2 Kings 4:24 She saddled the donkey and told her servant, “Lead on. Do not stop unless I say so.”

2 Kings 4:25 So she went to visit the prophet at Mount Carmel. When he saw her at a distance, he said to his servant Gehazi, “Look, it’s the Shunammite woman.

2 Kings 4:26 Now, run to meet her and ask her, ‘Are you well? Are your husband and the boy well?’“ She told Gehazi, “Everything’s fine.”

2 Kings 4:27 But when she reached the prophet on the mountain, she grabbed hold of his feet. Gehazi came near to push her away, but the prophet said, “Leave her alone, for she is very upset. The LORD has kept the matter hidden from me; he didn’t tell me about it.”

2 Kings 4:28 She said, “Did I ask my master for a son? Didn’t I say, ‘Don’t mislead me?’“

2 Kings 4:29 Elisha told Gehazi, “Tuck your robes into your belt, take my staff, and go! Don’t stop to exchange greetings with anyone! Place my staff on the child’s face.”

2 Kings 4:30 The mother of the child said, “As certainly as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not leave you.” So Elisha got up and followed her back.

2 Kings 4:31 Now Gehazi went on ahead of them. He placed the staff on the child’s face, but there was no sound or response. When he came back to Elisha he told him, “The child did not wake up.”

2 Kings 4:32 When Elisha arrived at the house, there was the child lying dead on his bed.

2 Kings 4:33 He went in by himself and closed the door. Then he prayed to the LORD.

2 Kings 4:34 He got up on the bed and spread his body out over the boy; he put his mouth on the boy’s mouth, his eyes over the boy’s eyes, and the palms of his hands against the boy’s palms. He bent down over him, and the boy’s skin grew warm.

2 Kings 4:35 Elisha went back and walked around in the house. Then he got up on the bed again and bent down over him. The child sneezed seven times and opened his eyes.

2 Kings 4:36 Elisha called to Gehazi and said, “Get the Shunammite woman.” So he did so and she came to him. He said to her, “Take your son.”

2 Kings 4:37 She came in, fell at his feet, and bowed down. Then she picked up her son and left.

2 Kings 4:38 Now Elisha went back to Gilgal, while there was famine in the land. Some of the prophets were visiting him and he told his servant, “Put the big pot on the fire and boil some stew for the prophets.”

2 Kings 4:39 Someone went out to the field to gather some herbs and found a wild vine. He picked some of its fruit, enough to fill up the fold of his robe. He came back, cut it up, and threw the slices into the stew pot, not knowing they were harmful.

2 Kings 4:40 The stew was poured out for the men to eat. When they ate some of the stew, they cried out, “Death is in the pot, O prophet!” They could not eat it.

2 Kings 4:41 He said, “Get some flour.” Then he threw it into the pot and said, “Now pour some out for the men so they may eat.” There was no longer anything harmful in the pot.

2 Kings 4:42 Now a man from Baal Shalisha brought some food for the prophet– twenty loaves of bread made from the firstfruits of the barley harvest, as well as fresh ears of grain. Elisha said, “Set it before the people so they may eat.”

2 Kings 4:43 But his attendant said, “How can I feed a hundred men with this?” He replied, “Set it before the people so they may eat, for this is what the LORD says, ‘They will eat and have some left over.’“

2 Kings 4:44 So he set it before them; they ate and had some left over, just as the LORD predicted.

2 Kings 5:1 Now Naaman, the commander of the king of Syria’s army, was esteemed and respected by his master, for through him the LORD had given Syria military victories. But this great warrior had a skin disease.

2 Kings 5:2 Raiding parties went out from Syria and took captive from the land of Israel a young girl, who became a servant to Naaman’s wife.

2 Kings 5:3 She told her mistress, “If only my master were in the presence of the prophet who is in Samaria! Then he would cure him of his skin disease.”

2 Kings 5:4 Naaman went and told his master what the girl from the land of Israel had said.

2 Kings 5:5 The king of Syria said, “Go! I will send a letter to the king of Israel.” So Naaman went, taking with him ten talents of silver, six thousand shekels of gold, and ten suits of clothes.

2 Kings 5:6 He brought the letter to king of Israel. It read: “This is a letter of introduction for my servant Naaman, whom I have sent to be cured of his skin disease.”

2 Kings 5:7 When the king of Israel read the letter, he tore his clothes and said, “Am I God? Can I kill or restore life? Why does he ask me to cure a man of his skin disease? Certainly you must see that he is looking for an excuse to fight me!”

2 Kings 5:8 When Elisha the prophet heard that the king had torn his clothes, he sent this message to the king, “Why did you tear your clothes? Send him to me so he may know there is a prophet in Israel.”

2 Kings 5:9 So Naaman came with his horses and chariots and stood in the doorway of Elisha’s house.

2 Kings 5:10 Elisha sent out a messenger who told him, “Go and wash seven times in the Jordan; your skin will be restored and you will be healed.”

2 Kings 5:11 Naaman went away angry. He said, “Look, I thought for sure he would come out, stand there, invoke the name of the LORD his God, wave his hand over the area, and cure the skin disease.

2 Kings 5:12 The rivers of Damascus, the Abana and Pharpar, are better than any of the waters of Israel! Could I not wash in them and be healed?” So he turned around and went away angry.

2 Kings 5:13 His servants approached and said to him, “O master, if the prophet had told you to do some difficult task, you would have been willing to do it. It seems you should be happy that he simply said, “Wash and you will be healed.”

2 Kings 5:14 So he went down and dipped in the Jordan seven times, as the prophet had instructed. His skin became as smooth as a young child’s and he was healed.

2 Kings 5:15 He and his entire entourage returned to the prophet. Naaman came and stood before him. He said, “For sure I know that there is no God in all the earth except in Israel! Now, please accept a gift from your servant.”

2 Kings 5:16 But Elisha replied, “As certainly as the LORD lives (whom I serve), I will take nothing from you.” Naaman insisted that he take it, but he refused.

2 Kings 5:17 Naaman said, “If not, then please give your servant a load of dirt, enough for a pair of mules to carry, for your servant will never again offer a burnt offering or sacrifice to a god other than the LORD.

2 Kings 5:18 May the LORD forgive your servant for this one thing: When my master enters the temple of Rimmon to worship, and he leans on my arm and I bow down in the temple of Rimmon, may the LORD forgive your servant for this.”

2 Kings 5:19 Elisha said to him, “Go in peace.” When he had gone a short distance,

2 Kings 5:20 Gehazi, the prophet Elisha’s servant, thought, “Look, my master did not accept what this Syrian Naaman offered him. As certainly as the LORD lives, I will run after him and accept something from him.”

2 Kings 5:21 So Gehazi ran after Naaman. When Naaman saw someone running after him, he got down from his chariot to meet him and asked, “Is everything all right?”

2 Kings 5:22 He answered, “Everything is fine. My master sent me with this message, ‘Look, two servants of the prophets just arrived from the Ephraimite hill country. Please give them a talent of silver and two suits of clothes.’“

2 Kings 5:23 Naaman said, “Please accept two talents of silver. He insisted, and tied up two talents of silver in two bags, along with two suits of clothes. He gave them to two of his servants and they carried them for Gehazi.

2 Kings 5:24 When he arrived at the hill, he took them from the servants and put them in the house. Then he sent the men on their way.

2 Kings 5:25 When he came and stood before his master, Elisha asked him, “Where have you been, Gehazi?” He answered, “Your servant hasn’t been anywhere.”

2 Kings 5:26 Elisha replied, “I was there in spirit when a man turned and got down from his chariot to meet you. This is not the proper time to accept silver or to accept clothes, olive groves, vineyards, sheep, cattle, and male and female servants.

2 Kings 5:27 Therefore Naaman’s skin disease will afflict you and your descendants forever!” When Gehazi went out from his presence, his skin was as white as snow.

2 Kings 6:1 Some of the prophets said to Elisha, “Look, the place where we meet with you is too cramped for us.

2 Kings 6:2 Let’s go to the Jordan. Each of us will get a log from there and we will build a meeting place for ourselves there.” He said, “Go.”

2 Kings 6:3 One of them said, “Please come along with your servants.” He replied, “All right, I’ll come.”

2 Kings 6:4 So he went with them. When they arrived at the Jordan, they started cutting down trees.

2 Kings 6:5 As one of them was felling a log, the ax head dropped into the water. He shouted, “Oh no, my master! It was borrowed!”

2 Kings 6:6 The prophet asked, “Where did it drop in?” When he showed him the spot, Elisha cut off a branch, threw it in at that spot, and made the ax head float.

2 Kings 6:7 He said, “Lift it out.” So he reached out his hand and grabbed it.

2 Kings 6:8 Now the king of Syria was at war with Israel. He consulted his advisers, who said, “Invade at such and such a place.”

2 Kings 6:9 But the prophet sent this message to the king of Israel, “Make sure you don’t pass through this place because Syria is invading there.”

2 Kings 6:10 So the king of Israel sent a message to the place the prophet had pointed out, warning it to be on its guard. This happened on several occasions.

2 Kings 6:11 This made the king of Syria upset. So he summoned his advisers and said to them, “One of us must be helping the king of Israel.”

2 Kings 6:12 One of his advisers said, “No, my master, O king. The prophet Elisha who lives in Israel keeps telling the king of Israel the things you say in your bedroom.”

2 Kings 6:13 The king ordered, “Go, find out where he is, so I can send some men to capture him.” The king was told, “He is in Dothan.”

2 Kings 6:14 So he sent horses and chariots there, along with a good-sized army. They arrived during the night and surrounded the city.

2 Kings 6:15 The prophet’s attendant got up early in the morning. When he went outside there was an army surrounding the city, along with horses and chariots. He said to Elisha, “Oh no, my master! What will we do?”

2 Kings 6:16 He replied, “Don’t be afraid, for our side outnumbers them.”

2 Kings 6:17 Then Elisha prayed, “O LORD, open his eyes so he can see.” The LORD opened the servant’s eyes and he saw that the hill was full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha.

2 Kings 6:18 As they approached him, Elisha prayed to the LORD, “Strike these people with blindness.” The LORD struck them with blindness as Elisha requested.

2 Kings 6:19 Then Elisha said to them, “This is not the right road or city. Follow me, and I will lead you to the man you’re looking for.” He led them to Samaria.

2 Kings 6:20 When they had entered Samaria, Elisha said, “O LORD, open their eyes, so they can see.” The LORD opened their eyes and they saw that they were in the middle of Samaria.

2 Kings 6:21 When the king of Israel saw them, he asked Elisha, “Should I strike them down, my master?”

2 Kings 6:22 He replied, “Do not strike them down! You did not capture them with your sword or bow, so what gives you the right to strike them down? Give them some food and water, so they can eat and drink and then go back to their master."

2 Kings 6:23 So he threw a big banquet for them and they ate and drank. Then he sent them back to their master. After that no Syrian raiding parties again invaded the land of Israel.

2 Kings 6:24 Later King Ben Hadad of Syria assembled his entire army and attacked and besieged Samaria.

2 Kings 6:25 Samaria's food supply ran out. They laid siege to it so long that a donkey's head was selling for eighty shekels of silver and a quarter of a kab of dove's droppings for five shekels of silver.

2 Kings 6:26 While the king of Israel was passing by on the city wall, a woman shouted to him, "Help us, my master, O king!"

2 Kings 6:27 He replied, "No, let the LORD help you. How can I help you? The threshing floor and winepress are empty."

2 Kings 6:28 Then the king asked her, "What's your problem?" She answered, "This woman said to me, 'Hand over your son; we'll eat him today and then eat my son tomorrow.'

2 Kings 6:29 So we boiled my son and ate him. Then I said to her the next day, 'Hand over your son and we'll eat him.' But she hid her son!"

2 Kings 6:30 When the king heard what the woman said, he tore his clothes. As he was passing by on the wall, the people could see he was wearing sackcloth under his clothes.

2 Kings 6:31 Then he said, "May God judge me severely if Elisha son of Shaphat still has his head by the end of the day!"

2 Kings 6:32 Now Elisha was sitting in his house with the community leaders. The king sent a messenger on ahead, but before he arrived, Elisha said to the leaders, "Do you realize this assassin intends to cut off my head?" Look, when the messenger arrives, shut the door and lean against it. His master will certainly be right behind him."

2 Kings 6:33 He was still talking to them when the messenger approached and said, "Look, the LORD is responsible for this disaster! Why should I continue to wait for the LORD to help?"

2 Kings 7:1 Elisha replied, "Hear the word of the LORD! This is what the LORD says, 'About this time tomorrow a seah of finely milled flour will sell for a shekel and two seahs of barley for a shekel at the gate of Samaria.'"

2 Kings 7:2 An officer who was the king's right-hand man responded to the prophet, "Look, even if the LORD made it rain by opening holes in the sky, could this happen so soon?" Elisha said, "Look, you will see it happen with your own eyes, but you will not eat any of the food!"

2 Kings 7:3 Now four men with a skin disease were sitting at the entrance of the city gate. They said to one another, "Why are we just sitting here waiting to die?

2 Kings 7:4 If we go into the city, we'll die of starvation, and if we stay here we'll die! So come on, let's defect to the Syrian camp! If they spare us, we'll live; if they kill us– well, we were going to die anyway."

2 Kings 7:5 So they started toward the Syrian camp at dusk. When they reached the edge of the Syrian camp, there was no one there.

2 Kings 7:6 The LORD had caused the Syrian camp to hear the sound of chariots and horses and a large army. Then they said to one another, "Look, the king of Israel has paid the kings of the Hittites and Egypt to attack us!"

2 Kings 7:7 So they got up and fled at dusk, leaving behind their tents, horses, and donkeys. They left the camp as it was and ran for their lives.

2 Kings 7:8 When the men with a skin disease reached the edge of the camp, they entered a tent and had a meal. They also took some silver, gold, and clothes and went and hid it all. Then they went back and entered another tent. They looted it and went and hid what they had taken.

2 Kings 7:9 Then they said to one another, "It's not right what we're doing! This is a day to celebrate, but we haven't told anyone. If we wait until dawn, we'll be punished. So come on, let's go and inform the royal palace."

2 Kings 7:10 So they went and called out to the gatekeepers of the city. They told them, "We entered the Syrian camp and there was no one there. We didn't even hear a man's voice. But the horses and donkeys are still tied up, and the tents remain up."

2 Kings 7:11 The gatekeepers relayed the news to the royal palace.

2 Kings 7:12 The king got up in the night and said to his advisers, "I will tell you what the Syrians have done to us. They know we are starving, so they left the camp and hid in the field, thinking, 'When they come out of the city, we will capture them alive and enter the city.'"

2 Kings 7:13 One of his advisers replied, "Pick some men and have them take five of the horses that are left in the city. (Even if they are killed, their fate will be no different than that of all the Israelite people– we're all going to die!) Let's send them out so we can know for sure what's going on."

2 Kings 7:14 So they picked two horsemen and the king sent them out to track the Syrian army. He ordered them, "Go and find out what's going on."

2 Kings 7:15 So they tracked them as far as the Jordan. The road was filled with clothes and equipment that the Syrians had discarded in their haste. The scouts went back and told the king.

2 Kings 7:16 Then the people went out and looted the Syrian camp. A seah of finely milled flour sold for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, just as the LORD had said they would.

2 Kings 7:17 Now the king had placed the officer who was his right-hand man at the city gate. When the people rushed out, they trampled him to death in the gate. This fulfilled the prophet's word which he had spoken when the king tried to arrest him.

2 Kings 7:18 The prophet told the king, "Two seahs of barley will sell for a shekel, and a seah of finely milled flour for a shekel; this will happen about this time tomorrow in the gate of Samaria."

2 Kings 7:19 But the officer replied to the prophet, "Look, even if the LORD made it rain by opening holes in the sky, could this happen so soon?" Elisha said, "Look, you will see it happen with your own eyes, but you will not eat any of the food!"

2 Kings 7:20 This is exactly what happened to him. The people trampled him to death in the city gate.

2 Kings 8:1 Now Elisha advised the woman whose son he had brought back to life, "You and your family should go and live somewhere else for a while, for the LORD has decreed that a famine will overtake the land for seven years."

2 Kings 8:2 So the woman did as the prophet said. She and her family went and lived in the land of the Philistines for seven years.

2 Kings 8:3 After seven years the woman returned from the land of the Philistines and went to ask the king to give her back her house and field.

2 Kings 8:4 Now the king was talking to Gehazi, the prophet's servant, and said, "Tell me all the great things which Elisha has done."

2 Kings 8:5 While Gehazi was telling the king how Elisha had brought the dead back to life, the woman whose son he had brought back to life came to ask the king for her house and field. Gehazi said, "My master, O king, this is the very woman and this is her son whom Elisha brought back to life!"

2 Kings 8:6 The king asked the woman about it, and she gave him the details. The king assigned a eunuch to take care of her request and ordered him, "Give her back everything she owns, as well as the amount of crops her field produced from the day she left the land until now."

2 Kings 8:7 Elisha traveled to Damascus while King Ben Hadad of Syria was sick. The king was told, "The prophet has come here."

2 Kings 8:8 So the king told Hazael, "Take a gift and go visit the prophet. Request from him an oracle from the LORD. Ask him, 'Will I recover from this sickness?'"

2 Kings 8:9 So Hazael went to visit Elisha. He took along a gift, as well as forty camel loads of all the fine things of Damascus. When he arrived, he stood before him and said, “Your son, King Ben Hadad of Syria, has sent me to you with this question, ‘Will I recover from this sickness?’“

2 Kings 8:10 Elisha said to him, “Go and tell him, ‘You will surely recover,’ but the LORD has revealed to me that he will surely die.”

2 Kings 8:11 Elisha just stared at him until Hazael became uncomfortable. Then the prophet started crying.

2 Kings 8:12 Hazael asked, “Why are you crying, my master?” He replied, “Because I know the trouble you will cause the Israelites. You will set fire to their fortresses, kill their young men with the sword, smash their children to bits, and rip open their pregnant women.”

2 Kings 8:13 Hazael said, “How could your servant, who is as insignificant as a dog, accomplish this great military victory?” Elisha answered, “The LORD has revealed to me that you will be the king of Syria.”

2 Kings 8:14 He left Elisha and went to his master. Ben Hadad asked him, “What did Elisha tell you?” Hazael replied, “He told me you would surely recover.”

2 Kings 8:15 The next day Hazael took a piece of cloth, dipped it in water, and spread it over Ben Hadad’s face until he died. Then Hazael replaced him as king.

2 Kings 8:16 In the fifth year of the reign of Israel’s King Joram, son of Ahab, Jehoshaphat’s son Jehoram became king over Judah.

2 Kings 8:17 He was thirty-two years old when he became king and he reigned for eight years in Jerusalem.

2 Kings 8:18 He followed in the footsteps of the kings of Israel, just as Ahab’s dynasty had done, for he married Ahab’s daughter. He did evil in the sight of the LORD.

2 Kings 8:19 But the LORD was unwilling to destroy Judah. He preserved Judah for the sake of his servant David to whom he had promised a perpetual dynasty.

2 Kings 8:20 During his reign Edom freed themselves from Judah’s control and set up their own king.

2 Kings 8:21 Joram crossed over to Zair with all his chariots. The Edomites, who had surrounded him, attacked at night and defeated him and his chariot officers. The Israelite army retreated to their homeland.

2 Kings 8:22 So Edom has remained free from Judah’s control to this very day. At that same time Libnah also rebelled.

2 Kings 8:23 The rest of the events of Joram’s reign, including a record of his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 8:24 Joram passed away and was buried with his ancestors in the city of David. His son Ahaziah replaced him as king.

2 Kings 8:25 In the twelfth year of the reign of Israel’s King Joram, son of Ahab, Jehoram’s son Ahaziah became king over Judah.

2 Kings 8:26 Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he became king and he reigned for one year in Jerusalem. His mother was Athaliah, the granddaughter of King Omri of Israel.

2 Kings 8:27 He followed in the footsteps of Ahab’s dynasty and did evil in the sight of the LORD, like Ahab’s dynasty, for he was related to Ahab’s family.

2 Kings 8:28 He joined Ahab’s son Joram in a battle against King Hazael of Syria at Ramoth Gilead in which the Syrians defeated Joram.

2 Kings 8:29 King Joram returned to Jezreel to recover from the wounds he received from the Syrians in Ramah when he fought against King Hazael of Syria. King Ahaziah son of Jehoram of Judah went down to visit Joram son of Ahab in Jezreel, for he was ill.

2 Kings 9:1 Now Elisha the prophet summoned a member of the prophetic guild and told him, “Tuck your robes into your belt, take this container of olive oil in your hand, and go to Ramoth Gilead.

2 Kings 9:2 When you arrive there, look for Jehu son of Jehoshaphat son of Nimshi and take him aside into an inner room.

2 Kings 9:3 Take the container of olive oil, pour it over his head, and say, ‘This is what the LORD says, “I have designated you as king over Israel.”‘ Then open the door and run away quickly!”

2 Kings 9:4 So the young prophet went to Ramoth Gilead.

2 Kings 9:5 When he arrived, the officers of the army were sitting there. So he said, “I have a message for you, O officer.” Jehu asked, “For which one of us?” He replied, “For you, O officer.”

2 Kings 9:6 So Jehu got up and went inside. Then the prophet poured the olive oil on his head and said to him, “This is what the LORD God of Israel says, ‘I have designated you as king over the LORD’s people Israel.

2 Kings 9:7 You will destroy the family of your master Ahab. I will get revenge against Jezebel for the shed blood of my servants the prophets and for the shed blood of all the LORD’s servants.

2 Kings 9:8 Ahab’s entire family will die. I will cut off every last male belonging to Ahab in Israel, including even the weak and incapacitated.

2 Kings 9:9 I will make Ahab’s dynasty like those of Jeroboam son of Nebat and Baasha son of Ahijah.

2 Kings 9:10 Dogs will devour Jezebel on the plot of ground in Jezreel; she will not be buried.’“ Then he opened the door and ran away.

2 Kings 9:11 When Jehu rejoined his master’s servants, they asked him, “Is everything all right? Why did this madman visit you?” He replied, “Ah, it’s not important. You know what kind of man he is and the kinds of things he says.”

2 Kings 9:12 But they said, “You’re lying! Tell us what he said.” So he told them what he had said. He also related how he had said, “This is what the LORD says, ‘I have designated you as king over Israel.’“

2 Kings 9:13 Each of them quickly took off his cloak and they spread them out at Jehu’s feet on the steps. The trumpet was blown and they shouted, “Jehu is king!”

2 Kings 9:14 Then Jehu son of Jehoshaphat son of Nimshi conspired against Joram. Now Joram had been in Ramoth Gilead with the whole Israelite army, guarding against an invasion by King Hazael of Syria.

2 Kings 9:15 But King Joram had returned to Jezreel to recover from the wounds he received from the Syrians when he fought against King Hazael of Syria. Jehu told his supporters, “If you really want me to be king, then don’t let anyone escape from the city to go and warn Jezreel.”

2 Kings 9:16 Jehu drove his chariot to Jezreel, for Joram was recuperating there. (Now King Ahaziah of Judah had come down to visit Joram.)

2 Kings 9:17 Now the watchman was standing on the tower in Jezreel and saw Jehu’s troops approaching. He said, “I see troops!” Jehoram ordered, “Send a rider out to meet them and have him ask, ‘Is everything all right?’“

2 Kings 9:18 So the horseman went to meet him and said, “This is what the king says, ‘Is everything all right?’“ Jehu replied, “None of your business! Follow me.” The watchman reported, “The messenger reached them, but hasn’t started back.”

2 Kings 9:19 So he sent a second horseman out to them and he said, “This is what the king says, ‘Is everything all right?’“ Jehu replied, “None of your business! Follow me.”

2 Kings 9:20 The watchman reported, “He reached them, but hasn’t started back. The one who drives the lead chariot drives like Jehu son of Nimshi; he drives recklessly.”

2 Kings 9:21 Jehoram ordered, “Hitch up my chariot.” When his chariot had been hitched up, King Jehoram of Israel and King Ahaziah of Judah went out in their respective chariots to meet Jehu. They met up with him in the plot of land that had once belonged to Naboth of Jezreel.

2 Kings 9:22 When Jehoram saw Jehu, he asked, “Is everything all right, Jehu?” He replied, “How can everything be all right as long as your mother Jezebel promotes idolatry and pagan practices?”

2 Kings 9:23 Jehoram turned his chariot around and took off. He said to Ahaziah, “It’s a trap, Ahaziah!”

2 Kings 9:24 Jehu aimed his bow and shot an arrow right between Jehoram's shoulders. The arrow went through his heart and he fell to his knees in his chariot.

2 Kings 9:25 Jehu ordered his officer Bidkar, "Pick him up and throw him into the part of the field that once belonged to Naboth of Jezreel. Remember, you and I were riding together behind his father Ahab, when the LORD pronounced this judgment on him,

2 Kings 9:26 "'Know for sure that I saw the shed blood of Naboth and his sons yesterday," says the LORD, "and that I will give you what you deserve right here in this plot of land," says the LORD.' So now pick him up and throw him into this plot of land, just as the LORD said."

2 Kings 9:27 When King Ahaziah of Judah saw what happened, he took off up the road to Beth Haggan. Jehu chased him and ordered, "Shoot him too." They shot him while he was driving his chariot up the ascent of Gur near Ibleam. He fled to Megiddo and died there.

2 Kings 9:28 His servants took his body back to Jerusalem and buried him in his tomb with his ancestors in the city of David.

2 Kings 9:29 Ahaziah had become king over Judah in the eleventh year of Joram son of Ahab.

2 Kings 9:30 Jehu approached Jezreel. When Jezebel heard the news, she put on some eye liner, fixed up her hair, and leaned out the window.

2 Kings 9:31 When Jehu came through the gate, she said, "Is everything all right, Zimri, murderer of his master?"

2 Kings 9:32 He looked up at the window and said, "Who is on my side? Who?" Two or three eunuchs looked down at him.

2 Kings 9:33 He said, "Throw her down!" So they threw her down, and when she hit the ground, her blood splattered against the wall and the horses, and Jehu drove his chariot over her.

2 Kings 9:34 He went inside and had a meal. Then he said, "Dispose of this accursed woman's corpse. Bury her, for after all, she was a king's daughter."

2 Kings 9:35 But when they went to bury her, they found nothing left but the skull, feet, and palms of the hands.

2 Kings 9:36 When they went back and told him, he said, "The LORD's word through his servant, Elijah the Tishbite, has come to pass. He warned, 'In the plot of land at Jezreel, dogs will devour Jezebel's flesh.

2 Kings 9:37 Jezebel's corpse will be like manure on the surface of the ground in the plot of land at Jezreel. People will not be able to even recognize her.'"

2 Kings 10:1 Ahab had seventy sons living in Samaria. So Jehu wrote letters and sent them to Samaria to the leading officials of Jezreel and to the guardians of Ahab's dynasty. This is what the letters said,

2 Kings 10:2 “You have with you the sons of your master, chariots and horses, a fortified city, and weapons. So when this letter arrives,

2 Kings 10:3 pick the best and most capable of your master’s sons, place him on his father’s throne, and defend your master’s dynasty.”

2 Kings 10:4 They were absolutely terrified and said, “Look, two kings could not stop him! How can we?”

2 Kings 10:5 So the palace supervisor, the city commissioner, the leaders, and the guardians sent this message to Jehu, “We are your subjects! Whatever you say, we will do. We will not make anyone king. Do what you consider proper.”

2 Kings 10:6 He wrote them a second letter, saying, “If you are really on my side and are willing to obey me, then take the heads of your master’s sons and come to me in Jezreel at this time tomorrow.” Now the king had seventy sons, and the prominent men of the city were raising them.

2 Kings 10:7 When they received the letter, they seized the king’s sons and executed all seventy of them. They put their heads in baskets and sent them to him in Jezreel.

2 Kings 10:8 The messenger came and told Jehu, “They have brought the heads of the king’s sons.” Jehu said, “Stack them in two piles at the entrance of the city gate until morning.”

2 Kings 10:9 In the morning he went out and stood there. Then he said to all the people, “You are innocent. I conspired against my master and killed him. But who struck down all of these men?

2 Kings 10:10 Therefore take note that not one of the judgments the LORD announced against Ahab’s dynasty has failed to materialize. The LORD had done what he announced through his servant Elijah.”

2 Kings 10:11 Then Jehu killed all who were left of Ahab’s family in Jezreel, and all his nobles, close friends, and priests. He left no survivors.

2 Kings 10:12 Jehu then left there and set out for Samaria. While he was traveling through Beth Eked of the Shepherds,

2 Kings 10:13 Jehu encountered the relatives of King Ahaziah of Judah. He asked, “Who are you?” They replied, “We are Ahaziah’s relatives. We have come down to see how the king’s sons and the queen mother’s sons are doing.”

2 Kings 10:14 He said, “Capture them alive!” So they captured them alive and then executed all forty-two of them in the cistern at Beth Eked. He left no survivors.

2 Kings 10:15 When he left there, he met Jehonadab, son of Rekab, who had been looking for him. Jehu greeted him and asked, “Are you as committed to me as I am to you?” Jehonadab answered, “I am!” Jehu replied, “If so, give me your hand.” So he offered his hand and Jehu pulled him up into the chariot.

2 Kings 10:16 Jehu said, “Come with me and see how zealous I am for the LORD’s cause.” So he took him along in his chariot.

2 Kings 10:17 He went to Samaria and exterminated all the members of Ahab’s family who were still alive in Samaria, just as the LORD had announced to Elijah.

2 Kings 10:18 Jehu assembled all the people and said to them, “Ahab worshiped Baal a little; Jehu will worship him with great devotion.

2 Kings 10:19 So now, bring to me all the prophets of Baal, as well as all his servants and priests. None of them must be absent, for I am offering a great sacrifice to Baal. Any of them who fail to appear will lose their lives.” But Jehu was tricking them so he could destroy the servants of Baal.

2 Kings 10:20 Then Jehu ordered, “Make arrangements for a celebration for Baal.” So they announced it.

2 Kings 10:21 Jehu sent invitations throughout Israel, and all the servants of Baal came; not one was absent. They arrived at the temple of Baal and filled it up from end to end.

2 Kings 10:22 Jehu ordered the one who was in charge of the wardrobe, “Bring out robes for all the servants of Baal.” So he brought out robes for them.

2 Kings 10:23 Then Jehu and Jehonadab son of Rekab went to the temple of Baal. Jehu said to the servants of Baal, “Make sure there are no servants of the LORD here with you; there must be only servants of Baal.”

2 Kings 10:24 They went inside to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings. Now Jehu had stationed eighty men outside. He had told them, “If any of the men inside get away, you will pay with your lives!”

2 Kings 10:25 When he finished offering the burnt sacrifice, Jehu ordered the royal guard and officers, “Come in and strike them down! Don’t let any escape!” So the royal guard and officers struck them down with the sword and left their bodies lying there. Then they entered the inner sanctuary of the temple of Baal.

2 Kings 10:26 They hauled out the sacred pillar of the temple of Baal and burned it.

2 Kings 10:27 They demolished the sacred pillar of Baal and the temple of Baal; it is used as a latrine to this very day.

2 Kings 10:28 So Jehu eradicated Baal worship from Israel.

2 Kings 10:29 However, Jehu did not repudiate the sins which Jeroboam son of Nebat had encouraged Israel to commit; the golden calves remained in Bethel and Dan.

2 Kings 10:30 The LORD said to Jehu, “You have done well. You have accomplished my will and carried out my wishes with regard to Ahab’s dynasty. Therefore four generations of your descendants will rule over Israel.”

2 Kings 10:31 But Jehu did not carefully and wholeheartedly obey the law of the LORD God of Israel. He did not repudiate the sins which Jeroboam had encouraged Israel to commit.

2 Kings 10:32 In those days the LORD began to reduce the size of Israel’s territory. Hazael attacked their eastern border.

2 Kings 10:33 He conquered all the land of Gilead, including the territory of Gad, Reuben, and Manasseh, extending all the way from the Aroer in the Arnon Valley through Gilead to Bashan.

2 Kings 10:34 The rest of the events of Jehu’s reign, including all his accomplishments and successes, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 10:35 Jehu passed away and was buried in Samaria. His son Jehoahaz replaced him as king.

2 Kings 10:36 Jehu reigned over Israel for twenty-eight years in Samaria.

2 Kings 11:1 When Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she was determined to destroy the entire royal line.

2 Kings 11:2 So Jehosheba, the daughter of King Joram and sister of Ahaziah, took Ahaziah’s son Joash and sneaked him away from the rest of the royal descendants who were to be executed. She hid him and his nurse in the room where the bed covers were stored. So he was hidden from Athaliah and escaped execution.

2 Kings 11:3 He hid out with his nurse in the LORD’s temple for six years, while Athaliah was ruling over the land.

2 Kings 11:4 In the seventh year Jehoiada summoned the officers of the units of hundreds of the Carians and the royal bodyguard. He met with them in the LORD’s temple. He made an agreement with them and made them swear an oath of allegiance in the LORD’s temple. Then he showed them the king’s son.

2 Kings 11:5 He ordered them, “This is what you must do. One third of the unit that is on duty during the Sabbath will guard the royal palace.

2 Kings 11:6 Another third of you will be stationed at the Foundation Gate. Still another third of you will be stationed at the gate behind the royal guard. You will take turns guarding the palace.

2 Kings 11:7 The two units who are off duty on the Sabbath will guard the LORD’s temple and protect the king.

2 Kings 11:8 You must surround the king. Each of you must hold his weapon in his hand. Whoever approaches your ranks must be killed. You must accompany the king wherever he goes."

2 Kings 11:9 The officers of the units of hundreds did just as Jehoiada the priest ordered. Each of them took his men, those who were on duty during the Sabbath as well as those who were off duty on the Sabbath, and reported to Jehoiada the priest.

2 Kings 11:10 The priest gave to the officers of the units of hundreds King David's spears and the shields that were kept in the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 11:11 The royal bodyguard took their stations, each holding his weapon in his hand. They lined up from the south side of the temple to the north side and stood near the altar and the temple, surrounding the king.

2 Kings 11:12 Jehoiada led out the king's son and placed on him the crown and the royal insignia. They proclaimed him king and poured olive oil on his head. They clapped their hands and cried out, "Long live the king!"

2 Kings 11:13 When Athaliah heard the royal guard shout, she joined the crowd at the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 11:14 Then she saw the king standing by the pillar, according to custom. The officers stood beside the king with their trumpets and all the people of the land were celebrating and blowing trumpets. Athaliah tore her clothes and screamed, "Treason, treason!"

2 Kings 11:15 Jehoiada the priest ordered the officers of the units of hundreds, who were in charge of the army, "Bring her outside the temple to the guards. Put the sword to anyone who follows her." The priest gave this order because he had decided she should not be executed in the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 11:16 They seized her and took her into the precincts of the royal palace through the horses' entrance. There she was executed.

2 Kings 11:17 Jehoiada then drew up a covenant between the LORD and the king and people, stipulating that they should be loyal to the LORD.

2 Kings 11:18 All the people of the land went and demolished the temple of Baal. They smashed its altars and idols to bits. They killed Mattan the priest of Baal in front of the altar. Jehoiada the priest then placed guards at the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 11:19 He took the officers of the units of hundreds, the Carians, the royal bodyguard, and all the people of land, and together they led the king down from the LORD's temple. They entered the royal palace through the Gate of the Royal Bodyguard, and the king sat down on the royal throne.

2 Kings 11:20 All the people of the land celebrated, for the city had rest now that they had killed Athaliah with the sword in the royal palace.

2 Kings 11:21 Jehoash was seven years old when he began to reign.

2 Kings 12:1 In Jehu's seventh year Jehoash became king; he reigned for forty years in Jerusalem. His mother was Zibiah, who was from Beer Sheba.

2 Kings 12:2 Throughout his lifetime Jehoash did what the LORD approved, just as Jehoiada the priest taught him.

2 Kings 12:3 But the high places were not eliminated; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense on the high places.

2 Kings 12:4 Jehoash said to the priests, "I place at your disposal all the consecrated silver that has been brought to the LORD's temple, including the silver collected from the census tax, the silver received from those who have made vows, and all the silver that people have voluntarily contributed to the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 12:5 The priests should receive the silver they need from the treasurers and repair any damage to the temple they discover."

2 Kings 12:6 By the twenty-third year of King Jehoash's reign the priests had still not repaired the damage to the temple.

2 Kings 12:7 So King Jehoash summoned Jehoiada the priest along with the other priests, and said to them, "Why have you not repaired the damage to the temple? Now, take no more silver from your treasurers unless you intend to use it to repair the damage."

2 Kings 12:8 The priests agreed not to collect silver from the people and relieved themselves of personal responsibility for the temple repairs.

2 Kings 12:9 Jehoiada the priest took a chest and drilled a hole in its lid. He placed it on the right side of the altar near the entrance of the LORD's temple. The priests who guarded the entrance would put into it all the silver brought to the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 12:10 When they saw the chest was full of silver, the royal secretary and the high priest counted the silver that had been brought to the LORD's temple and bagged it up.

2 Kings 12:11 They would then hand over the silver that had been weighed to the construction foremen assigned to the LORD's temple. They hired carpenters and builders to work on the LORD's temple,

2 Kings 12:12 as well as masons and stonecutters. They bought wood and chiseled stone to repair the damage to the LORD's temple and also paid for all the other expenses.

2 Kings 12:13 The silver brought to the LORD's temple was not used for silver bowls, trimming shears, basins, trumpets, or any kind of gold or silver implements.

2 Kings 12:14 It was handed over to the foremen who used it to repair the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 12:15 They did not audit the treasurers who disbursed the funds to the foremen, for they were honest.

2 Kings 12:16 (The silver collected in conjunction with reparation offerings and sin offerings was not brought to the LORD's temple; it belonged to the priests.)

2 Kings 12:17 At that time King Hazael of Syria attacked Gath and captured it. Hazael then decided to attack Jerusalem.

2 Kings 12:18 King Jehoash of Judah collected all the sacred items that his ancestors Jehoshaphat, Jehoram, and Ahaziah, kings of Judah, had consecrated, as well as his own sacred items and all the gold that could be found in the treasuries of the LORD's temple and the royal palace. He sent it all to King Hazael of Syria, who then withdrew from Jerusalem.

2 Kings 12:19 The rest of the events of Joash's reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 12:20 His servants conspired against him and murdered Joash at Beth-Millo, on the road that goes down to Silla.

2 Kings 12:21 His servants Jozabad son of Shimeath and Jehozabad son of Shomer murdered him. He was buried with his ancestors in the city of David. His son Amaziah replaced him as king.

2 Kings 13:1 In the twenty-third year of the reign of Judah's King Joash son of Ahaziah, Jehu's son Jehoahaz became king over Israel. He reigned in Samaria for seventeen years.

2 Kings 13:2 He did evil in the sight of the LORD. He continued in the sinful ways of Jeroboam son of Nebat who had encouraged Israel to sin; he did not repudiate those sins.

2 Kings 13:3 The LORD was furious with Israel and handed them over to King Hazael of Syria and to Hazael's son Ben Hadad for many years.

2 Kings 13:4 Jehoahaz asked for the LORD's mercy and the LORD responded favorably, for he saw that Israel was oppressed by the king of Syria.

2 Kings 13:5 The LORD provided a deliverer for Israel and they were freed from Syria's power. The Israelites once more lived in security.

2 Kings 13:6 But they did not repudiate the sinful ways of the family of Jeroboam, who encouraged Israel to sin; they continued in those sins. There was even an Asherah pole standing in Samaria.

2 Kings 13:7 Jehoahaz had no army left except for fifty horsemen, ten chariots, and 10,000 foot soldiers. The king of Syria had destroyed his troops and trampled on them like dust.

2 Kings 13:8 The rest of the events of Jehoahaz’s reign, including all his accomplishments and successes, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 13:9 Jehoahaz passed away and was buried in Samaria. His son Joash replaced him as king.

2 Kings 13:10 In the thirty-seventh year of King Joash’s reign over Judah, Jehoahaz’s son Jehoash became king over Israel. He reigned in Samaria for sixteen years.

2 Kings 13:11 He did evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not repudiate the sinful ways of Jeroboam son of Nebat who encouraged Israel to sin; he continued in those sins.

2 Kings 13:12 The rest of the events of Joash’s reign, including all his accomplishments and his successful war with King Amaziah of Judah, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 13:13 Joash passed away and Jeroboam succeeded him on the throne. Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

2 Kings 13:14 Now Elisha had a terminal illness. King Joash of Israel went down to visit him. He wept before him and said, “My father, my father! The chariot and horsemen of Israel!”

2 Kings 13:15 Elisha told him, “Take a bow and some arrows,” and he did so.

2 Kings 13:16 Then Elisha told the king of Israel, “Aim the bow.” He did so, and Elisha placed his hands on the king’s hands.

2 Kings 13:17 Elisha said, “Open the east window,” and he did so. Elisha said, “Shoot!” and he did so. Elisha said, “This arrow symbolizes the victory the LORD will give you over Syria. You will annihilate Syria in Aphek!”

2 Kings 13:18 Then Elisha said, “Take the arrows,” and he did so. He told the king of Israel, “Strike the ground!” He struck the ground three times and stopped.

2 Kings 13:19 The prophet got angry at him and said, “If you had struck the ground five or six times, you would have annihilated Syria! But now, you will defeat Syria only three times.”

2 Kings 13:20 Elisha died and was buried. Moabite raiding parties invaded the land at the beginning of the year.

2 Kings 13:21 One day some men were burying a man when they spotted a raiding party. So they threw the dead man into Elisha’s tomb. When the body touched Elisha’s bones, the dead man came to life and stood on his feet.

2 Kings 13:22 Now King Hazael of Syria oppressed Israel throughout Jehoahaz’s reign.

2 Kings 13:23 But the LORD had mercy on them and felt pity for them. He extended his favor to them because of the promise he had made to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. He has been unwilling to destroy them or remove them from his presence to this very day.

2 Kings 13:24 When King Hazael of Syria died, his son Ben Hadad replaced him as king.

2 Kings 13:25 Jehoahaz's son Jehoash took back from Ben Hadad son of Hazael the cities that he had taken from his father Jehoahaz in war. Joash defeated him three times and recovered the Israelite cities.

2 Kings 14:1 In the second year of the reign of Israel's King Joash son of Joahaz, Joash's son Amaziah became king over Judah.

2 Kings 14:2 He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jehoaddan, who was from Jerusalem.

2 Kings 14:3 He did what the LORD approved, but not like David his father. He followed the example of his father Joash.

2 Kings 14:4 But the high places were not eliminated; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense on the high places.

2 Kings 14:5 When he had secured control of the kingdom, he executed the servants who had assassinated his father.

2 Kings 14:6 But he did not execute the sons of the assassins. He obeyed the LORD's commandment as recorded in the law scroll of Moses, "Fathers must not be put to death for what their sons do, and sons must not be put to death for what their fathers do. A man must be put to death only for his own sin."

2 Kings 14:7 He defeated 10,000 Edomites in the Salt Valley; he captured Sela in battle and renamed it Joktheel, a name it has retained to this very day.

2 Kings 14:8 Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash son of Jehoahaz son of Jehu, king of Israel. He said, "Come, let's meet face to face."

2 Kings 14:9 King Jehoash of Israel sent this message back to King Amaziah of Judah, "A thornbush in Lebanon sent this message to a cedar in Lebanon, 'Give your daughter to my son as a wife.' Then a wild animal of Lebanon came by and trampled down the thorn.

2 Kings 14:10 You thoroughly defeated Edom and it has gone to your head! Gloat over your success, but stay in your palace. Why bring calamity on yourself? Why bring down yourself and Judah along with you?"

2 Kings 14:11 But Amaziah would not heed the warning, so King Jehoash of Israel attacked. He and King Amaziah of Judah met face to face in Beth Shemesh of Judah.

2 Kings 14:12 Judah was defeated by Israel, and each man ran back home.

2 Kings 14:13 King Jehoash of Israel captured King Amaziah of Judah, son of Jehoash son of Ahaziah, in Beth Shemesh. He attacked Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate– a distance of about six hundred feet.

2 Kings 14:14 He took away all the gold and silver, all the items found in the LORD's temple and in the treasuries of the royal palace, and some hostages. Then he went back to Samaria. (

2 Kings 14:15 The rest of the events of Jehoash's reign, including all his accomplishments and his successful war with King Amaziah of Judah, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 14:16 Jehoash passed away and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel. His son Jeroboam replaced him as king.)

2 Kings 14:17 King Amaziah son of Joash of Judah lived for fifteen years after the death of King Jehoash son of Jehoahaz of Israel.

2 Kings 14:18 The rest of the events of Amaziah's reign are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 14:19 Conspirators plotted against him in Jerusalem, so he fled to Lachish. But they sent assassins after him and they killed him there.

2 Kings 14:20 His body was carried back by horses and he was buried in Jerusalem with his ancestors in the city of David.

2 Kings 14:21 All the people of Judah took Azariah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in his father Amaziah's place.

2 Kings 14:22 Azariah built up Elat and restored it to Judah after the king had passed away.

2 Kings 14:23 In the fifteenth year of the reign of Judah's King Amaziah, son of Joash, Jeroboam son of Joash became king over Israel. He reigned for forty-one years in Samaria.

2 Kings 14:24 He did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not repudiate the sinful ways of Jeroboam son of Nebat who encouraged Israel to sin.

2 Kings 14:25 He restored the border of Israel from Lebo Hamath in the north to the sea of the Arabah in the south, in accordance with the word of the LORD God of Israel announced through his servant Jonah son of Amittai, the prophet from Gath Hepher.

2 Kings 14:26 The LORD saw Israel's intense suffering; everyone was weak and incapacitated and Israel had no deliverer.

2 Kings 14:27 The LORD had not decreed that he would blot out Israel's memory from under heaven, so he delivered them through Jeroboam son of Joash.

2 Kings 14:28 The rest of the events of Jeroboam’s reign, including all his accomplishments, his military success in restoring Israelite control over Damascus and Hamath, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 14:29 Jeroboam passed away and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel. His son Zechariah replaced him as king.

2 Kings 15:1 In the twenty-seventh year of King Jeroboam’s reign over Israel, Amaziah’s son Azariah became king over Judah.

2 Kings 15:2 He was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Jecholiah, who was from Jerusalem.

2 Kings 15:3 He did what the LORD approved, just as his father Amaziah had done.

2 Kings 15:4 But the high places were not eliminated; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense on the high places.

2 Kings 15:5 The LORD afflicted the king with an illness; he suffered from a skin disease until the day he died. He lived in separate quarters, while his son Jotham was in charge of the palace and ruled over the people of the land.

2 Kings 15:6 The rest of the events of Azariah’s reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 15:7 Azariah passed away and was buried with his ancestors in the city of David. His son Jotham replaced him as king.

2 Kings 15:8 In the thirty-eighth year of King Azariah’s reign over Judah, Jeroboam’s son Zechariah became king over Israel. He reigned in Samaria for six months.

2 Kings 15:9 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, as his ancestors had done. He did not repudiate the sinful ways of Jeroboam son of Nebat who encouraged Israel to sin.

2 Kings 15:10 Shallum son of Jabesh conspired against him; he assassinated him in Ibleam and took his place as king.

2 Kings 15:11 The rest of the events of Zechariah’s reign are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:12 His assassination brought to fulfillment the LORD’s word to Jehu, “Four generations of your descendants will rule over Israel.” That is exactly what happened.

2 Kings 15:13 Shallum son of Jabesh became king in the thirty-ninth year of King Uzziah’s reign over Judah. He reigned for one month in Samaria.

2 Kings 15:14 Menahem son of Gadi went up from Tirzah to Samaria and attacked Shallum son of Jabesh. He killed him and took his place as king.

2 Kings 15:15 The rest of the events of Shallum's reign, including the conspiracy he organized, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:16 At that time Menahem came from Tirzah and attacked Tiphsah. He struck down all who lived in the city and the surrounding territory, because they would not surrender. He even ripped open the pregnant women.

2 Kings 15:17 In the thirty-ninth year of King Azariah's reign over Judah, Menahem son of Gadi became king over Israel. He reigned for twelve years in Samaria.

2 Kings 15:18 He did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not repudiate the sinful ways of Jeroboam son of Nebat who encouraged Israel to sin. During his reign,

2 Kings 15:19 Pul king of Assyria invaded the land, and Menahem paid him a thousand talents of silver to gain his support and to solidify his control of the kingdom.

2 Kings 15:20 Menahem got this silver by taxing all the wealthy men in Israel; he took fifty shekels of silver from each one of them and paid it to the king of Assyria. Then the king of Assyria left; he did not stay there in the land.

2 Kings 15:21 The rest of the events of Menahem's reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:22 Menahem passed away and his son Pekahiah replaced him as king.

2 Kings 15:23 In the fiftieth year of King Azariah's reign over Judah, Menahem's son Pekahiah became king over Israel. He reigned in Samaria for two years.

2 Kings 15:24 He did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not repudiate the sinful ways of Jeroboam son of Nebat who encouraged Israel to sin.

2 Kings 15:25 His officer Pekah son of Remaliah conspired against him. He and fifty Gileadites assassinated Pekahiah, as well as Argob and Arieh, in Samaria in the fortress of the royal palace. Pekah then took his place as king.

2 Kings 15:26 The rest of the events of Pekahiah's reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:27 In the fifty-second year of King Azariah's reign over Judah, Pekah son of Remaliah became king over Israel. He reigned in Samaria for twenty years.

2 Kings 15:28 He did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not repudiate the sinful ways of Jeroboam son of Nebat who encouraged Israel to sin.

2 Kings 15:29 During Pekah's reign over Israel, King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria came and captured Ijon, Abel Beth Maacah, Janoah, Kedesh, Hazor, Gilead, and Galilee, including all the territory of Naphtali. He deported the people to Assyria.

2 Kings 15:30 Hoshea son of Elah conspired against Pekah son of Remaliah. He assassinated him and took his place as king, in the twentieth year of the reign of Jotham son of Uzziah.

2 Kings 15:31 The rest of the events of Pekah's reign, including all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:32 In the second year of the reign of Israel's King Pekah son of Remaliah, Uzziah's son Jotham became king over Judah.

2 Kings 15:33 He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jerusha the daughter of Zadok.

2 Kings 15:34 He did what the LORD approved, just as his father Uzziah had done.

2 Kings 15:35 But the high places were not eliminated; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense on the high places. He built the Upper Gate to the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 15:36 The rest of the events of Jotham's reign, including his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 15:37 In those days the LORD prompted King Rezin of Syria and Pekah son of Remaliah to attack Judah.

2 Kings 15:38 Jotham passed away and was buried with his ancestors in the city of his ancestor David. His son Ahaz replaced him as king.

2 Kings 16:1 In the seventeenth year of the reign of Pekah son of Remaliah, Jotham's son Ahaz became king over Judah.

2 Kings 16:2 Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for sixteen years in Jerusalem. He did not do what pleased the LORD his God, in contrast to his ancestor David.

2 Kings 16:3 He followed in the footsteps of the kings of Israel. He passed his son through the fire, a horrible sin practiced by the nations whom the LORD drove out from before the Israelites.

2 Kings 16:4 He offered sacrifices and burned incense on the high places, on the hills, and under every green tree.

2 Kings 16:5 At that time King Rezin of Syria and King Pekah son of Remaliah of Israel attacked Jerusalem. They besieged Ahaz, but were unable to conquer him.

2 Kings 16:6 (At that time King Rezin of Syria recovered Elat for Syria; he drove the Judahites from there. Syrians arrived in Elat and live there to this very day.)

2 Kings 16:7 Ahaz sent messengers to King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria, saying, “I am your servant and your dependent. March up and rescue me from the power of the king of Syria and the king of Israel, who have attacked me.”

2 Kings 16:8 Then Ahaz took the silver and gold that were in the LORD’s temple and in the treasuries of the royal palace and sent it as tribute to the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 16:9 The king of Assyria responded favorably to his request; he attacked Damascus and captured it. He deported the people to Kir and executed Rezin.

2 Kings 16:10 When King Ahaz went to meet with King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria in Damascus, he saw the altar there. King Ahaz sent to Uriah the priest a drawing of the altar and a blueprint for its design.

2 Kings 16:11 Uriah the priest built an altar in conformity to the plans King Ahaz had sent from Damascus. Uriah the priest finished it before King Ahaz arrived back from Damascus.

2 Kings 16:12 When the king arrived back from Damascus and saw the altar, he approached it and offered a sacrifice on it.

2 Kings 16:13 He offered his burnt sacrifice and his grain offering. He poured out his libation and sprinkled the blood from his peace offerings on the altar.

2 Kings 16:14 He moved the bronze altar that stood in the LORD’s presence from the front of the temple (between the altar and the LORD’s temple) and put it on the north side of the new altar.

2 Kings 16:15 King Ahaz ordered Uriah the priest, “On the large altar offer the morning burnt sacrifice, the evening grain offering, the royal burnt sacrifices and grain offering, the burnt sacrifice for all the people of Israel, their grain offering, and their libations. Sprinkle all the blood of the burnt sacrifice and other sacrifices on it. The bronze altar will be for my personal use.”

2 Kings 16:16 So Uriah the priest did exactly as King Ahaz ordered.

2 Kings 16:17 King Ahaz took off the frames of the movable stands, and removed the basins from them. He took “The Sea” down from the bronze bulls that supported it and put it on the pavement.

2 Kings 16:18 He also removed the Sabbath awning that had been built in the temple and the king's outer entranceway, on account of the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 16:19 The rest of the events of Ahaz's reign, including his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 16:20 Ahaz passed away and was buried with his ancestors in the city of David. His son Hezekiah replaced him as king.

2 Kings 17:1 In the twelfth year of King Ahaz's reign over Judah, Hoshea son of Elah became king over Israel. He reigned in Samaria for nine years.

2 Kings 17:2 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, but not to the same degree as the Israelite kings who preceded him.

2 Kings 17:3 King Shalmaneser of Assyria threatened him; Hoshea became his subject and paid him tribute.

2 Kings 17:4 The king of Assyria discovered that Hoshea was planning a revolt. Hoshea had sent messengers to King So of Egypt and had not sent his annual tribute to the king of Assyria. So the king of Assyria arrested him and imprisoned him.

2 Kings 17:5 The king of Assyria marched through the whole land. He attacked Samaria and besieged it for three years.

2 Kings 17:6 In the ninth year of Hoshea's reign, the king of Assyria captured Samaria and deported the people of Israel to Assyria. He settled them in Halah, along the Habor (the river of Gozan), and in the cities of the Medes.

2 Kings 17:7 This happened because the Israelites sinned against the LORD their God, who brought them up from the land of Egypt and freed them from the power of Pharaoh king of Egypt. They worshiped other gods;

2 Kings 17:8 they observed the practices of the nations whom the LORD had driven out from before Israel, and followed the example of the kings of Israel.

2 Kings 17:9 The Israelites said things about the LORD their God that were not right. They built high places in all their cities, from the watchtower to the fortress.

2 Kings 17:10 They set up sacred pillars and Asherah poles on every high hill and under every green tree.

2 Kings 17:11 They burned incense on all the high places just like the nations whom the LORD had driven away from before them. Their evil practices made the LORD angry.

2 Kings 17:12 They worshiped the disgusting idols in blatant disregard of the LORD's command.

2 Kings 17:13 The LORD solemnly warned Israel and Judah through all his prophets and all the seers, “Turn back from your evil ways; obey my commandments and rules that are recorded in the law. I ordered your ancestors to keep this law and sent my servants the prophets to remind you of its demands.”

2 Kings 17:14 But they did not pay attention and were as stubborn as their ancestors, who had not trusted the LORD their God.

2 Kings 17:15 They rejected his rules, the covenant he had made with their ancestors, and the laws he had commanded them to obey. They paid allegiance to worthless idols, and so became worthless to the LORD. They copied the practices of the surrounding nations in blatant disregard of the LORD’s command.

2 Kings 17:16 They abandoned all the commandments of the LORD their God; they made two metal calves and an Asherah pole, bowed down to all the stars in the sky, and worshiped Baal.

2 Kings 17:17 They passed their sons and daughters through the fire, and practiced divination and omen reading. They committed themselves to doing evil in the sight of the LORD and made him angry.

2 Kings 17:18 So the LORD was furious with Israel and rejected them; only the tribe of Judah was left.

2 Kings 17:19 Judah also failed to keep the commandments of the LORD their God; they followed Israel’s example.

2 Kings 17:20 So the LORD rejected all of Israel’s descendants; he humiliated them and handed them over to robbers, until he had thrown them from his presence.

2 Kings 17:21 He tore Israel away from David’s dynasty, and Jeroboam son of Nebat became their king. Jeroboam drove Israel away from the LORD and encouraged them to commit a serious sin.

2 Kings 17:22 The Israelites followed in the sinful ways of Jeroboam son of Nebat and did not repudiate them.

2 Kings 17:23 Finally the LORD rejected Israel just as he had warned he would do through all his servants the prophets. Israel was deported from its land to Assyria and remains there to this very day.

2 Kings 17:24 The king of Assyria brought foreigners from Babylon, Cuthah, Avva, Hamath, and Sepharvaim and settled them in the cities of Samaria in place of the Israelites. They took possession of Samaria and lived in its cities.

2 Kings 17:25 When they first moved in, they did not worship the LORD. So the LORD sent lions among them and the lions were killing them.

2 Kings 17:26 The king of Assyria was told, “The nations whom you deported and settled in the cities of Samaria do not know the requirements of the God of the land, so he has sent lions among them.

They are killing the people because they do not know the requirements of the God of the land.”

2 Kings 17:27 So the king of Assyria ordered, “Take back one of the priests whom you deported from there. He must settle there and teach them the requirements of the God of the land.”

2 Kings 17:28 So one of the priests whom they had deported from Samaria went back and settled in Bethel. He taught them how to worship the LORD.

2 Kings 17:29 But each of these nations made its own gods and put them in the shrines on the high places that the people of Samaria had made. Each nation did this in the cities where they lived.

2 Kings 17:30 The people from Babylon made Succoth Benoth, the people from Cuth made Nergal, the people from Hamath made Ashima,

2 Kings 17:31 the Avvites made Nibhaz and Tartak, and the Sepharvites burned their sons in the fire as an offering to Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim.

2 Kings 17:32 At the same time they worshiped the LORD. They appointed some of their own people to serve as priests in the shrines on the high places.

2 Kings 17:33 They were worshiping the LORD and at the same time serving their own gods in accordance with the practices of the nations from which they had been deported.

2 Kings 17:34 To this very day they observe their earlier practices. They do not worship the LORD; they do not obey the rules, regulations, law, and commandments that the LORD gave the descendants of Jacob, whom he renamed Israel.

2 Kings 17:35 The LORD made an agreement with them and instructed them, “You must not worship other gods. Do not bow down to them, serve them, or offer sacrifices to them.

2 Kings 17:36 Instead you must worship the LORD, who brought you up from the land of Egypt by his great power and military ability; bow down to him and offer sacrifices to him.

2 Kings 17:37 You must carefully obey at all times the rules, regulations, law, and commandments he wrote down for you. You must not worship other gods.

2 Kings 17:38 You must never forget the agreement I made with you, and you must not worship other gods.

2 Kings 17:39 Instead you must worship the LORD your God; then he will rescue you from the power of all your enemies.”

2 Kings 17:40 But they pay no attention; instead they observe their earlier practices.

2 Kings 17:41 These nations are worshiping the LORD and at the same time serving their idols; their sons and grandsons do just as their fathers have done, to this very day.

2 Kings 18:1 In the third year of the reign of Israel's King Hoshea son of Elah, Ahaz's son Hezekiah became king over Judah.

2 Kings 18:2 He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother was Abi, the daughter of Zechariah.

2 Kings 18:3 He did what the LORD approved, just as his ancestor David had done.

2 Kings 18:4 He eliminated the high places, smashed the sacred pillars to bits, and cut down the Asherah pole. He also demolished the bronze serpent that Moses had made, for up to that time the Israelites had been offering incense to it; it was called Nehushtan.

2 Kings 18:5 He trusted in the LORD God of Israel; in this regard there was none like him among the kings of Judah either before or after.

2 Kings 18:6 He was loyal to the LORD and did not abandon him. He obeyed the commandments which the LORD had given to Moses.

2 Kings 18:7 The LORD was with him; he succeeded in all his endeavors. He rebelled against the king of Assyria and refused to submit to him.

2 Kings 18:8 He defeated the Philistines as far as Gaza and its territory, from the watchtower to the city fortress.

2 Kings 18:9 In the fourth year of King Hezekiah's reign (it was the seventh year of the reign of Israel's King Hoshea, son of Elah), King Shalmaneser of Assyria marched up against Samaria and besieged it.

2 Kings 18:10 After three years he captured it (in the sixth year of Hezekiah's reign); in the ninth year of King Hoshea's reign over Israel Samaria was captured.

2 Kings 18:11 The king of Assyria deported the people of Israel to Assyria. He settled them in Halah, along the Habor (the river of Gozan), and in the cities of the Medes.

2 Kings 18:12 This happened because they did not obey the LORD their God and broke his agreement with them. They did not pay attention to and obey all that Moses, the LORD's servant, had commanded.

2 Kings 18:13 In the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah's reign, King Sennacherib of Assyria marched up against all the fortified cities of Judah and captured them.

2 Kings 18:14 King Hezekiah of Judah sent this message to the king of Assyria, who was at Lachish, "I have violated our treaty. If you leave, I will do whatever you demand." So the king of Assyria demanded that King Hezekiah of Judah pay three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold.

2 Kings 18:15 Hezekiah gave him all the silver in the LORD’s temple and in the treasuries of the royal palace.

2 Kings 18:16 At that time King Hezekiah of Judah stripped the metal overlays from the doors of the LORD’s temple and from the posts which he had plated and gave them to the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 18:17 The king of Assyria sent his commanding general, the chief eunuch, and the chief adviser from Lachish to King Hezekiah in Jerusalem, along with a large army. They went up and arrived at Jerusalem. They went and stood at the conduit of the upper pool which is located on the road to the field where they wash and dry cloth.

2 Kings 18:18 They summoned the king, so Eliakim son of Hilkiah, the palace supervisor, accompanied by Shebna the scribe and Joah son of Asaph, the secretary, went out to meet them.

2 Kings 18:19 The chief adviser said to them, “Tell Hezekiah: ‘This is what the great king, the king of Assyria, says: “What is your source of confidence?

2 Kings 18:20 Your claim to have a strategy and military strength is just empty talk. In whom are you trusting that you would dare to rebel against me?

2 Kings 18:21 Now look, you must be trusting in Egypt, that splintered reed staff. If a man leans for support on it, it punctures his hand and wounds him. That is what Pharaoh king of Egypt does to all who trust in him.

2 Kings 18:22 Perhaps you will tell me, ‘We are trusting in the LORD our God.’ But Hezekiah is the one who eliminated his high places and altars and then told the people of Judah and Jerusalem, ‘You must worship at this altar in Jerusalem.’

2 Kings 18:23 Now make a deal with my master the king of Assyria, and I will give you two thousand horses, provided you can find enough riders for them.

2 Kings 18:24 Certainly you will not refuse one of my master’s minor officials and trust in Egypt for chariots and horsemen.

2 Kings 18:25 Furthermore it was by the command of the LORD that I marched up against this place to destroy it. The LORD told me, ‘March up against this land and destroy it.’“‘“

2 Kings 18:26 Eliakim son of Hilkiah, Shebna, and Joah said to the chief adviser, “Speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it. Don’t speak with us in the Judahite dialect in the hearing of the people who are on the wall.”

2 Kings 18:27 But the chief adviser said to them, “My master did not send me to speak these words only to your master and to you. His message is also for the men who sit on the wall, for they will eat their own excrement and drink their own urine along with you.”

2 Kings 18:28 The chief adviser then stood there and called out loudly in the Judahite dialect, “Listen to the message of the great king, the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 18:29 This is what the king says: ‘Don’t let Hezekiah mislead you, for he is not able to rescue you from my hand!

2 Kings 18:30 Don’t let Hezekiah talk you into trusting in the LORD when he says, “The LORD will certainly rescue us; this city will not be handed over to the king of Assyria.”

2 Kings 18:31 Don’t listen to Hezekiah!’ For this is what the king of Assyria says, ‘Send me a token of your submission and surrender to me. Then each of you may eat from his own vine and fig tree and drink water from his own cistern,

2 Kings 18:32 until I come and take you to a land just like your own– a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive trees and honey. Then you will live and not die. Don’t listen to Hezekiah, for he is misleading you when he says, “The LORD will rescue us.”

2 Kings 18:33 Have any of the gods of the nations actually rescued his land from the power of the king of Assyria?

2 Kings 18:34 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah? Indeed, did any gods rescue Samaria from my power?

2 Kings 18:35 Who among all the gods of the lands has rescued their lands from my power? So how can the LORD rescue Jerusalem from my power?”‘

2 Kings 18:36 The people were silent and did not respond, for the king had ordered, “Don’t respond to him.”

2 Kings 18:37 Eliakim son of Hilkiah, the palace supervisor, accompanied by Shebna the scribe and Joah son of Asaph, the secretary, went to Hezekiah with their clothes torn and reported to him what the chief adviser had said.

2 Kings 19:1 When King Hezekiah heard this, he tore his clothes, put on sackcloth, and went to the LORD’s temple.

2 Kings 19:2 He sent Eliakim the palace supervisor, Shebna the scribe, and the leading priests, clothed in sackcloth, with this message to the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz:

2 Kings 19:3 “This is what Hezekiah says: ‘This is a day of distress, insults, and humiliation, as when a baby is ready to leave the birth canal, but the mother lacks the strength to push it through.

2 Kings 19:4 Perhaps the LORD your God will hear all these things the chief adviser has spoken on behalf of his master, the king of Assyria, who sent him to taunt the living God. When the LORD your God hears, perhaps he will punish him for the things he has said. So pray for this remnant that remains.'"

2 Kings 19:5 When King Hezekiah's servants came to Isaiah,

2 Kings 19:6 Isaiah said to them, "Tell your master this: 'This is what the LORD says: "Don't be afraid because of the things you have heard– these insults the king of Assyria's servants have hurled against me.

2 Kings 19:7 Look, I will take control of his mind; he will receive a report and return to his own land. I will cut him down with a sword in his own land."'"

2 Kings 19:8 When the chief adviser heard the king of Assyria had departed from Lachish, he left and went to Libnah, where the king was campaigning.

2 Kings 19:9 The king heard that King Tirhakah of Ethiopia was marching out to fight him. He again sent messengers to Hezekiah, ordering them:

2 Kings 19:10 "Tell King Hezekiah of Judah this: 'Don't let your God in whom you trust mislead you when he says, "Jerusalem will not be handed over to the king of Assyria."

2 Kings 19:11 Certainly you have heard how the kings of Assyria have annihilated all lands. Do you really think you will be rescued?

2 Kings 19:12 Were the nations whom my ancestors destroyed– the nations of Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden in Telassar– rescued by their gods?

2 Kings 19:13 Where are the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, and the king of Lair, Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah?'"

2 Kings 19:14 Hezekiah took the letter from the messengers and read it. Then Hezekiah went up to the LORD's temple and spread it out before the LORD.

2 Kings 19:15 Hezekiah prayed before the LORD: "LORD God of Israel, who is enthroned on the cherubs! You alone are God over all the kingdoms of the earth. You made the sky and the earth.

2 Kings 19:16 Pay attention, LORD, and hear! Open your eyes, LORD, and observe! Listen to the message Sennacherib sent and how he taunts the living God!

2 Kings 19:17 It is true, LORD, that the kings of Assyria have destroyed the nations and their lands.

2 Kings 19:18 They have burned the gods of the nations, for they are not really gods, but only the product of human hands manufactured from wood and stone. That is why the Assyrians could destroy them.

2 Kings 19:19 Now, O LORD our God, rescue us from his power, so that all the kingdoms of the earth will know that you, LORD, are the only God.”

2 Kings 19:20 Isaiah son of Amoz sent this message to Hezekiah: “This is what the LORD God of Israel says: ‘I have heard your prayer concerning King Sennacherib of Assyria.

2 Kings 19:21 This is what the LORD says about him: “The virgin daughter Zion despises you, she makes fun of you; Daughter Jerusalem shakes her head after you.

2 Kings 19:22 Whom have you taunted and hurled insults at? At whom have you shouted, and looked so arrogantly? At the Holy One of Israel!

2 Kings 19:23 Through your messengers you taunted the sovereign master, ‘With my many chariots I climbed up the high mountains, the slopes of Lebanon. I cut down its tall cedars, and its best evergreens. I invaded its most remote regions, its thickest woods.

2 Kings 19:24 I dug wells and drank water in foreign lands. With the soles of my feet I dried up all the rivers of Egypt.’

2 Kings 19:25 Certainly you must have heard! Long ago I worked it out, In ancient times I planned it; and now I am bringing it to pass. The plan is this: Fortified cities will crash into heaps of ruins.

2 Kings 19:26 Their residents are powerless, they are terrified and ashamed. They are as short-lived as plants in the field, or green vegetation. They are as short-lived as grass on the rooftops when it is scorched by the east wind.

2 Kings 19:27 I know where you live, and everything you do.

2 Kings 19:28 Because you rage against me, and the uproar you create has reached my ears; I will put my hook in your nose, and my bridle between your lips, and I will lead you back the way you came.”

2 Kings 19:29 This will be your confirmation that I have spoken the truth: This year you will eat what grows wild, and next year what grows on its own from that. But in the third year you will plant seed and harvest crops; you will plant vines and consume their produce.

2 Kings 19:30 Those who remain in Judah will take root in the ground and bear fruit.

2 Kings 19:31 For a remnant will leave Jerusalem; survivors will come out of Mount Zion. The intense devotion of the sovereign LORD to his people will accomplish this.

2 Kings 19:32 So this is what the LORD says about the king of Assyria: “He will not enter this city, nor will he shoot an arrow here. He will not attack it with his shield-carrying warriors, nor will he build siege works against it.

2 Kings 19:33 He will go back the way he came. He will not enter this city,” says the LORD.

2 Kings 19:34 I will shield this city and rescue it for the sake of my reputation and because of my promise to David my servant.’“

2 Kings 19:35 That very night the LORD’s messenger went out and killed 185,000 men in the Assyrian camp. When they got up early the next morning, there were all the corpses.

2 Kings 19:36 So King Sennacherib of Assyria broke camp and went on his way. He went home and stayed in Nineveh.

2 Kings 19:37 One day, as he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer struck him down with the sword. They escaped to the land of Ararat; his son Esarhaddon replaced him as king.

2 Kings 20:1 In those days Hezekiah was stricken with a terminal illness. The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz visited him and told him, “This is what the LORD says, ‘Give your household instructions, for you are about to die; you will not get well.’“

2 Kings 20:2 He turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD,

2 Kings 20:3 “Please, LORD. Remember how I have served you faithfully and with wholehearted devotion, and how I have carried out your will.” Then Hezekiah wept bitterly.

2 Kings 20:4 Isaiah was still in the middle courtyard when the LORD told him,

2 Kings 20:5 “Go back and tell Hezekiah, the leader of my people: ‘This is what the LORD God of your ancestor David says: “I have heard your prayer; I have seen your tears. Look, I will heal you. The day after tomorrow you will go up to the LORD’s temple.

2 Kings 20:6 I will add fifteen years to your life and rescue you and this city from the king of Assyria. I will shield this city for the sake of my reputation and because of my promise to David my servant.”’“

2 Kings 20:7 Isaiah ordered, “Get a fig cake.” So they did as he ordered and placed it on the ulcerated sore, and he recovered.

2 Kings 20:8 Hezekiah had said to Isaiah, “What is the confirming sign that the LORD will heal me and that I will go up to the LORD’s temple the day after tomorrow?”

2 Kings 20:9 Isaiah replied, “This is your sign from the LORD confirming that the LORD will do what he has said. Do you want the shadow to move ahead ten steps or to go back ten steps?”

2 Kings 20:10 Hezekiah answered, “It is easy for the shadow to lengthen ten steps, but not for it to go back ten steps.”

2 Kings 20:11 Isaiah the prophet called out to the LORD, and the LORD made the shadow go back ten steps on the stairs of Ahaz.

2 Kings 20:12 At that time Merodach-Baladan son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah, for he had heard that Hezekiah was ill.

2 Kings 20:13 Hezekiah welcomed them and showed them his whole storehouse, with its silver, gold, spices, and high quality olive oil, as well as his armory and everything in his treasuries. Hezekiah showed them everything in his palace and in his whole kingdom.

2 Kings 20:14 Isaiah the prophet visited King Hezekiah and asked him, “What did these men say? Where do they come from?” Hezekiah replied, “They come from the distant land of Babylon.”

2 Kings 20:15 Isaiah asked, “What have they seen in your palace?” Hezekiah replied, “They have seen everything in my palace. I showed them everything in my treasuries.”

2 Kings 20:16 Isaiah said to Hezekiah, “Listen to the word of the LORD,

2 Kings 20:17 ‘Look, a time is coming when everything in your palace and the things your ancestors have accumulated to this day will be carried away to Babylon; nothing will be left,’ says the LORD.

2 Kings 20:18 ‘Some of your very own descendants whom you father will be taken away and will be made eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.’“

2 Kings 20:19 Hezekiah said to Isaiah, “The LORD’s word which you have announced is appropriate.” Then he added, “At least there will be peace and stability during my lifetime.”

2 Kings 20:20 The rest of the events of Hezekiah’s reign and all his accomplishments, including how he built a pool and conduit to bring water into the city, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 20:21 Hezekiah passed away and his son Manasseh replaced him as king.

2 Kings 21:1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he reigned for fifty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother was Hephzibah.

2 Kings 21:2 He did evil in the sight of the LORD and committed the same horrible sins practiced by the nations whom the LORD drove out from before the Israelites.

2 Kings 21:3 He rebuilt the high places that his father Hezekiah had destroyed; he set up altars for Baal and made an Asherah pole just like King Ahab of Israel had done. He bowed down to all the stars in the sky and worshiped them.

2 Kings 21:4 He built altars in the LORD’s temple, about which the LORD had said, “Jerusalem will be my home.”

2 Kings 21:5 In the two courtyards of the LORD’s temple he built altars for all the stars in the sky.

2 Kings 21:6 He passed his son through the fire and practiced divination and omen reading. He set up a ritual pit to conjure up underworld spirits, and appointed magicians to supervise it. He did a great amount of evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger.

2 Kings 21:7 He put an idol of Asherah he had made in the temple, about which the LORD had said to David and to his son Solomon, “This temple in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will be my permanent home.

2 Kings 21:8 I will not make Israel again leave the land I gave to their ancestors, provided that they carefully obey all I commanded them, the whole law my servant Moses ordered them to obey.”

2 Kings 21:9 But they did not obey, and Manasseh misled them so that they sinned more than the nations whom the LORD had destroyed from before the Israelites.

2 Kings 21:10 So the LORD announced through his servants the prophets:

2 Kings 21:11 “King Manasseh of Judah has committed horrible sins. He has sinned more than the Amorites before him and has encouraged Judah to sin by worshiping his disgusting idols.

2 Kings 21:12 So this is what the LORD God of Israel says, ‘I am about to bring disaster on Jerusalem and Judah. The news will reverberate in the ears of those who hear about it.

2 Kings 21:13 I will destroy Jerusalem the same way I did Samaria and the dynasty of Ahab. I will wipe Jerusalem clean, just as one wipes a plate on both sides.

2 Kings 21:14 I will abandon this last remaining tribe among my people and hand them over to their enemies; they will be plundered and robbed by all their enemies,

2 Kings 21:15 because they have done evil in my sight and have angered me from the time their ancestors left Egypt right up to this very day!’“

2 Kings 21:16 Furthermore Manasseh killed so many innocent people, he stained Jerusalem with their blood from end to end, in addition to encouraging Judah to sin by doing evil in the sight of the LORD.

2 Kings 21:17 The rest of the events of Manasseh’s reign and all his accomplishments, as well as the sinful acts he committed, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 21:18 Manasseh passed away and was buried in his palace garden, the garden of Uzzah, and his son Amon replaced him as king.

2 Kings 21:19 Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned for two years in Jerusalem. His mother was Meshullemeth, the daughter of Haruz, from Jotbah.

2 Kings 21:20 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, just like his father Manasseh had done.

2 Kings 21:21 He followed in the footsteps of his father and worshiped and bowed down to the disgusting idols which his father had worshiped.

2 Kings 21:22 He abandoned the LORD God of his ancestors and did not follow the LORD's instructions.

2 Kings 21:23 Amon's servants conspired against him and killed the king in his palace.

2 Kings 21:24 The people of the land executed all those who had conspired against King Amon, and they made his son Josiah king in his place.

2 Kings 21:25 The rest of Amon's accomplishments are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 21:26 He was buried in his tomb in the garden of Uzzah, and his son Josiah replaced him as king.

2 Kings 22:1 Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned for thirty-one years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jedidah, daughter of Adaiah, from Bozkath.

2 Kings 22:2 He did what the LORD approved and followed in his ancestor David's footsteps; he did not deviate to the right or the left.

2 Kings 22:3 In the eighteenth year of King Josiah's reign, the king sent the scribe Shaphan son of Azaliah, son of Meshullam, to the LORD's temple with these orders:

2 Kings 22:4 "Go up to Hilkiah the high priest and have him melt down the silver that has been brought by the people to the LORD's temple and has been collected by the guards at the door.

2 Kings 22:5 Have them hand it over to the construction foremen assigned to the LORD's temple. They in turn should pay the temple workers to repair it,

2 Kings 22:6 including craftsmen, builders, and masons, and should buy wood and chiseled stone for the repair work.

2 Kings 22:7 Do not audit the foremen who disburse the silver, for they are honest."

2 Kings 22:8 Hilkiah the high priest informed Shaphan the scribe, "I found the law scroll in the LORD's temple." Hilkiah gave the scroll to Shaphan and he read it.

2 Kings 22:9 Shaphan the scribe went to the king and reported, “Your servants melted down the silver in the temple and handed it over to the construction foremen assigned to the LORD’s temple.”

2 Kings 22:10 Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, “Hilkiah the priest has given me a scroll.” Shaphan read it out loud before the king.

2 Kings 22:11 When the king heard the words of the law scroll, he tore his clothes.

2 Kings 22:12 The king ordered Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam son of Shaphan, Acbor son of Micaiah, Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah the king’s servant,

2 Kings 22:13 “Go, seek an oracle from the LORD for me and the people– for all Judah. Find out about the words of this scroll that has been discovered. For the LORD’s fury has been ignited against us, because our ancestors have not obeyed the words of this scroll by doing all that it instructs us to do.”

2 Kings 22:14 So Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam, Acbor, Shaphan, and Asaiah went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shullam son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas, the supervisor of the wardrobe. (She lived in Jerusalem in the Mishneh district.) They stated their business,

2 Kings 22:15 and she said to them: “This is what the LORD God of Israel says: ‘Say this to the man who sent you to me:

2 Kings 22:16 “This is what the LORD says: ‘I am about to bring disaster on this place and its residents, the details of which are recorded in the scroll which the king of Judah has read.

2 Kings 22:17 This will happen because they have abandoned me and offered sacrifices to other gods, angering me with all the idols they have made. My anger will ignite against this place and will not be extinguished!’“

2 Kings 22:18 Say this to the king of Judah, who sent you to seek an oracle from the LORD: “This is what the LORD God of Israel says concerning the words you have heard:

2 Kings 22:19 ‘You displayed a sensitive spirit and humbled yourself before the LORD when you heard how I intended to make this place and its residents into an appalling example of an accursed people. You tore your clothes and wept before me, and I have heard you,’ says the LORD.

2 Kings 22:20 ‘Therefore I will allow you to die and be buried in peace. You will not have to witness all the disaster I will bring on this place.’“‘“ Then they reported back to the king.

2 Kings 23:1 The king summoned all the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Kings 23:2 The king went up to the LORD’s temple, accompanied by all the people of Judah, all the residents of Jerusalem, the priests, and the prophets. All the people were there, from the youngest to the oldest. He read aloud all the words of the scroll of the covenant that had been discovered in the LORD’s temple.

2 Kings 23:3 The king stood by the pillar and renewed the covenant before the LORD, agreeing to follow the LORD and to obey his commandments, laws, and rules with all his heart and being, by carrying out the terms of this covenant recorded on this scroll. All the people agreed to keep the covenant.

2 Kings 23:4 The king ordered Hilkiah the high priest, the high-ranking priests, and the guards to bring out of the LORD’s temple all the items that were used in the worship of Baal, Asherah, and all the stars of the sky. The king burned them outside of Jerusalem in the terraces of Kidron, and carried their ashes to Bethel.

2 Kings 23:5 He eliminated the pagan priests whom the kings of Judah had appointed to offer sacrifices on the high places in the cities of Judah and in the area right around Jerusalem. (They offered sacrifices to Baal, the sun god, the moon god, the constellations, and all the stars in the sky.)

2 Kings 23:6 He removed the Asherah pole from the LORD’s temple and took it outside Jerusalem to the Kidron Valley, where he burned it. He smashed it to dust and then threw the dust in the public graveyard.

2 Kings 23:7 He tore down the quarters of the male cultic prostitutes in the LORD’s temple, where women were weaving shrines for Asherah.

2 Kings 23:8 He brought all the priests from the cities of Judah and ruined the high places where the priests had offered sacrifices, from Geba to Beer Sheba. He tore down the high place of the goat idols situated at the entrance of the gate of Joshua, the city official, on the left side of the city gate.

2 Kings 23:9 (Now the priests of the high places did not go up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, but they did eat unleavened cakes among their fellow priests.)

2 Kings 23:10 The king ruined Topheth in the Valley of Ben Hinnom so that no one could pass his son or his daughter through the fire to Molech.

2 Kings 23:11 He removed from the entrance to the LORD’s temple the statues of horses that the kings of Judah had placed there in honor of the sun god. (They were kept near the room of Nathan Melech the eunuch, which was situated among the courtyards.) He burned up the chariots devoted to the sun god.

2 Kings 23:12 The king tore down the altars the kings of Judah had set up on the roof of Ahaz’s upper room, as well as the altars Manasseh had set up in the two courtyards of the LORD’s temple. He crushed them up and threw the dust in the Kidron Valley.

2 Kings 23:13 The king ruined the high places east of Jerusalem, south of the Mount of Destruction, that King Solomon of Israel had built for the detestable Sidonian goddess Astarte, the detestable Moabite god Chemosh, and the horrible Ammonite god Milcom.

2 Kings 23:14 He smashed the sacred pillars to bits, cut down the Asherah pole, and filled those shrines with human bones.

2 Kings 23:15 He also tore down the altar in Bethel at the high place made by Jeroboam son of Nebat, who encouraged Israel to sin. He burned all the combustible items at that high place and crushed them to dust; including the Asherah pole.

2 Kings 23:16 When Josiah turned around, he saw the tombs there on the hill. So he ordered the bones from the tombs to be brought; he burned them on the altar and defiled it. This fulfilled the LORD's announcement made by the prophet while Jeroboam stood by the altar during a festival. King Josiah turned and saw the grave of the prophet who had foretold this.

2 Kings 23:17 He asked, "What is this grave marker I see?" The men from the city replied, "It's the grave of the prophet who came from Judah and foretold these very things you have done to the altar of Bethel."

2 Kings 23:18 The king said, "Leave it alone! No one must touch his bones." So they left his bones undisturbed, as well as the bones of the Israelite prophet buried beside him.

2 Kings 23:19 Josiah also removed all the shrines on the high places in the cities of Samaria. The kings of Israel had made them and angered the LORD. He did to them what he had done to the high place in Bethel.

2 Kings 23:20 He sacrificed all the priests of the high places on the altars located there, and burned human bones on them. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

2 Kings 23:21 The king ordered all the people, "Observe the Passover of the LORD your God, as prescribed in this scroll of the covenant."

2 Kings 23:22 He issued this edict because a Passover like this had not been observed since the days of the judges; it was neglected for the entire period of the kings of Israel and Judah.

2 Kings 23:23 But in the eighteenth year of King Josiah's reign, such a Passover of the LORD was observed in Jerusalem.

2 Kings 23:24 Josiah also got rid of the ritual pits used to conjure up spirits, the magicians, personal idols, disgusting images, and all the detestable idols that had appeared in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem. In this way he carried out the terms of the law recorded on the scroll that Hilkiah the priest had discovered in the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 23:25 No king before or after repented before the LORD as he did, with his whole heart, soul, and being in accordance with the whole law of Moses.

2 Kings 23:26 Yet the LORD’s great anger against Judah did not subside; he was still infuriated by all the things Manasseh had done.

2 Kings 23:27 The LORD announced, “I will also spurn Judah, just as I spurned Israel. I will reject this city that I chose– both Jerusalem and the temple, about which I said, “I will live there.”

2 Kings 23:28 The rest of the events of Josiah’s reign and all his accomplishments are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 23:29 During Josiah’s reign Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt marched toward the Euphrates River to help the king of Assyria. King Josiah marched out to fight him, but Necho killed him at Megiddo when he saw him.

2 Kings 23:30 His servants transported his dead body from Megiddo in a chariot and brought it to Jerusalem, where they buried him in his tomb. The people of the land took Josiah’s son Jehoahaz, poured olive oil on his head, and made him king in his father’s place.

2 Kings 23:31 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. His mother was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah, from Libnah.

2 Kings 23:32 He did evil in the sight of the LORD as his ancestors had done.

2 Kings 23:33 Pharaoh Necho imprisoned him in Riblah in the land of Hamath and prevented him from ruling in Jerusalem. He imposed on the land a special tax of one hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

2 Kings 23:34 Pharaoh Necho made Josiah’s son Eliakim king in Josiah’s place, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. He took Jehoahaz to Egypt, where he died.

2 Kings 23:35 Jehoiakim paid Pharaoh the required amount of silver and gold, but to meet Pharaoh’s demands Jehoiakim had to tax the land. He collected an assessed amount from each man among the people of the land in order to pay Pharaoh Necho.

2 Kings 23:36 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned for eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother was Zebidah the daughter of Pedaiah, from Rumah.

2 Kings 23:37 He did evil in the sight of the LORD as his ancestors had done.

2 Kings 24:1 During Jehoiakim’s reign, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked. Jehoiakim was his subject for three years, but then he rebelled against him.

2 Kings 24:2 The LORD sent against him Babylonian, Syrian, Moabite, and Ammonite raiding bands; he sent them to destroy Judah, as he had warned he would do through his servants the prophets.

2 Kings 24:3 Just as the LORD had announced, he rejected Judah because of all the sins which Manasseh had committed.

2 Kings 24:4 Because he killed innocent people and stained Jerusalem with their blood, the LORD was unwilling to forgive them.

2 Kings 24:5 The rest of the events of Jehoiakim's reign and all his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll called the Annals of the Kings of Judah.

2 Kings 24:6 He passed away and his son Jehoiachin replaced him as king.

2 Kings 24:7 The king of Egypt did not march out from his land again, for the king of Babylon conquered all the territory that the king of Egypt had formerly controlled between the Brook of Egypt and the Euphrates River.

2 Kings 24:8 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. His mother was Nehushta the daughter of Elnathan, from Jerusalem.

2 Kings 24:9 He did evil in the sight of the LORD as his ancestors had done.

2 Kings 24:10 At that time the generals of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon marched to Jerusalem and besieged the city.

2 Kings 24:11 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon came to the city while his generals were besieging it.

2 Kings 24:12 King Jehoiachin of Judah, along with his mother, his servants, his officials, and his eunuchs surrendered to the king of Babylon. The king of Babylon, in the eighth year of his reign, took Jehoiachin prisoner.

2 Kings 24:13 Nebuchadnezzar took from there all the riches in the treasuries of the LORD's temple and of the royal palace. He removed all the gold items which King Solomon of Israel had made for the LORD's temple, just as the LORD had warned.

2 Kings 24:14 He deported all the residents of Jerusalem, including all the officials and all the soldiers

2 Kings 24:15 He deported Jehoiachin from Jerusalem to Babylon, along with the king's mother and wives, his eunuchs, and the high-ranking officials of the land.

2 Kings 24:16 The king of Babylon deported to Babylon all the soldiers (there were 7,000), as well as 1,000 craftsmen and metal workers. This included all the best warriors.

2 Kings 24:17 The king of Babylon made Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's uncle, king in Jehoiachin's place. He renamed him Zedekiah.

2 Kings 24:18 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he ruled for eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah, from Libnah.

2 Kings 24:19 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, as Jehoiakim had done.

2 Kings 24:20 What follows is a record of what happened to Jerusalem and Judah because of the LORD's anger; he finally threw them out of his presence. Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

2 Kings 25:1 So King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon came against Jerusalem with his whole army and set up camp outside it. They built siege ramps all around it. He arrived on the tenth day of the tenth month in the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign.

2 Kings 25:2 The city remained under siege until King Zedekiah's eleventh year.

2 Kings 25:3 By the ninth day of the fourth month the famine in the city was so severe the residents had no food.

2 Kings 25:4 The enemy broke through the city walls, and all the soldiers tried to escape. They left the city during the night. They went through the gate between the two walls that is near the king's garden. (The Babylonians were all around the city.) Then they headed for the Jordan Valley.

2 Kings 25:5 But the Babylonian army chased after the king. They caught up with him in the plains of Jericho, and his entire army deserted him.

2 Kings 25:6 They captured the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah, where he passed sentence on him.

2 Kings 25:7 Zedekiah's sons were executed while Zedekiah was forced to watch. The king of Babylon then had Zedekiah's eyes put out, bound him in bronze chains, and carried him off to Babylon.

2 Kings 25:8 On the seventh day of the fifth month, in the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard who served the king of Babylon, arrived in Jerusalem.

2 Kings 25:9 He burned down the LORD's temple, the royal palace, and all the houses in Jerusalem, including every large house.

2 Kings 25:10 The whole Babylonian army that came with the captain of the royal guard tore down the walls that surrounded Jerusalem.

2 Kings 25:11 Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, deported the rest of the people who were left in the city, those who had deserted to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the craftsmen.

2 Kings 25:12 But he left behind some of the poor of the land and gave them fields and vineyards.

2 Kings 25:13 The Babylonians broke the two bronze pillars in the LORD’s temple, as well as the movable stands and the big bronze basin called the “The Sea.” They took the bronze to Babylon.

2 Kings 25:14 They also took the pots, shovels, trimming shears, pans, and all the bronze utensils used by the priests.

2 Kings 25:15 The captain of the royal guard took the golden and silver censers and basins.

2 Kings 25:16 The bronze of the items that King Solomon made for the LORD’s temple– including the two pillars, the big bronze basin called “The Sea,” the twelve bronze bulls under “The Sea,” and the movable stands– was too heavy to be weighed.

2 Kings 25:17 Each of the pillars was about twenty-seven feet high. The bronze top of one pillar was about four and a half feet high and had bronze latticework and pomegranate shaped ornaments all around it. The second pillar with its latticework was like it.

2 Kings 25:18 The captain of the royal guard took Seraiah the chief priest and Zephaniah, the priest who was second in rank, and the three doorkeepers.

2 Kings 25:19 From the city he took a eunuch who was in charge of the soldiers, five of the king’s advisers who were discovered in the city, an official army secretary who drafted citizens for military service, and sixty citizens from the people of the land who were discovered in the city.

2 Kings 25:20 Nebuzaradan, captain of the royal guard, took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

2 Kings 25:21 The king of Babylon ordered them to be executed at Riblah in the territory of Hamath. So Judah was deported from its land.

2 Kings 25:22 Now King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, as governor over the people whom he allowed to remain in the land of Judah.

2 Kings 25:23 All of the officers of the Judahite army and their troops heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah to govern. So they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. The officers who came were Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan son of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah son of the Maacathite.

2 Kings 25:24 Gedaliah took an oath so as to give them and their troops some assurance of safety. He said, “You don’t need to be afraid to submit to the Babylonian officials. Settle down in the land and submit to the king of Babylon. Then things will go well for you.”

2 Kings 25:25 But in the seventh month Ishmael son of Nethaniah, son of Elishama, who was a member of the royal family, came with ten of his men and murdered Gedaliah, as well as the Judeans and Babylonians who were with him at Mizpah.

2 Kings 25:26 Then all the people, from the youngest to the oldest, as well as the army officers, left for Egypt, because they were afraid of what the Babylonians might do.

2 Kings 25:27 In the thirty-seventh year of the exile of King Jehoiachin of Judah, on the twenty-seventh day of the twelfth month, King Evil-Merodach of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, pardoned King Jehoiachin of Judah and released him from prison.

2 Kings 25:28 He spoke kindly to him and gave him a more prestigious position than the other kings who were with him in Babylon.

2 Kings 25:29 Jehoiachin took off his prison clothes and ate daily in the king's presence for the rest of his life.

2 Kings 25:30 He was given daily provisions by the king for the rest of his life until the day he died.

1 Chronicles 2:16 Their sisters were Zeruiah and Abigail. Zeruiah's three sons were Abshai, Joab, and Asahel.

1 Chronicles 2:17 Abigail bore Amasa, whose father was Jether the Ishmaelite.

1 Chronicles 2:18 Caleb son of Hezron fathered sons by his wife Azubah (also known as Jerioth). Her sons were Jesher, Shobab, and Ardon.

1 Chronicles 2:19 When Azubah died, Caleb married Ephrath, who bore him Hur.

1 Chronicles 2:20 Hur was the father of Uri, and Uri was the father of Bezalel.

1 Chronicles 2:21 Later Hezron had sexual relations with the daughter of Makir, the father of Gilead. (He had married her when he was sixty years old.) She bore him Segub.

1 Chronicles 2:22 Segub was the father of Jair, who owned twenty-three cities in the land of Gilead.

1 Chronicles 2:23 (Geshur and Aram captured the towns of Jair, along with Kenath and its sixty surrounding towns.) All these were descendants of Makir, the father of Gilead.

1 Chronicles 2:24 After Hezron's death, Caleb had sexual relations with Ephrath, his father Hezron's widow, and she bore to him Ashhur the father of Tekoa.

1 Chronicles 2:25 The sons of Jerahmeel, Hezron's firstborn, were Ram, the firstborn, Bunah, Oren, Ozem, and Ahijah.

1 Chronicles 2:26 Jerahmeel had another wife named Atarah; she was Onam's mother.

1 Chronicles 2:27 The sons of Ram, Jerahmeel’s firstborn, were Maaz, Jamin, and Eker.

1 Chronicles 2:28 The sons of Onam were Shammai and Jada. The sons of Shammai: Nadab and Abishur.

1 Chronicles 2:29 Abishur’s wife was Abihail, who bore him Ahban and Molid.

1 Chronicles 2:30 The sons of Nadab: Seled and Appaim. (Seled died without having sons.)

1 Chronicles 2:31 The son of Appaim: Ishi. The son of Ishi: Sheshan. The son of Sheshan: Ahlai.

1 Chronicles 2:32 The sons of Jada, Shammai’s brother: Jether and Jonathan. (Jether died without having sons.)

1 Chronicles 2:33 The sons of Jonathan: Peleth and Zaza. These were the descendants of Jerahmeel.

1 Chronicles 2:34 Sheshan had no sons, only daughters. Sheshan had an Egyptian servant named Jarha.

1 Chronicles 2:35 Sheshan gave his daughter to his servant Jarha as a wife; she bore him Attai.

1 Chronicles 2:36 Attai was the father of Nathan, and Nathan was the father of Zabad.

1 Chronicles 2:37 Zabad was the father of Ephlal, and Ephlal was the father of Obed.

1 Chronicles 4:22 Jokim, the men of Cozeba, and Joash and Saraph, both of whom ruled in Moab and Jashubi Lehem. (This information is from ancient records.)

1 Chronicles 4:23 They were the potters who lived in Netaim and Gederah; they lived there and worked for the king.

1 Chronicles 4:24 The descendants of Simeon: Nemuel, Jamin, Jarib, Zerah, Shaul,

1 Chronicles 4:25 his son Shallum, his son Mibsam, and his son Mishma.

1 Chronicles 4:26 The descendants of Mishma: His son Hammuel, his son Zaccur, and his son Shimei.

1 Chronicles 4:27 Shimei had sixteen sons and six daughters. But his brothers did not have many sons, so their whole clan was not as numerous as the sons of Judah.

1 Chronicles 4:28 They lived in Beer Sheba, Moladah, Hazar Shual,

1 Chronicles 4:29 Bilhah, Ezem, Tolad,

1 Chronicles 4:30 Bethuel, Hormah, Ziklag,

1 Chronicles 4:31 Beth Marcaboth, Hazar Susim, Beth Biri, and Shaaraim. These were their towns until the reign of David.

1 Chronicles 4:32 Their settlements also included Etam, Ain, Rimmon, Tochen, and Ashan– five towns.

1 Chronicles 4:33 They also lived in all the settlements that surrounded these towns as far as Baal. These were their settlements; they kept genealogical records.

1 Chronicles 4:34 Their clan leaders were: Meshobab, Jamlech, Joshah son of Amaziah,

1 Chronicles 4:35 Joel, Jehu son of Joshibiah (son of Seraiah, son of Asiel),

1 Chronicles 4:36 Eleoenai, Jaakobah, Jeshohaiah, Asaiah, Adiel, Jesimiel, Benaiah,

1 Chronicles 4:37 Ziza son of Shipi (son of Allon, son of Jedaiah, son of Shimri, son of Shemaiah).

1 Chronicles 4:38 These who are named above were the leaders of their clans. Their extended families increased greatly in numbers.

1 Chronicles 4:39 They went to the entrance of Gedor, to the east of the valley, looking for pasture for their sheep.

1 Chronicles 4:40 They found fertile and rich pasture; the land was very broad, undisturbed and peaceful. Indeed some Hamites had been living there prior to that.

1 Chronicles 4:41 The men whose names are listed came during the time of King Hezekiah of Judah and attacked the Hamites' settlements, as well as the Meunites they discovered there, and they wiped them out to this very day. They dispossessed them, for they found pasture for their sheep there.

1 Chronicles 4:42 Five hundred men of Simeon, led by Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel, the sons of Ishi, went to the hill country of Seir

1 Chronicles 4:43 and defeated the rest of the Amalekite refugees; they live there to this very day.

1 Chronicles 5:1 The sons of Reuben, Israel’s firstborn– (Now he was the firstborn, but when he defiled his father’s bed, his rights as firstborn were given to the sons of Joseph, Israel’s son. So Reuben is not listed as firstborn in the genealogical records.

1 Chronicles 5:2 Though Judah was the strongest among his brothers and a leader descended from him, the right of the firstborn belonged to Joseph.)

1 Chronicles 5:3 The sons of Reuben, Israel’s firstborn: Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

1 Chronicles 5:4 The descendants of Joel: His son Shemaiah, his son Gog, his son Shimei,

1 Chronicles 5:5 his son Micah, his son Reaiah, his son Baal,

1 Chronicles 5:6 and his son Beerah, whom King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria carried into exile. Beerah was the tribal leader of Reuben.

1 Chronicles 5:7 His brothers by their clans, as listed in their genealogical records: The leader Jeiel, Zechariah,

1 Chronicles 5:8 and Bela son of Azaz, son of Shema, son of Joel. They lived in Aroer as far as Nebo and Baal Meon.

1 Chronicles 5:9 In the east they settled as far as the entrance to the desert that stretches to the Euphrates River, for their cattle had increased in numbers in the land of Gilead.

1 Chronicles 5:10 During the time of Saul they attacked the Hagrites and defeated them. They took over their territory in the entire eastern region of Gilead.

1 Chronicles 5:11 The descendants of Gad lived near them in the land of Bashan, as far as Salecah.

1 Chronicles 5:12 They included Joel the leader, Shapham the second in command, Janai, and Shaphat in Bashan.

1 Chronicles 5:13 Their relatives, listed according to their families, included Michael, Meshullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jacan, Zia, and Eber– seven in all.

1 Chronicles 5:14 These were the sons of Abihail son of Huri, son of Jaroah, son of Gilead, son of Michael, son of Jeshishai, son of Jahdo, son of Buz.

1 Chronicles 5:15 Ahi son of Abdiel, son of Guni, was the leader of the family.

1 Chronicles 5:16 They lived in Gilead, in Bashan and its surrounding settlements, and in the pasturelands of Sharon to their very borders.

1 Chronicles 5:17 All of them were listed in the genealogical records in the time of King Jotham of Judah and in the time of King Jeroboam of Israel.

1 Chronicles 5:18 The Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh had 44,760 men in their combined armies, warriors who carried shields and swords, were equipped with bows, and were trained for war.

1 Chronicles 5:19 They attacked the Hagrites, Jetur, Naphish, and Nodab.

1 Chronicles 5:20 They received divine help in fighting them, and the Hagrites and all their allies were handed over to them. They cried out to God during the battle; he responded to their prayers because they trusted in him.

1 Chronicles 5:21 They seized the Hagrites' animals, including 50,000 camels, 250,000 sheep, and 2,000 donkeys. They also took captive 100,000 people.

1 Chronicles 5:22 Because God fought for them, they killed many of the enemy. They dispossessed the Hagrites and lived in their land until the exile.

1 Chronicles 5:23 The half-tribe of Manasseh settled in the land from Bashan as far as Baal Hermon, Senir, and Mount Hermon. They grew in number.

1 Chronicles 5:24 These were the leaders of their families: Epher, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel. They were skilled warriors, men of reputation, and leaders of their families.

1 Chronicles 5:25 But they were unfaithful to the God of their ancestors and worshiped instead the gods of the native peoples whom God had destroyed before them.

1 Chronicles 5:26 So the God of Israel stirred up King Pul of Assyria (that is, King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria), and he carried away the Reubenites, Gadites, and half-tribe of Manasseh and took them to Halah, Habor, Hara, and the river of Gozan, where they remain to this very day.

1 Chronicles 9:17 The gatekeepers were: Shallum, Akkub, Talmon, Ahiman, and their brothers. Shallum was the leader;

1 Chronicles 9:18 he serves to this day at the King's Gate on the east. These were the gatekeepers from the camp of the descendants of Levi.

1 Chronicles 9:19 Shallum son of Kore, son of Ebiasaph, son of Korah, and his relatives from his family (the Korahites) were assigned to guard the entrance to the sanctuary. Their ancestors had guarded the entrance to the LORD's dwelling place.

1 Chronicles 9:20 Phinehas son of Eleazar had been their leader in earlier times, and the LORD was with him.

1 Chronicles 9:21 Zechariah son of Meshelemiah was the guard at the entrance to the meeting tent.

1 Chronicles 9:22 All those selected to be gatekeepers at the entrances numbered 212. Their names were recorded in the genealogical records of their settlements. David and Samuel the prophet had appointed them to their positions.

1 Chronicles 9:23 They and their descendants were assigned to guard the gates of the LORD's sanctuary (that is, the tabernacle).

1 Chronicles 9:24 The gatekeepers were posted on all four sides–east, west, north, and south.

1 Chronicles 9:25 Their relatives, who lived in their settlements, came from time to time and served with them for seven-day periods.

1 Chronicles 9:26 The four head gatekeepers, who were Levites, were assigned to guard the storerooms and treasuries in God's sanctuary.

1 Chronicles 9:27 They would spend the night in their posts all around God's sanctuary, for they were assigned to guard it and would open it with the key every morning.

1 Chronicles 9:28 Some of them were in charge of the articles used by those who served; they counted them when they brought them in and when they brought them out.

1 Chronicles 9:29 Some of them were in charge of the equipment and articles of the sanctuary, as well as the flour, wine, olive oil, incense, and spices.

1 Chronicles 9:30 (But some of the priests mixed the spices.)

1 Chronicles 9:31 Mattithiah, a Levite, the firstborn son of Shallum the Korahite, was in charge of baking the bread for offerings.

1 Chronicles 9:32 Some of the Kohathites, their relatives, were in charge of preparing the bread that is displayed each Sabbath.

1 Chronicles 9:33 The musicians and Levite family leaders stayed in rooms at the sanctuary and were exempt from other duties, for day and night they had to carry out their assigned tasks.

1 Chronicles 9:34 These were the family leaders of the Levites, as listed in their genealogical records. They lived in Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 9:35 Jeiel (the father of Gibeon) lived in Gibeon. His wife was Maacah.

1 Chronicles 9:36 His firstborn son was Abdon, followed by Zur, Kish, Baal, Ner, Nadab,

1 Chronicles 9:37 Gedor, Ahio, Zechariah, and Mikloth.

1 Chronicles 9:38 Mikloth was the father of Shimeam. They also lived near their relatives in Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 9:39 Ner was the father of Kish, and Kish was the father of Saul. Saul was the father of Jonathan, Malki-Shua, Abinadab, and Eshbaal.

1 Chronicles 9:40 The son of Jonathan: Meribbaal, who was the father of Micah.

1 Chronicles 9:41 The sons of Micah: Pithon, Melech, Tahrea, and Ahaz.

1 Chronicles 9:42 Ahaz was the father of Jarah, and Jarah was the father of Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri. Zimri was the father of Moza,

1 Chronicles 9:43 and Moza was the father of Binea. His son was Rephaiah, whose son was Eleasah, whose son was Azel.

1 Chronicles 9:44 Azel had six sons: Azrikam his firstborn, followed by Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan. These were the sons of Azel.

1 Chronicles 10:1 Now the Philistines fought against Israel. The Israelites fled before the Philistines and many of them fell dead on Mount Gilboa.

1 Chronicles 10:2 The Philistines stayed right on the heels of Saul and his sons. They struck down Saul's sons Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malki-Shua.

1 Chronicles 10:3 The battle was thick around Saul; the archers spotted him and wounded him.

1 Chronicles 10:4 Saul told his armor bearer, "Draw your sword and stab me with it. Otherwise these uncircumcised people will come and torture me." But his armor bearer refused to do it, because he was very afraid. So Saul took the sword and fell on it.

1 Chronicles 10:5 When his armor bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died.

1 Chronicles 10:6 So Saul and his three sons died; his whole household died together.

1 Chronicles 10:7 When all the Israelites who were in the valley saw that the army had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their cities and fled. The Philistines came and occupied them.

1 Chronicles 10:8 The next day, when the Philistines came to strip loot from the corpses, they discovered Saul and his sons lying dead on Mount Gilboa.

1 Chronicles 10:9 They stripped his corpse, and then carried off his head and his armor. They sent messengers throughout the land of the Philistines proclaiming the news to their idols and their people.

1 Chronicles 10:10 They placed his armor in the temple of their gods and hung his head in the temple of Dagon.

1 Chronicles 10:11 When all the residents of Jabesh Gilead heard about everything the Philistines had done to Saul,

1 Chronicles 10:12 all the warriors went and recovered the bodies of Saul and his sons and brought them to Jabesh. They buried their remains under the oak tree in Jabesh and fasted for seven days.

1 Chronicles 10:13 So Saul died because he was unfaithful to the LORD and did not obey the LORD’s instructions; he even tried to conjure up underworld spirits.

1 Chronicles 10:14 He did not seek the LORD’s guidance, so the LORD killed him and transferred the kingdom to David son of Jesse.

1 Chronicles 11:1 All Israel joined David at Hebron and said, “Look, we are your very flesh and blood!

1 Chronicles 11:2 In the past, even when Saul was king, you were Israel’s commanding general. The LORD your God said to you, ‘You will shepherd my people Israel; you will rule over my people Israel.’“

1 Chronicles 11:3 When all the leaders of Israel came to the king at Hebron, David made an agreement with them in Hebron before the LORD. They anointed David king over Israel, just as the LORD had announced through Samuel.

1 Chronicles 11:4 David and the whole Israelite army advanced to Jerusalem (that is, Jebus). (The Jebusites, the land’s original inhabitants, lived there.)

1 Chronicles 11:5 The residents of Jebus said to David, “You cannot invade this place!” But David captured the fortress of Zion (that is, the City of David).

1 Chronicles 11:6 David said, “Whoever attacks the Jebusites first will become commanding general!” So Joab son of Zeruiah attacked first and became commander.

1 Chronicles 11:7 David lived in the fortress; for this reason it is called the City of David.

1 Chronicles 11:8 He built up the city around it, from the terrace to the surrounding walls; Joab restored the rest of the city.

1 Chronicles 11:9 David’s power steadily grew, for the LORD who commands armies was with him.

1 Chronicles 11:10 These were the leaders of David’s warriors who helped establish and stabilize his rule over all Israel, in accordance with the LORD’s word.

1 Chronicles 11:11 This is the list of David’s warriors: Jashobeam, a Hacmonite, was head of the officers. He killed three hundred men with his spear in a single battle.

1 Chronicles 11:12 Next in command was Eleazar son of Dodo the Ahohite. He was one of the three elite warriors.

1 Chronicles 11:13 He was with David in Pas Dammim when the Philistines assembled there for battle. In an area of the field that was full of barley, the army retreated before the Philistines,

1 Chronicles 11:14 but then they made a stand in the middle of that area. They defended it and defeated the Philistines; the LORD gave them a great victory.

1 Chronicles 11:15 Three of the thirty leaders went down to David at the rocky cliff at the cave of Adullam, while a Philistine force was camped in the Valley of Rephaim.

1 Chronicles 11:16 David was in the stronghold at the time, while a Philistine garrison was in Bethlehem.

1 Chronicles 11:17 David was thirsty and said, “How I wish someone would give me some water to drink from the cistern in Bethlehem near the city gate!”

1 Chronicles 11:18 So the three elite warriors broke through the Philistine forces and drew some water from the cistern in Bethlehem near the city gate. They carried it back to David, but David refused to drink it. He poured it out as a drink offering to the LORD

1 Chronicles 11:19 and said, “God forbid that I should do this! Should I drink the blood of these men who risked their lives?” Because they risked their lives to bring it to him, he refused to drink it. Such were the exploits of the three elite warriors.

1 Chronicles 11:20 Abishai the brother of Joab was head of the three elite warriors. He killed three hundred men with his spear and gained fame along with the three elite warriors.

1 Chronicles 11:21 From the three he was given double honor and he became their officer, even though he was not one of them.

1 Chronicles 11:22 Benaiah son of Jehoiada was a brave warrior from Kabzeel who performed great exploits. He struck down the two sons of Ariel of Moab; he also went down and killed a lion inside a cistern on a snowy day.

1 Chronicles 11:23 He even killed an Egyptian who was seven and a half feet tall. The Egyptian had a spear as big as the crossbeam of a weaver’s loom; Benaiah attacked him with a club. He grabbed the spear out of the Egyptian’s hand and killed him with his own spear.

1 Chronicles 11:24 Such were the exploits of Benaiah son of Jehoiada, who gained fame along with the three elite warriors.

1 Chronicles 11:25 He received honor from the thirty warriors, though he was not one of the three elite warriors. David put him in charge of his bodyguard.

1 Chronicles 11:26 The mighty warriors were: Asahel the brother of Joab, Elhanan son of Dodo, from Bethlehem,

1 Chronicles 11:27 Shammoth the Harorite, Helez the Pelonite,

1 Chronicles 11:28 Ira son of Ikkesh the Tekoite, Abiezer the Anathothite,

1 Chronicles 11:29 Sibbekai the Hushathite, Ilai the Ahohite,

1 Chronicles 11:30 Maharai the Netophathite, Heled son of Baanah the Netophathite,

1 Chronicles 11:31 Ithai son of Ribai from Gibeah in Benjaminite territory, Benaiah the Pirathonite,

1 Chronicles 11:32 Hurai from the valleys of Gaash, Abiel the Arbathite,

1 Chronicles 11:33 Azmaveth the Baharumite, Eliahba the Shaalbonite,

1 Chronicles 11:34 the sons of Hashem the Gizonite, Jonathan son of Shageh the Hararite,

1 Chronicles 11:35 Ahiam son of Sakar the Hararite, Eliphal son of Ur,

1 Chronicles 11:36 Hepher the Mekerathite, Ahijah the Pelonite,

1 Chronicles 11:37 Hezro the Carmelite, Naarai son of Ezbai,

1 Chronicles 11:38 Joel the brother of Nathan, Mibhar son of Hagri,

1 Chronicles 11:39 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Beerothite, the armor-bearer of Joab son of Zeruiah,

1 Chronicles 11:40 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,

1 Chronicles 11:41 Uriah the Hittite, Zabad son of Achli,

1 Chronicles 11:42 Adina son of Shiza the Reubenite, leader of the Reubenites and the thirty warriors with him,

1 Chronicles 11:43 Hanan son of Maacah, Joshaphat the Mithnite,

1 Chronicles 11:44 Uzzia the Ashterathite, Shama and Jeiel, the sons of Hotham the Aroerite,

1 Chronicles 11:45 Jediael son of Shimri, and Joha his brother, the Tizite,

1 Chronicles 11:46 Eliel the Mahavite, and Jeribai and Joshaviah, the sons of Elnaam, and Ithmah the Moabite,

1 Chronicles 11:47 Eliel, and Obed, and Jaasiel the Mezobaite.

1 Chronicles 12:1 These were the men who joined David in Ziklag, when he was banished from the presence of Saul son of Kish. (They were among the warriors who assisted him in battle.

1 Chronicles 12:2 They were armed with bows and could shoot arrows or sling stones right or left-handed. They were fellow tribesmen of Saul from Benjamin.) These were:

1 Chronicles 12:3 Ahiezer, the leader, and Joash, the sons of Shemaah the Gibeathite; Jeziel and Pelet, the sons of Azmaveth; Berachah, Jehu the Anathothite,

1 Chronicles 12:4 Ishmaiah the Gibeonite, one of the thirty warriors and their leader, Jeremiah, Jahaziel, Johanan, Jozabad the Gederathite,

1 Chronicles 12:5 Eluzai, Jerimoth, Bealiah, Shemariah, Shephatiah the Haruphite,

1 Chronicles 12:6 Elkanah, Isshiah, Azarel, Joezer, and Jashobeam, who were Korahites,

1 Chronicles 12:7 and Joelah and Zebadiah, the sons of Jeroham from Gedor.

1 Chronicles 12:8 Some of the Gadites joined David at the stronghold in the desert. They were warriors who were trained for battle; they carried shields and spears. They were as fierce as lions and could run as quickly as gazelles across the hills.

1 Chronicles 12:9 Ezer was the leader, Obadiah the second in command, Eliab the third,

1 Chronicles 12:10 Mishmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,

1 Chronicles 12:11 Attai the sixth, Eliel the seventh,

1 Chronicles 12:12 Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,

1 Chronicles 12:13 Jeremiah the tenth, and Machbannai the eleventh.

1 Chronicles 12:14 These Gadites were military leaders; the least led a hundred men, the greatest a thousand.

1 Chronicles 12:15 They crossed the Jordan River in the first month, when it was overflowing its banks, and routed those living in all the valleys to the east and west.

1 Chronicles 12:16 Some from Benjamin and Judah also came to David’s stronghold.

1 Chronicles 12:17 David went out to meet them and said, “If you come to me in peace and want to help me, then I will make an alliance with you. But if you come to betray me to my enemies when I have not harmed you, may the God of our ancestors take notice and judge!”

1 Chronicles 12:18 But a spirit empowered Amasai, the leader of the thirty warriors, and he said: “We are yours, O David! We support you, O son of Jesse! May you greatly prosper! May those who help you prosper! Indeed your God helps you!” So David accepted them and made them leaders of raiding bands.

1 Chronicles 12:19 Some men from Manasseh joined David when he went with the Philistines to fight against Saul. (But in the end they did not help the Philistines because, after taking counsel, the Philistine lords sent David away, saying: “It would be disastrous for us if he deserts to his master Saul.”)

1 Chronicles 12:20 When David went to Ziklag, the men of Manasseh who joined him were Adnach, Jozabad, Jediael, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu, and Zillethai, leaders of a thousand soldiers each in the tribe of Manasseh.

1 Chronicles 12:21 They helped David fight against raiding bands, for all of them were warriors and leaders in the army.

1 Chronicles 12:22 Each day men came to help David until his army became very large.

1 Chronicles 12:23 The following is a record of the armed warriors who came with their leaders and joined David in Hebron in order to make David king in Saul's place, in accordance with the LORD's decree:

1 Chronicles 12:24 From Judah came 6,800 trained warriors carrying shields and spears.

1 Chronicles 12:25 From Simeon there were 7,100 warriors.

1 Chronicles 12:26 From Levi there were 4,600.

1 Chronicles 12:27 Jehoiada, the leader of Aaron's descendants, brought 3,700 men with him,

1 Chronicles 12:28 along with Zadok, a young warrior, and twenty-two leaders from his family.

1 Chronicles 12:29 From Benjamin, Saul's tribe, there were 3,000, most of whom, up to that time, had been loyal to Saul.

1 Chronicles 12:30 From Ephraim there were 20,800 warriors, who had brought fame to their families.

1 Chronicles 12:31 From the half tribe of Manasseh there were 18,000 who had been designated by name to come and make David king.

1 Chronicles 12:32 From Issachar there were 200 leaders and all their relatives at their command– they understood the times and knew what Israel should do.

1 Chronicles 12:33 From Zebulun there were 50,000 warriors who were prepared for battle, equipped with all kinds of weapons, and ready to give their undivided loyalty.

1 Chronicles 12:34 From Naphtali there were 1,000 officers, along with 37,000 men carrying shields and spears.

1 Chronicles 12:35 From Dan there were 28,600 men prepared for battle.

1 Chronicles 12:36 From Asher there were 40,000 warriors prepared for battle.

1 Chronicles 12:37 From the other side of the Jordan, from Reuben, Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh, there were 120,000 men armed with all kinds of weapons.

1 Chronicles 12:38 All these men were warriors who were ready to march. They came to Hebron to make David king over all Israel by acclamation; all the rest of the Israelites also were in agreement that David should become king.

1 Chronicles 12:39 They spent three days feasting there with David, for their relatives had given them provisions.

1 Chronicles 12:40 Also their neighbors, from as far away as Issachar, Zebulun, and Naphtali, were bringing food on donkeys, camels, mules, and oxen. There were large supplies of flour, fig cakes, raisins, wine, olive oil, beef, and lamb, for Israel was celebrating.

1 Chronicles 13:1 David consulted with his military officers, including those who led groups of a thousand and those who led groups of a hundred.

1 Chronicles 13:2 David said to the whole Israelite assembly, “If you so desire and the LORD our God approves, let’s spread the word to our brothers who remain in all the regions of Israel, and to the priests and Levites in their cities, so they may join us.

1 Chronicles 13:3 Let’s move the ark of our God back here, for we did not seek his will throughout Saul’s reign.”

1 Chronicles 13:4 The whole assembly agreed to do this, for the proposal seemed right to all the people.

1 Chronicles 13:5 So David assembled all Israel from the Shihor River in Egypt to Lebo Hamath, to bring the ark of God from Kiriath Jearim.

1 Chronicles 13:6 David and all Israel went up to Baalah (that is, Kiriath Jearim) in Judah to bring up from there the ark of God the LORD, who sits enthroned between the cherubim– the ark that is called by his name.

1 Chronicles 13:7 They transported the ark on a new cart from the house of Abinadab; Uzzah and Ahio were guiding the cart,

1 Chronicles 13:8 while David and all Israel were energetically celebrating before God, singing and playing various stringed instruments, tambourines, cymbals, and trumpets.

1 Chronicles 13:9 When they arrived at the threshing floor of Kidon, Uzzah reached out his hand to take hold of the ark, because the oxen stumbled.

1 Chronicles 13:10 The LORD was so furious with Uzzah, he killed him, because he reached out his hand and touched the ark. He died right there before God.

1 Chronicles 13:11 David was angry because the LORD attacked Uzzah; so he called that place Perez Uzzah, which remains its name to this very day.

1 Chronicles 13:12 David was afraid of God that day and said, “How will I ever be able to bring the ark of God up here?”

1 Chronicles 13:13 So David did not move the ark to the City of David; he left it in the house of Obed-Edom the Gittite.

1 Chronicles 13:14 The ark of God remained in Obed-Edom’s house for three months; the LORD blessed Obed-Edom’s family and everything that belonged to him.

1 Chronicles 14:1 King Hiram of Tyre sent messengers to David, along with cedar logs, stonemasons, and carpenters to build a palace for him.

1 Chronicles 14:2 David realized that the LORD had established him as king over Israel and that he had elevated his kingdom for the sake of his people Israel.

1 Chronicles 14:3 In Jerusalem David married more wives and fathered more sons and daughters.

1 Chronicles 14:4 These are the names of children born to him in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon,

1 Chronicles 14:5 Ibhar, Elishua, Elpelet,

1 Chronicles 14:6 Nogah, Nepheg, Japhia,

1 Chronicles 14:7 Elishama, Beeliada, and Eliphelet.

1 Chronicles 14:8 When the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king of all Israel, all the Philistines marched up to confront him. When David heard about it, he marched out against them.

1 Chronicles 14:9 Now the Philistines had come and raided the Valley of Rephaim.

1 Chronicles 14:10 David asked God, “Should I march up against the Philistines? Will you hand them over to me?” The LORD said to him, “March up! I will hand them over to you!”

1 Chronicles 14:11 So they marched against Baal Perazim and David defeated them there. David said, “Using me as his instrument, God has burst out against my enemies like water bursts out.” So that place is called Baal Perazim.

1 Chronicles 14:12 The Philistines left their idols there, so David ordered that they be burned.

1 Chronicles 14:13 The Philistines again raided the valley.

1 Chronicles 14:14 So David again asked God what he should do. This time God told him, “Don’t march up after them; circle around them and come against them in front of the trees.

1 Chronicles 14:15 When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the trees, then attack. For at that moment the LORD is going before you to strike down the army of the Philistines.”

1 Chronicles 14:16 David did just as God commanded him, and they struck down the Philistine army from Gibeon to Gezer.

1 Chronicles 14:17 So David became famous in all the lands; the LORD caused all the nations to fear him.

1 Chronicles 15:1 David constructed buildings in the City of David; he then prepared a place for the ark of God and pitched a tent for it.

1 Chronicles 15:2 Then David said, “Only the Levites may carry the ark of God, for the LORD chose them to carry the ark of the LORD and to serve before him perpetually.

1 Chronicles 15:3 David assembled all Israel at Jerusalem to bring the ark of the LORD up to the place he had prepared for it.

1 Chronicles 15:4 David gathered together the descendants of Aaron and the Levites:

1 Chronicles 15:5 From the descendants of Kohath: Uriel the leader and 120 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:6 From the descendants of Merari: Asaiah the leader and 220 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:7 From the descendants of Gershom: Joel the leader and 130 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:8 From the descendants of Elizaphan: Shemaiah the leader and 200 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:9 From the descendants of Hebron: Eliel the leader and 80 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:10 From the descendants of Uzziel: Amminadab the leader and 112 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:11 David summoned the priests Zadok and Abiathar, along with the Levites Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab.

1 Chronicles 15:12 He told them: “You are the leaders of the Levites’ families. You and your relatives must consecrate yourselves and bring the ark of the LORD God of Israel up to the place I have prepared for it.

1 Chronicles 15:13 The first time you did not carry it; that is why the LORD God attacked us, because we did not ask him about the proper way to carry it.”

1 Chronicles 15:14 The priests and Levites consecrated themselves so they could bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel.

1 Chronicles 15:15 The descendants of Levi carried the ark of God on their shoulders with poles, just as Moses had ordered according to the divine command.

1 Chronicles 15:16 David told the leaders of the Levites to appoint some of their relatives as musicians; they were to play various instruments, including stringed instruments and cymbals, and to sing loudly and joyfully.

1 Chronicles 15:17 So the Levites appointed Heman son of Joel; one of his relatives, Asaph son of Berechiah; one of the descendants of Merari, Ethan son of Kushaiah;

1 Chronicles 15:18 along with some of their relatives who were second in rank, including Zechariah, Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, Mikneiah, Obed-Edom, and Jeiel, the gatekeepers.

1 Chronicles 15:19 The musicians Heman, Asaph, and Ethan were to sound the bronze cymbals;

1 Chronicles 15:20 Zechariah, Aziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseiah, and Benaiah were to play the harps according to the alamoth style;

1 Chronicles 15:21 Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, Mikneiah, Obed-Edom, Jeiel, and Azaziah were to play the lyres according to the sheminith style, as led by the director;

1 Chronicles 15:22 Kenaniah, the leader of the Levites, was in charge of transport, for he was well-informed on this matter;

1 Chronicles 15:23 Berechiah and Elkanah were guardians of the ark;

1 Chronicles 15:24 Shebaniah, Joshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer the priests were to blow the trumpets before the ark of God; Obed-Edom and Jehiel were also guardians of the ark.

1 Chronicles 15:25 So David, the leaders of Israel, and the commanders of units of a thousand went to bring up the ark of the LORD's covenant from the house of Obed-Edom with celebration.

1 Chronicles 15:26 When God helped the Levites who were carrying the ark of the LORD's covenant, they sacrificed seven bulls and seven rams.

1 Chronicles 15:27 David was wrapped in a linen robe, as were all the Levites carrying the ark, the musicians, and Kenaniah the supervisor of transport and the musicians; David also wore a linen ephod.

1 Chronicles 15:28 All Israel brought up the ark of the LORD's covenant; they were shouting, blowing trumpets, sounding cymbals, and playing stringed instruments.

1 Chronicles 15:29 As the ark of the LORD's covenant entered the City of David, Michal, Saul's daughter, looked out the window. When she saw King David jumping and celebrating, she despised him.

1 Chronicles 16:1 They brought the ark of God and put it in the middle of the tent David had pitched for it. Then they offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings before God.

1 Chronicles 16:2 When David finished offering burnt sacrifices and peace offerings, he pronounced a blessing over the people in the LORD's name.

1 Chronicles 16:3 He then handed out to each Israelite man and woman a loaf of bread, a date cake, and a raisin cake.

1 Chronicles 16:4 He appointed some of the Levites to serve before the ark of the LORD, to offer prayers, songs of thanks, and hymns to the LORD God of Israel.

1 Chronicles 16:5 Asaph was the leader and Zechariah second in command, followed by Jeiel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattithiah, Eliab, Benaiah, Obed-Edom, and Jeiel. They were to play stringed instruments; Asaph was to sound the cymbals;

1 Chronicles 16:6 and the priests Benaiah and Jahaziel were to blow trumpets regularly before the ark of God's covenant.

1 Chronicles 16:7 That day David first gave to Asaph and his colleagues this song of thanks to the LORD:

1 Chronicles 16:8 Give thanks to the LORD! Call on his name! Make known his accomplishments among the nations!

1 Chronicles 16:9 Sing to him! Make music to him! Tell about all his miraculous deeds!

1 Chronicles 16:10 Boast about his holy name! Let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice!

1 Chronicles 16:11 Seek the LORD and the strength he gives! Seek his presence continually!

1 Chronicles 16:12 Recall the miraculous deeds he performed, his mighty acts and the judgments he decreed,

1 Chronicles 16:13 O children of Israel, God's servant, you descendants of Jacob, God's chosen ones!

1 Chronicles 16:14 He is the LORD our God; he carries out judgment throughout the earth.

1 Chronicles 16:15 Remember continually his covenantal decree, the promise he made to a thousand generations–

1 Chronicles 16:16 the promise he made to Abraham, the promise he made by oath to Isaac!

1 Chronicles 16:17 He gave it to Jacob as a decree, to Israel as a lasting promise,

1 Chronicles 16:18 saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan as the portion of your inheritance."

1 Chronicles 16:19 When they were few in number, just a very few, and foreign residents within it,

1 Chronicles 16:20 they wandered from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another.

1 Chronicles 16:21 He let no one oppress them, he disciplined kings for their sake,

1 Chronicles 16:22 saying, "Don't touch my anointed ones! Don't harm my prophets!"

1 Chronicles 16:23 Sing to the LORD, all the earth! Announce every day how he delivers!

1 Chronicles 16:24 Tell the nations about his splendor, tell all the nations about his miraculous deeds!

1 Chronicles 16:25 For the LORD is great and certainly worthy of praise, he is more awesome than all gods.

1 Chronicles 16:26 For all the gods of the nations are worthless, but the LORD made the heavens.

1 Chronicles 16:27 Majestic splendor emanates from him, he is the source of strength and joy.

1 Chronicles 16:28 Ascribe to the LORD, O families of the nations, ascribe to the LORD splendor and strength!

1 Chronicles 16:29 Ascribe to the LORD the splendor he deserves! Bring an offering and enter his presence! Worship the LORD in holy attire!

1 Chronicles 16:30 Tremble before him, all the earth! The world is established, it cannot be moved.

1 Chronicles 16:31 Let the heavens rejoice, and the earth be happy! Let the nations say, 'The LORD reigns!'

1 Chronicles 16:32 Let the sea and everything in it shout! Let the fields and everything in them celebrate!

1 Chronicles 16:33 Then let the trees of the forest shout with joy before the LORD, for he comes to judge the earth!

1 Chronicles 16:34 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good and his loyal love endures.

1 Chronicles 16:35 Say this prayer: "Deliver us, O God who delivers us! Gather us! Rescue us from the nations! Then we will give thanks to your holy name, and boast about your praiseworthy deeds."

1 Chronicles 16:36 May the LORD God of Israel be praised, in the future and forevermore. Then all the people said, "We agree! Praise the LORD!"

1 Chronicles 16:37 David left Asaph and his colleagues there before the ark of the LORD's covenant to serve before the ark regularly and fulfill each day's requirements,

1 Chronicles 16:38 including Obed-Edom and sixty-eight colleagues. Obed-Edom son of Jeduthun and Hosah were gatekeepers.

1 Chronicles 16:39 Zadok the priest and his fellow priests served before the LORD's tabernacle at the worship center in Gibeon,

1 Chronicles 16:40 regularly offering burnt sacrifices to the LORD on the altar for burnt sacrifice, morning and evening, according to what is prescribed in the law of the LORD which he charged Israel to observe.

1 Chronicles 16:41 Joining them were Heman, Jeduthun, and the rest of those chosen and designated by name to give thanks to the LORD. (For his loyal love endures!)

1 Chronicles 16:42 Heman and Jeduthun were in charge of the music, including the trumpets, cymbals, and the other musical instruments used in praising God. The sons of Jeduthun guarded the entrance.

1 Chronicles 16:43 Then all the people returned to their homes, and David went to pronounce a blessing on his family.

1 Chronicles 17:1 When David had settled into his palace, he said to Nathan the prophet, "Look, I am living in a palace made from cedar, while the ark of the LORD's covenant is under a tent."

1 Chronicles 17:2 Nathan said to David, "You should do whatever you have in mind, for God is with you."

1 Chronicles 17:3 That night God told Nathan the prophet,

1 Chronicles 17:4 "Go, tell my servant David: 'This is what the LORD says: "You must not build me a house in which to live.

1 Chronicles 17:5 For I have not lived in a house from the time I brought Israel up from Egypt to the present day. I have lived in a tent that has been in various places.

1 Chronicles 17:6 Wherever I moved throughout Israel, I did not say to any of the leaders whom I appointed to care for my people Israel, 'Why have you not built me a house made from cedar?"'"

1 Chronicles 17:7 "So now, say this to my servant David: 'This is what the LORD who commands armies says: "I took you from the pasture and from your work as a shepherd to make you a leader of my people Israel.

1 Chronicles 17:8 I was with you wherever you went and I defeated all your enemies before you. Now I will make you as famous as the great men of the earth.

1 Chronicles 17:9 I will establish a place for my people Israel and settle them there; they will live there and not be disturbed anymore. Violent men will not oppress them again, as they did in the beginning

1 Chronicles 17:10 and during the time when I appointed judges to lead my people Israel. I will subdue all your enemies. ""I declare to you that the LORD will build a dynastic house for you!

1 Chronicles 17:11 When the time comes for you to die, I will raise up your descendant, one of your own sons, to succeed you, and I will establish his kingdom.

1 Chronicles 17:12 He will build me a house, and I will make his dynasty permanent.

1 Chronicles 17:13 I will become his father and he will become my son. I will never withhold my loyal love from him, as I withheld it from the one who ruled before you.

1 Chronicles 17:14 I will put him in permanent charge of my house and my kingdom; his dynasty will be permanent."“

1 Chronicles 17:15 Nathan told David all these words that were revealed to him.

1 Chronicles 17:16 David went in, sat before the LORD, and said: “Who am I, O LORD God, and what is my family, that you should have brought me to this point?

1 Chronicles 17:17 And you did not stop there, O God! You have also spoken about the future of your servant’s family. You have revealed to me what men long to know, O LORD God.

1 Chronicles 17:18 What more can David say to you? You have honored your servant; you have given your servant special recognition.

1 Chronicles 17:19 O LORD, for the sake of your servant and according to your will, you have done this great thing in order to reveal your greatness.

1 Chronicles 17:20 O LORD, there is none like you; there is no God besides you! What we heard is true!

1 Chronicles 17:21 And who is like your people, Israel, a unique nation in the earth? Their God went to claim a nation for himself! You made a name for yourself by doing great and awesome deeds when you drove out nations before your people whom you had delivered from the Egyptian empire and its gods.

1 Chronicles 17:22 You made Israel your very own nation for all time. You, O LORD, became their God.

1 Chronicles 17:23 So now, O LORD, may the promise you made about your servant and his family become a permanent reality! Do as you promised,

1 Chronicles 17:24 so it may become a reality and you may gain lasting fame, as people say, ‘The LORD who commands armies is the God of Israel.’ David’s dynasty will be established before you,

1 Chronicles 17:25 for you, my God, have revealed to your servant that you will build a dynasty for him. That is why your servant has had the courage to pray to you.

1 Chronicles 17:26 Now, O LORD, you are the true God; you have made this good promise to your servant.

1 Chronicles 17:27 Now you are willing to bless your servant’s dynasty so that it may stand permanently before you, for you, O LORD, have blessed it and it will be blessed from now on into the future.”

1 Chronicles 18:1 Later David defeated the Philistines and subdued them. He took Gath and its surrounding towns away from the Philistines.

1 Chronicles 18:2 He defeated the Moabites; the Moabites became David's subjects and brought tribute.

1 Chronicles 18:3 David defeated King Hadadezer of Zobah as far as Hamath, when he went to extend his authority to the Euphrates River.

1 Chronicles 18:4 David seized from him 1,000 chariots, 7,000 charioteers, and 20,000 infantrymen. David cut the hamstrings of all but a hundred of Hadadezer's chariot horses.

1 Chronicles 18:5 The Arameans of Damascus came to help King Hadadezer of Zobah, but David killed 22,000 of the Arameans.

1 Chronicles 18:6 David placed garrisons in the territory of the Arameans of Damascus; the Arameans became David's subjects and brought tribute. The LORD protected David wherever he campaigned.

1 Chronicles 18:7 David took the golden shields which Hadadezer's servants had carried and brought them to Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 18:8 From Tibhath and Kun, Hadadezer's cities, David took a great deal of bronze. (Solomon used it to make the big bronze basin called "The Sea," the pillars, and other bronze items.

1 Chronicles 18:9 When King Tou of Hamath heard that David had defeated the entire army of King Hadadezer of Zobah,

1 Chronicles 18:10 he sent his son Hadoram to King David to extend his best wishes and to pronounce a blessing on him for his victory over Hadadezer, for Tou had been at war with Hadadezer. He also sent various items made of gold, silver, and bronze.

1 Chronicles 18:11 King David dedicated these things to the LORD, along with the silver and gold which he had carried off from all the nations, including Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, the Philistines, and Amalek.

1 Chronicles 18:12 Abishai son of Zeruiah killed 18,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

1 Chronicles 18:13 He placed garrisons in Edom, and all the Edomites became David's subjects. The LORD protected David wherever he campaigned.

1 Chronicles 18:14 David reigned over all Israel; he guaranteed justice for all his people.

1 Chronicles 18:15 Joab son of Zeruiah was commanding general of the army; Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was secretary;

1 Chronicles 18:16 Zadok son of Ahitub and Abimelech son of Abiathar were priests; Shavsha was scribe;

1 Chronicles 18:17 Benaiah son of Jehoiada supervised the Kerethites and Pelethites; and David’s sons were the king’s leading officials.

1 Chronicles 19:1 Later King Nahash of the Ammonites died and his son succeeded him.

1 Chronicles 19:2 David said, “I will express my loyalty to Hanun son of Nahash, for his father was loyal to me.” So David sent messengers to express his sympathy over his father’s death. When David’s servants entered Ammonite territory to visit Hanun and express the king’s sympathy,

1 Chronicles 19:3 the Ammonite officials said to Hanun, “Do you really think David is trying to honor your father by sending these messengers to express his sympathy? No, his servants have come to you so they can get information and spy out the land!”

1 Chronicles 19:4 So Hanun seized David’s servants and shaved their beards off. He cut off the lower part of their robes so that their buttocks were exposed and then sent them away.

1 Chronicles 19:5 Messengers came and told David what had happened to the men, so he summoned them, for the men were thoroughly humiliated. The king said, “Stay in Jericho until your beards grow again; then you may come back.”

1 Chronicles 19:6 When the Ammonites realized that David was disgusted with them, Hanun and the Ammonites sent 1,000 talents of silver to hire chariots and charioteers from Aram Naharaim, Aram Maacah, and Zobah.

1 Chronicles 19:7 They hired 32,000 chariots, along with the king of Maacah and his army, who came and camped in front of Medeba. The Ammonites also assembled from their cities and marched out to do battle.

1 Chronicles 19:8 When David heard the news, he sent Joab and the entire army to meet them.

1 Chronicles 19:9 The Ammonites marched out and were deployed for battle at the entrance to the city, while the kings who had come were by themselves in the field.

1 Chronicles 19:10 When Joab saw that the battle would be fought on two fronts, he chose some of Israel’s best men and deployed them against the Arameans.

1 Chronicles 19:11 He put his brother Abishai in charge of the rest of the army and they were deployed against the Ammonites.

1 Chronicles 19:12 Joab said, “If the Arameans start to overpower me, you come to my rescue. If the Ammonites start to overpower you, I will come to your rescue.

1 Chronicles 19:13 Be strong! Let’s fight bravely for the sake of our people and the cities of our God! The LORD will do what he decides is best!”

1 Chronicles 19:14 So Joab and his men marched toward the Arameans to do battle, and they fled before him.

1 Chronicles 19:15 When the Ammonites saw the Arameans flee, they fled before Joab’s brother Abishai and withdrew into the city. Joab went back to Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 19:16 When the Arameans realized they had been defeated by Israel, they sent for reinforcements from beyond the Euphrates River, led by Shophach the commanding general of Hadadezer’s army.

1 Chronicles 19:17 When David was informed, he gathered all Israel, crossed the Jordan River, and marched against them. David deployed his army against the Arameans for battle and they fought against him.

1 Chronicles 19:18 The Arameans fled before Israel. David killed 7,000 Aramean charioteers and 40,000 infantrymen; he also killed Shophach the commanding general.

1 Chronicles 19:19 When Hadadezer’s subjects saw they were defeated by Israel, they made peace with David and became his subjects. The Arameans were no longer willing to help the Ammonites.

1 Chronicles 20:1 In the spring, at the time when kings normally conduct wars, Joab led the army into battle and devastated the land of the Ammonites. He went and besieged Rabbah, while David stayed in Jerusalem. Joab defeated Rabbah and tore it down.

1 Chronicles 20:2 David took the crown from the head of their king and wore it (its weight was a talent of gold and it was set with precious stones). He took a large amount of plunder from the city.

1 Chronicles 20:3 He removed the city’s residents and made them do hard labor with saws, iron picks, and axes. This was his policy with all the Ammonite cities. Then David and all the army returned to Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 20:4 Later there was a battle with the Philistines in Gezer. At that time Sibbekai the Hushathite killed Sippai, one of the descendants of the Rephaim, and the Philistines were subdued.

1 Chronicles 20:5 There was another battle with the Philistines in which Elhanan son of Jair the Bethlehemite killed the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose spear had a shaft as big as the crossbeam of a weaver’s loom.

1 Chronicles 20:6 In a battle in Gath there was a large man who had six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot– twenty-four in all! He too was a descendant of Rapha.

1 Chronicles 20:7 When he taunted Israel, Jonathan son of Shimea, David’s brother, killed him.

1 Chronicles 20:8 These were the descendants of Rapha who lived in Gath; they were killed by the hand of David and his soldiers.

1 Chronicles 21:1 An adversary opposed Israel, inciting David to count how many warriors Israel had.

1 Chronicles 21:2 David told Joab and the leaders of the army, “Go, count the number of warriors from Beer Sheba to Dan. Then bring back a report to me so I may know how many we have.”

1 Chronicles 21:3 Joab replied, “May the LORD make his army a hundred times larger! My master, O king, do not all of them serve my master? Why does my master want to do this? Why bring judgment on Israel?”

1 Chronicles 21:4 But the king’s edict stood, despite Joab’s objections. So Joab left and traveled throughout Israel before returning to Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 21:5 Joab reported to David the number of warriors. In all Israel there were 1,100,000 sword-wielding soldiers; Judah alone had 470,000 sword-wielding soldiers.

1 Chronicles 21:6 Now Joab did not number Levi and Benjamin, for the king’s edict disgusted him.

1 Chronicles 21:7 God was also offended by it, so he attacked Israel.

1 Chronicles 21:8 David said to God, “I have sinned greatly by doing this! Now, please remove the guilt of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly.”

1 Chronicles 21:9 The LORD told Gad, David’s prophet,

1 Chronicles 21:10 “Go, tell David, ‘This is what the LORD says: “I am offering you three forms of judgment from which to choose. Pick one of them.”’“

1 Chronicles 21:11 Gad went to David and told him, “This is what the LORD says: ‘Pick one of these:

1 Chronicles 21:12 three years of famine, or three months being chased by your enemies and struck down by their swords, or three days being struck down by the LORD, during which a plague will invade the land and the LORD’s messenger will destroy throughout Israel’s territory.’ Now, decide what I should tell the one who sent me.”

1 Chronicles 21:13 David said to Gad, “I am very upset! I prefer to be attacked by the LORD, for his mercy is very great; I do not want to be attacked by men!”

1 Chronicles 21:14 So the LORD sent a plague through Israel, and 70,000 Israelite men died.

1 Chronicles 21:15 God sent an angel to ravage Jerusalem. As he was doing so, the LORD watched and relented from his judgment. He told the angel who was destroying, “That’s enough! Stop now!” Now the LORD’s angel was standing near the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

1 Chronicles 21:16 David looked up and saw the LORD’s messenger standing between the earth and sky with his sword drawn and in his hand, stretched out over Jerusalem. David and the leaders, covered with sackcloth, threw themselves down with their faces to the ground.

1 Chronicles 21:17 David said to God, “Was I not the one who decided to number the army? I am the one who sinned and committed this awful deed! As for these sheep– what have they done? O LORD my God, attack me and my family, but remove the plague from your people!”

1 Chronicles 21:18 So the LORD’s messenger told Gad to instruct David to go up and build an altar for the LORD on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

1 Chronicles 21:19 So David went up as Gad instructed him to do in the name of the LORD.

1 Chronicles 21:20 While Ornan was threshing wheat, he turned and saw the messenger, and he and his four sons hid themselves.

1 Chronicles 21:21 When David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David; he came out from the threshing floor and bowed to David with his face to the ground.

1 Chronicles 21:22 David said to Ornan, “Sell me the threshing floor so I can build on it an altar for the LORD– I’ll pay top price– so that the plague may be removed from the people.”

1 Chronicles 21:23 Ornan told David, “You can have it! My master, the king, may do what he wants. Look, I am giving you the oxen for burnt sacrifices, the threshing sledges for wood, and the wheat for an offering. I give it all to you.”

1 Chronicles 21:24 King David replied to Ornan, “No, I insist on buying it for top price. I will not offer to the LORD what belongs to you or offer a burnt sacrifice that cost me nothing.

1 Chronicles 21:25 So David bought the place from Ornan for 600 pieces of gold.

1 Chronicles 21:26 David built there an altar to the LORD and offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings. He called out to the LORD, and the LORD responded by sending fire from the sky and consuming the burnt sacrifice on the altar.

1 Chronicles 21:27 The LORD ordered the messenger to put his sword back into its sheath.

1 Chronicles 21:28 At that time, when David saw that the LORD responded to him at the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, he sacrificed there.

1 Chronicles 21:29 Now the LORD’s tabernacle (which Moses had made in the wilderness) and the altar for burnt sacrifices were at that time at the worship center in Gibeon.

1 Chronicles 21:30 But David could not go before it to seek God’s will, for he was afraid of the sword of the LORD’s messenger.

1 Chronicles 22:1 David then said, “This is the place where the temple of the LORD God will be, along with the altar for burnt sacrifices for Israel.”

1 Chronicles 22:2 David ordered the resident foreigners in the land of Israel to be called together. He appointed some of them to be stonecutters to chisel stones for the building of God’s temple.

1 Chronicles 22:3 David supplied a large amount of iron for the nails of the doors of the gates and for braces, more bronze than could be weighed,

1 Chronicles 22:4 and more cedar logs than could be counted. (The Sidonians and Tyrians had brought a large amount of cedar logs to David.)

1 Chronicles 22:5 David said, “My son Solomon is just an inexperienced young man, and the temple to be built for the LORD must be especially magnificent so it will become famous and be considered splendid by all the nations. Therefore I will make preparations for its construction.” So David made extensive preparations before he died.

1 Chronicles 22:6 He summoned his son Solomon and charged him to build a temple for the LORD God of Israel.

1 Chronicles 22:7 David said to Solomon: “My son, I really wanted to build a temple to honor the LORD my God.

1 Chronicles 22:8 But the LORD said to me: ‘You have spilled a great deal of blood and fought many battles. You must not build a temple to honor me, for you have spilled a great deal of blood on the ground before me.

1 Chronicles 22:9 Look, you will have a son, who will be a peaceful man. I will give him rest from all his enemies on every side. Indeed, Solomon will be his name; I will give Israel peace and quiet during his reign.

1 Chronicles 22:10 He will build a temple to honor me; he will become my son, and I will become his father. I will grant to his dynasty permanent rule over Israel.’

1 Chronicles 22:11 “Now, my son, may the LORD be with you! May you succeed and build a temple for the LORD your God, just as he announced you would.

1 Chronicles 22:12 Only may the LORD give you insight and understanding when he places you in charge of Israel, so you may obey the law of the LORD your God.

1 Chronicles 22:13 Then you will succeed, if you carefully obey the rules and regulations which the LORD ordered Moses to give to Israel. Be strong and brave! Don't be afraid and don't panic!

1 Chronicles 22:14 Now, look, I have made every effort to supply what is needed to build the LORD's temple. I have stored up 100,000 talents of gold, 1,000,000 talents of silver, and so much bronze and iron it cannot be weighed, as well as wood and stones. Feel free to add more!

1 Chronicles 22:15 You also have available many workers, including stonecutters, masons, carpenters, and an innumerable array of workers who are skilled

1 Chronicles 22:16 in using gold, silver, bronze, and iron. Get up and begin the work! May the LORD be with you!"

1 Chronicles 22:17 David ordered all the officials of Israel to support his son Solomon.

1 Chronicles 22:18 He told them, "The LORD your God is with you! He has made you secure on every side, for he handed over to me the inhabitants of the region and the region is subdued before the LORD and his people.

1 Chronicles 22:19 Now seek the LORD your God wholeheartedly and with your entire being! Get up and build the sanctuary of the LORD God! Then you can bring the ark of the LORD's covenant and the holy items dedicated to God's service into the temple that is built to honor the LORD."

1 Chronicles 23:1 When David was old and approaching the end of his life, he made his son Solomon king over Israel.

1 Chronicles 23:2 David assembled all the leaders of Israel, along with the priests and the Levites.

1 Chronicles 23:3 The Levites who were thirty years old and up were counted; there were 38,000 men.

1 Chronicles 23:4 David said, "Of these, 24,000 are to direct the work of the LORD's temple; 6,000 are to be officials and judges;

1 Chronicles 23:5 4,000 are to be gatekeepers; and 4,000 are to praise the LORD with the instruments I supplied for worship."

1 Chronicles 23:6 David divided them into groups corresponding to the sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

1 Chronicles 23:7 The Gershonites included Ladan and Shimei.

1 Chronicles 23:8 The sons of Ladan: Jehiel the oldest, Zetham, and Joel– three in all.

1 Chronicles 23:9 The sons of Shimei: Shelomoth, Haziel, and Haran– three in all. These were the leaders of the family of Ladan.

1 Chronicles 23:10 The sons of Shimei: Jahath, Zina, Jeush, and Beriah. These were Shimei's sons– four in all.

1 Chronicles 23:11 Jahath was the oldest and Zizah the second oldest. Jeush and Beriah did not have many sons, so they were considered one family with one responsibility.

1 Chronicles 23:12 The sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel– four in all.

1 Chronicles 23:13 The sons of Amram: Aaron and Moses. Aaron and his descendants were chosen on a permanent basis to consecrate the most holy items, to offer sacrifices before the LORD, to serve him, and to praise his name.

1 Chronicles 23:14 The descendants of Moses the man of God were considered Levites.

1 Chronicles 23:15 The sons of Moses: Gershom and Eliezer.

1 Chronicles 23:16 The son of Gershom: Shebuel the oldest.

1 Chronicles 23:17 The son of Eliezer was Rehabiah, the oldest. Eliezer had no other sons, but Rehabiah had many descendants.

1 Chronicles 23:18 The son of Izhar: Shelomith the oldest.

1 Chronicles 23:19 The sons of Hebron: Jeriah the oldest, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

1 Chronicles 23:20 The sons of Uzziel: Micah the oldest, and Isshiah the second.

1 Chronicles 23:21 The sons of Merari: Mahli and Mushi. The sons of Mahli: Eleazar and Kish.

1 Chronicles 23:22 Eleazar died without having sons; he had only daughters. The sons of Kish, their cousins, married them.

1 Chronicles 23:23 The sons of Mushi: Mahli, Eder, and Jeremoth– three in all.

1 Chronicles 23:24 These were the descendants of Levi according to their families, that is, the leaders of families as counted and individually listed who carried out assigned tasks in the LORD’s temple and were twenty years old and up.

1 Chronicles 23:25 For David said, “The LORD God of Israel has given his people rest and has permanently settled in Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 23:26 So the Levites no longer need to carry the tabernacle or any of the items used in its service.”

1 Chronicles 23:27 According to David’s final instructions, the Levites twenty years old and up were counted.

1 Chronicles 23:28 Their job was to help Aaron’s descendants in the service of the LORD’s temple. They were to take care of the courtyards, the rooms, ceremonial purification of all holy items, and other jobs related to the service of God’s temple.

1 Chronicles 23:29 They also took care of the bread that is displayed, the flour for offerings, the unleavened wafers, the round cakes, the mixing, and all the measuring.

1 Chronicles 23:30 They also stood in a designated place every morning and offered thanks and praise to the LORD. They also did this in the evening

1 Chronicles 23:31 and whenever burnt sacrifices were offered to the LORD on the Sabbath and at new moon festivals and assemblies. A designated number were to serve before the LORD regularly in accordance with regulations.

1 Chronicles 23:32 They were in charge of the meeting tent and the holy place, and helped their relatives, the descendants of Aaron, in the service of the LORD's temple.

1 Chronicles 24:1 The divisions of Aaron's descendants were as follows: The sons of Aaron: Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

1 Chronicles 24:2 Nadab and Abihu died before their father did; they had no sons. Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests.

1 Chronicles 24:3 David, Zadok (a descendant of Eleazar), and Ahimelech (a descendant of Ithamar) divided them into groups to carry out their assigned responsibilities.

1 Chronicles 24:4 The descendants of Eleazar had more leaders than the descendants of Ithamar, so they divided them up accordingly; the descendants of Eleazar had sixteen leaders, while the descendants of Ithamar had eight.

1 Chronicles 24:5 They divided them by lots, for there were officials of the holy place and officials designated by God among the descendants of both Eleazar and Ithamar.

1 Chronicles 24:6 The scribe Shemaiah son of Nethanel, a Levite, wrote down their names before the king, the officials, Zadok the priest, Ahimelech son of Abiathar, and the leaders of the priestly and Levite families. One family was drawn by lot from Eleazar, and then the next from Ithamar.

1 Chronicles 24:7 The first lot went to Jehoiarib, the second to Jedaiah,

1 Chronicles 24:8 the third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

1 Chronicles 24:9 the fifth to Malkijah, the sixth to Mijamin,

1 Chronicles 24:10 the seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,

1 Chronicles 24:11 the ninth to Jeshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

1 Chronicles 24:12 the eleventh to Eliashib, the twelfth to Jakim,

1 Chronicles 24:13 the thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeshebeab,

1 Chronicles 24:14 the fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

1 Chronicles 24:15 the seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Happizzez,

1 Chronicles 24:16 the nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezkel,

1 Chronicles 24:17 the twenty-first to Jakin, the twenty-second to Gamul,

1 Chronicles 24:18 the twenty-third to Delaiah, the twenty-fourth to Maaziah.

1 Chronicles 24:19 This was the order in which they carried out their assigned responsibilities when they entered the LORD's temple, according to the regulations given them by their ancestor Aaron, just as the LORD God of Israel had instructed him.

1 Chronicles 24:20 The rest of the Levites included: Shubael from the sons of Amram, Jehdeiah from the sons of Shubael,

1 Chronicles 24:21 the firstborn Isshiah from Rehabiah and the sons of Rehabiah,

1 Chronicles 24:22 Shelomoth from the Izharites, Jahath from the sons of Shelomoth.

1 Chronicles 24:23 The sons of Hebron: Jeriah, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

1 Chronicles 24:24 The son of Uzziel: Micah; Shamir from the sons of Micah.

1 Chronicles 24:25 The brother of Micah: Isshiah. Zechariah from the sons of Isshiah.

1 Chronicles 24:26 The sons of Merari: Mahli and Mushi. The son of Jaaziah: Beno.

1 Chronicles 24:27 The sons of Merari, from Jaaziah: Beno, Shoham, Zaccur, and Ibri.

1 Chronicles 24:28 From Mahli: Eleazar, who had no sons.

1 Chronicles 24:29 From Kish: Jerahmeel.

1 Chronicles 24:30 The sons of Mushi: Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the Levites, listed by their families.

1 Chronicles 24:31 Just like their relatives, the descendants of Aaron, they also cast lots before King David, Zadok, Ahimelech, the leaders of families, the priests, and the Levites. The families of the oldest son cast lots along with the those of the youngest.

1 Chronicles 25:1 David and the army officers selected some of the sons of Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun to prophesy as they played stringed instruments and cymbals. The following men were assigned this responsibility:

1 Chronicles 25:2 From the sons of Asaph: Zaccur, Joseph, Nethaniah, and Asarelah. The sons of Asaph were supervised by Asaph, who prophesied under the king’s supervision.

1 Chronicles 25:3 From the sons of Jeduthun: Gedaliah, Zeri, Jeshaiah, Hashabiah, and Mattithiah– six in all, under supervision of their father Jeduthun, who prophesied as he played a harp, giving thanks and praise to the LORD.

1 Chronicles 25:4 From the sons of Heman: Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel, Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, Romamti-Ezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

1 Chronicles 25:5 All these were the sons of Heman, the king’s prophet. God had promised him these sons in order to make him prestigious. God gave Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.

1 Chronicles 25:6 All of these were under the supervision of their fathers; they were musicians in the LORD’s temple, playing cymbals and stringed instruments as they served in God’s temple. Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman were under the supervision of the king.

1 Chronicles 25:7 They and their relatives, all of them skilled and trained to make music to the LORD, numbered two hundred eighty-eight.

1 Chronicles 25:8 They cast lots to determine their responsibilities– oldest as well as youngest, teacher as well as student.

1 Chronicles 25:9 The first lot went to Asaph’s son Joseph and his relatives and sons– twelve in all, the second to Gedaliah and his relatives and sons– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:10 the third to Zaccur and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:11 the fourth to Izri and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:12 the fifth to Nethaniah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:13 the sixth to Bukkiah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:14 the seventh to Jesharelah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:15 the eighth to Jeshaiah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:16 the ninth to Mattaniah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:17 the tenth to Shimei and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:18 the eleventh to Azarel and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:19 the twelfth to Hashabiah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:20 the thirteenth to Shubael and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:21 the fourteenth to Mattithiah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:22 the fifteenth to Jerimoth and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:23 the sixteenth to Hananiah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:24 the seventeenth to Joshbekashah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:25 the eighteenth to Hanani and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:26 the nineteenth to Mallothi and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:27 the twentieth to Eliathah and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:28 the twenty-first to Hothir and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:29 the twenty-second to Giddalti and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:30 the twenty-third to Mahazioth and his sons and relatives– twelve in all,

1 Chronicles 25:31 the twenty-fourth to Romamti-Ezer and his sons and relatives– twelve in all.

1 Chronicles 26:1 The divisions of the gatekeepers: From the Korahites: Meshelemiah, son of Kore, one of the sons of Asaph.

1 Chronicles 26:2 Meshelemiah’s sons: The firstborn Zechariah, the second Jediael, the third Zebadiah, the fourth Jathniel,

1 Chronicles 26:3 the fifth Elam, the sixth Jehohanan, and the seventh Elihoenai.

1 Chronicles 26:4 Obed-Edom’s sons: The firstborn Shemaiah, the second Jehozabad, the third Joah, the fourth Sakar, the fifth Nethanel,

1 Chronicles 26:5 the sixth Ammiel, the seventh Issachar, and the eighth Peullethai. (Indeed, God blessed Obed-Edom.)

1 Chronicles 26:6 His son Shemaiah also had sons, who were leaders of their families, for they were highly respected.

1 Chronicles 26:7 The sons of Shemaiah: Othni, Rephael, Obed, and Elzabad. His relatives Elihu and Semakiah were also respected.

1 Chronicles 26:8 All these were the descendants of Obed-Edom. They and their sons and relatives were respected men, capable of doing their responsibilities. There were sixty-two of them related to Obed-Edom.

1 Chronicles 26:9 Meshelemiah had sons and relatives who were respected– eighteen in all.

1 Chronicles 26:10 Hosah, one of the descendants of Merari, had sons: The firstborn Shimri (he was not actually the firstborn, but his father gave him that status),

1 Chronicles 26:11 the second Hilkiah, the third Tebaliah, and the fourth Zechariah. All of Hosah's sons and relatives numbered thirteen.

1 Chronicles 26:12 These divisions of the gatekeepers, corresponding to their leaders, had assigned responsibilities, like their relatives, as they served in the LORD's temple.

1 Chronicles 26:13 They cast lots, both young and old, according to their families, to determine which gate they would be responsible for.

1 Chronicles 26:14 The lot for the east gate went to Shelemiah. They then cast lots for his son Zechariah, a wise adviser, and the lot for the north gate went to him.

1 Chronicles 26:15 Obed-Edom was assigned the south gate, and his sons were assigned the storehouses.

1 Chronicles 26:16 Shuppim and Hosah were assigned the west gate, along with the Shalleketh gate on the upper road. One guard was adjacent to another.

1 Chronicles 26:17 Each day there were six Levites posted on the east, four on the north, and four on the south. At the storehouses they were posted in pairs.

1 Chronicles 26:18 At the court on the west there were four posted on the road and two at the court.

1 Chronicles 26:19 These were the divisions of the gatekeepers who were descendants of Korah and Merari.

1 Chronicles 26:20 Their fellow Levites were in charge of the storehouses in God's temple and the storehouses containing consecrated items.

1 Chronicles 26:21 The descendants of Ladan, who were descended from Gershon through Ladan and were leaders of the families of Ladan the Gershonite, included Jehieli

1 Chronicles 26:22 and the sons of Jehieli, Zetham and his brother Joel. They were in charge of the storehouses in the LORD's temple.

1 Chronicles 26:23 As for the Amramites, Izharites, Hebronites, and Uzzielites:

1 Chronicles 26:24 Shebuel son of Gershom, the son of Moses, was the supervisor of the storehouses.

1 Chronicles 26:25 His relatives through Eliezer included: Rehabiah his son, Jeshaiah his son, Joram his son, Zikri his son, and Shelomith his son.

1 Chronicles 26:26 Shelomith and his relatives were in charge of all the storehouses containing the consecrated items dedicated by King David, the family leaders who led units of a thousand and a hundred, and the army officers.

1 Chronicles 26:27 They had dedicated some of the plunder taken in battles to be used for repairs on the LORD's temple.

1 Chronicles 26:28 They were also in charge of everything dedicated by Samuel the prophet, Saul son of Kish, Abner son of Ner, and Joab son of Zeruiah; Shelomith and his relatives were in charge of everything that had been dedicated.

1 Chronicles 26:29 As for the Izharites: Kenaniah and his sons were given responsibilities outside the temple as officers and judges over Israel.

1 Chronicles 26:30 As for the Hebronites: Hashabiah and his relatives, 1,700 respected men, were assigned responsibilities in Israel west of the Jordan; they did the LORD's work and the king's service.

1 Chronicles 26:31 As for the Hebronites: Jeriah was the leader of the Hebronites according to the genealogical records. In the fortieth year of David's reign, they examined the records and discovered there were highly respected men in Jazer in Gilead.

1 Chronicles 26:32 Jeriah had 2,700 relatives who were respected family leaders. King David placed them in charge of the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh; they took care of all matters pertaining to God and the king.

1 Chronicles 27:1 What follows is a list of Israelite family leaders and commanders of units of a thousand and a hundred, as well as their officers who served the king in various matters. Each division was assigned to serve for one month during the year; each consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:2 Jashobeam son of Zabdiel was in charge of the first division, which was assigned the first month. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:3 He was a descendant of Perez; he was in charge of all the army officers for the first month.

1 Chronicles 27:4 Dodai the Ahohite was in charge of the division assigned the second month; Mikloth was the next in rank. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:5 The third army commander, assigned the third month, was Benaiah son of Jehoiada the priest. He was the leader of his division, which consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:6 Benaiah was the leader of the thirty warriors and his division; his son was Ammizabad.

1 Chronicles 27:7 The fourth, assigned the fourth month, was Asahel, brother of Joab; his son Zebadiah succeeded him. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:8 The fifth, assigned the fifth month, was the commander Shamhuth the Izrahite. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:9 The sixth, assigned the sixth month, was Ira son of Ikkesh the Tekoite. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:10 The seventh, assigned the seventh month, was Helez the Pelonite, an Ephraimite. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:11 The eighth, assigned the eighth month, was Sibbekai the Hushathite, a Zerahite. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:12 The ninth, assigned the ninth month, was Abiezer the Anathothite, a Benjaminite. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:13 The tenth, assigned the tenth month, was Maharai the Netophathite, a Zerahite. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:14 The eleventh, assigned the eleventh month, was Benaiah the Pirathonite, an Ephraimite. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:15 The twelfth, assigned the twelfth month, was Heldai the Netophathite, a descendant of Othniel. His division consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:16 The officers of the Israelite tribes: Eliezer son of Zikri was the leader of the Reubenites, Shephatiah son of Maacah led the Simeonites,

1 Chronicles 27:17 Hashabiah son of Kemuel led the Levites, Zadok led the descendants of Aaron,

1 Chronicles 27:18 Elihu, a brother of David, led Judah, Omri son of Michael led Issachar,

1 Chronicles 27:19 Ishmaiah son of Obadiah led Zebulun, Jerimoth son of Azriel led Naphtali,

1 Chronicles 27:20 Hoshea son of Azaziah led the Ephraimites, Joel son of Pedaiah led the half-tribe of Manasseh,

1 Chronicles 27:21 Iddo son of Zechariah led the half-tribe of Manasseh in Gilead, Jaasiel son of Abner led Benjamin,

1 Chronicles 27:22 Azarel son of Jeroham led Dan. These were the commanders of the Israelite tribes.

1 Chronicles 27:23 David did not count the males twenty years old and under, for the LORD had promised to make Israel as numerous as the stars in the sky.

1 Chronicles 27:24 Joab son of Zeruiah started to count the men but did not finish. God was angry with Israel because of this, so the number was not recorded in the scroll called The Annals of King David.

1 Chronicles 27:25 Azmaveth son of Adiel was in charge of the king's storehouses; Jonathan son of Uzziah was in charge of the storehouses in the field, in the cities, in the towns, and in the towers.

1 Chronicles 27:26 Ezri son of Kelub was in charge of the field workers who farmed the land.

1 Chronicles 27:27 Shimei the Ramathite was in charge of the vineyards; Zabdi the Shiphmite was in charge of the wine stored in the vineyards.

1 Chronicles 27:28 Baal-Hanan the Gederite was in charge of the olive and sycamore trees in the lowlands; Joash was in charge of the storehouses of olive oil.

1 Chronicles 27:29 Shitrai the Sharonite was in charge of the cattle grazing in Sharon; Shaphat son of Adlai was in charge of the cattle in the valleys.

1 Chronicles 27:30 Obil the Ishmaelite was in charge of the camels; Jehdeiah the Meronothite was in charge of the donkeys.

1 Chronicles 27:31 Jaziz the Hagrite was in charge of the sheep. All these were the officials in charge of King David's property.

1 Chronicles 27:32 Jonathan, David's uncle, was a wise adviser and scribe; Jehiel son of Hacmoni cared for the king's sons.

1 Chronicles 27:33 Ahithophel was the king's adviser; Hushai the Arkite was the king's confidant.

1 Chronicles 27:34 Ahithophel was succeeded by Jehoiada son of Benaiah and by Abiathar. Joab was the commanding general of the king's army.

1 Chronicles 28:1 David assembled in Jerusalem all the officials of Israel, including the commanders of the tribes, the commanders of the army divisions that served the king, the commanders of units of a thousand and a hundred, the officials who were in charge of all the property and livestock of the king and his sons, the eunuchs, and the warriors, including the most skilled of them.

1 Chronicles 28:2 King David rose to his feet and said: “Listen to me, my brothers and my people. I wanted to build a temple where the ark of the LORD’s covenant could be placed as a footstool for our God. I have made the preparations for building it.

1 Chronicles 28:3 But God said to me, ‘You must not build a temple to honor me, for you are a warrior and have spilled blood.’

1 Chronicles 28:4 The LORD God of Israel chose me out of my father’s entire family to become king over Israel and have a permanent dynasty. Indeed, he chose Judah as leader, and my father’s family within Judah, and then he picked me out from among my father’s sons and made me king over all Israel.

1 Chronicles 28:5 From all the many sons the LORD has given me, he chose Solomon my son to rule on his behalf over Israel.

1 Chronicles 28:6 He said to me, ‘Solomon your son is the one who will build my temple and my courts, for I have chosen him to become my son and I will become his father.

1 Chronicles 28:7 I will establish his kingdom permanently, if he remains committed to obeying my commands and regulations, as you are doing this day.’

1 Chronicles 28:8 So now, in the sight of all Israel, the LORD’s assembly, and in the hearing of our God, I say this: Carefully observe all the commands of the LORD your God, so that you may possess this good land and may leave it as a permanent inheritance for your children after you.

1 Chronicles 28:9 “And you, Solomon my son, obey the God of your father and serve him with a submissive attitude and a willing spirit, for the LORD examines all minds and understands every motive of one’s thoughts. If you seek him, he will let you find him, but if you abandon him, he will reject you permanently.

1 Chronicles 28:10 Realize now that the LORD has chosen you to build a temple as his sanctuary. Be strong and do it!”

1 Chronicles 28:11 David gave to his son Solomon the blueprints for the temple porch, its buildings, its treasuries, its upper areas, its inner rooms, and the room for atonement.

1 Chronicles 28:12 He gave him the blueprints of all he envisioned for the courts of the LORD’s temple, all the surrounding rooms, the storehouses of God’s temple, and the storehouses for the holy items.

1 Chronicles 28:13 He gave him the regulations for the divisions of priests and Levites, for all the assigned responsibilities within the LORD’s temple, and for all the items used in the service of the LORD’s temple.

1 Chronicles 28:14 He gave him the prescribed weight for all the gold items to be used in various types of service in the LORD's temple, for all the silver items to be used in various types of service,

1 Chronicles 28:15 for the gold lampstands and their gold lamps, including the weight of each lampstand and its lamps, for the silver lampstands, including the weight of each lampstand and its lamps, according to the prescribed use of each lampstand,

1 Chronicles 28:16 for the gold used in the display tables, including the amount to be used in each table, for the silver to be used in the silver tables,

1 Chronicles 28:17 for the pure gold used for the meat forks, bowls, and jars, for the small gold bowls, including the weight for each bowl, for the small silver bowls, including the weight for each bowl,

1 Chronicles 28:18 and for the refined gold of the incense altar. He gave him the blueprint for the seat of the gold cherubim that spread their wings and provide shelter for the ark of the LORD's covenant.

1 Chronicles 28:19 David said, "All of this I put in writing as the LORD directed me and gave me insight regarding the details of the blueprints."

1 Chronicles 28:20 David said to his son Solomon: "Be strong and brave! Do it! Don't be afraid and don't panic! For the LORD God, my God, is with you. He will not leave you or abandon you before all the work for the service of the LORD's temple is finished.

1 Chronicles 28:21 Here are the divisions of the priests and Levites who will perform all the service of God's temple. All the willing and skilled men are ready to assist you in all the work and perform their service. The officials and all the people are ready to follow your instructions."

1 Chronicles 29:1 King David said to the entire assembly: "My son Solomon, the one whom God has chosen, is just an inexperienced young man, and the task is great, for this palace is not for man, but for the LORD God.

1 Chronicles 29:2 So I have made every effort to provide what is needed for the temple of my God, including the gold, silver, bronze, iron, wood, as well as a large amount of onyx, settings of antimony and other stones, all kinds of precious stones, and alabaster.

1 Chronicles 29:3 Now, to show my commitment to the temple of my God, I donate my personal treasure of gold and silver to the temple of my God, in addition to all that I have already supplied for this holy temple.

1 Chronicles 29:4 This includes 3,000 talents of gold from Ophir and 7,000 talents of refined silver for overlaying the walls of the buildings,

1 Chronicles 29:5 for gold and silver items, and for all the work of the craftsmen. Who else wants to contribute to the LORD today?"

1 Chronicles 29:6 The leaders of the families, the leaders of the Israelite tribes, the commanders of units of a thousand and a hundred, and the supervisors of the king’s work contributed willingly.

1 Chronicles 29:7 They donated for the service of God’s temple 5,000 talents and ten thousand darics of gold, 10,000 talents of silver, 18,000 talents of bronze, and 100,000 talents of iron.

1 Chronicles 29:8 All who possessed precious stones donated them to the treasury of the LORD’s temple, which was under the supervision of Jehiel the Gershonite.

1 Chronicles 29:9 The people were delighted with their donations, for they contributed to the LORD with a willing attitude; King David was also very happy.

1 Chronicles 29:10 David praised the LORD before the entire assembly: “O LORD God of our father Israel, you deserve praise forevermore!

1 Chronicles 29:11 O LORD, you are great, mighty, majestic, magnificent, glorious, and sovereign over all the sky and earth! You have dominion and exalt yourself as the ruler of all.

1 Chronicles 29:12 You are the source of wealth and honor; you rule over all. You possess strength and might to magnify and give strength to all.

1 Chronicles 29:13 Now, our God, we give thanks to you and praise your majestic name!

1 Chronicles 29:14 “But who am I and who are my people, that we should be in a position to contribute this much? Indeed, everything comes from you, and we have simply given back to you what is yours.

1 Chronicles 29:15 For we are resident foreigners and nomads in your presence, like all our ancestors; our days are like a shadow on the earth, without security.

1 Chronicles 29:16 O LORD our God, all this wealth, which we have collected to build a temple for you to honor your holy name, comes from you; it all belongs to you.

1 Chronicles 29:17 I know, my God, that you examine thoughts and are pleased with integrity. With pure motives I contribute all this; and now I look with joy as your people who have gathered here contribute to you.

1 Chronicles 29:18 O LORD God of our ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, maintain the motives of your people and keep them devoted to you.

1 Chronicles 29:19 Make my son Solomon willing to obey your commands, rules, and regulations, and to complete building the palace for which I have made preparations.”

1 Chronicles 29:20 David told the entire assembly: “Praise the LORD your God!” So the entire assembly praised the LORD God of their ancestors; they bowed down and stretched out flat on the ground before the LORD and the king.

1 Chronicles 29:21 The next day they made sacrifices and offered burnt sacrifices to the LORD

1 Chronicles 29:22 They held a feast before the LORD that day and celebrated. Then they designated Solomon, David’s son, as king a second time; before the LORD they anointed him as ruler and Zadok as priest.

1 Chronicles 29:23 Solomon sat on the LORD’s throne as king in place of his father David; he was successful and all Israel was loyal to him.

1 Chronicles 29:24 All the officers and warriors, as well as all of King David’s sons, pledged their allegiance to King Solomon.

1 Chronicles 29:25 The LORD greatly magnified Solomon before all Israel and bestowed on him greater majesty than any king of Israel before him.

1 Chronicles 29:26 David son of Jesse reigned over all Israel.

1 Chronicles 29:27 He reigned over Israel forty years; he reigned in Hebron seven years and in Jerusalem thirty-three years.

1 Chronicles 29:28 He died at a good old age, having enjoyed long life, wealth, and honor. His son Solomon succeeded him.

1 Chronicles 29:29 King David’s accomplishments, from start to finish, are recorded in the Annals of Samuel the prophet, the Annals of Nathan the prophet, and the Annals of Gad the prophet.

1 Chronicles 29:30 Recorded there are all the facts about his reign and accomplishments, and an account of the events that involved him, Israel, and all the neighboring kingdoms.

2 Chronicles

1:1 Solomon son of David solidified his royal authority, for the LORD his God was with him and magnified him greatly.

2 Chronicles 1:2 Solomon addressed all Israel, including those who commanded units of a thousand and a hundred, the judges, and all the leaders of all Israel who were heads of families.

2 Chronicles 1:3 Solomon and the entire assembly went to the worship center in Gibeon, for the tent where they met God was located there, which Moses the LORD’s servant had made in the wilderness.

2 Chronicles 1:4 (Now David had brought up the ark of God from Kiriath Jearim to the place he had prepared for it, for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 1:5 But the bronze altar made by Bezalel son of Uri, son of Hur, was in front of the LORD’s tabernacle. Solomon and the entire assembly prayed to him there.)

2 Chronicles 1:6 Solomon went up to the bronze altar before the LORD which was at the meeting tent, and he offered up a thousand burnt sacrifices.

2 Chronicles 1:7 That night God appeared to Solomon and said to him, “Tell me what I should give you.”

2 Chronicles 1:8 Solomon replied to God, “You demonstrated great loyalty to my father David and have made me king in his place.

2 Chronicles 1:9 Now, LORD God, may your promise to my father David be realized, for you have made me king over a great nation as numerous as the dust of the earth.

2 Chronicles 1:10 Now give me wisdom and discernment so I can effectively lead this nation. Otherwise no one is able to make judicial decisions for this great nation of yours.”

2 Chronicles 1:11 God said to Solomon, “Because you desire this, and did not ask for riches, wealth, and honor, or for vengeance on your enemies, and because you did not ask for long life, but requested wisdom and discernment so you can make judicial decisions for my people over whom I have made you king,

2 Chronicles 1:12 you are granted wisdom and discernment. Furthermore I am giving you riches, wealth, and honor surpassing that of any king before or after you.”

2 Chronicles 1:13 Solomon left the meeting tent at the worship center in Gibeon and went to Jerusalem, where he reigned over Israel.

2 Chronicles 1:14 Solomon accumulated chariots and horses. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horses. He kept them in assigned cities and in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 1:15 The king made silver and gold as plentiful in Jerusalem as stones; cedar was as plentiful as sycamore fig trees are in the lowlands.

2 Chronicles 1:16 Solomon acquired his horses from Egypt and from Que; the king’s traders purchased them from Que.

2 Chronicles 1:17 They paid 600 silver pieces for each chariot from Egypt, and 150 silver pieces for each horse. They also sold chariots and horses to all the kings of the Hittites and to the kings of Syria.

2 Chronicles 2:1 Solomon ordered a temple to be built to honor the LORD, as well as a royal palace for himself.

2 Chronicles 2:2 Solomon had 70,000 common laborers and 80,000 stonecutters in the hills, in addition to 3,600 supervisors.

2 Chronicles 2:3 Solomon sent a message to King Huram of Tyre: “Help me as you did my father David, when you sent him cedar logs for the construction of his palace.

2 Chronicles 2:4 Look, I am ready to build a temple to honor the LORD my God and to dedicate it to him in order to burn fragrant incense before him, to set out the bread that is regularly displayed, and to offer burnt sacrifices each morning and evening, and on Sabbaths, new moon festivals, and at other times appointed by the LORD our God. This is something Israel must do on a permanent basis.

2 Chronicles 2:5 I will build a great temple, for our God is greater than all gods.

2 Chronicles 2:6 Of course, who can really build a temple for him, since the sky and the highest heavens cannot contain him? Who am I that I should build him a temple! It will really be only a place to offer sacrifices before him.

2 Chronicles 2:7 “Now send me a man who is skilled in working with gold, silver, bronze, and iron, as well as purple, crimson, and violet colored fabrics, and who knows how to engrave. He will work with my skilled craftsmen here in Jerusalem and Judah, whom my father David provided.

2 Chronicles 2:8 Send me cedars, evergreens, and algum trees from Lebanon, for I know your servants are adept at cutting down trees in Lebanon. My servants will work with your servants

2 Chronicles 2:9 to supply me with large quantities of timber, for I am building a great, magnificent temple.

2 Chronicles 2:10 Look, I will pay your servants who cut the timber 20,000 kors of ground wheat, 20,000 kors of barley, 120,000 gallons of wine, and 120,000 gallons of olive oil.”

2 Chronicles 2:11 King Huram of Tyre sent this letter to Solomon: “Because the LORD loves his people, he has made you their king.”

2 Chronicles 2:12 Huram also said, “Worthy of praise is the LORD God of Israel, who made the sky and the earth! He has given David a wise son who has discernment and insight and will build a temple for the LORD, as well as a royal palace for himself.

2 Chronicles 2:13 Now I am sending you Huram Abi, a skilled and capable man,

2 Chronicles 2:14 whose mother is a Danite and whose father is a Tyrian. He knows how to work with gold, silver, bronze, iron, stones, and wood, as well as purple, violet, white, and crimson fabrics. He knows how to do all kinds of engraving and understands any design given to him. He will work with your skilled craftsmen and the skilled craftsmen of my lord David your father.

2 Chronicles 2:15 Now let my lord send to his servants the wheat, barley, olive oil, and wine he has promised;

2 Chronicles 2:16 we will get all the timber you need from Lebanon and bring it in raft-like bundles by sea to Joppa. You can then haul it on up to Jerusalem."

2 Chronicles 2:17 Solomon took a census of all the male resident foreigners in the land of Israel, after the census his father David had taken. There were 153,600 in all.

2 Chronicles 2:18 He designated 70,000 as common laborers, 80,000 as stonecutters in the hills, and 3,600 as supervisors to make sure the people completed the work.

2 Chronicles 3:1 Solomon began building the LORD's temple in Jerusalem on Mount Moriah, where the LORD had appeared to his father David. This was the place that David prepared at the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

2 Chronicles 3:2 He began building on the second day of the second month of the fourth year of his reign.

2 Chronicles 3:3 Solomon laid the foundation for God's temple; its length (determined according to the old standard of measure) was 90 feet, and its width 30 feet.

2 Chronicles 3:4 The porch in front of the main hall was 30 feet long, corresponding to the width of the temple, and its height was 30 feet. He plated the inside with pure gold.

2 Chronicles 3:5 He paneled the main hall with boards made from evergreen trees and plated it with fine gold, decorated with palm trees and chains.

2 Chronicles 3:6 He decorated the temple with precious stones; the gold he used came from Parvaim.

2 Chronicles 3:7 He overlaid the temple's rafters, thresholds, walls and doors with gold; he carved decorative cherubim on the walls.

2 Chronicles 3:8 He made the most holy place; its length was 30 feet, corresponding to the width of the temple, and its width 30 feet. He plated it with 600 talents of fine gold.

2 Chronicles 3:9 The gold nails weighed 50 shekels; he also plated the upper areas with gold.

2 Chronicles 3:10 In the most holy place he made two images of cherubim and plated them with gold.

2 Chronicles 3:11 The combined wing span of the cherubs was 30 feet. One of the first cherub's wings was seven and one-half feet long and touched one wall of the temple; its other wing was also seven and one-half feet long and touched one of the second cherub's wings.

2 Chronicles 3:12 Likewise one of the second cherub’s wings was seven and one-half feet long and touched the other wall of the temple; its other wing was also seven and one-half feet long and touched one of the first cherub’s wings.

2 Chronicles 3:13 The combined wingspan of these cherubim was 30 feet. They stood upright, facing inward.

2 Chronicles 3:14 He made the curtain out of violet, purple, crimson, and white fabrics, and embroidered on it decorative cherubim.

2 Chronicles 3:15 In front of the temple he made two pillars which had a combined length of 52½ feet, with each having a plated capital seven and one-half feet high.

2 Chronicles 3:16 He made ornamental chains and put them on top of the pillars. He also made one hundred pomegranate-shaped ornaments and arranged them within the chains.

2 Chronicles 3:17 He set up the pillars in front of the temple, one on the right side and the other on the left. He named the one on the right Jachin, and the one on the left Boaz.

2 Chronicles 4:1 He made a bronze altar, 30 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 15 feet high.

2 Chronicles 4:2 He also made the big bronze basin called “The Sea.” It measured 15 feet from rim to rim, was circular in shape, and stood seven and one-half feet high. Its circumference was 45 feet.

2 Chronicles 4:3 Images of bulls were under it all the way around, ten every eighteen inches all the way around. The bulls were in two rows and had been cast with “The Sea.”

2 Chronicles 4:4 “The Sea” stood on top of twelve bulls. Three faced northward, three westward, three southward, and three eastward. “The Sea” was placed on top of them, and they all faced outward.

2 Chronicles 4:5 It was four fingers thick and its rim was like that of a cup shaped like a lily blossom. It could hold 18,000 gallons.

2 Chronicles 4:6 He made ten washing basins; he put five on the south side and five on the north side. In them they rinsed the items used for burnt sacrifices; the priests washed in “The Sea.”

2 Chronicles 4:7 He made ten gold lampstands according to specifications and put them in the temple, five on the right and five on the left.

2 Chronicles 4:8 He made ten tables and set them in the temple, five on the right and five on the left. He also made one hundred gold bowls.

2 Chronicles 4:9 He made the courtyard of the priests and the large enclosure and its doors; he plated their doors with bronze.

2 Chronicles 4:10 He put “The Sea” on the south side, in the southeast corner.

2 Chronicles 4:11 Huram Abi made the pots, shovels, and bowls. He finished all the work on God’s temple he had been assigned by King Solomon.

2 Chronicles 4:12 He made the two pillars, the two bowl-shaped tops of the pillars, the latticework for the bowl-shaped tops of the two pillars,

2 Chronicles 4:13 the four hundred pomegranate-shaped ornaments for the latticework of the two pillars (each latticework had two rows of these ornaments at the bowl-shaped top of the pillar),

2 Chronicles 4:14 the ten movable stands with their ten basins,

2 Chronicles 4:15 the big bronze basin called “The Sea” with its twelve bulls underneath,

2 Chronicles 4:16 and the pots, shovels, and meat forks. All the items King Solomon assigned Huram Abi to make for the LORD’s temple were made from polished bronze.

2 Chronicles 4:17 The king had them cast in earthen foundries in the region of the Jordan between Succoth and Zarethan.

2 Chronicles 4:18 Solomon made so many of these items they did not weigh the bronze.

2 Chronicles 4:19 Solomon also made these items for God’s temple: the gold altar, the tables on which the Bread of the Presence was kept,

2 Chronicles 4:20 the pure gold lampstands and their lamps which burned as specified at the entrance to the inner sanctuary,

2 Chronicles 4:21 the pure gold flower-shaped ornaments, lamps, and tongs,

2 Chronicles 4:22 the pure gold trimming shears, basins, pans, and censers, and the gold door sockets for the inner sanctuary (the most holy place) and for the doors of the main hall of the temple.

2 Chronicles 5:1 When Solomon had finished constructing the LORD’s temple, he put the holy items that belonged to his father David (the silver, gold, and all the other articles) in the treasuries of God’s temple.

2 Chronicles 5:2 Then Solomon convened Israel’s elders– all the leaders of the Israelite tribes and families– in Jerusalem, so they could witness the transferal of the ark of the covenant of the LORD from the City of David (that is, Zion).

2 Chronicles 5:3 All the men of Israel assembled before the king during the festival in the seventh month.

2 Chronicles 5:4 When all Israel’s elders had arrived, the Levites lifted the ark.

2 Chronicles 5:5 The priests and Levites carried the ark, the tent where God appeared to his people, and all the holy items in the tent.

2 Chronicles 5:6 Now King Solomon and all the Israelites who had assembled with him went on ahead of the ark and sacrificed more sheep and cattle than could be counted or numbered.

2 Chronicles 5:7 The priests brought the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its assigned place in the inner sanctuary of the temple, in the most holy place under the wings of the cherubs.

2 Chronicles 5:8 The cherubs' wings extended over the place where the ark sat; the cherubs overshadowed the ark and its poles.

2 Chronicles 5:9 The poles were so long their ends extending out from the ark were visible from in front of the inner sanctuary, but they could not be seen from beyond that point. They have remained there to this very day.

2 Chronicles 5:10 There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets Moses had placed there in Horeb. (It was there that the LORD made an agreement with the Israelites after he brought them out of the land of Egypt.)

2 Chronicles 5:11 The priests left the holy place. All the priests who participated had consecrated themselves, no matter which division they represented.

2 Chronicles 5:12 All the Levites who were musicians, including Asaph, Heman, Jeduthun, and their sons and relatives, wore linen. They played cymbals and stringed instruments as they stood east of the altar. They were accompanied by 120 priests who blew trumpets.

2 Chronicles 5:13 The trumpeters and musicians played together, praising and giving thanks to the LORD. Accompanied by trumpets, cymbals, and other instruments, they loudly praised the LORD, singing: "Certainly he is good; certainly his loyal love endures!" Then a cloud filled the LORD's temple.

2 Chronicles 5:14 The priests could not carry out their duties because of the cloud; the LORD's splendor filled God's temple.

2 Chronicles 6:1 Then Solomon said, "The LORD has said that he lives in thick darkness.

2 Chronicles 6:2 O LORD, I have built a lofty temple for you, a place where you can live permanently."

2 Chronicles 6:3 Then the king turned around and pronounced a blessing over the whole Israelite assembly as they stood there.

2 Chronicles 6:4 He said, "The LORD God of Israel is worthy of praise because he has fulfilled what he promised my father David.

2 Chronicles 6:5 He told David, 'Since the day I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I have not chosen a city from all the tribes of Israel to build a temple in which to live. Nor did I choose a man as leader of my people Israel.

2 Chronicles 6:6 But now I have chosen Jerusalem as a place to live, and I have chosen David to lead my people Israel.’

2 Chronicles 6:7 Now my father David had a strong desire to build a temple to honor the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 6:8 The LORD told my father David, ‘It is right for you to have a strong desire to build a temple to honor me.

2 Chronicles 6:9 But you will not build the temple; your very own son will build the temple for my honor.’

2 Chronicles 6:10 The LORD has kept the promise he made. I have taken my father David’s place and have occupied the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised. I have built this temple for the honor of the LORD God of Israel

2 Chronicles 6:11 and set up in it a place for the ark containing the covenant the LORD made with the Israelites.”

2 Chronicles 6:12 He stood before the altar of the LORD in front of the entire assembly of Israel and spread out his hands.

2 Chronicles 6:13 Solomon had made a bronze platform and had placed it in the middle of the enclosure. It was seven and one-half feet long, seven and one-half feet wide, and four and one-half feet high. He stood on it and then got down on his knees in front of the entire assembly of Israel. He spread out his hands toward the sky,

2 Chronicles 6:14 and prayed: “O LORD God of Israel, there is no god like you in heaven or on earth! You maintain covenantal loyalty to your servants who obey you with sincerity.

2 Chronicles 6:15 You have kept your word to your servant, my father David; this very day you have fulfilled what you promised.

2 Chronicles 6:16 Now, O LORD God of Israel, keep the promise you made to your servant, my father David, when you said, ‘You will never fail to have a successor ruling before me on the throne of Israel, provided that your descendants watch their step and obey my law as you have done.’

2 Chronicles 6:17 Now, O LORD God of Israel, may the promise you made to your servant David be realized.

2 Chronicles 6:18 “God does not really live with humankind on the earth! Look, if the sky and the highest heaven cannot contain you, how much less this temple I have built!

2 Chronicles 6:19 But respond favorably to your servant’s prayer and his request for help, O LORD my God. Answer the desperate prayer your servant is presenting to you.

2 Chronicles 6:20 Night and day may you watch over this temple, the place where you promised you would live. May you answer your servant’s prayer for this place.

2 Chronicles 6:21 Respond to the requests of your servant and your people Israel for this place. Hear from your heavenly dwelling place and respond favorably and forgive.

2 Chronicles 6:22 “When someone is accused of sinning against his neighbor and the latter pronounces a curse on the alleged offender before your altar in this temple,

2 Chronicles 6:23 listen from heaven and make a just decision about your servants’ claims. Condemn the guilty party, declare the other innocent, and give both of them what they deserve.

2 Chronicles 6:24 “If your people Israel are defeated by an enemy because they sinned against you, then if they come back to you, renew their allegiance to you, and pray for your help before you in this temple,

2 Chronicles 6:25 then listen from heaven, forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land you gave to them and their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 6:26 “The time will come when the skies are shut up tightly and no rain falls because your people sinned against you. When they direct their prayers toward this place, renew their allegiance to you, and turn away from their sin because you punish them,

2 Chronicles 6:27 then listen from heaven and forgive the sin of your servants, your people Israel. Certainly you will then teach them the right way to live and send rain on your land that you have given your people to possess.

2 Chronicles 6:28 “The time will come when the land suffers from a famine, a plague, blight, and disease, or a locust invasion, or when their enemy lays siege to the cities of the land, or when some other type of plague or epidemic occurs.

2 Chronicles 6:29 When all your people Israel pray and ask for help, as they acknowledge their intense pain and spread out their hands toward this temple,

2 Chronicles 6:30 then listen from your heavenly dwelling place, forgive their sin, and act favorably toward each one based on your evaluation of their motives. (Indeed you are the only one who can correctly evaluate the motives of all people.)

2 Chronicles 6:31 Then they will honor you by obeying you throughout their lifetimes as they live on the land you gave to our ancestors.

2 Chronicles 6:32 “Foreigners, who do not belong to your people Israel, will come from a distant land because of your great reputation and your ability to accomplish mighty deeds; they will come and direct their prayers toward this temple.

2 Chronicles 6:33 Then listen from your heavenly dwelling place and answer all the prayers of the foreigners. Then all the nations of the earth will acknowledge your reputation, obey you like your people Israel do, and recognize that this temple I built belongs to you.

2 Chronicles 6:34 “When you direct your people to march out and fight their enemies, and they direct their prayers to you toward this chosen city and this temple I built for your honor,

2 Chronicles 6:35 then listen from heaven to their prayers for help and vindicate them.

2 Chronicles 6:36 “The time will come when your people will sin against you (for there is no one who is sinless!) and you will be angry at them and deliver them over to their enemies, who will take them as prisoners to their land, whether far away or close by.

2 Chronicles 6:37 When your people come to their senses in the land where they are held prisoner, they will repent and beg for your mercy in the land of their imprisonment, admitting, ‘We have sinned and gone astray, we have done evil!’

2 Chronicles 6:38 When they return to you with all their heart and being in the land where they are held prisoner and direct their prayers toward the land you gave to their ancestors, your chosen city, and the temple I built for your honor,

2 Chronicles 6:39 then listen from your heavenly dwelling place to their prayers for help, vindicate them, and forgive your sinful people.

2 Chronicles 6:40 “Now, my God, may you be attentive and responsive to the prayers offered in this place.

2 Chronicles 6:41 Now ascend, O LORD God, to your resting place, you and the ark of your strength! May your priests, O LORD God, experience your deliverance! May your loyal followers rejoice in the prosperity you give!

2 Chronicles 6:42 O LORD God, do not reject your chosen ones! Remember the faithful promises you made to your servant David!”

2 Chronicles 7:1 When Solomon finished praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices, and the LORD’s splendor filled the temple.

2 Chronicles 7:2 The priests were unable to enter the LORD’s temple because the LORD’s splendor filled the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 7:3 When all the Israelites saw the fire come down and the LORD’s splendor over the temple, they got on their knees with their faces downward toward the pavement. They worshiped and gave thanks to the LORD, saying, “Certainly he is good; certainly his loyal love endures!”

2 Chronicles 7:4 The king and all the people were presenting sacrifices to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 7:5 King Solomon sacrificed 22,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep. Then the king and all the people dedicated God’s temple.

2 Chronicles 7:6 The priests stood in their assigned spots, along with the Levites who had the musical instruments used for praising the LORD. (These were the ones King David made for giving thanks to the LORD and which were used by David when he offered praise, saying, “Certainly his loyal love endures.”) Opposite the Levites, the priests were blowing the trumpets, while all Israel stood there.

2 Chronicles 7:7 Solomon consecrated the middle of the courtyard that is in front of the LORD’s temple. He offered burnt sacrifices, grain offerings, and the fat from the peace offerings there, because the bronze altar that Solomon had made was too small to hold all these offerings.

2 Chronicles 7:8 At that time Solomon and all Israel with him celebrated a festival for seven days. This great assembly included people from Lebo Hamath in the north to the Brook of Egypt in the south.

2 Chronicles 7:9 On the eighth day they held an assembly, for they had dedicated the altar for seven days and celebrated the festival for seven more days.

2 Chronicles 7:10 On the twenty-third day of the seventh month, Solomon sent the people home. They left happy and contented because of the good the LORD had done for David, Solomon, and his people Israel.

2 Chronicles 7:11 After Solomon finished building the LORD’s temple and the royal palace, and accomplished all his plans for the LORD’s temple and his royal palace,

2 Chronicles 7:12 the LORD appeared to Solomon at night and said to him: “I have answered your prayer and chosen this place to be my temple where sacrifices are to be made.

2 Chronicles 7:13 When I close up the sky so that it doesn’t rain, or command locusts to devour the land’s vegetation, or send a plague among my people,

2 Chronicles 7:14 if my people, who belong to me, humble themselves, pray, seek to please me, and repudiate their sinful practices, then I will respond from heaven, forgive their sin, and heal their land.

2 Chronicles 7:15 Now I will be attentive and responsive to the prayers offered in this place.

2 Chronicles 7:16 Now I have chosen and consecrated this temple by making it my permanent home; I will be constantly present there.

2 Chronicles 7:17 You must serve me as your father David did. Do everything I commanded and obey my rules and regulations.

2 Chronicles 7:18 Then I will establish your dynasty, just as I promised your father David, ‘You will not fail to have a successor ruling over Israel.’

2 Chronicles 7:19 “But if you people ever turn away from me, fail to obey the regulations and rules I instructed you to keep, and decide to serve and worship other gods,

2 Chronicles 7:20 then I will remove you from my land I have given you, I will abandon this temple I have consecrated with my presence, and I will make you an object of mockery and ridicule among all the nations.

2 Chronicles 7:21 As for this temple, which was once majestic, everyone who passes by it will be shocked and say, 'Why did the LORD do this to this land and this temple?'

2 Chronicles 7:22 Others will then answer, 'Because they abandoned the LORD God of their ancestors, who led them out of Egypt. They embraced other gods whom they worshiped and served. That is why he brought all this disaster down on them.'"

2 Chronicles 8:1 After twenty years, during which Solomon built the LORD's temple and his royal palace,

2 Chronicles 8:2 Solomon rebuilt the cities that Huram had given him and settled Israelites there.

2 Chronicles 8:3 Solomon went to Hamath Zobah and seized it.

2 Chronicles 8:4 He built up Tadmor in the wilderness and all the storage cities he had built in Hamath.

2 Chronicles 8:5 He made upper Beth Horon and lower Beth Horon fortified cities with walls and barred gates,

2 Chronicles 8:6 and built up Baalath, all the storage cities that belonged to him, and all the cities where chariots and horses were kept. He built whatever he wanted in Jerusalem, Lebanon, and throughout his entire kingdom.

2 Chronicles 8:7 Now several non-Israelite peoples were left in the land after the conquest of Joshua, including the Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.

2 Chronicles 8:8 Their descendants remained in the land (the Israelites were unable to wipe them out). Solomon conscripted them for his work crews and they continue in that role to this very day.

2 Chronicles 8:9 Solomon did not assign Israelites to these work crews; the Israelites served as his soldiers, officers, charioteers, and commanders of his chariot forces.

2 Chronicles 8:10 These men worked for Solomon as supervisors; there were a total of 250 of them who were in charge of the people.

2 Chronicles 8:11 Solomon moved Pharaoh's daughter up from the City of David to the palace he had built for her, for he said, "My wife must not live in the palace of King David of Israel, for the places where the ark of the LORD has entered are holy."

2 Chronicles 8:12 Then Solomon offered burnt sacrifices to the LORD on the altar of the LORD which he had built in front of the temple's porch.

2 Chronicles 8:13 He observed the daily requirements for sacrifices that Moses had specified for Sabbaths, new moon festivals, and the three annual celebrations– the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast of Temporary Shelters.

2 Chronicles 8:14 As his father David had decreed, Solomon appointed the divisions of the priests to do their assigned tasks, the Levitical orders to lead worship and help the priests with their daily tasks, and the divisions of the gatekeepers to serve at their assigned gates. This was what David the man of God had ordered.

2 Chronicles 8:15 They did not neglect any detail of the king's orders pertaining to the priests, Levites, and treasuries.

2 Chronicles 8:16 All the work ordered by Solomon was completed, from the day the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid until it was finished; the LORD's temple was completed.

2 Chronicles 8:17 Then Solomon went to Ezion Geber and to Elat on the coast in the land of Edom.

2 Chronicles 8:18 Huram sent him ships and some of his sailors, men who were well acquainted with the sea. They sailed with Solomon's men to Ophir, and took from there 450 talents of gold, which they brought back to King Solomon.

2 Chronicles 9:1 When the queen of Sheba heard about Solomon, she came to challenge him with difficult questions. She arrived in Jerusalem with a great display of pomp, bringing with her camels carrying spices, a very large quantity of gold, and precious gems. She visited Solomon and discussed with him everything that was on her mind.

2 Chronicles 9:2 Solomon answered all her questions; there was no question too complex for the king.

2 Chronicles 9:3 When the queen of Sheba saw for herself Solomon's extensive wisdom, the palace he had built,

2 Chronicles 9:4 the food in his banquet hall, his servants and attendants in their robes, his cupbearers in their robes, and his burnt sacrifices which he presented in the LORD's temple, she was amazed.

2 Chronicles 9:5 She said to the king, "The report I heard in my own country about your wise sayings and insight was true!

2 Chronicles 9:6 I did not believe these things until I came and saw them with my own eyes. Indeed, I didn't hear even half the story! Your wisdom surpasses what was reported to me.

2 Chronicles 9:7 Your attendants, who stand before you at all times and hear your wise sayings, are truly happy!

2 Chronicles 9:8 May the LORD your God be praised because he favored you by placing you on his throne as the one ruling on his behalf! Because of your God's love for Israel and his lasting commitment to them, he made you king over them so you could make just and right decisions.”

2 Chronicles 9:9 She gave the king 120 talents of gold and a very large quantity of spices and precious gems. The quantity of spices the queen of Sheba gave King Solomon has never been matched.

2 Chronicles 9:10 (Huram’s servants, aided by Solomon’s servants, brought gold from Ophir, as well as fine timber and precious gems.

2 Chronicles 9:11 With the timber the king made steps for the LORD’s temple and royal palace as well as stringed instruments for the musicians. No one had seen anything like them in the land of Judah prior to that.)

2 Chronicles 9:12 King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she requested, more than what she had brought him. Then she left and returned to her homeland with her attendants.

2 Chronicles 9:13 Solomon received 666 talents of gold per year,

2 Chronicles 9:14 besides what he collected from the merchants and traders. All the Arabian kings and the governors of the land also brought gold and silver to Solomon.

2 Chronicles 9:15 King Solomon made two hundred large shields of hammered gold; 600 measures of hammered gold were used for each shield.

2 Chronicles 9:16 He also made three hundred small shields of hammered gold; 300 measures of gold were used for each of those shields. The king placed them in the Palace of the Lebanon Forest.

2 Chronicles 9:17 The king made a large throne decorated with ivory and overlaid it with pure gold.

2 Chronicles 9:18 There were six steps leading up to the throne, and a gold footstool was attached to the throne. The throne had two armrests with a statue of a lion standing on each side.

2 Chronicles 9:19 There were twelve statues of lions on the six steps, one lion at each end of each step. There was nothing like it in any other kingdom.

2 Chronicles 9:20 All of King Solomon’s cups were made of gold, and all the household items in the Palace of the Lebanon Forest were made of pure gold. There were no silver items, for silver was not considered very valuable in Solomon’s time.

2 Chronicles 9:21 The king had a fleet of large merchant ships manned by Huram’s men that sailed the sea. Once every three years the fleet came into port with cargoes of gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks.

2 Chronicles 9:22 King Solomon was wealthier and wiser than any of the kings of the earth.

2 Chronicles 9:23 All the kings of the earth wanted to visit Solomon to see him display his God-given wisdom.

2 Chronicles 9:24 Year after year visitors brought their gifts, which included items of silver, items of gold, clothes, perfume, spices, horses, and mules.

2 Chronicles 9:25 Solomon had 4,000 stalls for his chariot horses and 12,000 horses. He kept them in assigned cities and in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 9:26 He ruled all the kingdoms from the Euphrates River to the land of the Philistines as far as the border of Egypt.

2 Chronicles 9:27 The king made silver as plentiful in Jerusalem as stones; cedar was as plentiful as sycamore fig trees are in the lowlands.

2 Chronicles 9:28 Solomon acquired horses from Egypt and from all the lands.

2 Chronicles 9:29 The rest of the events of Solomon’s reign, from start to finish, are recorded in the Annals of Nathan the Prophet, the Prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and the Vision of Iddo the Seer pertaining to Jeroboam son of Nebat.

2 Chronicles 9:30 Solomon ruled over all Israel from Jerusalem for forty years.

2 Chronicles 9:31 Then Solomon passed away and was buried in the city of his father David. His son Rehoboam replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 10:1 Rehoboam traveled to Shechem, for all Israel had gathered in Shechem to make Rehoboam king.

2 Chronicles 10:2 When Jeroboam son of Nebat heard the news, he was still in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon. Jeroboam returned from Egypt.

2 Chronicles 10:3 They sent for him and Jeroboam and all Israel came and spoke to Rehoboam, saying,

2 Chronicles 10:4 “Your father made us work too hard! Now if you lighten the demands he made and don’t make us work as hard, we will serve you.”

2 Chronicles 10:5 He said to them, “Go away for three days, then return to me.” So the people went away.

2 Chronicles 10:6 King Rehoboam consulted with the older advisers who had served his father Solomon when he had been alive. He asked them, “How do you advise me to answer these people?”

2 Chronicles 10:7 They said to him, “If you are fair to these people, grant their request, and are cordial to them, they will be your servants from this time forward.”

2 Chronicles 10:8 But Rehoboam rejected their advice and consulted the young advisers who served him, with whom he had grown up.

2 Chronicles 10:9 He asked them, “How do you advise me to respond to these people who said to me, ‘Lessen the demands your father placed on us’?”

2 Chronicles 10:10 The young advisers with whom Rehoboam had grown up said to him, “Say this to these people who have said to you, ‘Your father made us work hard, but now lighten our burden’– say this to them: ‘I am a lot harsher than my father!

2 Chronicles 10:11 My father imposed heavy demands on you; I will make them even heavier. My father punished you with ordinary whips; I will punish you with whips that really sting your flesh.’“

2 Chronicles 10:12 Jeroboam and all the people reported to Rehoboam on the third day, just as the king had ordered when he said, “Return to me on the third day.”

2 Chronicles 10:13 The king responded to the people harshly. He rejected the advice of the older men

2 Chronicles 10:14 and followed the advice of the younger ones. He said, “My father imposed heavy demands on you; I will make them even heavier. My father punished you with ordinary whips; I will punish you with whips that really sting your flesh.”

2 Chronicles 10:15 The king refused to listen to the people, because God was instigating this turn of events so that he might bring to pass the prophetic announcement he had made through Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam son of Nebat.

2 Chronicles 10:16 When all Israel saw that the king refused to listen to them, the people answered the king, “We have no portion in David– no share in the son of Jesse! Return to your homes, O Israel! Now, look after your own dynasty, O David!” So all Israel returned to their homes.

2 Chronicles 10:17 (Rehoboam continued to rule over the Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah.)

2 Chronicles 10:18 King Rehoboam sent Hadoram, the supervisor of the work crews, out after them, but the Israelites stoned him to death. King Rehoboam managed to jump into his chariot and escape to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 10:19 So Israel has been in rebellion against the Davidic dynasty to this very day.

2 Chronicles 11:1 When Rehoboam arrived in Jerusalem, he summoned 180,000 skilled warriors from Judah and Benjamin to attack Israel and restore the kingdom to Rehoboam.

2 Chronicles 11:2 But the LORD told Shemaiah the prophet,

2 Chronicles 11:3 “Say this to King Rehoboam son of Solomon of Judah and to all the Israelites in Judah and Benjamin,

2 Chronicles 11:4 ‘The LORD says this: “Do not attack and make war with your brothers. Each of you go home, for I have caused this to happen.”“ They obeyed the LORD and called off the attack against Jeroboam.

2 Chronicles 11:5 Rehoboam lived in Jerusalem; he built up these fortified cities throughout Judah:

2 Chronicles 11:6 Bethlehem, Etam, Tekoa,

2 Chronicles 11:7 Beth Zur, Soco, Adullam,

2 Chronicles 11:8 Gath, Mareshah, Ziph,

2 Chronicles 11:9 Adoraim, Lachish, Azekah,

2 Chronicles 11:10 Zorah, Aijalon, and Hebron. These were the fortified cities in Judah and Benjamin.

2 Chronicles 11:11 He fortified these cities and placed officers in them, as well as storehouses of food, olive oil, and wine.

2 Chronicles 11:12 In each city there were shields and spears; he strongly fortified them. Judah and Benjamin belonged to him.

2 Chronicles 11:13 The priests and Levites who lived throughout Israel supported him, no matter where they resided.

2 Chronicles 11:14 The Levites even left their pasturelands and their property behind and came to Judah and Jerusalem, for Jeroboam and his sons prohibited them from serving as the LORD’s priests.

2 Chronicles 11:15 Jeroboam appointed his own priests to serve at the worship centers and to lead in the worship of the goat idols and calf idols he had made.

2 Chronicles 11:16 Those among all the Israelite tribes who were determined to worship the LORD God of Israel followed them to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 11:17 They supported the kingdom of Judah and were loyal to Rehoboam son of Solomon for three years; they followed the edicts of David and Solomon for three years.

2 Chronicles 11:18 Rehoboam married Mahalath the daughter of David’s son Jerimoth and of Abihail, the daughter of Jesse’s son Eliab.

2 Chronicles 11:19 She bore him sons named Jeush, Shemariah, and Zaham.

2 Chronicles 11:20 He later married Maacah the daughter of Absalom. She bore to him Abijah, Attai, Ziza, and Shelomith.

2 Chronicles 11:21 Rehoboam loved Maacah daughter of Absalom more than his other wives and concubines. He had eighteen wives and sixty concubines; he fathered twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters.

2 Chronicles 11:22 Rehoboam appointed Abijah son of Maacah as the leader over his brothers, for he intended to name him his successor.

2 Chronicles 11:23 He wisely placed some of his many sons throughout the regions of Judah and Benjamin in the various fortified cities. He supplied them with abundant provisions and acquired many wives for them.

2 Chronicles 12:1 After Rehoboam's rule was established and solidified, he and all Israel rejected the law of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 12:2 Because they were unfaithful to the LORD, in King Rehoboam's fifth year, King Shishak of Egypt attacked Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 12:3 He had 1,200 chariots, 60,000 horsemen, and an innumerable number of soldiers who accompanied him from Egypt, including Libyans, Sukkites, and Cushites.

2 Chronicles 12:4 He captured the fortified cities of Judah and marched against Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 12:5 Shemaiah the prophet visited Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah who were assembled in Jerusalem because of Shishak. He said to them, "This is what the LORD says: 'You have rejected me, so I have rejected you and will hand you over to Shishak.'"

2 Chronicles 12:6 The leaders of Israel and the king humbled themselves and said, "The LORD is just."

2 Chronicles 12:7 When the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, he gave this message to Shemaiah: "They have humbled themselves, so I will not destroy them. I will deliver them soon. My anger will not be unleashed against Jerusalem through Shishak.

2 Chronicles 12:8 Yet they will become his subjects, so they can experience how serving me differs from serving the surrounding nations."

2 Chronicles 12:9 King Shishak of Egypt attacked Jerusalem and took away the treasures of the LORD's temple and of the royal palace; he took everything, including the gold shields that Solomon had made.

2 Chronicles 12:10 King Rehoboam made bronze shields to replace them and assigned them to the officers of the royal guard who protected the entrance to the royal palace.

2 Chronicles 12:11 Whenever the king visited the LORD's temple, the royal guards carried them and then brought them back to the guardroom.

2 Chronicles 12:12 So when Rehoboam humbled himself, the LORD relented from his anger and did not annihilate him; Judah experienced some good things.

2 Chronicles 12:13 King Rehoboam solidified his rule in Jerusalem; he was forty-one years old when he became king and he ruled for seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city the LORD chose from all the tribes of Israel to be his home. Rehoboam's mother was an Ammonite named Naamah.

2 Chronicles 12:14 He did evil because he was not determined to follow the LORD.

2 Chronicles 12:15 The events of Rehoboam's reign, from start to finish, are recorded in the Annals of Shemaiah the prophet and of Iddo the seer that include genealogical records.

2 Chronicles 12:16 Then Rehoboam passed away and was buried in the City of David. His son Abijah replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 13:1 In the eighteenth year of the reign of King Jeroboam, Abijah became king over Judah.

2 Chronicles 13:2 He ruled for three years in Jerusalem. His mother was Michaiah, the daughter of Uriel from Gibeah. There was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.

2 Chronicles 13:3 Abijah launched the attack with 400,000 well-trained warriors, while Jeroboam deployed against him 800,000 well-trained warriors.

2 Chronicles 13:4 Abijah ascended Mount Zemaraim, in the Ephraimite hill country, and said: "Listen to me, Jeroboam and all Israel!

2 Chronicles 13:5 Don't you realize that the LORD God of Israel has given David and his dynasty lasting dominion over Israel by a formal agreement?

2 Chronicles 13:6 Jeroboam son of Nebat, a servant of Solomon son of David, rose up and rebelled against his master.

2 Chronicles 13:7 Lawless good-for-nothing men gathered around him and conspired against Rehoboam son of Solomon, when Rehoboam was an inexperienced young man and could not resist them.

2 Chronicles 13:8 Now you are declaring that you will resist the LORD's rule through the Davidic dynasty. You have a huge army, and bring with you the gold calves that Jeroboam made for you as gods.

2 Chronicles 13:9 But you banished the LORD's priests, Aaron's descendants, and the Levites, and appointed your own priests just as the surrounding nations do! Anyone who comes to consecrate himself with a young bull or seven rams becomes a priest of these fake gods!

2 Chronicles 13:10 But as for us, the LORD is our God and we have not rejected him. Aaron's descendants serve as the LORD's priests and the Levites assist them with the work.

2 Chronicles 13:11 They offer burnt sacrifices to the LORD every morning and every evening, along with fragrant incense. They arrange the Bread of the Presence on a ritually clean table and light the lamps on the gold lampstand every evening. Certainly we are observing the LORD our God's regulations, but you have rejected him.

2 Chronicles 13:12 Now look, God is with us as our leader. His priests are ready to blow the trumpets to signal the attack against you.

You Israelites, don't fight against the LORD God of your ancestors, for you will not win!"

2 Chronicles 13:13 Now Jeroboam had sent some men to ambush the Judahite army from behind. The main army was in front of the Judahite army; the ambushers were behind it.

2 Chronicles 13:14 The men of Judah turned around and realized they were being attacked from the front and the rear. So they cried out for help to the LORD. The priests blew their trumpets,

2 Chronicles 13:15 and the men of Judah gave the battle cry. As the men of Judah gave the battle cry, the LORD struck down Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and Judah.

2 Chronicles 13:16 The Israelites fled from before the Judahite army, and God handed them over to the men of Judah.

2 Chronicles 13:17 Abijah and his army thoroughly defeated them; 500,000 well-trained Israelite men fell dead.

2 Chronicles 13:18 That day the Israelites were defeated; the men of Judah prevailed because they relied on the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 13:19 Abijah chased Jeroboam; he seized from him these cities: Bethel and its surrounding towns, Jeshanah and its surrounding towns, and Ephron and its surrounding towns.

2 Chronicles 13:20 Jeroboam did not regain power during the reign of Abijah. The LORD struck him down and he died.

2 Chronicles 13:21 Abijah's power grew; he had fourteen wives and fathered twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters.

2 Chronicles 13:22 The rest of the events of Abijah's reign, including his deeds and sayings, are recorded in the writings of the prophet Iddo.

2 Chronicles 14:1 Abijah passed away and was buried in the City of David. His son Asa replaced him as king. During his reign the land had rest for ten years.

2 Chronicles 14:2 Asa did what the LORD his God desired and approved.

2 Chronicles 14:3 He removed the pagan altars and the high places, smashed the sacred pillars, and cut down the Asherah poles.

2 Chronicles 14:4 He ordered Judah to seek the LORD God of their ancestors and to observe his law and commands.

2 Chronicles 14:5 He removed the high places and the incense altars from all the cities of Judah. The kingdom had rest under his rule.

2 Chronicles 14:6 He built fortified cities throughout Judah, for the land was at rest and there was no war during those years; the LORD gave him peace.

2 Chronicles 14:7 He said to the people of Judah: "Let's build these cities and fortify them with walls, towers, and barred gates. The land remains ours because we have followed the LORD our God and he has made us secure on all sides.” So they built the cities and prospered.

2 Chronicles 14:8 Asa had an army of 300,000 men from Judah, equipped with large shields and spears. He also had 280,000 men from Benjamin who carried small shields and were adept archers; they were all skilled warriors.

2 Chronicles 14:9 Zerah the Cushite marched against them with an army of 1,000,000 men and 300 chariots. He arrived at Mareshah,

2 Chronicles 14:10 and Asa went out to oppose him. They deployed for battle in the Valley of Zephathah near Mareshah.

2 Chronicles 14:11 Asa prayed to the LORD his God: “O LORD, there is no one but you who can help the weak when they are vastly outnumbered. Help us, O LORD our God, for we rely on you and have marched on your behalf against this huge army. O LORD our God, don’t let men prevail against you!”

2 Chronicles 14:12 The LORD struck down the Cushites before Asa and Judah. The Cushites fled,

2 Chronicles 14:13 and Asa and his army chased them as far as Gerar. The Cushites were wiped out; they were shattered before the LORD and his army. The men of Judah carried off a huge amount of plunder.

2 Chronicles 14:14 They defeated all the cities surrounding Gerar, for the LORD caused them to panic. The men of Judah looted all the cities, for they contained a huge amount of goods.

2 Chronicles 14:15 They also attacked the tents of the herdsmen in charge of the livestock. They carried off many sheep and camels and then returned to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 15:1 God’s Spirit came upon Azariah son of Oded.

2 Chronicles 15:2 He met Asa and told him, “Listen to me, Asa and all Judah and Benjamin! The LORD is with you when you are loyal to him. If you seek him, he will respond to you, but if you reject him, he will reject you.

2 Chronicles 15:3 For a long time Israel had no true God, or priest to instruct them, or law.

2 Chronicles 15:4 Because of their distress, they turned back to the LORD God of Israel. They sought him and he responded to them.

2 Chronicles 15:5 In those days no one could travel safely, for total chaos had overtaken all the people of the surrounding lands.

2 Chronicles 15:6 One nation was crushed by another, and one city by another, for God caused them to be in great turmoil.

2 Chronicles 15:7 But as for you, be strong and don’t get discouraged, for your work will be rewarded.”

2 Chronicles 15:8 When Asa heard these words and the prophecy of Oded the prophet, he was encouraged. He removed the detestable idols from the entire land of Judah and Benjamin and from the cities he had seized in the Ephraimite hill country. He repaired the altar of the LORD in front of the porch of the LORD's temple.

2 Chronicles 15:9 He assembled all Judah and Benjamin, as well as the settlers from Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon who had come to live with them. Many people from Israel had come there to live when they saw that the LORD his God was with him.

2 Chronicles 15:10 They assembled in Jerusalem in the third month of the fifteenth year of Asa's reign.

2 Chronicles 15:11 At that time they sacrificed to the LORD some of the plunder they had brought back, including 700 head of cattle and 7,000 sheep.

2 Chronicles 15:12 They solemnly agreed to seek the LORD God of their ancestors with their whole heart and being.

2 Chronicles 15:13 Anyone who would not seek the LORD God of Israel would be executed, whether they were young or old, male or female.

2 Chronicles 15:14 They swore their allegiance to the LORD, shouting their approval loudly and sounding trumpets and horns.

2 Chronicles 15:15 All Judah was happy about the oath, because they made the vow with their whole heart. They willingly sought the LORD and he responded to them. He made them secure on every side.

2 Chronicles 15:16 King Asa also removed Maacah his grandmother from her position as queen mother because she had made a loathsome Asherah pole. Asa cut down her Asherah pole and crushed and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

2 Chronicles 15:17 The high places were not eliminated from Israel, yet Asa was wholeheartedly devoted to the LORD throughout his lifetime.

2 Chronicles 15:18 He brought the holy items that his father and he had made into God's temple, including the silver, gold, and other articles.

2 Chronicles 15:19 There was no more war until the thirty-fifth year of Asa's reign.

2 Chronicles 16:1 In the thirty-sixth year of Asa's reign, King Baasha of Israel attacked Judah, and he established Ramah as a military outpost to prevent anyone from leaving or entering the land of King Asa of Judah.

2 Chronicles 16:2 Asa took all the silver and gold that was left in the treasuries of the LORD's temple and of the royal palace and sent it to King Ben Hadad of Syria, ruler in Damascus, along with this message:

2 Chronicles 16:3 "I want to make a treaty with you, like the one our fathers made. See, I have sent you silver and gold. Break your treaty with King Baasha of Israel, so he will retreat from my land."

2 Chronicles 16:4 Ben Hadad accepted King Asa’s offer and ordered his army commanders to attack the cities of Israel. They conquered Ijon, Dan, Abel Maim, and all the storage cities of Naphtali.

2 Chronicles 16:5 When Baasha heard the news, he stopped fortifying Ramah and abandoned the project.

2 Chronicles 16:6 King Asa ordered all the men of Judah to carry away the stones and wood that Baasha had used to build Ramah. He used the materials to build up Geba and Mizpah.

2 Chronicles 16:7 At that time Hanani the prophet visited King Asa of Judah and said to him: “Because you relied on the king of Syria and did not rely on the LORD your God, the army of the king of Syria has escaped from your hand.

2 Chronicles 16:8 Did not the Cushites and Libyans have a huge army with chariots and a very large number of horsemen? But when you relied on the LORD, he handed them over to you!

2 Chronicles 16:9 Certainly the LORD watches the whole earth carefully and is ready to strengthen those who are devoted to him. You have acted foolishly in this matter; from now on you will have war.

2 Chronicles 16:10 Asa was so angry at the prophet, he put him in jail. Asa also oppressed some of the people at that time.

2 Chronicles 16:11 The events of Asa’s reign, from start to finish, are recorded in the Scroll of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

2 Chronicles 16:12 In the thirty-ninth year of his reign, Asa developed a foot disease. Though his disease was severe, he did not seek the LORD, but only the doctors.

2 Chronicles 16:13 Asa passed away in the forty-first year of his reign.

2 Chronicles 16:14 He was buried in the tomb he had carved out in the City of David. They laid him to rest on a bier covered with spices and assorted mixtures of ointments. They made a huge bonfire to honor him.

2 Chronicles 17:1 His son Jehoshaphat replaced him as king and solidified his rule over Israel.

2 Chronicles 17:2 He placed troops in all of Judah’s fortified cities and posted garrisons throughout the land of Judah and in the cities of Ephraim that his father Asa had seized.

2 Chronicles 17:3 The LORD was with Jehoshaphat because he followed in his ancestor David’s footsteps at the beginning of his reign. He did not seek the Baals,

2 Chronicles 17:4 but instead sought the God of his ancestors and obeyed his commands, unlike the Israelites.

2 Chronicles 17:5 The LORD made his kingdom secure; all Judah brought tribute to Jehoshaphat, and he became very wealthy and greatly respected.

2 Chronicles 17:6 He was committed to following the LORD; he even removed the high places and Asherah poles from Judah.

2 Chronicles 17:7 In the third year of his reign he sent his officials Ben-Hail, Obadiah, Zechariah, Nethanel, and Micaiah to teach in the cities of Judah.

2 Chronicles 17:8 They were accompanied by the Levites Shemaiah, Nethaniah, Zebadiah, Asahel, Shemiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonijah, Tobijah, and Tob-Adonijah, and by the priests Elishama and Jehoram.

2 Chronicles 17:9 They taught throughout Judah, taking with them the scroll of the law of the LORD. They traveled to all the cities of Judah and taught the people.

2 Chronicles 17:10 The LORD put fear into all the kingdoms surrounding Judah; they did not make war with Jehoshaphat.

2 Chronicles 17:11 Some of the Philistines brought Jehoshaphat tribute, including a load of silver. The Arabs brought him 7,700 rams and 7,700 goats from their flocks.

2 Chronicles 17:12 Jehoshaphat’s power kept increasing. He built fortresses and storage cities throughout Judah.

2 Chronicles 17:13 He had many supplies stored in the cities of Judah and an army of skilled warriors stationed in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 17:14 These were their divisions by families: There were a thousand officers from Judah. Adnah the commander led 300,000 skilled warriors,

2 Chronicles 17:15 Jehochanan the commander led 280,000,

2 Chronicles 17:16 and Amasiah son of Zikri, who volunteered to serve the LORD, led 200,000 skilled warriors.

2 Chronicles 17:17 From Benjamin, Eliada, a skilled warrior, led 200,000 men who were equipped with bows and shields,

2 Chronicles 17:18 and Jehozabad led 180,000 trained warriors.

2 Chronicles 17:19 These were the ones who served the king, besides those whom the king placed in the fortified cities throughout Judah.

2 Chronicles 18:1 Jehoshaphat was very wealthy and greatly respected. He made an alliance by marriage with Ahab,

2 Chronicles 18:2 and after several years went down to visit Ahab in Samaria. Ahab slaughtered many sheep and cattle to honor Jehoshaphat and those who came with him. He persuaded him to join in an attack against Ramoth Gilead.

2 Chronicles 18:3 King Ahab of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Will you go with me to attack Ramoth Gilead?” Jehoshaphat replied to the king of Israel, “I will support you; my army is at your disposal and will support you in battle.”

2 Chronicles 18:4 Then Jehoshaphat added, “First seek an oracle from the LORD.”

2 Chronicles 18:5 So the king of Israel assembled 400 prophets and asked them, “Should we attack Ramoth Gilead or not?” They said, “Attack! God will hand it over to the king.”

2 Chronicles 18:6 But Jehoshaphat asked, “Is there not a prophet of the LORD still here, that we may ask him?”

2 Chronicles 18:7 The king of Israel answered Jehoshaphat, “There is still one man through whom we can seek the LORD’s will. But I despise him because he does not prophesy prosperity for me, but always disaster. His name is Micaiah son of Imlah. Jehoshaphat said, “The king should not say such things!”

2 Chronicles 18:8 The king of Israel summoned an officer and said, “Quickly bring Micaiah son of Imlah.”

2 Chronicles 18:9 Now the king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah were sitting on their respective thrones, dressed in their royal robes, at the threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria. All the prophets were prophesying before them.

2 Chronicles 18:10 Zedekiah son of Kenaanah made iron horns and said, “This is what the LORD says, ‘With these you will gore Syria until they are destroyed!’“

2 Chronicles 18:11 All the prophets were prophesying the same, saying, “Attack Ramoth Gilead! You will succeed; the LORD will hand it over to the king!”

2 Chronicles 18:12 Now the messenger who went to summon Micaiah said to him, “Look, the prophets are in complete agreement that the king will succeed. Your words must agree with theirs; you must predict success!”

2 Chronicles 18:13 But Micaiah said, “As certainly as the LORD lives, I will say what my God tells me to say!”

2 Chronicles 18:14 Micaiah came before the king and the king asked him, “Micaiah, should we attack Ramoth Gilead or not?” He answered him, “Attack! You will succeed; they will be handed over to you.”

2 Chronicles 18:15 The king said to him, “How many times must I make you solemnly promise in the name of the LORD to tell me only the truth?”

2 Chronicles 18:16 Micaiah replied, “I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains like sheep that have no shepherd. Then the LORD said, ‘They have no master. They should go home in peace.’“

2 Chronicles 18:17 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Didn’t I tell you he does not prophesy prosperity for me, but disaster?”

2 Chronicles 18:18 Micaiah said, "That being the case, hear the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, with all the heavenly assembly standing on his right and on his left.

2 Chronicles 18:19 The LORD said, 'Who will deceive King Ahab of Israel, so he will attack Ramoth Gilead and die there?' One said this and another that.

2 Chronicles 18:20 Then a spirit stepped forward and stood before the LORD. He said, 'I will deceive him.' The LORD asked him, 'How?'

2 Chronicles 18:21 He replied, 'I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets.' The LORD said, 'Deceive and overpower him. Go out and do as you have proposed.'

2 Chronicles 18:22 So now, look, the LORD has placed a lying spirit in the mouths of all these prophets of yours; but the LORD has decreed disaster for you."

2 Chronicles 18:23 Zedekiah son of Kenaanah approached, hit Micaiah on the jaw, and said, "Which way did the LORD's spirit go when he went from me to speak to you?"

2 Chronicles 18:24 Micaiah replied, "Look, you will see in the day when you go into an inner room to hide."

2 Chronicles 18:25 Then the king of Israel said, "Take Micaiah and return him to Amon the city official and Joash the king's son.

2 Chronicles 18:26 Say, 'This is what the king says: "Put this man in prison. Give him only a little bread and water until I return safely."'"

2 Chronicles 18:27 Micaiah said, "If you really do return safely, then the LORD has not spoken through me!" Then he added, "Take note, all you people."

2 Chronicles 18:28 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah attacked Ramoth Gilead.

2 Chronicles 18:29 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "I will disguise myself and then enter the battle; but you wear your royal attire." So the king of Israel disguised himself and they entered the battle.

2 Chronicles 18:30 Now the king of Syria had ordered his chariot commanders, "Do not fight common soldiers or high ranking officers; fight only the king of Israel!"

2 Chronicles 18:31 When the chariot commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they said, "He must be the king of Israel!" So they turned and attacked him, but Jehoshaphat cried out. The LORD helped him; God lured them away from him.

2 Chronicles 18:32 When the chariot commanders realized he was not the king of Israel, they turned away from him.

2 Chronicles 18:33 Now an archer shot an arrow at random and it struck the king of Israel between the plates of his armor. The king ordered his charioteer, “Turn around and take me from the battle line, for I am wounded.”

2 Chronicles 18:34 While the battle raged throughout the day, the king stood propped up in his chariot opposite the Syrians. He died in the evening as the sun was setting.

2 Chronicles 19:1 When King Jehoshaphat of Judah returned home safely to Jerusalem,

2 Chronicles 19:2 the prophet Jehu son of Hanani confronted him; he said to King Jehoshaphat, “Is it right to help the wicked and be an ally of those who oppose the LORD? Because you have done this the LORD is angry with you!

2 Chronicles 19:3 Nevertheless you have done some good things; you removed the Asherah poles from the land and you were determined to follow the LORD.”

2 Chronicles 19:4 Jehoshaphat lived in Jerusalem. He went out among the people from Beer Sheba to the hill country of Ephraim and encouraged them to follow the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 19:5 He appointed judges throughout the land and in each of the fortified cities of Judah.

2 Chronicles 19:6 He told the judges, “Be careful what you do, for you are not judging for men, but for the LORD, who will be with you when you make judicial decisions.

2 Chronicles 19:7 Respect the LORD and make careful decisions, for the LORD our God disapproves of injustice, partiality, and bribery.”

2 Chronicles 19:8 In Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed some Levites, priests, and Israelite family leaders to judge on behalf of the LORD and to settle disputes among the residents of Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 19:9 He commanded them: “Carry out your duties with respect for the LORD, with honesty, and with pure motives.

2 Chronicles 19:10 Whenever your countrymen who live in the cities bring a case before you (whether it involves a violent crime or other matters related to the law, commandments, rules, and regulations), warn them that they must not sin against the LORD. If you fail to do so, God will be angry with you and your colleagues; but if you obey, you will be free of guilt.

2 Chronicles 19:11 You will report to Amariah the chief priest in all matters pertaining to the LORD’s law, and to Zebadiah son of Ishmael, the leader of the family of Judah, in all matters pertaining to the king. The Levites will serve as officials before you. Confidently carry out your duties! May the LORD be with those who do well!”

2 Chronicles 20:1 Later the Moabites and Ammonites, along with some of the Meunites, attacked Jehoshaphat.

2 Chronicles 20:2 Messengers arrived and reported to Jehoshaphat, “A huge army is attacking you from the other side of the Dead Sea, from the direction of Edom. Look, they are in Hazezon Tamar (that is, En Gedi).”

2 Chronicles 20:3 Jehoshaphat was afraid, so he decided to seek the LORD’s advice. He decreed that all Judah should observe a fast.

2 Chronicles 20:4 The people of Judah assembled to ask for the LORD’s help; they came from all the cities of Judah to ask for the LORD’s help.

2 Chronicles 20:5 Jehoshaphat stood before the assembly of Judah and Jerusalem at the LORD’s temple, in front of the new courtyard.

2 Chronicles 20:6 He prayed: “O LORD God of our ancestors, you are the God who lives in heaven and rules over all the kingdoms of the nations. You possess strength and power; no one can stand against you.

2 Chronicles 20:7 Our God, you drove out the inhabitants of this land before your people Israel and gave it as a permanent possession to the descendants of your friend Abraham.

2 Chronicles 20:8 They settled down in it and built in it a temple to honor you, saying,

2 Chronicles 20:9 ‘If disaster comes on us in the form of military attack, judgment, plague, or famine, we will stand in front of this temple before you, for you are present in this temple. We will cry out to you for help in our distress, so that you will hear and deliver us.’

2 Chronicles 20:10 Now the Ammonites, Moabites, and men from Mount Seir are coming! When Israel came from the land of Egypt, you did not allow them to invade these lands. They bypassed them and did not destroy them.

2 Chronicles 20:11 Look how they are repaying us! They come to drive us out of our allotted land which you assigned to us!

2 Chronicles 20:12 Our God, will you not judge them? For we are powerless against this huge army that attacks us! We don’t know what we should do; we look to you for help.”

2 Chronicles 20:13 All the men of Judah were standing before the LORD, along with their infants, wives, and children.

2 Chronicles 20:14 Then in the midst of the assembly, the LORD’s Spirit came upon Jachaziel son of Zechariah, son of Benaiah, son of Jeiel, son of Mattaniah, a Levite and descendant of Asaph.

2 Chronicles 20:15 He said: “Pay attention, all you people of Judah, residents of Jerusalem, and King Jehoshaphat! This is what the LORD says to you: ‘Don’t be afraid and don’t panic because of this huge army! For the battle is not yours, but God’s.

2 Chronicles 20:16 Tomorrow march down against them as they come up the Ascent of Ziz. You will find them at the end of the ravine in front of the Desert of Jeruel.

2 Chronicles 20:17 You will not fight in this battle. Take your positions, stand, and watch the LORD deliver you, O Judah and Jerusalem. Don’t be afraid and don’t panic! Tomorrow march out toward them; the LORD is with you!’“

2 Chronicles 20:18 Jehoshaphat bowed down with his face toward the ground, and all the people of Judah and the residents of Jerusalem fell down before the LORD and worshiped him.

2 Chronicles 20:19 Then some Levites, from the Kohathites and Korahites, got up and loudly praised the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 20:20 Early the next morning they marched out to the Desert of Tekoa. When they were ready to march, Jehoshaphat stood up and said: “Listen to me, you people of Judah and residents of Jerusalem! Trust in the LORD your God and you will be safe! Trust in the message of his prophets and you will win.”

2 Chronicles 20:21 He met with the people and appointed musicians to play before the LORD and praise his majestic splendor. As they marched ahead of the warriors they said: “Give thanks to the LORD, for his loyal love endures.”

2 Chronicles 20:22 When they began to shout and praise, the LORD suddenly attacked the Ammonites, Moabites, and men from Mount Seir who were invading Judah, and they were defeated.

2 Chronicles 20:23 The Ammonites and Moabites attacked the men from Mount Seir and annihilated them. When they had finished off the men of Seir, they attacked and destroyed one another.

2 Chronicles 20:24 When the men of Judah arrived at the observation post overlooking the desert and looked at the huge army, they saw dead bodies on the ground; there were no survivors!

2 Chronicles 20:25 Jehoshaphat and his men went to gather the plunder; they found a huge amount of supplies, clothing and valuable items. They carried away everything they could. There was so much plunder, it took them three days to haul it off.

2 Chronicles 20:26 On the fourth day they assembled in the Valley of Berachah, where they praised the LORD. So that place is called the Valley of Berachah to this very day.

2 Chronicles 20:27 Then all the men of Judah and Jerusalem returned joyfully to Jerusalem with Jehoshaphat leading them; the LORD had given them reason to rejoice over their enemies.

2 Chronicles 20:28 They entered Jerusalem to the sound of stringed instruments and trumpets and proceeded to the temple of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 20:29 All the kingdoms of the surrounding lands were afraid of God when they heard how the LORD had fought against Israel's enemies.

2 Chronicles 20:30 Jehoshaphat's kingdom enjoyed peace; his God made him secure on every side.

2 Chronicles 20:31 Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he became king and he reigned for twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother was Azubah, the daughter of Shilhi.

2 Chronicles 20:32 He followed in his father Asa's footsteps and was careful to do what the LORD approved.

2 Chronicles 20:33 However, the high places were not eliminated; the people were still not devoted to the God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 20:34 The rest of the events of Jehoshaphat's reign, from start to finish, are recorded in the Annals of Jehu son of Hanani which are included in Scroll of the Kings of Israel.

2 Chronicles 20:35 Later King Jehoshaphat of Judah made an alliance with King Ahaziah of Israel, who did evil.

2 Chronicles 20:36 They agreed to make large seagoing merchant ships; they built the ships in Ezion Geber.

2 Chronicles 20:37 Eliezer son of Dodavahu from Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, "Because you made an alliance with Ahaziah, the LORD will shatter what you have made." The ships were wrecked and unable to go to sea.

2 Chronicles 21:1 Jehoshaphat passed away and was buried with his ancestors in the City of David. His son Jehoram replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 21:2 His brothers, Jehoshaphat's sons, were Azariah, Jechiel, Zechariah, Azariahu, Michael, and Shephatiah. All of these were sons of King Jehoshaphat of Israel.

2 Chronicles 21:3 Their father gave them many presents, including silver, gold, and other precious items, along with fortified cities in Judah. But he gave the kingdom to Jehoram because he was the firstborn.

2 Chronicles 21:4 Jehoram took control of his father's kingdom and became powerful. Then he killed all his brothers, as well as some of the officials of Israel.

2 Chronicles 21:5 Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he became king and he reigned for eight years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 21:6 He followed in the footsteps of the kings of Israel, just as Ahab's dynasty had done, for he married Ahab's daughter. He did evil in the sight of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 21:7 But the LORD was unwilling to destroy David’s dynasty because of the promise he had made to give David a perpetual dynasty.

2 Chronicles 21:8 During Jehoram’s reign Edom freed themselves from Judah’s control and set up their own king.

2 Chronicles 21:9 Jehoram crossed over to Zair with his officers and all his chariots. The Edomites, who had surrounded him, attacked at night and defeated him and his chariot officers.

2 Chronicles 21:10 So Edom has remained free from Judah’s control to this very day. At that same time Libnah also rebelled and freed themselves from Judah’s control because Jehoram rejected the LORD God of his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 21:11 He also built high places on the hills of Judah; he encouraged the residents of Jerusalem to be unfaithful to the LORD and led Judah away from the LORD.

2 Chronicles 21:12 Jehoram received this letter from Elijah the prophet: “This is what the LORD God of your ancestor David says: ‘You have not followed in the footsteps of your father Jehoshaphat and of King Asa of Judah,

2 Chronicles 21:13 but have instead followed in the footsteps of the kings of Israel. You encouraged the people of Judah and the residents of Jerusalem to be unfaithful to the LORD, just as the family of Ahab does in Israel. You also killed your brothers, members of your father’s family, who were better than you.

2 Chronicles 21:14 So look, the LORD is about to severely afflict your people, your sons, your wives, and all you own.

2 Chronicles 21:15 And you will get a serious, chronic intestinal disease which will cause your intestines to come out.”

2 Chronicles 21:16 The LORD stirred up against Jehoram the Philistines and the Arabs who lived beside the Cushites.

2 Chronicles 21:17 They attacked Judah and swept through it. They carried off everything they found in the royal palace, including his sons and wives. None of his sons was left, except for his youngest, Ahaziah.

2 Chronicles 21:18 After all this happened, the LORD afflicted him with an incurable intestinal disease.

2 Chronicles 21:19 After about two years his intestines came out because of the disease, so that he died a very painful death. His people did not make a bonfire to honor him, as they had done for his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 21:20 Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he became king and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. No one regretted his death; he was buried in the City of David, but not in the royal tombs.

2 Chronicles 22:1 The residents of Jerusalem made his youngest son Ahaziah king in his place, for the raiding party that invaded the city with the Arabs had killed all the older sons. So Ahaziah son of Jehoram became king of Judah.

2 Chronicles 22:2 Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he became king and he reigned for one year in Jerusalem. His mother was Athaliah, the granddaughter of Omri.

2 Chronicles 22:3 He followed in the footsteps of Ahab's dynasty, for his mother gave him evil advice.

2 Chronicles 22:4 He did evil in the sight of the LORD like Ahab's dynasty because, after his father's death, they gave him advice that led to his destruction.

2 Chronicles 22:5 He followed their advice and joined Ahab's son King Joram of Israel in a battle against King Hazael of Syria at Ramoth Gilead in which the Syrians defeated Joram.

2 Chronicles 22:6 Joram returned to Jezreel to recover from the wounds he received from the Syrians in Ramah when he fought against King Hazael of Syria. Ahaziah son of King Jehoram of Judah went down to visit Joram son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he had been wounded.

2 Chronicles 22:7 God brought about Ahaziah's downfall through his visit to Joram. When Ahaziah arrived, he went out with Joram to meet Jehu son of Nimshi, whom the LORD had commissioned to wipe out Ahab's family.

2 Chronicles 22:8 While Jehu was dishing out punishment to Ahab's family, he discovered the officials of Judah and the sons of Ahaziah's relatives who were serving Ahaziah and killed them.

2 Chronicles 22:9 He looked for Ahaziah, who was captured while hiding in Samaria. They brought him to Jehu and then executed him. They did give him a burial, for they reasoned, "He is the son of Jehoshaphat, who sought the LORD with his whole heart." There was no one in Ahaziah's family strong enough to rule in his place.

2 Chronicles 22:10 When Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she was determined to destroy the entire royal line of Judah.

2 Chronicles 22:11 So Jehoshabeath, the daughter of King Jehoram, took Ahaziah's son Joash and sneaked him away from the rest of the royal descendants who were to be executed. She hid him and his nurse in the room where the bed covers were stored. So Jehoshabeath the daughter of King Jehoram, wife of Jehoiada the priest and sister of Ahaziah, hid him from Athaliah so she could not execute him.

2 Chronicles 22:12 He remained in hiding in God's temple for six years, while Athaliah was ruling over the land.

2 Chronicles 23:1 In the seventh year Jehoiada made a bold move. He made a pact with the officers of the units of hundreds: Azariah son of Jehoram, Ishmael son of Jehochanan, Azariah son of Obed, Maaseiah son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat son of Zikri.

2 Chronicles 23:2 They traveled throughout Judah and assembled the Levites from all the cities of Judah, as well as the Israelite family leaders. They came to Jerusalem,

2 Chronicles 23:3 and the whole assembly made a covenant with the king in the temple of God. Jehoiada said to them, “The king’s son will rule, just as the LORD promised David’s descendants.

2 Chronicles 23:4 This is what you must do. One third of you priests and Levites who are on duty during the Sabbath will guard the doors.

2 Chronicles 23:5 Another third of you will be stationed at the royal palace and still another third at the Foundation Gate. All the others will stand in the courtyards of the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 23:6 No one must enter the LORD’s temple except the priests and Levites who are on duty. They may enter because they are ceremonially pure. All the others should carry out their assigned service to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 23:7 The Levites must surround the king. Each of you must hold his weapon in his hand. Whoever tries to enter the temple must be killed. You must accompany the king wherever he goes.”

2 Chronicles 23:8 The Levites and all the men of Judah did just as Jehoiada the priest ordered. Each of them took his men, those who were on duty during the Sabbath as well as those who were off duty on the Sabbath. Jehoiada the priest did not release his divisions from their duties.

2 Chronicles 23:9 Jehoiada the priest gave to the officers of the units of hundreds King David’s spears and shields that were kept in God’s temple.

2 Chronicles 23:10 He placed the men at their posts, each holding his weapon in his hand. They lined up from the south side of the temple to the north side and stood near the altar and the temple, surrounding the king.

2 Chronicles 23:11 Jehoiada and his sons led out the king’s son and placed on him the crown and the royal insignia. They proclaimed him king and poured olive oil on his head. They declared, “Long live the king!”

2 Chronicles 23:12 When Athaliah heard the royal guard shouting and praising the king, she joined the crowd at the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 23:13 Then she saw the king standing by his pillar at the entrance. The officers and trumpeters stood beside the king and all the people of the land were celebrating and blowing trumpets, and the musicians with various instruments were leading the celebration. Athaliah tore her clothes and yelled, “Treason! Treason!”

2 Chronicles 23:14 Jehoiada the priest sent out the officers of the units of hundreds, who were in charge of the army, and ordered them, “Bring her outside the temple to the guards. Put the sword to anyone who follows her.” The priest gave this order because he had decided she should not be executed in the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 23:15 They seized her and took her into the precincts of the royal palace through the horses’ entrance. There they executed her.

2 Chronicles 23:16 Jehoiada then drew up a covenant stipulating that he, all the people, and the king should be loyal to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 23:17 All the people went and demolished the temple of Baal. They smashed its altars and idols. They killed Mattan the priest of Baal in front of the altars.

2 Chronicles 23:18 Jehoiada then assigned the duties of the LORD’s temple to the priests, the Levites whom David had assigned to the LORD’s temple. They were responsible for offering burnt sacrifices to the LORD with joy and music, according to the law of Moses and the edict of David.

2 Chronicles 23:19 He posted guards at the gates of the LORD’s temple, so no one who was ceremonially unclean in any way could enter.

2 Chronicles 23:20 He summoned the officers of the units of hundreds, the nobles, the rulers of the people, and all the people of land, and he then led the king down from the LORD’s temple. They entered the royal palace through the Upper Gate and seated the king on the royal throne.

2 Chronicles 23:21 All the people of the land celebrated, for the city had rest now that they had killed Athaliah.

2 Chronicles 24:1 Joash was seven years old when he began to reign. He reigned for forty years in Jerusalem. His mother was Zibiah, who was from Beer Sheba.

2 Chronicles 24:2 Joash did what the LORD approved throughout the lifetime of Jehoiada the priest.

2 Chronicles 24:3 Jehoiada chose two wives for him who gave him sons and daughters.

2 Chronicles 24:4 Joash was determined to repair the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 24:5 He assembled the priests and Levites and ordered them, “Go out to the cities of Judah and collect the annual quota of silver from all Israel for repairs on the temple of your God. Be quick about it!” But the Levites delayed.

2 Chronicles 24:6 So the king summoned Jehoiada the chief priest, and said to him, “Why have you not made the Levites collect from Judah and Jerusalem the tax authorized by Moses the LORD’s servant and by the assembly of Israel at the tent containing the tablets of the law?”

2 Chronicles 24:7 (Wicked Athaliah and her sons had broken into God's temple and used all the holy items of the LORD's temple in their worship of the Baals.)

2 Chronicles 24:8 The king ordered a chest to be made and placed outside the gate of the LORD's temple.

2 Chronicles 24:9 An edict was sent throughout Judah and Jerusalem requiring the people to bring to the LORD the tax that Moses, God's servant, imposed on Israel in the wilderness.

2 Chronicles 24:10 All the officials and all the people gladly brought their silver and threw it into the chest until it was full.

2 Chronicles 24:11 Whenever the Levites brought the chest to the royal accountant and they saw there was a lot of silver, the royal scribe and the accountant of the high priest emptied the chest and then took it back to its place. They went through this routine every day and collected a large amount of silver.

2 Chronicles 24:12 The king and Jehoiada gave it to the construction foremen assigned to the LORD's temple. They hired carpenters and craftsmen to repair the LORD's temple, as well as those skilled in working with iron and bronze to restore the LORD's temple.

2 Chronicles 24:13 They worked hard and made the repairs. They followed the measurements specified for God's temple and restored it.

2 Chronicles 24:14 When they were finished, they brought the rest of the silver to the king and Jehoiada. They used it to make items for the LORD's temple, including items used in the temple service and for burnt sacrifices, pans, and various other gold and silver items. Throughout Jehoiada's lifetime, burnt sacrifices were offered regularly in the LORD's temple.

2 Chronicles 24:15 Jehoiada grew old and died at the age of 130.

2 Chronicles 24:16 He was buried in the City of David with the kings, because he had accomplished good in Israel and for God and his temple.

2 Chronicles 24:17 After Jehoiada died, the officials of Judah visited the king and declared their loyalty to him. The king listened to their advice.

2 Chronicles 24:18 They abandoned the temple of the LORD God of their ancestors, and worshiped the Asherah poles and idols. Because of this sinful activity, God was angry with Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 24:19 The LORD sent prophets among them to lead them back to him. They warned the people, but they would not pay attention.

2 Chronicles 24:20 God's Spirit energized Zechariah son of Jehoiada the priest. He stood up before the people and said to them, "This is what God says: 'Why are you violating the commands of the LORD? You will not be prosperous! Because you have rejected the LORD, he has rejected you!’“

2 Chronicles 24:21 They plotted against him and by royal decree stoned him to death in the courtyard of the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 24:22 King Joash disregarded the loyalty his father Jehoiada had shown him and killed Jehoiada’s son. As Zechariah was dying, he said, “May the LORD take notice and seek vengeance!”

2 Chronicles 24:23 At the beginning of the year the Syrian army attacked Joash and invaded Judah and Jerusalem. They wiped out all the leaders of the people and sent all the plunder they gathered to the king of Damascus.

2 Chronicles 24:24 Even though the invading Syrian army was relatively weak, the LORD handed over to them Judah’s very large army, for the people of Judah had abandoned the LORD God of their ancestors. The Syrians gave Joash what he deserved.

2 Chronicles 24:25 When they withdrew, they left Joash badly wounded. His servants plotted against him because of what he had done to the son of Jehoiada the priest. They murdered him on his bed. Thus he died and was buried in the City of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

2 Chronicles 24:26 The conspirators were Zabad son of Shimeath (an Ammonite woman) and Jehozabad son of Shimrith (a Moabite woman).

2 Chronicles 24:27 The list of Joash’s sons, the many prophetic oracles pertaining to him, and the account of his building project on God’s temple are included in the record of the Scroll of the Kings. His son Amaziah replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 25:1 Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jehoaddan, who was from Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 25:2 He did what the LORD approved, but not with wholehearted devotion.

2 Chronicles 25:3 When he had secured control of the kingdom, he executed the servants who had assassinated his father.

2 Chronicles 25:4 However, he did not execute their sons. He obeyed the LORD’s commandment as recorded in the law scroll of Moses, “Fathers must not be executed for what their sons do, and sons must not be executed for what their fathers do. A man must be executed only for his own sin.”

2 Chronicles 25:5 Amaziah assembled the people of Judah and assigned them by families to the commanders of units of a thousand and the commanders of units of a hundred for all Judah and Benjamin. He counted those twenty years old and up and discovered there were 300,000 young men of fighting age equipped with spears and shields.

2 Chronicles 25:6 He hired 100,000 Israelite warriors for a hundred talents of silver.

2 Chronicles 25:7 But a prophet visited him and said: “O king, the Israelite troops must not go with you, for the LORD is not with Israel or any of the Ephraimites.

2 Chronicles 25:8 Even if you go and fight bravely in battle, God will defeat you before the enemy. God is capable of helping or defeating.”

2 Chronicles 25:9 Amaziah asked the prophet: “But what should I do about the hundred talents of silver I paid the Israelite troops?” The prophet replied, “The LORD is capable of giving you more than that.”

2 Chronicles 25:10 So Amaziah dismissed the troops that had come to him from Ephraim and sent them home. They were very angry at Judah and returned home incensed.

2 Chronicles 25:11 Amaziah boldly led his army to the Valley of Salt, where he defeated 10,000 Edomites.

2 Chronicles 25:12 The men of Judah captured 10,000 men alive. They took them to the top of a cliff and threw them over. All the captives fell to their death.

2 Chronicles 25:13 Now the troops Amaziah had dismissed and had not allowed to fight in the battle raided the cities of Judah from Samaria to Beth Horon. They killed 3,000 people and carried off a large amount of plunder.

2 Chronicles 25:14 When Amaziah returned from defeating the Edomites, he brought back the gods of the people of Seir and made them his personal gods. He bowed down before them and offered them sacrifices.

2 Chronicles 25:15 The LORD was angry at Amaziah and sent a prophet to him, who said, “Why are you following these gods that could not deliver their own people from your power?”

2 Chronicles 25:16 While he was speaking, Amaziah said to him, “Did we appoint you to be a royal counselor? Stop prophesying or else you will be killed!” So the prophet stopped, but added, “I know that the LORD has decided to destroy you, because you have done this thing and refused to listen to my advice.”

2 Chronicles 25:17 After King Amaziah of Judah consulted with his advisers, he sent this message to the king of Israel, Joash son of Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu, “Come, face me on the battlefield.”

2 Chronicles 25:18 King Joash of Israel sent this message back to King Amaziah of Judah, “A thorn bush in Lebanon sent this message to a cedar in Lebanon, ‘Give your daughter to my son as a wife.’ Then a wild animal of Lebanon came by and trampled down the thorn bush.

2 Chronicles 25:19 You defeated Edom and it has gone to your head. Gloat over your success, but stay in your palace. Why bring calamity on yourself? Why bring down yourself and Judah along with you?”

2 Chronicles 25:20 But Amaziah did not heed the warning, for God wanted to hand them over to Joash because they followed the gods of Edom.

2 Chronicles 25:21 So King Joash of Israel attacked. He and King Amaziah of Judah faced each other on the battlefield in Beth Shemesh of Judah.

2 Chronicles 25:22 Judah was defeated by Israel, and each man ran back home.

2 Chronicles 25:23 King Joash of Israel captured King Amaziah of Judah, son of Joash son of Jehoahaz, in Beth Shemesh and brought him to Jerusalem. He broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate– a distance of about six hundred feet.

2 Chronicles 25:24 He took away all the gold and silver, all the items found in God’s temple that were in the care of Obed-Edom, the riches in the royal palace, and some hostages. Then he went back to Samaria.

2 Chronicles 25:25 King Amaziah son of Joash of Judah lived for fifteen years after the death of King Joash son of Jehoahaz of Israel.

2 Chronicles 25:26 The rest of the events of Amaziah’s reign, from start to finish, are recorded in the Scroll of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

2 Chronicles 25:27 From the time Amaziah turned from following the LORD, conspirators plotted against him in Jerusalem, so he fled to Lachish. But they sent assassins after him and they killed him there.

2 Chronicles 25:28 His body was carried back by horses, and he was buried in Jerusalem with his ancestors in the City of David.

2 Chronicles 26:1 All the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in his father Amaziah’s place.

2 Chronicles 26:2 Uzziah built up Elat and restored it to Judah after King Amaziah had passed away.

2 Chronicles 26:3 Uzziah was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Jecholiah, who was from Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 26:4 He did what the LORD approved, just as his father Amaziah had done.

2 Chronicles 26:5 He followed God during the lifetime of Zechariah, who taught him how to honor God. As long as he followed the LORD, God caused him to succeed.

2 Chronicles 26:6 Uzziah attacked the Philistines and broke down the walls of Gath, Jabneh, and Ashdod. He built cities in the region of Ashdod and throughout Philistine territory.

2 Chronicles 26:7 God helped him in his campaigns against the Philistines, the Arabs living in Gur Baal, and the Meunites.

2 Chronicles 26:8 The Ammonites paid tribute to Uzziah and his fame reached the border of Egypt, for he grew in power.

2 Chronicles 26:9 Uzziah built and fortified towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate, Valley Gate, and at the Angle.

2 Chronicles 26:10 He built towers in the desert and dug many cisterns, for he owned many herds in the lowlands and on the plain. He had workers in the fields and vineyards in the hills and in Carmel, for he loved agriculture.

2 Chronicles 26:11 Uzziah had an army of skilled warriors trained for battle. They were organized by divisions according to the muster rolls made by Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the officer under the authority of Hananiah, a royal official.

2 Chronicles 26:12 The total number of family leaders who led warriors was 2,600.

2 Chronicles 26:13 They commanded an army of 307,500 skilled and able warriors who were ready to defend the king against his enemies.

2 Chronicles 26:14 Uzziah supplied shields, spears, helmets, breastplates, bows, and slingstones for the entire army.

2 Chronicles 26:15 In Jerusalem he made war machines carefully designed to shoot arrows and large stones from the towers and corners of the walls. He became very famous, for he received tremendous support and became powerful.

2 Chronicles 26:16 But once he became powerful, his pride destroyed him. He disobeyed the LORD his God. He entered the LORD’s temple to offer incense on the incense altar.

2 Chronicles 26:17 Azariah the priest and eighty other brave priests of the LORD followed him in.

2 Chronicles 26:18 They confronted King Uzziah and said to him, “It is not proper for you, Uzziah, to offer incense to the LORD. That is the responsibility of the priests, the descendants of Aaron, who are consecrated to offer incense. Leave the sanctuary, for you have disobeyed and the LORD God will not honor you!”

2 Chronicles 26:19 Uzziah, who had an incense censer in his hand, became angry. While he was ranting and raving at the priests, a skin disease appeared on his forehead right there in front of the priests in the LORD’s temple near the incense altar.

2 Chronicles 26:20 When Azariah the high priest and the other priests looked at him, there was a skin disease on his forehead. They hurried him out of there; even the king himself wanted to leave quickly because the LORD had afflicted him.

2 Chronicles 26:21 King Uzziah suffered from a skin disease until the day he died. He lived in separate quarters, afflicted by a skin disease and banned from the LORD’s temple. His son Jotham was in charge of the palace and ruled over the people of the land.

2 Chronicles 26:22 The rest of the events of Uzziah’s reign, from start to finish, were recorded by the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz.

2 Chronicles 26:23 Uzziah passed away and was buried near his ancestors in a cemetery belonging to the kings. (This was because he had a skin disease.) His son Jotham replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 27:1 Jotham was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jerusha the daughter of Zadok.

2 Chronicles 27:2 He did what the LORD approved, just as his father Uzziah had done. (He did not, however, have the audacity to enter the temple.) Yet the people were still sinning.

2 Chronicles 27:3 He built the Upper Gate to the LORD’s temple and did a lot of work on the wall in the area known as Ophel.

2 Chronicles 27:4 He built cities in the hill country of Judah and fortresses and towers in the forests.

2 Chronicles 27:5 He launched a military campaign against the king of the Ammonites and defeated them. That year the Ammonites paid him 100 talents of silver, 10,000 kors of wheat, and 10,000 kors of barley. The Ammonites also paid this same amount of annual tribute the next two years.

2 Chronicles 27:6 Jotham grew powerful because he was determined to please the LORD his God.

2 Chronicles 27:7 The rest of the events of Jotham’s reign, including all his military campaigns and his accomplishments, are recorded in the scroll of the kings of Israel and Judah.

2 Chronicles 27:8 He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for sixteen years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 27:9 Jotham passed away and was buried in the City of David. His son Ahaz replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 28:1 Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for sixteen years in Jerusalem. He did not do what pleased the LORD, in contrast to his ancestor David.

2 Chronicles 28:2 He followed in the footsteps of the kings of Israel; he also made images of the Baals.

2 Chronicles 28:3 He offered sacrifices in the Valley of Ben-Hinnom and passed his sons through the fire, a horrible sin practiced by the nations whom the LORD drove out before the Israelites.

2 Chronicles 28:4 He offered sacrifices and burned incense on the high places, on the hills, and under every green tree.

2 Chronicles 28:5 The LORD his God handed him over to the king of Syria. The Syrians defeated him and deported many captives to Damascus. He was also handed over to the king of Israel, who thoroughly defeated him.

2 Chronicles 28:6 In one day King Pekah son of Remaliah of Israel killed 120,000 warriors in Judah, because they had abandoned the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 28:7 Zikri, an Ephraimite warrior, killed the king's son Maaseiah, Azrikam, the supervisor of the palace, and Elkanah, the king's second-in-command.

2 Chronicles 28:8 The Israelites seized from their brothers 200,000 wives, sons, and daughters. They also carried off a huge amount of plunder and took it back to Samaria.

2 Chronicles 28:9 Oded, a prophet of the LORD, was there. He went to meet the army as they arrived in Samaria and said to them: "Look, because the LORD God of your ancestors was angry with Judah he handed them over to you. You have killed them so mercilessly that God has taken notice.

2 Chronicles 28:10 And now you are planning to enslave the people of Judah and Jerusalem. Yet are you not also guilty before the LORD your God?

2 Chronicles 28:11 Now listen to me! Send back those you have seized from your brothers, for the LORD is very angry at you!"

2 Chronicles 28:12 So some of the Ephraimite family leaders, Azariah son of Jehochanan, Berechiah son of Meshillemoth, Jechizkiah son of Shallum, and Amasa son of Hadlai confronted those returning from the battle.

2 Chronicles 28:13 They said to them, "Don't bring those captives here! Are you planning on making us even more sinful and guilty before the LORD? Our guilt is already great and the LORD is very angry at Israel."

2 Chronicles 28:14 So the soldiers released the captives and the plunder before the officials and the entire assembly.

2 Chronicles 28:15 Men were assigned to take the prisoners and find clothes among the plunder for those who were naked. So they clothed them, supplied them with sandals, gave them food and drink, and provided them with oil to rub on their skin. They put the ones who couldn't walk on donkeys. They brought them back to their brothers at Jericho, the city of the date palm trees, and then returned to Samaria.

2 Chronicles 28:16 At that time King Ahaz asked the king of Assyria for help.

2 Chronicles 28:17 The Edomites had again invaded and defeated Judah and carried off captives.

2 Chronicles 28:18 The Philistines had raided the cities of Judah in the lowlands and the Negev. They captured and settled in Beth Shemesh, Aijalon, Gederoth, Soco and its surrounding villages, Timnah and its surrounding villages, and Gimzo and its surrounding villages.

2 Chronicles 28:19 The LORD humiliated Judah because of King Ahaz of Israel, for he encouraged Judah to sin and was very unfaithful to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 28:20 King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria came, but he gave him more trouble than support.

2 Chronicles 28:21 Ahaz gathered riches from the LORD’s temple, the royal palace, and the officials and gave them to the king of Assyria, but that did not help.

2 Chronicles 28:22 During his time of trouble King Ahaz was even more unfaithful to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 28:23 He offered sacrifices to the gods of Damascus whom he thought had defeated him. He reasoned, “Since the gods of the kings of Damascus helped them, I will sacrifice to them so they will help me.” But they caused him and all Israel to stumble.

2 Chronicles 28:24 Ahaz gathered the items in God’s temple and removed them. He shut the doors of the LORD’s temple and erected altars on every street corner in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 28:25 In every city throughout Judah he set up high places to offer sacrifices to other gods. He angered the LORD God of his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 28:26 The rest of the events of Ahaz’s reign, including his accomplishments from start to finish, are recorded in the Scroll of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

2 Chronicles 28:27 Ahaz passed away and was buried in the City of David; they did not bring him to the tombs of the kings of Israel. His son Hezekiah replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 29:1 Hezekiah was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother was Abijah, the daughter of Zechariah.

2 Chronicles 29:2 He did what the LORD approved, just as his ancestor David had done.

2 Chronicles 29:3 In the first month of the first year of his reign, he opened the doors of the LORD’s temple and repaired them.

2 Chronicles 29:4 He brought in the priests and Levites and assembled them in the square on the east side.

2 Chronicles 29:5 He said to them: “Listen to me, you Levites! Now consecrate yourselves, so you can consecrate the temple of the LORD God of your ancestors! Remove from the sanctuary what is ceremonially unclean!

2 Chronicles 29:6 For our fathers were unfaithful; they did what is evil in the sight of the LORD our God and abandoned him! They turned away from the LORD’s dwelling place and rejected him.

2 Chronicles 29:7 They closed the doors of the temple porch and put out the lamps; they did not offer incense or burnt sacrifices in the sanctuary of the God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 29:8 The LORD was angry at Judah and Jerusalem and made them an appalling object of horror at which people hiss out their scorn, as you can see with your own eyes.

2 Chronicles 29:9 Look, our fathers died violently and our sons, daughters, and wives were carried off because of this.

2 Chronicles 29:10 Now I intend to make a covenant with the LORD God of Israel, so that he may relent from his raging anger.

2 Chronicles 29:11 My sons, do not be negligent now, for the LORD has chosen you to serve in his presence and offer sacrifices.”

2 Chronicles 29:12 The following Levites prepared to carry out the king’s orders: From the Kohathites: Mahath son of Amasai and Joel son of Azariah; from the Merarites: Kish son of Abdi and Azariah son of Jehallelel; from the Gershonites: Joah son of Zimmah and Eden son of Joah;

2 Chronicles 29:13 from the descendants of Elizaphan: Shimri and Jeiel; from the descendants of Asaph: Zechariah and Mattaniah;

2 Chronicles 29:14 from the descendants of Heman: Jehiel and Shimei; from the descendants of Jeduthun: Shemaiah and Uzziel.

2 Chronicles 29:15 They assembled their brothers and consecrated themselves. Then they went in to purify the LORD’s temple, just as the king had ordered, in accordance with the word of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 29:16 The priests then entered the LORD’s temple to purify it; they brought out to the courtyard of the LORD’s temple every ceremonially unclean thing they discovered inside. The Levites took them out to the Kidron Valley.

2 Chronicles 29:17 On the first day of the first month they began consecrating; by the eighth day of the month they reached the porch of the LORD’s temple. For eight more days they consecrated the LORD’s temple. On the sixteenth day of the first month they were finished.

2 Chronicles 29:18 They went to King Hezekiah and said: “We have purified the entire temple of the LORD, including the altar of burnt sacrifice and all its equipment, and the table for the Bread of the Presence and all its equipment.

2 Chronicles 29:19 We have prepared and consecrated all the items that King Ahaz removed during his reign when he acted unfaithfully. They are in front of the altar of the LORD.”

2 Chronicles 29:20 Early the next morning King Hezekiah assembled the city officials and went up to the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 29:21 They brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven lambs, and seven goats as a sin offering for the kingdom, the sanctuary, and Judah. The king told the priests, the descendants of Aaron, to offer burnt sacrifices on the altar of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 29:22 They slaughtered the bulls, and the priests took the blood and splashed it on the altar. Then they slaughtered the rams and splashed the blood on the altar; next they slaughtered the lambs and splashed the blood on the altar.

2 Chronicles 29:23 Finally they brought the goats for the sin offering before the king and the assembly, and they placed their hands on them.

2 Chronicles 29:24 Then the priests slaughtered them. They offered their blood as a sin offering on the altar to make atonement for all Israel, because the king had decreed that the burnt sacrifice and sin offering were for all Israel.

2 Chronicles 29:25 King Hezekiah stationed the Levites in the LORD’s temple with cymbals and stringed instruments, just as David, Gad the king’s prophet, and Nathan the prophet had ordered. (The LORD had actually given these orders through his prophets.)

2 Chronicles 29:26 The Levites had David’s musical instruments and the priests had trumpets.

2 Chronicles 29:27 Hezekiah ordered the burnt sacrifice to be offered on the altar. As they began to offer the sacrifice, they also began to sing to the LORD, accompanied by the trumpets and the musical instruments of King David of Israel.

2 Chronicles 29:28 The entire assembly worshiped, as the singers sang and the trumpeters played. They continued until the burnt sacrifice was completed.

2 Chronicles 29:29 When the sacrifices were completed, the king and all who were with him bowed down and worshiped.

2 Chronicles 29:30 King Hezekiah and the officials told the Levites to praise the LORD, using the psalms of David and Asaph the prophet. So they joyfully offered praise and bowed down and worshiped.

2 Chronicles 29:31 Hezekiah said, “Now you have consecrated yourselves to the LORD. Come and bring sacrifices and thank offerings to the LORD’s temple.” So the assembly brought sacrifices and thank offerings, and whoever desired to do so brought burnt sacrifices.

2 Chronicles 29:32 The assembly brought a total of 70 bulls, 100 rams, and 200 lambs as burnt sacrifices to the LORD,

2 Chronicles 29:33 and 600 bulls and 3,000 sheep were consecrated.

2 Chronicles 29:34 But there were not enough priests to skin all the animals, so their brothers, the Levites, helped them until the work was finished and the priests could consecrate themselves. (The Levites had been more conscientious about consecrating themselves than the priests.)

2 Chronicles 29:35 There was a large number of burnt sacrifices, as well as fat from the peace offerings and drink offerings that accompanied the burnt sacrifices. So the service of the LORD's temple was reinstituted.

2 Chronicles 29:36 Hezekiah and all the people were happy about what God had done for them, for it had been done quickly.

2 Chronicles 30:1 Hezekiah sent messages throughout Israel and Judah; he even wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh, summoning them to come to the LORD's temple in Jerusalem and observe a Passover celebration for the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 30:2 The king, his officials, and the entire assembly in Jerusalem decided to observe the Passover in the second month.

2 Chronicles 30:3 They were unable to observe it at the regular time because not enough priests had consecrated themselves and the people had not assembled in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 30:4 The proposal seemed appropriate to the king and the entire assembly.

2 Chronicles 30:5 So they sent an edict throughout Israel from Beer Sheba to Dan, summoning the people to come and observe a Passover for the LORD God of Israel in Jerusalem, for they had not observed it on a nationwide scale as prescribed in the law.

2 Chronicles 30:6 Messengers delivered the letters from the king and his officials throughout Israel and Judah. This royal edict read: “O Israelites, return to the LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, so he may return to you who have been spared from the kings of Assyria.

2 Chronicles 30:7 Don't be like your fathers and brothers who were unfaithful to the LORD God of their ancestors, provoking him to destroy them, as you can see.

2 Chronicles 30:8 Now, don't be stubborn like your fathers! Submit to the LORD and come to his sanctuary which he has permanently consecrated. Serve the LORD your God so that he might relent from his raging anger.

2 Chronicles 30:9 For if you return to the LORD, your brothers and sons will be shown mercy by their captors and return to this land. The LORD your God is merciful and compassionate; he will not reject you if you return to him.”

2 Chronicles 30:10 The messengers journeyed from city to city through the land of Ephraim and Manasseh as far as Zebulun, but people mocked and ridiculed them.

2 Chronicles 30:11 But some men from Asher, Manasseh, and Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 30:12 In Judah God moved the people to unite and carry out the edict the king and the officers had issued at the LORD’s command.

2 Chronicles 30:13 A huge crowd assembled in Jerusalem to observe the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the second month.

2 Chronicles 30:14 They removed the altars in Jerusalem; they also removed all the incense altars and threw them into the Kidron Valley.

2 Chronicles 30:15 They slaughtered the Passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the second month. The priests and Levites were ashamed, so they consecrated themselves and brought burnt sacrifices to the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 30:16 They stood at their posts according to the regulations outlined in the law of Moses, the man of God. The priests were splashing the blood as the Levites handed it to them.

2 Chronicles 30:17 Because many in the assembly had not consecrated themselves, the Levites slaughtered the Passover lambs of all who were ceremonially unclean and could not consecrate their sacrifice to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 30:18 The majority of the many people from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun were ceremonially unclean, yet they ate the Passover in violation of what is prescribed in the law. For Hezekiah prayed for them, saying: “May the LORD, who is good, forgive

2 Chronicles 30:19 everyone who has determined to follow God, the LORD God of his ancestors, even if he is not ceremonially clean according to the standards of the temple.”

2 Chronicles 30:20 The LORD responded favorably to Hezekiah and forgave the people.

2 Chronicles 30:21 The Israelites who were in Jerusalem observed the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days with great joy. The Levites and priests were praising the LORD every day with all their might.

2 Chronicles 30:22 Hezekiah expressed his appreciation to all the Levites, who demonstrated great skill in serving the LORD. They feasted for the seven days of the festival, and were making peace offerings and giving thanks to the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 30:23 The entire assembly then decided to celebrate for seven more days; so they joyfully celebrated for seven more days.

2 Chronicles 30:24 King Hezekiah of Judah supplied 1,000 bulls and 7,000 sheep for the assembly, while the officials supplied them with 1,000 bulls and 10,000 sheep. Many priests consecrated themselves.

2 Chronicles 30:25 The celebration included the entire assembly of Judah, the priests, the Levites, the entire assembly of those who came from Israel, the resident foreigners who came from the land of Israel, and the residents of Judah.

2 Chronicles 30:26 There was a great celebration in Jerusalem, unlike anything that had occurred in Jerusalem since the time of King Solomon son of David of Israel.

2 Chronicles 30:27 The priests and Levites got up and pronounced blessings on the people. The LORD responded favorably to them as their prayers reached his holy dwelling place in heaven.

2 Chronicles 31:1 When all this was over, the Israelites who were in the cities of Judah went out and smashed the sacred pillars, cut down the Asherah poles, and demolished all the high places and altars throughout Judah, Benjamin, Ephraim, and Manasseh. Then all the Israelites returned to their own homes in their cities.

2 Chronicles 31:2 Hezekiah appointed the divisions of the priests and Levites to do their assigned tasks– to offer burnt sacrifices and present offerings and to serve, give thanks, and offer praise in the gates of the LORD’s sanctuary.

2 Chronicles 31:3 The king contributed some of what he owned for burnt sacrifices, including the morning and evening burnt sacrifices and the burnt sacrifices made on Sabbaths, new moon festivals, and at other appointed times prescribed in the law of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 31:4 He ordered the people living in Jerusalem to contribute the portion prescribed for the priests and Levites so they might be obedient to the law of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 31:5 When the edict was issued, the Israelites freely contributed the initial portion of their grain, wine, olive oil, honey, and all the produce of their fields. They brought a tenth of everything, which added up to a huge amount.

2 Chronicles 31:6 The Israelites and people of Judah who lived in the cities of Judah also contributed a tenth of their cattle and sheep, as well as a tenth of the holy items consecrated to the LORD their God. They brought them and placed them in many heaps.

2 Chronicles 31:7 In the third month they began piling their contributions in heaps and finished in the seventh month.

2 Chronicles 31:8 When Hezekiah and the officials came and saw the heaps, they praised the LORD and pronounced blessings on his people Israel.

2 Chronicles 31:9 When Hezekiah asked the priests and Levites about the heaps,

2 Chronicles 31:10 Azariah, the head priest from the family of Zadok, said to him, “Since the contributions began arriving in the LORD’s temple, we have had plenty to eat and have a large quantity left over. For the LORD has blessed his people, and this large amount remains.”

2 Chronicles 31:11 Hezekiah ordered that storerooms be prepared in the LORD’s temple. When this was done,

2 Chronicles 31:12 they brought in the contributions, tithes, and consecrated items that had been offered. Konaniah, a Levite, was in charge of all this, assisted by his brother Shimei.

2 Chronicles 31:13 Jehiel, Azaziah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismakiah, Mahath, and Benaiah worked under the supervision of Konaniah and his brother Shimei, as directed by King Hezekiah and Azariah, the supervisor of God’s temple.

2 Chronicles 31:14 Kore son of Imnah, a Levite and the guard on the east side, was in charge of the voluntary offerings made to God and disbursed the contributions made to the LORD and the consecrated items.

2 Chronicles 31:15 In the cities of the priests, Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah faithfully assisted him in making disbursements to their fellow priests according to their divisions, regardless of age.

2 Chronicles 31:16 They made disbursements to all the males three years old and up who were listed in the genealogical records– to all who would enter the LORD’s temple to serve on a daily basis and fulfill their duties as assigned to their divisions.

2 Chronicles 31:17 They made disbursements to the priests listed in the genealogical records by their families, and to the Levites twenty years old and up, according to their duties as assigned to their divisions,

2 Chronicles 31:18 and to all the infants, wives, sons, and daughters of the entire assembly listed in the genealogical records, for they faithfully consecrated themselves.

2 Chronicles 31:19 As for the descendants of Aaron, the priests who lived in the outskirts of all their cities, men were assigned to disburse portions to every male among the priests and to every Levite listed in the genealogical records.

2 Chronicles 31:20 This is what Hezekiah did throughout Judah. He did what the LORD his God considered good and right and faithful.

2 Chronicles 31:21 He wholeheartedly and successfully reinstituted service in God’s temple and obedience to the law, in order to follow his God.

2 Chronicles 32:1 After these faithful deeds were accomplished, King Sennacherib of Assyria invaded Judah. He besieged the fortified cities, intending to seize them.

2 Chronicles 32:2 When Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib had invaded and intended to attack Jerusalem,

2 Chronicles 32:3 he consulted with his advisers and military officers about stopping up the springs outside the city, and they supported him.

2 Chronicles 32:4 A large number of people gathered together and stopped up all the springs and the stream that flowed through the district. They reasoned, "Why should the kings of Assyria come and find plenty of water?"

2 Chronicles 32:5 Hezekiah energetically rebuilt every broken wall. He erected towers and an outer wall, and fortified the terrace of the City of David. He made many weapons and shields.

2 Chronicles 32:6 He appointed military officers over the army and assembled them in the square at the city gate. He encouraged them, saying,

2 Chronicles 32:7 "Be strong and brave! Don't be afraid and don't panic because of the king of Assyria and this huge army that is with him! We have with us one who is stronger than those who are with him.

2 Chronicles 32:8 He has with him mere human strength, but the LORD our God is with us to help us and fight our battles!" The army was encouraged by the words of King Hezekiah of Judah.

2 Chronicles 32:9 Afterward King Sennacherib of Assyria, while attacking Lachish with all his military might, sent his messengers to Jerusalem. The message was for King Hezekiah of Judah and all the people of Judah who were in Jerusalem. It read:

2 Chronicles 32:10 "This is what King Sennacherib of Assyria says: 'Why are you so confident that you remain in Jerusalem while it is under siege?

2 Chronicles 32:11 Hezekiah says, "The LORD our God will rescue us from the power of the king of Assyria." But he is misleading you and you will die of hunger and thirst!

2 Chronicles 32:12 Hezekiah is the one who eliminated the LORD's high places and altars and then told Judah and Jerusalem, "At one altar you must worship and offer sacrifices."

2 Chronicles 32:13 Are you not aware of what I and my predecessors have done to all the nations of the surrounding lands? Have the gods of the surrounding lands actually been able to rescue their lands from my power?

2 Chronicles 32:14 Who among all the gods of these nations whom my predecessors annihilated was able to rescue his people from my power?

2 Chronicles 32:15 Now don't let Hezekiah deceive you or mislead you like this. Don't believe him, for no god of any nation or kingdom has been able to rescue his people from my power or the power of my predecessors. So how can your gods rescue you from my power?'"

2 Chronicles 32:16 Sennacherib's servants further insulted the LORD God and his servant Hezekiah.

2 Chronicles 32:17 He wrote letters mocking the LORD God of Israel and insulting him with these words: "The gods of the surrounding nations could not rescue their people from my power. Neither can Hezekiah's god rescue his people from my power."

2 Chronicles 32:18 They called out loudly in the Judahite dialect to the people of Jerusalem who were on the wall, trying to scare and terrify them so they could seize the city.

2 Chronicles 32:19 They talked about the God of Jerusalem as if he were one of the man-made gods of the nations of the earth.

2 Chronicles 32:20 King Hezekiah and the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz prayed about this and cried out to heaven.

2 Chronicles 32:21 The LORD sent a messenger and he wiped out all the soldiers, princes, and officers in the army of the king of Assyria. So Sennacherib returned home humiliated. When he entered the temple of his god, some of his own sons struck him down with the sword.

2 Chronicles 32:22 The LORD delivered Hezekiah and the residents of Jerusalem from the power of King Sennacherib of Assyria and from all the other nations. He made them secure on every side.

2 Chronicles 32:23 Many were bringing presents to the LORD in Jerusalem and precious gifts to King Hezekiah of Judah. From that time on he was respected by all the nations.

2 Chronicles 32:24 In those days Hezekiah was stricken with a terminal illness. He prayed to the LORD, who answered him and gave him a sign confirming that he would be healed.

2 Chronicles 32:25 But Hezekiah was ungrateful; he had a proud attitude, provoking God to be angry at him, as well as Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 32:26 But then Hezekiah and the residents of Jerusalem humbled themselves and abandoned their pride, and the LORD was not angry with them for the rest of Hezekiah's reign.

2 Chronicles 32:27 Hezekiah was very wealthy and greatly respected. He made storehouses for his silver, gold, precious stones, spices, and all his other valuable possessions.

2 Chronicles 32:28 He made storerooms for the harvest of grain, wine, and olive oil, and stalls for all his various kinds of livestock and his flocks.

2 Chronicles 32:29 He built royal cities and owned a large number of sheep and cattle, for God gave him a huge amount of possessions.

2 Chronicles 32:30 Hezekiah dammed up the source of the waters of the Upper Gihon and directed them down to the west side of the City of David. Hezekiah succeeded in all that he did.

2 Chronicles 32:31 So when the envoys arrived from the Babylonian officials to visit him and inquire about the sign that occurred in the land, God left him alone to test him, in order to know his true motives.

2 Chronicles 32:32 The rest of the events of Hezekiah's reign, including his faithful deeds, are recorded in the vision of the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz, included in the Scroll of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

2 Chronicles 32:33 Hezekiah passed away and was buried on the ascent of the tombs of the descendants of David. All the people of Judah and the residents of Jerusalem buried him with great honor. His son Manasseh replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 33:1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he reigned for fifty-five years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 33:2 He did evil in the sight of the LORD and committed the same horrible sins practiced by the nations whom the LORD drove out ahead of the Israelites.

2 Chronicles 33:3 He rebuilt the high places that his father Hezekiah had destroyed; he set up altars for the Baals and made Asherah poles. He bowed down to all the stars in the sky and worshiped them.

2 Chronicles 33:4 He built altars in the LORD's temple, about which the LORD had said, "Jerusalem will be my permanent home."

2 Chronicles 33:5 In the two courtyards of the LORD's temple he built altars for all the stars in the sky.

2 Chronicles 33:6 He passed his sons through the fire in the Valley of Ben-Hinnom and practiced divination, omen reading, and sorcery. He set up a ritual pit to conjure up underworld spirits and appointed magicians to supervise it. He did a great amount of evil in the sight of the LORD and angered him.

2 Chronicles 33:7 He put an idolatrous image he had made in God's temple, about which God had said to David and to his son Solomon, "This temple in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will be my permanent home.

2 Chronicles 33:8 I will not make Israel again leave the land I gave to their ancestors, provided that they carefully obey all I commanded them, the whole law, the rules and regulations given to Moses."

2 Chronicles 33:9 But Manasseh misled the people of Judah and the residents of Jerusalem so that they sinned more than the nations whom the LORD had destroyed ahead of the Israelites.

2 Chronicles 33:10 The LORD confronted Manasseh and his people, but they paid no attention.

2 Chronicles 33:11 So the LORD brought against them the commanders of the army of the king of Assyria. They seized Manasseh, put hooks in his nose, bound him with bronze chains, and carried him away to Babylon.

2 Chronicles 33:12 In his pain Manasseh asked the LORD his God for mercy and truly humbled himself before the God of his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 33:13 When he prayed to the LORD, the LORD responded to him and answered favorably his cry for mercy. The LORD brought him back to Jerusalem to his kingdom. Then Manasseh realized that the LORD is the true God.

2 Chronicles 33:14 After this Manasseh built up the outer wall of the City of David on the west side of the Gihon in the valley to the entrance of the Fish Gate and all around the terrace; he made it much higher. He placed army officers in all the fortified cities in Judah.

2 Chronicles 33:15 He removed the foreign gods and images from the LORD’s temple and all the altars he had built on the hill of the LORD’s temple and in Jerusalem; he threw them outside the city.

2 Chronicles 33:16 He erected the altar of the LORD and offered on it peace offerings and thank offerings. He told the people of Judah to serve the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 33:17 The people continued to offer sacrifices at the high places, but only to the LORD their God.

2 Chronicles 33:18 The rest of the events of Manasseh’s reign, including his prayer to his God and the words the prophets spoke to him in the name of the LORD God of Israel, are recorded in the Annals of the Kings of Israel.

2 Chronicles 33:19 The Annals of the Prophets include his prayer, give an account of how the LORD responded to it, record all his sins and unfaithful acts, and identify the sites where he built high places and erected Asherah poles and idols before he humbled himself.

2 Chronicles 33:20 Manasseh passed away and was buried in his palace. His son Amon replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 33:21 Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned for two years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 33:22 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, just like his father Manasseh had done. He offered sacrifices to all the idols his father Manasseh had made, and worshiped them.

2 Chronicles 33:23 He did not humble himself before the LORD as his father Manasseh had done. Amon was guilty of great sin.

2 Chronicles 33:24 His servants conspired against him and killed him in his palace.

2 Chronicles 33:25 The people of the land executed all who had conspired against King Amon, and they made his son Josiah king in his place.

2 Chronicles 34:1 Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned for thirty-one years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:2 He did what the LORD approved and followed in his ancestor David's footsteps; he did not deviate to the right or the left.

2 Chronicles 34:3 In the eighth year of his reign, while he was still young, he began to seek the God of his ancestor David. In his twelfth year he began ridding Judah and Jerusalem of the high places, Asherah poles, idols, and images.

2 Chronicles 34:4 He ordered the altars of the Baals to be torn down, and broke the incense altars that were above them. He smashed the Asherah poles, idols and images, crushed them up and sprinkled the dust over the tombs of those who had sacrificed to them.

2 Chronicles 34:5 He burned the bones of the pagan priests on their altars; he purified Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:6 In the cities of Manasseh, Ephraim, and Simeon, as far as Naphtali, and in the ruins around them,

2 Chronicles 34:7 he tore down the altars and Asherah poles, demolished the idols, and smashed all the incense altars throughout the land of Israel. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:8 In the eighteenth year of his reign, he continued his policy of purifying the land and the temple. He sent Shaphan son of Azaliah, Maaseiah the city official, and Joah son of Joahaz the secretary to repair the temple of the LORD his God.

2 Chronicles 34:9 They went to Hilkiah the high priest and gave him the silver that had been brought to God's temple. The Levites who guarded the door had collected it from the people of Manasseh and Ephraim and from all who were left in Israel, as well as from all the people of Judah and Benjamin and the residents of Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:10 They handed it over to the construction foremen assigned to the LORD's temple. They in turn paid the temple workers to restore and repair it.

2 Chronicles 34:11 They gave money to the craftsmen and builders to buy chiseled stone and wood for the braces and rafters of the buildings that the kings of Judah had allowed to fall into disrepair.

2 Chronicles 34:12 The men worked faithfully. Their supervisors were Jahath and Obadiah (Levites descended from Merari), as well as

Zechariah and Meshullam (descendants of Kohath). The Levites, all of whom were skilled musicians,

2 Chronicles 34:13 supervised the laborers and all the foremen on their various jobs. Some of the Levites were scribes, officials, and guards.

2 Chronicles 34:14 When they took out the silver that had been brought to the LORD's temple, Hilkiah the priest found the law scroll the LORD had given to Moses.

2 Chronicles 34:15 Hilkiah informed Shaphan the scribe, "I found the law scroll in the LORD's temple." Hilkiah gave the scroll to Shaphan.

2 Chronicles 34:16 Shaphan brought the scroll to the king and reported, "Your servants are doing everything assigned to them.

2 Chronicles 34:17 They melted down the silver in the LORD's temple and handed it over to the supervisors of the construction foremen."

2 Chronicles 34:18 Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, "Hilkiah the priest has given me a scroll." Shaphan read it out loud before the king.

2 Chronicles 34:19 When the king heard the words of the law scroll, he tore his clothes.

2 Chronicles 34:20 The king ordered Hilkiah, Ahikam son of Shaphan, Abdon son of Micah, Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah the king's servant,

2 Chronicles 34:21 "Go, seek an oracle from the LORD for me and those who remain in Israel and Judah. Find out about the words of this scroll that has been discovered. For the LORD's fury has been ignited against us, because our ancestors have not obeyed the word of the LORD by doing all that this scroll instructs!"

2 Chronicles 34:22 So Hilkiah and the others sent by the king went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum son of Tokhath, the son of Hasrah, the supervisor of the wardrobe. (She lived in Jerusalem in the Mishneh district.) They stated their business,

2 Chronicles 34:23 and she said to them: "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'Say this to the man who sent you to me:

2 Chronicles 34:24 "This is what the LORD says: 'I am about to bring disaster on this place and its residents, the details of which are recorded in the scroll which they read before the king of Judah.

2 Chronicles 34:25 This will happen because they have abandoned me and offered sacrifices to other gods, angering me with all the idols they have made. My anger will ignite against this place and will not be extinguished!'"

2 Chronicles 34:26 Say this to the king of Judah, who sent you to seek an oracle from the LORD: "This is what the LORD God of Israel says concerning the words you have heard:

2 Chronicles 34:27 ‘You displayed a sensitive spirit and humbled yourself before God when you heard his words concerning this place and its residents. You humbled yourself before me, tore your clothes and wept before me, and I have heard you,’ says the LORD.

2 Chronicles 34:28 ‘Therefore I will allow you to die and be buried in peace. You will not have to witness all the disaster I will bring on this place and its residents.’“ “ Then they reported back to the king.

2 Chronicles 34:29 The king summoned all the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:30 The king went up to the LORD’s temple, accompanied by all the people of Judah, the residents of Jerusalem, the priests, and the Levites. All the people were there, from the oldest to the youngest. He read aloud all the words of the scroll of the covenant that had been discovered in the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 34:31 The king stood by his pillar and renewed the covenant before the LORD, agreeing to follow the LORD and to obey his commandments, laws, and rules with all his heart and being, by carrying out the terms of this covenant recorded on this scroll.

2 Chronicles 34:32 He made all who were in Jerusalem and Benjamin agree to it. The residents of Jerusalem acted in accordance with the covenant of God, the God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 34:33 Josiah removed all the detestable idols from all the areas belonging to the Israelites and encouraged all who were in Israel to worship the LORD their God. Throughout the rest of his reign they did not turn aside from following the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 35:1 Josiah observed a Passover festival for the LORD in Jerusalem. They slaughtered the Passover lambs on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 Chronicles 35:2 He appointed the priests to fulfill their duties and encouraged them to carry out their service in the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 35:3 He told the Levites, who instructed all Israel about things consecrated to the LORD, “Place the holy ark in the temple which King Solomon son of David of Israel built. Don’t carry it on your shoulders. Now serve the LORD your God and his people Israel!

2 Chronicles 35:4 Prepare yourselves by your families according to your divisions, as instructed by King David of Israel and his son Solomon.

2 Chronicles 35:5 Stand in the sanctuary and, together with the Levites, represent the family divisions of your countrymen.

2 Chronicles 35:6 Slaughter the Passover lambs, consecrate yourselves, and make preparations for your countrymen to do what the LORD commanded through Moses.”

2 Chronicles 35:7 From his own royal flocks and herds, Josiah supplied the people with 30,000 lambs and goats for the Passover sacrifice, as well as 3,000 cattle.

2 Chronicles 35:8 His officials also willingly contributed to the people, priests, and Levites. Hilkiah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, the leaders of God's temple, supplied 2,600 Passover sacrifices and 300 cattle.

2 Chronicles 35:9 Konaniah and his brothers Shemaiah and Nethanel, along with Hashabiah, Jeiel, and Jozabad, the officials of the Levites, supplied the Levites with 5,000 Passover sacrifices and 500 cattle.

2 Chronicles 35:10 Preparations were made, and the priests stood at their posts and the Levites in their divisions as prescribed by the king.

2 Chronicles 35:11 They slaughtered the Passover lambs and the priests splashed the blood, while the Levites skinned the animals.

2 Chronicles 35:12 They reserved the burnt offerings and the cattle for the family divisions of the people to present to the LORD, as prescribed in the scroll of Moses.

2 Chronicles 35:13 They cooked the Passover sacrifices over the open fire as prescribed and cooked the consecrated offerings in pots, kettles, and pans. They quickly served them to all the people.

2 Chronicles 35:14 Afterward they made preparations for themselves and for the priests, because the priests, the descendants of Aaron, were offering burnt sacrifices and fat portions until evening. The Levites made preparations for themselves and for the priests, the descendants of Aaron.

2 Chronicles 35:15 The musicians, the descendants of Asaph, manned their posts, as prescribed by David, Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun the king's prophet. The guards at the various gates did not need to leave their posts, for their fellow Levites made preparations for them.

2 Chronicles 35:16 So all the preparations for the LORD's service were made that day, as the Passover was observed and the burnt sacrifices were offered on the altar of the LORD, as prescribed by King Josiah.

2 Chronicles 35:17 So the Israelites who were present observed the Passover at that time, as well as the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days.

2 Chronicles 35:18 A Passover like this had not been observed in Israel since the days of Samuel the prophet. None of the kings of Israel had observed a Passover like the one celebrated by Josiah, the priests, the Levites, all the people of Judah and Israel who were there, and the residents of Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 35:19 This Passover was observed in the eighteenth year of Josiah's reign.

2 Chronicles 35:20 After Josiah had done all this for the temple, King Necho of Egypt marched up to do battle at Carchemish on the Euphrates River. Josiah marched out to oppose him.

2 Chronicles 35:21 Necho sent messengers to him, saying, "Why are you opposing me, O king of Judah? I am not attacking you today, but the kingdom with which I am at war. God told me to hurry. Stop opposing God, who is with me, or else he will destroy you."

2 Chronicles 35:22 But Josiah did not turn back from him; he disguised himself for battle. He did not take seriously the words of Necho which he had received from God; he went to fight him in the Plain of Megiddo.

2 Chronicles 35:23 Archers shot King Josiah; the king ordered his servants, "Take me out of this chariot, for I am seriously wounded."

2 Chronicles 35:24 So his servants took him out of the chariot, put him in another chariot that he owned, and brought him to Jerusalem, where he died. He was buried in the tombs of his ancestors; all the people of Judah and Jerusalem mourned Josiah.

2 Chronicles 35:25 Jeremiah composed laments for Josiah which all the male and female singers use to mourn Josiah to this very day. It has become customary in Israel to sing these; they are recorded in the Book of Laments.

2 Chronicles 35:26 The rest of the events of Josiah's reign, including the faithful acts he did in obedience to what is written in the law of the LORD

2 Chronicles 35:27 and his accomplishments, from start to finish, are recorded in the Scroll of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

2 Chronicles 36:1 The people of the land took Jehoahaz son of Josiah and made him king in his father's place in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 36:2 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 36:3 The king of Egypt prevented him from ruling in Jerusalem and imposed on the land a special tax of one hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

2 Chronicles 36:4 The king of Egypt made Jehoahaz's brother Eliakim king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. Necho seized his brother Jehoahaz and took him to Egypt.

2 Chronicles 36:5 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned for eleven years in Jerusalem. He did evil in the sight of the LORD his God.

2 Chronicles 36:6 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked him, bound him with bronze chains, and carried him away to Babylon.

2 Chronicles 36:7 Nebuchadnezzar took some of the items in the LORD’s temple to Babylon and put them in his palace there.

2 Chronicles 36:8 The rest of the events of Jehoiakim’s reign, including the horrible sins he committed and his shortcomings, are recorded in the Scroll of the Kings of Israel and Judah. His son Jehoiachin replaced him as king.

2 Chronicles 36:9 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. He did evil in the sight of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 36:10 At the beginning of the year King Nebuchadnezzar ordered him to be brought to Babylon, along with the valuable items in the LORD’s temple. In his place he made his relative Zedekiah king over Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 36:11 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he ruled for eleven years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 36:12 He did evil in the sight of the LORD his God. He did not humble himself before Jeremiah the prophet, the LORD’s spokesman.

2 Chronicles 36:13 He also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him vow allegiance in the name of God. He was stubborn and obstinate, and refused to return to the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 36:14 All the leaders of the priests and people became more unfaithful and committed the same horrible sins practiced by the nations. They defiled the LORD’s temple which he had consecrated in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 36:15 The LORD God of their ancestors continually warned them through his messengers, for he felt compassion for his people and his dwelling place.

2 Chronicles 36:16 But they mocked God’s messengers, despised his warnings, and ridiculed his prophets. Finally the LORD got very angry at his people and there was no one who could prevent his judgment.

2 Chronicles 36:17 He brought against them the king of the Babylonians, who slaughtered their young men in their temple. He did not spare young men or women, or even the old and aging. God handed everyone over to him.

2 Chronicles 36:18 He carried away to Babylon all the items in God’s temple, whether large or small, as well as what was in the treasuries of the LORD’s temple and in the treasuries of the king and his officials.

2 Chronicles 36:19 They burned down the LORD’s temple and tore down the wall of Jerusalem. They burned all its fortified buildings and destroyed all its valuable items.

2 Chronicles 36:20 He deported to Babylon all who escaped the sword. They served him and his sons until the Persian kingdom rose to power.

2 Chronicles 36:21 This took place to fulfill the LORD’s message delivered through Jeremiah. The land experienced its sabbatical years; it remained desolate for seventy years, as prophesied.

2 Chronicles 36:22 In the first year of the reign of King Cyrus of Persia, in fulfillment of the promise he delivered through Jeremiah, the LORD moved King Cyrus of Persia to issue a written decree throughout his kingdom.

2 Chronicles 36:23 It read: “This is what King Cyrus of Persia says: ‘The LORD God of the heavens has given to me all the kingdoms of the earth. He has appointed me to build for him a temple in Jerusalem in Judah. May the LORD your God energize you who belong to his people, so you may be able to go back there!”

Ezra

1:1 In the first year of King Cyrus of Persia, in order to fulfill the LORD’S message spoken through Jeremiah, the LORD stirred the mind of King Cyrus of Persia. He disseminated a proclamation throughout his entire kingdom, announcing in a written edict the following:

Ezra 1:2 “Thus says King Cyrus of Persia: “‘The LORD God of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the earth. He has instructed me to build a temple for him in Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

Ezra 1:3 Anyone from his people among you (may his God be with him!) may go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and may build the temple of the LORD God of Israel– he is the God who is in Jerusalem.

Ezra 1:4 Anyone who survives in any of those places where he is a resident foreigner must be helped by his neighbors with silver, gold, equipment, and animals, along with voluntary offerings for the temple of God which is in Jerusalem.’“

Ezra 1:5 Then the leaders of Judah and Benjamin, along with the priests and the Levites– all those whose mind God had stirred– got ready to go up in order to build the temple of the LORD in Jerusalem.

Ezra 1:6 All their neighbors assisted them with silver utensils, gold, equipment, animals, and expensive gifts, not to mention all the voluntary offerings.

Ezra 1:7 Then King Cyrus brought out the vessels of the LORD’s temple which Nebuchadnezzar had brought from Jerusalem and had displayed in the temple of his gods.

Ezra 1:8 King Cyrus of Persia entrusted them to Mithredath the treasurer, who counted them out to Sheshbazzar the leader of the Judahite exiles.

Ezra 1:9 The inventory of these items was as follows: 30 gold basins, 1,000 silver basins, 29 silver utensils,

Ezra 1:10 30 gold bowls, 410 other silver bowls, and 1,000 other vessels.

Ezra 1:11 All these gold and silver vessels totaled 5,400. Sheshbazzar brought them all along when the captives were brought up from Babylon to Jerusalem.

Ezra 2:1 These are the people of the province who were going up, from the captives of the exile whom King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon had forced into exile in Babylon. They returned to Jerusalem and Judah, each to his own city.

Ezra 2:2 They came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar, Bigvai, Rehum, and Baanah. The number of Israelites was as follows:

Ezra 2:3 the descendants of Parosh: 2,172;

Ezra 2:4 the descendants of Shephatiah: 372;

Ezra 2:5 the descendants of Arah: 775;

Ezra 2:6 the descendants of Pahath-Moab (from the line of Jeshua and Joab): 2,812;

Ezra 2:7 the descendants of Elam: 1,254;

Ezra 2:8 the descendants of Zattu: 945;

Ezra 2:13 the descendants of Adonikam: 666;

Ezra 2:14 the descendants of Bigvai: 2,056;

Ezra 2:15 the descendants of Adin: 454;

Ezra 2:16 the descendants of Ater (through Hezekiah): 98;

Ezra 2:17 the descendants of Bezai: 323;

Ezra 2:18 the descendants of Jorah: 112;

Ezra 2:19 the descendants of Hashum: 223;

Ezra 2:20 the descendants of Gibbar: 95.

Ezra 2:21 The men of Bethlehem: 123;

Ezra 2:22 the men of Netophah: 56;

Ezra 2:23 the men of Anathoth: 128;

Ezra 2:24 the men of the family of Azmaveth: 42;

Ezra 2:25 the men of Kiriath Jearim, Kephirah and Beeroth: 743;

Ezra 2:26 the men of Ramah and Geba: 621;

Ezra 2:27 the men of Micmash: 122;

Ezra 2:28 the men of Bethel and Ai: 223;

Ezra 2:29 the descendants of Nebo: 52;

Ezra 2:30 the descendants of Magbish: 156;

Ezra 2:31 the descendants of the other Elam: 1,254;

Ezra 2:32 the descendants of Harim: 320;

Ezra 2:33 the men of Lod, Hadid, and Ono: 725;

Ezra 2:34 the men of Jericho: 345;

Ezra 2:35 the descendants of Senaah: 3,630.

Ezra 2:36 The priests: the descendants of Jedaiah (through the family of Jeshua): 973;

Ezra 2:37 the descendants of Immer: 1,052;

Ezra 2:38 the descendants of Pashhur: 1,247;

Ezra 2:39 the descendants of Harim: 1,017.

Ezra 2:40 The Levites: the descendants of Jeshua and Kadmiel (through the line of Hodaviah): 74.

Ezra 2:41 The singers: the descendants of Asaph: 128.

Ezra 2:42 The gatekeepers: the descendants of Shallum, the descendants of Ater, the descendants of Talmon, the descendants of Akkub, the descendants of Hatita, and the descendants of Shobai: 139.

Ezra 2:43 The temple servants: the descendants of Ziha, the descendants of Hasupha, the descendants of Tabbaoth,

Ezra 2:44 the descendants of Keros, the descendants of Siaha, the descendants of Padon,

Ezra 2:45 the descendants of Lebanah, the descendants of Hagabah, the descendants of Akkub,

Ezra 2:46 the descendants of Hagab, the descendants of Shalmai, the descendants of Hanan,

Ezra 2:47 the descendants of Giddel, the descendants of Gahar, the descendants of Reaiah,

Ezra 2:48 the descendants of Rezin, the descendants of Nekoda, the descendants of Gazzam,

Ezra 2:49 the descendants of Uzzah, the descendants of Paseah, the descendants of Besai,

Ezra 2:50 the descendants of Asnah, the descendants of Meunim, the descendants of Nephussim,

Ezra 2:51 the descendants of Bakbuk, the descendants of Hakupha, the descendants of Harhur,

Ezra 2:52 the descendants of Bazluth, the descendants of Mehida, the descendants of Harsha, Ezra 2:53 the descendants of Barkos, the descendants of Sisera, the descendants of Temah,

Ezra 2:54 the descendants of Neziah, and the descendants of Hatipha.

Ezra 2:55 The descendants of the servants of Solomon: the descendants of Sotai, the descendants of Hassophereth, the descendants of Peruda,

Ezra 2:56 the descendants of Jaala, the descendants of Darkon, the descendants of Giddel,

Ezra 2:57 the descendants of Shephatiah, the descendants of Hattil, the descendants of Pokereth-Hazzebaim, and the descendants of Ami.

Ezra 2:58 All the temple servants and the descendants of the servants of Solomon: 392.

Ezra 2:59 These are the ones that came up from Tel Melah, Tel Harsha, Kerub, Addon, and Immer (although they were unable to certify their family connection or their ancestry, as to whether they really were from Israel):

Ezra 2:60 the descendants of Delaiah, the descendants of Tobiah, and the descendants of Nekoda: 652.

Ezra 2:61 And from among the priests: the descendants of Hobaiah, the descendants of Hakkoz, and the descendants of Barzillai (who had taken a wife from the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite and was called by that name).

Ezra 2:62 They searched for their records in the genealogical materials, but did not find them. They were therefore excluded from the priesthood.

Ezra 2:63 The governor instructed them not to eat any of the sacred food until there was a priest who could consult the Urim and Thummim.

Ezra 2:64 The entire group numbered 42,360,

Ezra 2:65 not counting their male and female servants, who numbered 7,337. They also had 200 male and female singers

Ezra 2:66 and 736 horses, 245 mules,

Ezra 2:67 435 camels, and 6,720 donkeys.

Ezra 2:68 When they came to the LORD’s temple in Jerusalem, some of the family leaders offered voluntary offerings for the temple of God in order to rebuild it on its site.

Ezra 2:69 As they were able, they gave to the treasury for this work 61,000 drachmas of gold, 5,000 minas of silver, and 100 priestly robes.

Ezra 2:70 The priests, the Levites, some of the people, the singers, the gatekeepers, and the temple servants lived in their towns, and all the rest of Israel lived in their towns.

Ezra 3:1 When the seventh month arrived and the Israelites were living in their towns, the people assembled in Jerusalem.

Ezra 3:2 Then Jeshua the son of Jozadak and his priestly colleagues and Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and his colleagues started to build the altar of the God of Israel so they could offer burnt offerings on it as required by the law of Moses the man of God.

Ezra 3:3 They established the altar on its foundations, even though they were in terror of the local peoples, and they offered burnt offerings on it to the LORD, both the morning and the evening offerings.

Ezra 3:4 They observed the Festival of Temporary Shelters as required and offered the proper number of daily burnt offerings according to the requirement for each day.

Ezra 3:5 Afterward they offered the continual burnt offerings and those for the new moons and those for all the holy assemblies of the LORD and all those that were being voluntarily offered to the LORD.

Ezra 3:6 From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the LORD. However, the LORD's temple was not at that time established.

Ezra 3:7 So they provided money for the masons and carpenters, and food, beverages, and olive oil for the people of Sidon and Tyre, so that they would bring cedar timber from Lebanon to the seaport at Joppa, in accord with the edict of King Cyrus of Persia.

Ezra 3:8 In the second year after they had come to the temple of God in Jerusalem, in the second month, Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak initiated the work, along with the rest of their associates, the priests and the Levites, and all those who were coming to Jerusalem from the exile. They appointed the Levites who were at least twenty years old to take charge of the work on the LORD's temple.

Ezra 3:9 So Jeshua appointed both his sons and his relatives, Kadmiel and his sons (the sons of Yehudah), to take charge of the workers in the temple of God, along with the sons of Henadad, their sons, and their relatives the Levites.

Ezra 3:10 When the builders established the LORD's temple, the priests, ceremonially attired and with their clarions, and the Levites (the sons of Asaph) with their cymbals, stood to praise the LORD according to the instructions left by King David of Israel.

Ezra 3:11 With antiphonal response they sang, praising and glorifying the LORD: "For he is good; his loyal love toward Israel is forever." All the people gave a loud shout as they praised the LORD when the temple of the LORD was established.

Ezra 3:12 Many of the priests, the Levites, and the leaders– older people who had seen with their own eyes the former temple while it was still established– were weeping loudly, and many others raised their voice in a joyous shout.

Ezra 3:13 People were unable to tell the difference between the sound of joyous shouting and the sound of the people’s weeping, for the people were shouting so loudly that the sound was heard a long way off.

Ezra 4:1 When the enemies of Judah and Benjamin learned that the former exiles were building a temple for the LORD God of Israel,

Ezra 4:2 they came to Zerubbabel and the leaders and said to them, “Let us help you build, for like you we seek your God and we have been sacrificing to him from the time of King Esarhaddon of Assyria, who brought us here.”

Ezra 4:3 But Zerubbabel, Jeshua, and the rest of the leaders of Israel said to them, “You have no right to help us build the temple of our God. We will build it by ourselves for the LORD God of Israel, just as King Cyrus, the king of Persia, has commanded us.”

Ezra 4:4 Then the local people began to discourage the people of Judah and to dishearten them from building.

Ezra 4:5 They were hiring advisers to oppose them, so as to frustrate their plans, throughout the time of King Cyrus of Persia until the reign of King Darius of Persia.

Ezra 4:6 At the beginning of the reign of Ahasuerus they filed an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

Ezra 4:7 And during the reign of Artaxerxes, Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their colleagues wrote to King Artaxerxes of Persia. This letter was first written in Aramaic but then translated. [Aramaic:]

Ezra 4:8 Rehum the commander and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter concerning Jerusalem to King Artaxerxes as follows:

Ezra 4:9 From Rehum the commander, Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their colleagues– the judges, the rulers, the officials, the secretaries, the Erechites, the Babylonians, the people of Susa (that is, the Elamites),

Ezra 4:10 and the rest of nations whom the great and noble Ashurbanipal deported and settled in the cities of Samaria and other places in Trans-Euphrates.

Ezra 4:11 (This is a copy of the letter they sent to him:) “To King Artaxerxes, from your servants in Trans-Euphrates:

Ezra 4:12 Now let the king be aware that the Jews who came up to us from you have gone to Jerusalem. They are rebuilding that rebellious and odious city. They are completing its walls and repairing its foundations.

Ezra 4:13 Let the king also be aware that if this city is built and its walls are completed, no more tax, custom, or toll will be paid, and the royal treasury will suffer loss.

Ezra 4:14 In light of the fact that we are loyal to the king, and since it does not seem appropriate to us that the king should sustain damage, we are sending the king this information

Ezra 4:15 so that he may initiate a search of the records of his predecessors and discover in those records that this city is rebellious and injurious to both kings and provinces, producing internal revolts from long ago. It is for this very reason that this city was destroyed.

Ezra 4:16 We therefore are informing the king that if this city is rebuilt and its walls are completed, you will not retain control of this portion of Trans-Euphrates."

Ezra 4:17 The king sent the following response: "To Rehum the commander, Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their colleagues who live in Samaria and other parts of Trans-Euphrates: Greetings!

Ezra 4:18 The letter you sent to us has been translated and read in my presence.

Ezra 4:19 So I gave orders, and it was determined that this city from long ago has been engaging in insurrection against kings. It has continually engaged in rebellion and revolt.

Ezra 4:20 Powerful kings have been over Jerusalem who ruled throughout the entire Trans-Euphrates and who were the beneficiaries of tribute, custom, and toll.

Ezra 4:21 Now give orders that these men cease their work and that this city not be rebuilt until such time as I so instruct.

Ezra 4:22 Exercise appropriate caution so that there is no negligence in this matter. Why should danger increase to the point that kings sustain damage?"

Ezra 4:23 Then, as soon as the copy of the letter from King Artaxerxes was read in the presence of Rehum, Shimshai the scribe, and their colleagues, they proceeded promptly to the Jews in Jerusalem and stopped them with threat of armed force.

Ezra 4:24 So the work on the temple of God in Jerusalem came to a halt. It remained halted until the second year of the reign of King Darius of Persia.

Ezra 5:1 Then the prophets Haggai and Zechariah son of Iddo prophesied concerning the Jews who were in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel who was over them.

Ezra 5:2 Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak began to rebuild the temple of God in Jerusalem. The prophets of God were with them, supporting them.

Ezra 5:3 At that time Tattenai governor of Trans-Euphrates, Shethar-Bozenai, and their colleagues came to them and asked, “Who gave you authority to rebuild this temple and to complete this structure?”

Ezra 5:4 They also asked them, “What are the names of the men who are building this edifice?”

Ezra 5:5 But God was watching over the elders of Judah, and they were not stopped until a report could be dispatched to Darius and a letter could be sent back concerning this.

Ezra 5:6 This is a copy of the letter that Tattenai governor of Trans-Euphrates, Shethar-Bozenai, and his colleagues who were the officials of Trans-Euphrates sent to King Darius.

Ezra 5:7 The report they sent to him was written as follows: “To King Darius: All greetings!

Ezra 5:8 Let it be known to the king that we have gone to the province of Judah, to the temple of the great God. It is being built with large stones, and timbers are being placed in the walls. This work is being done with all diligence and is prospering in their hands.

Ezra 5:9 We inquired of those elders, asking them, ‘Who gave you the authority to rebuild this temple and to complete this structure?’

Ezra 5:10 We also inquired of their names in order to inform you, so that we might write the names of the men who were their leaders.

Ezra 5:11 They responded to us in the following way: ‘We are servants of the God of heaven and earth. We are rebuilding the temple which was previously built many years ago. A great king of Israel built it and completed it.

Ezra 5:12 But after our ancestors angered the God of heaven, he delivered them into the hands of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, the Chaldean, who destroyed this temple and exiled the people to Babylon.

Ezra 5:13 But in the first year of King Cyrus of Babylon, King Cyrus enacted a decree to rebuild this temple of God.

Ezra 5:14 Even the gold and silver vessels of the temple of God that Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple in Jerusalem and had brought to the palace of Babylon– even those things King Cyrus brought from the palace of Babylon and presented to a man by the name of Sheshbazzar whom he had appointed as governor.

Ezra 5:15 He said to him, “Take these vessels and go deposit them in the temple in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be rebuilt in its proper location.”

Ezra 5:16 Then this Sheshbazzar went and laid the foundations of the temple of God in Jerusalem. From that time to the present moment it has been in the process of being rebuilt, although it is not yet finished.’

Ezra 5:17 “Now if the king is so inclined, let a search be conducted in the royal archives there in Babylon in order to determine whether King Cyrus did in fact issue orders for this temple of God to be rebuilt in Jerusalem. Then let the king send us a decision concerning this matter.”

Ezra 6:1 So Darius the king issued orders, and they searched in the archives of the treasury which were deposited there in Babylon.

Ezra 6:2 A scroll was found in the citadel of Ecbatana which is in the province of Media, and it was inscribed as follows: “Memorandum:

Ezra 6:3 In the first year of his reign, King Cyrus gave orders concerning the temple of God in Jerusalem: ‘Let the temple be rebuilt as a place where sacrifices are offered. Let its foundations be set in place. Its height is to be ninety feet and its width ninety feet,

Ezra 6:4 with three layers of large stones and one layer of timber. The expense is to be subsidized by the royal treasury.

Ezra 6:5 Furthermore let the gold and silver vessels of the temple of God, which Nebuchadnezzar brought from the temple in Jerusalem and carried to Babylon, be returned and brought to their proper place in the temple in Jerusalem. Let them be deposited in the temple of God.’

Ezra 6:6 “Now Tattenai governor of Trans-Euphrates, Shethar Bozenai, and their colleagues, the officials of Trans-Euphrates– all of you stay far away from there!

Ezra 6:7 Leave the work on this temple of God alone. Let the governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews rebuild this temple of God in its proper place.

Ezra 6:8 “I also hereby issue orders as to what you are to do with those elders of the Jews in order to rebuild this temple of God. From the royal treasury, from the taxes of Trans-Euphrates the complete costs are to be given to these men, so that there may be no interruption of the work.

Ezra 6:9 Whatever is needed– whether oxen or rams or lambs or burnt offerings for the God of heaven or wheat or salt or wine or oil, as required by the priests who are in Jerusalem– must be given to them daily without any neglect,

Ezra 6:10 so that they may be offering incense to the God of heaven and may be praying for the good fortune of the king and his family.

Ezra 6:11 “I hereby give orders that if anyone changes this directive a beam is to be pulled out from his house and he is to be raised up and impaled on it, and his house is to be reduced to a rubbish heap for this indiscretion.

Ezra 6:12 May God who makes his name to reside there overthrow any king or nation who reaches out to cause such change so as to destroy this temple of God in Jerusalem. I, Darius, have given orders. Let them be carried out with precision!”

Ezra 6:13 Then Tattenai governor of Trans-Euphrates, Shethar-Bozenai, and their colleagues acted accordingly– with precision, just as Darius the king had given instructions.

Ezra 6:14 The elders of the Jews continued building and prospering, while at the same time Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo continued prophesying. They built and brought it to completion by the command of the God of Israel and by the command of Cyrus and Darius and Artaxerxes king of Persia.

Ezra 6:15 They finished this temple on the third day of the month Adar, which is the sixth year of the reign of King Darius.

Ezra 6:16 The people of Israel– the priests, the Levites, and the rest of the exiles– observed the dedication of this temple of God with joy.

Ezra 6:17 For the dedication of this temple of God they offered one hundred bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, and twelve male goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

Ezra 6:18 They appointed the priests by their divisions and the Levites by their divisions over the worship of God at Jerusalem, in accord with the book of Moses.

Ezra 6:19 The exiles observed the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

Ezra 6:20 The priests and the Levites had purified themselves, every last one, and they all were ceremonially pure. They sacrificed the Passover lamb for all the exiles, for their colleagues the priests, and for themselves.

Ezra 6:21 The Israelites who were returning from the exile ate it, along with all those who had joined them in separating themselves from the uncleanness of the nations of the land to seek the LORD God of Israel.

Ezra 6:22 They observed the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days with joy, for the LORD had given them joy and had changed the opinion of the king of Assyria toward them, so that he assisted them in the work on the temple of God, the God of Israel.

Ezra 7:1 Now after these things had happened, during the reign of King Artaxerxes of Persia, Ezra came up from Babylon. Ezra was the son of Seraiah, who was the son of Azariah, who was the son of Hilkiah,

Ezra 7:2 who was the son of Shallum, who was the son of Zadok, who was the son of Ahitub,

Ezra 7:3 who was the son of Amariah, who was the son of Azariah, who was the son of Meraioth,

Ezra 7:4 who was the son of Zerahiah, who was the son of Uzzi, who was the son of Bukki, Ezra 7:5 who was the son of Abishua, who was the son of Phinehas, who was the son of Eleazar, who was the son of Aaron the chief priest.

Ezra 7:6 This Ezra is the one who came up from Babylon. He was a scribe who was skilled in the law of Moses which the LORD God of Israel had given. The king supplied him with everything he requested, for the hand of the LORD his God was on him.

Ezra 7:7 In the seventh year of King Artaxerxes, Ezra brought up to Jerusalem some of the Israelites and some of the priests, the Levites, the attendants, the gatekeepers, and the temple servants.

Ezra 7:8 He entered Jerusalem in the fifth month of the seventh year of the king.

Ezra 7:9 On the first day of the first month he had determined to make the ascent from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month he arrived at Jerusalem, for the good hand of his God was on him.

Ezra 7:10 Now Ezra had dedicated himself to the study of the law of the LORD, to its observance, and to teaching its statutes and judgments in Israel.

Ezra 7:11 What follows is a copy of the letter that King Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the priestly scribe. Ezra was a scribe in matters pertaining to the commandments of the LORD and his statutes over Israel:

Ezra 7:12 “Artaxerxes, king of kings, to Ezra the priest, a scribe of the perfect law of the God of heaven:

Ezra 7:13 I have now issued a decree that anyone in my kingdom from the people of Israel– even the priests and Levites– who wishes to do so may go up with you to Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:14 You are authorized by the king and his seven advisers to inquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of your God which is in your possession,

Ezra 7:15 and to bring silver and gold which the king and his advisers have freely contributed to the God of Israel, who resides in Jerusalem,

Ezra 7:16 along with all the silver and gold that you may collect throughout all the province of Babylon and the contributions of the people and the priests for the temple of their God which is in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:17 With this money you should be sure to purchase bulls, rams, and lambs, along with the appropriate meal offerings and libations. You should bring them to the altar of the temple of your God which is in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:18 You may do whatever seems appropriate to you and your colleagues with the rest of the silver and the gold, in keeping with the will of your God.

Ezra 7:19 Deliver to the God of Jerusalem the vessels that are given to you for the service of the temple of your God.

Ezra 7:20 The rest of the needs for the temple of your God that you may have to supply, you may do so from the royal treasury.

Ezra 7:21 “I, King Artaxerxes, hereby issue orders to all the treasurers of Trans-Euphrates, that you precisely execute all that Ezra the priestly scribe of the law of the God of heaven may request of you–

Ezra 7:22 up to 100 talents of silver, 100 cors of wheat, 100 baths of wine, 100 baths of olive oil, and unlimited salt.

Ezra 7:23 Everything that the God of heaven has required should be precisely done for the temple of the God of heaven. Why should there be wrath against the empire of the king and his sons?

Ezra 7:24 Furthermore, be aware of the fact that you have no authority to impose tax, tribute, or toll on any of the priests, the Levites, the musicians, the doorkeepers, the temple servants, or the attendants at the temple of this God.

Ezra 7:25 “Now you, Ezra, in keeping with the wisdom of your God which you possess, appoint judges and court officials who can arbitrate cases on behalf of all the people who are in Trans-Euphrates who know the laws of your God. Those who do not know this law should be taught.

Ezra 7:26 Everyone who does not observe both the law of your God and the law of the king will be completely liable to the appropriate penalty, whether it is death or banishment or confiscation of property or detainment in prison.”

Ezra 7:27 Blessed be the LORD God of our fathers, who so moved in the heart of the king to so honor the temple of the LORD which is in Jerusalem!

Ezra 7:28 He has also conferred his favor on me before the king, his advisers, and all the influential leaders of the king. I gained strength as the hand of the LORD my God was on me, and I gathered leaders from Israel to go up with me.

Ezra 8:1 These are the leaders and those enrolled with them by genealogy who were coming up with me from Babylon during the reign of King Artaxerxes:

Ezra 8:2 from the descendants of Phinehas, Gershom; from the descendants of Ithamar, Daniel; from the descendants of David, Hattush

Ezra 8:3 the son of Shecaniah; from the descendants of Parosh, Zechariah, and with him were enrolled by genealogy 150 men;

Ezra 8:4 from the descendants of Pahath-Moab, Eliehoenai son of Zerahiah, and with him 200 men;

Ezra 8:5 from the descendants of Zattu, Shecaniah son of Jahaziel, and with him 300 men;

Ezra 8:6 from the descendants of Adin, Ebed son of Jonathan, and with him 50 men;

Ezra 8:7 from the descendants of Elam, Jeshaiah son of Athaliah, and with him 70 men;

Ezra 8:8 from the descendants of Shephatiah, Zebadiah son of Michael, and with him 80 men;

Ezra 8:9 from the descendants of Joab, Obadiah son of Jehiel, and with him 218 men;

Ezra 8:10 from the descendants of Bani, Shelomith son of Josiphiah, and with him 160 men;

Ezra 8:11 from the descendants of Bebai, Zechariah son of Bebai, and with him 28 men;

Ezra 8:12 from the descendants of Azgad, Johanan son of Hakkatan, and with him 110 men;

Ezra 8:13 from the descendants of Adonikam there were the latter ones. Their names were Eliphelet, Jeuel, and Shemaiah, and with them 60 men;

Ezra 8:14 from the descendants of Bigvai, Uthai, and Zaccur, and with them 70 men.

Ezra 8:15 I had them assemble at the canal that flows toward Ahava, and we camped there for three days. I observed that the people and the priests were present, but I found no Levites there.

Ezra 8:16 So I sent for Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah, and Meshullam, who were leaders, and Joiarib and Elnathan, who were teachers.

Ezra 8:17 I sent them to Iddo, who was the leader in the place called Casiphia. I told them what to say to Iddo and his relatives, who were the temple servants in Casiphia, so they would bring us attendants for the temple of our God.

Ezra 8:18 Due to the fact that the good hand of our God was on us, they brought us a skilled man, from the descendants of Mahli the son of Levi son of Israel. This man was Sherebiah, who was accompanied by his sons and brothers, 18 men,

Ezra 8:19 and Hashabiah, along with Jeshaiah from the descendants of Merari, with his brothers and their sons, 20 men,

Ezra 8:20 and some of the temple servants that David and his officials had established for the work of the Levites– 220 of them. They were all designated by name.

Ezra 8:21 I called for a fast there by the Ahava Canal, so that we might humble ourselves before our God and seek from him a safe journey for us, our children, and all our property.

Ezra 8:22 I was embarrassed to request soldiers and horsemen from the king to protect us from the enemy along the way, because we had said to the king, “The good hand of our God is on everyone who is seeking him, but his great anger is against everyone who forsakes him.”

Ezra 8:23 So we fasted and prayed to our God about this, and he answered us.

Ezra 8:24 Then I set apart twelve of the leading priests, together with Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brothers,

Ezra 8:25 and I weighed out to them the silver, the gold, and the vessels intended for the temple of our God– items that the king, his advisers, his officials, and all Israel who were present had contributed.

Ezra 8:26 I weighed out to them 650 talents of silver, silver vessels worth 100 talents, 100 talents of gold,

Ezra 8:27 20 gold bowls worth 1,000 darics, and two exquisite vessels of gleaming bronze, as valuable as gold.

Ezra 8:28 Then I said to them, “You are holy to the LORD, just as these vessels are holy. The silver and the gold are a voluntary offering to the LORD, the God of your fathers.

Ezra 8:29 Be careful with them and protect them, until you weigh them out before the leading priests and the Levites and the family leaders of Israel in Jerusalem, in the storerooms of the temple of the LORD.”

Ezra 8:30 Then the priests and the Levites took charge of the silver, the gold, and the vessels that had been weighed out, to transport them to Jerusalem to the temple of our God.

Ezra 8:31 On the twelfth day of the first month we began traveling from the Ahava Canal to go to Jerusalem. The hand of our God was on us, and he delivered us from our enemy and from bandits along the way.

Ezra 8:32 So we came to Jerusalem, and we stayed there for three days.

Ezra 8:33 On the fourth day we weighed out the silver, the gold, and the vessels in the house of our God into the care of Meremoth son of Uriah, the priest, and Eleazar son of Phinehas, who were accompanied by Jozabad son of Jeshua and Noadiah son of Binnui, who were Levites.

Ezra 8:34 Everything was verified by number and by weight, and the total weight was written down at that time.

Ezra 8:35 The exiles who were returning from the captivity offered burnt offerings to the God of Israel– twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven male lambs, along with twelve male goats as a sin offering. All this was a burnt offering to the LORD.

Ezra 8:36 Then they presented the decrees of the king to the king’s satraps and to the governors of Trans-Euphrates, who gave help to the people and to the temple of God.

Ezra 9:1 Now when these things had been completed, the leaders approached me and said, “The people of Israel, the priests, and the Levites have not separated themselves from the local residents who practice detestable things similar to those of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

Ezra 9:2 Indeed, they have taken some of their daughters as wives for themselves and for their sons, so that the holy race has become intermingled with the local residents. Worse still, the leaders and the officials have been at the forefront of all of this!”

Ezra 9:3 When I heard this report, I tore my tunic and my robe and ripped out some of the hair from my head and beard. Then I sat down, quite devastated.

Ezra 9:4 Everyone who held the words of the God of Israel in awe gathered around me because of the unfaithful acts of the people of the exile. Devastated, I continued to sit there until the evening offering.

Ezra 9:5 At the time of the evening offering I got up from my self-abasement, with my tunic and robe torn, and then dropped to my knees and spread my hands to the LORD my God.

Ezra 9:6 I prayed, “O my God, I am ashamed and embarrassed to lift my face to you, my God! For our iniquities have climbed higher than our heads, and our guilt extends to the heavens.

Ezra 9:7 From the days of our fathers until this very day our guilt has been great. Because of our iniquities we, along with our kings and priests, have been delivered over by the local kings to sword, captivity, plunder, and embarrassment– right up to the present time.

Ezra 9:8 “But now briefly we have received mercy from the LORD our God, in that he has left us a remnant and has given us a secure position in his holy place. Thus our God has enlightened our eyes and has given us a little relief in our time of servitude.

Ezra 9:9 Although we are slaves, our God has not abandoned us in our servitude. He has extended kindness to us in the sight of the kings of Persia, in that he has revived us to restore the temple of our God and to raise up its ruins and to give us a protective wall in Judah and Jerusalem.

Ezra 9:10 “And now what are we able to say after this, our God? For we have forsaken your commandments

Ezra 9:11 which you commanded us through your servants the prophets with these words: ‘The land that you are entering to possess is a land defiled by the impurities of the local residents! With their abominations they have filled it from one end to the other with their filthiness.

Ezra 9:12 Therefore do not give your daughters in marriage to their sons, and do not take their daughters in marriage for your sons. Do not ever seek their peace or welfare, so that you may be strong and may eat the good of the land and may leave it as an inheritance for your children forever.’

Ezra 9:13 “Everything that has happened to us has come about because of our wicked actions and our great guilt. Even so, our God, you have exercised restraint toward our iniquities and have given us a remnant such as this.

Ezra 9:14 Shall we once again break your commandments and intermarry with these abominable peoples? Would you not be so angered by us that you would wipe us out, with no survivor or remnant?

Ezra 9:15 O LORD God of Israel, you are righteous, for we are left as a remnant this day. Indeed, we stand before you in our guilt. However, because of this guilt no one can really stand before you.”

Ezra 10:1 While Ezra was praying and confessing, weeping and throwing himself to the ground before the temple of God, a very large crowd of Israelites– men, women, and children alike– gathered around him. The people wept loudly.

Ezra 10:2 Then Shecaniah son of Jehiel, from the descendants of Elam, addressed Ezra: “We have been unfaithful to our God by marrying foreign women from the local peoples. Nonetheless, there is still hope for Israel in this regard.

Ezra 10:3 Therefore let us enact a covenant with our God to send away all these women and their offspring, in keeping with your counsel, my lord, and that of those who respect the commandments of our God. And let it be done according to the law.

Ezra 10:4 Get up, for this matter concerns you. We are with you, so be strong and act decisively!”

Ezra 10:5 So Ezra got up and made the leading priests and Levites and all Israel take an oath to carry out this plan. And they all took a solemn oath.

Ezra 10:6 Then Ezra got up from in front of the temple of God and went to the room of Jehohanan son of Eliashib. While he stayed there, he did not eat food or drink water, for he was in mourning over the infidelity of the exiles.

Ezra 10:7 A proclamation was circulated throughout Judah and Jerusalem that all the exiles were to be assembled in Jerusalem.

Ezra 10:8 Everyone who did not come within three days would thereby forfeit all his property, in keeping with the counsel of the officials and the elders. Furthermore, he himself would be excluded from the assembly of the exiles.

Ezra 10:9 All the men of Judah and Benjamin were gathered in Jerusalem within the three days. (It was in the ninth month, on the twentieth day of that month.) All the people sat in the square at the temple of God, trembling because of this matter and because of the rains.

Ezra 10:10 Then Ezra the priest stood up and said to them, “You have behaved in an unfaithful manner by taking foreign wives! This has contributed to the guilt of Israel.

Ezra 10:11 Now give praise to the LORD God of your fathers, and do his will. Separate yourselves from the local residents and from these foreign wives.”

Ezra 10:12 All the assembly replied in a loud voice: “We will do just as you have said!

Ezra 10:13 However, the people are numerous and it is the rainy season. We are unable to stand here outside. Furthermore, this business cannot be resolved in a day or two, for we have sinned greatly in this matter.

Ezra 10:14 Let our leaders take steps on behalf of all the assembly. Let all those in our towns who have married foreign women come at an appointed time, and with them the elders of each town and its judges, until the hot anger of our God is turned away from us in this matter.”

Ezra 10:15 Only Jonathan son of Asahel and Jahzeiah son of Tikvah were against this, assisted by Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite.

Ezra 10:16 So the exiles proceeded accordingly. Ezra the priest separated out by name men who were leaders in their family groups. They sat down to consider this matter on the first day of the tenth month,

Ezra 10:17 and on the first day of the first month they finished considering all the men who had married foreign wives.

Ezra 10:18 It was determined that from the descendants of the priests, the following had taken foreign wives: from the descendants of Jeshua son of Jozadak, and his brothers: Maaseiah, Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedaliah.

Ezra 10:19 (They gave their word to send away their wives; their guilt offering was a ram from the flock for their guilt.)

Ezra 10:20 From the descendants of Immer: Hanani and Zebadiah.

Ezra 10:21 From the descendants of Harim: Maaseiah, Elijah, Shemaiah, Jehiel, and Uzziah.

Ezra 10:22 From the descendants of Pashhur: Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and Elasah.

Ezra 10:23 From the Levites: Jozabad, Shimei, Kelaiah (also known as Kelita), Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer.

Ezra 10:24 From the singers: Eliashib. From the gatekeepers: Shallum, Telem, and Uri.

Ezra 10:25 From the Israelites: from the descendants of Parosh: Ramiah, Izziah, Malkijah, Mijamin, Eleazar, Malkijah, and Benaiah.

Ezra 10:26 From the descendants of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, Jehiel, Abdi, Jeremoth, and Elijah.

Ezra 10:27 From the descendants of Zattu: Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, Jeremoth, Zabad, and Aziza.

Ezra 10:28 From the descendants of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai.

Ezra 10:29 From the descendants of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jashub, Sheal, and Jeremoth.

Ezra 10:30 From the descendants of Pahath-Moab: Adna, Kelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, Binnui, and Manasseh.

Ezra 10:31 From the descendants of Harim: Eliezer, Ishijah, Malkijah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, Ezra 10:32 Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah.

Ezra 10:33 From the descendants of Hashum: Mattenai, Mattattah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, and Shimei.

Ezra 10:34 From the descendants of Bani: Maadai, Amram, Uel,

Ezra 10:35 Benaiah, Bedeiah, Keluhi,

Ezra 10:36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib,

Ezra 10:37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaasu.

Ezra 10:38 From the descendants of Binnui: Shimei,

Ezra 10:39 Shelemiah, Nathan, Adaiah,

Ezra 10:40 Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai,

Ezra 10:41 Azarel, Shelemiah, Shemariah,

Ezra 10:42 Shallum, Amariah, and Joseph.

Ezra 10:43 From the descendants of Nebo: Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jaddai, Joel, and Benaiah.

Ezra 10:44 All these had taken foreign wives, and some of them also had children by these women.

Nehemiah

1:1 These are the words of Nehemiah son of Hacaliah: It so happened that in the month of Kislev, in the twentieth year, I was in Susa the citadel.

Nehemiah 1:2 Hanani, who was one of my relatives, along with some of the men from Judah, came to me, and I asked them about the Jews who had escaped and had survived the exile, and about Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 1:3 They said to me, “The remnant that remains from the exile there in the province are experiencing considerable adversity and reproach. The wall of Jerusalem lies breached, and its gates have been burned down!"

Nehemiah 1:4 When I heard these things I sat down abruptly, crying and mourning for several days. I continued fasting and praying before the God of heaven.

Nehemiah 1:5 Then I said, "Please, O LORD God of heaven, great and awesome God, who keeps his loving covenant with those who love him and obey his commandments,

Nehemiah 1:6 may your ear be attentive and your eyes be open to hear the prayer of your servant that I am praying to you today throughout both day and night on behalf of your servants the Israelites. I am confessing the sins of the Israelites that we have committed against you– both I myself and my family have sinned.

Nehemiah 1:7 We have behaved corruptly against you, not obeying the commandments, the statutes, and the judgments that you commanded your servant Moses.

Nehemiah 1:8 Please recall the word you commanded your servant Moses: 'If you act unfaithfully, I will scatter you among the nations.

Nehemiah 1:9 But if you repent and obey my commandments and do them, then even if your dispersed people are in the most remote location, I will gather them from there and bring them to the place I have chosen for my name to reside.'

Nehemiah 1:10 They are your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed by your mighty strength and by your powerful hand.

Nehemiah 1:11 Please, O Lord, listen attentively to the prayer of your servant and to the prayer of your servants who take pleasure in showing respect to your name. Grant your servant success today and show compassion to me in the presence of this man." Now I was cupbearer for the king.

Nehemiah 2:1 Then in the month of Nisan, in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when wine was brought to me, I took the wine and gave it to the king. Previously I had not been depressed in the king's presence.

Nehemiah 2:2 So the king said to me, "Why do you appear to be depressed when you aren't sick? What can this be other than sadness of heart?" This made me very fearful.

Nehemiah 2:3 I replied to the king, "O king, live forever! Why would I not appear dejected when the city with the graves of my ancestors lies desolate and its gates destroyed by fire?"

Nehemiah 2:4 The king responded, "What is it you are seeking?" Then I quickly prayed to the God of heaven

Nehemiah 2:5 and said to the king, "If the king is so inclined and if your servant has found favor in your sight, dispatch me to Judah, to the city with the graves of my ancestors, so that I can rebuild it."

Nehemiah 2:6 Then the king, with his consort sitting beside him, replied, “How long would your trip take, and when would you return?” Since the king was amenable to dispatching me, I gave him a time.

Nehemiah 2:7 I said to the king, “If the king is so inclined, let him give me letters for the governors of Trans-Euphrates that will enable me to travel safely until I reach Judah, Nehemiah 2:8 and a letter for Asaph the keeper of the king’s nature preserve, so that he will give me timber for beams for the gates of the fortress adjacent to the temple and for the city wall and for the house to which I go.” So the king granted me these requests, for the good hand of my God was on me.

Nehemiah 2:9 Then I went to the governors of Trans-Euphrates, and I presented to them the letters from the king. The king had sent with me officers of the army and horsemen.

Nehemiah 2:10 When Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite official heard all this, they were very displeased that someone had come to seek benefit for the Israelites.

Nehemiah 2:11 So I came to Jerusalem. When I had been there for three days,

Nehemiah 2:12 I got up during the night, along with a few men who were with me. But I did not tell anyone what my God was putting on my heart to do for Jerusalem. There were no animals with me, except for the one I was riding.

Nehemiah 2:13 I proceeded through the Valley Gate by night, in the direction of the Well of the Dragons and the Dung Gate, inspecting the walls of Jerusalem that had been breached and its gates that had been destroyed by fire.

Nehemiah 2:14 I passed on to the Gate of the Well and the King’s Pool, where there was not enough room for my animal to pass with me.

Nehemiah 2:15 I continued up the valley during the night, inspecting the wall. Then I turned back and came to the Valley Gate, and so returned.

Nehemiah 2:16 The officials did not know where I had gone or what I had been doing, for up to this point I had not told any of the Jews or the priests or the nobles or the officials or the rest of the workers.

Nehemiah 2:17 Then I said to them, “You see the problem that we have: Jerusalem is desolate and its gates are burned. Come on! Let’s rebuild the wall of Jerusalem so that this reproach will not continue.”

Nehemiah 2:18 Then I related to them how the good hand of my God was on me and what the king had said to me. Then they replied, “Let’s begin rebuilding right away!” So they readied themselves for this good project.

Nehemiah 2:19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite official, and Geshem the Arab heard all this, they derided us and expressed contempt toward us. They said, “What is this you are doing? Are you rebelling against the king?”

Nehemiah 2:20 I responded to them by saying, “The God of heaven will prosper us. We his servants will start the rebuilding. But you have no just or ancient right in Jerusalem.”

Nehemiah 3:1 Then Eliashib the high priest and his priestly colleagues arose and built the Sheep Gate. They dedicated it and erected its doors, working as far as the Tower of the Hundred and the Tower of Hananel.

Nehemiah 3:2 The men of Jericho built adjacent to it, and Zaccur son of Imri built adjacent to them.

Nehemiah 3:3 The sons of Hassenaah rebuilt the Fish Gate. They laid its beams and positioned its doors, its bolts, and its bars.

Nehemiah 3:4 Meremoth son of Uriah, the son of Hakoz, worked on the section adjacent to them. Meshullam son of Berechiah the son of Meshezabel worked on the section next to them. And Zadok son of Baana worked on the section adjacent to them.

Nehemiah 3:5 The men of Tekoa worked on the section adjacent to them, but their town leaders would not assist with the work of their master.

Nehemiah 3:6 Joiada son of Paseah and Meshullam son of Besodeiah worked on the Jeshanah Gate. They laid its beams and positioned its doors, its bolts, and its bars.

Nehemiah 3:7 Adjacent to them worked Melatiah the Gibeonite and Jadon the Meronothite, who were men of Gibeon and Mizpah. These towns were under the jurisdiction of the governor of Trans-Euphrates.

Nehemiah 3:8 Uzziel son of Harhaiah, a member of the goldsmiths’ guild, worked on the section adjacent to him. Hananiah, a member of the perfumers’ guild, worked on the section adjacent to him. They plastered the city wall of Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall.

Nehemiah 3:9 Rephaiah son of Hur, head of a half-district of Jerusalem, worked on the section adjacent to them.

Nehemiah 3:10 Jedaiah son of Harumaph worked on the section adjacent to them opposite his house, and Hattush son of Hashabneiah worked on the section adjacent to him.

Nehemiah 3:11 Malkijah son of Harim and Hasshub son of Pahath-Moab worked on another section and the Tower of the Fire Pots.

Nehemiah 3:12 Shallum son of Hallohesh, head of a half-district of Jerusalem, worked on the section adjacent to him, assisted by his daughters.

Nehemiah 3:13 Hanun and the residents of Zanoah worked on the Valley Gate. They rebuilt it and positioned its doors, its bolts, and its bars, in addition to working on fifteen hundred feet of the wall as far as the Dung Gate.

Nehemiah 3:14 Malkijah son of Recab, head of the district of Beth Hakkerem, worked on the Dung Gate. He rebuilt it and positioned its doors, its bolts, and its bars.

Nehemiah 3:15 Shallun son of Col-Hozeh, head of the district of Mizpah, worked on the Fountain Gate. He rebuilt it, put on its roof, and positioned its doors, its bolts, and its bars. In addition, he rebuilt the wall of the Pool of Siloam, by the royal garden, as far as the steps that go down from the City of David.

Nehemiah 3:16 Nehemiah son of Azbuk, head of a half-district of Beth Zur, worked after him as far as the tombs of David and the artificial pool and the House of the Warriors.

Nehemiah 3:17 After him the Levites worked– Rehum son of Bani and after him Hashabiah, head of half the district of Keilah, for his district.

Nehemiah 3:18 After him their relatives worked– Binnui son of Henadad, head of a half-district of Keilah.

Nehemiah 3:19 Adjacent to him Ezer son of Jeshua, head of Mizpah, worked on another section, opposite the ascent to the armory at the buttress.

Nehemiah 3:20 After him Baruch son of Zabbai worked on another section, from the buttress to the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest.

Nehemiah 3:21 After him Meremoth son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz, worked on another section from the door of Eliashib’s house to the end of it.

Nehemiah 3:22 After him the priests worked, men of the nearby district.

Nehemiah 3:23 After them Benjamin and Hasshub worked opposite their house. After them Azariah son of Maaseiah, the son of Ananiah, worked near his house.

Nehemiah 3:24 After him Binnui son of Henadad worked on another section, from the house of Azariah to the buttress and the corner.

Nehemiah 3:25 After him Palal son of Uzai worked opposite the buttress and the tower that protrudes from the upper palace of the court of the guard. After him Pedaiah son of Parosh

Nehemiah 3:26 and the temple servants who were living on Ophel worked up to the area opposite the Water Gate toward the east and the protruding tower.

Nehemiah 3:27 After them the men of Tekoa worked on another section, from opposite the great protruding tower to the wall of Ophel.

Nehemiah 3:28 Above the Horse Gate the priests worked, each in front of his house.

Nehemiah 3:29 After them Zadok son of Immer worked opposite his house, and after him Shemaiah son of Shecaniah, guard at the East Gate, worked.

Nehemiah 3:30 After him Hananiah son of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sixth son of Zalaph, worked on another section. After them Meshullam son of Berechiah worked opposite his quarters.

Nehemiah 3:31 After him Malkijah, one of the goldsmiths, worked as far as the house of the temple servants and the traders, opposite the Inspection Gate, and up to the room above the corner.

Nehemiah 3:32 And between the room above the corner and the Sheep Gate the goldsmiths and traders worked.

Nehemiah 4:1 Now when Sanballat heard that we were rebuilding the wall he became angry and was quite upset. He derided the Jews,

Nehemiah 4:2 and in the presence of his colleagues and the army of Samaria he said, “What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they be left to themselves? Will they again offer sacrifice? Will they finish this in a day? Can they bring these burnt stones to life again from piles of dust?”

Nehemiah 4:3 Then Tobiah the Ammonite, who was close by, said, “If even a fox were to climb up on what they are building, it would break down their wall of stones!”

Nehemiah 4:4 Hear, O our God, for we are despised! Return their reproach on their own head! Reduce them to plunder in a land of exile!

Nehemiah 4:5 Do not cover their iniquity, and do not wipe out their sin from before them. For they have bitterly offended the builders!

Nehemiah 4:6 So we rebuilt the wall, and the entire wall was joined together up to half its height. The people were enthusiastic in their work.

Nehemiah 4:7 When Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabs, the Ammonites, and the people of Ashdod heard that the restoration of the walls of Jerusalem had moved ahead and that the breaches had begun to be closed, they were very angry.

Nehemiah 4:8 All of them conspired together to move with armed forces against Jerusalem and to create a disturbance in it.

Nehemiah 4:9 So we prayed to our God and stationed a guard to protect against them both day and night.

Nehemiah 4:10 Then those in Judah said, “The strength of the laborers has failed! The debris is so great that we are unable to rebuild the wall.”

Nehemiah 4:11 Our adversaries also boasted, “Before they are aware or anticipate anything, we will come in among them and kill them, and we will bring this work to a halt!”

Nehemiah 4:12 So it happened that the Jews who were living near them came and warned us repeatedly about all the schemes they were plotting against us.

Nehemiah 4:13 So I stationed people at the lower places behind the wall in the exposed places. I stationed the people by families, with their swords, spears, and bows.

Nehemiah 4:14 When I had made an inspection, I stood up and said to the nobles, the officials, and the rest of the people, “Don’t be afraid of them. Remember the great and awesome Lord, and fight on behalf of your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your families!”

Nehemiah 4:15 It so happened that when our adversaries heard that we were aware of these matters, God frustrated their intentions. Then all of us returned to the wall, each to his own work.

Nehemiah 4:16 From that day forward, half of my men were doing the work and half of them were taking up spears, shields, bows, and body armor. Now the officers were behind all the people of Judah

Nehemiah 4:17 who were rebuilding the wall. Those who were carrying loads did so by keeping one hand on the work and the other on their weapon.

Nehemiah 4:18 The builders to a man had their swords strapped to their sides while they were building. But the trumpeter remained with me.

Nehemiah 4:19 I said to the nobles, the officials, and the rest of the people, “The work is demanding and extensive, and we are spread out on the wall, far removed from one another.

Nehemiah 4:20 Wherever you hear the sound of the trumpet, gather there with us. Our God will fight for us!”

Nehemiah 4:21 So we worked on, with half holding spears, from dawn till dusk.

Nehemiah 4:22 At that time I instructed the people, “Let every man and his coworker spend the night in Jerusalem and let them be guards for us by night and workers by day.

Nehemiah 4:23 We did not change clothes– not I, nor my relatives, nor my workers, nor the watchmen who were with me. Each had his weapon, even when getting a drink of water.

Nehemiah 5:1 Then there was a great outcry from the people and their wives against their fellow Jews.

Nehemiah 5:2 There were those who said, “With our sons and daughters, we are many. We must obtain grain in order to eat and stay alive.”

Nehemiah 5:3 There were others who said, “We are putting up our fields, our vineyards, and our houses as collateral in order to obtain grain during the famine.”

Nehemiah 5:4 Then there were those who said, “We have borrowed money to pay our taxes to the king on our fields and our vineyards.

Nehemiah 5:5 And now, though we share the same flesh and blood as our fellow countrymen, and our children are just like their children, still we have found it necessary to subject our sons and daughters to slavery. Some of our daughters have been subjected to slavery, while we are powerless to help, since our fields and vineyards now belong to other people.”

Nehemiah 5:6 I was very angry when I heard their outcry and these complaints.

Nehemiah 5:7 I considered these things carefully and then registered a complaint with the wealthy and the officials. I said to them, “Each one of you is seizing the collateral from your own countrymen!” Because of them I called for a great public assembly.

Nehemiah 5:8 I said to them, “To the extent possible we have bought back our fellow Jews who had been sold to the Gentiles. But now you yourselves want to sell your own countrymen, so that we can then buy them back!” They were utterly silent, and could find nothing to say.

Nehemiah 5:9 Then I said, “The thing that you are doing is wrong! Should you not conduct yourselves in the fear of our God in order to avoid the reproach of the Gentiles who are our enemies?

Nehemiah 5:10 Even I and my relatives and my associates are lending them money and grain. But let us abandon this practice of seizing collateral!

Nehemiah 5:11 This very day return to them their fields, their vineyards, their olive trees, and their houses, along with the interest that you are exacting from them on the money, the grain, the new wine, and the olive oil.”

Nehemiah 5:12 They replied, “We will return these things, and we will no longer demand anything from them. We will do just as you say.” Then I called the priests and made the wealthy and the officials swear to do what had been promised.

Nehemiah 5:13 I also shook out my garment, and I said, “In this way may God shake out from his house and his property every person who does not carry out this matter. In this way may he be shaken out and emptied!” All the assembly replied, “So be it!” and they praised the LORD. Then the people did as they had promised.

Nehemiah 5:14 From the day that I was appointed governor in the land of Judah, that is, from the twentieth year until the thirty-second year of King Artaxerxes– twelve years in all– neither I nor my relatives ate the food allotted to the governor.

Nehemiah 5:15 But the former governors who preceded me had burdened the people and had taken food and wine from them, in addition to forty shekels of silver. Their associates were also domineering over the people. But I did not behave in this way, due to my fear of God.

Nehemiah 5:16 I gave myself to the work on this wall, without even purchasing a field. All my associates were gathered there for the work.

Nehemiah 5:17 There were 150 Jews and officials who dined with me routinely, in addition to those who came to us from the nations all around us.

Nehemiah 5:18 Every day one ox, six select sheep, and some birds were prepared for me, and every ten days all kinds of wine in abundance. Despite all this I did not require the food allotted to the governor, for the work was demanding on this people.

Nehemiah 5:19 Please remember me for good, O my God, for all that I have done for this people.

Nehemiah 6:1 When Sanballat, Tobiah, Geshem the Arab, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had rebuilt the wall and no breach remained in it (even though up to that time I had not positioned doors in the gates),

Nehemiah 6:2 Sanballat and Geshem sent word to me saying, “Come on! Let’s set up a time to meet together at Kephirim in the plain of Ono.” Now they intended to do me harm.

Nehemiah 6:3 So I sent messengers to them saying, “I am engaged in an important work, and I am unable to come down. Why should the work come to a halt when I leave it to come down to you?”

Nehemiah 6:4 They contacted me four times in this way, and I responded the same way each time.

Nehemiah 6:5 The fifth time that Sanballat sent his assistant to me in this way, he had an open letter in his hand.

Nehemiah 6:6 Written in it were the following words: “Among the nations it is rumored (and Geshem has substantiated this) that you and the Jews have intentions of revolting, and for this reason you are building the wall. Furthermore, according to these rumors you are going to become their king.

Nehemiah 6:7 You have also established prophets to announce in Jerusalem on your behalf, ‘We have a king in Judah!’ Now the king is going to hear about these rumors. So come on! Let’s talk about this.”

Nehemiah 6:8 I sent word back to him, “We are not engaged in these activities you are describing. All of this is a figment of your imagination.”

Nehemiah 6:9 All of them were wanting to scare us, supposing, “Their hands will grow slack from the work, and it won’t get done.” So now, strengthen my hands!

Nehemiah 6:10 Then I went to the house of Shemaiah son of Delaiah, the son of Mehetabel. He was confined to his home. He said, “Let’s set up a time to meet in the house of God, within the temple. Let’s close the doors of the temple, for they are coming to kill you. It will surely be at night that they will come to kill you.”

Nehemiah 6:11 But I replied, “Should a man like me run away? Would someone like me flee to the temple in order to save his life? I will not go!”

Nehemiah 6:12 I recognized the fact that God had not sent him, for he had spoken the prophecy against me as a hired agent of Tobiah and Sanballat.

Nehemiah 6:13 He had been hired to scare me so that I would do this and thereby sin. They would thus bring reproach on me and I would be discredited.

Nehemiah 6:14 Remember, O my God, Tobiah and Sanballat in light of these actions of theirs– also Noadiah the prophetess and the other prophets who were trying to scare me!

Nehemiah 6:15 So the wall was completed on the twenty-fifth day of Elul, in just fifty-two days.

Nehemiah 6:16 When all our enemies heard and all the nations who were around us saw this, they were greatly disheartened. They knew that this work had been accomplished with the help of our God.

Nehemiah 6:17 In those days the aristocrats of Judah repeatedly sent letters to Tobiah, and responses from Tobiah were repeatedly coming to them.

Nehemiah 6:18 For many in Judah had sworn allegiance to him, because he was the son-in-law of Shecaniah son of Arah. His son Jonathan had married the daughter of Meshullam son of Berechiah.

Nehemiah 6:19 They were telling me about his good deeds and then taking back to him the things I said. Tobiah, on the other hand, sent letters in order to scare me.

Nehemiah 7:1 When the wall had been rebuilt and I had positioned the doors, and the gatekeepers, the singers, and the Levites had been appointed,

Nehemiah 7:2 I then put in charge over Jerusalem my brother Hanani and Hananiah the chief of the citadel, for he was a faithful man and feared God more than many do.

Nehemiah 7:3 I said to them, “The gates of Jerusalem must not be opened in the early morning, until those who are standing guard close the doors and lock them. Position residents of Jerusalem as guards, some at their guard stations and some near their homes.”

Nehemiah 7:4 Now the city was spread out and large, and there were not a lot of people in it. At that time houses had not been rebuilt.

Nehemiah 7:5 My God placed it on my heart to gather the leaders, the officials, and the ordinary people so they could be enrolled on the basis of genealogy. I found the genealogical records of those who had formerly returned. Here is what I found written in that record:

Nehemiah 7:6 These are the people of the province who returned from the captivity of the exiles, whom King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon had forced into exile. They returned to Jerusalem and to Judah, each to his own city.

Nehemiah 7:7 They came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, and Baanah. The number of Israelite men was as follows:

Nehemiah 7:8 the descendants of Parosh, 2,172;

Nehemiah 7:9 the descendants of Shephatiah, 372;

Nehemiah 7:10 the descendants of Arah, 652;

Nehemiah 7:11 the descendants of Pahath-Moab (from the line of Jeshua and Joab), 2,818;

Nehemiah 7:12 the descendants of Elam, 1,254;

Nehemiah 7:13 the descendants of Zattu, 845;

Nehemiah 7:14 the descendants of Zaccai, 760;

Nehemiah 7:15 the descendants of Binnui, 648;

Nehemiah 7:16 the descendants of Bebai, 628;

Nehemiah 7:17 the descendants of Azgad, 2,322;

Nehemiah 7:18 the descendants of Adonikam, 667;

Nehemiah 7:19 the descendants of Bigvai, 2,067;

Nehemiah 7:20 the descendants of Adin, 655;

Nehemiah 7:21 the descendants of Ater (through Hezekiah), 98;

Nehemiah 7:22 the descendants of Hashum, 328;

Nehemiah 7:23 the descendants of Bezai, 324;

Nehemiah 7:24 the descendants of Harif, 112;

Nehemiah 7:25 the descendants of Gibeon, 95;

Nehemiah 7:26 The men of Bethlehem and Netophah, 188;

Nehemiah 7:27 the men of Anathoth, 128;

Nehemiah 7:28 the men of the family of Azmaveth, 42;

Nehemiah 7:29 the men of Kiriath Jearim, Kephirah, and Beeroth, 743;

Nehemiah 7:30 the men of Ramah and Geba, 621;

Nehemiah 7:31 the men of Micmash, 122;

Nehemiah 7:32 the men of Bethel and Ai, 123;

Nehemiah 7:33 the men of the other Nebo, 52;

Nehemiah 7:34 the descendants of the other Elam, 1,254;

Nehemiah 7:35 the descendants of Harim, 320;

Nehemiah 7:36 the descendants of Jericho, 345;

Nehemiah 7:37 the descendants of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, 721;

Nehemiah 7:38 the descendants of Senaah, 3,930.

Nehemiah 7:39 The priests: the descendants of Jedaiah (through the family of Jeshua), 973;

Nehemiah 7:40 the descendants of Immer, 1,052;

Nehemiah 7:41 the descendants of Pashhur, 1,247;

Nehemiah 7:42 the descendants of Harim, 1,017.

Nehemiah 7:43 The Levites: the descendants of Jeshua (through Kadmiel, through the line of Hodaviah), 74.

Nehemiah 7:44 The singers: the descendants of Asaph, 148.

Nehemiah 7:45 The gatekeepers: the descendants of Shallum, the descendants of Ater, the descendants of Talmon, the descendants of Akkub, the descendants of Hatita, and the descendants of Shobai, 138.

Nehemiah 7:46 The temple servants: the descendants of Ziha, the descendants of Hasupha, the descendants of Tabbaoth,

Nehemiah 7:47 the descendants of Keros, the descendants of Sia, the descendants of Padon,

Nehemiah 7:48 the descendants of Lebanah, the descendants of Hagabah, the descendants of Shalmai,

Nehemiah 7:49 the descendants of Hanan, the descendants of Giddel, the descendants of Gahar,

Nehemiah 7:50 the descendants of Reaiah, the descendants of Rezin, the descendants of Nekoda,

Nehemiah 7:51 the descendants of Gazzam, the descendants of Uzzah, the descendants of Paseah,

Nehemiah 7:52 the descendants of Besai, the descendants of Meunim, the descendants of Nephussim,

Nehemiah 7:53 the descendants of Bakbuk, the descendants of Hakupha, the descendants of Harhur,

Nehemiah 7:54 the descendants of Bazluth, the descendants of Mehida, the descendants of Harsha,

Nehemiah 7:55 the descendants of Barkos, the descendants of Sisera, the descendants of Temah, Nehemiah 7:56 the descendants of Neziah, the descendants of Hatipha.

Nehemiah 7:57 The descendants of the servants of Solomon: the descendants of Sotai, the descendants of Sophereth, the descendants of Perida,

Nehemiah 7:58 the descendants of Jaala, the descendants of Darkon, the descendants of Giddel,

Nehemiah 7:59 the descendants of Shephatiah, the descendants of Hattil, the descendants of Pokereth-Hazzebaim, and the descendants of Amon.

Nehemiah 7:60 All the temple servants and the descendants of the servants of Solomon, 392.

Nehemiah 7:61 These are the ones who came up from Tel Melah, Tel Harsha, Kerub, Addon, and Immer (although they were unable to certify their family connection or their ancestry, as to whether they were really from Israel):

Nehemiah 7:62 the descendants of Delaiah, the descendants of Tobiah, and the descendants of Nekoda, 642.

Nehemiah 7:63 And from among the priests: the descendants of Hobaiah, the descendants of Hakkoz, and the descendants of Barzillai (who had married a woman from the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite and was called by that name).

Nehemiah 7:64 They searched for their records in the genealogical materials, but none were found. They were therefore excluded from the priesthood.

Nehemiah 7:65 The governor instructed them not to eat any of the sacred food until there was a priest who could consult the Urim and Thummim.

Nehemiah 7:66 The entire group numbered 42,360,

Nehemiah 7:67 not counting their 7,337 male and female servants. They also had 245 male and female singers.

Nehemiah 7:68 They had 736 horses, 245 mules,

Nehemiah 7:69 435 camels, and 6,720 donkeys.

Nehemiah 7:70 Some of the family leaders contributed to the work. The governor contributed to the treasury 1,000 gold drachmas, 50 bowls, and 530 priestly garments.

Nehemiah 7:71 Some of the family leaders gave to the project treasury 20,000 gold drachmas and 2,200 silver minas.

Nehemiah 7:72 What the rest of the people gave amounted to 20,000 gold drachmas, 2,000 silver minas, and 67 priestly garments.

Nehemiah 7:73 The priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, some of the people, the temple servants, and all the rest of Israel lived in their cities. When the seventh month arrived and the Israelites were settled in their cities,

Nehemiah 8:1 all the people gathered together in the plaza which was in front of the Water Gate. They asked Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses which the LORD had commanded Israel.

Nehemiah 8:2 So Ezra the priest brought the law before the assembly which included men and women and all those able to understand what they heard. (This happened on the first day of the seventh month.)

Nehemiah 8:3 So he read it before the plaza in front of the Water Gate from dawn till noon before the men and women and those children who could understand. All the people were eager to hear the book of the law.

Nehemiah 8:4 Ezra the scribe stood on a towering wooden platform constructed for this purpose. Standing near him on his right were Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Uriah, Hilkiah, and Masseiah. On his left were Pedaiah, Mishael, Malkijah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

Nehemiah 8:5 Ezra opened the book in plain view of all the people, for he was elevated above all the people. When he opened the book, all the people stood up.

Nehemiah 8:6 Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God, and all the people replied “Amen! Amen!” as they lifted their hands. Then they bowed down and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground.

Nehemiah 8:7 Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, and Pelaiah– all of whom were Levites– were teaching the people the law, as the people remained standing.

Nehemiah 8:8 They read from the book of God’s law, explaining it and imparting insight. Thus the people gained understanding from what was read.

Nehemiah 8:9 Then Nehemiah the governor, Ezra the priestly scribe, and the Levites who were imparting understanding to the people said to all of them, “This day is holy to the LORD your God. Do not mourn or weep.” For all the people had been weeping when they heard the words of the law.

Nehemiah 8:10 He said to them, “Go and eat delicacies and drink sweet drinks and send portions to those for whom nothing is prepared. For this day is holy to our Lord. Do not grieve, for the joy of the LORD is your strength.”

Nehemiah 8:11 Then the Levites quieted all the people saying, “Be quiet, for this day is holy. Do not grieve.”

Nehemiah 8:12 So all the people departed to eat and drink and to share their food with others and to enjoy tremendous joy, for they had gained insight in the matters that had been made known to them.

Nehemiah 8:13 On the second day of the month the family leaders met with Ezra the scribe, together with all the people, the priests, and the Levites, to consider the words of the law.

Nehemiah 8:14 They discovered written in the law that the LORD had commanded through Moses that the Israelites should live in temporary shelters during the festival of the seventh month,

Nehemiah 8:15 and that they should make a proclamation and disseminate this message in all their cities and in Jerusalem: “Go to the hill country and bring back olive branches and branches of wild olive trees, myrtle trees, date palms, and other leafy trees to construct temporary shelters, as it is written.”

Nehemiah 8:16 So the people went out and brought these things back and constructed temporary shelters for themselves, each on his roof and in his courtyard and in the courtyards of the temple of God and in the plaza of the Water Gate and the plaza of the Ephraim Gate.

Nehemiah 8:17 So all the assembly which had returned from the exile constructed temporary shelters and lived in them. The Israelites had not done so from the days of Joshua son of Nun until that day. Everyone experienced very great joy.

Nehemiah 8:18 Ezra read in the book of the law of God day by day, from the first day to the last. They observed the festival for seven days, and on the eighth day they held an assembly as was required.

Nehemiah 9:1 On the twenty-fourth day of this same month the Israelites assembled; they were fasting and wearing sackcloth, their heads covered with dust.

Nehemiah 9:2 Those truly of Israelite descent separated from all the foreigners, standing and confessing their sins and the iniquities of their ancestors.

Nehemiah 9:3 For one-fourth of the day they stood in their place and read from the book of the law of the LORD their God, and for another fourth they were confessing their sins and worshiping the LORD their God.

Nehemiah 9:4 Then the Levites– Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Kenani– stood on the steps and called out loudly to the LORD their God.

Nehemiah 9:5 The Levites– Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah– said, “Stand up and bless the LORD your God!” “May you be blessed, O LORD our God, from age to age. May your glorious name be blessed; may it be lifted up above all blessing and praise.

Nehemiah 9:6 You alone are the LORD. You made the heavens, even the highest heavens, along with all their multitude of stars, the earth and all that is on it, the seas and all that is in them. You impart life to them all, and the multitudes of heaven worship you.

Nehemiah 9:7 “You are the LORD God who chose Abram and brought him forth from Ur of the Chaldeans. You changed his name to Abraham.

Nehemiah 9:8 When you perceived that his heart was faithful toward you, you established a covenant with him to give his descendants the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, and the Girgashites. You have fulfilled your promise, for you are righteous.

Nehemiah 9:9 “You saw the affliction of our ancestors in Egypt, and you heard their cry at the Red Sea.

Nehemiah 9:10 You performed awesome signs against Pharaoh, against his servants, and against all the people of his land, for you knew that the Egyptians had acted presumptuously against them. You made for yourself a name that is celebrated to this day.

Nehemiah 9:11 You split the sea before them, and they crossed through the sea on dry ground! But you threw their pursuers into the depths, like a stone into surging waters.

Nehemiah 9:12 You guided them with a pillar of cloud by day and with a pillar of fire by night to illumine for them the path they were to travel.

Nehemiah 9:13 “You came down on Mount Sinai and spoke with them from heaven. You provided them with just judgments, true laws, and good statutes and commandments.

Nehemiah 9:14 You made known to them your holy Sabbath; you issued commandments, statutes, and law to them through Moses your servant.

Nehemiah 9:15 You provided bread from heaven for them in their time of hunger, and you brought forth water from the rock for them in their time of thirst. You told them to enter in order to possess the land that you had sworn to give them.

Nehemiah 9:16 “But they– our ancestors– behaved presumptuously; they rebelled and did not obey your commandments.

Nehemiah 9:17 They refused to obey and did not recall your miracles that you had performed among them. Instead, they rebelled and appointed a leader to return to their bondage in Egypt. But you are a God of forgiveness, merciful and compassionate, slow to get angry and unfailing in your loyal love. You did not abandon them, Nehemiah 9:18 even when they made a cast image of a calf for themselves and said, 'This is your God who brought you up from Egypt,' or when they committed atrocious blasphemies.

Nehemiah 9:19 "Due to your great compassion you did not abandon them in the desert. The pillar of cloud did not stop guiding them in the path by day, nor did the pillar of fire stop illuminating for them by night the path on which they should travel.

Nehemiah 9:20 You imparted your good Spirit to instruct them. You did not withhold your manna from their mouths; you provided water for their thirst.

Nehemiah 9:21 For forty years you sustained them. Even in the desert they never lacked anything. Their clothes did not wear out and their feet did not swell.

Nehemiah 9:22 "You gave them kingdoms and peoples, and you allocated them to every corner of the land. They inherited the land of King Sihon of Heshbon and the land of King Og of Bashan.

Nehemiah 9:23 You multiplied their descendants like the stars of the sky. You brought them to the land you had told their ancestors to enter in order to possess.

Nehemiah 9:24 Their descendants entered and possessed the land. You subdued before them the Canaanites who were the inhabitants of the land. You delivered them into their hand, together with their kings and the peoples of the land, to deal with as they pleased.

Nehemiah 9:25 They captured fortified cities and fertile land. They took possession of houses full of all sorts of good things– wells previously dug, vineyards, olive trees, and fruit trees in abundance. They ate until they were full and grew fat. They enjoyed to the full your great goodness.

Nehemiah 9:26 "Nonetheless they grew disobedient and rebelled against you; they disregarded your law. They killed your prophets who had solemnly admonished them in order to cause them to return to you. They committed atrocious blasphemies.

Nehemiah 9:27 Therefore you delivered them into the hand of their adversaries, who oppressed them. But in the time of their distress they called to you, and you heard from heaven. In your abundant compassion you provided them with deliverers to rescue them from their adversaries.

Nehemiah 9:28 "Then, when they were at rest again, they went back to doing evil before you. Then you abandoned them to their enemies, and they gained dominion over them. When they again cried out to you, in your compassion you heard from heaven and rescued them time and again.

Nehemiah 9:29 And you solemnly admonished them in order to return them to your law, but they behaved presumptuously and did not obey your commandments. They sinned against your ordinances– those by which an individual, if he obeys them, will live. They boldly turned from you; they rebelled and did not obey.

Nehemiah 9:30 You prolonged your kindness with them for many years, and you solemnly admonished them by your Spirit through your prophets. Still they paid no attention, so you delivered them into the hands of the neighboring peoples.

Nehemiah 9:31 However, due to your abundant mercy you did not do away with them altogether; you did not abandon them. For you are a merciful and compassionate God.

Nehemiah 9:32 “So now, our God– the great, powerful, and awesome God, who keeps covenant fidelity– do not regard as inconsequential all the hardship that has befallen us– our kings, our leaders, our priests, our prophets, our ancestors, and all your people– from the days of the kings of Assyria until this very day!

Nehemiah 9:33 You are righteous with regard to all that has happened to us, for you have acted faithfully. It is we who have been in the wrong!

Nehemiah 9:34 Our kings, our leaders, our priests, and our ancestors have not kept your law. They have not paid attention to your commandments or your testimonies by which you have solemnly admonished them.

Nehemiah 9:35 Even when they were in their kingdom and benefiting from your incredible goodness that you had lavished on them in the spacious and fertile land you had set before them, they did not serve you, nor did they turn from their evil practices.

Nehemiah 9:36 “So today we are slaves! In the very land you gave to our ancestors to eat its fruit and to enjoy its good things– we are slaves!

Nehemiah 9:37 Its abundant produce goes to the kings you have placed over us due to our sins. They rule over our bodies and our livestock as they see fit, and we are in great distress!

Nehemiah 9:38 “Because of all of this we are entering into a binding covenant in written form; our leaders, our Levites, and our priests have affixed their names on the sealed document.”

Nehemiah 10:1 On the sealed documents were the following names: Nehemiah the governor, son of Hacaliah, along with Zedekiah,

Nehemiah 10:2 Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah,

Nehemiah 10:3 Pashhur, Amariah, Malkijah,

Nehemiah 10:4 Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch,

Nehemiah 10:5 Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah,

Nehemiah 10:6 Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch,

Nehemiah 10:7 Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin, Nehemiah 10:8 Maaziah, Bilgai, and Shemaiah. These were the priests.

Nehemiah 10:9 The Levites were as follows: Jeshua son of Azaniah, Binnui of the sons of Henadad, Kadmiel.

Nehemiah 10:10 Their colleagues were as follows: Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan,

Nehemiah 10:11 Mica, Rehob, Hashabiah,

Nehemiah 10:12 Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,

Nehemiah 10:13 Hodiah, Bani, and Beninu.

Nehemiah 10:14 The leaders of the people were as follows: Parosh, Pahath-Moab, Elam, Zattu, Bani,

Nehemiah 10:15 Bunni, Azgad, Bebai,

Nehemiah 10:16 Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin,

Nehemiah 10:17 Ater, Hezekiah, Azzur,

Nehemiah 10:18 Hodiah, Hashum, Bezai,

Nehemiah 10:19 Hariph, Anathoth, Nebai,

Nehemiah 10:20 Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir,

Nehemiah 10:21 Meshezabel, Zadok, Jaddua,

Nehemiah 10:22 Pelatiah, Hanan, Anaiah,

Nehemiah 10:23 Hoshea, Hananiah, Hasshub,

Nehemiah 10:24 Hallohesh, Pilha, Shobek,

Nehemiah 10:25 Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah,

Nehemiah 10:26 Ahiah, Hanan, Anan,

Nehemiah 10:27 Malluch, Harim, and Baanah.

Nehemiah 10:28 “Now the rest of the people– the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple attendants, and all those who have separated themselves from the neighboring peoples because of the law of God, along with their wives, their sons, and their daughters, all of whom are able to understand–

Nehemiah 10:29 hereby participate with their colleagues the town leaders and enter into a curse and an oath to adhere to the law of God which was given through Moses the servant of God, and to obey carefully all the commandments of the LORD our Lord, along with his ordinances and his statutes.

Nehemiah 10:30 “We will not give our daughters in marriage to the neighboring peoples, and we will not take their daughters in marriage for our sons.

Nehemiah 10:31 We will not buy on the Sabbath or on a holy day from the neighboring peoples who bring their wares and all kinds of grain to sell on the Sabbath day. We will let the fields lie fallow every seventh year, and we will cancel every loan.

Nehemiah 10:32 We accept responsibility for fulfilling the commands to give one third of a shekel each year for the work of the temple of our God,

Nehemiah 10:33 for the loaves of presentation and for the regular grain offerings and regular burnt offerings, for the Sabbaths, for the new moons, for the appointed meetings, for the holy offerings, for the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the temple of our God.

Nehemiah 10:34 “We– the priests, the Levites, and the people– have cast lots concerning the wood offerings, to bring them to the temple of our God according to our families at the designated times year by year to burn on the altar of the LORD our God, as is written in the law.

Nehemiah 10:35 We also accept responsibility for bringing the first fruits of our land and the first fruits of every fruit tree year by year to the temple of the LORD.

Nehemiah 10:36 We also accept responsibility, as is written in the law, for bringing the firstborn of our sons and our cattle and the firstborn of our herds and of our flocks to the temple of our God, to the priests who are ministering in the temple of our God.

Nehemiah 10:37 We will also bring the first of our coarse meal, of our contributions, of the fruit of every tree, of new wine, and of olive oil to the priests at the storerooms of the temple of our God, along with a tenth of the produce of our land to the Levites, for the Levites are the ones who collect the tithes in all the cities where we work.

Nehemiah 10:38 A priest of Aaron’s line will be with the Levites when the Levites collect the tithes, and the Levites will bring up a tenth of the tithes to the temple of our God, to the storerooms of the treasury.

Nehemiah 10:39 The Israelites and the Levites will bring the contribution of the grain, the new wine, and the olive oil to the storerooms where the utensils of the sanctuary are kept, and where the priests who minister stay, along with the gatekeepers and the singers. We will not neglect the temple of our God.”

Nehemiah 11:1 So the leaders of the people settled in Jerusalem, while the rest of the people cast lots to bring one out of every ten to settle in Jerusalem, the holy city, while the other nine remained in other cities.

Nehemiah 11:2 The people gave their blessing on all the men who volunteered to settle in Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 11:3 These are the provincial leaders who settled in Jerusalem. (While other Israelites, the priests, the Levites, the temple attendants, and the sons of the servants of Solomon settled in the cities of Judah, each on his own property in their cities, Nehemiah 11:4 some of the descendants of Judah and some of the descendants of Benjamin settled in Jerusalem.) Of the descendants of Judah: Athaiah son of Uzziah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalalel, from the descendants of Perez;

Nehemiah 11:5 and Maaseiah son of Baruch, the son of Col-Hozeh, the son of Hazaiah, the son of Adaiah, the son of Joiarib, the son of Zechariah, from the descendants of Shelah.

Nehemiah 11:6 The sum total of the descendants of Perez who were settling in Jerusalem was 468 exceptional men.

Nehemiah 11:7 These are the descendants of Benjamin: Sallu son of Meshullam, the son of Joed, the son of Pedaiah, the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ithiel, the son of Jeshaiah, Nehemiah 11:8 and his followers, Gabbai and Sallai– 928 in all.

Nehemiah 11:9 Joel son of Zicri was the officer in charge of them, and Judah son of Hassenuah was second-in-command over the city.

Nehemiah 11:10 From the priests: Jedaiah son of Joiarib, Jakin,

Nehemiah 11:11 Seraiah son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, supervisor in the temple of God,

Nehemiah 11:12 and their colleagues who were carrying out work for the temple– 822; and Adaiah son of Jeroham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashhur, the son of Malkijah,

Nehemiah 11:13 and his colleagues who were heads of families– 242; and Amashsai son of Azarel, the son of Ahzai, the son of Meshillemoth, the son of Immer,

Nehemiah 11:14 and his colleagues who were exceptional men– 128. The officer over them was Zabdiel the son of Haggedolim.

Nehemiah 11:15 From the Levites: Shemaiah son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Bunni;

Nehemiah 11:16 Shabbethai and Jozabad, leaders of the Levites, were in charge of the external work for the temple of God;

Nehemiah 11:17 Mattaniah son of Mica, the son of Zabdi, the son of Asaph, the praise leader who led in thanksgiving and prayer; Bakbukiah, second among his colleagues; and Abda son of Shammua, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun.

Nehemiah 11:18 The sum total of the Levites in the holy city was 284.

Nehemiah 11:19 And the gatekeepers: Akkub, Talmon and their colleagues who were guarding the gates– 172.

Nehemiah 11:20 And the rest of the Israelites, with the priests and the Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, each on his own property.

Nehemiah 11:21 The temple attendants were living on Ophel, and Ziha and Gishpa were over them.

Nehemiah 11:22 The overseer of the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Mica. He was one of Asaph's descendants who were the singers responsible for the service of the temple of God.

Nehemiah 11:23 For they were under royal orders which determined their activity day by day.

Nehemiah 11:24 Pethahiah son of Meshezabel, one of the descendants of Zerah son of Judah, was an adviser to the king in every matter pertaining to the people.

Nehemiah 11:25 As for the settlements with their fields, some of the people of Judah settled in Kiriath Arba and its neighboring villages, in Dibon and its villages, in Jekabzeel and its settlements,

Nehemiah 11:26 in Jeshua, in Moladah, in Beth Pelet,

Nehemiah 11:27 in Hazar Shual, in Beer Sheba and its villages,

Nehemiah 11:28 in Ziklag, in Meconah and its villages,

Nehemiah 11:29 in En Rimmon, in Zorah, in Jarmuth,

Nehemiah 11:30 Zanoah, Adullam and their settlements, in Lachish and its fields, and in Azekah and its villages. So they were encamped from Beer Sheba to the Valley of Hinnom.

Nehemiah 11:31 Some of the descendants of Benjamin settled in Geba, Micmash, Aija, Bethel and its villages,

Nehemiah 11:32 in Anathoth, Nob, and Ananiah,

Nehemiah 11:33 in Hazor, Ramah, and Gittaim,

Nehemiah 11:34 in Hadid, Zeboim, and Neballat,

Nehemiah 11:35 in Lod, Ono, and the Valley of the Craftsmen.

Nehemiah 11:36 Some of the Judean divisions of the Levites settled in Benjamin.

Nehemiah 12:1 These are the priests and Levites who returned with Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

Nehemiah 12:2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,

Nehemiah 12:3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

Nehemiah 12:4 Iddo, Ginnethon, Abijah,

Nehemiah 12:5 Mijamin, Moadiah, Bilgah,

Nehemiah 12:6 Shemaiah, Joiarib, Jedaiah,

Nehemiah 12:7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, and Jedaiah. These were the leaders of the priests and their colleagues in the days of Jeshua.

Nehemiah 12:8 And the Levites: Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, who together with his colleagues was in charge of the songs of thanksgiving.

Nehemiah 12:9 Bakbukiah and Unni, their colleagues, stood opposite them in the services.

Nehemiah 12:10 Jeshua was the father of Joiakim, Joiakim was the father of Eliashib, Eliashib was the father of Joiada,

Nehemiah 12:11 Joiada was the father of Jonathan, and Jonathan was the father of Jaddua.

Nehemiah 12:12 In the days of Joiakim, these were the priests who were leaders of the families: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah;

Nehemiah 12:13 of Ezra, Meshullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan;

Nehemiah 12:14 of Malluch, Jonathan; of Shecaniah, Joseph;

Nehemiah 12:15 of Harim, Adna; of Meremoth, Helkai;

Nehemiah 12:16 of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meshullam;

Nehemiah 12:17 of Abijah, Zicri; of Miniamin and of Moadiah, Piltai;

Nehemiah 12:18 of Bilgah, Shammua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan;

Nehemiah 12:19 of Joiarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi;

Nehemiah 12:20 of Sallu, Kallai; of Amok, Eber;

Nehemiah 12:21 of Hilkiah, Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethanel.

Nehemiah 12:22 As for the Levites, in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan and Jaddua the heads of families were recorded, as were the priests during the reign of Darius the Persian.

Nehemiah 12:23 The descendants of Levi were recorded in the Book of the Chronicles as heads of families up to the days of Johanan son of Eliashib.

Nehemiah 12:24 And the leaders of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, Jeshua son of Kadmiel, and their colleagues, who stood opposite them to offer praise and thanks, one contingent corresponding to the other, as specified by David the man of God.

Nehemiah 12:25 Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were gatekeepers who were guarding the storerooms at the gates.

Nehemiah 12:26 These all served in the days of Joiakim son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor and of Ezra the priestly scribe.

Nehemiah 12:27 At the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, they sought out the Levites from all the places they lived to bring them to Jerusalem to celebrate the dedication joyfully with songs of thanksgiving and songs accompanied by cymbals, harps, and lyres.

Nehemiah 12:28 The singers were also assembled from the district around Jerusalem and from the settlements of the Netophathites

Nehemiah 12:29 and from Beth Gilgal and from the fields of Geba and Azmaveth, for the singers had built settlements for themselves around Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 12:30 When the priests and Levites had purified themselves, they purified the people, the gates, and the wall.

Nehemiah 12:31 I brought the leaders of Judah up on top of the wall, and I appointed two large choirs to give thanks. One was to proceed on the top of the wall southward toward the Dung Gate.

Nehemiah 12:32 Going after them were Hoshaiah, half the leaders of Judah,

Nehemiah 12:33 Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam,

Nehemiah 12:34 Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, Jeremiah,

Nehemiah 12:35 some of the priests with trumpets, Zechariah son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph,

Nehemiah 12:36 and his colleagues– Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah, and Hanani– with musical instruments of David the man of God. (Ezra the scribe led them.)

Nehemiah 12:37 They went over the Fountain Gate and continued directly up the steps of the City of David on the ascent to the wall. They passed the house of David and continued on to the Water Gate toward the east.

Nehemiah 12:38 The second choir was proceeding in the opposite direction. I followed them, along with half the people, on top of the wall, past the Tower of the Ovens to the Broad Wall,

Nehemiah 12:39 over the Ephraim Gate, the Jeshanah Gate, the Fish Gate, the Tower of Hananel, and the Tower of the Hundred, to the Sheep Gate. They stopped at the Gate of the Guard.

Nehemiah 12:40 Then the two choirs that gave thanks took their stations in the temple of God. I did also, along with half the officials with me,

Nehemiah 12:41 and the priests– Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with their trumpets–

Nehemiah 12:42 and also Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malkijah, Elam, and Ezer. The choirs sang loudly under the direction of Jezrahiah.

Nehemiah 12:43 And on that day they offered great sacrifices and rejoiced, for God had given them great joy. The women and children also rejoiced. The rejoicing in Jerusalem could be heard from far away.

Nehemiah 12:44 On that day men were appointed over the storerooms for the contributions, first fruits, and tithes, to gather into them from the fields of the cities the portions prescribed by the law for the priests and the Levites, for the people of Judah took delight in the priests and Levites who were ministering.

Nehemiah 12:45 They performed the service of their God and the service of purification, along with the singers and gatekeepers, according to the commandment of David and his son Solomon.

Nehemiah 12:46 For long ago, in the days of David and Asaph, there had been directors for the singers and for the songs of praise and thanks to God.

Nehemiah 12:47 So in the days of Zerubbabel and in the days of Nehemiah, all Israel was contributing the portions for the singers and gatekeepers, according to the daily need. They also set aside the portion for the Levites, and the Levites set aside the portion for the descendants of Aaron.

Nehemiah 13:1 On that day the book of Moses was read aloud in the hearing of the people. They found written in it that no Ammonite or Moabite may ever enter the assembly of God,

Nehemiah 13:2 for they had not met the Israelites with food and water, but instead had hired Balaam to curse them. (Our God, however, turned the curse into blessing.)

Nehemiah 13:3 When they heard the law, they removed from Israel all who were of mixed ancestry.

Nehemiah 13:4 But prior to this time, Eliashib the priest, a relative of Tobiah, had been appointed over the storerooms of the temple of our God.

Nehemiah 13:5 He made for himself a large storeroom where previously they had been keeping the grain offering, the incense, and the vessels, along with the tithes of the grain, the new wine, and the olive oil as commanded for the Levites, the singers, the gate keepers, and the offering for the priests.

Nehemiah 13:6 During all this time I was not in Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of King Artaxerxes of Babylon, I had gone back to the king. After some time I had requested leave of the king, Nehemiah 13:7 and I returned to Jerusalem. Then I discovered the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah by supplying him with a storeroom in the courts of the temple of God.

Nehemiah 13:8 I was very upset, and I threw all of Tobiah’s household possessions out of the storeroom.

Nehemiah 13:9 Then I gave instructions that the storerooms should be purified, and I brought back the equipment of the temple of God, along with the grain offering and the incense.

Nehemiah 13:10 I also discovered that the grain offerings for the Levites had not been provided, and that as a result the Levites and the singers who performed this work had all gone off to their fields.

Nehemiah 13:11 So I registered a complaint with the leaders, asking "Why is the temple of God neglected?" Then I gathered them and reassigned them to their positions.

Nehemiah 13:12 Then all of Judah brought the tithe of the grain, the new wine, and the olive oil to the storerooms.

Nehemiah 13:13 I gave instructions that Shelemiah the priest, Zadok the scribe, and a certain Levite named Pedaiah be put in charge of the storerooms, and that Hanan son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah, be their assistant, for they were regarded as trustworthy. It was then their responsibility to oversee the distribution to their colleagues.

Nehemiah 13:14 Please remember me for this, O my God, and do not wipe out the kindness that I have done for the temple of my God and for its services!

Nehemiah 13:15 In those days I saw people in Judah treading winepresses on the Sabbath, bringing in heaps of grain and loading them onto donkeys, along with wine, grapes, figs, and all kinds of loads, and bringing them to Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. So I warned them on the day that they sold these provisions.

Nehemiah 13:16 The people from Tyre who lived there were bringing fish and all kinds of merchandise and were selling it on the Sabbath to the people of Judah– and in Jerusalem, of all places!

Nehemiah 13:17 So I registered a complaint with the nobles of Judah, saying to them, "What is this evil thing that you are doing, profaning the Sabbath day?

Nehemiah 13:18 Isn't this the way your ancestors acted, causing our God to bring on them and on this city all this misfortune? And now you are causing even more wrath on Israel, profaning the Sabbath like this!"

Nehemiah 13:19 When the evening shadows began to fall on the gates of Jerusalem before the Sabbath, I ordered the doors to be closed. I further directed that they were not to be opened until after the Sabbath. I positioned some of my young men at the gates so that no load could enter on the Sabbath day.

Nehemiah 13:20 The traders and sellers of all kinds of merchandise spent the night outside Jerusalem once or twice.

Nehemiah 13:21 But I warned them and said, "Why do you spend the night by the wall? If you repeat this, I will forcibly remove you!" From that time on they did not show up on the Sabbath.

Nehemiah 13:22 Then I directed the Levites to purify themselves and come and guard the gates in order to keep the Sabbath day holy. For this please remember me, O my God, and have pity on me in keeping with your great love.

Nehemiah 13:23 Also in those days I saw the men of Judah who had married women from Ashdod, Ammon, and Moab.

Nehemiah 13:24 Half of their children spoke the language of Ashdod (or the language of one of the other peoples mentioned) and were unable to speak the language of Judah.

Nehemiah 13:25 So I entered a complaint with them. I called down a curse on them, and I struck some of the men and pulled out their hair. I had them swear by God saying, “You will not marry off your daughters to their sons, and you will not take any of their daughters as wives for your sons or for yourselves!

Nehemiah 13:26 Was it not because of things like these that King Solomon of Israel sinned? Among the many nations there was no king like him. He was loved by his God, and God made him king over all Israel. But the foreign wives made even him sin!

Nehemiah 13:27 Should we then in your case hear that you do all this great evil, thereby being unfaithful to our God by marrying foreign wives?”

Nehemiah 13:28 Now one of the sons of Joiada son of Eliashib the high priest was a son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite. So I banished him from my sight.

Nehemiah 13:29 Please remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, the covenant of the priesthood, and the Levites.

Nehemiah 13:30 So I purified them of everything foreign, and I assigned specific duties to the priests and the Levites.

Nehemiah 13:31 I also provided for the wood offering at the appointed times and also for the first fruits. Please remember me for good, O my God.

Esther

1:1 The following events happened in the days of Ahasuerus. (I am referring to that Ahasuerus who used to rule over a hundred and twenty-seven provinces extending all the way from India to Ethiopia.)

Esther 1:2 In those days, as King Ahasuerus sat on his royal throne in Susa the citadel,

Esther 1:3 in the third year of his reign he provided a banquet for all his officials and his servants. The army of Persia and Media was present, as well as the nobles and the officials of the provinces.

Esther 1:4 He displayed the riches of his royal glory and the splendor of his majestic greatness for a lengthy period of time– a hundred and eighty days, to be exact!

Esther 1:5 When those days were completed, the king then provided a seven-day banquet for all the people who were present in Susa the citadel, for those of highest standing to the most lowly. It was held in the court located in the garden of the royal palace.

Esther 1:6 The furnishings included linen and purple curtains hung by cords of the finest linen and purple wool on silver rings, alabaster columns, gold and silver couches displayed on a floor made of valuable stones of alabaster, mother-of-pearl, and mineral stone.

Esther 1:7 Drinks were served in golden containers, all of which differed from one another. Royal wine was available in abundance at the king's expense.

Esther 1:8 There were no restrictions on the drinking, for the king had instructed all of his supervisors that they should do as everyone so desired.

Esther 1:9 Queen Vashti also gave a banquet for the women in King Ahasuerus' royal palace.

Esther 1:10 On the seventh day, as King Ahasuerus was feeling the effects of the wine, he ordered Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven eunuchs who attended him,

Esther 1:11 to bring Queen Vashti into the king's presence wearing her royal high turban. He wanted to show the people and the officials her beauty, for she was very attractive.

Esther 1:12 But Queen Vashti refused to come at the king's bidding conveyed through the eunuchs. Then the king became extremely angry, and his rage consumed him.

Esther 1:13 The king then inquired of the wise men who were discerners of the times– for it was the royal custom to confer with all those who were proficient in laws and legalities.

Esther 1:14 Those who were closest to him were Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan. These men were the seven officials of Persia and Media who saw the king on a regular basis and had the most prominent offices in the kingdom.

Esther 1:15 The king asked, "By law, what should be done to Queen Vashti in light of the fact that she has not obeyed the instructions of King Ahasuerus conveyed through the eunuchs?"

Esther 1:16 Memucan then replied to the king and the officials, "The wrong of Queen Vashti is not against the king alone, but against all the officials and all the people who are throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus.

Esther 1:17 For the matter concerning the queen will spread to all the women, leading them to treat their husbands with contempt, saying, 'When King Ahasuerus gave orders to bring Queen Vashti into his presence, she would not come.'

Esther 1:18 And this very day the noble ladies of Persia and Media who have heard the matter concerning the queen will respond in the same way to all the royal officials, and there will be more than enough contempt and anger!

Esther 1:19 If the king is so inclined, let a royal edict go forth from him, and let it be written in the laws of Persia and Media that cannot be repealed, that Vashti may not come into the presence of King Ahasuerus, and let the king convey her royalty to another who is more deserving than she.

Esther 1:20 And let the king's decision which he will enact be disseminated throughout all his kingdom, vast though it is. Then all the women will give honor to their husbands, from the most prominent to the lowly."

Esther 1:21 The matter seemed appropriate to the king and the officials. So the king acted on the advice of Memucan.

Esther 1:22 He sent letters throughout all the royal provinces, to each province according to its own script and to each people according to its own language, that every man should be ruling his family and should be speaking the language of his own people.

Esther 2:1 When these things had been accomplished and the rage of King Ahasuerus had diminished, he remembered Vashti and what she had done and what had been decided against her.

Esther 2:2 The king's servants who attended him said, "Let a search be conducted in the king's behalf for attractive young women.

Esther 2:3 And let the king appoint officers throughout all the provinces of his kingdom to gather all the attractive young women to Susa the citadel, to the harem under the authority of Hegai, the king's eunuch who oversees the women, and let him provide whatever cosmetics they desire.

Esther 2:4 Let the young woman whom the king finds most attractive become queen in place of Vashti." This seemed like a good idea to the king, so he acted accordingly.

Esther 2:5 Now there happened to be a Jewish man in Susa the citadel whose name was Mordecai. He was the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjaminite, Esther 2:6 who had been taken into exile from Jerusalem with the captives who had been carried into exile with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had taken into exile.

Esther 2:7 Now he was acting as the guardian of Hadassah (that is, Esther), the daughter of his uncle, for neither her father nor her mother was alive. This young woman was very attractive and had a beautiful figure. When her father and mother died, Mordecai had raised her as if she were his own daughter.

Esther 2:8 It so happened that when the king's edict and his law became known many young women were taken to Susa the citadel to be placed under the authority of Hegai. Esther also was taken to the royal palace to be under the authority of Hegai, who was overseeing the women.

Esther 2:9 This young woman pleased him, and she found favor with him. He quickly provided her with her cosmetics and her rations; he also provided her with the seven specially chosen young women who were from the palace. He then transferred her and her young women to the best quarters in the harem.

Esther 2:10 Now Esther had not disclosed her people or her lineage, for Mordecai had instructed her not to do so.

Esther 2:11 And day after day Mordecai used to walk back and forth in front of the court of the harem in order to learn how Esther was doing and what might happen to her.

Esther 2:12 At the end of the twelve months that were required for the women, when the turn of each young woman arrived to go to King Ahasuerus– for in this way they had to fulfill their time of cosmetic treatment: six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with perfume and various ointments used by women–

Esther 2:13 the woman would go to the king in the following way: Whatever she asked for would be provided for her to take with her from the harem to the royal palace.

Esther 2:14 In the evening she went, and in the morning she returned to a separate part of the harem, to the authority of Shaashgaz the king's eunuch who was overseeing the concubines. She would not go back to the king unless the king was pleased with her and she was requested by name.

Esther 2:15 When it became the turn of Esther daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai (who had raised her as if she were his own daughter) to go to the king, she did not request anything except what Hegai the king's eunuch, who was overseer of the women, had recommended. Yet Esther met with the approval of all who saw her.

Esther 2:16 Then Esther was taken to King Ahasuerus at his royal residence in the tenth month (that is, the month of Tebeth) in the seventh year of his reign.

Esther 2:17 And the king loved Esther more than all the other women, and she met with his loving approval more than all the other young women. So he placed the royal high turban on her head and appointed her queen in place of Vashti.

Esther 2:18 Then the king prepared a large banquet for all his officials and his servants– it was actually Esther's banquet. He also set aside a holiday for the provinces, and he provided for offerings at the king's expense.

Esther 2:19 Now when the young women were being gathered again, Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate.

Esther 2:20 Esther was still not divulging her lineage or her people, just as Mordecai had instructed her. Esther continued to do whatever Mordecai said, just as she had done when he was raising her.

Esther 2:21 In those days while Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate, Bigthan and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs who protected the entrance, became angry and plotted to assassinate King Ahasuerus.

Esther 2:22 When Mordecai learned of the conspiracy, he informed Queen Esther, and Esther told the king in Mordecai's behalf.

Esther 2:23 The king then had the matter investigated and, finding it to be so, had the two conspirators hanged on a gallows. It was then recorded in the daily chronicles in the king's presence.

Esther 3:1 Some time later King Ahasuerus promoted Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, exalting him and setting his position above that of all the officials who were with him.

Esther 3:2 As a result, all the king's servants who were at the king's gate were bowing and paying homage to Haman, for the king had so commanded. However, Mordecai did not bow, nor did he pay him homage.

Esther 3:3 Then the servants of the king who were at the king's gate asked Mordecai, "Why are you violating the king's commandment?"

Esther 3:4 And after they had spoken to him day after day without his paying any attention to them, they informed Haman to see whether this attitude on Mordecai's part would be permitted. Furthermore, he had disclosed to them that he was a Jew.

Esther 3:5 When Haman saw that Mordecai was not bowing or paying homage to him, he was filled with rage.

Esther 3:6 But the thought of striking out against Mordecai alone was repugnant to him, for he had been informed of the identity of Mordecai's people. So Haman sought to destroy all the Jews (that is, the people of Mordecai) who were in all the kingdom of Ahasuerus.

Esther 3:7 In the first month (that is, the month of Nisan), in the twelfth year of King Ahasuerus' reign, pur (that is, the lot) was cast before Haman in order to determine a day and a month. It turned out to be the twelfth month (that is, the month of Adar).

Esther 3:8 Then Haman said to King Ahasuerus, "There is a particular people that is dispersed and spread among the inhabitants throughout all the provinces of your kingdom whose laws differ from those of all other peoples. Furthermore, they do not observe the king's laws. It is not appropriate for the king to provide a haven for them.

Esther 3:9 If the king is so inclined, let an edict be issued to destroy them. I will pay ten thousand talents of silver to be conveyed to the king's treasuries for the officials who carry out this business."

Esther 3:10 So the king removed his signet ring from his hand and gave it to Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, who was hostile toward the Jews.

Esther 3:11 The king replied to Haman, “Keep your money, and do with those people whatever you wish.”

Esther 3:12 So the royal scribes were summoned in the first month, on the thirteenth day of the month. Everything Haman commanded was written to the king’s satraps and governors who were in every province and to the officials of every people, province by province according to its script and people by people according to its language. In the name of King Ahasuerus it was written and sealed with the king’s signet ring.

Esther 3:13 Letters were sent by the runners to all the king’s provinces stating that they should destroy, kill, and annihilate all the Jews, from youth to elderly, both women and children, on a particular day, namely the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (that is, the month of Adar), and to loot and plunder their possessions.

Esther 3:14 A copy of this edict was to be presented as law throughout every province; it was to be made known to all the inhabitants, so that they would be prepared for this day.

Esther 3:15 The messengers scurried forth with the king’s order. The edict was issued in Susa the citadel. While the king and Haman sat down to drink, the city of Susa was in an uproar!

Esther 4:1 Now when Mordecai became aware of all that had been done, he tore his garments and put on sackcloth and ashes. He went out into the city, crying out in a loud and bitter voice.

Esther 4:2 But he went no further than the king’s gate, for no one was permitted to enter the king’s gate clothed in sackcloth.

Esther 4:3 Throughout each and every province where the king’s edict and law were announced there was considerable mourning among the Jews, along with fasting, weeping, and sorrow. Sackcloth and ashes were characteristic of many.

Esther 4:4 When Esther’s female attendants and her eunuchs came and informed her about Mordecai’s behavior, the queen was overcome with anguish. Although she sent garments for Mordecai to put on so that he could remove his sackcloth, he would not accept them.

Esther 4:5 So Esther called for Hathach, one of the king’s eunuchs who had been placed at her service, and instructed him to find out the cause and reason for Mordecai’s behavior.

Esther 4:6 So Hathach went to Mordecai at the plaza of the city in front of the king’s gate.

Esther 4:7 Then Mordecai related to him everything that had happened to him, even the specific amount of money that Haman had offered to pay to the king’s treasuries for the Jews to be destroyed.

Esther 4:8 He also gave him a written copy of the law that had been disseminated in Susa for their destruction so that he could show it to Esther and talk to her about it. He also gave instructions that she should go to the king to implore him and petition him on behalf of her people.

Esther 4:9 So Hathach returned and related Mordecai's instructions to Esther.

Esther 4:10 Then Esther replied to Hathach with instructions for Mordecai:

Esther 4:11 "All the servants of the king and the people of the king's provinces know that there is only one law applicable to any man or woman who comes uninvited to the king in the inner court– that person will be put to death, unless the king extends to him the gold scepter, permitting him to be spared. Now I have not been invited to come to the king for some thirty days!"

Esther 4:12 When Esther's reply was conveyed to Mordecai,

Esther 4:13 he said to take back this answer to Esther:

Esther 4:14 "Don't imagine that because you are part of the king's household you will be the one Jew who will escape. If you keep quiet at this time, liberation and protection for the Jews will appear from another source, while you and your father's household perish. It may very well be that you have achieved royal status for such a time as this!"

Esther 4:15 Then Esther sent this reply to Mordecai:

Esther 4:16 "Go, assemble all the Jews who are found in Susa and fast in my behalf. Don't eat and don't drink for three days, night or day. My female attendants and I will also fast in the same way. Afterward I will go to the king, even though it violates the law. If I perish, I perish!"

Esther 4:17 So Mordecai set out to do everything that Esther had instructed him.

Esther 5:1 It so happened that on the third day Esther put on her royal attire and stood in the inner court of the palace, opposite the king's quarters. The king was sitting on his royal throne in the palace, opposite the entrance.

Esther 5:2 When the king saw Queen Esther standing in the court, she met with his approval. The king extended to Esther the gold scepter that was in his hand, and Esther approached and touched the end of the scepter.

Esther 5:3 The king said to her, "What is on your mind, Queen Esther? What is your request? Even as much as half the kingdom will be given to you!"

Esther 5:4 Esther replied, "If the king is so inclined, let the king and Haman come today to the banquet that I have prepared for him."

Esther 5:5 The king replied, “Find Haman quickly so that we can do as Esther requests.” So the king and Haman went to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

Esther 5:6 While at the banquet of wine, the king said to Esther, “What is your request? It shall be given to you. What is your petition? Ask for as much as half the kingdom, and it shall be done!”

Esther 5:7 Esther responded, “My request and my petition is this:

Esther 5:8 If I have found favor in the king’s sight and if the king is inclined to grant my request and perform my petition, let the king and Haman come tomorrow to the banquet that I will prepare for them. At that time I will do as the king wishes.

Esther 5:9 Now Haman went forth that day pleased and very much encouraged. But when Haman saw Mordecai at the king’s gate, and he did not rise nor tremble in his presence, Haman was filled with rage toward Mordecai.

Esther 5:10 But Haman restrained himself and went on to his home. He then sent for his friends to join him, along with his wife Zeresh.

Esther 5:11 Haman then recounted to them his fabulous wealth, his many sons, and how the king had magnified him and exalted him over the king’s other officials and servants.

Esther 5:12 Haman said, “Furthermore, Queen Esther invited only me to accompany the king to the banquet that she prepared! And also tomorrow I am invited along with the king.

Esther 5:13 Yet all of this fails to satisfy me so long as I have to see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king’s gate.”

Esther 5:14 Haman’s wife Zeresh and all his friends said to him, “Have a gallows seventy-five feet high built, and in the morning tell the king that Mordecai should be hanged on it. Then go with the king to the banquet contented.” It seemed like a good idea to Haman, so he had the gallows built.

Esther 6:1 Throughout that night the king was unable to sleep, so he asked for the book containing the historical records to be brought. As the records were being read in the king’s presence,

Esther 6:2 it was found written that Mordecai had disclosed that Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king’s eunuchs who guarded the entrance, had plotted to assassinate King Ahasuerus.

Esther 6:3 The king asked, “What great honor was bestowed on Mordecai because of this?” The king’s attendants who served him responded, “Not a thing was done for him.”

Esther 6:4 Then the king said, “Who is that in the courtyard?” Now Haman had come to the outer courtyard of the palace to suggest that the king hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had constructed for him.

Esther 6:5 The king’s attendants said to him, “It is Haman who is standing in the courtyard.” The king said, “Let him enter.”

Esther 6:6 So Haman came in, and the king said to him, “What should be done for the man whom the king wishes to honor?” Haman thought to himself, “Who is it that the king would want to honor more than me?”

Esther 6:7 So Haman said to the king, “For the man whom the king wishes to honor,

Esther 6:8 let them bring royal attire which the king himself has worn and a horse on which the king himself has ridden– one bearing the royal insignia!

Esther 6:9 Then let this clothing and this horse be given to one of the king’s noble officials. Let him then clothe the man whom the king wishes to honor, and let him lead him about through the plaza of the city on the horse, calling before him, ‘So shall it be done to the man whom the king wishes to honor!’“

Esther 6:10 The king then said to Haman, “Go quickly! Take the clothing and the horse, just as you have described, and do as you just indicated to Mordecai the Jew who sits at the king’s gate. Don’t neglect a single thing of all that you have said.”

Esther 6:11 So Haman took the clothing and the horse, and he clothed Mordecai. He led him about on the horse throughout the plaza of the city, calling before him, “So shall it be done to the man whom the king wishes to honor!”

Esther 6:12 Then Mordecai again sat at the king’s gate, while Haman hurried away to his home, mournful and with a veil over his head.

Esther 6:13 Haman then related to his wife Zeresh and to all his friends everything that had happened to him. These wise men, along with his wife Zeresh, said to him, “If indeed this Mordecai before whom you have begun to fall is Jewish, you will not prevail against him. No, you will surely fall before him!”

Esther 6:14 While they were still speaking with him, the king’s eunuchs arrived. They quickly brought Haman to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

Esther 7:1 So the king and Haman came to dine with Queen Esther.

Esther 7:2 On the second day of the banquet of wine the king asked Esther, “What is your request, Queen Esther? It shall be granted to you. And what is your petition? Ask up to half the kingdom, and it shall be done!”

Esther 7:3 Queen Esther replied, “If I have met with your approval, O king, and if the king is so inclined, grant me my life as my request, and my people as my petition.

Esther 7:4 For we have been sold– both I and my people– to destruction and to slaughter and to annihilation! If we had simply been sold as male and female slaves, I would have remained silent, for such distress would not have been sufficient for troubling the king.”

Esther 7:5 Then King Ahasuerus responded to Queen Esther, “Who is this individual? Where is this person to be found who is presumptuous enough to act in this way?”

Esther 7:6 Esther replied, “The oppressor and enemy is this evil Haman!” Then Haman became terrified in the presence of the king and queen.

Esther 7:7 In rage the king arose from the banquet of wine and withdrew to the palace garden. Meanwhile, Haman stood to beg Queen Esther for his life, for he realized that the king had now determined a catastrophic end for him.

Esther 7:8 When the king returned from the palace garden to the banquet of wine, Haman was throwing himself down on the couch where Esther was lying. The king exclaimed, “Will he also attempt to rape the queen while I am still in the building!” As these words left the king’s mouth, they covered Haman’s face.

Esther 7:9 Harbona, one of the king’s eunuchs, said, “Indeed, there is the gallows that Haman made for Mordecai, who spoke out in the king’s behalf. It stands near Haman’s home and is seventy-five feet high.” The king said, “Hang him on it!”

Esther 7:10 So they hanged Haman on the very gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. The king’s rage then abated.

Esther 8:1 On that same day King Ahasuerus gave the estate of Haman, that adversary of the Jews, to Queen Esther. Now Mordecai had come before the king, for Esther had revealed how he was related to her.

Esther 8:2 The king then removed his signet ring (the very one he had taken back from Haman) and gave it to Mordecai. And Esther designated Mordecai to be in charge of Haman’s estate.

Esther 8:3 Then Esther again spoke with the king, falling at his feet. She wept and begged him for mercy, that he might nullify the evil of Haman the Agagite which he had intended against the Jews.

Esther 8:4 When the king extended to Esther the gold scepter, she arose and stood before the king.

Esther 8:5 She said, “If the king is so inclined and if I have met with his approval and if the matter is agreeable to the king and if I am attractive to him, let an edict be written rescinding those recorded intentions of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, which he wrote in order to destroy the Jews who are throughout all the king’s provinces.

Esther 8:6 For how can I watch the calamity that will befall my people, and how can I watch the destruction of my relatives?”

Esther 8:7 King Ahasuerus replied to Queen Esther and to Mordecai the Jew, “Look, I have already given Haman’s estate to Esther, and he has been hanged on the gallows because he took hostile action against the Jews.

Esther 8:8 Now you write in the king’s name whatever in your opinion is appropriate concerning the Jews and seal it with the king’s signet ring. Any decree that is written in the king’s name and sealed with the king’s signet ring cannot be rescinded.

Esther 8:9 The king’s scribes were quickly summoned– in the third month (that is, the month of Sivan), on the twenty-third day. They wrote out everything that Mordecai instructed to the Jews and to the satraps and the governors and the officials of the provinces all the way from India to Ethiopia– a hundred and twenty-seven provinces in all– to each province in its own script and to each people in their own language, and to the Jews according to their own script and their own language.

Esther 8:10 Mordecai wrote in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed it with the king’s signet ring. He then sent letters by couriers on horses, who rode royal horses that were very swift.

Esther 8:11 The king thereby allowed the Jews who were in every city to assemble and to stand up for themselves– to destroy, to kill, and to annihilate any army of whatever people or province that should become their adversaries, including their women and children, and to confiscate their property.

Esther 8:12 This was to take place on a certain day throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus– namely, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (that is, the month of Adar).

Esther 8:13 A copy of the edict was to be presented as law throughout each and every province and made known to all peoples, so that the Jews might be prepared on that day to avenge themselves from their enemies.

Esther 8:14 The couriers who were riding the royal horses went forth with the king’s edict without delay. And the law was presented in Susa the citadel as well.

Esther 8:15 Now Mordecai went out from the king’s presence in purple and white royal attire, with a large golden crown and a purple linen mantle. The city of Susa shouted with joy.

Esther 8:16 For the Jews there was radiant happiness and joyous honor.

Esther 8:17 Throughout every province and throughout every city where the king’s edict and his law arrived, the Jews experienced happiness and joy, banquets and holidays. Many of the resident peoples pretended to be Jews, because the fear of the Jews had overcome them.

Esther 9:1 In the twelfth month (that is, the month of Adar), on its thirteenth day, the edict of the king and his law were to be executed. It was on this day that the enemies of the Jews had supposed that they would gain power over them. But contrary to expectations, the Jews gained power over their enemies.

Esther 9:2 The Jews assembled themselves in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus to strike out against those who were seeking their harm. No one was able to stand before them, for dread of them fell on all the peoples.

Esther 9:3 All the officials of the provinces, the satraps, the governors and those who performed the king’s business were assisting the Jews, for the dread of Mordecai had fallen on them.

Esther 9:4 Mordecai was of high rank in the king’s palace, and word about him was spreading throughout all the provinces. His influence continued to become greater and greater.

Esther 9:5 The Jews struck all their enemies with the sword, bringing death and destruction, and they did as they pleased with their enemies.

Esther 9:6 In Susa the citadel the Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men.

Esther 9:7 In addition, they also killed Parshandatha, Dalphon, Aspatha,

Esther 9:8 Poratha, Adalia, Aridatha,

Esther 9:9 Parmashta, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha,

Esther 9:10 the ten sons of Haman son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews. But they did not confiscate their property.

Esther 9:11 On that same day the number of those killed in Susa the citadel was brought to the king’s attention.

Esther 9:12 Then the king said to Queen Esther, “In Susa the citadel the Jews have killed and destroyed five hundred men and the ten sons of Haman! What then have they done in the rest of the king’s provinces? What is your request? It shall be given to you. What other petition do you have? It shall be done.”

Esther 9:13 Esther replied, “If the king is so inclined, let the Jews who are in Susa be permitted to act tomorrow also according to today’s law, and let them hang the ten sons of Haman on the gallows.”

Esther 9:14 So the king issued orders for this to be done. A law was passed in Susa, and the ten sons of Haman were hanged.

Esther 9:15 The Jews who were in Susa then assembled on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar, and they killed three hundred men in Susa. But they did not confiscate their property.

Esther 9:16 The rest of the Jews who were throughout the provinces of the king assembled in order to stand up for themselves and to have rest from their enemies. They killed seventy-five thousand of their adversaries, but they did not confiscate their property.

Esther 9:17 All of this happened on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar. They then rested on the fourteenth day and made it a day for banqueting and happiness.

Esther 9:18 But the Jews who were in Susa assembled on the thirteenth and fourteenth days, and rested on the fifteenth, making it a day for banqueting and happiness.

Esther 9:19 This is why the Jews who are in the rural country– those who live in rural cities– set aside the fourteenth day of the month of Adar as a holiday for happiness, banqueting, holiday, and sending gifts to one another.

Esther 9:20 Mordecai wrote these matters down and sent letters to all the Jews who were throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, both near and far,

Esther 9:21 to have them observe the fourteenth and the fifteenth day of the month of Adar each year

Esther 9:22 as the time when the Jews gave themselves rest from their enemies– the month when their trouble was turned to happiness and their mourning to a holiday. These were to be days of banqueting, happiness, sending gifts to one another, and providing for the poor.

Esther 9:23 So the Jews committed themselves to continue what they had begun to do and to what Mordecai had written to them.

Esther 9:24 For Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had devised plans against the Jews to destroy them. He had cast pur (that is, the lot) in order to afflict and destroy them.

Esther 9:25 But when the matter came to the king's attention, the king gave written orders that Haman's evil intentions that he had devised against the Jews should fall on his own head. He and his sons were hanged on the gallows.

Esther 9:26 For this reason these days are known as Purim, after the name of pur.

Esther 9:27 Therefore, because of the account found in this letter and what they had faced in this regard and what had happened to them, the Jews established as binding on themselves, their descendants, and all who joined their company that they should observe these two days without fail, just as written and at the appropriate time on an annual basis.

Esther 9:28 These days were to be remembered and to be celebrated in every generation and in every family, every province, and every city. The Jews were not to fail to observe these days of Purim; the remembrance of them was not to cease among their descendants.

Esther 9:29 So Queen Esther, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew wrote with full authority to confirm this second letter about Purim.

Esther 9:30 Letters were sent to all the Jews in the hundred and twenty-seven provinces of the empire of Ahasuerus– words of true peace–

Esther 9:31 to establish these days of Purim in their proper times, just as Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther had established, and just as they had established both for themselves and their descendants, matters pertaining to fasting and lamentation.

Esther 9:32 Esther's command established these matters of Purim, and the matter was officially recorded.

Esther 10:1 King Ahasuerus then imposed forced labor on the land and on the coastlands of the sea.

Esther 10:2 Now all the actions carried out under his authority and his great achievements, along with an exact statement concerning the greatness of Mordecai, whom the king promoted, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Media and Persia?

Esther 10:3 Mordecai the Jew was second only to King Ahasuerus. He was the highest-ranking Jew, and he was admired by his numerous relatives. He worked enthusiastically for the good of his people and was an advocate for the welfare of all his descendants.

Job

1:1 There was a man in the land of Uz whose name was Job. And that man was pure and upright, one who feared God and turned away from evil.

Job 1:2 Seven sons and three daughters were born to him.

Job 1:3 His possessions included 7,000 sheep, 3,000 camels, 500 yoke of oxen, and 500 female donkeys; in addition he had a very great household. Thus he was the greatest of all the people in the east.

Job 1:4 Now his sons used to go and hold a feast in the house of each one in turn, and they would send and invite their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.

Job 1:5 When the days of their feasting were finished, Job would send for them and sanctify them; he would get up early in the morning and offer burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job thought, “Perhaps my children have sinned and cursed God in their hearts.” This was Job’s customary practice.

Job 1:6 Now the day came when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD– and Satan also arrived among them.

Job 1:7 The LORD said to Satan, “Where have you come from?” And Satan answered the LORD, “From roving about on the earth, and from walking back and forth across it.”

Job 1:8 So the LORD said to Satan, “Have you considered my servant Job? There is no one like him on the earth, a pure and upright man, one who fears God and turns away from evil.”

Job 1:9 Then Satan answered the LORD, “Is it for nothing that Job fears God?

Job 1:10 Have you not made a hedge around him and his household and all that he has on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his livestock have increased in the land.

Job 1:11 But extend your hand and strike everything he has, and he will no doubt curse you to your face!”

Job 1:12 So the LORD said to Satan, “All right then, everything he has is in your power. Only do not extend your hand against the man himself!” So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD.

Job 1:13 Now the day came when Job’s sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house,

Job 1:14 and a messenger came to Job, saying, “The oxen were plowing and the donkeys were grazing beside them,

Job 1:15 and the Sabeans swooped down and carried them all away, and they killed the servants with the sword! And I– only I alone– escaped to tell you!”

Job 1:16 While this one was still speaking, another messenger arrived and said, “The fire of God has fallen from heaven and has burned up the sheep and the servants– it has consumed them! And I– only I alone– escaped to tell you!”

Job 1:17 While this one was still speaking another messenger arrived and said, “The Chaldeans formed three bands and made a raid on the camels and carried them all away, and they killed the servants with the sword! And I– only I alone– escaped to tell you!”

Job 1:18 While this one was still speaking another messenger arrived and said, “Your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house,

Job 1:19 and suddenly a great wind swept across the wilderness and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell on the young people, and they died! And I– only I alone– escaped to tell you!”

Job 1:20 Then Job got up and tore his robe. He shaved his head, and then he threw himself down with his face to the ground.

Job 1:21 He said, “Naked I came from my mother’s womb, and naked I will return there. The LORD gives, and the LORD takes away. May the name of the LORD be blessed!”

Job 1:22 In all this Job did not sin, nor did he charge God with moral impropriety.

Job 2:1 Again the day came when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan also arrived among them to present himself before the LORD.

Job 2:2 And the LORD said to Satan, “Where do you come from?” Satan answered the LORD, “From roving about on the earth, and from walking back and forth across it.”

Job 2:3 Then the LORD said to Satan, “Have you considered my servant Job? For there is no one like him on the earth, a pure and upright man, one who fears God and turns away from evil. And he still holds firmly to his integrity, so that you stirred me up to destroy him without reason.”

Job 2:4 But Satan answered the LORD, “Skin for skin! Indeed, a man will give up all that he has to save his life!

Job 2:5 But extend your hand and strike his bone and his flesh, and he will no doubt curse you to your face!”

Job 2:6 So the LORD said to Satan, “All right, he is in your power; only preserve his life.”

Job 2:7 So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD, and he afflicted Job with a malignant ulcer from the sole of his feet to the top of his head.

Job 2:8 Job took a shard of broken pottery to scrape himself with while he was sitting among the ashes.

Job 2:9 Then his wife said to him, “Are you still holding firmly to your integrity? Curse God, and die!”

Job 2:10 But he replied, “You’re talking like one of the godless women would do! Should we receive what is good from God, and not also receive what is evil?” In all this Job did not sin by what he said.

Job 2:11 When Job’s three friends heard about all this calamity that had happened to him, each of them came from his own country– Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. They met together to come to show sympathy for him and to console him.

Job 2:12 But when they gazed intently from a distance but did not recognize him, they began to weep loudly. Each of them tore his robes, and they threw dust into the air over their heads.

Job 2:13 Then they sat down with him on the ground for seven days and seven nights, yet no one spoke a word to him, for they saw that his pain was very great. II. Job’s Dialogue With His Friends

Job 3:1 After this Job opened his mouth and cursed the day he was born.

Job 3:2 Job spoke up and said:

Job 3:3 “Let the day on which I was born perish, and the night that said, ‘A man has been conceived!’

Job 3:4 That day– let it be darkness; let not God on high regard it, nor let light shine on it!

Job 3:5 Let darkness and the deepest shadow claim it; let a cloud settle on it; let whatever blackens the day terrify it!

Job 3:6 That night– let darkness seize it; let it not be included among the days of the year; let it not enter among the number of the months!

Job 3:7 Indeed, let that night be barren; let no shout of joy penetrate it!

Job 3:8 Let those who curse the day curse it– those who are prepared to rouse Leviathan.

Job 3:9 Let its morning stars be darkened; let it wait for daylight but find none, nor let it see the first rays of dawn,

Job 3:10 because it did not shut the doors of my mother’s womb on me, nor did it hide trouble from my eyes!

Job 3:11 “Why did I not die at birth, and why did I not expire as I came out of the womb?

Job 3:12 Why did the knees welcome me, and why were there two breasts that I might nurse at them?

Job 3:13 For now I would be lying down and would be quiet, I would be asleep and then at peace

Job 3:14 with kings and counselors of the earth who built for themselves places now desolate,

Job 3:15 or with princes who possessed gold, who filled their palaces with silver.

Job 3:16 Or why was I not buried like a stillborn infant, like infants who have never seen the light?

Job 3:17 There the wicked cease from turmoil, and there the weary are at rest.

Job 3:18 There the prisoners relax together; they do not hear the voice of the oppressor.

Job 3:19 Small and great are there, and the slave is free from his master.

Job 3:20 “Why does God give light to one who is in misery, and life to those whose soul is bitter,

Job 3:21 to those who wait for death that does not come, and search for it more than for hidden treasures,

Job 3:22 who rejoice even to jubilation, and are exultant when they find the grave?

Job 3:23 Why is light given to a man whose way is hidden, and whom God has hedged in?

Job 3:24 For my sighing comes in place of my food, and my groanings flow forth like water.

Job 3:25 For the very thing I dreaded has happened to me, and what I feared has come upon me.

Job 3:26 I have no ease, I have no quietness; I cannot rest; turmoil has come upon me.”

Job 4:1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered:

Job 4:2 “If someone should attempt a word with you, will you be impatient? But who can refrain from speaking?

Job 4:3 Look, you have instructed many; you have strengthened feeble hands.

Job 4:4 Your words have supported those who stumbled, and you have strengthened the knees that gave way.

Job 4:5 But now the same thing comes to you, and you are discouraged; it strikes you, and you are terrified.

Job 4:6 Is not your piety your confidence, and your blameless ways your hope?

Job 4:7 Call to mind now: Who, being innocent, ever perished? And where were upright people ever destroyed?

Job 4:8 Even as I have seen, those who plow iniquity and those who sow trouble reap the same.

Job 4:9 By the breath of God they perish, and by the blast of his anger they are consumed.

Job 4:10 There is the roaring of the lion and the growling of the young lion, but the teeth of the young lions are broken.

Job 4:11 The mighty lion perishes for lack of prey, and the cubs of the lioness are scattered.

Job 4:12 “Now a word was secretly brought to me, and my ear caught a whisper of it.

Job 4:13 In the troubling thoughts of the dreams in the night when a deep sleep falls on men,

Job 4:14 a trembling gripped me– and a terror!– and made all my bones shake.

Job 4:15 Then a breath of air passes by my face; it makes the hair of my flesh stand up.

Job 4:16 It stands still, but I cannot recognize its appearance; an image is before my eyes, and I hear a murmuring voice:

Job 4:17 “Is a mortal man righteous before God? Or a man pure before his Creator?

Job 4:18 If God puts no trust in his servants and attributes folly to his angels,

Job 4:19 how much more to those who live in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, who are crushed like a moth?

Job 4:20 They are destroyed between morning and evening; they perish forever without anyone regarding it.

Job 4:21 Is not their excess wealth taken away from them? They die, yet without attaining wisdom.

Job 5:1 “Call now! Is there anyone who will answer you? To which of the holy ones will you turn?

Job 5:2 For wrath kills the foolish person, and anger slays the silly one.

Job 5:3 I myself have seen the fool taking root, but suddenly I cursed his place of residence.

Job 5:4 His children are far from safety, and they are crushed at the place where judgment is rendered, nor is there anyone to deliver them.

Job 5:5 The hungry eat up his harvest, and take it even from behind the thorns, and the thirsty swallow up their fortune.

Job 5:6 For evil does not come up from the dust, nor does trouble spring up from the ground,

Job 5:7 but people are born to trouble, as surely as the sparks fly upward.

Job 5:8 “But as for me, I would seek God, and to God I would set forth my case.

Job 5:9 He does great and unsearchable things, marvelous things without number;

Job 5:10 he gives rain on the earth, and sends water on the fields;

Job 5:11 he sets the lowly on high, that those who mourn are raised to safety.

Job 5:12 He frustrates the plans of the crafty so that their hands cannot accomplish what they had planned!

Job 5:13 He catches the wise in their own craftiness, and the counsel of the cunning is brought to a quick end.

Job 5:14 They meet with darkness in the daytime, and grope about in the noontime as if it were night.

Job 5:15 So he saves from the sword that comes from their mouth, even the poor from the hand of the powerful.

Job 5:16 Thus the poor have hope, and iniquity shuts its mouth.

Job 5:17 “Therefore, blessed is the man whom God corrects, so do not despise the discipline of the Almighty.

Job 5:18 For he wounds, but he also bandages; he strikes, but his hands also heal.

Job 5:19 He will deliver you from six calamities; yes, in seven no evil will touch you.

Job 5:20 In time of famine he will redeem you from death, and in time of war from the power of the sword.

Job 5:21 You will be protected from malicious gossip, and will not be afraid of the destruction when it comes.

Job 5:22 You will laugh at destruction and famine and need not be afraid of the beasts of the earth.

Job 5:23 For you will have a pact with the stones of the field, and the wild animals will be at peace with you.

Job 5:24 And you will know that your home will be secure, and when you inspect your domains, you will not be missing anything.

Job 5:25 You will also know that your children will be numerous, and your descendants like the grass of the earth.

Job 5:26 You will come to your grave in a full age, As stacks of grain are harvested in their season.

Job 5:27 Look, we have investigated this, so it is true. Hear it, and apply it for your own good.”

Job 6:1 Then Job responded:

Job 6:2 “Oh, if only my grief could be weighed, and my misfortune laid on the scales too!

Job 6:3 But because it is heavier than the sand of the sea, that is why my words have been wild.

Job 6:4 For the arrows of the Almighty are within me; my spirit drinks their poison; God’s sudden terrors are arrayed against me.

Job 6:5 “Does the wild donkey bray when it is near grass? Or does the ox low near its fodder?

Job 6:6 Can food that is tasteless be eaten without salt? Or is there any taste in the white of an egg?

Job 6:7 I have refused to touch such things; they are like loathsome food to me.

Job 6:8 “Oh that my request would be realized, and that God would grant me what I long for!

Job 6:9 And that God would be willing to crush me, that he would let loose his hand and kill me.

Job 6:10 Then I would yet have my comfort, then I would rejoice, in spite of pitiless pain, for I have not concealed the words of the Holy One.

Job 6:11 What is my strength, that I should wait? and what is my end, that I should prolong my life?

Job 6:12 Is my strength like that of stones? or is my flesh made of bronze?

Job 6:13 Is not my power to help myself nothing, and has not every resource been driven from me?

Job 6:14 "To the one in despair, kindness should come from his friend even if he forsakes the fear of the Almighty.

Job 6:15 My brothers have been as treacherous as a seasonal stream, and as the riverbeds of the intermittent streams that flow away.

Job 6:16 They are dark because of ice; snow is piled up over them.

Job 6:17 When they are scorched, they dry up, when it is hot, they vanish from their place.

Job 6:18 Caravans turn aside from their routes; they go into the wasteland and perish.

Job 6:19 The caravans of Tema looked intently for these streams; the traveling merchants of Sheba hoped for them.

Job 6:20 They were distressed, because each one had been so confident; they arrived there, but were disappointed.

Job 6:21 For now you have become like these streams that are no help; you see a terror, and are afraid.

Job 6:22 "Have I ever said, 'Give me something, and from your fortune make gifts in my favor'?

Job 6:23 Or 'Deliver me from the enemy's power, and from the hand of tyrants ransom me'?

Job 6:24 "Teach me and I, for my part, will be silent; explain to me how I have been mistaken.

Job 6:25 How painful are honest words! But what does your reproof prove?

Job 6:26 Do you intend to criticize mere words, and treat the words of a despairing man as wind?

Job 6:27 Yes, you would gamble for the fatherless, and auction off your friend.

Job 6:28 "Now then, be good enough to look at me; and I will not lie to your face!

Job 6:29 Relent, let there be no falsehood; reconsider, for my righteousness is intact!

Job 6:30 Is there any falsehood on my lips? Can my mouth not discern evil things?

Job 7:1 “Does not humanity have hard service on earth? Are not their days also like the days of a hired man?

Job 7:2 Like a servant longing for the evening shadow, and like a hired man looking for his wages,

Job 7:3 thus I have been made to inherit months of futility, and nights of sorrow have been appointed to me.

Job 7:4 If I lie down, I say, ‘When will I arise?’, and the night stretches on and I toss and turn restlessly until the day dawns.

Job 7:5 My body is clothed with worms and dirty scabs; my skin is broken and festering.

Job 7:6 My days are swifter than a weaver’s shuttle and they come to an end without hope.

Job 7:7 Remember that my life is but a breath, that my eyes will never again see happiness.

Job 7:8 The eye of him who sees me now will see me no more; your eyes will look for me, but I will be gone.

Job 7:9 As a cloud is dispersed and then disappears, so the one who goes down to the grave does not come up again.

Job 7:10 He returns no more to his house, nor does his place of residence know him any more.

Job 7:11 “Therefore, I will not refrain my mouth; I will speak in the anguish of my spirit; I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.

Job 7:12 Am I the sea, or the creature of the deep, that you must put me under guard?

Job 7:13 If I say, “My bed will comfort me, my couch will ease my complaint,”

Job 7:14 then you scare me with dreams and terrify me with visions,

Job 7:15 so that I would prefer strangling, and death more than life.

Job 7:16 I loathe it; I do not want to live forever; leave me alone, for my days are a vapor!

Job 7:17 “What is mankind that you make so much of them, and that you pay attention to them?

Job 7:18 And that you visit them every morning, and try them every moment?

Job 7:19 Will you never look away from me, will you not let me alone long enough to swallow my spittle?

Job 7:20 If I have sinned– what have I done to you, O watcher of men? Why have you set me as your target? Have I become a burden to you?

Job 7:21 And why do you not pardon my transgression, and take away my iniquity? For now I will lie down in the dust, and you will seek me diligently, but I will be gone.”

Job 8:1 Then Bildad the Shuhite spoke up and said:

Job 8:2 “How long will you speak these things, seeing that the words of your mouth are like a great wind?

Job 8:3 Does God pervert justice? Or does the Almighty pervert what is right?

Job 8:4 If your children sinned against him, he gave them over to the penalty of their sin.

Job 8:5 But if you will look to God, and make your supplication to the Almighty,

Job 8:6 if you become pure and upright, even now he will rouse himself for you, and will restore your righteous abode.

Job 8:7 Your beginning will seem so small, since your future will flourish.

Job 8:8 “For inquire now of the former generation, and pay attention to the findings of their ancestors;

Job 8:9 For we were born yesterday and do not have knowledge, since our days on earth are but a shadow.

Job 8:10 Will they not instruct you and speak to you, and bring forth words from their understanding?

Job 8:11 Can the papyrus plant grow tall where there is no marsh? Can reeds flourish without water?

Job 8:12 While they are still beginning to flower and not ripe for cutting, they can wither away faster than any grass!

Job 8:13 Such is the destiny of all who forget God; the hope of the godless perishes,

Job 8:14 whose trust is in something futile, whose security is a spider’s web.

Job 8:15 He leans against his house but it does not hold up, he takes hold of it but it does not stand.

Job 8:16 He is a well-watered plant in the sun, its shoots spread over its garden.

Job 8:17 It wraps its roots around a heap of stones and it looks for a place among stones.

Job 8:18 If he is uprooted from his place, then that place will disown him, saying, ‘I have never seen you!’

Job 8:19 Indeed, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth others spring up.

Job 8:20 “Surely, God does not reject a blameless man, nor does he grasp the hand of the evildoers.

Job 8:21 He will yet fill your mouth with laughter, and your lips with gladness.

Job 8:22 Those who hate you will be clothed with shame, and the tent of the wicked will be no more.”

Job 9:1 Then Job answered:

Job 9:2 “Truly, I know that this is so. But how can a human be just before God?

Job 9:3 If someone wishes to contend with him, he cannot answer him one time in a thousand.

Job 9:4 He is wise in heart and mighty in strength– who has resisted him and remained safe?

Job 9:5 He who removes mountains suddenly, who overturns them in his anger;

Job 9:6 he who shakes the earth out of its place so that its pillars tremble;

Job 9:7 he who commands the sun and it does not shine and seals up the stars;

Job 9:8 he alone spreads out the heavens, and treads on the waves of the sea;

Job 9:9 he makes the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades, and the constellations of the southern sky;

Job 9:10 he does great and unsearchable things, and wonderful things without number.

Job 9:11 If he passes by me, I cannot see him, if he goes by, I cannot perceive him.

Job 9:12 If he snatches away, who can turn him back? Who dares to say to him, ‘What are you doing?’

Job 9:13 God does not restrain his anger; under him the helpers of Rahab lie crushed.

Job 9:14 “How much less, then, can I answer him and choose my words to argue with him!

Job 9:15 Although I am innocent, I could not answer him; I could only plead with my judge for mercy.

Job 9:16 If I summoned him, and he answered me, I would not believe that he would be listening to my voice–

Job 9:17 he who crushes me with a tempest, and multiplies my wounds for no reason.

Job 9:18 He does not allow me to recover my breath, for he fills me with bitterness.

Job 9:19 If it is a matter of strength, most certainly he is the strong one! And if it is a matter of justice, he will say, 'Who will summon me?'

Job 9:20 Although I am innocent, my mouth would condemn me; although I am blameless, it would declare me perverse.

Job 9:21 I am blameless. I do not know myself. I despise my life.

Job 9:22 "It is all one! That is why I say, 'He destroys the blameless and the guilty.'

Job 9:23 If a scourge brings sudden death, he mocks at the despair of the innocent.

Job 9:24 If a land has been given into the hand of a wicked man, he covers the faces of its judges; if it is not he, then who is it?

Job 9:25 "My days are swifter than a runner, they speed by without seeing happiness.

Job 9:26 They glide by like reed boats, like an eagle that swoops down on its prey.

Job 9:27 If I say, 'I will forget my complaint, I will change my expression and be cheerful,'

Job 9:28 I dread all my sufferings, for I know that you do not hold me blameless.

Job 9:29 If I am guilty, why then weary myself in vain?

Job 9:30 If I wash myself with snow water, and make my hands clean with lye,

Job 9:31 then you plunge me into a slimy pit and my own clothes abhor me.

Job 9:32 For he is not a human being like I am, that I might answer him, that we might come together in judgment.

Job 9:33 Nor is there an arbiter between us, who might lay his hand on us both,

Job 9:34 who would take his rod away from me so that his terror would not make me afraid.

Job 9:35 Then would I speak and not fear him, but it is not so with me.

Job 10:1 "I am weary of my life; I will complain without restraint; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.

Job 10:2 I will say to God, 'Do not condemn me; tell me why you are contending with me.'

Job 10:3 Is it good for you to oppress, to despise the work of your hands, while you smile on the schemes of the wicked?

Job 10:4 "Do you have eyes of flesh, or do you see as a human being sees?

Job 10:5 Are your days like the days of a mortal, or your years like the years of a mortal,

Job 10:6 that you must search out my iniquity, and inquire about my sin,

Job 10:7 although you know that I am not guilty, and that there is no one who can deliver out of your hand?

Job 10:8 “Your hands have shaped me and made me, but now you destroy me completely.

Job 10:9 Remember that you have made me as with the clay; will you return me to dust?

Job 10:10 Did you not pour me out like milk, and curdle me like cheese?

Job 10:11 You clothed me with skin and flesh and knit me together with bones and sinews.

Job 10:12 You gave me life and favor, and your intervention watched over my spirit.

Job 10:13 “But these things you have concealed in your heart; I know that this is with you:

Job 10:14 If I sinned, then you would watch me and you would not acquit me of my iniquity.

Job 10:15 If I am guilty, woe to me, and if I am innocent, I cannot lift my head; I am full of shame, and satiated with my affliction.

Job 10:16 If I lift myself up, you hunt me as a fierce lion, and again you display your power against me.

Job 10:17 You bring new witnesses against me, and increase your anger against me; relief troops come against me.

Job 10:18 “Why then did you bring me out from the womb? I should have died and no eye would have seen me!

Job 10:19 I should have been as though I had never existed; I should have been carried right from the womb to the grave!

Job 10:20 Are not my days few? Cease, then, and leave me alone, that I may find a little comfort,

Job 10:21 before I depart, never to return, to the land of darkness and the deepest shadow,

Job 10:22 to the land of utter darkness, like the deepest darkness, and the deepest shadow and disorder, where even the light is like darkness.”

Job 11:1 Then Zophar the Naamathite spoke up and said:

Job 11:2 “Should not this abundance of words be answered, or should this talkative man be vindicated?

Job 11:3 Will your idle talk reduce people to silence, and will no one rebuke you when you mock?

Job 11:4 For you have said, ‘My teaching is flawless, and I am pure in your sight.’

Job 11:5 But if only God would speak, if only he would open his lips against you,

Job 11:6 and reveal to you the secrets of wisdom– for true wisdom has two sides– so that you would know that God has forgiven some of your sins.

Job 11:7 “Can you discover the essence of God? Can you find out the perfection of the Almighty?

Job 11:8 It is higher than the heavens– what can you do? It is deeper than Sheol– what can you know?

Job 11:9 Its measure is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.

Job 11:10 If he comes by and confines you and convenes a court, then who can prevent him?

Job 11:11 For he knows deceitful men; when he sees evil, will he not consider it?

Job 11:12 But an empty man will become wise, when a wild donkey’s colt is born a human being.

Job 11:13 “As for you, if you prove faithful, and if you stretch out your hands toward him,

Job 11:14 if iniquity is in your hand– put it far away, and do not let evil reside in your tents.

Job 11:15 For then you will lift up your face without blemish; you will be securely established and will not fear.

Job 11:16 For you will forget your trouble; you will remember it like water that has flowed away.

Job 11:17 And life will be brighter than the noonday; though there be darkness, it will be like the morning.

Job 11:18 And you will be secure, because there is hope; you will be protected and will take your rest in safety.

Job 11:19 You will lie down with no one to make you afraid, and many will seek your favor.

Job 11:20 But the eyes of the wicked fail, and escape eludes them; their one hope is to breathe their last.”

Job 12:1 Then Job answered:

Job 12:2 “Without a doubt you are the people, and wisdom will die with you.

Job 12:3 I also have understanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you. Who does not know such things as these?

Job 12:4 I am a laughingstock to my friends, I, who called on God and whom he answered– a righteous and blameless man is a laughingstock!

Job 12:5 For calamity, there is derision (according to the ideas of the fortunate)– a fate for those whose feet slip!

Job 12:6 But the tents of robbers are peaceful, and those who provoke God are confident– who carry their god in their hands.

Job 12:7 “But now, ask the animals and they will teach you, or the birds of the sky and they will tell you.

Job 12:8 Or speak to the earth and it will teach you, or let the fish of the sea declare to you.

Job 12:9 Which of all these does not know that the hand of the LORD has done this,

Job 12:10 in whose hand is the life of every creature and the breath of all the human race.

Job 12:11 Does not the ear test words, as the tongue tastes food?

Job 12:12 Is not wisdom found among the aged? Does not long life bring understanding?

Job 12:13 “With God are wisdom and power; counsel and understanding are his.

Job 12:14 If he tears down, it cannot be rebuilt; if he imprisons a person, there is no escape.

Job 12:15 If he holds back the waters, then they dry up; if he releases them, they destroy the land.

Job 12:16 With him are strength and prudence; both the one who goes astray and the one who misleads are his.

Job 12:17 He leads counselors away stripped and makes judges into fools.

Job 12:18 He loosens the bonds of kings and binds a loincloth around their waist.

Job 12:19 He leads priests away stripped and overthrows the potentates.

Job 12:20 He deprives the trusted advisers of speech and takes away the discernment of elders.

Job 12:21 He pours contempt on noblemen and disarms the powerful.

Job 12:22 He reveals the deep things of darkness, and brings deep shadows into the light.

Job 12:23 He makes nations great, and destroys them; he extends the boundaries of nations and disperses them.

Job 12:24 He deprives the leaders of the earth of their understanding; he makes them wander in a trackless desert waste.

Job 12:25 They grope about in darkness without light; he makes them stagger like drunkards.

Job 13:1 “Indeed, my eyes have seen all this, my ears have heard and understood it.

Job 13:2 What you know, I know also; I am not inferior to you!

Job 13:3 But I wish to speak to the Almighty, and I desire to argue my case with God.

Job 13:4 But you, however, are inventors of lies; all of you are worthless physicians!

Job 13:5 If only you would keep completely silent! For you, that would be wisdom.

Job 13:6 “Listen now to my argument, and be attentive to my lips’ contentions.

Job 13:7 Will you speak wickedly on God’s behalf? Will you speak deceitfully for him?

Job 13:8 Will you show him partiality? Will you argue the case for God?

Job 13:9 Would it turn out well if he would examine you? Or as one deceives a man would you deceive him?

Job 13:10 He would certainly rebuke you if you secretly showed partiality!

Job 13:11 Would not his splendor terrify you and the fear he inspires fall on you?

Job 13:12 Your maxims are proverbs of ashes; your defenses are defenses of clay.

Job 13:13 “Refrain from talking with me so that I may speak; then let come to me what may.

Job 13:14 Why do I put myself in peril, and take my life in my hands?

Job 13:15 Even if he slays me, I will hope in him; I will surely defend my ways to his face!

Job 13:16 Moreover, this will become my deliverance, for no godless person would come before him.

Job 13:17 Listen carefully to my words; let your ears be attentive to my explanation.

Job 13:18 See now, I have prepared my case; I know that I am right.

Job 13:19 Who will contend with me? If anyone can, I will be silent and die.

Job 13:20 Only in two things spare me, O God, and then I will not hide from your face:

Job 13:21 Remove your hand far from me and stop making me afraid with your terror.

Job 13:22 Then call, and I will answer, or I will speak, and you respond to me.

Job 13:23 How many are my iniquities and sins? Show me my transgression and my sin.

Job 13:24 Why do you hide your face and regard me as your enemy?

Job 13:25 Do you wish to torment a windblown leaf and chase after dry chaff?

Job 13:26 For you write down bitter things against me and cause me to inherit the sins of my youth.

Job 13:27 And you put my feet in the stocks and you watch all my movements; you put marks on the soles of my feet.

Job 13:28 So I waste away like something rotten, like a garment eaten by moths.

Job 14:1 “Man, born of woman, lives but a few days, and they are full of trouble.

Job 14:2 He grows up like a flower and then withers away; he flees like a shadow, and does not remain.

Job 14:3 Do you fix your eye on such a one? And do you bring me before you for judgment?

Job 14:4 Who can make a clean thing come from an unclean? No one!

Job 14:5 Since man’s days are determined, the number of his months is under your control; you have set his limit and he cannot pass it.

Job 14:6 Look away from him and let him desist, until he fulfills his time like a hired man.

Job 14:7 “But there is hope for a tree: If it is cut down, it will sprout again, and its new shoots will not fail.

Job 14:8 Although its roots may grow old in the ground and its stump begins to die in the soil,

Job 14:9 at the scent of water it will flourish and put forth shoots like a new plant.

Job 14:10 But man dies and is powerless; he expires– and where is he?

Job 14:11 As water disappears from the sea, or a river drains away and dries up,

Job 14:12 so man lies down and does not rise; until the heavens are no more, they will not awake nor arise from their sleep.

Job 14:13 “O that you would hide me in Sheol, and conceal me till your anger has passed! O that you would set me a time and then remember me!

Job 14:14 If a man dies, will he live again? All the days of my hard service I will wait until my release comes.

Job 14:15 You will call and I– I will answer you; you will long for the creature you have made.

Job 14:16 “Surely now you count my steps; then you would not mark my sin.

Job 14:17 My offenses would be sealed up in a bag; you would cover over my sin.

Job 14:18 But as a mountain falls away and crumbles, and as a rock will be removed from its place,

Job 14:19 as water wears away stones, and torrents wash away the soil, so you destroy man’s hope.

Job 14:20 You overpower him once for all, and he departs; you change his appearance and send him away.

Job 14:21 If his sons are honored, he does not know it; if they are brought low, he does not see it.

Job 14:22 Only his flesh has pain for himself, and he mourns for himself.”

Job 15:1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered:

Job 15:2 “Does a wise man answer with blustery knowledge, or fill his belly with the east wind?

Job 15:3 Does he argue with useless talk, with words that have no value in them?

Job 15:4 But you even break off piety, and hinder meditation before God.

Job 15:5 Your sin inspires your mouth; you choose the language of the crafty.

Job 15:6 Your own mouth condemns you, not I; your own lips testify against you.

Job 15:7 “Were you the first man ever born? Were you brought forth before the hills?

Job 15:8 Do you listen in on God’s secret council? Do you limit wisdom to yourself?

Job 15:9 What do you know that we don’t know? What do you understand that we don’t understand?

Job 15:10 The gray-haired and the aged are on our side, men far older than your father.

Job 15:11 Are God’s consolations too trivial for you; or a word spoken in gentleness to you?

Job 15:12 Why has your heart carried you away, and why do your eyes flash,

Job 15:13 when you turn your rage against God and allow such words to escape from your mouth?

Job 15:14 What is man that he should be pure, or one born of woman, that he should be righteous?

Job 15:15 If God places no trust in his holy ones, if even the heavens are not pure in his eyes,

Job 15:16 how much less man, who is abominable and corrupt, who drinks in evil like water!

Job 15:17 “I will explain to you; listen to me, and what I have seen, I will declare,

Job 15:18 what wise men declare, hiding nothing, from the tradition of their ancestors,

Job 15:19 to whom alone the land was given when no foreigner passed among them.

Job 15:20 All his days the wicked man suffers torment, throughout the number of the years that are stored up for the tyrant.

Job 15:21 Terrifying sounds fill his ears; in a time of peace marauders attack him.

Job 15:22 He does not expect to escape from darkness; he is marked for the sword;

Job 15:23 he wanders about– food for vultures; he knows that the day of darkness is at hand.

Job 15:24 Distress and anguish terrify him; they prevail against him like a king ready to launch an attack,

Job 15:25 for he stretches out his hand against God, and vaunts himself against the Almighty,

Job 15:26 defiantly charging against him with a thick, strong shield!

Job 15:27 Because he covered his face with fat, and made his hips bulge with fat,

Job 15:28 he lived in ruined towns and in houses where no one lives, where they are ready to crumble into heaps.

Job 15:29 He will not grow rich, and his wealth will not endure, nor will his possessions spread over the land.

Job 15:30 He will not escape the darkness; a flame will wither his shoots and he will depart by the breath of God's mouth.

Job 15:31 Let him not trust in what is worthless, deceiving himself; for worthlessness will be his reward.

Job 15:32 Before his time he will be paid in full, and his branches will not flourish.

Job 15:33 Like a vine he will let his sour grapes fall, and like an olive tree he will shed his blossoms.

Job 15:34 For the company of the godless is barren, and fire consumes the tents of those who accept bribes.

Job 15:35 They conceive trouble and bring forth evil; their belly prepares deception."

Job 16:1 Then Job replied:

Job 16:2 "I have heard many things like these before. What miserable comforters are you all!

Job 16:3 Will there be an end to your windy words? Or what provokes you that you answer?

Job 16:4 I also could speak like you, if you were in my place; I could pile up words against you and I could shake my head at you.

Job 16:5 But I would strengthen you with my words; comfort from my lips would bring you relief.

Job 16:6 "But if I speak, my pain is not relieved, and if I refrain from speaking– how much of it goes away?

Job 16:7 Surely now he has worn me out, you have devastated my entire household.

Job 16:8 You have seized me, and it has become a witness; my leanness has risen up against me and testifies against me.

Job 16:9 His anger has torn me and persecuted me; he has gnashed at me with his teeth; my adversary locks his eyes on me.

Job 16:10 People have opened their mouths against me, they have struck my cheek in scorn; they unite together against me.

Job 16:11 God abandons me to evil men, and throws me into the hands of wicked men.

Job 16:12 I was in peace, and he has shattered me. He has seized me by the neck and crushed me. He has made me his target;

Job 16:13 his archers surround me. Without pity he pierces my kidneys and pours out my gall on the ground.

Job 16:14 He breaks through against me, time and time again; he rushes against me like a warrior.

Job 16:15 I have sewed sackcloth on my skin, and buried my horn in the dust;

Job 16:16 my face is reddened because of weeping, and on my eyelids there is a deep darkness,

Job 16:17 although there is no violence in my hands and my prayer is pure.

Job 16:18 “O earth, do not cover my blood, nor let there be a secret place for my cry.

Job 16:19 Even now my witness is in heaven; my advocate is on high.

Job 16:20 My intercessor is my friend as my eyes pour out tears to God;

Job 16:21 and he contends with God on behalf of man as a man pleads for his friend.

Job 16:22 For the years that lie ahead are few, and then I will go on the way of no return.

Job 17:1 My spirit is broken, my days have faded out, the grave awaits me.

Job 17:2 Surely mockery is with me; my eyes must dwell on their hostility.

Job 17:3 Make then my pledge with you. Who else will put up security for me?

Job 17:4 Because you have closed their minds to understanding, therefore you will not exalt them.

Job 17:5 If a man denounces his friends for personal gain, the eyes of his children will fail.

Job 17:6 He has made me a byword to people, I am the one in whose face they spit.

Job 17:7 My eyes have grown dim with grief; my whole frame is but a shadow.

Job 17:8 Upright men are appalled at this; the innocent man is troubled with the godless.

Job 17:9 But the righteous man holds to his way, and the one with clean hands grows stronger.

Job 17:10 “But turn, all of you, and come now! I will not find a wise man among you.

Job 17:11 My days have passed, my plans are shattered, even the desires of my heart.

Job 17:12 These men change night into day; they say, ‘The light is near in the face of darkness.’

Job 17:13 If I hope for the grave to be my home, if I spread out my bed in darkness, Job 17:14 If I cry to corruption, 'You are my father,' and to the worm, 'My Mother,' or 'My sister,'

Job 17:15 where then is my hope? And my hope, who sees it?

Job 17:16 Will it go down to the barred gates of death? Will we descend together into the dust?"

Job 18:1 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered:

Job 18:2 "How long until you make an end of words? You must consider, and then we can talk.

Job 18:3 Why should we be regarded as beasts, and considered stupid in your sight?

Job 18:4 You who tear yourself to pieces in your anger, will the earth be abandoned for your sake? Or will a rock be moved from its place?

Job 18:5 "Yes, the lamp of the wicked is extinguished; his flame of fire does not shine.

Job 18:6 The light in his tent grows dark; his lamp above him is extinguished.

Job 18:7 His vigorous steps are restricted, and his own counsel throws him down.

Job 18:8 For he has been thrown into a net by his feet and he wanders into a mesh.

Job 18:9 A trap seizes him by the heel; a snare grips him.

Job 18:10 A rope is hidden for him on the ground and a trap for him lies on the path.

Job 18:11 Terrors frighten him on all sides and dog his every step.

Job 18:12 Calamity is hungry for him, and misfortune is ready at his side.

Job 18:13 It eats away parts of his skin; the most terrible death devours his limbs.

Job 18:14 He is dragged from the security of his tent, and marched off to the king of terrors.

Job 18:15 Fire resides in his tent; over his residence burning sulfur is scattered.

Job 18:16 Below his roots dry up, and his branches wither above.

Job 18:17 His memory perishes from the earth, he has no name in the land.

Job 18:18 He is driven from light into darkness and is banished from the world.

Job 18:19 He has neither children nor descendants among his people, no survivor in those places he once stayed.

Job 18:20 People of the west are appalled at his fate; people of the east are seized with horror, saying, Job 18:21 ‘Surely such is the residence of an evil man; and this is the place of one who has not known God.’“

Job 19:1 Then Job answered:

Job 19:2 “How long will you torment me and crush me with your words?

Job 19:3 These ten times you have been reproaching me; you are not ashamed to attack me!

Job 19:4 But even if it were true that I have erred, my error remains solely my concern!

Job 19:5 If indeed you would exalt yourselves above me and plead my disgrace against me,

Job 19:6 know then that God has wronged me and encircled me with his net.

Job 19:7 “If I cry out, ‘Violence!’ I receive no answer; I cry for help, but there is no justice.

Job 19:8 He has blocked my way so I cannot pass, and has set darkness over my paths.

Job 19:9 He has stripped me of my honor and has taken the crown off my head.

Job 19:10 He tears me down on every side until I perish; he uproots my hope like one uproots a tree.

Job 19:11 Thus his anger burns against me, and he considers me among his enemies.

Job 19:12 His troops advance together; they throw up a siege ramp against me, and they camp around my tent.

Job 19:13 “He has put my relatives far from me; my acquaintances only turn away from me.

Job 19:14 My kinsmen have failed me; my friends have forgotten me.

Job 19:15 My guests and my servant girls consider me a stranger; I am a foreigner in their eyes.

Job 19:16 I summon my servant, but he does not respond, even though I implore him with my own mouth.

Job 19:17 My breath is repulsive to my wife; I am loathsome to my brothers.

Job 19:18 Even youngsters have scorned me; when I get up, they scoff at me.

Job 19:19 All my closest friends detest me; and those whom I love have turned against me.

Job 19:20 My bones stick to my skin and my flesh; I have escaped alive with only the skin of my teeth.

Job 19:21 Have pity on me, my friends, have pity on me, for the hand of God has struck me.

Job 19:22 Why do you pursue me like God does? Will you never be satiated with my flesh?

Job 19:23 “O that my words were written down, O that they were written on a scroll,

Job 19:24 that with an iron chisel and with lead they were engraved in a rock forever!

Job 19:25 As for me, I know that my Redeemer lives, and that as the last he will stand upon the earth.

Job 19:26 And after my skin has been destroyed, yet in my flesh I will see God,

Job 19:27 whom I will see for myself, and whom my own eyes will behold, and not another. My heart grows faint within me.

Job 19:28 If you say, ‘How we will pursue him, since the root of the trouble is found in him!’

Job 19:29 Fear the sword yourselves, for wrath brings the punishment by the sword, so that you may know that there is judgment.”

Job 20:1 Then Zophar the Naamathite answered:

Job 20:2 “This is why my troubled thoughts bring me back– because of my feelings within me.

Job 20:3 When I hear a reproof that dishonors me, then my understanding prompts me to answer.

Job 20:4 “Surely you know that it has been from old, ever since humankind was placed on the earth,

Job 20:5 that the elation of the wicked is brief, the joy of the godless lasts but a moment.

Job 20:6 Even though his stature reaches to the heavens and his head touches the clouds,

Job 20:7 he will perish forever, like his own excrement; those who used to see him will say, ‘Where is he?’

Job 20:8 Like a dream he flies away, never again to be found, and like a vision of the night he is put to flight.

Job 20:9 People who had seen him will not see him again, and the place where he was will recognize him no longer.

Job 20:10 His sons must recompense the poor; his own hands must return his wealth.

Job 20:11 His bones were full of his youthful vigor, but that vigor will lie down with him in the dust.

Job 20:12 “If evil is sweet in his mouth and he hides it under his tongue, Job 20:13 if he retains it for himself and does not let it go, and holds it fast in his mouth,

Job 20:14 his food is turned sour in his stomach; it becomes the venom of serpents within him.

Job 20:15 The wealth that he consumed he vomits up, God will make him throw it out of his stomach.

Job 20:16 He sucks the poison of serpents; the fangs of a viper kill him.

Job 20:17 He will not look on the streams, the rivers, which are the torrents of honey and butter.

Job 20:18 He gives back the ill-gotten gain without assimilating it; he will not enjoy the wealth from his commerce.

Job 20:19 For he has oppressed the poor and abandoned them; he has seized a house which he did not build.

Job 20:20 For he knows no satisfaction in his appetite; he does not let anything he desires escape.

Job 20:21 “Nothing is left for him to devour; that is why his prosperity does not last.

Job 20:22 In the fullness of his sufficiency, distress overtakes him. the full force of misery will come upon him.

Job 20:23 “While he is filling his belly, God sends his burning anger against him, and rains down his blows upon him.

Job 20:24 If he flees from an iron weapon, then an arrow from a bronze bow pierces him.

Job 20:25 When he pulls it out and it comes out of his back, the gleaming point out of his liver, terrors come over him.

Job 20:26 Total darkness waits to receive his treasures; a fire which has not been kindled will consume him and devour what is left in his tent.

Job 20:27 The heavens reveal his iniquity; the earth rises up against him.

Job 20:28 A flood will carry off his house, rushing waters on the day of God’s wrath.

Job 20:29 Such is the lot God allots the wicked, and the heritage of his appointment from God.”

Job 21:1 Then Job answered:

Job 21:2 “Listen carefully to my words; let this be the consolation you offer me.

Job 21:3 Bear with me and I will speak, and after I have spoken you may mock.

Job 21:4 Is my complaint against a man? If so, why should I not be impatient?

Job 21:5 Look at me and be appalled; put your hands over your mouths.

Job 21:6 For, when I think about this, I am terrified and my body feels a shudder.

Job 21:7 “Why do the wicked go on living, grow old, even increase in power?

Job 21:8 Their children are firmly established in their presence, their offspring before their eyes.

Job 21:9 Their houses are safe and without fear; and no rod of punishment from God is upon them.

Job 21:10 Their bulls breed without fail; their cows calve and do not miscarry.

Job 21:11 They allow their children to run like a flock; their little ones dance about.

Job 21:12 They sing to the accompaniment of tambourine and harp, and make merry to the sound of the flute.

Job 21:13 They live out their years in prosperity and go down to the grave in peace.

Job 21:14 So they say to God, ‘Turn away from us! We do not want to know your ways.

Job 21:15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serve him? What would we gain if we were to pray to him?’

Job 21:16 But their prosperity is not their own doing. The counsel of the wicked is far from me!

Job 21:17 “How often is the lamp of the wicked extinguished? How often does their misfortune come upon them? How often does God apportion pain to them in his anger?

Job 21:18 How often are they like straw before the wind, and like chaff swept away by a whirlwind?

Job 21:19 You may say, ‘God stores up a man’s punishment for his children!’ Instead let him repay the man himself so that he may know it!

Job 21:20 Let his own eyes see his destruction; let him drink of the anger of the Almighty.

Job 21:21 For what is his interest in his home after his death, when the number of his months has been broken off?

Job 21:22 Can anyone teach God knowledge, since he judges those that are on high?

Job 21:23 “One man dies in his full vigor, completely secure and prosperous, Job 21:24 his body well nourished, and the marrow of his bones moist.

Job 21:25 And another man dies in bitterness of soul, never having tasted anything good.

Job 21:26 Together they lie down in the dust, and worms cover over them both.

Job 21:27 “Yes, I know what you are thinking, the schemes by which you would wrong me.

Job 21:28 For you say, ‘Where now is the nobleman’s house, and where are the tents in which the wicked lived?’

Job 21:29 Have you never questioned those who travel the roads? Do you not recognize their accounts–

Job 21:30 that the evil man is spared from the day of his misfortune, that he is delivered from the day of God’s wrath?

Job 21:31 No one denounces his conduct to his face; no one repays him for what he has done.

Job 21:32 And when he is carried to the tombs, and watch is kept over the funeral mound,

Job 21:33 The clods of the torrent valley are sweet to him; behind him everybody follows in procession, and before him goes a countless throng.

Job 21:34 So how can you console me with your futile words? Nothing is left of your answers but deception!”

Job 22:1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered:

Job 22:2 “Is it to God that a strong man is of benefit? Is it to him that even a wise man is profitable?

Job 22:3 Is it of any special benefit to the Almighty that you should be righteous, or is it any gain to him that you make your ways blameless?

Job 22:4 Is it because of your piety that he rebukes you and goes to judgment with you?

Job 22:5 Is not your wickedness great and is there no end to your iniquity?

Job 22:6 “For you took pledges from your brothers for no reason, and you stripped the clothing from the naked.

Job 22:7 You gave the weary no water to drink and from the hungry you withheld food.

Job 22:8 Although you were a powerful man, owning land, an honored man living on it,

Job 22:9 you sent widows away empty-handed, and the arms of the orphans you crushed.

Job 22:10 That is why snares surround you, and why sudden fear terrifies you,

Job 22:11 why it is so dark you cannot see, and why a flood of water covers you.

Job 22:12 “Is not God on high in heaven? And see the lofty stars, how high they are!

Job 22:13 But you have said, ‘What does God know? Does he judge through such deep darkness?

Job 22:14 Thick clouds are a veil for him, so he does not see us, as he goes back and forth in the vault of heaven.’

Job 22:15 Will you keep to the old path that evil men have walked–

Job 22:16 men who were carried off before their time, when the flood was poured out on their foundations?

Job 22:17 They were saying to God, ‘Turn away from us,’ and ‘What can the Almighty do to us?’

Job 22:18 But it was he who filled their houses with good things– yet the counsel of the wicked was far from me.

Job 22:19 The righteous see their destruction and rejoice; the innocent mock them scornfully, saying,

Job 22:20 ‘Surely our enemies are destroyed, and fire consumes their wealth.’

Job 22:21 “Reconcile yourself with God, and be at peace with him; in this way your prosperity will be good.

Job 22:22 Accept instruction from his mouth and store up his words in your heart.

Job 22:23 If you return to the Almighty, you will be built up; if you remove wicked behavior far from your tent,

Job 22:24 and throw your gold in the dust– your gold of Ophir among the rocks in the ravines–

Job 22:25 then the Almighty himself will be your gold, and the choicest silver for you.

Job 22:26 Surely then you will delight yourself in the Almighty, and will lift up your face toward God.

Job 22:27 You will pray to him and he will hear you, and you will fulfill your vows to him.

Job 22:28 Whatever you decide on a matter, it will be established for you, and light will shine on your ways.

Job 22:29 When people are brought low and you say ‘Lift them up!’ then he will save the downcast;

Job 22:30 he will deliver even someone who is not innocent, who will escape through the cleanness of your hands.”

Job 23:1 Then Job answered:

Job 23:2 “Even today my complaint is still bitter; his hand is heavy despite my groaning.

Job 23:3 O that I knew where I might find him, that I could come to his place of residence!

Job 23:4 I would lay out my case before him and fill my mouth with arguments.

Job 23:5 I would know with what words he would answer me, and understand what he would say to me.

Job 23:6 Would he contend with me with great power? No, he would only pay attention to me.

Job 23:7 There an upright person could present his case before him, and I would be delivered forever from my judge.

Job 23:8 “If I go to the east, he is not there, and to the west, yet I do not perceive him.

Job 23:9 In the north when he is at work, I do not see him; when he turns to the south, I see no trace of him.

Job 23:10 But he knows the pathway that I take; if he tested me, I would come forth like gold.

Job 23:11 My feet have followed his steps closely; I have kept to his way and have not turned aside.

Job 23:12 I have not departed from the commands of his lips; I have treasured the words of his mouth more than my allotted portion.

Job 23:13 But he is unchangeable, and who can change him? Whatever he has desired, he does.

Job 23:14 For he fulfills his decree against me, and many such things are his plans.

Job 23:15 That is why I am terrified in his presence; when I consider, I am afraid because of him.

Job 23:16 Indeed, God has made my heart faint; the Almighty has terrified me.

Job 23:17 Yet I have not been silent because of the darkness, because of the thick darkness that covered my face.

Job 24:1 “Why are times not appointed by the Almighty? Why do those who know him not see his days?

Job 24:2 Men move boundary stones; they seize the flock and pasture them.

Job 24:3 They drive away the orphan’s donkey; they take the widow’s ox as a pledge.

Job 24:4 They turn the needy from the pathway, and the poor of the land hide themselves together.

Job 24:5 Like wild donkeys in the desert they go out to their labor, seeking diligently for food; the wasteland provides food for them and for their children.

Job 24:6 They reap fodder in the field, and glean in the vineyard of the wicked.

Job 24:7 They spend the night naked because they lack clothing; they have no covering against the cold.

Job 24:8 They are soaked by mountain rains and huddle in the rocks because they lack shelter.

Job 24:9 The fatherless child is snatched from the breast, the infant of the poor is taken as a pledge.

Job 24:10 They go about naked, without clothing, and go hungry while they carry the sheaves.

Job 24:11 They press out the olive oil between the rows of olive trees; they tread the winepresses while they are thirsty.

Job 24:12 From the city the dying groan, and the wounded cry out for help, but God charges no one with wrongdoing.

Job 24:13 There are those who rebel against the light; they do not know its ways and they do not stay on its paths.

Job 24:14 Before daybreak the murderer rises up; he kills the poor and the needy; in the night he is like a thief.

Job 24:15 And the eye of the adulterer watches for the twilight, thinking, ‘No eye can see me,’ and covers his face with a mask.

Job 24:16 In the dark the robber breaks into houses, but by day they shut themselves in; they do not know the light.

Job 24:17 For all of them, the morning is to them like deep darkness; they are friends with the terrors of darkness.

Job 24:18 “You say, ‘He is foam on the face of the waters; their portion of the land is cursed so that no one goes to their vineyard.

Job 24:19 The drought as well as the heat carry away the melted snow; so the grave takes away those who have sinned.

Job 24:20 The womb forgets him, the worm feasts on him, no longer will he be remembered. Like a tree, wickedness will be broken down.

Job 24:21 He preys on the barren and childless woman, and does not treat the widow well.

Job 24:22 But God drags off the mighty by his power; when God rises up against him, he has no faith in his life.

Job 24:23 God may let them rest in a feeling of security, but he is constantly watching all their ways.

Job 24:24 They are exalted for a little while, and then they are gone, they are brought low like all others, and gathered in, and like a head of grain they are cut off.’

Job 24:25 “If this is not so, who can prove me a liar and reduce my words to nothing?”

Job 25:1 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered:

Job 25:2 “Dominion and awesome might belong to God; he establishes peace in his heights.

Job 25:3 Can his armies be numbered? On whom does his light not rise?

Job 25:4 How then can a human being be righteous before God? How can one born of a woman be pure?

Job 25:5 If even the moon is not bright, and the stars are not pure as far as he is concerned,

Job 25:6 how much less a mortal man, who is but a maggot– a son of man, who is only a worm!”

Job 26:1 Then Job replied:

Job 26:2 “How you have helped the powerless! How you have saved the person who has no strength!

Job 26:3 How you have advised the one without wisdom, and abundantly revealed your insight!

Job 26:4 To whom did you utter these words? And whose spirit has come forth from your mouth?

Job 26:5 “The dead tremble– those beneath the waters and all that live in them.

Job 26:6 The underworld is naked before God; the place of destruction lies uncovered.

Job 26:7 He spreads out the northern skies over empty space; he suspends the earth on nothing.

Job 26:8 He locks the waters in his clouds, and the clouds do not burst with the weight of them.

Job 26:9 He conceals the face of the full moon, shrouding it with his clouds.

Job 26:10 He marks out the horizon on the surface of the waters as a boundary between light and darkness.

Job 26:11 The pillars of the heavens tremble and are amazed at his rebuke.

Job 26:12 By his power he stills the sea; by his wisdom he cut Rahab the great sea monster to pieces.

Job 26:13 By his breath the skies became fair; his hand pierced the fleeing serpent.

Job 26:14 Indeed, these are but the outer fringes of his ways! How faint is the whisper we hear of him! But who can understand the thunder of his power?”

Job 27:1 And Job took up his discourse again:

Job 27:2 “As surely as God lives, who has denied me justice, the Almighty, who has made my life bitter–

Job 27:3 for while my spirit is still in me, and the breath from God is in my nostrils,

Job 27:4 my lips will not speak wickedness, and my tongue will whisper no deceit.

Job 27:5 I will never declare that you three are in the right; until I die, I will not set aside my integrity!

Job 27:6 I will maintain my righteousness and never let it go; my conscience will not reproach me for as long as I live.

Job 27:7 “May my enemy be like the wicked, my adversary like the unrighteous.

Job 27:8 For what hope does the godless have when he is cut off, when God takes away his life?

Job 27:9 Does God listen to his cry when distress overtakes him?

Job 27:10 Will he find delight in the Almighty? Will he call out to God at all times?

Job 27:11 I will teach you about the power of God; What is on the Almighty’s mind I will not conceal.

Job 27:12 If you yourselves have all seen this, Why in the world do you continue this meaningless talk?

Job 27:13 This is the portion of the wicked man allotted by God, the inheritance that evildoers receive from the Almighty.

Job 27:14 If his children increase– it is for the sword! His offspring never have enough to eat.

Job 27:15 Those who survive him are buried by the plague, and their widows do not mourn for them.

Job 27:16 If he piles up silver like dust and stores up clothing like mounds of clay,

Job 27:17 what he stores up a righteous man will wear, and an innocent man will inherit his silver.

Job 27:18 The house he builds is as fragile as a moth’s cocoon, like a hut that a watchman has made.

Job 27:19 He goes to bed wealthy, but will do so no more. When he opens his eyes, it is all gone.

Job 27:20 Terrors overwhelm him like a flood; at night a whirlwind carries him off.

Job 27:21 The east wind carries him away, and he is gone; it sweeps him out of his place.

Job 27:22 It hurls itself against him without pity as he flees headlong from its power.

Job 27:23 It claps its hands at him in derision and hisses him away from his place. III. Job’s Search for Wisdom

Job 28:1 “Surely there is a mine for silver, and a place where gold is refined.

Job 28:2 Iron is taken from the ground, and rock is poured out as copper.

Job 28:3 Man puts an end to the darkness; he searches the farthest recesses for the ore in the deepest darkness.

Job 28:4 Far from where people live he sinks a shaft, in places travelers have long forgotten, far from other people he dangles and sways.

Job 28:5 The earth, from which food comes, is overturned below as though by fire;

Job 28:6 a place whose stones are sapphires and which contains dust of gold;

Job 28:7 a hidden path no bird of prey knows– no falcon’s eye has spotted it.

Job 28:8 Proud beasts have not set foot on it, and no lion has passed along it.

Job 28:9 On the flinty rock man has set to work with his hand; he has overturned mountains at their bases.

Job 28:10 He has cut out channels through the rocks; his eyes have spotted every precious thing.

Job 28:11 He has searched the sources of the rivers and what was hidden he has brought into the light.

Job 28:12 “But wisdom– where can it be found? Where is the place of understanding?

Job 28:13 Mankind does not know its place; it cannot be found in the land of the living.

Job 28:14 The deep says, ‘It is not with me.’ And the sea says, ‘It is not with me.’

Job 28:15 Fine gold cannot be given in exchange for it, nor can its price be weighed out in silver.

Job 28:16 It cannot be measured out for purchase with the gold of Ophir, with precious onyx or sapphires.

Job 28:17 Neither gold nor crystal can be compared with it, nor can a vase of gold match its worth.

Job 28:18 Of coral and jasper no mention will be made; the price of wisdom is more than pearls.

Job 28:19 The topaz of Cush cannot be compared with it; it cannot be purchased with pure gold.

Job 28:20 “But wisdom– where does it come from? Where is the place of understanding?

Job 28:21 For it has been hidden from the eyes of every living creature, and from the birds of the sky it has been concealed.

Job 28:22 Destruction and Death say, ‘With our ears we have heard a rumor about where it can be found.’

Job 28:23 God understands the way to it, and he alone knows its place.

Job 28:24 For he looks to the ends of the earth and observes everything under the heavens.

Job 28:25 When he made the force of the wind and measured the waters with a gauge.

Job 28:26 When he imposed a limit for the rain, and a path for the thunderstorm,

Job 28:27 then he looked at wisdom and assessed its value; he established it and examined it closely.

Job 28:28 And he said to mankind, ‘The fear of the LORD– that is wisdom, and to turn away from evil is understanding.’“ IV. Job’s Concluding Soliloquy

Job 29:1 Then Job continued his speech:

Job 29:2 “O that I could be as I was in the months now gone, in the days when God watched over me,

Job 29:3 when he caused his lamp to shine upon my head, and by his light I walked through darkness;

Job 29:4 just as I was in my most productive time, when God’s intimate friendship was experienced in my tent,

Job 29:5 when the Almighty was still with me and my children were around me;

Job 29:6 when my steps were bathed with butter and the rock poured out for me streams of olive oil!

Job 29:7 When I went out to the city gate and secured my seat in the public square,

Job 29:8 the young men would see me and step aside, and the old men would get up and remain standing;

Job 29:9 the chief men refrained from talking and covered their mouths with their hands;

Job 29:10 the voices of the nobles fell silent, and their tongues stuck to the roof of their mouths.

Job 29:11 “As soon as the ear heard these things, it blessed me, and when the eye saw them, it bore witness to me,

Job 29:12 for I rescued the poor who cried out for help, and the orphan who had no one to assist him;

Job 29:13 the blessing of the dying man descended on me, and I made the widow’s heart rejoice;

Job 29:14 I put on righteousness and it clothed me, my just dealing was like a robe and a turban;

Job 29:15 I was eyes for the blind and feet for the lame;

Job 29:16 I was a father to the needy, and I investigated the case of the person I did not know;

Job 29:17 I broke the fangs of the wicked, and made him drop his prey from his teeth.

Job 29:18 “Then I thought, ‘I will die in my own home, my days as numerous as the grains of sand.

Job 29:19 My roots reach the water, and the dew lies on my branches all night long.

Job 29:20 My glory will always be fresh in me, and my bow ever new in my hand.’

Job 29:21 “People listened to me and waited silently; they kept silent for my advice.

Job 29:22 After I had spoken, they did not respond; my words fell on them drop by drop.

Job 29:23 They waited for me as people wait for the rain, and they opened their mouths as for the spring rains.

Job 29:24 If I smiled at them, they hardly believed it; and they did not cause the light of my face to darken.

Job 29:25 I chose the way for them and sat as their chief; I lived like a king among his troops; I was like one who comforts mourners.

Job 30:1 “But now they mock me, those who are younger than I, whose fathers I disdained too much to put with my sheep dogs.

Job 30:2 Moreover, the strength of their hands– what use was it to me? Men whose strength had perished;

Job 30:3 gaunt with want and hunger, they would gnaw the parched land, in former time desolate and waste.

Job 30:4 By the brush they would gather herbs from the salt marshes, and the root of the broom tree was their food.

Job 30:5 They were banished from the community– people shouted at them like they would shout at thieves–

Job 30:6 so that they had to live in the dry stream beds, in the holes of the ground, and among the rocks.

Job 30:7 They brayed like animals among the bushes and were huddled together under the nettles.

Job 30:8 Sons of senseless and nameless people, they were driven out of the land with whips.

Job 30:9 “And now I have become their taunt song; I have become a byword among them.

Job 30:10 They detest me and maintain their distance; they do not hesitate to spit in my face.

Job 30:11 Because God has untied my tent cord and afflicted me, people throw off all restraint in my presence.

Job 30:12 On my right the young rabble rise up; they drive me from place to place, and build up siege ramps against me.

Job 30:13 They destroy my path; they succeed in destroying me without anyone assisting them.

Job 30:14 They come in as through a wide breach; amid the crash they come rolling in.

Job 30:15 Terrors are turned loose on me; they drive away my honor like the wind, and like a cloud my deliverance has passed away.

Job 30:16 “And now my soul pours itself out within me; days of suffering take hold of me.

Job 30:17 Night pierces my bones; my gnawing pains never cease.

Job 30:18 With great power God grasps my clothing; he binds me like the collar of my tunic.

Job 30:19 He has flung me into the mud, and I have come to resemble dust and ashes.

Job 30:20 I cry out to you, but you do not answer me; I stand up, and you only look at me.

Job 30:21 You have become cruel to me; with the strength of your hand you attack me.

Job 30:22 You pick me up on the wind and make me ride on it; you toss me about in the storm.

Job 30:23 I know that you are bringing me to death, to the meeting place for all the living.

Job 30:24 “Surely one does not stretch out his hand against a broken man when he cries for help in his distress.

Job 30:25 Have I not wept for the unfortunate? Was not my soul grieved for the poor?

Job 30:26 But when I hoped for good, trouble came; when I expected light, then darkness came.

Job 30:27 My heart is in turmoil unceasingly; the days of my affliction confront me.

Job 30:28 I go about blackened, but not by the sun; in the assembly I stand up and cry for help.

Job 30:29 I have become a brother to jackals and a companion of ostriches.

Job 30:30 My skin has turned dark on me; my body is hot with fever.

Job 30:31 My harp is used for mourning and my flute for the sound of weeping.

Job 31:1 “I made a covenant with my eyes; how then could I entertain thoughts against a virgin?

Job 31:2 What then would be one’s lot from God above, one’s heritage from the Almighty on high?

Job 31:3 Is it not misfortune for the unjust, and disaster for those who work iniquity?

Job 31:4 Does he not see my ways and count all my steps?

Job 31:5 If I have walked in falsehood, and if my foot has hastened to deceit–

Job 31:6 let him weigh me with honest scales; then God will discover my integrity.

Job 31:7 If my footsteps have strayed from the way, if my heart has gone after my eyes, or if anything has defiled my hands,

Job 31:8 then let me sow and let another eat, and let my crops be uprooted.

Job 31:9 If my heart has been enticed by a woman, and I have lain in wait at my neighbor’s door,

Job 31:10 then let my wife turn the millstone for another man, and may other men have sexual relations with her.

Job 31:11 For I would have committed a shameful act, an iniquity to be judged.

Job 31:12 For it is a fire that devours even to Destruction, and it would uproot all my harvest.

Job 31:13 “If I have disregarded the right of my male servants or my female servants when they disputed with me,

Job 31:14 then what will I do when God confronts me in judgment; when he intervenes, how will I respond to him?

Job 31:15 Did not the one who made me in the womb make them? Did not the same one form us in the womb?

Job 31:16 If I have refused to give the poor what they desired, or caused the eyes of the widow to fail, Job 31:17 If I ate my morsel of bread myself, and did not share any of it with orphans–

Job 31:18 but from my youth I raised the orphan like a father, and from my mother’s womb I guided the widow!

Job 31:19 If I have seen anyone about to perish for lack of clothing, or a poor man without a coat,

Job 31:20 whose heart did not bless me as he warmed himself with the fleece of my sheep,

Job 31:21 if I have raised my hand to vote against the orphan, when I saw my support in the court,

Job 31:22 then let my arm fall from the shoulder, let my arm be broken off at the socket.

Job 31:23 For the calamity from God was a terror to me, and by reason of his majesty I was powerless.

Job 31:24 “If I have put my confidence in gold or said to pure gold, ‘You are my security!’

Job 31:25 if I have rejoiced because of the extent of my wealth, or because of the great wealth my hand had gained,

Job 31:26 if I looked at the sun when it was shining, and the moon advancing as a precious thing,

Job 31:27 so that my heart was secretly enticed, and my hand threw them a kiss from my mouth,

Job 31:28 then this also would be iniquity to be judged, for I would have been false to God above.

Job 31:29 If I have rejoiced over the misfortune of my enemy or exulted because calamity found him–

Job 31:30 I have not even permitted my mouth to sin by asking for his life through a curse–

Job 31:31 if the members of my household have never said, ‘If only there were someone who has not been satisfied from Job’s meat!’–

Job 31:32 But no stranger had to spend the night outside, for I opened my doors to the traveler–

Job 31:33 if I have covered my transgressions as men do, by hiding iniquity in my heart,

Job 31:34 because I was terrified of the great multitude, and the contempt of families terrified me, so that I remained silent and would not go outdoors–

Job 31:35 “If only I had someone to hear me! Here is my signature–let the Almighty answer me! If only I had an indictment that my accuser had written.

Job 31:36 Surely I would wear it proudly on my shoulder, I would bind it on me like a crown;

Job 31:37 I would give him an accounting of my steps; like a prince I would approach him.

Job 31:38 “If my land cried out against me and all its furrows wept together,

Job 31:39 if I have eaten its produce without paying, or caused the death of its owners,

Job 31:40 then let thorns sprout up in place of wheat, and in place of barley, weeds!” The words of Job are ended. V. The Speeches of Elihu

Job 32:1 So these three men refused to answer Job further, because he was righteous in his own eyes.

Job 32:2 Then Elihu son of Barakel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, became very angry. He was angry with Job for justifying himself rather than God.

Job 32:3 With Job’s three friends he was also angry, because they could not find an answer, and so declared Job guilty.

Job 32:4 Now Elihu had waited before speaking to Job, because the others were older than he was.

Job 32:5 But when Elihu saw that the three men had no further reply, he became very angry.

Job 32:6 So Elihu son of Barakel the Buzite spoke up: “I am young, but you are elderly; that is why I was fearful, and afraid to explain to you what I know.

Job 32:7 I said to myself, ‘Age should speak, and length of years should make wisdom known.’

Job 32:8 But it is a spirit in people, the breath of the Almighty, that makes them understand.

Job 32:9 It is not the aged who are wise, nor old men who understand what is right.

Job 32:10 Therefore I say, ‘Listen to me. I, even I, will explain what I know.’

Job 32:11 Look, I waited for you to speak; I listened closely to your wise thoughts, while you were searching for words.

Job 32:12 Now I was paying you close attention, yet there was no one proving Job wrong, not one of you was answering his statements!

Job 32:13 So do not say, ‘We have found wisdom! God will refute him, not man!’

Job 32:14 Job has not directed his words to me, and so I will not reply to him with your arguments.

Job 32:15 “They are dismayed and cannot answer any more; they have nothing left to say.

Job 32:16 And I have waited. But because they do not speak, because they stand there and answer no more,

Job 32:17 I too will answer my part, I too will explain what I know.

Job 32:18 For I am full of words, and the spirit within me constrains me.

Job 32:19 Inside I am like wine which has no outlet, like new wineskins ready to burst!

Job 32:20 I will speak, so that I may find relief; I will open my lips, so that I may answer.

Job 32:21 I will not show partiality to anyone, nor will I confer a title on any man.

Job 32:22 for I do not know how to give honorary titles, if I did, my Creator would quickly do away with me.

Job 33:1 “But now, O Job, listen to my words, and hear everything I have to say!

Job 33:2 See now, I have opened my mouth; my tongue in my mouth has spoken.

Job 33:3 My words come from the uprightness of my heart, and my lips will utter knowledge sincerely.

Job 33:4 The Spirit of God has made me, and the breath of the Almighty gives me life.

Job 33:5 Reply to me, if you can; set your arguments in order before me and take your stand!

Job 33:6 Look, I am just like you in relation to God; I too have been molded from clay.

Job 33:7 Therefore no fear of me should terrify you, nor should my pressure be heavy on you.

Job 33:8 “Indeed, you have said in my hearing (I heard the sound of the words!):

Job 33:9 ‘I am pure, without transgression; I am clean and have no iniquity.

Job 33:10 Yet God finds occasions with me; he regards me as his enemy!

Job 33:11 He puts my feet in shackles; he watches closely all my paths.’

Job 33:12 Now in this, you are not right– I answer you, for God is greater than a human being.

Job 33:13 Why do you contend against him, that he does not answer all a person’s words?

Job 33:14 “For God speaks, the first time in one way, the second time in another, though a person does not perceive it.

Job 33:15 In a dream, a night vision, when deep sleep falls on people as they sleep in their beds.

Job 33:16 Then he gives a revelation to people, and terrifies them with warnings,

Job 33:17 to turn a person from his sin, and to cover a person’s pride.

Job 33:18 He spares a person’s life from corruption, his very life from crossing over the river.

Job 33:19 Or a person is chastened by pain on his bed, and with the continual strife of his bones,

Job 33:20 so that his life loathes food, and his soul rejects appetizing fare.

Job 33:21 His flesh wastes away from sight, and his bones, which were not seen, are easily visible.

Job 33:22 He draws near to the place of corruption, and his life to the messengers of death.

Job 33:23 If there is an angel beside him, one mediator out of a thousand, to tell a person what constitutes his uprightness;

Job 33:24 and if God is gracious to him and says, ‘Spare him from going down to the place of corruption, I have found a ransom for him,’

Job 33:25 then his flesh is restored like a youth’s; he returns to the days of his youthful vigor.

Job 33:26 He entreats God, and God delights in him, he sees God’s face with rejoicing, and God restores to him his righteousness.

Job 33:27 That person sings to others, saying: ‘I have sinned and falsified what is right, but I was not punished according to what I deserved.

Job 33:28 He redeemed my life from going down to the place of corruption, and my life sees the light!’

Job 33:29 “Indeed, God does all these things, twice, three times, in his dealings with a person,

Job 33:30 to turn back his life from the place of corruption, that he may be enlightened with the light of life.

Job 33:31 Pay attention, Job– listen to me; be silent, and I will speak.

Job 33:32 If you have any words, reply to me; speak, for I want to justify you.

Job 33:33 If not, you listen to me; be silent, and I will teach you wisdom.”

Job 34:1 Elihu answered:

Job 34:2 “Listen to my words, you wise men; hear me, you learned men.

Job 34:3 For the ear assesses words as the mouth tastes food.

Job 34:4 Let us evaluate for ourselves what is right; let us come to know among ourselves what is good.

Job 34:5 For Job says, ‘I am innocent, but God turns away my right.

Job 34:6 Concerning my right, should I lie? My wound is incurable, although I am without transgression.’

Job 34:7 What man is like Job, who drinks derision like water!

Job 34:8 He goes about in company with evildoers, he goes along with wicked men.

Job 34:9 For he says, ‘It does not profit a man when he makes his delight with God.’

Job 34:10 “Therefore, listen to me, you men of understanding. Far be it from God to do wickedness, from the Almighty to do evil.

Job 34:11 For he repays a person for his work, and according to the conduct of a person, he causes the consequences to find him.

Job 34:12 Indeed, in truth, God does not act wickedly, and the Almighty does not pervert justice.

Job 34:13 Who entrusted to him the earth? And who put him over the whole world?

Job 34:14 If God were to set his heart on it, and gather in his spirit and his breath,

Job 34:15 all flesh would perish together and human beings would return to dust.

Job 34:16 “If you have understanding, listen to this, hear what I have to say.

Job 34:17 Do you really think that one who hates justice can govern? And will you declare guilty the supremely righteous One,

Job 34:18 who says to a king, ‘Worthless man’ and to nobles, ‘Wicked men,’

Job 34:19 who shows no partiality to princes, and does not take note of the rich more than the poor, because all of them are the work of his hands?

Job 34:20 In a moment they die, in the middle of the night, people are shaken and they pass away. The mighty are removed effortlessly.

Job 34:21 For his eyes are on the ways of an individual, he observes all a person’s steps.

Job 34:22 There is no darkness, and no deep darkness, where evildoers can hide themselves.

Job 34:23 For he does not still consider a person, that he should come before God in judgment.

Job 34:24 He shatters the great without inquiry, and sets up others in their place.

Job 34:25 Therefore, he knows their deeds, he overthrows them in the night and they are crushed.

Job 34:26 He strikes them for their wickedness, in a place where people can see,

Job 34:27 because they have turned away from following him, and have not understood any of his ways,

Job 34:28 so that they caused the cry of the poor to come before him, so that he hears the cry of the needy.

Job 34:29 But if God is quiet, who can condemn him? If he hides his face, then who can see him? Yet he is over the individual and the nation alike,

Job 34:30 so that the godless man should not rule, and not lay snares for the people.

Job 34:31 "Has anyone said to God, 'I have endured chastisement, but I will not act wrongly any more.

Job 34:32 Teach me what I cannot see. If I have done evil, I will do so no more.'

Job 34:33 Is it your opinion that God should recompense it, because you reject this? But you must choose, and not I, so tell us what you know.

Job 34:34 Men of understanding say to me– any wise man listening to me says–

Job 34:35 that Job speaks without knowledge and his words are without understanding.

Job 34:36 But Job will be tested to the end, because his answers are like those of wicked men.

Job 34:37 For he adds transgression to his sin; in our midst he claps his hands, and multiplies his words against God."

Job 35:1 Then Elihu answered:

Job 35:2 "Do you think this to be just: when you say, 'My right before God.'

Job 35:3 But you say, 'What will it profit you,' and, 'What do I gain by not sinning?'

Job 35:4 I will reply to you, and to your friends with you.

Job 35:5 Gaze at the heavens and see; consider the clouds, which are higher than you!

Job 35:6 If you sin, how does it affect God? If your transgressions are many, what does it do to him?

Job 35:7 If you are righteous, what do you give to God, or what does he receive from your hand?

Job 35:8 Your wickedness affects only a person like yourself, and your righteousness only other people.

Job 35:9 “People cry out because of the excess of oppression; they cry out for help because of the power of the mighty.

Job 35:10 But no one says, ‘Where is God, my Creator, who gives songs in the night,

Job 35:11 who teaches us more than the wild animals of the earth, and makes us wiser than the birds of the sky?’

Job 35:12 Then they cry out– but he does not answer– because of the arrogance of the wicked.

Job 35:13 Surely it is an empty cry– God does not hear it; the Almighty does not take notice of it.

Job 35:14 How much less, then, when you say that you do not perceive him, that the case is before him and you are waiting for him!

Job 35:15 And further, when you say that his anger does not punish, and that he does not know transgression!

Job 35:16 So Job opens his mouth to no purpose; without knowledge he multiplies words.”

Job 36:1 Elihu said further:

Job 36:2 “Be patient with me a little longer and I will instruct you, for I still have words to speak on God’s behalf.

Job 36:3 With my knowledge I will speak comprehensively, and to my Creator I will ascribe righteousness.

Job 36:4 For in truth, my words are not false; it is one complete in knowledge who is with you.

Job 36:5 Indeed, God is mighty; and he does not despise people, he is mighty, and firm in his intent.

Job 36:6 He does not allow the wicked to live, but he gives justice to the poor.

Job 36:7 He does not take his eyes off the righteous; but with kings on the throne he seats the righteous and exalts them forever.

Job 36:8 But if they are bound in chains, and held captive by the cords of affliction,

Job 36:9 then he reveals to them what they have done, and their transgressions, that they were behaving proudly.

Job 36:10 And he reveals this for correction, and says that they must turn from evil.

Job 36:11 If they obey and serve him, they live out their days in prosperity and their years in pleasantness.

Job 36:12 But if they refuse to listen, they pass over the river of death, and expire without knowledge.

Job 36:13 The godless at heart nourish anger, they do not cry out even when he binds them.

Job 36:14 They die in their youth, and their life ends among the male cultic prostitutes.

Job 36:15 He delivers the afflicted by their afflictions, he reveals himself to them by their suffering.

Job 36:16 And surely, he drew you from the mouth of distress, to a wide place, unrestricted, and to the comfort of your table filled with rich food.

Job 36:17 But now you are preoccupied with the judgment due the wicked, judgment and justice take hold of you.

Job 36:18 Be careful that no one entices you with riches; do not let a large bribe turn you aside.

Job 36:19 Would your wealth sustain you, so that you would not be in distress, even all your mighty efforts?

Job 36:20 Do not long for the cover of night to drag people away from their homes.

Job 36:21 Take heed, do not turn to evil, for because of this you have been tested by affliction.

Job 36:22 Indeed, God is exalted in his power; who is a teacher like him?

Job 36:23 Who has prescribed his ways for him? Or said to him, 'You have done what is wicked'?

Job 36:24 Remember to extol his work, which people have praised in song.

Job 36:25 All humanity has seen it; people gaze on it from afar.

Job 36:26 "Yes, God is great– beyond our knowledge! The number of his years is unsearchable.

Job 36:27 He draws up drops of water; they distill the rain into its mist,

Job 36:28 which the clouds pour down and shower on humankind abundantly.

Job 36:29 Who can understand the spreading of the clouds, the thunderings of his pavilion?

Job 36:30 See how he scattered his lightning about him; he has covered the depths of the sea.

Job 36:31 It is by these that he judges the nations and supplies food in abundance.

Job 36:32 With his hands he covers the lightning, and directs it against its target.

Job 36:33 His thunder announces the coming storm, the cattle also, concerning the storm’s approach.

Job 37:1 At this also my heart pounds and leaps from its place.

Job 37:2 Listen carefully to the thunder of his voice, to the rumbling that proceeds from his mouth.

Job 37:3 Under the whole heaven he lets it go, even his lightning to the far corners of the earth.

Job 37:4 After that a voice roars; he thunders with an exalted voice, and he does not hold back his lightning bolts when his voice is heard.

Job 37:5 God thunders with his voice in marvelous ways; he does great things beyond our understanding.

Job 37:6 For to the snow he says, ‘Fall to earth,’ and to the torrential rains, ‘Pour down.’

Job 37:7 He causes everyone to stop working, so that all people may know his work.

Job 37:8 The wild animals go to their lairs, and in their dens they remain.

Job 37:9 A tempest blows out from its chamber, icy cold from the driving winds.

Job 37:10 The breath of God produces ice, and the breadth of the waters freeze solid.

Job 37:11 He loads the clouds with moisture; he scatters his lightning through the clouds.

Job 37:12 The clouds go round in circles, wheeling about according to his plans, to carry out all that he commands them over the face of the whole inhabited world.

Job 37:13 Whether it is for punishment for his land, or whether it is for mercy, he causes it to find its mark.

Job 37:14 “Pay attention to this, Job! Stand still and consider the wonders God works.

Job 37:15 Do you know how God commands them, how he makes lightning flash in his storm cloud?

Job 37:16 Do you know about the balancing of the clouds, that wondrous activity of him who is perfect in knowledge?

Job 37:17 You, whose garments are hot when the earth is still because of the south wind, Job 37:18 will you, with him, spread out the clouds, solid as a mirror of molten metal?

Job 37:19 Tell us what we should say to him. We cannot prepare a case because of the darkness.

Job 37:20 Should he be informed that I want to speak? If a man speaks, surely he would be swallowed up!

Job 37:21 But now, the sun cannot be looked at– it is bright in the skies– after a wind passed and swept the clouds away.

Job 37:22 From the north he comes in golden splendor; around God is awesome majesty.

Job 37:23 As for the Almighty, we cannot attain to him! He is great in power, but justice and abundant righteousness he does not oppress.

Job 37:24 Therefore people fear him, for he does not regard all the wise in heart.” VI. The Divine Speeches

Job 38:1 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind:

Job 38:2 “Who is this who darkens counsel with words without knowledge?

Job 38:3 Get ready for a difficult task like a man; I will question you and you will inform me!

Job 38:4 “Where were you when I laid the foundation of the earth? Tell me, if you possess understanding!

Job 38:5 Who set its measurements– if you know– or who stretched a measuring line across it?

Job 38:6 On what were its bases set, or who laid its cornerstone–

Job 38:7 when the morning stars sang in chorus, and all the sons of God shouted for joy?

Job 38:8 “Who shut up the sea with doors when it burst forth, coming out of the womb,

Job 38:9 when I made the storm clouds its garment, and thick darkness its swaddling band,

Job 38:10 when I prescribed its limits, and set in place its bolts and doors,

Job 38:11 when I said, ‘To here you may come and no farther, here your proud waves will be confined’?

Job 38:12 Have you ever in your life commanded the morning, or made the dawn know its place,

Job 38:13 that it might seize the corners of the earth, and shake the wicked out of it?

Job 38:14 The earth takes shape like clay under a seal; its features are dyed like a garment.

Job 38:15 Then from the wicked the light is withheld, and the arm raised in violence is broken.

Job 38:16 Have you gone to the springs that fill the sea, or walked about in the recesses of the deep?

Job 38:17 Have the gates of death been revealed to you? Have you seen the gates of deepest darkness?

Job 38:18 Have you considered the vast expanses of the earth? Tell me, if you know it all!

Job 38:19 “In what direction does light reside, and darkness, where is its place,

Job 38:20 that you may take them to their borders and perceive the pathways to their homes?

Job 38:21 You know, for you were born before them; and the number of your days is great!

Job 38:22 Have you entered the storehouse of the snow, or seen the armory of the hail,

Job 38:23 which I reserve for the time of trouble, for the day of war and battle?

Job 38:24 In what direction is lightning dispersed, or the east winds scattered over the earth?

Job 38:25 Who carves out a channel for the heavy rains, and a path for the rumble of thunder,

Job 38:26 to cause it to rain on an uninhabited land, a desert where there are no human beings,

Job 38:27 to satisfy a devastated and desolate land, and to cause it to sprout with vegetation?

Job 38:28 Does the rain have a father, or who has fathered the drops of the dew?

Job 38:29 From whose womb does the ice emerge, and the frost from the sky, who gives birth to it,

Job 38:30 when the waters become hard like stone, when the surface of the deep is frozen solid?

Job 38:31 Can you tie the bands of the Pleiades, or release the cords of Orion?

Job 38:32 Can you lead out the constellations in their seasons, or guide the Bear with its cubs?

Job 38:33 Do you know the laws of the heavens, or can you set up their rule over the earth?

Job 38:34 Can you raise your voice to the clouds so that a flood of water covers you?

Job 38:35 Can you send out lightning bolts, and they go? Will they say to you, ‘Here we are’?

Job 38:36 Who has put wisdom in the heart, or has imparted understanding to the mind?

Job 38:37 Who by wisdom can count the clouds, and who can tip over the water jars of heaven,

Job 38:38 when the dust hardens into a mass, and the clumps of earth stick together?

Job 38:39 “Do you hunt prey for the lioness, and satisfy the appetite of the lions,

Job 38:40 when they crouch in their dens, when they wait in ambush in the thicket?

Job 38:41 Who prepares prey for the raven, when its young cry out to God and wander about for lack of food?

Job 39:1 “Are you acquainted with the way the mountain goats give birth? Do you watch as the wild deer give birth to their young?

Job 39:2 Do you count the months they must fulfill, and do you know the time they give birth?

Job 39:3 They crouch, they bear their young, they bring forth the offspring they have carried.

Job 39:4 Their young grow strong, and grow up in the open; they go off, and do not return to them.

Job 39:5 Who let the wild donkey go free? Who released the bonds of the donkey,

Job 39:6 to whom I appointed the steppe for its home, the salt wastes as its dwelling place?

Job 39:7 It scorns the tumult in the town; it does not hear the shouts of a driver.

Job 39:8 It ranges the hills as its pasture, and searches after every green plant.

Job 39:9 Is the wild ox willing to be your servant? Will it spend the night at your feeding trough?

Job 39:10 Can you bind the wild ox to a furrow with its rope, will it till the valleys, following after you?

Job 39:11 Will you rely on it because its strength is great? Will you commit your labor to it?

Job 39:12 Can you count on it to bring in your grain, and gather the grain to your threshing floor?

Job 39:13 “The wings of the ostrich flap with joy, but are they the pinions and plumage of a stork?

Job 39:14 For she leaves her eggs on the ground, and lets them be warmed on the soil.

Job 39:15 She forgets that a foot might crush them, or that a wild animal might trample them.

Job 39:16 She is harsh with her young, as if they were not hers; she is unconcerned about the uselessness of her labor.

Job 39:17 For God deprived her of wisdom, and did not impart understanding to her.

Job 39:18 But as soon as she springs up, she laughs at the horse and its rider.

Job 39:19 “Do you give the horse its strength? Do you clothe its neck with a mane?

Job 39:20 Do you make it leap like a locust? Its proud neighing is terrifying!

Job 39:21 It paws the ground in the valley, exulting mightily, it goes out to meet the weapons.

Job 39:22 It laughs at fear and is not dismayed; it does not shy away from the sword.

Job 39:23 On it the quiver rattles; the lance and javelin flash.

Job 39:24 In excitement and impatience it consumes the ground; it cannot stand still when the trumpet is blown.

Job 39:25 At the sound of the trumpet, it says, ‘Aha!’ And from a distance it catches the scent of battle, the thunderous shouting of commanders, and the battle cries.

Job 39:26 “Is it by your understanding that the hawk soars, and spreads its wings toward the south?

Job 39:27 Is it at your command that the eagle soars, and builds its nest on high?

Job 39:28 It lives on a rock and spends the night there, on a rocky crag and a fortress.

Job 39:29 From there it spots its prey, its eyes gaze intently from a distance.

Job 39:30 And its young ones devour the blood, and where the dead carcasses are, there it is.”

Job 40:1 Then the LORD answered Job:

Job 40:2 “Will the one who contends with the Almighty correct him? Let the person who accuses God give him an answer!”

Job 40:3 Then Job answered the LORD:

Job 40:4 “Indeed, I am completely unworthy– how could I reply to you? I put my hand over my mouth to silence myself.

Job 40:5 I have spoken once, but I cannot answer; twice, but I will say no more.”

Job 40:6 Then the LORD answered Job from the whirlwind:

Job 40:7 “Get ready for a difficult task like a man. I will question you and you will inform me!

Job 40:8 Would you indeed annul my justice? Would you declare me guilty so that you might be right?

Job 40:9 Do you have an arm as powerful as God’s, and can you thunder with a voice like his?

Job 40:10 Adorn yourself, then, with majesty and excellency, and clothe yourself with glory and honor!

Job 40:11 Scatter abroad the abundance of your anger. Look at every proud man and bring him low;

Job 40:12 Look at every proud man and abase him; crush the wicked on the spot!

Job 40:13 Hide them in the dust together, imprison them in the grave.

Job 40:14 Then I myself will acknowledge to you that your own right hand can save you.

Job 40:15 “Look now at Behemoth, which I made as I made you; it eats grass like the ox.

Job 40:16 Look at its strength in its loins, and its power in the muscles of its belly.

Job 40:17 It makes its tail stiff like a cedar, the sinews of its thighs are tightly wound.

Job 40:18 Its bones are tubes of bronze, its limbs like bars of iron.

Job 40:19 It ranks first among the works of God, the One who made it has furnished it with a sword.

Job 40:20 For the hills bring it food, where all the wild animals play.

Job 40:21 Under the lotus trees it lies, in the secrecy of the reeds and the marsh.

Job 40:22 The lotus trees conceal it in their shadow; the poplars by the stream conceal it.

Job 40:23 If the river rages, it is not disturbed, it is secure, though the Jordan should surge up to its mouth.

Job 40:24 Can anyone catch it by its eyes, or pierce its nose with a snare?

Job 41:1 “Can you pull in Leviathan with a hook, and tie down its tongue with a rope?

Job 41:2 Can you put a cord through its nose, or pierce its jaw with a hook?

Job 41:3 Will it make numerous supplications to you, will it speak to you with tender words?

Job 41:4 Will it make a pact with you, so you could take it as your slave for life?

Job 41:5 Can you play with it, like a bird, or tie it on a leash for your girls?

Job 41:6 Will partners bargain for it? Will they divide it up among the merchants?

Job 41:7 Can you fill its hide with harpoons or its head with fishing spears?

Job 41:8 If you lay your hand on it, you will remember the fight, and you will never do it again!

Job 41:9 See, his expectation is wrong, he is laid low even at the sight of it.

Job 41:10 Is it not fierce when it is awakened? Who is he, then, who can stand before it?

Job 41:11 (Who has confronted me that I should repay? Everything under heaven belongs to me!)

Job 41:12 I will not keep silent about its limbs, and the extent of its might, and the grace of its arrangement.

Job 41:13 Who can uncover its outer covering? Who can penetrate to the inside of its armor?

Job 41:14 Who can open the doors of its mouth? Its teeth all around are fearsome.

Job 41:15 Its back has rows of shields, shut up closely together as with a seal;

Job 41:16 each one is so close to the next that no air can come between them.

Job 41:17 They lock tightly together, one to the next; they cling together and cannot be separated.

Job 41:18 Its snorting throws out flashes of light; its eyes are like the red glow of dawn.

Job 41:19 Out of its mouth go flames, sparks of fire shoot forth!

Job 41:20 Smoke streams from its nostrils as from a boiling pot over burning rushes.

Job 41:21 Its breath sets coals ablaze and a flame shoots from its mouth.

Job 41:22 Strength lodges in its neck, and despair runs before it.

Job 41:23 The folds of its flesh are tightly joined; they are firm on it, immovable.

Job 41:24 Its heart is hard as rock, hard as a lower millstone.

Job 41:25 When it rises up, the mighty are terrified, at its thrashing about they withdraw.

Job 41:26 Whoever strikes it with a sword will have no effect, nor with the spear, arrow, or dart.

Job 41:27 It regards iron as straw and bronze as rotten wood.

Job 41:28 Arrows do not make it flee; slingstones become like chaff to it.

Job 41:29 A club is counted as a piece of straw; it laughs at the rattling of the lance.

Job 41:30 Its underparts are the sharp points of potsherds, it leaves its mark in the mud like a threshing sledge.

Job 41:31 It makes the deep boil like a cauldron and stirs up the sea like a pot of ointment,

Job 41:32 It leaves a glistening wake behind it; one would think the deep had a head of white hair.

Job 41:33 The likes of it is not on earth, a creature without fear.

Job 41:34 It looks on every haughty being; it is king over all that are proud."

Job 42:1 Then Job answered the LORD:

Job 42:2 "I know that you can do all things; no purpose of yours can be thwarted;

Job 42:3 you asked, 'Who is this who darkens counsel without knowledge?' But I have declared without understanding things too wonderful for me to know.

Job 42:4 You said, 'Pay attention, and I will speak; I will question you, and you will answer me.'

Job 42:5 I had heard of you by the hearing of the ear, but now my eye has seen you.

Job 42:6 Therefore I despise myself, and I repent in dust and ashes!

VII. The Epilogue

Job 42:7 After the LORD had spoken these things to Job, he said to Eliphaz the Temanite, "My anger is stirred up against you and your two friends, because you have not spoken about me what is right, as my servant Job has.

Job 42:8 So now take seven bulls and seven rams and go to my servant Job and offer a burnt offering for yourselves. And my servant Job will intercede for you, and I will respect him, so that I do not deal with you according to your folly, because you have not spoken about me what is right, as my servant Job has."

Job 42:9 So they went, Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, and did just as the LORD had told them; and the LORD had respect for Job.

Job 42:10 So the LORD restored what Job had lost after he prayed for his friends, and the LORD doubled all that had belonged to Job.

Job 42:11 So they came to him, all his brothers and sisters and all who had known him before, and they dined with him in his house. They comforted him and consoled him for all the trouble the LORD had brought on him, and each one gave him a piece of silver and a gold ring.

Job 42:12 So the LORD blessed the second part of Job's life more than the first. He had 14,000 sheep, 6,000 camels, 1,000 yoke of oxen, and 1,000 female donkeys.

Job 42:13 And he also had seven sons and three daughters.

Job 42:14 The first daughter he named Jemimah, the second Keziah, and the third Keren-Happuch.

Job 42:15 Nowhere in all the land could women be found who were as beautiful as Job's daughters, and their father granted them an inheritance alongside their brothers.

Job 42:16 After this Job lived 140 years; he saw his children and their children to the fourth generation.

Job 42:17 And so Job died, old and full of days.

Psalms

1:1 How blessed is the one who does not follow the advice of the wicked, or stand in the pathway with sinners, or sit in the assembly of scoffers!

Psalms 1:2 Instead he finds pleasure in obeying the LORD's commands; he meditates on his commands day and night.

Psalms 1:3 He is like a tree planted by flowing streams; it yields its fruit at the proper time, and its leaves never fall off. He succeeds in everything he attempts.

Psalms 1:4 Not so with the wicked! Instead they are like wind-driven chaff.

Psalms 1:5 For this reason the wicked cannot withstand judgment, nor can sinners join the assembly of the godly.

Psalms 1:6 Certainly the LORD guards the way of the godly, but the way of the wicked ends in destruction.

Psalms 2:1 Why do the nations rebel? Why are the countries devising plots that will fail?

Psalms 2:2 The kings of the earth form a united front; the rulers collaborate against the LORD and his anointed king.

Psalms 2:3 They say, “Let's tear off the shackles they've put on us! Let's free ourselves from their ropes!”

Psalms 2:4 The one enthroned in heaven laughs in disgust; the Lord taunts them.

Psalms 2:5 Then he angrily speaks to them and terrifies them in his rage, saying,

Psalms 2:6 “I myself have installed my king on Zion, my holy hill.”

Psalms 2:7 The king says, “I will announce the LORD’S decree. He said to me: ‘You are my son! This very day I have become your father!

Psalms 2:8 Ask me, and I will give you the nations as your inheritance, the ends of the earth as your personal property.

Psalms 2:9 You will break them with an iron scepter; you will smash them like a potter’s jar!’“

Psalms 2:10 So now, you kings, do what is wise; you rulers of the earth, submit to correction!

Psalms 2:11 Serve the LORD in fear! Repent in terror!

Psalms 2:12 Give sincere homage! Otherwise he will be angry, and you will die because of your behavior, when his anger quickly ignites. How blessed are all who take shelter in him!

Psalms 3:1 [A psalm of David, written when he fled from his son Absalom.] LORD, how numerous are my enemies! Many attack me.

Psalms 3:2 Many say about me, “God will not deliver him.” (Selah)

Psalms 3:3 But you, LORD, are a shield that protects me; you are my glory and the one who restores me.

Psalms 3:4 To the LORD I cried out, and he answered me from his holy hill. (Selah)

Psalms 3:5 I rested and slept; I awoke, for the LORD protects me.

Psalms 3:6 I am not afraid of the multitude of people who attack me from all directions.

Psalms 3:7 Rise up, LORD! Deliver me, my God! Yes, you will strike all my enemies on the jaw; you will break the teeth of the wicked.

Psalms 3:8 The LORD delivers; you show favor to your people. (Selah)

Psalms 4:1 [For the music director, to be accompanied by stringed instruments; a psalm of David.] When I call out, answer me, O God who vindicates me! Though I am hemmed in, you will lead me into a wide, open place. Have mercy on me and respond to my prayer!

Psalms 4:2 You men, how long will you try to turn my honor into shame? How long will you love what is worthless and search for what is deceptive? (Selah)

Psalms 4:3 Realize that the LORD shows the godly special favor; the LORD responds when I cry out to him.

Psalms 4:4 Tremble with fear and do not sin! Meditate as you lie in bed, and repent of your ways! (Selah)

Psalms 4:5 Offer the prescribed sacrifices and trust in the LORD!

Psalms 4:6 Many say, “Who can show us anything good?” Smile upon us, LORD!

Psalms 4:7 You make me happier than those who have abundant grain and wine.

Psalms 4:8 I will lie down and sleep peacefully, for you, LORD, make me safe and secure.

Psalms 5:1 [For the music director, to be accompanied by wind instruments; a psalm of David.] Listen to what I say, LORD! Carefully consider my complaint!

Psalms 5:2 Pay attention to my cry for help, my king and my God, for I am praying to you!

Psalms 5:3 LORD, in the morning you will hear me; in the morning I will present my case to you and then wait expectantly for an answer.

Psalms 5:4 Certainly you are not a God who approves of evil; evil people cannot dwell with you.

Psalms 5:5 Arrogant people cannot stand in your presence; you hate all who behave wickedly.

Psalms 5:6 You destroy liars; the LORD despises violent and deceitful people.

Psalms 5:7 But as for me, because of your great faithfulness I will enter your house; I will bow down toward your holy temple as I worship you.

Psalms 5:8 LORD, lead me in your righteousness because of those who wait to ambush me, remove the obstacles in the way in which you are guiding me!

Psalms 5:9 For they do not speak the truth; their stomachs are like the place of destruction, their throats like an open grave, their tongues like a steep slope leading into it.

Psalms 5:10 Condemn them, O God! May their own schemes be their downfall! Drive them away because of their many acts of insurrection, for they have rebelled against you.

Psalms 5:11 But may all who take shelter in you be happy! May they continually shout for joy! Shelter them so that those who are loyal to you may rejoice!

Psalms 5:12 Certainly you reward the godly, LORD. Like a shield you protect them in your good favor.

Psalms 6:1 [For the music director, to be accompanied by stringed instruments, according to the sheminith style; a psalm of David.] LORD, do not rebuke me in your anger! Do not discipline me in your raging fury!

Psalms 6:2 Have mercy on me, LORD, for I am frail! Heal me, LORD, for my bones are shaking!

Psalms 6:3 I am absolutely terrified, and you, LORD– how long will this continue?

Psalms 6:4 Relent, LORD, rescue me! Deliver me because of your faithfulness!

Psalms 6:5 For no one remembers you in the realm of death, In Sheol who gives you thanks?

Psalms 6:6 I am exhausted as I groan; all night long I drench my bed in tears; my tears saturate the cushion beneath me.

Psalms 6:7 My eyes grow dim from suffering; they grow weak because of all my enemies.

Psalms 6:8 Turn back from me, all you who behave wickedly, for the LORD has heard the sound of my weeping!

Psalms 6:9 The LORD has heard my appeal for mercy; the LORD has accepted my prayer.

Psalms 6:10 May all my enemies be humiliated and absolutely terrified! May they turn back and be suddenly humiliated!

Psalms 7:1 [A musical composition by David, which he sang to the LORD concerning a Benjaminite named Cush.] O LORD my God, in you I have taken shelter. Deliver me from all who chase me! Rescue me!

Psalms 7:2 Otherwise they will rip me to shreds like a lion; they will tear me to bits and no one will be able to rescue me.

Psalms 7:3 O LORD my God, if I have done what they say, or am guilty of unjust actions,

Psalms 7:4 or have wronged my ally, or helped his lawless enemy,

Psalms 7:5 may an enemy relentlessly chase me and catch me; may he trample me to death and leave me lying dishonored in the dust. (Selah)

Psalms 7:6 Stand up angrily, LORD! Rise up with raging fury against my enemies! Wake up for my sake and execute the judgment you have decreed for them!

Psalms 7:7 The countries are assembled all around you; take once more your rightful place over them!

Psalms 7:8 The LORD judges the nations. Vindicate me, LORD, because I am innocent, because I am blameless, O Exalted One!

Psalms 7:9 May the evil deeds of the wicked come to an end! But make the innocent secure, O righteous God, you who examine inner thoughts and motives!

Psalms 7:10 The Exalted God is my shield, the one who delivers the morally upright.

Psalms 7:11 God is a just judge; he is angry throughout the day.

Psalms 7:12 If a person does not repent, God sharpens his sword and prepares to shoot his bow.

Psalms 7:13 He prepares to use deadly weapons against him; he gets ready to shoot flaming arrows.

Psalms 7:14 See the one who is pregnant with wickedness, who conceives destructive plans, and gives birth to harmful lies–

Psalms 7:15 he digs a pit and then falls into the hole he has made.

Psalms 7:16 He becomes the victim of his own destructive plans and the violence he intended for others falls on his own head.

Psalms 7:17 I will thank the LORD for his justice; I will sing praises to the sovereign LORD!

Psalms 8:1 [For the music director, according to the gittith style; a psalm of David.] O LORD, our Lord, how magnificent is your reputation throughout the earth! You reveal your majesty in the heavens above!

Psalms 8:2 From the mouths of children and nursing babies you have ordained praise on account of your adversaries, so that you might put an end to the vindictive enemy.

Psalms 8:3 When I look up at the heavens, which your fingers made, and see the moon and the stars, which you set in place,

Psalms 8:4 Of what importance is the human race, that you should notice them? Of what importance is mankind, that you should pay attention to them,

Psalms 8:5 and make them a little less than the heavenly beings? You grant mankind honor and majesty;

Psalms 8:6 you appoint them to rule over your creation; you have placed everything under their authority,

Psalms 8:7 including all the sheep and cattle, as well as the wild animals,

Psalms 8:8 the birds in the sky, the fish in the sea and everything that moves through the currents of the seas.

Psalms 8:9 O LORD, our Lord, how magnificent is your reputation throughout the earth!

Psalms 9:1 [For the music director; according to the alumoth-labben style; a psalm of David.] I will thank the LORD with all my heart! I will tell about all your amazing deeds!

Psalms 9:2 I will be happy and rejoice in you! I will sing praises to you, O sovereign One!

Psalms 9:3 When my enemies turn back, they trip and are defeated before you.

Psalms 9:4 For you defended my just cause; from your throne you pronounced a just decision.

Psalms 9:5 You terrified the nations with your battle cry; you destroyed the wicked; you permanently wiped out all memory of them.

Psalms 9:6 The enemy’s cities have been reduced to permanent ruins; you destroyed their cities; all memory of the enemies has perished.

Psalms 9:7 But the LORD rules forever; he reigns in a just manner.

Psalms 9:8 He judges the world fairly; he makes just legal decisions for the nations.

Psalms 9:9 Consequently the LORD provides safety for the oppressed; he provides safety in times of trouble.

Psalms 9:10 Your loyal followers trust in you, for you, LORD, do not abandon those who seek your help.

Psalms 9:11 Sing praises to the LORD, who rules in Zion! Tell the nations what he has done!

Psalms 9:12 For the one who takes revenge against murderers took notice of the oppressed; he did not overlook their cry for help

Psalms 9:13 when they prayed: “Have mercy on me, LORD! See how I am oppressed by those who hate me, O one who can snatch me away from the gates of death!

Psalms 9:14 Then I will tell about all your praiseworthy acts; in the gates of Daughter Zion I will rejoice because of your deliverance.”

Psalms 9:15 The nations fell into the pit they had made; their feet were caught in the net they had hidden.

Psalms 9:16 The LORD revealed himself; he accomplished justice; the wicked were ensnared by their own actions. (Higgaion. Selah)

Psalms 9:17 The wicked are turned back and sent to Sheol; this is the destiny of all the nations that ignore God,

Psalms 9:18 for the needy are not permanently ignored, the hopes of the oppressed are not forever dashed.

Psalms 9:19 Rise up, LORD! Don’t let men be defiant! May the nations be judged in your presence!

Psalms 9:20 Terrify them, LORD! Let the nations know they are mere mortals! (Selah)

Psalms 10:1 Why, LORD, do you stand far off? Why do you pay no attention during times of trouble?

Psalms 10:2 The wicked arrogantly chase the oppressed; the oppressed are trapped by the schemes the wicked have dreamed up.

Psalms 10:3 Yes, the wicked man boasts because he gets what he wants; the one who robs others curses and rejects the LORD.

Psalms 10:4 The wicked man is so arrogant he always thinks, “God won’t hold me accountable; he doesn’t care.”

Psalms 10:5 He is secure at all times. He has no regard for your commands; he disdains all his enemies.

Psalms 10:6 He says to himself, “I will never be upended, because I experience no calamity.”

Psalms 10:7 His mouth is full of curses and deceptive, harmful words; his tongue injures and destroys.

Psalms 10:8 He waits in ambush near the villages; in hidden places he kills the innocent. His eyes look for some unfortunate victim.

Psalms 10:9 He lies in ambush in a hidden place, like a lion in a thicket; he lies in ambush, waiting to catch the oppressed; he catches the oppressed by pulling in his net.

Psalms 10:10 His victims are crushed and beaten down; they are trapped in his sturdy nets.

Psalms 10:11 He says to himself, “God overlooks it; he does not pay attention; he never notices.”

Psalms 10:12 Rise up, LORD! O God, strike him down! Do not forget the oppressed!

Psalms 10:13 Why does the wicked man reject God? He says to himself, “You will not hold me accountable.”

Psalms 10:14 You have taken notice, for you always see one who inflicts pain and suffering. The unfortunate victim entrusts his cause to you; you deliver the fatherless.

Psalms 10:15 Break the arm of the wicked and evil man! Hold him accountable for his wicked deeds, which he thought you would not discover.

Psalms 10:16 The LORD rules forever! The nations are driven out of his land.

Psalms 10:17 LORD, you have heard the request of the oppressed; you make them feel secure because you listen to their prayer.

Psalms 10:18 You defend the fatherless and oppressed, so that mere mortals may no longer terrorize them.

Psalms 11:1 [For the music director; by David.] In the LORD I have taken shelter. How can you say to me, “Flee to a mountain like a bird!

Psalms 11:2 For look, the wicked prepare their bows, they put their arrows on the strings, to shoot in the darkness at the morally upright.

Psalms 11:3 When the foundations are destroyed, what can the godly accomplish?”

Psalms 11:4 The LORD is in his holy temple; the LORD’s throne is in heaven. His eyes watch; his eyes examine all people.

Psalms 11:5 The LORD approves of the godly, but he hates the wicked and those who love to do violence.

Psalms 11:6 May the LORD rain down burning coals and brimstone on the wicked! A whirlwind is what they deserve!

Psalms 11:7 Certainly the LORD is just; he rewards godly deeds; the upright will experience his favor.

Psalms 12:1 [For the music director; according to the sheminith style; a psalm of David.] Deliver, LORD! For the godly have disappeared; people of integrity have vanished.

Psalms 12:2 People lie to one another; they flatter and deceive.

Psalms 12:3 May the LORD cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that boasts!

Psalms 12:4 They say, “We speak persuasively; we know how to flatter and boast. Who is our master?”

Psalms 12:5 “Because of the violence done to the oppressed, because of the painful cries of the needy, I will spring into action,” says the LORD. “I will provide the safety they so desperately desire.”

Psalms 12:6 The LORD’s words are absolutely reliable. They are as untainted as silver purified in a furnace on the ground, where it is thoroughly refined.

Psalms 12:7 You, LORD, will protect them; you will continually shelter each one from these evil people,

Psalms 12:8 for the wicked seem to be everywhere, when people promote evil.

Psalms 13:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David.] How long, LORD, will you continue to ignore me? How long will you pay no attention to me?

Psalms 13:2 How long must I worry, and suffer in broad daylight? How long will my enemy gloat over me?

Psalms 13:3 Look at me! Answer me, O LORD my God! Revive me, or else I will die!

Psalms 13:4 Then my enemy will say, “I have defeated him!” Then my foes will rejoice because I am upended.

Psalms 13:5 But I trust in your faithfulness. May I rejoice because of your deliverance!

Psalms 13:6 I will sing praises to the LORD when he vindicates me.

Psalms 14:1 [For the music director; by David.] Fools say to themselves, “There is no God.” They sin and commit evil deeds; none of them does what is right.

Psalms 14:2 The LORD looks down from heaven at the human race, to see if there is anyone who is wise and seeks God.

Psalms 14:3 Everyone rejects God; they are all morally corrupt. None of them does what is right, not even one!

Psalms 14:4 All those who behave wickedly do not understand–those who devour my people as if they were eating bread, and do not call out to the LORD.

Psalms 14:5 They are absolutely terrified, for God defends the godly.

Psalms 14:6 You want to humiliate the oppressed, even though the LORD is their shelter.

Psalms 14:7 I wish the deliverance of Israel would come from Zion! When the LORD restores the well-being of his people, may Jacob rejoice, may Israel be happy!

Psalms 15:1 [A psalm of David.] LORD, who may be a guest in your home? Who may live on your holy hill?

Psalms 15:2 Whoever lives a blameless life, does what is right, and speaks honestly.

Psalms 15:3 He does not slander, or do harm to others, or insult his neighbor.

Psalms 15:4 He despises a reprobate, but honors the LORD's loyal followers. He makes firm commitments and does not renege on his promise.

Psalms 15:5 He does not charge interest when he lends his money. He does not take bribes to testify against the innocent. The one who lives like this will never be upended.

Psalms 16:1 [A prayer of David.] Protect me, O God, for I have taken shelter in you.

Psalms 16:2 I say to the LORD, "You are the Lord, my only source of well-being."

Psalms 16:3 As for God's chosen people who are in the land, and the leading officials I admired so much–

Psalms 16:4 their troubles multiply, they desire other gods. I will not pour out drink offerings of blood to their gods, nor will I make vows in the name of their gods.

Psalms 16:5 LORD, you give me stability and prosperity; you make my future secure.

Psalms 16:6 It is as if I have been given fertile fields or received a beautiful tract of land.

Psalms 16:7 I will praise the LORD who guides me; yes, during the night I reflect and learn.

Psalms 16:8 I constantly trust in the LORD; because he is at my right hand, I will not be upended.

Psalms 16:9 So my heart rejoices and I am happy; My life is safe.

Psalms 16:10 You will not abandon me to Sheol; you will not allow your faithful follower to see the Pit.

Psalms 16:11 You lead me in the path of life; I experience absolute joy in your presence; you always give me sheer delight.

Psalms 17:1 [A prayer of David.] LORD, consider my just cause! Pay attention to my cry for help! Listen to the prayer I sincerely offer!

Psalms 17:2 Make a just decision on my behalf! Decide what is right!

Psalms 17:3 You have scrutinized my inner motives; you have examined me during the night. You have carefully evaluated me, but you find no sin. I am determined I will say nothing sinful.

Psalms 17:4 As for the actions of people– just as you have commanded, I have not followed in the footsteps of violent men.

Psalms 17:5 I carefully obey your commands; I do not deviate from them.

Psalms 17:6 I call to you for you will answer me, O God. Listen to me! Hear what I say!

Psalms 17:7 Accomplish awesome, faithful deeds, you who powerfully deliver those who look to you for protection from their enemies.

Psalms 17:8 Protect me as you would protect the pupil of your eye! Hide me in the shadow of your wings!

Psalms 17:9 Protect me from the wicked men who attack me, my enemies who crowd around me for the kill.

Psalms 17:10 They are calloused; they speak arrogantly.

Psalms 17:11 They attack me, now they surround me; they intend to throw me to the ground.

Psalms 17:12 He is like a lion that wants to tear its prey to bits, like a young lion crouching in hidden places.

Psalms 17:13 Rise up, LORD! Confront him! Knock him down! Use your sword to rescue me from the wicked man!

Psalms 17:14 LORD, use your power to deliver me from these murderers, from the murderers of this world! They enjoy prosperity; you overwhelm them with the riches they desire. They have many children, and leave their wealth to their offspring.

Psalms 17:15 As for me, because I am innocent I will see your face; when I awake you will reveal yourself to me.

Psalms 18:1 [For the music director; by the LORD's servant David, who sang to the LORD the words of this song when the LORD rescued him from the power of all his enemies, including Saul.] He said: "I love you, LORD, my source of strength!

Psalms 18:2 The LORD is my high ridge, my stronghold, my deliverer. My God is my rocky summit where I take shelter, my shield, the horn that saves me, and my refuge.

Psalms 18:3 I called to the LORD, who is worthy of praise, and I was delivered from my enemies.

Psalms 18:4 The waves of death engulfed me, the currents of chaos overwhelmed me.

Psalms 18:5 The ropes of Sheol tightened around me, the snares of death trapped me.

Psalms 18:6 In my distress I called to the LORD; I cried out to my God. From his heavenly temple he heard my voice; he listened to my cry for help.

Psalms 18:7 The earth heaved and shook; the roots of the mountains trembled; they heaved because he was angry.

Psalms 18:8 Smoke ascended from his nose; fire devoured as it came from his mouth; he hurled down fiery coals.

Psalms 18:9 He made the sky sink as he descended; a thick cloud was under his feet.

Psalms 18:10 He mounted a winged angel and flew; he glided on the wings of the wind.

Psalms 18:11 He shrouded himself in darkness, in thick rain clouds.

Psalms 18:12 From the brightness in front of him came hail and fiery coals.

Psalms 18:13 The LORD thundered in the sky; the sovereign One shouted.

Psalms 18:14 He shot his arrows and scattered them, many lightning bolts and routed them.

Psalms 18:15 The depths of the sea were exposed; the inner regions of the world were uncovered by your battle cry, LORD, by the powerful breath from your nose.

Psalms 18:16 He reached down from above and took hold of me; he pulled me from the surging water.

Psalms 18:17 He rescued me from my strong enemy, from those who hate me, for they were too strong for me.

Psalms 18:18 They confronted me in my day of calamity, but the LORD helped me.

Psalms 18:19 He brought me out into a wide open place; he delivered me because he was pleased with me.

Psalms 18:20 The LORD repaid me for my godly deeds; he rewarded my blameless behavior.

Psalms 18:21 For I have obeyed the LORD’s commands; I have not rebelled against my God.

Psalms 18:22 For I am aware of all his regulations, and I do not reject his rules.

Psalms 18:23 I was innocent before him, and kept myself from sinning.

Psalms 18:24 The LORD rewarded me for my godly deeds; he took notice of my blameless behavior.

Psalms 18:25 You prove to be loyal to one who is faithful; you prove to be trustworthy to one who is innocent.

Psalms 18:26 You prove to be reliable to one who is blameless, but you prove to be deceptive to one who is perverse.

Psalms 18:27 For you deliver oppressed people, but you bring down those who have a proud look.

Psalms 18:28 Indeed, you are my lamp, LORD. My God illuminates the darkness around me.

Psalms 18:29 Indeed, with your help I can charge against an army; by my God's power I can jump over a wall.

Psalms 18:30 The one true God acts in a faithful manner; the LORD's promise is reliable; he is a shield to all who take shelter in him.

Psalms 18:31 Indeed, who is God besides the LORD? Who is a protector besides our God?

Psalms 18:32 The one true God gives me strength; he removes the obstacles in my way.

Psalms 18:33 He gives me the agility of a deer; he enables me to negotiate the rugged terrain.

Psalms 18:34 He trains my hands for battle; my arms can bend even the strongest bow.

Psalms 18:35 You give me your protective shield; your right hand supports me; your willingness to help enables me to prevail.

Psalms 18:36 You widen my path; my feet do not slip.

Psalms 18:37 I chase my enemies and catch them; I do not turn back until I wipe them out.

Psalms 18:38 I beat them to death; they fall at my feet.

Psalms 18:39 You give me strength for battle; you make my foes kneel before me.

Psalms 18:40 You make my enemies retreat; I destroy those who hate me.

Psalms 18:41 They cry out, but there is no one to help them; they cry out to the LORD, but he does not answer them.

Psalms 18:42 I grind them as fine windblown dust; I beat them underfoot like clay in the streets.

Psalms 18:43 You rescue me from a hostile army; you make me a leader of nations; people over whom I had no authority are now my subjects.

Psalms 18:44 When they hear of my exploits, they submit to me. Foreigners are powerless before me;

Psalms 18:45 foreigners lose their courage; they shake with fear as they leave their strongholds.

Psalms 18:46 The LORD is alive! My protector is praiseworthy! The God who delivers me is exalted as king!

Psalms 18:47 The one true God completely vindicates me; he makes nations submit to me.

Psalms 18:48 He delivers me from my enemies; you snatch me away from those who attack me; you rescue me from violent men.

Psalms 18:49 So I will give you thanks before the nations, O LORD! I will sing praises to you!

Psalms 18:50 He gives his chosen king magnificent victories; he is faithful to his chosen ruler, to David and his descendants forever.”

Psalms 19:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David.] The heavens declare the glory of God; the sky displays his handiwork.

Psalms 19:2 Day after day it speaks out; night after night it reveals his greatness.

Psalms 19:3 There is no actual speech or word, nor is its voice literally heard.

Psalms 19:4 Yet its voice echoes throughout the earth; its words carry to the distant horizon. In the sky he has pitched a tent for the sun.

Psalms 19:5 Like a bridegroom it emerges from its chamber; like a strong man it enjoys running its course.

Psalms 19:6 It emerges from the distant horizon, and goes from one end of the sky to the other; nothing can escape its heat.

Psalms 19:7 The law of the LORD is perfect and preserves one’s life. The rules set down by the LORD are reliable and impart wisdom to the inexperienced.

Psalms 19:8 The LORD’s precepts are fair and make one joyful. The LORD’s commands are pure and give insight for life.

Psalms 19:9 The commands to fear the LORD are right and endure forever. The judgments given by the LORD are trustworthy and absolutely just.

Psalms 19:10 They are of greater value than gold, than even a great amount of pure gold; they bring greater delight than honey, than even the sweetest honey from a honeycomb.

Psalms 19:11 Yes, your servant finds moral guidance there; those who obey them receive a rich reward.

Psalms 19:12 Who can know all his errors? Please do not punish me for sins I am unaware of.

Psalms 19:13 Moreover, keep me from committing flagrant sins; do not allow such sins to control me. Then I will be blameless, and innocent of blatant rebellion.

Psalms 19:14 May my words and my thoughts be acceptable in your sight, O LORD, my sheltering rock and my redeemer.

Psalms 20:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David.] May the LORD answer you when you are in trouble; may the God of Jacob make you secure!

Psalms 20:2 May he send you help from his temple; from Zion may he give you support!

Psalms 20:3 May he take notice of your offerings; may he accept your burnt sacrifice! (Selah)

Psalms 20:4 May he grant your heart's desire; may he bring all your plans to pass!

Psalms 20:5 Then we will shout for joy over your victory; we will rejoice in the name of our God! May the LORD grant all your requests!

Psalms 20:6 Now I am sure that the LORD will deliver his chosen king; he will intervene for him from his holy heavenly temple, and display his mighty ability to deliver.

Psalms 20:7 Some trust in chariots and others in horses, but we depend on the LORD our God.

Psalms 20:8 They will fall down, but we will stand firm.

Psalms 20:9 The LORD will deliver the king; he will answer us when we call to him for help!

Psalms 21:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David.] O LORD, the king rejoices in the strength you give; he takes great delight in the deliverance you provide.

Psalms 21:2 You grant him his heart's desire; you do not refuse his request. (Selah)

Psalms 21:3 For you bring him rich blessings; you place a golden crown on his head.

Psalms 21:4 He asked you to sustain his life, and you have granted him long life and an enduring dynasty.

Psalms 21:5 Your deliverance brings him great honor; you give him majestic splendor.

Psalms 21:6 For you grant him lasting blessings; you give him great joy by allowing him into your presence.

Psalms 21:7 For the king trusts in the LORD, and because of the sovereign LORD's faithfulness he is not upended.

Psalms 21:8 You prevail over all your enemies; your power is too great for those who hate you.

Psalms 21:9 You burn them up like a fiery furnace when you appear; the LORD angrily devours them; the fire consumes them.

Psalms 21:10 You destroy their offspring from the earth, their descendants from among the human race.

Psalms 21:11 Yes, they intend to do you harm; they dream up a scheme, but they do not succeed.

Psalms 21:12 For you make them retreat when you shoot your arrows at them.

Psalms 21:13 Rise up, O LORD, in strength! We will sing and praise your power!

Psalms 22:1 [For the music director; according to the tune "Morning Doe;" a psalm of David.] My God, my God, why have you abandoned me? I groan in prayer, but help seems far away.

Psalms 22:2 My God, I cry out during the day, but you do not answer, and during the night my prayers do not let up.

Psalms 22:3 You are holy; you sit as king receiving the praises of Israel.

Psalms 22:4 In you our ancestors trusted; they trusted in you and you rescued them.

Psalms 22:5 To you they cried out, and they were saved; in you they trusted and they were not disappointed.

Psalms 22:6 But I am a worm, not a man; people insult me and despise me.

Psalms 22:7 All who see me taunt me; they mock me and shake their heads.

Psalms 22:8 They say, "Commit yourself to the LORD! Let the LORD rescue him! Let the LORD deliver him, for he delights in him."

Psalms 22:9 Yes, you are the one who brought me out from the womb and made me feel secure on my mother's breasts.

Psalms 22:10 I have been dependent on you since birth; from the time I came out of my mother's womb you have been my God.

Psalms 22:11 Do not remain far away from me, for trouble is near and I have no one to help me.

Psalms 22:12 Many bulls surround me; powerful bulls of Bashan hem me in.

Psalms 22:13 They open their mouths to devour me like a roaring lion that rips its prey.

Psalms 22:14 My strength drains away like water; all my bones are dislocated; my heart is like wax; it melts away inside me.

Psalms 22:15 The roof of my mouth is as dry as a piece of pottery; my tongue sticks to my gums. You set me in the dust of death.

Psalms 22:16 Yes, wild dogs surround me– a gang of evil men crowd around me; like a lion they pin my hands and feet.

Psalms 22:17 I can count all my bones; my enemies are gloating over me in triumph.

Psalms 22:18 They are dividing up my clothes among themselves; they are rolling dice for my garments.

Psalms 22:19 But you, O LORD, do not remain far away! You are my source of strength! Hurry and help me!

Psalms 22:20 Deliver me from the sword! Save my life from the claws of the wild dogs!

Psalms 22:21 Rescue me from the mouth of the lion, and from the horns of the wild oxen! You have answered me!

Psalms 22:22 I will declare your name to my countrymen! In the middle of the assembly I will praise you!

Psalms 22:23 You loyal followers of the LORD, praise him! All you descendants of Jacob, honor him! All you descendants of Israel, stand in awe of him!

Psalms 22:24 For he did not despise or detest the suffering of the oppressed; he did not ignore him; when he cried out to him, he responded.

Psalms 22:25 You are the reason I offer praise in the great assembly; I will fulfill my promises before the LORD's loyal followers.

Psalms 22:26 Let the oppressed eat and be filled! Let those who seek his help praise the LORD! May you live forever!

Psalms 22:27 Let all the people of the earth acknowledge the LORD and turn to him! Let all the nations worship you!

Psalms 22:28 For the LORD is king and rules over the nations.

Psalms 22:29 All of the thriving people of the earth will join the celebration and worship; all those who are descending into the grave will bow before him, including those who cannot preserve their lives.

Psalms 22:30 A whole generation will serve him; they will tell the next generation about the sovereign Lord.

Psalms 22:31 They will come and tell about his saving deeds; they will tell a future generation what he has accomplished.

Psalms 23:1 [A psalm of David.] The LORD is my shepherd, I lack nothing.

Psalms 23:2 He takes me to lush pastures, he leads me to refreshing water.

Psalms 23:3 He restores my strength. He leads me down the right paths for the sake of his reputation.

Psalms 23:4 Even when I must walk through the darkest valley, I fear no danger, for you are with me; your rod and your staff reassure me.

Psalms 23:5 You prepare a feast before me in plain sight of my enemies. You refresh my head with oil; my cup is completely full.

Psalms 23:6 Surely your goodness and faithfulness will pursue me all my days, and I will live in the LORD's house for the rest of my life.

Psalms 24:1 [A psalm of David.] The LORD owns the earth and all it contains, the world and all who live in it.

Psalms 24:2 For he set its foundation upon the seas, and established it upon the ocean currents.

Psalms 24:3 Who is allowed to ascend the mountain of the LORD? Who may go up to his holy dwelling place?

Psalms 24:4 The one whose deeds are blameless and whose motives are pure, who does not lie, or make promises with no intention of keeping them.

Psalms 24:5 Such godly people are rewarded by the LORD, and vindicated by the God who delivers them.

Psalms 24:6 Such purity characterizes the people who seek his favor, Jacob's descendants, who pray to him. (Selah)

Psalms 24:7 Look up, you gates! Rise up, you eternal doors! Then the majestic king will enter!

Psalms 24:8 Who is this majestic king? The LORD who is strong and mighty! The LORD who is mighty in battle!

Psalms 24:9 Look up, you gates! Rise up, you eternal doors! Then the majestic king will enter!

Psalms 24:10 Who is this majestic king? The LORD who commands armies! He is the majestic king! (Selah)

Psalms 25:1 [By David.] O LORD, I come before you in prayer.

Psalms 25:2 My God, I trust in you. Please do not let me be humiliated; do not let my enemies triumphantly rejoice over me!

Psalms 25:3 Certainly none who rely on you will be humiliated. Those who deal in treachery will be thwarted and humiliated.

Psalms 25:4 Make me understand your ways, O LORD! Teach me your paths!

Psalms 25:5 Guide me into your truth and teach me. For you are the God who delivers me; on you I rely all day long.

Psalms 25:6 Remember your compassionate and faithful deeds, O LORD, for you have always acted in this manner.

Psalms 25:7 Do not hold against me the sins of my youth or my rebellious acts! Because you are faithful to me, extend to me your favor, O LORD!

Psalms 25:8 The LORD is both kind and fair; that is why he teaches sinners the right way to live.

Psalms 25:9 May he show the humble what is right! May he teach the humble his way!

Psalms 25:10 The LORD always proves faithful and reliable to those who follow the demands of his covenant.

Psalms 25:11 For the sake of your reputation, O LORD, forgive my sin, because it is great.

Psalms 25:12 The LORD shows his faithful followers the way they should live.

Psalms 25:13 They experience his favor; their descendants inherit the land.

Psalms 25:14 The LORD's loyal followers receive his guidance, and he reveals his covenantal demands to them.

Psalms 25:15 I continually look to the LORD for help, for he will free my feet from the enemy's net.

Psalms 25:16 Turn toward me and have mercy on me, for I am alone and oppressed!

Psalms 25:17 Deliver me from my distress; rescue me from my suffering!

Psalms 25:18 See my pain and suffering! Forgive all my sins!

Psalms 25:19 Watch my enemies, for they outnumber me; they hate me and want to harm me.

Psalms 25:20 Protect me and deliver me! Please do not let me be humiliated, for I have taken shelter in you!

Psalms 25:21 May integrity and godliness protect me, for I rely on you!

Psalms 25:22 O God, rescue Israel from all their distress!

Psalms 26:1 [By David.] Vindicate me, O LORD, for I have integrity, and I trust in the LORD without wavering.

Psalms 26:2 Examine me, O LORD, and test me! Evaluate my inner thoughts and motives!

Psalms 26:3 For I am ever aware of your faithfulness, and your loyalty continually motivates me.

Psalms 26:4 I do not associate with deceitful men, or consort with those who are dishonest.

Psalms 26:5 I hate the mob of evil men, and do not associate with the wicked.

Psalms 26:6 I maintain a pure lifestyle, so I can appear before your altar, O LORD, Psalms 26:7 to give you thanks, and to tell about all your amazing deeds.

Psalms 26:8 O LORD, I love the temple where you live, the place where your splendor is revealed.

Psalms 26:9 Do not sweep me away with sinners, or execute me along with violent people,

Psalms 26:10 who are always ready to do wrong or offer a bribe.

Psalms 26:11 But I have integrity! Rescue me and have mercy on me!

Psalms 26:12 I am safe, and among the worshipers I will praise the LORD.

Psalms 27:1 [By David.] The LORD delivers and vindicates me! I fear no one! The LORD protects my life! I am afraid of no one!

Psalms 27:2 When evil men attack me to devour my flesh, when my adversaries and enemies attack me, they stumble and fall.

Psalms 27:3 Even when an army is deployed against me, I do not fear. Even when war is imminent, I remain confident.

Psalms 27:4 I have asked the LORD for one thing– this is what I desire! I want to live in the LORD’s house all the days of my life, so I can gaze at the splendor of the LORD and contemplate in his temple.

Psalms 27:5 He will surely give me shelter in the day of danger; he will hide me in his home; he will place me on an inaccessible rocky summit.

Psalms 27:6 Now I will triumph over my enemies who surround me! I will offer sacrifices in his dwelling place and shout for joy! I will sing praises to the LORD!

Psalms 27:7 Hear me, O LORD, when I cry out! Have mercy on me and answer me!

Psalms 27:8 My heart tells me to pray to you, and I do pray to you, O LORD.

Psalms 27:9 Do not reject me! Do not push your servant away in anger! You are my deliverer! Do not forsake or abandon me, O God who vindicates me!

Psalms 27:10 Even if my father and mother abandoned me, the LORD would take me in.

Psalms 27:11 Teach me how you want me to live; lead me along a level path because of those who wait to ambush me!

Psalms 27:12 Do not turn me over to my enemies, for false witnesses who want to destroy me testify against me.

Psalms 27:13 Where would I be if I did not believe I would experience the LORD’s favor in the land of the living?

Psalms 27:14 Rely on the LORD! Be strong and confident! Rely on the LORD!

Psalms 28:1 [By David.] To you, O LORD, I cry out! My protector, do not ignore me! If you do not respond to me, I will join those who are descending into the grave.

Psalms 28:2 Hear my plea for mercy when I cry out to you for help, when I lift my hands toward your holy temple!

Psalms 28:3 Do not drag me away with evil men, with those who behave wickedly, who talk so friendly to their neighbors, while they plan to harm them!

Psalms 28:4 Pay them back for their evil deeds! Pay them back for what they do! Punish them!

Psalms 28:5 For they do not understand the LORD's actions, or the way he carries out justice. The LORD will permanently demolish them.

Psalms 28:6 The LORD deserves praise, for he has heard my plea for mercy!

Psalms 28:7 The LORD strengthens and protects me; I trust in him with all my heart. I am rescued and my heart is full of joy; I will sing to him in gratitude.

Psalms 28:8 The LORD strengthens his people; he protects and delivers his chosen king.

Psalms 28:9 Deliver your people! Empower the nation that belongs to you! Care for them like a shepherd and carry them in your arms at all times!

Psalms 29:1 [A psalm of David.] Acknowledge the LORD, you heavenly beings, acknowledge the LORD's majesty and power!

Psalms 29:2 Acknowledge the majesty of the LORD's reputation! Worship the LORD in holy attire!

Psalms 29:3 The LORD's shout is heard over the water; the majestic God thunders, the LORD appears over the surging water.

Psalms 29:4 The LORD's shout is powerful, the LORD's shout is majestic.

Psalms 29:5 The LORD's shout breaks the cedars, the LORD shatters the cedars of Lebanon.

Psalms 29:6 He makes Lebanon skip like a calf and Sirion like a young ox.

Psalms 29:7 The LORD's shout strikes with flaming fire.

Psalms 29:8 The LORD's shout shakes the wilderness, the LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.

Psalms 29:9 The LORD's shout bends the large trees and strips the leaves from the forests. Everyone in his temple says, "Majestic!"

Psalms 29:10 The LORD sits enthroned over the engulfing waters, the LORD sits enthroned as the eternal king.

Psalms 29:11 The LORD gives his people strength; the LORD grants his people security.

Psalms 30:1 [A psalm– a song used at the dedication of the temple; by David.] I will praise you, O LORD, for you lifted me up, and did not allow my enemies to gloat over me.

Psalms 30:2 O LORD my God, I cried out to you and you healed me.

Psalms 30:3 O LORD, you pulled me up from Sheol; you rescued me from among those descending into the grave.

Psalms 30:4 Sing to the LORD, you faithful followers of his; give thanks to his holy name.

Psalms 30:5 For his anger lasts only a brief moment, and his good favor restores one’s life. One may experience sorrow during the night, but joy arrives in the morning.

Psalms 30:6 In my self-confidence I said, “I will never be upended.”

Psalms 30:7 O LORD, in your good favor you made me secure. Then you rejected me and I was terrified.

Psalms 30:8 To you, O LORD, I cried out; I begged the Lord for mercy:

Psalms 30:9 “What profit is there in taking my life, in my descending into the Pit? Can the dust of the grave praise you? Can it declare your loyalty?

Psalms 30:10 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy on me! O LORD, deliver me!”

Psalms 30:11 Then you turned my lament into dancing; you removed my sackcloth and covered me with joy.

Psalms 30:12 So now my heart will sing to you and not be silent; O LORD my God, I will always give thanks to you.

Psalms 31:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David.] In you, O LORD, I have taken shelter! Never let me be humiliated! Vindicate me by rescuing me!

Psalms 31:2 Listen to me! Quickly deliver me! Be my protector and refuge, a stronghold where I can be safe!

Psalms 31:3 For you are my high ridge and my stronghold; for the sake of your own reputation you lead me and guide me.

Psalms 31:4 You will free me from the net they hid for me, for you are my place of refuge.

Psalms 31:5 Into your hand I entrust my life; you will rescue me, O LORD, the faithful God.

Psalms 31:6 I hate those who serve worthless idols, but I trust in the LORD.

Psalms 31:7 I will be happy and rejoice in your faithfulness, because you notice my pain and you are aware of how distressed I am.

Psalms 31:8 You do not deliver me over to the power of the enemy; you enable me to stand in a wide open place.

Psalms 31:9 Have mercy on me, for I am in distress! My eyes grow dim from suffering. I have lost my strength.

Psalms 31:10 For my life nears its end in pain; my years draw to a close as I groan. My strength fails me because of my sin, and my bones become brittle.

Psalms 31:11 Because of all my enemies, people disdain me; my neighbors are appalled by my suffering– those who know me are horrified by my condition; those who see me in the street run away from me.

Psalms 31:12 I am forgotten, like a dead man no one thinks about; I am regarded as worthless, like a broken jar.

Psalms 31:13 For I hear what so many are saying, the terrifying news that comes from every direction. When they plot together against me, they figure out how they can take my life.

Psalms 31:14 But I trust in you, O LORD! I declare, “You are my God!”

Psalms 31:15 You determine my destiny! Rescue me from the power of my enemies and those who chase me.

Psalms 31:16 Smile on your servant! Deliver me because of your faithfulness!

Psalms 31:17 O LORD, do not let me be humiliated, for I call out to you! May evil men be humiliated! May they go wailing to the grave!

Psalms 31:18 May lying lips be silenced– lips that speak defiantly against the innocent with arrogance and contempt!

Psalms 31:19 How great is your favor, which you store up for your loyal followers! In plain sight of everyone you bestow it on those who take shelter in you.

Psalms 31:20 You hide them with you, where they are safe from the attacks of men; you conceal them in a shelter, where they are safe from slanderous attacks.

Psalms 31:21 The LORD deserves praise for he demonstrated his amazing faithfulness to me when I was besieged by enemies.

Psalms 31:22 I jumped to conclusions and said, “I am cut off from your presence!” But you heard my plea for mercy when I cried out to you for help.

Psalms 31:23 Love the LORD, all you faithful followers of his! The LORD protects those who have integrity, but he pays back in full the one who acts arrogantly.

Psalms 31:24 Be strong and confident, all you who wait on the LORD!

Psalms 32:1 [By David; a well-written song.] How blessed is the one whose rebellious acts are forgiven, whose sin is pardoned!

Psalms 32:2 How blessed is the one whose wrongdoing the LORD does not punish, in whose spirit there is no deceit.

Psalms 32:3 When I refused to confess my sin, my whole body wasted away, while I groaned in pain all day long.

Psalms 32:4 For day and night you tormented me; you tried to destroy me in the intense heat of summer. (Selah)

Psalms 32:5 Then I confessed my sin; I no longer covered up my wrongdoing. I said, “I will confess my rebellious acts to the LORD.” And then you forgave my sins. (Selah)

Psalms 32:6 For this reason every one of your faithful followers should pray to you while there is a window of opportunity. Certainly when the surging water rises, it will not reach them.

Psalms 32:7 You are my hiding place; you protect me from distress. You surround me with shouts of joy from those celebrating deliverance. (Selah)

Psalms 32:8 I will instruct and teach you about how you should live. I will advise you as I look you in the eye.

Psalms 32:9 Do not be like an unintelligent horse or mule, which will not obey you unless they are controlled by a bridle and bit.

Psalms 32:10 An evil person suffers much pain, but the LORD’s faithfulness overwhelms the one who trusts in him.

Psalms 32:11 Rejoice in the LORD and be happy, you who are godly! Shout for joy, all you who are morally upright!

Psalms 33:1 You godly ones, shout for joy because of the LORD! It is appropriate for the morally upright to offer him praise.

Psalms 33:2 Give thanks to the LORD with the harp! Sing to him to the accompaniment of a ten-stringed instrument!

Psalms 33:3 Sing to him a new song! Play skillfully as you shout out your praises to him!

Psalms 33:4 For the LORD’s decrees are just, and everything he does is fair.

Psalms 33:5 The LORD promotes equity and justice; the LORD’s faithfulness extends throughout the earth.

Psalms 33:6 By the LORD’s decree the heavens were made; by a mere word from his mouth all the stars in the sky were created.

Psalms 33:7 He piles up the water of the sea; he puts the oceans in storehouses.

Psalms 33:8 Let the whole earth fear the LORD! Let all who live in the world stand in awe of him!

Psalms 33:9 For he spoke, and it came into existence, he issued the decree, and it stood firm.

Psalms 33:10 The LORD frustrates the decisions of the nations; he nullifies the plans of the peoples.

Psalms 33:11 The LORD's decisions stand forever; his plans abide throughout the ages.

Psalms 33:12 How blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD, the people whom he has chosen to be his special possession.

Psalms 33:13 The LORD watches from heaven; he sees all people.

Psalms 33:14 From the place where he lives he looks carefully at all the earth's inhabitants.

Psalms 33:15 He is the one who forms every human heart, and takes note of all their actions.

Psalms 33:16 No king is delivered by his vast army; a warrior is not saved by his great might.

Psalms 33:17 A horse disappoints those who trust in it for victory; despite its great strength, it cannot deliver.

Psalms 33:18 Look, the LORD takes notice of his loyal followers, those who wait for him to demonstrate his faithfulness

Psalms 33:19 by saving their lives from death and sustaining them during times of famine.

Psalms 33:20 We wait for the LORD; he is our deliverer and shield.

Psalms 33:21 For our hearts rejoice in him, for we trust in his holy name.

Psalms 33:22 May we experience your faithfulness, O LORD, for we wait for you.

Psalms 34:1 [Written by David, when he pretended to be insane before Abimelech, causing the king to send him away.] I will praise the LORD at all times; my mouth will continually praise him.

Psalms 34:2 I will boast in the LORD; let the oppressed hear and rejoice!

Psalms 34:3 Magnify the LORD with me! Let's praise his name together!

Psalms 34:4 I sought the LORD's help and he answered me; he delivered me from all my fears.

Psalms 34:5 Those who look to him for help are happy; their faces are not ashamed.

Psalms 34:6 This oppressed man cried out and the LORD heard; he saved him from all his troubles.

Psalms 34:7 The LORD's angel camps around the LORD's loyal followers and delivers them.

Psalms 34:8 Taste and see that the LORD is good! How blessed is the one who takes shelter in him!

Psalms 34:9 Remain loyal to the LORD, you chosen people of his, for his loyal followers lack nothing!

Psalms 34:10 Even young lions sometimes lack food and are hungry, but those who seek the LORD lack no good thing.

Psalms 34:11 Come children! Listen to me! I will teach you what it means to fear the LORD.

Psalms 34:12 Do you want to really live? Would you love to live a long, happy life?

Psalms 34:13 Then make sure you don't speak evil words or use deceptive speech!

Psalms 34:14 Turn away from evil and do what is right! Strive for peace and promote it!

Psalms 34:15 The LORD pays attention to the godly and hears their cry for help.

Psalms 34:16 But the LORD opposes evildoers and wipes out all memory of them from the earth.

Psalms 34:17 The godly cry out and the LORD hears; he saves them from all their troubles.

Psalms 34:18 The LORD is near the brokenhearted; he delivers those who are discouraged.

Psalms 34:19 The godly face many dangers, but the LORD saves them from each one of them.

Psalms 34:20 He protects all his bones; not one of them is broken.

Psalms 34:21 Evil people self-destruct; those who hate the godly are punished.

Psalms 34:22 The LORD rescues his servants; all who take shelter in him escape punishment.

Psalms 35:1 [By David.] O LORD, fight those who fight with me! Attack those who attack me!

Psalms 35:2 Grab your small shield and large shield, and rise up to help me!

Psalms 35:3 Use your spear and lance against those who chase me! Assure me with these words: "I am your deliverer!"

Psalms 35:4 May those who seek my life be embarrassed and humiliated! May those who plan to harm me be turned back and ashamed!

Psalms 35:5 May they be like wind-driven chaff, as the LORD’s angel attacks them!

Psalms 35:6 May their path be dark and slippery, as the LORD’s angel chases them!

Psalms 35:7 I did not harm them, but they hid a net to catch me and dug a pit to trap me.

Psalms 35:8 Let destruction take them by surprise! Let the net they hid catch them! Let them fall into destruction!

Psalms 35:9 Then I will rejoice in the LORD and be happy because of his deliverance.

Psalms 35:10 With all my strength I will say, “O LORD, who can compare to you? You rescue the oppressed from those who try to overpower them; the oppressed and needy from those who try to rob them.”

Psalms 35:11 Violent men perjure themselves, and falsely accuse me.

Psalms 35:12 They repay me evil for the good I have done; I am overwhelmed with sorrow.

Psalms 35:13 When they were sick, I wore sackcloth, and refrained from eating food. (If I am lying, may my prayers go unanswered!)

Psalms 35:14 I mourned for them as I would for a friend or my brother. I bowed down in sorrow as if I were mourning for my mother.

Psalms 35:15 But when I stumbled, they rejoiced and gathered together; they gathered together to ambush me. They tore at me without stopping to rest.

Psalms 35:16 When I tripped, they taunted me relentlessly, and tried to bite me.

Psalms 35:17 O Lord, how long are you going to just stand there and watch this? Rescue me from their destructive attacks; guard my life from the young lions!

Psalms 35:18 Then I will give you thanks in the great assembly; I will praise you before a large crowd of people!

Psalms 35:19 Do not let those who are my enemies for no reason gloat over me! Do not let those who hate me without cause carry out their wicked schemes!

Psalms 35:20 For they do not try to make peace with others, but plan ways to deceive those who are unsuspecting.

Psalms 35:21 They are ready to devour me; they say, “Aha! Aha! We’ve got you!”

Psalms 35:22 But you take notice, LORD! O Lord, do not remain far away from me!

Psalms 35:23 Rouse yourself, wake up and vindicate me! My God and Lord, defend my just cause!

Psalms 35:24 Vindicate me by your justice, O LORD my God! Do not let them gloat over me!

Psalms 35:25 Do not let them say to themselves, “Aha! We have what we wanted!” Do not let them say, “We have devoured him!”

Psalms 35:26 May those who want to harm me be totally embarrassed and ashamed! May those who arrogantly taunt me be covered with shame and humiliation!

Psalms 35:27 May those who desire my vindication shout for joy and rejoice! May they continually say, “May the LORD be praised, for he wants his servant to be secure.”

Psalms 35:28 Then I will tell others about your justice, and praise you all day long.

Psalms 36:1 [For the music director; written by the LORD’s servant, David; an oracle.] An evil man is rebellious to the core. He does not fear God,

Psalms 36:2 for he is too proud to recognize and give up his sin.

Psalms 36:3 The words he speaks are sinful and deceitful; he does not care about doing what is wise and right.

Psalms 36:4 He plans ways to sin while he lies in bed; he is committed to a sinful lifestyle; he does not reject what is evil.

Psalms 36:5 O LORD, your loyal love reaches to the sky; your faithfulness to the clouds.

Psalms 36:6 Your justice is like the highest mountains, your fairness like the deepest sea; you preserve mankind and the animal kingdom.

Psalms 36:7 How precious is your loyal love, O God! The human race finds shelter under your wings.

Psalms 36:8 They are filled with food from your house, and you allow them to drink from the river of your delicacies.

Psalms 36:9 For you are the one who gives and sustains life.

Psalms 36:10 Extend your loyal love to your faithful followers, and vindicate the morally upright!

Psalms 36:11 Do not let arrogant men overtake me, or let evil men make me homeless!

Psalms 36:12 I can see the evildoers! They have fallen! They have been knocked down and are unable to get up!

Psalms 37:1 [By David.] Do not fret when wicked men seem to succeed! Do not envy evildoers!

Psalms 37:2 For they will quickly dry up like grass, and wither away like plants.

Psalms 37:3 Trust in the LORD and do what is right! Settle in the land and maintain your integrity!

Psalms 37:4 Then you will take delight in the LORD, and he will answer your prayers.

Psalms 37:5 Commit your future to the LORD! Trust in him, and he will act on your behalf.

Psalms 37:6 He will vindicate you in broad daylight, and publicly defend your just cause.

Psalms 37:7 Wait patiently for the LORD! Wait confidently for him! Do not fret over the apparent success of a sinner, a man who carries out wicked schemes!

Psalms 37:8 Do not be angry and frustrated! Do not fret! That only leads to trouble!

Psalms 37:9 Wicked men will be wiped out, but those who rely on the LORD are the ones who will possess the land.

Psalms 37:10 Evil men will soon disappear; you will stare at the spot where they once were, but they will be gone.

Psalms 37:11 But the oppressed will possess the land and enjoy great prosperity.

Psalms 37:12 Evil men plot against the godly and viciously attack them.

Psalms 37:13 The Lord laughs in disgust at them, for he knows that their day is coming.

Psalms 37:14 Evil men draw their swords and prepare their bows, to bring down the oppressed and needy, and to slaughter those who are godly.

Psalms 37:15 Their swords will pierce their own hearts, and their bows will be broken.

Psalms 37:16 The little bit that a godly man owns is better than the wealth of many evil men,

Psalms 37:17 for evil men will lose their power, but the LORD sustains the godly.

Psalms 37:18 The LORD watches over the innocent day by day and they possess a permanent inheritance.

Psalms 37:19 They will not be ashamed when hard times come; when famine comes they will have enough to eat.

Psalms 37:20 But evil men will die; the LORD’s enemies will be incinerated– they will go up in smoke.

Psalms 37:21 Evil men borrow, but do not repay their debt, but the godly show compassion and are generous.

Psalms 37:22 Surely those favored by the LORD will possess the land, but those rejected by him will be wiped out.

Psalms 37:23 The LORD grants success to the one whose behavior he finds commendable.

Psalms 37:24 Even if he trips, he will not fall headlong, for the LORD holds his hand.

Psalms 37:25 I was once young, now I am old. I have never seen a godly man abandoned, or his children forced to search for food.

Psalms 37:26 All day long he shows compassion and lends to others, and his children are blessed.

Psalms 37:27 Turn away from evil! Do what is right! Then you will enjoy lasting security.

Psalms 37:28 For the LORD promotes justice, and never abandons his faithful followers. They are permanently secure, but the children of evil men are wiped out.

Psalms 37:29 The godly will possess the land and will dwell in it permanently.

Psalms 37:30 The godly speak wise words and promote justice.

Psalms 37:31 The law of their God controls their thinking; their feet do not slip.

Psalms 37:32 Evil men set an ambush for the godly and try to kill them.

Psalms 37:33 But the LORD does not surrender the godly, or allow them to be condemned in a court of law.

Psalms 37:34 Rely on the LORD! Obey his commands! Then he will permit you to possess the land; you will see the demise of evil men.

Psalms 37:35 I have seen ruthless evil men growing in influence, like a green tree grows in its native soil.

Psalms 37:36 But then one passes by, and suddenly they have disappeared! I looked for them, but they could not be found.

Psalms 37:37 Take note of the one who has integrity! Observe the godly! For the one who promotes peace has a future.

Psalms 37:38 Sinful rebels are totally destroyed; evil men have no future.

Psalms 37:39 But the LORD delivers the godly; he protects them in times of trouble.

Psalms 37:40 The LORD helps them and rescues them; he rescues them from evil men and delivers them, for they seek his protection.

Psalms 38:1 [A psalm of David, written to get God's attention.] O LORD, do not continue to rebuke me in your anger! Do not continue to punish me in your raging fury!

Psalms 38:2 For your arrows pierce me, and your hand presses me down.

Psalms 38:3 My whole body is sick because of your judgment; I am deprived of health because of my sin.

Psalms 38:4 For my sins overwhelm me; like a heavy load, they are too much for me to bear.

Psalms 38:5 My wounds are infected and starting to smell, because of my foolish sins.

Psalms 38:6 I am dazed and completely humiliated; all day long I walk around mourning.

Psalms 38:7 For I am overcome with shame and my whole body is sick.

Psalms 38:8 I am numb with pain and severely battered; I groan loudly because of the anxiety I feel.

Psalms 38:9 O Lord, you understand my heart's desire; my groaning is not hidden from you.

Psalms 38:10 My heart beats quickly; my strength leaves me; I can hardly see.

Psalms 38:11 Because of my condition, even my friends and acquaintances keep their distance; my neighbors stand far away.

Psalms 38:12 Those who seek my life try to entrap me; those who want to harm me speak destructive words; all day long they say deceitful things.

Psalms 38:13 But I am like a deaf man– I hear nothing; I am like a mute who cannot speak.

Psalms 38:14 I am like a man who cannot hear and is incapable of arguing his defense.

Psalms 38:15 Yet I wait for you, O LORD! You will respond, O Lord, my God!

Psalms 38:16 I have prayed for deliverance, because otherwise they will gloat over me; when my foot slips they will arrogantly taunt me.

Psalms 38:17 For I am about to stumble, and I am in constant pain.

Psalms 38:18 Yes, I confess my wrongdoing, and I am concerned about my sins.

Psalms 38:19 But those who are my enemies for no reason are numerous; those who hate me without cause outnumber me.

Psalms 38:20 They repay me evil for the good I have done; though I have tried to do good to them, they hurl accusations at me.

Psalms 38:21 Do not abandon me, O LORD! My God, do not remain far away from me!

Psalms 38:22 Hurry and help me, O Lord, my deliverer!

Psalms 39:1 [For the music director, Jeduthun; a psalm of David.] I decided, “I will watch what I say and make sure I do not sin with my tongue. I will put a muzzle over my mouth while in the presence of an evil man.”

Psalms 39:2 I was stone silent; I held back the urge to speak. My frustration grew;

Psalms 39:3 my anxiety intensified. As I thought about it, I became impatient. Finally I spoke these words:

Psalms 39:4 “O LORD, help me understand my mortality and the brevity of life! Let me realize how quickly my life will pass!

Psalms 39:5 Look, you make my days short-lived, and my life span is nothing from your perspective. Surely all people, even those who seem secure, are nothing but vapor.

Psalms 39:6 Surely people go through life as mere ghosts. Surely they accumulate worthless wealth without knowing who will eventually haul it away.”

Psalms 39:7 But now, O Lord, upon what am I relying? You are my only hope!

Psalms 39:8 Deliver me from all my sins of rebellion! Do not make me the object of fools’ insults!

Psalms 39:9 I am silent and cannot open my mouth because of what you have done.

Psalms 39:10 Please stop wounding me! You have almost beaten me to death!

Psalms 39:11 You severely discipline people for their sins; like a moth you slowly devour their strength. Surely all people are a mere vapor. (Selah)

Psalms 39:12 Hear my prayer, O LORD! Listen to my cry for help! Do not ignore my sobbing! For I am dependent on you, like one residing outside his native land; I am at your mercy, just as all my ancestors were.

Psalms 39:13 Turn your angry gaze away from me, so I can be happy before I pass away.

Psalms 40:1 [For the music director; By David, a psalm.] I relied completely on the LORD, and he turned toward me and heard my cry for help.

Psalms 40:2 He lifted me out of the watery pit, out of the slimy mud. He placed my feet on a rock and gave me secure footing.

Psalms 40:3 He gave me reason to sing a new song, praising our God. May many see what God has done, so that they might swear allegiance to him and trust in the LORD!

Psalms 40:4 How blessed is the one who trusts in the LORD and does not seek help from the proud or from liars!

Psalms 40:5 O LORD, my God, you have accomplished many things; you have done amazing things and carried out your purposes for us. No one can thwart you! I want to declare them and talk about them, but they are too numerous to recount!

Psalms 40:6 Receiving sacrifices and offerings are not your primary concern. You make that quite clear to me! You do not ask for burnt sacrifices and sin offerings.

Psalms 40:7 Then I say, “Look! I come! What is written in the scroll pertains to me.

Psalms 40:8 I want to do what pleases you, my God. Your law dominates my thoughts.”

Psalms 40:9 I have told the great assembly about your justice. Look! I spare no words! O LORD, you know this is true.

Psalms 40:10 I have not failed to tell about your justice; I spoke about your reliability and deliverance; I have not neglected to tell the great assembly about your loyal love and faithfulness.

Psalms 40:11 O LORD, you do not withhold your compassion from me. May your loyal love and faithfulness continually protect me!

Psalms 40:12 For innumerable dangers surround me. My sins overtake me so I am unable to see; they outnumber the hairs of my head so my strength fails me.

Psalms 40:13 Please be willing, O LORD, to rescue me! O LORD, hurry and help me!

Psalms 40:14 May those who are trying to snatch away my life be totally embarrassed and ashamed! May those who want to harm me be turned back and ashamed!

Psalms 40:15 May those who say to me, “Aha! Aha!” be humiliated and disgraced!

Psalms 40:16 May all those who seek you be happy and rejoice in you! May those who love to experience your deliverance say continually, “May the LORD be praised!”

Psalms 40:17 I am oppressed and needy! May the Lord pay attention to me! You are my helper and my deliverer! O my God, do not delay!

Psalms 41:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David.] How blessed is the one who treats the poor properly! When trouble comes, the LORD delivers him.

Psalms 41:2 May the LORD protect him and save his life! May he be blessed in the land! Do not turn him over to his enemies!

Psalms 41:3 The LORD supports him on his sickbed; you completely heal him from his illness.

Psalms 41:4 As for me, I said: “O LORD, have mercy on me! Heal me, for I have sinned against you!

Psalms 41:5 My enemies ask this cruel question about me, ‘When will he finally die and be forgotten?’

Psalms 41:6 When someone comes to visit, he pretends to be friendly; he thinks of ways to defame me, and when he leaves he slanders me.

Psalms 41:7 All who hate me whisper insults about me to one another; they plan ways to harm me.

Psalms 41:8 They say, ‘An awful disease overwhelms him, and now that he is bed-ridden he will never recover.’

Psalms 41:9 Even my close friend whom I trusted, he who shared meals with me, has turned against me.

Psalms 41:10 As for you, O LORD, have mercy on me and raise me up, so I can pay them back!”

Psalms 41:11 By this I know that you are pleased with me, for my enemy does not triumph over me.

Psalms 41:12 As for me, you uphold me because of my integrity; you allow me permanent access to your presence.

Psalms 41:13 The LORD God of Israel deserves praise in the future and forevermore! We agree! We agree! Book 2 (Psalms 42-72)

Psalms 42:1 [For the music director; a well-written song by the Korahites.] As a deer longs for streams of water, so I long for you, O God!

Psalms 42:2 I thirst for God, for the living God. I say, “When will I be able to go and appear in God’s presence?”

Psalms 42:3 I cannot eat, I weep day and night; all day long they say to me, “Where is your God?”

Psalms 42:4 I will remember and weep! For I was once walking along with the great throng to the temple of God, shouting and giving thanks along with the crowd as we celebrated the holy festival.

Psalms 42:5 Why are you depressed, O my soul? Why are you upset? Wait for God! For I will again give thanks to my God for his saving intervention.

Psalms 42:6 I am depressed, so I will pray to you while I am trapped here in the region of the upper Jordan, from Hermon, from Mount Mizar.

Psalms 42:7 One deep stream calls out to another at the sound of your waterfalls; all your billows and waves overwhelm me.

Psalms 42:8 By day the LORD decrees his loyal love, and by night he gives me a song, a prayer to the living God.

Psalms 42:9 I will pray to God, my high ridge: “Why do you ignore me? Why must I walk around mourning because my enemies oppress me?”

Psalms 42:10 My enemies’ taunts cut into me to the bone, as they say to me all day long, “Where is your God?”

Psalms 42:11 Why are you depressed, O my soul? Why are you upset? Wait for God! For I will again give thanks to my God for his saving intervention.

Psalms 43:1 Vindicate me, O God! Fight for me against an ungodly nation! Deliver me from deceitful and evil men!

Psalms 43:2 For you are the God who shelters me. Why do you reject me? Why must I walk around mourning because my enemies oppress me?

Psalms 43:3 Reveal your light and your faithfulness! They will lead me, they will escort me back to your holy hill, and to the place where you live.

Psalms 43:4 Then I will go to the altar of God, to the God who gives me ecstatic joy, so that I express my thanks to you, O God, my God, with a harp.

Psalms 43:5 Why are you depressed, O my soul? Why are you upset? Wait for God! For I will again give thanks to my God for his saving intervention.

Psalms 44:1 [For the music director; by the Korahites, a well-written song.] O God, we have clearly heard; our ancestors have told us what you did in their days, in ancient times.

Psalms 44:2 You, by your power, defeated nations and settled our fathers on their land; you crushed the people living there and enabled our ancestors to occupy it.

Psalms 44:3 For they did not conquer the land by their swords, and they did not prevail by their strength, but rather by your power, strength and good favor, for you were partial to them.

Psalms 44:4 You are my king, O God! Decree Jacob’s deliverance!

Psalms 44:5 By your power we will drive back our enemies; by your strength we will trample down our foes!

Psalms 44:6 For I do not trust in my bow, and I do not prevail by my sword.

Psalms 44:7 For you deliver us from our enemies; you humiliate those who hate us.

Psalms 44:8 In God I boast all day long, and we will continually give thanks to your name. (Selah)

Psalms 44:9 But you rejected and embarrassed us! You did not go into battle with our armies.

Psalms 44:10 You made us retreat from the enemy. Those who hate us take whatever they want from us.

Psalms 44:11 You handed us over like sheep to be eaten; you scattered us among the nations.

Psalms 44:12 You sold your people for a pittance; you did not ask a high price for them.

Psalms 44:13 You made us an object of disdain to our neighbors; those who live on our borders taunt and insult us.

Psalms 44:14 You made us an object of ridicule among the nations; foreigners treat us with contempt.

Psalms 44:15 All day long I feel humiliated and am overwhelmed with shame,

Psalms 44:16 before the vindictive enemy who ridicules and insults me.

Psalms 44:17 All this has happened to us, even though we have not rejected you or violated your covenant with us.

Psalms 44:18 We have not been unfaithful, nor have we disobeyed your commands.

Psalms 44:19 Yet you have battered us, leaving us a heap of ruins overrun by wild dogs; you have covered us with darkness.

Psalms 44:20 If we had rejected our God, and spread out our hands in prayer to another god,

Psalms 44:21 would not God discover it, for he knows one’s thoughts?

Psalms 44:22 Yet because of you we are killed all day long; we are treated like sheep at the slaughtering block.

Psalms 44:23 Rouse yourself! Why do you sleep, O Lord? Wake up! Do not reject us forever!

Psalms 44:24 Why do you look the other way, and ignore the way we are oppressed and mistreated?

Psalms 44:25 For we lie in the dirt, with our bellies pressed to the ground.

Psalms 44:26 Rise up and help us! Rescue us because of your loyal love!

Psalms 45:1 [For the music director; according to the tune of “Lilies;” by the Korahites, a well-written poem, a love song.] My heart is stirred by a beautiful song. I say, “I have composed this special song for the king; my tongue is as skilled as the stylus of an experienced scribe.”

Psalms 45:2 You are the most handsome of all men! You speak in an impressive and fitting manner! For this reason God grants you continual blessings.

Psalms 45:3 Strap your sword to your thigh, O warrior! Appear in your majestic splendor!

Psalms 45:4 Appear in your majesty and be victorious! Ride forth for the sake of what is right, on behalf of justice! Then your right hand will accomplish mighty acts!

Psalms 45:5 Your arrows are sharp and penetrate the hearts of the king’s enemies. Nations fall at your feet.

Psalms 45:6 Your throne, O God, is permanent. The scepter of your kingdom is a scepter of justice.

Psalms 45:7 You love justice and hate evil. For this reason God, your God has anointed you with the oil of joy, elevating you above your companions.

Psalms 45:8 All your garments are perfumed with myrrh, aloes, and cassia. From the luxurious palaces comes the music of stringed instruments that makes you happy.

Psalms 45:9 Princesses are among your honored guests, your bride stands at your right hand, wearing jewelry made with gold from Ophir.

Psalms 45:10 Listen, O princess! Observe and pay attention! Forget your homeland and your family!

Psalms 45:11 Then the king will be attracted by your beauty. After all, he is your master! Submit to him!

Psalms 45:12 Rich people from Tyre will seek your favor by bringing a gift.

Psalms 45:13 The princess looks absolutely magnificent, decked out in pearls and clothed in a brocade trimmed with gold.

Psalms 45:14 In embroidered robes she is escorted to the king. Her attendants, the maidens of honor who follow her, are led before you.

Psalms 45:15 They are bubbling with joy as they walk in procession and enter the royal palace.

Psalms 45:16 Your sons will carry on the dynasty of your ancestors; you will make them princes throughout the land.

Psalms 45:17 I will proclaim your greatness through the coming years, then the nations will praise you forever.

Psalms 46:1 [For the music director; by the Korahites; according to the alamoth style; a song.] God is our strong refuge; he is truly our helper in times of trouble.

Psalms 46:2 For this reason we do not fear when the earth shakes, and the mountains tumble into the depths of the sea, Psalms 46:3 when its waves crash and foam, and the mountains shake before the surging sea. (Selah)

Psalms 46:4 The river's channels bring joy to the city of God, the special, holy dwelling place of the sovereign One.

Psalms 46:5 God lives within it, it cannot be moved. God rescues it at the break of dawn.

Psalms 46:6 Nations are in uproar, kingdoms are overthrown. God gives a shout, the earth dissolves.

Psalms 46:7 The LORD who commands armies is on our side! The God of Jacob is our protector! (Selah)

Psalms 46:8 Come! Witness the exploits of the LORD, who brings devastation to the earth!

Psalms 46:9 He brings an end to wars throughout the earth; he shatters the bow and breaks the spear; he burns the shields with fire.

Psalms 46:10 He says, "Stop your striving and recognize that I am God! I will be exalted over the nations! I will be exalted over the earth!"

Psalms 46:11 The LORD who commands armies is on our side! The God of Jacob is our protector! (Selah)

Psalms 47:1 [For the music director; by the Korahites; a psalm.] All you nations, clap your hands! Shout out to God in celebration!

Psalms 47:2 For the sovereign LORD is awe-inspiring; he is the great king who rules the whole earth!

Psalms 47:3 He subdued nations beneath us and countries under our feet.

Psalms 47:4 He picked out for us a special land to be a source of pride for Jacob, whom he loves. (Selah)

Psalms 47:5 God has ascended his throne amid loud shouts; the LORD has ascended his throne amid the blaring of ram's horns.

Psalms 47:6 Sing to God! Sing! Sing to our king! Sing!

Psalms 47:7 For God is king of the whole earth! Sing a well-written song!

Psalms 47:8 God reigns over the nations! God sits on his holy throne!

Psalms 47:9 The nobles of the nations assemble, along with the people of the God of Abraham, for God has authority over the rulers of the earth. He is highly exalted!

Psalms 48:1 [A song, a psalm by the Korahites.] The LORD is great and certainly worthy of praise in the city of our God, his holy hill.

Psalms 48:2 It is lofty and pleasing to look at, a source of joy to the whole earth. Mount Zion resembles the peaks of Zaphon; it is the city of the great king.

Psalms 48:3 God is in its fortresses; he reveals himself as its defender.

Psalms 48:4 For look, the kings assemble; they advance together.

Psalms 48:5 As soon as they see, they are shocked; they are terrified, they quickly retreat.

Psalms 48:6 Look at them shake uncontrollably, like a woman writhing in childbirth.

Psalms 48:7 With an east wind you shatter the large ships.

Psalms 48:8 We heard about God’s mighty deeds, now we have seen them, in the city of the LORD, the invincible Warrior, in the city of our God. God makes it permanently secure. (Selah)

Psalms 48:9 We reflect on your loyal love, O God, within your temple.

Psalms 48:10 The praise you receive as far away as the ends of the earth is worthy of your reputation, O God. You execute justice!

Psalms 48:11 Mount Zion rejoices; the towns of Judah are happy, because of your acts of judgment.

Psalms 48:12 Walk around Zion! Encircle it! Count its towers!

Psalms 48:13 Consider its defenses! Walk through its fortresses, so you can tell the next generation about it!

Psalms 48:14 For God, our God, is our defender forever! He guides us!

Psalms 49:1 [For the music director, a psalm by the Korahites.] Listen to this, all you nations! Pay attention, all you inhabitants of the world!

Psalms 49:2 Pay attention, all you people, both rich and poor!

Psalms 49:3 I will declare a wise saying; I will share my profound thoughts.

Psalms 49:4 I will learn a song that imparts wisdom; I will then sing my insightful song to the accompaniment of a harp.

Psalms 49:5 Why should I be afraid in times of trouble, when the sinful deeds of deceptive men threaten to overwhelm me?

Psalms 49:6 They trust in their wealth and boast in their great riches.

Psalms 49:7 Certainly a man cannot rescue his brother; he cannot pay God an adequate ransom price

Psalms 49:8 (the ransom price for a human life is too high, and people go to their final destiny),

Psalms 49:9 so that he might continue to live forever and not experience death.

Psalms 49:10 Surely one sees that even wise people die; fools and spiritually insensitive people all pass away and leave their wealth to others.

Psalms 49:11 Their grave becomes their permanent residence, their eternal dwelling place. They name their lands after themselves,

Psalms 49:12 but, despite their wealth, people do not last, they are like animals that perish.

Psalms 49:13 This is the destiny of fools, and of those who approve of their philosophy. (Selah)

Psalms 49:14 They will travel to Sheol like sheep, with death as their shepherd. The godly will rule over them when the day of vindication dawns; Sheol will consume their bodies and they will no longer live in impressive houses.

Psalms 49:15 But God will rescue my life from the power of Sheol; certainly he will pull me to safety. (Selah)

Psalms 49:16 Do not be afraid when a man becomes rich and his wealth multiplies!

Psalms 49:17 For he will take nothing with him when he dies; his wealth will not follow him down into the grave.

Psalms 49:18 He pronounces this blessing on himself while he is alive: “May men praise you, for you have done well!”

Psalms 49:19 But he will join his ancestors; they will never again see the light of day.

Psalms 49:20 Wealthy people do not understand; they are like animals that perish.

Psalms 50:1 [A psalm by Asaph.] El, God, the LORD speaks, and summons the earth to come from the east and west.

Psalms 50:2 From Zion, the most beautiful of all places, God comes in splendor.

Psalms 50:3 Our God approaches and is not silent; consuming fire goes ahead of him and all around him a storm rages.

Psalms 50:4 He summons the heavens above, as well as the earth, so that he might judge his people.

Psalms 50:5 He says: “Assemble my covenant people before me, those who ratified a covenant with me by sacrifice!”

Psalms 50:6 The heavens declare his fairness, for God is judge. (Selah)

Psalms 50:7 He says: “Listen my people! I am speaking! Listen Israel! I am accusing you! I am God, your God!

Psalms 50:8 I am not condemning you because of your sacrifices, or because of your burnt sacrifices that you continually offer me.

Psalms 50:9 I do not need to take a bull from your household or goats from your sheepfolds.

Psalms 50:10 For every wild animal in the forest belongs to me, as well as the cattle that graze on a thousand hills.

Psalms 50:11 I keep track of every bird in the hills, and the insects of the field are mine.

Psalms 50:12 Even if I were hungry, I would not tell you, for the world and all it contains belong to me.

Psalms 50:13 Do I eat the flesh of bulls? Do I drink the blood of goats?

Psalms 50:14 Present to God a thank-offering! Repay your vows to the sovereign One!

Psalms 50:15 Pray to me when you are in trouble! I will deliver you, and you will honor me!”

Psalms 50:16 God says this to the evildoer: “How can you declare my commands, and talk about my covenant?

Psalms 50:17 For you hate instruction and reject my words.

Psalms 50:18 When you see a thief, you join him; you associate with men who are unfaithful to their wives.

Psalms 50:19 You do damage with words, and use your tongue to deceive.

Psalms 50:20 You plot against your brother; you slander your own brother.

Psalms 50:21 When you did these things, I was silent, so you thought I was exactly like you. But now I will condemn you and state my case against you!

Psalms 50:22 Carefully consider this, you who reject God! Otherwise I will rip you to shreds and no one will be able to rescue you.

Psalms 50:23 Whoever presents a thank-offering honors me. To whoever obeys my commands, I will reveal my power to deliver.”

Psalms 51:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David, written when Nathan the prophet confronted him after David’s affair with Bathsheba.] Have mercy on me, O God, because of your loyal love! Because of your great compassion, wipe away my rebellious acts!

Psalms 51:2 Wash away my wrongdoing! Cleanse me of my sin!

Psalms 51:3 For I am aware of my rebellious acts; I am forever conscious of my sin.

Psalms 51:4 Against you– you above all– I have sinned; I have done what is evil in your sight. So you are just when you confront me; you are right when you condemn me.

Psalms 51:5 Look, I was guilty of sin from birth, a sinner the moment my mother conceived me.

Psalms 51:6 Look, you desire integrity in the inner man; you want me to possess wisdom.

Psalms 51:7 Sprinkle me with water and I will be pure; wash me and I will be whiter than snow.

Psalms 51:8 Grant me the ultimate joy of being forgiven! May the bones you crushed rejoice!

Psalms 51:9 Hide your face from my sins! Wipe away all my guilt!

Psalms 51:10 Create for me a pure heart, O God! Renew a resolute spirit within me!

Psalms 51:11 Do not reject me! Do not take your Holy Spirit away from me!

Psalms 51:12 Let me again experience the joy of your deliverance! Sustain me by giving me the desire to obey!

Psalms 51:13 Then I will teach rebels your merciful ways, and sinners will turn to you.

Psalms 51:14 Rescue me from the guilt of murder, O God, the God who delivers me! Then my tongue will shout for joy because of your deliverance.

Psalms 51:15 O Lord, give me the words! Then my mouth will praise you.

Psalms 51:16 Certainly you do not want a sacrifice, or else I would offer it; you do not desire a burnt sacrifice.

Psalms 51:17 The sacrifices God desires are a humble spirit– O God, a humble and repentant heart you will not reject.

Psalms 51:18 Because you favor Zion, do what is good for her! Fortify the walls of Jerusalem!

Psalms 51:19 Then you will accept the proper sacrifices, burnt sacrifices and whole offerings; then bulls will be sacrificed on your altar.

Psalms 52:1 [For the music director; a well-written song by David. It was written when Doeg the Edomite went and informed Saul: “David has arrived at the home of Ahimelech.”] Why do you boast about your evil plans, O powerful man? God’s loyal love protects me all day long!

Psalms 52:2 Your tongue carries out your destructive plans; it is as effective as a sharp razor, O deceiver.

Psalms 52:3 You love evil more than good, lies more than speaking the truth. (Selah)

Psalms 52:4 You love to use all the words that destroy, and the tongue that deceives.

Psalms 52:5 Yet God will make you a permanent heap of ruins. He will scoop you up and remove you from your home; he will uproot you from the land of the living. (Selah)

Psalms 52:6 When the godly see this, they will be filled with awe, and will mock the evildoer, saying:

Psalms 52:7 "Look, here is the man who would not make God his protector! He trusted in his great wealth and was confident about his plans to destroy others."

Psalms 52:8 But I am like a flourishing olive tree in the house of God; I continually trust in God's loyal love.

Psalms 52:9 I will continually thank you when you execute judgment; I will rely on you, for your loyal followers know you are good.

Psalms 53:1 [For the music director; according to the machalath style; a well-written song by David.] Fools say to themselves, "There is no God." They sin and commit evil deeds; none of them does what is right.

Psalms 53:2 God looks down from heaven at the human race, to see if there is anyone who is wise and seeks God.

Psalms 53:3 Everyone rejects God; they are all morally corrupt. None of them does what is right, not even one!

Psalms 53:4 All those who behave wickedly do not understand–those who devour my people as if they were eating bread, and do not call out to God.

Psalms 53:5 They are absolutely terrified, even by things that do not normally cause fear. For God annihilates those who attack you. You are able to humiliate them because God has rejected them.

Psalms 53:6 I wish the deliverance of Israel would come from Zion! When God restores the well-being of his people, may Jacob rejoice, may Israel be happy!

Psalms 54:1 [For the music director, to be accompanied by stringed instruments; a well-written song by David. It was written when the Ziphites came and informed Saul: "David is hiding with us."] O God, deliver me by your name! Vindicate me by your power!

Psalms 54:2 O God, listen to my prayer! Pay attention to what I say!

Psalms 54:3 For foreigners attack me; ruthless men, who do not respect God, seek my life. (Selah)

Psalms 54:4 Look, God is my deliverer! The Lord is among those who support me.

Psalms 54:5 May those who wait to ambush me be repaid for their evil! As a demonstration of your faithfulness, destroy them!

Psalms 54:6 With a freewill offering I will sacrifice to you! I will give thanks to your name, O LORD, for it is good!

Psalms 54:7 Surely he rescues me from all trouble, and I triumph over my enemies.

Psalms 55:1 [For the music director, to be accompanied by stringed instruments; a well-written song by David.] Listen, O God, to my prayer! Do not ignore my appeal for mercy!

Psalms 55:2 Pay attention to me and answer me! I am so upset and distressed, I am beside myself,

Psalms 55:3 because of what the enemy says, and because of how the wicked pressure me, for they hurl trouble down upon me and angrily attack me.

Psalms 55:4 My heart beats violently within me; the horrors of death overcome me.

Psalms 55:5 Fear and panic overpower me; terror overwhelms me.

Psalms 55:6 I say, “I wish I had wings like a dove! I would fly away and settle in a safe place!

Psalms 55:7 Look, I will escape to a distant place; I will stay in the wilderness. (Selah)

Psalms 55:8 I will hurry off to a place that is safe from the strong wind and the gale.”

Psalms 55:9 Confuse them, O Lord! Frustrate their plans! For I see violence and conflict in the city.

Psalms 55:10 Day and night they walk around on its walls, while wickedness and destruction are within it.

Psalms 55:11 Disaster is within it; violence and deceit do not depart from its public square.

Psalms 55:12 Indeed, it is not an enemy who insults me, or else I could bear it; it is not one who hates me who arrogantly taunts me, or else I could hide from him.

Psalms 55:13 But it is you, a man like me, my close friend in whom I confided.

Psalms 55:14 We would share personal thoughts with each other; in God’s temple we would walk together among the crowd.

Psalms 55:15 May death destroy them! May they go down alive into Sheol! For evil is in their dwelling place and in their midst.

Psalms 55:16 As for me, I will call out to God, and the LORD will deliver me.

Psalms 55:17 During the evening, morning, and noontime I will lament and moan, and he will hear me.

Psalms 55:18 He will rescue me and protect me from those who attack me, even though they greatly outnumber me.

Psalms 55:19 God, the one who has reigned as king from long ago, will hear and humiliate them. (Selah) They refuse to change, and do not fear God.

Psalms 55:20 He attacks his friends; he breaks his solemn promises to them.

Psalms 55:21 His words are as smooth as butter, but he harbors animosity in his heart. His words seem softer than oil, but they are really like sharp swords.

Psalms 55:22 Throw your burden upon the LORD, and he will sustain you. He will never allow the godly to be upended.

Psalms 55:23 But you, O God, will bring them down to the deep Pit. Violent and deceitful people will not live even half a normal lifespan. But as for me, I trust in you.

Psalms 56:1 [For the music director; according to the yonath-elem-rechovim style; a prayer of David, written when the Philistines captured him in Gath.] Have mercy on me, O God, for men are attacking me! All day long hostile enemies are tormenting me.

Psalms 56:2 Those who anticipate my defeat attack me all day long. Indeed, many are fighting against me, O Exalted One.

Psalms 56:3 When I am afraid, I trust in you.

Psalms 56:4 In God– I boast in his promise– in God I trust, I am not afraid. What can mere men do to me?

Psalms 56:5 All day long they cause me trouble; they make a habit of plotting my demise.

Psalms 56:6 They stalk and lurk; they watch my every step, as they prepare to take my life.

Psalms 56:7 Because they are bent on violence, do not let them escape! In your anger bring down the nations, O God!

Psalms 56:8 You keep track of my misery. Put my tears in your leather container! Are they not recorded in your scroll?

Psalms 56:9 My enemies will turn back when I cry out to you for help; I know that God is on my side.

Psalms 56:10 In God– I boast in his promise– in the LORD– I boast in his promise–

Psalms 56:11 in God I trust, I am not afraid. What can mere men do to me?

Psalms 56:12 I am obligated to fulfill the vows I made to you, O God; I will give you the thank-offerings you deserve,

Psalms 56:13 when you deliver my life from death. You keep my feet from stumbling, so that I might serve God as I enjoy life.

Psalms 57:1 [For the music director; according to the al-tashcheth style; a prayer of David, written when he fled from Saul into the cave.]

Have mercy on me, O God! Have mercy on me! For in you I have taken shelter. In the shadow of your wings I take shelter until trouble passes.

Psalms 57:2 I cry out for help to the sovereign God, to the God who vindicates me.

Psalms 57:3 May he send help from heaven and deliver me from my enemies who hurl insults! (Selah) May God send his loyal love and faithfulness!

Psalms 57:4 I am surrounded by lions; I lie down among those who want to devour me; men whose teeth are spears and arrows, whose tongues are a sharp sword.

Psalms 57:5 Rise up above the sky, O God! May your splendor cover the whole earth!

Psalms 57:6 They have prepared a net to trap me; I am discouraged. They have dug a pit for me. They will fall into it! (Selah)

Psalms 57:7 I am determined, O God! I am determined! I will sing and praise you!

Psalms 57:8 Awake, my soul! Awake, O stringed instrument and harp! I will wake up at dawn!

Psalms 57:9 I will give you thanks before the nations, O Master! I will sing praises to you before foreigners!

Psalms 57:10 For your loyal love extends beyond the sky, and your faithfulness reaches the clouds.

Psalms 57:11 Rise up above the sky, O God! May your splendor cover the whole earth!

Psalms 58:1 [For the music director; according to the al-tashcheth style; a prayer of David.] Do you rulers really pronounce just decisions? Do you judge people fairly?

Psalms 58:2 No! You plan how to do what is unjust; you deal out violence in the earth.

Psalms 58:3 The wicked turn aside from birth; liars go astray as soon as they are born.

Psalms 58:4 Their venom is like that of a snake, like a deaf serpent that does not hear,

Psalms 58:5 that does not respond to the magicians, or to a skilled snake-charmer.

Psalms 58:6 O God, break the teeth in their mouths! Smash the jawbones of the lions, O LORD!

Psalms 58:7 Let them disappear like water that flows away! Let them wither like grass!

Psalms 58:8 Let them be like a snail that melts away as it moves along! Let them be like stillborn babies that never see the sun!

Psalms 58:9 Before the kindling is even placed under your pots, he will sweep it away along with both the raw and cooked meat.

Psalms 58:10 The godly will rejoice when they see vengeance carried out; they will bathe their feet in the blood of the wicked.

Psalms 58:11 Then observers will say, “Yes indeed, the godly are rewarded! Yes indeed, there is a God who judges in the earth!”

Psalms 59:1 [For the music director; according to the al-tashcheth style; a prayer of David, written when Saul sent men to surround his house and murder him.] Deliver me from my enemies, my God! Protect me from those who attack me!

Psalms 59:2 Deliver me from evildoers! Rescue me from violent men!

Psalms 59:3 For look, they wait to ambush me; powerful men stalk me, but not because I have rebelled or sinned, O LORD.

Psalms 59:4 Though I have done nothing wrong, they are anxious to attack. Spring into action and help me! Take notice of me!

Psalms 59:5 You, O LORD God, the invincible warrior, the God of Israel, rouse yourself and punish all the nations! Have no mercy on any treacherous evildoers! (Selah)

Psalms 59:6 They return in the evening; they growl like a dog and prowl around outside the city.

Psalms 59:7 Look, they hurl insults at me and openly threaten to kill me, for they say, “Who hears?”

Psalms 59:8 But you, O LORD, laugh in disgust at them; you taunt all the nations.

Psalms 59:9 You are my source of strength! I will wait for you! For God is my refuge.

Psalms 59:10 The God who loves me will help me; God will enable me to triumph over my enemies.

Psalms 59:11 Do not strike them dead suddenly, because then my people might forget the lesson. Use your power to make them homeless vagabonds and then bring them down, O Lord who shields us!

Psalms 59:12 They speak sinful words. So let them be trapped by their own pride and by the curses and lies they speak!

Psalms 59:13 Angrily wipe them out! Wipe them out so they vanish! Let them know that God rules in Jacob and to the ends of the earth! (Selah)

Psalms 59:14 They return in the evening; they growl like a dog and prowl around outside the city.

Psalms 59:15 They wander around looking for something to eat; they refuse to sleep until they are full.

Psalms 59:16 As for me, I will sing about your strength; I will praise your loyal love in the morning. For you are my refuge and my place of shelter when I face trouble.

Psalms 59:17 You are my source of strength! I will sing praises to you! For God is my refuge, the God who loves me.

Psalms 60:1 [For the music director; according to the shushan-eduth style; a prayer of David written to instruct others. It was written when he fought against Aram Naharaim and Aram-Zobah. That was when Joab turned back and struck down 12,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt.] O God, you have rejected us. You suddenly turned on us in your anger. Please restore us!

Psalms 60:2 You made the earth quake; you split it open. Repair its breaches, for it is ready to fall.

Psalms 60:3 You have made your people experience hard times; you have made us drink intoxicating wine.

Psalms 60:4 You have given your loyal followers a rallying flag, so that they might seek safety from the bow. (Selah)

Psalms 60:5 Deliver by your power and answer me, so that the ones you love may be safe.

Psalms 60:6 God has spoken in his sanctuary: “I will triumph! I will parcel out Shechem; the Valley of Succoth I will measure off.

Psalms 60:7 Gilead belongs to me, as does Manasseh! Ephraim is my helmet, Judah my royal scepter.

Psalms 60:8 Moab is my washbasin. I will make Edom serve me. I will shout in triumph over Philistia.”

Psalms 60:9 Who will lead me into the fortified city? Who will bring me to Edom?

Psalms 60:10 Have you not rejected us, O God? O God, you do not go into battle with our armies.

Psalms 60:11 Give us help against the enemy, for any help men might offer is futile.

Psalms 60:12 By God’s power we will conquer; he will trample down our enemies.

Psalms 61:1 [For the music director; to be played on a stringed instrument; written by David.] O God, hear my cry for help! Pay attention to my prayer!

Psalms 61:2 From the most remote place on earth I call out to you in my despair. Lead me up to an inaccessible rocky summit!

Psalms 61:3 Indeed, you are my shelter, a strong tower that protects me from the enemy.

Psalms 61:4 I will be a permanent guest in your home; I will find shelter in the protection of your wings. (Selah)

Psalms 61:5 For you, O God, hear my vows; you grant me the reward that belongs to your loyal followers.

Psalms 61:6 Give the king long life! Make his lifetime span several generations!

Psalms 61:7 May he reign forever before God! Decree that your loyal love and faithfulness should protect him.

Psalms 61:8 Then I will sing praises to your name continually, as I fulfill my vows day after day.

Psalms 62:1 [For the music director, Jeduthun; a psalm of David.] For God alone I patiently wait; he is the one who delivers me.

Psalms 62:2 He alone is my protector and deliverer. He is my refuge; I will not be upended.

Psalms 62:3 How long will you threaten a man? All of you are murderers, as dangerous as a leaning wall or an unstable fence.

Psalms 62:4 They spend all their time planning how to bring him down. They love to use deceit; they pronounce blessings with their mouths, but inwardly they utter curses. (Selah)

Psalms 62:5 Patiently wait for God alone, my soul! For he is the one who gives me confidence.

Psalms 62:6 He alone is my protector and deliverer. He is my refuge; I will not be upended.

Psalms 62:7 God delivers me and exalts me; God is my strong protector and my shelter.

Psalms 62:8 Trust in him at all times, you people! Pour out your hearts before him! God is our shelter! (Selah)

Psalms 62:9 Men are nothing but a mere breath; human beings are unreliable. When they are weighed in the scales, all of them together are lighter than air.

Psalms 62:10 Do not trust in what you can gain by oppression! Do not put false confidence in what you can gain by robbery! If wealth increases, do not become attached to it!

Psalms 62:11 God has declared one principle; two principles I have heard: God is strong,

Psalms 62:12 and you, O Lord, demonstrate loyal love. For you repay men for what they do.

Psalms 63:1 [A psalm of David, written when he was in the Judean wilderness.] O God, you are my God! I long for you! My soul thirsts for you, my flesh yearns for you, in a dry and parched land where there is no water.

Psalms 63:2 Yes, in the sanctuary I have seen you, and witnessed your power and splendor.

Psalms 63:3 Because experiencing your loyal love is better than life itself, my lips will praise you.

Psalms 63:4 For this reason I will praise you while I live; in your name I will lift up my hands.

Psalms 63:5 As if with choice meat you satisfy my soul. My mouth joyfully praises you,

Psalms 63:6 whenever I remember you on my bed, and think about you during the nighttime hours.

Psalms 63:7 For you are my deliverer; under your wings I rejoice.

Psalms 63:8 My soul pursues you; your right hand upholds me.

Psalms 63:9 Enemies seek to destroy my life, but they will descend into the depths of the earth.

Psalms 63:10 Each one will be handed over to the sword; their corpses will be eaten by jackals.

Psalms 63:11 But the king will rejoice in God; everyone who takes oaths in his name will boast, for the mouths of those who speak lies will be shut up.

Psalms 64:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David.] Listen to me, O God, as I offer my lament! Protect my life from the enemy’s terrifying attacks.

Psalms 64:2 Hide me from the plots of evil men, from the crowd of evildoers.

Psalms 64:3 They sharpen their tongues like a sword; they aim their arrow, a slanderous charge,

Psalms 64:4 in order to shoot down the innocent in secluded places. They shoot at him suddenly and are unafraid of retaliation.

Psalms 64:5 They encourage one another to carry out their evil deed. They plan how to hide snares, and boast, “Who will see them?”

Psalms 64:6 They devise unjust schemes; they disguise a well-conceived plot. Man’s inner thoughts cannot be discovered.

Psalms 64:7 But God will shoot at them; suddenly they will be wounded by an arrow.

Psalms 64:8 Their slander will bring about their demise. All who see them will shudder, Psalms 64:9 and all people will fear. They will proclaim what God has done, and reflect on his deeds.

Psalms 64:10 The godly will rejoice in the LORD and take shelter in him. All the morally upright will boast.

Psalms 65:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David, a song.] Praise awaits you, O God, in Zion. Vows made to you are fulfilled.

Psalms 65:2 You hear prayers; all people approach you.

Psalms 65:3 Our record of sins overwhelms me, but you forgive our acts of rebellion.

Psalms 65:4 How blessed is the one whom you choose, and allow to live in your palace courts. May we be satisfied with the good things of your house– your holy palace.

Psalms 65:5 You answer our prayers by performing awesome acts of deliverance, O God, our savior. All the ends of the earth trust in you, as well as those living across the wide seas.

Psalms 65:6 You created the mountains by your power, and demonstrated your strength.

Psalms 65:7 You calm the raging seas and their roaring waves, as well as the commotion made by the nations.

Psalms 65:8 Even those living in the most remote areas are awestruck by your acts; you cause those living in the east and west to praise you.

Psalms 65:9 You visit the earth and give it rain; you make it rich and fertile with overflowing streams full of water. You provide grain for them, for you prepare the earth to yield its crops.

Psalms 65:10 You saturate its furrows, and soak its plowed ground. With rain showers you soften its soil, and make its crops grow.

Psalms 65:11 You crown the year with your good blessings, and you leave abundance in your wake.

Psalms 65:12 The pastures in the wilderness glisten with moisture, and the hills are clothed with joy.

Psalms 65:13 The meadows are clothed with sheep, and the valleys are covered with grain. They shout joyfully, yes, they sing.

Psalms 66:1 [For the music director; a song, a psalm.] Shout out praise to God, all the earth!

Psalms 66:2 Sing praises about the majesty of his reputation! Give him the honor he deserves!

Psalms 66:3 Say to God: “How awesome are your deeds! Because of your great power your enemies cower in fear before you.

Psalms 66:4 All the earth worships you and sings praises to you! They sing praises to your name!” (Selah)

Psalms 66:5 Come and witness God’s exploits! His acts on behalf of people are awesome!

Psalms 66:6 He turned the sea into dry land; they passed through the river on foot. Let us rejoice in him there!

Psalms 66:7 He rules by his power forever; he watches the nations. Stubborn rebels should not exalt themselves. (Selah)

Psalms 66:8 Praise our God, you nations! Loudly proclaim his praise!

Psalms 66:9 He preserves our lives and does not allow our feet to slip.

Psalms 66:10 For you, O God, tested us; you purified us like refined silver.

Psalms 66:11 You led us into a trap; you caused us to suffer.

Psalms 66:12 You allowed men to ride over our heads; we passed through fire and water, but you brought us out into a wide open place.

Psalms 66:13 I will enter your temple with burnt sacrifices; I will fulfill the vows I made to you,

Psalms 66:14 which my lips uttered and my mouth spoke when I was in trouble.

Psalms 66:15 I will offer up to you fattened animals as burnt sacrifices, along with the smell of sacrificial rams. I will offer cattle and goats. (Selah)

Psalms 66:16 Come! Listen, all you who are loyal to God! I will declare what he has done for me.

Psalms 66:17 I cried out to him for help and praised him with my tongue.

Psalms 66:18 If I had harbored sin in my heart, the Lord would not have listened.

Psalms 66:19 However, God heard; he listened to my prayer.

Psalms 66:20 God deserves praise, for he did not reject my prayer or abandon his love for me!

Psalms 67:1 [For the music director; to be accompanied by stringed instruments; a psalm, a song.] May God show us his favor and bless us! May he smile on us! (Selah)

Psalms 67:2 Then those living on earth will know what you are like; all nations will know how you deliver your people.

Psalms 67:3 Let the nations thank you, O God! Let all the nations thank you!

Psalms 67:4 Let foreigners rejoice and celebrate! For you execute justice among the nations, and govern the people living on earth. (Selah)

Psalms 67:5 Let the nations thank you, O God! Let all the nations thank you!

Psalms 67:6 The earth yields its crops. May God, our God, bless us!

Psalms 67:7 May God bless us! Then all the ends of the earth will give him the honor he deserves.

Psalms 68:1 [For the music director; by David, a psalm, a song.] God springs into action! His enemies scatter; his adversaries run from him.

Psalms 68:2 As smoke is driven away by the wind, so you drive them away. As wax melts before fire, so the wicked are destroyed before God.

Psalms 68:3 But the godly are happy; they rejoice before God and are overcome with joy.

Psalms 68:4 Sing to God! Sing praises to his name! Exalt the one who rides on the clouds! For the LORD is his name! Rejoice before him!

Psalms 68:5 He is a father to the fatherless and an advocate for widows. God rules from his holy palace.

Psalms 68:6 God settles those who have been deserted in their own homes; he frees prisoners and grants them prosperity. But sinful rebels live in the desert.

Psalms 68:7 O God, when you lead your people into battle, when you march through the desert, (Selah)

Psalms 68:8 the earth shakes, yes, the heavens pour down rain before God, the God of Sinai, before God, the God of Israel.

Psalms 68:9 O God, you cause abundant showers to fall on your chosen people. When they are tired, you sustain them,

Psalms 68:10 for you live among them. You sustain the oppressed with your good blessings, O God.

Psalms 68:11 The Lord speaks; many, many women spread the good news.

Psalms 68:12 Kings leading armies run away– they run away! The lovely lady of the house divides up the loot.

Psalms 68:13 When you lie down among the sheepfolds, the wings of the dove are covered with silver and with glittering gold.

Psalms 68:14 When the sovereign judge scatters kings, let it snow on Zalmon!

Psalms 68:15 The mountain of Bashan is a towering mountain; the mountain of Bashan is a mountain with many peaks.

Psalms 68:16 Why do you look with envy, O mountains with many peaks, at the mountain where God has decided to live? Indeed the LORD will live there permanently!

Psalms 68:17 God has countless chariots; they number in the thousands. The Lord comes from Sinai in holy splendor.

Psalms 68:18 You ascend on high, you have taken many captives. You receive tribute from men, including even sinful rebels. Indeed the LORD God lives there!

Psalms 68:19 The Lord deserves praise! Day after day he carries our burden, the God who delivers us. (Selah)

Psalms 68:20 Our God is a God who delivers; the LORD, the sovereign Lord, can rescue from death.

Psalms 68:21 Indeed God strikes the heads of his enemies, the hairy foreheads of those who persist in rebellion.

Psalms 68:22 The Lord says, “I will retrieve them from Bashan, I will bring them back from the depths of the sea, Psalms 68:23 so that your feet may stomp in their blood, and your dogs may eat their portion of the enemies’ corpses.”

Psalms 68:24 They see your processions, O God– the processions of my God, my king, who marches along in holy splendor.

Psalms 68:25 Singers walk in front; musicians follow playing their stringed instruments, in the midst of young women playing tambourines.

Psalms 68:26 In your large assemblies praise God, the LORD, in the assemblies of Israel!

Psalms 68:27 There is little Benjamin, their ruler, and the princes of Judah in their robes, along with the princes of Zebulun and the princes of Naphtali.

Psalms 68:28 God has decreed that you will be powerful. O God, you who have acted on our behalf, demonstrate your power, Psalms 68:29 as you come out of your temple in Jerusalem! Kings bring tribute to you.

Psalms 68:30 Sound your battle cry against the wild beast of the reeds, and the nations that assemble like a herd of calves led by bulls! They humble themselves and offer gold and silver as tribute. God scatters the nations that like to do battle.

Psalms 68:31 They come with red cloth from Egypt, Ethiopia voluntarily offers tribute to God.

Psalms 68:32 O kingdoms of the earth, sing to God! Sing praises to the Lord, (Selah)

Psalms 68:33 to the one who rides through the sky from ancient times! Look! He thunders loudly.

Psalms 68:34 Acknowledge God’s power, his sovereignty over Israel, and the power he reveals in the skies!

Psalms 68:35 You are awe-inspiring, O God, as you emerge from your holy temple! It is the God of Israel who gives the people power and strength. God deserves praise!

Psalms 69:1 [For the music director; according to the tune of “Lilies;” by David.] Deliver me, O God, for the water has reached my neck.

Psalms 69:2 I sink into the deep mire where there is no solid ground; I am in deep water, and the current overpowers me.

Psalms 69:3 I am exhausted from shouting for help; my throat is sore; my eyes grow tired of looking for my God.

Psalms 69:4 Those who hate me without cause are more numerous than the hairs of my head. Those who want to destroy me, my enemies for no reason, outnumber me. They make me repay what I did not steal!

Psalms 69:5 O God, you are aware of my foolish sins; my guilt is not hidden from you.

Psalms 69:6 Let none who rely on you be disgraced because of me, O sovereign LORD and king! Let none who seek you be ashamed because of me, O God of Israel!

Psalms 69:7 For I suffer humiliation for your sake and am thoroughly disgraced.

Psalms 69:8 My own brothers treat me like a stranger; they act as if I were a foreigner.

Psalms 69:9 Certainly zeal for your house consumes me; I endure the insults of those who insult you.

Psalms 69:10 I weep and refrain from eating food, which causes others to insult me.

Psalms 69:11 I wear sackcloth and they ridicule me.

Psalms 69:12 Those who sit at the city gate gossip about me; drunkards mock me in their songs.

Psalms 69:13 O LORD, may you hear my prayer and be favorably disposed to me! O God, because of your great loyal love, answer me with your faithful deliverance!

Psalms 69:14 Rescue me from the mud! Don't let me sink! Deliver me from those who hate me, from the deep water!

Psalms 69:15 Don't let the current overpower me! Don't let the deep swallow me up! Don't let the pit devour me!

Psalms 69:16 Answer me, O LORD, for your loyal love is good! Because of your great compassion, turn toward me!

Psalms 69:17 Do not ignore your servant, for I am in trouble! Answer me right away!

Psalms 69:18 Come near me and redeem me! Because of my enemies, rescue me!

Psalms 69:19 You know how I am insulted, humiliated and disgraced; you can see all my enemies.

Psalms 69:20 Their insults are painful and make me lose heart; I look for sympathy, but receive none, for comforters, but find none.

Psalms 69:21 They put bitter poison into my food, and to quench my thirst they give me vinegar to drink.

Psalms 69:22 May their dining table become a trap before them! May it be a snare for that group of friends!

Psalms 69:23 May their eyes be blinded! Make them shake violently!

Psalms 69:24 Pour out your judgment on them! May your raging anger overtake them!

Psalms 69:25 May their camp become desolate, their tents uninhabited!

Psalms 69:26 For they harass the one whom you discipline; they spread the news about the suffering of those whom you punish.

Psalms 69:27 Hold them accountable for all their sins! Do not vindicate them!

Psalms 69:28 May their names be deleted from the scroll of the living! Do not let their names be listed with the godly!

Psalms 69:29 I am oppressed and suffering! O God, deliver and protect me!

Psalms 69:30 I will sing praises to God's name! I will magnify him as I give him thanks!

Psalms 69:31 That will please the LORD more than an ox or a bull with horns and hooves.

Psalms 69:32 The oppressed look on– let them rejoice! You who seek God, may you be encouraged!

Psalms 69:33 For the LORD listens to the needy; he does not despise his captive people.

Psalms 69:34 Let the heavens and the earth praise him, along with the seas and everything that swims in them!

Psalms 69:35 For God will deliver Zion and rebuild the cities of Judah, and his people will again live in them and possess Zion.

Psalms 69:36 The descendants of his servants will inherit it, and those who are loyal to him will live in it.

Psalms 70:1 [For the music director; by David; written to get God's attention.] O God, please be willing to rescue me! O LORD, hurry and help me!

Psalms 70:2 May those who are trying to take my life be embarrassed and ashamed! May those who want to harm me be turned back and ashamed!

Psalms 70:3 May those who say, "Aha! Aha!" be driven back and disgraced!

Psalms 70:4 May all those who seek you be happy and rejoice in you! May those who love to experience your deliverance say continually, "May God be praised!"

Psalms 70:5 I am oppressed and needy! O God, hurry to me! You are my helper and my deliverer! O LORD, do not delay!

Psalms 71:1 In you, O LORD, I have taken shelter! Never let me be humiliated!

Psalms 71:2 Vindicate me by rescuing me! Listen to me! Deliver me!

Psalms 71:3 Be my protector and refuge, a stronghold where I can be safe! For you are my high ridge and my stronghold.

Psalms 71:4 My God, rescue me from the power of the wicked, from the hand of the cruel oppressor!

Psalms 71:5 For you give me confidence, O Lord; O LORD, I have trusted in you since I was young.

Psalms 71:6 I have leaned on you since birth; you pulled me from my mother’s womb. I praise you continually.

Psalms 71:7 Many are appalled when they see me, but you are my secure shelter.

Psalms 71:8 I praise you constantly and speak of your splendor all day long.

Psalms 71:9 Do not reject me in my old age! When my strength fails, do not abandon me!

Psalms 71:10 For my enemies talk about me; those waiting for a chance to kill me plot my demise.

Psalms 71:11 They say, “God has abandoned him. Run and seize him, for there is no one who will rescue him!”

Psalms 71:12 O God, do not remain far away from me! My God, hurry and help me!

Psalms 71:13 May my accusers be humiliated and defeated! May those who want to harm me be covered with scorn and disgrace!

Psalms 71:14 As for me, I will wait continually, and will continue to praise you.

Psalms 71:15 I will tell about your justice, and all day long proclaim your salvation, though I cannot fathom its full extent.

Psalms 71:16 I will come and tell about the mighty acts of the sovereign LORD. I will proclaim your justice– yours alone.

Psalms 71:17 O God, you have taught me since I was young, and I am still declaring your amazing deeds.

Psalms 71:18 Even when I am old and gray, O God, do not abandon me, until I tell the next generation about your strength, and those coming after me about your power.

Psalms 71:19 Your justice, O God, extends to the skies above; you have done great things. O God, who can compare to you?

Psalms 71:20 Though you have allowed me to experience much trouble and distress, revive me once again! Bring me up once again from the depths of the earth!

Psalms 71:21 Raise me to a position of great honor! Turn and comfort me!

Psalms 71:22 I will express my thanks to you with a stringed instrument, praising your faithfulness, O my God! I will sing praises to you accompanied by a harp, O Holy One of Israel!

Psalms 71:23 My lips will shout for joy! Yes, I will sing your praises! I will praise you when you rescue me!

Psalms 71:24 All day long my tongue will also tell about your justice, for those who want to harm me will be embarrassed and ashamed.

Psalms 72:1 [For Solomon.] O God, grant the king the ability to make just decisions! Grant the king's son the ability to make fair decisions!

Psalms 72:2 Then he will judge your people fairly, and your oppressed ones equitably.

Psalms 72:3 The mountains will bring news of peace to the people, and the hills will announce justice.

Psalms 72:4 He will defend the oppressed among the people; he will deliver the children of the poor and crush the oppressor.

Psalms 72:5 People will fear you as long as the sun and moon remain in the sky, for generation after generation.

Psalms 72:6 He will descend like rain on the mown grass, like showers that drench the earth.

Psalms 72:7 During his days the godly will flourish; peace will prevail as long as the moon remains in the sky.

Psalms 72:8 May he rule from sea to sea, and from the Euphrates River to the ends of the earth!

Psalms 72:9 Before him the coastlands will bow down, and his enemies will lick the dust.

Psalms 72:10 The kings of Tarshish and the coastlands will offer gifts; the kings of Sheba and Seba will bring tribute.

Psalms 72:11 All kings will bow down to him; all nations will serve him.

Psalms 72:12 For he will rescue the needy when they cry out for help, and the oppressed who have no defender.

Psalms 72:13 He will take pity on the poor and needy; the lives of the needy he will save.

Psalms 72:14 From harm and violence he will defend them; he will value their lives.

Psalms 72:15 May he live! May they offer him gold from Sheba! May they continually pray for him! May they pronounce blessings on him all day long!

Psalms 72:16 May there be an abundance of grain in the earth; on the tops of the mountains may it sway! May its fruit trees flourish like the forests of Lebanon! May its crops be as abundant as the grass of the earth!

Psalms 72:17 May his fame endure! May his dynasty last as long as the sun remains in the sky! May they use his name when they formulate their blessings! May all nations consider him to be favored by God!

Psalms 72:18 The LORD God, the God of Israel, deserves praise! He alone accomplishes amazing things!

Psalms 72:19 His glorious name deserves praise forevermore! May his majestic splendor fill the whole earth! We agree! We agree!

Psalms 72:20 This collection of the prayers of David son of Jesse ends here. Book 3 (Psalms 73-89)

Psalms 73:1 [A psalm by Asaph.] Certainly God is good to Israel, and to those whose motives are pure!

Psalms 73:2 But as for me, my feet almost slipped; my feet almost slid out from under me.

Psalms 73:3 For I envied those who are proud, as I observed the prosperity of the wicked.

Psalms 73:4 For they suffer no pain; their bodies are strong and well-fed.

Psalms 73:5 They are immune to the trouble common to men; they do not suffer as other men do.

Psalms 73:6 Arrogance is their necklace, and violence their clothing.

Psalms 73:7 Their prosperity causes them to do wrong; their thoughts are sinful.

Psalms 73:8 They mock and say evil things; they proudly threaten violence.

Psalms 73:9 They speak as if they rule in heaven, and lay claim to the earth.

Psalms 73:10 Therefore they have more than enough food to eat, and even suck up the water of the sea.

Psalms 73:11 They say, “How does God know what we do? Is the sovereign one aware of what goes on?”

Psalms 73:12 Take a good look! This is what the wicked are like, those who always have it so easy and get richer and richer.

Psalms 73:13 I concluded, “Surely in vain I have kept my motives pure and maintained a pure lifestyle.

Psalms 73:14 I suffer all day long, and am punished every morning.”

Psalms 73:15 If I had publicized these thoughts, I would have betrayed your loyal followers.

Psalms 73:16 When I tried to make sense of this, it was troubling to me.

Psalms 73:17 Then I entered the precincts of God’s temple, and understood the destiny of the wicked.

Psalms 73:18 Surely you put them in slippery places; you bring them down to ruin.

Psalms 73:19 How desolate they become in a mere moment! Terrifying judgments make their demise complete!

Psalms 73:20 They are like a dream after one wakes up. O Lord, when you awake you will despise them.

Psalms 73:21 Yes, my spirit was bitter, and my insides felt sharp pain.

Psalms 73:22 I was ignorant and lacked insight; I was as senseless as an animal before you.

Psalms 73:23 But I am continually with you; you hold my right hand.

Psalms 73:24 You guide me by your wise advice, and then you will lead me to a position of honor.

Psalms 73:25 Whom do I have in heaven but you? I desire no one but you on earth.

Psalms 73:26 My flesh and my heart may grow weak, but God always protects my heart and gives me stability.

Psalms 73:27 Yes, look! Those far from you die; you destroy everyone who is unfaithful to you.

Psalms 73:28 But as for me, God's presence is all I need. I have made the sovereign LORD my shelter, as I declare all the things you have done.

Psalms 74:1 [A well-written song by Asaph.] Why, O God, have you permanently rejected us? Why does your anger burn against the sheep of your pasture?

Psalms 74:2 Remember your people whom you acquired in ancient times, whom you rescued so they could be your very own nation, as well as Mount Zion, where you dwell!

Psalms 74:3 Hurry and look at the permanent ruins, and all the damage the enemy has done to the temple!

Psalms 74:4 Your enemies roar in the middle of your sanctuary; they set up their battle flags.

Psalms 74:5 They invade like lumberjacks swinging their axes in a thick forest.

Psalms 74:6 And now they are tearing down all its engravings with axes and crowbars.

Psalms 74:7 They set your sanctuary on fire; they desecrate your dwelling place by knocking it to the ground.

Psalms 74:8 They say to themselves, "We will oppress all of them." They burn down all the places where people worship God in the land.

Psalms 74:9 We do not see any signs of God’s presence; there are no longer any prophets and we have no one to tell us how long this will last.

Psalms 74:10 How long, O God, will the adversary hurl insults? Will the enemy blaspheme your name forever?

Psalms 74:11 Why do you remain inactive? Intervene and destroy him!

Psalms 74:12 But God has been my king from ancient times, performing acts of deliverance on the earth.

Psalms 74:13 You destroyed the sea by your strength; you shattered the heads of the sea monster in the water.

Psalms 74:14 You crushed the heads of Leviathan; you fed him to the people who live along the coast.

Psalms 74:15 You broke open the spring and the stream; you dried up perpetually flowing rivers.

Psalms 74:16 You established the cycle of day and night; you put the moon and sun in place.

Psalms 74:17 You set up all the boundaries of the earth; you created the cycle of summer and winter.

Psalms 74:18 Remember how the enemy hurls insults, O LORD, and how a foolish nation blasphemes your name!

Psalms 74:19 Do not hand the life of your dove over to a wild animal! Do not continue to disregard the lives of your oppressed people!

Psalms 74:20 Remember your covenant promises, for the dark regions of the earth are full of places where violence rules.

Psalms 74:21 Do not let the afflicted be turned back in shame! Let the oppressed and poor praise your name!

Psalms 74:22 Rise up, O God! Defend your honor! Remember how fools insult you all day long!

Psalms 74:23 Do not disregard what your enemies say, or the unceasing shouts of those who defy you.

Psalms 75:1 [For the music director; according to the al-tashcheth style; a psalm of Asaph; a song.] We give thanks to you, O God! We give thanks! You reveal your presence; people tell about your amazing deeds.

Psalms 75:2 God says, “At the appointed times, I judge fairly.

Psalms 75:3 When the earth and all its inhabitants dissolve in fear, I make its pillars secure.” (Selah)

Psalms 75:4 I say to the proud, “Do not be proud,” and to the wicked, “Do not be so confident of victory!

Psalms 75:5 Do not be so certain you have won! Do not speak with your head held so high!

Psalms 75:6 For victory does not come from the east or west, or from the wilderness.

Psalms 75:7 For God is the judge! He brings one down and exalts another.

Psalms 75:8 For the LORD holds in his hand a cup full of foaming wine mixed with spices, and pours it out. Surely all the wicked of the earth will slurp it up and drink it to its very last drop.”

Psalms 75:9 As for me, I will continually tell what you have done; I will sing praises to the God of Jacob!

Psalms 75:10 God says, “I will bring down all the power of the wicked; the godly will be victorious.”

Psalms 76:1 [For the music director; to be accompanied by stringed instruments; a psalm of Asaph, a song.] God has revealed himself in Judah; in Israel his reputation is great.

Psalms 76:2 He lives in Salem; he dwells in Zion.

Psalms 76:3 There he shattered the arrows, the shield, the sword, and the rest of the weapons of war. (Selah)

Psalms 76:4 You shine brightly and reveal your majesty, as you descend from the hills where you killed your prey.

Psalms 76:5 The bravehearted were plundered; they “fell asleep.” All the warriors were helpless.

Psalms 76:6 At the sound of your battle cry, O God of Jacob, both rider and horse “fell asleep.”

Psalms 76:7 You are awesome! Yes, you! Who can withstand your intense anger?

Psalms 76:8 From heaven you announced what their punishment would be. The earth was afraid and silent

Psalms 76:9 when God arose to execute judgment, and to deliver all the oppressed of the earth. (Selah)

Psalms 76:10 Certainly your angry judgment upon men will bring you praise; you reveal your anger in full measure.

Psalms 76:11 Make vows to the LORD your God and repay them! Let all those who surround him bring tribute to the awesome one!

Psalms 76:12 He humbles princes; the kings of the earth regard him as awesome.

Psalms 77:1 [For the music director, Jeduthun; a psalm of Asaph.] I will cry out to God and call for help! I will cry out to God and he will pay attention to me.

Psalms 77:2 In my time of trouble I sought the Lord. I kept my hand raised in prayer throughout the night. I refused to be comforted.

Psalms 77:3 I said, “I will remember God while I groan; I will think about him while my strength leaves me.” (Selah)

Psalms 77:4 You held my eyelids open; I was troubled and could not speak.

Psalms 77:5 I thought about the days of old, about ancient times.

Psalms 77:6 I said, “During the night I will remember the song I once sang; I will think very carefully.” I tried to make sense of what was happening.

Psalms 77:7 I asked, “Will the Lord reject me forever? Will he never again show me his favor?

Psalms 77:8 Has his loyal love disappeared forever? Has his promise failed forever?

Psalms 77:9 Has God forgotten to be merciful? Has his anger stifled his compassion?”

Psalms 77:10 Then I said, “I am sickened by the thought that the sovereign One might become inactive.

Psalms 77:11 I will remember the works of the LORD. Yes, I will remember the amazing things you did long ago!

Psalms 77:12 I will think about all you have done; I will reflect upon your deeds!”

Psalms 77:13 O God, your deeds are extraordinary! What god can compare to our great God?

Psalms 77:14 You are the God who does amazing things; you have revealed your strength among the nations.

Psalms 77:15 You delivered your people by your strength– the children of Jacob and Joseph. (Selah)

Psalms 77:16 The waters saw you, O God, the waters saw you and trembled. Yes, the depths of the sea shook with fear.

Psalms 77:17 The clouds poured down rain; the skies thundered. Yes, your arrows flashed about.

Psalms 77:18 Your thunderous voice was heard in the wind; the lightning bolts lit up the world; the earth trembled and shook.

Psalms 77:19 You walked through the sea; you passed through the surging waters, but left no footprints.

Psalms 77:20 You led your people like a flock of sheep, by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Psalms 78:1 [A well-written song by Asaph.] Pay attention, my people, to my instruction! Listen to the words I speak!

Psalms 78:2 I will sing a song that imparts wisdom; I will make insightful observations about the past.

Psalms 78:3 What we have heard and learned– that which our ancestors have told us–

Psalms 78:4 we will not hide from their descendants. We will tell the next generation about the LORD's praiseworthy acts, about his strength and the amazing things he has done.

Psalms 78:5 He established a rule in Jacob; he set up a law in Israel. He commanded our ancestors to make his deeds known to their descendants,

Psalms 78:6 so that the next generation, children yet to be born, might know about them. They will grow up and tell their descendants about them.

Psalms 78:7 Then they will place their confidence in God. They will not forget the works of God, and they will obey his commands.

Psalms 78:8 Then they will not be like their ancestors, who were a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation that was not committed and faithful to God.

Psalms 78:9 The Ephraimites were armed with bows, but they retreated in the day of battle.

Psalms 78:10 They did not keep their covenant with God, and they refused to obey his law.

Psalms 78:11 They forgot what he had done, the amazing things he had shown them.

Psalms 78:12 He did amazing things in the sight of their ancestors, in the land of Egypt, in the region of Zoan.

Psalms 78:13 He divided the sea and led them across it; he made the water stand in a heap.

Psalms 78:14 He led them with a cloud by day, and with the light of a fire all night long.

Psalms 78:15 He broke open rocks in the wilderness, and gave them enough water to fill the depths of the sea.

Psalms 78:16 He caused streams to flow from the rock, and made the water flow like rivers.

Psalms 78:17 Yet they continued to sin against him, and rebelled against the sovereign One in the desert.

Psalms 78:18 They willfully challenged God by asking for food to satisfy their appetite.

Psalms 78:19 They insulted God, saying, "Is God really able to give us food in the wilderness?

Psalms 78:20 Yes, he struck a rock and water flowed out, streams gushed forth. But can he also give us food? Will he provide meat for his people?"

Psalms 78:21 When the LORD heard this, he was furious. A fire broke out against Jacob, and his anger flared up against Israel,

Psalms 78:22 because they did not have faith in God, and did not trust his ability to deliver them.

Psalms 78:23 He gave a command to the clouds above, and opened the doors in the sky.

Psalms 78:24 He rained down manna for them to eat; he gave them the grain of heaven.

Psalms 78:25 Man ate the food of the mighty ones. He sent them more than enough to eat.

Psalms 78:26 He brought the east wind through the sky, and by his strength led forth the south wind.

Psalms 78:27 He rained down meat on them like dust, birds as numerous as the sand on the seashores.

Psalms 78:28 He caused them to fall right in the middle of their camp, all around their homes.

Psalms 78:29 They ate until they were stuffed; he gave them what they desired.

Psalms 78:30 They were not yet filled up, their food was still in their mouths,

Psalms 78:31 when the anger of God flared up against them. He killed some of the strongest of them; he brought the young men of Israel to their knees.

Psalms 78:32 Despite all this, they continued to sin, and did not trust him to do amazing things.

Psalms 78:33 So he caused them to die unsatisfied and filled with terror.

Psalms 78:34 When he struck them down, they sought his favor; they turned back and longed for God.

Psalms 78:35 They remembered that God was their protector, and that the sovereign God was their deliverer.

Psalms 78:36 But they deceived him with their words, and lied to him.

Psalms 78:37 They were not really committed to him, and they were unfaithful to his covenant.

Psalms 78:38 Yet he is compassionate. He forgives sin and does not destroy. He often holds back his anger, and does not stir up his fury.

Psalms 78:39 He remembered that they were made of flesh, and were like a wind that blows past and does not return.

Psalms 78:40 How often they rebelled against him in the wilderness, and insulted him in the desert!

Psalms 78:41 They again challenged God, and offended the Holy One of Israel.

Psalms 78:42 They did not remember what he had done, how he delivered them from the enemy,

Psalms 78:43 when he performed his awesome deeds in Egypt, and his acts of judgment in the region of Zoan.

Psalms 78:44 He turned their rivers into blood, and they could not drink from their streams.

Psalms 78:45 He sent swarms of biting insects against them, as well as frogs that overran their land.

Psalms 78:46 He gave their crops to the grasshopper, the fruit of their labor to the locust.

Psalms 78:47 He destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycamore-fig trees with driving rain.

Psalms 78:48 He rained hail down on their cattle, and hurled lightning bolts down on their livestock.

Psalms 78:49 His raging anger lashed out against them, He sent fury, rage, and trouble as messengers who bring disaster.

Psalms 78:50 He sent his anger in full force; he did not spare them from death; he handed their lives over to destruction.

Psalms 78:51 He struck down all the firstborn in Egypt, the firstfruits of their reproductive power in the tents of Ham.

Psalms 78:52 Yet he brought out his people like sheep; he led them through the wilderness like a flock.

Psalms 78:53 He guided them safely along, while the sea covered their enemies.

Psalms 78:54 He brought them to the border of his holy land, to this mountainous land which his right hand acquired.

Psalms 78:55 He drove the nations out from before them; he assigned them their tribal allotments and allowed the tribes of Israel to settle down.

Psalms 78:56 Yet they challenged and defied the sovereign God, and did not obey his commands.

Psalms 78:57 They were unfaithful and acted as treacherously as their ancestors; they were as unreliable as a malfunctioning bow.

Psalms 78:58 They made him angry with their pagan shrines, and made him jealous with their idols.

Psalms 78:59 God heard and was angry; he completely rejected Israel.

Psalms 78:60 He abandoned the sanctuary at Shiloh, the tent where he lived among men.

Psalms 78:61 He allowed the symbol of his strong presence to be captured; he gave the symbol of his splendor into the hand of the enemy.

Psalms 78:62 He delivered his people over to the sword, and was angry with his chosen nation.

Psalms 78:63 Fire consumed their young men, and their virgins remained unmarried.

Psalms 78:64 Their priests fell by the sword, but their widows did not weep.

Psalms 78:65 But then the Lord awoke from his sleep; he was like a warrior in a drunken rage.

Psalms 78:66 He drove his enemies back; he made them a permanent target for insults.

Psalms 78:67 He rejected the tent of Joseph; he did not choose the tribe of Ephraim.

Psalms 78:68 He chose the tribe of Judah, and Mount Zion, which he loves.

Psalms 78:69 He made his sanctuary as enduring as the heavens above; as secure as the earth, which he established permanently.

Psalms 78:70 He chose David, his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds.

Psalms 78:71 He took him away from following the mother sheep, and made him the shepherd of Jacob, his people, and of Israel, his chosen nation.

Psalms 78:72 David cared for them with pure motives; he led them with skill.

Psalms 79:1 [A psalm of Asaph.] O God, foreigners have invaded your chosen land; they have polluted your holy temple and turned Jerusalem into a heap of ruins.

Psalms 79:2 They have given the corpses of your servants to the birds of the sky; the flesh of your loyal followers to the beasts of the earth.

Psalms 79:3 They have made their blood flow like water all around Jerusalem, and there is no one to bury them.

Psalms 79:4 We have become an object of disdain to our neighbors; those who live on our borders taunt and insult us.

Psalms 79:5 How long will this go on, O LORD? Will you stay angry forever? How long will your rage burn like fire?

Psalms 79:6 Pour out your anger on the nations that do not acknowledge you, on the kingdoms that do not pray to you!

Psalms 79:7 For they have devoured Jacob and destroyed his home.

Psalms 79:8 Do not hold us accountable for the sins of earlier generations! Quickly send your compassion our way, for we are in serious trouble!

Psalms 79:9 Help us, O God, our deliverer! For the sake of your glorious reputation, rescue us! Forgive our sins for the sake of your reputation!

Psalms 79:10 Why should the nations say, “Where is their God?” Before our very eyes may the shed blood of your servants be avenged among the nations!

Psalms 79:11 Listen to the painful cries of the prisoners! Use your great strength to set free those condemned to die!

Psalms 79:12 Pay back our neighbors in full! May they be insulted the same way they insulted you, O Lord!

Psalms 79:13 Then we, your people, the sheep of your pasture, will continually thank you. We will tell coming generations of your praiseworthy acts.

Psalms 80:1 [For the music director; according to the shushan-eduth style; a psalm of Asaph.] O shepherd of Israel, pay attention, you who lead Joseph like a flock of sheep! You who sit enthroned above the winged angels, reveal your splendor!

Psalms 80:2 In the sight of Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh reveal your power! Come and deliver us!

Psalms 80:3 O God, restore us! Smile on us! Then we will be delivered!

Psalms 80:4 O LORD God, invincible warrior! How long will you remain angry at your people while they pray to you?

Psalms 80:5 You have given them tears as food; you have made them drink tears by the measure.

Psalms 80:6 You have made our neighbors dislike us, and our enemies insult us.

Psalms 80:7 O God, invincible warrior, restore us! Smile on us! Then we will be delivered!

Psalms 80:8 You uprooted a vine from Egypt; you drove out nations and transplanted it.

Psalms 80:9 You cleared the ground for it; it took root, and filled the land.

Psalms 80:10 The mountains were covered by its shadow, the highest cedars by its branches.

Psalms 80:11 Its branches reached the Mediterranean Sea, and its shoots the Euphrates River.

Psalms 80:12 Why did you break down its walls, so that all who pass by pluck its fruit?

Psalms 80:13 The wild boars of the forest ruin it; the insects of the field feed on it.

Psalms 80:14 O God, invincible warrior, come back! Look down from heaven and take notice! Take care of this vine,

Psalms 80:15 the root your right hand planted, the shoot you made to grow!

Psalms 80:16 It is burned and cut down. They die because you are displeased with them.

Psalms 80:17 May you give support to the one you have chosen, to the one whom you raised up for yourself!

Psalms 80:18 Then we will not turn away from you. Revive us and we will pray to you!

Psalms 80:19 O LORD God, invincible warrior, restore us! Smile on us! Then we will be delivered!

Psalms 81:1 [For the music director; according to the gittith style; by Asaph.] Shout for joy to God, our source of strength! Shout out to the God of Jacob!

Psalms 81:2 Sing a song and play the tambourine, the pleasant sounding harp, and the ten-stringed instrument!

Psalms 81:3 Sound the ram’s horn on the day of the new moon, and on the day of the full moon when our festival begins.

Psalms 81:4 For observing the festival is a requirement for Israel; it is an ordinance given by the God of Jacob.

Psalms 81:5 He decreed it as a regulation in Joseph, when he attacked the land of Egypt. I heard a voice I did not recognize.

Psalms 81:6 It said: “I removed the burden from his shoulder; his hands were released from holding the basket.

Psalms 81:7 In your distress you called out and I rescued you. I answered you from a dark thundercloud. I tested you at the waters of Meribah. (Selah)

Psalms 81:8 I said, ‘Listen, my people! I will warn you! O Israel, if only you would obey me!

Psalms 81:9 There must be no other god among you. You must not worship a foreign god.

Psalms 81:10 I am the LORD, your God, the one who brought you out of the land of Egypt. Open your mouth wide and I will fill it!’

Psalms 81:11 But my people did not obey me; Israel did not submit to me.

Psalms 81:12 I gave them over to their stubborn desires; they did what seemed right to them.

Psalms 81:13 If only my people would obey me! If only Israel would keep my commands!

Psalms 81:14 Then I would quickly subdue their enemies, and attack their adversaries.”

Psalms 81:15 (May those who hate the LORD cower in fear before him! May they be permanently humiliated!)

Psalms 81:16 “I would feed Israel the best wheat, and would satisfy your appetite with honey from the rocky cliffs.”

Psalms 82:1 [A psalm of Asaph.] God stands in the assembly of El; in the midst of the gods he renders judgment.

Psalms 82:2 He says, “How long will you make unjust legal decisions and show favoritism to the wicked? (Selah)

Psalms 82:3 Defend the cause of the poor and the fatherless! Vindicate the oppressed and suffering!

Psalms 82:4 Rescue the poor and needy! Deliver them from the power of the wicked!

Psalms 82:5 They neither know nor understand. They stumble around in the dark, while all the foundations of the earth crumble.

Psalms 82:6 I thought, ‘You are gods; all of you are sons of the Most High.’

Psalms 82:7 Yet you will die like mortals; you will fall like all the other rulers.”

Psalms 82:8 Rise up, O God, and execute judgment on the earth! For you own all the nations.

Psalms 83:1 [A song, a psalm of Asaph.] O God, do not be silent! Do not ignore us! Do not be inactive, O God!

Psalms 83:2 For look, your enemies are making a commotion; those who hate you are hostile.

Psalms 83:3 They carefully plot against your people, and make plans to harm the ones you cherish.

Psalms 83:4 They say, “Come on, let’s annihilate them so they are no longer a nation! Then the name of Israel will be remembered no more.”

Psalms 83:5 Yes, they devise a unified strategy; they form an alliance against you.

Psalms 83:6 It includes the tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Hagrites,

Psalms 83:7 Gebal, Ammon, and Amalek, Philistia and the inhabitants of Tyre.

Psalms 83:8 Even Assyria has allied with them, lending its strength to the descendants of Lot. (Selah)

Psalms 83:9 Do to them as you did to Midian– as you did to Sisera and Jabin at the Kishon River!

Psalms 83:10 They were destroyed at Endor; their corpses were like manure on the ground.

Psalms 83:11 Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb, and all their rulers like Zebah and Zalmunna,

Psalms 83:12 who said, “Let’s take over the pastures of God!”

Psalms 83:13 O my God, make them like dead thistles, like dead weeds blown away by the wind!

Psalms 83:14 Like the fire that burns down the forest, or the flames that consume the mountainsides,

Psalms 83:15 chase them with your gale winds, and terrify them with your windstorm.

Psalms 83:16 Cover their faces with shame, so they might seek you, O LORD.

Psalms 83:17 May they be humiliated and continually terrified! May they die in shame!

Psalms 83:18 Then they will know that you alone are the LORD, the sovereign king over all the earth.

Psalms 84:1 [For the music director; according to the gittith style; written by the Korahites, a psalm.] How lovely is the place where you live, O LORD WHO RULES OVER ALL!

Psalms 84:2 I desperately want to be in the courts of the LORD’s temple. My heart and my entire being shout for joy to the living God.

Psalms 84:3 Even the birds find a home there, and the swallow builds a nest, where she can protect her young near your altars, O LORD WHO RULES OVER ALL, my king and my God.

Psalms 84:4 How blessed are those who live in your temple and praise you continually! (Selah)

Psalms 84:5 How blessed are those who find their strength in you, and long to travel the roads that lead to your temple!

Psalms 84:6 As they pass through the Baca Valley, he provides a spring for them. The rain even covers it with pools of water.

Psalms 84:7 They are sustained as they travel along; each one appears before God in Zion.

Psalms 84:8 O LORD, sovereign God, hear my prayer! Listen, O God of Jacob! (Selah)

Psalms 84:9 O God, take notice of our shield! Show concern for your chosen king!

Psalms 84:10 Certainly spending just one day in your temple courts is better than spending a thousand elsewhere. I would rather stand at the entrance to the temple of my God than live in the tents of the wicked.

Psalms 84:11 For the LORD God is our sovereign protector. The LORD bestows favor and honor; he withholds no good thing from those who have integrity.

Psalms 84:12 O LORD WHO RULES OVER ALL, how blessed are those who trust in you!

Psalms 85:1 [For the music director; written by the Korahites, a psalm.] O LORD, you showed favor to your land; you restored the well-being of Jacob.

Psalms 85:2 You pardoned the wrongdoing of your people; you forgave all their sin. (Selah)

Psalms 85:3 You withdrew all your fury; you turned back from your raging anger.

Psalms 85:4 Restore us, O God our deliverer! Do not be displeased with us!

Psalms 85:5 Will you stay mad at us forever? Will you remain angry throughout future generations?

Psalms 85:6 Will you not revive us once more? Then your people will rejoice in you!

Psalms 85:7 O LORD, show us your loyal love! Bestow on us your deliverance!

Psalms 85:8 I will listen to what God the LORD says. For he will make peace with his people, his faithful followers. Yet they must not return to their foolish ways.

Psalms 85:9 Certainly his loyal followers will soon experience his deliverance; then his splendor will again appear in our land.

Psalms 85:10 Loyal love and faithfulness meet; deliverance and peace greet each other with a kiss.

Psalms 85:11 Faithfulness grows from the ground, and deliverance looks down from the sky.

Psalms 85:12 Yes, the LORD will bestow his good blessings, and our land will yield its crops.

Psalms 85:13 Deliverance goes before him, and prepares a pathway for him.

Psalms 86:1 [A prayer of David.] Listen O LORD! Answer me! For I am oppressed and needy.

Psalms 86:2 Protect me, for I am loyal! O my God, deliver your servant, who trusts in you!

Psalms 86:3 Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I cry out to you all day long!

Psalms 86:4 Make your servant glad, for to you, O Lord, I pray!

Psalms 86:5 Certainly O Lord, you are kind and forgiving, and show great faithfulness to all who cry out to you.

Psalms 86:6 O LORD, hear my prayer! Pay attention to my plea for mercy!

Psalms 86:7 In my time of trouble I cry out to you, for you will answer me.

Psalms 86:8 None can compare to you among the gods, O Lord! Your exploits are incomparable!

Psalms 86:9 All the nations, whom you created, will come and worship you, O Lord. They will honor your name.

Psalms 86:10 For you are great and do amazing things. You alone are God.

Psalms 86:11 O LORD, teach me how you want me to live! Then I will obey your commands. Make me wholeheartedly committed to you!

Psalms 86:12 O Lord, my God, I will give you thanks with my whole heart! I will honor your name continually!

Psalms 86:13 For you will extend your great loyal love to me, and will deliver my life from the depths of Sheol.

Psalms 86:14 O God, arrogant men attack me; a gang of ruthless men, who do not respect you, seek my life.

Psalms 86:15 But you, O Lord, are a compassionate and merciful God. You are patient and demonstrate great loyal love and faithfulness.

Psalms 86:16 Turn toward me and have mercy on me! Give your servant your strength! Deliver your slave!

Psalms 86:17 Show me evidence of your favor! Then those who hate me will see it and be ashamed, for you, O LORD, will help me and comfort me.

Psalms 87:1 [Written by the Korahites; a psalm, a song.] The LORD’s city is in the holy hills.

Psalms 87:2 The LORD loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwelling places of Jacob.

Psalms 87:3 People say wonderful things about you, O city of God. (Selah)

Psalms 87:4 I mention Rahab and Babylon to my followers. Here are Philistia and Tyre, along with Ethiopia. It is said of them, “This one was born there.”

Psalms 87:5 But it is said of Zion’s residents, “Each one of these was born in her, and the sovereign One makes her secure.”

Psalms 87:6 The LORD writes in the census book of the nations, “This one was born there.” (Selah)

Psalms 87:7 As for the singers, as well as the pipers– all of them sing within your walls.

Psalms 88:1 [A song, a psalm written by the Korahites; for the music director; according to the machalath-leannoth style; a well-written song by Heman the Ezrachite.] O LORD God who delivers me! By day I cry out and at night I pray before you.

Psalms 88:2 Listen to my prayer! Pay attention to my cry for help!

Psalms 88:3 For my life is filled with troubles and I am ready to enter Sheol.

Psalms 88:4 They treat me like those who descend into the grave. I am like a helpless man,

Psalms 88:5 adrift among the dead, like corpses lying in the grave, whom you remember no more, and who are cut off from your power.

Psalms 88:6 You place me in the lowest regions of the pit, in the dark places, in the watery depths.

Psalms 88:7 Your anger bears down on me, and you overwhelm me with all your waves. (Selah)

Psalms 88:8 You cause those who know me to keep their distance; you make me an appalling sight to them. I am trapped and cannot get free.

Psalms 88:9 My eyes grow weak because of oppression. I call out to you, O LORD, all day long; I spread out my hands in prayer to you.

Psalms 88:10 Do you accomplish amazing things for the dead? Do the departed spirits rise up and give you thanks? (Selah)

Psalms 88:11 Is your loyal love proclaimed in the grave, or your faithfulness in the place of the dead?

Psalms 88:12 Are your amazing deeds experienced in the dark region, or your deliverance in the land of oblivion?

Psalms 88:13 As for me, I cry out to you, O LORD; in the morning my prayer confronts you.

Psalms 88:14 O LORD, why do you reject me, and pay no attention to me?

Psalms 88:15 I am oppressed and have been on the verge of death since my youth. I have been subjected to your horrors and am numb with pain.

Psalms 88:16 Your anger overwhelms me; your terrors destroy me.

Psalms 88:17 They surround me like water all day long; they join forces and encircle me.

Psalms 88:18 You cause my friends and neighbors to keep their distance; those who know me leave me alone in the darkness.

Psalms 89:1 [A well-written song by Ethan the Ezrachite.] I will sing continually about the LORD’s faithful deeds; to future generations I will proclaim your faithfulness.

Psalms 89:2 For I say, “Loyal love is permanently established; in the skies you set up your faithfulness.”

Psalms 89:3 The LORD said, “I have made a covenant with my chosen one; I have made a promise on oath to David, my servant:

Psalms 89:4 ‘I will give you an eternal dynasty and establish your throne throughout future generations.’“ (Selah)

Psalms 89:5 O LORD, the heavens praise your amazing deeds, as well as your faithfulness in the angelic assembly.

Psalms 89:6 For who in the skies can compare to the LORD? Who is like the LORD among the heavenly beings,

Psalms 89:7 a God who is honored in the great angelic assembly, and more awesome than all who surround him?

Psalms 89:8 O LORD, sovereign God! Who is strong like you, O LORD? Your faithfulness surrounds you.

Psalms 89:9 You rule over the proud sea. When its waves surge, you calm them.

Psalms 89:10 You crushed the Proud One and killed it; with your strong arm you scattered your enemies.

Psalms 89:11 The heavens belong to you, as does the earth. You made the world and all it contains.

Psalms 89:12 You created the north and the south. Tabor and Hermon rejoice in your name.

Psalms 89:13 Your arm is powerful, your hand strong, your right hand victorious.

Psalms 89:14 Equity and justice are the foundation of your throne. Loyal love and faithfulness characterize your rule.

Psalms 89:15 How blessed are the people who worship you! O LORD, they experience your favor.

Psalms 89:16 They rejoice in your name all day long, and are vindicated by your justice.

Psalms 89:17 For you give them splendor and strength. By your favor we are victorious.

Psalms 89:18 For our shield belongs to the LORD, our king to the Holy One of Israel.

Psalms 89:19 Then you spoke through a vision to your faithful followers and said: “I have energized a warrior; I have raised up a young man from the people.

Psalms 89:20 I have discovered David, my servant. With my holy oil I have anointed him as king.

Psalms 89:21 My hand will support him, and my arm will strengthen him.

Psalms 89:22 No enemy will be able to exact tribute from him; a violent oppressor will not be able to humiliate him.

Psalms 89:23 I will crush his enemies before him; I will strike down those who hate him.

Psalms 89:24 He will experience my faithfulness and loyal love, and by my name he will win victories.

Psalms 89:25 I will place his hand over the sea, his right hand over the rivers.

Psalms 89:26 He will call out to me, 'You are my father, my God, and the protector who delivers me.'

Psalms 89:27 I will appoint him to be my firstborn son, the most exalted of the earth's kings.

Psalms 89:28 I will always extend my loyal love to him, and my covenant with him is secure.

Psalms 89:29 I will give him an eternal dynasty, and make his throne as enduring as the skies above.

Psalms 89:30 If his sons reject my law and disobey my regulations,

Psalms 89:31 if they break my rules and do not keep my commandments,

Psalms 89:32 I will punish their rebellion by beating them with a club, their sin by inflicting them with bruises.

Psalms 89:33 But I will not remove my loyal love from him, nor be unfaithful to my promise.

Psalms 89:34 I will not break my covenant or go back on what I promised.

Psalms 89:35 Once and for all I have vowed by my own holiness, I will never deceive David.

Psalms 89:36 His dynasty will last forever. His throne will endure before me, like the sun,

Psalms 89:37 it will remain stable, like the moon, his throne will endure like the skies." (Selah)

Psalms 89:38 But you have spurned and rejected him; you are angry with your chosen king.

Psalms 89:39 You have repudiated your covenant with your servant; you have thrown his crown to the ground.

Psalms 89:40 You have broken down all his walls; you have made his strongholds a heap of ruins.

Psalms 89:41 All who pass by have robbed him; he has become an object of disdain to his neighbors.

Psalms 89:42 You have allowed his adversaries to be victorious, and all his enemies to rejoice.

Psalms 89:43 You turn back his sword from the adversary, and have not sustained him in battle.

Psalms 89:44 You have brought to an end his splendor, and have knocked his throne to the ground.

Psalms 89:45 You have cut short his youth, and have covered him with shame. (Selah)

Psalms 89:46 How long, O LORD, will this last? Will you remain hidden forever? Will your anger continue to burn like fire?

Psalms 89:47 Take note of my brief lifespan! Why do you make all people so mortal?

Psalms 89:48 No man can live on without experiencing death, or deliver his life from the power of Sheol. (Selah)

Psalms 89:49 Where are your earlier faithful deeds, O Lord, the ones performed in accordance with your reliable oath to David?

Psalms 89:50 Take note, O Lord, of the way your servants are taunted, and of how I must bear so many insults from people!

Psalms 89:51 Your enemies, O LORD, hurl insults; they insult your chosen king as they dog his footsteps.

Psalms 89:52 The LORD deserves praise forevermore! We agree! We agree! Book 4 (Psalms 90-106)

Psalms 90:1 [A prayer of Moses, the man of God.] O Lord, you have been our protector through all generations!

Psalms 90:2 Even before the mountains came into existence, or you brought the world into being, you were the eternal God.

Psalms 90:3 You make mankind return to the dust, and say, “Return, O people!”

Psalms 90:4 Yes, in your eyes a thousand years are like yesterday that quickly passes, or like one of the divisions of the nighttime.

Psalms 90:5 You bring their lives to an end and they “fall asleep.” In the morning they are like the grass that sprouts up;

Psalms 90:6 in the morning it glistens and sprouts up; at evening time it withers and dries up.

Psalms 90:7 Yes, we are consumed by your anger; we are terrified by your wrath.

Psalms 90:8 You are aware of our sins; you even know about our hidden sins.

Psalms 90:9 Yes, throughout all our days we experience your raging fury; the years of our lives pass quickly, like a sigh.

Psalms 90:10 The days of our lives add up to seventy years, or eighty, if one is especially strong. But even one's best years are marred by trouble and oppression. Yes, they pass quickly and we fly away.

Psalms 90:11 Who can really fathom the intensity of your anger? Your raging fury causes people to fear you.

Psalms 90:12 So teach us to consider our mortality, so that we might live wisely.

Psalms 90:13 Turn back toward us, O LORD! How long must this suffering last? Have pity on your servants!

Psalms 90:14 Satisfy us in the morning with your loyal love! Then we will shout for joy and be happy all our days!

Psalms 90:15 Make us happy in proportion to the days you have afflicted us, in proportion to the years we have experienced trouble!

Psalms 90:16 May your servants see your work! May their sons see your majesty!

Psalms 90:17 May our sovereign God extend his favor to us! Make our endeavors successful! Yes, make them successful!

Psalms 91:1 As for you, the one who lives in the shelter of the sovereign One, and resides in the protective shadow of the mighty king–

Psalms 91:2 I say this about the LORD, my shelter and my stronghold, my God in whom I trust–

Psalms 91:3 he will certainly rescue you from the snare of the hunter and from the destructive plague.

Psalms 91:4 He will shelter you with his wings; you will find safety under his wings. His faithfulness is like a shield or a protective wall.

Psalms 91:5 You need not fear the terrors of the night, the arrow that flies by day,

Psalms 91:6 the plague that comes in the darkness, or the disease that comes at noon.

Psalms 91:7 Though a thousand may fall beside you, and a multitude on your right side, it will not reach you.

Psalms 91:8 Certainly you will see it with your very own eyes– you will see the wicked paid back.

Psalms 91:9 For you have taken refuge in the LORD, my shelter, the sovereign One.

Psalms 91:10 No harm will overtake you; no illness will come near your home.

Psalms 91:11 For he will order his angels to protect you in all you do.

Psalms 91:12 They will lift you up in their hands, so you will not slip and fall on a stone.

Psalms 91:13 You will subdue a lion and a snake; you will trample underfoot a young lion and a serpent.

Psalms 91:14 The LORD says, “Because he is devoted to me, I will deliver him; I will protect him because he is loyal to me.

Psalms 91:15 When he calls out to me, I will answer him. I will be with him when he is in trouble; I will rescue him and bring him honor.

Psalms 91:16 I will satisfy him with long life, and will let him see my salvation.

Psalms 92:1 [A psalm; a song for the Sabbath day.] It is fitting to thank the LORD, and to sing praises to your name, O sovereign One!

Psalms 92:2 It is fitting to proclaim your loyal love in the morning, and your faithfulness during the night,

Psalms 92:3 to the accompaniment of a ten-stringed instrument and a lyre, to the accompaniment of the meditative tone of the harp.

Psalms 92:4 For you, O LORD, have made me happy by your work. I will sing for joy because of what you have done.

Psalms 92:5 How great are your works, O LORD! Your plans are very intricate!

Psalms 92:6 The spiritually insensitive do not recognize this; the fool does not understand this.

Psalms 92:7 When the wicked sprout up like grass, and all the evildoers glisten, it is so that they may be annihilated.

Psalms 92:8 But you, O LORD, reign forever!

Psalms 92:9 Indeed, look at your enemies, O LORD! Indeed, look at how your enemies perish! All the evildoers are scattered!

Psalms 92:10 You exalt my horn like that of a wild ox. I am covered with fresh oil.

Psalms 92:11 I gloat in triumph over those who tried to ambush me; I hear the defeated cries of the evil foes who attacked me.

Psalms 92:12 The godly grow like a palm tree; they grow high like a cedar in Lebanon.

Psalms 92:13 Planted in the LORD’s house, they grow in the courts of our God.

Psalms 92:14 They bear fruit even when they are old; they are filled with vitality and have many leaves.

Psalms 92:15 So they proclaim that the LORD, my protector, is just and never unfair.

Psalms 93:1 The LORD reigns! He is robed in majesty, the LORD is robed, he wears strength around his waist. Indeed, the world is established, it cannot be moved.

Psalms 93:2 Your throne has been secure from ancient times; you have always been king.

Psalms 93:3 The waves roar, O LORD, the waves roar, the waves roar and crash.

Psalms 93:4 Above the sound of the surging water, and the mighty waves of the sea, the LORD sits enthroned in majesty.

Psalms 93:5 The rules you set down are completely reliable. Holiness aptly adorns your house, O LORD, forever.

Psalms 94:1 O LORD, the God who avenges! O God who avenges, reveal your splendor!

Psalms 94:2 Rise up, O judge of the earth! Pay back the proud!

Psalms 94:3 O LORD, how long will the wicked, how long will the wicked celebrate?

Psalms 94:4 They spew out threats and speak defiantly; all the evildoers boast.

Psalms 94:5 O LORD, they crush your people; they oppress the nation that belongs to you.

Psalms 94:6 They kill the widow and the one residing outside his native land, and they murder the fatherless.

Psalms 94:7 Then they say, “The LORD does not see this; the God of Jacob does not take notice of it.”

Psalms 94:8 Take notice of this, you ignorant people! You fools, when will you ever understand?

Psalms 94:9 Does the one who makes the human ear not hear? Does the one who forms the human eye not see?

Psalms 94:10 Does the one who disciplines the nations not punish? He is the one who imparts knowledge to human beings!

Psalms 94:11 The LORD knows that peoples’ thoughts are morally bankrupt.

Psalms 94:12 How blessed is the one whom you instruct, O LORD, the one whom you teach from your law,

Psalms 94:13 in order to protect him from times of trouble, until the wicked are destroyed.

Psalms 94:14 Certainly the LORD does not forsake his people; he does not abandon the nation that belongs to him.

Psalms 94:15 For justice will prevail, and all the morally upright will be vindicated.

Psalms 94:16 Who will rise up to defend me against the wicked? Who will stand up for me against the evildoers?

Psalms 94:17 If the LORD had not helped me, I would have laid down in the silence of death.

Psalms 94:18 If I say, “My foot is slipping,” your loyal love, O LORD, supports me.

Psalms 94:19 When worries threaten to overwhelm me, your soothing touch makes me happy.

Psalms 94:20 Cruel rulers are not your allies, those who make oppressive laws.

Psalms 94:21 They conspire against the blameless, and condemn to death the innocent.

Psalms 94:22 But the LORD will protect me, and my God will shelter me.

Psalms 94:23 He will pay them back for their sin. He will destroy them because of their evil; the LORD our God will destroy them.

Psalms 95:1 Come! Let’s sing for joy to the LORD! Let’s shout out praises to our protector who delivers us!

Psalms 95:2 Let’s enter his presence with thanksgiving! Let’s shout out to him in celebration!

Psalms 95:3 For the LORD is a great God, a great king who is superior to all gods.

Psalms 95:4 The depths of the earth are in his hand, and the mountain peaks belong to him.

Psalms 95:5 The sea is his, for he made it. His hands formed the dry land.

Psalms 95:6 Come! Let’s bow down and worship! Let’s kneel before the LORD, our creator!

Psalms 95:7 For he is our God; we are the people of his pasture, the sheep he owns. Today, if only you would obey him!

Psalms 95:8 He says, “Do not be stubborn like they were at Meribah, like they were that day at Massah in the wilderness,

Psalms 95:9 where your ancestors challenged my authority, and tried my patience, even though they had seen my work.

Psalms 95:10 For forty years I was continually disgusted with that generation, and I said, ‘These people desire to go astray; they do not obey my commands.’

Psalms 95:11 So I made a vow in my anger, ‘They will never enter into the resting place I had set aside for them.’“

Psalms 96:1 Sing to the LORD a new song! Sing to the LORD, all the earth!

Psalms 96:2 Sing to the LORD! Praise his name! Announce every day how he delivers!

Psalms 96:3 Tell the nations about his splendor! Tell all the nations about his amazing deeds!

Psalms 96:4 For the LORD is great and certainly worthy of praise; he is more awesome than all gods.

Psalms 96:5 For all the gods of the nations are worthless, but the LORD made the sky.

Psalms 96:6 Majestic splendor emanates from him; his sanctuary is firmly established and beautiful.

Psalms 96:7 Ascribe to the LORD, O families of the nations, ascribe to the LORD splendor and strength!

Psalms 96:8 Ascribe to the LORD the splendor he deserves! Bring an offering and enter his courts!

Psalms 96:9 Worship the LORD in holy attire! Tremble before him, all the earth!

Psalms 96:10 Say among the nations, “The LORD reigns! The world is established, it cannot be moved. He judges the nations fairly.”

Psalms 96:11 Let the sky rejoice, and the earth be happy! Let the sea and everything in it shout!

Psalms 96:12 Let the fields and everything in them celebrate! Then let the trees of the forest shout with joy

Psalms 96:13 before the LORD, for he comes! For he comes to judge the earth! He judges the world fairly, and the nations in accordance with his justice.

Psalms 97:1 The LORD reigns! Let the earth be happy! Let the many coastlands rejoice!

Psalms 97:2 Dark clouds surround him; equity and justice are the foundation of his throne.

Psalms 97:3 Fire goes before him; on every side it burns up his enemies.

Psalms 97:4 His lightning bolts light up the world; the earth sees and trembles.

Psalms 97:5 The mountains melt like wax before the LORD, before the Lord of the whole earth.

Psalms 97:6 The sky declares his justice, and all the nations see his splendor.

Psalms 97:7 All who worship idols are ashamed, those who boast about worthless idols. All the gods bow down before him.

Psalms 97:8 Zion hears and rejoices, the towns of Judah are happy, because of your judgments, O LORD.

Psalms 97:9 For you, O LORD, are the sovereign king over the whole earth; you are elevated high above all gods.

Psalms 97:10 You who love the LORD, hate evil! He protects the lives of his faithful followers; he delivers them from the power of the wicked.

Psalms 97:11 The godly bask in the light; the morally upright experience joy.

Psalms 97:12 You godly ones, rejoice in the LORD! Give thanks to his holy name.

Psalms 98:1 [A psalm.] Sing to the LORD a new song, for he performs amazing deeds! His right hand and his mighty arm accomplish deliverance.

Psalms 98:2 The LORD demonstrates his power to deliver; in the sight of the nations he reveals his justice.

Psalms 98:3 He remains loyal and faithful to the family of Israel. All the ends of the earth see our God deliver us.

Psalms 98:4 Shout out praises to the LORD, all the earth! Break out in a joyful shout and sing!

Psalms 98:5 Sing to the LORD accompanied by a harp, accompanied by a harp and the sound of music!

Psalms 98:6 With trumpets and the blaring of the ram’s horn, shout out praises before the king, the LORD!

Psalms 98:7 Let the sea and everything in it shout, along with the world and those who live in it!

Psalms 98:8 Let the rivers clap their hands! Let the mountains sing in unison

Psalms 98:9 before the LORD! For he comes to judge the earth! He judges the world fairly, and the nations in a just manner.

Psalms 99:1 The LORD reigns! The nations tremble. He sits enthroned above the winged angels; the earth shakes.

Psalms 99:2 The LORD is elevated in Zion; he is exalted over all the nations.

Psalms 99:3 Let them praise your great and awesome name! He is holy!

Psalms 99:4 The king is strong; he loves justice. You ensure that legal decisions will be made fairly; you promote justice and equity in Jacob.

Psalms 99:5 Praise the LORD our God! Worship before his footstool! He is holy!

Psalms 99:6 Moses and Aaron were among his priests; Samuel was one of those who prayed to him. They prayed to the LORD and he answered them.

Psalms 99:7 He spoke to them from a pillar of cloud; they obeyed his regulations and the ordinance he gave them.

Psalms 99:8 O LORD our God, you answered them. They found you to be a forgiving God, but also one who punished their sinful deeds.

Psalms 99:9 Praise the LORD our God! Worship on his holy hill, for the LORD our God is holy!

Psalms 100:1 [A thanksgiving psalm.] Shout out praises to the LORD, all the earth!

Psalms 100:2 Worship the LORD with joy! Enter his presence with joyful singing!

Psalms 100:3 Acknowledge that the LORD is God! He made us and we belong to him; we are his people, the sheep of his pasture.

Psalms 100:4 Enter his gates with thanksgiving, and his courts with praise! Give him thanks! Praise his name!

Psalms 100:5 For the LORD is good. His loyal love endures, and he is faithful through all generations.

Psalms 101:1 [A psalm of David.] I will sing about loyalty and justice! To you, O LORD, I will sing praises!

Psalms 101:2 I will walk in the way of integrity. When will you come to me? I will conduct my business with integrity in the midst of my palace.

Psalms 101:3 I will not even consider doing what is dishonest. I hate doing evil; I will have no part of it.

Psalms 101:4 I will have nothing to do with a perverse person; I will not permit evil.

Psalms 101:5 I will destroy anyone who slanders his neighbor in secret. I will not tolerate anyone who has a cocky demeanor and an arrogant attitude.

Psalms 101:6 I will favor the honest people of the land, and allow them to live with me. Those who walk in the way of integrity will attend me.

Psalms 101:7 Deceitful people will not live in my palace. Liars will not be welcome in my presence.

Psalms 101:8 Each morning I will destroy all the wicked people in the land, and remove all evildoers from the city of the LORD.

Psalms 102:1 [The prayer of an oppressed man, as he grows faint and pours out his lament before the LORD.] O LORD, hear my prayer! Pay attention to my cry for help!

Psalms 102:2 Do not ignore me in my time of trouble! Listen to me! When I call out to you, quickly answer me!

Psalms 102:3 For my days go up in smoke, and my bones are charred like a fireplace.

Psalms 102:4 My heart is parched and withered like grass, for I am unable to eat food.

Psalms 102:5 Because of the anxiety that makes me groan, my bones protrude from my skin.

Psalms 102:6 I am like an owl in the wilderness; I am like a screech owl among the ruins.

Psalms 102:7 I stay awake; I am like a solitary bird on a roof.

Psalms 102:8 All day long my enemies taunt me; those who mock me use my name in their curses.

Psalms 102:9 For I eat ashes as if they were bread, and mix my drink with my tears,

Psalms 102:10 because of your anger and raging fury. Indeed, you pick me up and throw me away.

Psalms 102:11 My days are coming to an end, and I am withered like grass.

Psalms 102:12 But you, O LORD, rule forever, and your reputation endures.

Psalms 102:13 You will rise up and have compassion on Zion. For it is time to have mercy on her, for the appointed time has come.

Psalms 102:14 Indeed, your servants take delight in her stones, and feel compassion for the dust of her ruins.

Psalms 102:15 The nations will respect the reputation of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth will respect his splendor,

Psalms 102:16 when the LORD rebuilds Zion, and reveals his splendor,

Psalms 102:17 when he responds to the prayer of the destitute, and does not reject their request.

Psalms 102:18 The account of his intervention will be recorded for future generations; people yet to be born will praise the LORD.

Psalms 102:19 For he will look down from his sanctuary above; from heaven the LORD will look toward earth,

Psalms 102:20 in order to hear the painful cries of the prisoners, and to set free those condemned to die,

Psalms 102:21 so they may proclaim the name of the LORD in Zion, and praise him in Jerusalem,

Psalms 102:22 when the nations gather together, and the kingdoms pay tribute to the LORD.

Psalms 102:23 He has taken away my strength in the middle of life; he has cut short my days.

Psalms 102:24 I say, “O my God, please do not take me away in the middle of my life! You endure through all generations.

Psalms 102:25 In earlier times you established the earth; the skies are your handiwork.

Psalms 102:26 They will perish, but you will endure. They will wear out like a garment; like clothes you will remove them and they will disappear.

Psalms 102:27 But you remain; your years do not come to an end.

Psalms 102:28 The children of your servants will settle down here, and their descendants will live securely in your presence."

Psalms 103:1 [By David.] Praise the LORD, O my soul! With all that is within me, praise his holy name!

Psalms 103:2 Praise the LORD, O my soul! Do not forget all his kind deeds!

Psalms 103:3 He is the one who forgives all your sins, who heals all your diseases,

Psalms 103:4 who delivers your life from the Pit, who crowns you with his loyal love and compassion,

Psalms 103:5 who satisfies your life with good things, so your youth is renewed like an eagle's.

Psalms 103:6 The LORD does what is fair, and executes justice for all the oppressed.

Psalms 103:7 The LORD revealed his faithful acts to Moses, his deeds to the Israelites.

Psalms 103:8 The LORD is compassionate and merciful; he is patient and demonstrates great loyal love.

Psalms 103:9 He does not always accuse, and does not stay angry.

Psalms 103:10 He does not deal with us as our sins deserve; he does not repay us as our misdeeds deserve.

Psalms 103:11 For as the skies are high above the earth, so his loyal love towers over his faithful followers.

Psalms 103:12 As far as the eastern horizon is from the west, so he removes the guilt of our rebellious actions from us.

Psalms 103:13 As a father has compassion on his children, so the LORD has compassion on his faithful followers.

Psalms 103:14 For he knows what we are made of; he realizes we are made of clay.

Psalms 103:15 A person's life is like grass. Like a flower in the field it flourishes,

Psalms 103:16 but when the hot wind blows by, it disappears, and one can no longer even spot the place where it once grew.

Psalms 103:17 But the LORD continually shows loyal love to his faithful followers, and is faithful to their descendants, Psalms 103:18 to those who keep his covenant, who are careful to obey his commands.

Psalms 103:19 The LORD has established his throne in heaven; his kingdom extends over everything.

Psalms 103:20 Praise the LORD, you angels of his, you powerful warriors who carry out his decrees and obey his orders!

Psalms 103:21 Praise the LORD, all you warriors of his, you servants of his who carry out his desires!

Psalms 103:22 Praise the LORD, all that he has made, in all the regions of his kingdom! Praise the LORD, O my soul!

Psalms 104:1 Praise the LORD, O my soul! O LORD my God, you are magnificent. You are robed in splendor and majesty.

Psalms 104:2 He covers himself with light as if it were a garment. He stretches out the skies like a tent curtain,

Psalms 104:3 and lays the beams of the upper rooms of his palace on the rain clouds. He makes the clouds his chariot, and travels along on the wings of the wind.

Psalms 104:4 He makes the winds his messengers, and the flaming fire his attendant.

Psalms 104:5 He established the earth on its foundations; it will never be upended.

Psalms 104:6 The watery deep covered it like a garment; the waters reached above the mountains.

Psalms 104:7 Your shout made the waters retreat; at the sound of your thunderous voice they hurried off–

Psalms 104:8 as the mountains rose up, and the valleys went down– to the place you appointed for them.

Psalms 104:9 You set up a boundary for them that they could not cross, so that they would not cover the earth again.

Psalms 104:10 He turns springs into streams; they flow between the mountains.

Psalms 104:11 They provide water for all the animals in the field; the wild donkeys quench their thirst.

Psalms 104:12 The birds of the sky live beside them; they chirp among the bushes.

Psalms 104:13 He waters the mountains from the upper rooms of his palace; the earth is full of the fruit you cause to grow.

Psalms 104:14 He provides grass for the cattle, and crops for people to cultivate, so they can produce food from the ground, Psalms 104:15 as well as wine that makes people feel so good, and so they can have oil to make their faces shine, as well as food that sustains people's lives.

Psalms 104:16 The trees of the LORD receive all the rain they need, the cedars of Lebanon which he planted,

Psalms 104:17 where the birds make nests, near the evergreens in which the herons live.

Psalms 104:18 The wild goats live in the high mountains; the rock badgers find safety in the cliffs.

Psalms 104:19 He made the moon to mark the months, and the sun sets according to a regular schedule.

Psalms 104:20 You make it dark and night comes, during which all the beasts of the forest prowl around.

Psalms 104:21 The lions roar for prey, seeking their food from God.

Psalms 104:22 When the sun rises, they withdraw and sleep in their dens.

Psalms 104:23 Men then go out to do their work, and labor away until evening.

Psalms 104:24 How many living things you have made, O LORD! You have exhibited great skill in making all of them; the earth is full of the living things you have made.

Psalms 104:25 Over here is the deep, wide sea, which teems with innumerable swimming creatures, living things both small and large.

Psalms 104:26 The ships travel there, and over here swims the whale you made to play in it.

Psalms 104:27 All of your creatures wait for you to provide them with food on a regular basis.

Psalms 104:28 You give food to them and they receive it; you open your hand and they are filled with food.

Psalms 104:29 When you ignore them, they panic. When you take away their life's breath, they die and return to dust.

Psalms 104:30 When you send your life-giving breath, they are created, and you replenish the surface of the ground.

Psalms 104:31 May the splendor of the LORD endure! May the LORD find pleasure in the living things he has made!

Psalms 104:32 He looks down on the earth and it shakes; he touches the mountains and they start to smolder.

Psalms 104:33 I will sing to the LORD as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God as long as I exist!

Psalms 104:34 May my thoughts be pleasing to him! I will rejoice in the LORD.

Psalms 104:35 May sinners disappear from the earth, and the wicked vanish! Praise the LORD, O my soul! Praise the LORD!

Psalms 105:1 Give thanks to the LORD! Call on his name! Make known his accomplishments among the nations!

Psalms 105:2 Sing to him! Make music to him! Tell about all his miraculous deeds!

Psalms 105:3 Boast about his holy name! Let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice!

Psalms 105:4 Seek the LORD and the strength he gives! Seek his presence continually!

Psalms 105:5 Recall the miraculous deeds he performed, his mighty acts and the judgments he decreed,

Psalms 105:6 O children of Abraham, God’s servant, you descendants of Jacob, God’s chosen ones!

Psalms 105:7 He is the LORD our God; he carries out judgment throughout the earth.

Psalms 105:8 He always remembers his covenantal decree, the promise he made to a thousand generations–

Psalms 105:9 the promise he made to Abraham, the promise he made by oath to Isaac!

Psalms 105:10 He gave it to Jacob as a decree, to Israel as a lasting promise,

Psalms 105:11 saying, “To you I will give the land of Canaan as the portion of your inheritance.”

Psalms 105:12 When they were few in number, just a very few, and resident aliens within it,

Psalms 105:13 they wandered from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another.

Psalms 105:14 He let no one oppress them; he disciplined kings for their sake,

Psalms 105:15 saying, “Don’t touch my chosen ones! Don’t harm my prophets!”

Psalms 105:16 He called down a famine upon the earth; he cut off all the food supply.

Psalms 105:17 He sent a man ahead of them– Joseph was sold as a servant.

Psalms 105:18 The shackles hurt his feet; his neck was placed in an iron collar,

Psalms 105:19 until the time when his prediction came true. The LORD’s word proved him right.

Psalms 105:20 The king authorized his release; the ruler of nations set him free.

Psalms 105:21 He put him in charge of his palace, and made him manager of all his property,

Psalms 105:22 giving him authority to imprison his officials and to teach his advisers.

Psalms 105:23 Israel moved to Egypt; Jacob lived for a time in the land of Ham.

Psalms 105:24 The LORD made his people very fruitful, and made them more numerous than their enemies.

Psalms 105:25 He caused them to hate his people, and to mistreat his servants.

Psalms 105:26 He sent his servant Moses, and Aaron, whom he had chosen.

Psalms 105:27 They executed his miraculous signs among them, and his amazing deeds in the land of Ham.

Psalms 105:28 He made it dark; they did not disobey his orders.

Psalms 105:29 He turned their water into blood, and killed their fish.

Psalms 105:30 Their land was overrun by frogs, which even got into the rooms of their kings.

Psalms 105:31 He ordered flies to come; gnats invaded their whole territory.

Psalms 105:32 He sent hail along with the rain; there was lightning in their land.

Psalms 105:33 He destroyed their vines and fig trees, and broke the trees throughout their territory.

Psalms 105:34 He ordered locusts to come, innumerable grasshoppers.

Psalms 105:35 They ate all the vegetation in their land, and devoured the crops of their fields.

Psalms 105:36 He struck down all the firstborn in their land, the firstfruits of their reproductive power.

Psalms 105:37 He brought his people out enriched with silver and gold; none of his tribes stumbled.

Psalms 105:38 Egypt was happy when they left, for they were afraid of them.

Psalms 105:39 He spread out a cloud for a cover, and provided a fire to light up the night.

Psalms 105:40 They asked for food, and he sent quails; he satisfied them with food from the sky.

Psalms 105:41 He opened up a rock and water flowed out; a river ran through dry regions.

Psalms 105:42 Yes, he remembered the sacred promise he made to Abraham his servant.

Psalms 105:43 When he led his people out, they rejoiced; his chosen ones shouted with joy.

Psalms 105:44 He handed the territory of nations over to them, and they took possession of what other peoples had produced,

Psalms 105:45 so that they might keep his commands and obey his laws. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 106:1 Praise the LORD! Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good, and his loyal love endures!

Psalms 106:2 Who can adequately recount the LORD's mighty acts, or relate all his praiseworthy deeds?

Psalms 106:3 How blessed are those who promote justice, and do what is right all the time!

Psalms 106:4 Remember me, O LORD, when you show favor to your people! Pay attention to me, when you deliver,

Psalms 106:5 so I may see the prosperity of your chosen ones, rejoice along with your nation, and boast along with the people who belong to you.

Psalms 106:6 We have sinned like our ancestors; we have done wrong, we have done evil.

Psalms 106:7 Our ancestors in Egypt failed to appreciate your miraculous deeds, they failed to remember your many acts of loyal love, and they rebelled at the sea, by the Red Sea.

Psalms 106:8 Yet he delivered them for the sake of his reputation, that he might reveal his power.

Psalms 106:9 He shouted at the Red Sea and it dried up; he led them through the deep water as if it were a desert.

Psalms 106:10 He delivered them from the power of the one who hated them, and rescued them from the power of the enemy.

Psalms 106:11 The water covered their enemies; not even one of them survived.

Psalms 106:12 They believed his promises; they sang praises to him.

Psalms 106:13 They quickly forgot what he had done; they did not wait for his instructions.

Psalms 106:14 In the wilderness they had an insatiable craving for meat; they challenged God in the desert.

Psalms 106:15 He granted their request, then struck them with a disease.

Psalms 106:16 In the camp they resented Moses, and Aaron, the LORD’s holy priest.

Psalms 106:17 The earth opened up and swallowed Dathan; it engulfed the group led by Abiram.

Psalms 106:18 Fire burned their group; the flames scorched the wicked.

Psalms 106:19 They made an image of a calf at Horeb, and worshiped a metal idol.

Psalms 106:20 They traded their majestic God for the image of an ox that eats grass.

Psalms 106:21 They rejected the God who delivered them, the one who performed great deeds in Egypt,

Psalms 106:22 amazing feats in the land of Ham, mighty acts by the Red Sea.

Psalms 106:23 He threatened to destroy them, but Moses, his chosen one, interceded with him and turned back his destructive anger.

Psalms 106:24 They rejected the fruitful land; they did not believe his promise.

Psalms 106:25 They grumbled in their tents; they did not obey the LORD.

Psalms 106:26 So he made a solemn vow that he would make them die in the desert,

Psalms 106:27 make their descendants die among the nations, and scatter them among foreign lands.

Psalms 106:28 They worshiped Baal of Peor, and ate sacrifices offered to the dead.

Psalms 106:29 They made the LORD angry by their actions, and a plague broke out among them.

Psalms 106:30 Phinehas took a stand and intervened, and the plague subsided.

Psalms 106:31 This brought him a reward, an eternal gift.

Psalms 106:32 They made him angry by the waters of Meribah, and Moses suffered because of them,

Psalms 106:33 for they aroused his temper, and he spoke rashly.

Psalms 106:34 They did not destroy the nations, as the LORD had commanded them to do.

Psalms 106:35 They mixed in with the nations and learned their ways.

Psalms 106:36 They worshiped their idols, which became a snare to them.

Psalms 106:37 They sacrificed their sons and daughters to demons.

Psalms 106:38 They shed innocent blood– the blood of their sons and daughters, whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan. The land was polluted by bloodshed.

Psalms 106:39 They were defiled by their deeds, and unfaithful in their actions.

Psalms 106:40 So the LORD was angry with his people and despised the people who belong to him.

Psalms 106:41 He handed them over to the nations, and those who hated them ruled over them.

Psalms 106:42 Their enemies oppressed them; they were subject to their authority.

Psalms 106:43 Many times he delivered them, but they had a rebellious attitude, and degraded themselves by their sin.

Psalms 106:44 Yet he took notice of their distress, when he heard their cry for help.

Psalms 106:45 He remembered his covenant with them, and relented because of his great loyal love.

Psalms 106:46 He caused all their conquerors to have pity on them.

Psalms 106:47 Deliver us, O LORD, our God! Gather us from among the nations! Then we will give thanks to your holy name, and boast about your praiseworthy deeds.

Psalms 106:48 The LORD God of Israel deserves praise, in the future and forevermore. Let all the people say, “We agree! Praise the LORD!” Book 5 (Psalms 107-150)

Psalms 107:1 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good, and his loyal love endures!

Psalms 107:2 Let those delivered by the LORD speak out, those whom he delivered from the power of the enemy,

Psalms 107:3 and gathered from foreign lands, from east and west, from north and south.

Psalms 107:4 They wandered through the wilderness on a desert road; they found no city in which to live.

Psalms 107:5 They were hungry and thirsty; they fainted from exhaustion.

Psalms 107:6 They cried out to the LORD in their distress; he delivered them from their troubles.

Psalms 107:7 He led them on a level road, that they might find a city in which to live.

Psalms 107:8 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his loyal love, and for the amazing things he has done for people!

Psalms 107:9 For he has satisfied those who thirst, and those who hunger he has filled with food.

Psalms 107:10 They sat in utter darkness, bound in painful iron chains,

Psalms 107:11 because they had rebelled against God’s commands, and rejected the instructions of the sovereign king.

Psalms 107:12 So he used suffering to humble them; they stumbled and no one helped them up.

Psalms 107:13 They cried out to the LORD in their distress; he delivered them from their troubles.

Psalms 107:14 He brought them out of the utter darkness, and tore off their shackles.

Psalms 107:15 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his loyal love, and for the amazing things he has done for people!

Psalms 107:16 For he shattered the bronze gates, and hacked through the iron bars.

Psalms 107:17 They acted like fools in their rebellious ways, and suffered because of their sins.

Psalms 107:18 They lost their appetite for all food, and they drew near the gates of death.

Psalms 107:19 They cried out to the LORD in their distress; he delivered them from their troubles.

Psalms 107:20 He sent them an assuring word and healed them; he rescued them from the pits where they were trapped.

Psalms 107:21 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his loyal love, and for the amazing things he has done for people!

Psalms 107:22 Let them present thank offerings, and loudly proclaim what he has done!

Psalms 107:23 Some traveled on the sea in ships, and carried cargo over the vast waters.

Psalms 107:24 They witnessed the acts of the LORD, his amazing feats on the deep water.

Psalms 107:25 He gave the order for a windstorm, and it stirred up the waves of the sea.

Psalms 107:26 They reached up to the sky, then dropped into the depths. The sailors’ strength left them because the danger was so great.

Psalms 107:27 They swayed and staggered like a drunk, and all their skill proved ineffective.

Psalms 107:28 They cried out to the LORD in their distress; he delivered them from their troubles.

Psalms 107:29 He calmed the storm, and the waves grew silent.

Psalms 107:30 The sailors rejoiced because the waves grew quiet, and he led them to the harbor they desired.

Psalms 107:31 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his loyal love, and for the amazing things he has done for people!

Psalms 107:32 Let them exalt him in the assembly of the people! Let them praise him in the place where the leaders preside!

Psalms 107:33 He turned streams into a desert, springs of water into arid land,

Psalms 107:34 and a fruitful land into a barren place, because of the sin of its inhabitants.

Psalms 107:35 As for his people, he turned a desert into a pool of water, and a dry land into springs of water.

Psalms 107:36 He allowed the hungry to settle there, and they established a city in which to live.

Psalms 107:37 They cultivated fields, and planted vineyards, which yielded a harvest of fruit.

Psalms 107:38 He blessed them so that they became very numerous. He would not allow their cattle to decrease in number.

Psalms 107:39 As for their enemies, they decreased in number and were beaten down, because of painful distress and suffering.

Psalms 107:40 He would pour contempt upon princes, and he made them wander in a wasteland with no road.

Psalms 107:41 Yet he protected the needy from oppression, and cared for his families like a flock of sheep.

Psalms 107:42 When the godly see this, they rejoice, and every sinner shuts his mouth.

Psalms 107:43 Whoever is wise, let him take note of these things! Let them consider the LORD’s acts of loyal love!

Psalms 108:1 [A song, a psalm of David.] I am determined, O God! I will sing and praise you with my whole heart.

Psalms 108:2 Awake, O stringed instrument and harp! I will wake up at dawn!

Psalms 108:3 I will give you thanks before the nations, O LORD! I will sing praises to you before foreigners!

Psalms 108:4 For your loyal love extends beyond the sky, and your faithfulness reaches the clouds.

Psalms 108:5 Rise up above the sky, O God! May your splendor cover the whole earth!

Psalms 108:6 Deliver by your power and answer me, so that the ones you love may be safe.

Psalms 108:7 God has spoken in his sanctuary: “I will triumph! I will parcel out Shechem, the valley of Succoth I will measure off.

Psalms 108:8 Gilead belongs to me, as does Manasseh! Ephraim is my helmet, Judah my royal scepter.

Psalms 108:9 Moab is my wash basin. I will make Edom serve me. I will shout in triumph over Philistia.”

Psalms 108:10 Who will lead me into the fortified city? Who will bring me to Edom?

Psalms 108:11 Have you not rejected us, O God? O God, you do not go into battle with our armies.

Psalms 108:12 Give us help against the enemy, for any help men might offer is futile.

Psalms 108:13 By God’s power we will conquer; he will trample down our enemies.

Psalms 109:1 [For the music director, a psalm of David.] O God whom I praise, do not ignore me!

Psalms 109:2 For they say cruel and deceptive things to me; they lie to me.

Psalms 109:3 They surround me and say hateful things; they attack me for no reason.

Psalms 109:4 They repay my love with accusations, but I continue to pray.

Psalms 109:5 They repay me evil for good, and hate for love.

Psalms 109:6 Appoint an evil man to testify against him! May an accuser stand at his right side!

Psalms 109:7 When he is judged, he will be found guilty! Then his prayer will be regarded as sinful.

Psalms 109:8 May his days be few! May another take his job!

Psalms 109:9 May his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow!

Psalms 109:10 May his children roam around begging, asking for handouts as they leave their ruined home!

Psalms 109:11 May the creditor seize all he owns! May strangers loot his property!

Psalms 109:12 May no one show him kindness! May no one have compassion on his fatherless children!

Psalms 109:13 May his descendants be cut off! May the memory of them be wiped out by the time the next generation arrives!

Psalms 109:14 May his ancestors’ sins be remembered by the LORD! May his mother’s sin not be forgotten!

Psalms 109:15 May the LORD be constantly aware of them, and cut off the memory of his children from the earth!

Psalms 109:16 For he never bothered to show kindness; he harassed the oppressed and needy, and killed the disheartened.

Psalms 109:17 He loved to curse others, so those curses have come upon him. He had no desire to bless anyone, so he has experienced no blessings.

Psalms 109:18 He made cursing a way of life, so curses poured into his stomach like water and seeped into his bones like oil.

Psalms 109:19 May a curse attach itself to him, like a garment one puts on, or a belt one wears continually!

Psalms 109:20 May the LORD repay my accusers in this way, those who say evil things about me!

Psalms 109:21 O sovereign LORD, intervene on my behalf for the sake of your reputation! Because your loyal love is good, deliver me!

Psalms 109:22 For I am oppressed and needy, and my heart beats violently within me.

Psalms 109:23 I am fading away like a shadow at the end of the day; I am shaken off like a locust.

Psalms 109:24 I am so starved my knees shake; I have turned into skin and bones.

Psalms 109:25 I am disdained by them. When they see me, they shake their heads.

Psalms 109:26 Help me, O LORD my God! Because you are faithful to me, deliver me!

Psalms 109:27 Then they will realize this is your work, and that you, LORD, have accomplished it.

Psalms 109:28 They curse, but you will bless. When they attack, they will be humiliated, but your servant will rejoice.

Psalms 109:29 My accusers will be covered with shame, and draped in humiliation as if it were a robe.

Psalms 109:30 I will thank the LORD profusely, in the middle of a crowd I will praise him,

Psalms 109:31 because he stands at the right hand of the needy, to deliver him from those who threaten his life.

Psalms 110:1 [A psalm of David.] Here is the LORD’s proclamation to my lord: “Sit down at my right hand until I make your enemies your footstool!”

Psalms 110:2 The LORD extends your dominion from Zion. Rule in the midst of your enemies!

Psalms 110:3 Your people willingly follow you when you go into battle. On the holy hills at sunrise the dew of your youth belongs to you.

Psalms 110:4 The LORD makes this promise on oath and will not revoke it: “You are an eternal priest after the pattern of Melchizedek.”

Psalms 110:5 O sovereign LORD, at your right hand he strikes down kings in the day he unleashes his anger.

Psalms 110:6 He executes judgment against the nations; he fills the valleys with corpses; he shatters their heads over the vast battlefield.

Psalms 110:7 From the stream along the road he drinks; then he lifts up his head.

Psalms 111:1 Praise the LORD! I will give thanks to the LORD with my whole heart, in the assembly of the godly and the congregation.

Psalms 111:2 The LORD’s deeds are great, eagerly awaited by all who desire them.

Psalms 111:3 His work is majestic and glorious, and his faithfulness endures forever.

Psalms 111:4 He does amazing things that will be remembered; the LORD is merciful and compassionate.

Psalms 111:5 He gives food to his faithful followers; he always remembers his covenant.

Psalms 111:6 He announced that he would do mighty deeds for his people, giving them a land that belonged to other nations.

Psalms 111:7 His acts are characterized by faithfulness and justice; all his precepts are reliable.

Psalms 111:8 They are forever firm, and should be faithfully and properly carried out.

Psalms 111:9 He delivered his people; he ordained that his covenant be observed forever. His name is holy and awesome.

Psalms 111:10 To obey the LORD is the fundamental principle for wise living; all who carry out his precepts acquire good moral insight. He will receive praise forever.

Psalms 112:1 Praise the LORD! How blessed is the one who obeys the LORD, who takes great delight in keeping his commands.

Psalms 112:2 His descendants will be powerful on the earth; the godly will be blessed.

Psalms 112:3 His house contains wealth and riches; his integrity endures.

Psalms 112:4 In the darkness a light shines for the godly, for each one who is merciful, compassionate, and just.

Psalms 112:5 It goes well for the one who generously lends money, and conducts his business honestly.

Psalms 112:6 For he will never be upended; others will always remember one who is just.

Psalms 112:7 He does not fear bad news. He is confident; he trusts in the LORD.

Psalms 112:8 His resolve is firm; he will not succumb to fear before he looks in triumph on his enemies.

Psalms 112:9 He generously gives to the needy; his integrity endures. He will be vindicated and honored.

Psalms 112:10 When the wicked see this, they will worry; they will grind their teeth in frustration and melt away; the desire of the wicked will perish.

Psalms 113:1 Praise the LORD! Praise, you servants of the LORD, praise the name of the LORD!

Psalms 113:2 May the LORD’s name be praised now and forevermore!

Psalms 113:3 From east to west the LORD’s name is deserving of praise.

Psalms 113:4 The LORD is exalted over all the nations; his splendor reaches beyond the sky.

Psalms 113:5 Who can compare to the LORD our God, who sits on a high throne?

Psalms 113:6 He bends down to look at the sky and the earth.

Psalms 113:7 He raises the poor from the dirt, and lifts up the needy from the garbage pile,

Psalms 113:8 that he might seat him with princes, with the princes of his people.

Psalms 113:9 He makes the barren woman of the family a happy mother of children. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 114:1 When Israel left Egypt, when the family of Jacob left a foreign nation behind, Psalms 114:2 Judah became his sanctuary, Israel his kingdom.

Psalms 114:3 The sea looked and fled; the Jordan River turned back.

Psalms 114:4 The mountains skipped like rams, the hills like lambs.

Psalms 114:5 Why do you flee, O sea? Why do you turn back, O Jordan River?

Psalms 114:6 Why do you skip like rams, O mountains, like lambs, O hills?

Psalms 114:7 Tremble, O earth, before the Lord– before the God of Jacob,

Psalms 114:8 who turned a rock into a pool of water, a hard rock into springs of water!

Psalms 115:1 Not to us, O LORD, not to us! But to your name bring honor, for the sake of your loyal love and faithfulness.

Psalms 115:2 Why should the nations say, “Where is their God?”

Psalms 115:3 Our God is in heaven! He does whatever he pleases!

Psalms 115:4 Their idols are made of silver and gold– they are man-made.

Psalms 115:5 They have mouths, but cannot speak, eyes, but cannot see,

Psalms 115:6 ears, but cannot hear, noses, but cannot smell,

Psalms 115:7 hands, but cannot touch, feet, but cannot walk. They cannot even clear their throats.

Psalms 115:8 Those who make them will end up like them, as will everyone who trusts in them.

Psalms 115:9 O Israel, trust in the LORD! He is their deliverer and protector.

Psalms 115:10 O family of Aaron, trust in the LORD! He is their deliverer and protector.

Psalms 115:11 You loyal followers of the LORD, trust in the LORD! He is their deliverer and protector.

Psalms 115:12 The LORD takes notice of us, he will bless– he will bless the family of Israel, he will bless the family of Aaron.

Psalms 115:13 He will bless his loyal followers, both young and old.

Psalms 115:14 May he increase your numbers, yours and your children’s!

Psalms 115:15 May you be blessed by the LORD, the creator of heaven and earth!

Psalms 115:16 The heavens belong to the LORD, but the earth he has given to mankind.

Psalms 115:17 The dead do not praise the LORD, nor do any of those who descend into the silence of death.

Psalms 115:18 But we will praise the LORD now and forevermore. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 116:1 I love the LORD because he heard my plea for mercy,

Psalms 116:2 and listened to me. As long as I live, I will call to him when I need help.

Psalms 116:3 The ropes of death tightened around me, the snares of Sheol confronted me. I was confronted with trouble and sorrow.

Psalms 116:4 I called on the name of the LORD, “Please LORD, rescue my life!”

Psalms 116:5 The LORD is merciful and fair; our God is compassionate.

Psalms 116:6 The LORD protects the untrained; I was in serious trouble and he delivered me.

Psalms 116:7 Rest once more, my soul, for the LORD has vindicated you.

Psalms 116:8 Yes, LORD, you rescued my life from death, and kept my feet from stumbling.

Psalms 116:9 I will serve the LORD in the land of the living.

Psalms 116:10 I had faith when I said, “I am severely oppressed.”

Psalms 116:11 I rashly declared, “All men are liars.”

Psalms 116:12 How can I repay the LORD for all his acts of kindness to me?

Psalms 116:13 I will celebrate my deliverance, and call on the name of the LORD.

Psalms 116:14 I will fulfill my vows to the LORD before all his people.

Psalms 116:15 The LORD values the lives of his faithful followers.

Psalms 116:16 Yes, LORD! I am indeed your servant; I am your lowest slave. You saved me from death.

Psalms 116:17 I will present a thank offering to you, and call on the name of the LORD.

Psalms 116:18 I will fulfill my vows to the LORD before all his people,

Psalms 116:19 in the courts of the LORD’s temple, in your midst, O Jerusalem. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 117:1 Praise the LORD, all you nations! Applaud him, all you foreigners!

Psalms 117:2 For his loyal love towers over us, and the LORD’s faithfulness endures. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 118:1 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good and his loyal love endures!

Psalms 118:2 Let Israel say, “Yes, his loyal love endures!”

Psalms 118:3 Let the family of Aaron say, “Yes, his loyal love endures!”

Psalms 118:4 Let the loyal followers of the LORD say, “Yes, his loyal love endures!”

Psalms 118:5 In my distress I cried out to the LORD. The LORD answered me and put me in a wide open place.

Psalms 118:6 The LORD is on my side, I am not afraid! What can people do to me?

Psalms 118:7 The LORD is on my side as my helper. I look in triumph on those who hate me.

Psalms 118:8 It is better to take shelter in the LORD than to trust in people.

Psalms 118:9 It is better to take shelter in the LORD than to trust in princes.

Psalms 118:10 All the nations surrounded me. Indeed, in the name of the LORD I pushed them away.

Psalms 118:11 They surrounded me, yes, they surrounded me. Indeed, in the name of the LORD I pushed them away.

Psalms 118:12 They surrounded me like bees. But they disappeared as quickly as a fire among thorns. Indeed, in the name of the LORD I pushed them away.

Psalms 118:13 “You aggressively attacked me and tried to knock me down, but the LORD helped me.

Psalms 118:14 The LORD gives me strength and protects me; he has become my deliverer.”

Psalms 118:15 They celebrate deliverance in the tents of the godly. The LORD’s right hand conquers, Psalms 118:16 the LORD’s right hand gives victory, the LORD’s right hand conquers.

Psalms 118:17 I will not die, but live, and I will proclaim what the LORD has done.

Psalms 118:18 The LORD severely punished me, but he did not hand me over to death.

Psalms 118:19 Open for me the gates of the just king’s temple! I will enter through them and give thanks to the LORD.

Psalms 118:20 This is the LORD’s gate– the godly enter through it.

Psalms 118:21 I will give you thanks, for you answered me, and have become my deliverer.

Psalms 118:22 The stone which the builders discarded has become the cornerstone.

Psalms 118:23 This is the LORD’s work. We consider it amazing!

Psalms 118:24 This is the day the LORD has brought about. We will be happy and rejoice in it.

Psalms 118:25 Please LORD, deliver! Please LORD, grant us success!

Psalms 118:26 May the one who comes in the name of the LORD be blessed! We will pronounce blessings on you in the LORD’s temple.

Psalms 118:27 The LORD is God and he has delivered us. Tie the offering with ropes to the horns of the altar!

Psalms 118:28 You are my God and I will give you thanks! You are my God and I will praise you!

Psalms 118:29 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good and his loyal love endures!&u05D0; (Alef)

Psalms 119:1 How blessed are those whose actions are blameless, who obey the law of the LORD.

Psalms 119:2 How blessed are those who observe his rules, and seek him with all their heart,

Psalms 119:3 who, moreover, do no wrong, but follow in his footsteps.

Psalms 119:4 You demand that your precepts be carefully kept.

Psalms 119:5 If only I were predisposed to keep your statutes!

Psalms 119:6 Then I would not be ashamed, if I were focused on all your commands.

Psalms 119:7 I will give you sincere thanks, when I learn your just regulations.

Psalms 119:8 I will keep your statutes. Do not completely abandon me!&u05D1; (Bet)

Psalms 119:9 How can a young person maintain a pure life? By guarding it according to your instructions!

Psalms 119:10 With all my heart I seek you. Do not allow me to stray from your commands!

Psalms 119:11 In my heart I store up your words, so I might not sin against you.

Psalms 119:12 You deserve praise, O LORD! Teach me your statutes!

Psalms 119:13 With my lips I proclaim all the regulations you have revealed.

Psalms 119:14 I rejoice in the lifestyle prescribed by your rules as if they were riches of all kinds.

Psalms 119:15 I will meditate on your precepts and focus on your behavior.

Psalms 119:16 I find delight in your statutes; I do not forget your instructions.&u05D2; (Gimel)

Psalms 119:17 Be kind to your servant! Then I will live and keep your instructions.

Psalms 119:18 Open my eyes so I can truly see the marvelous things in your law!

Psalms 119:19 I am like a foreigner in this land. Do not hide your commands from me!

Psalms 119:20 I desperately long to know your regulations at all times.

Psalms 119:21 You reprimand arrogant people. Those who stray from your commands are doomed.

Psalms 119:22 Spare me shame and humiliation, for I observe your rules.

Psalms 119:23 Though rulers plot and slander me, your servant meditates on your statutes.

Psalms 119:24 Yes, I find delight in your rules; they give me guidance.&u05D3; (Dalet)

Psalms 119:25 I collapse in the dirt. Revive me with your word!

Psalms 119:26 I told you about my ways and you answered me. Teach me your statutes!

Psalms 119:27 Help me to understand what your precepts mean! Then I can meditate on your marvelous teachings.

Psalms 119:28 I collapse from grief. Sustain me by your word!

Psalms 119:29 Remove me from the path of deceit! Graciously give me your law!

Psalms 119:30 I choose the path of faithfulness; I am committed to your regulations.

Psalms 119:31 I hold fast to your rules. O LORD, do not let me be ashamed!

Psalms 119:32 I run along the path of your commands, for you enable me to do so.&u05D4; (He)

Psalms 119:33 Teach me, O LORD, the lifestyle prescribed by your statutes, so that I might observe it continually.

Psalms 119:34 Give me understanding so that I might observe your law, and keep it with all my heart.

Psalms 119:35 Guide me in the path of your commands, for I delight to walk in it.

Psalms 119:36 Give me a desire for your rules, rather than for wealth gained unjustly.

Psalms 119:37 Turn my eyes away from what is worthless! Revive me with your word!

Psalms 119:38 Confirm to your servant your promise, which you made to the one who honors you.

Psalms 119:39 Take away the insults that I dread! Indeed, your regulations are good.

Psalms 119:40 Look, I long for your precepts. Revive me with your deliverance!&u05D5; (Vav)

Psalms 119:41 May I experience your loyal love, O LORD, and your deliverance, as you promised.

Psalms 119:42 Then I will have a reply for the one who insults me, for I trust in your word.

Psalms 119:43 Do not completely deprive me of a truthful testimony, for I await your justice.

Psalms 119:44 Then I will keep your law continually now and for all time.

Psalms 119:45 I will be secure, for I seek your precepts.

Psalms 119:46 I will speak about your regulations before kings and not be ashamed.

Psalms 119:47 I will find delight in your commands, which I love.

Psalms 119:48 I will lift my hands to your commands, which I love, and I will meditate on your statutes.&u05D6; (Zayin)

Psalms 119:49 Remember your word to your servant, for you have given me hope.

Psalms 119:50 This is what comforts me in my trouble, for your promise revives me.

Psalms 119:51 Arrogant people do nothing but scoff at me. Yet I do not turn aside from your law.

Psalms 119:52 I remember your ancient regulations, O LORD, and console myself.

Psalms 119:53 Rage takes hold of me because of the wicked, those who reject your law.

Psalms 119:54 Your statutes have been my songs in the house where I live.

Psalms 119:55 I remember your name during the night, O LORD, and I will keep your law.

Psalms 119:56 This has been my practice, for I observe your precepts.&u05D7; (Khet)

Psalms 119:57 The LORD is my source of security. I have determined to follow your instructions.

Psalms 119:58 I seek your favor with all my heart. Have mercy on me as you promised!

Psalms 119:59 I consider my actions and follow your rules.

Psalms 119:60 I keep your commands eagerly and without delay.

Psalms 119:61 The ropes of the wicked tighten around me, but I do not forget your law.

Psalms 119:62 In the middle of the night I arise to thank you for your just regulations.

Psalms 119:63 I am a friend to all your loyal followers, and to those who keep your precepts.

Psalms 119:64 O LORD, your loyal love fills the earth. Teach me your statutes!&u05D8; (Tet)

Psalms 119:65 You are good to your servant, O LORD, just as you promised.

Psalms 119:66 Teach me proper discernment and understanding! For I consider your commands to be reliable.

Psalms 119:67 Before I was afflicted I used to stray off, but now I keep your instructions.

Psalms 119:68 You are good and you do good. Teach me your statutes!

Psalms 119:69 Arrogant people smear my reputation with lies, but I observe your precepts with all my heart.

Psalms 119:70 Their hearts are calloused, but I find delight in your law.

Psalms 119:71 It was good for me to suffer, so that I might learn your statutes.

Psalms 119:72 The law you have revealed is more important to me than thousands of pieces of gold and silver.&u05D9; (Yod)

Psalms 119:73 Your hands made me and formed me. Give me understanding so that I might learn your commands.

Psalms 119:74 Your loyal followers will be glad when they see me, for I find hope in your word.

Psalms 119:75 I know, LORD, that your regulations are just. You disciplined me because of your faithful devotion to me.

Psalms 119:76 May your loyal love console me, as you promised your servant.

Psalms 119:77 May I experience your compassion, so I might live! For I find delight in your law.

Psalms 119:78 May the arrogant be humiliated, for they have slandered me! But I meditate on your precepts.

Psalms 119:79 May your loyal followers turn to me, those who know your rules.

Psalms 119:80 May I be fully committed to your statutes, so that I might not be ashamed.&u05DB; (Kaf)

Psalms 119:81 I desperately long for your deliverance. I find hope in your word.

Psalms 119:82 My eyes grow tired as I wait for your promise to be fulfilled. I say, “When will you comfort me?”

Psalms 119:83 For I am like a wineskin dried up in smoke. I do not forget your statutes.

Psalms 119:84 How long must your servant endure this? When will you judge those who pursue me?

Psalms 119:85 The arrogant dig pits to trap me, which violates your law.

Psalms 119:86 All your commands are reliable. I am pursued without reason. Help me!

Psalms 119:87 They have almost destroyed me here on the earth, but I do not reject your precepts.

Psalms 119:88 Revive me with your loyal love, that I might keep the rules you have revealed.&u05DC; (Lamed)

Psalms 119:89 O LORD, your instructions endure; they stand secure in heaven.

Psalms 119:90 You demonstrate your faithfulness to all generations. You established the earth and it stood firm.

Psalms 119:91 Today they stand firm by your decrees, for all things are your servants.

Psalms 119:92 If I had not found encouragement in your law, I would have died in my sorrow.

Psalms 119:93 I will never forget your precepts, for by them you have revived me.

Psalms 119:94 I belong to you. Deliver me! For I seek your precepts.

Psalms 119:95 The wicked prepare to kill me, yet I concentrate on your rules.

Psalms 119:96 I realize that everything has its limits, but your commands are beyond full comprehension.&u05DE; (Mem)

Psalms 119:97 O how I love your law! All day long I meditate on it.

Psalms 119:98 Your commandments make me wiser than my enemies, for I am always aware of them.

Psalms 119:99 I have more insight than all my teachers, for I meditate on your rules.

Psalms 119:100 I am more discerning than those older than I, for I observe your precepts.

Psalms 119:101 I stay away from the evil path, so that I might keep your instructions.

Psalms 119:102 I do not turn aside from your regulations, for you teach me.

Psalms 119:103 Your words are sweeter in my mouth than honey!

Psalms 119:104 Your precepts give me discernment. Therefore I hate all deceitful actions.&u05E0; (Nun)

Psalms 119:105 Your word is a lamp to walk by, and a light to illumine my path.

Psalms 119:106 I have vowed and solemnly sworn to keep your just regulations.

Psalms 119:107 I am suffering terribly. O LORD, revive me with your word!

Psalms 119:108 O LORD, please accept the freewill offerings of my praise! Teach me your regulations!

Psalms 119:109 My life is in continual danger, but I do not forget your law.

Psalms 119:110 The wicked lay a trap for me, but I do not wander from your precepts.

Psalms 119:111 I claim your rules as my permanent possession, for they give me joy.

Psalms 119:112 I am determined to obey your statutes at all times, to the very end.&u05E1; (Samek)&u05B9;119:113 I hate people with divided loyalties, but I love your law.

Psalms 119:113

Psalms 119:114 You are my hiding place and my shield. I find hope in your word.

Psalms 119:115 Turn away from me, you evil men, so that I can observe the commands of my God.

Psalms 119:116 Sustain me as you promised, so that I will live. Do not disappoint me!

Psalms 119:117 Support me, so that I will be delivered. Then I will focus on your statutes continually.

Psalms 119:118 You despise all who stray from your statutes, for they are deceptive and unreliable.

Psalms 119:119 You remove all the wicked of the earth like slag. Therefore I love your rules.

Psalms 119:120 My body trembles because I fear you; I am afraid of your judgments.&u05E2; (Ayin)

Psalms 119:121 I do what is fair and right. Do not abandon me to my oppressors!

Psalms 119:122 Guarantee the welfare of your servant! Do not let the arrogant oppress me!

Psalms 119:123 My eyes grow tired as I wait for your deliverance, for your reliable promise to be fulfilled.

Psalms 119:124 Show your servant your loyal love! Teach me your statutes!

Psalms 119:125 I am your servant. Give me insight, so that I can understand your rules.

Psalms 119:126 It is time for the LORD to act– they break your law!

Psalms 119:127 For this reason I love your commands more than gold, even purest gold.

Psalms 119:128 For this reason I carefully follow all your precepts. I hate all deceitful actions.&u05E4; (Pe)

Psalms 119:129 Your rules are marvelous. Therefore I observe them.

Psalms 119:130 Your instructions are a doorway through which light shines. They give insight to the untrained.

Psalms 119:131 I open my mouth and pant, because I long for your commands.

Psalms 119:132 Turn toward me and extend mercy to me, as you typically do to your loyal followers.

Psalms 119:133 Direct my steps by your word! Do not let any sin dominate me!

Psalms 119:134 Deliver me from oppressive men, so that I can keep your precepts.

Psalms 119:135 Smile on your servant! Teach me your statutes!

Psalms 119:136 Tears stream down from my eyes, because people do not keep your law.&u05E6; (Tsade)

Psalms 119:137 You are just, O LORD, and your judgments are fair.

Psalms 119:138 The rules you impose are just, and absolutely reliable.

Psalms 119:139 My zeal consumes me, for my enemies forget your instructions.

Psalms 119:140 Your word is absolutely pure, and your servant loves it!

Psalms 119:141 I am insignificant and despised, yet I do not forget your precepts.

Psalms 119:142 Your justice endures, and your law is reliable.

Psalms 119:143 Distress and hardship confront me, yet I find delight in your commands.

Psalms 119:144 Your rules remain just. Give me insight so that I can live.&u05E7; (Qof)

Psalms 119:145 I cried out with all my heart, “Answer me, O LORD! I will observe your statutes.”

Psalms 119:146 I cried out to you, “Deliver me, so that I can keep your rules.”

Psalms 119:147 I am up before dawn crying for help. I find hope in your word.

Psalms 119:148 My eyes anticipate the nighttime hours, so that I can meditate on your word.

Psalms 119:149 Listen to me because of your loyal love! O LORD, revive me, as you typically do!

Psalms 119:150 Those who are eager to do wrong draw near; they are far from your law.

Psalms 119:151 You are near, O LORD, and all your commands are reliable.

Psalms 119:152 I learned long ago that you ordained your rules to last.&u05E8; (Resh)

Psalms 119:153 See my pain and rescue me! For I do not forget your law.

Psalms 119:154 Fight for me and defend me! Revive me with your word!

Psalms 119:155 The wicked have no chance for deliverance, for they do not seek your statutes.

Psalms 119:156 Your compassion is great, O LORD. Revive me, as you typically do!

Psalms 119:157 The enemies who chase me are numerous. Yet I do not turn aside from your rules.

Psalms 119:158 I take note of the treacherous and despise them, because they do not keep your instructions.

Psalms 119:159 See how I love your precepts! O LORD, revive me with your loyal love!

Psalms 119:160 Your instructions are totally reliable; all your just regulations endure.&u05E9;&u05C2;/&u05E9;&u05C1; (Sin/Shin)

Psalms 119:161 Rulers pursue me for no reason, yet I am more afraid of disobeying your instructions.

Psalms 119:162 I rejoice in your instructions, like one who finds much plunder.

Psalms 119:163 I hate and despise deceit; I love your law.

Psalms 119:164 Seven times a day I praise you because of your just regulations.

Psalms 119:165 Those who love your law are completely secure; nothing causes them to stumble.

Psalms 119:166 I hope for your deliverance, O LORD, and I obey your commands.

Psalms 119:167 I keep your rules; I love them greatly.

Psalms 119:168 I keep your precepts and rules, for you are aware of everything I do.&u05EA; (Tav)

Psalms 119:169 Listen to my cry for help, O LORD! Give me insight by your word!

Psalms 119:170 Listen to my appeal for mercy! Deliver me, as you promised.

Psalms 119:171 May praise flow freely from my lips, for you teach me your statutes.

Psalms 119:172 May my tongue sing about your instructions, for all your commands are just.

Psalms 119:173 May your hand help me, for I choose to obey your precepts.

Psalms 119:174 I long for your deliverance, O LORD; I find delight in your law.

Psalms 119:175 May I live and praise you! May your regulations help me!

Psalms 119:176 I have wandered off like a lost sheep. Come looking for your servant, for I do not forget your commands.

Psalms 120:1 [A song of ascents.] In my distress I cried out to the LORD and he answered me.

Psalms 120:2 I said, "O LORD, rescue me from those who lie with their lips and those who deceive with their tongue.

Psalms 120:3 How will he severely punish you, you deceptive talker?

Psalms 120:4 Here's how! With the sharp arrows of warriors, with arrowheads forged over the hot coals.

Psalms 120:5 How miserable I am! For I have lived temporarily in Meshech; I have resided among the tents of Kedar.

Psalms 120:6 For too long I have had to reside with those who hate peace.

Psalms 120:7 I am committed to peace, but when I speak, they want to make war.

Psalms 121:1 [A song of ascents.] I look up toward the hills. From where does my help come?

Psalms 121:2 My help comes from the LORD, the Creator of heaven and earth!

Psalms 121:3 May he not allow your foot to slip! May your protector not sleep!

Psalms 121:4 Look! Israel's protector does not sleep or slumber!

Psalms 121:5 The LORD is your protector; the LORD is the shade at your right hand.

Psalms 121:6 The sun will not harm you by day, or the moon by night.

Psalms 121:7 The LORD will protect you from all harm; he will protect your life.

Psalms 121:8 The LORD will protect you in all you do, now and forevermore.

Psalms 122:1 [A song of ascents, by David.] I was glad because they said to me, "We will go to the LORD's temple."

Psalms 122:2 Our feet are standing inside your gates, O Jerusalem.

Psalms 122:3 Jerusalem is a city designed to accommodate an assembly.

Psalms 122:4 The tribes go up there, the tribes of the LORD, where it is required that Israel give thanks to the name of the LORD.

Psalms 122:5 Indeed, the leaders sit there on thrones and make legal decisions, on the thrones of the house of David.

Psalms 122:6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem! May those who love her prosper!

Psalms 122:7 May there be peace inside your defenses, and prosperity inside your fortresses!

Psalms 122:8 For the sake of my brothers and my neighbors I will say, “May there be peace in you!”

Psalms 122:9 For the sake of the temple of the LORD our God I will pray for you to prosper.

Psalms 123:1 [A song of ascents.] I look up toward you, the one enthroned in heaven.

Psalms 123:2 Look, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master, as the eyes of a female servant look to the hand of her mistress, so my eyes will look to the LORD, our God, until he shows us favor.

Psalms 123:3 Show us favor, O LORD, show us favor! For we have had our fill of humiliation, and then some.

Psalms 123:4 We have had our fill of the taunts of the self-assured, of the contempt of the proud.

Psalms 124:1 [A song of ascents, by David.] “If the LORD had not been on our side”– let Israel say this!–

Psalms 124:2 if the LORD had not been on our side, when men attacked us,

Psalms 124:3 they would have swallowed us alive, when their anger raged against us.

Psalms 124:4 The water would have overpowered us; the current would have overwhelmed us.

Psalms 124:5 The raging water would have overwhelmed us.

Psalms 124:6 The LORD deserves praise, for he did not hand us over as prey to their teeth.

Psalms 124:7 We escaped with our lives, like a bird from a hunter’s snare. The snare broke, and we escaped.

Psalms 124:8 Our deliverer is the LORD, the Creator of heaven and earth.

Psalms 125:1 [A song of ascents.] Those who trust in the LORD are like Mount Zion; it cannot be upended and will endure forever.

Psalms 125:2 As the mountains surround Jerusalem, so the LORD surrounds his people, now and forevermore.

Psalms 125:3 Indeed, the scepter of a wicked king will not settle upon the allotted land of the godly. Otherwise the godly might do what is wrong.

Psalms 125:4 Do good, O LORD, to those who are good, to the morally upright!

Psalms 125:5 As for those who are bent on traveling a sinful path, may the LORD remove them, along with those who behave wickedly! May Israel experience peace!

Psalms 126:1 [A song of ascents.] When the LORD restored the well-being of Zion, we thought we were dreaming.

Psalms 126:2 At that time we laughed loudly and shouted for joy. At that time the nations said, “The LORD has accomplished great things for these people.”

Psalms 126:3 The LORD did indeed accomplish great things for us. We were happy.

Psalms 126:4 O LORD, restore our well-being, just as the streams in the arid south are replenished.

Psalms 126:5 Those who shed tears as they plant will shout for joy when they reap the harvest.

Psalms 126:6 The one who weeps as he walks along, carrying his bag of seed, will certainly come in with a shout of joy, carrying his sheaves of grain.

Psalms 127:1 [A song of ascents, by Solomon.] If the LORD does not build a house, then those who build it work in vain. If the LORD does not guard a city, then the watchman stands guard in vain.

Psalms 127:2 It is vain for you to rise early, come home late, and work so hard for your food. Yes, he can provide for those whom he loves even when they sleep.

Psalms 127:3 Yes, sons are a gift from the LORD, the fruit of the womb is a reward.

Psalms 127:4 Sons born during one’s youth are like arrows in a warrior’s hand.

Psalms 127:5 How blessed is the man who fills his quiver with them! They will not be put to shame when they confront enemies at the city gate.

Psalms 128:1 [A song of ascents.] How blessed is every one of the LORD’s loyal followers, each one who keeps his commands!

Psalms 128:2 You will eat what you worked so hard to grow. You will be blessed and secure.

Psalms 128:3 Your wife will be like a fruitful vine in the inner rooms of your house; your children will be like olive branches, as they sit all around your table.

Psalms 128:4 Yes indeed, the man who fears the LORD will be blessed in this way.

Psalms 128:5 May the LORD bless you from Zion, that you might see Jerusalem prosper all the days of your life,

Psalms 128:6 and that you might see your grandchildren. May Israel experience peace!

Psalms 129:1 [A song of ascents.] "Since my youth they have often attacked me," let Israel say.

Psalms 129:2 "Since my youth they have often attacked me, but they have not defeated me.

Psalms 129:3 The plowers plowed my back; they made their furrows long.

Psalms 129:4 The LORD is just; he cut the ropes of the wicked."

Psalms 129:5 May all who hate Zion be humiliated and turned back!

Psalms 129:6 May they be like the grass on the rooftops which withers before one can even pull it up,

Psalms 129:7 which cannot fill the reaper's hand, or the lap of the one who gathers the grain!

Psalms 129:8 Those who pass by will not say, "May you experience the LORD's blessing! We pronounce a blessing on you in the name of the LORD."

Psalms 130:1 [A song of ascents.] From the deep water I cry out to you, O LORD.

Psalms 130:2 O Lord, listen to me! Pay attention to my plea for mercy!

Psalms 130:3 If you, O LORD, were to keep track of sins, O Lord, who could stand before you?

Psalms 130:4 But you are willing to forgive, so that you might be honored.

Psalms 130:5 I rely on the LORD, I rely on him with my whole being; I wait for his assuring word.

Psalms 130:6 I yearn for the Lord, more than watchmen do for the morning, yes, more than watchmen do for the morning.

Psalms 130:7 O Israel, hope in the LORD, for the LORD exhibits loyal love, and is more than willing to deliver.

Psalms 130:8 He will deliver Israel from all the consequences of their sins.

Psalms 131:1 [A song of ascents, by David.] O LORD, my heart is not proud, nor do I have a haughty look. I do not have great aspirations, or concern myself with things that are beyond me.

Psalms 131:2 Indeed I am composed and quiet, like a young child carried by its mother; I am content like the young child I carry.

Psalms 131:3 O Israel, hope in the LORD now and forevermore!

Psalms 132:1 [A song of ascents.] O LORD, for David's sake remember all his strenuous effort,

Psalms 132:2 and how he made a vow to the LORD, and swore an oath to the powerful ruler of Jacob.

Psalms 132:3 He said, "I will not enter my own home, or get into my bed.

Psalms 132:4 I will not allow my eyes to sleep, or my eyelids to slumber,

Psalms 132:5 until I find a place for the LORD, a fine dwelling place for the powerful ruler of Jacob."

Psalms 132:6 Look, we heard about it in Ephrathah, we found it in the territory of Jaar.

Psalms 132:7 Let us go to his dwelling place! Let us worship before his footstool!

Psalms 132:8 Ascend, O LORD, to your resting place, you and the ark of your strength!

Psalms 132:9 May your priests be clothed with integrity! May your loyal followers shout for joy!

Psalms 132:10 For the sake of David, your servant, do not reject your chosen king!

Psalms 132:11 The LORD made a reliable promise to David; he will not go back on his word. He said, "I will place one of your descendants on your throne.

Psalms 132:12 If your sons keep my covenant and the rules I teach them, their sons will also sit on your throne forever."

Psalms 132:13 Certainly the LORD has chosen Zion; he decided to make it his home.

Psalms 132:14 He said, "This will be my resting place forever; I will live here, for I have chosen it.

Psalms 132:15 I will abundantly supply what she needs; I will give her poor all the food they need.

Psalms 132:16 I will protect her priests, and her godly people will shout exuberantly.

Psalms 132:17 There I will make David strong; I have determined that my chosen king's dynasty will continue.

Psalms 132:18 I will humiliate his enemies, and his crown will shine.

Psalms 133:1 [A song of ascents, by David.] Look! How good and how pleasant it is when brothers live together!

Psalms 133:2 It is like fine oil poured on the head which flows down the beard– Aaron's beard, and then flows down his garments.

Psalms 133:3 It is like the dew of Hermon, which flows down upon the hills of Zion. Indeed that is where the LORD has decreed a blessing will be available– eternal life.

Psalms 134:1 [A song of ascents.] Attention! Praise the LORD, all you servants of the LORD, who serve in the LORD's temple during the night.

Psalms 134:2 Lift your hands toward the sanctuary and praise the LORD!

Psalms 134:3 May the LORD, the Creator of heaven and earth, bless you from Zion!

Psalms 135:1 Praise the LORD! Praise the name of the LORD! Offer praise, you servants of the LORD, Psalms 135:2 who serve in the LORD's temple, in the courts of the temple of our God.

Psalms 135:3 Praise the LORD, for the LORD is good! Sing praises to his name, for it is pleasant!

Psalms 135:4 Indeed, the LORD has chosen Jacob for himself, Israel to be his special possession.

Psalms 135:5 Yes, I know the LORD is great, and our Lord is superior to all gods.

Psalms 135:6 He does whatever he pleases in heaven and on earth, in the seas and all the ocean depths.

Psalms 135:7 He causes the clouds to arise from the end of the earth, makes lightning bolts accompany the rain, and brings the wind out of his storehouses.

Psalms 135:8 He struck down the firstborn of Egypt, including both men and animals.

Psalms 135:9 He performed awesome deeds and acts of judgment in your midst, O Egypt, against Pharaoh and all his servants.

Psalms 135:10 He defeated many nations, and killed mighty kings–

Psalms 135:11 Sihon, king of the Amorites, and Og, king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan.

Psalms 135:12 He gave their land as an inheritance, as an inheritance to Israel his people.

Psalms 135:13 O LORD, your name endures, your reputation, O LORD, lasts.

Psalms 135:14 For the LORD vindicates his people, and has compassion on his servants.

Psalms 135:15 The nations' idols are made of silver and gold, they are man-made.

Psalms 135:16 They have mouths, but cannot speak, eyes, but cannot see,

Psalms 135:17 and ears, but cannot hear. Indeed, they cannot breathe.

Psalms 135:18 Those who make them will end up like them, as will everyone who trusts in them.

Psalms 135:19 O family of Israel, praise the LORD! O family of Aaron, praise the LORD!

Psalms 135:20 O family of Levi, praise the LORD! You loyal followers of the LORD, praise the LORD!

Psalms 135:21 The LORD deserves praise in Zion– he who dwells in Jerusalem. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 136:1 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good, for his loyal love endures.

Psalms 136:2 Give thanks to the God of gods, for his loyal love endures.

Psalms 136:3 Give thanks to the Lord of lords, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:4 to the one who performs magnificent, amazing deeds all by himself, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:5 to the one who used wisdom to make the heavens, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:6 to the one who spread out the earth over the water, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:7 to the one who made the great lights, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:8 the sun to rule by day, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:9 the moon and stars to rule by night, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:10 to the one who struck down the firstborn of Egypt, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:11 and led Israel out from their midst, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:12 with a strong hand and an outstretched arm, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:13 to the one who divided the Red Sea in two, for his loyal love endures, Psalms 136:14 and led Israel through its midst, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:15 and tossed Pharaoh and his army into the Red Sea, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:16 to the one who led his people through the wilderness, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:17 to the one who struck down great kings, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:18 and killed powerful kings, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:19 Sihon, king of the Amorites, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:20 Og, king of Bashan, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:21 and gave their land as an inheritance, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:22 as an inheritance to Israel his servant, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:23 to the one who remembered us when we were down, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:24 and snatched us away from our enemies, for his loyal love endures,

Psalms 136:25 to the one who gives food to all living things, for his loyal love endures.

Psalms 136:26 Give thanks to the God of heaven, for his loyal love endures!

Psalms 137:1 By the rivers of Babylon we sit down and weep when we remember Zion.

Psalms 137:2 On the poplars in her midst we hang our harps,

Psalms 137:3 for there our captors ask us to compose songs; those who mock us demand that we be happy, saying: “Sing for us a song about Zion!”

Psalms 137:4 How can we sing a song to the LORD in a foreign land?

Psalms 137:5 If I forget you, O Jerusalem, may my right hand be crippled!

Psalms 137:6 May my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth, if I do not remember you, and do not give Jerusalem priority over whatever gives me the most joy.

Psalms 137:7 Remember, O LORD, what the Edomites did on the day Jerusalem fell. They said, “Tear it down, tear it down, right to its very foundation!”

Psalms 137:8 O daughter Babylon, soon to be devastated! How blessed will be the one who repays you for what you dished out to us!

Psalms 137:9 How blessed will be the one who grabs your babies and smashes them on a rock!

Psalms 138:1 [By David.] I will give you thanks with all my heart; before the heavenly assembly I will sing praises to you.

Psalms 138:2 I will bow down toward your holy temple, and give thanks to your name, because of your loyal love and faithfulness, for you have exalted your promise above the entire sky.

Psalms 138:3 When I cried out for help, you answered me. You made me bold and energized me.

Psalms 138:4 Let all the kings of the earth give thanks to you, O LORD, when they hear the words you speak.

Psalms 138:5 Let them sing about the LORD's deeds, for the LORD's splendor is magnificent.

Psalms 138:6 Though the LORD is exalted, he takes note of the lowly, and recognizes the proud from far away.

Psalms 138:7 Even when I must walk in the midst of danger, you revive me. You oppose my angry enemies, and your right hand delivers me.

Psalms 138:8 The LORD avenges me. O LORD, your loyal love endures. Do not abandon those whom you have made!

Psalms 139:1 [For the music director, a psalm of David.] O LORD, you examine me and know.

Psalms 139:2 You know when I sit down and when I get up; even from far away you understand my motives.

Psalms 139:3 You carefully observe me when I travel or when I lie down to rest; you are aware of everything I do.

Psalms 139:4 Certainly my tongue does not frame a word without you, O LORD, being thoroughly aware of it.

Psalms 139:5 You squeeze me in from behind and in front; you place your hand on me.

Psalms 139:6 Your knowledge is beyond my comprehension; it is so far beyond me, I am unable to fathom it.

Psalms 139:7 Where can I go to escape your spirit? Where can I flee to escape your presence?

Psalms 139:8 If I were to ascend to heaven, you would be there. If I were to sprawl out in Sheol, there you would be.

Psalms 139:9 If I were to fly away on the wings of the dawn, and settle down on the other side of the sea,

Psalms 139:10 even there your hand would guide me, your right hand would grab hold of me.

Psalms 139:11 If I were to say, “Certainly the darkness will cover me, and the light will turn to night all around me,”

Psalms 139:12 even the darkness is not too dark for you to see, and the night is as bright as day; darkness and light are the same to you.

Psalms 139:13 Certainly you made my mind and heart; you wove me together in my mother’s womb.

Psalms 139:14 I will give you thanks because your deeds are awesome and amazing. You knew me thoroughly;

Psalms 139:15 my bones were not hidden from you, when I was made in secret and sewed together in the depths of the earth.

Psalms 139:16 Your eyes saw me when I was inside the womb. All the days ordained for me were recorded in your scroll before one of them came into existence.

Psalms 139:17 How difficult it is for me to fathom your thoughts about me, O God! How vast is their sum total!

Psalms 139:18 If I tried to count them, they would outnumber the grains of sand. Even if I finished counting them, I would still have to contend with you.

Psalms 139:19 If only you would kill the wicked, O God! Get away from me, you violent men!

Psalms 139:20 They rebel against you and act deceitfully; your enemies lie.

Psalms 139:21 O LORD, do I not hate those who hate you, and despise those who oppose you?

Psalms 139:22 I absolutely hate them, they have become my enemies!

Psalms 139:23 Examine me, and probe my thoughts! Test me, and know my concerns!

Psalms 139:24 See if there is any idolatrous tendency in me, and lead me in the reliable ancient path!

Psalms 140:1 [For the music director; a psalm of David.] O LORD, rescue me from wicked men! Protect me from violent men, Psalms 140:2 who plan ways to harm me. All day long they stir up conflict.

Psalms 140:3 Their tongues wound like a serpent; a viper’s venom is behind their lips. (Selah)

Psalms 140:4 O LORD, shelter me from the power of the wicked! Protect me from violent men, who plan to knock me over.

Psalms 140:5 Proud men hide a snare for me; evil men spread a net by the path; they set traps for me. (Selah)

Psalms 140:6 I say to the LORD, “You are my God.” O LORD, pay attention to my plea for mercy!

Psalms 140:7 O sovereign LORD, my strong deliverer, you shield my head in the day of battle.

Psalms 140:8 O LORD, do not let the wicked have their way! Do not allow their plan to succeed when they attack! (Selah)

Psalms 140:9 As for the heads of those who surround me– may the harm done by their lips overwhelm them!

Psalms 140:10 May he rain down fiery coals upon them! May he throw them into the fire! From bottomless pits they will not escape.

Psalms 140:11 A slanderer will not endure on the earth; calamity will hunt down a violent man and strike him down.

Psalms 140:12 I know that the LORD defends the cause of the oppressed and vindicates the poor.

Psalms 140:13 Certainly the godly will give thanks to your name; the morally upright will live in your presence.

Psalms 141:1 [A psalm of David.] O LORD, I cry out to you. Come quickly to me! Pay attention to me when I cry out to you!

Psalms 141:2 May you accept my prayer like incense, my uplifted hands like the evening offering!

Psalms 141:3 O LORD, place a guard on my mouth! Protect the opening of my lips!

Psalms 141:4 Do not let me have evil desires, or participate in sinful activities with men who behave wickedly. I will not eat their delicacies.

Psalms 141:5 May the godly strike me in love and correct me! May my head not refuse choice oil! Indeed, my prayer is a witness against their evil deeds.

Psalms 141:6 They will be thrown down the side of a cliff by their judges. They will listen to my words, for they are pleasant.

Psalms 141:7 As when one plows and breaks up the soil, so our bones are scattered at the mouth of Sheol.

Psalms 141:8 Surely I am looking to you, O sovereign LORD. In you I take shelter. Do not expose me to danger!

Psalms 141:9 Protect me from the snare they have laid for me, and the traps the evildoers have set.

Psalms 141:10 Let the wicked fall into their own nets, while I escape.

Psalms 142:1 [A well-written song by David, when he was in the cave; a prayer.] To the LORD I cry out; to the LORD I plead for mercy.

Psalms 142:2 I pour out my lament before him; I tell him about my troubles.

Psalms 142:3 Even when my strength leaves me, you watch my footsteps. In the path where I walk they have hidden a trap for me.

Psalms 142:4 Look to the right and see! No one cares about me. I have nowhere to run; no one is concerned about my life.

Psalms 142:5 I cry out to you, O LORD; I say, “You are my shelter, my security in the land of the living.”

Psalms 142:6 Listen to my cry for help, for I am in serious trouble! Rescue me from those who chase me, for they are stronger than I am.

Psalms 142:7 Free me from prison, that I may give thanks to your name. Because of me the godly will assemble, for you will vindicate me.

Psalms 143:1 [A psalm of David.] O LORD, hear my prayer! Pay attention to my plea for help! Because of your faithfulness and justice, answer me!

Psalms 143:2 Do not sit in judgment on your servant, for no one alive is innocent before you.

Psalms 143:3 Certainly my enemies chase me. They smash me into the ground. They force me to live in dark regions, like those who have been dead for ages.

Psalms 143:4 My strength leaves me; I am absolutely shocked.

Psalms 143:5 I recall the old days; I meditate on all you have done; I reflect on your accomplishments.

Psalms 143:6 I spread my hands out to you in prayer; my soul thirsts for you in a parched land.

Psalms 143:7 Answer me quickly, LORD! My strength is fading. Do not reject me, or I will join those descending into the grave.

Psalms 143:8 May I hear about your loyal love in the morning, for I trust in you. Show me the way I should go, because I long for you.

Psalms 143:9 Rescue me from my enemies, O LORD! I run to you for protection.

Psalms 143:10 Teach me to do what pleases you, for you are my God. May your kind presence lead me into a level land.

Psalms 143:11 O LORD, for the sake of your reputation, revive me! Because of your justice, rescue me from trouble!

Psalms 143:12 As a demonstration of your loyal love, destroy my enemies! Annihilate all who threaten my life, for I am your servant.

Psalms 144:1 [By David.] The LORD, my protector, deserves praise– the one who trains my hands for battle, and my fingers for war,

Psalms 144:2 who loves me and is my stronghold, my refuge and my deliverer, my shield and the one in whom I take shelter, who makes nations submit to me.

Psalms 144:3 O LORD, of what importance is the human race, that you should notice them? Of what importance is mankind, that you should be concerned about them?

Psalms 144:4 People are like a vapor, their days like a shadow that disappears.

Psalms 144:5 O LORD, make the sky sink and come down! Touch the mountains and make them smolder!

Psalms 144:6 Hurl lightning bolts and scatter them! Shoot your arrows and rout them!

Psalms 144:7 Reach down from above! Grab me and rescue me from the surging water, from the power of foreigners,

Psalms 144:8 who speak lies, and make false promises.

Psalms 144:9 O God, I will sing a new song to you! Accompanied by a ten-stringed instrument, I will sing praises to you,

Psalms 144:10 the one who delivers kings, and rescued David his servant from a deadly sword.

Psalms 144:11 Grab me and rescue me from the power of foreigners, who speak lies, and make false promises.

Psalms 144:12 Then our sons will be like plants, that quickly grow to full size. Our daughters will be like corner pillars, carved like those in a palace.

Psalms 144:13 Our storehouses will be full, providing all kinds of food. Our sheep will multiply by the thousands and fill our pastures.

Psalms 144:14 Our cattle will be weighted down with produce. No one will break through our walls, no one will be taken captive, and there will be no terrified cries in our city squares.

Psalms 144:15 How blessed are the people who experience these things! How blessed are the people whose God is the LORD!

Psalms 145:1 [A psalm of praise, by David.] I will extol you, my God, O king! I will praise your name continually!

Psalms 145:2 Every day I will praise you! I will praise your name continually!

Psalms 145:3 The LORD is great and certainly worthy of praise! No one can fathom his greatness!

Psalms 145:4 One generation will praise your deeds to another, and tell about your mighty acts!

Psalms 145:5 I will focus on your honor and majestic splendor, and your amazing deeds!

Psalms 145:6 They will proclaim the power of your awesome acts! I will declare your great deeds!

Psalms 145:7 They will talk about the fame of your great kindness, and sing about your justice.

Psalms 145:8 The LORD is merciful and compassionate; he is patient and demonstrates great loyal love.

Psalms 145:9 The LORD is good to all, and has compassion on all he has made.

Psalms 145:10 All he has made will give thanks to the LORD. Your loyal followers will praise you.

Psalms 145:11 They will proclaim the splendor of your kingdom; they will tell about your power,

Psalms 145:12 so that mankind might acknowledge your mighty acts, and the majestic splendor of your kingdom.

Psalms 145:13 Your kingdom is an eternal kingdom, and your dominion endures through all generations.

Psalms 145:14 The LORD supports all who fall, and lifts up all who are bent over.

Psalms 145:15 Everything looks to you in anticipation, and you provide them with food on a regular basis.

Psalms 145:16 You open your hand, and fill every living thing with the food they desire.

Psalms 145:17 The LORD is just in all his actions, and exhibits love in all he does.

Psalms 145:18 The LORD is near all who cry out to him, all who cry out to him sincerely.

Psalms 145:19 He satisfies the desire of his loyal followers; he hears their cry for help and delivers them.

Psalms 145:20 The LORD protects those who love him, but he destroys all the wicked.

Psalms 145:21 My mouth will praise the LORD. Let all who live praise his holy name forever!

Psalms 146:1 Praise the LORD! Praise the LORD, O my soul!

Psalms 146:2 I will praise the LORD as long as I live! I will sing praises to my God as long as I exist!

Psalms 146:3 Do not trust in princes, or in human beings, who cannot deliver!

Psalms 146:4 Their life’s breath departs, they return to the ground; on that day their plans die.

Psalms 146:5 How blessed is the one whose helper is the God of Jacob, whose hope is in the LORD his God,

Psalms 146:6 the one who made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that is in them, who remains forever faithful, Psalms 146:7 vindicates the oppressed, and gives food to the hungry. The LORD releases the imprisoned.

Psalms 146:8 The LORD gives sight to the blind. The LORD lifts up all who are bent over. The LORD loves the godly.

Psalms 146:9 The LORD protects those residing outside their native land; he lifts up the fatherless and the widow, but he opposes the wicked.

Psalms 146:10 The LORD rules forever, your God, O Zion, throughout the generations to come! Praise the LORD!

Psalms 147:1 Praise the LORD, for it is good to sing praises to our God! Yes, praise is pleasant and appropriate!

Psalms 147:2 The LORD rebuilds Jerusalem, and gathers the exiles of Israel.

Psalms 147:3 He heals the brokenhearted, and bandages their wounds.

Psalms 147:4 He counts the number of the stars; he names all of them.

Psalms 147:5 Our Lord is great and has awesome power; there is no limit to his wisdom.

Psalms 147:6 The LORD lifts up the oppressed, but knocks the wicked to the ground.

Psalms 147:7 Offer to the LORD a song of thanks! Sing praises to our God to the accompaniment of a harp!

Psalms 147:8 He covers the sky with clouds, provides the earth with rain, and causes grass to grow on the hillsides.

Psalms 147:9 He gives food to the animals, and to the young ravens when they chirp.

Psalms 147:10 He is not enamored with the strength of a horse, nor is he impressed by the warrior's strong legs.

Psalms 147:11 The LORD takes delight in his faithful followers, and in those who wait for his loyal love.

Psalms 147:12 Extol the LORD, O Jerusalem! Praise your God, O Zion!

Psalms 147:13 For he makes the bars of your gates strong. He blesses your children within you.

Psalms 147:14 He brings peace to your territory. He abundantly provides for you the best grain.

Psalms 147:15 He sends his command through the earth; swiftly his order reaches its destination.

Psalms 147:16 He sends the snow that is white like wool; he spreads the frost that is white like ashes.

Psalms 147:17 He throws his hailstones like crumbs. Who can withstand the cold wind he sends?

Psalms 147:18 He then orders it all to melt; he breathes on it, and the water flows.

Psalms 147:19 He proclaims his word to Jacob, his statutes and regulations to Israel.

Psalms 147:20 He has not done so with any other nation; they are not aware of his regulations. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 148:1 Praise the LORD! Praise the LORD from the sky! Praise him in the heavens!

Psalms 148:2 Praise him, all his angels! Praise him, all his heavenly assembly!

Psalms 148:3 Praise him, O sun and moon! Praise him, all you shiny stars!

Psalms 148:4 Praise him, O highest heaven, and you waters above the sky!

Psalms 148:5 Let them praise the name of the LORD, for he gave the command and they came into existence.

Psalms 148:6 He established them so they would endure; he issued a decree that will not be revoked.

Psalms 148:7 Praise the LORD from the earth, you sea creatures and all you ocean depths,

Psalms 148:8 O fire and hail, snow and clouds, O stormy wind that carries out his orders,

Psalms 148:9 you mountains and all you hills, you fruit trees and all you cedars,

Psalms 148:10 you animals and all you cattle, you creeping things and birds,

Psalms 148:11 you kings of the earth and all you nations, you princes and all you leaders on the earth,

Psalms 148:12 you young men and young women, you elderly, along with you children!

Psalms 148:13 Let them praise the name of the LORD, for his name alone is exalted; his majesty extends over the earth and sky.

Psalms 148:14 He has made his people victorious, and given all his loyal followers reason to praise– the Israelites, the people who are close to him. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 149:1 Praise the LORD! Sing to the LORD a new song! Praise him in the assembly of the godly!

Psalms 149:2 Let Israel rejoice in their Creator! Let the people of Zion delight in their king!

Psalms 149:3 Let them praise his name with dancing! Let them sing praises to him to the accompaniment of the tambourine and harp!

Psalms 149:4 For the LORD takes delight in his people; he exalts the oppressed by delivering them.

Psalms 149:5 Let the godly rejoice because of their vindication! Let them shout for joy upon their beds!

Psalms 149:6 May they praise God while they hold a two-edged sword in their hand,

Psalms 149:7 in order to take revenge on the nations, and punish foreigners.

Psalms 149:8 They bind their kings in chains, and their nobles in iron shackles,

Psalms 149:9 and execute the judgment to which their enemies have been sentenced. All his loyal followers will be vindicated. Praise the LORD!

Psalms 150:1 Praise the LORD! Praise God in his sanctuary! Praise him in the sky, which testifies to his strength!

Psalms 150:2 Praise him for his mighty acts! Praise him for his surpassing greatness!

Psalms 150:3 Praise him with the blast of the horn! Praise him with the lyre and the harp!

Psalms 150:4 Praise him with the tambourine and with dancing! Praise him with stringed instruments and the flute!

Psalms 150:5 Praise him with loud cymbals! Praise him with clanging cymbals!

Psalms 150:6 Let everything that has breath praise the LORD! Praise the LORD!

Proverbs

1:1 The Proverbs of Solomon son of David, king of Israel:

Proverbs 1:2 To learn wisdom and moral instruction, and to discern wise counsel.

Proverbs 1:3 To receive moral instruction in skillful living, in righteousness, justice, and equity.

Proverbs 1:4 To impart shrewdness to the morally naive, and a discerning plan to the young person.

Proverbs 1:5 (Let the wise also hear and gain instruction, and let the discerning acquire guidance!)

Proverbs 1:6 To discern the meaning of a proverb and a parable, the sayings of the wise and their riddles.

Proverbs 1:7 Fearing the LORD is the beginning of moral knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction.

Proverbs 1:8 Listen, my child, to the instruction from your father, and do not forsake the teaching from your mother.

Proverbs 1:9 For they will be like an elegant garland on your head, and like pendants around your neck.

Proverbs 1:10 My child, if sinners try to entice you, do not consent!

Proverbs 1:11 If they say, “Come with us! We will lie in wait to shed blood; we will ambush an innocent person capriciously.

Proverbs 1:12 We will swallow them alive like Sheol, those full of vigor like those going down to the Pit.

Proverbs 1:13 We will seize all kinds of precious wealth; we will fill our houses with plunder.

Proverbs 1:14 Join with us! We will all share equally in what we steal.”

Proverbs 1:15 My child, do not go down their way, withhold yourself from their path;

Proverbs 1:16 for they are eager to inflict harm, and they hasten to shed blood.

Proverbs 1:17 Surely it is futile to spread a net in plain sight of any bird,

Proverbs 1:18 but these men lie in wait for their own blood, they ambush their own lives!

Proverbs 1:19 Such are the ways of all who gain profit unjustly; it takes away the life of those who obtain it!

Proverbs 1:20 Wisdom calls out in the street, she shouts loudly in the plazas;

Proverbs 1:21 at the head of the noisy streets she calls, in the entrances of the gates in the city she utters her words:

Proverbs 1:22 “How long will you simpletons love naiveté? How long will mockers delight in mockery and fools hate knowledge?

Proverbs 1:23 If only you will respond to my rebuke, then I will pour out my thoughts to you and I will make my words known to you.

Proverbs 1:24 However, because I called but you refused to listen, because I stretched out my hand but no one paid attention,

Proverbs 1:25 because you neglected all my advice, and did not comply with my rebuke,

Proverbs 1:26 so I myself will laugh when disaster strikes you, I will mock when what you dread comes, Proverbs 1:27 when what you dread comes like a whirlwind, and disaster strikes you like a devastating storm, when distressing trouble comes on you.

Proverbs 1:28 Then they will call to me, but I will not answer; they will diligently seek me, but they will not find me.

Proverbs 1:29 Because they hated moral knowledge, and did not choose to fear the LORD,

Proverbs 1:30 they did not comply with my advice, they spurned all my rebuke.

Proverbs 1:31 Therefore they will eat from the fruit of their way, and they will be stuffed full of their own counsel.

Proverbs 1:32 For the waywardness of the simpletons will kill them, and the careless ease of fools will destroy them.

Proverbs 1:33 But the one who listens to me will live in security, and will be at ease from the dread of harm.

Proverbs 2:1 My child, if you receive my words, and store up my commands within you,

Proverbs 2:2 by making your ear attentive to wisdom, and by turning your heart to understanding,

Proverbs 2:3 indeed, if you call out for discernment– raise your voice for understanding–

Proverbs 2:4 if you seek it like silver, and search for it like hidden treasure,

Proverbs 2:5 then you will understand how to fear the LORD, and you will discover knowledge about God.

Proverbs 2:6 For the LORD gives wisdom, and from his mouth comes knowledge and understanding.

Proverbs 2:7 He stores up effective counsel for the upright, and is like a shield for those who live with integrity,

Proverbs 2:8 to guard the paths of the righteous and to protect the way of his pious ones.

Proverbs 2:9 Then you will understand righteousness and justice and equity– every good way.

Proverbs 2:10 For wisdom will enter your heart, and moral knowledge will be attractive to you.

Proverbs 2:11 Discretion will protect you, understanding will guard you,

Proverbs 2:12 to deliver you from the way of the wicked, from those speaking perversity,

Proverbs 2:13 who leave the upright paths to walk on the dark ways,

Proverbs 2:14 who delight in doing evil, they rejoice in perverse evil;

Proverbs 2:15 whose paths are morally crooked, and who are devious in their ways;

Proverbs 2:16 to deliver you from the adulteress, from the sexually loose woman who speaks flattering words;

Proverbs 2:17 who leaves the husband from her younger days, and forgets her marriage covenant made before God.

Proverbs 2:18 For her house sinks down to death, and her paths lead to the place of the departed spirits.

Proverbs 2:19 None who go in to her will return, nor will they reach the paths of life.

Proverbs 2:20 So you will walk in the way of good people, and will keep on the paths of the righteous.

Proverbs 2:21 For the upright will reside in the land, and those with integrity will remain in it,

Proverbs 2:22 but the wicked will be removed from the land, and the treacherous will be torn away from it.

Proverbs 3:1 My child, do not forget my teaching, but let your heart keep my commandments,

Proverbs 3:2 for they will provide a long and full life, and they will add well-being to you.

Proverbs 3:3 Do not let truth and mercy leave you; bind them around your neck, write them on the tablet of your heart.

Proverbs 3:4 Then you will find favor and good understanding, in the sight of God and people.

Proverbs 3:5 Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and do not rely on your own understanding.

Proverbs 3:6 Acknowledge him in all your ways, and he will make your paths straight.

Proverbs 3:7 Do not be wise in your own estimation; fear the LORD and turn away from evil.

Proverbs 3:8 This will bring healing to your body, and refreshment to your inner self.

Proverbs 3:9 Honor the LORD from your wealth and from the first fruits of all your crops;

Proverbs 3:10 then your barns will be filled completely, and your vats will overflow with new wine.

Proverbs 3:11 My child, do not despise discipline from the LORD, and do not loathe his rebuke.

Proverbs 3:12 For the LORD disciplines those he loves, just as a father disciplines the son in whom he delights.

Proverbs 3:13 Blessed is the one who finds wisdom, and the one who obtains understanding.

Proverbs 3:14 For her benefit is more profitable than silver, and her gain is better than gold.

Proverbs 3:15 She is more precious than rubies, and none of the things you desire can compare with her.

Proverbs 3:16 Long life is in her right hand; in her left hand are riches and honor.

Proverbs 3:17 Her ways are very pleasant, and all her paths are peaceful.

Proverbs 3:18 She is like a tree of life to those who obtain her, and everyone who grasps hold of her will be blessed.

Proverbs 3:19 By wisdom the LORD laid the foundation of the earth; he established the heavens by understanding.

Proverbs 3:20 By his knowledge the primordial sea was broken open, and the clouds drip down dew.

Proverbs 3:21 My child, do not let them escape from your sight; safeguard sound wisdom and discretion.

Proverbs 3:22 So they will give life to you, and grace to adorn your neck.

Proverbs 3:23 Then you will walk on your way with security, and you will not stumble.

Proverbs 3:24 When you lie down you will not be filled with fear; when you lie down your sleep will be pleasant.

Proverbs 3:25 You will not be afraid of sudden disaster, or when destruction overtakes the wicked;

Proverbs 3:26 for the LORD will be the source of your confidence, and he will guard your foot from being caught in a trap.

Proverbs 3:27 Do not withhold good from those who need it, when you have the ability to help.

Proverbs 3:28 Do not say to your neighbor, “Go! Return tomorrow and I will give it,” when you have it with you at the time.

Proverbs 3:29 Do not plot evil against your neighbor when he dwells by you unsuspectingly.

Proverbs 3:30 Do not accuse anyone without legitimate cause, if he has not treated you wrongly.

Proverbs 3:31 Do not envy a violent man, and do not choose to imitate any of his ways;

Proverbs 3:32 for one who goes astray is an abomination to the LORD, but he reveals his intimate counsel to the upright.

Proverbs 3:33 The LORD’s curse is on the household of the wicked, but he blesses the home of the righteous.

Proverbs 3:34 Although he is scornful to arrogant scoffers, yet he shows favor to the humble.

Proverbs 3:35 The wise inherit honor, but he holds fools up to public contempt.

Proverbs 4:1 Listen, children, to a father’s instruction, and pay attention so that you may gain discernment.

Proverbs 4:2 Because I give you good instruction, do not forsake my teaching.

Proverbs 4:3 When I was a son to my father, a tender only child before my mother,

Proverbs 4:4 he taught me, and he said to me: “Let your heart lay hold of my words; keep my commands so that you will live.

Proverbs 4:5 Acquire wisdom, acquire understanding; do not forget and do not turn aside from the words I speak.

Proverbs 4:6 Do not forsake wisdom, and she will protect you; love her, and she will guard you.

Proverbs 4:7 Wisdom is supreme– so acquire wisdom, and whatever you acquire, acquire understanding!

Proverbs 4:8 Esteem her highly and she will exalt you; she will honor you if you embrace her.

Proverbs 4:9 She will place a fair garland on your head; she will bestow a beautiful crown on you.”

Proverbs 4:10 Listen, my child, and accept my words, so that the years of your life will be many.

Proverbs 4:11 I will guide you in the way of wisdom and I will lead you in upright paths.

Proverbs 4:12 When you walk, your steps will not be hampered, and when you run, you will not stumble.

Proverbs 4:13 Hold on to instruction, do not let it go; protect it, because it is your life.

Proverbs 4:14 Do not enter the path of the wicked or walk in the way of those who are evil.

Proverbs 4:15 Avoid it, do not go on it; turn away from it, and go on.

Proverbs 4:16 For they cannot sleep unless they cause harm; they are robbed of sleep until they make someone stumble.

Proverbs 4:17 For they eat bread gained from wickedness and drink wine obtained from violence.

Proverbs 4:18 But the path of the righteous is like the bright morning light, growing brighter and brighter until full day.

Proverbs 4:19 The way of the wicked is like gloomy darkness; they do not know what causes them to stumble.

Proverbs 4:20 My child, pay attention to my words; listen attentively to my sayings.

Proverbs 4:21 Do not let them depart from your sight, guard them within your heart;

Proverbs 4:22 for they are life to those who find them and healing to one’s entire body.

Proverbs 4:23 Guard your heart with all vigilance, for from it are the sources of life.

Proverbs 4:24 Remove perverse speech from your mouth; keep devious talk far from your lips.

Proverbs 4:25 Let your eyes look directly in front of you and let your gaze look straight before you.

Proverbs 4:26 Make the path for your feet level, so that all your ways may be established.

Proverbs 4:27 Do not turn to the right or to the left; turn yourself away from evil.

Proverbs 5:1 My child, be attentive to my wisdom, pay close attention to my understanding,

Proverbs 5:2 in order to safeguard discretion, and that your lips may guard knowledge.

Proverbs 5:3 For the lips of the adulterous woman drip honey, and her seductive words are smoother than olive oil,

Proverbs 5:4 but in the end she is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.

Proverbs 5:5 Her feet go down to death; her steps lead straight to the grave.

Proverbs 5:6 Lest she should make level the path leading to life, her paths are unstable but she does not know it.

Proverbs 5:7 So now, children, listen to me; do not turn aside from the words I speak.

Proverbs 5:8 Keep yourself far from her, and do not go near the door of her house,

Proverbs 5:9 lest you give your vigor to others and your years to a cruel person,

Proverbs 5:10 lest strangers devour your strength, and your labor benefit another man’s house.

Proverbs 5:11 And at the end of your life you will groan when your flesh and your body are wasted away.

Proverbs 5:12 And you will say, “How I hated discipline! My heart spurned reproof!

Proverbs 5:13 For I did not obey my teachers and I did not heed my instructors.

Proverbs 5:14 I almost came to complete ruin in the midst of the whole congregation!”

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern and running water from your own well.

Proverbs 5:16 Should your springs be dispersed outside, your streams of water in the wide plazas?

Proverbs 5:17 Let them be for yourself alone, and not for strangers with you.

Proverbs 5:18 May your fountain be blessed, and may you rejoice in your young wife–

Proverbs 5:19 a loving doe, a graceful deer; may her breasts satisfy you at all times, may you be captivated by her love always.

Proverbs 5:20 But why should you be captivated, my son, by an adulteress, and embrace the bosom of a different woman?

Proverbs 5:21 For the ways of a person are in front of the LORD’s eyes, and the LORD weighs all that person’s paths.

Proverbs 5:22 The wicked will be captured by his own iniquities, and he will be held by the cords of his own sin.

Proverbs 5:23 He will die because there was no discipline; because of the greatness of his folly he will reel.

Proverbs 6:1 My child, if you have made a pledge for your neighbor, and have become a guarantor for a stranger,

Proverbs 6:2 if you have been ensnared by the words you have uttered, and have been caught by the words you have spoken,

Proverbs 6:3 then, my child, do this in order to deliver yourself, because you have fallen into your neighbor’s power: go, humble yourself, and appeal firmly to your neighbor.

Proverbs 6:4 Permit no sleep to your eyes or slumber to your eyelids.

Proverbs 6:5 Deliver yourself like a gazelle from a snare, and like a bird from the trap of the fowler.

Proverbs 6:6 Go to the ant, you sluggard; observe its ways and be wise!

Proverbs 6:7 It has no commander, overseer, or ruler,

Proverbs 6:8 yet it prepares its food in the summer; it gathers at the harvest what it will eat.

Proverbs 6:9 How long, you sluggard, will you lie there? When will you rise from your sleep?

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to relax,

Proverbs 6:11 and your poverty will come like a robber, and your need like an armed man.

Proverbs 6:12 A worthless and wicked person walks around saying perverse things;

Proverbs 6:13 he winks with his eyes, signals with his feet, and points with his fingers;

Proverbs 6:14 he plots evil with perverse thoughts in his heart, he spreads contention at all times.

Proverbs 6:15 Therefore, his disaster will come suddenly; in an instant he will be broken, and there will be no remedy.

Proverbs 6:16 There are six things that the LORD hates, even seven things that are an abomination to him:

Proverbs 6:17 haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood,

Proverbs 6:18 a heart that devises wicked plans, feet that are swift to run to evil,

Proverbs 6:19 a false witness who pours out lies, and a person who spreads discord among family members.

Proverbs 6:20 My child, guard the commands of your father and do not forsake the instruction of your mother.

Proverbs 6:21 Bind them on your heart continually; fasten them around your neck.

Proverbs 6:22 When you walk about, they will guide you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; when you wake up, they will talk to you.

Proverbs 6:23 For the commandments are like a lamp, instruction is like a light, and rebukes of discipline are like the road leading to life,

Proverbs 6:24 by keeping you from the evil woman, from the smooth tongue of the loose woman.

Proverbs 6:25 Do not lust in your heart for her beauty, and do not let her captivate you with her alluring eyes;

Proverbs 6:26 for on account of a prostitute one is brought down to a loaf of bread, but the wife of another man preys on your precious life.

Proverbs 6:27 Can a man hold fire against his chest without burning his clothes?

Proverbs 6:28 Can a man walk on hot coals without scorching his feet?

Proverbs 6:29 So it is with the one who has sex with his neighbor’s wife; no one who touches her will escape punishment.

Proverbs 6:30 People do not despise a thief when he steals to fulfill his need when he is hungry.

Proverbs 6:31 Yet if he is caught he must repay seven times over, he might even have to give all the wealth of his house.

Proverbs 6:32 A man who commits adultery with a woman lacks wisdom, whoever does it destroys his own life.

Proverbs 6:33 He will be beaten and despised, and his reproach will not be wiped away;

Proverbs 6:34 for jealousy kindles a husband’s rage, and he will not show mercy when he takes revenge.

Proverbs 6:35 He will not consider any compensation; he will not be willing, even if you multiply the compensation.

Proverbs 7:1 My child, keep my words and treasure up my commands in your own keeping.

Proverbs 7:2 Keep my commands so that you may live, and obey my instruction as your most prized possession.

Proverbs 7:3 Bind them on your forearm; write them on the tablet of your heart.

Proverbs 7:4 Say to wisdom, “You are my sister,” and call understanding a close relative,

Proverbs 7:5 so that they may keep you from the adulterous woman, from the loose woman who flatters you with her words.

Proverbs 7:6 For at the window of my house through my window lattice I looked out

Proverbs 7:7 and I saw among the naive– I discerned among the youths– a young man who lacked wisdom.

Proverbs 7:8 He was passing by the street near her corner, making his way along the road to her house

Proverbs 7:9 in the twilight, the evening, in the dark of the night.

Proverbs 7:10 Suddenly a woman came out to meet him! She was dressed like a prostitute and with secret intent.

Proverbs 7:11 (She is loud and rebellious, she does not remain at home–

Proverbs 7:12 at one time outside, at another in the wide plazas, and by every corner she lies in wait.)

Proverbs 7:13 So she grabbed him and kissed him, and with a bold expression she said to him,

Proverbs 7:14 “I have fresh meat at home; today I have fulfilled my vows!

Proverbs 7:15 That is why I came out to meet you, to look for you, and I found you!

Proverbs 7:16 I have spread my bed with elegant coverings, with richly colored fabric from Egypt.

Proverbs 7:17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

Proverbs 7:18 Come, let's drink deeply of lovemaking until morning, let's delight ourselves with sexual intercourse.

Proverbs 7:19 For my husband is not at home; he has gone on a journey of some distance.

Proverbs 7:20 He has taken a bag of money with him; he will not return until the end of the month."

Proverbs 7:21 She persuaded him with persuasive words; with her smooth talk she compelled him.

Proverbs 7:22 Suddenly he went after her like an ox that goes to the slaughter, like a stag prancing into a trapper's snare

Proverbs 7:23 till an arrow pierces his liver– like a bird hurrying into a trap, and he does not know that it will cost him his life.

Proverbs 7:24 So now, sons, listen to me, and pay attention to the words I speak.

Proverbs 7:25 Do not let your heart turn aside to her ways– do not wander into her pathways;

Proverbs 7:26 for she has brought down many fatally wounded, and all those she has slain are many.

Proverbs 7:27 Her house is the way to the grave, going down to the chambers of death.

Proverbs 8:1 Does not wisdom call out? Does not understanding raise her voice?

Proverbs 8:2 At the top of the elevated places along the way, at the intersection of the paths she takes her stand;

Proverbs 8:3 beside the gates opening into the city, at the entrance of the doorways she cries out:

Proverbs 8:4 "To you, O people, I call out, and my voice calls to all mankind.

Proverbs 8:5 You who are naive, discern wisdom! And you fools, understand discernment!

Proverbs 8:6 Listen, for I will speak excellent things, and my lips will utter what is right.

Proverbs 8:7 For my mouth speaks truth, and my lips hate wickedness.

Proverbs 8:8 All the words of my mouth are righteous; there is nothing in them twisted or crooked.

Proverbs 8:9 All of them are clear to the discerning and upright to those who find knowledge.

Proverbs 8:10 Receive my instruction rather than silver, and knowledge rather than choice gold.

Proverbs 8:11 For wisdom is better than rubies, and desirable things cannot be compared to her.

Proverbs 8:12 “I, wisdom, live with prudence, and I find knowledge and discretion.

Proverbs 8:13 The fear of the LORD is to hate evil; I hate arrogant pride and the evil way and perverse utterances.

Proverbs 8:14 Counsel and sound wisdom belong to me; I possess understanding and might.

Proverbs 8:15 Kings reign by means of me, and potentates decree righteousness;

Proverbs 8:16 by me princes rule, as well as nobles and all righteous judges.

Proverbs 8:17 I love those who love me, and those who seek me find me.

Proverbs 8:18 Riches and honor are with me, long-lasting wealth and righteousness.

Proverbs 8:19 My fruit is better than the purest gold, and what I produce is better than choice silver.

Proverbs 8:20 I walk in the path of righteousness, in the pathway of justice,

Proverbs 8:21 that I may cause those who love me to inherit wealth, and that I may fill their treasuries.

Proverbs 8:22 The LORD created me as the beginning of his works, before his deeds of long ago.

Proverbs 8:23 From eternity I was appointed, from the beginning, from before the world existed.

Proverbs 8:24 When there were no deep oceans I was born, when there were no springs overflowing with water;

Proverbs 8:25 before the mountains were set in place– before the hills– I was born,

Proverbs 8:26 before he made the earth and its fields, or the beginning of the dust of the world.

Proverbs 8:27 When he established the heavens, I was there; when he marked out the horizon over the face of the deep,

Proverbs 8:28 when he established the clouds above, when the fountains of the deep grew strong, Proverbs 8:29 when he gave the sea his decree that the waters should not pass over his command, when he marked out the foundations of the earth,

Proverbs 8:30 then I was beside him as a master craftsman, and I was his delight day by day, rejoicing before him at all times,

Proverbs 8:31 rejoicing in the habitable part of his earth, and delighting in its people.

Proverbs 8:32 “So now, children, listen to me; blessed are those who keep my ways.

Proverbs 8:33 Listen to my instruction so that you may be wise, and do not neglect it.

Proverbs 8:34 Blessed is the one who listens to me, watching at my doors day by day, waiting beside my doorway.

Proverbs 8:35 For the one who finds me finds life and receives favor from the LORD.

Proverbs 8:36 But the one who does not find me brings harm to himself; all who hate me love death.”

Proverbs 9:1 Wisdom has built her house; she has carved out its seven pillars.

Proverbs 9:2 She has prepared her meat, she has mixed her wine; she also has arranged her table.

Proverbs 9:3 She has sent out her female servants; she calls out on the highest places of the city.

Proverbs 9:4 “Whoever is naive, let him turn in here,” she says to those who lack understanding.

Proverbs 9:5 “Come, eat some of my food, and drink some of the wine I have mixed.

Proverbs 9:6 Abandon your foolish ways so that you may live, and proceed in the way of understanding.”

Proverbs 9:7 Whoever corrects a mocker is asking for insult; whoever reproves a wicked person receives abuse.

Proverbs 9:8 Do not reprove a mocker or he will hate you; reprove a wise person and he will love you.

Proverbs 9:9 Give instruction to a wise person, and he will become wiser still; teach a righteous person and he will add to his learning.

Proverbs 9:10 The beginning of wisdom is to fear the LORD, and acknowledging the Holy One is understanding.

Proverbs 9:11 For because of me your days will be many, and years will be added to your life.

Proverbs 9:12 If you are wise, you are wise to your own advantage, but if you are a mocker, you alone must bear it.

Proverbs 9:13 The woman called Folly is brash, she is naive and does not know anything.

Proverbs 9:14 So she sits at the door of her house, on a seat at the highest point of the city,

Proverbs 9:15 calling out to those who are passing by her in the way, who go straight on their way.

Proverbs 9:16 “Whoever is simple, let him turn in here,” she says to those who lack understanding.

Proverbs 9:17 “Stolen waters are sweet, and food obtained in secret is pleasant!”

Proverbs 9:18 But they do not realize that the dead are there, that her guests are in the depths of the grave.

Proverbs 10:1 The Proverbs of Solomon: A wise child makes a father rejoice, but a foolish child is a grief to his mother.

Proverbs 10:2 Treasures gained by wickedness do not profit, but righteousness delivers from mortal danger.

Proverbs 10:3 The LORD satisfies the appetite of the righteous, but he thwarts the craving of the wicked.

Proverbs 10:4 The one who is lazy becomes poor, but the one who works diligently becomes wealthy.

Proverbs 10:5 The one who gathers crops in the summer is a wise son, but the one who sleeps during the harvest is a son who brings shame to himself.

Proverbs 10:6 Blessings are on the head of the righteous, but the speech of the wicked conceals violence.

Proverbs 10:7 The memory of the righteous is a blessing, but the reputation of the wicked will rot.

Proverbs 10:8 The wise person accepts instructions, but the one who speaks foolishness will come to ruin.

Proverbs 10:9 The one who conducts himself in integrity will live securely, but the one who behaves perversely will be found out.

Proverbs 10:10 The one who winks his eye causes trouble, and the one who speaks foolishness will come to ruin.

Proverbs 10:11 The teaching of the righteous is a fountain of life, but the speech of the wicked conceals violence.

Proverbs 10:12 Hatred stirs up dissension, but love covers all transgressions.

Proverbs 10:13 Wisdom is found in the words of the discerning person, but the one who lacks wisdom will be disciplined.

Proverbs 10:14 Those who are wise store up knowledge, but foolish speech leads to imminent destruction.

Proverbs 10:15 The wealth of a rich person is like a fortified city, but the poor are brought to ruin by their poverty.

Proverbs 10:16 The reward which the righteous receive is life; the recompense which the wicked receive is judgment.

Proverbs 10:17 The one who heeds instruction is on the way to life, but the one who rejects rebuke goes astray.

Proverbs 10:18 The one who conceals hatred utters lies, and the one who spreads slander is certainly a fool.

Proverbs 10:19 When words abound, transgression is inevitable, but the one who restrains his words is wise.

Proverbs 10:20 What the righteous say is like the best silver, but what the wicked think is of little value.

Proverbs 10:21 The teaching of the righteous feeds many, but fools die for lack of wisdom.

Proverbs 10:22 The blessing from the LORD makes a person rich, and he adds no sorrow to it.

Proverbs 10:23 Carrying out a wicked scheme is enjoyable to a fool, and so is wisdom for the one who has discernment.

Proverbs 10:24 What the wicked fears will come on him; what the righteous desire will be granted.

Proverbs 10:25 When the storm passes through, the wicked are swept away, but the righteous are an everlasting foundation.

Proverbs 10:26 Like vinegar to the teeth and like smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to those who send him.

Proverbs 10:27 Fearing the LORD prolongs life, but the life span of the wicked will be shortened.

Proverbs 10:28 The hope of the righteous is joy, but the expectation of the wicked will remain unfulfilled.

Proverbs 10:29 The way of the LORD is like a stronghold for the upright, but it is destruction to evildoers.

Proverbs 10:30 The righteous will never be moved, but the wicked will not inhabit the land.

Proverbs 10:31 The speech of the righteous bears the fruit of wisdom, but the one who speaks perversion will be destroyed.

Proverbs 10:32 The lips of the righteous know what is pleasing, but the speech of the wicked is perverse.

Proverbs 11:1 The LORD abhors dishonest scales, but an accurate weight is his elight.

Proverbs 11:2 When pride comes, then comes disgrace, but with humility comes wisdom.

Proverbs 11:3 The integrity of the upright guides them, but the crookedness of the unfaithful destroys them.

Proverbs 11:4 Wealth does not profit in the day of wrath, but righteousness delivers from mortal danger.

Proverbs 11:5 The righteousness of the blameless will make straight their way, but the wicked person will fall by his own wickedness.

Proverbs 11:6 The righteousness of the upright will deliver them, but the faithless will be captured by their own desires.

Proverbs 11:7 When a wicked person dies, his expectation perishes, and the hope of his strength perishes.

Proverbs 11:8 The righteous person is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked turns up in his stead.

Proverbs 11:9 With his speech the godless person destroys his neighbor, but by knowledge the righteous will be delivered.

Proverbs 11:10 When the righteous do well, the city rejoices; when the wicked perish, there is joy.

Proverbs 11:11 A city is exalted by the blessing provided from the upright, but it is destroyed by the counsel of the wicked.

Proverbs 11:12 The one who denounces his neighbor lacks wisdom, but the one who has discernment keeps silent.

Proverbs 11:13 The one who goes about slandering others reveals secrets, but the one who is trustworthy conceals a matter.

Proverbs 11:14 When there is no guidance a nation falls, but there is success in the abundance of counselors.

Proverbs 11:15 The one who puts up security for a stranger will surely have trouble, but whoever avoids shaking hands will be secure.

Proverbs 11:16 A generous woman gains honor, and ruthless men seize wealth.

Proverbs 11:17 A kind person benefits himself, but a cruel person brings himself trouble.

Proverbs 11:18 The wicked person earns deceitful wages, but the one who sows righteousness reaps a genuine reward.

Proverbs 11:19 True righteousness leads to life, but the one who pursues evil pursues it to his own death.

Proverbs 11:20 The LORD abhors those who are perverse in heart, but those who are blameless in their ways are his delight.

Proverbs 11:21 Be assured that the evil person will certainly be punished, but the descendants of the righteous will not suffer unjust judgment.

Proverbs 11:22 Like a gold ring in a pig's snout is a beautiful woman who rejects discretion.

Proverbs 11:23 What the righteous desire leads only to good, but what the wicked hope for leads to wrath.

Proverbs 11:24 One person is generous and yet grows more wealthy, but another withholds more than he should and comes to poverty.

Proverbs 11:25 A generous person will be enriched, and the one who provides water for others will himself be satisfied.

Proverbs 11:26 People will curse the one who withholds grain, but they will praise the one who sells it.

Proverbs 11:27 The one who diligently seeks good seeks favor, but the one who searches for evil– it will come to him.

Proverbs 11:28 The one who trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf.

Proverbs 11:29 The one who troubles his family will inherit nothing, and the fool will be a servant to the wise person.

Proverbs 11:30 The fruit of the righteous is like a tree producing life, and the one who wins souls is wise.

Proverbs 11:31 If the righteous are recompensed on earth, how much more the wicked sinner!

Proverbs 12:1 The one who loves discipline loves knowledge, but the one who hates reproof is stupid.

Proverbs 12:2 A good person obtains favor from the LORD, but the LORD condemns a person with wicked schemes.

Proverbs 12:3 No one can be established through wickedness, but a righteous root cannot be moved.

Proverbs 12:4 A noble wife is the crown of her husband, but the wife who acts shamefully is like rottenness in his bones.

Proverbs 12:5 The plans of the righteous are just; the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

Proverbs 12:6 The words of the wicked lie in wait to shed innocent blood, but the words of the upright will deliver them.

Proverbs 12:7 The wicked are overthrown and perish, but the righteous household will stand.

Proverbs 12:8 A person is praised in accordance with his wisdom, but the one who has a twisted mind is despised.

Proverbs 12:9 Better is a person of humble standing who nevertheless has a servant, than one who pretends to be somebody important yet has no food.

Proverbs 12:10 A righteous person cares for the life of his animal, but even the most compassionate acts of the wicked are cruel.

Proverbs 12:11 The one who works his field will have plenty of food, but whoever chases daydreams lacks wisdom.

Proverbs 12:12 The wicked person desires a stronghold, but the righteous root endures.

Proverbs 12:13 The evil person is ensnared by the transgression of his speech, but the righteous person escapes out of trouble.

Proverbs 12:14 A person will be satisfied with good from the fruit of his words, and the work of his hands will be rendered to him.

Proverbs 12:15 The way of a fool is right in his own opinion, but the one who listens to advice is wise.

Proverbs 12:16 A fool's annoyance is known at once, but the prudent overlooks an insult.

Proverbs 12:17 The faithful witness tells what is right, but a false witness speaks deceit.

Proverbs 12:18 Speaking recklessly is like the thrusts of a sword, but the words of the wise bring healing.

Proverbs 12:19 The one who tells the truth will endure forever, but the one who lies will last only for a moment.

Proverbs 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who plot evil, but those who promote peace have joy.

Proverbs 12:21 The righteous do not encounter any harm, but the wicked are filled with calamity.

Proverbs 12:22 The LORD abhors a person who lies, but those who deal truthfully are his delight.

Proverbs 22:16 The one who oppresses the poor to increase his own gain and the one who gives to the rich– both end up only in poverty.

Proverbs 22:17 Incline your ear and listen to the words of the wise, and apply your heart to my instruction.

Proverbs 22:18 For it is pleasing if you keep these sayings within you, and they are ready on your lips.

Proverbs 22:19 So that your confidence may be in the LORD, I am making them known to you today– even you.

Proverbs 22:20 Have I not written thirty sayings for you, sayings of counsel and knowledge,

Proverbs 22:21 to show you true and reliable words, so that you may give accurate answers to those who sent you?

Proverbs 22:22 Do not exploit a poor person because he is poor and do not crush the needy in court,

Proverbs 22:23 for the LORD will plead their case and will rob those who are robbing them.

Proverbs 22:24 Do not make friends with an angry person, and do not associate with a wrathful person,

Proverbs 22:25 lest you learn his ways and entangle yourself in a snare.

Proverbs 22:26 Do not be one who strikes hands in pledge or who puts up security for debts.

Proverbs 22:27 If you do not have enough to pay, your bed will be taken right out from under you!

Proverbs 22:28 Do not move an ancient boundary stone which was put in place by your ancestors.

Proverbs 22:29 Do you see a person skilled in his work? He will take his position before kings; he will not take his position before obscure people.

Proverbs 23:1 When you sit down to eat with a ruler, consider carefully what is before you,

Proverbs 23:2 and put a knife to your throat if you possess a large appetite.

Proverbs 23:3 Do not crave that ruler’s delicacies, for that food is deceptive.

Proverbs 23:4 Do not wear yourself out to become rich; be wise enough to restrain yourself.

Proverbs 23:5 When you gaze upon riches, they are gone, for they surely make wings for themselves, and fly off into the sky like an eagle!

Proverbs 23:6 Do not eat the food of a stingy person, do not crave his delicacies;

Proverbs 23:7 for he is like someone calculating the cost in his mind. “Eat and drink,” he says to you, but his heart is not with you;

Proverbs 23:8 you will vomit up the little bit you have eaten, and will have wasted your pleasant words.

Proverbs 23:9 Do not speak in the ears of a fool, for he will despise the wisdom of your words.

Proverbs 23:10 Do not move an ancient boundary stone, or take over the fields of the fatherless,

Proverbs 23:11 for their Protector is strong; he will plead their case against you.

Proverbs 23:12 Apply your heart to instruction and your ears to the words of knowledge.

Proverbs 23:13 Do not withhold discipline from a child; even if you strike him with the rod, he will not die.

Proverbs 23:14 If you strike him with the rod, you will deliver him from death.

Proverbs 23:15 My child, if your heart is wise, then my heart also will be glad;

Proverbs 23:16 my soul will rejoice when your lips speak what is right.

Proverbs 23:17 Do not let your heart envy sinners, but rather be zealous in fearing the LORD all the time.

Proverbs 23:18 For surely there is a future, and your hope will not be cut off.

Proverbs 23:19 Listen, my child, and be wise, and guide your heart on the right way.

Proverbs 23:20 Do not spend time among drunkards, among those who eat too much meat,

Proverbs 23:21 because drunkards and gluttons become impoverished, and drowsiness clothes them with rags.

Proverbs 23:22 Listen to your father who begot you, and do not despise your mother when she is old.

Proverbs 23:23 Acquire truth and do not sell it– wisdom, and discipline, and understanding.

Proverbs 23:24 The father of a righteous person will rejoice greatly; whoever fathers a wise child will have joy in him.

Proverbs 23:25 May your father and your mother have joy; may she who bore you rejoice.

Proverbs 23:26 Give me your heart, my son, and let your eyes observe my ways;

Proverbs 23:27 for a prostitute is like a deep pit; a harlot is like a narrow well.

Proverbs 23:28 Indeed, she lies in wait like a robber, and increases the unfaithful among men.

Proverbs 23:29 Who has woe? Who has sorrow? Who has contentions? Who has complaints? Who has wounds without cause? Who has dullness of the eyes?

Proverbs 23:30 Those who linger over wine, those who go looking for mixed wine.

Proverbs 23:31 Do not look on the wine when it is red, when it sparkles in the cup, when it goes down smoothly.

Proverbs 23:32 Afterward it bites like a snake, and stings like a viper.

Proverbs 23:33 Your eyes will see strange things, and your mind will speak perverse things.

Proverbs 23:34 And you will be like one who lies down in the midst of the sea, and like one who lies down on the top of the rigging.

Proverbs 23:35 You will say, “They have struck me, but I am not harmed! They beat me, but I did not know it! When will I awake? I will look for another drink.”

Proverbs 24:1 Do not envy evil people, do not desire to be with them;

Proverbs 24:2 for their hearts contemplate violence, and their lips speak harm.

Proverbs 24:3 By wisdom a house is built, and through understanding it is established;

Proverbs 24:4 by knowledge its rooms are filled with all kinds of precious and pleasing treasures.

Proverbs 24:5 A wise warrior is strong, and a man of knowledge makes his strength stronger;

Proverbs 24:6 for with guidance you wage your war, and with numerous advisers there is victory.

Proverbs 24:7 Wisdom is unattainable for a fool; in court he does not open his mouth.

Proverbs 24:8 The one who plans to do evil will be called a scheming person.

Proverbs 24:9 A foolish scheme is sin, and the scorner is an abomination to people.

Proverbs 24:10 If you faint in the day of trouble, your strength is small!

Proverbs 24:11 Deliver those being taken away to death, and hold back those slipping to the slaughter.

Proverbs 24:12 If you say, “But we did not know about this,” does not the one who evaluates hearts consider? Does not the one who guards your life know? Will he not repay each person according to his deeds?

Proverbs 24:13 Eat honey, my child, for it is good, and honey from the honeycomb is sweet to your taste.

Proverbs 24:14 Likewise, know that wisdom is sweet to your soul; if you find it, you will have a future, and your hope will not be cut off.

Proverbs 24:15 Do not lie in wait like the wicked against the place where the righteous live; do not assault his home.

Proverbs 24:16 Although a righteous person may fall seven times, he gets up again, but the wicked will be brought down by calamity.

Proverbs 24:17 Do not rejoice when your enemy falls, and when he stumbles do not let your heart rejoice,

Proverbs 24:18 lest the LORD see it, and be displeased, and turn his wrath away from him.

Proverbs 24:19 Do not fret because of evil people or be envious of wicked people,

Proverbs 24:20 for the evil person has no future, and the lamp of the wicked will be extinguished.

Proverbs 24:21 Fear the LORD, my child, as well as the king, and do not associate with rebels,

Proverbs 24:22 for suddenly their destruction will overtake them, and who knows the ruinous judgment both the LORD and the king can bring?

Proverbs 24:23 These sayings also are from the wise: To show partiality in judgment is terrible:

Proverbs 24:24 The one who says to the guilty, “You are innocent,” peoples will curse him, and nations will denounce him.

Proverbs 24:25 But there will be delight for those who convict the guilty, and a pleasing blessing will come on them.

Proverbs 24:26 Like a kiss on the lips is the one who gives an honest answer.

Proverbs 24:27 Establish your work outside and get your fields ready; afterward build your house.

Proverbs 24:28 Do not be a witness against your neighbor without cause, and do not deceive with your words.

Proverbs 24:29 Do not say, “I will do to him just as he has done to me; I will pay him back according to what he has done.”

Proverbs 24:30 I passed by the field of a sluggard, by the vineyard of one who lacks wisdom.

Proverbs 24:31 I saw that thorns had grown up all over it, the ground was covered with weeds, and its stone wall was broken down.

Proverbs 24:32 When I saw this, I gave careful consideration to it; I received instruction from what I saw:

Proverbs 24:33 “A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to relax,

Proverbs 24:34 and your poverty will come like a bandit, and your need like an armed robber.”

Proverbs 25:1 These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of King Hezekiah of Judah copied:

Proverbs 25:2 It is the glory of God to conceal a matter, and it is the glory of a king to search out a matter.

Proverbs 25:3 As the heaven is high and the earth is deep so the hearts of kings are unsearchable.

Proverbs 25:4 Remove the dross from the silver, and material for the silversmith will emerge;

Proverbs 25:5 remove the wicked from before the king, and his throne will be established in righteousness.

Proverbs 25:6 Do not honor yourself before the king, and do not stand in the place of great men;

Proverbs 25:7 for it is better for him to say to you, “Come up here,” than to put you lower before a prince, whom your eyes have seen.

Proverbs 25:8 Do not go out hastily to litigation, or what will you do afterward when your neighbor puts you to shame?

Proverbs 25:9 When you argue a case with your neighbor, do not reveal the secret of another person,

Proverbs 25:10 lest the one who hears it put you to shame and your infamy will never go away.

Proverbs 25:11 Like apples of gold in settings of silver, so is a word skillfully spoken.

Proverbs 25:12 Like an earring of gold and an ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reprover to the ear of the one who listens.

Proverbs 25:13 Like the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to those who send him, for he refreshes the heart of his masters.

Proverbs 25:14 Like cloudy skies and wind that produce no rain, so is the one who boasts of a gift not given.

Proverbs 25:15 Through patience a ruler can be persuaded, and a soft tongue can break a bone.

Proverbs 25:16 When you find honey, eat only what is sufficient for you, lest you become stuffed with it and vomit it up.

Proverbs 25:17 Don't set foot too frequently in your neighbor's house, lest he become weary of you and hate you.

Proverbs 25:18 Like a club or a sword or a sharp arrow, so is the one who testifies against his neighbor as a false witness.

Proverbs 25:19 Like a bad tooth or a foot out of joint, so is confidence in an unfaithful person at the time of trouble.

Proverbs 25:20 Like one who takes off a garment on a cold day, or like vinegar poured on soda, so is one who sings songs to a heavy heart.

Proverbs 25:21 If your enemy is hungry, give him food to eat, and if he is thirsty, give him water to drink,

Proverbs 25:22 for you will heap coals of fire on his head, and the LORD will reward you.

Proverbs 25:23 The north wind brings forth rain, and a gossiping tongue brings forth an angry look.

Proverbs 25:24 It is better to live on a corner of the housetop than in a house in company with a quarrelsome wife.

Proverbs 25:25 Like cold water to a weary person, so is good news from a distant land.

Proverbs 25:26 Like a muddied spring and a polluted well, so is a righteous person who gives way before the wicked.

Proverbs 25:27 It is not good to eat too much honey, nor is it honorable for people to seek their own glory.

Proverbs 25:28 Like a city that is broken down and without a wall, so is a person who cannot control his temper.

Proverbs 26:1 Like snow in summer or rain in harvest, so honor is not fitting for a fool.

Proverbs 26:2 Like a fluttering bird or like a flying swallow, so a curse without cause does not come to rest.

Proverbs 26:3 A whip for the horse and a bridle for the donkey, and a rod for the backs of fools!

Proverbs 26:4 Do not answer a fool according to his folly, lest you yourself also be like him.

Proverbs 26:5 Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own estimation.

Proverbs 26:6 Like cutting off the feet or drinking violence, so is sending a message by the hand of a fool.

Proverbs 26:7 Like legs that hang limp from the lame, so is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

Proverbs 26:8 Like tying a stone in a sling, so is giving honor to a fool.

Proverbs 26:9 Like a thorn that goes into the hand of a drunkard, so is a proverb in the mouth of a fool.

Proverbs 26:10 Like an archer who wounds at random, so is the one who hires a fool or hires any passer-by.

Proverbs 26:11 Like a dog that returns to its vomit, so a fool repeats his folly.

Proverbs 26:12 Do you see a man wise in his own eyes? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

Proverbs 26:13 The sluggard says, "There is a lion in the road! A lion in the streets!"

Proverbs 26:14 Like a door that turns on its hinges, so a sluggard turns on his bed.

Proverbs 26:15 The sluggard plunges his hand in the dish; he is too lazy to bring it back to his mouth.

Proverbs 26:16 The sluggard is wiser in his own estimation than seven people who respond with good sense.

Proverbs 26:17 Like one who grabs a wild dog by the ears, so is the person passing by who becomes furious over a quarrel not his own.

Proverbs 26:18 Like a madman who shoots firebrands and deadly arrows,

Proverbs 26:19 so is a person who deceives his neighbor, and says, "Was I not only joking?"

Proverbs 26:20 Where there is no wood, a fire goes out, and where there is no gossip, contention ceases.

Proverbs 26:21 Like charcoal is to burning coals, and wood to fire, so is a contentious person to kindle strife.

Proverbs 26:22 The words of a gossip are like delicious morsels; they go down into a person's innermost being.

Proverbs 26:23 Like a coating of glaze over earthenware are fervent lips with an evil heart.

Proverbs 26:24 The one who hates others disguises it with his lips, but he stores up deceit within him.

Proverbs 26:25 When he speaks graciously, do not believe him, for there are seven abominations within him.

Proverbs 26:26 Though his hatred may be concealed by deceit, his evil will be uncovered in the assembly.

Proverbs 26:27 The one who digs a pit will fall into it; the one who rolls a stone– it will come back on him.

Proverbs 26:28 A lying tongue hates those crushed by it, and a flattering mouth works ruin.

Proverbs 27:1 Do not boast about tomorrow; for you do not know what a day may bring forth.

Proverbs 27:2 Let another praise you, and not your own mouth; someone else, and not your own lips.

Proverbs 27:3 A stone is heavy and sand is weighty, but vexation by a fool is more burdensome than the two of them.

Proverbs 27:4 Wrath is cruel and anger is overwhelming, but who can stand before jealousy?

Proverbs 27:5 Better is open rebuke than hidden love.

Proverbs 27:6 Faithful are the wounds of a friend, but the kisses of an enemy are excessive.

Proverbs 27:7 The one whose appetite is satisfied loathes honey, but to the hungry mouth every bitter thing is sweet.

Proverbs 27:8 Like a bird that wanders from its nest, so is a person who wanders from his home.

Proverbs 27:9 Ointment and incense make the heart rejoice, likewise the sweetness of one’s friend from sincere counsel.

Proverbs 27:10 Do not forsake your friend and your father’s friend, and do not enter your brother’s house in the day of your disaster; a neighbor nearby is better than a brother far away.

Proverbs 27:11 Be wise, my son, and make my heart glad, so that I may answer anyone who taunts me.

Proverbs 27:12 A shrewd person sees danger and hides himself, but the naive keep right on going and suffer for it.

Proverbs 27:13 Take a man’s garment when he has given security for a stranger, and when he gives surety for a stranger, hold him in pledge.

Proverbs 27:14 If someone blesses his neighbor with a loud voice early in the morning, it will be counted as a curse to him.

Proverbs 27:15 A continual dripping on a rainy day and a contentious wife are alike.

Proverbs 27:16 Whoever hides her hides the wind or grasps oil with his right hand.

Proverbs 27:17 As iron sharpens iron, so a person sharpens his friend.

Proverbs 27:18 The one who tends a fig tree will eat its fruit, and whoever takes care of his master will be honored.

Proverbs 27:19 As in water the face is reflected as a face, so a person’s heart reflects the person.

Proverbs 27:20 As Death and Destruction are never satisfied, so the eyes of a person are never satisfied.

Proverbs 27:21 As the crucible is for silver and the furnace is for gold, so a person is proved by the praise he receives.

Proverbs 27:22 If you should pound the fool in the mortar among the grain with the pestle, his foolishness would not depart from him.

Proverbs 27:23 Pay careful attention to the condition of your flocks, give careful attention to your herds,

Proverbs 27:24 for riches do not last forever, nor does a crown last from generation to generation.

Proverbs 27:25 When the hay is removed and new grass appears, and the grass from the hills is gathered in,

Proverbs 27:26 the lambs will be for your clothing, and the goats will be for the price of a field.

Proverbs 27:27 And there will be enough goat's milk for your food, for the food of your household, and for the sustenance of your servant girls.

Proverbs 28:1 The wicked person flees when there is no one pursuing, but the righteous person is as confident as a lion.

Proverbs 28:2 When a country is rebellious it has many princes, but by someone who is discerning and knowledgeable order is maintained.

Proverbs 28:3 A poor person who oppresses the weak is like a driving rain without food.

Proverbs 28:4 Those who forsake the law praise the wicked, but those who keep the law contend with them.

Proverbs 28:5 Evil people do not understand justice, but those who seek the LORD understand it all.

Proverbs 28:6 A poor person who walks in his integrity is better than one who is perverse in his ways even though he is rich.

Proverbs 28:7 The one who keeps the law is a discerning child, but a companion of gluttons brings shame to his parents.

Proverbs 28:8 The one who increases his wealth by increasing interest gathers it for someone who is gracious to the needy.

Proverbs 28:9 The one who turns away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer is an abomination.

Proverbs 28:10 The one who leads the upright astray in an evil way will himself fall into his own pit, but the blameless will inherit what is good.

Proverbs 28:11 A rich person is wise in his own eyes, but a discerning poor person can evaluate him properly.

Proverbs 28:12 When the righteous rejoice, great is the glory, but when the wicked rise to power, people are sought out.

Proverbs 28:13 The one who covers his transgressions will not prosper, but whoever confesses them and forsakes them will find mercy.

Proverbs 28:14 Blessed is the one who is always cautious, but whoever hardens his heart will fall into evil.

Proverbs 28:15 Like a roaring lion or a roving bear, so is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

Proverbs 28:16 The prince who is a great oppressor lacks wisdom, but the one who hates unjust gain will prolong his days.

Proverbs 28:17 The one who is tormented by the murder of another will flee to the pit; let no one support him.

Proverbs 28:18 The one who walks blamelessly will be delivered, but whoever is perverse in his ways will fall at once.

Proverbs 28:19 The one who works his land will be satisfied with food, but whoever chases daydreams will have his fill of poverty.

Proverbs 28:20 A faithful person will have an abundance of blessings, but the one who hastens to gain riches will not go unpunished.

Proverbs 28:21 To show partiality is terrible, for a person will transgress over the smallest piece of bread.

Proverbs 28:22 The stingy person hastens after riches and does not know that poverty will overtake him.

Proverbs 28:23 The one who reproves another will in the end find more favor than the one who flatters with the tongue.

Proverbs 28:24 The one who robs his father and mother and says, “There is no transgression,” is a companion to the one who destroys.

Proverbs 28:25 The greedy person stirs up dissension, but the one who trusts in the LORD will prosper.

Proverbs 28:26 The one who trusts in his own heart is a fool, but the one who walks in wisdom will escape.

Proverbs 28:27 The one who gives to the poor will not lack, but whoever shuts his eyes to them will receive many curses.

Proverbs 28:28 When the wicked gain control, people hide themselves, but when they perish, the righteous increase.

Proverbs 29:1 The one who stiffens his neck after numerous rebukes will suddenly be destroyed without remedy.

Proverbs 29:2 When the righteous become numerous, the people rejoice; when the wicked rule, the people groan.

Proverbs 29:3 The man who loves wisdom brings joy to his father, but whoever associates with prostitutes wastes his wealth.

Proverbs 29:4 A king brings stability to a land by justice, but one who exacts tribute tears it down.

Proverbs 29:5 The one who flatters his neighbor spreads a net for his steps.

Proverbs 29:6 In the transgression of an evil person there is a snare, but a righteous person can sing and rejoice.

Proverbs 29:7 The righteous person cares for the legal rights of the poor; the wicked does not understand such knowledge.

Proverbs 29:8 Scornful people inflame a city, but those who are wise turn away wrath.

Proverbs 29:9 If a wise person goes to court with a foolish person, there is no peace whether he is angry or laughs.

Proverbs 29:10 Bloodthirsty people hate someone with integrity; as for the upright, they seek his life.

Proverbs 29:11 A fool lets fly with all his temper, but a wise person keeps it back.

Proverbs 29:12 If a ruler listens to lies, all his ministers will be wicked.

Proverbs 29:13 The poor person and the oppressor have this in common: the LORD gives light to the eyes of them both.

Proverbs 29:14 If a king judges the poor in truth, his throne will be established forever.

Proverbs 29:15 A rod and reproof impart wisdom, but a child who is unrestrained brings shame to his mother.

Proverbs 29:16 When the wicked increase, transgression increases, but the righteous will see their downfall.

Proverbs 29:17 Discipline your child, and he will give you rest; he will bring you happiness.

Proverbs 29:18 When there is no prophetic vision the people cast off restraint, but the one who keeps the law, blessed is he!

Proverbs 29:19 A servant cannot be corrected by words, for although he understands, there is no answer.

Proverbs 29:20 Do you see someone who is hasty in his words? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

Proverbs 29:21 If someone pampers his servant from youth, he will be a weakling in the end.

Proverbs 29:22 An angry person stirs up dissension, and a wrathful person is abounding in transgression.

Proverbs 29:23 A person’s pride will bring him low, but one who has a lowly spirit will gain honor.

Proverbs 29:24 Whoever shares with a thief is his own enemy; he hears the oath to testify, but does not talk.

Proverbs 29:25 The fear of people becomes a snare, but whoever trusts in the LORD will be set on high.

Proverbs 29:26 Many people seek the face of a ruler, but it is from the LORD that one receives justice.

Proverbs 29:27 An unjust person is an abomination to the righteous, and the one who lives an upright life is an abomination to the wicked.

Proverbs 30:1 The words of Agur, the son of Jakeh; an oracle: This man says to Ithiel, to Ithiel and to Ukal:

Proverbs 30:2 Surely I am more brutish than any other human being, and I do not have human understanding;

Proverbs 30:3 I have not learned wisdom, nor do I have knowledge of the Holy One.

Proverbs 30:4 Who has ascended into heaven, and then descended? Who has gathered up the winds in his fists? Who has bound up the waters in his cloak? Who has established all the ends of the earth? What is his name, and what is his son’s name?– if you know!

Proverbs 30:5 Every word of God is purified; he is like a shield for those who take refuge in him.

Proverbs 30:6 Do not add to his words, lest he reprove you, and prove you to be a liar.

Proverbs 30:7 Two things I ask from you; do not refuse me before I die:

Proverbs 30:8 Remove falsehood and lies far from me; do not give me poverty or riches, feed me with my allotted portion of bread,

Proverbs 30:9 lest I become satisfied and act deceptively and say, “Who is the LORD?” Or lest I become poor and steal and demean the name of my God.

Proverbs 30:10 Do not slander a servant to his master, lest he curse you, and you are found guilty.

Proverbs 30:11 There is a generation who curse their fathers and do not bless their mothers.

Proverbs 30:12 There is a generation who are pure in their own eyes and yet are not washed from their filthiness.

Proverbs 30:13 There is a generation whose eyes are so lofty, and whose eyelids are lifted up disdainfully.

Proverbs 30:14 There is a generation whose teeth are like swords and whose molars are like knives to devour the poor from the earth and the needy from among the human race.

Proverbs 30:15 The leech has two daughters: “Give! Give!” There are three things that are never satisfied, four that never say, “Enough”–

Proverbs 30:16 the grave, the barren womb, land that is not satisfied with water, and fire that never says, “Enough!”

Proverbs 30:17 The eye that mocks at a father and despises obeying a mother– the ravens of the valley will peck it out and the young vultures will eat it.

Proverbs 30:18 There are three things that are too wonderful for me, four that I do not understand:

Proverbs 30:19 the way of an eagle in the sky, the way of a snake on a rock, the way of a ship in the sea, and the way of a man with a woman.

Proverbs 30:20 This is the way of an adulterous woman: she eats and wipes her mouth and says, “I have not done wrong.”

Proverbs 30:21 Under three things the earth trembles, and under four things it cannot bear up:

Proverbs 30:22 under a servant who becomes king, under a fool who is stuffed with food,

Proverbs 30:23 under an unloved woman who is married, and under a female servant who dispossesses her mistress.

Proverbs 30:24 There are four things on earth that are small, but they are exceedingly wise:

Proverbs 30:25 ants are creatures with little strength, but they prepare their food in the summer;

Proverbs 30:26 rock badgers are creatures with little power, but they make their homes in the crags;

Proverbs 30:27 locusts have no king, but they all go forward by ranks;

Proverbs 30:28 a lizard you can catch with the hand, but it gets into the palaces of the king.

Proverbs 30:29 There are three things that are magnificent in their step, four things that move about magnificently:

Proverbs 30:30 a lion, mightiest of the beasts, who does not retreat from anything;

Proverbs 30:31 a strutting rooster, a male goat, and a king with his army around him.

Proverbs 30:32 If you have done foolishly by exalting yourself or if you have planned evil, put your hand over your mouth!

Proverbs 30:33 For as the churning of milk produces butter and as punching the nose produces blood, so stirring up anger produces strife.

Proverbs 31:1 The words of King Lemuel, an oracle that his mother taught him:

Proverbs 31:2 O my son, O son of my womb, O son of my vows, Proverbs 31:3 Do not give your strength to women, nor your ways to that which ruins kings.

Proverbs 31:4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, or for rulers to crave strong drink,

Proverbs 31:5 lest they drink and forget what is decreed, and remove from all the poor their legal rights.

Proverbs 31:6 Give strong drink to the one who is perishing, and wine to those who are bitterly distressed;

Proverbs 31:7 let them drink and forget their poverty, and remember their misery no more.

Proverbs 31:8 Open your mouth on behalf of those unable to speak, for the legal rights of all the dying.

Proverbs 31:9 Open your mouth, judge in righteousness, and plead the cause of the poor and needy.

Proverbs 31:10 Who can find a wife of noble character? For her value is far more than rubies.

Proverbs 31:11 The heart of her husband has confidence in her, and he has no lack of gain.

Proverbs 31:12 She brings him good and not evil all the days of her life.

Proverbs 31:13 She obtains wool and flax, and she is pleased to work with her hands.

Proverbs 31:14 She is like the merchant ships; she brings her food from afar.

Proverbs 31:15 She also gets up while it is still night, and provides food for her household and a portion to her female servants.

Proverbs 31:16 She considers a field and buys it; from her own income she plants a vineyard.

Proverbs 31:17 She begins her work vigorously, and she strengthens her arms.

Proverbs 31:18 She knows that her merchandise is good, and her lamp does not go out in the night.

Proverbs 31:19 Her hands take hold of the distaff, and her hands grasp the spindle.

Proverbs 31:20 She extends her hand to the poor, and reaches out her hand to the needy.

Proverbs 31:21 She is not afraid of the snow for her household, for all of her household are clothed with scarlet.

Proverbs 31:22 She makes for herself coverlets; her clothing is fine linen and purple.

Proverbs 31:23 Her husband is well-known in the city gate when he sits with the elders of the land.

Proverbs 31:24 She makes linen garments and sells them, and supplies the merchants with sashes.

Proverbs 31:25 She is clothed with strength and honor, and she can laugh at the time to come.

Proverbs 31:26 She opens her mouth with wisdom, and loving instruction is on her tongue.

Proverbs 31:27 She watches over the ways of her household, and does not eat the bread of idleness.

Proverbs 31:28 Her children rise up and call her blessed, her husband also praises her:

Proverbs 31:29 “Many daughters have done valiantly, but you surpass them all!”

Proverbs 31:30 Charm is deceitful and beauty is fleeting, but a woman who fears the LORD will be praised.

Proverbs 31:31 Give her credit for what she has accomplished, and let her works praise her in the city gates.

Ecclesiastes

1:1 The words of the Teacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem:

Ecclesiastes 1:2 “Futile! Futile!” laments the Teacher, “Absolutely futile! Everything is futile!”

Ecclesiastes 1:3 What benefit do people get from all the effort which they expend on earth?

Ecclesiastes 1:4 A generation comes and a generation goes, but the earth remains the same through the ages.

Ecclesiastes 1:5 The sun rises and the sun sets; it hurries away to a place from which it rises again.

Ecclesiastes 1:6 The wind goes to the south and circles around to the north; round and round the wind goes and on its rounds it returns.

Ecclesiastes 1:7 All the streams flow into the sea, but the sea is not full, and to the place where the streams flow, there they will flow again.

Ecclesiastes 1:8 All this monotony is tiresome; no one can bear to describe it: The eye is never satisfied with seeing, nor is the ear ever content with hearing.

Ecclesiastes 1:9 What exists now is what will be, and what has been done is what will be done; there is nothing truly new on earth.

Ecclesiastes 1:10 Is there anything about which someone can say, “Look at this! It is new!”? It was already done long ago, before our time.

Ecclesiastes 1:11 No one remembers the former events, nor will anyone remember the events that are yet to happen; they will not be remembered by the future generations.

Ecclesiastes 1:12 I, the Teacher, have been king over Israel in Jerusalem.

Ecclesiastes 1:13 I decided to carefully and thoroughly examine all that has been accomplished on earth. I concluded: God has given people a burdensome task that keeps them occupied.

Ecclesiastes 1:14 I reflected on everything that is accomplished by man on earth, and I concluded: Everything he has accomplished is futile– like chasing the wind!

Ecclesiastes 1:15 What is bent cannot be straightened, and what is missing cannot be supplied.

Ecclesiastes 1:16 I thought to myself, "I have become much wiser than any of my predecessors who ruled over Jerusalem; I have acquired much wisdom and knowledge."

Ecclesiastes 1:17 So I decided to discern the benefit of wisdom and knowledge over foolish behavior and ideas; however, I concluded that even this endeavor is like trying to chase the wind!

Ecclesiastes 1:18 For with great wisdom comes great frustration; whoever increases his knowledge merely increases his heartache.

Ecclesiastes 2:1 I thought to myself, "Come now, I will try self-indulgent pleasure to see if it is worthwhile." But I found that it also is futile.

Ecclesiastes 2:2 I said of partying, "It is folly," and of self-indulgent pleasure, "It accomplishes nothing!"

Ecclesiastes 2:3 I thought deeply about the effects of indulging myself with wine (all the while my mind was guiding me with wisdom) and the effects of behaving foolishly, so that I might discover what is profitable for people to do on earth during the few days of their lives.

Ecclesiastes 2:4 I increased my possessions: I built houses for myself; I planted vineyards for myself.

Ecclesiastes 2:5 I designed royal gardens and parks for myself, and I planted all kinds of fruit trees in them.

Ecclesiastes 2:6 I constructed pools of water for myself, to irrigate my grove of flourishing trees.

Ecclesiastes 2:7 I purchased male and female slaves, and I owned slaves who were born in my house; I also possessed more livestock– both herds and flocks– than any of my predecessors in Jerusalem.

Ecclesiastes 2:8 I also amassed silver and gold for myself, as well as valuable treasures taken from kingdoms and provinces. I acquired male singers and female singers for myself, and what gives a man sensual delight– a harem of beautiful concubines!

Ecclesiastes 2:9 So I was far wealthier than all my predecessors in Jerusalem, yet I maintained my objectivity:

Ecclesiastes 2:10 I did not restrain myself from getting whatever I wanted; I did not deny myself anything that would bring me pleasure. So all my accomplishments gave me joy; this was my reward for all my effort.

Ecclesiastes 2:11 Yet when I reflected on everything I had accomplished and on all the effort that I had expended to accomplish it, I concluded: “All these achievements and possessions are ultimately profitless– like chasing the wind! There is nothing gained from them on earth.”

Ecclesiastes 2:12 Next, I decided to consider wisdom, as well as foolish behavior and ideas. For what more can the king’s successor do than what the king has already done?

Ecclesiastes 2:13 I realized that wisdom is preferable to folly, just as light is preferable to darkness:

Ecclesiastes 2:14 The wise man can see where he is going, but the fool walks in darkness. Yet I also realized that the same fate happens to them both.

Ecclesiastes 2:15 So I thought to myself, “The fate of the fool will happen even to me! Then what did I gain by becoming so excessively wise?” So I lamented to myself, “The benefits of wisdom are ultimately meaningless!”

Ecclesiastes 2:16 For the wise man, like the fool, will not be remembered for very long, because in the days to come, both will already have been forgotten. Alas, the wise man dies– just like the fool!

Ecclesiastes 2:17 So I loathed life because what happens on earth seems awful to me; for all the benefits of wisdom are futile– like chasing the wind.

Ecclesiastes 2:18 So I loathed all the fruit of my effort, for which I worked so hard on earth, because I must leave it behind in the hands of my successor.

Ecclesiastes 2:19 Who knows if he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will be master over all the fruit of my labor for which I worked so wisely on earth! This also is futile!

Ecclesiastes 2:20 So I began to despair about all the fruit of my labor for which I worked so hard on earth.

Ecclesiastes 2:21 For a man may do his work with wisdom, knowledge, and skill; however, he must hand over the fruit of his labor as an inheritance to someone else who did not work for it. This also is futile, and an awful injustice!

Ecclesiastes 2:22 What does a man acquire from all his labor and from the anxiety that accompanies his toil on earth?

Ecclesiastes 2:23 For all day long his work produces pain and frustration, and even at night his mind cannot relax! This also is futile!

Ecclesiastes 2:24 There is nothing better for people than to eat and drink, and to find enjoyment in their work. I also perceived that this ability to find enjoyment comes from God.

Ecclesiastes 2:25 For no one can eat and drink or experience joy apart from him.

Ecclesiastes 2:26 For to the one who pleases him, God gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy, but to the sinner, he gives the task of amassing wealth– only to give it to the one who pleases God. This task of the wicked is futile– like chasing the wind!

Ecclesiastes 3:1 For everything there is an appointed time, and an appropriate time for every activity on earth:

Ecclesiastes 3:2 A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to uproot what was planted;

Ecclesiastes 3:3 A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

Ecclesiastes 3:4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance.

Ecclesiastes 3:5 A time to throw away stones, and a time to gather stones; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

Ecclesiastes 3:6 A time to search, and a time to give something up as lost; a time to keep, and a time to throw away;

Ecclesiastes 3:7 A time to rip, and a time to sew; a time to keep silent, and a time to speak.

Ecclesiastes 3:8 A time to love, and a time to hate; a time for war, and a time for peace.

Ecclesiastes 3:9 What benefit can a worker gain from his toil?

Ecclesiastes 3:10 I have observed the burden that God has given to people to keep them occupied.

Ecclesiastes 3:11 God has made everything fit beautifully in its appropriate time, but he has also placed ignorance in the human heart so that people cannot discover what God has ordained, from the beginning to the end of their lives.

Ecclesiastes 3:12 I have concluded that there is nothing better for people than to be happy and to enjoy themselves as long as they live,

Ecclesiastes 3:13 and also that everyone should eat and drink, and find enjoyment in all his toil, for these things are a gift from God.

Ecclesiastes 3:14 I also know that whatever God does will endure forever; nothing can be added to it, and nothing taken away from it. God has made it this way, so that men will fear him.

Ecclesiastes 3:15 Whatever exists now has already been, and whatever will be has already been; for God will seek to do again what has occurred in the past.

Ecclesiastes 3:16 I saw something else on earth: In the place of justice, there was wickedness, and in the place of fairness, there was wickedness.

Ecclesiastes 3:17 I thought to myself, “God will judge both the righteous and the wicked; for there is an appropriate time for every activity, and there is a time of judgment for every deed.

Ecclesiastes 3:18 I also thought to myself, “It is for the sake of people, so God can clearly show them that they are like animals.

Ecclesiastes 3:19 For the fate of humans and the fate of animals are the same: As one dies, so dies the other; both have the same breath. There is no advantage for humans over animals, for both are fleeting.

Ecclesiastes 3:20 Both go to the same place, both come from the dust, and to dust both return.

Ecclesiastes 3:21 Who really knows if the human spirit ascends upward, and the animal’s spirit descends into the earth?

Ecclesiastes 3:22 So I perceived there is nothing better than for people to enjoy their work, because that is their reward; for who can show them what the future holds?

Ecclesiastes 4:1 So I again considered all the oppression that continually occurs on earth. This is what I saw: The oppressed were in tears, but no one was comforting them; no one delivers them from the power of their oppressors.

Ecclesiastes 4:2 So I considered those who are dead and gone more fortunate than those who are still alive.

Ecclesiastes 4:3 But better than both is the one who has not been born and has not seen the evil things that are done on earth.

Ecclesiastes 4:4 Then I considered all the skillful work that is done: Surely it is nothing more than competition between one person and another. This also is profitless– like chasing the wind.

Ecclesiastes 4:5 The fool folds his hands and does no work, so he has nothing to eat but his own flesh.

Ecclesiastes 4:6 Better is one handful with some rest than two hands full of toil and chasing the wind.

Ecclesiastes 4:7 So I again considered another futile thing on earth:

Ecclesiastes 4:8 A man who is all alone with no companion, he has no children nor siblings; yet there is no end to all his toil, and he is never satisfied with riches. He laments, “For whom am I toiling and depriving myself of pleasure?” This also is futile and a burdensome task!

Ecclesiastes 4:9 Two people are better than one, because they can reap more benefit from their labor.

Ecclesiastes 4:10 For if they fall, one will help his companion up, but pity the person who falls down and has no one to help him up.

Ecclesiastes 4:11 Furthermore, if two lie down together, they can keep each other warm, but how can one person keep warm by himself?

Ecclesiastes 4:12 Although an assailant may overpower one person, two can withstand him. Moreover, a three-stranded cord is not quickly broken.

Ecclesiastes 4:13 A poor but wise youth is better than an old and foolish king who no longer knows how to receive advice.

Ecclesiastes 4:14 For he came out of prison to become king, even though he had been born poor in what would become his kingdom.

Ecclesiastes 4:15 I considered all the living who walk on earth, as well as the successor who would arise in his place.

Ecclesiastes 4:16 There is no end to all the people nor to the past generations, yet future generations will not rejoice in him. This also is profitless and like chasing the wind.

Ecclesiastes 5:1 Be careful what you do when you go to the temple of God; draw near to listen rather than to offer a sacrifice like fools, for they do not realize that they are doing wrong.

Ecclesiastes 5:2 Do not be rash with your mouth or hasty in your heart to bring up a matter before God, for God is in heaven and you are on earth! Therefore, let your words be few.

Ecclesiastes 5:3 Just as dreams come when there are many cares, so the rash vow of a fool occurs when there are many words.

Ecclesiastes 5:4 When you make a vow to God, do not delay in paying it. For God takes no pleasure in fools: Pay what you vow!

Ecclesiastes 5:5 It is better for you not to vow than to vow and not pay it.

Ecclesiastes 5:6 Do not let your mouth cause you to sin, and do not tell the priest, “It was a mistake!” Why make God angry at you so that he would destroy the work of your hands?”

Ecclesiastes 5:7 Just as there is futility in many dreams, so also in many words. Therefore, fear God!

Ecclesiastes 5:8 If you see the extortion of the poor, or the perversion of justice and fairness in the government, do not be astonished by the matter. For the high official is watched by a higher official, and there are higher ones over them!

Ecclesiastes 5:9 The produce of the land is seized by all of them, even the king is served by the fields.

Ecclesiastes 5:10 The one who loves money will never be satisfied with money, he who loves wealth will never be satisfied with his income. This also is futile.

Ecclesiastes 5:11 When someone’s prosperity increases, those who consume it also increase; so what does its owner gain, except that he gets to see it with his eyes?

Ecclesiastes 5:12 The sleep of the laborer is pleasant– whether he eats little or much– but the wealth of the rich will not allow him to sleep.

Ecclesiastes 5:13 Here is a misfortune on earth that I have seen: Wealth hoarded by its owner to his own misery.

Ecclesiastes 5:14 Then that wealth was lost through bad luck; although he fathered a son, he has nothing left to give him.

Ecclesiastes 5:15 Just as he came forth from his mother’s womb, naked will he return as he came, and he will take nothing in his hand that he may carry away from his toil.

Ecclesiastes 5:16 This is another misfortune: Just as he came, so will he go. What did he gain from toiling for the wind?

Ecclesiastes 5:17 Surely, he ate in darkness every day of his life, and he suffered greatly with sickness and anger.

Ecclesiastes 5:18 I have seen personally what is the only beneficial and appropriate course of action for people: to eat and drink, and find enjoyment in all their hard work on earth during the few days of their life which God has given them, for this is their reward.

Ecclesiastes 5:19 To every man whom God has given wealth, and possessions, he has also given him the ability to eat from them, to receive his reward and to find enjoyment in his toil; these things are the gift of God.

Ecclesiastes 5:20 For he does not think much about the fleeting days of his life because God keeps him preoccupied with the joy he derives from his activity.

Ecclesiastes 6:1 Here is another misfortune that I have seen on earth, and it weighs heavily on people:

Ecclesiastes 6:2 God gives a man riches, property, and wealth so that he lacks nothing that his heart desires, yet God does not enable him to enjoy the fruit of his labor– instead, someone else enjoys it! This is fruitless and a grave misfortune.

Ecclesiastes 6:3 Even if a man fathers a hundred children and lives many years– even if he lives a long, long time, but cannot enjoy his prosperity– even if he were to live forever– I would say, “A stillborn child is better off than he is!”

Ecclesiastes 6:4 Though the stillborn child came into the world for no reason and departed into darkness, though its name is shrouded in darkness,

Ecclesiastes 6:5 though it never saw the light of day nor knew anything, yet it has more rest than that man–

Ecclesiastes 6:6 if he should live a thousand years twice, yet does not enjoy his prosperity. For both of them die!

Ecclesiastes 6:7 All of man's labor is for nothing more than to fill his stomach– yet his appetite is never satisfied!

Ecclesiastes 6:8 So what advantage does a wise man have over a fool? And what advantage does a pauper gain by knowing how to survive?

Ecclesiastes 6:9 It is better to be content with what the eyes can see than for one's heart always to crave more. This continual longing is futile– like chasing the wind.

Ecclesiastes 6:10 Whatever has happened was foreordained, and what happens to a person was also foreknown. It is useless for him to argue with God about his fate because God is more powerful than he is.

Ecclesiastes 6:11 The more one argues with words, the less he accomplishes. How does that benefit him?

Ecclesiastes 6:12 For no one knows what is best for a person during his life– during the few days of his fleeting life– for they pass away like a shadow. Nor can anyone tell him what the future will hold for him on earth.

Ecclesiastes 7:1 A good reputation is better than precious perfume; likewise, the day of one's death is better than the day of one's birth.

Ecclesiastes 7:2 It is better to go to a funeral than a feast. For death is the destiny of every person, and the living should take this to heart.

Ecclesiastes 7:3 Sorrow is better than laughter, because sober reflection is good for the heart.

Ecclesiastes 7:4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of fools is in the house of merrymaking.

Ecclesiastes 7:5 It is better for a person to receive a rebuke from those who are wise than to listen to the song of fools.

Ecclesiastes 7:6 For like the crackling of quick-burning thorns under a cooking pot, so is the laughter of the fool. This kind of folly also is useless.

Ecclesiastes 7:7 Surely oppression can turn a wise person into a fool; likewise, a bribe corrupts the heart.

Ecclesiastes 7:8 The end of a matter is better than its beginning; likewise, patience is better than pride.

Ecclesiastes 7:9 Do not let yourself be quickly provoked, for anger resides in the lap of fools.

Ecclesiastes 7:10 Do not say, “Why were the old days better than these days?” for it is not wise to ask that.

Ecclesiastes 7:11 Wisdom, like an inheritance, is a good thing; it benefits those who see the light of day.

Ecclesiastes 7:12 For wisdom provides protection, just as money provides protection. But the advantage of knowledge is this: Wisdom preserves the life of its owner.

Ecclesiastes 7:13 Consider the work of God: For who can make straight what he has bent?

Ecclesiastes 7:14 In times of prosperity be joyful, but in times of adversity consider this: God has made one as well as the other, so that no one can discover what the future holds.

Ecclesiastes 7:15 During the days of my fleeting life I have seen both of these things: Sometimes a righteous person dies prematurely in spite of his righteousness, and sometimes a wicked person lives long in spite of his evil deeds.

Ecclesiastes 7:16 So do not be excessively righteous or excessively wise; otherwise you might be disappointed.

Ecclesiastes 7:17 Do not be excessively wicked and do not be a fool; otherwise you might die before your time.

Ecclesiastes 7:18 It is best to take hold of one warning without letting go of the other warning; for the one who fears God will follow both warnings.

Ecclesiastes 7:19 Wisdom gives a wise person more protection than ten rulers in a city.

Ecclesiastes 7:20 For there is not one truly righteous person on the earth who continually does good and never sins.

Ecclesiastes 7:21 Also, do not pay attention to everything that people say; otherwise, you might even hear your servant cursing you.

Ecclesiastes 7:22 For you know in your own heart that you also have cursed others many times.

Ecclesiastes 7:23 I have examined all this by wisdom; I said, “I am determined to comprehend this”– but it was beyond my grasp.

Ecclesiastes 7:24 Whatever has happened is beyond human understanding; it is far deeper than anyone can fathom.

Ecclesiastes 7:25 I tried to understand, examine, and comprehend the role of wisdom in the scheme of things, and to understand the stupidity of wickedness and the insanity of folly.

Ecclesiastes 7:26 I discovered this: More bitter than death is the kind of woman who is like a hunter’s snare; her heart is like a hunter’s net and her hands are like prison chains. The man who pleases God escapes her, but the sinner is captured by her.

Ecclesiastes 7:27 The Teacher says: I discovered this while trying to discover the scheme of things, item by item.

Ecclesiastes 7:28 What I have continually sought, I have not found; I have found only one upright man among a thousand, but I have not found one upright woman among all of them.

Ecclesiastes 7:29 This alone have I discovered: God made humankind upright, but they have sought many evil schemes.

Ecclesiastes 8:1 Who is a wise person? Who knows the solution to a problem? A person’s wisdom brightens his appearance, and softens his harsh countenance.

Ecclesiastes 8:2 Obey the king’s command, because you took an oath before God to be loyal to him.

Ecclesiastes 8:3 Do not rush out of the king’s presence in haste– do not delay when the matter is unpleasant, for he can do whatever he pleases.

Ecclesiastes 8:4 Surely the king’s authority is absolute; no one can say to him, “What are you doing?”

Ecclesiastes 8:5 Whoever obeys his command will not experience harm, and a wise person knows the proper time and procedure.

Ecclesiastes 8:6 For there is a proper time and procedure for every matter, for the oppression of the king is severe upon his victim.

Ecclesiastes 8:7 Surely no one knows the future, and no one can tell another person what will happen.

Ecclesiastes 8:8 Just as no one has power over the wind to restrain it, so no one has power over the day of his death. Just as no one can be discharged during the battle, so wickedness cannot rescue the wicked.

Ecclesiastes 8:9 While applying my mind to everything that happens in this world, I have seen all this: Sometimes one person dominates other people to their harm.

Ecclesiastes 8:10 Not only that, but I have seen the wicked approaching and entering the temple, and as they left the holy temple, they boasted in the city that they had done so. This also is an enigma.

Ecclesiastes 8:11 When a sentence is not executed at once against a crime, the human heart is encouraged to do evil.

Ecclesiastes 8:12 Even though a sinner might commit a hundred crimes and still live a long time, yet I know that it will go well with God-fearing people– for they stand in fear before him.

Ecclesiastes 8:13 But it will not go well with the wicked, nor will they prolong their days like a shadow, because they do not stand in fear before God.

Ecclesiastes 8:14 Here is another enigma that occurs on earth: Sometimes there are righteous people who get what the wicked deserve, and sometimes there are wicked people who get what the righteous deserve. I said, “This also is an enigma.”

Ecclesiastes 8:15 So I recommend the enjoyment of life, for there is nothing better on earth for a person to do except to eat, drink, and enjoy life. So joy will accompany him in his toil during the days of his life which God gives him on earth.

Ecclesiastes 8:16 When I tried to gain wisdom and to observe the activity on earth– even though it prevents anyone from sleeping day or night–

Ecclesiastes 8:17 then I discerned all that God has done: No one really comprehends what happens on earth. Despite all human efforts to discover it, no one can ever grasp it. Even if a wise person claimed that he understood, he would not really comprehend it.

Ecclesiastes 9:1 So I reflected on all this, attempting to clear it all up. I concluded that the righteous and the wise, as well as their works, are in the hand of God; whether a person will be loved or hated– no one knows what lies ahead.

Ecclesiastes 9:2 Everyone shares the same fate– the righteous and the wicked, the good and the bad, the ceremonially clean and unclean, those who offer sacrifices and those who do not. What happens to the good person, also happens to the sinner; what happens to those who make vows, also happens to those who are afraid to make vows.

Ecclesiastes 9:3 This is the unfortunate fact about everything that happens on earth: the same fate awaits everyone. In addition to this, the hearts of all people are full of evil, and there is folly in their hearts during their lives– then they die.

Ecclesiastes 9:4 But whoever is among the living has hope; a live dog is better than a dead lion.

Ecclesiastes 9:5 For the living know that they will die, but the dead do not know anything; they have no further reward– and even the memory of them disappears.

Ecclesiastes 9:6 What they loved, as well as what they hated and envied, perished long ago, and they no longer have a part in anything that happens on earth.

Ecclesiastes 9:7 Go, eat your food with joy, and drink your wine with a happy heart, because God has already approved your works.

Ecclesiastes 9:8 Let your clothes always be white, and do not spare precious ointment on your head.

Ecclesiastes 9:9 Enjoy life with your beloved wife during all the days of your fleeting life that God has given you on earth during all your fleeting days; for that is your reward in life and in your burdensome work on earth.

Ecclesiastes 9:10 Whatever you find to do with your hands, do it with all your might, because there is neither work nor planning nor knowledge nor wisdom in the grave, the place where you will eventually go.

Ecclesiastes 9:11 Again, I observed this on the earth: the race is not always won by the swiftest, the battle is not always won by the strongest; prosperity does not always belong to those who are the wisest, wealth does not always belong to those who are the most discerning, nor does success always come to those with the most knowledge– for time and chance may overcome them all.

Ecclesiastes 9:12 Surely, no one knows his appointed time! Like fish that are caught in a deadly net, and like birds that are caught in a snare– just like them, all people are ensnared at an unfortunate time that falls upon them suddenly.

Ecclesiastes 9:13 This is what I also observed about wisdom on earth, and it is a great burden to me:

Ecclesiastes 9:14 There was once a small city with a few men in it, and a mighty king attacked it, besieging it and building strong siege works against it.

Ecclesiastes 9:15 However, a poor but wise man lived in the city, and he could have delivered the city by his wisdom, but no one listened to that poor man.

Ecclesiastes 9:16 So I concluded that wisdom is better than might, but a poor man's wisdom is despised; no one ever listens to his advice.

Ecclesiastes 9:17 The words of the wise are heard in quiet, more than the shouting of a ruler is heard among fools.

Ecclesiastes 9:18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner can destroy much that is good.

Ecclesiastes 10:1 One dead fly makes the perfumer's ointment give off a rancid stench, so a little folly can outweigh much wisdom.

Ecclesiastes 10:2 A wise person's good sense protects him, but a fool's lack of sense leaves him vulnerable.

Ecclesiastes 10:3 Even when a fool walks along the road he lacks sense, and shows everyone what a fool he is.

Ecclesiastes 10:4 If the anger of the ruler flares up against you, do not resign from your position, for a calm response can undo great offenses.

Ecclesiastes 10:5 I have seen another misfortune on the earth: It is an error a ruler makes.

Ecclesiastes 10:6 Fools are placed in many positions of authority, while wealthy men sit in lowly positions.

Ecclesiastes 10:7 I have seen slaves on horseback and princes walking on foot like slaves.

Ecclesiastes 10:8 One who digs a pit may fall into it, and one who breaks through a wall may be bitten by a snake.

Ecclesiastes 10:9 One who quarries stones may be injured by them; one who splits logs may be endangered by them.

Ecclesiastes 10:10 If an iron axhead is blunt and a workman does not sharpen its edge, he must exert a great deal of effort; so wisdom has the advantage of giving success.

Ecclesiastes 10:11 If the snake should bite before it is charmed, the snake charmer is in trouble.

Ecclesiastes 10:12 The words of a wise person win him favor, but the words of a fool are self-destructive.

Ecclesiastes 10:13 At the beginning his words are foolish and at the end his talk is wicked madness,

Ecclesiastes 10:14 yet a fool keeps on babbling. No one knows what will happen; who can tell him what will happen in the future?

Ecclesiastes 10:15 The toil of a stupid fool wears him out, because he does not even know the way to the city.

Ecclesiastes 10:16 Woe to you, O land, when your king is childish, and your princes feast in the morning!

Ecclesiastes 10:17 Blessed are you, O land, when your king is the son of nobility, and your princes feast at the proper time– with self-control and not in drunkenness.

Ecclesiastes 10:18 Because of laziness the roof caves in, and because of idle hands the house leaks.

Ecclesiastes 10:19 Feasts are made for laughter, and wine makes life merry, but money is the answer for everything.

Ecclesiastes 10:20 Do not curse a king even in your thoughts, and do not curse the rich while in your bedroom; for a bird might report what you are thinking, or some winged creature might repeat your words.

Ecclesiastes 11:1 Send your grain overseas, for after many days you will get a return.

Ecclesiastes 11:2 Divide your merchandise among seven or even eight investments, for you do not know what calamity may happen on earth.

Ecclesiastes 11:3 If the clouds are full of rain, they will empty themselves on the earth, and whether a tree falls to the south or to the north, the tree will lie wherever it falls.

Ecclesiastes 11:4 He who watches the wind will not sow, and he who observes the clouds will not reap.

Ecclesiastes 11:5 Just as you do not know the path of the wind, or how the bones form in the womb of a pregnant woman, so you do not know the work of God who makes everything.

Ecclesiastes 11:6 Sow your seed in the morning, and do not stop working until the evening; for you do not know which activity will succeed– whether this one or that one, or whether both will prosper equally.

Ecclesiastes 11:7 Light is sweet, and it is pleasant for a person to see the sun.

Ecclesiastes 11:8 So, if a man lives many years, let him rejoice in them all, but let him remember that the days of darkness will be many– all that is about to come is obscure.

Ecclesiastes 11:9 Rejoice, young man, while you are young, and let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth. Follow the impulses of your heart and the desires of your eyes, but know that God will judge your motives and actions.

Ecclesiastes 11:10 Banish emotional stress from your mind. and put away pain from your body; for youth and the prime of life are fleeting.

Ecclesiastes 12:1 So remember your Creator in the days of your youth– before the difficult days come, and the years draw near when you will say, “I have no pleasure in them”;

Ecclesiastes 12:2 before the sun and the light of the moon and the stars grow dark, and the clouds disappear after the rain;

Ecclesiastes 12:3 when those who keep watch over the house begin to tremble, and the virile men begin to stoop over, and the grinders begin to cease because they grow few, and those who look through the windows grow dim,

Ecclesiastes 12:4 and the doors along the street are shut; when the sound of the grinding mill grows low, and one is awakened by the sound of a bird, and all their songs grow faint,

Ecclesiastes 12:5 and they are afraid of heights and the dangers in the street; the almond blossoms grow white, and the grasshopper drags itself along, and the caper berry shrivels up– because man goes to his eternal home, and the mourners go about in the streets–

Ecclesiastes 12:6 before the silver cord is removed, or the golden bowl is broken, or the pitcher is shattered at the well, or the water wheel is broken at the cistern–

Ecclesiastes 12:7 and the dust returns to the earth as it was, and the life’s breath returns to God who gave it.

Ecclesiastes 12:8 “Absolutely futile!” laments the Teacher, “All of these things are futile!”

Ecclesiastes 12:9 Not only was the Teacher wise, but he also taught knowledge to the people; he carefully evaluated and arranged many proverbs.

Ecclesiastes 12:10 The Teacher sought to find delightful words, and to write accurately truthful sayings.

Ecclesiastes 12:11 The words of the sages are like prods, and the collected sayings are like firmly fixed nails; they are given by one shepherd.

Ecclesiastes 12:12 Be warned, my son, of anything in addition to them. There is no end to the making of many books, and much study is exhausting to the body.

Ecclesiastes 12:13 Having heard everything, I have reached this conclusion: Fear God and keep his commandments, because this is the whole duty of man.

Ecclesiastes 12:14 For God will evaluate every deed, including every secret thing, whether good or evil.

Song of Solomon

1:1 Solomon's Most Excellent Love Song.

Song of Solomon 1:2 Oh, how I wish you would kiss me passionately! For your lovemaking is more delightful than wine.

Song of Solomon 1:3 The fragrance of your colognes is delightful; your name is like the finest perfume. No wonder the young women adore you!

Song of Solomon 1:4 Draw me after you; let us hurry! May the king bring me into his bedroom chambers! We will rejoice and delight in you; we will praise your love more than wine. How rightly the young women adore you!

Song of Solomon 1:5 I am dark but lovely, O maidens of Jerusalem, dark like the tents of Qedar, lovely like the tent curtains of Salmah.

Song of Solomon 1:6 Do not stare at me because I am dark, for the sun has burned my skin. My brothers were angry with me; they made me the keeper of the vineyards. Alas, my own vineyard I could not keep!

Song of Solomon 1:7 Tell me, O you whom my heart loves, where do you pasture your sheep? Where do you rest your sheep during the midday heat? Tell me lest I wander around beside the flocks of your companions!

Song of Solomon 1:8 If you do not know, O most beautiful of women, simply follow the tracks of my flock, and pasture your little lambs beside the tents of the shepherds.

Song of Solomon 1:9 O my beloved, you are like a mare among Pharaoh's stallions.

Song of Solomon 1:10 Your cheeks are beautiful with ornaments; your neck is lovely with strings of jewels.

Song of Solomon 1:11 We will make for you gold ornaments studded with silver.

Song of Solomon 1:12 While the king was at his banqueting table, my nard gave forth its fragrance.

Song of Solomon 1:13 My beloved is like a fragrant pouch of myrrh spending the night between my breasts.

Song of Solomon 1:14 My beloved is like a cluster of henna blossoms in the vineyards of En-Gedi.

Song of Solomon 1:15 Oh, how beautiful you are, my beloved! Oh, how beautiful you are! Your eyes are like doves!

Song of Solomon 1:16 Oh, how handsome you are, my lover! Oh, how delightful you are! The lush foliage is our canopied bed;

Song of Solomon 1:17 the cedars are the beams of our bedroom chamber; the pines are the rafters of our bedroom.

Song of Solomon 2:1 I am a meadow flower from Sharon, a lily from the valleys.

Song of Solomon 2:2 Like a lily among the thorns, so is my darling among the maidens.

Song of Solomon 2:3 Like an apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my beloved among the young men. I delight to sit in his shade, and his fruit is sweet to my taste.

Song of Solomon 2:4 He brought me into the banquet hall, and he looked at me lovingly.

Song of Solomon 2:5 Sustain me with raisin cakes, refresh me with apples, for I am faint with love. The Double Refrain: Embracing and Adjuration

Song of Solomon 2:6 His left hand caresses my head, and his right hand stimulates me.

Song of Solomon 2:7 I adjure you, O maidens of Jerusalem, by the gazelles and by the young does of the open fields: Do not awaken or arouse love until it pleases!

Song of Solomon 2:8 Listen! My lover is approaching! Look! Here he comes, leaping over the mountains, bounding over the hills!

Song of Solomon 2:9 My lover is like a gazelle or a young stag. Look! There he stands behind our wall, gazing through the window, peering through the lattice.

Song of Solomon 2:10 My lover spoke to me, saying: “Arise, my darling; My beautiful one, come away with me!

Song of Solomon 2:11 Look! The winter has passed, the winter rains are over and gone.

Song of Solomon 2:12 The pomegranates have appeared in the land, the time for pruning and singing has come; the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land.

Song of Solomon 2:13 The fig tree has budded, the vines have blossomed and give off their fragrance. Arise, come away my darling; my beautiful one, come away with me!"

Song of Solomon 2:14 O my dove, in the clefts of the rock, in the hiding places of the mountain crags, let me see your face, let me hear your voice; for your voice is sweet, and your face is lovely.

Song of Solomon 2:15 Catch the foxes for us, the little foxes, that ruin the vineyards– for our vineyard is in bloom.

Song of Solomon 2:16 My lover is mine and I am his; he grazes among the lilies.

Song of Solomon 2:17 Until the dawn arrives and the shadows flee, turn, my beloved– be like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountain gorges.

Song of Solomon 3:1 All night long on my bed I longed for my lover. I longed for him but he never appeared.

Song of Solomon 3:2 "I will arise and look all around throughout the town, and throughout the streets and squares; I will search for my beloved." I searched for him but I did not find him.

Song of Solomon 3:3 The night watchmen found me– the ones who guard the city walls. "Have you seen my beloved?"

Song of Solomon 3:4 Scarcely had I passed them by when I found my beloved! I held onto him tightly and would not let him go until I brought him to my mother's house, to the bedroom chamber of the one who conceived me.

Song of Solomon 3:5 I admonish you, O maidens of Jerusalem, by the gazelles and by the young does of the open fields: "Do not awake or arouse love until it pleases!"

Song of Solomon 3:6 Who is this coming up from the desert like a column of smoke, like a fragrant billow of myrrh and frankincense, every kind of fragrant powder of the traveling merchants?

Song of Solomon 3:7 Look! It is Solomon's portable couch! It is surrounded by sixty warriors, some of Israel's mightiest warriors.

Song of Solomon 3:8 All of them are skilled with a sword, well-trained in the art of warfare. Each has his sword at his side, to guard against the terrors of the night.

Song of Solomon 3:9 King Solomon made a sedan chair for himself of wood imported from Lebanon.

Song of Solomon 3:10 Its posts were made of silver; its back was made of gold. Its seat was upholstered with purple wool; its interior was inlaid with leather by the maidens of Jerusalem.

Song of Solomon 3:11 Come out, O maidens of Zion, and gaze upon King Solomon! He is wearing the crown with which his mother crowned him on his wedding day, on the most joyous day of his life!

Song of Solomon 4:1 Oh, you are beautiful, my darling! Oh, you are beautiful! Your eyes behind your veil are like doves. Your hair is like a flock of female goats descending from Mount Gilead.

Song of Solomon 4:2 Your teeth are like a flock of newly-shorn sheep coming up from the washing place; each of them has a twin, and not one of them is missing.

Song of Solomon 4:3 Your lips are like a scarlet thread; your mouth is lovely. Your forehead behind your veil is like a slice of pomegranate.

Song of Solomon 4:4 Your neck is like the tower of David built with courses of stones; one thousand shields are hung on it– all shields of valiant warriors.

Song of Solomon 4:5 Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of the gazelle grazing among the lilies.

Song of Solomon 4:6 Until the dawn arrives and the shadows flee, I will go up to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

Song of Solomon 4:7 You are altogether beautiful, my darling! There is no blemish in you!

Song of Solomon 4:8 Come with me from Lebanon, my bride, come with me from Lebanon. Descend from the crest of Amana, from the top of Senir, the summit of Hermon, from the lions' dens and the mountain haunts of the leopards.

Song of Solomon 4:9 You have stolen my heart, my sister, my bride! You have stolen my heart with one glance of your eyes, with one jewel of your necklace.

Song of Solomon 4:10 How delightful is your love, my sister, my bride! How much better is your love than wine; the fragrance of your perfume is better than any spice!

Song of Solomon 4:11 Your lips drip sweetness like the honeycomb, my bride, honey and milk are under your tongue. The fragrance of your garments is like the fragrance of Lebanon.

Song of Solomon 4:12 You are a locked garden, my sister, my bride; you are an enclosed spring, a sealed-up fountain.

Song of Solomon 4:13 Your shoots are a royal garden full of pomegranates with choice fruits: henna with nard,

Song of Solomon 4:14 nard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon with every kind of spice, myrrh and aloes with all the finest spices.

Song of Solomon 4:15 You are a garden spring, a well of fresh water flowing down from Lebanon.

Song of Solomon 4:16 Awake, O north wind; come, O south wind! Blow on my garden so that its fragrant spices may send out their sweet smell. May my beloved come into his garden and eat its delightful fruit!

Song of Solomon 5:1 I have entered my garden, O my sister, my bride; I have gathered my myrrh with my balsam spice. I have eaten my honeycomb and my honey; I have drunk my wine and my milk! Eat, friends, and drink! Drink freely, O lovers!

Song of Solomon 5:2 I was asleep, but my mind was dreaming. Listen! My lover is knocking at the door! “Open for me, my sister, my darling, my dove, my flawless one! My head is drenched with dew, my hair with the dampness of the night.”

Song of Solomon 5:3 “I have already taken off my robe– must I put it on again? I have already washed my feet– must I soil them again?”

Song of Solomon 5:4 My lover thrust his hand through the hole, and my feelings were stirred for him.

Song of Solomon 5:5 I arose to open for my beloved; my hands dripped with myrrh– my fingers flowed with myrrh on the handles of the lock.

Song of Solomon 5:6 I opened for my beloved, but my lover had already turned and gone away. I fell into despair when he departed. I looked for him but did not find him; I called him but he did not answer me.

Song of Solomon 5:7 The watchmen found me as they made their rounds in the city. They beat me, they bruised me; they took away my cloak, those watchmen on the walls!

Song of Solomon 5:8 O maidens of Jerusalem, I command you– If you find my beloved, what will you tell him? Tell him that I am lovesick!

Song of Solomon 5:9 Why is your beloved better than others, O most beautiful of women? Why is your beloved better than others, that you would command us in this manner?

Song of Solomon 5:10 My beloved is dazzling and ruddy; he stands out in comparison to all other men.

Song of Solomon 5:11 His head is like the most pure gold. His hair is curly– black like a raven.

Song of Solomon 5:12 His eyes are like doves by streams of water, washed in milk, mounted like jewels.

Song of Solomon 5:13 His cheeks are like garden beds full of balsam trees yielding perfume. His lips are like lilies dripping with drops of myrrh.

Song of Solomon 5:14 His arms are like rods of gold set with chrysolite. His abdomen is like polished ivory inlaid with sapphires.

Song of Solomon 5:15 His legs are like pillars of marble set on bases of pure gold. His appearance is like Lebanon, choice as its cedars.

Song of Solomon 5:16 His mouth is very sweet; he is totally desirable. This is my beloved! This is my companion, O maidens of Jerusalem!

Song of Solomon 6:1 Where has your beloved gone, O most beautiful among women? Where has your beloved turned? Tell us, that we may seek him with you.

Song of Solomon 6:2 My beloved has gone down to his garden, to the flowerbeds of balsam spices, to graze in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

Song of Solomon 6:3 I am my lover's and my lover is mine; he grazes among the lilies.

Song of Solomon 6:4 My darling, you are as beautiful as Tirzah, as lovely as Jerusalem, as awe-inspiring as bannered armies!

Song of Solomon 6:5 Turn your eyes away from me– they overwhelm me! Your hair is like a flock of goats descending from Mount Gilead.

Song of Solomon 6:6 Your teeth are like a flock of sheep coming up from the washing; each has its twin; not one of them is missing.

Song of Solomon 6:7 Like a slice of pomegranate is your forehead behind your veil.

Song of Solomon 6:8 There may be sixty queens, and eighty concubines, and young women without number.

Song of Solomon 6:9 But she is unique! My dove, my perfect one! She is the special daughter of her mother, she is the favorite of the one who bore her. The maidens saw her and complimented her; the queens and concubines praised her:

Song of Solomon 6:10 "Who is this who appears like the dawn? Beautiful as the moon, bright as the sun, awe-inspiring as the stars in procession?"

Song of Solomon 6:11 I went down to the orchard of walnut trees, to look for the blossoms of the valley, to see if the vines had budded or if the pomegranates were in bloom.

Song of Solomon 6:12 I was beside myself with joy! There please give me your myrrh, O daughter of my princely people.

Song of Solomon 6:13 Turn, turn, O Perfect One! Turn, turn, that I may stare at you! Why do you gaze upon the Perfect One like the dance of the Mahanaim?

Song of Solomon 7:1 How beautiful are your sandaled feet, O nobleman's daughter! The curves of your thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a master craftsman.

Song of Solomon 7:2 Your navel is a round mixing bowl– may it never lack mixed wine! Your belly is a mound of wheat, encircled by lilies.

Song of Solomon 7:3 Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle.

Song of Solomon 7:4 Your neck is like a tower made of ivory. Your eyes are the pools in Heshbon by the gate of Bath-Rabbim. Your nose is like the tower of Lebanon overlooking Damascus.

Song of Solomon 7:5 Your head crowns you like Mount Carmel. The locks of your hair are like royal tapestries– the king is held captive in its tresses!

Song of Solomon 7:6 How beautiful you are! How lovely, O love, with your delights!

Song of Solomon 7:7 Your stature is like a palm tree, and your breasts are like clusters of grapes.

Song of Solomon 7:8 I want to climb the palm tree, and take hold of its fruit stalks. May your breasts be like the clusters of grapes, and may the fragrance of your breath be like apricots!

Song of Solomon 7:9 May your mouth be like the best wine, flowing smoothly for my beloved, gliding gently over our lips as we sleep together.

Song of Solomon 7:10 I am my beloved's, and he desires me!

Song of Solomon 7:11 Come, my beloved, let us go to the countryside; let us spend the night in the villages.

Song of Solomon 7:12 Let us rise early to go to the vineyards, to see if the vines have budded, to see if their blossoms have opened, if the pomegranates are in bloom– there I will give you my love.

Song of Solomon 7:13 The mandrakes send out their fragrance; over our door is every delicacy, both new and old, which I have stored up for you, my lover.

Song of Solomon 8:1 Oh, how I wish you were my little brother, nursing at my mother's breasts; if I saw you outside, I could kiss you– surely no one would despise me!

Song of Solomon 8:2 I would lead you and bring you to my mother's house, the one who taught me. I would give you spiced wine to drink, the nectar of my pomegranates.

Song of Solomon 8:3 His left hand caresses my head, and his right hand stimulates me.

Song of Solomon 8:4 I admonish you, O maidens of Jerusalem: "Do not arouse or awaken love until it pleases!"

Song of Solomon 8:5 Who is this coming up from the desert, leaning on her beloved? Under the apple tree I aroused you; there your mother conceived you, there she who bore you was in labor of childbirth.

Song of Solomon 8:6 Set me like a cylinder seal over your heart, like a signet on your arm. For love is as strong as death, passion is as unrelenting as Sheol. Its flames burst forth, it is a blazing flame.

Song of Solomon 8:7 Surging waters cannot quench love; floodwaters cannot overflow it. If someone were to offer all his possessions to buy love, the offer would be utterly despised.

Song of Solomon 8:8 We have a little sister, and as yet she has no breasts. What shall we do for our sister on the day when she is spoken for?

Song of Solomon 8:9 If she is a wall, we will build on her a battlement of silver; but if she is a door, we will barricade her with boards of cedar.

Song of Solomon 8:10 I was a wall, and my breasts were like fortress towers. Then I found favor in his eyes.

Song of Solomon 8:11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-Hamon; he leased out the vineyard to those who maintained it. Each was to bring a thousand shekels of silver for its fruit.

Song of Solomon 8:12 My vineyard, which belongs to me, is at my disposal alone. The thousand shekels belong to you, O Solomon, and two hundred shekels belong to those who maintain it for its fruit.

Song of Solomon 8:13 O you who stay in the gardens, my companions are listening attentively for your voice; let me be the one to hear it!

Song of Solomon 8:14 Make haste, my beloved! Be like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountains of spices.

Isaiah

1:1 Here is the message about Judah and Jerusalem that was revealed to Isaiah son of Amoz during the time when Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah reigned over Judah.

Isaiah 1:2 Listen, O heavens, pay attention, O earth! For the LORD speaks: “I raised children, I brought them up, but they have rebelled against me!

Isaiah 1:3 An ox recognizes its owner, a donkey recognizes where its owner puts its food; but Israel does not recognize me, my people do not understand.”

Isaiah 1:4 The sinful nation is as good as dead, the people weighed down by evil deeds. They are offspring who do wrong, children who do wicked things. They have abandoned the LORD, and rejected the Holy One of Israel. They are alienated from him.

Isaiah 1:5 Why do you insist on being battered? Why do you continue to rebel? Your head has a massive wound, your whole body is weak.

Isaiah 1:6 From the soles of your feet to your head, there is no spot that is unharmed. There are only bruises, cuts, and open wounds. They have not been cleansed or bandaged, nor have they been treated with olive oil.

Isaiah 1:7 Your land is devastated, your cities burned with fire. Right before your eyes your crops are being destroyed by foreign invaders. They leave behind devastation and destruction.

Isaiah 1:8 Daughter Zion is left isolated, like a hut in a vineyard, or a shelter in a cucumber field; she is a besieged city.

Isaiah 1:9 If the LORD who commands armies had not left us a few survivors, we would have quickly become like Sodom, we would have become like Gomorrah.

Isaiah 1:10 Listen to the LORD's word, you leaders of Sodom! Pay attention to our God's rebuke, people of Gomorrah!

Isaiah 1:11 "Of what importance to me are your many sacrifices?" says the LORD. "I am stuffed with burnt sacrifices of rams and the fat from steers. The blood of bulls, lambs, and goats I do not want.

Isaiah 1:12 When you enter my presence, do you actually think I want this– animals trampling on my courtyards?

Isaiah 1:13 Do not bring any more meaningless offerings; I consider your incense detestable! You observe new moon festivals, Sabbaths, and convocations, but I cannot tolerate sin-stained celebrations!

Isaiah 1:14 I hate your new moon festivals and assemblies; they are a burden that I am tired of carrying.

Isaiah 1:15 When you spread out your hands in prayer, I look the other way; when you offer your many prayers, I do not listen, because your hands are covered with blood.

Isaiah 1:16 Wash! Cleanse yourselves! Remove your sinful deeds from my sight. Stop sinning!

Isaiah 1:17 Learn to do what is right! Promote justice! Give the oppressed reason to celebrate! Take up the cause of the orphan! Defend the rights of the widow!

Isaiah 1:18 Come, let's consider your options," says the LORD. "Though your sins have stained you like the color red, you can become white like snow; though they are as easy to see as the color scarlet, you can become white like wool.

Isaiah 1:19 If you have a willing attitude and obey, then you will again eat the good crops of the land.

Isaiah 1:20 But if you refuse and rebel, you will be devoured by the sword." Know for certain that the LORD has spoken.

Isaiah 1:21 How tragic that the once-faithful city has become a prostitute! She was once a center of justice, fairness resided in her, but now only murderers.

Isaiah 1:22 Your silver has become scum, your beer is diluted with water.

Isaiah 1:23 Your officials are rebels, they associate with thieves. All of them love bribery, and look for payoffs. They do not take up the cause of the orphan, or defend the rights of the widow.

Isaiah 1:24 Therefore, the sovereign LORD who commands armies, the powerful ruler of Israel, says this: “Ah, I will seek vengeance against my adversaries, I will take revenge against my enemies.

Isaiah 1:25 I will attack you; I will purify your metal with flux. I will remove all your slag.

Isaiah 1:26 I will reestablish honest judges as in former times, wise advisers as in earlier days. Then you will be called, ‘The Just City, Faithful Town.’“

Isaiah 1:27 Zion will be freed by justice, and her returnees by righteousness.

Isaiah 1:28 All rebellious sinners will be shattered, those who abandon the LORD will perish.

Isaiah 1:29 Indeed, they will be ashamed of the sacred trees you find so desirable; you will be embarrassed because of the sacred orchards where you choose to worship.

Isaiah 1:30 For you will be like a tree whose leaves wither, like an orchard that is unwatered.

Isaiah 1:31 The powerful will be like a thread of yarn, their deeds like a spark; both will burn together, and no one will put out the fire.

Isaiah 2:1 Here is the message about Judah and Jerusalem that was revealed to Isaiah son of Amoz.

Isaiah 2:2 In the future the mountain of the LORD’s temple will endure as the most important of mountains, and will be the most prominent of hills. All the nations will stream to it,

Isaiah 2:3 many peoples will come and say, “Come, let us go up to the LORD’s mountain, to the temple of the God of Jacob, so he can teach us his requirements, and we can follow his standards.” For Zion will be the center for moral instruction; the LORD will issue edicts from Jerusalem.

Isaiah 2:4 He will judge disputes between nations; he will settle cases for many peoples. They will beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks. Nations will not take up the sword against other nations, and they will no longer train for war.

Isaiah 2:5 O descendants of Jacob, come, let us walk in the LORD’s guiding light.

Isaiah 2:6 Indeed, O LORD, you have abandoned your people, the descendants of Jacob. For diviners from the east are everywhere; they consult omen readers like the Philistines do. Plenty of foreigners are around.

Isaiah 2:7 Their land is full of gold and silver; there is no end to their wealth. Their land is full of horses; there is no end to their chariots.

Isaiah 2:8 Their land is full of worthless idols; they worship the product of their own hands, what their own fingers have fashioned.

Isaiah 2:9 Men bow down to them in homage, they lie flat on the ground in worship. Don’t spare them!

Isaiah 2:10 Go up into the rocky cliffs, hide in the ground. Get away from the dreadful judgment of the LORD, from his royal splendor!

Isaiah 2:11 Proud men will be brought low, arrogant men will be humiliated; the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.

Isaiah 2:12 Indeed, the LORD who commands armies has planned a day of judgment, for all the high and mighty, for all who are proud– they will be humiliated;

Isaiah 2:13 for all the cedars of Lebanon, that are so high and mighty, for all the oaks of Bashan;

Isaiah 2:14 for all the tall mountains, for all the high hills,

Isaiah 2:15 for every high tower, for every fortified wall,

Isaiah 2:16 for all the large ships, for all the impressive ships.

Isaiah 2:17 Proud men will be humiliated, arrogant men will be brought low; the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.

Isaiah 2:18 The worthless idols will be completely eliminated.

Isaiah 2:19 They will go into caves in the rocky cliffs and into holes in the ground, trying to escape the dreadful judgment of the LORD and his royal splendor, when he rises up to terrify the earth.

Isaiah 2:20 At that time men will throw their silver and gold idols, which they made for themselves to worship, into the caves where rodents and bats live,

Isaiah 2:21 so they themselves can go into the crevices of the rocky cliffs and the openings under the rocky overhangs, trying to escape the dreadful judgment of the LORD and his royal splendor, when he rises up to terrify the earth.

Isaiah 2:22 Stop trusting in human beings, whose life’s breath is in their nostrils. For why should they be given special consideration?

Isaiah 3:1 Look, the sovereign LORD who commands armies is about to remove from Jerusalem and Judah every source of security, including all the food and water, Isaiah 3:2 the mighty men and warriors, judges and prophets, omen readers and leaders,

Isaiah 3:3 captains of groups of fifty, the respected citizens, advisers and those skilled in magical arts, and those who know incantations.

Isaiah 3:4 The LORD says, "I will make youths their officials; malicious young men will rule over them.

Isaiah 3:5 The people will treat each other harshly; men will oppose each other; neighbors will fight. Youths will proudly defy the elderly and riffraff will challenge those who were once respected.

Isaiah 3:6 Indeed, a man will grab his brother right in his father's house and say, 'You own a coat– you be our leader! This heap of ruins will be under your control.'

Isaiah 3:7 At that time the brother will shout, 'I am no doctor, I have no food or coat in my house; don't make me a leader of the people!'"

Isaiah 3:8 Jerusalem certainly stumbles, Judah falls, for their words and their actions offend the LORD; they rebel against his royal authority.

Isaiah 3:9 The look on their faces testifies to their guilt; like the people of Sodom they openly boast of their sin. Too bad for them! For they bring disaster on themselves.

Isaiah 3:10 Tell the innocent it will go well with them, for they will be rewarded for what they have done.

Isaiah 3:11 Too bad for the wicked sinners! For they will get exactly what they deserve.

Isaiah 3:12 Oppressors treat my people cruelly; creditors rule over them. My people's leaders mislead them; they give you confusing directions.

Isaiah 3:13 The LORD takes his position to judge; he stands up to pass sentence on his people.

Isaiah 3:14 The LORD comes to pronounce judgment on the leaders of his people and their officials. He says, "It is you who have ruined the vineyard! You have stashed in your houses what you have stolen from the poor.

Isaiah 3:15 Why do you crush my people and grind the faces of the poor?" The sovereign LORD who commands armies has spoken.

Isaiah 3:16 The LORD says, "The women of Zion are proud. They walk with their heads high and flirt with their eyes. They skip along and the jewelry on their ankles jingles.

Isaiah 3:17 So the sovereign master will afflict the foreheads of Zion's women with skin diseases, the LORD will make the front of their heads bald."

Isaiah 3:18 At that time the sovereign master will remove their beautiful ankle jewelry, neck ornaments, crescent shaped ornaments, Isaiah 3:19 earrings, bracelets, veils,

Isaiah 3:20 headdresses, ankle ornaments, sashes, sachets, amulets,

Isaiah 3:21 rings, nose rings,

Isaiah 3:22 festive dresses, robes, shawls, purses,

Isaiah 3:23 garments, vests, head coverings, and gowns.

Isaiah 3:24 A putrid stench will replace the smell of spices, a rope will replace a belt, baldness will replace braided locks of hair, a sackcloth garment will replace a fine robe, and a prisoner’s brand will replace beauty.

Isaiah 3:25 Your men will fall by the sword, your strong men will die in battle.

Isaiah 3:26 Her gates will mourn and lament; deprived of her people, she will sit on the ground.

Isaiah 4:1 Seven women will grab hold of one man at that time. They will say, “We will provide our own food, we will provide our own clothes; but let us belong to you– take away our shame!”

Isaiah 4:2 At that time the crops given by the LORD will bring admiration and honor; the produce of the land will be a source of pride and delight to those who remain in Israel.

Isaiah 4:3 Those remaining in Zion, those left in Jerusalem, will be called “holy,” all in Jerusalem who are destined to live.

Isaiah 4:4 At that time the sovereign master will wash the excrement from Zion’s women, he will rinse the bloodstains from Jerusalem’s midst, as he comes to judge and to bring devastation.

Isaiah 4:5 Then the LORD will create over all of Mount Zion and over its convocations a cloud and smoke by day and a bright flame of fire by night; indeed a canopy will accompany the LORD’s glorious presence.

Isaiah 4:6 By day it will be a shelter to provide shade from the heat, as well as safety and protection from the heavy downpour.

Isaiah 5:1 I will sing to my love– a song to my lover about his vineyard. My love had a vineyard on a fertile hill.

Isaiah 5:2 He built a hedge around it, removed its stones, and planted a vine. He built a tower in the middle of it, and constructed a winepress. He waited for it to produce edible grapes, but it produced sour ones instead.

Isaiah 5:3 So now, residents of Jerusalem, people of Judah, you decide between me and my vineyard!

Isaiah 5:4 What more can I do for my vineyard beyond what I have already done? When I waited for it to produce edible grapes, why did it produce sour ones instead?

Isaiah 5:5 Now I will inform you what I am about to do to my vineyard: I will remove its hedge and turn it into pasture, I will break its wall and allow animals to graze there.

Isaiah 5:6 I will make it a wasteland; no one will prune its vines or hoe its ground, and thorns and briers will grow there. I will order the clouds not to drop any rain on it.

Isaiah 5:7 Indeed Israel is the vineyard of the LORD who commands armies, the people of Judah are the cultivated place in which he took delight. He waited for justice, but look what he got– disobedience! He waited for fairness, but look what he got– cries for help!

Isaiah 5:8 Those who accumulate houses are as good as dead, those who also accumulate landed property until there is no land left, and you are the only landowners remaining within the land.

Isaiah 5:9 The LORD who commands armies told me this: “Many houses will certainly become desolate, large, impressive houses will have no one living in them.

Isaiah 5:10 Indeed, a large vineyard will produce just a few gallons, and enough seed to yield several bushels will produce less than a bushel.”

Isaiah 5:11 Those who get up early to drink beer are as good as dead, those who keep drinking long after dark until they are intoxicated with wine.

Isaiah 5:12 They have stringed instruments, tambourines, flutes, and wine at their parties. So they do not recognize what the LORD is doing, they do not perceive what he is bringing about.

Isaiah 5:13 Therefore my people will be deported because of their lack of understanding. Their leaders will have nothing to eat, their masses will have nothing to drink.

Isaiah 5:14 So Death will open up its throat, and open wide its mouth; Zion’s dignitaries and masses will descend into it, including those who revel and celebrate within her.

Isaiah 5:15 Men will be humiliated, they will be brought low; the proud will be brought low.

Isaiah 5:16 The LORD who commands armies will be exalted when he punishes, the sovereign God’s authority will be recognized when he judges.

Isaiah 5:17 Lambs will graze as if in their pastures, amid the ruins the rich sojourners will graze.

Isaiah 5:18 Those who pull evil along using cords of emptiness are as good as dead, who pull sin as with cart ropes.

Isaiah 5:19 They say, “Let him hurry, let him act quickly, so we can see; let the plan of the Holy One of Israel take shape and come to pass, then we will know it!”

Isaiah 5:20 Those who call evil good and good evil are as good as dead, who turn darkness into light and light into darkness, who turn bitter into sweet and sweet into bitter.

Isaiah 5:21 Those who think they are wise are as good as dead, those who think they possess understanding.

Isaiah 5:22 Those who are champions at drinking wine are as good as dead, who display great courage when mixing strong drinks.

Isaiah 5:23 They pronounce the guilty innocent for a payoff, they ignore the just cause of the innocent.

Isaiah 5:24 Therefore, as flaming fire devours straw, and dry grass disintegrates in the flames, so their root will rot, and their flower will blow away like dust. For they have rejected the law of the LORD who commands armies, they have spurned the commands of the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 5:25 So the LORD is furious with his people; he lifts his hand and strikes them. The mountains shake, and corpses lie like manure in the middle of the streets. Despite all this, his anger does not subside, and his hand is ready to strike again.

Isaiah 5:26 He lifts a signal flag for a distant nation, he whistles for it to come from the far regions of the earth. Look, they come quickly and swiftly.

Isaiah 5:27 None tire or stumble, they don’t stop to nap or sleep. They don’t loosen their belts, or unstrap their sandals to rest.

Isaiah 5:28 Their arrows are sharpened, and all their bows are prepared. The hooves of their horses are hard as flint, and their chariot wheels are like a windstorm.

Isaiah 5:29 Their roar is like a lion’s; they roar like young lions. They growl and seize their prey; they drag it away and no one can come to the rescue.

Isaiah 5:30 At that time they will growl over their prey, it will sound like sea waves crashing against rocks. One will look out over the land and see the darkness of disaster, clouds will turn the light into darkness.

Isaiah 6:1 In the year of King Uzziah’s death, I saw the sovereign master seated on a high, elevated throne. The hem of his robe filled the temple.

Isaiah 6:2 Seraphs stood over him; each one had six wings. With two wings they covered their faces, with two they covered their feet, and they used the remaining two to fly.

Isaiah 6:3 They called out to one another, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord who commands armies! His majestic splendor fills the entire earth!”

Isaiah 6:4 The sound of their voices shook the door frames, and the temple was filled with smoke.

Isaiah 6:5 I said, “Too bad for me! I am destroyed, for my lips are contaminated by sin, and I live among people whose lips are contaminated by sin. My eyes have seen the king, the LORD who commands armies.”

Isaiah 6:6 But then one of the seraphs flew toward me. In his hand was a hot coal he had taken from the altar with tongs.

Isaiah 6:7 He touched my mouth with it and said, “Look, this coal has touched your lips. Your evil is removed; your sin is forgiven.”

Isaiah 6:8 I heard the voice of the sovereign master say, “Whom will I send? Who will go on our behalf?” I answered, “Here I am, send me!”

Isaiah 6:9 He said, “Go and tell these people: ‘Listen continually, but don’t understand! Look continually, but don’t perceive!’

Isaiah 6:10 Make the hearts of these people calloused; make their ears deaf and their eyes blind! Otherwise they might see with their eyes and hear with their ears, their hearts might understand and they might repent and be healed.”

Isaiah 6:11 I replied, “How long, sovereign master?” He said, “Until cities are in ruins and unpopulated, and houses are uninhabited, and the land is ruined and devastated,

Isaiah 6:12 and the LORD has sent the people off to a distant place, and the very heart of the land is completely abandoned.

Isaiah 6:13 Even if only a tenth of the people remain in the land, it will again be destroyed, like one of the large sacred trees or an Asherah pole, when a sacred pillar on a high place is thrown down. That sacred pillar symbolizes the special chosen family.”

Isaiah 7:1 During the reign of Ahaz son of Jotham, son of Uzziah, king of Judah, King Rezin of Syria and King Pekah son of Remaliah of Israel marched up to Jerusalem to do battle, but they were unable to prevail against it.

Isaiah 7:2 It was reported to the family of David, “Syria has allied with Ephraim.” They and their people were emotionally shaken, just as the trees of the forest shake before the wind.

Isaiah 7:3 So the LORD told Isaiah, “Go out with your son Shear-jashub and meet Ahaz at the end of the conduit of the upper pool which is located on the road to the field where they wash and dry cloth.

Isaiah 7:4 Tell him, ‘Make sure you stay calm! Don’t be afraid! Don’t be intimidated by these two stubs of smoking logs, or by the raging anger of Rezin, Syria, and the son of Remaliah.

Isaiah 7:5 Syria has plotted with Ephraim and the son of Remaliah to bring about your demise.

Isaiah 7:6 They say, “Let’s attack Judah, terrorize it, and conquer it. Then we’ll set up the son of Tabeel as its king.”

Isaiah 7:7 For this reason the sovereign master, the LORD, says: “It will not take place; it will not happen.

Isaiah 7:8 For Syria’s leader is Damascus, and the leader of Damascus is Rezin. Within sixty-five years Ephraim will no longer exist as a nation.

Isaiah 7:9 Ephraim’s leader is Samaria, and Samaria’s leader is the son of Remaliah. If your faith does not remain firm, then you will not remain secure.”

Isaiah 7:10 The LORD again spoke to Ahaz:

Isaiah 7:11 “Ask for a confirming sign from the LORD your God. You can even ask for something miraculous.”

Isaiah 7:12 But Ahaz responded, “I don’t want to ask; I don’t want to put the LORD to a test.”

Isaiah 7:13 So Isaiah replied, “Pay attention, family of David. Do you consider it too insignificant to try the patience of men? Is that why you are also trying the patience of my God?

Isaiah 7:14 For this reason the sovereign master himself will give you a confirming sign. Look, this young woman is about to conceive and will give birth to a son. You, young woman, will name him Immanuel.

Isaiah 7:15 He will eat sour milk and honey, which will help him know how to reject evil and choose what is right.

Isaiah 7:16 Here is why this will be so: Before the child knows how to reject evil and choose what is right, the land whose two kings you fear will be desolate.

Isaiah 7:17 The LORD will bring on you, your people, and your father’s family a time unlike any since Ephraim departed from Judah– the king of Assyria!”

Isaiah 7:18 At that time the LORD will whistle for flies from the distant streams of Egypt and for bees from the land of Assyria.

Isaiah 7:19 All of them will come and make their home in the ravines between the cliffs, and in the crevices of the cliffs, in all the thorn bushes, and in all the watering holes.

Isaiah 7:20 At that time the sovereign master will use a razor hired from the banks of the Euphrates River, the king of Assyria, to shave the head and the pubic hair; it will also shave off the beard.

Isaiah 7:21 At that time a man will keep alive a young cow from the herd and a couple of goats.

Isaiah 7:22 From the abundance of milk they produce, he will have sour milk for his meals. Indeed, everyone left in the heart of the land will eat sour milk and honey.

Isaiah 7:23 At that time every place where there had been a thousand vines worth a thousand shekels will be overrun with thorns and briers.

Isaiah 7:24 With bow and arrow men will hunt there, for the whole land will be covered with thorns and briers.

Isaiah 7:25 They will stay away from all the hills that were cultivated, for fear of the thorns and briers. Cattle will graze there and sheep will trample on them.

Isaiah 8:1 The LORD told me, “Take a large tablet and inscribe these words on it with an ordinary stylus: ‘Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz.’

Isaiah 8:2 Then I will summon as my reliable witnesses Uriah the priest and Zechariah son of Jeberekiah.”

Isaiah 8:3 I then had sexual relations with the prophetess; she conceived and gave birth to a son. The LORD told me, “Name him Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz, Isaiah 8:4 for before the child knows how to cry out, ‘My father’ or ‘My mother,’ the wealth of Damascus and the plunder of Samaria will be carried off by the king of Assyria.”

Isaiah 8:5 The LORD spoke to me again:

Isaiah 8:6 “These people have rejected the gently flowing waters of Shiloah and melt in fear over Rezin and the son of Remaliah.

Isaiah 8:7 So look, the sovereign master is bringing up against them the turbulent and mighty waters of the Euphrates River– the king of Assyria and all his majestic power. It will reach flood stage and overflow its banks.

Isaiah 8:8 It will spill into Judah, flooding and engulfing, as it reaches to the necks of its victims. He will spread his wings out over your entire land, O Immanuel.”

Isaiah 8:9 You will be broken, O nations; you will be shattered! Pay attention, all you distant lands of the earth! Get ready for battle, and you will be shattered! Get ready for battle, and you will be shattered!

Isaiah 8:10 Devise your strategy, but it will be thwarted! Issue your orders, but they will not be executed! For God is with us!

Isaiah 8:11 Indeed this is what the LORD told me. He took hold of me firmly and warned me not to act like these people:

Isaiah 8:12 “Do not say, ‘Conspiracy,’ every time these people say the word. Don’t be afraid of what scares them; don’t be terrified.

Isaiah 8:13 You must recognize the authority of the LORD who commands armies. He is the one you must respect; he is the one you must fear.

Isaiah 8:14 He will become a sanctuary, but a stone that makes a person trip, and a rock that makes one stumble– to the two houses of Israel. He will become a trap and a snare to the residents of Jerusalem.

Isaiah 8:15 Many will stumble over the stone and the rock, and will fall and be seriously injured, and will be ensnared and captured."

Isaiah 8:16 Tie up the scroll as legal evidence, seal the official record of God's instructions and give it to my followers.

Isaiah 8:17 I will wait patiently for the LORD, who has rejected the family of Jacob; I will wait for him.

Isaiah 8:18 Look, I and the sons whom the LORD has given me are reminders and object lessons in Israel, sent from the LORD who commands armies, who lives on Mount Zion.

Isaiah 8:19 They will say to you, "Seek oracles at the pits used to conjure up underworld spirits, from the magicians who chirp and mutter incantations. Should people not seek oracles from their gods, by asking the dead about the destiny of the living?"

Isaiah 8:20 Then you must recall the LORD's instructions and the prophetic testimony of what would happen. Certainly they say such things because their minds are spiritually darkened.

Isaiah 8:21 They will pass through the land destitute and starving. Their hunger will make them angry, and they will curse their king and their God as they look upward.

Isaiah 8:22 When one looks out over the land, he sees distress and darkness, gloom and anxiety, darkness and people forced from the land.

Isaiah 9:1 The gloom will be dispelled for those who were anxious. In earlier times he humiliated the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali; but now he brings honor to the way of the sea, the region beyond the Jordan, and Galilee of the nations.

Isaiah 9:2 The people walking in darkness see a bright light; light shines on those who live in a land of deep darkness.

Isaiah 9:3 You have enlarged the nation; you give them great joy. They rejoice in your presence as harvesters rejoice; as warriors celebrate when they divide up the plunder.

Isaiah 9:4 For their oppressive yoke and the club that strikes their shoulders, the cudgel the oppressor uses on them, you have shattered, as in the day of Midian's defeat.

Isaiah 9:5 Indeed every boot that marches and shakes the earth and every garment dragged through blood is used as fuel for the fire.

Isaiah 9:6 For a child has been born to us, a son has been given to us. He shoulders responsibility and is called: Extraordinary Strategist, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

Isaiah 9:7 His dominion will be vast and he will bring immeasurable prosperity. He will rule on David’s throne and over David’s kingdom, establishing it and strengthening it by promoting justice and fairness, from this time forward and forevermore. The LORD’s intense devotion to his people will accomplish this.

Isaiah 9:8 The sovereign master decreed judgment on Jacob, and it fell on Israel.

Isaiah 9:9 All the people were aware of it, the people of Ephraim and those living in Samaria. Yet with pride and an arrogant attitude, they said,

Isaiah 9:10 “The bricks have fallen, but we will rebuild with chiseled stone; the sycamore fig trees have been cut down, but we will replace them with cedars.”

Isaiah 9:11 Then the LORD provoked their adversaries to attack them, he stirred up their enemies–

Isaiah 9:12 Syria from the east, and the Philistines from the west, they gobbled up Israelite territory. Despite all this, his anger does not subside, and his hand is ready to strike again.

Isaiah 9:13 The people did not return to the one who struck them, they did not seek reconciliation with the LORD who commands armies.

Isaiah 9:14 So the LORD cut off Israel’s head and tail, both the shoots and stalk in one day.

Isaiah 9:15 The leaders and the highly respected people are the head, the prophets who teach lies are the tail.

Isaiah 9:16 The leaders of this nation were misleading people, and the people being led were destroyed.

Isaiah 9:17 So the sovereign master was not pleased with their young men, he took no pity on their orphans and widows; for the whole nation was godless and did wicked things, every mouth was speaking disgraceful words. Despite all this, his anger does not subside, and his hand is ready to strike again.

Isaiah 9:18 For evil burned like a fire, it consumed thorns and briers; it burned up the thickets of the forest, and they went up in smoke.

Isaiah 9:19 Because of the anger of the LORD who commands armies, the land was scorched, and the people became fuel for the fire. People had no compassion on one another.

Isaiah 9:20 They devoured on the right, but were still hungry, they ate on the left, but were not satisfied. People even ate the flesh of their own arm!

Isaiah 9:21 Manasseh fought against Ephraim, and Ephraim against Manasseh; together they fought against Judah. Despite all this, his anger does not subside, and his hand is ready to strike again.

Isaiah 10:1 Those who enact unjust policies are as good as dead, those who are always instituting unfair regulations,

Isaiah 10:2 to keep the poor from getting fair treatment, and to deprive the oppressed among my people of justice, so they can steal what widows own, and loot what belongs to orphans.

Isaiah 10:3 What will you do on judgment day, when destruction arrives from a distant place? To whom will you run for help? Where will you leave your wealth?

Isaiah 10:4 You will have no place to go, except to kneel with the prisoners, or to fall among those who have been killed. Despite all this, his anger does not subside, and his hand is ready to strike again.

Isaiah 10:5 Assyria, the club I use to vent my anger, is as good as dead, a cudgel with which I angrily punish.

Isaiah 10:6 I sent him against a godless nation, I ordered him to attack the people with whom I was angry, to take plunder and to carry away loot, to trample them down like dirt in the streets.

Isaiah 10:7 But he does not agree with this, his mind does not reason this way, for his goal is to destroy, and to eliminate many nations.

Isaiah 10:8 Indeed, he says: “Are not my officials all kings?

Isaiah 10:9 Is not Calneh like Carchemish? Hamath like Arpad? Samaria like Damascus?

Isaiah 10:10 I overpowered kingdoms ruled by idols, whose carved images were more impressive than Jerusalem’s or Samaria’s.

Isaiah 10:11 As I have done to Samaria and its idols, so I will do to Jerusalem and its idols.”

Isaiah 10:12 But when the sovereign master finishes judging Mount Zion and Jerusalem, then I will punish the king of Assyria for what he has proudly planned and for the arrogant attitude he displays.

Isaiah 10:13 For he says: “By my strong hand I have accomplished this, by my strategy that I devised. I invaded the territory of nations, and looted their storehouses. Like a mighty conqueror, I brought down rulers.

Isaiah 10:14 My hand discovered the wealth of the nations, as if it were in a nest, as one gathers up abandoned eggs, I gathered up the whole earth. There was no wing flapping, or open mouth chirping.”

Isaiah 10:15 Does an ax exalt itself over the one who wields it, or a saw magnify itself over the one who cuts with it? As if a scepter should brandish the one who raises it, or a staff should lift up what is not made of wood!

Isaiah 10:16 For this reason the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies, will make his healthy ones emaciated. His majestic glory will go up in smoke.

Isaiah 10:17 The light of Israel will become a fire, their Holy One will become a flame; it will burn and consume the Assyrian king's briers and his thorns in one day.

Isaiah 10:18 The splendor of his forest and his orchard will be completely destroyed, as when a sick man's life ebbs away.

Isaiah 10:19 There will be so few trees left in his forest, a child will be able to count them.

Isaiah 10:20 At that time those left in Israel, those who remain of the family of Jacob, will no longer rely on a foreign leader that abuses them. Instead they will truly rely on the LORD, the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 10:21 A remnant will come back, a remnant of Jacob, to the mighty God.

Isaiah 10:22 For though your people, Israel, are as numerous as the sand on the seashore, only a remnant will come back. Destruction has been decreed; just punishment is about to engulf you.

Isaiah 10:23 The sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies, is certainly ready to carry out the decreed destruction throughout the land.

Isaiah 10:24 So here is what the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies, says: "My people who live in Zion, do not be afraid of Assyria, even though they beat you with a club and lift their cudgel against you as Egypt did.

Isaiah 10:25 For very soon my fury will subside, and my anger will be directed toward their destruction."

Isaiah 10:26 The LORD who commands armies is about to beat them with a whip, similar to the way he struck down Midian at the rock of Oreb. He will use his staff against the sea, lifting it up as he did in Egypt.

Isaiah 10:27 At that time the LORD will remove their burden from your shoulders, and their yoke from your neck; the yoke will be taken off because your neck will be too large.

Isaiah 10:28 They attacked Aiath, moved through Migron, depositing their supplies at Micmash.

Isaiah 10:29 They went through the pass, spent the night at Geba. Ramah trembled, Gibeah of Saul ran away.

Isaiah 10:30 Shout out, daughter of Gallim! Pay attention, Laishah! Answer her, Anathoth!

Isaiah 10:31 Madmenah flees, the residents of Gebim have hidden.

Isaiah 10:32 This very day, standing in Nob, they shake their fist at Daughter Zion's mountain– at the hill of Jerusalem.

Isaiah 10:33 Look, the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies, is ready to cut off the branches with terrifying power. The tallest trees will be cut down, the loftiest ones will be brought low.

Isaiah 10:34 The thickets of the forest will be chopped down with an ax, and mighty Lebanon will fall.

Isaiah 11:1 A shoot will grow out of Jesse's root stock, a bud will sprout from his roots.

Isaiah 11:2 The LORD's spirit will rest on him– a spirit that gives extraordinary wisdom, a spirit that provides the ability to execute plans, a spirit that produces absolute loyalty to the LORD.

Isaiah 11:3 He will take delight in obeying the LORD. He will not judge by mere appearances, or make decisions on the basis of hearsay.

Isaiah 11:4 He will treat the poor fairly, and make right decisions for the downtrodden of the earth. He will strike the earth with the rod of his mouth, and order the wicked to be executed.

Isaiah 11:5 Justice will be like a belt around his waist, integrity will be like a belt around his hips.

Isaiah 11:6 A wolf will reside with a lamb, and a leopard will lie down with a young goat; an ox and a young lion will graze together, as a small child leads them along.

Isaiah 11:7 A cow and a bear will graze together, their young will lie down together. A lion, like an ox, will eat straw.

Isaiah 11:8 A baby will play over the hole of a snake; over the nest of a serpent an infant will put his hand.

Isaiah 11:9 They will no longer injure or destroy on my entire royal mountain. For there will be universal submission to the LORD's sovereignty, just as the waters completely cover the sea.

Isaiah 11:10 At that time a root from Jesse will stand like a signal flag for the nations. Nations will look to him for guidance, and his residence will be majestic.

Isaiah 11:11 At that time the sovereign master will again lift his hand to reclaim the remnant of his people from Assyria, Egypt, Pathros, Cush, Elam, Shinar, Hamath, and the seacoasts.

Isaiah 11:12 He will lift a signal flag for the nations; he will gather Israel's dispersed people and assemble Judah's scattered people from the four corners of the earth.

Isaiah 11:13 Ephraim's jealousy will end, and Judah's hostility will be eliminated. Ephraim will no longer be jealous of Judah, and Judah will no longer be hostile toward Ephraim.

Isaiah 11:14 They will swoop down on the Philistine hills to the west; together they will loot the people of the east. They will take over Edom and Moab, and the Ammonites will be their subjects.

Isaiah 11:15 The LORD will divide the gulf of the Egyptian Sea; he will wave his hand over the Euphrates River and send a strong wind, he will turn it into seven dried-up streams, and enable them to walk across in their sandals.

Isaiah 11:16 There will be a highway leading out of Assyria for the remnant of his people, just as there was for Israel, when they went up from the land of Egypt.

Isaiah 12:1 At that time you will say: “I praise you, O LORD, for even though you were angry with me, your anger subsided, and you consoled me.

Isaiah 12:2 Look, God is my deliverer! I will trust in him and not fear. For the LORD gives me strength and protects me; he has become my deliverer.”

Isaiah 12:3 Joyfully you will draw water from the springs of deliverance.

Isaiah 12:4 At that time you will say: “Praise the LORD! Ask him for help! Publicize his mighty acts among the nations! Make it known that he is unique!

Isaiah 12:5 Sing to the LORD, for he has done magnificent things, let this be known throughout the earth!

Isaiah 12:6 Cry out and shout for joy, O citizens of Zion, for the Holy One of Israel acts mightily among you!”

Isaiah 13:1 This is a message about Babylon that God revealed to Isaiah son of Amoz:

Isaiah 13:2 On a bare hill raise a signal flag, shout to them, wave your hand, so they might enter the gates of the princes!

Isaiah 13:3 I have given orders to my chosen soldiers; I have summoned the warriors through whom I will vent my anger, my boasting, arrogant ones.

Isaiah 13:4 There is a loud noise on the mountains– it sounds like a large army! There is great commotion among the kingdoms– nations are being assembled! The LORD who commands armies is mustering forces for battle.

Isaiah 13:5 They come from a distant land, from the horizon. It is the LORD with his instruments of judgment, coming to destroy the whole earth.

Isaiah 13:6 Wail, for the LORD’s day of judgment is near; it comes with all the destructive power of the sovereign judge.

Isaiah 13:7 For this reason all hands hang limp, every human heart loses its courage.

Isaiah 13:8 They panic– cramps and pain seize hold of them like those of a woman who is straining to give birth. They look at one another in astonishment; their faces are flushed red.

Isaiah 13:9 Look, the LORD’s day of judgment is coming; it is a day of cruelty and savage, raging anger, destroying the earth and annihilating its sinners.

Isaiah 13:10 Indeed the stars in the sky and their constellations no longer give out their light; the sun is darkened as soon as it rises, and the moon does not shine.

Isaiah 13:11 I will punish the world for its evil, and wicked people for their sin. I will put an end to the pride of the insolent, I will bring down the arrogance of tyrants.

Isaiah 13:12 I will make human beings more scarce than pure gold, and people more scarce than gold from Ophir.

Isaiah 13:13 So I will shake the heavens, and the earth will shake loose from its foundation, because of the fury of the LORD who commands armies, in the day he vents his raging anger.

Isaiah 13:14 Like a frightened gazelle or a sheep with no shepherd, each will turn toward home, each will run to his homeland.

Isaiah 13:15 Everyone who is caught will be stabbed; everyone who is seized will die by the sword.

Isaiah 13:16 Their children will be smashed to pieces before their very eyes; their houses will be looted and their wives raped.

Isaiah 13:17 Look, I am stirring up the Medes to attack them; they are not concerned about silver, nor are they interested in gold.

Isaiah 13:18 Their arrows will cut young men to ribbons; they have no compassion on a person’s offspring, they will not look with pity on children.

Isaiah 13:19 Babylon, the most admired of kingdoms, the Chaldeans’ source of honor and pride, will be destroyed by God just as Sodom and Gomorrah were.

Isaiah 13:20 No one will live there again; no one will ever reside there again. No bedouin will camp there, no shepherds will rest their flocks there.

Isaiah 13:21 Wild animals will rest there, the ruined houses will be full of hyenas. Ostriches will live there, wild goats will skip among the ruins.

Isaiah 13:22 Wild dogs will yip in her ruined fortresses, jackals will yelp in the once-splendid palaces. Her time is almost up, her days will not be prolonged.

Isaiah 14:1 The LORD will certainly have compassion on Jacob; he will again choose Israel as his special people and restore them to their land. Resident foreigners will join them and unite with the family of Jacob.

Isaiah 14:2 Nations will take them and bring them back to their own place. Then the family of Jacob will make foreigners their servants as they settle in the LORD’s land. They will make their captors captives and rule over the ones who oppressed them.

Isaiah 14:3 When the LORD gives you relief from your suffering and anxiety, and from the hard labor which you were made to perform, Isaiah 14:4 you will taunt the king of Babylon with these words: “Look how the oppressor has met his end! Hostility has ceased!

Isaiah 14:5 The LORD has broken the club of the wicked, the scepter of rulers.

Isaiah 14:6 It furiously struck down nations with unceasing blows. It angrily ruled over nations, oppressing them without restraint.

Isaiah 14:7 The whole earth rests and is quiet; they break into song.

Isaiah 14:8 The evergreens also rejoice over your demise, as do the cedars of Lebanon, singing, ‘Since you fell asleep, no woodsman comes up to chop us down!’

Isaiah 14:9 Sheol below is stirred up about you, ready to meet you when you arrive. It rouses the spirits of the dead for you, all the former leaders of the earth; it makes all the former kings of the nations rise from their thrones.

Isaiah 14:10 All of them respond to you, saying: ‘You too have become weak like us! You have become just like us!

Isaiah 14:11 Your splendor has been brought down to Sheol, as well as the sound of your stringed instruments. You lie on a bed of maggots, with a blanket of worms over you.

Isaiah 14:12 Look how you have fallen from the sky, O shining one, son of the dawn! You have been cut down to the ground, O conqueror of the nations!

Isaiah 14:13 You said to yourself, “I will climb up to the sky. Above the stars of El I will set up my throne. I will rule on the mountain of assembly on the remote slopes of Zaphon.

Isaiah 14:14 I will climb up to the tops of the clouds; I will make myself like the Most High!”

Isaiah 14:15 But you were brought down to Sheol, to the remote slopes of the pit.

Isaiah 14:16 Those who see you stare at you, they look at you carefully, thinking: “Is this the man who shook the earth, the one who made kingdoms tremble?

Isaiah 14:17 Is this the one who made the world like a desert, who ruined its cities, and refused to free his prisoners so they could return home?”‘

Isaiah 14:18 As for all the kings of the nations, all of them lie down in splendor, each in his own tomb.

Isaiah 14:19 But you have been thrown out of your grave like a shoot that is thrown away. You lie among the slain, among those who have been slashed by the sword, among those headed for the stones of the pit, as if you were a mangled corpse.

Isaiah 14:20 You will not be buried with them, because you destroyed your land and killed your people. The offspring of the wicked will never be mentioned again.

Isaiah 14:21 Prepare to execute his sons for the sins their ancestors have committed. They must not rise up and take possession of the earth, or fill the surface of the world with cities.”

Isaiah 14:22 “I will rise up against them,” says the LORD who commands armies. “I will blot out all remembrance of Babylon and destroy all her people, including the offspring she produces,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 14:23 “I will turn her into a place that is overrun with wild animals and covered with pools of stagnant water. I will get rid of her, just as one sweeps away dirt with a broom,” says the LORD who commands armies.

Isaiah 14:24 The LORD who commands armies makes this solemn vow: “Be sure of this: Just as I have intended, so it will be; just as I have planned, it will happen.

Isaiah 14:25 I will break Assyria in my land, I will trample them underfoot on my hills. Their yoke will be removed from my people, the burden will be lifted from their shoulders.

Isaiah 14:26 This is the plan I have devised for the whole earth; my hand is ready to strike all the nations.”

Isaiah 14:27 Indeed, the LORD who commands armies has a plan, and who can possibly frustrate it? His hand is ready to strike, and who can possibly stop it?

Isaiah 14:28 In the year King Ahaz died, this message was revealed:

Isaiah 14:29 Don’t be so happy, all you Philistines, just because the club that beat you has been broken! For a viper will grow out of the serpent’s root, and its fruit will be a darting adder.

Isaiah 14:30 The poor will graze in my pastures; the needy will rest securely. But I will kill your root by famine; it will put to death all your survivors.

Isaiah 14:31 Wail, O city gate! Cry out, O city! Melt with fear, all you Philistines! For out of the north comes a cloud of smoke, and there are no stragglers in its ranks.

Isaiah 14:32 How will they respond to the messengers of this nation? Indeed, the LORD has made Zion secure; the oppressed among his people will find safety in her.

Isaiah 15:1 Here is a message about Moab: Indeed, in a night it is devastated, Ar of Moab is destroyed! Indeed, in a night it is devastated, Kir of Moab is destroyed!

Isaiah 15:2 They went up to the temple, the people of Dibon went up to the high places to lament. Because of what happened to Nebo and Medeba, Moab wails. Every head is shaved bare, every beard is trimmed off.

Isaiah 15:3 In their streets they wear sackcloth; on their roofs and in their town squares all of them wail, they fall down weeping.

Isaiah 15:4 The people of Heshbon and Elealeh cry out, their voices are heard as far away as Jahaz. For this reason Moab's soldiers shout in distress; their courage wavers.

Isaiah 15:5 My heart cries out because of Moab's plight, and for the fugitives stretched out as far as Zoar and Eglath Shelishiyah. For they weep as they make their way up the ascent of Luhith; they loudly lament their demise on the road to Horonaim.

Isaiah 15:6 For the waters of Nimrim are gone; the grass is dried up, the vegetation has disappeared, and there are no plants.

Isaiah 15:7 For this reason what they have made and stored up, they carry over the Stream of the Poplars.

Isaiah 15:8 Indeed, the cries of distress echo throughout Moabite territory; their wailing can be heard in Eglaim and Beer Elim.

Isaiah 15:9 Indeed, the waters of Dimon are full of blood! Indeed, I will heap even more trouble on Dimon. A lion will attack the Moabite fugitives and the people left in the land.

Isaiah 16:1 Send rams as tribute to the ruler of the land, from Sela in the desert to the hill of Daughter Zion.

Isaiah 16:2 At the fords of the Arnon the Moabite women are like a bird that flies about when forced from its nest.

Isaiah 16:3 "Bring a plan, make a decision! Provide some shade in the middle of the day! Hide the fugitives! Do not betray the one who tries to escape!

Isaiah 16:4 Please let the Moabite fugitives live among you. Hide them from the destroyer!" Certainly the one who applies pressure will cease, the destroyer will come to an end, those who trample will disappear from the earth.

Isaiah 16:5 Then a trustworthy king will be established; he will rule in a reliable manner, this one from David's family. He will be sure to make just decisions and will be experienced in executing justice.

Isaiah 16:6 We have heard about Moab’s pride, their great arrogance, their boasting, pride, and excess. But their boastful claims are empty!

Isaiah 16:7 So Moab wails over its demise– they all wail! Completely devastated, they moan about what has happened to the raisin cakes of Kir Hareseth.

Isaiah 16:8 For the fields of Heshbon are dried up, as well as the vines of Sibmah. The rulers of the nations trample all over its vines, which reach Jazer and spread to the desert; their shoots spread out and cross the sea.

Isaiah 16:9 So I weep along with Jazer over the vines of Sibmah. I will saturate you with my tears, Heshbon and Elealeh, for the conquering invaders shout triumphantly over your fruit and crops.

Isaiah 16:10 Joy and happiness disappear from the orchards, and in the vineyards no one rejoices or shouts; no one treads out juice in the wine vats– I have brought the joyful shouts to an end.

Isaiah 16:11 So my heart constantly sighs for Moab, like the strumming of a harp, my inner being sighs for Kir Hareseth.

Isaiah 16:12 When the Moabites plead with all their might at their high places, and enter their temples to pray, their prayers will be ineffective!

Isaiah 16:13 This is the message the LORD previously announced about Moab.

Isaiah 16:14 Now the LORD makes this announcement: “Within exactly three years Moab’s splendor will disappear, along with all her many people; there will be just a few, insignificant survivors left.”

Isaiah 17:1 Here is a message about Damascus: “Look, Damascus is no longer a city, it is a heap of ruins!

Isaiah 17:2 The cities of Aroer are abandoned. They will be used for herds, which will lie down there in peace.

Isaiah 17:3 Fortified cities will disappear from Ephraim, and Damascus will lose its kingdom. The survivors in Syria will end up like the splendor of the Israelites,” says the LORD who commands armies.

Isaiah 17:4 “At that time Jacob’s splendor will be greatly diminished, and he will become skin and bones.

Isaiah 17:5 It will be as when one gathers the grain harvest, and his hand gleans the ear of grain. It will be like one gathering the ears of grain in the Valley of Rephaim.

Isaiah 17:6 There will be some left behind, like when an olive tree is beaten– two or three ripe olives remain toward the very top, four or five on its fruitful branches,” says the LORD God of Israel.

Isaiah 17:7 At that time men will trust in their creator; they will depend on the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 17:8 They will no longer trust in the altars their hands made, or depend on the Asherah poles and incense altars their fingers made.

Isaiah 17:9 At that time their fortified cities will be like the abandoned summits of the Amorites, which they abandoned because of the Israelites; there will be desolation.

Isaiah 17:10 For you ignore the God who rescues you; you pay no attention to your strong protector. So this is what happens: You cultivate beautiful plants and plant exotic vines.

Isaiah 17:11 The day you begin cultivating, you do what you can to make it grow; the morning you begin planting, you do what you can to make it sprout. Yet the harvest will disappear in the day of disease and incurable pain.

Isaiah 17:12 The many nations massing together are as good as dead, those who make a commotion as loud as the roaring of the sea's waves. The people making such an uproar are as good as dead, those who make an uproar as loud as the roaring of powerful waves.

Isaiah 17:13 Though these people make an uproar as loud as the roaring of powerful waves, when he shouts at them, they will flee to a distant land, driven before the wind like dead weeds on the hills, or like dead thistles before a strong gale.

Isaiah 17:14 In the evening there is sudden terror; by morning they vanish. This is the fate of those who try to plunder us, the destiny of those who try to loot us!

Isaiah 18:1 The land of buzzing wings is as good as dead, the one beyond the rivers of Cush,

Isaiah 18:2 that sends messengers by sea, who glide over the water's surface in boats made of papyrus. Go, you swift messengers, to a nation of tall, smooth-skinned people, to a people that are feared far and wide, to a nation strong and victorious, whose land rivers divide.

Isaiah 18:3 All you who live in the world, who reside on the earth, you will see a signal flag raised on the mountains; you will hear a trumpet being blown.

Isaiah 18:4 For this is what the LORD has told me: "I will wait and watch from my place, like scorching heat produced by the sunlight, like a cloud of mist in the heat of harvest."

Isaiah 18:5 For before the harvest, when the bud has sprouted, and the ripening fruit appears, he will cut off the unproductive shoots with pruning knives; he will prune the tendrils.

Isaiah 18:6 They will all be left for the birds of the hills and the wild animals; the birds will eat them during the summer, and all the wild animals will eat them during the winter.

Isaiah 18:7 At that time tribute will be brought to the LORD who commands armies, by a people that are tall and smooth-skinned, a people that are feared far and wide, a nation strong and victorious, whose land rivers divide. The tribute will be brought to the place where the LORD who commands armies has chosen to reside, on Mount Zion.

Isaiah 19:1 Here is a message about Egypt: Look, the LORD rides on a swift-moving cloud and approaches Egypt. The idols of Egypt tremble before him; the Egyptians lose their courage.

Isaiah 19:2 “I will provoke civil strife in Egypt, brothers will fight with each other, as will neighbors, cities, and kingdoms.

Isaiah 19:3 The Egyptians will panic, and I will confuse their strategy. They will seek guidance from the idols and from the spirits of the dead, from the pits used to conjure up underworld spirits, and from the magicians.

Isaiah 19:4 I will hand Egypt over to a harsh master; a powerful king will rule over them,” says the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies.

Isaiah 19:5 The water of the sea will be dried up, and the river will dry up and be empty.

Isaiah 19:6 The canals will stink; the streams of Egypt will trickle and then dry up; the bulrushes and reeds will decay,

Isaiah 19:7 along with the plants by the mouth of the river. All the cultivated land near the river will turn to dust and be blown away.

Isaiah 19:8 The fishermen will mourn and lament, all those who cast a fishhook into the river, and those who spread out a net on the water’s surface will grieve.

Isaiah 19:9 Those who make clothes from combed flax will be embarrassed; those who weave will turn pale.

Isaiah 19:10 Those who make cloth will be demoralized; all the hired workers will be depressed.

Isaiah 19:11 The officials of Zoan are nothing but fools; Pharaoh’s wise advisers give stupid advice. How dare you say to Pharaoh, “I am one of the sages, one well-versed in the writings of the ancient kings?”

Isaiah 19:12 But where, oh where, are your wise men? Let them tell you, let them find out what the LORD who commands armies has planned for Egypt.

Isaiah 19:13 The officials of Zoan are fools, the officials of Memphis are misled; the rulers of her tribes lead Egypt astray.

Isaiah 19:14 The LORD has made them undiscerning; they lead Egypt astray in all she does, so that she is like a drunk sliding around in his own vomit.

Isaiah 19:15 Egypt will not be able to do a thing, head or tail, shoots and stalk.

Isaiah 19:16 At that time the Egyptians will be like women. They will tremble and fear because the LORD who commands armies brandishes his fist against them.

Isaiah 19:17 The land of Judah will humiliate Egypt. Everyone who hears about Judah will be afraid because of what the LORD who commands armies is planning to do to them.

Isaiah 19:18 At that time five cities in the land of Egypt will speak the language of Canaan and swear allegiance to the LORD who commands armies. One will be called the City of the Sun.

Isaiah 19:19 At that time there will be an altar for the LORD in the middle of the land of Egypt, as well as a sacred pillar dedicated to the LORD at its border.

Isaiah 19:20 It will become a visual reminder in the land of Egypt of the LORD who commands armies. When they cry out to the LORD because of oppressors, he will send them a deliverer and defender who will rescue them.

Isaiah 19:21 The LORD will reveal himself to the Egyptians, and they will acknowledge the LORD’s authority at that time. They will present sacrifices and offerings; they will make vows to the LORD and fulfill them.

Isaiah 19:22 The LORD will strike Egypt, striking and then healing them. They will turn to the LORD and he will listen to their prayers and heal them.

Isaiah 19:23 At that time there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria. The Assyrians will visit Egypt, and the Egyptians will visit Assyria. The Egyptians and Assyrians will worship together.

Isaiah 19:24 At that time Israel will be the third member of the group, along with Egypt and Assyria, and will be a recipient of blessing in the earth.

Isaiah 19:25 The LORD who commands armies will pronounce a blessing over the earth, saying, “Blessed be my people, Egypt, and the work of my hands, Assyria, and my special possession, Israel!”

Isaiah 20:1 The LORD revealed the following message during the year in which King Sargon of Assyria sent his commanding general to Ashdod, and he fought against it and captured it.

Isaiah 20:2 At that time the LORD announced through Isaiah son of Amoz: “Go, remove the sackcloth from your waist and take your sandals off your feet.” He did as instructed and walked around in undergarments and barefoot.

Isaiah 20:3 Later the LORD explained, “In the same way that my servant Isaiah has walked around in undergarments and barefoot for the past three years, as an object lesson and omen pertaining to Egypt and Cush,

Isaiah 20:4 so the king of Assyria will lead away the captives of Egypt and the exiles of Cush, both young and old. They will be in undergarments and barefoot, with the buttocks exposed; the Egyptians will be publicly humiliated.

Isaiah 20:5 Those who put their hope in Cush and took pride in Egypt will be afraid and embarrassed.

Isaiah 20:6 At that time those who live on this coast will say, 'Look what has happened to our source of hope to whom we fled for help, expecting to be rescued from the king of Assyria! How can we escape now?'"

Isaiah 21:1 Here is a message about the Desert by the Sea: Like strong winds blowing in the south, one invades from the desert, from a land that is feared.

Isaiah 21:2 I have received a distressing message: "The deceiver deceives, the destroyer destroys. Attack, you Elamites! Lay siege, you Medes! I will put an end to all the groaning!"

Isaiah 21:3 For this reason my stomach churns; cramps overwhelm me like the contractions of a woman in labor. I am disturbed by what I hear, horrified by what I see.

Isaiah 21:4 My heart palpitates, I shake in fear; the twilight I desired has brought me terror.

Isaiah 21:5 Arrange the table, lay out the carpet, eat and drink! Get up, you officers, smear oil on the shields!

Isaiah 21:6 For this is what the sovereign master has told me: "Go, post a guard! He must report what he sees.

Isaiah 21:7 When he sees chariots, teams of horses, riders on donkeys, riders on camels, he must be alert, very alert."

Isaiah 21:8 Then the guard cries out: "On the watchtower, O sovereign master, I stand all day long; at my post I am stationed every night.

Isaiah 21:9 Look what's coming! A charioteer, a team of horses." When questioned, he replies, "Babylon has fallen, fallen! All the idols of her gods lie shattered on the ground!"

Isaiah 21:10 O my downtrodden people, crushed like stalks on the threshing floor, what I have heard from the LORD who commands armies, the God of Israel, I have reported to you.

Isaiah 21:11 Here is a message about Dumah: Someone calls to me from Seir, "Watchman, what is left of the night? Watchman, what is left of the night?"

Isaiah 21:12 The watchman replies, “Morning is coming, but then night. If you want to ask, ask; come back again.”

Isaiah 21:13 Here is a message about Arabia: In the thicket of Arabia you spend the night, you Dedanite caravans.

Isaiah 21:14 Bring out some water for the thirsty. You who live in the land of Tema, bring some food for the fugitives.

Isaiah 21:15 For they flee from the swords– from the drawn sword and from the battle-ready bow and from the severity of the battle.

Isaiah 21:16 For this is what the sovereign master has told me: “Within exactly one year all the splendor of Kedar will come to an end.

Isaiah 21:17 Just a handful of archers, the warriors of Kedar, will be left.” Indeed, the LORD God of Israel has spoken.

Isaiah 22:1 Here is a message about the Valley of Vision: What is the reason that all of you go up to the rooftops?

Isaiah 22:2 The noisy city is full of raucous sounds; the town is filled with revelry. Your slain were not cut down by the sword; they did not die in battle.

Isaiah 22:3 All your leaders ran away together– they fled to a distant place; all your refugees were captured together– they were captured without a single arrow being shot.

Isaiah 22:4 So I say: “Don’t look at me! I am weeping bitterly. Don’t try to console me concerning the destruction of my defenseless people.”

Isaiah 22:5 For the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies, has planned a day of panic, defeat, and confusion. In the Valley of Vision people shout and cry out to the hill.

Isaiah 22:6 The Elamites picked up the quiver, and came with chariots and horsemen; the men of Kir prepared the shield.

Isaiah 22:7 Your very best valleys were full of chariots; horsemen confidently took their positions at the gate.

Isaiah 22:8 They removed the defenses of Judah. At that time you looked for the weapons in the House of the Forest.

Isaiah 22:9 You saw the many breaks in the walls of the city of David; you stored up water in the lower pool.

Isaiah 22:10 You counted the houses in Jerusalem, and demolished houses so you could have material to reinforce the wall.

Isaiah 22:11 You made a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool– but you did not trust in the one who made it; you did not depend on the one who formed it long ago!

Isaiah 22:12 At that time the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies, called for weeping and mourning, for shaved heads and sackcloth.

Isaiah 22:13 But look, there is outright celebration! You say, “Kill the ox and slaughter the sheep, eat meat and drink wine. Eat and drink, for tomorrow we die!”

Isaiah 22:14 The LORD who commands armies told me this: “Certainly this sin will not be forgiven as long as you live,” says the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies.

Isaiah 22:15 This is what the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies, says: “Go visit this administrator, Shebna, who supervises the palace, and tell him:

Isaiah 22:16 ‘What right do you have to be here? What relatives do you have buried here? Why do you chisel out a tomb for yourself here? He chisels out his burial site in an elevated place, he carves out his tomb on a cliff.

Isaiah 22:17 Look, the LORD will throw you far away, you mere man! He will wrap you up tightly.

Isaiah 22:18 He will wind you up tightly into a ball and throw you into a wide, open land. There you will die, and there with you will be your impressive chariots, which bring disgrace to the house of your master.

Isaiah 22:19 I will remove you from your office; you will be thrown down from your position.

Isaiah 22:20 “At that time I will summon my servant Eliakim, son of Hilkiah.

Isaiah 22:21 I will put your robe on him, tie your belt around him, and transfer your authority to him. He will become a protector of the residents of Jerusalem and of the people of Judah.

Isaiah 22:22 I will place the key to the house of David on his shoulder. When he opens the door, no one can close it; when he closes the door, no one can open it.

Isaiah 22:23 I will fasten him like a peg into a solid place; he will bring honor and respect to his father’s family.

Isaiah 22:24 His father’s family will gain increasing prominence because of him, including the offspring and the offshoots. All the small containers, including the bowls and all the jars will hang from this peg.’

Isaiah 22:25 “At that time,” says the LORD who commands armies, “the peg fastened into a solid place will come loose. It will be cut off and fall, and the load hanging on it will be cut off.” Indeed, the LORD has spoken.

Isaiah 23:1 Here is a message about Tyre: Wail, you large ships, for the port is too devastated to enter! From the land of Cyprus this news is announced to them.

Isaiah 23:2 Lament, you residents of the coast, you merchants of Sidon who travel over the sea, whose agents sail over

Isaiah 23:3 the deep waters! Grain from the Shihor region, crops grown near the Nile she receives; she is the trade center of the nations.

Isaiah 23:4 Be ashamed, O Sidon, for the sea says this, O fortress of the sea: “I have not gone into labor or given birth; I have not raised young men or brought up young women.”

Isaiah 23:5 When the news reaches Egypt, they will be shaken by what has happened to Tyre.

Isaiah 23:6 Travel to Tarshish! Wail, you residents of the coast!

Isaiah 23:7 Is this really your boisterous city whose origins are in the distant past, and whose feet led her to a distant land to reside?

Isaiah 23:8 Who planned this for royal Tyre, whose merchants are princes, whose traders are the dignitaries of the earth?

Isaiah 23:9 The LORD who commands armies planned it– to dishonor the pride that comes from all her beauty, to humiliate all the dignitaries of the earth.

Isaiah 23:10 Daughter Tarshish, travel back to your land, as one crosses the Nile; there is no longer any marketplace in Tyre.

Isaiah 23:11 The LORD stretched out his hand over the sea, he shook kingdoms; he gave the order to destroy Canaan’s fortresses.

Isaiah 23:12 He said, “You will no longer celebrate, oppressed virgin daughter Sidon! Get up, travel to Cyprus, but you will find no relief there.”

Isaiah 23:13 Look at the land of the Chaldeans, these people who have lost their identity! The Assyrians have made it a home for wild animals. They erected their siege towers, demolished its fortresses, and turned it into a heap of ruins.

Isaiah 23:14 Wail, you large ships, for your fortress is destroyed!

Isaiah 23:15 At that time Tyre will be forgotten for seventy years, the typical life span of a king. At the end of seventy years Tyre will try to attract attention again, like the prostitute in the popular song:

Isaiah 23:16 “Take the harp, go through the city, forgotten prostitute! Play it well, play lots of songs, so you’ll be noticed!”

Isaiah 23:17 At the end of seventy years the LORD will revive Tyre. She will start making money again by selling her services to all the earth’s kingdoms.

Isaiah 23:18 Her profits and earnings will be set apart for the LORD. They will not be stored up or accumulated, for her profits will be given to those who live in the LORD’s presence and will be used to purchase large quantities of food and beautiful clothes.

Isaiah 24:1 Look, the LORD is ready to devastate the earth and leave it in ruins; he will mar its surface and scatter its inhabitants.

Isaiah 24:2 Everyone will suffer– the priest as well as the people, the master as well as the servant, the elegant lady as well as the female attendant, the seller as well as the buyer, the borrower as well as the lender, the creditor as well as the debtor.

Isaiah 24:3 The earth will be completely devastated and thoroughly ransacked. For the LORD has decreed this judgment.

Isaiah 24:4 The earth dries up and withers, the world shrivels up and withers; the prominent people of the earth fade away.

Isaiah 24:5 The earth is defiled by its inhabitants, for they have violated laws, disregarded the regulation, and broken the permanent treaty.

Isaiah 24:6 So a treaty curse devours the earth; its inhabitants pay for their guilt. This is why the inhabitants of the earth disappear, and are reduced to just a handful of people.

Isaiah 24:7 The new wine dries up, the vines shrivel up, all those who like to celebrate groan.

Isaiah 24:8 The happy sound of the tambourines stops, the revelry of those who celebrate comes to a halt, the happy sound of the harp ceases.

Isaiah 24:9 They no longer sing and drink wine; the beer tastes bitter to those who drink it.

Isaiah 24:10 The ruined town is shattered; all of the houses are shut up tight.

Isaiah 24:11 They howl in the streets because of what happened to the wine; all joy turns to sorrow; celebrations disappear from the earth.

Isaiah 24:12 The city is left in ruins; the gate is reduced to rubble.

Isaiah 24:13 This is what will happen throughout the earth, among the nations. It will be like when they beat an olive tree, and just a few olives are left at the end of the harvest.

Isaiah 24:14 They lift their voices and shout joyfully; they praise the majesty of the LORD in the west.

Isaiah 24:15 So in the east extol the LORD, along the seacoasts extol the fame of the LORD God of Israel.

Isaiah 24:16 From the ends of the earth we hear songs– the Just One is majestic. But I say, “I’m wasting away! I’m wasting away! I’m doomed! Deceivers deceive, deceivers thoroughly deceive!”

Isaiah 24:17 Terror, pit, and snare are ready to overtake you inhabitants of the earth!

Isaiah 24:18 The one who runs away from the sound of the terror will fall into the pit; the one who climbs out of the pit, will be trapped by the snare. For the floodgates of the heavens are opened up and the foundations of the earth shake.

Isaiah 24:19 The earth is broken in pieces, the earth is ripped to shreds, the earth shakes violently.

Isaiah 24:20 The earth will stagger around like a drunk; it will sway back and forth like a hut in a windstorm. Its sin will weigh it down, and it will fall and never get up again.

Isaiah 24:21 At that time the LORD will punish the heavenly forces in the heavens and the earthly kings on the earth.

Isaiah 24:22 They will be imprisoned in a pit, locked up in a prison, and after staying there for a long time, they will be punished.

Isaiah 24:23 The full moon will be covered up, the bright sun will be darkened; for the LORD who commands armies will rule on Mount Zion in Jerusalem in the presence of his assembly, in majestic splendor.

Isaiah 25:1 O LORD, you are my God! I will exalt you in praise, I will extol your fame. For you have done extraordinary things, and executed plans made long ago exactly as you decreed.

Isaiah 25:2 Indeed, you have made the city into a heap of rubble, the fortified town into a heap of ruins; the fortress of foreigners is no longer a city, it will never be rebuilt.

Isaiah 25:3 So a strong nation will extol you; the towns of powerful nations will fear you.

Isaiah 25:4 For you are a protector for the poor, a protector for the needy in their distress, a shelter from the rainstorm, a shade from the heat. Though the breath of tyrants is like a winter rainstorm,

Isaiah 25:5 like heat in a dry land, you humble the boasting foreigners. Just as the shadow of a cloud causes the heat to subside, so he causes the song of tyrants to cease.

Isaiah 25:6 The LORD who commands armies will hold a banquet for all the nations on this mountain. At this banquet there will be plenty of meat and aged wine– tender meat and choicest wine.

Isaiah 25:7 On this mountain he will swallow up the shroud that is over all the peoples, the woven covering that is over all the nations;

Isaiah 25:8 he will swallow up death permanently. The sovereign LORD will wipe away the tears from every face, and remove his people’s disgrace from all the earth. Indeed, the LORD has announced it!

Isaiah 25:9 At that time they will say, “Look, here is our God! We waited for him and he delivered us. Here is the LORD! We waited for him. Let’s rejoice and celebrate his deliverance!”

Isaiah 25:10 For the LORD’s power will make this mountain secure. Moab will be trampled down where it stands, as a heap of straw is trampled down in a manure pile.

Isaiah 25:11 Moab will spread out its hands in the middle of it, just as a swimmer spreads his hands to swim; the LORD will bring down Moab's pride as it spreads its hands.

Isaiah 25:12 The fortified city (along with the very tops of your walls) he will knock down, he will bring it down, he will throw it down to the dusty ground.

Isaiah 26:1 At that time this song will be sung in the land of Judah: "We have a strong city! The LORD's deliverance, like walls and a rampart, makes it secure.

Isaiah 26:2 Open the gates so a righteous nation can enter– one that remains trustworthy.

Isaiah 26:3 You keep completely safe the people who maintain their faith, for they trust in you.

Isaiah 26:4 Trust in the LORD from this time forward, even in Yah, the LORD, an enduring protector!

Isaiah 26:5 Indeed, the LORD knocks down those who live in a high place, he brings down an elevated town; he brings it down to the ground, he throws it down to the dust.

Isaiah 26:6 It is trampled underfoot by the feet of the oppressed, by the soles of the poor."

Isaiah 26:7 The way of the righteous is level, the path of the righteous that you make is straight.

Isaiah 26:8 Yes, as your judgments unfold, O LORD, we wait for you. We desire your fame and reputation to grow.

Isaiah 26:9 I look for you during the night, my spirit within me seeks you at dawn, for when your judgments come upon the earth, those who live in the world learn about justice.

Isaiah 26:10 If the wicked are shown mercy, they do not learn about justice. Even in a land where right is rewarded, they act unjustly; they do not see the LORD's majesty revealed.

Isaiah 26:11 O LORD, you are ready to act, but they don't even notice. They will see and be put to shame by your angry judgment against humankind, yes, fire will consume your enemies.

Isaiah 26:12 O LORD, you make us secure, for even all we have accomplished, you have done for us.

Isaiah 26:13 O LORD, our God, masters other than you have ruled us, but we praise your name alone.

Isaiah 26:14 The dead do not come back to life, the spirits of the dead do not rise. That is because you came in judgment and destroyed them, you wiped out all memory of them.

Isaiah 26:15 You have made the nation larger, O LORD, you have made the nation larger and revealed your splendor, you have extended all the borders of the land.

Isaiah 26:16 O LORD, in distress they looked for you; they uttered incantations because of your discipline.

Isaiah 26:17 As when a pregnant woman gets ready to deliver and strains and cries out because of her labor pains, so were we because of you, O LORD.

Isaiah 26:18 We were pregnant, we strained, we gave birth, as it were, to wind. We cannot produce deliverance on the earth; people to populate the world are not born.

Isaiah 26:19 Your dead will come back to life; your corpses will rise up. Wake up and shout joyfully, you who live in the ground! For you will grow like plants drenched with the morning dew, and the earth will bring forth its dead spirits.

Isaiah 26:20 Go, my people! Enter your inner rooms! Close your doors behind you! Hide for a little while, until his angry judgment is over!

Isaiah 26:21 For look, the LORD is coming out of the place where he lives, to punish the sin of those who live on the earth. The earth will display the blood shed on it; it will no longer cover up its slain.

Isaiah 27:1 At that time the LORD will punish with his destructive, great, and powerful sword Leviathan the fast-moving serpent, Leviathan the squirming serpent; he will kill the sea monster.

Isaiah 27:2 When that time comes, sing about a delightful vineyard!

Isaiah 27:3 I, the LORD, protect it; I water it regularly. I guard it night and day, so no one can harm it.

Isaiah 27:4 I am not angry. I wish I could confront some thorns and briers! Then I would march against them for battle; I would set them all on fire,

Isaiah 27:5 unless they became my subjects and made peace with me; let them make peace with me.

Isaiah 27:6 The time is coming when Jacob will take root; Israel will blossom and grow branches. The produce will fill the surface of the world.

Isaiah 27:7 Has the LORD struck down Israel like he did their oppressors? Has Israel been killed like their enemies?

Isaiah 27:8 When you summon her for divorce, you prosecute her; he drives her away with his strong wind in the day of the east wind.

Isaiah 27:9 So in this way Jacob's sin will be forgiven, and this is how they will show they are finished sinning: They will make all the stones of the altars like crushed limestone, and the Asherah poles and the incense altars will no longer stand.

Isaiah 27:10 For the fortified city is left alone; it is a deserted settlement and abandoned like the desert. Calves graze there; they lie down there and eat its branches bare.

Isaiah 27:11 When its branches get brittle, they break; women come and use them for kindling. For these people lack understanding, therefore the one who made them has no compassion on them; the one who formed them has no mercy on them.

Isaiah 27:12 At that time the LORD will shake the tree, from the Euphrates River to the Stream of Egypt. Then you will be gathered up one by one, O Israelites.

Isaiah 27:13 At that time a large trumpet will be blown, and the ones lost in the land of Assyria will come, as well as the refugees in the land of Egypt. They will worship the LORD on the holy mountain in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 28:1 The splendid crown of Ephraim’s drunkards is doomed, the withering flower, its beautiful splendor, situated at the head of a rich valley, the crown of those overcome with wine.

Isaiah 28:2 Look, the sovereign master sends a strong, powerful one. With the force of a hailstorm or a destructive windstorm, with the might of a driving, torrential rainstorm, he will knock that crown to the ground with his hand.

Isaiah 28:3 The splendid crown of Ephraim’s drunkards will be trampled underfoot.

Isaiah 28:4 The withering flower, its beautiful splendor, situated at the head of a rich valley, will be like an early fig before harvest– as soon as someone notices it, he grabs it and swallows it.

Isaiah 28:5 At that time the LORD who commands armies will become a beautiful crown and a splendid diadem for the remnant of his people.

Isaiah 28:6 He will give discernment to the one who makes judicial decisions, and strength to those who defend the city from attackers.

Isaiah 28:7 Even these men stagger because of wine, they stumble around because of beer– priests and prophets stagger because of beer, they are confused because of wine, they stumble around because of beer; they stagger while seeing prophetic visions, they totter while making legal decisions.

Isaiah 28:8 Indeed, all the tables are covered with vomit; no place is untouched.

Isaiah 28:9 Who is the LORD trying to teach? To whom is he explaining a message? Those just weaned from milk! Those just taken from their mother’s breast!

Isaiah 28:10 Indeed, they will hear meaningless gibberish, senseless babbling, a syllable here, a syllable there.

Isaiah 28:11 For with mocking lips and a foreign tongue he will speak to these people.

Isaiah 28:12 In the past he said to them, “This is where security can be found. Provide security for the one who is exhausted! This is where rest can be found.” But they refused to listen.

Isaiah 28:13 So the LORD’s word to them will sound like meaningless gibberish, senseless babbling, a syllable here, a syllable there. As a result, they will fall on their backsides when they try to walk, and be injured, ensnared, and captured.

Isaiah 28:14 Therefore, listen to the LORD’s word, you who mock, you rulers of these people who reside in Jerusalem!

Isaiah 28:15 For you say, “We have made a treaty with death, with Sheol we have made an agreement. When the overwhelming judgment sweeps by it will not reach us. For we have made a lie our refuge, we have hidden ourselves in a deceitful word.”

Isaiah 28:16 Therefore, this is what the sovereign master, the LORD, says: “Look, I am laying a stone in Zion, an approved stone, set in place as a precious cornerstone for the foundation. The one who maintains his faith will not panic.

Isaiah 28:17 I will make justice the measuring line, fairness the plumb line; hail will sweep away the unreliable refuge, the floodwaters will overwhelm the hiding place.

Isaiah 28:18 Your treaty with death will be dissolved; your agreement with Sheol will not last. When the overwhelming judgment sweeps by, you will be overrun by it.

Isaiah 28:19 Whenever it sweeps by, it will overtake you; indeed, every morning it will sweep by, it will come through during the day and the night.” When this announcement is understood, it will cause nothing but terror.

Isaiah 28:20 For the bed is too short to stretch out on, and the blanket is too narrow to wrap around oneself.

Isaiah 28:21 For the LORD will rise up, as he did at Mount Perazim, he will rouse himself, as he did in the Valley of Gibeon, to accomplish his work, his peculiar work, to perform his task, his strange task.

Isaiah 28:22 So now, do not mock, or your chains will become heavier! For I have heard a message about decreed destruction, from the sovereign master, the LORD who commands armies, against the entire land.

Isaiah 28:23 Pay attention and listen to my message! Be attentive and listen to what I have to say!

Isaiah 28:24 Does a farmer just keep on plowing at planting time? Does he keep breaking up and harrowing his ground?

Isaiah 28:25 Once he has leveled its surface, does he not scatter the seed of the caraway plant, sow the seed of the cumin plant, and plant the wheat, barley, and grain in their designated places?

Isaiah 28:26 His God instructs him; he teaches him the principles of agriculture.

Isaiah 28:27 Certainly caraway seed is not threshed with a sledge, nor is the wheel of a cart rolled over cumin seed. Certainly caraway seed is beaten with a stick, and cumin seed with a flail.

Isaiah 28:28 Grain is crushed, though one certainly does not thresh it forever. The wheel of one's wagon rolls over it, but his horses do not crush it.

Isaiah 28:29 This also comes from the LORD who commands armies, who gives supernatural guidance and imparts great wisdom.

Isaiah 29:1 Ariel is as good as dead– Ariel, the town David besieged! Keep observing your annual rituals, celebrate your festivals on schedule.

Isaiah 29:2 I will threaten Ariel, and she will mourn intensely and become like an altar hearth before me.

Isaiah 29:3 I will lay siege to you on all sides; I will besiege you with troops; I will raise siege works against you.

Isaiah 29:4 You will fall; while lying on the ground you will speak; from the dust where you lie, your words will be heard. Your voice will sound like a spirit speaking from the underworld; from the dust you will chirp as if muttering an incantation.

Isaiah 29:5 But the horde of invaders will be like fine dust, the horde of tyrants like chaff that is blown away. It will happen suddenly, in a flash.

Isaiah 29:6 Judgment will come from the LORD who commands armies, accompanied by thunder, earthquake, and a loud noise, by a strong gale, a windstorm, and a consuming flame of fire.

Isaiah 29:7 It will be like a dream, a night vision. There will be a horde from all the nations that fight against Ariel, those who attack her and her stronghold and besiege her.

Isaiah 29:8 It will be like a hungry man dreaming that he is eating, only to awaken and find that his stomach is empty. It will be like a thirsty man dreaming that he is drinking, only to awaken and find that he is still weak and his thirst unquenched. So it will be for the horde from all the nations that fight against Mount Zion.

Isaiah 29:9 You will be shocked and amazed! You are totally blind! They are drunk, but not because of wine; they stagger, but not because of beer.

Isaiah 29:10 For the LORD has poured out on you a strong urge to sleep deeply. He has shut your eyes (the prophets), and covered your heads (the seers).

Isaiah 29:11 To you this entire prophetic revelation is like words in a sealed scroll. When they hand it to one who can read and say, “Read this,” he responds, “I can’t, because it is sealed.”

Isaiah 29:12 Or when they hand the scroll to one who can’t read and say, “Read this,” he says, “I can’t read.”

Isaiah 29:13 The sovereign master says, “These people say they are loyal to me; they say wonderful things about me, but they are not really loyal to me. Their worship consists of nothing but man-made ritual.

Isaiah 29:14 Therefore I will again do an amazing thing for these people– an absolutely extraordinary deed. Wise men will have nothing to say, the sages will have no explanations.”

Isaiah 29:15 Those who try to hide their plans from the LORD are as good as dead, who do their work in secret and boast, “Who sees us? Who knows what we’re doing?”

Isaiah 29:16 Your thinking is perverse! Should the potter be regarded as clay? Should the thing made say about its maker, “He didn’t make me”? Or should the pottery say about the potter, “He doesn’t understand”?

Isaiah 29:17 In just a very short time Lebanon will turn into an orchard, and the orchard will be considered a forest.

Isaiah 29:18 At that time the deaf will be able to hear words read from a scroll, and the eyes of the blind will be able to see through deep darkness.

Isaiah 29:19 The downtrodden will again rejoice in the LORD; the poor among humankind will take delight in the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 29:20 For tyrants will disappear, those who taunt will vanish, and all those who love to do wrong will be eliminated–

Isaiah 29:21 those who bear false testimony against a person, who entrap the one who arbitrates at the city gate and deprive the innocent of justice by making false charges.

Isaiah 29:22 So this is what the LORD, the one who delivered Abraham, says to the family of Jacob: “Jacob will no longer be ashamed; their faces will no longer show their embarrassment.

Isaiah 29:23 For when they see their children, whom I will produce among them, they will honor my name. They will honor the Holy One of Jacob; they will respect the God of Israel.

Isaiah 29:24 Those who stray morally will gain understanding; those who complain will acquire insight.

Isaiah 30:1 “The rebellious children are as good as dead,” says the LORD, “those who make plans without consulting me, who form alliances without consulting my Spirit, and thereby compound their sin.

Isaiah 30:2 They travel down to Egypt without seeking my will, seeking Pharaoh's protection, and looking for safety in Egypt's protective shade.

Isaiah 30:3 But Pharaoh's protection will bring you nothing but shame, and the safety of Egypt's protective shade nothing but humiliation.

Isaiah 30:4 Though his officials are in Zoan and his messengers arrive at Hanes,

Isaiah 30:5 all will be put to shame because of a nation that cannot help them, who cannot give them aid or help, but only shame and disgrace."

Isaiah 30:6 This is a message about the animals in the Negev: Through a land of distress and danger, inhabited by lionesses and roaring lions, by snakes and darting adders, they transport their wealth on the backs of donkeys, their riches on the humps of camels, to a nation that cannot help them.

Isaiah 30:7 Egypt is totally incapable of helping. For this reason I call her 'Proud one who is silenced.'"

Isaiah 30:8 Now go, write it down on a tablet in their presence, inscribe it on a scroll, so that it might be preserved for a future time as an enduring witness.

Isaiah 30:9 For these are rebellious people– they are lying children, children unwilling to obey the LORD's law.

Isaiah 30:10 They say to the visionaries, "See no more visions!" and to the seers, "Don't relate messages to us about what is right! Tell us nice things, relate deceptive messages.

Isaiah 30:11 Turn aside from the way, stray off the path. Remove from our presence the Holy One of Israel."

Isaiah 30:12 For this reason this is what the Holy One of Israel says: "You have rejected this message; you trust instead in your ability to oppress and trick, and rely on that kind of behavior.

Isaiah 30:13 So this sin will become your downfall. You will be like a high wall that bulges and cracks and is ready to collapse; it crumbles suddenly, in a flash.

Isaiah 30:14 It shatters in pieces like a clay jar, so shattered to bits that none of it can be salvaged. Among its fragments one cannot find a shard large enough to scoop a hot coal from a fire or to skim off water from a cistern."

Isaiah 30:15 For this is what the master, the LORD, the Holy One of Israel says: "If you repented and patiently waited for me, you would be delivered; if you calmly trusted in me you would find strength, but you are unwilling.

Isaiah 30:16 You say, ‘No, we will flee on horses,’ so you will indeed flee. You say, ‘We will ride on fast horses,’ so your pursuers will be fast.

Isaiah 30:17 One thousand will scurry at the battle cry of one enemy soldier; at the battle cry of five enemy soldiers you will all run away, until the remaining few are as isolated as a flagpole on a mountaintop or a signal flag on a hill.”

Isaiah 30:18 For this reason the LORD is ready to show you mercy; he sits on his throne, ready to have compassion on you. Indeed, the LORD is a just God; all who wait for him in faith will be blessed.

Isaiah 30:19 For people will live in Zion; in Jerusalem you will weep no more. When he hears your cry of despair, he will indeed show you mercy; when he hears it, he will respond to you.

Isaiah 30:20 The sovereign master will give you distress to eat and suffering to drink; but your teachers will no longer be hidden; your eyes will see them.

Isaiah 30:21 You will hear a word spoken behind you, saying, “This is the correct way, walk in it,” whether you are heading to the right or the left.

Isaiah 30:22 You will desecrate your silver-plated idols and your gold-plated images. You will throw them away as if they were a menstrual rag, saying to them, “Get out!”

Isaiah 30:23 He will water the seed you plant in the ground, and the ground will produce crops in abundance. At that time your cattle will graze in wide pastures.

Isaiah 30:24 The oxen and donkeys used in plowing will eat seasoned feed winnowed with a shovel and pitchfork.

Isaiah 30:25 On every high mountain and every high hill there will be streams flowing with water, at the time of great slaughter when the fortified towers collapse.

Isaiah 30:26 The light of the full moon will be like the sun’s glare and the sun’s glare will be seven times brighter, like the light of seven days, when the LORD binds up his people’s fractured bones and heals their severe wound.

Isaiah 30:27 Look, the name of the LORD comes from a distant place in raging anger and awesome splendor. He speaks angrily and his word is like destructive fire.

Isaiah 30:28 His battle cry overwhelms like a flooding river that reaches one’s neck. He shakes the nations in a sieve that isolates the chaff; he puts a bit into the mouth of the nations and leads them to destruction.

Isaiah 30:29 You will sing as you do in the evening when you are celebrating a festival. You will be happy like one who plays a flute as he goes to the mountain of the LORD, the Rock who shelters Israel.

Isaiah 30:30 The LORD will give a mighty shout and intervene in power, with furious anger and flaming, destructive fire, with a driving rainstorm and hailstones.

Isaiah 30:31 Indeed, the LORD's shout will shatter Assyria; he will beat them with a club.

Isaiah 30:32 Every blow from his punishing cudgel, with which the LORD will beat them, will be accompanied by music from the tambourine and harp, and he will attack them with his weapons.

Isaiah 30:33 For the burial place is already prepared; it has been made deep and wide for the king. The firewood is piled high on it. The LORD's breath, like a stream flowing with brimstone, will ignite it.

Isaiah 31:1 Those who go down to Egypt for help are as good as dead, those who rely on war horses, and trust in Egypt's many chariots and in their many, many horsemen. But they do not rely on the Holy One of Israel and do not seek help from the LORD.

Isaiah 31:2 Yet he too is wise and he will bring disaster; he does not retract his decree. He will attack the wicked nation, and the nation that helps those who commit sin.

Isaiah 31:3 The Egyptians are mere humans, not God; their horses are made of flesh, not spirit. The LORD will strike with his hand; the one who helps will stumble and the one being helped will fall. Together they will perish.

Isaiah 31:4 Indeed, this is what the LORD says to me: "The LORD will be like a growling lion, like a young lion growling over its prey. Though a whole group of shepherds gathers against it, it is not afraid of their shouts or intimidated by their yelling. In this same way the LORD who commands armies will descend to do battle on Mount Zion and on its hill.

Isaiah 31:5 Just as birds hover over a nest, so the LORD who commands armies will protect Jerusalem. He will protect and deliver it; as he passes over he will rescue it.

Isaiah 31:6 You Israelites! Return to the one against whom you have so blatantly rebelled!

Isaiah 31:7 For at that time everyone will get rid of the silver and gold idols your hands sinfully made.

Isaiah 31:8 Assyria will fall by a sword, but not one human-made; a sword not made by humankind will destroy them. They will run away from this sword and their young men will be forced to do hard labor.

Isaiah 31:9 They will surrender their stronghold because of fear; their officers will be afraid of the LORD's battle flag." This is what the LORD says– the one whose fire is in Zion, whose firepot is in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 32:1 Look, a king will promote fairness; officials will promote justice.

Isaiah 32:2 Each of them will be like a shelter from the wind and a refuge from a rainstorm; like streams of water in a dry region and like the shade of a large cliff in a parched land.

Isaiah 32:3 Eyes will no longer be blind and ears will be attentive.

Isaiah 32:4 The mind that acts rashly will possess discernment and the tongue that stutters will speak with ease and clarity.

Isaiah 32:5 A fool will no longer be called honorable; a deceiver will no longer be called principled.

Isaiah 32:6 For a fool speaks disgraceful things; his mind plans out sinful deeds. He commits godless deeds and says misleading things about the LORD; he gives the hungry nothing to satisfy their appetite and gives the thirsty nothing to drink.

Isaiah 32:7 A deceiver's methods are evil; he dreams up evil plans to ruin the poor with lies, even when the needy are in the right.

Isaiah 32:8 An honorable man makes honorable plans; his honorable character gives him security.

Isaiah 32:9 You complacent women, get up and listen to me! You carefree daughters, pay attention to what I say!

Isaiah 32:10 In a year's time you carefree ones will shake with fear, for the grape harvest will fail, and the fruit harvest will not arrive.

Isaiah 32:11 Tremble, you complacent ones! Shake with fear, you carefree ones! Strip off your clothes and expose yourselves– put sackcloth on your waist!

Isaiah 32:12 Mourn over the field, over the delightful fields and the fruitful vine!

Isaiah 32:13 Mourn over the land of my people, which is overgrown with thorns and briers, and over all the once-happy houses in the city filled with revelry.

Isaiah 32:14 For the fortress is neglected; the once-crowded city is abandoned. Hill and watchtower are permanently uninhabited. Wild donkeys love to go there, and flocks graze there.

Isaiah 32:15 This desolation will continue until new life is poured out on us from heaven. Then the desert will become an orchard and the orchard will be considered a forest.

Isaiah 32:16 Justice will settle down in the desert and fairness will live in the orchard.

Isaiah 32:17 Fairness will produce peace and result in lasting security.

Isaiah 32:18 My people will live in peaceful settlements, in secure homes, and in safe, quiet places.

Isaiah 32:19 Even if the forest is destroyed and the city is annihilated, Isaiah 32:20 you will be blessed, you who plant seed by all the banks of the streams, you who let your ox and donkey graze.

Isaiah 33:1 The destroyer is as good as dead, you who have not been destroyed! The deceitful one is as good as dead, the one whom others have not deceived! When you are through destroying, you will be destroyed; when you finish deceiving, others will deceive you!

Isaiah 33:2 LORD, be merciful to us! We wait for you. Give us strength each morning! Deliver us when distress comes.

Isaiah 33:3 The nations run away when they hear a loud noise; the nations scatter when you spring into action!

Isaiah 33:4 Your plunder disappears as if locusts were eating it; they swarm over it like locusts!

Isaiah 33:5 The LORD is exalted, indeed, he lives in heaven; he fills Zion with justice and fairness.

Isaiah 33:6 He is your constant source of stability; he abundantly provides safety and great wisdom; he gives all this to those who fear him.

Isaiah 33:7 Look, ambassadors cry out in the streets; messengers sent to make peace weep bitterly.

Isaiah 33:8 Highways are empty, there are no travelers. Treaties are broken, witnesses are despised, human life is treated with disrespect.

Isaiah 33:9 The land dries up and withers away; the forest of Lebanon shrivels up and decays. Sharon is like the desert; Bashan and Carmel are parched.

Isaiah 33:10 “Now I will rise up,” says the LORD. “Now I will exalt myself; now I will magnify myself.

Isaiah 33:11 You conceive straw, you give birth to chaff; your breath is a fire that destroys you.

Isaiah 33:12 The nations will be burned to ashes; like thorn bushes that have been cut down, they will be set on fire.

Isaiah 33:13 You who are far away, listen to what I have done! You who are close by, recognize my strength!”

Isaiah 33:14 Sinners are afraid in Zion; panic grips the godless. They say, ‘Who among us can coexist with destructive fire? Who among us can coexist with unquenchable fire?’

Isaiah 33:15 The one who lives uprightly and speaks honestly; the one who refuses to profit from oppressive measures and rejects a bribe; the one who does not plot violent crimes and does not seek to harm others–

Isaiah 33:16 This is the person who will live in a secure place; he will find safety in the rocky, mountain strongholds; he will have food and a constant supply of water.

Isaiah 33:17 You will see a king in his splendor; you will see a wide land.

Isaiah 33:18 Your mind will recall the terror you experienced, and you will ask yourselves, “Where is the scribe? Where is the one who weighs the money? Where is the one who counts the towers?”

Isaiah 33:19 You will no longer see a defiant people whose language you do not comprehend, whose derisive speech you do not understand.

Isaiah 33:20 Look at Zion, the city where we hold religious festivals! You will see Jerusalem, a peaceful settlement, a tent that stays put; its stakes will never be pulled up; none of its ropes will snap in two.

Isaiah 33:21 Instead the LORD will rule there as our mighty king. Rivers and wide streams will flow through it; no war galley will enter; no large ships will sail through.

Isaiah 33:22 For the LORD, our ruler, the LORD, our commander, the LORD, our king– he will deliver us.

Isaiah 33:23 Though at this time your ropes are slack, the mast is not secured, and the sail is not unfurled, at that time you will divide up a great quantity of loot; even the lame will drag off plunder.

Isaiah 33:24 No resident of Zion will say, “I am ill”; the people who live there will have their sin forgiven.

Isaiah 34:1 Come near, you nations, and listen! Pay attention, you people! The earth and everything it contains must listen, the world and everything that lives in it.

Isaiah 34:2 For the LORD is angry at all the nations and furious with all their armies. He will annihilate them and slaughter them.

Isaiah 34:3 Their slain will be left unburied, their corpses will stink; the hills will soak up their blood.

Isaiah 34:4 All the stars in the sky will fade away, the sky will roll up like a scroll; all its stars will wither, like a leaf withers and falls from a vine or a fig withers and falls from a tree.

Isaiah 34:5 He says, “Indeed, my sword has slaughtered heavenly powers. Look, it now descends on Edom, on the people I will annihilate in judgment.”

Isaiah 34:6 The LORD’s sword is dripping with blood, it is covered with fat; it drips with the blood of young rams and goats and is covered with the fat of rams’ kidneys. For the LORD is holding a sacrifice in Bozrah, a bloody slaughter in the land of Edom.

Isaiah 34:7 Wild oxen will be slaughtered along with them, as well as strong bulls. Their land is drenched with blood, their soil is covered with fat.

Isaiah 34:8 For the LORD has planned a day of revenge, a time when he will repay Edom for her hostility toward Zion.

Isaiah 34:9 Edom’s streams will be turned into pitch and her soil into brimstone; her land will become burning pitch.

Isaiah 34:10 Night and day it will burn; its smoke will ascend continually. Generation after generation it will be a wasteland and no one will ever pass through it again.

Isaiah 34:11 Owls and wild animals will live there, all kinds of wild birds will settle in it. The LORD will stretch out over her the measuring line of ruin and the plumb line of destruction.

Isaiah 34:12 Her nobles will have nothing left to call a kingdom and all her officials will disappear.

Isaiah 34:13 Her fortresses will be overgrown with thorns; thickets and weeds will grow in her fortified cities. Jackals will settle there; ostriches will live there.

Isaiah 34:14 Wild animals and wild dogs will congregate there; wild goats will bleat to one another. Yes, nocturnal animals will rest there and make for themselves a nest.

Isaiah 34:15 Owls will make nests and lay eggs there; they will hatch them and protect them. Yes, hawks will gather there, each with its mate.

Isaiah 34:16 Carefully read the scroll of the LORD! Not one of these creatures will be missing, none will lack a mate. For the LORD has issued the decree, and his own spirit gathers them.

Isaiah 34:17 He assigns them their allotment; he measures out their assigned place. They will live there permanently; they will settle in it through successive generations.

Isaiah 35:1 Let the desert and dry region be happy; let the wilderness rejoice and bloom like a lily!

Isaiah 35:2 Let it richly bloom; let it rejoice and shout with delight! It is given the grandeur of Lebanon, the splendor of Carmel and Sharon. They will see the grandeur of the LORD, the splendor of our God.

Isaiah 35:3 Strengthen the hands that have gone limp, steady the knees that shake!

Isaiah 35:4 Tell those who panic, “Be strong! Do not fear! Look, your God comes to avenge! With divine retribution he comes to deliver you.”

Isaiah 35:5 Then blind eyes will open, deaf ears will hear.

Isaiah 35:6 Then the lame will leap like a deer, the mute tongue will shout for joy; for water will flow in the desert, streams in the wilderness.

Isaiah 35:7 The dry soil will become a pool of water, the parched ground springs of water. Where jackals once lived and sprawled out, grass, reeds, and papyrus will grow.

Isaiah 35:8 A thoroughfare will be there– it will be called the Way of Holiness. The unclean will not travel on it; it is reserved for those authorized to use it– fools will not stray into it.

Isaiah 35:9 No lions will be there, no ferocious wild animals will be on it– they will not be found there. Those delivered from bondage will travel on it,

Isaiah 35:10 those whom the LORD has ransomed will return that way. They will enter Zion with a happy shout. Unending joy will crown them, happiness and joy will overwhelm them; grief and suffering will disappear.

Isaiah 36:1 In the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah's reign, King Sennacherib of Assyria marched up against all the fortified cities of Judah and captured them.

Isaiah 36:2 The king of Assyria sent his chief adviser from Lachish to King Hezekiah in Jerusalem, along with a large army. The chief adviser stood at the conduit of the upper pool which is located on the road to the field where they wash and dry cloth.

Isaiah 36:3 Eliakim son of Hilkiah, the palace supervisor, accompanied by Shebna the scribe and Joah son of Asaph, the secretary, went out to meet him.

Isaiah 36:4 The chief adviser said to them, "Tell Hezekiah: 'This is what the great king, the king of Assyria, says: "What is your source of confidence?

Isaiah 36:5 Your claim to have a strategy and military strength is just empty talk. In whom are you trusting, that you would dare to rebel against me?

Isaiah 36:6 Look, you must be trusting in Egypt, that splintered reed staff. If someone leans on it for support, it punctures his hand and wounds him. That is what Pharaoh king of Egypt does to all who trust in him!

Isaiah 36:7 Perhaps you will tell me, 'We are trusting in the LORD our God.' But Hezekiah is the one who eliminated his high places and altars and then told the people of Judah and Jerusalem, 'You must worship at this altar.'

Isaiah 36:8 Now make a deal with my master the king of Assyria, and I will give you two thousand horses, provided you can find enough riders for them.

Isaiah 36:9 Certainly you will not refuse one of my master's minor officials and trust in Egypt for chariots and horsemen.

Isaiah 36:10 Furthermore it was by the command of the LORD that I marched up against this land to destroy it. The LORD told me, 'March up against this land and destroy it!'""

Isaiah 36:11 Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah said to the chief adviser, "Speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it. Don't speak with us in the Judahite dialect in the hearing of the people who are on the wall."

Isaiah 36:12 But the chief adviser said, “My master did not send me to speak these words only to your master and to you. His message is also for the men who sit on the wall, for they will eat their own excrement and drink their own urine along with you!”

Isaiah 36:13 The chief adviser then stood there and called out loudly in the Judahite dialect, “Listen to the message of the great king, the king of Assyria.

Isaiah 36:14 This is what the king says: ‘Don’t let Hezekiah mislead you, for he is not able to rescue you!

Isaiah 36:15 Don’t let Hezekiah talk you into trusting in the LORD by saying, “The LORD will certainly rescue us; this city will not be handed over to the king of Assyria.”

Isaiah 36:16 Don’t listen to Hezekiah!’ For this is what the king of Assyria says, ‘Send me a token of your submission and surrender to me. Then each of you may eat from his own vine and fig tree and drink water from his own cistern,

Isaiah 36:17 until I come and take you to a land just like your own– a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

Isaiah 36:18 Hezekiah is misleading you when he says, “The LORD will rescue us.” Has any of the gods of the nations rescued his land from the power of the king of Assyria?

Isaiah 36:19 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Indeed, did any gods rescue Samaria from my power?

Isaiah 36:20 Who among all the gods of these lands have rescued their lands from my power? So how can the LORD rescue Jerusalem from my power?’“

Isaiah 36:21 They were silent and did not respond, for the king had ordered, “Don’t respond to him.”

Isaiah 36:22 Eliakim son of Hilkiah, the palace supervisor, accompanied by Shebna the scribe and Joah son of Asaph, the secretary, went to Hezekiah with their clothes torn in grief and reported to him what the chief adviser had said.

Isaiah 37:1 When King Hezekiah heard this, he tore his clothes, put on sackcloth, and went to the LORD’s temple.

Isaiah 37:2 Eliakim the palace supervisor, Shebna the scribe, and the leading priests, clothed in sackcloth, sent this message to the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz:

Isaiah 37:3 “This is what Hezekiah says: ‘This is a day of distress, insults, and humiliation, as when a baby is ready to leave the birth canal, but the mother lacks the strength to push it through.

Isaiah 37:4 Perhaps the LORD your God will hear all these things the chief adviser has spoken on behalf of his master, the king of Assyria, who sent him to taunt the living God. When the LORD your God hears, perhaps he will punish him for the things he has said. So pray for this remnant that remains.'"

Isaiah 37:5 When King Hezekiah's servants came to Isaiah,

Isaiah 37:6 Isaiah said to them, "Tell your master this: 'This is what the LORD says: "Don't be afraid because of the things you have heard– these insults the king of Assyria's servants have hurled against me.

Isaiah 37:7 Look, I will take control of his mind; he will receive a report and return to his own land. I will cut him down with a sword in his own land."'"

Isaiah 37:8 When the chief adviser heard the king of Assyria had departed from Lachish, he left and went to Libnah, where the king was campaigning.

Isaiah 37:9 The king heard that King Tirhakah of Ethiopia was marching out to fight him. He again sent messengers to Hezekiah, ordering them:

Isaiah 37:10 "Tell King Hezekiah of Judah this: 'Don't let your God in whom you trust mislead you when he says, "Jerusalem will not be handed over to the king of Assyria."

Isaiah 37:11 Certainly you have heard how the kings of Assyria have annihilated all lands. Do you really think you will be rescued?

Isaiah 37:12 Were the nations whom my predecessors destroyed– the nations of Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden in Telassar– rescued by their gods?

Isaiah 37:13 Where are the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, and the kings of Lair, Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah?'"

Isaiah 37:14 Hezekiah took the letter from the messengers and read it. Then Hezekiah went up to the LORD's temple and spread it out before the LORD.

Isaiah 37:15 Hezekiah prayed before the LORD:

Isaiah 37:16 "O LORD who commands armies, O God of Israel, who is enthroned on the cherubim! You alone are God over all the kingdoms of the earth. You made the sky and the earth.

Isaiah 37:17 Pay attention, LORD, and hear! Open your eyes, LORD, and observe! Listen to this entire message Sennacherib sent and how he taunts the living God!

Isaiah 37:18 It is true, LORD, that the kings of Assyria have destroyed all the nations and their lands.

Isaiah 37:19 They have burned the gods of the nations, for they are not really gods, but only the product of human hands manufactured from wood and stone. That is why the Assyrians could destroy them.

Isaiah 37:20 Now, O LORD our God, rescue us from his power, so all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you alone are the LORD.”

Isaiah 37:21 Isaiah son of Amoz sent this message to Hezekiah: “This is what the LORD God of Israel says: ‘Because you prayed to me concerning King Sennacherib of Assyria, Isaiah 37:22 this is what the LORD says about him: “The virgin daughter Zion despises you– she makes fun of you; daughter Jerusalem shakes her head after you.

Isaiah 37:23 Whom have you taunted and hurled insults at? At whom have you shouted and looked so arrogantly? At the Holy One of Israel!

Isaiah 37:24 Through your messengers you taunted the sovereign master, ‘With my many chariots I climbed up the high mountains, the slopes of Lebanon. I cut down its tall cedars and its best evergreens. I invaded its most remote regions, its thickest woods.

Isaiah 37:25 I dug wells and drank water. With the soles of my feet I dried up all the rivers of Egypt.’

Isaiah 37:26 Certainly you must have heard! Long ago I worked it out, in ancient times I planned it, and now I am bringing it to pass. The plan is this: Fortified cities will crash into heaps of ruins.

Isaiah 37:27 Their residents are powerless; they are terrified and ashamed. They are as short-lived as plants in the field or green vegetation. They are as short-lived as grass on the rooftops when it is scorched by the east wind.

Isaiah 37:28 I know where you live and everything you do and how you rage against me.

Isaiah 37:29 Because you rage against me and the uproar you create has reached my ears, I will put my hook in your nose, and my bridle between your lips, and I will lead you back the way you came.”

Isaiah 37:30 “This will be your reminder that I have spoken the truth: This year you will eat what grows wild, and next year what grows on its own. But the year after that you will plant seed and harvest crops; you will plant vines and consume their produce.

Isaiah 37:31 Those who remain in Judah will take root in the ground and bear fruit.

Isaiah 37:32 “For a remnant will leave Jerusalem; survivors will come out of Mount Zion. The intense devotion of the LORD who commands armies will accomplish this.

Isaiah 37:33 So this is what the LORD says about the king of Assyria: ‘He will not enter this city, nor will he shoot an arrow here. He will not attack it with his shielded warriors, nor will he build siege works against it.

Isaiah 37:34 He will go back the way he came– he will not enter this city,’ says the LORD.

Isaiah 37:35 I will shield this city and rescue it for the sake of my reputation and because of my promise to David my servant.”“

Isaiah 37:36 The LORD’s messenger went out and killed 185,000 troops in the Assyrian camp. When they got up early the next morning, there were all the corpses!

Isaiah 37:37 So King Sennacherib of Assyria broke camp and went on his way. He went home and stayed in Nineveh.

Isaiah 37:38 One day, as he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer struck him down with the sword. They ran away to the land of Ararat; his son Esarhaddon replaced him as king.

Isaiah 38:1 In those days Hezekiah was stricken with a terminal illness. The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz visited him and told him, “This is what the LORD says, ‘Give instructions to your household, for you are about to die; you will not get well.’“

Isaiah 38:2 Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD,

Isaiah 38:3 “Please, LORD. Remember how I have served you faithfully and with wholehearted devotion, and how I have carried out your will.” Then Hezekiah wept bitterly.

Isaiah 38:4 The LORD told Isaiah,

Isaiah 38:5 “Go and tell Hezekiah: ‘This is what the LORD God of your ancestor David says: “I have heard your prayer; I have seen your tears. Look, I will add fifteen years to your life,

Isaiah 38:6 and rescue you and this city from the king of Assyria. I will shield this city.”“

Isaiah 38:7 Isaiah replied, “This is your sign from the LORD confirming that the LORD will do what he has said:

Isaiah 38:8 Look, I will make the shadow go back ten steps on the stairs of Ahaz.” And then the shadow went back ten steps.

Isaiah 38:9 This is the prayer of King Hezekiah of Judah when he was sick and then recovered from his illness:

Isaiah 38:10 “I thought, ‘In the middle of my life I must walk through the gates of Sheol, I am deprived of the rest of my years.’

Isaiah 38:11 “I thought, ‘I will no longer see the LORD in the land of the living, I will no longer look on humankind with the inhabitants of the world.

Isaiah 38:12 My dwelling place is removed and taken away from me like a shepherd’s tent. I rolled up my life like a weaver rolls cloth; from the loom he cuts me off. You turn day into night and end my life.

Isaiah 38:13 I cry out until morning; like a lion he shatters all my bones; you turn day into night and end my life.

Isaiah 38:14 Like a swallow or a thrush I chirp, I coo like a dove; my eyes grow tired from looking up to the sky. O sovereign master, I am oppressed; help me!

Isaiah 38:15 What can I say? He has decreed and acted. I will walk slowly all my years because I am overcome with grief.

Isaiah 38:16 O sovereign master, your decrees can give men life; may years of life be restored to me. Restore my health and preserve my life.’

Isaiah 38:17 “Look, the grief I experienced was for my benefit. You delivered me from the pit of oblivion. For you removed all my sins from your sight.

Isaiah 38:18 Indeed Sheol does not give you thanks; death does not praise you. Those who descend into the pit do not anticipate your faithfulness.

Isaiah 38:19 The living person, the living person, he gives you thanks, as I do today. A father tells his sons about your faithfulness.

Isaiah 38:20 The LORD is about to deliver me, and we will celebrate with music for the rest of our lives in the LORD’s temple.”

Isaiah 38:21 Isaiah ordered, “Let them take a fig cake and apply it to the ulcerated sore and he will get well.”

Isaiah 38:22 Hezekiah said, “What is the confirming sign that I will go up to the LORD’s temple?”

Isaiah 39:1 At that time Merodach-Baladan son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah, for he heard that Hezekiah had been ill and had recovered.

Isaiah 39:2 Hezekiah welcomed them and showed them his storehouse with its silver, gold, spices, and high-quality olive oil, as well as his whole armory and everything in his treasuries. Hezekiah showed them everything in his palace and in his whole kingdom.

Isaiah 39:3 Isaiah the prophet visited King Hezekiah and asked him, “What did these men say? Where do they come from?” Hezekiah replied, “They come from the distant land of Babylon.”

Isaiah 39:4 Isaiah asked, “What have they seen in your palace?” Hezekiah replied, “They have seen everything in my palace. I showed them everything in my treasuries.”

Isaiah 39:5 Isaiah said to Hezekiah, “Listen to the word of the LORD who commands armies:

Isaiah 39:6 ‘Look, a time is coming when everything in your palace and the things your ancestors have accumulated to this day will be carried away to Babylon; nothing will be left,’ says the LORD.

Isaiah 39:7 ‘Some of your very own descendants whom you father will be taken away and will be made eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.’“

Isaiah 39:8 Hezekiah said to Isaiah, “The LORD’s word which you have announced is appropriate.” Then he thought, “For there will be peace and stability during my lifetime.”

Isaiah 40:1 “Comfort, comfort my people,” says your God.

Isaiah 40:2 “Speak kindly to Jerusalem, and tell her that her time of warfare is over, that her punishment is completed. For the LORD has made her pay double for all her sins.”

Isaiah 40:3 A voice cries out, “In the wilderness clear a way for the LORD; construct in the desert a road for our God.

Isaiah 40:4 Every valley must be elevated, and every mountain and hill leveled. The rough terrain will become a level plain, the rugged landscape a wide valley.

Isaiah 40:5 The splendor of the LORD will be revealed, and all people will see it at the same time. For the LORD has decreed it.”

Isaiah 40:6 A voice says, “Cry out!” Another asks, “What should I cry out?” The first voice responds: “All people are like grass, and all their promises are like the flowers in the field.

Isaiah 40:7 The grass dries up, the flowers wither, when the wind sent by the LORD blows on them. Surely humanity is like grass.

Isaiah 40:8 The grass dries up, the flowers wither, but the decree of our God is forever reliable.”

Isaiah 40:9 Go up on a high mountain, O herald Zion! Shout out loudly, O herald Jerusalem! Shout, don’t be afraid! Say to the towns of Judah, “Here is your God!”

Isaiah 40:10 Look, the sovereign LORD comes as a victorious warrior; his military power establishes his rule. Look, his reward is with him; his prize goes before him.

Isaiah 40:11 Like a shepherd he tends his flock; he gathers up the lambs with his arm; he carries them close to his heart; he leads the ewes along.

Isaiah 40:12 Who has measured out the waters in the hollow of his hand, or carefully measured the sky, or carefully weighed the soil of the earth, or weighed the mountains in a balance, or the hills on scales?

Isaiah 40:13 Who comprehends the mind of the LORD, or gives him instruction as his counselor?

Isaiah 40:14 From whom does he receive directions? Who teaches him the correct way to do things, or imparts knowledge to him, or instructs him in skillful design?

Isaiah 40:15 Look, the nations are like a drop in a bucket; they are regarded as dust on the scales. He lifts the coastlands as if they were dust.

Isaiah 40:16 Not even Lebanon could supply enough firewood for a sacrifice; its wild animals would not provide enough burnt offerings.

Isaiah 40:17 All the nations are insignificant before him; they are regarded as absolutely nothing.

Isaiah 40:18 To whom can you compare God? To what image can you liken him?

Isaiah 40:19 A craftsman casts an idol; a metalsmith overlays it with gold and forges silver chains for it.

Isaiah 40:20 To make a contribution one selects wood that will not rot; he then seeks a skilled craftsman to make an idol that will not fall over.

Isaiah 40:21 Do you not know? Do you not hear? Has it not been told to you since the very beginning? Have you not understood from the time the earth’s foundations were made?

Isaiah 40:22 He is the one who sits on the earth’s horizon; its inhabitants are like grasshoppers before him. He is the one who stretches out the sky like a thin curtain, and spreads it out like a pitched tent.

Isaiah 40:23 He is the one who reduces rulers to nothing; he makes the earth’s leaders insignificant.

Isaiah 40:24 Indeed, they are barely planted; yes, they are barely sown; yes, they barely take root in the earth, and then he blows on them, causing them to dry up, and the wind carries them away like straw.

Isaiah 40:25 “To whom can you compare me? Whom do I resemble?” says the Holy One.

Isaiah 40:26 Look up at the sky! Who created all these heavenly lights? He is the one who leads out their ranks; he calls them all by name. Because of his absolute power and awesome strength, not one of them is missing.

Isaiah 40:27 Why do you say, Jacob, Why do you say, Israel, “The LORD is not aware of what is happening to me, My God is not concerned with my vindication”?

Isaiah 40:28 Do you not know? Have you not heard? The LORD is an eternal God, the creator of the whole earth. He does not get tired or weary; there is no limit to his wisdom.

Isaiah 40:29 He gives strength to those who are tired; to the ones who lack power, he gives renewed energy.

Isaiah 40:30 Even youths get tired and weary; even strong young men clumsily stumble.

Isaiah 40:31 But those who wait for the LORD’s help find renewed strength; they rise up as if they had eagles’ wings, they run without growing weary, they walk without getting tired.

Isaiah 41:1 “Listen to me in silence, you coastlands! Let the nations find renewed strength! Let them approach and then speak; let us come together for debate!

Isaiah 41:2 Who stirs up this one from the east? Who officially commissions him for service? He hands nations over to him, and enables him to subdue kings. He makes them like dust with his sword, like windblown straw with his bow.

Isaiah 41:3 He pursues them and passes by unharmed; he advances with great speed.

Isaiah 41:4 Who acts and carries out decrees? Who summons the successive generations from the beginning? I, the LORD, am present at the very beginning, and at the very end– I am the one.

Isaiah 41:5 The coastlands see and are afraid; the whole earth trembles; they approach and come.

Isaiah 41:6 They help one another; one says to the other, ‘Be strong!’

Isaiah 41:7 The craftsman encourages the metalsmith, the one who wields the hammer encourages the one who pounds on the anvil. He approves the quality of the welding, and nails it down so it won’t fall over.”

Isaiah 41:8 “You, my servant Israel, Jacob whom I have chosen, offspring of Abraham my friend,

Isaiah 41:9 you whom I am bringing back from the earth’s extremities, and have summoned from the remote regions– I told you, “You are my servant.” I have chosen you and not rejected you.

Isaiah 41:10 Don’t be afraid, for I am with you! Don’t be frightened, for I am your God! I strengthen you– yes, I help you– yes, I uphold you with my saving right hand!

Isaiah 41:11 Look, all who were angry at you will be ashamed and humiliated; your adversaries will be reduced to nothing and perish.

Isaiah 41:12 When you will look for your opponents, you will not find them; your enemies will be reduced to absolutely nothing.

Isaiah 41:13 For I am the LORD your God, the one who takes hold of your right hand, who says to you, ‘Don’t be afraid, I am helping you.’

Isaiah 41:14 Don’t be afraid, despised insignificant Jacob, men of Israel. I am helping you,” says the LORD, your protector, the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 41:15 “Look, I am making you like a sharp threshing sledge, new and double-edged. You will thresh the mountains and crush them; you will make the hills like straw.

Isaiah 41:16 You will winnow them and the wind will blow them away; the wind will scatter them. You will rejoice in the LORD; you will boast in the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 41:17 The oppressed and the poor look for water, but there is none; their tongues are parched from thirst. I, the LORD, will respond to their prayers; I, the God of Israel, will not abandon them.

Isaiah 41:18 I will make streams flow down the slopes and produce springs in the middle of the valleys. I will turn the desert into a pool of water and the arid land into springs.

Isaiah 41:19 I will make cedars, acacias, myrtles, and olive trees grow in the wilderness; I will make evergreens, firs, and cypresses grow together in the desert.

Isaiah 41:20 I will do this so people will observe and recognize, so they will pay attention and understand that the LORD's power has accomplished this, and that the Holy One of Israel has brought it into being."

Isaiah 41:21 "Present your argument," says the LORD. "Produce your evidence," says Jacob's king.

Isaiah 41:22 "Let them produce evidence! Let them tell us what will happen! Tell us about your earlier predictive oracles, so we may examine them and see how they were fulfilled. Or decree for us some future events!

Isaiah 41:23 Predict how future events will turn out, so we might know you are gods. Yes, do something good or bad, so we might be frightened and in awe.

Isaiah 41:24 Look, you are nothing, and your accomplishments are nonexistent; the one who chooses to worship you is disgusting.

Isaiah 41:25 I have stirred up one out of the north and he advances, one from the eastern horizon who prays in my name. He steps on rulers as if they were clay, like a potter treading the clay.

Isaiah 41:26 Who decreed this from the beginning, so we could know? Who announced it ahead of time, so we could say, 'He's correct'? Indeed, none of them decreed it! Indeed, none of them announced it! Indeed, no one heard you say anything!

Isaiah 41:27 I first decreed to Zion, 'Look, here's what will happen!' I sent a herald to Jerusalem.

Isaiah 41:28 I look, but there is no one, among them there is no one who serves as an adviser, that I might ask questions and receive answers.

Isaiah 41:29 Look, all of them are nothing, their accomplishments are nonexistent; their metal images lack any real substance.

Isaiah 42:1 “Here is my servant whom I support, my chosen one in whom I take pleasure. I have placed my spirit on him; he will make just decrees for the nations.

Isaiah 42:2 He will not cry out or shout; he will not publicize himself in the streets.

Isaiah 42:3 A crushed reed he will not break, a dim wick he will not extinguish; he will faithfully make just decrees.

Isaiah 42:4 He will not grow dim or be crushed before establishing justice on the earth; the coastlands will wait in anticipation for his decrees.”

Isaiah 42:5 This is what the true God, the LORD, says– the one who created the sky and stretched it out, the one who fashioned the earth and everything that lives on it, the one who gives breath to the people on it, and life to those who live on it:

Isaiah 42:6 “I, the LORD, officially commission you; I take hold of your hand. I protect you and make you a covenant mediator for people, and a light to the nations,

Isaiah 42:7 to open blind eyes, to release prisoners from dungeons, those who live in darkness from prisons.

Isaiah 42:8 I am the LORD! That is my name! I will not share my glory with anyone else, or the praise due me with idols.

Isaiah 42:9 Look, my earlier predictive oracles have come to pass; now I announce new events. Before they begin to occur, I reveal them to you.”

Isaiah 42:10 Sing to the LORD a brand new song! Praise him from the horizon of the earth, you who go down to the sea, and everything that lives in it, you coastlands and those who live there!

Isaiah 42:11 Let the desert and its cities shout out, the towns where the nomads of Kedar live! Let the residents of Sela shout joyfully; let them shout loudly from the mountaintops.

Isaiah 42:12 Let them give the LORD the honor he deserves; let them praise his deeds in the coastlands.

Isaiah 42:13 The LORD emerges like a hero, like a warrior he inspires himself for battle; he shouts, yes, he yells, he shows his enemies his power.

Isaiah 42:14 “I have been inactive for a long time; I kept quiet and held back. Like a woman in labor I groan; I pant and gasp.

Isaiah 42:15 I will make the trees on the mountains and hills wither up; I will dry up all their vegetation. I will turn streams into islands, and dry up pools of water.

Isaiah 42:16 I will lead the blind along an unfamiliar way; I will guide them down paths they have never traveled. I will turn the darkness in front of them into light, and level out the rough ground. This is what I will do for them. I will not abandon them.

Isaiah 42:17 Those who trust in idols will turn back and be utterly humiliated, those who say to metal images, ‘You are our gods.’“

Isaiah 42:18 “Listen, you deaf ones! Take notice, you blind ones!

Isaiah 42:19 My servant is truly blind, my messenger is truly deaf. My covenant partner, the servant of the LORD, is truly blind.

Isaiah 42:20 You see many things, but don’t comprehend; their ears are open, but do not hear.”

Isaiah 42:21 The LORD wanted to exhibit his justice by magnifying his law and displaying it.

Isaiah 42:22 But these people are looted and plundered; all of them are trapped in pits and held captive in prisons. They were carried away as loot with no one to rescue them; they were carried away as plunder, and no one says, “Bring that back!”

Isaiah 42:23 Who among you will pay attention to this? Who will listen attentively in the future?

Isaiah 42:24 Who handed Jacob over to the robber? Who handed Israel over to the looters? Was it not the LORD, against whom we sinned? They refused to follow his commands; they disobeyed his law.

Isaiah 42:25 So he poured out his fierce anger on them, along with the devastation of war. Its flames encircled them, but they did not realize it; it burned against them, but they did notice.

Isaiah 43:1 Now, this is what the LORD says, the one who created you, O Jacob, and formed you, O Israel: “Don’t be afraid, for I will protect you. I call you by name, you are mine.

Isaiah 43:2 When you pass through the waters, I am with you; when you pass through the streams, they will not overwhelm you. When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned; the flames will not harm you.

Isaiah 43:3 For I am the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, your deliverer. I have handed over Egypt as a ransom price, Ethiopia and Seba in place of you.

Isaiah 43:4 Since you are precious and special in my sight, and I love you, I will hand over people in place of you, nations in place of your life.

Isaiah 43:5 Don’t be afraid, for I am with you. From the east I will bring your descendants; from the west I will gather you.

Isaiah 43:6 I will say to the north, ‘Hand them over!’ and to the south, ‘Don’t hold any back!’ Bring my sons from distant lands, and my daughters from the remote regions of the earth, Isaiah 43:7 everyone who belongs to me, whom I created for my glory, whom I formed– yes, whom I made!

Isaiah 43:8 Bring out the people who are blind, even though they have eyes, those who are deaf, even though they have ears!

Isaiah 43:9 All nations gather together, the peoples assemble. Who among them announced this? Who predicted earlier events for us? Let them produce their witnesses to testify they were right; let them listen and affirm, 'It is true.'

Isaiah 43:10 You are my witnesses," says the LORD, "my servant whom I have chosen, so that you may consider and believe in me, and understand that I am he. No god was formed before me, and none will outlive me.

Isaiah 43:11 I, I am the LORD, and there is no deliverer besides me.

Isaiah 43:12 I decreed and delivered and proclaimed, and there was no other god among you. You are my witnesses," says the LORD, "that I am God.

Isaiah 43:13 From this day forward I am he; no one can deliver from my power; I will act, and who can prevent it?"

Isaiah 43:14 This is what the LORD says, your protector, the Holy One of Israel: "For your sake I send to Babylon and make them all fugitives, turning the Babylonians' joyful shouts into mourning songs.

Isaiah 43:15 I am the LORD, your Holy One, the one who created Israel, your king."

Isaiah 43:16 This is what the LORD says, the one who made a road through the sea, a pathway through the surging waters,

Isaiah 43:17 the one who led chariots and horses to destruction, together with a mighty army. They fell down, never to rise again; they were extinguished, put out like a burning wick:

Isaiah 43:18 "Don't remember these earlier events; don't recall these former events.

Isaiah 43:19 "Look, I am about to do something new. Now it begins to happen! Do you not recognize it? Yes, I will make a road in the desert and paths in the wilderness.

Isaiah 43:20 The wild animals of the desert honor me, the jackals and ostriches, because I put water in the desert and streams in the wilderness, to quench the thirst of my chosen people,

Isaiah 43:21 the people whom I formed for myself, so they might praise me."

Isaiah 43:22 "But you did not call for me, O Jacob; you did not long for me, O Israel.

Isaiah 43:23 You did not bring me lambs for your burnt offerings; you did not honor me with your sacrifices. I did not burden you with offerings; I did not make you weary by demanding incense.

Isaiah 43:24 You did not buy me aromatic reeds; you did not present to me the fat of your sacrifices. Yet you burdened me with your sins; you made me weary with your evil deeds.

Isaiah 43:25 I, I am the one who blots out your rebellious deeds for my sake; your sins I do not remember.

Isaiah 43:26 Remind me of what happened! Let's debate! You, prove to me that you are right!

Isaiah 43:27 The father of your nation sinned; your spokesmen rebelled against me.

Isaiah 43:28 So I defiled your holy princes, and handed Jacob over to destruction, and subjected Israel to humiliating abuse."

Isaiah 44:1 "Now, listen, Jacob my servant, Israel whom I have chosen!"

Isaiah 44:2 This is what the LORD, the one who made you, says– the one who formed you in the womb and helps you: "Don't be afraid, my servant Jacob, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen!

Isaiah 44:3 For I will pour water on the parched ground and cause streams to flow on the dry land. I will pour my spirit on your offspring and my blessing on your children.

Isaiah 44:4 They will sprout up like a tree in the grass, like poplars beside channels of water.

Isaiah 44:5 One will say, 'I belong to the LORD,' and another will use the name 'Jacob.' One will write on his hand, 'The LORD's,' and use the name 'Israel.'"

Isaiah 44:6 This is what the LORD, Israel's king, says, their protector, the LORD who commands armies: "I am the first and I am the last, there is no God but me.

Isaiah 44:7 Who is like me? Let him make his claim! Let him announce it and explain it to me– since I established an ancient people– let them announce future events!

Isaiah 44:8 Don't panic! Don't be afraid! Did I not tell you beforehand and decree it? You are my witnesses! Is there any God but me? There is no other sheltering rock; I know of none.

Isaiah 44:9 All who form idols are nothing; the things in which they delight are worthless. Their witnesses cannot see; they recognize nothing, so they are put to shame.

Isaiah 44:10 Who forms a god and casts an idol that will prove worthless?

Isaiah 44:11 Look, all his associates will be put to shame; the craftsmen are mere humans. Let them all assemble and take their stand! They will panic and be put to shame.

Isaiah 44:12 A blacksmith works with his tool and forges metal over the coals. He forms it with hammers; he makes it with his strong arm. He gets hungry and loses his energy; he drinks no water and gets tired.

Isaiah 44:13 A carpenter takes measurements; he marks out an outline of its form; he scrapes it with chisels, and marks it with a compass. He patterns it after the human form, like a well-built human being, and puts it in a shrine.

Isaiah 44:14 He cuts down cedars and acquires a cypress or an oak. He gets trees from the forest; he plants a cedar and the rain makes it grow.

Isaiah 44:15 A man uses it to make a fire; he takes some of it and warms himself. Yes, he kindles a fire and bakes bread. Then he makes a god and worships it; he makes an idol and bows down to it.

Isaiah 44:16 Half of it he burns in the fire– over that half he cooks meat; he roasts a meal and fills himself. Yes, he warms himself and says, 'Ah! I am warm as I look at the fire.'

Isaiah 44:17 With the rest of it he makes a god, his idol; he bows down to it and worships it. He prays to it, saying, 'Rescue me, for you are my god!'

Isaiah 44:18 They do not comprehend or understand, for their eyes are blind and cannot see; their minds do not discern.

Isaiah 44:19 No one thinks to himself, nor do they comprehend or understand and say to themselves: 'I burned half of it in the fire– yes, I baked bread over the coals; I roasted meat and ate it. With the rest of it should I make a disgusting idol? Should I bow down to dry wood?'

Isaiah 44:20 He feeds on ashes; his deceived mind misleads him. He cannot rescue himself, nor does he say, 'Is this not a false god I hold in my right hand?'

Isaiah 44:21 Remember these things, O Jacob, O Israel, for you are my servant. I formed you to be my servant; O Israel, I will not forget you!

Isaiah 44:22 I remove the guilt of your rebellious deeds as if they were a cloud, the guilt of your sins as if they were a cloud. Come back to me, for I protect you."

Isaiah 44:23 Shout for joy, O sky, for the LORD intervenes; shout out, you subterranean regions of the earth. O mountains, give a joyful shout; you too, O forest and all your trees! For the LORD protects Jacob; he reveals his splendor through Israel.

Isaiah 44:24 This is what the LORD, your protector, says, the one who formed you in the womb: "I am the LORD, who made everything, who alone stretched out the sky, who fashioned the earth all by myself, Isaiah 44:25 who frustrates the omens of the empty talkers and humiliates the omen readers, who overturns the counsel of the wise men and makes their advice seem foolish,

Isaiah 44:26 who fulfills the oracles of his prophetic servants and brings to pass the announcements of his messengers, who says about Jerusalem, 'She will be inhabited,' and about the towns of Judah, 'They will be rebuilt, her ruins I will raise up,'

Isaiah 44:27 who says to the deep sea, 'Be dry! I will dry up your sea currents,'

Isaiah 44:28 who commissions Cyrus, the one I appointed as shepherd to carry out all my wishes and to decree concerning Jerusalem, 'She will be rebuilt,' and concerning the temple, 'It will be reconstructed.'"

Isaiah 45:1 This is what the LORD says to his chosen one, to Cyrus, whose right hand I hold in order to subdue nations before him, and disarm kings, to open doors before him, so gates remain unclosed:

Isaiah 45:2 "I will go before you and level mountains. Bronze doors I will shatter and iron bars I will hack through.

Isaiah 45:3 I will give you hidden treasures, riches stashed away in secret places, so you may recognize that I am the LORD, the one who calls you by name, the God of Israel.

Isaiah 45:4 For the sake of my servant Jacob, Israel, my chosen one, I call you by name and give you a title of respect, even though you do not recognize me.

Isaiah 45:5 I am the LORD, I have no peer, there is no God but me. I arm you for battle, even though you do not recognize me.

Isaiah 45:6 I do this so people will recognize from east to west that there is no God but me; I am the LORD, I have no peer.

Isaiah 45:7 I am the one who forms light and creates darkness; the one who brings about peace and creates calamity. I am the LORD, who accomplishes all these things.

Isaiah 45:8 O sky, rain down from above! Let the clouds send down showers of deliverance! Let the earth absorb it so salvation may grow, and deliverance may sprout up along with it. I, the LORD, create it.

Isaiah 45:9 One who argues with his creator is in grave danger, one who is like a mere shard among the other shards on the ground! The clay should not say to the potter, "What in the world are you doing? Your work lacks skill!"

Isaiah 45:10 Danger awaits one who says to his father, "What in the world are you fathering?" and to his mother, "What in the world are you bringing forth?"

Isaiah 45:11 This is what the LORD says, the Holy One of Israel, the one who formed him, concerning things to come: "How dare you question me about my children! How dare you tell me what to do with the work of my own hands!

Isaiah 45:12 I made the earth, I created the people who live on it. It was me– my hands stretched out the sky, I give orders to all the heavenly lights.

Isaiah 45:13 It is me– I stir him up and commission him; I will make all his ways level. He will rebuild my city; he will send my exiled people home, but not for a price or a bribe," says the LORD who commands armies.

Isaiah 45:14 This is what the LORD says: "The profit of Egypt and the revenue of Ethiopia, along with the Sabeans, those tall men, will be brought to you and become yours. They will walk behind you, coming along in chains. They will bow down to you and pray to you: 'Truly God is with you; he has no peer; there is no other God!'"

Isaiah 45:15 Yes, you are a God who keeps hidden, O God of Israel, deliverer!

Isaiah 45:16 They will all be ashamed and embarrassed; those who fashion idols will all be humiliated.

Isaiah 45:17 Israel will be delivered once and for all by the LORD; you will never again be ashamed or humiliated.

Isaiah 45:18 For this is what the LORD says, the one who created the sky– he is the true God, the one who formed the earth and made it; he established it, he did not create it without order, he formed it to be inhabited– "I am the LORD, I have no peer.

Isaiah 45:19 I have not spoken in secret, in some hidden place. I did not tell Jacob's descendants, 'Seek me in vain!' I am the LORD, the one who speaks honestly, who makes reliable announcements.

Isaiah 45:20 Gather together and come! Approach together, you refugees from the nations! Those who carry wooden idols know nothing, those who pray to a god that cannot deliver.

Isaiah 45:21 Tell me! Present the evidence! Let them consult with one another! Who predicted this in the past? Who announced it beforehand? Was it not I, the LORD? I have no peer, there is no God but me, a God who vindicates and delivers; there is none but me.

Isaiah 45:22 Turn to me so you can be delivered, all you who live in the earth's remote regions! For I am God, and I have no peer.

Isaiah 45:23 I solemnly make this oath– what I say is true and reliable: 'Surely every knee will bow to me, every tongue will solemnly affirm;

Isaiah 45:24 they will say about me, "Yes, the LORD is a powerful deliverer."'" All who are angry at him will cower before him.

Isaiah 45:25 All the descendants of Israel will be vindicated by the LORD and will boast in him.

Isaiah 46:1 Bel kneels down, Nebo bends low. Their images weigh down animals and beasts. Your heavy images are burdensome to tired animals.

Isaiah 46:2 Together they bend low and kneel down; they are unable to rescue the images; they themselves head off into captivity.

Isaiah 46:3 “Listen to me, O family of Jacob, all you who are left from the family of Israel, you who have been carried from birth, you who have been supported from the time you left the womb.

Isaiah 46:4 Even when you are old, I will take care of you, even when you have gray hair, I will carry you. I made you and I will support you; I will carry you and rescue you.

Isaiah 46:5 To whom can you compare and liken me? Tell me whom you think I resemble, so we can be compared!

Isaiah 46:6 Those who empty out gold from a purse and weigh out silver on the scale hire a metalsmith, who makes it into a god. They then bow down and worship it.

Isaiah 46:7 They put it on their shoulder and carry it; they put it in its place and it just stands there; it does not move from its place. Even when someone cries out to it, it does not reply; it does not deliver him from his distress.

Isaiah 46:8 Remember this, so you can be brave! Think about it, you rebels!

Isaiah 46:9 Remember what I accomplished in antiquity! Truly I am God, I have no peer; I am God, and there is none like me,

Isaiah 46:10 who announces the end from the beginning and reveals beforehand what has not yet occurred, who says, ‘My plan will be realized, I will accomplish what I desire,’

Isaiah 46:11 who summons an eagle from the east, from a distant land, one who carries out my plan. Yes, I have decreed, yes, I will bring it to pass; I have formulated a plan, yes, I will carry it out.

Isaiah 46:12 Listen to me, you stubborn people, you who distance yourself from doing what is right.

Isaiah 46:13 I am bringing my deliverance near, it is not far away; I am bringing my salvation near, it does not wait. I will save Zion; I will adorn Israel with my splendor.”

Isaiah 47:1 “Fall down! Sit in the dirt, O virgin daughter Babylon! Sit on the ground, not on a throne, O daughter of the Babylonians! Indeed, you will no longer be called delicate and pampered.

Isaiah 47:2 Pick up millstones and grind flour! Remove your veil, strip off your skirt, expose your legs, cross the streams!

Isaiah 47:3 Let your private parts be exposed! Your genitals will be on display! I will get revenge; I will not have pity on anyone,” Isaiah 47:4 says our protector– the LORD who commands armies is his name, the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 47:5 “Sit silently! Go to a hiding place, O daughter of the Babylonians! Indeed, you will no longer be called ‘Queen of kingdoms.’

Isaiah 47:6 I was angry at my people; I defiled my special possession and handed them over to you. You showed them no mercy; you even placed a very heavy burden on old people.

Isaiah 47:7 You said, ‘I will rule forever as permanent queen!’ You did not think about these things; you did not consider how it would turn out.

Isaiah 47:8 So now, listen to this, O one who lives so lavishly, who lives securely, who says to herself, ‘I am unique! No one can compare to me! I will never have to live as a widow; I will never lose my children.’

Isaiah 47:9 Both of these will come upon you suddenly, in one day! You will lose your children and be widowed. You will be overwhelmed by these tragedies, despite your many incantations and your numerous amulets.

Isaiah 47:10 You were complacent in your evil deeds; you thought, ‘No one sees me.’ Your self-professed wisdom and knowledge lead you astray, when you say, ‘I am unique! No one can compare to me!’

Isaiah 47:11 Disaster will overtake you; you will not know how to charm it away. Destruction will fall on you; you will not be able to appease it. Calamity will strike you suddenly, before you recognize it.

Isaiah 47:12 Persist in trusting your amulets and your many incantations, which you have faithfully recited since your youth! Maybe you will be successful– maybe you will scare away disaster.

Isaiah 47:13 You are tired out from listening to so much advice. Let them take their stand– the ones who see omens in the sky, who gaze at the stars, who make monthly predictions– let them rescue you from the disaster that is about to overtake you!

Isaiah 47:14 Look, they are like straw, which the fire burns up; they cannot rescue themselves from the heat of the flames. There are no coals to warm them, no firelight to enjoy.

Isaiah 47:15 They will disappoint you, those you have so faithfully dealt with since your youth. Each strays off in his own direction, leaving no one to rescue you.”

Isaiah 48:1 Listen to this, O family of Jacob, you who are called by the name ‘Israel,’ and are descended from Judah, who take oaths in the name of the LORD, and invoke the God of Israel– but not in an honest and just manner.

Isaiah 48:2 Indeed, they live in the holy city; they trust in the God of Israel, whose name is the LORD who commands armies.

Isaiah 48:3 “I announced events beforehand, I issued the decrees and made the predictions; suddenly I acted and they came to pass.

Isaiah 48:4 I did this because I know how stubborn you are. Your neck muscles are like iron and your forehead like bronze.

Isaiah 48:5 I announced them to you beforehand; before they happened, I predicted them for you, so you could never say, ‘My image did these things, my idol, my cast image, decreed them.’

Isaiah 48:6 You have heard; now look at all the evidence! Will you not admit that what I say is true? From this point on I am announcing to you new events that are previously unrevealed and you do not know about.

Isaiah 48:7 Now they come into being, not in the past; before today you did not hear about them, so you could not say, ‘Yes, I know about them.’

Isaiah 48:8 You did not hear, you do not know, you were not told beforehand. For I know that you are very deceitful; you were labeled a rebel from birth.

Isaiah 48:9 For the sake of my reputation I hold back my anger; for the sake of my prestige I restrain myself from destroying you.

Isaiah 48:10 Look, I have refined you, but not as silver; I have purified you in the furnace of misery.

Isaiah 48:11 For my sake alone I will act, for how can I allow my name to be defiled? I will not share my glory with anyone else!

Isaiah 48:12 Listen to me, O Jacob, Israel, whom I summoned! I am the one; I am present at the very beginning and at the very end.

Isaiah 48:13 Yes, my hand founded the earth; my right hand spread out the sky. I summon them; they stand together.

Isaiah 48:14 All of you, gather together and listen! Who among them announced these things? The LORD’s ally will carry out his desire against Babylon; he will exert his power against the Babylonians.

Isaiah 48:15 I, I have spoken– yes, I have summoned him; I lead him and he will succeed.

Isaiah 48:16 Approach me! Listen to this! From the very first I have not spoken in secret; when it happens, I am there.” So now, the sovereign LORD has sent me, accompanied by his spirit.

Isaiah 48:17 This is what the LORD, your protector, says, the Holy One of Israel: “I am the LORD your God, who teaches you how to succeed, who leads you in the way you should go.

Isaiah 48:18 If only you had obeyed my commandments, prosperity would have flowed to you like a river, deliverance would have come to you like the waves of the sea.

Isaiah 48:19 Your descendants would have been as numerous as sand, and your children like its granules. Their name would not have been cut off and eliminated from my presence.

Isaiah 48:20 Leave Babylon! Flee from the Babylonians! Announce it with a shout of joy! Make this known! Proclaim it throughout the earth! Say, 'The LORD protects his servant Jacob.

Isaiah 48:21 They do not thirst as he leads them through dry regions; he makes water flow out of a rock for them; he splits open a rock and water flows out.'

Isaiah 48:22 There will be no prosperity for the wicked," says the LORD.

Isaiah 49:1 Listen to me, you coastlands! Pay attention, you people who live far away! The LORD summoned me from birth; he commissioned me when my mother brought me into the world.

Isaiah 49:2 He made my mouth like a sharp sword, he hid me in the hollow of his hand; he made me like a sharpened arrow, he hid me in his quiver.

Isaiah 49:3 He said to me, "You are my servant, Israel, through whom I will reveal my splendor."

Isaiah 49:4 But I thought, "I have worked in vain; I have expended my energy for absolutely nothing." But the LORD will vindicate me; my God will reward me.

Isaiah 49:5 So now the LORD says, the one who formed me from birth to be his servant– he did this to restore Jacob to himself, so that Israel might be gathered to him; and I will be honored in the LORD's sight, for my God is my source of strength–

Isaiah 49:6 he says, "Is it too insignificant a task for you to be my servant, to reestablish the tribes of Jacob, and restore the remnant of Israel? I will make you a light to the nations, so you can bring my deliverance to the remote regions of the earth."

Isaiah 49:7 This is what the LORD, the protector of Israel, their Holy One, says to the one who is despised and rejected by nations, a servant of rulers: "Kings will see and rise in respect, princes will bow down, because of the faithful LORD, the Holy One of Israel who has chosen you."

Isaiah 49:8 This is what the LORD says: "At the time I decide to show my favor, I will respond to you; in the day of deliverance I will help you; I will protect you and make you a covenant mediator for people, to rebuild the land and to reassign the desolate property.

Isaiah 49:9 You will say to the prisoners, 'Come out,' and to those who are in dark dungeons, 'Emerge.' They will graze beside the roads; on all the slopes they will find pasture.

Isaiah 49:10 They will not be hungry or thirsty; the sun’s oppressive heat will not beat down on them, for one who has compassion on them will guide them; he will lead them to springs of water.

Isaiah 49:11 I will make all my mountains into a road; I will construct my roadways.”

Isaiah 49:12 Look, they come from far away! Look, some come from the north and west, and others from the land of Sinim!

Isaiah 49:13 Shout for joy, O sky! Rejoice, O earth! Let the mountains give a joyful shout! For the LORD consoles his people and shows compassion to the oppressed.

Isaiah 49:14 “Zion said, ‘The LORD has abandoned me, the sovereign master has forgotten me.’

Isaiah 49:15 Can a woman forget her baby who nurses at her breast? Can she withhold compassion from the child she has borne? Even if mothers were to forget, I could never forget you!

Isaiah 49:16 Look, I have inscribed your name on my palms; your walls are constantly before me.

Isaiah 49:17 Your children hurry back, while those who destroyed and devastated you depart.

Isaiah 49:18 Look all around you! All of them gather to you. As surely as I live,” says the LORD, “you will certainly wear all of them like jewelry; you will put them on as if you were a bride.

Isaiah 49:19 Yes, your land lies in ruins; it is desolate and devastated. But now you will be too small to hold your residents, and those who devoured you will be far away.

Isaiah 49:20 Yet the children born during your time of bereavement will say within your hearing, ‘This place is too cramped for us, make room for us so we can live here.’

Isaiah 49:21 Then you will think to yourself, ‘Who bore these children for me? I was bereaved and barren, dismissed and divorced. Who raised these children? Look, I was left all alone; where did these children come from?’“ Isaiah 49:22 This is what the sovereign LORD says: “Look I will raise my hand to the nations; I will raise my signal flag to the peoples. They will bring your sons in their arms and carry your daughters on their shoulders.

Isaiah 49:23 Kings will be your children’s guardians; their princesses will nurse your children. With their faces to the ground they will bow down to you and they will lick the dirt on your feet. Then you will recognize that I am the LORD; those who wait patiently for me are not put to shame.

Isaiah 49:24 Can spoils be taken from a warrior, or captives be rescued from a conqueror?

Isaiah 49:25 Indeed," says the LORD, "captives will be taken from a warrior; spoils will be rescued from a conqueror. I will oppose your adversary and I will rescue your children.

Isaiah 49:26 I will make your oppressors eat their own flesh; they will get drunk on their own blood, as if it were wine. Then all humankind will recognize that I am the LORD, your deliverer, your protector, the powerful ruler of Jacob."

Isaiah 50:1 This is what the LORD says: "Where is your mother's divorce certificate by which I divorced her? Or to which of my creditors did I sell you? Look, you were sold because of your sins; because of your rebellious acts I divorced your mother.

Isaiah 50:2 Why does no one challenge me when I come? Why does no one respond when I call? Is my hand too weak to deliver you? Do I lack the power to rescue you? Look, with a mere shout I can dry up the sea; I can turn streams into a desert, so the fish rot away and die from lack of water.

Isaiah 50:3 I can clothe the sky in darkness; I can cover it with sackcloth."

Isaiah 50:4 The sovereign LORD has given me the capacity to be his spokesman, so that I know how to help the weary. He wakes me up every morning; he makes me alert so I can listen attentively as disciples do.

Isaiah 50:5 The sovereign LORD has spoken to me clearly; I have not rebelled, I have not turned back.

Isaiah 50:6 I offered my back to those who attacked, my jaws to those who tore out my beard; I did not hide my face from insults and spitting.

Isaiah 50:7 But the sovereign LORD helps me, so I am not humiliated. For that reason I am steadfastly resolved; I know I will not be put to shame.

Isaiah 50:8 The one who vindicates me is close by. Who dares to argue with me? Let us confront each other! Who is my accuser? Let him challenge me!

Isaiah 50:9 Look, the sovereign LORD helps me. Who dares to condemn me? Look, all of them will wear out like clothes; a moth will eat away at them.

Isaiah 50:10 Who among you fears the LORD? Who obeys his servant? Whoever walks in deep darkness, without light, should trust in the name of the LORD and rely on his God.

Isaiah 50:11 Look, all of you who start a fire and who equip yourselves with flaming arrows, walk in the light of the fire you started and among the flaming arrows you ignited! This is what you will receive from me: you will lie down in a place of pain.

Isaiah 51:1 “Listen to me, you who pursue godliness, who seek the LORD! Look at the rock from which you were chiseled, at the quarry from which you were dug!

Isaiah 51:2 Look at Abraham, your father, and Sarah, who gave you birth. When I summoned him, he was a lone individual, but I blessed him and gave him numerous descendants.

Isaiah 51:3 Certainly the LORD will console Zion; he will console all her ruins. He will make her wilderness like Eden, her desert like the Garden of the LORD. Happiness and joy will be restored to her, thanksgiving and the sound of music.

Isaiah 51:4 Pay attention to me, my people! Listen to me, my people! For I will issue a decree, I will make my justice a light to the nations.

Isaiah 51:5 I am ready to vindicate, I am ready to deliver, I will establish justice among the nations. The coastlands wait patiently for me; they wait in anticipation for the revelation of my power.

Isaiah 51:6 Look up at the sky! Look at the earth below! For the sky will dissipate like smoke, and the earth will wear out like clothes; its residents will die like gnats. But the deliverance I give is permanent; the vindication I provide will not disappear.

Isaiah 51:7 Listen to me, you who know what is right, you people who are aware of my law! Don’t be afraid of the insults of men; don’t be discouraged because of their abuse!

Isaiah 51:8 For a moth will eat away at them like clothes; a clothes moth will devour them like wool. But the vindication I provide will be permanent; the deliverance I give will last.”

Isaiah 51:9 Wake up! Wake up! Clothe yourself with strength, O arm of the LORD! Wake up as in former times, as in antiquity! Did you not smash the Proud One? Did you not wound the sea monster?

Isaiah 51:10 Did you not dry up the sea, the waters of the great deep? Did you not make a path through the depths of the sea, so those delivered from bondage could cross over?

Isaiah 51:11 Those whom the LORD has ransomed will return; they will enter Zion with a happy shout. Unending joy will crown them, happiness and joy will overwhelm them; grief and suffering will disappear.

Isaiah 51:12 “I, I am the one who consoles you. Why are you afraid of mortal men, of mere human beings who are as short-lived as grass?

Isaiah 51:13 Why do you forget the LORD, who made you, who stretched out the sky and founded the earth? Why do you constantly tremble all day long at the anger of the oppressor, when he makes plans to destroy? Where is the anger of the oppressor?

Isaiah 51:14 The one who suffers will soon be released; he will not die in prison, he will not go hungry.

Isaiah 51:15 I am the LORD your God, who churns up the sea so that its waves surge. The LORD who commands armies is his name!

Isaiah 51:16 I commission you as my spokesman; I cover you with the palm of my hand, to establish the sky and to found the earth, to say to Zion, ‘You are my people.’“

Isaiah 51:17 Wake up! Wake up! Get up, O Jerusalem! You drank from the cup the LORD passed to you, which was full of his anger! You drained dry the goblet full of intoxicating wine.

Isaiah 51:18 There was no one to lead her among all the children she bore; there was no one to take her by the hand among all the children she raised.

Isaiah 51:19 These double disasters confronted you. But who feels sorry for you? Destruction and devastation, famine and sword. But who consoles you?

Isaiah 51:20 Your children faint; they lie at the head of every street like an antelope in a snare. They are left in a stupor by the LORD’s anger, by the battle cry of your God.

Isaiah 51:21 So listen to this, oppressed one, who is drunk, but not from wine!

Isaiah 51:22 This is what your sovereign master, the LORD your God, says: “Look, I have removed from your hand the cup of intoxicating wine, the goblet full of my anger. You will no longer have to drink it.

Isaiah 51:23 I will put it into the hand of your tormentors who said to you, ‘Lie down, so we can walk over you.’ You made your back like the ground, and like the street for those who walked over you.”

Isaiah 52:1 Wake up! Wake up! Clothe yourself with strength, O Zion! Put on your beautiful clothes, O Jerusalem, holy city! For uncircumcised and unclean pagans will no longer invade you.

Isaiah 52:2 Shake off the dirt! Get up, captive Jerusalem! Take off the iron chains around your neck, O captive daughter Zion!

Isaiah 52:3 For this is what the LORD says: “You were sold for nothing, and you will not be redeemed for money.”

Isaiah 52:4 For this is what the sovereign LORD says: “In the beginning my people went to live temporarily in Egypt; Assyria oppressed them for no good reason.

Isaiah 52:5 And now, what do we have here?” says the LORD. “Indeed my people have been carried away for nothing, those who rule over them taunt,” says the LORD, “and my name is constantly slandered all day long.

Isaiah 52:6 For this reason my people will know my name, for this reason they will know at that time that I am the one who says, ‘Here I am.’“

Isaiah 52:7 How delightful it is to see approaching over the mountains the feet of a messenger who announces peace, a messenger who brings good news, who announces deliverance, who says to Zion, “Your God reigns!”

Isaiah 52:8 Listen, your watchmen shout; in unison they shout for joy, for they see with their very own eyes the LORD’s return to Zion.

Isaiah 52:9 In unison give a joyful shout, O ruins of Jerusalem! For the LORD consoles his people; he protects Jerusalem.

Isaiah 52:10 The LORD reveals his royal power in the sight of all the nations; the entire earth sees our God deliver.

Isaiah 52:11 Leave! Leave! Get out of there! Don’t touch anything unclean! Get out of it! Stay pure, you who carry the LORD’s holy items!

Isaiah 52:12 Yet do not depart quickly or leave in a panic. For the LORD goes before you; the God of Israel is your rear guard.

Isaiah 52:13 “Look, my servant will succeed! He will be elevated, lifted high, and greatly exalted–

Isaiah 52:14 (just as many were horrified by the sight of you) he was so disfigured he no longer looked like a man;

Isaiah 52:15 his form was so marred he no longer looked human– so now he will startle many nations. Kings will be shocked by his exaltation, for they will witness something unannounced to them, and they will understand something they had not heard about.

Isaiah 53:1 Who would have believed what we just heard? When was the LORD’s power revealed through him?

Isaiah 53:2 He sprouted up like a twig before God, like a root out of parched soil; he had no stately form or majesty that might catch our attention, no special appearance that we should want to follow him.

Isaiah 53:3 He was despised and rejected by people, one who experienced pain and was acquainted with illness; people hid their faces from him; he was despised, and we considered him insignificant.

Isaiah 53:4 But he lifted up our illnesses, he carried our pain; even though we thought he was being punished, attacked by God, and afflicted for something he had done.

Isaiah 53:5 He was wounded because of our rebellious deeds, crushed because of our sins; he endured punishment that made us well; because of his wounds we have been healed.

Isaiah 53:6 All of us had wandered off like sheep; each of us had strayed off on his own path, but the LORD caused the sin of all of us to attack him.

Isaiah 53:7 He was treated harshly and afflicted, but he did not even open his mouth. Like a lamb led to the slaughtering block, like a sheep silent before her shearers, he did not even open his mouth.

Isaiah 53:8 He was led away after an unjust trial– but who even cared? Indeed, he was cut off from the land of the living; because of the rebellion of his own people he was wounded.

Isaiah 53:9 They intended to bury him with criminals, but he ended up in a rich man's tomb, because he had committed no violent deeds, nor had he spoken deceitfully.

Isaiah 53:10 Though the LORD desired to crush him and make him ill, once restitution is made, he will see descendants and enjoy long life, and the LORD's purpose will be accomplished through him.

Isaiah 53:11 Having suffered, he will reflect on his work, he will be satisfied when he understands what he has done. "My servant will acquit many, for he carried their sins.

Isaiah 53:12 So I will assign him a portion with the multitudes, he will divide the spoils of victory with the powerful, because he willingly submitted to death and was numbered with the rebels, when he lifted up the sin of many and intervened on behalf of the rebels."

Isaiah 54:1 "Shout for joy, O barren one who has not given birth! Give a joyful shout and cry out, you who have not been in labor! For the children of the desolate one are more numerous than the children of the married woman," says the LORD.

Isaiah 54:2 Make your tent larger, stretch your tent curtains farther out! Spare no effort, lengthen your ropes, and pound your stakes deep.

Isaiah 54:3 For you will spread out to the right and to the left; your children will conquer nations and will resettle desolate cities.

Isaiah 54:4 Don't be afraid, for you will not be put to shame! Don't be intimidated, for you will not be humiliated! You will forget about the shame you experienced in your youth; you will no longer remember the disgrace of your abandonment.

Isaiah 54:5 For your husband is the one who made you– the LORD who commands armies is his name. He is your protector, the Holy One of Israel. He is called "God of the entire earth."

Isaiah 54:6 "Indeed, the LORD will call you back like a wife who has been abandoned and suffers from depression, like a young wife when she has been rejected," says your God.

Isaiah 54:7 "For a short time I abandoned you, but with great compassion I will gather you.

Isaiah 54:8 In a burst of anger I rejected you momentarily, but with lasting devotion I will have compassion on you," says your protector, the LORD.

Isaiah 54:9 "As far as I am concerned, this is like in Noah's time, when I vowed that the waters of Noah's flood would never again cover the earth. In the same way I have vowed that I will not be angry at you or shout at you.

Isaiah 54:10 Even if the mountains are removed and the hills displaced, my devotion will not be removed from you, nor will my covenant of friendship be displaced," says the LORD, the one who has compassion on you.

Isaiah 54:11 "O afflicted one, driven away, and unconsoled! Look, I am about to set your stones in antimony and I lay your foundation with lapis-lazuli.

Isaiah 54:12 I will make your pinnacles out of gems, your gates out of beryl, and your outer wall out of beautiful stones.

Isaiah 54:13 All your children will be followers of the LORD, and your children will enjoy great prosperity.

Isaiah 54:14 You will be reestablished when I vindicate you. You will not experience oppression; indeed, you will not be afraid. You will not be terrified, for nothing frightening will come near you.

Isaiah 54:15 If anyone dares to challenge you, it will not be my doing! Whoever tries to challenge you will be defeated.

Isaiah 54:16 Look, I create the craftsman, who fans the coals into a fire and forges a weapon. I create the destroyer so he might devastate.

Isaiah 54:17 No weapon forged to be used against you will succeed; you will refute everyone who tries to accuse you. This is what the LORD will do for his servants– I will vindicate them," says the LORD.

Isaiah 55:1 "Hey, all who are thirsty, come to the water! You who have no money, come! Buy and eat! Come! Buy wine and milk without money and without cost!

Isaiah 55:2 Why pay money for something that will not nourish you? Why spend your hard-earned money on something that will not satisfy? Listen carefully to me and eat what is nourishing! Enjoy fine food!

Isaiah 55:3 Pay attention and come to me! Listen, so you can live! Then I will make an unconditional covenantal promise to you, just like the reliable covenantal promises I made to David.

Isaiah 55:4 Look, I made him a witness to nations, a ruler and commander of nations."

Isaiah 55:5 Look, you will summon nations you did not previously know; nations that did not previously know you will run to you, because of the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, for he bestows honor on you.

Isaiah 55:6 Seek the LORD while he makes himself available; call to him while he is nearby!

Isaiah 55:7 The wicked need to abandon their lifestyle and sinful people their plans. They should return to the LORD, and he will show mercy to them, and to their God, for he will freely forgive them.

Isaiah 55:8 “Indeed, my plans are not like your plans, and my deeds are not like your deeds,

Isaiah 55:9 for just as the sky is higher than the earth, so my deeds are superior to your deeds and my plans superior to your plans.

Isaiah 55:10 The rain and snow fall from the sky and do not return, but instead water the earth and make it produce and yield crops, and provide seed for the planter and food for those who must eat.

Isaiah 55:11 In the same way, the promise that I make does not return to me, having accomplished nothing. No, it is realized as I desire and is fulfilled as I intend.”

Isaiah 55:12 Indeed you will go out with joy; you will be led along in peace; the mountains and hills will give a joyful shout before you, and all the trees in the field will clap their hands.

Isaiah 55:13 Evergreens will grow in place of thorn bushes, firs will grow in place of nettles; they will be a monument to the LORD, a permanent reminder that will remain.

Isaiah 56:1 This is what the LORD says, “Promote justice! Do what is right! For I am ready to deliver you; I am ready to vindicate you openly.

Isaiah 56:2 The people who do this will be blessed, the people who commit themselves to obedience, who observe the Sabbath and do not defile it, who refrain from doing anything that is wrong.

Isaiah 56:3 No foreigner who becomes a follower of the LORD should say, ‘The LORD will certainly exclude me from his people.’ The eunuch should not say, ‘Look, I am like a dried-up tree.’“

Isaiah 56:4 For this is what the LORD says: “For the eunuchs who observe my Sabbaths and choose what pleases me and are faithful to my covenant,

Isaiah 56:5 I will set up within my temple and my walls a monument that will be better than sons and daughters. I will set up a permanent monument for them that will remain.

Isaiah 56:6 As for foreigners who become followers of the LORD and serve him, who love the name of the LORD and want to be his servants– all who observe the Sabbath and do not defile it, and who are faithful to my covenant–

Isaiah 56:7 I will bring them to my holy mountain; I will make them happy in the temple where people pray to me. Their burnt offerings and sacrifices will be accepted on my altar, for my temple will be known as a temple where all nations may pray.”

Isaiah 56:8 The sovereign LORD says this, the one who gathers the dispersed of Israel: “I will still gather them up.”

Isaiah 56:9 All you wild animals in the fields, come and devour, all you wild animals in the forest!

Isaiah 56:10 All their watchmen are blind, they are unaware. All of them are like mute dogs, unable to bark. They pant, lie down, and love to snooze.

Isaiah 56:11 The dogs have big appetites; they are never full. They are shepherds who have no understanding; they all go their own way, each one looking for monetary gain.

Isaiah 56:12 Each one says, ‘Come on, I’ll get some wine! Let’s guzzle some beer! Tomorrow will be just like today! We’ll have everything we want!’

Isaiah 57:1 The godly perish, but no one cares. Honest people disappear, when no one minds that the godly disappear because of evil.

Isaiah 57:2 Those who live uprightly enter a place of peace; they rest on their beds.

Isaiah 57:3 But approach, you sons of omen readers, you offspring of adulteresses and prostitutes!

Isaiah 57:4 At whom are you laughing? At whom are you opening your mouth and sticking out your tongue? You are the children of rebels, the offspring of liars,

Isaiah 57:5 you who practice ritual sex under the oaks and every green tree, who slaughter children near the streams under the rocky overhangs.

Isaiah 57:6 Among the smooth stones of the stream are the idols you love; they, they are the object of your devotion. You pour out liquid offerings to them, you make an offering. Because of these things I will seek vengeance.

Isaiah 57:7 On every high, elevated hill you prepare your bed; you go up there to offer sacrifices.

Isaiah 57:8 Behind the door and doorpost you put your symbols. Indeed, you depart from me and go up and invite them into bed with you. You purchase favors from them, you love their bed, and gaze longingly on their genitals.

Isaiah 57:9 You take olive oil as tribute to your king, along with many perfumes. You send your messengers to a distant place; you go all the way to Sheol.

Isaiah 57:10 Because of the long distance you must travel, you get tired, but you do not say, ‘I give up.’ You get renewed energy, so you don’t collapse.

Isaiah 57:11 Whom are you worried about? Whom do you fear, that you would act so deceitfully and not remember me or think about me? Because I have been silent for so long, you are not afraid of me.

Isaiah 57:12 I will denounce your so-called righteousness and your deeds, but they will not help you.

Isaiah 57:13 When you cry out for help, let your idols help you! The wind blows them all away, a breeze carries them away. But the one who looks to me for help will inherit the land and will have access to my holy mountain."

Isaiah 57:14 He says, "Build it! Build it! Clear a way! Remove all the obstacles out of the way of my people!"

Isaiah 57:15 For this is what the high and exalted one says, the one who rules forever, whose name is holy: "I dwell in an exalted and holy place, but also with the discouraged and humiliated, in order to cheer up the humiliated and to encourage the discouraged.

Isaiah 57:16 For I will not be hostile forever or perpetually angry, for then man's spirit would grow faint before me, the life-giving breath I created.

Isaiah 57:17 I was angry because of their sinful greed; I attacked them and angrily rejected them, yet they remained disobedient and stubborn.

Isaiah 57:18 I have seen their behavior, but I will heal them and give them rest, and I will once again console those who mourn.

Isaiah 57:19 I am the one who gives them reason to celebrate. Complete prosperity is available both to those who are far away and those who are nearby," says the LORD, "and I will heal them.

Isaiah 57:20 But the wicked are like a surging sea that is unable to be quiet; its waves toss up mud and sand.

Isaiah 57:21 There will be no prosperity," says my God, "for the wicked."

Isaiah 58:1 "Shout loudly! Don't be quiet! Yell as loud as a trumpet! Confront my people with their rebellious deeds; confront Jacob's family with their sin!

Isaiah 58:2 They seek me day after day; they want to know my requirements, like a nation that does what is right and does not reject the law of their God. They ask me for just decrees; they want to be near God.

Isaiah 58:3 They lament, 'Why don't you notice when we fast? Why don't you pay attention when we humble ourselves?' Look, at the same time you fast, you satisfy your selfish desires, you oppress your workers.

Isaiah 58:4 Look, your fasting is accompanied by arguments, brawls, and fistfights. Do not fast as you do today, trying to make your voice heard in heaven.

Isaiah 58:5 Is this really the kind of fasting I want? Do I want a day when people merely humble themselves, bowing their heads like a reed and stretching out on sackcloth and ashes? Is this really what you call a fast, a day that is pleasing to the LORD?

Isaiah 58:6 No, this is the kind of fast I want. I want you to remove the sinful chains, to tear away the ropes of the burdensome yoke, to set free the oppressed, and to break every burdensome yoke.

Isaiah 58:7 I want you to share your food with the hungry and to provide shelter for homeless, oppressed people. When you see someone naked, clothe him! Don't turn your back on your own flesh and blood!

Isaiah 58:8 Then your light will shine like the sunrise; your restoration will quickly arrive; your godly behavior will go before you, and the LORD's splendor will be your rear guard.

Isaiah 58:9 Then you will call out, and the LORD will respond; you will cry out, and he will reply, 'Here I am.' You must remove the burdensome yoke from among you and stop pointing fingers and speaking sinfully.

Isaiah 58:10 You must actively help the hungry and feed the oppressed. Then your light will dispel the darkness, and your darkness will be transformed into noonday.

Isaiah 58:11 The LORD will continually lead you; he will feed you even in parched regions. He will give you renewed strength, and you will be like a well-watered garden, like a spring that continually produces water.

Isaiah 58:12 Your perpetual ruins will be rebuilt; you will reestablish the ancient foundations. You will be called, 'The one who repairs broken walls, the one who makes the streets inhabitable again.'

Isaiah 58:13 You must observe the Sabbath rather than doing anything you please on my holy day. You must look forward to the Sabbath and treat the LORD's holy day with respect. You must treat it with respect by refraining from your normal activities, and by refraining from your selfish pursuits and from making business deals.

Isaiah 58:14 Then you will find joy in your relationship to the LORD, and I will give you great prosperity, and cause crops to grow on the land I gave to your ancestor Jacob." Know for certain that the LORD has spoken.

Isaiah 59:1 Look, the LORD's hand is not too weak to deliver you; his ear is not too deaf to hear you.

Isaiah 59:2 But your sinful acts have alienated you from your God; your sins have caused him to reject you and not listen to your prayers.

Isaiah 59:3 For your hands are stained with blood and your fingers with sin; your lips speak lies, your tongue utters malicious words.

Isaiah 59:4 No one is concerned about justice; no one sets forth his case truthfully. They depend on false words and tell lies; they conceive of oppression and give birth to sin.

Isaiah 59:5 They hatch the eggs of a poisonous snake and spin a spider’s web. Whoever eats their eggs will die, a poisonous snake is hatched.

Isaiah 59:6 Their webs cannot be used for clothing; they cannot cover themselves with what they make. Their deeds are sinful; they commit violent crimes.

Isaiah 59:7 They are eager to do evil, quick to shed innocent blood. Their thoughts are sinful; they crush and destroy.

Isaiah 59:8 They are unfamiliar with peace; their deeds are unjust. They use deceitful methods, and whoever deals with them is unfamiliar with peace.

Isaiah 59:9 For this reason deliverance is far from us and salvation does not reach us. We wait for light, but see only darkness; we wait for a bright light, but live in deep darkness.

Isaiah 59:10 We grope along the wall like the blind, we grope like those who cannot see; we stumble at noontime as if it were evening. Though others are strong, we are like dead men.

Isaiah 59:11 We all growl like bears, we coo mournfully like doves; we wait for deliverance, but there is none, for salvation, but it is far from us.

Isaiah 59:12 For you are aware of our many rebellious deeds, and our sins testify against us; indeed, we are aware of our rebellious deeds; we know our sins all too well.

Isaiah 59:13 We have rebelled and tried to deceive the LORD; we turned back from following our God. We stir up oppression and rebellion; we tell lies we concocted in our minds.

Isaiah 59:14 Justice is driven back; godliness stands far off. Indeed, honesty stumbles in the city square and morality is not even able to enter.

Isaiah 59:15 Honesty has disappeared; the one who tries to avoid evil is robbed. The LORD watches and is displeased, for there is no justice.

Isaiah 59:16 He sees there is no advocate; he is shocked that no one intervenes. So he takes matters into his own hands; his desire for justice drives him on.

Isaiah 59:17 He wears his desire for justice like body armor, and his desire to deliver is like a helmet on his head. He puts on the garments of vengeance and wears zeal like a robe.

Isaiah 59:18 He repays them for what they have done, dispensing angry judgment to his adversaries and punishing his enemies. He repays the coastlands.

Isaiah 59:19 In the west, people respect the LORD’s reputation; in the east they recognize his splendor. For he comes like a rushing stream driven on by wind sent from the LORD.

Isaiah 59:20 “A protector comes to Zion, to those in Jacob who repent of their rebellious deeds,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 59:21 “As for me, this is my promise to them,” says the LORD. “My spirit, who is upon you, and my words, which I have placed in your mouth, will not depart from your mouth or from the mouths of your children and descendants from this time forward,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 60:1 “Arise! Shine! For your light arrives! The splendor of the LORD shines on you!

Isaiah 60:2 For, look, darkness covers the earth and deep darkness covers the nations, but the LORD shines on you; his splendor appears over you.

Isaiah 60:3 Nations come to your light, kings to your bright light.

Isaiah 60:4 Look all around you! They all gather and come to you– your sons come from far away and your daughters are escorted by guardians.

Isaiah 60:5 Then you will look and smile, you will be excited and your heart will swell with pride. For the riches of distant lands will belong to you and the wealth of nations will come to you.

Isaiah 60:6 Camel caravans will cover your roads, young camels from Midian and Ephah. All the merchants of Sheba will come, bringing gold and incense and singing praises to the LORD.

Isaiah 60:7 All the sheep of Kedar will be gathered to you; the rams of Nebaioth will be available to you as sacrifices. They will go up on my altar acceptably, and I will bestow honor on my majestic temple.

Isaiah 60:8 Who are these who float along like a cloud, who fly like doves to their shelters?

Isaiah 60:9 Indeed, the coastlands look eagerly for me, the large ships are in the lead, bringing your sons from far away, along with their silver and gold, to honor the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, for he has bestowed honor on you.

Isaiah 60:10 Foreigners will rebuild your walls; their kings will serve you. Even though I struck you down in my anger, I will restore my favor and have compassion on you.

Isaiah 60:11 Your gates will remain open at all times; they will not be shut during the day or at night, so that the wealth of nations may be delivered, with their kings leading the way.

Isaiah 60:12 Indeed, nations or kingdoms that do not serve you will perish; such nations will be totally destroyed.

Isaiah 60:13 The splendor of Lebanon will come to you, its evergreens, firs, and cypresses together, to beautify my palace; I will bestow honor on my throne room.

Isaiah 60:14 The children of your oppressors will come bowing to you; all who treated you with disrespect will bow down at your feet. They will call you, 'The City of the LORD, Zion of the Holy One of Israel.'

Isaiah 60:15 You were once abandoned and despised, with no one passing through, but I will make you a permanent source of pride and joy to coming generations.

Isaiah 60:16 You will drink the milk of nations; you will nurse at the breasts of kings. Then you will recognize that I, the LORD, am your deliverer, your protector, the powerful ruler of Jacob.

Isaiah 60:17 Instead of bronze, I will bring you gold, instead of iron, I will bring you silver, instead of wood, I will bring you bronze, instead of stones, I will bring you iron. I will make prosperity your overseer, and vindication your sovereign ruler.

Isaiah 60:18 Sounds of violence will no longer be heard in your land, or the sounds of destruction and devastation within your borders. You will name your walls, 'Deliverance,' and your gates, 'Praise.'

Isaiah 60:19 The sun will no longer supply light for you by day, nor will the moon's brightness shine on you; the LORD will be your permanent source of light– the splendor of your God will shine upon you.

Isaiah 60:20 Your sun will no longer set; your moon will not disappear; the LORD will be your permanent source of light; your time of sorrow will be over.

Isaiah 60:21 All of your people will be godly; they will possess the land permanently. I will plant them like a shoot; they will be the product of my labor, through whom I reveal my splendor.

Isaiah 60:22 The least of you will multiply into a thousand; the smallest of you will become a large nation. When the right time comes, I the LORD will quickly do this!"

Isaiah 61:1 The spirit of the sovereign LORD is upon me, because the LORD has chosen me. He has commissioned me to encourage the poor, to help the brokenhearted, to decree the release of captives, and the freeing of prisoners,

Isaiah 61:2 to announce the year when the LORD will show his favor, the day when our God will seek vengeance, to console all who mourn,

Isaiah 61:3 to strengthen those who mourn in Zion, by giving them a turban, instead of ashes, oil symbolizing joy, instead of mourning, a garment symbolizing praise, instead of discouragement. They will be called oaks of righteousness, trees planted by the LORD to reveal his splendor.

Isaiah 61:4 They will rebuild the perpetual ruins and restore the places that were desolate; they will reestablish the ruined cities, the places that have been desolate since ancient times.

Isaiah 61:5 “Foreigners will take care of your sheep; foreigners will work in your fields and vineyards.

Isaiah 61:6 You will be called, ‘the LORD’s priests, servants of our God.’ You will enjoy the wealth of nations and boast about the riches you receive from them.

Isaiah 61:7 Instead of shame, you will get a double portion; instead of humiliation, they will rejoice over the land they receive. Yes, they will possess a double portion in their land and experience lasting joy.

Isaiah 61:8 For I, the LORD, love justice and hate robbery and sin. I will repay them because of my faithfulness; I will make a permanent covenant with them.

Isaiah 61:9 Their descendants will be known among the nations, their offspring among the peoples. All who see them will recognize that the LORD has blessed them.”

Isaiah 61:10 I will greatly rejoice in the LORD; I will be overjoyed because of my God. For he clothes me in garments of deliverance; he puts on me a robe symbolizing vindication. I look like a bridegroom when he wears a turban as a priest would; I look like a bride when she puts on her jewelry.

Isaiah 61:11 For just as the ground produces its crops and a garden yields its produce, so the sovereign LORD will cause deliverance to grow, and give his people reason to praise him in the sight of all the nations.

Isaiah 62:1 “For the sake of Zion I will not be silent; for the sake of Jerusalem I will not be quiet, until her vindication shines brightly and her deliverance burns like a torch.”

Isaiah 62:2 Nations will see your vindication, and all kings your splendor. You will be called by a new name that the LORD himself will give you.

Isaiah 62:3 You will be a majestic crown in the hand of the LORD, a royal turban in the hand of your God.

Isaiah 62:4 You will no longer be called, “Abandoned,” and your land will no longer be called “Desolate.” Indeed, you will be called “My Delight is in Her,” and your land “Married.” For the LORD will take delight in you, and your land will be married to him.

Isaiah 62:5 As a young man marries a young woman, so your sons will marry you. As a bridegroom rejoices over a bride, so your God will rejoice over you.

Isaiah 62:6 I post watchmen on your walls, O Jerusalem; they should keep praying all day and all night. You who pray to the LORD, don’t be silent!

Isaiah 62:7 Don’t allow him to rest until he reestablishes Jerusalem, until he makes Jerusalem the pride of the earth.

Isaiah 62:8 The LORD swears an oath by his right hand, by his strong arm: “I will never again give your grain to your enemies as food, and foreigners will not drink your wine, which you worked hard to produce.

Isaiah 62:9 But those who harvest the grain will eat it, and will praise the LORD. Those who pick the grapes will drink the wine in the courts of my holy sanctuary.”

Isaiah 62:10 Come through! Come through the gates! Prepare the way for the people! Build it! Build the roadway! Remove the stones! Lift a signal flag for the nations!

Isaiah 62:11 Look, the LORD announces to the entire earth: “Say to Daughter Zion, ‘Look, your deliverer comes! Look, his reward is with him and his reward goes before him!’“

Isaiah 62:12 They will be called, “The Holy People, the Ones Protected by the LORD.” You will be called, “Sought After, City Not Abandoned.”

Isaiah 63:1 Who is this who comes from Edom, dressed in bright red, coming from Bozrah? Who is this one wearing royal attire, who marches confidently because of his great strength? “It is I, the one who announces vindication, and who is able to deliver!”

Isaiah 63:2 Why are your clothes red? Why do you look like someone who has stomped on grapes in a vat?

Isaiah 63:3 “I have stomped grapes in the winepress all by myself; no one from the nations joined me. I stomped on them in my anger; I trampled them down in my rage. Their juice splashed on my garments, and stained all my clothes.

Isaiah 63:4 For I looked forward to the day of vengeance, and then payback time arrived.

Isaiah 63:5 I looked, but there was no one to help; I was shocked because there was no one offering support. So my right arm accomplished deliverance; my raging anger drove me on.

Isaiah 63:6 I trampled nations in my anger, I made them drunk in my rage, I splashed their blood on the ground.”

Isaiah 63:7 I will tell of the faithful acts of the LORD, of the LORD’s praiseworthy deeds. I will tell about all the LORD did for us, the many good things he did for the family of Israel, because of his compassion and great faithfulness.

Isaiah 63:8 He said, “Certainly they will be my people, children who are not disloyal.” He became their deliverer.

Isaiah 63:9 Through all that they suffered, he suffered too. The messenger sent from his very presence delivered them. In his love and mercy he protected them; he lifted them up and carried them throughout ancient times.

Isaiah 63:10 But they rebelled and offended his holy Spirit, so he turned into an enemy and fought against them.

Isaiah 63:11 His people remembered the ancient times. Where is the one who brought them up out of the sea, along with the shepherd of his flock? Where is the one who placed his holy Spirit among them,

Isaiah 63:12 the one who made his majestic power available to Moses, who divided the water before them, gaining for himself a lasting reputation,

Isaiah 63:13 who led them through the deep water? Like a horse running on flat land they did not stumble.

Isaiah 63:14 Like an animal that goes down into a valley to graze, so the Spirit of the LORD granted them rest. In this way you guided your people, gaining for yourself an honored reputation.

Isaiah 63:15 Look down from heaven and take notice, from your holy, majestic palace! Where are your zeal and power? Do not hold back your tender compassion!

Isaiah 63:16 For you are our father, though Abraham does not know us and Israel does not recognize us. You, LORD, are our father; you have been called our protector from ancient times.

Isaiah 63:17 Why, LORD, do you make us stray from your ways, and make our minds stubborn so that we do not obey you? Return for the sake of your servants, the tribes of your inheritance!

Isaiah 63:18 For a short time your special nation possessed a land, but then our adversaries knocked down your holy sanctuary.

Isaiah 63:19 We existed from ancient times, but you did not rule over them, they were not your subjects.

Isaiah 64:1 If only you would tear apart the sky and come down! The mountains would tremble before you!

Isaiah 64:2 As when fire ignites dry wood, or fire makes water boil, let your adversaries know who you are, and may the nations shake at your presence!

Isaiah 64:3 When you performed awesome deeds that took us by surprise, you came down, and the mountains trembled before you.

Isaiah 64:4 Since ancient times no one has heard or perceived, no eye has seen any God besides you, who intervenes for those who wait for him.

Isaiah 64:5 You assist those who delight in doing what is right, who observe your commandments. Look, you were angry because we violated them continually. How then can we be saved?

Isaiah 64:6 We are all like one who is unclean, all our so-called righteous acts are like a menstrual rag in your sight. We all wither like a leaf; our sins carry us away like the wind.

Isaiah 64:7 No one invokes your name, or makes an effort to take hold of you. For you have rejected us and handed us over to our own sins.

Isaiah 64:8 Yet, LORD, you are our father. We are the clay, and you are our potter; we are all the product of your labor.

Isaiah 64:9 LORD, do not be too angry! Do not hold our sins against us continually! Take a good look at your people, at all of us!

Isaiah 64:10 Your chosen cities have become a desert; Zion has become a desert, Jerusalem is a desolate ruin.

Isaiah 64:11 Our holy temple, our pride and joy, the place where our ancestors praised you, has been burned with fire; all our prized possessions have been destroyed.

Isaiah 64:12 In light of all this, how can you still hold back, LORD? How can you be silent and continue to humiliate us?

Isaiah 65:1 “I made myself available to those who did not ask for me; I appeared to those who did not look for me. I said, ‘Here I am! Here I am!’ to a nation that did not invoke my name.

Isaiah 65:2 I spread out my hands all day long to my rebellious people, who lived in a way that is morally unacceptable, and who did what they desired.

Isaiah 65:3 These people continually and blatantly offend me as they sacrifice in their sacred orchards and burn incense on brick altars.

Isaiah 65:4 They sit among the tombs and keep watch all night long. They eat pork, and broth from unclean sacrificial meat is in their pans.

Isaiah 65:5 They say, ‘Keep to yourself! Don’t get near me, for I am holier than you!’ These people are like smoke in my nostrils, like a fire that keeps burning all day long.

Isaiah 65:6 Look, I have decreed: I will not keep silent, but will pay them back; I will pay them back exactly what they deserve,

Isaiah 65:7 for your sins and your ancestors’ sins,” says the LORD. “Because they burned incense on the mountains and offended me on the hills, I will punish them in full measure.”

Isaiah 65:8 This is what the LORD says: “When juice is discovered in a cluster of grapes, someone says, ‘Don’t destroy it, for it contains juice.’ So I will do for the sake of my servants– I will not destroy everyone.

Isaiah 65:9 I will bring forth descendants from Jacob, and from Judah people to take possession of my mountains. My chosen ones will take possession of the land; my servants will live there.

Isaiah 65:10 Sharon will become a pasture for sheep, and the Valley of Achor a place where cattle graze; they will belong to my people, who seek me.

Isaiah 65:11 But as for you who abandon the LORD and forget about worshiping at my holy mountain, who prepare a feast for the god called 'Fortune,' and fill up wine jugs for the god called 'Destiny'–

Isaiah 65:12 I predestine you to die by the sword, all of you will kneel down at the slaughtering block, because I called to you, and you did not respond, I spoke and you did not listen. You did evil before me; you chose to do what displeases me."

Isaiah 65:13 So this is what the sovereign LORD says: "Look, my servants will eat, but you will be hungry! Look, my servants will drink, but you will be thirsty! Look, my servants will rejoice, but you will be humiliated!

Isaiah 65:14 Look, my servants will shout for joy as happiness fills their hearts! But you will cry out as sorrow fills your hearts; you will wail because your spirits will be crushed.

Isaiah 65:15 Your names will live on in the curse formulas of my chosen ones. The sovereign LORD will kill you, but he will give his servants another name.

Isaiah 65:16 Whoever pronounces a blessing in the earth will do so in the name of the faithful God; whoever makes an oath in the earth will do so in the name of the faithful God. For past problems will be forgotten; I will no longer think about them.

Isaiah 65:17 For look, I am ready to create new heavens and a new earth! The former ones will not be remembered; no one will think about them anymore.

Isaiah 65:18 But be happy and rejoice forevermore over what I am about to create! For look, I am ready to create Jerusalem to be a source of joy, and her people to be a source of happiness.

Isaiah 65:19 Jerusalem will bring me joy, and my people will bring me happiness. The sound of weeping or cries of sorrow will never be heard in her again.

Isaiah 65:20 Never again will one of her infants live just a few days or an old man die before his time. Indeed, no one will die before the age of a hundred, anyone who fails to reach the age of a hundred will be considered cursed.

Isaiah 65:21 They will build houses and live in them; they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit.

Isaiah 65:22 No longer will they build a house only to have another live in it, or plant a vineyard only to have another eat its fruit, for my people will live as long as trees, and my chosen ones will enjoy to the fullest what they have produced.

Isaiah 65:23 They will not work in vain, or give birth to children that will experience disaster. For the LORD will bless their children and their descendants.

Isaiah 65:24 Before they even call out, I will respond; while they are still speaking, I will hear.

Isaiah 65:25 A wolf and a lamb will graze together; a lion, like an ox, will eat straw, and a snake's food will be dirt. They will no longer injure or destroy on my entire royal mountain," says the LORD.

Isaiah 66:1 This is what the LORD says: "The heavens are my throne and the earth is my footstool. Where then is the house you will build for me? Where is the place where I will rest?

Isaiah 66:2 My hand made them; that is how they came to be," says the LORD. I show special favor to the humble and contrite, who respect what I have to say.

Isaiah 66:3 The one who slaughters a bull also strikes down a man; the one who sacrifices a lamb also breaks a dog's neck; the one who presents an offering includes pig's blood with it; the one who offers incense also praises an idol. They have decided to behave this way; they enjoy these disgusting practices.

Isaiah 66:4 So I will choose severe punishment for them; I will bring on them what they dread, because I called, and no one responded, I spoke and they did not listen. They did evil before me; they chose to do what displeases me."

Isaiah 66:5 Hear the word of the LORD, you who respect what he has to say! Your countrymen, who hate you and exclude you, supposedly for the sake of my name, say, "May the LORD be glorified, then we will witness your joy." But they will be put to shame.

Isaiah 66:6 The sound of battle comes from the city; the sound comes from the temple! It is the sound of the LORD paying back his enemies.

Isaiah 66:7 Before she goes into labor, she gives birth! Before her contractions begin, she delivers a boy!

Isaiah 66:8 Who has ever heard of such a thing? Who has ever seen this? Can a country be brought forth in one day? Can a nation be born in a single moment? Yet as soon as Zion goes into labor she gives birth to sons!

Isaiah 66:9 "Do I bring a baby to the birth opening and then not deliver it?" asks the LORD. "Or do I bring a baby to the point of delivery and then hold it back?" asks your God.

Isaiah 66:10 Be happy for Jerusalem and rejoice with her, all you who love her! Share in her great joy, all you who have mourned over her!

Isaiah 66:11 For you will nurse from her satisfying breasts and be nourished; you will feed with joy from her milk-filled breasts.

Isaiah 66:12 For this is what the LORD says: “Look, I am ready to extend to her prosperity that will flow like a river, the riches of nations will flow into her like a stream that floods its banks. You will nurse from her breast and be carried at her side; you will play on her knees.

Isaiah 66:13 As a mother consoles a child, so I will console you, and you will be consoled over Jerusalem.”

Isaiah 66:14 When you see this, you will be happy, and you will be revived. The LORD will reveal his power to his servants and his anger to his enemies.

Isaiah 66:15 For look, the LORD comes with fire, his chariots come like a windstorm, to reveal his raging anger, his battle cry, and his flaming arrows.

Isaiah 66:16 For the LORD judges all humanity with fire and his sword; the LORD will kill many.

Isaiah 66:17 “As for those who consecrate and ritually purify themselves so they can follow their leader and worship in the sacred orchards, those who eat the flesh of pigs and other disgusting creatures, like mice– they will all be destroyed together,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 66:18 “I hate their deeds and thoughts! So I am coming to gather all the nations and ethnic groups; they will come and witness my splendor.

Isaiah 66:19 I will perform a mighty act among them and then send some of those who remain to the nations– to Tarshish, Pul, Lud (known for its archers), Tubal, Javan, and to the distant coastlands that have not heard about me or seen my splendor. They will tell the nations of my splendor.

Isaiah 66:20 They will bring back all your countrymen from all the nations as an offering to the LORD. They will bring them on horses, in chariots, in wagons, on mules, and on camels to my holy hill Jerusalem,” says the LORD, “just as the Israelites bring offerings to the LORD’s temple in ritually pure containers.

Isaiah 66:21 And I will choose some of them as priests and Levites,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 66:22 “For just as the new heavens and the new earth I am about to make will remain standing before me,” says the LORD, “so your descendants and your name will remain.

Isaiah 66:23 From one month to the next and from one Sabbath to the next, all people will come to worship me,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 66:24 “They will go out and observe the corpses of those who rebelled against me, for the maggots that eat them will not die, and the fire that consumes them will not die out. All people will find the sight abhorrent.”

Jeremiah

1:1 The following is a record of what Jeremiah son of Hilkiah prophesied. He was one of the priests who lived at Anathoth in the territory of the tribe of Benjamin.

Jeremiah 1:2 The LORD began to speak to him in the thirteenth year that Josiah son of Amon ruled over Judah.

Jeremiah 1:3 The LORD also spoke to him when Jehoiakim son of Josiah ruled over Judah, and he continued to speak to him until the fifth month of the eleventh year that Zedekiah son of Josiah ruled over Judah. That was when the people of Jerusalem were taken into exile.

Jeremiah 1:4 The LORD said to me,

Jeremiah 1:5 "Before I formed you in your mother's womb I chose you. Before you were born I set you apart. I appointed you to be a prophet to the nations."

Jeremiah 1:6 I answered, "Oh, Lord GOD, I really do not know how to speak well enough for that, for I am too young."

Jeremiah 1:7 The LORD said to me, "Do not say, 'I am too young.' But go to whomever I send you and say whatever I tell you.

Jeremiah 1:8 Do not be afraid of those to whom I send you, for I will be with you to protect you," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 1:9 Then the LORD reached out his hand and touched my mouth and said to me, "I will most assuredly give you the words you are to speak for me.

Jeremiah 1:10 Know for certain that I hereby give you the authority to announce to nations and kingdoms that they will be uprooted and torn down, destroyed and demolished, rebuilt and firmly planted."

Jeremiah 1:11 Later the LORD asked me, "What do you see, Jeremiah?" I answered, "I see a branch of an almond tree."

Jeremiah 1:12 Then the LORD said, "You have observed correctly. This means I am watching to make sure my threats are carried out."

Jeremiah 1:13 The LORD again asked me, "What do you see?" I answered, "I see a pot of boiling water; it is tipped toward us from the north."

Jeremiah 1:14 Then the LORD said, "This means destruction will break out from the north on all who live in the land.

Jeremiah 1:15 For I will soon summon all the peoples of the kingdoms of the north," says the LORD. "They will come and their kings will set up their thrones near the entrances of the gates of Jerusalem. They will attack all the walls surrounding it, and all the towns in Judah.

Jeremiah 1:16 In this way I will pass sentence on the people of Jerusalem and Judah because of all their wickedness. For they rejected me and offered sacrifices to other gods, worshiping what they made with their own hands.”

Jeremiah 1:17 “But you, Jeremiah, get yourself ready! Go and tell these people everything I instruct you to say. Do not be terrified of them, or I will give you good reason to be terrified of them.

Jeremiah 1:18 I, the LORD, hereby promise to make you as strong as a fortified city, an iron pillar, and a bronze wall. You will be able to stand up against all who live in the land, including the kings of Judah, its officials, its priests and all the people of the land.

Jeremiah 1:19 They will attack you but they will not be able to overcome you, for I will be with you to rescue you,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 2:1 The LORD spoke to me. He said:

Jeremiah 2:2 “Go and declare in the hearing of the people of Jerusalem: ‘This is what the LORD says: “I have fond memories of you, how devoted you were to me in your early years. I remember how you loved me like a new bride; you followed me through the wilderness, through a land that had never been planted.

Jeremiah 2:3 Israel was set apart to the LORD; they were like the first fruits of a harvest to him. All who tried to devour them were punished; disaster came upon them,” says the LORD.’“

Jeremiah 2:4 Now listen to what the Lord has to say, you descendants of Jacob, all you family groups from the nation of Israel.

Jeremiah 2:5 This is what the Lord says: “What fault could your ancestors have possibly found in me that they strayed so far from me? They paid allegiance to worthless idols, and so became worthless to me.

Jeremiah 2:6 They did not ask: ‘Where is the LORD who delivered us out of Egypt, who brought us through the wilderness, through a land of desert sands and rift valleys, through a land of drought and deep darkness, through a land in which no one travels, and where no one lives?’

Jeremiah 2:7 I brought you into a fertile land so you could enjoy its fruits and its rich bounty. But when you entered my land, you defiled it; you made the land I call my own loathsome to me.

Jeremiah 2:8 Your priests did not ask, ‘Where is the LORD?’ Those responsible for teaching my law did not really know me. Your rulers rebelled against me. Your prophets prophesied in the name of the god Baal. They all worshiped idols that could not help them.

Jeremiah 2:9 “So, once more I will state my case against you,” says the LORD. “I will also state it against your children and grandchildren.

Jeremiah 2:10 Go west across the sea to the coasts of Cyprus and see. Send someone east to Kedar and have them look carefully. See if such a thing as this has ever happened:

Jeremiah 2:11 Has a nation ever changed its gods (even though they are not really gods at all)? But my people have exchanged me, their glorious God, for a god that cannot help them at all!

Jeremiah 2:12 Be amazed at this, O heavens! Be shocked and utterly dumbfounded," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 2:13 "Do so because my people have committed a double wrong: they have rejected me, the fountain of life-giving water, and they have dug cisterns for themselves, cracked cisterns which cannot even hold water."

Jeremiah 2:14 "Israel is not a slave, is he? He was not born into slavery, was he? If not, why then is he being carried off?

Jeremiah 2:15 Like lions his enemies roar victoriously over him; they raise their voices in triumph. They have laid his land waste; his cities have been burned down and deserted.

Jeremiah 2:16 Even the soldiers from Memphis and Tahpanhes have cracked your skulls, people of Israel.

Jeremiah 2:17 You have brought all this on yourself, Israel, by deserting the LORD your God when he was leading you along the right path.

Jeremiah 2:18 What good will it do you then to go down to Egypt to seek help from the Egyptians? What good will it do you to go over to Assyria to seek help from the Assyrians?

Jeremiah 2:19 Your own wickedness will bring about your punishment. Your unfaithful acts will bring down discipline on you. Know, then, and realize how utterly harmful it was for you to reject me, the LORD your God, to show no respect for me," says the Lord GOD who rules over all.

Jeremiah 2:20 "Indeed, long ago you threw off my authority and refused to be subject to me. You said, 'I will not serve you.' Instead, you gave yourself to other gods on every high hill and under every green tree, like a prostitute sprawls out before her lovers.

Jeremiah 2:21 I planted you in the land like a special vine of the very best stock. Why in the world have you turned into something like a wild vine that produces rotten, foul-smelling grapes?

Jeremiah 2:22 You can try to wash away your guilt with a strong detergent. You can use as much soap as you want. But the stain of your guilt is still there for me to see," says the Lord GOD.

Jeremiah 2:23 "How can you say, 'I have not made myself unclean. I have not paid allegiance to the gods called Baal.' Just look at the way you have behaved in the Valley of Hinnom! Think about the things you have done there! You are like a flighty, young female camel that rushes here and there, crisscrossing its path.

Jeremiah 2:24 You are like a wild female donkey brought up in the wilderness. In her lust she sniffs the wind to get the scent of a male. No one can hold her back when she is in heat. None of the males need wear themselves out chasing after her. At mating time she is easy to find.

Jeremiah 2:25 Do not chase after other gods until your shoes wear out and your throats become dry. But you say, 'It is useless for you to try and stop me because I love those foreign gods and want to pursue them!'

Jeremiah 2:26 Just as a thief has to suffer dishonor when he is caught, so the people of Israel will suffer dishonor for what they have done. So will their kings and officials, their priests and their prophets.

Jeremiah 2:27 They say to a wooden idol, 'You are my father.' They say to a stone image, 'You gave birth to me.' Yes, they have turned away from me instead of turning to me. Yet when they are in trouble, they say, 'Come and save us!'

Jeremiah 2:28 But where are the gods you made for yourselves? Let them save you when you are in trouble. The sad fact is that you have as many gods as you have towns, Judah.

Jeremiah 2:29 "Why do you try to refute me? All of you have rebelled against me," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 2:30 "It did no good for me to punish your people. They did not respond to such correction. You slaughtered your prophets like a voracious lion."

Jeremiah 2:31 You people of this generation, listen to what the LORD says. "Have I been like a wilderness to you, Israel? Have I been like a dark and dangerous land to you? Why then do you say, 'We are free to wander. We will not come to you any more?'

Jeremiah 2:32 Does a young woman forget to put on her jewels? Does a bride forget to put on her bridal attire? But my people have forgotten me for more days than can even be counted.

Jeremiah 2:33 "My, how good you have become at chasing after your lovers! Why, you could even teach prostitutes a thing or two!

Jeremiah 2:34 Even your clothes are stained with the lifeblood of the poor who had not done anything wrong; you did not catch them breaking into your homes. Yet, in spite of all these things you have done,

Jeremiah 2:35 you say, 'I have not done anything wrong, so the LORD cannot really be angry with me any more.' But, watch out! I will bring down judgment on you because you say, 'I have not committed any sin.'

Jeremiah 2:36 Why do you constantly go about changing your political allegiances? You will get no help from Egypt just as you got no help from Assyria.

Jeremiah 2:37 Moreover, you will come away from Egypt with your hands covering your faces in sorrow and shame because the LORD will not allow your reliance on them to be successful and you will not gain any help from them.

Jeremiah 3:1 “If a man divorces his wife and she leaves him and becomes another man’s wife, he may not take her back again. Doing that would utterly defile the land. But you, Israel, have given yourself as a prostitute to many gods. So what makes you think you can return to me?” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 3:2 “Look up at the hilltops and consider this. You have had sex with other gods on every one of them. You waited for those gods like a thief lying in wait in the desert. You defiled the land by your wicked prostitution to other gods.

Jeremiah 3:3 That is why the rains have been withheld, and the spring rains have not come. Yet in spite of this you are obstinate as a prostitute. You refuse to be ashamed of what you have done.

Jeremiah 3:4 Even now you say to me, ‘You are my father! You have been my faithful companion ever since I was young.

Jeremiah 3:5 You will not always be angry with me, will you? You will not be mad at me forever, will you?’ That is what you say, but you continually do all the evil that you can.”

Jeremiah 3:6 When Josiah was king of Judah, the LORD said to me, “Jeremiah, you have no doubt seen what wayward Israel has done. You have seen how she went up to every high hill and under every green tree to give herself like a prostitute to other gods.

Jeremiah 3:7 Yet even after she had done all that, I thought that she might come back to me. But she did not. Her sister, unfaithful Judah, saw what she did.

Jeremiah 3:8 She also saw that I gave wayward Israel her divorce papers and sent her away because of her adulterous worship of other gods. Even after her unfaithful sister Judah had seen this, she still was not afraid, and she too went and gave herself like a prostitute to other gods.

Jeremiah 3:9 Because she took her prostitution so lightly, she defiled the land through her adulterous worship of gods made of wood and stone.

Jeremiah 3:10 In spite of all this, Israel’s sister, unfaithful Judah, has not turned back to me with any sincerity; she has only pretended to do so,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 3:11 Then the LORD said to me, “Under the circumstances, wayward Israel could even be considered less guilty than unfaithful Judah.

Jeremiah 3:12 “Go and shout this message to my people in the countries in the north. Tell them, ‘Come back to me, wayward Israel,’ says the LORD. 'I will not continue to look on you with displeasure. For I am merciful,' says the LORD. 'I will not be angry with you forever.

Jeremiah 3:13 However, you must confess that you have done wrong, and that you have rebelled against the LORD your God. You must confess that you have given yourself to foreign gods under every green tree, and have not obeyed my commands,' says the LORD.

Jeremiah 3:14 "Come back to me, my wayward sons," says the LORD, "for I am your true master. If you do, I will take one of you from each town and two of you from each family group, and I will bring you back to Zion.

Jeremiah 3:15 I will give you leaders who will be faithful to me. They will lead you with knowledge and insight.

Jeremiah 3:16 In those days, your population will greatly increase in the land. At that time," says the LORD, "people will no longer talk about having the ark that contains the LORD's covenant with us. They will not call it to mind, remember it, or miss it. No, that will not be done any more!

Jeremiah 3:17 At that time the city of Jerusalem will be called the LORD's throne. All nations will gather there in Jerusalem to honor the LORD's name. They will no longer follow the stubborn inclinations of their own evil hearts.

Jeremiah 3:18 At that time the nation of Judah and the nation of Israel will be reunited. Together they will come back from a land in the north to the land that I gave to your ancestors as a permanent possession. "

Jeremiah 3:19 "I thought to myself, 'Oh what a joy it would be for me to treat you like a son! What a joy it would be for me to give you a pleasant land, the most beautiful piece of property there is in all the world!' I thought you would call me, 'Father' and would never cease being loyal to me.

Jeremiah 3:20 But, you have been unfaithful to me, nation of Israel, like an unfaithful wife who has left her husband," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 3:21 "A noise is heard on the hilltops. It is the sound of the people of Israel crying and pleading to their gods. Indeed they have followed sinful ways; they have forgotten to be true to the LORD their God.

Jeremiah 3:22 Come back to me, you wayward people. I want to cure your waywardness. Say, 'Here we are. We come to you because you are the LORD our God.

Jeremiah 3:23 We know our noisy worship of false gods on the hills and mountains did not help us. We know that the LORD our God is the only one who can deliver Israel.

Jeremiah 3:24 From earliest times our worship of that shameful god, Baal, has taken away all that our ancestors worked for. It has taken away our flocks and our herds, and even our sons and daughters.

Jeremiah 3:25 Let us acknowledge our shame. Let us bear the disgrace that we deserve. For we have sinned against the LORD our God, both we and our ancestors. From earliest times to this very day we have not obeyed the LORD our God.’

Jeremiah 4:1 “If you, Israel, want to come back,” says the LORD, “if you want to come back to me you must get those disgusting idols out of my sight and must no longer go astray.

Jeremiah 4:2 You must be truthful, honest and upright when you take an oath saying, ‘As surely as the LORD lives!’ If you do, the nations will pray to be as blessed by him as you are and will make him the object of their boasting.”

Jeremiah 4:3 Yes, the LORD has this to say to the people of Judah and Jerusalem: “Like a farmer breaking up hard unplowed ground, you must break your rebellious will and make a new beginning; just as a farmer must clear away thorns lest the seed is wasted, you must get rid of the sin that is ruining your lives.

Jeremiah 4:4 Just as ritual circumcision cuts away the foreskin as an external symbol of dedicated covenant commitment, you must genuinely dedicate yourselves to the LORD and get rid of everything that hinders your commitment to me, people of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem. If you do not, my anger will blaze up like a flaming fire against you that no one will be able to extinguish. That will happen because of the evil you have done.”

Jeremiah 4:5 The LORD said, “Announce this in Judah and proclaim it in Jerusalem: ‘Sound the trumpet throughout the land!’ Shout out loudly, ‘Gather together! Let us flee into the fortified cities!’

Jeremiah 4:6 Raise a signal flag that tells people to go to Zion. Run for safety! Do not delay! For I am about to bring disaster out of the north. It will bring great destruction.

Jeremiah 4:7 Like a lion that has come up from its lair the one who destroys nations has set out from his home base. He is coming out to lay your land waste. Your cities will become ruins and lie uninhabited.

Jeremiah 4:8 So put on sackcloth! Mourn and wail, saying, ‘The fierce anger of the LORD has not turned away from us!’“

Jeremiah 4:9 “When this happens,” says the LORD, “the king and his officials will lose their courage. The priests will be struck with horror, and the prophets will be speechless in astonishment.”

Jeremiah 4:10 In response to all this I said, “Ah, Lord GOD, you have surely allowed the people of Judah and Jerusalem to be deceived by those who say, 'You will be safe!' But in fact a sword is already at our throats."

Jeremiah 4:11 "At that time the people of Judah and Jerusalem will be told, 'A scorching wind will sweep down from the hilltops in the desert on my dear people. It will not be a gentle breeze for winnowing the grain and blowing away the chaff.

Jeremiah 4:12 No, a wind too strong for that will come at my bidding. Yes, even now I, myself, am calling down judgment on them.'

Jeremiah 4:13 Look! The enemy is approaching like gathering clouds. The roar of his chariots is like that of a whirlwind. His horses move more swiftly than eagles." I cry out, "We are doomed, for we will be destroyed!"

Jeremiah 4:14 "Oh people of Jerusalem, purify your hearts from evil so that you may yet be delivered. How long will you continue to harbor up wicked schemes within you?

Jeremiah 4:15 For messengers are coming, heralding disaster, from the city of Dan and from the hills of Ephraim.

Jeremiah 4:16 They are saying, 'Announce to the surrounding nations, "The enemy is coming!" Proclaim this message to Jerusalem: "Those who besiege cities are coming from a distant land. They are ready to raise the battle cry against the towns in Judah."'

Jeremiah 4:17 They will surround Jerusalem like men guarding a field because they have rebelled against me," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 4:18 "The way you have lived and the things you have done will bring this on you. This is the punishment you deserve, and it will be painful indeed. The pain will be so bad it will pierce your heart."

Jeremiah 4:19 I said, "Oh, the feeling in the pit of my stomach! I writhe in anguish. Oh, the pain in my heart! My heart pounds within me. I cannot keep silent. For I hear the sound of the trumpet; the sound of the battle cry pierces my soul!

Jeremiah 4:20 I see one destruction after another taking place, so that the whole land lies in ruins. I see our tents suddenly destroyed, their curtains torn down in a mere instant.

Jeremiah 4:21 "How long must I see the enemy's battle flags and hear the military signals of their bugles?"

Jeremiah 4:22 The LORD answered, "This will happen because my people are foolish. They do not know me. They are like children who have no sense. They have no understanding. They are skilled at doing evil. They do not know how to do good."

Jeremiah 4:23 "I looked at the land and saw that it was an empty wasteland. I looked up at the sky, and its light had vanished.

Jeremiah 4:24 I looked at the mountains and saw that they were shaking. All the hills were swaying back and forth!

Jeremiah 4:25 I looked and saw that there were no more people, and that all the birds in the sky had flown away.

Jeremiah 4:26 I looked and saw that the fruitful land had become a desert and that all of the cities had been laid in ruins. The LORD had brought this all about because of his blazing anger.

Jeremiah 4:27 All this will happen because the LORD said, “The whole land will be desolate; however, I will not completely destroy it.

Jeremiah 4:28 Because of this the land will mourn and the sky above will grow black. For I have made my purpose known and I will not relent or turn back from carrying it out.”

Jeremiah 4:29 At the sound of the approaching horsemen and archers the people of every town will flee. Some of them will hide in the thickets. Others will climb up among the rocks. All the cities will be deserted. No one will remain in them.

Jeremiah 4:30 And you, Zion, city doomed to destruction, you accomplish nothing by wearing a beautiful dress, decking yourself out in jewels of gold, and putting on eye shadow! You are making yourself beautiful for nothing. Your lovers spurn you. They want to kill you.

Jeremiah 4:31 In fact, I hear a cry like that of a woman in labor, a cry of anguish like that of a woman giving birth to her first baby. It is the cry of Daughter Zion gasping for breath, reaching out for help, saying, “I am done in! My life is ebbing away before these murderers!”

Jeremiah 5:1 The LORD said, “Go up and down through the streets of Jerusalem. Look around and see for yourselves. Search through its public squares. See if any of you can find a single person who deals honestly and tries to be truthful. If you can, then I will not punish this city.

Jeremiah 5:2 These people make promises in the name of the LORD. But the fact is, what they swear to is really a lie.”

Jeremiah 5:3 LORD, I know you look for faithfulness. But even when you punish these people, they feel no remorse. Even when you nearly destroy them, they refuse to be corrected. They have become as hardheaded as a rock. They refuse to change their ways.

Jeremiah 5:4 I thought, “Surely it is only the ignorant poor who act this way. They act like fools because they do not know what the LORD demands. They do not know what their God requires of them.

Jeremiah 5:5 I will go to the leaders and speak with them. Surely they know what the LORD demands. Surely they know what their God requires of them.” Yet all of them, too, have rejected his authority and refuse to submit to him.

Jeremiah 5:6 So like a lion from the thicket their enemies will kill them. Like a wolf from the desert they will destroy them. Like a leopard they will lie in wait outside their cities and totally destroy anyone who ventures out. For they have rebelled so much and done so many unfaithful things.

Jeremiah 5:7 The LORD asked, “How can I leave you unpunished, Jerusalem? Your people have rejected me and have worshiped gods that are not gods at all. Even though I supplied all their needs, they were like an unfaithful wife to me. They went flocking to the houses of prostitutes.

Jeremiah 5:8 They are like lusty, well-fed stallions. Each of them lusts after his neighbor’s wife.

Jeremiah 5:9 I will surely punish them for doing such things!” says the LORD. “I will surely bring retribution on such a nation as this!”

Jeremiah 5:10 The LORD commanded the enemy, “March through the vineyards of Israel and Judah and ruin them. But do not destroy them completely. Strip off their branches for these people do not belong to the LORD.

Jeremiah 5:11 For the nations of Israel and Judah have been very unfaithful to me,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 5:12 “These people have denied what the LORD says. They have said, ‘That is not so! No harm will come to us. We will not experience war and famine.

Jeremiah 5:13 The prophets will prove to be full of wind. The LORD has not spoken through them. So, let what they say happen to them.’“

Jeremiah 5:14 Because of that, the LORD, the God who rules over all, said to me, “Because these people have spoken like this, I will make the words that I put in your mouth like fire. And I will make this people like wood which the fiery judgments you speak will burn up.”

Jeremiah 5:15 The LORD says, “Listen, nation of Israel! I am about to bring a nation from far away to attack you. It will be a nation that was founded long ago and has lasted for a long time. It will be a nation whose language you will not know. Its people will speak words that you will not be able to understand.

Jeremiah 5:16 All of its soldiers are strong and mighty. Their arrows will send you to your grave.

Jeremiah 5:17 They will eat up your crops and your food. They will kill off your sons and your daughters. They will eat up your sheep and your cattle. They will destroy your vines and your fig trees. Their weapons will batter down the fortified cities you trust in.

Jeremiah 5:18 Yet even then I will not completely destroy you,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 5:19 “So then, Jeremiah, when your people ask, ‘Why has the LORD our God done all this to us?’ tell them, ‘It is because you rejected me and served foreign gods in your own land. So you must serve foreigners in a land that does not belong to you.’

Jeremiah 5:20 “Proclaim this message among the descendants of Jacob. Make it known throughout Judah.

Jeremiah 5:21 Tell them: ‘Hear this, you foolish people who have no understanding, who have eyes but do not discern, who have ears but do not perceive:

Jeremiah 5:22 “You should fear me!” says the LORD. “You should tremble in awe before me! I made the sand to be a boundary for the sea, a permanent barrier that it can never cross. Its waves may roll, but they can never prevail. They may roar, but they can never cross beyond that boundary.”

Jeremiah 5:23 But these people have stubborn and rebellious hearts. They have turned aside and gone their own way.

Jeremiah 5:24 They do not say to themselves, “Let us revere the LORD our God. It is he who gives us the autumn rains and the spring rains at the proper time. It is he who assures us of the regular weeks of harvest.”

Jeremiah 5:25 Your misdeeds have stopped these things from coming. Your sins have deprived you of my bounty.’

Jeremiah 5:26 “Indeed, there are wicked scoundrels among my people. They lie in wait like bird catchers hiding in ambush. They set deadly traps to catch people.

Jeremiah 5:27 Like a cage filled with the birds that have been caught, their houses are filled with the gains of their fraud and deceit. That is how they have gotten so rich and powerful.

Jeremiah 5:28 That is how they have grown fat and sleek. There is no limit to the evil things they do. They do not plead the cause of the fatherless in such a way as to win it. They do not defend the rights of the poor.

Jeremiah 5:29 I will certainly punish them for doing such things!” says the LORD. “I will certainly bring retribution on such a nation as this!

Jeremiah 5:30 “Something horrible and shocking is going on in the land of Judah:

Jeremiah 5:31 The prophets prophesy lies. The priests exercise power by their own authority. And my people love to have it this way. But they will not be able to help you when the time of judgment comes!

Jeremiah 6:1 “Run for safety, people of Benjamin! Get out of Jerusalem! Sound the trumpet in Tekoa! Light the signal fires at Beth Hakkerem! For disaster lurks out of the north; it will bring great destruction.

Jeremiah 6:2 I will destroy Daughter Zion, who is as delicate and defenseless as a young maiden.

Jeremiah 6:3 Kings will come against it with their armies. They will encamp in siege all around it. Each of them will devastate the portion assigned to him.

Jeremiah 6:4 They will say, ‘Prepare to do battle against it! Come on! Let’s attack it at noon!’ But later they will say, ‘Oh, oh! Too bad! The day is almost over and the shadows of evening are getting long.

Jeremiah 6:5 So come on, let’s go ahead and attack it by night and destroy all its fortified buildings.’

Jeremiah 6:6 All of this is because the LORD who rules over all has said: ‘Cut down the trees around Jerusalem and build up a siege ramp against its walls. This is the city which is to be punished. Nothing but oppression happens in it.

Jeremiah 6:7 As a well continually pours out fresh water so it continually pours out wicked deeds. Sounds of violence and destruction echo throughout it. All I see are sick and wounded people.’

Jeremiah 6:8 So take warning, Jerusalem, or I will abandon you in disgust and make you desolate, a place where no one can live.”

Jeremiah 6:9 This is what the LORD who rules over all said to me: “Those who remain in Israel will be like the grapes thoroughly gleaned from a vine. So go over them again, as though you were a grape harvester passing your hand over the branches one last time.”

Jeremiah 6:10 I answered, “Who would listen if I spoke to them and warned them? Their ears are so closed that they cannot hear! Indeed, what the LORD says is offensive to them. They do not like it at all.

Jeremiah 6:11 I am as full of anger as you are, LORD, I am tired of trying to hold it in.” The LORD answered, “Vent it, then, on the children who play in the street and on the young men who are gathered together. Husbands and wives are to be included, as well as the old and those who are advanced in years.

Jeremiah 6:12 Their houses will be turned over to others as will their fields and their wives. For I will unleash my power against those who live in this land,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 6:13 “That is because, from the least important to the most important of them, all of them are greedy for dishonest gain. Prophets and priests alike, all of them practice deceit.

Jeremiah 6:14 They offer only superficial help for the harm my people have suffered. They say, ‘Everything will be all right!’ But everything is not all right!

Jeremiah 6:15 Are they ashamed because they have done such shameful things? No, they are not at all ashamed. They do not even know how to blush! So they will die, just like others have died. They will be brought to ruin when I punish them,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 6:16 The LORD said to his people: “You are standing at the crossroads. So consider your path. Ask where the old, reliable paths are. Ask where the path is that leads to blessing and follow it. If you do, you will find rest for your souls.” But they said, “We will not follow it!”

Jeremiah 6:17 The LORD said, “I appointed prophets as watchmen to warn you, saying: ‘Pay attention to the warning sound of the trumpet!’“ But they said, “We will not pay attention!”

Jeremiah 6:18 So the LORD said, “Hear, you nations! Be witnesses and take note of what will happen to these people.

Jeremiah 6:19 Hear this, you peoples of the earth: ‘Take note! I am about to bring disaster on these people. It will come as punishment for their scheming. For they have paid no attention to what I have said, and they have rejected my law.

Jeremiah 6:20 I take no delight when they offer up to me frankincense that comes from Sheba or sweet-smelling cane imported from a faraway land. I cannot accept the burnt offerings they bring me. I get no pleasure from the sacrifices they offer to me.’

Jeremiah 6:21 So, this is what the LORD says: ‘I will assuredly make these people stumble to their doom. Parents and children will stumble and fall to their destruction. Friends and neighbors will die.’

Jeremiah 6:22 “This is what the LORD says: ‘Beware! An army is coming from a land in the north. A mighty nation is stirring into action in faraway parts of the earth.

Jeremiah 6:23 Its soldiers are armed with bows and spears. They are cruel and show no mercy. They sound like the roaring sea as they ride forth on their horses. Lined up in formation like men going into battle to attack you, Daughter Zion.’“

Jeremiah 6:24 The people cry out, “We have heard reports about them! We have become helpless with fear! Anguish grips us, agony like that of a woman giving birth to a baby!

Jeremiah 6:25 Do not go out into the countryside. Do not travel on the roads. For the enemy is there with sword in hand. They are spreading terror everywhere.”

Jeremiah 6:26 So I said, “Oh, my dear people, put on sackcloth and roll in ashes. Mourn with painful sobs as though you had lost your only child. For any moment now that destructive army will come against us.”

Jeremiah 6:27 The LORD said to me, “I have made you like a metal assayer to test my people like ore. You are to observe them and evaluate how they behave.”

Jeremiah 6:28 I reported, “All of them are the most stubborn of rebels! They are as hard as bronze or iron. They go about telling lies. They all deal corruptly.

Jeremiah 6:29 The fiery bellows of judgment burn fiercely. But there is too much dross to be removed. The process of refining them has proved useless. The wicked have not been purged.

Jeremiah 6:30 They are regarded as 'rejected silver' because the LORD rejects them."

Jeremiah 7:1 The LORD said to Jeremiah:

Jeremiah 7:2 "Stand in the gate of the LORD's temple and proclaim this message: 'Listen, all you people of Judah who have passed through these gates to worship the LORD. Hear what the LORD has to say.

Jeremiah 7:3 The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says: Change the way you have been living and do what is right. If you do, I will allow you to continue to live in this land.

Jeremiah 7:4 Stop putting your confidence in the false belief that says, "We are safe! The temple of the LORD is here! The temple of the LORD is here! The temple of the LORD is here!"

Jeremiah 7:5 You must change the way you have been living and do what is right. You must treat one another fairly.

Jeremiah 7:6 Stop oppressing foreigners who live in your land, children who have lost their fathers, and women who have lost their husbands. Stop killing innocent people in this land. Stop paying allegiance to other gods. That will only bring about your ruin.

Jeremiah 7:7 If you stop doing these things, I will allow you to continue to live in this land which I gave to your ancestors as a lasting possession.

Jeremiah 7:8 "'But just look at you! You are putting your confidence in a false belief that will not deliver you.

Jeremiah 7:9 You steal. You murder. You commit adultery. You lie when you swear on oath. You sacrifice to the god Baal. You pay allegiance to other gods whom you have not previously known.

Jeremiah 7:10 Then you come and stand in my presence in this temple I have claimed as my own and say, "We are safe!" You think you are so safe that you go on doing all those hateful sins!

Jeremiah 7:11 Do you think this temple I have claimed as my own is to be a hideout for robbers? You had better take note! I have seen for myself what you have done! says the LORD.

Jeremiah 7:12 So, go to the place in Shiloh where I allowed myself to be worshiped in the early days. See what I did to it because of the wicked things my people Israel did.

Jeremiah 7:13 You also have done all these things, says the LORD, and I have spoken to you over and over again. But you have not listened! You have refused to respond when I called you to repent!

Jeremiah 7:14 So I will destroy this temple which I have claimed as my own, this temple that you are trusting to protect you. I will destroy this place that I gave to you and your ancestors, just like I destroyed Shiloh.

Jeremiah 7:15 And I will drive you out of my sight just like I drove out your relatives, the people of Israel.'"

Jeremiah 7:16 Then the LORD said, "As for you, Jeremiah, do not pray for these people! Do not cry out to me or petition me on their behalf! Do not plead with me to save them, because I will not listen to you.

Jeremiah 7:17 Do you see what they are doing in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

Jeremiah 7:18 Children are gathering firewood, fathers are building fires with it, and women are mixing dough to bake cakes to offer to the goddess they call the Queen of Heaven. They are also pouring out drink offerings to other gods. They seem to do all this just to trouble me.

Jeremiah 7:19 But I am not really the one being troubled!" says the LORD. "Rather they are bringing trouble on themselves to their own shame!

Jeremiah 7:20 So," the Lord GOD says, "my raging fury will be poured out on this land. It will be poured out on human beings and animals, on trees and crops. And it will burn like a fire which cannot be extinguished."

Jeremiah 7:21 The LORD said to the people of Judah, "The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says: 'You might as well go ahead and add the meat of your burnt offerings to that of the other sacrifices and eat it, too!

Jeremiah 7:22 Consider this: When I spoke to your ancestors after I brought them out of Egypt, I did not merely give them commands about burnt offerings and sacrifices.

Jeremiah 7:23 I also explicitly commanded them: "Obey me. If you do, I will be your God and you will be my people. Live exactly the way I tell you and things will go well with you."

Jeremiah 7:24 But they did not listen to me or pay any attention to me. They followed the stubborn inclinations of their own wicked hearts. They acted worse and worse instead of better.

Jeremiah 7:25 From the time your ancestors departed the land of Egypt until now, I sent my servants the prophets to you again and again, day after day.

Jeremiah 7:26 But your ancestors did not listen to me nor pay attention to me. They became obstinate and were more wicked than even their own forefathers.'"

Jeremiah 7:27 Then the LORD said to me, “When you tell them all this, they will not listen to you. When you call out to them, they will not respond to you.

Jeremiah 7:28 So tell them: ‘This is a nation that has not obeyed the LORD their God and has not accepted correction. Faithfulness is nowhere to be found in it. These people do not even profess it anymore.

Jeremiah 7:29 So, mourn, you people of this nation. Cut off your hair and throw it away. Sing a song of mourning on the hilltops. For the LORD has decided to reject and forsake this generation that has provoked his wrath!’“

Jeremiah 7:30 The LORD says, “I have rejected them because the people of Judah have done what I consider evil. They have set up their disgusting idols in the temple which I have claimed for my own and have defiled it.

Jeremiah 7:31 They have also built places of worship in a place called Topheth in the Valley of Ben Hinnom so that they can sacrifice their sons and daughters by fire. That is something I never commanded them to do! Indeed, it never even entered my mind to command such a thing!

Jeremiah 7:32 So, watch out!” says the LORD. “The time will soon come when people will no longer call those places Topheth or the Valley of Ben Hinnom. But they will call that valley the Valley of Slaughter and they will bury so many people in Topheth they will run out of room.

Jeremiah 7:33 Then the dead bodies of these people will be left on the ground for the birds and wild animals to eat. There will not be any survivors to scare them away.

Jeremiah 7:34 I will put an end to the sounds of joy and gladness, or the glad celebration of brides and grooms throughout the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem. For the whole land will become a desolate wasteland.”

Jeremiah 8:1 The LORD says, “When that time comes, the bones of the kings of Judah and its leaders, the bones of the priests and prophets and of all the other people who lived in Jerusalem will be dug up from their graves.

Jeremiah 8:2 They will be spread out and exposed to the sun, the moon and the stars. These are things they adored and served, things to which they paid allegiance, from which they sought guidance, and worshiped. The bones of these people will never be regathered and reburied. They will be like manure used to fertilize the ground.

Jeremiah 8:3 However, I will leave some of these wicked people alive and banish them to other places. But wherever these people who survive may go, they will wish they had died rather than lived,” says the LORD who rules over all.

Jeremiah 8:4 The LORD said to me, “Tell them, ‘The LORD says, Do people not get back up when they fall down? Do they not turn around when they go the wrong way?

Jeremiah 8:5 Why, then, do these people of Jerusalem continually turn away from me in apostasy? They hold fast to their deception. They refuse to turn back to me.

Jeremiah 8:6 I have listened to them very carefully, but they do not speak honestly. None of them regrets the evil he has done. None of them says, “I have done wrong!” All of them persist in their own wayward course like a horse charging recklessly into battle.

Jeremiah 8:7 Even the stork knows when it is time to move on. The turtledove, swallow, and crane recognize the normal times for their migration. But my people pay no attention to what I, the LORD, require of them.

Jeremiah 8:8 How can you say, “We are wise! We have the law of the LORD”? The truth is, those who teach it have used their writings to make it say what it does not really mean.

Jeremiah 8:9 Your wise men will be put to shame. They will be dumbfounded and be brought to judgment. Since they have rejected the word of the LORD, what wisdom do they really have?

Jeremiah 8:10 So I will give their wives to other men and their fields to new owners. For from the least important to the most important of them, all of them are greedy for dishonest gain. Prophets and priests alike, all practice deceit.

Jeremiah 8:11 They offer only superficial help for the hurt my dear people have suffered. They say, “Everything will be all right!” But everything is not all right!

Jeremiah 8:12 Are they ashamed because they have done such disgusting things? No, they are not at all ashamed! They do not even know how to blush! So they will die just like others have died. They will be brought to ruin when I punish them, says the LORD.

Jeremiah 8:13 I will take away their harvests, says the LORD. There will be no grapes on their vines. There will be no figs on their fig trees. Even the leaves on their trees will wither. The crops that I gave them will be taken away.’“

Jeremiah 8:14 The people say, “Why are we just sitting here? Let us gather together inside the fortified cities. Let us at least die there fighting, since the LORD our God has condemned us to die. He has condemned us to drink the poison waters of judgment because we have sinned against him.

Jeremiah 8:15 We hoped for good fortune, but nothing good has come of it. We hoped for a time of relief, but instead we experience terror.

Jeremiah 8:16 The snorting of the enemy’s horses is already being heard in the city of Dan. The sound of the neighing of their stallions causes the whole land to tremble with fear. They are coming to destroy the land and everything in it! They are coming to destroy the cities and everyone who lives in them!”

Jeremiah 8:17 The LORD says, “Yes indeed, I am sending an enemy against you that will be like poisonous snakes which cannot be charmed away. And they will inflict fatal wounds on you.”

Jeremiah 8:18 Then I said, “There is no cure for my grief! I am sick at heart!

Jeremiah 8:19 I hear my dear people crying out throughout the length and breadth of the land. They are crying, ‘Is the LORD no longer in Zion? Is her divine King no longer there?’“ The LORD answers, “Why then do they provoke me to anger with their images, with their worthless foreign idols?”

Jeremiah 8:20 “They cry, ‘Harvest time has come and gone, and the summer is over, and still we have not been delivered.’

Jeremiah 8:21 My heart is crushed because my dear people are being crushed. I go about crying and grieving. I am overwhelmed with dismay.

Jeremiah 8:22 There is still medicinal ointment available in Gilead! There is still a physician there! Why then have my dear people not been restored to health?

Jeremiah 9:1 I wish that my head were a well full of water and my eyes were a fountain full of tears! If they were, I could cry day and night for those of my dear people who have been killed.

Jeremiah 9:2 I wish I had a lodging place in the desert where I could spend some time like a weary traveler. Then I would desert my people and walk away from them because they are all unfaithful to God, a congregation of people that has been disloyal to him.

Jeremiah 9:3 The LORD says, “These people are like soldiers who have readied their bows. Their tongues are always ready to shoot out lies. They have become powerful in the land, but they have not done so by honest means. Indeed, they do one evil thing after another and do not pay attention to me.

Jeremiah 9:4 Everyone must be on his guard around his friends. He must not even trust any of his relatives. For every one of them will find some way to cheat him. And all of his friends will tell lies about him.

Jeremiah 9:5 One friend deceives another and no one tells the truth. These people have trained themselves to tell lies. They do wrong and are unable to repent.

Jeremiah 9:6 They do one act of violence after another, and one deceitful thing after another. They refuse to pay attention to me," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 9:7 Therefore the LORD who rules over all says, "I will now purify them in the fires of affliction and test them. The wickedness of my dear people has left me no choice. What else can I do?

Jeremiah 9:8 Their tongues are like deadly arrows. They are always telling lies. Friendly words for their neighbors come from their mouths. But their minds are thinking up ways to trap them.

Jeremiah 9:9 I will certainly punish them for doing such things!" says the LORD. "I will certainly bring retribution on such a nation as this!"

Jeremiah 9:10 I said, "I will weep and mourn for the grasslands on the mountains, I will sing a mournful song for the pastures in the wilderness because they are so scorched no one travels through them. The sound of livestock is no longer heard there. Even the birds in the sky and the wild animals in the fields have fled and are gone."

Jeremiah 9:11 The LORD said, "I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins. Jackals will make their home there. I will destroy the towns of Judah so that no one will be able to live in them."

Jeremiah 9:12 I said, "Who is wise enough to understand why this has happened? Who has a word from the LORD that can explain it? Why does the land lie in ruins? Why is it as scorched as a desert through which no one travels?"

Jeremiah 9:13 The LORD answered, "This has happened because these people have rejected my laws which I gave them. They have not obeyed me or followed those laws.

Jeremiah 9:14 Instead they have followed the stubborn inclinations of their own hearts. They have paid allegiance to the gods called Baal, as their fathers taught them to do.

Jeremiah 9:15 So then, listen to what I, the LORD God of Israel who rules over all, say. 'I will make these people eat the bitter food of suffering and drink the poison water of judgment.

Jeremiah 9:16 I will scatter them among nations that neither they nor their ancestors have known anything about. I will send people chasing after them with swords until I have destroyed them.'"

Jeremiah 9:17 The LORD who rules over all told me to say to this people, "Take note of what I say. Call for the women who mourn for the dead! Summon those who are the most skilled at it!"

Jeremiah 9:18 I said, "Indeed, let them come quickly and sing a song of mourning for us. Let them wail loudly until tears stream from our own eyes and our eyelids overflow with water.

Jeremiah 9:19 For the sound of wailing is soon to be heard in Zion. They will wail, 'We are utterly ruined! We are completely disgraced! For our houses have been torn down and we must leave our land.'"

Jeremiah 9:20 I said, "So now, you wailing women, hear what the LORD says. Open your ears to the words from his mouth. Teach your daughters this mournful song, and each of you teach your neighbor this lament.

Jeremiah 9:21 'Death has climbed in through our windows. It has entered into our fortified houses. It has taken away our children who play in the streets. It has taken away our young men who gather in the city squares.'

Jeremiah 9:22 Tell your daughters and neighbors, 'The LORD says, "The dead bodies of people will lie scattered everywhere like manure scattered on a field. They will lie scattered on the ground like grain that has been cut down but has not been gathered."'"

Jeremiah 9:23 The LORD says, "Wise people should not boast that they are wise. Powerful people should not boast that they are powerful. Rich people should not boast that they are rich.

Jeremiah 9:24 If people want to boast, they should boast about this: They should boast that they understand and know me. They should boast that they know and understand that I, the LORD, act out of faithfulness, fairness, and justice in the earth and that I desire people to do these things," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 9:25 The LORD says, "Watch out! The time is soon coming when I will punish all those who are circumcised only in the flesh.

Jeremiah 9:26 That is, I will punish the Egyptians, the Judeans, the Edomites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, and all the desert people who cut their hair short at the temples. I will do so because none of the people of those nations are really circumcised in the LORD's sight. Moreover, none of the people of Israel are circumcised when it comes to their hearts."

Jeremiah 10:1 You people of Israel, listen to what the LORD has to say to you.

Jeremiah 10:2 The LORD says, "Do not start following pagan religious practices. Do not be in awe of signs that occur in the sky even though the nations hold them in awe.

Jeremiah 10:3 For the religion of these people is worthless. They cut down a tree in the forest, and a craftsman makes it into an idol with his tools.

Jeremiah 10:4 He decorates it with overlays of silver and gold. He uses hammer and nails to fasten it together so that it will not fall over.

Jeremiah 10:5 Such idols are like scarecrows in a cucumber field. They cannot talk. They must be carried because they cannot walk. Do not be afraid of them because they cannot hurt you. And they do not have any power to help you.”

Jeremiah 10:6 I said, “There is no one like you, LORD. You are great. And you are renowned for your power.

Jeremiah 10:7 Everyone should revere you, O King of all nations, because you deserve to be revered. For there is no one like you among any of the wise people of the nations nor among any of their kings.

Jeremiah 10:8 The people of those nations are both stupid and foolish. Instruction from a wooden idol is worthless!

Jeremiah 10:9 Hammered-out silver is brought from Tarshish and gold is brought from Uphaz to cover those idols. They are the handiwork of carpenters and goldsmiths. They are clothed in blue and purple clothes. They are all made by skillful workers.

Jeremiah 10:10 The LORD is the only true God. He is the living God and the everlasting King. When he shows his anger the earth shakes. None of the nations can stand up to his fury.

Jeremiah 10:11 You people of Israel should tell those nations this: ‘These gods did not make heaven and earth. They will disappear from the earth and from under the heavens.’

Jeremiah 10:12 The LORD is the one who by his power made the earth. He is the one who by his wisdom established the world. And by his understanding he spread out the skies.

Jeremiah 10:13 When his voice thunders, the heavenly ocean roars. He makes the clouds rise from the far-off horizons. He makes the lightning flash out in the midst of the rain. He unleashes the wind from the places where he stores it.

Jeremiah 10:14 All these idolaters will prove to be stupid and ignorant. Every goldsmith will be disgraced by the idol he made. For the image he forges is merely a sham. There is no breath in any of those idols.

Jeremiah 10:15 They are worthless, mere objects to be mocked. When the time comes to punish them, they will be destroyed.

Jeremiah 10:16 The LORD, who is the inheritance of Jacob’s descendants, is not like them. He is the one who created everything. And the people of Israel are those he claims as his own. He is known as the LORD who rules over all.”

Jeremiah 10:17 Gather your belongings together and prepare to leave the land, you people of Jerusalem who are being besieged.

Jeremiah 10:18 For the LORD says, “I will now throw out those who live in this land. I will bring so much trouble on them that they will actually feel it.”

Jeremiah 10:19 And I cried out, “We are doomed! Our wound is severe! We once thought, ‘This is only an illness. And we will be able to bear it!’

Jeremiah 10:20 But our tents have been destroyed. The ropes that held them in place have been ripped apart. Our children are gone and are not coming back. There is no survivor to put our tents back up, no one left to hang their tent curtains in place.

Jeremiah 10:21 For our leaders are stupid. They have not sought the LORD’s advice. So they do not act wisely, and the people they are responsible for have all been scattered.

Jeremiah 10:22 Listen! News is coming even now. The rumble of a great army is heard approaching from a land in the north. It is coming to turn the towns of Judah into rubble, places where only jackals live.

Jeremiah 10:23 LORD, we know that people do not control their own destiny. It is not in their power to determine what will happen to them.

Jeremiah 10:24 Correct us, LORD, but only in due measure. Do not punish us in anger or you will reduce us to nothing.

Jeremiah 10:25 Vent your anger on the nations that do not acknowledge you. Vent it on the peoples who do not worship you. For they have destroyed the people of Jacob. They have completely destroyed them and left their homeland in utter ruin.

Jeremiah 11:1 The LORD said to Jeremiah:

Jeremiah 11:2 “Hear the terms of the covenant I made with Israel and pass them on to the people of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 11:3 Tell them that the LORD, the God of Israel, says, ‘Anyone who does not keep the terms of the covenant will be under a curse.

Jeremiah 11:4 Those are the terms that I charged your ancestors to keep when I brought them out of Egypt, that place which was like an iron-smelting furnace. I said at that time, “Obey me and carry out the terms of the agreement exactly as I commanded you. If you do, you will be my people and I will be your God.

Jeremiah 11:5 Then I will keep the promise I swore on oath to your ancestors to give them a land flowing with milk and honey.” That is the very land that you still live in today.’“ And I responded, “Amen! Let it be so, LORD!”

Jeremiah 11:6 The LORD said to me, “Announce all the following words in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: ‘Listen to the terms of my covenant with you and carry them out!

Jeremiah 11:7 For I solemnly warned your ancestors to obey me. I warned them again and again, ever since I delivered them out of Egypt until this very day.

Jeremiah 11:8 But they did not listen to me or pay any attention to me! Each one of them followed the stubborn inclinations of his own wicked heart. So I brought on them all the punishments threatened in the covenant because they did not carry out its terms as I commanded them to do.'"

Jeremiah 11:9 The LORD said to me, "The people of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem have plotted rebellion against me!

Jeremiah 11:10 They have gone back to the evil ways of their ancestors of old who refused to obey what I told them. They, too, have paid allegiance to other gods and worshiped them. Both the nation of Israel and the nation of Judah have violated the covenant I made with their ancestors.

Jeremiah 11:11 So I, the LORD, say this: 'I will soon bring disaster on them which they will not be able to escape! When they cry out to me for help, I will not listen to them.

Jeremiah 11:12 Then those living in the towns of Judah and in Jerusalem will go and cry out for help to the gods to whom they have been sacrificing. However, those gods will by no means be able to save them when disaster strikes them.

Jeremiah 11:13 This is in spite of the fact that the people of Judah have as many gods as they have towns and the citizens of Jerusalem have set up as many altars to sacrifice to that disgusting god, Baal, as they have streets in the city!'

Jeremiah 11:14 So, Jeremiah, do not pray for these people. Do not cry out to me or petition me on their behalf. Do not plead with me to save them. For I will not listen to them when they call out to me for help when disaster strikes them."

Jeremiah 11:15 The LORD says to the people of Judah, "What right do you have to be in my temple, my beloved people? Many of you have done wicked things. Can your acts of treachery be so easily canceled by sacred offerings that you take joy in doing evil even while you make them?

Jeremiah 11:16 I, the LORD, once called you a thriving olive tree, one that produced beautiful fruit. But I will set you on fire, fire that will blaze with a mighty roar. Then all your branches will be good for nothing.

Jeremiah 11:17 For though I, the LORD who rules over all, planted you in the land, I now decree that disaster will come on you because the nations of Israel and Judah have done evil and have made me angry by offering sacrifices to the god Baal."

Jeremiah 11:18 The LORD gave me knowledge, that I might have understanding. Then he showed me what the people were doing.

Jeremiah 11:19 Before this I had been like a docile lamb ready to be led to the slaughter. I did not know they were making plans to kill me. I did not know they were saying, “Let’s destroy the tree along with its fruit! Let’s remove Jeremiah from the world of the living so people will not even be reminded of him any more.”

Jeremiah 11:20 So I said to the LORD, “O LORD who rules over all, you are a just judge! You examine people’s hearts and minds. I want to see you pay them back for what they have done because I trust you to vindicate my cause.”

Jeremiah 11:21 Then the LORD told me about some men from Anathoth who were threatening to kill me. They had threatened, “Stop prophesying in the name of the LORD or we will kill you!”

Jeremiah 11:22 So the LORD who rules over all said, “I will surely punish them! Their young men will be killed in battle. Their sons and daughters will die of starvation.

Jeremiah 11:23 Not one of them will survive. I will bring disaster on those men from Anathoth who threatened you. A day of reckoning is coming for them.”

Jeremiah 12:1 LORD, you have always been fair whenever I have complained to you. However, I would like to speak with you about the disposition of justice. Why are wicked people successful? Why do all dishonest people have such easy lives?

Jeremiah 12:2 You plant them like trees and they put down their roots. They grow prosperous and are very fruitful. They always talk about you, but they really care nothing about you.

Jeremiah 12:3 But you, LORD, know all about me. You watch me and test my devotion to you. Drag these wicked men away like sheep to be slaughtered! Appoint a time when they will be killed!

Jeremiah 12:4 How long must the land be parched and the grass in every field be withered? How long must the animals and the birds die because of the wickedness of the people who live in this land? For these people boast, “God will not see what happens to us.”

Jeremiah 12:5 The LORD answered, “If you have raced on foot against men and they have worn you out, how will you be able to compete with horses? And if you feel secure only in safe and open country, how will you manage in the thick undergrowth along the Jordan River?

Jeremiah 12:6 As a matter of fact, even your own brothers and the members of your own family have betrayed you too. Even they have plotted to do away with you. So do not trust them even when they say kind things to you.

Jeremiah 12:7 “I will abandon my nation. I will forsake the people I call my own. I will turn my beloved people over to the power of their enemies.

Jeremiah 12:8 The people I call my own have turned on me like a lion in the forest. They have roared defiantly at me. So I will treat them as though I hate them.

Jeremiah 12:9 The people I call my own attack me like birds of prey or like hyenas. But other birds of prey are all around them. Let all the nations gather together like wild beasts. Let them come and destroy these people I call my own.

Jeremiah 12:10 Many foreign rulers will ruin the land where I planted my people. They will trample all over my chosen land. They will turn my beautiful land into a desolate wasteland.

Jeremiah 12:11 They will lay it waste. It will lie parched and empty before me. The whole land will be laid waste. But no one living in it will pay any heed.

Jeremiah 12:12 A destructive army will come marching over the hilltops in the desert. For the LORD will use them as his destructive weapon against everyone from one end of the land to the other. No one will be safe.

Jeremiah 12:13 My people will sow wheat, but will harvest weeds. They will work until they are exhausted, but will get nothing from it. They will be disappointed in their harvests because the LORD will take them away in his fierce anger.

Jeremiah 12:14 "I, the LORD, also have something to say concerning the wicked nations who surround my land and have attacked and plundered the land that I gave to my people as a permanent possession. I say: 'I will uproot the people of those nations from their lands and I will free the people of Judah who have been taken there.

Jeremiah 12:15 But after I have uprooted the people of those nations, I will relent and have pity on them. I will restore the people of each of those nations to their own lands and to their own country.

Jeremiah 12:16 But they must make sure you learn to follow the religious practices of my people. Once they taught my people to swear their oaths using the name of the god Baal. But then, they must swear oaths using my name, saying, "As surely as the LORD lives, I swear." If they do these things, then they will be included among the people I call my own.

Jeremiah 12:17 But I will completely uproot and destroy any of those nations that will not pay heed,'" says the LORD.

Jeremiah 13:1 The LORD said to me, "Go and buy some linen shorts and put them on. Do not put them in water."

Jeremiah 13:2 So I bought the shorts as the LORD had told me to do and put them on.

Jeremiah 13:3 Then the LORD spoke to me again and said, Jeremiah 13:4 “Take the shorts that you bought and are wearing and go at once to Perath. Bury the shorts there in a crack in the rocks.”

Jeremiah 13:5 So I went and buried them at Perath as the LORD had ordered me to do.

Jeremiah 13:6 Many days later the LORD said to me, “Go at once to Perath and get the shorts I ordered you to bury there.”

Jeremiah 13:7 So I went to Perath and dug up the shorts from the place where I had buried them. I found that they were ruined; they were good for nothing.

Jeremiah 13:8 Then the LORD said to me,

Jeremiah 13:9 “I, the LORD, say: ‘This shows how I will ruin the highly exalted position in which Judah and Jerusalem take pride.

Jeremiah 13:10 These wicked people refuse to obey what I have said. They follow the stubborn inclinations of their own hearts and pay allegiance to other gods by worshiping and serving them. So they will become just like these linen shorts which are good for nothing.

Jeremiah 13:11 For,’ I say, ‘just as shorts cling tightly to a person’s body, so I bound the whole nation of Israel and the whole nation of Judah tightly to me.’ I intended for them to be my special people and to bring me fame, honor, and praise. But they would not obey me.

Jeremiah 13:12 “So tell them, ‘The LORD, the God of Israel, says, “Every wine jar is made to be filled with wine.”‘ And they will probably say to you, ‘Do you not think we know that every wine jar is supposed to be filled with wine?’

Jeremiah 13:13 Then tell them, ‘The LORD says, “I will soon fill all the people who live in this land with stupor. I will also fill the kings from David’s dynasty, the priests, the prophets, and the citizens of Jerusalem with stupor.

Jeremiah 13:14 And I will smash them like wine bottles against one another, children and parents alike. I will not show any pity, mercy, or compassion. Nothing will keep me from destroying them,’ says the LORD.”

Jeremiah 13:15 Then I said to the people of Judah, “Listen and pay attention! Do not be arrogant! For the LORD has spoken.

Jeremiah 13:16 Show the LORD your God the respect that is due him. Do it before he brings the darkness of disaster. Do it before you stumble into distress like a traveler on the mountains at twilight. Do it before he turns the light of deliverance you hope for into the darkness and gloom of exile.

Jeremiah 13:17 But if you will not pay attention to this warning, I will weep alone because of your arrogant pride. I will weep bitterly and my eyes will overflow with tears because you, the LORD’s flock, will be carried into exile.”

Jeremiah 13:18 The LORD told me, “Tell the king and the queen mother, ‘Surrender your thrones, for your glorious crowns will be removed from your heads.

Jeremiah 13:19 The gates of the towns in southern Judah will be shut tight. No one will be able to go in or out of them. All Judah will be carried off into exile. They will be completely carried off into exile.’“

Jeremiah 13:20 Then I said, “Look up, Jerusalem, and see the enemy that is coming from the north. Where now is the flock of people that were entrusted to your care? Where now are the ‘sheep’ that you take such pride in?

Jeremiah 13:21 What will you say when the LORD appoints as rulers over you those allies that you, yourself, had actually prepared as such? Then anguish and agony will grip you like that of a woman giving birth to a baby.

Jeremiah 13:22 You will probably ask yourself, ‘Why have these things happened to me? Why have I been treated like a disgraced adulteress whose skirt has been torn off and her limbs exposed?’ It is because you have sinned so much.

Jeremiah 13:23 But there is little hope for you ever doing good, you who are so accustomed to doing evil. Can an Ethiopian change the color of his skin? Can a leopard remove its spots?

Jeremiah 13:24 “The LORD says, ‘That is why I will scatter your people like chaff that is blown away by a desert wind.

Jeremiah 13:25 This is your fate, the destiny to which I have appointed you, because you have forgotten me and have trusted in false gods.

Jeremiah 13:26 So I will pull your skirt up over your face and expose you to shame like a disgraced adulteress!

Jeremiah 13:27 People of Jerusalem, I have seen your adulterous worship, your shameless prostitution to, and your lustful pursuit of, other gods. I have seen your disgusting acts of worship on the hills throughout the countryside. You are doomed to destruction! How long will you continue to be unclean?’“

Jeremiah 14:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah about the drought.

Jeremiah 14:2 “The people of Judah are in mourning. The people in her cities are pining away. They lie on the ground expressing their sorrow. Cries of distress come up to me from Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 14:3 The leading men of the cities send their servants for water. They go to the cisterns, but they do not find any water there. They return with their containers empty. Disappointed and dismayed, they bury their faces in their hands.

Jeremiah 14:4 They are dismayed because the ground is cracked because there has been no rain in the land. The farmers, too, are dismayed and bury their faces in their hands.

Jeremiah 14:5 Even the doe abandons her newborn fawn in the field because there is no grass.

Jeremiah 14:6 Wild donkeys stand on the hilltops and pant for breath like jackals. Their eyes are strained looking for food, because there is none to be found."

Jeremiah 14:7 Then I said, "O LORD, intervene for the honor of your name even though our sins speak out against us. Indeed, we have turned away from you many times. We have sinned against you.

Jeremiah 14:8 You have been the object of Israel's hopes. You have saved them when they were in trouble. Why have you become like a resident foreigner in the land? Why have you become like a traveler who only stops in to spend the night?

Jeremiah 14:9 Why should you be like someone who is helpless, like a champion who cannot save anyone? You are indeed with us, and we belong to you. Do not abandon us!"

Jeremiah 14:10 Then the LORD spoke about these people. "They truly love to go astray. They cannot keep from running away from me. So I am not pleased with them. I will now call to mind the wrongs they have done and punish them for their sins."

Jeremiah 14:11 Then the LORD said to me, "Do not pray for good to come to these people!

Jeremiah 14:12 Even if they fast, I will not hear their cries for help. Even if they offer burnt offerings and grain offerings, I will not accept them. Instead, I will kill them through wars, famines, and plagues."

Jeremiah 14:13 Then I said, "Oh, Lord GOD, look! The prophets are telling them that you said, 'You will not experience war or suffer famine. I will give you lasting peace and prosperity in this land.'"

Jeremiah 14:14 Then the LORD said to me, "Those prophets are prophesying lies while claiming my authority! I did not send them. I did not commission them. I did not speak to them. They are prophesying to these people false visions, worthless predictions, and the delusions of their own mind.

Jeremiah 14:15 I did not send those prophets, though they claim to be prophesying in my name. They may be saying, 'No war or famine will happen in this land.' But I, the LORD, say this about them: 'War and starvation will kill those prophets.'

Jeremiah 14:16 The people to whom they are prophesying will die through war and famine. Their bodies will be thrown out into the streets of Jerusalem and there will be no one to bury them. This will happen to the men and their wives, their sons, and their daughters. For I will pour out on them the destruction they deserve.”

Jeremiah 14:17 “Tell these people this, Jeremiah: ‘My eyes overflow with tears day and night without ceasing. For my people, my dear children, have suffered a crushing blow. They have suffered a serious wound.

Jeremiah 14:18 If I go out into the countryside, I see those who have been killed in battle. If I go into the city, I see those who are sick because of starvation. For both prophet and priest go about their own business in the land without having any real understanding.’“ Jeremiah 14:19 Then I said, “LORD, have you completely rejected the nation of Judah? Do you despise the city of Zion? Why have you struck us with such force that we are beyond recovery? We hope for peace, but nothing good has come of it. We hope for a time of relief from our troubles, but experience terror.

Jeremiah 14:20 LORD, we confess that we have been wicked. We confess that our ancestors have done wrong. We have indeed sinned against you.

Jeremiah 14:21 For the honor of your name, do not treat Jerusalem with contempt. Do not treat with disdain the place where your glorious throne sits. Be mindful of your covenant with us. Do not break it!

Jeremiah 14:22 Do any of the worthless idols of the nations cause rain to fall? Do the skies themselves send showers? Is it not you, O Lord our God, who does this? So we put our hopes in you because you alone do all this.”

Jeremiah 15:1 Then the LORD said to me, “Even if Moses and Samuel stood before me pleading for these people, I would not feel pity for them! Get them away from me! Tell them to go away!

Jeremiah 15:2 If they ask you, ‘Where should we go?’ tell them the LORD says this: “Those who are destined to die of disease will go to death by disease. Those who are destined to die in war will go to death in war. Those who are destined to die of starvation will go to death by starvation. Those who are destined to go into exile will go into exile.”

Jeremiah 15:3 “I will punish them in four different ways: I will have war kill them. I will have dogs drag off their dead bodies. I will have birds and wild beasts devour and destroy their corpses.

Jeremiah 15:4 I will make all the people in all the kingdoms of the world horrified at what has happened to them because of what Hezekiah’s son Manasseh, king of Judah, did in Jerusalem.”

Jeremiah 15:5 The LORD cried out, “Who in the world will have pity on you, Jerusalem? Who will grieve over you? Who will stop long enough to inquire about how you are doing?

Jeremiah 15:6 I, the LORD, say: 'You people have deserted me! You keep turning your back on me.' So I have unleashed my power against you and have begun to destroy you. I have grown tired of feeling sorry for you!"

Jeremiah 15:7 The LORD continued, "In every town in the land I will purge them like straw blown away by the wind. I will destroy my people. I will kill off their children. I will do so because they did not change their behavior.

Jeremiah 15:8 Their widows will become in my sight more numerous than the grains of sand on the seashores. At noontime I will bring a destroyer against the mothers of their young men. I will cause anguish and terror to fall suddenly upon them.

Jeremiah 15:9 The mother who had seven children will grow faint. All the breath will go out of her. Her pride and joy will be taken from her in the prime of their life. It will seem as if the sun had set while it was still day. She will suffer shame and humiliation. I will cause any of them who are still left alive to be killed in war by the onslaughts of their enemies," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 15:10 I said, "Oh, mother, how I regret that you ever gave birth to me! I am always starting arguments and quarrels with the people of this land. I have not lent money to anyone and I have not borrowed from anyone. Yet all of these people are treating me with contempt."

Jeremiah 15:11 The LORD said, "Jerusalem, I will surely send you away for your own good. I will surely bring the enemy upon you in a time of trouble and distress.

Jeremiah 15:12 Can you people who are like iron and bronze break that iron fist from the north?

Jeremiah 15:13 I will give away your wealth and your treasures as plunder. I will give it away free of charge for the sins you have committed throughout your land.

Jeremiah 15:14 I will make you serve your enemies in a land that you know nothing about. For my anger is like a fire that will burn against you."

Jeremiah 15:15 I said, "LORD, you know how I suffer. Take thought of me and care for me. Pay back for me those who have been persecuting me. Do not be so patient with them that you allow them to kill me. Be mindful of how I have put up with their insults for your sake.

Jeremiah 15:16 As your words came to me I drank them in, and they filled my heart with joy and happiness because I belong to you.

Jeremiah 15:17 I did not spend my time in the company of other people, laughing and having a good time. I stayed to myself because I felt obligated to you and because I was filled with anger at what they had done.

Jeremiah 15:18 Why must I continually suffer such painful anguish? Why must I endure the sting of their insults like an incurable wound? Will you let me down when I need you like a brook one goes to for water, but that cannot be relied on?”

Jeremiah 15:19 Because of this, the LORD said, “You must repent of such words and thoughts! If you do, I will restore you to the privilege of serving me. If you say what is worthwhile instead of what is worthless, I will again allow you to be my spokesman. They must become as you have been. You must not become like them.

Jeremiah 15:20 I will make you as strong as a wall to these people, a fortified wall of bronze. They will attack you, but they will not be able to overcome you. For I will be with you to rescue you and deliver you,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 15:21 “I will deliver you from the power of the wicked. I will free you from the clutches of violent people.”

Jeremiah 16:1 The LORD said to me,

Jeremiah 16:2 “Do not get married and do not have children here in this land.

Jeremiah 16:3 For I, the LORD, tell you what will happen to the children who are born here in this land and to the men and women who are their mothers and fathers.

Jeremiah 16:4 They will die of deadly diseases. No one will mourn for them. They will not be buried. Their dead bodies will lie like manure spread on the ground. They will be killed in war or die of starvation. Their corpses will be food for the birds and wild animals.

Jeremiah 16:5 “Moreover I, the LORD, tell you: ‘Do not go into a house where they are having a funeral meal. Do not go there to mourn and express your sorrow for them. For I have stopped showing them my good favor, my love, and my compassion. I, the LORD, so affirm it!

Jeremiah 16:6 Rich and poor alike will die in this land. They will not be buried or mourned. People will not cut their bodies or shave off their hair to show their grief for them.

Jeremiah 16:7 No one will take any food to those who mourn for the dead to comfort them. No one will give them any wine to drink to console them for the loss of their father or mother.

Jeremiah 16:8 “‘Do not go to a house where people are feasting and sit down to eat and drink with them either.

Jeremiah 16:9 For I, the LORD God of Israel who rules over all, tell you what will happen. I will put an end to the sounds of joy and gladness, to the glad celebration of brides and grooms in this land. You and the rest of the people will live to see this happen.’“

Jeremiah 16:10 “When you tell these people about all this, they will undoubtedly ask you, ‘Why has the LORD threatened us with such great disaster? What wrong have we done? What sin have we done to offend the LORD our God?’

Jeremiah 16:11 Then tell them that the LORD says, ‘It is because your ancestors rejected me and paid allegiance to other gods. They have served them and worshiped them. But they have rejected me and not obeyed my law.

Jeremiah 16:12 And you have acted even more wickedly than your ancestors! Each one of you has followed the stubborn inclinations of your own wicked heart and not obeyed me.

Jeremiah 16:13 So I will throw you out of this land into a land that neither you nor your ancestors have ever known. There you must worship other gods day and night, for I will show you no mercy.’“

Jeremiah 16:14 Yet I, the LORD, say: “A new time will certainly come. People now affirm their oaths with ‘I swear as surely as the LORD lives who delivered the people of Israel out of Egypt.’

Jeremiah 16:15 But in that time they will affirm them with ‘I swear as surely as the LORD lives who delivered the people of Israel from the land of the north and from all the other lands where he had banished them.’ At that time I will bring them back to the land I gave their ancestors.”

Jeremiah 16:16 But for now I, the LORD, say: “I will send many enemies who will catch these people like fishermen. After that I will send others who will hunt them out like hunters from all the mountains, all the hills, and the crevices in the rocks.

Jeremiah 16:17 For I see everything they do. Their wicked ways are not hidden from me. Their sin is not hidden away where I cannot see it.

Jeremiah 16:18 Before I restore them I will punish them in full for their sins and the wrongs they have done. For they have polluted my land with the lifeless statues of their disgusting idols. They have filled the land I have claimed as my own with their detestable idols.”

Jeremiah 16:19 Then I said, “LORD, you give me strength and protect me. You are the one I can run to for safety when I am in trouble. Nations from all over the earth will come to you and say, ‘Our ancestors had nothing but false gods– worthless idols that could not help them at all.

Jeremiah 16:20 Can people make their own gods? No, what they make are not gods at all.”

Jeremiah 16:21 The LORD said, “So I will now let this wicked people know– I will let them know my mighty power in judgment. Then they will know that my name is the LORD.”

Jeremiah 17:1 The sin of Judah is engraved with an iron chisel on their stone-hard hearts. It is inscribed with a diamond point on the horns of their altars.

Jeremiah 17:2 Their children are always thinking about their altars and their sacred poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah, set up beside the green trees on the high hills

Jeremiah 17:3 and on the mountains and in the fields. I will give your wealth and all your treasures away as plunder. I will give it away as the price for the sins you have committed throughout your land.

Jeremiah 17:4 You will lose your hold on the land which I gave to you as a permanent possession. I will make you serve your enemies in a land that you know nothing about. For you have made my anger burn like a fire that will never be put out."

Jeremiah 17:5 The LORD says, "I will put a curse on people who trust in mere human beings, who depend on mere flesh and blood for their strength, and whose hearts have turned away from the LORD.

Jeremiah 17:6 They will be like a shrub in the desert. They will not experience good things even when they happen. It will be as though they were growing in the desert, in a salt land where no one can live.

Jeremiah 17:7 My blessing is on those people who trust in me, who put their confidence in me.

Jeremiah 17:8 They will be like a tree planted near a stream whose roots spread out toward the water. It has nothing to fear when the heat comes. Its leaves are always green. It has no need to be concerned in a year of drought. It does not stop bearing fruit.

Jeremiah 17:9 The human mind is more deceitful than anything else. It is incurably bad. Who can understand it?

Jeremiah 17:10 I, the LORD, probe into people's minds. I examine people's hearts. I deal with each person according to how he has behaved. I give them what they deserve based on what they have done.

Jeremiah 17:11 The person who gathers wealth by unjust means is like the partridge that broods over eggs but does not hatch them. Before his life is half over he will lose his ill-gotten gains. At the end of his life it will be clear he was a fool."

Jeremiah 17:12 Then I said, "LORD, from the very beginning you have been seated on your glorious throne on high. You are the place where we can find refuge.

Jeremiah 17:13 You are the one in whom Israel may find hope. All who leave you will suffer shame. Those who turn away from you will be consigned to the nether world. For they have rejected you, the LORD, the fountain of life.

Jeremiah 17:14 LORD, grant me relief from my suffering so that I may have some relief. Rescue me from those who persecute me so that I may be rescued.

Jeremiah 17:15 Listen to what they are saying to me. They are saying, “Where are the things the LORD threatens us with? Come on! Let’s see them happen!”

Jeremiah 17:16 But I have not pestered you to bring disaster. I have not desired the time of irreparable devastation. You know that. You are fully aware of every word that I have spoken.

Jeremiah 17:17 Do not cause me dismay! You are my source of safety in times of trouble.

Jeremiah 17:18 May those who persecute me be disgraced. Do not let me be disgraced. May they be dismayed. Do not let me be dismayed. Bring days of disaster on them. Bring on them the destruction they deserve.”

Jeremiah 17:19 The LORD told me, “Go and stand in the People’s Gate through which the kings of Judah enter and leave the city. Then go and stand in all the other gates of the city of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 17:20 As you stand in those places announce, ‘Listen, all you people who pass through these gates. Listen, all you kings of Judah, all you people of Judah and all you citizens of Jerusalem. Listen to what the LORD says.

Jeremiah 17:21 The LORD says, ‘Be very careful if you value your lives! Do not carry any loads in through the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day.

Jeremiah 17:22 Do not carry any loads out of your houses or do any work on the Sabbath day. But observe the Sabbath day as a day set apart to the LORD, as I commanded your ancestors.

Jeremiah 17:23 Your ancestors, however, did not listen to me or pay any attention to me. They stubbornly refused to pay attention or to respond to any discipline.’

Jeremiah 17:24 The LORD says, ‘You must make sure to obey me. You must not bring any loads through the gates of this city on the Sabbath day. You must set the Sabbath day apart to me. You must not do any work on that day.

Jeremiah 17:25 If you do this, then the kings and princes who follow in David’s succession and ride in chariots or on horses will continue to enter through these gates, as well as their officials and the people of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem. This city will always be filled with people.

Jeremiah 17:26 Then people will come here from the towns in Judah, from the villages surrounding Jerusalem, from the territory of Benjamin, from the western foothills, from the southern hill country, and from the southern part of Judah. They will come bringing offerings to the temple of the LORD: burnt offerings, sacrifices, grain offerings, and incense along with their thank offerings.

Jeremiah 17:27 But you must obey me and set the Sabbath day apart to me. You must not carry any loads in through the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. If you disobey, I will set the gates of Jerusalem on fire. It will burn down all the fortified dwellings in Jerusalem and no one will be able to put it out.’“

Jeremiah 18:1 The LORD said to Jeremiah:

Jeremiah 18:2 “Go down at once to the potter’s house. I will speak to you further there.”

Jeremiah 18:3 So I went down to the potter’s house and found him working at his wheel.

Jeremiah 18:4 Now and then there would be something wrong with the pot he was molding from the clay with his hands. So he would rework the clay into another kind of pot as he saw fit.

Jeremiah 18:5 Then the LORD said to me,

Jeremiah 18:6 “I, the LORD, say: ‘O nation of Israel, can I not deal with you as this potter deals with the clay? In my hands, you, O nation of Israel, are just like the clay in this potter’s hand.’

Jeremiah 18:7 There are times, Jeremiah, when I threaten to uproot, tear down, and destroy a nation or kingdom.

Jeremiah 18:8 But if that nation I threatened stops doing wrong, I will cancel the destruction I intended to do to it.

Jeremiah 18:9 And there are times when I promise to build up and establish a nation or kingdom.

Jeremiah 18:10 But if that nation does what displeases me and does not obey me, then I will cancel the good I promised to do to it.

Jeremiah 18:11 So now, tell the people of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem this: The LORD says, ‘I am preparing to bring disaster on you! I am making plans to punish you. So, every one of you, stop the evil things you have been doing. Correct the way you have been living and do what is right.’

Jeremiah 18:12 But they just keep saying, ‘We do not care what you say! We will do whatever we want to do! We will continue to behave wickedly and stubbornly!’“

Jeremiah 18:13 Therefore, the LORD says, “Ask the people of other nations whether they have heard of anything like this. Israel should have been like a virgin. But she has done something utterly revolting!

Jeremiah 18:14 Does the snow ever completely vanish from the rocky slopes of Lebanon? Do the cool waters from those distant mountains ever cease to flow?

Jeremiah 18:15 Yet my people have forgotten me and offered sacrifices to worthless idols! This makes them stumble along in the way they live and leave the old reliable path of their fathers. They have left them to walk in bypaths, in roads that are not smooth and level.

Jeremiah 18:16 So their land will become an object of horror. People will forever hiss out their scorn over it. All who pass that way will be filled with horror and will shake their heads in derision.

Jeremiah 18:17 I will scatter them before their enemies like dust blowing in front of a burning east wind. I will turn my back on them and not look favorably on them when disaster strikes them."

Jeremiah 18:18 Then some people said, "Come on! Let us consider how to deal with Jeremiah! There will still be priests to instruct us, wise men to give us advice, and prophets to declare God's word. Come on! Let's bring charges against him and get rid of him! Then we will not need to pay attention to anything he says."

Jeremiah 18:19 Then I said, "LORD, pay attention to me. Listen to what my enemies are saying.

Jeremiah 18:20 Should good be paid back with evil? Yet they are virtually digging a pit to kill me. Just remember how I stood before you pleading on their behalf to keep you from venting your anger on them.

Jeremiah 18:21 So let their children die of starvation. Let them be cut down by the sword. Let their wives lose their husbands and children. Let the older men die of disease and the younger men die by the sword in battle.

Jeremiah 18:22 Let cries of terror be heard in their houses when you send bands of raiders unexpectedly to plunder them. For they have virtually dug a pit to capture me and have hidden traps for me to step into.

Jeremiah 18:23 But you, LORD, know all their plots to kill me. Do not pardon their crimes! Do not ignore their sins as though you had erased them! Let them be brought down in defeat before you! Deal with them while you are still angry!

Jeremiah 19:1 The LORD told Jeremiah, "Go and buy a clay jar from a potter. Take with you some of the leaders of the people and some of the leaders of the priests.

Jeremiah 19:2 Go out to the part of the Hinnom Valley which is near the entrance of the Potsherd Gate. Announce there what I tell you.

Jeremiah 19:3 Say, 'Listen to what the LORD says, you kings of Judah and citizens of Jerusalem! The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, "I will bring a disaster on this place that will make the ears of everyone who hears about it ring!

Jeremiah 19:4 I will do so because these people have rejected me and have defiled this place. They have offered sacrifices in it to other gods which neither they nor their ancestors nor the kings of Judah knew anything about. They have filled it with the blood of innocent children.

Jeremiah 19:5 They have built places here for worship of the god Baal so that they could sacrifice their children as burnt offerings to him in the fire. Such sacrifices are something I never commanded them to make! They are something I never told them to do! Indeed, such a thing never even entered my mind!

Jeremiah 19:6 So I, the LORD, say: “The time will soon come that people will no longer call this place Topheth or the Hinnom Valley. But they will call this valley the Valley of Slaughter!

Jeremiah 19:7 In this place I will thwart the plans of the people of Judah and Jerusalem. I will deliver them over to the power of their enemies who are seeking to kill them. They will die by the sword at the hands of their enemies. I will make their dead bodies food for the birds and wild beasts to eat.

Jeremiah 19:8 I will make this city an object of horror, a thing to be hissed at. All who pass by it will be filled with horror and will hiss out their scorn because of all the disasters that have happened to it.

Jeremiah 19:9 I will reduce the people of this city to desperate straits during the siege imposed on it by their enemies who are seeking to kill them. I will make them so desperate that they will eat the flesh of their own sons and daughters and the flesh of one another.”“

Jeremiah 19:10 The LORD continued, “Now break the jar in front of those who have come here with you.

Jeremiah 19:11 Tell them the LORD who rules over all says, ‘I will do just as Jeremiah has done. I will smash this nation and this city as though it were a potter’s vessel which is broken beyond repair. The dead will be buried here in Topheth until there is no more room to bury them.’

Jeremiah 19:12 I, the LORD, say: ‘That is how I will deal with this city and its citizens. I will make it like Topheth.

Jeremiah 19:13 The houses in Jerusalem and the houses of the kings of Judah will be defiled by dead bodies just like this place, Topheth. For they offered sacrifice to the stars and poured out drink offerings to other gods on the roofs of those houses.’“

Jeremiah 19:14 Then Jeremiah left Topheth where the LORD had sent him to give that prophecy. He went to the LORD’s temple and stood in its courtyard and called out to all the people.

Jeremiah 19:15 “The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, ‘I will soon bring on this city and all the towns surrounding it all the disaster I threatened to do to it. I will do so because they have stubbornly refused to pay any attention to what I have said!’“

Jeremiah 20:1 Now Pashhur son of Immer heard Jeremiah prophesy these things. He was the priest who was chief of security in the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 20:2 When he heard Jeremiah’s prophecy, he had the prophet flogged. Then he put him in the stocks which were at the Upper Gate of Benjamin in the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 20:3 But the next day Pashhur released Jeremiah from the stocks. When he did, Jeremiah said to him, “The LORD’s name for you is not ‘Pashhur’ but ‘Terror is Everywhere.’

Jeremiah 20:4 For the LORD says, ‘I will make both you and your friends terrified of what will happen to you. You will see all of them die by the swords of their enemies. I will hand all the people of Judah over to the king of Babylon. He will carry some of them away into exile in Babylon and he will kill others of them with the sword.

Jeremiah 20:5 I will hand over all the wealth of this city to their enemies. I will hand over to them all the fruits of the labor of the people of this city and all their prized possessions, as well as all the treasures of the kings of Judah. Their enemies will seize it all as plunder and carry it off to Babylon.

Jeremiah 20:6 You, Pashhur, and all your household will go into exile in Babylon. You will die there and you will be buried there. The same thing will happen to all your friends to whom you have prophesied lies.’“

Jeremiah 20:7 LORD, you coerced me into being a prophet, and I allowed you to do it. You overcame my resistance and prevailed over me. Now I have become a constant laughingstock. Everyone ridicules me.

Jeremiah 20:8 For whenever I prophesy, I must cry out, “Violence and destruction are coming!” This message from the LORD has made me an object of continual insults and derision.

Jeremiah 20:9 Sometimes I think, “I will make no mention of his message. I will not speak as his messenger any more.” But then his message becomes like a fire locked up inside of me, burning in my heart and soul. I grow weary of trying to hold it in; I cannot contain it.

Jeremiah 20:10 I hear many whispering words of intrigue against me. Those who would cause me terror are everywhere! They are saying, “Come on, let’s publicly denounce him!” All my so-called friends are just watching for something that would lead to my downfall. They say, “Perhaps he can be enticed into slipping up, so we can prevail over him and get our revenge on him.

Jeremiah 20:11 But the LORD is with me to help me like an awe-inspiring warrior. Therefore those who persecute me will fail and will not prevail over me. They will be thoroughly disgraced because they did not succeed. Their disgrace will never be forgotten.

Jeremiah 20:12 O LORD who rules over all, you test and prove the righteous. You see into people’s hearts and minds. Pay them back for what they have done because I trust you to vindicate my cause.

Jeremiah 20:13 Sing to the LORD! Praise the LORD! For he rescues the oppressed from the clutches of evildoers.

Jeremiah 20:14 Cursed be the day I was born! May that day not be blessed when my mother gave birth to me.

Jeremiah 20:15 Cursed be the man who made my father very glad when he brought him the news that a baby boy had been born to him!

Jeremiah 20:16 May that man be like the cities that the LORD destroyed without showing any mercy. May he hear a cry of distress in the morning and a battle cry at noon.

Jeremiah 20:17 For he did not kill me before I came from the womb, making my pregnant mother's womb my grave forever.

Jeremiah 20:18 Why did I ever come forth from my mother's womb? All I experience is trouble and grief, and I spend my days in shame.

Jeremiah 21:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur son of Malkijah and the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah. Zedekiah sent them to Jeremiah to ask,

Jeremiah 21:2 "Please ask the LORD to come and help us, because King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon is attacking us. Maybe the LORD will perform one of his miracles as in times past and make him stop attacking us and leave."

Jeremiah 21:3 Jeremiah answered them, "Tell Zedekiah

Jeremiah 21:4 that the LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'The forces at your disposal are now outside the walls fighting against King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and the Babylonians who have you under siege. I will gather those forces back inside the city.

Jeremiah 21:5 In anger, in fury, and in wrath I myself will fight against you with my mighty power and great strength!

Jeremiah 21:6 I will kill everything living in Jerusalem, people and animals alike! They will die from terrible diseases.

Jeremiah 21:7 Then I, the LORD, promise that I will hand over King Zedekiah of Judah, his officials, and any of the people who survive the war, starvation, and disease. I will hand them over to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and to their enemies who want to kill them. He will slaughter them with the sword. He will not show them any mercy, compassion, or pity.'

Jeremiah 21:8 "But tell the people of Jerusalem that the LORD says, 'I will give you a choice between two courses of action. One will result in life; the other will result in death.

Jeremiah 21:9 Those who stay in this city will die in battle or of starvation or disease. Those who leave the city and surrender to the Babylonians who are besieging it will live. They will escape with their lives.

Jeremiah 21:10 For I, the LORD, say that I am determined not to deliver this city but to bring disaster on it. It will be handed over to the king of Babylon and he will destroy it with fire.’“

Jeremiah 21:11 The LORD told me to say to the royal court of Judah, “Listen to what the LORD says,

Jeremiah 21:12 O royal family descended from David. The LORD says: ‘See to it that people each day are judged fairly. Deliver those who have been robbed from those who oppress them. Otherwise, my wrath will blaze out against you. It will burn like a fire that cannot be put out because of the evil that you have done.

Jeremiah 21:13 Listen, you who sit enthroned above the valley on a rocky plateau. I am opposed to you,’ says the LORD. ‘You boast, “No one can swoop down on us. No one can penetrate into our places of refuge.”

Jeremiah 21:14 But I will punish you as your deeds deserve,’ says the LORD. ‘I will set fire to your palace; it will burn up everything around it.’“

Jeremiah 22:1 The LORD told me, “Go down to the palace of the king of Judah. Give him a message from me there.

Jeremiah 22:2 Say: ‘Listen, O king of Judah who follows in David’s succession. You, your officials, and your subjects who pass through the gates of this palace must listen to what the LORD says.

Jeremiah 22:3 The LORD says, “Do what is just and right. Deliver those who have been robbed from those who oppress them. Do not exploit or mistreat foreigners who live in your land, children who have no fathers, or widows. Do not kill innocent people in this land.

Jeremiah 22:4 If you are careful to obey these commands, then the kings who follow in David’s succession and ride in chariots or on horses will continue to come through the gates of this palace, as will their officials and their subjects.

Jeremiah 22:5 But, if you do not obey these commands, I solemnly swear that this palace will become a pile of rubble. I, the LORD, affirm it!”

Jeremiah 22:6 “‘For the LORD says concerning the palace of the king of Judah, “This place looks like a veritable forest of Gilead to me. It is like the wooded heights of Lebanon in my eyes. But I swear that I will make it like a wilderness whose towns have all been deserted.

Jeremiah 22:7 I will send men against it to destroy it with their axes and hatchets. They will hack up its fine cedar panels and columns and throw them into the fire.

Jeremiah 22:8 “‘People from other nations will pass by this city. They will ask one another, “Why has the LORD done such a thing to this great city?”

Jeremiah 22:9 The answer will come back, “It is because they broke their covenant with the LORD their God and worshiped and served other gods.”

Jeremiah 22:10 “‘Do not weep for the king who was killed. Do not grieve for him. But weep mournfully for the king who has gone into exile. For he will never return to see his native land again.

Jeremiah 22:11 “‘For the LORD has spoken about Shallum son of Josiah, who succeeded his father as king of Judah but was carried off into exile. He has said, “He will never return to this land.

Jeremiah 22:12 For he will die in the country where they took him as a captive. He will never see this land again.”

Jeremiah 22:13 “‘Sure to be judged is the king who builds his palace using injustice and treats people unfairly while adding its upper rooms. He makes his countrymen work for him for nothing. He does not pay them for their labor.

Jeremiah 22:14 He says, “I will build myself a large palace with spacious upper rooms.” He cuts windows in its walls, panels it with cedar, and paints its rooms red.

Jeremiah 22:15 Does it make you any more of a king that you outstrip everyone else in building with cedar? Just think about your father. He was content that he had food and drink. He did what was just and right. So things went well with him.

Jeremiah 22:16 He upheld the cause of the poor and needy. So things went well for Judah.’ The LORD says, ‘That is a good example of what it means to know me.’

Jeremiah 22:17 But you are always thinking and looking for ways to increase your wealth by dishonest means. Your eyes and your heart are set on killing some innocent person and committing fraud and oppression.

Jeremiah 22:18 So the LORD has this to say about Josiah’s son, King Jehoiakim of Judah: People will not mourn for him, saying, “This makes me sad, my brother! This makes me sad, my sister!” They will not mourn for him, saying, “Poor, poor lord! Poor, poor majesty!”

Jeremiah 22:19 He will be left unburied just like a dead donkey. His body will be dragged off and thrown outside the gates of Jerusalem.’“

Jeremiah 22:20 People of Jerusalem, go up to Lebanon and cry out in mourning. Go to the land of Bashan and cry out loudly. Cry out in mourning from the mountains of Moab. For your allies have all been defeated.

Jeremiah 22:21 While you were feeling secure I gave you warning. But you said, “I refuse to listen to you.” That is the way you have acted from your earliest history onward. Indeed, you have never paid attention to me.

Jeremiah 22:22 My judgment will carry off all your leaders like a storm wind! Your allies will go into captivity. Then you will certainly be disgraced and put to shame because of all the wickedness you have done.

Jeremiah 22:23 You may feel as secure as a bird nesting in the cedars of Lebanon. But oh how you will groan when the pains of judgment come on you. They will be like those of a woman giving birth to a baby.

Jeremiah 22:24 The LORD says, "As surely as I am the living God, you, Jeconiah, king of Judah, son of Jehoiakim, will not be the earthly representative of my authority. Indeed, I will take that right away from you.

Jeremiah 22:25 I will hand you over to those who want to take your life and of whom you are afraid. I will hand you over to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and his Babylonian soldiers.

Jeremiah 22:26 I will force you and your mother who gave you birth into exile. You will be exiled to a country where neither of you were born, and you will both die there.

Jeremiah 22:27 You will never come back to this land to which you will long to return!"

Jeremiah 22:28 This man, Jeconiah, will be like a broken pot someone threw away. He will be like a clay vessel that no one wants. Why will he and his children be forced into exile? Why will they be thrown out into a country they know nothing about?

Jeremiah 22:29 O land of Judah, land of Judah, land of Judah! Listen to what the LORD has to say!

Jeremiah 22:30 The LORD says, "Enroll this man in the register as though he were childless. Enroll him as a man who will not enjoy success during his lifetime. For none of his sons will succeed in occupying the throne of David or ever succeed in ruling over Judah."

Jeremiah 23:1 The LORD says, "The leaders of my people are sure to be judged. They were supposed to watch over my people like shepherds watch over their sheep. But they are causing my people to be destroyed and scattered.

Jeremiah 23:2 So the LORD God of Israel has this to say about the leaders who are ruling over his people: "You have caused my people to be dispersed and driven into exile. You have not taken care of them. So I will punish you for the evil that you have done. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 23:3 Then I myself will regather those of my people who are still alive from all the countries where I have driven them. I will bring them back to their homeland. They will greatly increase in number.

Jeremiah 23:4 I will install rulers over them who will care for them. Then they will no longer need to fear or be terrified. None of them will turn up missing. I, the LORD, promise it!

Jeremiah 23:5 "I, the LORD, promise that a new time will certainly come when I will raise up for them a righteous branch, a descendant of David. He will rule over them with wisdom and understanding and will do what is just and right in the land.

Jeremiah 23:6 Under his rule Judah will enjoy safety and Israel will live in security. This is the name he will go by: 'The LORD has provided us with justice.'

Jeremiah 23:7 "So I, the LORD, say: 'A new time will certainly come. People now affirm their oaths with "I swear as surely as the LORD lives who delivered the people of Israel out of Egypt."

Jeremiah 23:8 But at that time they will affirm them with "I swear as surely as the LORD lives who delivered the descendants of the former nation of Israel from the land of the north and from all the other lands where he had banished them." At that time they will live in their own land.'"

Jeremiah 23:9 Here is what the LORD says concerning the false prophets: My heart and my mind are deeply disturbed. I tremble all over. I am like a drunk person, like a person who has had too much wine, because of the way the LORD and his holy word are being mistreated.

Jeremiah 23:10 For the land is full of people unfaithful to him. They live wicked lives and they misuse their power. So the land is dried up because it is under his curse. The pastures in the wilderness are withered.

Jeremiah 23:11 Moreover, the LORD says, "Both the prophets and priests are godless. I have even found them doing evil in my temple!

Jeremiah 23:12 So the paths they follow will be dark and slippery. They will stumble and fall headlong. For I will bring disaster on them. A day of reckoning is coming for them." The LORD affirms it!

Jeremiah 23:13 The LORD says, "I saw the prophets of Samaria doing something that was disgusting. They prophesied in the name of the god Baal and led my people Israel astray.

Jeremiah 23:14 But I see the prophets of Jerusalem doing something just as shocking. They are unfaithful to me and continually prophesy lies. So they give encouragement to people who are doing evil, with the result that they do not stop their evildoing. I consider all of them as bad as the people of Sodom, and the citizens of Jerusalem as bad as the people of Gomorrah.

Jeremiah 23:15 So then I, the LORD who rules over all, have something to say concerning the prophets of Jerusalem: 'I will make these prophets eat the bitter food of suffering and drink the poison water of judgment. For the prophets of Jerusalem are the reason that ungodliness has spread throughout the land.’“

Jeremiah 23:16 The LORD who rules over all says to the people of Jerusalem: “Do not listen to what those prophets are saying to you. They are filling you with false hopes. They are reporting visions of their own imaginations, not something the LORD has given them to say.

Jeremiah 23:17 They continually say to those who reject what the LORD has said, ‘Things will go well for you!’ They say to all those who follow the stubborn inclinations of their own hearts, ‘Nothing bad will happen to you!’

Jeremiah 23:18 Yet which of them has ever stood in the LORD’s inner circle so they could see and hear what he has to say? Which of them have ever paid attention or listened to what he has said?

Jeremiah 23:19 But just watch! The wrath of the LORD will come like a storm! Like a raging storm it will rage down on the heads of those who are wicked.

Jeremiah 23:20 The anger of the LORD will not turn back until he has fully carried out his intended purposes. In days to come you people will come to understand this clearly.

Jeremiah 23:21 I did not send those prophets. Yet they were in a hurry to give their message. I did not tell them anything. Yet they prophesied anyway.

Jeremiah 23:22 But if they had stood in my inner circle, they would have proclaimed my message to my people. They would have caused my people to turn from their wicked ways and stop doing the evil things they are doing.

Jeremiah 23:23 Do you people think that I am some local deity and not the transcendent God?” the LORD asks.

Jeremiah 23:24 “Do you really think anyone can hide himself where I cannot see him?” the LORD asks. “Do you not know that I am everywhere?” the LORD asks.

Jeremiah 23:25 The LORD says, “I have heard what those prophets who are prophesying lies in my name are saying. They are saying, ‘I have had a dream! I have had a dream!’

Jeremiah 23:26 Those prophets are just prophesying lies. They are prophesying the delusions of their own minds.

Jeremiah 23:27 How long will they go on plotting to make my people forget who I am through the dreams they tell one another? That is just as bad as what their ancestors did when they forgot who I am by worshiping the god Baal.

Jeremiah 23:28 Let the prophet who has had a dream go ahead and tell his dream. Let the person who has received my message report that message faithfully. What is like straw cannot compare to what is like grain! I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 23:29 My message is like a fire that purges dross! It is like a hammer that breaks a rock in pieces! I, the LORD, so affirm it!

Jeremiah 23:30 So I, the LORD, affirm that I am opposed to those prophets who steal messages from one another that they claim are from me.

Jeremiah 23:31 I, the LORD, AFFIRM that I am opposed to those prophets who are using their own tongues to declare, ‘The LORD declares….’

Jeremiah 23:32 I, the LORD, affirm that I am opposed to those prophets who dream up lies and report them. They are misleading my people with their reckless lies. I did not send them. I did not commission them. They are not helping these people at all. I, the LORD, affirm it!”

Jeremiah 23:33 The LORD said to me, “Jeremiah, when one of these people, or a prophet, or a priest asks you, ‘What burdensome message do you have from the LORD?’ Tell them, ‘You are the burden, and I will cast you away. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 23:34 I will punish any prophet, priest, or other person who says “The LORD’s message is burdensome.” I will punish both that person and his whole family.’“

Jeremiah 23:35 So I, Jeremiah, tell you, “Each of you people should say to his friend or his relative, ‘How did the LORD answer? Or what did the LORD say?’

Jeremiah 23:36 You must no longer say that the LORD’s message is burdensome. For what is ‘burdensome’ really pertains to what a person himself says. You are misrepresenting the words of our God, the living God, the LORD who rules over all.

Jeremiah 23:37 Each of you should merely ask the prophet, ‘What answer did the LORD give you? Or what did the LORD say?’

Jeremiah 23:38 But just suppose you continue to say, ‘The message of the LORD is burdensome.’ Here is what the LORD says will happen: ‘I sent word to you that you must not say, “The LORD’s message is burdensome.” But you used the words “The LORD’s message is burdensome” anyway.

Jeremiah 23:39 So I will carry you far off and throw you away. I will send both you and the city I gave to you and to your ancestors out of my sight.

Jeremiah 23:40 I will bring on you lasting shame and lasting disgrace which will never be forgotten!’“

Jeremiah 24:1 The LORD showed me two baskets of figs sitting before his temple. This happened after King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon deported Jehoiakim’s son, King Jeconiah of Judah. He deported him and the leaders of Judah, along with the craftsmen and metal workers, and took them to Babylon.

Jeremiah 24:2 One basket had very good-looking figs in it. They looked like those that had ripened early. The other basket had very bad-looking figs in it, so bad they could not be eaten.

Jeremiah 24:3 The LORD said to me, “What do you see, Jeremiah?” I answered, “I see figs. The good ones look very good. But the bad ones look very bad, so bad that they cannot be eaten.”

Jeremiah 24:4 The LORD said to me,

Jeremiah 24:5 “I, the LORD, the God of Israel, say: ‘The exiles whom I sent away from here to the land of Babylon are like those good figs. I consider them to be good.

Jeremiah 24:6 I will look after their welfare and will restore them to this land. There I will build them up and will not tear them down. I will plant them firmly in the land and will not uproot them.

Jeremiah 24:7 I will give them the desire to acknowledge that I am the LORD. I will be their God and they will be my people. For they will wholeheartedly return to me.’

Jeremiah 24:8 “I, the LORD, also solemnly assert: ‘King Zedekiah of Judah, his officials, and the people who remain in Jerusalem or who have gone to live in Egypt are like those bad figs. I consider them to be just like those bad figs that are so bad they cannot be eaten.

Jeremiah 24:9 I will bring such disaster on them that all the kingdoms of the earth will be horrified. I will make them an object of reproach, a proverbial example of disaster. I will make them an object of ridicule, an example to be used in curses. That is how they will be remembered wherever I banish them.

Jeremiah 24:10 I will bring war, starvation, and disease on them until they are completely destroyed from the land I gave them and their ancestors.’“

Jeremiah 25:1 In the fourth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was king of Judah, the LORD spoke to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah. (That was the same as the first year that Nebuchadnezzar was king of Babylon.)

Jeremiah 25:2 So the prophet Jeremiah spoke to all the people of Judah and to all the people who were living in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 25:3 “For the last twenty-three years, from the thirteenth year that Josiah son of Amon was ruling in Judah until now, the LORD has been speaking to me. I told you over and over again what he said. But you would not listen.

Jeremiah 25:4 Over and over again the LORD has sent his servants the prophets to you. But you have not listened or paid attention.

Jeremiah 25:5 He said through them, ‘Each of you must turn from your wicked ways and stop doing the evil things you are doing. If you do, I will allow you to continue to live here in the land that I gave to you and your ancestors as a lasting possession.

Jeremiah 25:6 Do not pay allegiance to other gods and worship and serve them. Do not make me angry by the things that you do. Then I will not cause you any harm.’

Jeremiah 25:7 So, now the LORD says, ‘You have not listened to me. But you have made me angry by the things that you have done. Thus you have brought harm on yourselves.’

Jeremiah 25:8 “Therefore, the LORD who rules over all says, ‘You have not listened to what I said.

Jeremiah 25:9 So I, the LORD, affirm that I will send for all the peoples of the north and my servant, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. I will bring them against this land and its inhabitants and all the nations that surround it. I will utterly destroy this land, its inhabitants, and all the nations that surround it and make them everlasting ruins. I will make them objects of horror and hissing scorn.

Jeremiah 25:10 I will put an end to the sounds of joy and gladness, to the glad celebration of brides and grooms in these lands. I will put an end to the sound of people grinding meal. I will put an end to lamps shining in their houses.

Jeremiah 25:11 This whole area will become a desolate wasteland. These nations will be subject to the king of Babylon for seventy years.’

Jeremiah 25:12 “‘But when the seventy years are over, I will punish the king of Babylon and his nation for their sins. I will make the land of Babylon an everlasting ruin. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 25:13 I will bring on that land everything that I said I would. I will bring on it everything that is written in this book. I will bring on it everything that Jeremiah has prophesied against all the nations.

Jeremiah 25:14 For many nations and great kings will make slaves of the king of Babylon and his nation too. I will repay them for all they have done!’“

Jeremiah 25:15 So the LORD, the God of Israel, spoke to me in a vision. “Take this cup from my hand. It is filled with the wine of my wrath. Take it and make the nations to whom I send you drink it.

Jeremiah 25:16 When they have drunk it, they will stagger to and fro and act insane. For I will send wars sweeping through them.”

Jeremiah 25:17 So I took the cup from the LORD’s hand. I made all the nations to whom he sent me drink the wine of his wrath.

Jeremiah 25:18 I made Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, its kings and its officials drink it. I did it so Judah would become a ruin. I did it so Judah, its kings, and its officials would become an object of horror and of hissing scorn, an example used in curses. Such is already becoming the case!

Jeremiah 25:19 I made all of these other people drink it: Pharaoh, king of Egypt; his attendants, his officials, his people,

Jeremiah 25:20 the foreigners living in Egypt; all the kings of the land of Uz; all the kings of the land of the Philistines, the people of Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, the people who had been left alive from Ashdod;

Jeremiah 25:21 all the people of Edom, Moab, Ammon;

Jeremiah 25:22 all the kings of Tyre, all the kings of Sidon; all the kings of the coastlands along the sea;

Jeremiah 25:23 the people of Dedan, Tema, Buz, all the desert people who cut their hair short at the temples;

Jeremiah 25:24 all the kings of Arabia who live in the desert;

Jeremiah 25:25 all the kings of Zimri; all the kings of Elam; all the kings of Media;

Jeremiah 25:26 all the kings of the north, whether near or far from one another; and all the other kingdoms which are on the face of the earth. After all of them have drunk the wine of the LORD's wrath, the king of Babylon must drink it.

Jeremiah 25:27 Then the LORD said to me, "Tell them that the LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, 'Drink this cup until you get drunk and vomit. Drink until you fall down and can't get up. For I will send wars sweeping through you.'

Jeremiah 25:28 If they refuse to take the cup from your hand and drink it, tell them that the LORD who rules over all says 'You most certainly must drink it!

Jeremiah 25:29 For take note, I am already beginning to bring disaster on the city that I call my own. So how can you possibly avoid being punished? You will not go unpunished! For I am proclaiming war against all who live on the earth. I, the LORD who rules over all, affirm it!'

Jeremiah 25:30 "Then, Jeremiah, make the following prophecy against them: 'Like a lion about to attack, the LORD will roar from the heights of heaven; from his holy dwelling on high he will roar loudly. He will roar mightily against his land. He will shout in triumph like those stomping juice from the grapes against all those who live on the earth.

Jeremiah 25:31 The sounds of battle will resound to the ends of the earth. For the LORD will bring charges against the nations. He will pass judgment on all humankind and will hand the wicked over to be killed in war.' The LORD so affirms it!

Jeremiah 25:32 The LORD who rules over all says, 'Disaster will soon come on one nation after another. A mighty storm of military destruction is rising up from the distant parts of the earth.'

Jeremiah 25:33 Those who have been killed by the LORD at that time will be scattered from one end of the earth to the other. They will not be mourned over, gathered up, or buried. Their dead bodies will lie scattered over the ground like manure.

Jeremiah 25:34 Wail and cry out in anguish, you rulers! Roll in the dust, you who shepherd flocks of people! The time for you to be slaughtered has come. You will lie scattered and fallen like broken pieces of fine pottery.

Jeremiah 25:35 The leaders will not be able to run away and hide. The shepherds of the flocks will not be able to escape.

Jeremiah 25:36 Listen to the cries of anguish of the leaders. Listen to the wails of the shepherds of the flocks. They are wailing because the LORD is about to destroy their lands.

Jeremiah 25:37 Their peaceful dwelling places will be laid waste by the fierce anger of the LORD.

Jeremiah 25:38 The LORD is like a lion who has left his lair. So their lands will certainly be laid waste by the warfare of the oppressive nation and by the fierce anger of the LORD."

Jeremiah 26:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah at the beginning of the reign of Josiah's son, King Jehoiakim of Judah.

Jeremiah 26:2 The LORD said, "Go stand in the courtyard of the LORD's temple. Speak out to all the people who are coming from the towns of Judah to worship in the LORD's temple. Tell them everything I command you to tell them. Do not leave out a single word!

Jeremiah 26:3 Maybe they will pay attention and each of them will stop living the evil way they do. If they do that, then I will forgo destroying them as I had intended to do because of the wicked things they have been doing.

Jeremiah 26:4 Tell them that the LORD says, 'You must obey me! You must live according to the way I have instructed you in my laws.

Jeremiah 26:5 You must pay attention to the exhortations of my servants the prophets. I have sent them to you over and over again. But you have not paid any attention to them.

Jeremiah 26:6 If you do not obey me, then I will do to this temple what I did to Shiloh. And I will make this city an example to be used in curses by people from all the nations on the earth.'"

Jeremiah 26:7 The priests, the prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah say these things in the LORD's temple.

Jeremiah 26:8 Jeremiah had just barely finished saying all the LORD had commanded him to say to all the people. All at once some of the priests, the prophets, and the people grabbed him and shouted, "You deserve to die!

Jeremiah 26:9 How dare you claim the LORD’s authority to prophesy such things! How dare you claim his authority to prophesy that this temple will become like Shiloh and that this city will become an uninhabited ruin!” Then all the people crowded around Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 26:10 However, some of the officials of Judah heard about what was happening and they rushed up to the LORD’s temple from the royal palace. They set up court at the entrance of the New Gate of the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 26:11 Then the priests and the prophets made their charges before the officials and all the people. They said, “This man should be condemned to die because he prophesied against this city. You have heard him do so with your own ears.”

Jeremiah 26:12 Then Jeremiah made his defense before all the officials and all the people. “The LORD sent me to prophesy everything you have heard me say against this temple and against this city.

Jeremiah 26:13 But correct the way you have been living and do what is right. Obey the LORD your God. If you do, the LORD will forgo destroying you as he threatened he would.

Jeremiah 26:14 As to my case, I am in your power. Do to me what you deem fair and proper.

Jeremiah 26:15 But you should take careful note of this: If you put me to death, you will bring on yourselves and this city and those who live in it the guilt of murdering an innocent man. For the LORD has sent me to speak all this where you can hear it. That is the truth!”

Jeremiah 26:16 Then the officials and all the people rendered their verdict to the priests and the prophets. They said, “This man should not be condemned to die. For he has spoken to us under the authority of the LORD our God.”

Jeremiah 26:17 Then some of the elders of Judah stepped forward and spoke to all the people gathered there. They said,

Jeremiah 26:18 “Micah from Moresheth prophesied during the time Hezekiah was king of Judah. He told all the people of Judah, ‘The LORD who rules over all says, “Zion will become a plowed field. Jerusalem will become a pile of rubble. The temple mount will become a mere wooded ridge.”‘

Jeremiah 26:19 King Hezekiah and all the people of Judah did not put him to death, did they? Did not Hezekiah show reverence for the LORD and seek the LORD’s favor? Did not the LORD forgo destroying them as he threatened he would? But we are on the verge of bringing great disaster on ourselves.”

Jeremiah 26:20 Now there was another man who prophesied as the LORD’s representative against this city and this land just as Jeremiah did. His name was Uriah son of Shemaiah from Kiriath Jearim.

Jeremiah 26:21 When the king and all his bodyguards and officials heard what he was prophesying, the king sought to have him executed. But Uriah found out about it and fled to Egypt out of fear.

Jeremiah 26:22 However, King Jehoiakim sent some men to Egypt, including Elnathan son of Achbor,

Jeremiah 26:23 and they brought Uriah back from there. They took him to King Jehoiakim, who had him executed and had his body thrown into the burial place of the common people.

Jeremiah 26:24 However, Ahikam son of Shaphan used his influence to keep Jeremiah from being handed over and executed by the people.

Jeremiah 27:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah early in the reign of Josiah's son, King Zedekiah of Judah.

Jeremiah 27:2 The LORD told me, "Make a yoke out of leather straps and wooden crossbars and put it on your neck.

Jeremiah 27:3 Use it to send messages to the kings of Edom, Moab, Ammon, Tyre, and Sidon. Send them through the envoys who have come to Jerusalem to King Zedekiah of Judah.

Jeremiah 27:4 Charge them to give their masters a message from me. Tell them, 'The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says to give your masters this message.

Jeremiah 27:5 "I made the earth and the people and animals on it by my mighty power and great strength, and I give it to whomever I see fit.

Jeremiah 27:6 I have at this time placed all these nations of yours under the power of my servant, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. I have even made all the wild animals subject to him.

Jeremiah 27:7 All nations must serve him and his son and grandson until the time comes for his own nation to fall. Then many nations and great kings will in turn subjugate Babylon.

Jeremiah 27:8 But suppose a nation or a kingdom will not be subject to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. Suppose it will not submit to the yoke of servitude to him. I, the LORD, affirm that I will punish that nation. I will use the king of Babylon to punish it with war, starvation, and disease until I have destroyed it.

Jeremiah 27:9 So do not listen to your prophets or to those who claim to predict the future by divination, by dreams, by consulting the dead, or by practicing magic. They keep telling you, 'You do not need to be subject to the king of Babylon.'

Jeremiah 27:10 Do not listen to them, because their prophecies are lies. Listening to them will only cause you to be taken far away from your native land. I will drive you out of your country and you will die in exile.

Jeremiah 27:11 Things will go better for the nation that submits to the yoke of servitude to the king of Babylon and is subject to him. I will leave that nation in its native land. Its people can continue to farm it and live in it. I, the LORD, affirm it!”‘“

Jeremiah 27:12 I told King Zedekiah of Judah the same thing. I said, “Submit to the yoke of servitude to the king of Babylon. Be subject to him and his people. Then you will continue to live.

Jeremiah 27:13 There is no reason why you and your people should die in war or from starvation or disease! That’s what the LORD says will happen to any nation that will not be subject to the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 27:14 Do not listen to the prophets who are telling you that you do not need to serve the king of Babylon. For they are prophesying lies to you.

Jeremiah 27:15 For I, the LORD, affirm that I did not send them. They are prophesying lies to you. If you listen to them, I will drive you and the prophets who are prophesying lies out of the land and you will all die in exile.”

Jeremiah 27:16 I also told the priests and all the people, “The LORD says, ‘Do not listen to what your prophets are saying. They are prophesying to you that the valuable articles taken from the LORD’s temple will be brought back from Babylon very soon. But they are prophesying a lie to you.

Jeremiah 27:17 Do not listen to them. Be subject to the king of Babylon. Then you will continue to live. Why should this city be made a pile of rubble?’“

Jeremiah 27:18 I also told them, “If they are really prophets and the LORD is speaking to them, let them pray earnestly to the LORD who rules over all. Let them plead with him not to let the valuable articles that are still left in the LORD’s temple, in the royal palace, and in Jerusalem be taken away to Babylon.

Jeremiah 27:19 For the LORD who rules over all has already spoken about the two bronze pillars, the large bronze basin called ‘The Sea,’ and the movable bronze stands. He has already spoken about the rest of the valuable articles that are left in this city.

Jeremiah 27:20 He has already spoken about these things that King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon did not take away when he carried Jehoiakim’s son King Jeconiah of Judah and the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem away as captives.

Jeremiah 27:21 Indeed, the LORD God of Israel who rules over all has already spoken about the valuable articles that are left in the LORD’s temple, in the royal palace of Judah, and in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 27:22 He has said, ‘They will be carried off to Babylon. They will remain there until it is time for me to show consideration for them again. Then I will bring them back and restore them to this place.’ I, the LORD, affirm this!”

Jeremiah 28:1 The following events occurred in that same year, early in the reign of King Zedekiah of Judah. To be more precise, it was the fifth month of the fourth year of his reign. The prophet Hananiah son of Azzur, who was from Gibeon, spoke to Jeremiah in the LORD's temple in the presence of the priests and all the people.

Jeremiah 28:2 "The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, 'I will break the yoke of servitude to the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 28:3 Before two years are over, I will bring back to this place everything that King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon took from it and carried away to Babylon.

Jeremiah 28:4 I will also bring back to this place Jehoiakim's son King Jeconiah of Judah and all the exiles who were taken to Babylon.' Indeed, the LORD affirms, 'I will break the yoke of servitude to the king of Babylon.'"

Jeremiah 28:5 Then the prophet Jeremiah responded to the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests and all the people who were standing in the LORD's temple.

Jeremiah 28:6 The prophet Jeremiah said, "Amen! May the LORD do all this! May the LORD make your prophecy come true! May he bring back to this place from Babylon all the valuable articles taken from the LORD's temple and the people who were carried into exile.

Jeremiah 28:7 But listen to what I say to you and to all these people.

Jeremiah 28:8 From earliest times, the prophets who preceded you and me invariably prophesied war, disaster, and plagues against many countries and great kingdoms.

Jeremiah 28:9 So if a prophet prophesied peace and prosperity, it was only known that the LORD truly sent him when what he prophesied came true."

Jeremiah 28:10 The prophet Hananiah then took the yoke off the prophet Jeremiah's neck and broke it.

Jeremiah 28:11 Then he spoke up in the presence of all the people. "The LORD says, 'In the same way I will break the yoke of servitude of all the nations to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon before two years are over.'" After he heard this, the prophet Jeremiah departed and went on his way.

Jeremiah 28:12 But shortly after the prophet Hananiah had broken the yoke off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, the LORD spoke to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 28:13 "Go and tell Hananiah that the LORD says, 'You have indeed broken the wooden yoke. But you have only succeeded in replacing it with an iron one!

Jeremiah 28:14 For the LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, "I have put an irresistible yoke of servitude on all these nations so they will serve King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. And they will indeed serve him. I have even given him control over the wild animals."‟

Jeremiah 28:15 Then the prophet Jeremiah told the prophet Hananiah, "Listen, Hananiah! The LORD did not send you! You are making these people trust in a lie!

Jeremiah 28:16 So the LORD says, 'I will most assuredly remove you from the face of the earth. You will die this very year because you have counseled rebellion against the LORD.'‟

Jeremiah 28:17 In the seventh month of that very same year the prophet Hananiah died.

Jeremiah 29:1 The prophet Jeremiah sent a letter to the exiles Nebuchadnezzar had carried off from Jerusalem to Babylon. It was addressed to the elders who were left among the exiles, to the priests, to the prophets, and to all the other people who were exiled in Babylon.

Jeremiah 29:2 He sent it after King Jeconiah, the queen mother, the palace officials, the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen, and the metal workers had been exiled from Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 29:3 He sent it with Elasah son of Shaphan and Gemariah son of Hilkiah. King Zedekiah of Judah had sent these men to Babylon to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. The letter said:

Jeremiah 29:4 "The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says to all those he sent into exile to Babylon from Jerusalem,

Jeremiah 29:5 'Build houses and settle down. Plant gardens and eat what they produce.

Jeremiah 29:6 Marry and have sons and daughters. Find wives for your sons and allow your daughters get married so that they too can have sons and daughters. Grow in number; do not dwindle away.

Jeremiah 29:7 Work to see that the city where I sent you as exiles enjoys peace and prosperity. Pray to the LORD for it. For as it prospers you will prosper.'

Jeremiah 29:8 "For the LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, 'Do not let the prophets or those among you who claim to be able to predict the future by divination deceive you. And do not pay any attention to the dreams that you are encouraging them to dream.

Jeremiah 29:9 They are prophesying lies to you and claiming my authority to do so. But I did not send them. I, the LORD, affirm it!'

Jeremiah 29:10 "For the LORD says, 'Only when the seventy years of Babylonian rule are over will I again take up consideration for you. Then I will fulfill my gracious promise to you and restore you to your homeland.

Jeremiah 29:11 For I know what I have planned for you,' says the LORD. 'I have plans to prosper you, not to harm you. I have plans to give you a future filled with hope.

Jeremiah 29:12 When you call out to me and come to me in prayer, I will hear your prayers.

Jeremiah 29:13 When you seek me in prayer and worship, you will find me available to you. If you seek me with all your heart and soul,

Jeremiah 29:14 I will make myself available to you,’ says the LORD. ‘Then I will reverse your plight and will regather you from all the nations and all the places where I have exiled you,’ says the LORD. ‘I will bring you back to the place from which I exiled you.’

Jeremiah 29:15 “You say, ‘The LORD has raised up prophets of good news for us here in Babylon.’

Jeremiah 29:16 But just listen to what the LORD has to say about the king who occupies David’s throne and all your fellow countrymen who are still living in this city of Jerusalem and were not carried off into exile with you.

Jeremiah 29:17 The LORD who rules over all says, ‘I will bring war, starvation, and disease on them. I will treat them like figs that are so rotten they cannot be eaten.

Jeremiah 29:18 I will chase after them with war, starvation, and disease. I will make all the kingdoms of the earth horrified at what happens to them. I will make them examples of those who are cursed, objects of horror, hissing scorn, and ridicule among all the nations where I exile them.

Jeremiah 29:19 For they have not paid attention to what I said to them through my servants the prophets whom I sent to them over and over again,’ says the LORD. ‘And you exiles have not paid any attention to them either,’ says the LORD.

Jeremiah 29:20 ‘So pay attention to what I, the LORD, have said, all you exiles whom I have sent to Babylon from Jerusalem.’

Jeremiah 29:21 “The LORD God of Israel who rules over all also has something to say about Ahab son of Kolaiah and Zedekiah son of Maaseiah, who are prophesying lies to you and claiming my authority to do so. ‘I will hand them over to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and he will execute them before your very eyes.

Jeremiah 29:22 And all the exiles of Judah who are in Babylon will use them as examples when they put a curse on anyone. They will say, “May the LORD treat you like Zedekiah and Ahab whom the king of Babylon roasted to death in the fire!”

Jeremiah 29:23 This will happen to them because they have done what is shameful in Israel. They have committed adultery with their neighbors’ wives and have spoken lies while claiming my authority. They have spoken words that I did not command them to speak. I know what they have done. I have been a witness to it,’ says the LORD.”

Jeremiah 29:24 The LORD told Jeremiah, “Tell Shemaiah the Nehelamite

Jeremiah 29:25 that the LORD God of Israel who rules over all has a message for him. Tell him, ‘On your own initiative you sent a letter to the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah and to all the other priests and to all the people in Jerusalem. In your letter you said to Zephaniah, Jeremiah 29:26 “The LORD has made you priest in place of Jehoiada. He has put you in charge in the LORD’s temple of controlling any lunatic who pretends to be a prophet. And it is your duty to put any such person in the stocks with an iron collar around his neck.

Jeremiah 29:27 You should have reprimanded Jeremiah from Anathoth who is pretending to be a prophet among you!

Jeremiah 29:28 For he has even sent a message to us here in Babylon. He wrote and told us, “You will be there a long time. Build houses and settle down. Plant gardens and eat what they produce.”“

Jeremiah 29:29 Zephaniah the priest read that letter to the prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 29:30 Then the LORD spoke to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 29:31 “Send a message to all the exiles in Babylon. Tell them, ‘The LORD has spoken about Shemaiah the Nehelamite. “Shemaiah has spoken to you as a prophet even though I did not send him. He is making you trust in a lie.

Jeremiah 29:32 Because he has done this,” the LORD says, “I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his whole family. There will not be any of them left to experience the good things that I will do for my people. I, the LORD, affirm it! For he counseled rebellion against the LORD.”“

Jeremiah 30:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 30:2 “The LORD God of Israel says, ‘Write everything that I am about to tell you in a scroll.

Jeremiah 30:3 For I, the LORD, affirm that the time will come when I will reverse the plight of my people, Israel and Judah,’ says the LORD. ‘I will bring them back to the land I gave their ancestors and they will take possession of it once again.’“

Jeremiah 30:4 So here is what the LORD has to say about Israel and Judah.

Jeremiah 30:5 Yes, here is what he says: “You hear cries of panic and of terror; there is no peace in sight.

Jeremiah 30:6 Ask yourselves this and consider it carefully: Have you ever seen a man give birth to a baby? Why then do I see all these strong men grabbing their stomachs in pain like a woman giving birth? And why do their faces turn so deathly pale?

Jeremiah 30:7 Alas, what a terrible time of trouble it is! There has never been any like it. It is a time of trouble for the descendants of Jacob, but some of them will be rescued out of it.

Jeremiah 30:8 When the time for them to be rescued comes," says the LORD who rules over all, "I will rescue you from foreign subjugation. I will deliver you from captivity. Foreigners will then no longer subjugate them.

Jeremiah 30:9 But they will be subject to the LORD their God and to the Davidic ruler whom I will raise up as king over them.

Jeremiah 30:10 So I, the LORD, tell you not to be afraid, you descendants of Jacob, my servants. Do not be terrified, people of Israel. For I will rescue you and your descendants from a faraway land where you are captives. The descendants of Jacob will return to their land and enjoy peace. They will be secure and no one will terrify them.

Jeremiah 30:11 For I, the LORD, affirm that I will be with you and will rescue you. I will completely destroy all the nations where I scattered you. But I will not completely destroy you. I will indeed discipline you, but only in due measure. I will not allow you to go entirely unpunished."

Jeremiah 30:12 Moreover, the LORD says to the people of Zion, "Your injuries are incurable; your wounds are severe.

Jeremiah 30:13 There is no one to plead your cause. There are no remedies for your wounds. There is no healing for you.

Jeremiah 30:14 All your allies have abandoned you. They no longer have any concern for you. For I have attacked you like an enemy would. I have chastened you cruelly. For your wickedness is so great and your sin is so much.

Jeremiah 30:15 Why do you complain about your injuries, that your pain is incurable? I have done all this to you because your wickedness is so great and your sin is so much.

Jeremiah 30:16 But all who destroyed you will be destroyed. All your enemies will go into exile. Those who plundered you will be plundered. I will cause those who pillaged you to be pillaged.

Jeremiah 30:17 Yes, I will restore you to health. I will heal your wounds. I, the LORD, affirm it! For you have been called an outcast, Zion, whom no one cares for."

Jeremiah 30:18 The LORD says, "I will restore the ruined houses of the descendants of Jacob. I will show compassion on their ruined homes. Every city will be rebuilt on its former ruins. Every fortified dwelling will occupy its traditional site.

Jeremiah 30:19 Out of those places you will hear songs of thanksgiving and the sounds of laughter and merriment. I will increase their number and they will not dwindle away. I will bring them honor and they will no longer be despised.

Jeremiah 30:20 The descendants of Jacob will enjoy their former privileges. Their community will be reestablished in my favor and I will punish all who try to oppress them.

Jeremiah 30:21 One of their own people will be their leader. Their ruler will come from their own number. I will invite him to approach me, and he will do so. For no one would dare approach me on his own. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 30:22 Then you will again be my people and I will be your God.

Jeremiah 30:23 Just watch! The wrath of the LORD will come like a storm. Like a raging storm it will rage down on the heads of those who are wicked.

Jeremiah 30:24 The anger of the LORD will not turn back until he has fully carried out his intended purposes. In days to come you will come to understand this.

Jeremiah 31:1 At that time I will be the God of all the clans of Israel and they will be my people. I, the LORD, affirm it!”

Jeremiah 31:2 The LORD says, “The people of Israel who survived death at the hands of the enemy will find favor in the wilderness as they journey to find rest for themselves.

Jeremiah 31:3 In a far-off land the LORD will manifest himself to them. He will say to them, ‘I have loved you with an everlasting love. That is why I have continued to be faithful to you.

Jeremiah 31:4 I will rebuild you, my dear children Israel, so that you will once again be built up. Once again you will take up the tambourine and join in the happy throng of dancers.

Jeremiah 31:5 Once again you will plant vineyards on the hills of Samaria. Those who plant them will once again enjoy their fruit.

Jeremiah 31:6 Yes, a time is coming when watchmen will call out on the mountains of Ephraim, “Come! Let us go to Zion to worship the LORD our God!”‘“

Jeremiah 31:7 Moreover, the LORD says, “Sing for joy for the descendants of Jacob. Utter glad shouts for that foremost of the nations. Make your praises heard. Then say, ‘LORD, rescue your people. Deliver those of Israel who remain alive.’

Jeremiah 31:8 Then I will reply, ‘I will bring them back from the land of the north. I will gather them in from the distant parts of the earth. Blind and lame people will come with them, so will pregnant women and women about to give birth. A vast throng of people will come back here.

Jeremiah 31:9 They will come back shedding tears of contrition. I will bring them back praying prayers of repentance. I will lead them besides streams of water, along smooth paths where they will never stumble. I will do this because I am Israel’s father; Ephraim is my firstborn son.’“

Jeremiah 31:10 Hear what the LORD has to say, O nations. Proclaim it in the faraway lands along the sea. Say, “The one who scattered Israel will regather them. He will watch over his people like a shepherd watches over his flock.”

Jeremiah 31:11 For the LORD will rescue the descendants of Jacob. He will secure their release from those who had overpowered them.

Jeremiah 31:12 They will come and shout for joy on Mount Zion. They will be radiant with joy over the good things the LORD provides, the grain, the fresh wine, the olive oil, the young sheep and calves he has given to them. They will be like a well-watered garden and will not grow faint or weary any more.

Jeremiah 31:13 The LORD says, “At that time young women will dance and be glad. Young men and old men will rejoice. I will turn their grief into gladness. I will give them comfort and joy in place of their sorrow.

Jeremiah 31:14 I will provide the priests with abundant provisions. My people will be filled to the full with the good things I provide.”

Jeremiah 31:15 The LORD says, “A sound is heard in Ramah, a sound of crying in bitter grief. It is the sound of Rachel weeping for her children and refusing to be comforted, because her children are gone.”

Jeremiah 31:16 The LORD says to her, “Stop crying! Do not shed any more tears! For your heartfelt repentance will be rewarded. Your children will return from the land of the enemy. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 31:17 Indeed, there is hope for your posterity. Your children will return to their own territory. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 31:18 I have indeed heard the people of Israel say mournfully, ‘We were like a calf untrained to the yoke. You disciplined us and we learned from it. Let us come back to you and we will do so, for you are the LORD our God.

Jeremiah 31:19 For after we turned away from you we repented. After we came to our senses we beat our breasts in sorrow. We are ashamed and humiliated because of the disgraceful things we did previously.’

Jeremiah 31:20 Indeed, the people of Israel are my dear children. They are the children I take delight in. For even though I must often rebuke them, I still remember them with fondness. So I am deeply moved with pity for them and will surely have compassion on them. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 31:21 I will say, ‘My dear children of Israel, keep in mind the road you took when you were carried off. Mark off in your minds the landmarks. Make a mental note of telltale signs marking the way back. Return, my dear children of Israel. Return to these cities of yours.

Jeremiah 31:22 How long will you vacillate, you who were once like an unfaithful daughter? For I, the LORD, promise to bring about something new on the earth, something as unique as a woman protecting a man!’“

Jeremiah 31:23 The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, “I will restore the people of Judah to their land and to their towns. When I do, they will again say of Jerusalem, ‘May the LORD bless you, you holy mountain, the place where righteousness dwells.’

Jeremiah 31:24 The land of Judah will be inhabited by people who live in its towns as well as by farmers and shepherds with their flocks.

Jeremiah 31:25 I will fully satisfy the needs of those who are weary and fully refresh the souls of those who are faint.

Jeremiah 31:26 Then they will say, ‘Under these conditions I can enjoy sweet sleep when I wake up and look around.’“ Jeremiah 31:27 “Indeed, a time is coming,” says the LORD, “when I will cause people and animals to sprout up in the lands of Israel and Judah.

Jeremiah 31:28 In the past I saw to it that they were uprooted and torn down, that they were destroyed and demolished. But now I will see to it that they are built up and firmly planted. I, the LORD, affirm it!”

Jeremiah 31:29 “When that time comes, people will no longer say, ‘The parents have eaten sour grapes, but the children’s teeth have grown numb.’

Jeremiah 31:30 Rather, each person will die for his own sins. The teeth of the person who eats the sour grapes will themselves grow numb.

Jeremiah 31:31 “Indeed, a time is coming,” says the LORD, “when I will make a new covenant with the people of Israel and Judah.

Jeremiah 31:32 It will not be like the old covenant that I made with their ancestors when I delivered them from Egypt. For they violated that covenant, even though I was like a faithful husband to them,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 31:33 “But I will make a new covenant with the whole nation of Israel after I plant them back in the land,” says the LORD. “I will put my law within them and write it on their hearts and minds. I will be their God and they will be my people.

Jeremiah 31:34 “People will no longer need to teach their neighbors and relatives to know me. For all of them, from the least important to the most important, will know me,” says the LORD. “For I will forgive their sin and will no longer call to mind the wrong they have done.”

Jeremiah 31:35 The LORD has made a promise to Israel. He promises it as the one who fixed the sun to give light by day and the moon and stars to give light by night. He promises it as the one who stirs up the sea so that its waves roll. He promises it as the one who is known as the LORD who rules over all.

Jeremiah 31:36 The LORD affirms, “The descendants of Israel will not cease forever to be a nation in my sight. That could only happen if the fixed ordering of the heavenly lights were to cease to operate before me.”

Jeremiah 31:37 The LORD says, “I will not reject all the descendants of Israel because of all that they have done. That could only happen if the heavens above could be measured or the foundations of the earth below could all be explored,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 31:38 “Indeed a time is coming,” says the LORD, “when the city of Jerusalem will be rebuilt as my special city. It will be built from the Tower of Hananel westward to the Corner Gate.

Jeremiah 31:39 The boundary line will extend beyond that, straight west from there to the Hill of Gareb and then turn southward to Goah.

Jeremiah 31:40 The whole valley where dead bodies and sacrificial ashes are thrown and all the terraced fields out to the Kidron Valley on the east as far north as the Horse Gate will be included within this city that is sacred to the LORD. The city will never again be torn down or destroyed.”

Jeremiah 32:1 In the tenth year that Zedekiah was ruling over Judah the LORD spoke to Jeremiah. That was the same as the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. 32:2 Now at that time, the armies of the king of Babylon were besieging Jerusalem. The prophet Jeremiah was confined in the courtyard of the guardhouse attached to the royal palace of Judah.

Jeremiah 32:2

Jeremiah 32:3 For King Zedekiah had confined Jeremiah there after he had reproved him for prophesying as he did. He had asked Jeremiah, “Why do you keep prophesying these things? Why do you keep saying that the LORD says, ‘I will hand this city over to the king of Babylon? I will let him capture it.

Jeremiah 32:4 King Zedekiah of Judah will not escape from the Babylonians. He will certainly be handed over to the king of Babylon. He must answer personally to the king of Babylon and confront him face to face.

Jeremiah 32:5 Zedekiah will be carried off to Babylon and will remain there until I have fully dealt with him. I, the LORD, affirm it! Even if you continue to fight against the Babylonians, you cannot win.’“

Jeremiah 32:6 So now, Jeremiah said, “The LORD told me, Jeremiah 32:7 ‘Hanamel, the son of your uncle Shallum, will come to you soon. He will say to you, “Buy my field at Anathoth because you are entitled as my closest relative to buy it.”‘

Jeremiah 32:8 Now it happened just as the LORD had said! My cousin Hanamel came to me in the courtyard of the guardhouse. He said to me, ‘Buy my field which is at Anathoth in the territory of the tribe of Benjamin. Buy it for yourself since you are entitled as my closest relative to take possession of it for yourself.’ When this happened, I recognized that the LORD had indeed spoken to me.

Jeremiah 32:9 So I bought the field at Anathoth from my cousin Hanamel. I weighed out seven ounces of silver and gave it to him to pay for it.

Jeremiah 32:10 I signed the deed of purchase, sealed it, and had some men serve as witnesses to the purchase. I weighed out the silver for him on a scale.

Jeremiah 32:11 There were two copies of the deed of purchase. One was sealed and contained the order of transfer and the conditions of purchase. The other was left unsealed.

Jeremiah 32:12 I took both copies of the deed of purchase and gave them to Baruch son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah. I gave them to him in the presence of my cousin Hanamel, the witnesses who had signed the deed of purchase, and all the Judeans who were housed in the courtyard of the guardhouse.

Jeremiah 32:13 In the presence of all these people I instructed Baruch,

Jeremiah 32:14 ‘The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, “Take these documents, both the sealed copy of the deed of purchase and the unsealed copy. Put them in a clay jar so that they may be preserved for a long time to come.”‘

Jeremiah 32:15 For the LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, “Houses, fields, and vineyards will again be bought in this land.”‘

Jeremiah 32:16 “After I had given the copies of the deed of purchase to Baruch son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD,

Jeremiah 32:17 ‘Oh, Lord GOD, you did indeed make heaven and earth by your mighty power and great strength. Nothing is too hard for you!

Jeremiah 32:18 You show unfailing love to thousands. But you also punish children for the sins of their parents. You are the great and powerful God who is known as the LORD who rules over all.

Jeremiah 32:19 You plan great things and you do mighty deeds. You see everything people do. You reward each of them for the way they live and for the things they do.

Jeremiah 32:20 You did miracles and amazing deeds in the land of Egypt which have had lasting effect. By this means you gained both in Israel and among humankind a renown that lasts to this day.

Jeremiah 32:21 You used your mighty power and your great strength to perform miracles and amazing deeds and to bring great terror on the Egyptians. By this means you brought your people Israel out of the land of Egypt.

Jeremiah 32:22 You kept the promise that you swore on oath to their ancestors. You gave them a land flowing with milk and honey.

Jeremiah 32:23 But when they came in and took possession of it, they did not obey you or live as you had instructed them. They did not do anything that you commanded them to do. So you brought all this disaster on them.

Jeremiah 32:24 Even now siege ramps have been built up around the city in order to capture it. War, starvation, and disease are sure to make the city fall into the hands of the Babylonians who are attacking it. LORD, you threatened that this would happen. Now you can see that it is already taking place.

Jeremiah 32:25 The city is sure to fall into the hands of the Babylonians. Yet, in spite of this, you, Lord GOD, have said to me, “Buy that field with silver and have the transaction legally witnessed.”“

Jeremiah 32:26 The LORD answered Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 32:27 “I am the LORD, the God of all humankind. There is, indeed, nothing too difficult for me.

Jeremiah 32:28 Therefore I, the LORD, say: ‘I will indeed hand this city over to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and the Babylonian army. They will capture it.

Jeremiah 32:29 The Babylonian soldiers that are attacking this city will break into it and set it on fire. They will burn it down along with the houses where people have made me angry by offering sacrifices to the god Baal and by pouring out drink offerings to other gods on their rooftops.

Jeremiah 32:30 This will happen because the people of Israel and Judah have repeatedly done what displeases me from their earliest history until now and because they have repeatedly made me angry by the things they have done. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 32:31 This will happen because the people of this city have aroused my anger and my wrath since the time they built it until now. They have made me so angry that I am determined to remove it from my sight.

Jeremiah 32:32 I am determined to do so because the people of Israel and Judah have made me angry with all their wickedness– they, their kings, their officials, their priests, their prophets, and especially the people of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem have done this wickedness.

Jeremiah 32:33 They have turned away from me instead of turning to me. I tried over and over again to instruct them, but they did not listen and respond to correction.

Jeremiah 32:34 They set up their disgusting idols in the temple which I have claimed for my own and defiled it.

Jeremiah 32:35 They built places of worship for the god Baal in the Valley of Ben Hinnom so that they could sacrifice their sons and daughters to the god Molech. Such a disgusting practice was not something I commanded them to do! It never even entered my mind to command them to do such a thing! So Judah is certainly liable for punishment.'

Jeremiah 32:36 "You and your people are right in saying, 'War, starvation, and disease are sure to make this city fall into the hands of the king of Babylon.' But now I, the LORD God of Israel, have something further to say about this city:

Jeremiah 32:37 'I will certainly regather my people from all the countries where I will have exiled them in my anger, fury, and great wrath. I will bring them back to this place and allow them to live here in safety.

Jeremiah 32:38 They will be my people, and I will be their God.

Jeremiah 32:39 I will give them a single-minded purpose to live in a way that always shows respect for me. They will want to do that for their own good and the good of the children who descend from them.

Jeremiah 32:40 I will make a lasting covenant with them that I will never stop doing good to them. I will fill their hearts and minds with respect for me so that they will never again turn away from me.

Jeremiah 32:41 I will take delight in doing good to them. I will faithfully and wholeheartedly plant them firmly in the land.'

Jeremiah 32:42 "For I, the LORD, say: 'I will surely bring on these people all the good fortune that I am hereby promising them. I will be just as sure to do that as I have been in bringing all this great disaster on them.

Jeremiah 32:43 You and your people are saying that this land will become desolate, uninhabited by either people or animals. You are saying that it will be handed over to the Babylonians. But fields will again be bought in this land.

Jeremiah 32:44 Fields will again be bought with silver, and deeds of purchase signed, sealed, and witnessed. This will happen in the territory of Benjamin, the villages surrounding Jerusalem, the towns in Judah, the southern hill country, the western foothills, and southern Judah. For I will restore them to their land. I, the LORD, affirm it!'"

Jeremiah 33:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah a second time while he was still confined in the courtyard of the guardhouse.

Jeremiah 33:2 “I, the LORD, do these things. I, the LORD, form the plan to bring them about. I am known as the LORD. I say to you,

Jeremiah 33:3 ‘Call on me in prayer and I will answer you. I will show you great and mysterious things which you still do not know about.’

Jeremiah 33:4 For I, the LORD God of Israel, have something more to say about the houses in this city and the royal buildings which have been torn down for defenses against the siege ramps and military incursions of the Babylonians:

Jeremiah 33:5 ‘The defenders of the city will go out and fight with the Babylonians. But they will only fill those houses and buildings with the dead bodies of the people that I will kill in my anger and my wrath. That will happen because I have decided to turn my back on this city on account of the wicked things they have done.

Jeremiah 33:6 But I will most surely heal the wounds of this city and restore it and its people to health. I will show them abundant peace and security.

Jeremiah 33:7 I will restore Judah and Israel and will rebuild them as they were in days of old.

Jeremiah 33:8 I will purify them from all the sin that they committed against me. I will forgive all their sins which they committed in rebelling against me.

Jeremiah 33:9 All the nations will hear about all the good things which I will do to them. This city will bring me fame, honor, and praise before them for the joy that I bring it. The nations will tremble in awe at all the peace and prosperity that I will provide for it.’

Jeremiah 33:10 “I, the LORD, say: ‘You and your people are saying about this place, “It lies in ruins. There are no people or animals in it.” That is true. The towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem will soon be desolate, uninhabited either by people or by animals. But happy sounds will again be heard in these places.

Jeremiah 33:11 Once again there will be sounds of joy and gladness and the glad celebrations of brides and grooms. Once again people will bring their thank offerings to the temple of the LORD and will say, “Give thanks to the LORD who rules over all. For the LORD is good and his unfailing love lasts forever.” For I, the LORD, affirm that I will restore the land to what it was in days of old.’

Jeremiah 33:12 “I, the LORD who rules over all, say: ‘This place will indeed lie in ruins. There will be no people or animals in it. But there will again be in it and in its towns sheepfolds where shepherds can rest their sheep.

Jeremiah 33:13 I, the LORD, say that shepherds will once again count their sheep as they pass into the fold. They will do this in all the towns in the southern hill country, the western foothills, the southern hill country, the territory of Benjamin, the villages surrounding Jerusalem, and the towns of Judah.’

Jeremiah 33:14 “I, the LORD, affirm: ‘The time will certainly come when I will fulfill my gracious promise concerning the nations of Israel and Judah.

Jeremiah 33:15 In those days and at that time I will raise up for them a righteous descendant of David. “‘He will do what is just and right in the land.

Jeremiah 33:16 Under his rule Judah will enjoy safety and Jerusalem will live in security. At that time Jerusalem will be called “The LORD has provided us with justice.”

Jeremiah 33:17 For I, the LORD, promise: “David will never lack a successor to occupy the throne over the nation of Israel.

Jeremiah 33:18 Nor will the Levitical priests ever lack someone to stand before me and continually offer up burnt offerings, sacrifice cereal offerings, and offer the other sacrifices.”‘“

Jeremiah 33:19 The LORD spoke further to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 33:20 “I, LORD, make the following promise: ‘I have made a covenant with the day and with the night that they will always come at their proper times. Only if you people could break that covenant

Jeremiah 33:21 could my covenant with my servant David and my covenant with the Levites ever be broken. So David will by all means always have a descendant to occupy his throne as king and the Levites will by all means always have priests who will minister before me.

Jeremiah 33:22 I will make the children who follow one another in the line of my servant David very numerous. I will also make the Levites who minister before me very numerous. I will make them all as numerous as the stars in the sky and as the sands which are on the seashore.’“

Jeremiah 33:23 The LORD spoke still further to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 33:24 “You have surely noticed what these people are saying, haven’t you? They are saying, ‘The LORD has rejected the two families of Israel and Judah that he chose.’ So they have little regard that my people will ever again be a nation.

Jeremiah 33:25 But I, the LORD, make the following promise: I have made a covenant governing the coming of day and night. I have established the fixed laws governing heaven and earth.

Jeremiah 33:26 Just as surely as I have done this, so surely will I never reject the descendants of Jacob. Nor will I ever refuse to choose one of my servant David’s descendants to rule over the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Indeed, I will restore them and show mercy to them.”

Jeremiah 34:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah while King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon was attacking Jerusalem and the towns around it with a large army. This army consisted of troops from his own army and from the kingdoms and peoples of the lands under his dominion.

Jeremiah 34:2 The LORD God of Israel told Jeremiah to go and give King Zedekiah of Judah a message. He told Jeremiah to tell him, “The LORD says, ‘I am going to hand this city over to the king of Babylon and he will burn it down.

Jeremiah 34:3 You yourself will not escape his clutches, but will certainly be captured and handed over to him. You must confront the king of Babylon face to face and answer to him personally. Then you must go to Babylon.

Jeremiah 34:4 However, listen to what I, the LORD, promise you, King Zedekiah of Judah. I, the LORD, promise that you will not die in battle or be executed.

Jeremiah 34:5 You will die a peaceful death. They will burn incense at your burial just as they did at the burial of your ancestors, the former kings who preceded you. They will mourn for you, saying, “Poor, poor master!” Indeed, you have my own word on this. I, the LORD, affirm it!’“

Jeremiah 34:6 The prophet Jeremiah told all this to King Zedekiah of Judah in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 34:7 He did this while the army of the king of Babylon was attacking Jerusalem and the cities of Lachish and Azekah. He was attacking these cities because they were the only fortified cities of Judah which were still holding out.

Jeremiah 34:8 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah after King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people in Jerusalem to grant their slaves their freedom.

Jeremiah 34:9 Everyone was supposed to free their male and female Hebrew slaves. No one was supposed to keep a fellow Judean enslaved.

Jeremiah 34:10 All the people and their leaders had agreed to this. They had agreed to free their male and female slaves and not keep them enslaved any longer. They originally complied with the covenant and freed them.

Jeremiah 34:11 But later they had changed their minds. They had taken back their male and female slaves that they had freed and forced them to be slaves again.

Jeremiah 34:12 That was when the LORD spoke to Jeremiah,

Jeremiah 34:13 “The LORD God of Israel has a message for you. ‘I made a covenant with your ancestors when I brought them out of Egypt where they had been slaves. It stipulated,

Jeremiah 34:14 “Every seven years each of you must free any fellow Hebrews who have sold themselves to you. After they have served you for six years, you shall set them free.” But your ancestors did not obey me or pay any attention to me.

Jeremiah 34:15 Recently, however, you yourselves showed a change of heart and did what is pleasing to me. You granted your fellow countrymen their freedom and you made a covenant to that effect in my presence in the house that I have claimed for my own.

Jeremiah 34:16 But then you turned right around and showed that you did not honor me. Each of you took back your male and female slaves whom you had freed as they desired, and you forced them to be your slaves again.

Jeremiah 34:17 So I, the LORD, say: “You have not really obeyed me and granted freedom to your neighbor and fellow countryman. Therefore, I will grant you freedom, the freedom to die in war, or by starvation or disease. I, the LORD, affirm it! I will make all the kingdoms of the earth horrified at what happens to you.

Jeremiah 34:18 I will punish those people who have violated their covenant with me. I will make them like the calf they cut in two and passed between its pieces. I will do so because they did not keep the terms of the covenant they made in my presence.

Jeremiah 34:19 I will punish the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem, the court officials, the priests, and all the other people of the land who passed between the pieces of the calf.

Jeremiah 34:20 I will hand them over to their enemies who want to kill them. Their dead bodies will become food for the birds and the wild animals.

Jeremiah 34:21 I will also hand King Zedekiah of Judah and his officials over to their enemies who want to kill them. I will hand them over to the army of the king of Babylon, even though they have temporarily withdrawn from attacking you.

Jeremiah 34:22 For I, the LORD, affirm that I will soon give the order and bring them back to this city. They will fight against it and capture it and burn it down. I will also make the towns of Judah desolate so that there will be no one living in them.”‘“

Jeremiah 35:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah when Jehoiakim son of Josiah was ruling over Judah.

Jeremiah 35:2 “Go to the Rechabite community. Invite them to come into one of the side rooms of the LORD’s temple and offer them some wine to drink.”

Jeremiah 35:3 So I went and got Jaazaniah son of Jeremiah the grandson of Habazziniah, his brothers, all his sons, and all the rest of the Rechabite community.

Jeremiah 35:4 I took them to the LORD's temple. I took them into the room where the disciples of the prophet Hanan son of Igdaliah stayed. That room was next to the one where the temple officers stayed and above the room where Maaseiah son of Shallum, one of the doorkeepers of the temple, stayed.

Jeremiah 35:5 Then I set cups and pitchers full of wine in front of the members of the Rechabite community and said to them, "Have some wine."

Jeremiah 35:6 But they answered, "We do not drink wine because our ancestor Jonadab son of Rechab commanded us not to. He told us, 'You and your children must never drink wine.

Jeremiah 35:7 Do not build houses. Do not plant crops. Do not plant a vineyard or own one. Live in tents all your lives. If you do these things you will live a long time in the land that you wander about on.'

Jeremiah 35:8 We and our wives and our sons and daughters have obeyed everything our ancestor Jonadab commanded us. We have never drunk wine.

Jeremiah 35:9 We have not built any houses to live in. We do not own any vineyards, fields, or crops.

Jeremiah 35:10 We have lived in tents. We have obeyed our ancestor Jonadab and done exactly as he commanded us.

Jeremiah 35:11 But when King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon invaded the land we said, 'Let's get up and go to Jerusalem to get away from the Babylonian and Aramean armies.' That is why we are staying here in Jerusalem."

Jeremiah 35:12 Then the LORD spoke to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 35:13 The LORD God of Israel who rules over all told him, "Go and speak to the people of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem. Tell them, 'I, the LORD, say: "You must learn a lesson from this about obeying what I say!

Jeremiah 35:14 Jonadab son of Rechab ordered his descendants not to drink wine. His orders have been carried out. To this day his descendants have drunk no wine because they have obeyed what their ancestor commanded them. But I have spoken to you over and over again, but you have not obeyed me!

Jeremiah 35:15 I sent all my servants the prophets to warn you over and over again. They said, "Every one of you, stop doing the evil things you have been doing and do what is right. Do not pay allegiance to other gods and worship them. Then you can continue to live in this land that I gave to you and your ancestors.” But you did not pay any attention or listen to me.

Jeremiah 35:16 Yes, the descendants of Jonadab son of Rechab have carried out the orders that their ancestor gave them. But you people have not obeyed me!

Jeremiah 35:17 So I, the LORD, the God who rules over all, the God of Israel, say: “I will soon bring on Judah and all the citizens of Jerusalem all the disaster that I threatened to bring on them. I will do this because I spoke to them but they did not listen. I called out to them but they did not answer.”“

Jeremiah 35:18 Then Jeremiah spoke to the Rechabite community, “The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, ‘You have obeyed the orders of your ancestor Jonadab. You have followed all his instructions. You have done exactly as he commanded you.’

Jeremiah 35:19 So the LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, ‘Jonadab son of Rechab will never lack a male descendant to serve me.’“

Jeremiah 36:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah in the fourth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was ruling over Judah.

Jeremiah 36:2 “Get a scroll. Write on it everything I have told you to say about Israel, Judah, and all the other nations since I began to speak to you in the reign of Josiah until now.

Jeremiah 36:3 Perhaps when the people of Judah hear about all the disaster I intend to bring on them, they will all stop doing the evil things they have been doing. If they do, I will forgive their sins and the wicked things they have done.”

Jeremiah 36:4 So Jeremiah summoned Baruch son of Neriah. Then Jeremiah dictated to Baruch everything the LORD had told him to say and Baruch wrote it all down in a scroll.

Jeremiah 36:5 Then Jeremiah told Baruch, “I am no longer allowed to go into the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 36:6 So you go there the next time all the people of Judah come in from their towns to fast in the LORD’s temple. Read out loud where all of them can hear you what I told you the LORD said, which you wrote in the scroll.

Jeremiah 36:7 Perhaps then they will ask the LORD for mercy and will all stop doing the evil things they have been doing. For the LORD has threatened to bring great anger and wrath against these people.”

Jeremiah 36:8 So Baruch son of Neriah did exactly what the prophet Jeremiah had told him to do. He read what the LORD had said from the scroll in the temple of the LORD.

Jeremiah 36:9 All the people living in Jerusalem and all the people who came into Jerusalem from the towns of Judah came to observe a fast before the LORD. The fast took place in the ninth month of the fifth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was ruling over Judah.

Jeremiah 36:10 At that time Baruch went into the temple of the LORD. He stood in the entrance of the room of Gemariah the son of Shaphan who had been the royal secretary. That room was in the upper court near the entrance of the New Gate. There, where all the people could hear him, he read from the scroll what Jeremiah had said.

Jeremiah 36:11 Micaiah, who was the son of Gemariah and the grandson of Shaphan, heard Baruch read from the scroll everything the LORD had said.

Jeremiah 36:12 He went down to the chamber of the royal secretary in the king’s palace and found all the court officials in session there. Elishama the royal secretary, Delaiah son of Shemaiah, Elnathan son of Achbor, Gemariah son of Shaphan, Zedekiah son of Hananiah, and all the other officials were seated there.

Jeremiah 36:13 Micaiah told them everything he had heard Baruch read from the scroll in the hearing of the people.

Jeremiah 36:14 All the officials sent Jehudi, who was the son of Nethaniah and the grandson of Cushi, to Baruch. They ordered him to tell Baruch, “Come here and bring with you the scroll you read in the hearing of the people.” So Baruch son of Neriah went to them, carrying the scroll in his hand.

Jeremiah 36:15 They said to him, “Please sit down and read it to us.” So Baruch sat down and read it to them.

Jeremiah 36:16 When they had heard it all, they expressed their alarm to one another. Then they said to Baruch, “We must certainly give the king a report about everything you have read!”

Jeremiah 36:17 Then they asked Baruch, “How did you come to write all these words? Do they actually come from Jeremiah’s mouth?”

Jeremiah 36:18 Baruch answered, “Yes, they came from his own mouth. He dictated all these words to me and I wrote them down in ink on this scroll.”

Jeremiah 36:19 Then the officials said to Baruch, “You and Jeremiah must go and hide. You must not let anyone know where you are.”

Jeremiah 36:20 The officials put the scroll in the room of Elishama, the royal secretary, for safekeeping. Then they went to the court and reported everything to the king.

Jeremiah 36:21 The king sent Jehudi to get the scroll. He went and got it from the room of Elishama, the royal secretary. Then he himself read it to the king and all the officials who were standing around him.

Jeremiah 36:22 Since it was the ninth month of the year, the king was sitting in his winter quarters. A fire was burning in the firepot in front of him.

Jeremiah 36:23 As soon as Jehudi had read three or four columns of the scroll, the king would cut them off with a penknife and throw them on the fire in the firepot. He kept doing so until the whole scroll was burned up in the fire.

Jeremiah 36:24 Neither he nor any of his attendants showed any alarm when they heard all that had been read. Nor did they tear their clothes to show any grief or sorrow.

Jeremiah 36:25 The king did not even listen to Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah, who had urged him not to burn the scroll.

Jeremiah 36:26 He also ordered Jerahmeel, who was one of the royal princes, Seraiah son of Azriel, and Shelemiah son of Abdeel to arrest the scribe Baruch and the prophet Jeremiah. However, the LORD hid them.

Jeremiah 36:27 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah after Jehoiakim had burned the scroll containing what Jeremiah had spoken and Baruch had written down.

Jeremiah 36:28 “Get another scroll and write on it everything that was written on the original scroll that King Jehoiakim of Judah burned.

Jeremiah 36:29 Tell King Jehoiakim of Judah, ‘The LORD says, “You burned the scroll. You asked Jeremiah, ‘How dare you write in this scroll that the king of Babylon will certainly come and destroy this land and wipe out all the people and animals on it?’“

Jeremiah 36:30 So the LORD says concerning King Jehoiakim of Judah, “None of his line will occupy the throne of David. His dead body will be thrown out to be exposed to scorching heat by day and frost by night.

Jeremiah 36:31 I will punish him and his descendants and the officials who serve him for the wicked things they have done. I will bring on them, the citizens of Jerusalem, and the people of Judah all the disaster that I threatened to do to them. I will punish them because I threatened them but they still paid no heed.”‘“

Jeremiah 36:32 Then Jeremiah got another scroll and gave it to the scribe Baruch son of Neriah. As Jeremiah dictated, Baruch wrote on this scroll everything that had been on the scroll that King Jehoiakim of Judah burned in the fire. They also added on this scroll several other messages of the same kind.

Jeremiah 37:1 Zedekiah son of Josiah succeeded Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim as king. He was elevated to the throne of the land of Judah by King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon.

Jeremiah 37:2 Neither he nor the officials who served him nor the people of Judah paid any attention to what the LORD said through the prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 37:3 King Zedekiah sent Jehucal son of Shelemiah and the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah to the prophet Jeremiah. He told them to say, “Please pray to the LORD our God on our behalf.”

Jeremiah 37:4 (Now Jeremiah had not yet been put in prison. So he was still free to come and go among the people as he pleased.

Jeremiah 37:5 At that time the Babylonian forces had temporarily given up their siege against Jerusalem. They had had it under siege, but withdrew when they heard that the army of Pharaoh had set out from Egypt.)

Jeremiah 37:6 The LORD gave the prophet Jeremiah a message for them. He told him to tell them,

Jeremiah 37:7 “The LORD God of Israel says, ‘Give a message to the king of Judah who sent you to ask me to help him. Tell him, “The army of Pharaoh that was on its way to help you will go back home to Egypt.

Jeremiah 37:8 Then the Babylonian forces will return. They will attack the city and will capture it and burn it down.

Jeremiah 37:9 Moreover, I, the LORD, warn you not to deceive yourselves into thinking that the Babylonian forces will go away and leave you alone. For they will not go away.

Jeremiah 37:10 For even if you were to defeat all the Babylonian forces fighting against you so badly that only wounded men were left lying in their tents, they would get up and burn this city down.”“

Jeremiah 37:11 The following events also occurred while the Babylonian forces had temporarily withdrawn from Jerusalem because the army of Pharaoh was coming.

Jeremiah 37:12 Jeremiah started to leave Jerusalem to go to the territory of Benjamin. He wanted to make sure he got his share of the property that was being divided up among his family there.

Jeremiah 37:13 But he only got as far as the Benjamin Gate. There an officer in charge of the guards named Irijah, who was the son of Shelemiah and the grandson of Hananiah, stopped him. He seized Jeremiah and said, “You are deserting to the Babylonians!”

Jeremiah 37:14 Jeremiah answered, “That’s a lie! I am not deserting to the Babylonians.” But Irijah would not listen to him. Irijah put Jeremiah under arrest and took him to the officials.

Jeremiah 37:15 The officials were very angry at Jeremiah. They had him flogged and put in prison in the house of Jonathan, the royal secretary, which they had converted into a place for confining prisoners.

Jeremiah 37:16 So Jeremiah was put in prison in a cell in the dungeon in Jonathan’s house. He was kept there for a long time.

Jeremiah 37:17 Then King Zedekiah had him brought to the palace. There he questioned him privately and asked him, “Is there any message from the LORD?” Jeremiah answered, “Yes, there is.” Then he announced, “You will be handed over to the king of Babylon.”

Jeremiah 37:18 Then Jeremiah asked King Zedekiah, “What crime have I committed against you, or the officials who serve you, or the people of Judah? What have I done to make you people throw me into prison?

Jeremiah 37:19 Where now are the prophets who prophesied to you that the king of Babylon would not attack you or this land?

Jeremiah 37:20 But now please listen, your royal Majesty, and grant my plea for mercy. Do not send me back to the house of Jonathan, the royal secretary. If you do, I will die there.”

Jeremiah 37:21 Then King Zedekiah ordered that Jeremiah be committed to the courtyard of the guardhouse. He also ordered that a loaf of bread be given to him every day from the baker’s street until all the bread in the city was gone. So Jeremiah was kept in the courtyard of the guardhouse.

Jeremiah 38:1 Now Shephatiah son of Mattan, Gedaliah son of Pashhur, Jehucal son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur son of Malkijah had heard the things that Jeremiah had been telling the people. They had heard him say,

Jeremiah 38:2 “The LORD says, ‘Those who stay in this city will die in battle or of starvation or disease. Those who leave the city and surrender to the Babylonians will live. They will escape with their lives.’“

Jeremiah 38:3 They had also heard him say, “The LORD says, ‘This city will certainly be handed over to the army of the king of Babylon. They will capture it.’“

Jeremiah 38:4 So these officials said to the king, “This man must be put to death. For he is demoralizing the soldiers who are left in the city as well as all the other people there by these things he is saying. This man is not seeking to help these people but is trying to harm them.”

Jeremiah 38:5 King Zedekiah said to them, “Very well, you can do what you want with him. For I cannot do anything to stop you.”

Jeremiah 38:6 So the officials took Jeremiah and put him in the cistern of Malkijah, one of the royal princes, that was in the courtyard of the guardhouse. There was no water in the cistern, only mud. So when they lowered Jeremiah into the cistern with ropes he sank in the mud.

Jeremiah 38:7 An Ethiopian, Ebed Melech, a court official in the royal palace, heard that Jeremiah had been put in the cistern. While the king was holding court at the Benjamin Gate, Jeremiah 38:8 Ebed Melech departed the palace and went to speak to the king. He said to him, Jeremiah 38:9 “Your royal Majesty, those men have been very wicked in all that they have done to the prophet Jeremiah. They have thrown him into a cistern and he is sure to die of starvation there because there is no food left in the city.

Jeremiah 38:10 Then the king gave Ebed Melech the Ethiopian the following order: “Take thirty men with you from here and go pull the prophet Jeremiah out of the cistern before he dies.”

Jeremiah 38:11 So Ebed Melech took the men with him and went to a room under the treasure room in the palace. He got some worn-out clothes and old rags from there and let them down by ropes to Jeremiah in the cistern.

Jeremiah 38:12 Ebed Melech called down to Jeremiah, “Put these rags and worn-out clothes under your armpits to pad the ropes. Jeremiah did as Ebed Melech instructed.

Jeremiah 38:13 So they pulled Jeremiah up from the cistern with ropes. Jeremiah, however, still remained confined to the courtyard of the guardhouse.

Jeremiah 38:14 Some time later Zedekiah sent and had Jeremiah brought to him at the third entrance of the LORD’s temple. The king said to Jeremiah, “I would like to ask you a question. Do not hide anything from me when you answer.”

Jeremiah 38:15 Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “If I answer you, you will certainly kill me. If I give you advice, you will not listen to me.”

Jeremiah 38:16 So King Zedekiah made a secret promise to Jeremiah and sealed it with an oath. He promised, “As surely as the LORD lives who has given us life and breath, I promise you this: I will not kill you or hand you over to those men who want to kill you.”

Jeremiah 38:17 Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “The LORD, the God who rules over all, the God of Israel, says, ‘You must surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon. If you do, your life will be spared and this city will not be burned down. Indeed, you and your whole family will be spared.

Jeremiah 38:18 But if you do not surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, this city will be handed over to the Babylonians and they will burn it down. You yourself will not escape from them.’“

Jeremiah 38:19 Then King Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “I am afraid of the Judeans who have deserted to the Babylonians. The Babylonians might hand me over to them and they will torture me.”

Jeremiah 38:20 Then Jeremiah answered, “You will not be handed over to them. Please obey the LORD by doing what I have been telling you. Then all will go well with you and your life will be spared.

Jeremiah 38:21 But if you refuse to surrender, the LORD has shown me a vision of what will happen. Here is what I saw:

Jeremiah 38:22 All the women who are left in the royal palace of Judah will be led out to the officers of the king of Babylon. They will taunt you saying, ‘Your trusted friends misled you; they have gotten the best of you. Now that your feet are stuck in the mud, they have turned their backs on you.’

Jeremiah 38:23 “All your wives and your children will be turned over to the Babylonians. You yourself will not escape from them but will be captured by the king of Babylon. This city will be burned down.”

Jeremiah 38:24 Then Zedekiah told Jeremiah, “Do not let anyone know about the conversation we have had. If you do, you will die.

Jeremiah 38:25 The officials may hear that I have talked with you. They may come to you and say, ‘Tell us what you said to the king and what the king said to you. Do not hide anything from us. If you do, we will kill you.’

Jeremiah 38:26 If they do this, tell them, ‘I was pleading with the king not to send me back to die in the dungeon of Jonathan’s house.’“

Jeremiah 38:27 All the officials did indeed come and question Jeremiah. He told them exactly what the king had instructed him to say. They stopped questioning him any further because no one had actually heard their conversation.

Jeremiah 38:28 So Jeremiah remained confined in the courtyard of the guardhouse until the day Jerusalem was captured. The following events occurred when Jerusalem was captured.

Jeremiah 39:1 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon came against Jerusalem with his whole army and laid siege to it. The siege began in the tenth month of the ninth year that Zedekiah ruled over Judah.

Jeremiah 39:2 It lasted until the ninth day of the fourth month of Zedekiah’s eleventh year. On that day they broke through the city walls.

Jeremiah 39:3 Then Nergal-Sharezer of Samgar, Nebo-Sarsekim, who was a chief officer, Nergal-Sharezer, who was a high official, and all the other officers of the king of Babylon came and set up quarters in the Middle Gate.

Jeremiah 39:4 When King Zedekiah of Judah and all his soldiers saw them, they tried to escape. They departed from the city during the night. They took a path through the king’s garden and passed out through the gate between the two walls. Then they headed for the Jordan Valley.

Jeremiah 39:5 But the Babylonian army chased after them. They caught up with Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho and captured him. They took him to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon at Riblah in the territory of Hamath and Nebuchadnezzar passed sentence on him there.

Jeremiah 39:6 There at Riblah the king of Babylon had Zedekiah’s sons put to death while Zedekiah was forced to watch. The king of Babylon also had all the nobles of Judah put to death.

Jeremiah 39:7 Then he had Zedekiah’s eyes put out and had him bound in chains to be led off to Babylon.

Jeremiah 39:8 The Babylonians burned down the royal palace, the temple of the LORD, and the people’s homes, and they tore down the wall of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 39:9 Then Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, took captive the rest of the people who were left in the city. He carried them off to Babylon along with the people who had deserted to him.

Jeremiah 39:10 But he left behind in the land of Judah some of the poor people who owned nothing. He gave them fields and vineyards at that time.

Jeremiah 39:11 Now King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon had issued orders concerning Jeremiah. He had passed them on through Nebuzaradan, the captain of his royal guard,

Jeremiah 39:12 “Find Jeremiah and look out for him. Do not do anything to harm him, but do with him whatever he tells you.”

Jeremiah 39:13 So Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, Nebushazban, who was a chief officer, Nergal-Sharezer, who was a high official, and all the other officers of the king of Babylon

Jeremiah 39:14 sent and had Jeremiah brought from the courtyard of the guardhouse. They turned him over to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam and the grandson of Shaphan, to take him home with him. But Jeremiah stayed among the people.

Jeremiah 39:15 Now the LORD had spoken to Jeremiah while he was still confined in the courtyard of the guardhouse,

Jeremiah 39:16 “Go and tell Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian, ‘The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, “I will carry out against this city what I promised. It will mean disaster and not good fortune for it. When that disaster happens, you will be there to see it.

Jeremiah 39:17 But I will rescue you when it happens. I, the LORD, affirm it! You will not be handed over to those whom you fear.

Jeremiah 39:18 I will certainly save you. You will not fall victim to violence. You will escape with your life because you trust in me. I, the LORD, affirm it!”“

Jeremiah 40:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah after Nebuzaradan the captain of the royal guard had set him free at Ramah. He had taken him there in chains along with all the people from Jerusalem and Judah who were being carried off to exile to Babylon.

Jeremiah 40:2 The captain of the royal guard took Jeremiah aside and said to him, “The LORD your God threatened this place with this disaster.

Jeremiah 40:3 Now he has brought it about. The LORD has done just as he threatened to do. This disaster has happened because you people sinned against the LORD and did not obey him.

Jeremiah 40:4 But now, Jeremiah, today I will set you free from the chains on your wrists. If you would like to come to Babylon with me, come along and I will take care of you. But if you prefer not to come to Babylon with me, you are not required to do so. You are free to go anywhere in the land you want to go. Go wherever you choose.”

Jeremiah 40:5 Before Jeremiah could turn to leave, the captain of the guard added, “Go back to Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon appointed to govern the towns of Judah. Go back and live with him among the people. Or go wherever else you choose.” Then the captain of the guard gave Jeremiah some food and a present and let him go.

Jeremiah 40:6 So Jeremiah went to Gedaliah son of Ahikam at Mizpah and lived there with him. He stayed there to live among the people who had been left in the land of Judah.

Jeremiah 40:7 Now some of the officers of the Judean army and their troops had been hiding in the countryside. They heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam to govern the country. They also heard that he had been put in charge over the men, women, and children from the poorer classes of the land who had not been carried off into exile in Babylon.

Jeremiah 40:8 So all these officers and their troops came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. The officers who came were Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah son of the Maacathite.

Jeremiah 40:9 Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, took an oath so as to give them and their troops some assurance of safety. “Do not be afraid to submit to the Babylonians. Settle down in the land and submit to the king of Babylon. Then things will go well for you.

Jeremiah 40:10 I for my part will stay at Mizpah to represent you before the Babylonians whenever they come to us. You for your part go ahead and harvest the wine, the dates, the figs, and the olive oil, and store them in jars. Go ahead and settle down in the towns that you have taken over.”

Jeremiah 40:11 Moreover, all the Judeans who were in Moab, Ammon, Edom, and all the other countries heard what had happened. They heard that the king of Babylon had allowed some people to stay in Judah and that he had appointed Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, to govern them.

Jeremiah 40:12 So all these Judeans returned to the land of Judah from the places where they had been scattered. They came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. Thus they harvested a large amount of wine and dates and figs.

Jeremiah 40:13 Johanan and all the officers of the troops that had been hiding in the open country came to Gedaliah at Mizpah.

Jeremiah 40:14 They said to him, “Are you at all aware that King Baalis of Ammon has sent Ishmael son of Nethaniah to kill you?” But Gedaliah son of Ahikam would not believe them.

Jeremiah 40:15 Then Johanan son of Kareah spoke privately to Gedaliah there at Mizpah, “Let me go and kill Ishmael the son of Nethaniah before anyone knows about it. Otherwise he will kill you and all the Judeans who have rallied around you will be scattered. Then what remains of Judah will disappear.”

Jeremiah 40:16 But Gedaliah son of Ahikam said to Johanan son of Kareah, “Do not do that because what you are saying about Ishmael is not true.”

Jeremiah 41:1 But in the seventh month Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah and grandson of Elishama who was a member of the royal family and had been one of Zedekiah’s chief officers, came with ten of his men to Gedaliah son of Ahikam at Mizpah. While they were eating a meal together with him there at Mizpah,

Jeremiah 41:2 Ishmael son of Nethaniah and the ten men who were with him stood up, pulled out their swords, and killed Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan. Thus Ishmael killed the man that the king of Babylon had appointed to govern the country.

Jeremiah 41:3 Ishmael also killed all the Judeans who were with Gedaliah at Mizpah and the Babylonian soldiers who happened to be there.

Jeremiah 41:4 On the day after Gedaliah had been murdered, before anyone even knew about it,

Jeremiah 41:5 eighty men arrived from Shechem, Shiloh, and Samaria. They had shaved off their beards, torn their clothes, and cut themselves to show they were mourning. They were carrying grain offerings and incense to present at the temple of the LORD in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 41:6 Ishmael son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them. He was pretending to cry as he walked along. When he met them, he said to them, “Come with me to meet Gedaliah son of Ahikam.”

Jeremiah 41:7 But as soon as they were inside the city, Ishmael son of Nethaniah and the men who were with him slaughtered them and threw their bodies in a cistern.

Jeremiah 41:8 But there were ten men among them who said to Ishmael, “Do not kill us. For we will give you the stores of wheat, barley, olive oil, and honey we have hidden in a field. So he spared their lives and did not kill them along with the rest.

Jeremiah 41:9 Now the cistern where Ishmael threw all the dead bodies of those he had killed was a large one that King Asa had constructed as part of his defenses against King Baasha of Israel. Ishmael son of Nethaniah filled it with dead bodies.

Jeremiah 41:10 Then Ishmael took captive all the people who were still left alive in Mizpah. This included the royal princesses and all the rest of the people in Mizpah that Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, had put under the authority of Gedaliah son of Ahikam. Ishmael son of Nethaniah took all these people captive and set out to cross over to the Ammonites.

Jeremiah 41:11 Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him heard about all the atrocities that Ishmael son of Nethaniah had committed.

Jeremiah 41:12 So they took all their troops and went to fight against Ishmael son of Nethaniah. They caught up with him near the large pool at Gibeon.

Jeremiah 41:13 When all the people that Ishmael had taken captive saw Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers with him, they were glad.

Jeremiah 41:14 All those people that Ishmael had taken captive from Mizpah turned and went over to Johanan son of Kareah.

Jeremiah 41:15 But Ishmael son of Nethaniah managed to escape from Johanan along with eight of his men, and he went on over to Ammon.

Jeremiah 41:16 Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him led off all the people who had been left alive at Mizpah. They had rescued them from Ishmael son of Nethaniah after he killed Gedaliah son of Ahikam. They led off the men, women, children, soldiers, and court officials whom they had brought away from Gibeon.

Jeremiah 41:17 They set out to go to Egypt to get away from the Babylonians, but stopped at Geruth Kimham near Bethlehem.

Jeremiah 41:18 They were afraid of what the Babylonians might do because Ishmael son of Nethaniah had killed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed to govern the country.

Jeremiah 42:1 Then all the army officers, including Johanan son of Kareah and Jezaniah son of Hoshaiah and all the people of every class, went to the prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 42:2 They said to him, “Please grant our request and pray to the LORD your God for all those of us who are still left alive here. For, as you yourself can see, there are only a few of us left out of the many there were before.

Jeremiah 42:3 Pray that the LORD your God will tell us where we should go and what we should do."

Jeremiah 42:4 The prophet Jeremiah answered them, "Agreed! I will indeed pray to the LORD your God as you have asked. I will tell you everything the LORD replies in response to you. I will not keep anything back from you."

Jeremiah 42:5 They answered Jeremiah, "May the LORD be a true and faithful witness against us if we do not do just as the LORD sends you to tell us to do.

Jeremiah 42:6 We will obey what the LORD our God to whom we are sending you tells us to do. It does not matter whether we like what he tells us or not. We will obey what he tells us to do so that things will go well for us."

Jeremiah 42:7 Ten days later the LORD spoke to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 42:8 So Jeremiah summoned Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him and all the people of every class.

Jeremiah 42:9 Then Jeremiah said to them, "You sent me to the LORD God of Israel to make your request known to him. Here is what he says to you:

Jeremiah 42:10 'If you will just stay in this land, I will build you up. I will not tear you down. I will firmly plant you. I will not uproot you. For I am filled with sorrow because of the disaster that I have brought on you.

Jeremiah 42:11 Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon whom you now fear. Do not be afraid of him because I will be with you to save you and to rescue you from his power. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 42:12 I will have compassion on you so that he in turn will have mercy on you and allow you to return to your land.'

Jeremiah 42:13 "You must not disobey the LORD your God by saying, 'We will not stay in this land.'

Jeremiah 42:14 You must not say, 'No, we will not stay. Instead we will go and live in the land of Egypt where we will not face war, or hear the enemy's trumpet calls, or starve for lack of food.'

Jeremiah 42:15 If you people who remain in Judah do that, then listen to what the LORD says. The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, 'If you are so determined to go to Egypt that you go and settle there,

Jeremiah 42:16 the wars you fear will catch up with you there in the land of Egypt. The starvation you are worried about will follow you there to Egypt. You will die there.

Jeremiah 42:17 All the people who are determined to go and settle in Egypt will die from war, starvation, or disease. No one will survive or escape the disaster I will bring on them.’

Jeremiah 42:18 For the LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, ‘If you go to Egypt, I will pour out my wrath on you just as I poured out my anger and wrath on the citizens of Jerusalem. You will become an object of horror and ridicule, an example of those who have been cursed and that people use in pronouncing a curse. You will never see this place again.’

Jeremiah 42:19 “The LORD has told you people who remain in Judah, ‘Do not go to Egypt.’ Be very sure of this: I warn you here and now.

Jeremiah 42:20 You are making a fatal mistake. For you sent me to the LORD your God and asked me, ‘Pray to the LORD our God for us. Tell us what the LORD our God says and we will do it.’

Jeremiah 42:21 This day I have told you what he said. But you do not want to obey the LORD by doing what he sent me to tell you.

Jeremiah 42:22 So now be very sure of this: You will die from war, starvation, or disease in the place where you want to go and live.”

Jeremiah 43:1 Jeremiah finished telling all the people all these things the LORD their God had sent him to tell them.

Jeremiah 43:2 Then Azariah son of Hoshaiah, Johanan son of Kareah, and other arrogant men said to Jeremiah, “You are telling a lie! The LORD our God did not send you to tell us, ‘You must not go to Egypt and settle there.’

Jeremiah 43:3 But Baruch son of Neriah is stirring you up against us. He wants to hand us over to the Babylonians so that they will kill us or carry us off into exile in Babylon.”

Jeremiah 43:4 So Johanan son of Kareah, all the army officers, and all the rest of the people did not obey the LORD’s command to stay in the land.

Jeremiah 43:5 Instead Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers led off all the Judean remnant who had come back to live in the land of Judah from all the nations where they had been scattered.

Jeremiah 43:6 They also led off all the men, women, children, and royal princesses that Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, had left with Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan. This included the prophet Jeremiah and Baruch son of Neriah.

Jeremiah 43:7 They went on to Egypt because they refused to obey the LORD, and came to Tahpanhes.

Jeremiah 43:8 At Tahpanhes the LORD spoke to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 43:9 “Take some large stones and bury them in the mortar of the clay pavement at the entrance of Pharaoh’s residence here in Tahpanhes. Do it while the people of Judah present there are watching.

Jeremiah 43:10 Then tell them, ‘The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, “I will bring my servant King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. I will set his throne over these stones which I have buried. He will pitch his royal tent over them.

Jeremiah 43:11 He will come and attack Egypt. Those who are destined to die of disease will die of disease. Those who are destined to be carried off into exile will be carried off into exile. Those who are destined to die in war will die in war.

Jeremiah 43:12 He will set fire to the temples of the gods of Egypt. He will burn their gods or carry them off as captives. He will pick Egypt clean like a shepherd picks the lice from his clothing. He will leave there unharmed.

Jeremiah 43:13 He will demolish the sacred pillars in the temple of the sun in Egypt and will burn down the temples of the gods of Egypt.”“

Jeremiah 44:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah concerning all the Judeans who were living in the land of Egypt, those in Migdol, Tahpanhes, Memphis, and in the region of southern Egypt.

Jeremiah 44:2 “The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, ‘You have seen all the disaster I brought on Jerusalem and all the towns of Judah. Indeed, they now lie in ruins and are deserted.

Jeremiah 44:3 This happened because of the wickedness the people living there did. They made me angry by worshiping and offering sacrifice to other gods whom neither they nor you nor your ancestors previously knew.

Jeremiah 44:4 I sent my servants the prophets to you people over and over again warning you not to do this disgusting thing I hate.

Jeremiah 44:5 But the people of Jerusalem and Judah would not listen or pay any attention. They would not stop the wickedness they were doing nor quit sacrificing to other gods.

Jeremiah 44:6 So my anger and my wrath were poured out and burned like a fire through the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem. That is why they have become the desolate ruins that they are today.’

Jeremiah 44:7 “So now the LORD, the God who rules over all, the God of Israel, asks, ‘Why will you do such great harm to yourselves? Why should every man, woman, child, and baby of yours be destroyed from the midst of Judah? Why should you leave yourselves without a remnant?

Jeremiah 44:8 That is what will result from your making me angry by what you are doing. You are making me angry by sacrificing to other gods here in the land of Egypt where you live. You will be destroyed for doing that! You will become an example used in curses and an object of ridicule among all the nations of the earth.

Jeremiah 44:9 Have you forgotten all the wicked things that have been done in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem by your ancestors, by the kings of Judah and their wives, by you and your wives?

Jeremiah 44:10 To this day your people have shown no contrition! They have not revered me nor followed the laws and statutes I commanded you and your ancestors.’

Jeremiah 44:11 “Because of this, the LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, ‘I am determined to bring disaster on you, even to the point of destroying all the Judeans here.

Jeremiah 44:12 I will see to it that all the Judean remnant that was determined to go and live in the land of Egypt will be destroyed. Here in the land of Egypt they will fall in battle or perish from starvation. People of every class will die in war or from starvation. They will become an object of horror and ridicule, an example of those who have been cursed and that people use in pronouncing a curse.

Jeremiah 44:13 I will punish those who live in the land of Egypt with war, starvation, and disease just as I punished Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 44:14 None of the Judean remnant who have come to live in the land of Egypt will escape or survive to return to the land of Judah. Though they long to return and live there, none of them shall return except a few fugitives.’“

Jeremiah 44:15 Then all the men who were aware that their wives were sacrificing to other gods, as well as all their wives, answered Jeremiah. There was a great crowd of them representing all the people who lived in northern and southern Egypt. They answered,

Jeremiah 44:16 “We will not listen to what you claim the LORD has spoken to us!

Jeremiah 44:17 Instead we will do everything we vowed we would do. We will sacrifice and pour out drink offerings to the goddess called the Queen of Heaven just as we and our ancestors, our kings, and our leaders previously did in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. For then we had plenty of food, were well-off, and had no troubles.

Jeremiah 44:18 But ever since we stopped sacrificing and pouring out drink offerings to the Queen of Heaven, we have been in great need. Our people have died in wars or of starvation.”

Jeremiah 44:19 The women added, “We did indeed sacrifice and pour out drink offerings to the Queen of Heaven. But it was with the full knowledge and approval of our husbands that we made cakes in her image and poured out drink offerings to her.”

Jeremiah 44:20 Then Jeremiah replied to all the people, both men and women, who responded to him in this way.

Jeremiah 44:21 “The LORD did indeed remember and call to mind what you did! He remembered the sacrifices you and your ancestors, your kings, your leaders, and all the rest of the people of the land offered to other gods in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 44:22 Finally the LORD could no longer endure your wicked deeds and the disgusting things you did. That is why your land has become the desolate, uninhabited ruin that it is today. That is why it has become a proverbial example used in curses.

Jeremiah 44:23 You have sacrificed to other gods! You have sinned against the LORD! You have not obeyed the LORD! You have not followed his laws, his statutes, and his decrees! That is why this disaster that is evident to this day has happened to you.”

Jeremiah 44:24 Then Jeremiah spoke to all the people, particularly to all the women. “Listen to what the LORD has to say all you people of Judah who are in Egypt.

Jeremiah 44:25 The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, ‘You women have confirmed by your actions what you vowed with your lips! You said, “We will certainly carry out our vows to sacrifice and pour out drink offerings to the Queen of Heaven.” Well, then fulfill your vows! Carry them out!’

Jeremiah 44:26 But listen to what the LORD has to say, all you people of Judah who are living in the land of Egypt. The LORD says, ‘I hereby swear by my own great name that none of the people of Judah who are living anywhere in Egypt will ever again invoke my name in their oaths! Never again will any of them use it in an oath saying, “As surely as the Lord GOD lives….”

Jeremiah 44:27 I will indeed see to it that disaster, not prosperity, happens to them. All the people of Judah who are in the land of Egypt will die in war or from starvation until not one of them is left.

Jeremiah 44:28 Some who survive in battle will return to the land of Judah from the land of Egypt. But they will be very few indeed! Then the Judean remnant who have come to live in the land of Egypt will know whose word proves true, mine or theirs.’

Jeremiah 44:29 Moreover the LORD says, ‘I will make something happen to prove that I will punish you in this place. I will do it so that you will know that my threats to bring disaster on you will prove true.

Jeremiah 44:30 I, the LORD, promise that I will hand Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt over to his enemies who are seeking to kill him. I will do that just as surely as I handed King Zedekiah of Judah over to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, his enemy who was seeking to kill him.’“

Jeremiah 45:1 The prophet Jeremiah spoke to Baruch son of Neriah while he was writing down in a scroll the words that Jeremiah spoke to him. This happened in the fourth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was ruling over Judah.

Jeremiah 45:2 “The LORD God of Israel has a message for you, Baruch.

Jeremiah 45:3 ‘You have said, “I feel so hopeless! For the LORD has added sorrow to my suffering. I am worn out from groaning. I can’t find any rest.”‘“

Jeremiah 45:4 The LORD told Jeremiah, “Tell Baruch, ‘The LORD says, “I am about to tear down what I have built and to uproot what I have planted. I will do this throughout the whole earth.

Jeremiah 45:5 Are you looking for great things for yourself? Do not look for such things. For I, the LORD, affirm that I am about to bring disaster on all humanity. But I will allow you to escape with your life wherever you go.”‘“

Jeremiah 46:1 The LORD spoke to Jeremiah about the nations.

Jeremiah 46:2 He spoke about Egypt and the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt which was encamped along the Euphrates River at Carchemish. Now this was the army that King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon defeated in the fourth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was ruling over Judah.

Jeremiah 46:3 “Fall into ranks with your shields ready! Prepare to march into battle!

Jeremiah 46:4 Harness the horses to the chariots! Mount your horses! Put on your helmets and take your positions! Sharpen you spears! Put on your armor!

Jeremiah 46:5 What do I see?” says the LORD. “The soldiers are terrified. They are retreating. They have been defeated. They are overcome with terror; they desert quickly without looking back.

Jeremiah 46:6 But even the swiftest cannot get away. Even the strongest cannot escape. There in the north by the Euphrates River they stumble and fall in defeat.

Jeremiah 46:7 “Who is this that rises like the Nile, like its streams turbulent at flood stage?

Jeremiah 46:8 Egypt rises like the Nile, like its streams turbulent at flood stage. Egypt says, ‘I will arise and cover the earth. I will destroy cities and the people who inhabit them.’

Jeremiah 46:9 Go ahead and charge into battle, you horsemen! Drive furiously, you charioteers! Let the soldiers march out into battle, those from Ethiopia and Libya who carry shields, and those from Lydia who are armed with the bow.

Jeremiah 46:10 But that day belongs to the Lord God who rules over all. It is the day when he will pay back his enemies. His sword will devour them until its appetite is satisfied! It will drink their blood until it is full! For the Lord GOD who rules over all will offer them up as a sacrifice in the land of the north by the Euphrates River.

Jeremiah 46:11 Go up to Gilead and get medicinal ointment, you dear poor people of Egypt. But it will prove useless no matter how much medicine you use; there will be no healing for you.

Jeremiah 46:12 The nations will hear of your devastating defeat. your cries of distress will echo throughout the earth. In the panic of their flight one soldier will trip over another and both of them will fall down defeated."

Jeremiah 46:13 The LORD spoke to the prophet Jeremiah about Nebuchadnezzar coming to attack the land of Egypt.

Jeremiah 46:14 "Make an announcement throughout Egypt. Proclaim it in Migdol, Memphis, and Tahpanhes. 'Take your positions and prepare to do battle. For the enemy army is destroying all the nations around you.'

Jeremiah 46:15 Why will your soldiers be defeated? They will not stand because I, the LORD, will thrust them down.

Jeremiah 46:16 I will make many stumble. They will fall over one another in their hurry to flee. They will say, 'Get up! Let's go back to our own people. Let's go back to our homelands because the enemy is coming to destroy us.'

Jeremiah 46:17 There at home they will say, 'Pharaoh king of Egypt is just a big noise! He has let the most opportune moment pass by.'

Jeremiah 46:18 I the King, whose name is the LORD who rules over all, swear this: I swear as surely as I live that a conqueror is coming. He will be as imposing as Mount Tabor is among the mountains, as Mount Carmel is against the backdrop of the sea.

Jeremiah 46:19 Pack your bags for exile, you inhabitants of poor dear Egypt. For Memphis will be laid waste. It will lie in ruins and be uninhabited.

Jeremiah 46:20 Egypt is like a beautiful young cow. But northern armies will attack her like swarms of stinging flies.

Jeremiah 46:21 Even her mercenaries will prove to be like pampered, well-fed calves. For they too will turn and run away. They will not stand their ground when the time for them to be destroyed comes, the time for them to be punished.

Jeremiah 46:22 Egypt will run away, hissing like a snake, as the enemy comes marching up in force. They will come against her with axes as if they were woodsmen chopping down trees.

Jeremiah 46:23 The population of Egypt is like a vast, impenetrable forest. But I, the LORD, affirm that the enemy will cut them down. For those who chop them down will be more numerous than locusts. They will be too numerous to count.

Jeremiah 46:24 Poor dear Egypt will be put to shame. She will be handed over to the people from the north."

Jeremiah 46:25 The LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, "I will punish Amon, the god of Thebes. I will punish Egypt, its gods, and its kings. I will punish Pharaoh and all who trust in him.

Jeremiah 46:26 I will hand them over to Nebuchadnezzar and his troops, who want to kill them. But later on, people will live in Egypt again as they did in former times. I, the LORD, affirm it!"

Jeremiah 46:27 "You descendants of Jacob, my servants, do not be afraid; do not be terrified, people of Israel. For I will rescue you and your descendants from the faraway lands where you are captives. The descendants of Jacob will return to their land and enjoy peace. They will be secure and no one will terrify them.

Jeremiah 46:28 I, the LORD, tell you not to be afraid, you descendants of Jacob, my servant, for I am with you. Though I completely destroy all the nations where I scatter you, I will not completely destroy you. I will indeed discipline you but only in due measure. I will not allow you to go entirely unpunished."

Jeremiah 47:1 The LORD spoke to the prophet Jeremiah about the Philistines before Pharaoh attacked Gaza.

Jeremiah 47:2 "Look! Enemies are gathering in the north like water rising in a river. They will be like an overflowing stream. They will overwhelm the whole country and everything in it like a flood. They will overwhelm the cities and their inhabitants. People will cry out in alarm. Everyone living in the country will cry out in pain.

Jeremiah 47:3 Fathers will hear the hoofbeats of the enemies' horses, the clatter of their chariots and the rumbling of their wheels. They will not turn back to save their children because they will be paralyzed with fear.

Jeremiah 47:4 For the time has come to destroy all the Philistines. The time has come to destroy all the help that remains for Tyre and Sidon. For I, the LORD, will destroy the Philistines, that remnant that came from the island of Crete.

Jeremiah 47:5 The people of Gaza will shave their heads in mourning. The people of Ashkelon will be struck dumb. How long will you gash yourselves to show your sorrow, you who remain of Philistia's power?

Jeremiah 47:6 How long will you cry out, ‘Oh, sword of the LORD, how long will it be before you stop killing? Go back into your sheath! Stay there and rest!’

Jeremiah 47:7 But how can it rest when I, the LORD, have given it orders? I have ordered it to attack the people of Ashkelon and the seacoast.

Jeremiah 48:1 The LORD God of Israel who rules over all spoke about Moab. “Sure to be judged is Nebo! Indeed, it will be destroyed! Kiriathaim will suffer disgrace. It will be captured! Its fortress will suffer disgrace. It will be torn down!

Jeremiah 48:2 People will not praise Moab any more. The enemy will capture Heshbon and plot how to destroy Moab, saying, ‘Come, let’s put an end to that nation!’ City of Madmen, you will also be destroyed. A destructive army will march against you.

Jeremiah 48:3 Cries of anguish will arise in Horonaim, ‘Oh, the ruin and great destruction!’

Jeremiah 48:4 “Moab will be crushed. Her children will cry out in distress.

Jeremiah 48:5 Indeed they will climb the slopes of Luhith, weeping continually as they go. For on the road down to Horonaim they will hear the cries of distress over the destruction.

Jeremiah 48:6 They will hear, ‘Run! Save yourselves! Even if you must be like a lonely shrub in the desert!’

Jeremiah 48:7 “Moab, you trust in the things you do and in your riches. So you too will be conquered. Your god Chemosh will go into exile along with his priests and his officials.

Jeremiah 48:8 The destroyer will come against every town. Not one town will escape. The towns in the valley will be destroyed. The cities on the high plain will be laid waste. I, the LORD, have spoken!

Jeremiah 48:9 Set up a gravestone for Moab, for it will certainly be laid in ruins! Its cities will be laid waste and become uninhabited.”

Jeremiah 48:10 A curse on anyone who is lax in doing the LORD’s work! A curse on anyone who keeps from carrying out his destruction!

Jeremiah 48:11 “From its earliest days Moab has lived undisturbed. It has never been taken into exile. Its people are like wine allowed to settle undisturbed on its dregs, never poured out from one jar to another. They are like wine which tastes like it always did, whose aroma has remained unchanged.

Jeremiah 48:12 But the time is coming when I will send men against Moab who will empty it out. They will empty the towns of their people, then will lay those towns in ruins. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 48:13 The people of Moab will be disappointed by their god Chemosh. They will be as disappointed as the people of Israel were when they put their trust in the calf god at Bethel.

Jeremiah 48:14 How can you men of Moab say, 'We are heroes, men who are mighty in battle?'

Jeremiah 48:15 Moab will be destroyed. Its towns will be invaded. Its finest young men will be slaughtered. I, the King, the LORD who rules over all, affirm it!

Jeremiah 48:16 Moab's destruction is at hand. Disaster will come on it quickly.

Jeremiah 48:17 Mourn for that nation, all you nations living around it, all of you nations that know of its fame. Mourn and say, 'Alas, its powerful influence has been broken! Its glory and power have been done away!'

Jeremiah 48:18 Come down from your place of honor; sit on the dry ground, you who live in Dibon. For the one who will destroy Moab will attack you; he will destroy your fortifications.

Jeremiah 48:19 You who live in Aroer, stand by the road and watch. Question the man who is fleeing and the woman who is escaping. Ask them, 'What has happened?'

Jeremiah 48:20 They will answer, 'Moab is disgraced, for it has fallen! Wail and cry out in mourning! Announce along the Arnon River that Moab has been destroyed.'

Jeremiah 48:21 "Judgment will come on the cities on the high plain: on Holon, Jahzah, and Mephaath,

Jeremiah 48:22 on Dibon, Nebo, and Beth Diblathaim,

Jeremiah 48:23 on Kiriathaim, Beth Gamul, and Beth Meon,

Jeremiah 48:24 on Kerioth and Bozrah. It will come on all the towns of Moab, both far and near.

Jeremiah 48:25 Moab's might will be crushed. Its power will be broken. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 48:26 "Moab has vaunted itself against me. So make him drunk with the wine of my wrath until he splashes around in his own vomit, until others treat him as a laughingstock.

Jeremiah 48:27 For did not you people of Moab laugh at the people of Israel? Did you think that they were nothing but thieves, that you shook your head in contempt every time you talked about them?

Jeremiah 48:28 Leave your towns, you inhabitants of Moab. Go and live in the cliffs. Be like a dove that makes its nest high on the sides of a ravine.

Jeremiah 48:29 I have heard how proud the people of Moab are, I know how haughty they are. I have heard how arrogant, proud, and haughty they are, what a high opinion they have of themselves.

Jeremiah 48:30 I, the LORD, affirm that I know how arrogant they are. But their pride is ill-founded. Their boastings will prove to be false.

Jeremiah 48:31 So I will weep with sorrow for Moab. I will cry out in sadness for all of Moab. I will moan for the people of Kir Heres.

Jeremiah 48:32 I will weep for the grapevines of Sibmah just like the town of Jazer weeps over them. Their branches once spread as far as the Dead Sea. They reached as far as the town of Jazer. The destroyer will ravage her fig, date, and grape crops.

Jeremiah 48:33 Joy and gladness will disappear from the fruitful land of Moab. I will stop the flow of wine from the winepresses. No one will stomp on the grapes there and shout for joy. The shouts there will be shouts of soldiers, not the shouts of those making wine.

Jeremiah 48:34 Cries of anguish raised from Heshbon and Elealeh will be sounded as far as Jahaz. They will be sounded from Zoar as far as Horonaim and Eglath Shelishiyah. For even the waters of Nimrim will be dried up.

Jeremiah 48:35 I will put an end in Moab to those who make offerings at her places of worship. I will put an end to those who sacrifice to other gods. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 48:36 So my heart moans for Moab like a flute playing a funeral song. Yes, like a flute playing a funeral song, my heart moans for the people of Kir Heres. For the wealth they have gained will perish.

Jeremiah 48:37 For all of them will shave their heads in mourning. They will all cut off their beards to show their sorrow. They will all make gashes in their hands. They will all put on sackcloth.

Jeremiah 48:38 On all the housetops in Moab and in all its public squares there will be nothing but mourning. For I will break Moab like an unwanted jar. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 48:39 Oh, how shattered Moab will be! Oh, how her people will wail! Oh, how she will turn away in shame! Moab will become an object of ridicule, a terrifying sight to all the nations that surround her."

Jeremiah 48:40 For the LORD says, "Look! Like an eagle with outspread wings a nation will swoop down on Moab.

Jeremiah 48:41 Her towns will be captured. Her fortresses will be taken. At that time the soldiers of Moab will be frightened like a woman in labor.

Jeremiah 48:42 Moab will be destroyed and no longer be a nation, because she has vaunted herself against the LORD.

Jeremiah 48:43 Terror, pits, and traps are in store for the people who live in Moab. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 48:44 Anyone who flees at the sound of terror will fall into a pit. Anyone who climbs out of the pit will be caught in a trap. For the time is coming when I will punish the people of Moab. I, the LORD, affirm it!

Jeremiah 48:45 In the shadows of the walls of Heshbon those trying to escape will stand helpless. For a fire will burst forth from Heshbon. Flames will shoot out from the former territory of Sihon. They will burn the foreheads of the people of Moab, the skulls of those war-loving people.

Jeremiah 48:46 Moab, you are doomed! You people who worship Chemosh will be destroyed. Your sons will be taken away captive. Your daughters will be carried away into exile.

Jeremiah 48:47 Yet in days to come I will reverse Moab's ill fortune." says the LORD. The judgment against Moab ends here.

Jeremiah 49:1 The LORD spoke about the Ammonites. "Do you think there are not any people of the nation of Israel remaining? Do you think there are not any of them remaining to reinherit their land? Is that why you people who worship the god Milcom have taken possession of the territory of Gad and live in his cities?

Jeremiah 49:2 Because you did that, I, the LORD, affirm that a time is coming when I will make Rabbah, the capital city of Ammon, hear the sound of the battle cry. It will become a mound covered with ruins. Its villages will be burned to the ground. Then Israel will take back its land from those who took their land from them. I, the Lord, affirm it!

Jeremiah 49:3 Wail, you people in Heshbon, because Ai in Ammon is destroyed. Cry out in anguish, you people in the villages surrounding Rabbah. Put on sackcloth and cry out in mourning. Run about covered with gashes. For your god Milcom will go into exile along with his priests and officials.

Jeremiah 49:4 Why do you brag about your great power? Your power is ebbing away, you rebellious people of Ammon, who trust in your riches and say, 'Who would dare to attack us?'

Jeremiah 49:5 I will bring terror on you from every side," says the Lord GOD who rules over all. "You will be scattered in every direction. No one will gather the fugitives back together.

Jeremiah 49:6 Yet in days to come I will reverse Ammon's ill fortune." says the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:7 The LORD who rules over all spoke about Edom. "Is wisdom no longer to be found in Teman? Can Edom's counselors not give her any good advice? Has all of their wisdom turned bad?

Jeremiah 49:8 Turn and flee! Take up refuge in remote places, you people who live in Dedan. For I will bring disaster on the descendants of Esau. I have decided it is time for me to punish them.

Jeremiah 49:9 If grape pickers came to pick your grapes, would they not leave a few grapes behind? If robbers came at night, would they not pillage only what they needed?

Jeremiah 49:10 But I will strip everything away from Esau's descendants. I will uncover their hiding places so they cannot hide. Their children, relatives, and neighbors will all be destroyed. Not one of them will be left!

Jeremiah 49:11 Leave your orphans behind and I will keep them alive. Your widows too can depend on me."

Jeremiah 49:12 For the LORD says, "If even those who did not deserve to drink from the cup of my wrath must drink from it, do you think you will go unpunished? You will not go unpunished, but must certainly drink from the cup of my wrath.

Jeremiah 49:13 For I solemnly swear," says the LORD, "that Bozrah will become a pile of ruins. It will become an object of horror and ridicule, an example to be used in curses. All the towns around it will lie in ruins forever."

Jeremiah 49:14 I said, "I have heard a message from the LORD. A messenger has been sent among the nations to say, 'Gather your armies and march out against her! Prepare to do battle with her!'"

Jeremiah 49:15 The LORD says to Edom, "I will certainly make you small among nations. I will make you despised by all humankind.

Jeremiah 49:16 The terror you inspire in others and the arrogance of your heart have deceived you. You may make your home in the clefts of the rocks; you may occupy the highest places in the hills. But even if you made your home where the eagles nest, I would bring you down from there," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:17 "Edom will become an object of horror. All who pass by it will be filled with horror; they will hiss out their scorn because of all the disasters that have happened to it.

Jeremiah 49:18 Edom will be destroyed like Sodom and Gomorrah and the towns that were around them. No one will live there. No human being will settle in it," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:19 "A lion coming up from the thick undergrowth along the Jordan scatters the sheep in the pastureland around it. So too I will chase the Edomites off their land. Then I will appoint over it whomever I choose. For there is no one like me, and there is no one who can call me to account. There is no ruler who can stand up against me.

Jeremiah 49:20 So listen to what I, the LORD, have planned against Edom, what I intend to do to the people who live in Teman. Their little ones will be dragged off. I will completely destroy their land because of what they have done.

Jeremiah 49:21 The people of the earth will quake when they hear of their downfall. Their cries of anguish will be heard all the way to the Gulf of Aqaba.

Jeremiah 49:22 Look! Like an eagle with outspread wings, a nation will soar up and swoop down on Bozrah. At that time the soldiers of Edom will be as fearful as a woman in labor.”

Jeremiah 49:23 The LORD spoke about Damascus. “The people of Hamath and Arpad will be dismayed because they have heard bad news. Their courage will melt away because of worry. Their hearts will not be able to rest.

Jeremiah 49:24 The people of Damascus will lose heart and turn to flee. Panic will grip them. Pain and anguish will seize them like a woman in labor.

Jeremiah 49:25 How deserted will that once-famous city be, that city that was once filled with joy!

Jeremiah 49:26 For her young men will fall in her city squares. All her soldiers will be destroyed at that time,” says the LORD who rules over all.

Jeremiah 49:27 “I will set fire to the walls of Damascus; it will burn up the palaces of Ben Hadad.”

Jeremiah 49:28 The LORD spoke about Kedar and the kingdoms of Hazor that King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon conquered. “Army of Babylon, go and attack Kedar. Lay waste those who live in the eastern desert.

Jeremiah 49:29 Their tents and their flocks will be taken away. Their tent curtains, equipment, and camels will be carried off. People will shout to them, ‘Terror is all around you!’“

Jeremiah 49:30 The LORD says, “Flee quickly, you who live in Hazor. Take up refuge in remote places. For King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon has laid out plans to attack you. He has formed his strategy on how to defeat you.”

Jeremiah 49:31 The LORD says, “Army of Babylon, go and attack a nation that lives in peace and security. They have no gates or walls to protect them. They live all alone.

Jeremiah 49:32 Their camels will be taken as plunder. Their vast herds will be taken as spoil. I will scatter to the four winds those desert peoples who cut their hair short at the temples. I will bring disaster against them from every direction,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:33 “Hazor will become a permanent wasteland, a place where only jackals live. No one will live there. No human being will settle in it.”

Jeremiah 49:34 Early in the reign of King Zedekiah of Judah, the LORD spoke to the prophet Jeremiah about Elam.

Jeremiah 49:35 The LORD who rules over all said, “I will kill all the archers of Elam, who are the chief source of her military might.

Jeremiah 49:36 I will cause enemies to blow through Elam from every direction like the winds blowing in from the four quarters of heaven. I will scatter the people of Elam to the four winds. There will not be any nation where the refugees of Elam will not go.

Jeremiah 49:37 I will make the people of Elam terrified of their enemies, who are seeking to kill them. I will vent my fierce anger and bring disaster upon them,” says the LORD. “I will send armies chasing after them until I have completely destroyed them.

Jeremiah 49:38 I will establish my sovereignty over Elam. I will destroy their king and their leaders,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:39 “Yet in days to come I will reverse Elam’s ill fortune.” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:1 The LORD spoke concerning Babylon and the land of Babylonia through the prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 50:2 “Announce the news among the nations! Proclaim it! Signal for people to pay attention! Declare the news! Do not hide it! Say: ‘Babylon will be captured. Bel will be put to shame. Marduk will be dismayed. Babylon’s idols will be put to shame. Her disgusting images will be dismayed.

Jeremiah 50:3 For a nation from the north will attack Babylon. It will lay her land waste. People and animals will flee out of it. No one will inhabit it.’

Jeremiah 50:4 “When that time comes,” says the LORD, “the people of Israel and Judah will return to the land together. They will come back with tears of repentance as they seek the LORD their God.

Jeremiah 50:5 They will ask the way to Zion; they will turn their faces toward it. They will come and bind themselves to the LORD in a lasting covenant that will never be forgotten.

Jeremiah 50:6 “My people have been lost sheep. Their shepherds have allow them to go astray. They have wandered around in the mountains. They have roamed from one mountain and hill to another. They have forgotten their resting place.

Jeremiah 50:7 All who encountered them devoured them. Their enemies who did this said, ‘We are not liable for punishment! For those people have sinned against the LORD, their true pasture. They have sinned against the LORD in whom their ancestors trusted.’

Jeremiah 50:8 “People of Judah, get out of Babylon quickly! Leave the land of Babylonia! Be the first to depart! Be like the male goats that lead the herd.

Jeremiah 50:9 For I will rouse into action and bring against Babylon a host of mighty nations from the land of the north. They will set up their battle lines against her. They will come from the north and capture her. Their arrows will be like a skilled soldier who does not return from the battle empty-handed.

Jeremiah 50:10 Babylonia will be plundered. Those who plunder it will take all they want," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:11 "People of Babylonia, you plundered my people. That made you happy and glad. You frolic about like calves in a pasture. Your joyous sounds are like the neighs of a stallion.

Jeremiah 50:12 But Babylonia will be put to great shame. The land where you were born will be disgraced. Indeed, Babylonia will become the least important of all nations. It will become a dry and barren desert.

Jeremiah 50:13 After I vent my wrath on it Babylon will be uninhabited. It will be totally desolate. All who pass by will be filled with horror and will hiss out their scorn because of all the disasters that have happened to it.

Jeremiah 50:14 "Take up your battle positions all around Babylon, all you soldiers who are armed with bows. Shoot all your arrows at her! Do not hold any back! For she has sinned against the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:15 Shout the battle cry from all around the city. She will throw up her hands in surrender. Her towers will fall. Her walls will be torn down. Because I, the LORD, am wreaking revenge, take out your vengeance on her! Do to her as she has done!

Jeremiah 50:16 Kill all the farmers who sow the seed in the land of Babylon. Kill all those who wield the sickle at harvest time. Let all the foreigners return to their own people. Let them hurry back to their own lands to escape destruction by that enemy army.

Jeremiah 50:17 "The people of Israel are like scattered sheep which lions have chased away. First the king of Assyria devoured them. Now last of all King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon has gnawed their bones.

Jeremiah 50:18 So I, the LORD God of Israel who rules over all, say: 'I will punish the king of Babylon and his land just as I punished the king of Assyria.

Jeremiah 50:19 But I will restore the flock of Israel to their own pasture. They will graze on Mount Carmel and the land of Bashan. They will eat until they are full on the hills of Ephraim and the land of Gilead.

Jeremiah 50:20 When that time comes, no guilt will be found in Israel. No sin will be found in Judah. For I will forgive those of them I have allowed to survive. I, the LORD, affirm it!'"

Jeremiah 50:21 The LORD says, "Attack the land of Merathaim and the people who live in Pekod! Pursue, kill, and completely destroy them! Do just as I have commanded you!

Jeremiah 50:22 The noise of battle can be heard in the land of Babylonia. There is the sound of great destruction.

Jeremiah 50:23 Babylon hammered the whole world to pieces. But see how that ‘hammer’ has been broken and shattered! See what an object of horror Babylon has become among the nations!

Jeremiah 50:24 I set a trap for you, Babylon; you were caught before you knew it. You fought against me. So you were found and captured.

Jeremiah 50:25 I have opened up the place where my weapons are stored. I have brought out the weapons for carrying out my wrath. For I, the Lord GOD who rules over all, have work to carry out in the land of Babylonia.

Jeremiah 50:26 Come from far away and attack Babylonia! Open up the places where she stores her grain! Pile her up in ruins! Destroy her completely! Do not leave anyone alive!

Jeremiah 50:27 Kill all her soldiers! Let them be slaughtered! They are doomed, for their day of reckoning has come, the time for them to be punished.”

Jeremiah 50:28 Listen! Fugitives and refugees are coming from the land of Babylon. They are coming to Zion to declare there how the LORD our God is getting revenge, getting revenge for what they have done to his temple.

Jeremiah 50:29 “Call for archers to come against Babylon! Summon against her all who draw the bow! Set up camp all around the city! Do not allow anyone to escape! Pay her back for what she has done. Do to her what she has done to others. For she has proudly defied me, the Holy One of Israel.

Jeremiah 50:30 So her young men will fall in her city squares. All her soldiers will be destroyed at that time,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:31 “Listen! I am opposed to you, you proud city,” says the Lord GOD who rules over all. “Indeed, your day of reckoning has come, the time when I will punish you.

Jeremiah 50:32 You will stumble and fall, you proud city; no one will help you get up. I will set fire to your towns; it will burn up everything that surrounds you.”

Jeremiah 50:33 The LORD who rules over all says, “The people of Israel are oppressed. So too are the people of Judah. All those who took them captive are holding them prisoners. They refuse to set them free.

Jeremiah 50:34 But the one who will rescue them is strong. He is known as the LORD who rules over all. He will strongly champion their cause. As a result he will bring peace and rest to the earth, but trouble and turmoil to the people who inhabit Babylonia.

Jeremiah 50:35 “Destructive forces will come against the Babylonians,” says the LORD. “They will come against the people who inhabit Babylonia, against her leaders and her men of wisdom.

Jeremiah 50:36 Destructive forces will come against her false prophets; they will be shown to be fools! Destructive forces will come against her soldiers; they will be filled with terror!

Jeremiah 50:37 Destructive forces will come against her horses and her chariots. Destructive forces will come against all the foreign troops within her; they will be as frightened as women! Destructive forces will come against her treasures; they will be taken away as plunder!

Jeremiah 50:38 A drought will come upon her land; her rivers and canals will be dried up. All of this will happen because her land is filled with idols. Her people act like madmen because of those idols they fear.

Jeremiah 50:39 Therefore desert creatures and jackals will live there. Ostriches will dwell in it too. But no people will ever live there again. No one will dwell there for all time to come.

Jeremiah 50:40 I will destroy Babylonia just like I did Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighboring towns. No one will live there. No human being will settle in it," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:41 "Look! An army is about to come from the north. A mighty nation and many kings are stirring into action in faraway parts of the earth.

Jeremiah 50:42 Its soldiers are armed with bows and spears. They are cruel and show no mercy. They sound like the roaring sea as they ride forth on their horses. Lined up in formation like men going into battle, they are coming against you, fair Babylon!

Jeremiah 50:43 The king of Babylon will become paralyzed with fear when he hears news of their coming. Anguish will grip him, agony like that of a woman giving birth to a baby.

Jeremiah 50:44 "A lion coming up from the thick undergrowth along the Jordan scatters the sheep in the pastureland around it. So too I will chase the Babylonians off of their land. Then I will appoint over it whomever I choose. For there is no one like me. There is no one who can call me to account. There is no ruler that can stand up against me.

Jeremiah 50:45 So listen to what I, the LORD, have planned against Babylon, what I intend to do to the people who inhabit the land of Babylonia. Their little ones will be dragged off. I will completely destroy their land because of what they have done.

Jeremiah 50:46 The people of the earth will quake when they hear Babylon has been captured. Her cries of anguish will be heard by the other nations."

Jeremiah 51:1 The LORD says, "I will cause a destructive wind to blow against Babylon and the people who inhabit Babylonia.

Jeremiah 51:2 I will send people to winnow Babylonia like a wind blowing away chaff. They will winnow her and strip her land bare. This will happen when they come against her from every direction, when it is time to destroy her.

Jeremiah 51:3 Do not give her archers time to string their bows or to put on their coats of armor. Do not spare any of her young men. Completely destroy her whole army.

Jeremiah 51:4 Let them fall slain in the land of Babylonia, mortally wounded in the streets of her cities.

Jeremiah 51:5 “For Israel and Judah will not be forsaken by their God, the LORD who rules over all. For the land of Babylonia is full of guilt against the Holy One of Israel.

Jeremiah 51:6 Get out of Babylonia quickly, you foreign people. Flee to save your lives. Do not let yourselves be killed because of her sins. For it is time for the LORD to wreak his revenge. He will pay Babylonia back for what she has done.

Jeremiah 51:7 Babylonia had been a gold cup in the LORD’s hand. She had made the whole world drunk. The nations had drunk from the wine of her wrath. So they have all gone mad.

Jeremiah 51:8 But suddenly Babylonia will fall and be destroyed. Cry out in mourning over it! Get medicine for her wounds! Perhaps she can be healed!

Jeremiah 51:9 Foreigners living there will say, ‘We tried to heal her, but she could not be healed. Let’s leave Babylonia and each go back to his own country. For judgment on her will be vast in its proportions. It will be like it is piled up to heaven, stacked up into the clouds.’

Jeremiah 51:10 The exiles from Judah will say, ‘The LORD has brought about a great deliverance for us! Come on, let’s go and proclaim in Zion what the LORD our God has done!’

Jeremiah 51:11 “Sharpen your arrows! Fill your quivers! The LORD will arouse a spirit of hostility in the kings of Media. For he intends to destroy Babylonia. For that is how the LORD will get his revenge– how he will get his revenge for the Babylonians’ destruction of his temple.

Jeremiah 51:12 Give the signal to attack Babylon’s wall! Bring more guards! Post them all around the city! Put men in ambush! For the LORD will do what he has planned. He will do what he said he would do to the people of Babylon.

Jeremiah 51:13 “You who live along the rivers of Babylon, the time of your end has come. You who are rich in plundered treasure, it is time for your lives to be cut off.

Jeremiah 51:14 The LORD who rules over all has solemnly sworn, ‘I will fill your land with enemy soldiers. They will swarm over it like locusts. They will raise up shouts of victory over it.’

Jeremiah 51:15 He is the one who by his power made the earth. He is the one who by his wisdom fixed the world in place, by his understanding he spread out the heavens.

Jeremiah 51:16 When his voice thunders, the waters in the heavens roar. He makes the clouds rise from the far-off horizons. He makes the lightning flash out in the midst of the rain. He unleashes the wind from the places where he stores it.

Jeremiah 51:17 All idolaters will prove to be stupid and ignorant. Every goldsmith will be disgraced by the idol he made. For the image he forges is merely a sham. There is no breath in any of those idols.

Jeremiah 51:18 They are worthless, objects to be ridiculed. When the time comes to punish them, they will be destroyed.

Jeremiah 51:19 The LORD, who is the portion of the descendants of Jacob, is not like them. For he is the one who created everything, including the people of Israel whom he claims as his own. He is known as the LORD who rules over all.

Jeremiah 51:20 “Babylon, you are my war club, my weapon for battle. I used you to smash nations. I used you to destroy kingdoms.

Jeremiah 51:21 I used you to smash horses and their riders. I used you to smash chariots and their drivers.

Jeremiah 51:22 I used you to smash men and women. I used you to smash old men and young men. I used you to smash young men and young women.

Jeremiah 51:23 I used you to smash shepherds and their flocks. I used you to smash farmers and their teams of oxen. I used you to smash governors and leaders.”

Jeremiah 51:24 “But I will repay Babylon and all who live in Babylonia for all the wicked things they did in Zion right before the eyes of you Judeans,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:25 The LORD says, “Beware! I am opposed to you, Babylon! You are like a destructive mountain that destroys all the earth. I will unleash my power against you; I will roll you off the cliffs and make you like a burned-out mountain.

Jeremiah 51:26 No one will use any of your stones as a cornerstone. No one will use any of them in the foundation of his house. For you will lie desolate forever,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:27 “Raise up battle flags throughout the lands. Sound the trumpets calling the nations to do battle. Prepare the nations to do battle against Babylonia. Call for these kingdoms to attack her: Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz. Appoint a commander to lead the attack. Send horses against her like a swarm of locusts.

Jeremiah 51:28 Prepare the nations to do battle against her. Prepare the kings of the Medes. Prepare their governors and all their leaders. Prepare all the countries they rule to do battle against her.

Jeremiah 51:29 The earth will tremble and writhe in agony. For the LORD will carry out his plan. He plans to make the land of Babylonia a wasteland where no one lives.

Jeremiah 51:30 The soldiers of Babylonia will stop fighting. They will remain in their fortified cities. They will lose their strength to do battle. They will be as frightened as women. The houses in her cities will be set on fire. The gates of her cities will be broken down.

Jeremiah 51:31 One runner after another will come to the king of Babylon. One messenger after another will come bringing news. They will bring news to the king of Babylon that his whole city has been captured.

Jeremiah 51:32 They will report that the fords have been captured, the reed marshes have been burned, the soldiers are terrified.

Jeremiah 51:33 For the LORD God of Israel who rules over all says, 'Fair Babylon will be like a threshing floor which has been trampled flat for harvest. The time for her to be cut down and harvested will come very soon.'

Jeremiah 51:34 "King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon devoured me and drove my people out. Like a monster from the deep he swallowed me. He filled his belly with my riches. He made me an empty dish. He completely cleaned me out."

Jeremiah 51:35 The person who lives in Zion says, "May Babylon pay for the violence done to me and to my relatives." Jerusalem says, "May those living in Babylonia pay for the bloodshed of my people."

Jeremiah 51:36 Therefore the LORD says, "I will stand up for your cause. I will pay the Babylonians back for what they have done to you. I will dry up their sea. I will make their springs run dry.

Jeremiah 51:37 Babylon will become a heap of ruins. Jackals will make their home there. It will become an object of horror and of hissing scorn, a place where no one lives.

Jeremiah 51:38 The Babylonians are all like lions roaring for prey. They are like lion cubs growling for something to eat.

Jeremiah 51:39 When their appetites are all stirred up, I will set out a banquet for them. I will make them drunk so that they will pass out, they will fall asleep forever, they will never wake up," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:40 "I will lead them off to be slaughtered like lambs, rams, and male goats."

Jeremiah 51:41 "See how Babylon has been captured! See how the pride of the whole earth has been taken! See what an object of horror Babylon has become among the nations!

Jeremiah 51:42 The sea has swept over Babylon. She has been covered by a multitude of its waves.

Jeremiah 51:43 The towns of Babylonia have become heaps of ruins. She has become a dry and barren desert. No one lives in those towns any more. No one even passes through them.

Jeremiah 51:44 I will punish the god Bel in Babylon. I will make him spit out what he has swallowed. The nations will not come streaming to him any longer. Indeed, the walls of Babylon will fall."

Jeremiah 51:45 "Get out of Babylon, my people! Flee to save your lives from the fierce anger of the LORD!

Jeremiah 51:46 Do not lose your courage or become afraid because of the reports that are heard in the land. For a report will come in one year. Another report will follow it in the next. There will be violence in the land with ruler fighting against ruler."

Jeremiah 51:47 "So the time will certainly come when I will punish the idols of Babylon. Her whole land will be put to shame. All her mortally wounded will collapse in her midst.

Jeremiah 51:48 Then heaven and earth and all that is in them will sing for joy over Babylon. For destroyers from the north will attack it," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:49 "Babylon must fall because of the Israelites she has killed, just as the earth's mortally wounded fell because of Babylon.

Jeremiah 51:50 You who have escaped the sword, go, do not delay. Remember the LORD in a faraway land. Think about Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 51:51 'We are ashamed because we have been insulted. Our faces show our disgrace. For foreigners have invaded the holy rooms in the LORD's temple.'

Jeremiah 51:52 Yes, but the time will certainly come," says the LORD, "when I will punish her idols. Throughout her land the mortally wounded will groan.

Jeremiah 51:53 Even if Babylon climbs high into the sky and fortifies her elevated stronghold, I will send destroyers against her," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:54 Cries of anguish will come from Babylon, the sound of great destruction from the land of the Babylonians.

Jeremiah 51:55 For the LORD is ready to destroy Babylon, and put an end to her loud noise. Their waves will roar like turbulent waters. They will make a deafening noise.

Jeremiah 51:56 For a destroyer is attacking Babylon. Her warriors will be captured; their bows will be broken. For the LORD is a God who punishes; he pays back in full.

Jeremiah 51:57 “I will make her officials and wise men drunk, along with her governors, leaders, and warriors. They will fall asleep forever and never wake up,” says the King whose name is the LORD who rules over all.

Jeremiah 51:58 This is what the LORD who rules over all says, “Babylon’s thick wall will be completely demolished. Her high gates will be set on fire. The peoples strive for what does not satisfy. The nations grow weary trying to get what will be destroyed.”

Jeremiah 51:59 This is the order Jeremiah the prophet gave to Seraiah son of Neriah, son of Mahseiah, when he went to King Zedekiah of Judah in Babylon during the fourth year of his reign. (Seraiah was a quartermaster.)

Jeremiah 51:60 Jeremiah recorded on one scroll all the judgments that would come upon Babylon– all these prophecies written about Babylon.

Jeremiah 51:61 Then Jeremiah said to Seraiah, “When you arrive in Babylon, make sure you read aloud all these prophecies.

Jeremiah 51:62 Then say, ‘O LORD, you have announced that you will destroy this place so that no people or animals live in it any longer. Certainly it will lie desolate forever!’

Jeremiah 51:63 When you finish reading this scroll aloud, tie a stone to it and throw it into the middle of the Euphrates River.

Jeremiah 51:64 Then say, ‘In the same way Babylon will sink and never rise again because of the judgments I am ready to bring upon her; they will grow faint.’“ The prophecies of Jeremiah end here.

Jeremiah 52:1 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for eleven years. His mother’s name was Hamutal daughter of Jeremiah, from Libnah.

Jeremiah 52:2 He did what displeased the LORD just as Jehoiakim had done.

Jeremiah 52:3 What follows is a record of what happened to Jerusalem and Judah because of the LORD’s anger when he drove them out of his sight. Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 52:4 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon came against Jerusalem with his whole army and set up camp outside it. They built siege ramps all around it. He arrived on the tenth day of the tenth month in the ninth year that Zedekiah ruled over Judah.

Jeremiah 52:5 The city remained under siege until Zedekiah’s eleventh year.

Jeremiah 52:6 By the ninth day of the fourth month the famine in the city was so severe the residents had no food.

Jeremiah 52:7 They broke through the city walls, and all the soldiers tried to escape. They left the city during the night. They went through the gate between the two walls that is near the king’s garden. (The Babylonians had the city surrounded.) Then they headed for the Jordan Valley.

Jeremiah 52:8 But the Babylonian army chased after the king. They caught up with Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho, and his entire army deserted him.

Jeremiah 52:9 They captured him and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the territory of Hamath and he passed sentence on him there.

Jeremiah 52:10 The king of Babylon had Zedekiah’s sons put to death while Zedekiah was forced to watch. He also had all the nobles of Judah put to death there at Riblah.

Jeremiah 52:11 He had Zedekiah’s eyes put out and had him bound in chains. Then the king of Babylon had him led off to Babylon and he was imprisoned there until the day he died.

Jeremiah 52:12 On the tenth day of the fifth month, in the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard who served the king of Babylon, arrived in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 52:13 He burned down the LORD’s temple, the royal palace, and all the houses in Jerusalem, including every large house.

Jeremiah 52:14 The whole Babylonian army that came with the captain of the royal guard tore down the walls that surrounded Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 52:15 Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, took into exile some of the poor, the rest of the people who remained in the city, those who had deserted to him, and the rest of the craftsmen.

Jeremiah 52:16 But he left behind some of the poor and gave them fields and vineyards.

Jeremiah 52:17 The Babylonians broke the two bronze pillars in the temple of the LORD, as well as the movable stands and the large bronze basin called the “The Sea.” They took all the bronze to Babylon.

Jeremiah 52:18 They also took the pots, shovels, trimming shears, basins, pans, and all the bronze utensils used by the priests.

Jeremiah 52:19 The captain of the royal guard took the gold and silver bowls, censers, basins, pots, lampstands, pans, and vessels.

Jeremiah 52:20 The bronze of the items that King Solomon made for the LORD’s temple (including the two pillars, the large bronze basin called “The Sea,” the twelve bronze bulls under “The Sea,” and the movable stands) was too heavy to be weighed.

Jeremiah 52:21 Each of the pillars was about 27 feet high, about 18 feet in circumference, three inches thick, and hollow.

Jeremiah 52:22 The bronze top of one pillar was about seven and one-half feet high and had bronze latticework and pomegranate-shaped ornaments all around it. The second pillar with its pomegranate-shaped ornaments was like it.

Jeremiah 52:23 There were ninety-six pomegranate-shaped ornaments on the sides; in all there were one hundred pomegranate-shaped ornaments over the latticework that went around it.

Jeremiah 52:24 The captain of the royal guard took Seraiah the chief priest, Zephaniah the priest who was second in rank, and the three doorkeepers.

Jeremiah 52:25 From the city he took an official who was in charge of the soldiers, seven of the king's advisers who were discovered in the city, an official army secretary who drafted citizens for military service, and sixty citizens who were discovered in the middle of the city.

Jeremiah 52:26 Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

Jeremiah 52:27 The king of Babylon ordered them to be executed at Riblah in the territory of Hamath. So Judah was taken into exile away from its land.

Jeremiah 52:28 Here is the official record of the number of people Nebuchadnezzar carried into exile: In the seventh year, 3,023 Jews;

Jeremiah 52:29 in Nebuchadnezzar's eighteenth year, 832 people from Jerusalem;

Jeremiah 52:30 in Nebuchadnezzar's twenty-third year, Nebuzaradan, the captain of the royal guard, carried into exile 745 Judeans. In all 4,600 people went into exile.

Jeremiah 52:31 In the thirty-seventh year of the exile of King Jehoiachin of Judah, on the twenty-fifth day of the twelfth month, Evil-Merodach, in the first year of his reign, pardoned King Jehoiachin of Judah and released him from prison.

Jeremiah 52:32 He spoke kindly to him and gave him a more prestigious position than the other kings who were with him in Babylon.

Jeremiah 52:33 Jehoiachin took off his prison clothes and ate daily in the king's presence for the rest of his life.

Jeremiah 52:34 He was given daily provisions by the king of Babylon for the rest of his life until the day he died.

Lamentations

1:1 Alas! The city once full of people now sits all alone! The prominent lady among the nations has become a widow! The princess who once ruled the provinces has become a forced laborer!&u05D1; (Bet)

Lamentations 1:2 She weeps bitterly at night; tears stream down her cheeks. She has no one to comfort her among all her lovers. All her friends have betrayed her; they have become her enemies.&u05D2; (Gimel)

Lamentations 1:3 Judah has departed into exile under affliction and harsh oppression. She lives among the nations; she has found no resting place. All who pursued her overtook her in narrow straits.&u05D3; (Dalet)

Lamentations 1:4 The roads to Zion mourn because no one travels to the festivals. All her city gates are deserted; her priests groan. Her virgins grieve; she is in bitter anguish!&u05D4; (He)

Lamentations 1:5 Her foes subjugated her; her enemies are at ease. For the LORD afflicted her because of her many acts of rebellion. Her children went away captive before the enemy.&u05D5; (Vav)

Lamentations 1:6 All of Daughter Zion’s splendor has departed. Her leaders became like deer; they found no pasture, so they were too exhausted to escape from the hunter.&u05D6; (Zayin)

Lamentations 1:7 Jerusalem remembers, when she became a poor homeless person, all her treasures that she owned in days of old. When her people fell into an enemy’s grip, none of her allies came to her rescue. Her enemies gloated over her; they sneered at her downfall.&u05D7; (Khet)

Lamentations 1:8 Jerusalem committed terrible sin; therefore she became an object of scorn. All who admired her have despised her because they have seen her nakedness. She groans aloud and turns away in shame.&u05D8; (Tet)

Lamentations 1:9 Her menstrual flow has soiled her clothing; she did not consider the consequences of her sin. Her demise was astonishing, and there was no one to comfort her. She cried, “Look, O LORD, on my affliction because my enemy boasts!”&u05D9; (Yod)

Lamentations 1:10 An enemy grabbed all her valuables. Indeed she watched in horror as Gentiles invaded her holy temple– those whom you had commanded: “They must not enter your assembly place.”&u05DB; (Kaf)

Lamentations 1:11 All her people groaned as they searched for a morsel of bread. They exchanged their valuables for just enough food to stay alive. “Look, O LORD! Consider that I have become worthless!”&u05DC; (Lamed)

Lamentations 1:12 Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by on the road? Look and see! Is there any pain like mine? The Lord has afflicted me, he has inflicted it on me when he burned with anger.&u05DE; (Mem)

Lamentations 1:13 He sent down fire into my bones, and it overcame them. He spread out a trapper’s net for my feet; he made me turn back. He has made me desolate; I am faint all day long.&u05E0; (Nun)

Lamentations 1:14 My sins are bound around my neck like a yoke; they are fastened together by his hand. He has placed his yoke on my neck; he has sapped my strength. The Lord has handed me over to those whom I cannot resist.&u05E1; (Samek)

Lamentations 1:15 He rounded up all my mighty ones; The Lord did this in my midst. He summoned an assembly against me to shatter my young men. The Lord has stomped like grapes the virgin daughter, Judah.&u05E2; (Ayin)

Lamentations 1:16 I weep because of these things; my eyes flow with tears. For there is no one in sight who can comfort me or encourage me. My children are desolated because an enemy has prevailed.&u05E4; (Pe)

Lamentations 1:17 Zion spread out her hands, but there is no one to comfort her. The LORD has issued a decree against Jacob; his neighbors have become his enemies. Jerusalem has become like filthy garbage in their midst.&u05E6; (Tsade)

Lamentations 1:18 The LORD is right to judge me! Yes, I rebelled against his commands. Please listen, all you nations, and look at my suffering! My young women and men have gone into exile.&u05E7; (Qof)

Lamentations 1:19 I called for my lovers, but they had deceived me. My priests and my elders perished in the city. Truly they had searched for food to keep themselves alive.&u05E8; (Resh)

Lamentations 1:20 Look, O LORD! I am distressed; my stomach is in knots! My heart is pounding inside me. Yes, I was terribly rebellious! Out in the street the sword bereaves a mother of her children; Inside the house death is present.&u05E9; (Sin/Shin)

Lamentations 1:21 They have heard that I groan, yet there is no one to comfort me. All my enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that you have brought it about. Bring about the day of judgment that you promised so that they may end up like me!&u05EA; (Tav)

Lamentations 1:22 Let all their wickedness come before you; afflict them just as you have afflicted me because of all my acts of rebellion. For my groans are many, and my heart is sick with sorrow.&u05D0; (Alef)

Lamentations 2:1 Alas! The Lord has covered Daughter Zion with his anger. He has thrown down the splendor of Israel from heaven to earth; he did not protect his temple when he displayed his anger.&u05D1; (Bet)

Lamentations 2:2 The Lord destroyed mercilessly all the homes of Jacob’s descendants. In his anger he tore down the fortified cities of Daughter Judah. He knocked to the ground and humiliated the kingdom and its rulers.&u05D2; (Gimel)

Lamentations 2:3 In fierce anger he destroyed the whole army of Israel. He withdrew his right hand as the enemy attacked. He was like a raging fire in the land of Jacob; it consumed everything around it.&u05D3; (Dalet)

Lamentations 2:4 He prepared his bow like an enemy; his right hand was ready to shoot. Like a foe he killed everyone, even our strong young men; he has poured out his anger like fire on the tent of Daughter Zion.&u05D4; (He)

Lamentations 2:5 The Lord, like an enemy, destroyed Israel. He destroyed all her palaces; he ruined her fortified cities. He made everyone in Daughter Judah mourn and lament.&u05D5; (Vav)

Lamentations 2:6 He destroyed his temple as if it were a vineyard; he destroyed his appointed meeting place. The LORD has made those in Zion forget both the festivals and the Sabbaths. In his fierce anger he has spurned both king and priest.&u05D6; (Zayin)

Lamentations 2:7 The Lord rejected his altar and abhorred his temple. He handed over to the enemy her palace walls; the enemy shouted in the LORD'S temple as if it were a feast day.&u05D7; (Khet)

Lamentations 2:8 The LORD was determined to tear down Daughter Zion's wall. He prepared to knock it down; he did not withdraw his hand from destroying. He made the ramparts and fortified walls lament; together they mourned their ruin.&u05D8; (Tet)

Lamentations 2:9 Her city gates have fallen to the ground; he smashed to bits the bars that lock her gates. Her king and princes were taken into exile; there is no more guidance available. As for her prophets, they no longer receive a vision from the LORD.&u05D9; (Yod)

Lamentations 2:10 The elders of Daughter Zion sit on the ground in silence. They have thrown dirt on their heads; They have dressed in sackcloth. Jerusalem's young women stare down at the ground.&u05DB; (Kaf)

Lamentations 2:11 My eyes are worn out from weeping; my stomach is in knots. My heart is poured out on the ground due to the destruction of my helpless people; children and infants faint in the town squares.&u05DC; (Lamed)

Lamentations 2:12 Children say to their mothers, "Where are food and drink?" They faint like a wounded warrior in the city squares. They die slowly in their mothers' arms.&u05DE; (Mem)

Lamentations 2:13 With what can I equate you? To what can I compare you, O Daughter Jerusalem? To what can I liken you so that I might comfort you, O Virgin Daughter Zion? Your wound is as deep as the sea. Who can heal you?&u05E0; (Nun)

Lamentations 2:14 Your prophets saw visions for you that were worthless lies. They failed to expose your sin so as to restore your fortunes. They saw oracles for you that were worthless lies.&u05E1; (Samek)

Lamentations 2:15 All who passed by on the road clapped their hands to mock you. They sneered and shook their heads at Daughter Jerusalem. “Ha! Is this the city they called ‘The perfection of beauty, the source of joy of the whole earth!’?”&u05E4; (Pe)

Lamentations 2:16 All your enemies gloated over you. They sneered and gnashed their teeth; they said, “We have destroyed her! Ha! We have waited a long time for this day. We have lived to see it!”&u05E2; (Ayin)

Lamentations 2:17 The LORD has done what he planned; he has fulfilled his promise that he threatened long ago: He has overthrown you without mercy and has enabled the enemy to gloat over you; he has exalted your adversaries’ power.&u05E6; (Tsade)

Lamentations 2:18 Cry out from your heart to the Lord, O wall of Daughter Zion! Make your tears flow like a river all day and all night long! Do not rest; do not let your tears stop!&u05E7; (Qof)

Lamentations 2:19 Get up! Cry out in the night when the night watches start! Pour out your heart like water before the face of the Lord! Lift up your hands to him for your children’s lives; they are fainting at every street corner.&u05E8; (Resh)

Lamentations 2:20 Look, O LORD! Consider! Whom have you ever afflicted like this? Should women eat their offspring, their healthy infants? Should priest and prophet be killed in the Lord’s sanctuary?&u05E9; (Sin/Shin)

Lamentations 2:21 The young boys and old men lie dead on the ground in the streets. My young women and my young men have fallen by the sword. You killed them when you were angry; you slaughtered them without mercy.&u05EA; (Tav)

Lamentations 2:22 As if it were a feast day, you call enemies to terrify me on every side. On the day of the Lord’s anger no one escaped or survived. My enemy has finished off those healthy infants whom I bore and raised.&u05D0; (Alef)

Lamentations 3:1 I am the man who has experienced affliction from the rod of his wrath.

Lamentations 3:2 He drove me into captivity and made me walk in darkness and not light.

Lamentations 3:3 He repeatedly attacks me, he turns his hand against me all day long.&u05D1; (Bet)

Lamentations 3:4 He has made my mortal skin waste away; he has broken my bones.

Lamentations 3:5 He has besieged and surrounded me with bitter hardship.

Lamentations 3:6 He has made me reside in deepest darkness like those who died long ago.&u05D2; (Gimel)

Lamentations 3:7 He has walled me in so that I cannot get out; he has weighted me down with heavy prison chains.

Lamentations 3:8 Also, when I cry out desperately for help, he has shut out my prayer.

Lamentations 3:9 He has blocked every road I take with a wall of hewn stones; he has made every path impassable.&u05D3; (Dalet)

Lamentations 3:10 To me he is like a bear lying in ambush, like a hidden lion stalking its prey.

Lamentations 3:11 He has obstructed my paths and torn me to pieces; he has made me desolate.

Lamentations 3:12 He drew his bow and made me the target for his arrow.&u05D4; (He)

Lamentations 3:13 He shot his arrows into my heart.

Lamentations 3:14 I have become the laughingstock of all people, their mocking song all day long.

Lamentations 3:15 He has given me my fill of bitter herbs and made me drunk with bitterness.&u05D5; (Vav)

Lamentations 3:16 He ground my teeth in gravel; he trampled me in the dust.

Lamentations 3:17 I am deprived of peace; I have forgotten what happiness is.

Lamentations 3:18 So I said, "My endurance has expired; I have lost all hope of deliverance from the LORD."&u05D6; (Zayin)

Lamentations 3:19 Remember my impoverished and homeless condition, which is a bitter poison.

Lamentations 3:20 I continually think about this, and I am depressed.

Lamentations 3:21 But this I call to mind; therefore I have hope:&u05D7; (Khet)

Lamentations 3:22 The LORD's loyal kindness never ceases; his compassions never end.

Lamentations 3:23 They are fresh every morning; your faithfulness is abundant!

Lamentations 3:24 "My portion is the Lord," I have said to myself, so I will put my hope in him.&u05D8; (Tet)

Lamentations 3:25 The LORD is good to those who trust in him, to the one who seeks him.

Lamentations 3:26 It is good to wait patiently for deliverance from the LORD.

Lamentations 3:27 It is good for a man to bear the yoke while he is young.&u05D9; (Yod)

Lamentations 3:28 Let a person sit alone in silence, when the LORD is disciplining him.

Lamentations 3:29 Let him bury his face in the dust; perhaps there is hope.

Lamentations 3:30 Let him offer his cheek to the one who hits him; let him have his fill of insults.&u05DB; (Kaf)

Lamentations 3:31 For the Lord will not reject us forever.

Lamentations 3:32 Though he causes us grief, he then has compassion on us according to the abundance of his loyal kindness.

Lamentations 3:33 For he is not predisposed to afflict or to grieve people.&u05DC; (Lamed)

Lamentations 3:34 To crush underfoot all the earth's prisoners,

Lamentations 3:35 to deprive a person of his rights in the presence of the Most High,

Lamentations 3:36 to defraud a person in a lawsuit– the Lord does not approve of such things!&u05DE; (Mem)

Lamentations 3:37 Whose command was ever fulfilled unless the Lord decreed it?

Lamentations 3:38 Is it not from the mouth of the Most High that everything comes– both calamity and blessing?

Lamentations 3:39 Why should any living person complain when punished for his sins?&u05E0; (Nun)

Lamentations 3:40 Let us carefully examine our ways, and let us return to the LORD.

Lamentations 3:41 Let us lift up our hearts and our hands to God in heaven:

Lamentations 3:42 "We have blatantly rebelled; you have not forgiven."&u05E1; (Samek)

Lamentations 3:43 You shrouded yourself with anger and then pursued us; you killed without mercy.

Lamentations 3:44 You shrouded yourself with a cloud so that no prayer can get through.

Lamentations 3:45 You make us like filthy scum in the estimation of the nations.&u05E4; (Pe)

Lamentations 3:46 All our enemies have gloated over us;

Lamentations 3:47 Panic and pitfall have come upon us, devastation and destruction.

Lamentations 3:48 Streams of tears flow from my eyes because my people are destroyed.&u05E2; (Ayin)

Lamentations 3:49 Tears flow from my eyes and will not stop; there will be no break

Lamentations 3:50 until the LORD looks down from heaven and sees what has happened.

Lamentations 3:51 What my eyes see grieves me– all the suffering of the daughters in my city.&u05E6; (Tsade)

Lamentations 3:52 For no good reason my enemies hunted me down like a bird.

Lamentations 3:53 They shut me up in a pit and threw stones at me.

Lamentations 3:54 The waters closed over my head; I thought I was about to die.&u05E7; (Qof)

Lamentations 3:55 I have called on your name, O LORD, from the deepest pit.

Lamentations 3:56 You heard my plea: “Do not close your ears to my cry for relief!”

Lamentations 3:57 You came near on the day I called to you; you said, “Do not fear!”&u05E8; (Resh)

Lamentations 3:58 O Lord, you championed my cause, you redeemed my life.

Lamentations 3:59 You have seen the wrong done to me, O LORD; pronounce judgment on my behalf!

Lamentations 3:60 You have seen all their vengeance, all their plots against me.&u05E9; (Sin/Shin)

Lamentations 3:61 You have heard their taunts, O LORD, all their plots against me.

Lamentations 3:62 My assailants revile and conspire against me all day long.

Lamentations 3:63 Watch them from morning to evening; I am the object of their mocking songs.&u05EA; (Tav)

Lamentations 3:64 Pay them back what they deserve, O LORD, according to what they have done.

Lamentations 3:65 Give them a distraught heart; may your curse be on them!

Lamentations 3:66 Pursue them in anger and eradicate them from under the LORD’s heaven.&u05D0; (Alef)

Lamentations 4:1 Alas! Gold has lost its luster; pure gold loses value. Jewels are scattered on every street corner.&u05D1; (Bet)

Lamentations 4:2 The precious sons of Zion were worth their weight in gold– Alas!– but now they are treated like broken clay pots, made by a potter.&u05D2; (Gimel)

Lamentations 4:3 Even the jackals nurse their young at their breast, but my people are cruel, like ostriches in the desert.&u05D3; (Dalet)

Lamentations 4:4 The infant's tongue sticks to the roof of its mouth due to thirst; little children beg for bread, but no one gives them even a morsel.&u05D4; (He)

Lamentations 4:5 Those who once feasted on delicacies are now starving to death in the streets. Those who grew up wearing expensive clothes are now dying amid garbage.&u05D5; (Vav)

Lamentations 4:6 The punishment of my people exceeded that of of Sodom, which was overthrown in a moment with no one to help her.&u05D6; (Zayin)

Lamentations 4:7 Her consecrated ones were brighter than snow, whiter than milk; their bodies more ruddy than corals, their hair like lapis lazuli.&u05D7; (Khet)

Lamentations 4:8 Now their appearance is darker than soot; they are not recognized in the streets. Their skin has shriveled on their bones; it is dried up, like tree bark.&u05D8; (Tet)

Lamentations 4:9 Those who died by the sword are better off than those who die of hunger, those who waste away, struck down from lack of food.&u05D9; (Yod)

Lamentations 4:10 The hands of tenderhearted women cooked their own children, who became their food, when my people were destroyed.&u05DB; (Kaf)

Lamentations 4:11 The LORD fully vented his wrath; he poured out his fierce anger. He started a fire in Zion; it consumed her foundations.&u05DC; (Lamed)

Lamentations 4:12 Neither the kings of the earth nor the people of the lands ever thought that enemy or foe would enter the gates of Jerusalem.&u05DE; (Mem)

Lamentations 4:13 But it happened due to the sins of her prophets and the iniquities of her priests, who poured out in her midst the blood of the righteous.&u05E0; (Nun)

Lamentations 4:14 They wander blindly through the streets, defiled by the blood they shed, while no one dares to touch their garments.&u05E1; (Samek)

Lamentations 4:15 People cry to them, “Turn away! You are unclean! Turn away! Turn away! Don't touch us!” So they have fled and wander about; but the nations say, “They may not stay here any longer.”&u05E4; (Pe)

Lamentations 4:16 The LORD himself has scattered them; he no longer watches over them. They did not honor the priests; they did not show favor to the elders.&u05E2; (Ayin)

Lamentations 4:17 Our eyes continually failed us as we looked in vain for help. From our watchtowers we watched for a nation that could not rescue us.&u05E6; (Tsade)

Lamentations 4:18 Our enemies hunted us down at every step so that we could not walk about in our streets. Our end drew near, our days were numbered, for our end had come!&u05E7; (Qof)

Lamentations 4:19 Those who pursued us were swifter than eagles in the sky. They chased us over the mountains; they ambushed us in the wilderness.&u05E8; (Resh)

Lamentations 4:20 Our very life breath– the LORD's anointed king– was caught in their traps, of whom we thought, "Under his protection we will survive among the nations."&u05E9; (Sin/Shin)

Lamentations 4:21 Rejoice and be glad for now, O people of Edom, who reside in the land of Uz. But the cup of judgment will pass to you also; you will get drunk and take off your clothes.&u05EA; (Tav)

Lamentations 4:22 O people of Zion, your punishment will come to an end; he will not prolong your exile. But, O people of Edom, he will punish your sin and reveal your offenses!

Lamentations 5:1 O LORD, reflect on what has happened to us; consider and look at our disgrace.

Lamentations 5:2 Our inheritance is turned over to strangers; foreigners now occupy our homes.

Lamentations 5:3 We have become fatherless orphans; our mothers have become widows.

Lamentations 5:4 We must pay money for our own water; we must buy our own wood at a steep price.

Lamentations 5:5 We are pursued– they are breathing down our necks; we are weary and have no rest.

Lamentations 5:6 We have submitted to Egypt and Assyria in order to buy food to eat.

Lamentations 5:7 Our forefathers sinned and are dead, but we suffer their punishment.

Lamentations 5:8 Slaves rule over us; there is no one to rescue us from their power.

Lamentations 5:9 At the risk of our lives we get our food because robbers lurk in the countryside.

Lamentations 5:10 Our skin is hot as an oven due to a fever from hunger.

Lamentations 5:11 They raped women in Zion, virgins in the towns of Judah.

Lamentations 5:12 Princes were hung by their hands; elders were mistreated.

Lamentations 5:13 The young men perform menial labor; boys stagger from their labor.

Lamentations 5:14 The elders are gone from the city gate; the young men have stopped playing their music.

Lamentations 5:15 Our hearts no longer have any joy; our dancing is turned to mourning.

Lamentations 5:16 The crown has fallen from our head; woe to us, for we have sinned!

Lamentations 5:17 Because of this, our hearts are sick; because of these things, we can hardly see through our tears.

Lamentations 5:18 For wild animals are prowling over Mount Zion, which lies desolate.

Lamentations 5:19 But you, O LORD, reign forever; your throne endures from generation to generation.

Lamentations 5:20 Why do you keep on forgetting us? Why do you forsake us so long?

Lamentations 5:21 Bring us back to yourself, O LORD, so that we may return to you; renew our life as in days before, Lamentations 5:22 unless you have utterly rejected us and are angry with us beyond measure.

Ezekiel

1:1 In the thirtieth year, on the fifth day of the fourth month, while I was among the exiles at the Kebar River, the heavens opened and I saw a divine vision.

Ezekiel 1:2 (On the fifth day of the month– it was the fifth year of King Jehoiachin's exile–

Ezekiel 1:3 the word of the LORD came to the priest Ezekiel the son of Buzi, at the Kebar River in the land of the Babylonians. The hand of the LORD came on him there).

Ezekiel 1:4 As I watched, I noticed a windstorm coming from the north– an enormous cloud, with lightning flashing, such that bright light rimmed it and came from it like glowing amber from the middle of a fire.

Ezekiel 1:5 In the fire were what looked like four living beings. In their appearance they had human form,

Ezekiel 1:6 but each had four faces and four wings.

Ezekiel 1:7 Their legs were straight, but the soles of their feet were like calves' feet. They gleamed like polished bronze.

Ezekiel 1:8 They had human hands under their wings on their four sides. As for the faces and wings of the four of them, Ezekiel 1:9 their wings touched each other; they did not turn as they moved, but went straight ahead.

Ezekiel 1:10 Their faces had this appearance: Each of the four had the face of a man, with the face of a lion on the right, the face of an ox on the left and also the face of an eagle.

Ezekiel 1:11 Their wings were spread out above them; each had two wings touching the wings of one of the other beings on either side and two wings covering their bodies.

Ezekiel 1:12 Each moved straight ahead– wherever the spirit would go, they would go, without turning as they went.

Ezekiel 1:13 In the middle of the living beings was something like burning coals of fire or like torches. It moved back and forth among the living beings. It was bright, and lightning was flashing out of the fire.

Ezekiel 1:14 The living beings moved backward and forward as quickly as flashes of lightning.

Ezekiel 1:15 Then I looked, and I saw one wheel on the ground beside each of the four beings.

Ezekiel 1:16 The appearance of the wheels and their construction was like gleaming jasper, and all four wheels looked alike. Their structure was like a wheel within a wheel.

Ezekiel 1:17 When they moved they would go in any of the four directions they faced without turning as they moved.

Ezekiel 1:18 Their rims were high and awesome, and the rims of all four wheels were full of eyes all around.

Ezekiel 1:19 When the living beings moved, the wheels beside them moved; when the living beings rose up from the ground, the wheels rose up too.

Ezekiel 1:20 Wherever the spirit would go, they would go, and the wheels would rise up beside them because the spirit of the living being was in the wheel.

Ezekiel 1:21 When the living beings moved, the wheels moved, and when they stopped moving, the wheels stopped. When they rose up from the ground, the wheels rose up from the ground; the wheels rose up beside them because the spirit of the living being was in the wheel.

Ezekiel 1:22 Over the heads of the living beings was something like a platform, glittering awesomely like ice, stretched out over their heads.

Ezekiel 1:23 Under the platform their wings were stretched out, each toward the other. Each of the beings also had two wings covering its body.

Ezekiel 1:24 When they moved, I heard the sound of their wings– it was like the sound of rushing waters, or the voice of the Almighty, or the tumult of an army. When they stood still, they lowered their wings.

Ezekiel 1:25 Then there was a voice from above the platform over their heads when they stood still.

Ezekiel 1:26 Above the platform over their heads was something like a sapphire shaped like a throne. High above on the throne was a form that appeared to be a man.

Ezekiel 1:27 I saw an amber glow like a fire enclosed all around from his waist up. From his waist down I saw something that looked like fire. There was a brilliant light around it,

Ezekiel 1:28 like the appearance of a rainbow in the clouds after the rain. This was the appearance of the surrounding brilliant light; it looked like the glory of the LORD. When I saw it, I threw myself face down, and I heard a voice speaking.

Ezekiel 2:1 He said to me, "Son of man, stand on your feet and I will speak with you."

Ezekiel 2:2 As he spoke to me, a wind came into me and stood me on my feet, and I heard the one speaking to me.

Ezekiel 2:3 He said to me, "Son of man, I am sending you to the house of Israel, to rebellious nations who have rebelled against me; both they and their fathers have revolted against me to this very day.

Ezekiel 2:4 The people to whom I am sending you are obstinate and hard-hearted, and you must say to them, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says.'

Ezekiel 2:5 And as for them, whether they listen or not– for they are a rebellious house– they will know that a prophet has been among them.

Ezekiel 2:6 But you, son of man, do not fear them, and do not fear their words– even though briers and thorns surround you and you live among scorpions– do not fear their words and do not be terrified of the looks they give you, for they are a rebellious house!

Ezekiel 2:7 You must speak my words to them whether they listen or not, for they are rebellious.

Ezekiel 2:8 As for you, son of man, listen to what I am saying to you: Do not rebel like that rebellious house! Open your mouth and eat what I am giving you."

Ezekiel 2:9 Then I looked and realized a hand was stretched out to me, and in it was a written scroll.

Ezekiel 2:10 He unrolled it before me, and it had writing on the front and back; written on it were laments, mourning, and woe.

Ezekiel 3:1 He said to me, "Son of man, eat what you see in front of you– eat this scroll– and then go and speak to the house of Israel."

Ezekiel 3:2 So I opened my mouth and he fed me the scroll.

Ezekiel 3:3 He said to me, “Son of man, feed your stomach and fill your belly with this scroll I am giving to you.” So I ate it, and it was sweet like honey in my mouth.

Ezekiel 3:4 He said to me, “Son of man, go to the house of Israel and speak my words to them.

Ezekiel 3:5 For you are not being sent to a people of unintelligible speech and difficult language, but to the house of Israel–

Ezekiel 3:6 not to many peoples of unintelligible speech and difficult language, whose words you cannot understand– surely if I had sent you to them, they would listen to you!

Ezekiel 3:7 But the house of Israel is unwilling to listen to you, because they are not willing to listen to me, for the whole house of Israel is hard-headed and hard-hearted.

Ezekiel 3:8 “I have made your face adamant to match their faces, and your forehead hard to match their foreheads.

Ezekiel 3:9 I have made your forehead harder than flint– like diamond! Do not fear them or be terrified of the looks they give you, for they are a rebellious house.”

Ezekiel 3:10 And he said to me, “Son of man, take all my words that I speak to you to heart and listen carefully.

Ezekiel 3:11 Go to the exiles, to your fellow countrymen, and speak to them– say to them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says,’ whether they pay attention or not.”

Ezekiel 3:12 Then a wind lifted me up and I heard a great rumbling sound behind me as the glory of the LORD rose from its place,

Ezekiel 3:13 and the sound of the living beings’ wings brushing against each other, and the sound of the wheels alongside them, a great rumbling sound.

Ezekiel 3:14 A wind lifted me up and carried me away. I went bitterly, my spirit full of fury, and the hand of the LORD rested powerfully on me.

Ezekiel 3:15 I came to the exiles at Tel Abib, who lived by the Kebar River. I sat dumbfounded among them there, where they were living, for seven days.

Ezekiel 3:16 At the end of seven days the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 3:17 “Son of man, I have appointed you a watchman for the house of Israel. Whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you must give them a warning from me.

Ezekiel 3:18 When I say to the wicked, “You will certainly die,” and you do not warn him– you do not speak out to warn the wicked to turn from his wicked deed and wicked lifestyle so that he may live– that wicked person will die for his iniquity, but I will hold you accountable for his death.

Ezekiel 3:19 But as for you, if you warn the wicked and he does not turn from his wicked deed and from his wicked lifestyle, he will die for his iniquity but you will have saved your own life.

Ezekiel 3:20 “When a righteous person turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, and I set an obstacle before him, he will die. If you have not warned him, he will die for his sin. The righteous deeds he performed will not be considered, but I will hold you accountable for his death.

Ezekiel 3:21 However, if you warn the righteous person not to sin, and he does not sin, he will certainly live because he was warned, and you will have saved your own life.”

Ezekiel 3:22 The hand of the LORD rested on me there, and he said to me, “Get up, go out to the valley, and I will speak with you there.”

Ezekiel 3:23 So I got up and went out to the valley, and the glory of the LORD was standing there, just like the glory I had seen by the Kebar River, and I threw myself face down.

Ezekiel 3:24 Then a wind came into me and stood me on my feet. The LORD spoke to me and said, “Go shut yourself in your house.

Ezekiel 3:25 As for you, son of man, they will put ropes on you and tie you up with them, so you cannot go out among them.

Ezekiel 3:26 I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth so that you will be silent and unable to reprove them, for they are a rebellious house.

Ezekiel 3:27 But when I speak with you, I will loosen your tongue and you must say to them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says.’ Those who listen will listen, but the indifferent will refuse, for they are a rebellious house.

Ezekiel 4:1 “And you, son of man, take a brick and set it in front of you. Inscribe a city on it– Jerusalem.

Ezekiel 4:2 Lay siege to it! Build siege works against it. Erect a siege ramp against it! Post soldiers outside it and station battering rams around it.

Ezekiel 4:3 Then for your part take an iron frying pan and set it up as an iron wall between you and the city. Set your face toward it. It is to be under siege; you are to besiege it. This is a sign for the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 4:4 “Also for your part lie on your left side and place the iniquity of the house of Israel on it. For the number of days you lie on your side you will bear their iniquity.

Ezekiel 4:5 I have determined that the number of the years of their iniquity are to be the number of days for you– 390 days. So bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 4:6 “When you have completed these days, then lie down a second time, but on your right side, and bear the iniquity of the house of Judah 40 days– I have assigned one day for each year.

Ezekiel 4:7 You must turn your face toward the siege of Jerusalem with your arm bared and prophesy against it.

Ezekiel 4:8 Look here, I will tie you up with ropes, so you cannot turn from one side to the other until you complete the days of your siege.

Ezekiel 4:9 “As for you, take wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet, and spelt, put them in a single container, and make food from them for yourself. For the same number of days that you lie on your side– 390 days– you will eat it.

Ezekiel 4:10 The food you eat will be eight ounces a day by weight; you must eat it at fixed times.

Ezekiel 4:11 And you must drink water by measure, a pint and a half; you must drink it at fixed times.

Ezekiel 4:12 And you must eat the food like you would a barley cake. You must bake it in front of them over a fire made with dried human excrement.”

Ezekiel 4:13 And the LORD said, “This is how the people of Israel will eat their unclean food among the nations where I will banish them.”

Ezekiel 4:14 And I said, “Ah, sovereign LORD, I have never been ceremonially defiled before. I have never eaten a carcass or an animal torn by wild beasts; from my youth up, unclean meat has never entered my mouth.”

Ezekiel 4:15 So he said to me, “All right then, I will substitute cow’s manure instead of human excrement. You will cook your food over it.”

Ezekiel 4:16 Then he said to me, “Son of man, I am about to remove the bread supply in Jerusalem. They will eat their bread ration anxiously, and they will drink their water ration in terror

Ezekiel 4:17 because they will lack bread and water. Each one will be terrified, and they will rot for their iniquity.

Ezekiel 5:1 “As for you, son of man, take a sharp sword and use it as a barber’s razor. Shave off some of the hair from your head and your beard. Then take scales and divide up the hair you cut off.

Ezekiel 5:2 Burn a third of it in the fire inside the city when the days of your siege are completed. Take a third and slash it with a sword all around the city. Scatter a third to the wind, and I will unleash a sword behind them.

Ezekiel 5:3 But take a few strands of hair from those and tie them in the ends of your garment.

Ezekiel 5:4 Again, take more of them and throw them into the fire, and burn them up. From there a fire will spread to all the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 5:5 “This is what the sovereign LORD says: This is Jerusalem; I placed her in the center of the nations with countries all around her.

Ezekiel 5:6 Then she defied my regulations and my statutes, becoming more wicked than the nations and the countries around her. Indeed, they have rejected my regulations, and they do not follow my statutes.

Ezekiel 5:7 “Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Because you are more arrogant than the nations around you, you have not followed my statutes and have not carried out my regulations. You have not even carried out the regulations of the nations around you!

Ezekiel 5:8 “Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: I– even I– am against you, and I will execute judgment among you while the nations watch.

Ezekiel 5:9 I will do to you what I have never done before and will never do again because of all your abominable practices.

Ezekiel 5:10 Therefore fathers will eat their sons within you, Jerusalem, and sons will eat their fathers. I will execute judgments on you, and I will scatter any survivors to the winds.

Ezekiel 5:11 “Therefore, as surely as I live, says the sovereign LORD, because you defiled my sanctuary with all your detestable idols and with all your abominable practices, I will withdraw; my eye will not pity you, nor will I spare you.

Ezekiel 5:12 A third of your people will die of plague or be overcome by the famine within you. A third of your people will fall by the sword surrounding you, and a third I will scatter to the winds. I will unleash a sword behind them.

Ezekiel 5:13 Then my anger will be fully vented; I will exhaust my rage on them, and I will be appeased. Then they will know that I, the LORD, have spoken in my jealousy when I have fully vented my rage against them.

Ezekiel 5:14 “I will make you desolate and an object of scorn among the nations around you, in the sight of everyone who passes by.

Ezekiel 5:15 You will be an object of scorn and taunting, a prime example of destruction among the nations around you when I execute judgments against you in anger and raging fury. I, the LORD, have spoken!

Ezekiel 5:16 I will shoot against them deadly, destructive arrows of famine, which I will shoot to destroy you. I will prolong a famine on you and will remove the bread supply.

Ezekiel 5:17 I will send famine and wild beasts against you and they will take your children from you. Plague and bloodshed will overwhelm you, and I will bring a sword against you. I, the LORD, have spoken!”

Ezekiel 6:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 6:2 “Son of man, turn toward the mountains of Israel and prophesy against them:

Ezekiel 6:3 Say, ‘Mountains of Israel, Hear the word of the sovereign LORD! This is what the sovereign LORD says to the mountains and the hills, to the ravines and the valleys: I am bringing a sword against you, and I will destroy your high places.

Ezekiel 6:4 Your altars will be ruined and your incense altars will be broken. I will throw down your slain in front of your idols.

Ezekiel 6:5 I will place the corpses of the people of Israel in front of their idols, and I will scatter your bones around your altars.

Ezekiel 6:6 In all your dwellings, the cities will be laid waste and the high places ruined so that your altars will be laid waste and ruined, your idols will be shattered and demolished, your incense altars will be broken down, and your works wiped out.

Ezekiel 6:7 The slain will fall among you and then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 6:8 “‘But I will spare some of you. Some will escape the sword when you are scattered in foreign lands.

Ezekiel 6:9 Then your survivors will remember me among the nations where they are exiled. They will realize how I was crushed by their unfaithful heart which turned from me and by their eyes which lusted after their idols. They will loathe themselves because of the evil they have done and because of all their abominable practices.

Ezekiel 6:10 They will know that I am the LORD; my threats to bring this catastrophe on them were not empty.’

Ezekiel 6:11 “‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Clap your hands, stamp your feet, and say, “Ah!” because of all the evil, abominable practices of the house of Israel, for they will fall by the sword, famine, and pestilence.

Ezekiel 6:12 The one far away will die by pestilence, the one close by will fall by the sword, and whoever is left and has escaped these will die by famine. I will fully vent my rage against them.

Ezekiel 6:13 Then you will know that I am the LORD– when their dead lie among their idols around their altars, on every high hill and all the mountaintops, under every green tree and every leafy oak, the places where they have offered fragrant incense to all their idols.

Ezekiel 6:14 I will stretch out my hand against them and make the land a desolate waste from the wilderness to Riblah, in all the places where they live. Then they will know that I am the LORD!”

Ezekiel 7:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 7:2 “You, son of man– this is what the sovereign LORD says to the land of Israel: An end! The end is coming on the four corners of the land!

Ezekiel 7:3 The end is now upon you, and I will release my anger against you; I will judge you according to your behavior, I will hold you accountable for all your abominable practices.

Ezekiel 7:4 My eye will not pity you; I will not spare you. For I will hold you responsible for your behavior, and you will suffer the consequences of your abominable practices. Then you will know that I am the LORD!

Ezekiel 7:5 “This is what the sovereign LORD says: A disaster– a one-of-a-kind disaster– is coming!

Ezekiel 7:6 An end comes– the end comes! It has awakened against you– the end is upon you! Look, it is coming!

Ezekiel 7:7 Doom is coming upon you who live in the land! The time is coming, the day is near. There are sounds of tumult, not shouts of joy, on the mountains.

Ezekiel 7:8 Soon now I will pour out my rage on you; I will fully vent my anger against you. I will judge you according to your behavior. I will hold you accountable for all your abominable practices.

Ezekiel 7:9 My eye will not pity you; I will not spare you. For your behavior I will hold you accountable, and you will suffer the consequences of your abominable practices. Then you will know that it is I, the LORD, who is striking you.

Ezekiel 7:10 “Look, the day! Look, it is coming! Doom has gone out! The staff has budded, pride has blossomed!

Ezekiel 7:11 Violence has grown into a staff that supports wickedness. Not one of them will be left– not from their crowd, not from their wealth, not from their prominence.

Ezekiel 7:12 The time has come; the day has struck! The customer should not rejoice, nor the seller mourn; for divine wrath comes against their whole crowd.

Ezekiel 7:13 The customer will no longer pay the seller while both parties are alive, for the vision against their whole crowd will not be revoked. Each person, for his iniquity, will fail to preserve his life.

Ezekiel 7:14 “They have blown the trumpet and everyone is ready, but no one goes to battle, because my anger is against their whole crowd.

Ezekiel 7:15 The sword is outside; pestilence and famine are inside the house. Whoever is in the open field will die by the sword, and famine and pestilence will consume everyone in the city.

Ezekiel 7:16 Their survivors will escape to the mountains and become like doves of the valleys; all of them will moan– each one for his iniquity.

Ezekiel 7:17 All of their hands will hang limp; their knees will be wet with urine.

Ezekiel 7:18 They will wear sackcloth, terror will cover them; shame will be on all their faces, and all of their heads will be shaved bald.

Ezekiel 7:19 They will discard their silver in the streets, and their gold will be treated like filth. Their silver and gold will not be able to deliver them on the day of the LORD's fury. They will not satisfy their hunger or fill their stomachs because their wealth was the obstacle leading to their iniquity.

Ezekiel 7:20 They rendered the beauty of his ornaments into pride, and with it they made their abominable images– their detestable idols. Therefore I will render it filthy to them.

Ezekiel 7:21 I will give it to foreigners as loot, to the world's wicked ones as plunder, and they will desecrate it.

Ezekiel 7:22 I will turn my face away from them and they will desecrate my treasured place. Vandals will enter it and desecrate it.

Ezekiel 7:23 (Make the chain, because the land is full of murder and the city is full of violence.)

Ezekiel 7:24 I will bring the most wicked of the nations and they will take possession of their houses. I will put an end to the arrogance of the strong, and their sanctuaries will be desecrated.

Ezekiel 7:25 Terror is coming! They will seek peace, but find none.

Ezekiel 7:26 Disaster after disaster will come, and one rumor after another. They will seek a vision from a prophet; priestly instruction will disappear, along with counsel from the elders.

Ezekiel 7:27 The king will mourn and the prince will be clothed with shuddering; the hands of the people of the land will tremble. Based on their behavior I will deal with them, and by their standard of justice I will judge them. Then they will know that I am the LORD!"

Ezekiel 8:1 In the sixth year, in the sixth month, on the fifth of the month, as I was sitting in my house with the elders of Judah sitting in front of me, the hand of the sovereign LORD seized me.

Ezekiel 8:2 As I watched, I noticed a form that appeared to be a man. From his waist downward was something like fire, and from his waist upward something like a brightness, like an amber glow.

Ezekiel 8:3 He stretched out the form of a hand and grabbed me by a lock of hair on my head. Then a wind lifted me up between the earth and sky and brought me to Jerusalem by means of divine visions, to the door of the inner gate which faces north where the statue which provokes to jealousy was located.

Ezekiel 8:4 Then I perceived that the glory of the God of Israel was there, as in the vision I had seen earlier in the valley.

Ezekiel 8:5 He said to me, “Son of man, look up toward the north.” So I looked up toward the north, and I noticed to the north of the altar gate was this statue of jealousy at the entrance.

Ezekiel 8:6 He said to me, “Son of man, do you see what they are doing– the great abominations that the people of Israel are practicing here, to drive me far from my sanctuary? But you will see greater abominations than these!”

Ezekiel 8:7 He brought me to the entrance of the court, and as I watched, I noticed a hole in the wall.

Ezekiel 8:8 He said to me, “Son of man, dig into the wall.” So I dug into the wall and discovered a doorway.

Ezekiel 8:9 He said to me, “Go in and see the evil abominations they are practicing here.”

Ezekiel 8:10 So I went in and looked. I noticed every figure of creeping thing and beast– detestable images– and every idol of the house of Israel, engraved on the wall all around.

Ezekiel 8:11 Seventy men from the elders of the house of Israel (with Jaazaniah son of Shaphan standing among them) were standing in front of them, each with a censer in his hand, and fragrant vapors from a cloud of incense were swirling upward.

Ezekiel 8:12 He said to me, “Do you see, son of man, what the elders of the house of Israel are doing in the dark, each in the chamber of his idolatrous images? For they think, ‘The LORD does not see us! The LORD has abandoned the land!’“

Ezekiel 8:13 He said to me, “You will see them practicing even greater abominations!”

Ezekiel 8:14 Then he brought me to the entrance of the north gate of the LORD’s house. I noticed women sitting there weeping for Tammuz.

Ezekiel 8:15 He said to me, “Do you see this, son of man? You will see even greater abominations than these!”

Ezekiel 8:16 Then he brought me to the inner court of the LORD’s house. Right there at the entrance to the LORD’s temple, between the porch and the altar, were about twenty-five men with their backs to the LORD’s temple, facing east– they were worshiping the sun toward the east!

Ezekiel 8:17 He said to me, “Do you see, son of man? Is it a trivial thing that the house of Judah commits these abominations they are practicing here? For they have filled the land with violence and provoked me to anger still further. Look, they are putting the branch to their nose!

Ezekiel 8:18 Therefore I will act with fury! My eye will not pity them nor will I spare them. When they have shouted in my ears, I will not listen to them.”

Ezekiel 9:1 Then he shouted in my ears, “Approach, you who are to visit destruction on the city, each with his destructive weapon in his hand!”

Ezekiel 9:2 Next, I noticed six men coming from the direction of the upper gate which faces north, each with his war club in his hand. Among them was a man dressed in linen with a writing kit at his side. They came and stood beside the bronze altar.

Ezekiel 9:3 Then the glory of the God of Israel went up from the cherub where it had rested to the threshold of the temple. He called to the man dressed in linen who had the writing kit at his side.

Ezekiel 9:4 The LORD said to him, “Go through the city of Jerusalem and put a mark on the foreheads of the people who moan and groan over all the abominations practiced in it.”

Ezekiel 9:5 While I listened, he said to the others, “Go through the city after him and strike people down; do no let your eye pity nor spare anyone!

Ezekiel 9:6 Old men, young men, young women, little children, and women– wipe them out! But do not touch anyone who has the mark. Begin at my sanctuary!” So they began with the elders who were at the front of the temple.

Ezekiel 9:7 He said to them, “Defile the temple and fill the courtyards with corpses. Go!” So they went out and struck people down throughout the city.

Ezekiel 9:8 While they were striking them down, I was left alone, and I threw myself face down and cried out, “Ah, sovereign LORD! Will you destroy the entire remnant of Israel when you pour out your fury on Jerusalem?”

Ezekiel 9:9 He said to me, “The sin of the house of Israel and Judah is extremely great; the land is full of murder, and the city is full of corruption, for they say, ‘The LORD has abandoned the land, and the LORD does not see!’

Ezekiel 9:10 But as for me, my eye will not pity them nor will I spare them; I hereby repay them for what they have done.”

Ezekiel 9:11 Next I noticed the man dressed in linen with the writing kit at his side bringing back word: “I have done just as you commanded me.”

Ezekiel 10:1 As I watched, I saw on the platform above the top of the cherubim something like a sapphire, resembling the shape of a throne, appearing above them.

Ezekiel 10:2 The LORD said to the man dressed in linen, “Go between the wheelwork underneath the cherubim. Fill your hands with burning coals from among the cherubim and scatter them over the city.” He went as I watched.

Ezekiel 10:3 (The cherubim were standing on the south side of the temple when the man went in, and a cloud filled the inner court.)

Ezekiel 10:4 Then the glory of the LORD arose from the cherub and moved to the threshold of the temple. The temple was filled with the cloud while the court was filled with the brightness of the LORD's glory.

Ezekiel 10:5 The sound of the wings of the cherubim could be heard from the outer court, like the sound of the sovereign God when he speaks.

Ezekiel 10:6 When the LORD commanded the man dressed in linen, "Take fire from within the wheelwork, from among the cherubim," the man went in and stood by one of the wheels.

Ezekiel 10:7 Then one of the cherubim stretched out his hand toward the fire which was among the cherubim. He took some and put it into the hands of the man dressed in linen, who took it and left.

Ezekiel 10:8 (The cherubim appeared to have the form of human hands under their wings.)

Ezekiel 10:9 As I watched, I noticed four wheels by the cherubim, one wheel beside each cherub; the wheels gleamed like jasper.

Ezekiel 10:10 As for their appearance, all four of them looked the same, something like a wheel within a wheel.

Ezekiel 10:11 When they moved, they would go in any of the four directions they faced without turning as they moved; in the direction the head would turn they would follow without turning as they moved,

Ezekiel 10:12 along with their entire bodies, their backs, their hands, and their wings. The wheels of the four of them were full of eyes all around.

Ezekiel 10:13 As for their wheels, they were called "the wheelwork" as I listened.

Ezekiel 10:14 Each of the cherubim had four faces: The first was the face of a cherub, the second that of a man, the third that of a lion, and the fourth that of an eagle.

Ezekiel 10:15 The cherubim rose up; these were the living beings I saw at the Kebar River.

Ezekiel 10:16 When the cherubim moved, the wheels moved beside them; when the cherubim spread their wings to rise from the ground, the wheels did not move from their side.

Ezekiel 10:17 When the cherubim stood still, the wheels stood still, and when they rose up, the wheels rose up with them, for the spirit of the living beings was in the wheels.

Ezekiel 10:18 Then the glory of the LORD moved away from the threshold of the temple and stopped above the cherubim.

Ezekiel 10:19 The cherubim spread their wings, and they rose up from the earth while I watched (when they went the wheels went alongside them). They stopped at the entrance to the east gate of the LORD's temple as the glory of the God of Israel hovered above them.

Ezekiel 10:20 These were the living creatures which I saw at the Kebar River underneath the God of Israel; I knew that they were cherubim.

Ezekiel 10:21 Each had four faces; each had four wings and the form of human hands under the wings.

Ezekiel 10:22 As for the form of their faces, they were the faces whose appearance I had seen at the Kebar River. Each one moved straight ahead.

Ezekiel 11:1 A wind lifted me up and brought me to the east gate of the Lord's temple that faces the east. There, at the entrance of the gate, I noticed twenty-five men. Among them I saw Jaazaniah son of Azzur and Pelatiah son of Benaiah, officials of the people.

Ezekiel 11:2 The LORD said to me, "Son of man, these are the men who plot evil and give wicked advice in this city.

Ezekiel 11:3 They say, 'The time is not near to build houses; the city is a cooking pot and we are the meat in it.'

Ezekiel 11:4 Therefore, prophesy against them! Prophesy, son of man!"

Ezekiel 11:5 Then the Spirit of the LORD came upon me and said to me, "Say: This is what the LORD says: 'This is what you are thinking, O house of Israel; I know what goes through your minds.

Ezekiel 11:6 You have killed many people in this city; you have filled its streets with corpses.'

Ezekiel 11:7 Therefore, this is what the sovereign LORD says: 'The corpses you have dumped in the midst of the city are the meat, and this city is the cooking pot, but I will take you out of it.

Ezekiel 11:8 You fear the sword, so the sword I will bring against you,' declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 11:9 'But I will take you out of the city. And I will hand you over to foreigners. I will execute judgments on you.

Ezekiel 11:10 You will die by the sword; I will judge you at the border of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 11:11 This city will not be a cooking pot for you, and you will not be meat within it; I will judge you at the border of Israel.

Ezekiel 11:12 Then you will know that I am the LORD, whose statutes you have not followed and whose regulations you have not carried out. Instead you have behaved according to the regulations of the nations around you!'"

Ezekiel 11:13 Now, while I was prophesying, Pelatiah son of Benaiah died. Then I threw myself face down and cried out with a loud voice, “Alas, sovereign LORD! You are completely wiping out the remnant of Israel!”

Ezekiel 11:14 Then the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 11:15 “Son of man, your brothers, your relatives, and the whole house of Israel, all of them are those to whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, ‘They have gone far away from the LORD; to us this land has been given as a possession.’

Ezekiel 11:16 “Therefore say: ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Although I have removed them far away among the nations and have dispersed them among the countries, I have been a little sanctuary for them among the lands where they have gone.’

Ezekiel 11:17 “Therefore say: ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: When I regather you from the peoples and assemble you from the lands where you have been dispersed, I will give you back the country of Israel.’

Ezekiel 11:18 “When they return to it, they will remove from it all its detestable things and all its abominations.

Ezekiel 11:19 I will give them one heart and I will put a new spirit within them; I will remove the hearts of stone from their bodies and I will give them tender hearts,

Ezekiel 11:20 so that they may follow my statutes and observe my regulations and carry them out. Then they will be my people, and I will be their God.

Ezekiel 11:21 But those whose hearts are devoted to detestable things and abominations, I hereby repay them for what they have done, says the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 11:22 Then the cherubim spread their wings with their wheels alongside them while the glory of the God of Israel hovered above them.

Ezekiel 11:23 The glory of the LORD rose up from within the city and stopped over the mountain east of it.

Ezekiel 11:24 Then a wind lifted me up and carried me to the exiles in Babylonia, in the vision given to me by the Spirit of God. Then the vision I had seen went up from me.

Ezekiel 11:25 So I told the exiles everything the LORD had shown me.

Ezekiel 12:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 12:2 “Son of man, you are living in the midst of a rebellious house. They have eyes to see, but do not see, and ears to hear, but do not hear, because they are a rebellious house.

Ezekiel 12:3 “Therefore, son of man, pack up your belongings as if for exile. During the day, while they are watching, pretend to go into exile. Go from where you live to another place. Perhaps they will understand, although they are a rebellious house.

Ezekiel 12:4 Bring out your belongings packed for exile during the day while they are watching. And go out at evening, while they are watching, as if for exile.

Ezekiel 12:5 While they are watching, dig a hole in the wall and carry your belongings out through it.

Ezekiel 12:6 While they are watching, raise your baggage onto your shoulder and carry it out in the dark. You must cover your face so that you cannot see the ground because I have made you an object lesson to the house of Israel.”

Ezekiel 12:7 So I did just as I was commanded. I carried out my belongings packed for exile during the day, and at evening I dug myself a hole through the wall with my hands. I went out in the darkness, carrying my baggage on my shoulder while they watched.

Ezekiel 12:8 The word of the LORD came to me in the morning:

Ezekiel 12:9 “Son of man, has not the house of Israel, that rebellious house, said to you, ‘What are you doing?’

Ezekiel 12:10 Say to them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: The prince will raise this burden in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel within it.’

Ezekiel 12:11 Say, ‘I am an object lesson for you. Just as I have done, it will be done to them; they will go into exile and captivity.’

Ezekiel 12:12 “The prince who is among them will raise his belongings onto his shoulder in darkness, and will go out. He will dig a hole in the wall to leave through. He will cover his face so that he cannot see the land with his eyes.

Ezekiel 12:13 But I will throw my net over him, and he will be caught in my snare. I will bring him to Babylon, the land of the Chaldeans (but he will not see it), and there he will die.

Ezekiel 12:14 All his retinue– his attendants and his troops– I will scatter to every wind; I will unleash a sword behind them.

Ezekiel 12:15 “Then they will know that I am the LORD when I disperse them among the nations and scatter them among foreign countries.

Ezekiel 12:16 But I will let a small number of them survive the sword, famine, and pestilence, so that they can confess all their abominable practices to the nations where they go. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

Ezekiel 12:17 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 12:18 “Son of man, eat your bread with trembling, and drink your water with anxious shaking.

Ezekiel 12:19 Then say to the people of the land, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says about the inhabitants of Jerusalem and of the land of Israel: They will eat their bread with anxiety and drink their water in fright, for their land will be stripped bare of all it contains because of the violence of all who live in it.

Ezekiel 12:20 The inhabited towns will be left in ruins and the land will be devastated. Then you will know that I am the LORD.’“

Ezekiel 12:21 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 12:22 “Son of man, what is this proverb you have in the land of Israel, ‘The days pass slowly, and every vision fails’?

Ezekiel 12:23 Therefore tell them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: I hereby end this proverb; they will not recite it in Israel any longer.’ But say to them, ‘The days are at hand when every vision will be fulfilled.

Ezekiel 12:24 For there will no longer be any false visions or flattering omens amidst the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 12:25 For I, the LORD, will speak. Whatever word I speak will be accomplished. It will not be delayed any longer. Indeed in your days, O rebellious house, I will speak the word and accomplish it, declares the sovereign LORD.’“

Ezekiel 12:26 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 12:27 “Take note, son of man, the house of Israel is saying, ‘The vision that he sees is for distant days; he is prophesying about the far future.’

Ezekiel 12:28 Therefore say to them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: None of my words will be delayed any longer! The word I speak will come to pass, declares the sovereign LORD.’“

Ezekiel 13:1 Then the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 13:2 “Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who are now prophesying. Say to the prophets who prophesy from their imagination: ‘Hear the word of the LORD!

Ezekiel 13:3 This is what the sovereign LORD says: Woe to the foolish prophets who follow their own spirit but have seen nothing!

Ezekiel 13:4 Your prophets have become like jackals among the ruins, O Israel.

Ezekiel 13:5 You have not gone up in the breaks in the wall, nor repaired a wall for the house of Israel that it would stand strong in the battle on the day of the LORD.

Ezekiel 13:6 They see delusion and their omens are a lie. They say, “the LORD declares,” though the LORD has not sent them; yet they expect their word to be confirmed.

Ezekiel 13:7 Have you not seen a false vision and announced a lying omen when you say, “the LORD declares,” although I myself never spoke?

Ezekiel 13:8 “‘Therefore, this is what the sovereign LORD says: Because you have spoken false words and forecast delusion, look, I am against you, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 13:9 My hand will be against the prophets who see delusion and announce lying omens. They will not be included in the council of my people, nor be written in the registry of the house of Israel, nor enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 13:10 “‘This is because they have led my people astray saying, “All is well,” when things are not well. When anyone builds a wall without mortar, they coat it with whitewash.

Ezekiel 13:11 Tell the ones who coat it with whitewash that it will fall. When there is a deluge of rain, hailstones will fall and a violent wind will break out.

Ezekiel 13:12 When the wall has collapsed, people will ask you, “Where is the whitewash you coated it with?”

Ezekiel 13:13 “‘Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: In my rage I will make a violent wind break out. In my anger there will be a deluge of rain and hailstones in destructive fury.

Ezekiel 13:14 I will break down the wall you coated with whitewash and knock it to the ground so that its foundation is exposed. When it falls you will be destroyed beneath it, and you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 13:15 I will vent my rage against the wall, and against those who coated it with whitewash. Then I will say to you, “The wall is no more and those who whitewashed it are no more–

Ezekiel 13:16 those prophets of Israel who would prophesy about Jerusalem and would see visions of peace for it, when there was no peace,” declares the sovereign LORD.’

Ezekiel 13:17 “As for you, son of man, turn toward the daughters of your people who are prophesying from their imagination. Prophesy against them

Ezekiel 13:18 and say ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Woe to those who sew bands on all their wrists and make headbands for heads of every size to entrap people’s lives! Will you entrap my people’s lives, yet preserve your own lives?

Ezekiel 13:19 You have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and scraps of bread. You have put to death people who should not die and kept alive those who should not live by your lies to my people, who listen to lies!

Ezekiel 13:20 “‘Therefore, this is what the sovereign LORD says: Take note that I am against your wristbands with which you entrap people’s lives like birds. I will tear them from your arms and will release the people’s lives, which you hunt like birds.

Ezekiel 13:21 I will tear off your headbands and rescue my people from your power; they will no longer be prey in your hands. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 13:22 This is because you have disheartened the righteous person with lies (although I have not grieved him), and because you have encouraged the wicked person not to turn from his evil conduct and preserve his life.

Ezekiel 13:23 Therefore you will no longer see false visions and practice divination. I will rescue my people from your power, and you will know that I am the LORD.’“

Ezekiel 14:1 Then some men from Israel’s elders came to me and sat down in front of me.

Ezekiel 14:2 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 14:3 “Son of man, these men have erected their idols in their hearts and placed the obstacle leading to their iniquity right before their faces. Should I really allow them to seek me?

Ezekiel 14:4 Therefore speak to them and say to them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: When any one from the house of Israel erects his idols in his heart and sets the obstacle leading to his iniquity before his face, and then consults a prophet, I the LORD am determined to answer him personally according to the enormity of his idolatry.

Ezekiel 14:5 I will do this in order to capture the hearts of the house of Israel, who have alienated themselves from me on account of all their idols.’

Ezekiel 14:6 “Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Return! Turn from your idols, and turn your faces away from your abominations.

Ezekiel 14:7 For when anyone from the house of Israel, or the foreigner who lives in Israel, separates himself from me and erects his idols in his heart and sets the obstacle leading to his iniquity before his face, and then consults a prophet to seek something from me, I the LORD am determined to answer him personally.

Ezekiel 14:8 I will set my face against that person and will make him an object lesson and a byword and will cut him off from among my people. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 14:9 “‘As for the prophet, if he is made a fool by being deceived into speaking a prophetic word– I, the LORD, have made a fool of that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand against him and destroy him from among my people Israel.

Ezekiel 14:10 They will bear their punishment; the punishment of the one who sought an oracle will be the same as the punishment of the prophet who gave it

Ezekiel 14:11 so that the house of Israel will no longer go astray from me, nor continue to defile themselves by all their sins. They will be my people and I will be their God, declares the sovereign LORD.'"

Ezekiel 14:12 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 14:13 "Son of man, suppose a country sins against me by being unfaithful, and I stretch out my hand against it, cut off its bread supply, cause famine to come on it, and kill both people and animals.

Ezekiel 14:14 Even if these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they would save only their own lives by their righteousness, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 14:15 "Suppose I were to send wild animals through the land and kill its children, leaving it desolate, without travelers due to the wild animals.

Ezekiel 14:16 Even if these three men were in it, as surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, they could not save their own sons or daughters; they would save only their own lives, and the land would become desolate.

Ezekiel 14:17 "Or suppose I were to bring a sword against that land and say, 'Let a sword pass through the land,' and I were to kill both people and animals.

Ezekiel 14:18 Even if these three men were in it, as surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, they could not save their own sons or daughters– they would save only their own lives.

Ezekiel 14:19 "Or suppose I were to send a plague into that land, and pour out my rage on it with bloodshed, killing both people and animals.

Ezekiel 14:20 Even if Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, they could not save their own son or daughter; they would save only their own lives by their righteousness.

Ezekiel 14:21 "For this is what the sovereign LORD says: How much worse will it be when I send my four terrible judgments– sword, famine, wild animals, and plague– to Jerusalem to kill both people and animals!

Ezekiel 14:22 Yet some survivors will be left in it, sons and daughters who will be brought out. They will come out to you, and when you see their behavior and their deeds, you will be consoled about the catastrophe I have brought on Jerusalem– for everything I brought on it.

Ezekiel 14:23 They will console you when you see their behavior and their deeds, because you will know that it was not without reason that I have done everything which I have done in it, declares the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 15:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 15:2 “Son of man, of all the woody branches among the trees of the forest, what happens to the wood of the vine?

Ezekiel 15:3 Can wood be taken from it to make anything useful? Or can anyone make a peg from it to hang things on?

Ezekiel 15:4 No! It is thrown in the fire for fuel; when the fire has burned up both ends of it and it is charred in the middle, will it be useful for anything?

Ezekiel 15:5 Indeed! If it was not made into anything useful when it was whole, how much less can it be made into anything when the fire has burned it up and it is charred?

Ezekiel 15:6 “Therefore, this is what the sovereign LORD says: Like the wood of the vine is among the trees of the forest which I have provided as fuel for the fire– so I will provide the residents of Jerusalem as fuel.

Ezekiel 15:7 I will set my face against them– although they have escaped from the fire, the fire will still consume them! Then you will know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them.

Ezekiel 15:8 I will make the land desolate because they have acted unfaithfully, declares the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 16:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 16:2 “Son of man, confront Jerusalem with her abominable practices

Ezekiel 16:3 and say, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says to Jerusalem: Your origin and your birth were in the land of the Canaanites; your father was an Amorite and your mother a Hittite.

Ezekiel 16:4 As for your birth, on the day you were born your umbilical cord was not cut, nor were you washed in water; you were certainly not rubbed down with salt, nor wrapped with blankets.

Ezekiel 16:5 No eye took pity on you to do even one of these things for you to spare you; you were thrown out into the open field because you were detested on the day you were born.

Ezekiel 16:6 “‘I passed by you and saw you kicking around helplessly in your blood. I said to you as you lay there in your blood, “Live!” I said to you as you lay there in your blood, “Live!”

Ezekiel 16:7 I made you plentiful like sprouts in a field; you grew tall and came of age so that you could wear jewelry. Your breasts had formed and your hair had grown, but you were still naked and bare.

Ezekiel 16:8 “‘Then I passed by you and watched you, noticing that you had reached the age for love. I spread my cloak over you and covered your nakedness. I swore a solemn oath to you and entered into a marriage covenant with you, declares the sovereign LORD, and you became mine.

Ezekiel 16:9 "'Then I bathed you in water, washed the blood off you, and anointed you with fragrant oil.

Ezekiel 16:10 I dressed you in embroidered clothing and put fine leather sandals on your feet. I wrapped you with fine linen and covered you with silk.

Ezekiel 16:11 I adorned you with jewelry. I put bracelets on your hands and a necklace around your neck.

Ezekiel 16:12 I put a ring in your nose, earrings on your ears, and a beautiful crown on your head.

Ezekiel 16:13 You were adorned with gold and silver, while your clothing was of fine linen, silk, and embroidery. You ate the finest flour, honey, and olive oil. You became extremely beautiful and attained the position of royalty.

Ezekiel 16:14 Your fame spread among the nations because of your beauty; your beauty was perfect because of the splendor which I bestowed on you, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 16:15 "'But you trusted in your beauty and capitalized on your fame by becoming a prostitute. You offered your sexual favors to every man who passed by so that your beauty became his.

Ezekiel 16:16 You took some of your clothing and made for yourself decorated high places; you engaged in prostitution on them. You went to him to become his.

Ezekiel 16:17 You also took your beautiful jewelry, made of my gold and my silver I had given to you, and made for yourself male images and engaged in prostitution with them.

Ezekiel 16:18 You took your embroidered clothing and used it to cover them; you offered my olive oil and my incense to them.

Ezekiel 16:19 As for my food that I gave you– the fine flour, olive oil, and honey I fed you– you placed it before them as a soothing aroma. That is exactly what happened, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 16:20 "'You took your sons and your daughters whom you bore to me and you sacrificed them as food for the idols to eat. As if your prostitution not enough,

Ezekiel 16:21 you slaughtered my children and sacrificed them to the idols.

Ezekiel 16:22 And with all your abominable practices and prostitution you did not remember the days of your youth when you were naked and bare, kicking around in your blood.

Ezekiel 16:23 "'After all of your evil– "Woe! Woe to you!" declares the sovereign LORD–

Ezekiel 16:24 you built yourself a chamber and put up a pavilion in every public square.

Ezekiel 16:25 At the head of every street you erected your pavilion and you disgraced your beauty when you spread your legs to every passerby and multiplied your promiscuity.

Ezekiel 16:26 You engaged in prostitution with the Egyptians, your sexually aroused neighbors, multiplying your promiscuity and provoking me to anger.

Ezekiel 16:27 So see here, I have stretched out my hand against you and cut off your rations. I have delivered you into the power of those who hate you, the daughters of the Philistines, who were ashamed by your obscene conduct.

Ezekiel 16:28 You engaged in prostitution with the Assyrians because your sexual desires were insatiable; you prostituted yourself with them and yet you were still not satisfied.

Ezekiel 16:29 Then you multiplied your promiscuity to the land of merchants, Babylonia, but you were not satisfied there either.

Ezekiel 16:30 "'How sick is your heart, declares the sovereign LORD, when you perform all of these acts, the deeds of a bold prostitute.

Ezekiel 16:31 When you built your chamber at the head of every street and put up your pavilion in every public square, you were not like a prostitute, because you scoffed at payment.

Ezekiel 16:32 "'Adulterous wife, who prefers strangers instead of her own husband!

Ezekiel 16:33 All prostitutes receive payment, but instead you give gifts to every one of your lovers. You bribe them to come to you from all around for your sexual favors!

Ezekiel 16:34 You were different from other prostitutes because no one solicited you. When you gave payment and no payment was given to you, you became the opposite!

Ezekiel 16:35 "'Therefore O prostitute, hear the word of the LORD:

Ezekiel 16:36 This is what the sovereign LORD says: Because your lust was poured out and your nakedness was uncovered in your prostitution with your lovers, and because of all your detestable idols, and because of the blood of your children you have given to them,

Ezekiel 16:37 therefore, take note: I am about to gather all your lovers whom you enjoyed, both all those you loved and all those you hated. I will gather them against you from all around, and I will expose your nakedness to them, and they will see all your nakedness.

Ezekiel 16:38 I will punish you as an adulteress and murderer deserves. I will avenge your bloody deeds with furious rage.

Ezekiel 16:39 I will give you into their hands and they will destroy your chambers and tear down your pavilions. They will strip you of your clothing and take your beautiful jewelry and leave you naked and bare.

Ezekiel 16:40 They will summon a mob who will stone you and hack you in pieces with their swords.

Ezekiel 16:41 They will burn down your houses and execute judgments on you in front of many women. Thus I will put a stop to your prostitution, and you will no longer give gifts to your clients.

Ezekiel 16:42 I will exhaust my rage on you, and then my fury will turn from you. I will calm down and no longer be angry.

Ezekiel 16:43 "'Because you did not remember the days of your youth and have enraged me with all these deeds, I hereby repay you for what you have done, declares the sovereign LORD. Have you not engaged in prostitution on top of all your other abominable practices?

Ezekiel 16:44 "'Observe– everyone who quotes proverbs will quote this proverb about you: "Like mother, like daughter."

Ezekiel 16:45 You are the daughter of your mother, who detested her husband and her sons, and you are the sister of your sisters who detested their husbands and their sons. Your mother was a Hittite and your father an Amorite.

Ezekiel 16:46 Your older sister was Samaria, who lived north of you with her daughters, and your younger sister, who lived south of you, was Sodom with her daughters.

Ezekiel 16:47 Have you not copied their behavior and practiced their abominable deeds? In a short time you became even more depraved in all your conduct than they were!

Ezekiel 16:48 As surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, your sister Sodom and her daughters never behaved as wickedly as you and your daughters have behaved.

Ezekiel 16:49 "'See here– this was the iniquity of your sister Sodom: She and her daughters had majesty, abundance of food, and enjoyed carefree ease, but they did not help the poor and needy.

Ezekiel 16:50 They were haughty and practiced abominable deeds before me. Therefore when I saw it I removed them.

Ezekiel 16:51 Samaria has not committed half the sins you have; you have done more abominable deeds than they did. You have made your sisters appear righteous with all the abominable things you have done.

Ezekiel 16:52 So now, bear your disgrace, because you have given your sisters reason to justify their behavior. Because the sins you have committed were more abominable than those of your sisters; they have become more righteous than you. So now, be ashamed and bear the disgrace of making your sisters appear righteous.

Ezekiel 16:53 "'I will restore their fortunes, the fortunes of Sodom and her daughters, and the fortunes of Samaria and her daughters (along with your fortunes among them),

Ezekiel 16:54 so that you may bear your disgrace and be ashamed of all you have done in consoling them.

Ezekiel 16:55 As for your sisters, Sodom and her daughters will be restored to their former status, Samaria and her daughters will be restored to their former status, and you and your daughters will be restored to your former status.

Ezekiel 16:56 In your days of majesty, was not Sodom your sister a byword in your mouth,

Ezekiel 16:57 before your evil was exposed? Now you have become an object of scorn to the daughters of Aram and all those around her and to the daughters of the Philistines– those all around you who despise you.

Ezekiel 16:58 You must bear your punishment for your obscene conduct and your abominable practices, declares the LORD.

Ezekiel 16:59 "'For this is what the sovereign LORD says: I will deal with you according to what you have done when you despised your oath by breaking your covenant.

Ezekiel 16:60 Yet I will remember the covenant I made with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish a lasting covenant with you.

Ezekiel 16:61 Then you will remember your conduct, and be ashamed when you receive your older and younger sisters. I will give them to you as daughters, but not on account of my covenant with you.

Ezekiel 16:62 I will establish my covenant with you, and then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 16:63 Then you will remember, be ashamed, and remain silent when I make atonement for all you have done, declares the sovereign LORD.'"

Ezekiel 17:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 17:2 "Son of man, offer a riddle, and tell a parable to the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 17:3 Say to them: 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: "'A great eagle with broad wings, long feathers, with full plumage which was multi-hued, came to Lebanon and took the top of the cedar.

Ezekiel 17:4 He plucked off its topmost shoot; he brought it to a land of merchants and planted it in a city of traders.

Ezekiel 17:5 He took one of the seedlings of the land, placed it in a cultivated plot; a shoot by abundant water, like a willow he planted it.

Ezekiel 17:6 It sprouted and became a vine, spreading low to the ground; its branches turning toward him, its roots were under itself. So it became a vine; it produced shoots and sent out branches.

Ezekiel 17:7 "'There was another great eagle with broad wings and thick plumage. Now this vine twisted its roots toward him and sent its branches toward him to be watered from the soil where it was planted.

Ezekiel 17:8 In a good field, by abundant waters, it was planted to grow branches, bear fruit, and become a beautiful vine.

Ezekiel 17:9 "'Say to them: This is what the sovereign LORD says: "'Will it prosper? Will he not rip out its roots and cause its fruit to rot and wither? All its foliage will wither. No strong arm or large army will be needed to pull it out by its roots.

Ezekiel 17:10 Consider! It is planted, but will it prosper? Will it not wither completely when the east wind blows on it? Will it not wither in the soil where it sprouted?"'

Ezekiel 17:11 Then the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 17:12 "Say to the rebellious house of Israel: 'Don't you know what these things mean?' Say: 'See here, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and took her king and her officials prisoner and brought them to himself in Babylon.

Ezekiel 17:13 He took one from the royal family, made a treaty with him, and put him under oath. He then took the leaders of the land

Ezekiel 17:14 so it would be a lowly kingdom which could not rise on its own but must keep its treaty with him in order to stand.

Ezekiel 17:15 But this one from Israel's royal family rebelled against the king of Babylon by sending his emissaries to Egypt to obtain horses and a large army. Will he prosper? Will the one doing these things escape? Can he break the covenant and escape?

Ezekiel 17:16 "'As surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, surely in the city of the king who crowned him, whose oath he despised and whose covenant he broke– in the middle of Babylon he will die!

Ezekiel 17:17 Pharaoh with his great army and mighty horde will not help him in battle, when siege ramps are erected and siege-walls are built to kill many people.

Ezekiel 17:18 He despised the oath by breaking the covenant. Take note– he gave his promise and did all these things– he will not escape!

Ezekiel 17:19 "'Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: As surely as I live, I will certainly repay him for despising my oath and breaking my covenant!

Ezekiel 17:20 I will throw my net over him and he will be caught in my snare; I will bring him to Babylon and judge him there because of the unfaithfulness he committed against me.

Ezekiel 17:21 All the choice men among his troops will die by the sword and the survivors will be scattered to every wind. Then you will know that I, the LORD, have spoken!

Ezekiel 17:22 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: "I will take a sprig from the lofty top of the cedar and plant it. I will pluck from the top one of its tender twigs; I myself will plant it on a high and lofty mountain.

Ezekiel 17:23 I will plant it on a high mountain of Israel, and it will raise branches and produce fruit and become a beautiful cedar. Every bird will live under it; Every winged creature will live in the shade of its branches.

Ezekiel 17:24 All the trees of the field will know that I am the LORD. I make the high tree low; I raise up the low tree. I make the green tree wither, and I make the dry tree sprout. I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will do it!"'

Ezekiel 18:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 18:2 "What do you mean by quoting this proverb concerning the land of Israel, "'The fathers eat sour grapes And the children's teeth become numb?'

Ezekiel 18:3 "As surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, you will not quote this proverb in Israel anymore!

Ezekiel 18:4 Indeed! All lives are mine– the life of the father as well as the life of the son is mine. The one who sins will die.

Ezekiel 18:5 "Suppose a man is righteous. He practices what is just and right,

Ezekiel 18:6 does not eat pagan sacrifices on the mountains or pray to the idols of the house of Israel, does not defile his neighbor's wife, does not have sexual relations with a woman during her period,

Ezekiel 18:7 does not oppress anyone, but gives the debtor back whatever was given in pledge, does not commit robbery, but gives his bread to the hungry and clothes the naked,

Ezekiel 18:8 does not engage in usury or charge interest, but refrains from wrongdoing, promotes true justice between men,

Ezekiel 18:9 and follows my statutes and observes my regulations by carrying them out. That man is righteous; he will certainly live, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 18:10 "Suppose such a man has a violent son who sheds blood and does any of these things mentioned previously

Ezekiel 18:11 (though the father did not do any of them). He eats pagan sacrifices on the mountains, defiles his neighbor's wife,

Ezekiel 18:12 oppresses the poor and the needy, commits robbery, does not give back what was given in pledge, prays to idols, performs abominable acts, Ezekiel 18:13 engages in usury and charges interest. Will he live? He will not! Because he has done all these abominable deeds he will certainly die. He will bear the responsibility for his own death.

Ezekiel 18:14 “But suppose he in turn has a son who notices all the sins his father commits, considers them, and does not follow his father’s example.

Ezekiel 18:15 He does not eat pagan sacrifices on the mountains, does not pray to the idols of the house of Israel, does not defile his neighbor’s wife,

Ezekiel 18:16 does not oppress anyone or keep what has been given in pledge, does not commit robbery, gives his food to the hungry, and clothes the naked,

Ezekiel 18:17 refrains from wrongdoing, does not engage in usury or charge interest, carries out my regulations and follows my statutes. He will not die for his father’s iniquity; he will surely live.

Ezekiel 18:18 As for his father, because he practices extortion, robs his brother, and does what is not good among his people, he will die for his iniquity.

Ezekiel 18:19 “Yet you say, ‘Why should the son not suffer for his father’s iniquity?’ When the son does what is just and right, and observes all my statutes and carries them out, he will surely live.

Ezekiel 18:20 The person who sins is the one who will die. A son will not suffer for his father’s iniquity, and a father will not suffer for his son’s iniquity; the righteous person will be judged according to his righteousness, and the wicked person according to his wickedness.

Ezekiel 18:21 “But if the wicked person turns from all the sin he has committed and observes all my statutes and does what is just and right, he will surely live; he will not die.

Ezekiel 18:22 None of the sins he has committed will be held against him; because of the righteousness he has done, he will live.

Ezekiel 18:23 Do I actually delight in the death of the wicked, declares the sovereign LORD? Do I not prefer that he turn from his wicked conduct and live?

Ezekiel 18:24 “But if a righteous man turns away from his righteousness and practices wrongdoing according to all the abominable practices the wicked carry out, will he live? All his righteous acts will not be remembered; because of the unfaithful acts he has done and the sin he has committed, he will die.

Ezekiel 18:25 “Yet you say, ‘The Lord’s conduct is unjust!’ Hear, O house of Israel: Is my conduct unjust? Is it not your conduct that is unjust?

Ezekiel 18:26 When a righteous person turns back from his righteousness and practices wrongdoing, he will die for it; because of the wrongdoing he has done, he will die.

Ezekiel 18:27 When a wicked person turns from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he will preserve his life.

Ezekiel 18:28 Because he considered and turned from all the sins he had done, he will surely live; he will not die.

Ezekiel 18:29 Yet the house of Israel says, 'The Lord's conduct is unjust!' Is my conduct unjust, O house of Israel? Is it not your conduct that is unjust?

Ezekiel 18:30 "Therefore I will judge each person according to his conduct, O house of Israel, declares the sovereign LORD. Repent and turn from all your wickedness; then it will not be an obstacle leading to iniquity.

Ezekiel 18:31 Throw away all your sins you have committed and fashion yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why should you die, O house of Israel?

Ezekiel 18:32 For I take no delight in the death of anyone, declares the sovereign LORD. Repent and live!

Ezekiel 19:1 "And you, sing a lament for the princes of Israel, Ezekiel 19:2 and say: "'What a lioness was your mother among the lions! She lay among young lions; she reared her cubs.

Ezekiel 19:3 She reared one of her cubs; he became a young lion. He learned to tear prey; he devoured people.

Ezekiel 19:4 The nations heard about him; he was trapped in their pit. They brought him with hooks to the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 19:5 "'When she realized that she waited in vain, her hope was lost. She took another of her cubs and made him a young lion.

Ezekiel 19:6 He walked about among the lions; he became a young lion. He learned to tear prey; he devoured people.

Ezekiel 19:7 He broke down their strongholds and devastated their cities. The land and everything in it was frightened at the sound of his roaring.

Ezekiel 19:8 The nations– the surrounding regions– attacked him. They threw their net over him; he was caught in their pit.

Ezekiel 19:9 They put him in a collar with hooks; they brought him to the king of Babylon; they brought him to prison so that his voice would not be heard any longer on the mountains of Israel.

Ezekiel 19:10 "'Your mother was like a vine in your vineyard, planted by water. It was fruitful and full of branches because it was well-watered.

Ezekiel 19:11 Its boughs were strong, fit for rulers’ scepters; it reached up into the clouds. It stood out because of its height and its many branches.

Ezekiel 19:12 But it was plucked up in anger; it was thrown down to the ground. The east wind dried up its fruit; its strong branches broke off and withered– a fire consumed them.

Ezekiel 19:13 Now it is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land.

Ezekiel 19:14 A fire has gone out from its branch; it has consumed its shoot and its fruit. No strong branch was left in it, nor a scepter to rule.’ This is a lament song, and has become a lament song.”

Ezekiel 20:1 In the seventh year, in the fifth month, on the tenth of the month, some of the elders of Israel came to seek the LORD, and they sat down in front of me.

Ezekiel 20:2 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 20:3 “Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel, and tell them: ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Are you coming to seek me? As surely as I live, I will not allow you to seek me, declares the sovereign LORD.’

Ezekiel 20:4 “Are you willing to pronounce judgment? Are you willing to pronounce judgment, son of man? Then confront them with the abominable practices of their fathers, Ezekiel 20:5 and say to them: “‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: On the day I chose Israel I swore to the descendants of the house of Jacob and made myself known to them in the land of Egypt. I swore to them, “I am the LORD your God.”

Ezekiel 20:6 On that day I swore to bring them out of the land of Egypt to a land which I had picked out for them, a land flowing with milk and honey, the most beautiful of all lands.

Ezekiel 20:7 I said to them, “Each of you must get rid of the detestable idols you keep before you, and do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD your God.”

Ezekiel 20:8 But they rebelled against me, and refused to listen to me; no one got rid of their detestable idols, nor did they abandon the idols of Egypt. Then I decided to pour out my rage on them and fully vent my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 20:9 I acted for the sake of my reputation, so that I would not be profaned before the nations among whom they lived, before whom I revealed myself by bringing them out of the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 20:10 “‘So I brought them out of the land of Egypt and led them to the wilderness.

Ezekiel 20:11 I gave them my statutes and revealed my regulations to them. The one who carries them out will live by them!

Ezekiel 20:12 I also gave them my Sabbaths as a reminder of our relationship, so that they would know that I, the LORD, sanctify them.

Ezekiel 20:13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness; they did not follow my statutes and they rejected my regulations (the one who obeys them will live by them), and they utterly desecrated my Sabbaths. So I decided to pour out my rage on them in the wilderness and destroy them.

Ezekiel 20:14 I acted for the sake of my reputation, so that I would not be profaned before the nations in whose sight I had brought them out.

Ezekiel 20:15 I also swore to them in the wilderness that I would not bring them to the land I had given them– a land flowing with milk and honey, the most beautiful of all lands.

Ezekiel 20:16 I did this because they rejected my regulations, did not follow my statutes, and desecrated my Sabbaths; for their hearts followed their idols.

Ezekiel 20:17 Yet I had pity on them and did not destroy them, so I did not make an end of them in the wilderness.

Ezekiel 20:18 "'But I said to their children in the wilderness, "Do not follow the practices of your fathers; do not observe their regulations, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

Ezekiel 20:19 I am the LORD your God; follow my statutes, observe my regulations, and carry them out.

Ezekiel 20:20 Treat my Sabbaths as holy and they will be a reminder of our relationship, and then you will know that I am the LORD your God."

Ezekiel 20:21 "'But the children rebelled against me, did not follow my statutes, did not observe my regulations by carrying them out (the one who obeys them will live by them), and desecrated my Sabbaths. I decided to pour out my rage on them and fully vent my anger against them in the wilderness.

Ezekiel 20:22 But I refrained from doing so, and acted instead for the sake of my reputation, so that I would not be profaned before the nations in whose sight I had brought them out.

Ezekiel 20:23 I also swore to them in the wilderness that I would scatter them among the nations and disperse them throughout the lands.

Ezekiel 20:24 I did this because they did not observe my regulations, they rejected my statutes, they desecrated my Sabbaths, and their eyes were fixed on their fathers' idols.

Ezekiel 20:25 I also gave them decrees which were not good and regulations by which they could not live.

Ezekiel 20:26 I declared them to be defiled because of their sacrifices– they caused all their first born to pass through the fire– so that I would devastate them, so that they will know that I am the LORD.’

Ezekiel 20:27 “Therefore, speak to the house of Israel, son of man, and tell them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: In this way too your fathers blasphemed me when they were unfaithful to me.

Ezekiel 20:28 I brought them to the land which I swore to give them, but whenever they saw any high hill or leafy tree, they offered their sacrifices there and presented the offerings that provoke me to anger. They offered their soothing aroma there and poured out their drink offerings.

Ezekiel 20:29 So I said to them, What is this high place you go to?’“ (So it is called “High Place” to this day.)

Ezekiel 20:30 “Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Will you defile yourselves like your fathers and engage in prostitution with detestable idols?

Ezekiel 20:31 When you present your sacrifices– when you make your sons pass through the fire– you defile yourselves with all your idols to this very day. Will I allow you to seek me, O house of Israel? As surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, I will not allow you to seek me!

Ezekiel 20:32 “‘What you plan will never happen. You say, “We will be like the nations, like the clans of the lands, who serve gods of wood and stone.”

Ezekiel 20:33 As surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, with a powerful hand and an outstretched arm, and with an outpouring of rage, I will be king over you.

Ezekiel 20:34 I will bring you out from the nations, and will gather you from the lands where you are scattered, with a powerful hand and an outstretched arm and with an outpouring of rage!

Ezekiel 20:35 I will bring you into the wilderness of the nations, and there I will enter into judgment with you face to face.

Ezekiel 20:36 Just as I entered into judgment with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so I will enter into judgment with you, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 20:37 I will make you pass under the shepherd’s staff, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

Ezekiel 20:38 I will eliminate from among you the rebels and those who revolt against me. I will bring them out from the land where they have been residing, but they will not come to the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 20:39 “‘As for you, O house of Israel, this is what the sovereign LORD says: Each of you go and serve your idols, if you will not listen to me. But my holy name will not be profaned again by your sacrifices and your idols.

Ezekiel 20:40 For there on my holy mountain, the high mountain of Israel, declares the sovereign LORD, all the house of Israel will serve me, all of them in the land. I will accept them there, and there I will seek your contributions and your choice gifts, with all your holy things.

Ezekiel 20:41 When I bring you out from the nations and gather you from the lands where you are scattered, I will accept you along with your soothing aroma. I will display my holiness among you in the sight of the nations.

Ezekiel 20:42 Then you will know that I am the LORD when I bring you to the land of Israel, to the land I swore to give to your fathers.

Ezekiel 20:43 And there you will remember your conduct and all your deeds by which you defiled yourselves. You will despise yourselves because of all the evil deeds you have done.

Ezekiel 20:44 Then you will know that I am the LORD, when I deal with you for the sake of my reputation and not according to your wicked conduct and corrupt deeds, O house of Israel, declares the sovereign LORD.'"

Ezekiel 20:45 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 20:46 "Son of man, turn toward the south, and speak out against the south. Prophesy against the open scrub land of the Negev,

Ezekiel 20:47 and say to the scrub land of the Negev, 'Hear the word of the LORD: This is what the sovereign LORD says: Look here, I am about to start a fire in you, and it will devour every green tree and every dry tree in you. The flaming fire will not be extinguished, and the whole surface of the ground from the Negev to the north will be scorched by it.

Ezekiel 20:48 And everyone will see that I, the LORD, have burned it; it will not be extinguished.'"

Ezekiel 20:49 Then I said, "O sovereign LORD! They are saying of me, 'Does he not simply speak in eloquent figures of speech?'"

Ezekiel 21:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 21:2 "Son of man, turn toward Jerusalem and speak out against the sanctuaries. Prophesy against the land of Israel

Ezekiel 21:3 and say to them, 'This is what the LORD says: Look, I am against you. I will draw my sword from its sheath and cut off from you both the righteous and the wicked.

Ezekiel 21:4 Because I will cut off from you both the righteous and the wicked, my sword will go out from its sheath against everyone from the south to the north.

Ezekiel 21:5 Then everyone will know that I am the LORD, who drew my sword from its sheath– it will not be sheathed again!'

Ezekiel 21:6 “And you, son of man, groan with an aching heart and bitterness; groan before their eyes.

Ezekiel 21:7 When they ask you, ‘Why are you groaning?’ you will reply, ‘Because of the report that has come. Every heart will melt with fear and every hand will be limp; everyone will faint and every knee will be wet with urine.’ Pay attention– it is coming and it will happen, declares the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 21:8 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 21:9 “Son of man, prophesy and say: ‘This is what the Lord says: “‘A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also polished.

Ezekiel 21:10 It is sharpened for slaughter, it is polished to flash like lightning! “‘Should we rejoice in the scepter of my son? No! The sword despises every tree!

Ezekiel 21:11 “‘He gave it to be polished, to be grasped in the hand– the sword is sharpened, it is polished– giving it into the hand of the executioner.

Ezekiel 21:12 Cry out and moan, son of man, for it is wielded against my people; against all the princes of Israel. They are delivered up to the sword, along with my people. Therefore, strike your thigh.

Ezekiel 21:13 “‘For testing will come, and what will happen when the scepter, which the sword despises, is no more? declares the sovereign LORD.’

Ezekiel 21:14 “And you, son of man, prophesy, and clap your hands together. Let the sword strike twice, even three times! It is a sword for slaughter, a sword for the great slaughter surrounding them.

Ezekiel 21:15 So hearts melt with fear and many stumble. At all their gates I have stationed the sword for slaughter. Ah! It is made to flash, it is drawn for slaughter!

Ezekiel 21:16 Cut sharply on the right! Swing to the left, wherever your edge is appointed to strike.

Ezekiel 21:17 I too will clap my hands together, I will exhaust my rage; I the LORD have spoken.”

Ezekiel 21:18 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 21:19 “You, son of man, mark out two routes for the king of Babylon’s sword to take; both of them will originate in a single land. Make a signpost and put it at the beginning of the road leading to the city.

Ezekiel 21:20 Mark out the routes for the sword to take: “Rabbah of the Ammonites” and “Judah with Jerusalem in it.”

Ezekiel 21:21 For the king of Babylon stands at the fork in the road at the head of the two routes. He looks for omens: He shakes arrows, he consults idols, he examines animal livers.

Ezekiel 21:22 Into his right hand comes the portent for Jerusalem– to set up battering rams, to give the signal for slaughter, to shout out the battle cry, to set up battering rams against the gates, to erect a siege ramp, to build a siege wall.

Ezekiel 21:23 But those in Jerusalem will view it as a false omen. They have sworn solemn oaths, but the king of Babylon will accuse them of violations in order to seize them.

Ezekiel 21:24 “Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: ‘Because you have brought up your own guilt by uncovering your transgressions and revealing your sins through all your actions, for this reason you will be taken by force.

Ezekiel 21:25 “‘As for you, profane and wicked prince of Israel, whose day has come, the time of final punishment,

Ezekiel 21:26 this is what the sovereign LORD says: Tear off the turban, take off the crown! Things must change! Exalt the lowly, bring down the proud!

Ezekiel 21:27 A total ruin I will make it! It will come to an end when the one arrives to whom I have assigned judgment.’

Ezekiel 21:28 “As for you, son of man, prophesy and say, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says concerning the Ammonites and their coming humiliation; say: “‘A sword, a sword drawn for slaughter, polished to consume, to flash like lightning–

Ezekiel 21:29 while seeing false visions for you and reading lying omens for you– to place that sword on the necks of the profane wicked, whose day has come, the time of final punishment.

Ezekiel 21:30 Return it to its sheath! In the place where you were created, in your native land, I will judge you.

Ezekiel 21:31 I will pour out my anger on you; the fire of my fury I will blow on you. I will hand you over to brutal men, who are skilled in destruction.

Ezekiel 21:32 You will become fuel for the fire– your blood will stain the middle of the land; you will no longer be remembered, for I, the LORD, have spoken.’“

Ezekiel 22:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 22:2 “As for you, son of man, are you willing to pronounce judgment, are you willing to pronounce judgment on the bloody city? Then confront her with all her abominable deeds!

Ezekiel 22:3 Then say, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: O city, who spills blood within herself (which brings on her doom), and who makes herself idols (which results in impurity),

Ezekiel 22:4 you are guilty because of the blood you shed and defiled by the idols you made. You have hastened the day of your doom; the end of your years has come. Therefore I will make you an object of scorn to the nations, an object to be mocked by all lands.

Ezekiel 22:5 Those both near and far from you will mock you, you with your bad reputation, full of turmoil.

Ezekiel 22:6 "'See how each of the princes of Israel living within you has used his authority to shed blood.

Ezekiel 22:7 They have treated father and mother with contempt within you; they have oppressed the foreigner among you; they have wronged the orphan and the widow within you.

Ezekiel 22:8 You have despised my holy things and desecrated my Sabbaths!

Ezekiel 22:9 Slanderous men shed blood within you. Those who live within you eat pagan sacrifices on the mountains; they commit obscene acts among you.

Ezekiel 22:10 They have sex with their father's wife within you; they violate women during their menstrual period within you.

Ezekiel 22:11 One commits an abominable act with his neighbor's wife; another obscenely defiles his daughter-in-law; another violates his sister– his father's daughter– within you.

Ezekiel 22:12 They take bribes within you to shed blood. You engage in usury and charge interest; you extort money from your neighbors. You have forgotten me, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 22:13 "'See, I strike my hands together at the dishonest profit you have made, and at the bloodshed they have done among you.

Ezekiel 22:14 Can your heart endure, or can your hands be strong when I deal with you? I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will do it!

Ezekiel 22:15 I will scatter you among the nations and disperse you among various countries; I will remove your impurity from you.

Ezekiel 22:16 You will be profaned within yourself in the sight of the nations; then you will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezekiel 22:17 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 22:18 "Son of man, the house of Israel has become slag to me. All of them are like bronze, tin, iron, and lead in the furnace; they are the worthless slag of silver.

Ezekiel 22:19 Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: 'Because all of you have become slag, look out!– I am about to gather you in the middle of Jerusalem.

Ezekiel 22:20 As silver, bronze, iron, lead, and tin are gathered in a furnace so that the fire can melt them, so I will gather you in my anger and in my rage. I will deposit you there and melt you.

Ezekiel 22:21 I will gather you and blow on you with the fire of my fury, and you will be melted in it.

Ezekiel 22:22 As silver is melted in a furnace, so you will be melted in it, and you will know that I, the LORD, have poured out my anger on you.’“

Ezekiel 22:23 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 22:24 “Son of man, say to her: ‘You are a land that receives no rain or showers in the day of my anger.’

Ezekiel 22:25 Her princes within her are like a roaring lion tearing its prey; they have devoured lives. They take away riches and valuable things; they have made many women widows within it.

Ezekiel 22:26 Her priests abuse my law and have desecrated my holy things. They do not distinguish between the holy and the profane, or recognize any distinction between the unclean and the clean. They ignore my Sabbaths and I am profaned in their midst.

Ezekiel 22:27 Her officials are like wolves in her midst rending their prey– shedding blood and destroying lives– so they can get dishonest profit.

Ezekiel 22:28 Her prophets coat their messages with whitewash. They see false visions and announce lying omens for them, saying, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says,’ when the LORD has not spoken.

Ezekiel 22:29 The people of the land have practiced extortion and committed robbery. They have wronged the poor and needy; they have oppressed the foreigner who lives among them and denied them justice.

Ezekiel 22:30 “I looked for a man from among them who would repair the wall and stand in the gap before me on behalf of the land, so that I would not destroy it, but I found no one.

Ezekiel 22:31 So I have poured my anger on them, and destroyed them with the fire of my fury. I hereby repay them for what they have done, declares the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 23:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 23:2 “Son of man, there were two women who were daughters of the same mother.

Ezekiel 23:3 They engaged in prostitution in Egypt; in their youth they engaged in prostitution. Their breasts were squeezed there; lovers fondled their virgin nipples there.

Ezekiel 23:4 Oholah was the name of the older and Oholibah the name of her younger sister. They became mine, and gave birth to sons and daughters. Oholah is Samaria and Oholibah is Jerusalem.

Ezekiel 23:5 “Oholah engaged in prostitution while she was mine. She lusted after her lovers, the Assyrians– warriors

Ezekiel 23:6 clothed in blue, governors and officials, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding on horses.

Ezekiel 23:7 She bestowed her sexual favors on them; all of them were the choicest young men of Assyria. She defiled herself with all whom she desired– with all their idols.

Ezekiel 23:8 She did not abandon the prostitution she had practiced in Egypt; for in her youth men had sex with her, fondled her virgin breasts, and ravished her.

Ezekiel 23:9 Therefore I handed her over to her lovers, the Assyrians for whom she lusted.

Ezekiel 23:10 They exposed her nakedness, seized her sons and daughters, and killed her with the sword. She became notorious among women, and they executed judgments against her.

Ezekiel 23:11 "Her sister Oholibah watched this, but she became more corrupt in her lust than her sister had been, and her acts of prostitution were more numerous than those of her sister.

Ezekiel 23:12 She lusted after the Assyrians– governors and officials, warriors in full armor, horsemen riding on horses, all of them desirable young men.

Ezekiel 23:13 I saw that she was defiled; both of them followed the same path.

Ezekiel 23:14 But she increased her prostitution. She saw men carved on the wall, images of the Chaldeans carved in bright red,

Ezekiel 23:15 wearing belts on their waists and flowing turbans on their heads, all of them looking like officers, the image of Babylonians whose native land is Chaldea.

Ezekiel 23:16 When she saw them, she lusted after them and sent messengers to them in Chaldea.

Ezekiel 23:17 The Babylonians crawled into bed with her. They defiled her with their lust; after she was defiled by them, she became disgusted with them.

Ezekiel 23:18 When she lustfully exposed her nakedness, I was disgusted with her, just as I had been disgusted with her sister.

Ezekiel 23:19 Yet she increased her prostitution, remembering the days of her youth when she engaged in prostitution in the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 23:20 She lusted after their genitals– as large as those of donkeys, and their seminal emission was as strong as that of stallions.

Ezekiel 23:21 This is how you assessed the obscene conduct of your youth, when the Egyptians fondled your nipples and squeezed your young breasts.

Ezekiel 23:22 "Therefore, Oholibah, this is what the sovereign LORD says: Look here, I am about to stir up against you the lovers with whom you were disgusted; I will bring them against you from every side:

Ezekiel 23:23 the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod, Shoa, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them, desirable young men, all of them governors and officials, officers and nobles, all of them riding on horses.

Ezekiel 23:24 They will attack you with weapons, chariots, wagons, and with a huge army; they will array themselves against you on every side with large shields, small shields, and helmets. I will assign them the task of judgment; they will punish you according to their laws.

Ezekiel 23:25 I will direct my jealous anger against you, and they will deal with you in rage. They will cut off your nose and your ears, and your survivors will die by the sword. They will seize your sons and daughters, and your survivors will be consumed by fire.

Ezekiel 23:26 They will strip your clothes off you and take away your beautiful jewelry.

Ezekiel 23:27 So I will put an end to your obscene conduct and your prostitution which you have practiced in the land of Egypt. You will not seek their help or remember Egypt anymore.

Ezekiel 23:28 “For this is what the sovereign LORD says: Look here, I am about to deliver you over to those whom you hate, to those with whom you were disgusted.

Ezekiel 23:29 They will treat you with hatred, take away all you have labored for, and leave you naked and bare. Your nakedness will be exposed, just as when you engaged in prostitution and obscene conduct.

Ezekiel 23:30 I will do these things to you because you engaged in prostitution with the nations, polluting yourself with their idols.

Ezekiel 23:31 You have followed the ways of your sister, so I will place her cup of judgment in your hand.

Ezekiel 23:32 “This is what the sovereign LORD says: “You will drink your sister’s deep and wide cup; you will be scorned and derided, for it holds a great deal.

Ezekiel 23:33 You will be overcome by drunkenness and sorrow. The cup of your sister Samaria is a cup of horror and desolation.

Ezekiel 23:34 You will drain it dry, gnaw its pieces, and tear out your breasts, for I have spoken, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 23:35 “Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Because you have forgotten me and completely disregarded me, you must bear now the punishment for your obscene conduct and prostitution.”

Ezekiel 23:36 The LORD said to me: “Son of man, are you willing to pronounce judgment on Oholah and Oholibah? Then declare to them their abominable deeds!

Ezekiel 23:37 For they have committed adultery and blood is on their hands. They have committed adultery with their idols, and their sons, whom they bore to me, they have passed through the fire as food to their idols.

Ezekiel 23:38 Moreover, they have done this to me: In the very same day they desecrated my sanctuary and profaned my Sabbaths.

Ezekiel 23:39 On the same day they slaughtered their sons for their idols, they came to my sanctuary to desecrate it. This is what they have done in the middle of my house.

Ezekiel 23:40 "They even sent for men from far away; when the messenger arrived, those men set out. For them you bathed, painted your eyes, and decorated yourself with jewelry.

Ezekiel 23:41 You sat on a magnificent couch, with a table arranged in front of it where you placed my incense and my olive oil.

Ezekiel 23:42 The sound of a carefree crowd accompanied her, including all kinds of men; even Sabeans were brought from the desert. The sisters put bracelets on their wrists and beautiful crowns on their heads.

Ezekiel 23:43 Then I said about the one worn out by adultery, 'Now they will commit immoral acts with her.'

Ezekiel 23:44 They had sex with her as one does with a prostitute. In this way they had sex with Oholah and Oholibah, promiscuous women.

Ezekiel 23:45 But upright men will punish them appropriately for their adultery and bloodshed, because they are adulteresses and blood is on their hands.

Ezekiel 23:46 "For this is what the sovereign LORD says: Bring up an army against them and subject them to terror and plunder.

Ezekiel 23:47 That army will pelt them with stones and slash them with their swords; they will kill their sons and daughters and burn their houses.

Ezekiel 23:48 I will put an end to the obscene conduct in the land; all the women will learn a lesson from this and not engage in obscene conduct.

Ezekiel 23:49 They will repay you for your obscene conduct, and you will be punished for idol worship. Then you will know that I am the sovereign LORD."

Ezekiel 24:1 The word of the LORD came to me in the ninth year, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month:

Ezekiel 24:2 "Son of man, write down the name of this day, this very day. The king of Babylon has laid siege to Jerusalem this very day.

Ezekiel 24:3 Recite a proverb to this rebellious house and say to them, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: "'Set on the pot, set it on, pour water in it too;

Ezekiel 24:4 add the pieces of meat to it, every good piece, the thigh and the shoulder; fill it with choice bones.

Ezekiel 24:5 Take the choice bone of the flock, heap up bones under it; boil rapidly, and boil its bones in it.

Ezekiel 24:6 "'Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Woe to the city of bloodshed, the pot whose rot is in it, whose rot has not been removed from it! Empty it piece by piece. No lot has fallen on it.

Ezekiel 24:7 For her blood was in it; she poured it on an exposed rock; she did not pour it on the ground to cover it up with dust.

Ezekiel 24:8 To arouse anger, to take vengeance, I have placed her blood on an exposed rock so that it cannot be covered up.

Ezekiel 24:9 "'Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Woe to the city of bloodshed! I will also make the pile high.

Ezekiel 24:10 Pile up the bones, kindle the fire; cook the meat well, mix in the spices, let the bones be charred.

Ezekiel 24:11 Set the empty pot on the coals, until it becomes hot and its copper glows, until its uncleanness melts within it and its rot is consumed.

Ezekiel 24:12 It has tried my patience; yet its thick rot is not removed from it. Subject its rot to the fire!

Ezekiel 24:13 You mix uncleanness with obscene conduct. I tried to cleanse you, but you are not clean. You will not be cleansed from your uncleanness until I have exhausted my anger on you.

Ezekiel 24:14 "'I the LORD have spoken; judgment is coming and I will act! I will not relent, or show pity, or be sorry! I will judge you according to your conduct and your deeds, declares the sovereign LORD.'"

Ezekiel 24:15 The word of LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 24:16 "Son of man, realize that I am about to take the delight of your eyes away from you with a jolt, but you must not mourn or weep or shed tears.

Ezekiel 24:17 Groan in silence for the dead, but do not perform mourning rites. Bind on your turban and put your sandals on your feet. Do not cover your lip and do not eat food brought by others."

Ezekiel 24:18 So I spoke to the people in the morning, and my wife died in the evening. In the morning I acted just as I was commanded.

Ezekiel 24:19 Then the people said to me, "Will you not tell us what these things you are doing mean for us?"

Ezekiel 24:20 So I said to them: "The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 24:21 Say to the house of Israel, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: Realize I am about to desecrate my sanctuary– the source of your confident pride, the object in which your eyes delight, and your life's passion. Your very own sons and daughters whom you have left behind will die by the sword.

Ezekiel 24:22 Then you will do as I have done: You will not cover your lip or eat food brought by others.

Ezekiel 24:23 Your turbans will be on your heads and your sandals on your feet; you will not mourn or weep, but you will rot for your iniquities and groan among yourselves.

Ezekiel 24:24 Ezekiel will be an object lesson for you; you will do all that he has done. When it happens, then you will know that I am the sovereign LORD.’

Ezekiel 24:25 “And you, son of man, this is what will happen on the day I take from them their stronghold– their beautiful source of joy, the object in which their eyes delight, and the main concern of their lives, as well as their sons and daughters:

Ezekiel 24:26 On that day a fugitive will come to you to report the news.

Ezekiel 24:27 On that day you will be able to speak again; you will talk with the fugitive and be silent no longer. You will be an object lesson for them, and they will know that I am the LORD.”

Ezekiel 25:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 25:2 “Son of man, turn toward the Ammonites and prophesy against them.

Ezekiel 25:3 Say to the Ammonites, ‘Hear the word of the sovereign LORD: This is what the sovereign LORD says: You said “Aha!” about my sanctuary when it was desecrated, about the land of Israel when it was made desolate, and about the house of Judah when they went into exile.

Ezekiel 25:4 So take note, I am about to make you slaves of the tribes of the east. They will make camps among you and pitch their tents among you. They will eat your fruit and drink your milk.

Ezekiel 25:5 I will make Rabbah a pasture for camels and Ammon a resting place for sheep. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 25:6 For this is what the sovereign LORD says: Because you clapped your hands, stamped your feet, and rejoiced with intense scorn over the land of Israel,

Ezekiel 25:7 take note, I have stretched out my hand against you, and I will hand you over as plunder to the nations. I will cut you off from the peoples and make you perish from the lands. I will destroy you; then you will know that I am the LORD.’“

Ezekiel 25:8 “This is what the sovereign LORD says: ‘Moab and Seir say, “Look, the house of Judah is like all the other nations.”

Ezekiel 25:9 So look, I am about to open up Moab’s flank, eliminating the cities, including its frontier cities, the beauty of the land–Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kiriathaim.

Ezekiel 25:10 I will hand it over, along with the Ammonites, to the tribes of the east, so that the Ammonites will no longer be remembered among the nations.

Ezekiel 25:11 I will execute judgments against Moab. Then they will know that I am the LORD.’“

Ezekiel 25:12 “This is what the sovereign LORD says: ‘Edom has taken vengeance against the house of Judah; they have made themselves fully culpable by taking vengeance on them.

Ezekiel 25:13 So this is what the sovereign LORD says: I will stretch out my hand against Edom, and I will kill the people and animals within her, and I will make her desolate; from Teman to Dedan they will die by the sword.

Ezekiel 25:14 I will exact my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel. They will carry out in Edom my anger and rage; they will experience my vengeance, declares the sovereign LORD.’“

Ezekiel 25:15 “This is what the sovereign LORD says: ‘The Philistines have exacted merciless revenge, showing intense scorn in their effort to destroy Judah with unrelenting hostility.

Ezekiel 25:16 So this is what the sovereign LORD says: Take note, I am about to stretch out my hand against the Philistines. I will kill the Cherethites and destroy those who remain on the seacoast.

Ezekiel 25:17 I will exact great vengeance upon them with angry rebukes. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I exact my vengeance upon them.’“

Ezekiel 26:1 In the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 26:2 “Son of man, because Tyre has said about Jerusalem, ‘Aha, the gateway of the peoples is broken; it has swung open to me. I will become rich, now that she has been destroyed,’

Ezekiel 26:3 therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am against you, O Tyre! I will bring up many nations against you, as the sea brings up its waves.

Ezekiel 26:4 They will destroy the walls of Tyre and break down her towers. I will scrape her soil from her and make her a bare rock.

Ezekiel 26:5 She will be a place where fishing nets are spread, surrounded by the sea. For I have spoken, declares the sovereign LORD. She will become plunder for the nations,

Ezekiel 26:6 and her daughters who are in the field will be slaughtered by the sword. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 26:7 “For this is what the sovereign LORD says: Take note that I am about to bring King Nebuchadrezzar of Babylon, king of kings, against Tyre from the north, with horses, chariots, and horsemen, an army and hordes of people.

Ezekiel 26:8 He will kill your daughters in the field with the sword. He will build a siege wall against you, erect a siege ramp against you, and raise a great shield against you.

Ezekiel 26:9 He will direct the blows of his battering rams against your walls and tear down your towers with his weapons.

Ezekiel 26:10 He will cover you with the dust kicked up by his many horses. Your walls will shake from the noise of the horsemen, wheels, and chariots when he enters your gates like those who invade through a city’s broken walls.

Ezekiel 26:11 With his horses’ hoofs he will trample all your streets. He will kill your people with the sword, and your strong pillars will tumble down to the ground.

Ezekiel 26:12 They will steal your wealth and loot your merchandise. They will tear down your walls and destroy your luxurious homes. Your stones, your trees, and your soil he will throw into the water.

Ezekiel 26:13 I will silence the noise of your songs; the sound of your harps will be heard no more.

Ezekiel 26:14 I will make you a bare rock; you will be a place where fishing nets are spread. You will never be built again, for I, the LORD, have spoken, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 26:15 “This is what the sovereign LORD says to Tyre: Oh, how the coastlands will shake at the sound of your fall, when the wounded groan, at the massive slaughter in your midst!

Ezekiel 26:16 All the princes of the sea will vacate their thrones. They will remove their robes and strip off their embroidered clothes; they will clothe themselves with trembling. They will sit on the ground; they will tremble continually and be shocked at what has happened to you.

Ezekiel 26:17 They will sing this lament over you: “‘How you have perished– you have vanished from the seas, O renowned city, once mighty in the sea, she and her inhabitants, who spread their terror!

Ezekiel 26:18 Now the coastlands will tremble on the day of your fall; the coastlands by the sea will be terrified by your passing.’

Ezekiel 26:19 “For this is what the sovereign LORD says: When I make you desolate like the uninhabited cities, when I bring up the deep over you and the surging waters overwhelm you,

Ezekiel 26:20 then I will bring you down to bygone people, to be with those who descend to the pit. I will make you live in the lower parts of the earth, among the primeval ruins, with those who descend to the pit, so that you will not be inhabited or stand in the land of the living.

Ezekiel 26:21 I will bring terrors on you, and you will be no more! Though you are sought after, you will never be found again, declares the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 27:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 27:2 “You, son of man, sing a lament for Tyre.

Ezekiel 27:3 Say to Tyre, who sits at the entrance of the sea, merchant to the peoples on many coasts, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: “‘O Tyre, you have said, “I am perfectly beautiful.”

Ezekiel 27:4 Your borders are in the heart of the seas; your builders have perfected your beauty.

Ezekiel 27:5 They crafted all your planks out of fir trees from Senir; they took a cedar from Lebanon to make your mast.

Ezekiel 27:6 They made your oars from oaks of Bashan; they made your deck with cypresses from the Kittean isles.

Ezekiel 27:7 Fine linen from Egypt, woven with patterns, was used for your sail to serve as your banner; blue and purple from the coastlands of Elishah was used for your deck’s awning.

Ezekiel 27:8 The leaders of Sidon and Arvad were your rowers; your skilled men, O Tyre, were your captains.

Ezekiel 27:9 The elders of Gebal and her skilled men were within you, mending cracks; all the ships of the sea and their mariners were within you to trade for your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:10 Men of Persia, Lud, and Put were in your army, men of war. They hung shield and helmet on you; they gave you your splendor.

Ezekiel 27:11 The Arvadites joined your army on your walls all around, and the Gammadites were in your towers. They hung their quivers on your walls all around; they perfected your beauty.

Ezekiel 27:12 “‘Tarshish was your trade partner because of your abundant wealth; they exchanged silver, iron, tin, and lead for your products.

Ezekiel 27:13 Javan, Tubal, and Meshech were your clients; they exchanged slaves and bronze items for your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:14 Beth Togarmah exchanged horses, chargers, and mules for your products.

Ezekiel 27:15 The Dedanites were your clients. Many coastlands were your customers; they paid you with ivory tusks and ebony.

Ezekiel 27:16 Edom was your trade partner because of the abundance of your goods; they exchanged turquoise, purple, embroidered work, fine linen, coral, and rubies for your products.

Ezekiel 27:17 Judah and the land of Israel were your clients; they traded wheat from Minnith, millet, honey, olive oil, and balm for your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:18 Damascus was your trade partner because of the abundance of your goods and of all your wealth: wine from Helbon, white wool from Zahar,

Ezekiel 27:19 and casks of wine from Izal they exchanged for your products. Wrought iron, cassia, and sweet cane were among your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:20 Dedan was your client in saddlecloths for riding.

Ezekiel 27:21 Arabia and all the princes of Kedar were your trade partners; for lambs, rams, and goats they traded with you.

Ezekiel 27:22 The merchants of Sheba and Raamah engaged in trade with you; they traded the best kinds of spices along with precious stones and gold for your products.

Ezekiel 27:23 Haran, Kanneh, Eden, merchants from Sheba, Asshur, and Kilmad were your clients.

Ezekiel 27:24 They traded with you choice garments, purple clothes and embroidered work, and multicolored carpets, bound and reinforced with cords; these were among your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:25 The ships of Tarshish were the transports for your merchandise. "'So you were filled and weighed down in the heart of the seas.

Ezekiel 27:26 Your rowers have brought you into surging waters. The east wind has wrecked you in the heart of the seas.

Ezekiel 27:27 Your wealth, products, and merchandise, your sailors and captains, your ship's carpenters, your merchants, and all your fighting men within you, along with all your crew who are in you, will fall into the heart of the seas on the day of your downfall.

Ezekiel 27:28 At the sound of your captains' cry the waves will surge;

Ezekiel 27:29 They will descend from their ships– all who handle the oar, the sailors and all the sea captains– they will stand on the land.

Ezekiel 27:30 They will lament loudly over you and cry bitterly. They will throw dust on their heads and roll in the ashes;

Ezekiel 27:31 they will tear out their hair because of you and put on sackcloth, and they will weep bitterly over you with intense mourning.

Ezekiel 27:32 As they wail they will lament over you, chanting: "Who was like Tyre, like a tower in the midst of the sea?"

Ezekiel 27:33 When your products went out from the seas, you satisfied many peoples; with the abundance of your wealth and merchandise you enriched the kings of the earth.

Ezekiel 27:34 Now you are wrecked by the seas, in the depths of the waters; your merchandise and all your company have sunk along with you.

Ezekiel 27:35 All the inhabitants of the coastlands are shocked at you, and their kings are horribly afraid– their faces are troubled.

Ezekiel 27:36 The traders among the peoples hiss at you; you have become a horror, and will be no more.’“

Ezekiel 28:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 28:2 “Son of man, say to the prince of Tyre, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: “‘Your heart is proud and you said, “I am a god; I sit in the seat of gods, in the heart of the seas”– yet you are a man and not a god, though you think you are godlike.

Ezekiel 28:3 Look, you are wiser than Daniel; no secret is hidden from you.

Ezekiel 28:4 By your wisdom and understanding you have gained wealth for yourself; you have amassed gold and silver in your treasuries.

Ezekiel 28:5 By your great skill in trade you have increased your wealth, and your heart is proud because of your wealth.

Ezekiel 28:6 “‘Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Because you think you are godlike,

Ezekiel 28:7 I am about to bring foreigners against you, the most terrifying of nations. They will draw their swords against the grandeur made by your wisdom, and they will defile your splendor.

Ezekiel 28:8 They will bring you down to the pit, and you will die violently in the heart of the seas.

Ezekiel 28:9 Will you still say, “I am a god,” before the one who kills you– though you are a man and not a god– when you are in the power of those who wound you?

Ezekiel 28:10 You will die the death of the uncircumcised by the hand of foreigners; for I have spoken, declares the sovereign LORD.’“

Ezekiel 28:11 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 28:12 “Son of man, sing a lament for the king of Tyre, and say to him, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: “‘You were the sealer of perfection, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.

Ezekiel 28:13 You were in Eden, the garden of God. Every precious stone was your covering, the ruby, topaz, and emerald, the chrysolite, onyx, and jasper, the sapphire, turquoise, and beryl; your settings and mounts were made of gold. On the day you were created they were prepared.

Ezekiel 28:14 I placed you there with an anointed guardian cherub; you were on the holy mountain of God; you walked about amidst fiery stones.

Ezekiel 28:15 You were blameless in your behavior from the day you were created, until sin was discovered in you.

Ezekiel 28:16 In the abundance of your trade you were filled with violence, and you sinned; so I defiled you and banished you from the mountain of God– the guardian cherub expelled you from the midst of the stones of fire.

Ezekiel 28:17 Your heart was proud because of your beauty; you corrupted your wisdom on account of your splendor. I threw you down to the ground; I placed you before kings, that they might see you.

Ezekiel 28:18 By the multitude of your iniquities, through the sinfulness of your trade, you desecrated your sanctuaries. So I drew fire out from within you; it consumed you, and I turned you to ashes on the earth before the eyes of all who saw you.

Ezekiel 28:19 All who know you among the peoples are shocked at you; you have become terrified and will be no more.'"

Ezekiel 28:20 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 28:21 "Son of man, turn toward Sidon and prophesy against it.

Ezekiel 28:22 Say, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: "'Look, I am against you, Sidon, and I will magnify myself in your midst. Then they will know that I am the LORD when I execute judgments on her and reveal my sovereign power in her.

Ezekiel 28:23 I will send a plague into the city and bloodshed into its streets; the slain will fall within it, by the sword that attacks it from every side. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 28:24 "'No longer will Israel suffer from the sharp briers or painful thorns of all who surround and scorn them. Then they will know that I am the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 28:25 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: When I regather the house of Israel from the peoples where they are dispersed, I will reveal my sovereign power over them in the sight of the nations, and they will live in their land that I gave to my servant Jacob.

Ezekiel 28:26 They will live securely in it; they will build houses and plant vineyards. They will live securely when I execute my judgments on all those who scorn them and surround them. Then they will know that I am the LORD their God.'"

Ezekiel 29:1 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 29:2 "Son of man, turn toward Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and against all Egypt.

Ezekiel 29:3 Tell them, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: "'Look, I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great monster lying in the midst of its waterways, who has said, "My Nile is my own, I made it for myself."

Ezekiel 29:4 I will put hooks in your jaws and stick the fish of your waterways to your scales. I will haul you up from the midst of your waterways, and all the fish of your waterways will stick to your scales.

Ezekiel 29:5 I will leave you in the wilderness, you and all the fish of your waterways; you will fall in the open field and will not be gathered up or collected. I have given you as food to the beasts of the earth and the birds of the skies.

Ezekiel 29:6 Then all those living in Egypt will know that I am the LORD because they were a reed staff for the house of Israel;

Ezekiel 29:7 when they grasped you with their hand, you broke and tore their shoulders, and when they leaned on you, you splintered and caused their legs to be unsteady.

Ezekiel 29:8 “‘Therefore, this is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am about to bring a sword against you, and I will kill every person and every animal.

Ezekiel 29:9 The land of Egypt will become a desolate ruin. Then they will know that I am the LORD. Because he said, “The Nile is mine and I made it,”

Ezekiel 29:10 I am against you and your waterways. I will turn the land of Egypt into an utter desolate ruin from Migdol to Syene, as far as the border with Ethiopia.

Ezekiel 29:11 No human foot will pass through it, and no animal’s foot will pass through it; it will be uninhabited for forty years.

Ezekiel 29:12 I will turn the land of Egypt into a desolation in the midst of desolate lands; for forty years her cities will lie desolate in the midst of ruined cities. I will scatter Egypt among the nations and disperse them among foreign countries.

Ezekiel 29:13 “‘For this is what the sovereign LORD says: At the end of forty years I will gather Egypt from the peoples where they were scattered.

Ezekiel 29:14 I will restore the fortunes of Egypt, and will bring them back to the land of Pathros, to the land of their origin; there they will be an insignificant kingdom.

Ezekiel 29:15 It will be the most insignificant of the kingdoms; it will never again exalt itself over the nations. I will make them so small that they will not rule over the nations.

Ezekiel 29:16 It will never again be Israel’s source of confidence, but a reminder of how they sinned by turning to Egypt for help. Then they will know that I am the sovereign LORD.’“

Ezekiel 29:17 In the twenty-seventh year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 29:18 “Son of man, King Nebuchadrezzar of Babylon made his army labor hard against Tyre. Every head was rubbed bald and every shoulder rubbed bare; yet he and his army received no wages from Tyre for the work he carried out against it.

Ezekiel 29:19 Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am about to give the land of Egypt to King Nebuchadrezzar of Babylon. He will carry off her wealth, capture her loot, and seize her plunder; it will be his army's wages.

Ezekiel 29:20 I have given him the land of Egypt as his compensation for attacking Tyre, because they did it for me, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 29:21 On that day I will make Israel powerful, and I will give you the right to be heard among them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

Ezekiel 30:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 30:2 "Son of man, prophesy and say, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: "'Wail, "Alas, the day is here!"

Ezekiel 30:3 For the day is near, the day of the LORD is near; it will be a day of storm clouds, it will be a time of judgment for the nations.

Ezekiel 30:4 A sword will come against Egypt and panic will overtake Ethiopia when the slain fall in Egypt and they carry away her wealth and dismantle her foundations.

Ezekiel 30:5 Ethiopia, Put, Lud, all the foreigners, Libya, and the people of the covenant land will die by the sword along with them.

Ezekiel 30:6 "'This is what the LORD says: Egypt's supporters will fall; her confident pride will crumble. From Migdol to Syene they will die by the sword within her, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 30:7 They will be desolate among desolate lands, and their cities will be among ruined cities.

Ezekiel 30:8 They will know that I am the LORD when I ignite a fire in Egypt and all her allies are defeated.

Ezekiel 30:9 On that day messengers will go out from me in ships to frighten overly confident Ethiopia; panic will overtake them on the day of Egypt's doom; for beware– it is coming!

Ezekiel 30:10 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: I will put an end to the hordes of Egypt, by the hand of King Nebuchadrezzar of Babylon.

Ezekiel 30:11 He and his people with him, the most terrifying of the nations, will be brought there to destroy the land. They will draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with corpses.

Ezekiel 30:12 I will dry up the waterways and hand the land over to evil men. I will make the land and everything in it desolate by the hand of foreigners. I, the LORD, have spoken!

Ezekiel 30:13 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: I will destroy the idols, and put an end to the gods of Memphis. There will no longer be a prince from the land of Egypt; so I will make the land of Egypt fearful.

Ezekiel 30:14 I will desolate Pathros, I will ignite a fire in Zoan, and I will execute judgments on Thebes.

Ezekiel 30:15 I will pour out my anger upon Pelusium, the stronghold of Egypt; I will cut off the hordes of Thebes.

Ezekiel 30:16 I will ignite a fire in Egypt; Syene will writhe in agony, Thebes will be broken down, and Memphis will face enemies every day.

Ezekiel 30:17 The young men of On and of Pi-beseth will die by the sword; and the cities will go into captivity.

Ezekiel 30:18 In Tahpanhes the day will be dark when I break the yoke of Egypt there. Her confident pride will cease within her; a cloud will cover her, and her daughters will go into captivity.

Ezekiel 30:19 I will execute judgments on Egypt. Then they will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezekiel 30:20 In the eleventh year, in the first month, on the seventh day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 30:21 "Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt. Look, it has not been bandaged for healing or set with a dressing so that it might become strong enough to grasp a sword.

Ezekiel 30:22 Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and I will break his arms, the strong arm and the broken one, and I will make the sword drop from his hand.

Ezekiel 30:23 I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among foreign countries.

Ezekiel 30:24 I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and I will place my sword in his hand, but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he will groan like the fatally wounded before the king of Babylon.

Ezekiel 30:25 I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, but the arms of Pharaoh will fall limp. Then they will know that I am the LORD when I place my sword in the hand of the king of Babylon and he extends it against the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 30:26 I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them among foreign countries. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

Ezekiel 31:1 In the eleventh year, in the third month, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 31:2 "Son of man, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and his hordes: "'Who are you like in your greatness?

Ezekiel 31:3 Consider Assyria, a cedar in Lebanon, with beautiful branches, like a forest giving shade, and extremely tall; its top reached into the clouds.

Ezekiel 31:4 The water made it grow; underground springs made it grow tall. Rivers flowed all around the place it was planted, while smaller channels watered all the trees of the field.

Ezekiel 31:5 Therefore it grew taller than all the trees of the field; its boughs grew large and its branches grew long, because of the plentiful water in its shoots.

Ezekiel 31:6 All the birds of the sky nested in its boughs; under its branches all the beasts of the field gave birth, in its shade all the great nations lived.

Ezekiel 31:7 It was beautiful in its loftiness, in the length of its branches; for its roots went down deep to plentiful waters.

Ezekiel 31:8 The cedars in the garden of God could not eclipse it, nor could the fir trees match its boughs; the plane trees were as nothing compared to its branches; no tree in the garden of God could rival its beauty.

Ezekiel 31:9 I made it beautiful with its many branches; all the trees of Eden, in the garden of God, envied it.

Ezekiel 31:10 "'Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Because it was tall in stature, and its top reached into the clouds, and it was proud of its height,

Ezekiel 31:11 I gave it over to the leader of the nations. He has judged it thoroughly, as its sinfulness deserves. I have thrown it out.

Ezekiel 31:12 Foreigners from the most terrifying nations have cut it down and left it to lie there on the mountains. In all the valleys its branches have fallen, and its boughs lie broken in the ravines of the land. All the peoples of the land have departed from its shade and left it.

Ezekiel 31:13 On its ruins all the birds of the sky will live, and all the wild animals will walk on its branches.

Ezekiel 31:14 For this reason no watered trees will grow so tall; their tops will not reach into the clouds, nor will the well-watered ones grow that high. For all of them have been appointed to die in the lower parts of the earth; they will be among mere mortals, with those who descend to the pit.

Ezekiel 31:15 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: On the day it went down to Sheol I caused observers to lament. I covered it with the deep and held back its rivers; its plentiful water was restrained. I clothed Lebanon in black for it, and all the trees of the field wilted because of it.

Ezekiel 31:16 I made the nations shake at the sound of its fall, when I threw it down to Sheol, along with those who descend to the pit. Then all the trees of Eden, the choicest and the best of Lebanon, all that were well-watered, were comforted in the earth below.

Ezekiel 31:17 Those who lived in its shade, its allies among the nations, also went down with it to Sheol, to those killed by the sword.

Ezekiel 31:18 Which of the trees of Eden was like you in majesty and loftiness? You will be brought down with the trees of Eden to the lower parts of the earth; you will lie among the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword! This is what will happen to Pharaoh and all his hordes, declares the sovereign LORD.'"

Ezekiel 32:1 In the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, on the first of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 32:2 "Son of man, sing a lament for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say to him: "'You were like a lion among the nations, but you are a monster in the seas; you thrash about in your streams, stir up the water with your feet, and muddy your streams.

Ezekiel 32:3 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: "'I will throw my net over you in the assembly of many peoples; and they will haul you up in my dragnet.

Ezekiel 32:4 I will leave you on the ground, I will fling you on the open field, I will allow all the birds of the sky to settle on you, and I will permit all the wild animals to gorge themselves on you.

Ezekiel 32:5 I will put your flesh on the mountains, and fill the valleys with your maggot-infested carcass.

Ezekiel 32:6 I will drench the land with the flow of your blood up to the mountains, and the ravines will be full of your blood.

Ezekiel 32:7 When I extinguish you, I will cover the sky; I will darken its stars. I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon will not shine.

Ezekiel 32:8 I will darken all the lights in the sky over you, and I will darken your land, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 32:9 I will disturb many peoples, when I bring about your destruction among the nations, among countries you do not know.

Ezekiel 32:10 I will shock many peoples with you, and their kings will shiver with horror because of you. When I brandish my sword before them, every moment each one will tremble for his life, on the day of your fall.

Ezekiel 32:11 "'For this is what the sovereign LORD says: "'The sword of the king of Babylon will attack you.

Ezekiel 32:12 By the swords of the mighty warriors I will cause your hordes to fall– all of them are the most terrifying among the nations. They will devastate the pride of Egypt, and all its hordes will be destroyed.

Ezekiel 32:13 I will destroy all its cattle beside the plentiful waters; and no human foot will disturb the waters again, nor will the hooves of cattle disturb them.

Ezekiel 32:14 Then I will make their waters calm, and will make their streams flow like olive oil, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 32:15 When I turn the land of Egypt into desolation and the land is destitute of everything that fills it, when I strike all those who live in it, then they will know that I am the LORD.'

Ezekiel 32:16 This is a lament; they will chant it. The daughters of the nations will chant it. They will chant it over Egypt and over all her hordes, declares the sovereign LORD."

Ezekiel 32:17 In the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 32:18 "Son of man, wail over the horde of Egypt. Bring it down; bring her and the daughters of powerful nations down to the lower parts of the earth, along with those who descend to the pit.

Ezekiel 32:19 Say to them, 'Whom do you surpass in beauty? Go down and be laid to rest with the uncircumcised!'

Ezekiel 32:20 They will fall among those killed by the sword. The sword is drawn; they carry her and all her hordes away.

Ezekiel 32:21 The bravest of the warriors will speak to him from the midst of Sheol along with his allies, saying: 'The uncircumcised have come down; they lie still, killed by the sword.'

Ezekiel 32:22 "Assyria is there with all her assembly around her grave, all of them struck down by the sword.

Ezekiel 32:23 Their graves are located in the remote slopes of the pit. Her assembly is around her grave, all of them struck down by the sword, those who spread terror in the land of the living.

Ezekiel 32:24 "Elam is there with all her hordes around her grave; all of them struck down by the sword. They went down uncircumcised to the lower parts of the earth, those who spread terror in the land of the living. Now they will bear their shame with those who descend to the pit.

Ezekiel 32:25 Among the dead they have made a bed for her, along with all her hordes around her grave. All of them are uncircumcised, killed by the sword, for their terror had spread in the land of the living. They bear their shame along with those who descend to the pit; they are placed among the dead.

Ezekiel 32:26 "Meshech-Tubal is there, along with all her hordes around her grave. All of them are uncircumcised, killed by the sword, for they spread their terror in the land of the living.

Ezekiel 32:27 They do not lie with the fallen warriors of ancient times, who went down to Sheol with their weapons of war, having their swords placed under their heads and their shields on their bones, when the terror of these warriors was in the land of the living.

Ezekiel 32:28 “But as for you, in the midst of the uncircumcised you will be broken, and you will lie with those killed by the sword.

Ezekiel 32:29 “Edom is there with her kings and all her princes. Despite their might they are laid with those killed by the sword; they lie with the uncircumcised and those who descend to the pit.

Ezekiel 32:30 “All the leaders of the north are there, along with all the Sidonians; despite their might they have gone down in shameful terror with the dead. They lie uncircumcised with those killed by the sword, and bear their shame with those who descend to the pit.

Ezekiel 32:31 “Pharaoh will see them and be consoled over all his hordes who were killed by the sword, Pharaoh and all his army, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 32:32 Indeed, I terrified him in the land of the living, yet he will lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with those killed by the sword, Pharaoh and all his hordes, declares the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 33:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 33:2 “Son of man, speak to your people, and say to them, ‘Suppose I bring a sword against the land, and the people of the land take one man from their borders and make him their watchman.

Ezekiel 33:3 He sees the sword coming against the land, blows the trumpet, and warns the people,

Ezekiel 33:4 but there is one who hears the sound of the trumpet yet does not heed the warning. Then the sword comes and sweeps him away. He will be responsible for his own death.

Ezekiel 33:5 He heard the sound of the trumpet but did not heed the warning, so he is responsible for himself. If he had heeded the warning, he would have saved his life.

Ezekiel 33:6 But suppose the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet to warn the people. Then the sword comes and takes one of their lives. He is swept away for his iniquity, but I will hold the watchman accountable for that person’s death.’

Ezekiel 33:7 “As for you, son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel. Whenever you hear a word from my mouth, you must warn them on my behalf.

Ezekiel 33:8 When I say to the wicked, ‘O wicked man, you must certainly die,’ and you do not warn the wicked about his behavior, the wicked man will die for his iniquity, but I will hold you accountable for his death.

Ezekiel 33:9 But if you warn the wicked man to change his behavior, and he refuses to change, he will die for his iniquity, but you have saved your own life.

Ezekiel 33:10 “And you, son of man, say to the house of Israel, ‘This is what you have said: “Our rebellious acts and our sins have caught up with us, and we are wasting away because of them. How then can we live?”‘

Ezekiel 33:11 Say to them, ‘As surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, I take no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but prefer that the wicked change his behavior and live. Turn back, turn back from your evil deeds! Why should you die, O house of Israel?’

Ezekiel 33:12 “And you, son of man, say to your people, ‘The righteousness of the righteous will not deliver him if he rebels. As for the wicked, his wickedness will not make him stumble if he turns from it. The righteous will not be able to live by his righteousness if he sins.’

Ezekiel 33:13 Suppose I tell the righteous that he will certainly live, but he becomes confident in his righteousness and commits iniquity. None of his righteous deeds will be remembered; because of the iniquity he has committed he will die.

Ezekiel 33:14 Suppose I say to the wicked, ‘You must certainly die,’ but he turns from his sin and does what is just and right.

Ezekiel 33:15 He returns what was taken in pledge, pays back what he has stolen, and follows the statutes that give life, committing no iniquity. He will certainly live– he will not die.

Ezekiel 33:16 None of the sins he has committed will be counted against him. He has done what is just and right; he will certainly live.

Ezekiel 33:17 “Yet your people say, ‘The behavior of the Lord is not right,’ when it is their behavior that is not right.

Ezekiel 33:18 When a righteous man turns from his godliness and commits iniquity, he will die for it.

Ezekiel 33:19 When the wicked turns from his sin and does what is just and right, he will live because of it.

Ezekiel 33:20 Yet you say, ‘The behavior of the Lord is not right.’ House of Israel, I will judge each of you according to his behavior.”

Ezekiel 33:21 In the twelfth year of our exile, in the tenth month, on the fifth of the month, a refugee came to me from Jerusalem saying, “The city has been defeated!”

Ezekiel 33:22 Now the hand of the LORD had been on me the evening before the refugee reached me, but the LORD opened my mouth by the time the refugee arrived in the morning; he opened my mouth and I was no longer unable to speak.

Ezekiel 33:23 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 33:24 “Son of man, the ones living in these ruins in the land of Israel are saying, ‘Abraham was only one man, yet he possessed the land, but we are many; surely the land has been given to us for a possession.’

Ezekiel 33:25 Therefore say to them, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: You eat the meat with the blood still in it, pray to your idols, and shed blood. Do you really think you will possess the land?

Ezekiel 33:26 You rely on your swords and commit abominable deeds; each of you defiles his neighbor's wife. Will you possess the land?'

Ezekiel 33:27 "This is what you must say to them, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: As surely as I live, those living in the ruins will die by the sword, those in the open field I will give to the wild beasts for food, and those who are in the strongholds and caves will die of disease.

Ezekiel 33:28 I will turn the land into a desolate ruin; her confident pride will come to an end. The mountains of Israel will be so desolate no one will pass through them.

Ezekiel 33:29 Then they will know that I am the LORD when I turn the land into a desolate ruin because of all the abominable deeds they have committed.'

Ezekiel 33:30 "But as for you, son of man, your people (who are talking about you by the walls and at the doors of the houses) say to one another, 'Come hear the word that comes from the LORD.'

Ezekiel 33:31 They come to you in crowds, and they sit in front of you as my people. They hear your words, but do not obey them. For they talk lustfully, and their heart is set on their own advantage.

Ezekiel 33:32 Realize that to them you are like a sensual song, a beautiful voice and skilled musician. They hear your words, but they do not obey them.

Ezekiel 33:33 When all this comes true– and it certainly will– then they will know that a prophet was among them."

Ezekiel 34:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 34:2 "Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy, and say to them– to the shepherds: 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: Woe to the shepherds of Israel who have been feeding themselves! Should not shepherds feed the flock?

Ezekiel 34:3 You eat the fat, you clothe yourselves with the wool, you slaughter the choice animals, but you do not feed the sheep!

Ezekiel 34:4 You have not strengthened the weak, healed the sick, bandaged the injured, brought back the strays, or sought the lost, but with force and harshness you have ruled over them.

Ezekiel 34:5 They were scattered because they had no shepherd, and they became food for every wild beast.

Ezekiel 34:6 My sheep wandered over all the mountains and on every high hill. My sheep were scattered over the entire face of the earth with no one looking or searching for them.

Ezekiel 34:7 "'Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD:

Ezekiel 34:8 As surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, my sheep have become prey and have become food for all the wild beasts. There was no shepherd, and my shepherds did not search for my flock, but fed themselves and did not feed my sheep,

Ezekiel 34:9 Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD:

Ezekiel 34:10 This is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am against the shepherds, and I will demand my sheep from their hand. I will no longer let them be shepherds; the shepherds will not feed themselves anymore. I will rescue my sheep from their mouth, so that they will no longer be food for them.

Ezekiel 34:11 "'For this is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I myself will search for my sheep and seek them out.

Ezekiel 34:12 As a shepherd seeks out his flock when he is among his scattered sheep, so I will seek out my flock. I will rescue them from all the places where they have been scattered on a cloudy, dark day.

Ezekiel 34:13 I will bring them out from among the peoples and gather them from foreign countries; I will bring them to their own land. I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the streams and all the inhabited places of the land.

Ezekiel 34:14 In a good pasture I will feed them; the mountain heights of Israel will be their pasture. There they will lie down in a lush pasture, and they will feed on rich grass on the mountains of Israel.

Ezekiel 34:15 I myself will feed my sheep and I myself will make them lie down, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 34:16 I will seek the lost and bring back the strays; I will bandage the injured and strengthen the sick, but the fat and the strong I will destroy. I will feed them– with judgment!

Ezekiel 34:17 "'As for you, my sheep, this is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am about to judge between one sheep and another, between rams and goats.

Ezekiel 34:18 Is it not enough for you to feed on the good pasture, that you must trample the rest of your pastures with your feet? When you drink clean water, must you muddy the rest of the water by trampling it with your feet?

Ezekiel 34:19 As for my sheep, they must eat what you trampled with your feet, and drink what you have muddied with your feet!

Ezekiel 34:20 "'Therefore, this is what the sovereign LORD says to them: Look, I myself will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep.

Ezekiel 34:21 Because you push with your side and your shoulder, and thrust your horns at all the weak sheep until you scatter them abroad,

Ezekiel 34:22 I will save my sheep; they will no longer be prey. I will judge between one sheep and another.

Ezekiel 34:23 I will set one shepherd over them, and he will feed them– namely, my servant David. He will feed them and will be their shepherd.

Ezekiel 34:24 I, the LORD, will be their God, and my servant David will be prince among them; I, the LORD, have spoken!

Ezekiel 34:25 “‘I will make a covenant of peace with them and will rid the land of wild beasts, so that they can live securely in the wilderness and even sleep in the woods.

Ezekiel 34:26 I will turn them and the regions around my hill into a blessing. I will make showers come down in their season; they will be showers that bring blessing.

Ezekiel 34:27 The trees of the field will yield their fruit and the earth will yield its crops. They will live securely on their land; they will know that I am the LORD, when I break the bars of their yoke and rescue them from the hand of those who enslaved them.

Ezekiel 34:28 They will no longer be prey for the nations and the wild beasts will not devour them. They will live securely and no one will make them afraid.

Ezekiel 34:29 I will prepare for them a healthy planting. They will no longer be victims of famine in the land and will no longer bear the insults of the nations.

Ezekiel 34:30 Then they will know that I, the LORD their God, am with them, and that they are my people, the house of Israel, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 34:31 And you, my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are my people, and I am your God, declares the sovereign LORD.’“

Ezekiel 35:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 35:2 “Son of man, turn toward Mount Seir, and prophesy against it.

Ezekiel 35:3 Say to it, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: “‘Look, I am against you, Mount Seir; I will stretch out my hand against you and turn you into a desolate ruin.

Ezekiel 35:4 I will lay waste your cities; and you will become desolate. Then you will know that I am the LORD!

Ezekiel 35:5 “‘You have shown unrelenting hostility and poured the people of Israel onto the blades of a sword at the time of their calamity, at the time of their final punishment.

Ezekiel 35:6 Therefore, as surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, I will subject you to bloodshed, and bloodshed will pursue you. Since you did not hate bloodshed, bloodshed will pursue you.

Ezekiel 35:7 I will turn Mount Seir into a desolate ruin; I will cut off from it the one who passes through or returns.

Ezekiel 35:8 I will fill its mountains with its dead; on your hills and in your valleys and in all your ravines, those killed by the sword will fall.

Ezekiel 35:9 I will turn you into a perpetual desolation, and your cities will not be inhabited. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 35:10 “‘You said, “These two nations, these two lands will be mine, and we will possess them,”– although the LORD was there–

Ezekiel 35:11 therefore, as surely as I live, declares the sovereign LORD, I will deal with you according to your anger, and according to your envy, by which you acted spitefully against them. I will reveal myself to them when I judge you.

Ezekiel 35:12 Then you will know that I, the LORD, have heard all the insults you spoke against the mountains of Israel, saying, “They are desolate, they have been given to us for food.”

Ezekiel 35:13 You exalted yourselves against me with your speech and hurled many insults against me– I have heard them all!

Ezekiel 35:14 This is what the sovereign LORD says: While the whole earth rejoices, I will turn you into a desolation.

Ezekiel 35:15 As you rejoiced over the inheritance of the house of Israel because it was desolate, so will I deal with you– you will be desolate, Mount Seir, and all of Edom– all of it! Then they will know that I am the LORD.’“

Ezekiel 36:1 “As for you, son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel, and say: ‘O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD!

Ezekiel 36:2 This is what the sovereign LORD says: The enemy has spoken against you, saying “Aha!” and, “The ancient heights have become our property!”‘

Ezekiel 36:3 So prophesy and say: ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Surely because they have made you desolate and crushed you from all directions, so that you have become the property of the rest of the nations, and have become the subject of gossip and slander among the people,

Ezekiel 36:4 therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the sovereign LORD: This is what the sovereign LORD says to the mountains and hills, the ravines and valleys, and to the desolate ruins and the abandoned cities that have become prey and an object of derision to the rest of the nations round about–

Ezekiel 36:5 therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Surely I have spoken in the fire of my zeal against the rest of the nations, and against all Edom, who with great joy and utter contempt have made my land their property and prey, because of its pasture.’

Ezekiel 36:6 “Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say to the mountains and hills, the ravines and valleys, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I have spoken in my zeal and in my anger, because you have endured the insults of the nations.

Ezekiel 36:7 So this is what the sovereign LORD says: I vow that the nations around you will endure insults as well.

Ezekiel 36:8 "'But you, mountains of Israel, will grow your branches, and bear your fruit for my people Israel; for they will arrive soon.

Ezekiel 36:9 For indeed, I am on your side; I will turn to you, and you will be plowed and planted.

Ezekiel 36:10 I will multiply your people– the whole house of Israel, all of it. The cities will be populated and the ruins rebuilt.

Ezekiel 36:11 I will increase the number of people and animals on you; they will increase and be fruitful. I will cause you to be inhabited as in ancient times, and will do more good for you than at the beginning of your history. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 36:12 I will lead people, my people Israel, across you; they will possess you and you will become their inheritance. No longer will you bereave them of their children.

Ezekiel 36:13 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: Because they are saying to you, "You are a devourer of men, and bereave your nation of children,"

Ezekiel 36:14 therefore you will no longer devour people and no longer bereave your nation of children, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 36:15 I will no longer subject you to the nations' insults; no longer will you bear the shame of the peoples, and no longer will you bereave your nation, declares the sovereign LORD.'"

Ezekiel 36:16 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 36:17 "Son of man, when the house of Israel was living on their own land, they defiled it by their behavior and their deeds. In my sight their behavior was like the uncleanness of a woman having her monthly period.

Ezekiel 36:18 So I poured my anger on them because of the blood they shed on the land and because of the idols with which they defiled it.

Ezekiel 36:19 I scattered them among the nations; they were dispersed throughout foreign countries. In accordance with their behavior and their deeds I judged them.

Ezekiel 36:20 But when they arrived in the nations where they went, they profaned my holy name. It was said of them, 'These are the people of the LORD, yet they have departed from his land.'

Ezekiel 36:21 I was concerned for my holy reputation which the house of Israel profaned among the nations where they went.

Ezekiel 36:22 "Therefore say to the house of Israel, 'This is what the sovereign LORD says: It is not for your sake that I am about to act, O house of Israel, but for the sake of my holy reputation which you profaned among the nations where you went.

Ezekiel 36:23 I will magnify my great name that has been profaned among the nations, that you have profaned among them. The nations will know that I am the LORD, declares the sovereign LORD, when I magnify myself among you in their sight.

Ezekiel 36:24 "'I will take you from the nations and gather you from all the countries; then I will bring you to your land.

Ezekiel 36:25 I will sprinkle you with pure water and you will be clean from all your impurities. I will purify you from all your idols.

Ezekiel 36:26 I will give you a new heart, and I will put a new spirit within you. I will remove the heart of stone from your body and give you a heart of flesh.

Ezekiel 36:27 I will put my Spirit within you; I will take the initiative and you will obey my statutes and carefully observe my regulations.

Ezekiel 36:28 Then you will live in the land I gave to your fathers; you will be my people, and I will be your God.

Ezekiel 36:29 I will save you from all your uncleanness. I will call for the grain and multiply it; I will not bring a famine on you.

Ezekiel 36:30 I will multiply the fruit of the trees and the produce of the fields, so that you will never again suffer the disgrace of famine among the nations.

Ezekiel 36:31 Then you will remember your evil behavior and your deeds which were not good; you will loathe yourselves on account of your sins and your abominable deeds.

Ezekiel 36:32 Understand that it is not for your sake I am about to act, declares the sovereign LORD. Be ashamed and embarrassed by your behavior, O house of Israel.

Ezekiel 36:33 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: In the day I cleanse you from all your sins, I will populate the cities and the ruins will be rebuilt.

Ezekiel 36:34 The desolate land will be plowed, instead of being desolate in the sight of everyone who passes by.

Ezekiel 36:35 They will say, "This desolate land has become like the garden of Eden; the ruined, desolate, and destroyed cities are now fortified and inhabited."

Ezekiel 36:36 Then the nations which remain around you will know that I, the LORD, have rebuilt the ruins and replanted what was desolate. I, the LORD, have spoken– and I will do it!'

Ezekiel 36:37 "This is what the sovereign LORD says: I will allow the house of Israel to ask me to do this for them: I will multiply their people like sheep.

Ezekiel 36:38 Like the sheep for offerings, like the sheep of Jerusalem during her appointed feasts, so will the ruined cities be filled with flocks of people. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

Ezekiel 37:1 The hand of the LORD was on me, and he brought me out by the Spirit of the LORD and placed me in the midst of the valley, and it was full of bones.

Ezekiel 37:2 He made me walk all around among them. I realized there were a great many bones in the valley and they were very dry.

Ezekiel 37:3 He said to me, “Son of man, can these bones live?” I said to him, “Sovereign Lord, you know.”

Ezekiel 37:4 Then he said to me, “Prophesy over these bones, and tell them: ‘Dry bones, hear the word of the LORD.

Ezekiel 37:5 This is what the sovereign LORD says to these bones: Look, I am about to infuse breath into you and you will live.

Ezekiel 37:6 I will put tendons on you and muscles over you and will cover you with skin; I will put breath in you and you will live. Then you will know that I am the LORD.’“

Ezekiel 37:7 So I prophesied as I was commanded. There was a sound when I prophesied– I heard a rattling, and the bones came together, bone to bone.

Ezekiel 37:8 As I watched, I saw tendons on them, then muscles appeared, and skin covered over them from above, but there was no breath in them.

Ezekiel 37:9 He said to me, “Prophesy to the breath,– prophesy, son of man– and say to the breath: ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe on these corpses so that they may live.’“

Ezekiel 37:10 So I prophesied as I was commanded, and the breath came into them; they lived and stood on their feet, an extremely great army.

Ezekiel 37:11 Then he said to me, “Son of man, these bones are all the house of Israel. Look, they are saying, ‘Our bones are dry, our hope has perished; we are cut off.’

Ezekiel 37:12 Therefore prophesy, and tell them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am about to open your graves and will raise you from your graves, my people. I will bring you to the land of Israel.

Ezekiel 37:13 Then you will know that I am the LORD, when I open your graves and raise you from your graves, my people.

Ezekiel 37:14 I will place my breath in you and you will live; I will give you rest in your own land. Then you will know that I am the LORD– I have spoken and I will act, declares the LORD.’“

Ezekiel 37:15 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 37:16 “As for you, son of man, take one branch, and write on it, ‘For Judah, and for the Israelites associated with him.’ Then take another branch and write on it, ‘For Joseph, the branch of Ephraim and all the house of Israel associated with him.’

Ezekiel 37:17 Join them as one stick; they will be as one in your hand.

Ezekiel 37:18 When your people say to you, ‘Will you not tell us what these things mean?’

Ezekiel 37:19 tell them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am about to take the branch of Joseph which is in the hand of Ephraim and the tribes of Israel associated with him, and I will place them on the stick of Judah, and make them into one stick– they will be one in my hand.’

Ezekiel 37:20 The sticks you write on will be in your hand in front of them.

Ezekiel 37:21 Then tell them, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am about to take the Israelites from among the nations where they have gone. I will gather them from round about and bring them to their land.

Ezekiel 37:22 I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel, and one king will rule over them all. They will never again be two nations and never again be divided into two kingdoms.

Ezekiel 37:23 They will not defile themselves with their idols, their detestable things, and all their rebellious deeds. I will save them from all their unfaithfulness by which they sinned. I will purify them; they will become my people and I will become their God.

Ezekiel 37:24 “‘My servant David will be king over them; there will be one shepherd for all of them. They will follow my regulations and carefully observe my statutes.

Ezekiel 37:25 They will live in the land I gave to my servant Jacob, in which your fathers lived; they will live in it– they and their children and their grandchildren forever. David my servant will be prince over them forever.

Ezekiel 37:26 I will make a covenant of peace with them; it will be a perpetual covenant with them. I will establish them, increase their numbers, and place my sanctuary among them forever.

Ezekiel 37:27 My dwelling place will be with them; I will be their God, and they will be my people.

Ezekiel 37:28 Then, when my sanctuary is among them forever, the nations will know that I, the LORD, sanctify Israel.’“

Ezekiel 38:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

Ezekiel 38:2 “Son of man, turn toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal. Prophesy against him

Ezekiel 38:3 and say: ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am against you, Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.

Ezekiel 38:4 I will turn you around, put hooks into your jaws, and bring you out with all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them fully armed, a great company with shields of different types, all of them armed with swords.

Ezekiel 38:5 Persia, Ethiopia, and Put are with them, all of them with shields and helmets.

Ezekiel 38:6 They are joined by Gomer with all its troops, and by Beth Togarmah from the remote parts of the north with all its troops– many peoples are with you.

Ezekiel 38:7 “‘Be ready and stay ready, you and all your companies assembled around you, and be a guard for them.

Ezekiel 38:8 After many days you will be summoned; in the latter years you will come to a land restored from the ravages of war, with many peoples gathered on the mountains of Israel that had long been in ruins. Its people were brought out from the peoples, and all of them will be living securely.

Ezekiel 38:9 You will advance; you will come like a storm. You will be like a cloud covering the earth, you, all your troops, and the many other peoples with you.

Ezekiel 38:10 “‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: On that day thoughts will come into your mind, and you will devise an evil plan.

Ezekiel 38:11 You will say, “I will invade a land of unwalled towns; I will advance against those living quietly in security– all of them living without walls and barred gates–

Ezekiel 38:12 to loot and plunder, to attack the inhabited ruins and the people gathered from the nations, who are acquiring cattle and goods, who live at the center of the earth.”

Ezekiel 38:13 Sheba and Dedan and the traders of Tarshish with all its young warriors will say to you, “Have you come to loot? Have you assembled your armies to plunder, to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to haul away a great amount of spoils?”‘

Ezekiel 38:14 “Therefore, prophesy, son of man, and say to Gog: ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: On that day when my people Israel are living securely, you will take notice

Ezekiel 38:15 and come from your place, from the remote parts of the north, you and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great company and a vast army.

Ezekiel 38:16 You will advance against my people Israel like a cloud covering the earth. In the latter days I will bring you against my land so that the nations may acknowledge me, when before their eyes I magnify myself through you, O Gog.

Ezekiel 38:17 “‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Are you the one of whom I spoke in former days by my servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days that I would bring you against them?

Ezekiel 38:18 On that day, when Gog invades the land of Israel, declares the sovereign LORD, my rage will mount up in my anger.

Ezekiel 38:19 In my zeal, in the fire of my fury, I declare that on that day there will be a great earthquake in the land of Israel.

Ezekiel 38:20 The fish of the sea, the birds of the sky, the wild beasts, all the things that creep on the ground, and all people who live on the face of the earth will shake at my presence. The mountains will topple, the cliffs will fall, and every wall will fall to the ground.

Ezekiel 38:21 I will call for a sword to attack Gog on all my mountains, declares the sovereign LORD; every man’s sword will be against his brother.

Ezekiel 38:22 I will judge him with plague and bloodshed. I will rain down on him, his troops and the many peoples who are with him a torrential downpour, hailstones, fire, and brimstone.

Ezekiel 38:23 I will exalt and magnify myself; I will reveal myself before many nations. Then they will know that I am the LORD.’

Ezekiel 39:1 “As for you, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say: ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Look, I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal!

Ezekiel 39:2 I will turn you around and drag you along; I will lead you up from the remotest parts of the north and bring you against the mountains of Israel.

Ezekiel 39:3 I will knock your bow out of your left hand and make your arrows fall from your right hand.

Ezekiel 39:4 You will fall dead on the mountains of Israel, you and all your troops and the people who are with you. I give you as food to every kind of bird and every wild beast.

Ezekiel 39:5 You will fall dead in the open field; for I have spoken, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 39:6 I will send fire on Magog and those who live securely in the coastlands; then they will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 39:7 “‘I will make my holy name known in the midst of my people Israel; I will not let my holy name be profaned anymore. Then the nations will know that I am the LORD, the Holy One of Israel.

Ezekiel 39:8 Realize that it is coming and it will be done, declares the sovereign LORD. It is the day I have spoken about.

Ezekiel 39:9 "'Then those who live in the cities of Israel will go out and use the weapons for kindling– the shields, bows and arrows, war clubs and spears– they will burn them for seven years.

Ezekiel 39:10 They will not need to take wood from the field or cut down trees from the forests, because they will make fires with the weapons. They will take the loot from those who looted them and seize the plunder of those who plundered them, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 39:11 "'On that day I will assign Gog a grave in Israel. It will be the valley of those who travel east of the sea; it will block the way of the travelers. There they will bury Gog and all his horde; they will call it the valley of Hamon-Gog.

Ezekiel 39:12 For seven months Israel will bury them, in order to cleanse the land.

Ezekiel 39:13 All the people of the land will bury them, and it will be a memorial for them on the day I magnify myself, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 39:14 They will designate men to scout continually through the land, burying those who remain on the surface of the ground, in order to cleanse it. They will search for seven full months.

Ezekiel 39:15 When the scouts survey the land and see a human bone, they will place a sign by it, until those assigned to burial duty have buried it in the valley of Hamon-Gog.

Ezekiel 39:16 (A city by the name of Hamonah will also be there.) They will cleanse the land.'

Ezekiel 39:17 "As for you, son of man, this is what the sovereign LORD says: Tell every kind of bird and every wild beast: 'Assemble and come! Gather from all around to my slaughter which I am going to make for you, a great slaughter on the mountains of Israel! You will eat flesh and drink blood.

Ezekiel 39:18 You will eat the flesh of warriors and drink the blood of the princes of the earth– the rams, lambs, goats, and bulls, all of them fattened animals of Bashan.

Ezekiel 39:19 You will eat fat until you are full, and drink blood until you are drunk, at my slaughter which I have made for you.

Ezekiel 39:20 You will fill up at my table with horses and charioteers, with warriors and all the soldiers,' declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 39:21 "I will display my majesty among the nations. All the nations will witness the judgment I have executed, and the power I have exhibited among them.

Ezekiel 39:22 Then the house of Israel will know that I am the LORD their God, from that day forward.

Ezekiel 39:23 The nations will know that the house of Israel went into exile due to their iniquity, for they were unfaithful to me. So I hid my face from them and handed them over to their enemies; all of them died by the sword.

Ezekiel 39:24 According to their uncleanness and rebellion I have dealt with them, and I hid my face from them.

Ezekiel 39:25 “Therefore this is what the sovereign LORD says: Now I will restore the fortunes of Jacob, and I will have mercy on the entire house of Israel. I will be zealous for my holy name.

Ezekiel 39:26 They will bear their shame for all their unfaithful acts against me, when they live securely on their land with no one to make them afraid.

Ezekiel 39:27 When I have brought them back from the peoples and gathered them from the countries of their enemies, I will magnify myself among them in the sight of many nations.

Ezekiel 39:28 Then they will know that I am the LORD their God, because I sent them into exile among the nations, and then gathered them into their own land. I will not leave any of them in exile any longer.

Ezekiel 39:29 I will no longer hide my face from them, when I pour out my Spirit on the house of Israel, declares the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 40:1 In the twenty-fifth year of our exile, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city was struck down, on this very day, the hand of the LORD was on me, and he brought me there.

Ezekiel 40:2 By means of divine visions he brought me to the land of Israel and placed me on a very high mountain, and on it was a structure like a city, to the south.

Ezekiel 40:3 When he brought me there, I saw a man whose appearance was like bronze, with a linen cord and a measuring stick in his hand. He was standing in the gateway.

Ezekiel 40:4 The man said to me, “Son of man, watch closely, listen carefully, and pay attention to everything I show you, for you have been brought here so that I can show it to you. Tell the house of Israel everything you see.”

Ezekiel 40:5 I saw a wall all around the outside of the temple. In the man’s hand was a measuring stick 10½ feet long. He measured the thickness of the wall as 10½ feet, and its height as 10½ feet.

Ezekiel 40:6 Then he went to the gate facing east. He climbed its steps and measured the threshold of the gate as 10½ feet deep.

Ezekiel 40:7 The alcoves were 10½ feet long and 10½ feet wide; between the alcoves were 8¾ feet. The threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate facing inward was 10½ feet.

Ezekiel 40:8 Then he measured the porch of the gate facing inward as 10½ feet.

Ezekiel 40:9 He measured the porch of the gate as 14 feet, and its jambs as 3½ feet; the porch of the gate faced inward.

Ezekiel 40:10 There were three alcoves on each side of the east gate; the three had the same measurement, and the jambs on either side had the same measurement.

Ezekiel 40:11 He measured the width of the entrance of the gateway as 17½ feet, and the length of the gateway as 22¾ feet.

Ezekiel 40:12 There was a barrier in front of the alcoves, 1¾ feet on either side; the alcoves were 10½ feet on either side.

Ezekiel 40:13 He measured the gateway from the roof of one alcove to the roof of the other, a width of 43¾ feet from one entrance to the opposite one.

Ezekiel 40:14 He measured the porch at 105 feet high; the gateway went all around to the jamb of the courtyard.

Ezekiel 40:15 From the front of the entrance gate to the porch of the inner gate was 87½ feet.

Ezekiel 40:16 There were closed windows toward the alcoves and toward their jambs within the gate all around, and likewise for the porches. There were windows all around the inside, and on each jamb were decorative palm trees.

Ezekiel 40:17 Then he brought me to the outer court. I saw chambers there, and a pavement made for the court all around; thirty chambers faced the pavement.

Ezekiel 40:18 The pavement was beside the gates, corresponding to the length of the gates; this was the lower pavement.

Ezekiel 40:19 Then he measured the width from before the lower gate to the front of the exterior of the inner court as 175 feet on the east and on the north.

Ezekiel 40:20 He measured the length and width of the gate of the outer court which faces north.

Ezekiel 40:21 Its alcoves, three on each side, and its jambs and porches had the same measurement as the first gate; 87½ feet long and 43¾ feet wide.

Ezekiel 40:22 Its windows, its porches, and its decorative palm trees had the same measurement as the gate which faced east. Seven steps led up to it, and its porch was in front of them.

Ezekiel 40:23 Opposite the gate on the north and the east was a gate of the inner court; he measured the distance from gate to gate at 175 feet.

Ezekiel 40:24 Then he led me toward the south. I saw a gate on the south. He measured its jambs and its porches; they had the same dimensions as the others.

Ezekiel 40:25 There were windows all around it and its porches, like the windows of the others; 87½ feet long and 43¾ feet wide.

Ezekiel 40:26 There were seven steps going up to it; its porches were in front of them. It had decorative palm trees on its jambs, one on either side.

Ezekiel 40:27 The inner court had a gate toward the south; he measured it from gate to gate toward the south as 175 feet.

Ezekiel 40:28 Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate. He measured the south gate; it had the same dimensions as the others.

Ezekiel 40:29 Its alcoves, its jambs, and its porches had the same dimensions as the others, and there were windows all around it and its porches; its length was 87½ feet and its width 43¾ feet.

Ezekiel 40:30 There were porches all around, 43¾ feet long and 8¾ feet wide.

Ezekiel 40:31 Its porches faced the outer court, and decorative palm trees were on its jambs, and its stairway had eight steps.

Ezekiel 40:32 Then he brought me to the inner court on the east side. He measured the gate; it had the same dimensions as the others.

Ezekiel 40:33 Its alcoves, its jambs, and its porches had the same dimensions as the others, and there were windows all around it and its porches; its length was 87½ feet and its width 43¾ feet.

Ezekiel 40:34 Its porches faced the outer court, it had decorative palm trees on its jambs, and its stairway had eight steps.

Ezekiel 40:35 Then he brought me to the north gate, and he measured it; it had the same dimensions as the others–

Ezekiel 40:36 its alcoves, its jambs, and its porches. It had windows all around it; its length was 87½ feet and its width 43¾ feet.

Ezekiel 40:37 Its jambs faced the outer court, and it had decorative palm trees on its jambs, on either side, and its stairway had eight steps.

Ezekiel 40:38 There was a chamber with its door by the porch of the gate; there they washed the burnt offering.

Ezekiel 40:39 In the porch of the gate were two tables on either side on which to slaughter the burnt offering, the sin offering, and the guilt offering.

Ezekiel 40:40 On the outside of the porch as one goes up at the entrance of the north gate were two tables, and on the other side of the porch of the gate were two tables.

Ezekiel 40:41 Four tables were on each side of the gate, eight tables on which the sacrifices were to be slaughtered.

Ezekiel 40:42 The four tables for the burnt offering were of carved stone, 32 inches long, 32 inches wide, and 21 inches high. They would put the instruments which they used to slaughter the burnt offering and the sacrifice on them.

Ezekiel 40:43 There were hooks three inches long, fastened in the house all around, and on the tables was the flesh of the offering.

Ezekiel 40:44 On the outside of the inner gate were chambers for the singers of the inner court, one at the side of the north gate facing south, and the other at the side of the south gate facing north.

Ezekiel 40:45 He said to me, “This chamber which faces south is for the priests who keep charge of the temple,

Ezekiel 40:46 and the chamber which faces north is for the priests who keep charge of the altar. These are the descendants of Zadok, from the descendants of Levi, who may approach the LORD to minister to him.”

Ezekiel 40:47 He measured the court as a square 175 feet long and 175 feet wide; the altar was in front of the temple.

Ezekiel 40:48 Then he brought me to the porch of the temple and measured the jambs of the porch as 8¾ feet on either side, and the width of the gate was 24½ feet and the sides were 5¼ feet on each side.

Ezekiel 40:49 The length of the porch was 35 feet and the width 19¼ feet; steps led up to it, and there were pillars beside the jambs on either side.

Ezekiel 41:1 Then he brought me to the outer sanctuary, and measured the jambs; the jambs were 10½ feet wide on each side.

Ezekiel 41:2 The width of the entrance was 17½ feet, and the sides of the entrance were 8¾ feet on each side. He measured the length of the outer sanctuary as 70 feet, and its width as 35 feet.

Ezekiel 41:3 Then he went into the inner sanctuary and measured the jambs of the entrance as 3½ feet, the entrance as 10½ feet, and the width of the entrance as 12¼ feet

Ezekiel 41:4 Then he measured its length as 35 feet, and its width as 35 feet, before the outer sanctuary. He said to me, “This is the most holy place.”

Ezekiel 41:5 Then he measured the wall of the temple as 10½ feet, and the width of the side chambers as 7 feet, all around the temple.

Ezekiel 41:6 The side chambers were in three stories, one above the other, thirty in each story. There were offsets in the wall all around to serve as supports for the side chambers, so that the supports were not in the wall of the temple.

Ezekiel 41:7 The side chambers surrounding the temple were wider at each successive story; for the structure surrounding the temple went up story by story all around the temple. For this reason the width of the temple increased as it went up, and one went up from the lowest story to the highest by the way of the middle story.

Ezekiel 41:8 I saw that the temple had a raised platform all around; the foundations of the side chambers were a full measuring stick of 10½ feet high.

Ezekiel 41:9 The width of the outer wall of the side chambers was 8¾ feet, and the open area between the side chambers of the temple

Ezekiel 41:10 and the chambers of the court was 35 feet in width all around the temple on every side.

Ezekiel 41:11 There were entrances from the side chambers toward the open area, one entrance toward the north, and another entrance toward the south; the width of the open area was 8¾ feet all around.

Ezekiel 41:12 The building that was facing the temple courtyard at the west side was 122½ feet wide; the wall of the building was 8¾ feet all around, and its length 157½ feet.

Ezekiel 41:13 Then he measured the temple as 175 feet long, the courtyard of the temple and the building and its walls as 175 feet long,

Ezekiel 41:14 and also the width of the front of the temple and the courtyard on the east as 175 feet.

Ezekiel 41:15 Then he measured the length of the building facing the courtyard at the rear of the temple, with its galleries on either side as 175 feet. The interior of the outer sanctuary and the porch of the court,

Ezekiel 41:16 as well as the thresholds, narrow windows and galleries all around on three sides facing the threshold were paneled with wood all around, from the ground up to the windows (now the windows were covered),

Ezekiel 41:17 to the space above the entrance, to the inner room, and on the outside, and on all the walls in the inner room and outside, by measurement.

Ezekiel 41:18 It was made with cherubim and decorative palm trees, with a palm tree between each cherub. Each cherub had two faces:

Ezekiel 41:19 a human face toward the palm tree on one side and a lion’s face toward the palm tree on the other side. They were carved on the whole temple all around;

Ezekiel 41:20 from the ground to the area above the entrance, cherubim and decorative palm trees were carved on the wall of the outer sanctuary.

Ezekiel 41:21 The doorposts of the outer sanctuary were square. In front of the sanctuary one doorpost looked just like the other.

Ezekiel 41:22 The altar was of wood, 5¼ feet high, with its length 3½ feet; its corners, its length, and its walls were of wood. He said to me, “This is the table that is before the LORD.”

Ezekiel 41:23 The outer sanctuary and the inner sanctuary each had a double door.

Ezekiel 41:24 Each of the doors had two leaves, two swinging leaves; two leaves for one door and two leaves for the other.

Ezekiel 41:25 On the doors of the outer sanctuary were carved cherubim and palm trees, like those carved on the walls, and there was a canopy of wood on the front of the outside porch.

Ezekiel 41:26 There were narrow windows and decorative palm trees on either side of the side walls of the porch; this is what the side chambers of the temple and the canopies were like.

Ezekiel 42:1 Then he led me out to the outer court, toward the north, and brought me to the chamber which was opposite the courtyard and opposite the building on the north.

Ezekiel 42:2 Its length was 175 feet on the north side, and its width 87½ feet.

Ezekiel 42:3 Opposite the 35 feet that belonged to the inner court, and opposite the pavement which belonged to the outer court, gallery faced gallery in the three stories.

Ezekiel 42:4 In front of the chambers was a walkway on the inner side, 17½ feet wide at a distance of 1¾ feet, and their entrances were on the north.

Ezekiel 42:5 Now the upper chambers were narrower, because the galleries took more space from them than from the lower and middle chambers of the building.

Ezekiel 42:6 For they were in three stories and had no pillars like the pillars of the courts; therefore the upper chambers were set back from the ground more than the lower and upper ones.

Ezekiel 42:7 As for the outer wall by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court facing the chambers, it was 87½ feet long.

Ezekiel 42:8 For the chambers on the outer court were 87½ feet long, while those facing the temple were 175 feet long.

Ezekiel 42:9 Below these chambers was a passage on the east side as one enters from the outer court.

Ezekiel 42:10 At the beginning of the wall of the court toward the south, facing the courtyard and the building, were chambers

Ezekiel 42:11 with a passage in front of them. They looked like the chambers on the north. Of the same length and width, and all their exits according to their arrangements and entrances

Ezekiel 42:12 were the chambers which were toward the south. There was an opening at the head of the passage, the passage in front of the corresponding wall toward the east when one enters.

Ezekiel 42:13 Then he said to me, “The north chambers and the south chambers which face the courtyard are holy chambers where the priests who approach the LORD will eat the most holy offerings. There they will place the most holy offerings– the grain offering, the sin offering, and the guilt offering, because the place is holy.

Ezekiel 42:14 When the priests enter, then they will not go out from the sanctuary to the outer court without taking off their garments in which they minister, for these are holy; they will put on other garments, then they will go near the places where the people are.”

Ezekiel 42:15 Now when he had finished measuring the interior of the temple, he led me out by the gate which faces east and measured all around.

Ezekiel 42:16 He measured the east side with the measuring stick as 875 feet by the measuring stick.

Ezekiel 42:17 He measured the north side as 875 feet by the measuring stick.

Ezekiel 42:18 He measured the south side as 875 feet by the measuring stick.

Ezekiel 42:19 He turned to the west side and measured 875 feet by the measuring stick.

Ezekiel 42:20 He measured it on all four sides. It had a wall around it, 875 feet long and 875 feet wide, to separate the holy and common places.

Ezekiel 43:1 Then he brought me to the gate that faced toward the east.

Ezekiel 43:2 I saw the glory of the God of Israel coming from the east; the sound was like that of rushing water; and the earth radiated his glory.

Ezekiel 43:3 It was like the vision I saw when he came to destroy the city, and the vision I saw by the Kebar River. I threw myself face down.

Ezekiel 43:4 The glory of the LORD came into the temple by way of the gate that faces east.

Ezekiel 43:5 Then a wind lifted me up and brought me to the inner court; I watched the glory of the LORD filling the temple.

Ezekiel 43:6 I heard someone speaking to me from the temple, while the man was standing beside me.

Ezekiel 43:7 He said to me: “Son of man, this is the place of my throne and the place for the soles of my feet, where I will live among the people of Israel forever. The house of Israel will no longer profane my holy name, neither they nor their kings, by their spiritual prostitution or by the pillars of their kings set up when they die.

Ezekiel 43:8 When they placed their threshold by my threshold and their doorpost by my doorpost, with only the wall between me and them, they profaned my holy name by the abominable deeds they committed. So I consumed them in my anger.

Ezekiel 43:9 Now they must put away their spiritual prostitution and the pillars of their kings far from me, and then I will live among them forever.

Ezekiel 43:10 “As for you, son of man, describe the temple to the house of Israel, so that they will be ashamed of their sins and measure the pattern.

Ezekiel 43:11 When they are ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the design of the temple, its pattern, its exits and entrances, and its whole design– all its statutes, its entire design, and all its laws; write it all down in their sight, so that they may observe its entire design and all its statutes and do them.

Ezekiel 43:12 “This is the law of the temple: The entire area on top of the mountain all around will be most holy. Indeed, this is the law of the temple.

Ezekiel 43:13 “And these are the measurements of the altar: Its base is 1¾ feet high, and 1¾ feet wide, and its border nine inches on its edge. This is to be the height of the altar.

Ezekiel 43:14 From the base of the ground to the lower edge is 3½ feet, and the width 1¾ feet; and from the smaller ledge to the larger edge, 7 feet, and the width 1¾ feet;

Ezekiel 43:15 and the altar hearth, 7 feet, and from the altar hearth four horns projecting upward.

Ezekiel 43:16 Now the altar hearth is a perfect square, 21 feet long and 21 feet wide.

Ezekiel 43:17 The ledge is 24½ feet long and 24½ feet wide on four sides; the border around it is 10½ inches, and its surrounding base 1¾ feet. Its steps face east.”

Ezekiel 43:18 Then he said to me: “Son of man, this is what the sovereign LORD says: These are the statutes of the altar: On the day it is built to offer up burnt offerings on it and to sprinkle blood on it,

Ezekiel 43:19 you will give a young bull for a sin offering to the Levitical priests who are descended from Zadok, who approach me to minister to me, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 43:20 You will take some of its blood, and place it on the four horns of the altar, on the four corners of the ledge, and on the border all around; you will cleanse it and make atonement for it.

Ezekiel 43:21 You will also take the bull for the sin offering, and it will be burned in the appointed place in the temple, outside the sanctuary.

Ezekiel 43:22 “On the second day, you will offer a male goat without blemish for a sin offering. They will purify the altar just as they purified it with the bull.

Ezekiel 43:23 When you have finished purifying it, you will offer an unblemished young bull and an unblemished ram from the flock.

Ezekiel 43:24 You will present them before the LORD, and the priests will scatter salt on them and offer them up as a burnt offering to the LORD.

Ezekiel 43:25 “For seven days you will provide every day a goat for a sin offering; a young bull and a ram from the flock, both without blemish, will be provided.

Ezekiel 43:26 For seven days they will make atonement for the altar and cleanse it, so they will consecrate it.

Ezekiel 43:27 When the prescribed period is over, on the eighth day and thereafter the priests will offer up on the altar your burnt offerings and your peace offerings; I will accept you, declares the sovereign LORD.”

Ezekiel 44:1 Then he brought me back by way of the outer gate of the sanctuary which faces east, but it was shut.

Ezekiel 44:2 The LORD said to me: “This gate will be shut; it will not be opened, and no one will enter by it. For the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered by it; therefore it will remain shut.

Ezekiel 44:3 Only the prince may sit in it to eat a sacrificial meal before the LORD; he will enter by way of the porch of the gate and will go out by the same way.”

Ezekiel 44:4 Then he brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the temple. As I watched, I noticed the glory of the LORD filling the LORD’s temple, and I threw myself face down.

Ezekiel 44:5 The LORD said to me: “Son of man, pay attention, watch closely and listen carefully to everything I tell you concerning all the statutes of the LORD’s house and all its laws. Pay attention to the entrances to the temple with all the exits of the sanctuary.

Ezekiel 44:6 Say to the rebellious, to the house of Israel, ‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Enough of all your abominable practices, O house of Israel!

Ezekiel 44:7 When you bring foreigners, those uncircumcised in heart and in flesh, into my sanctuary, you desecrate it– even my house– when you offer my food, the fat and the blood. You have broken my covenant by all your abominable practices.

Ezekiel 44:8 You have not kept charge of my holy things, but you have assigned foreigners to keep charge of my sanctuary for you.

Ezekiel 44:9 This is what the sovereign LORD says: No foreigner, who is uncircumcised in heart and flesh among all the foreigners who are among the people of Israel, will enter into my sanctuary.

Ezekiel 44:10 "'But the Levites who went far from me, straying off from me after their idols when Israel went astray, will be responsible for their sin.

Ezekiel 44:11 Yet they will be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the temple, and serving the temple. They will slaughter the burnt offerings and the sacrifices for the people, and they will stand before them to minister to them.

Ezekiel 44:12 Because they used to minister to them before their idols, and became a sinful obstacle to the house of Israel, consequently I have made a vow concerning them, declares the sovereign LORD, that they will be responsible for their sin.

Ezekiel 44:13 They will not come near me to serve me as priest, nor will they come near any of my holy things, the things which are most sacred. They will bear the shame of the abominable deeds they have committed.

Ezekiel 44:14 Yet I will appoint them to keep charge of the temple, all of its service and all that will be done in it.

Ezekiel 44:15 "'But the Levitical priests, the descendants of Zadok who kept the charge of my sanctuary when the people of Israel went astray from me, will approach me to minister to me; they will stand before me to offer me the fat and the blood, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 44:16 They will enter my sanctuary, and approach my table to minister to me; they will keep my charge.

Ezekiel 44:17 "'When they enter the gates of the inner court, they must wear linen garments; they must not have any wool on them when they minister in the inner gates of the court and in the temple.

Ezekiel 44:18 Linen turbans will be on their heads and linen undergarments will be around their waists; they must not bind themselves with anything that causes sweat.

Ezekiel 44:19 When they go out to the outer court to the people, they must remove the garments they were ministering in, and place them in the holy chambers; they must put on other garments so that they will not transmit holiness to the people with their garments.

Ezekiel 44:20 "'They must not shave their heads nor let their hair grow long; they must only trim their heads.

Ezekiel 44:21 No priest may drink wine when he enters the inner court.

Ezekiel 44:22 They must not marry a widow or a divorcee, but they may marry a virgin from the house of Israel or a widow who is a priest's widow.

Ezekiel 44:23 Moreover, they will teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and show them how to distinguish between the ceremonially unclean and the clean.

Ezekiel 44:24 "'In a controversy they will act as judges; they will judge according to my ordinances. They will keep my laws and my statutes regarding all my appointed festivals and will observe my Sabbaths.

Ezekiel 44:25 "'They must not come near a dead person or they will be defiled; however, for father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, they may defile themselves.

Ezekiel 44:26 After a priest has become ceremonially clean, they must count off a period of seven days for him.

Ezekiel 44:27 On the day he enters the sanctuary, into the inner court to serve in the sanctuary, he must offer his sin offering, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 44:28 "'This will be their inheritance: I am their inheritance, and you must give them no property in Israel; I am their property.

Ezekiel 44:29 They may eat the grain offering, the sin offering, and the guilt offering, and every devoted thing in Israel will be theirs.

Ezekiel 44:30 The first of all the first fruits and all contributions of any kind will be for the priests; you will also give to the priest the first portion of your dough, so that a blessing may rest on your house.

Ezekiel 44:31 The priests will not eat any bird or animal that has died a natural death or was torn to pieces by a wild animal.

Ezekiel 45:1 "'When you allot the land as an inheritance, you will offer an allotment to the LORD, a holy portion from the land; the length will be eight and a quarter miles and the width three and one-third miles. This entire area will be holy.

Ezekiel 45:2 Of this area a square 875 feet by 875 feet will be designated for the sanctuary, with 87½ feet set aside for its open space round about.

Ezekiel 45:3 From this measured area you will measure a length of eight and a quarter miles and a width of three and one-third miles; in it will be the sanctuary, the most holy place.

Ezekiel 45:4 It will be a holy portion of the land; it will be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary who approach the LORD to minister to him. It will be a place for their houses and a holy place for the sanctuary.

Ezekiel 45:5 An area eight and a quarter miles in length and three and one-third miles in width will be for the Levites, who minister at the temple, as the place for the cities in which they will live.

Ezekiel 45:6 “‘Alongside the portion set apart as the holy allotment, you will allot for the city an area one and two-thirds miles wide and eight and a quarter miles long; it will be for the whole house of Israel.

Ezekiel 45:7 “‘For the prince there will be land on both sides of the holy allotment and the allotted city, alongside the holy allotment and the allotted city, on the west side and on the east side; it will be comparable in length to one of the portions, from the west border to the east border

Ezekiel 45:8 of the land. This will be his property in Israel. My princes will no longer oppress my people, but the land will be allotted to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

Ezekiel 45:9 “‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: Enough, you princes of Israel! Put away violence and destruction, and do what is just and right. Put an end to your evictions of my people, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 45:10 You must use just balances, a just dry measure (an ephah), and a just liquid measure (a bath).

Ezekiel 45:11 The dry and liquid measures will be the same, the bath will contain a tenth of a homer, and the ephah a tenth of a homer; the homer will be the standard measure.

Ezekiel 45:12 The shekel will be twenty gerahs. Sixty shekels will be a mina for you.

Ezekiel 45:13 “‘This is the offering you must offer: a sixth of an ephah from a homer of wheat; a sixth of an ephah from a homer of barley,

Ezekiel 45:14 and as the prescribed portion of olive oil, one tenth of a bath from each kor (which is ten baths or a homer, for ten baths make a homer);

Ezekiel 45:15 and one sheep from each flock of two hundred, from the watered places of Israel, for a grain offering, burnt offering, and peace offering, to make atonement for them, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 45:16 All the people of the land will contribute to this offering for the prince of Israel.

Ezekiel 45:17 It will be the duty of the prince to provide the burnt offerings, the grain offering, and the drink offering at festivals, on the new moons and Sabbaths, at all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel; he will provide the sin offering, the grain offering, the burnt offering, and the peace offerings to make atonement for the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 45:18 “‘This is what the sovereign LORD says: In the first month, on the first day of the month, you must take an unblemished young bull and purify the sanctuary.

Ezekiel 45:19 The priest will take some of the blood of the sin offering and place it on the doorpost of the temple, on the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and on the doorpost of the gate of the inner court.

Ezekiel 45:20 This is what you must do on the seventh day of the month for anyone who sins inadvertently or through ignorance; so you will make atonement for the temple.

Ezekiel 45:21 "'In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you will celebrate the Passover, and for seven days bread made without yeast will be eaten.

Ezekiel 45:22 On that day the prince will provide for himself and for all the people of the land a bull for a sin offering.

Ezekiel 45:23 And during the seven days of the feast he will provide as a burnt offering to the LORD seven bulls and seven rams, all without blemish, on each of the seven days, and a male goat daily for a sin offering.

Ezekiel 45:24 He will provide as a grain offering an ephah for each bull, an ephah for each ram, and a gallon of olive oil for each ephah of grain.

Ezekiel 45:25 In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, at the feast, he will make the same provisions for the sin offering, burnt offering, and grain offering, and for the olive oil, for the seven days.

Ezekiel 46:1 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: The gate of the inner court that faces east will be closed six working days, but on the Sabbath day it will be opened and on the day of the new moon it will be opened.

Ezekiel 46:2 The prince will enter by way of the porch of the gate from the outside, and will stand by the doorpost of the gate. The priests will provide his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he will bow down at the threshold of the gate and then go out. But the gate will not be closed until evening.

Ezekiel 46:3 The people of the land will bow down at the entrance of that gate before the LORD on the Sabbaths and on the new moons.

Ezekiel 46:4 The burnt offering which the prince will offer to the LORD on the Sabbath day will be six unblemished lambs and one unblemished ram.

Ezekiel 46:5 The grain offering will be an ephah with the ram, and the grain offering with the lambs will be as much as he is able to give, and a gallon of olive oil with an ephah.

Ezekiel 46:6 On the day of the new moon he will offer an unblemished young bull, and six lambs and a ram, all without blemish.

Ezekiel 46:7 He will provide a grain offering: an ephah with the bull and an ephah with the ram, and with the lambs as much as he wishes, and a gallon of olive oil with each ephah of grain.

Ezekiel 46:8 When the prince enters, he will come by way of the porch of the gate and will go out the same way.

Ezekiel 46:9 "'When the people of the land come before the LORD at the appointed feasts, whoever enters by way of the north gate to worship will go out by way of the south gate; whoever enters by way of the south gate will go out by way of the north gate. No one will return by way of the gate they entered but will go out straight ahead.

Ezekiel 46:10 When they come in, the prince will come in with them, and when they go out, he will go out.

Ezekiel 46:11 "'At the festivals and at the appointed feasts the grain offering will be an ephah with the bull and an ephah with the ram, and with the lambs as much as one is able, and a gallon of olive oil with each ephah of grain.

Ezekiel 46:12 When the prince provides a freewill offering, a burnt offering, or peace offerings as a voluntary offering to the LORD, the gate facing east will be opened for him, and he will provide his burnt offering and his peace offerings just as he did on the Sabbath. Then he will go out, and the gate will be closed after he goes out.

Ezekiel 46:13 "'You will provide a lamb a year old without blemish for a burnt offering daily to the LORD; morning by morning he will provide it.

Ezekiel 46:14 And you will provide a grain offering with it morning by morning, a sixth of an ephah, and a third of a gallon of olive oil to moisten the choice flour, as a grain offering to the LORD; this is a perpetual statute.

Ezekiel 46:15 Thus they will provide the lamb, the grain offering, and the olive oil morning by morning, as a perpetual burnt offering.

Ezekiel 46:16 "'This is what the sovereign LORD says: If the prince should give a gift to one of his sons as his inheritance, it will belong to his sons, it is their property by inheritance.

Ezekiel 46:17 But if he gives a gift from his inheritance to one of his servants, it will be his until the year of liberty; then it will revert to the prince. His inheritance will only remain with his sons.

Ezekiel 46:18 The prince will not take away any of the people's inheritance by oppressively removing them from their property. He will give his sons an inheritance from his own possessions so that my people will not be scattered, each from his own property.'"

Ezekiel 46:19 Then he brought me through the entrance, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests which faced north. There I saw a place at the extreme western end.

Ezekiel 46:20 He said to me, "This is the place where the priests will boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, and where they will bake the grain offering, so that they do not bring them out to the outer court to transmit holiness to the people.”

Ezekiel 46:21 Then he brought me out to the outer court and led me past the four corners of the court, and I noticed that in every corner of the court there was a court.

Ezekiel 46:22 In the four corners of the court were small courts, 70 feet in length and 52½ feet in width; the four were all the same size.

Ezekiel 46:23 There was a row of masonry around each of the four courts, and places for boiling offerings were made under the rows all around.

Ezekiel 46:24 Then he said to me, “These are the houses for boiling, where the ministers of the temple boil the sacrifices of the people.”

Ezekiel 47:1 Then he brought me back to the entrance of the temple. I noticed that water was flowing from under the threshold of the temple toward the east (for the temple faced east). The water was flowing down from under the right side of the temple, from south of the altar.

Ezekiel 47:2 He led me out by way of the north gate and brought me around the outside of the outer gate that faces toward the east; I noticed that the water was trickling out from the south side.

Ezekiel 47:3 When the man went out toward the east with a measuring line in his hand, he measured 1,750 feet, and then he led me through water, which was ankle deep.

Ezekiel 47:4 Again he measured 1,750 feet and led me through the water, which was now knee deep. Once more he measured 1,750 feet and led me through the water, which was waist deep.

Ezekiel 47:5 Again he measured 1,750 feet and it was a river I could not cross, for the water had risen; it was deep enough to swim in, a river that could not be crossed.

Ezekiel 47:6 He said to me, “Son of man, have you seen this?” Then he led me back to the bank of the river.

Ezekiel 47:7 When I had returned, I noticed a vast number of trees on the banks of the river, on both sides.

Ezekiel 47:8 He said to me, “These waters go out toward the eastern region and flow down into the Arabah; when they enter the Dead Sea, where the sea is stagnant, the waters become fresh.

Ezekiel 47:9 Every living creature which swarms where the river flows will live; there will be many fish, for these waters flow there. It will become fresh and everything will live where the river flows.

Ezekiel 47:10 Fishermen will stand beside it; from Engedi to En-eglaim they will spread nets. They will catch many kinds of fish, like the fish of the Great Sea.

Ezekiel 47:11 But its swamps and its marshes will not become fresh; they will remain salty.

Ezekiel 47:12 On both sides of the river's banks, every kind of tree will grow for food. Their leaves will not wither nor will their fruit fail, but they will bear fruit every month, because their water source flows from the sanctuary. Their fruit will be for food and their leaves for healing."

Ezekiel 47:13 This is what the sovereign LORD says: "Here are the borders you will observe as you allot the land to the twelve tribes of Israel. (Joseph will have two portions.)

Ezekiel 47:14 You must divide it equally just as I vowed to give it to your forefathers; this land will be assigned as your inheritance.

Ezekiel 47:15 "This will be the border of the land: On the north side, from the Great Sea by way of Hethlon to the entrance of Zedad;

Ezekiel 47:16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath, as far as Hazer-hattikon, which is on the border of Hauran.

Ezekiel 47:17 The border will run from the sea to Hazar-enan, at the border of Damascus, and on the north is the border of Hamath. This is the north side.

Ezekiel 47:18 On the east side, between Hauran and Damascus, and between Gilead and the land of Israel, will be the Jordan. You will measure from the border to the eastern sea. This is the east side.

Ezekiel 47:19 On the south side it will run from Tamar to the waters of Meribath Kadesh, the river, to the Great Sea. This is the south side.

Ezekiel 47:20 On the west side the Great Sea will be the boundary to a point opposite Lebo-hamath. This is the west side.

Ezekiel 47:21 "This is how you will divide this land for yourselves among the tribes of Israel.

Ezekiel 47:22 You must allot it as an inheritance among yourselves and for the foreigners who reside among you, who have fathered sons among you. You must treat them as native-born among the people of Israel; they will be allotted an inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.

Ezekiel 47:23 In whatever tribe the foreigner resides, there you will give him his inheritance," declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 48:1 "These are the names of the tribes: From the northern end beside the road of Hethlon to Lebo-hamath, as far as Hazar-enan (which is on the border of Damascus, toward the north beside Hamath), extending from the east side to the west, Dan will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:2 Next to the border of Dan, from the east side to the west, Asher will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:3 Next to the border of Asher from the east side to the west, Naphtali will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:4 Next to the border of Naphtali from the east side to the west, Manasseh will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:5 Next to the border of Manasseh from the east side to the west, Ephraim will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:6 Next to the border of Ephraim from the east side to the west, Reuben will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:7 Next to the border of Reuben from the east side to the west, Judah will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:8 “Next to the border of Judah from the east side to the west will be the allotment you must set apart. It is to be eight and a quarter miles wide, and the same length as one of the tribal portions, from the east side to the west; the sanctuary will be in the middle of it.

Ezekiel 48:9 The allotment you set apart to the LORD will be eight and a quarter miles in length and three and one-third miles in width.

Ezekiel 48:10 These will be the allotments for the holy portion: for the priests, toward the north eight and a quarter miles in length, toward the west three and one-third miles in width, toward the east three and one-third miles in width, and toward the south eight and a quarter miles in length; the sanctuary of the LORD will be in the middle.

Ezekiel 48:11 This will be for the priests who are set apart from the descendants of Zadok who kept my charge and did not go astray when the people of Israel strayed off, like the Levites did.

Ezekiel 48:12 It will be their portion from the allotment of the land, a most holy place, next to the border of the Levites.

Ezekiel 48:13 “Alongside the border of the priests, the Levites will have an allotment eight and a quarter miles in length and three and one-third miles in width. The whole length will be eight and a quarter miles and the width three and one-third miles.

Ezekiel 48:14 They must not sell or exchange any of it; they must not transfer this choice portion of land, for it is set apart to the LORD.

Ezekiel 48:15 “The remainder, one and two-thirds miles in width and eight and a quarter miles in length, will be for common use by the city, for houses and for open space. The city will be in the middle of it;

Ezekiel 48:16 these will be its measurements: The north side will be one and one-half miles, the south side one and one-half miles, the east side one and one-half miles, and the west side one and one-half miles.

Ezekiel 48:17 The city will have open spaces: On the north there will be 437½ feet, on the south 437½ feet, on the east 437½ feet, and on the west 437½ feet.

Ezekiel 48:18 The remainder of the length alongside the holy allotment will be three and one-third miles to the east and three and one-third miles toward the west, and it will be beside the holy allotment. Its produce will be for food for the workers of the city.

Ezekiel 48:19 The workers of the city from all the tribes of Israel will cultivate it.

Ezekiel 48:20 The whole allotment will be eight and a quarter miles square, you must set apart the holy allotment with the possession of the city.

Ezekiel 48:21 “The rest, on both sides of the holy allotment and the property of the city, will belong to the prince. Extending from the eight and a quarter miles of the holy allotment to the east border, and westward from the eight and a quarter miles to the west border, alongside the portions, it will belong to the prince. The holy allotment and the sanctuary of the temple will be in the middle of it.

Ezekiel 48:22 The property of the Levites and of the city will be in the middle of that which belongs to the prince. The portion between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin will be for the prince.

Ezekiel 48:23 “As for the rest of the tribes: From the east side to the west side, Benjamin will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:24 Next to the border of Benjamin, from the east side to the west side, Simeon will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:25 Next to the border of Simeon, from the east side to the west side, Issachar will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:26 Next to the border of Issachar, from the east side to the west side, Zebulun will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:27 Next to the border of Zebulun, from the east side to the west side, Gad will have one portion.

Ezekiel 48:28 Next to the border of Gad, at the south side, the border will run from Tamar to the waters of Meribath Kadesh, to the Stream of Egypt and on to the Great Sea.

Ezekiel 48:29 This is the land which you will allot to the tribes of Israel, and these are their portions, declares the sovereign LORD.

Ezekiel 48:30 “These are the exits of the city: On the north side, one and one-half miles by measure,

Ezekiel 48:31 the gates of the city will be named for the tribes of Israel; there will be three gates to the north: one gate for Reuben, one gate for Judah, and one gate for Levi.

Ezekiel 48:32 On the east side, one and one-half miles in length, there will be three gates: one gate for Joseph, one gate for Benjamin, and one gate for Dan.

Ezekiel 48:33 On the south side, one and one-half miles by measure, there will be three gates: one gate for Simeon, one gate for Issachar, and one gate for Zebulun.

Ezekiel 48:34 On the west side, one and one-half miles in length, there will be three gates: one gate for Gad, one gate for Asher, and one gate for Naphtali.

Ezekiel 48:35 The circumference of the city will be six miles. The name of the city from that day forward will be: 'The LORD Is There.'"

Daniel

1:1 In the third year of the reign of King Jehoiakim of Judah, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon advanced against Jerusalem and laid it under siege.

Daniel 1:2 Now the Lord delivered King Jehoiakim of Judah into his power, along with some of the vessels of the temple of God. He brought them to the land of Babylonia to the temple of his god and put the vessels in the treasury of his god.

Daniel 1:3 The king commanded Ashpenaz, who was in charge of his court officials, to choose some of the Israelites who were of royal and noble descent–

Daniel 1:4 young men in whom there was no physical defect and who were handsome, well versed in all kinds of wisdom, well educated and having keen insight, and who were capable of entering the king's royal service– and to teach them the literature and language of the Babylonians.

Daniel 1:5 So the king assigned them a daily ration from his royal delicacies and from the wine he himself drank. They were to be trained for the next three years. At the end of that time they were to enter the king's service.

Daniel 1:6 As it turned out, among these young men were some from Judah: Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

Daniel 1:7 But the overseer of the court officials renamed them. He gave Daniel the name Belteshazzar, Hananiah he named Shadrach, Mishael he named Meshach, and Azariah he named Abednego.

Daniel 1:8 But Daniel made up his mind that he would not defile himself with the royal delicacies or the royal wine. He therefore asked the overseer of the court officials for permission not to defile himself.

Daniel 1:9 Then God made the overseer of the court officials sympathetic to Daniel.

Daniel 1:10 But he responded to Daniel, "I fear my master the king. He is the one who has decided your food and drink. What would happen if he saw that you looked malnourished in comparison to the other young men your age? If that happened, you would endanger my life with the king!”

Daniel 1:11 Daniel then spoke to the warden whom the overseer of the court officials had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:

Daniel 1:12 “Please test your servants for ten days by providing us with some vegetables to eat and water to drink.

Daniel 1:13 Then compare our appearance with that of the young men who are eating the royal delicacies; deal with us in light of what you see.”

Daniel 1:14 So the warden agreed to their proposal and tested them for ten days.

Daniel 1:15 At the end of the ten days their appearance was better and their bodies were healthier than all the young men who had been eating the royal delicacies.

Daniel 1:16 So the warden removed the delicacies and the wine from their diet and gave them a diet of vegetables instead.

Daniel 1:17 Now as for these four young men, God endowed them with knowledge and skill in all sorts of literature and wisdom– and Daniel had insight into all kinds of visions and dreams.

Daniel 1:18 When the time appointed by the king arrived, the overseer of the court officials brought them into Nebuchadnezzar’s presence.

Daniel 1:19 When the king spoke with them, he did not find among the entire group anyone like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, or Azariah. So they entered the king’s service.

Daniel 1:20 In every matter of wisdom and insight the king asked them about, he found them to be ten times better than any of the magicians and astrologers that were in his entire empire.

Daniel 1:21 Now Daniel lived on until the first year of Cyrus the king.

Daniel 2:1 In the second year of his reign Nebuchadnezzar had many dreams. His mind was disturbed and he suffered from insomnia.

Daniel 2:2 The king issued an order to summon the magicians, astrologers, sorcerers, and wise men in order to explain his dreams to him. So they came and awaited the king’s instructions.

Daniel 2:3 The king told them, “I have had a dream, and I am anxious to understand the dream.”

Daniel 2:4 The wise men replied to the king: [What follows is in Aramaic] “O king, live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will disclose its interpretation.”

Daniel 2:5 The king replied to the wise men, “My decision is firm. If you do not inform me of both the dream and its interpretation, you will be dismembered and your homes reduced to rubble!

Daniel 2:6 But if you can disclose the dream and its interpretation, you will receive from me gifts, a reward, and considerable honor. So disclose to me the dream and its interpretation!”

Daniel 2:7 They again replied, “Let the king inform us of the dream; then we will disclose its interpretation.”

Daniel 2:8 The king replied, “I know for sure that you are attempting to gain time, because you see that my decision is firm.

Daniel 2:9 If you don’t inform me of the dream, there is only one thing that is going to happen to you. For you have agreed among yourselves to report to me something false and deceitful until such time as things might change. So tell me the dream, and I will have confidence that you can disclose its interpretation.”

Daniel 2:10 The wise men replied to the king, “There is no man on earth who is able to disclose the king’s secret, for no king, regardless of his position and power, has ever requested such a thing from any magician, astrologer, or wise man.

Daniel 2:11 What the king is asking is too difficult, and no one exists who can disclose it to the king, except for the gods– but they don’t live among mortals!”

Daniel 2:12 Because of this the king got furiously angry and gave orders to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel 2:13 So a decree went out, and the wise men were about to be executed. They also sought Daniel and his friends so that they could be executed.

Daniel 2:14 Then Daniel spoke with prudent counsel to Arioch, who was in charge of the king’s executioners and who had gone out to execute the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel 2:15 He inquired of Arioch the king’s deputy, “Why is the decree from the king so urgent?” Then Arioch informed Daniel about the matter.

Daniel 2:16 So Daniel went in and requested the king to grant him time, that he might disclose the interpretation to the king.

Daniel 2:17 Then Daniel went to his home and informed his friends Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah of the matter.

Daniel 2:18 He asked them to pray for mercy from the God of heaven concerning this mystery so that he and his friends would not be destroyed along with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel 2:19 Then in a night vision the mystery was revealed to Daniel. So Daniel praised the God of heaven, Daniel 2:20 saying, “Let the name of God be praised forever and ever, for wisdom and power belong to him.

Daniel 2:21 He changes times and seasons, deposing some kings and establishing others. He gives wisdom to the wise; he imparts knowledge to those with understanding;

Daniel 2:22 he reveals deep and hidden things. He knows what is in the darkness, and light resides with him.

Daniel 2:23 O God of my fathers, I acknowledge and glorify you, for you have bestowed wisdom and power on me. Now you have enabled me to understand what I requested from you. For you have enabled me to understand the king’s dilemma.”

Daniel 2:24 Then Daniel went in to see Arioch (whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon). He came and said to him, “Don’t destroy the wise men of Babylon! Escort me to the king, and I will disclose the interpretation to him!”

Daniel 2:25 So Arioch quickly ushered Daniel into the king’s presence, saying to him, “I have found a man from the captives of Judah who can make known the interpretation to the king.”

Daniel 2:26 The king then asked Daniel (whose name was also Belteshazzar), “Are you able to make known to me the dream that I saw, as well as its interpretation?”

Daniel 2:27 Daniel replied to the king, “The mystery that the king is asking about is such that no wise men, astrologers, magicians, or diviners can possibly disclose it to the king.

Daniel 2:28 However, there is a God in heaven who reveals mysteries, and he has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will happen in the times to come. The dream and the visions you had while lying on your bed are as follows.

Daniel 2:29 “As for you, O king, while you were in your bed your thoughts turned to future things. The revealer of mysteries has made known to you what will take place.

Daniel 2:30 As for me, this mystery was revealed to me not because I possess more wisdom than any other living person, but so that the king may understand the interpretation and comprehend the thoughts of your mind.

Daniel 2:31 “You, O king, were watching as a great statue– one of impressive size and extraordinary brightness– was standing before you. Its appearance caused alarm.

Daniel 2:32 As for that statue, its head was of fine gold, its chest and arms were of silver, its belly and thighs were of bronze.

Daniel 2:33 Its legs were of iron; its feet were partly of iron and partly of clay.

Daniel 2:34 You were watching as a stone was cut out, but not by human hands. It struck the statue on its iron and clay feet, breaking them in pieces.

Daniel 2:35 Then the iron, clay, bronze, silver, and gold were broken in pieces without distinction and became like chaff from the summer threshing floors that the wind carries away. Not a trace of them could be found. But the stone that struck the statue became a large mountain that filled the entire earth.

Daniel 2:36 This was the dream. Now we will set forth before the king its interpretation.

Daniel 2:37 "You, O king, are the king of kings. The God of heaven has granted you sovereignty, power, strength, and honor.

Daniel 2:38 Wherever human beings, wild animals, and birds of the sky live– he has given them into your power. He has given you authority over them all. You are the head of gold.

Daniel 2:39 Now after you another kingdom will arise, one inferior to yours. Then a third kingdom, one of bronze, will rule in all the earth.

Daniel 2:40 Then there will be a fourth kingdom, one strong like iron. Just like iron breaks in pieces and shatters everything, and as iron breaks in pieces all of these metals, so it will break in pieces and crush the others.

Daniel 2:41 In that you were seeing feet and toes partly of wet clay and partly of iron, so this will be a divided kingdom. Some of the strength of iron will be in it, for you saw iron mixed with wet clay.

Daniel 2:42 In that the toes of the feet were partly of iron and partly of clay, the latter stages of this kingdom will be partly strong and partly fragile.

Daniel 2:43 And in that you saw iron mixed with wet clay, so people will be mixed with one another without adhering to one another, just as iron does not mix with clay.

Daniel 2:44 In the days of those kings the God of heaven will raise up an everlasting kingdom that will not be destroyed and a kingdom that will not be left to another people. It will break in pieces and bring about the demise of all these kingdoms. But it will stand forever.

Daniel 2:45 You saw that a stone was cut from a mountain, but not by human hands; it smashed the iron, bronze, clay, silver, and gold into pieces. The great God has made known to the king what will occur in the future. The dream is certain, and its interpretation is reliable."

Daniel 2:46 Then King Nebuchadnezzar bowed down with his face to the ground and paid homage to Daniel. He gave orders to offer sacrifice and incense to him.

Daniel 2:47 The king replied to Daniel, “Certainly your God is a God of gods and Lord of kings and revealer of mysteries, for you were able to reveal this mystery!”

Daniel 2:48 Then the king elevated Daniel to high position and bestowed on him many marvelous gifts. He granted him authority over the entire province of Babylon and made him the main prefect over all the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel 2:49 And at Daniel’s request, the king appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the administration of the province of Babylon. Daniel himself served in the king’s court.

Daniel 3:1 King Nebuchadnezzar had a golden statue made. It was ninety feet tall and nine feet wide. He erected it on the plain of Dura in the province of Babylon.

Daniel 3:2 Then King Nebuchadnezzar sent out a summons to assemble the satraps, prefects, governors, counselors, treasurers, judges, magistrates, and all the other authorities of the province to attend the dedication of the statue that he had erected.

Daniel 3:3 So the satraps, prefects, governors, counselors, treasurers, judges, magistrates, and all the other provincial authorities assembled for the dedication of the statue that King Nebuchadnezzar had erected. They were standing in front of the statue that Nebuchadnezzar had erected.

Daniel 3:4 Then the herald made a loud proclamation: “To you, O peoples, nations, and language groups, the following command is given:

Daniel 3:5 When you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, trigon, harp, pipes, and all kinds of music, you must bow down and pay homage to the golden statue that King Nebuchadnezzar has erected.

Daniel 3:6 Whoever does not bow down and pay homage will immediately be thrown into the midst of a furnace of blazing fire!”

Daniel 3:7 Therefore when they all heard the sound of the horn, flute, zither, trigon, harp, pipes, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, nations, and language groups began bowing down and paying homage to the golden statue that King Nebuchadnezzar had erected.

Daniel 3:8 Now at that time certain Chaldeans came forward and brought malicious accusations against the Jews.

Daniel 3:9 They said to King Nebuchadnezzar, “O king, live forever!

Daniel 3:10 You have issued an edict, O king, that everyone must bow down and pay homage to the golden statue when they hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, trigon, harp, pipes, and all kinds of music.

Daniel 3:11 And whoever does not bow down and pay homage must be thrown into the midst of a furnace of blazing fire.

Daniel 3:12 But there are Jewish men whom you appointed over the administration of the province of Babylon– Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego– and these men have not shown proper respect to you, O king. They don't serve your gods and they don't pay homage to the golden statue that you have erected."

Daniel 3:13 Then Nebuchadnezzar in a fit of rage demanded that they bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego before him. So they brought them before the king.

Daniel 3:14 Nebuchadnezzar said to them, "Is it true, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you don't serve my gods and that you don't pay homage to the golden statue that I erected?

Daniel 3:15 Now if you are ready, when you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, trigon, harp, pipes, and all kinds of music, you must bow down and pay homage to the statue that I had made. If you don't pay homage to it, you will immediately be thrown into the midst of the furnace of blazing fire. Now, who is that god who can rescue you from my power?"

Daniel 3:16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego replied to King Nebuchadnezzar, "We do not need to give you a reply concerning this.

Daniel 3:17 If our God whom we are serving exists, he is able to rescue us from the furnace of blazing fire, and he will rescue us, O king, from your power as well.

Daniel 3:18 But if not, let it be known to you, O king, that we don't serve your gods, and we will not pay homage to the golden statue that you have erected."

Daniel 3:19 Then Nebuchadnezzar was filled with rage, and his disposition changed toward Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. He gave orders to heat the furnace seven times hotter than it was normally heated.

Daniel 3:20 He ordered strong soldiers in his army to tie up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego and to throw them into the furnace of blazing fire.

Daniel 3:21 So those men were tied up while still wearing their cloaks, trousers, turbans, and other clothes, and were thrown into the furnace of blazing fire.

Daniel 3:22 But since the king's command was so urgent, and the furnace was so excessively hot, the men who escorted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego were killed by the leaping flames.

Daniel 3:23 But those three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell into the furnace of blazing fire while still securely bound.

Daniel 3:24 Then King Nebuchadnezzar was startled and quickly got up. He said to his ministers, "Wasn't it three men that we tied up and threw into the fire?" They replied to the king, "For sure, O king."

Daniel 3:25 He answered, “But I see four men, untied and walking around in the midst of the fire! No harm has come to them! And the appearance of the fourth is like that of a god!”

Daniel 3:26 Then Nebuchadnezzar approached the door of the furnace of blazing fire. He called out, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, servants of the most high God, come out! Come here!” Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego emerged from the fire.

Daniel 3:27 Once the satraps, prefects, governors, and ministers of the king had gathered around, they saw that those men were physically unharmed by the fire. The hair of their heads was not singed, nor were their trousers damaged. Not even the smell of fire was to be found on them!

Daniel 3:28 Nebuchadnezzar exclaimed, “Praised be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent forth his angel and has rescued his servants who trusted in him, ignoring the edict of the king and giving up their bodies rather than serve or pay homage to any god other than their God!

Daniel 3:29 I hereby decree that any people, nation, or language group that blasphemes the god of Shadrach, Meshach, or Abednego will be dismembered and his home reduced to rubble! For there exists no other god who can deliver in this way.”

Daniel 3:30 Then Nebuchadnezzar promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

Daniel 4:1 “King Nebuchadnezzar, to all peoples, nations, and language groups that live in all the land: Peace and prosperity!

Daniel 4:2 I am delighted to tell you about the signs and wonders that the most high God has done for me.

Daniel 4:3 “How great are his signs! How mighty are his wonders! His kingdom will last forever, and his authority continues from one generation to the next.”

Daniel 4:4 I, Nebuchadnezzar, was relaxing in my home, living luxuriously in my palace.

Daniel 4:5 I saw a dream that frightened me badly. The things I imagined while lying on my bed– these visions of my mind– were terrifying me.

Daniel 4:6 So I issued an order for all the wise men of Babylon to be brought before me so that they could make known to me the interpretation of the dream.

Daniel 4:7 When the magicians, astrologers, wise men, and diviners entered, I recounted the dream for them. But they were unable to make known its interpretation to me.

Daniel 4:8 Later Daniel entered (whose name is Belteshazzar after the name of my god, and in whom there is a spirit of the holy gods). I recounted the dream for him as well,

Daniel 4:9 saying, "Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, in whom I know there to be a spirit of the holy gods and whom no mystery baffles, consider my dream that I saw and set forth its interpretation!

Daniel 4:10 Here are the visions of my mind while I was on my bed. While I was watching, there was a tree in the middle of the land. It was enormously tall.

Daniel 4:11 The tree grew large and strong. Its top reached far into the sky; it could be seen from the borders of all the land.

Daniel 4:12 Its foliage was attractive and its fruit plentiful; on it there was food enough for all. Under it the wild animals used to seek shade, and in its branches the birds of the sky used to nest. All creatures used to feed themselves from it.

Daniel 4:13 While I was watching in my mind's visions on my bed, a holy sentinel came down from heaven.

Daniel 4:14 He called out loudly as follows: 'Chop down the tree and lop off its branches! Strip off its foliage and scatter its fruit! Let the animals flee from under it and the birds from its branches!

Daniel 4:15 But leave its taproot in the ground, with a band of iron and bronze around it surrounded by the grass of the field. Let it become damp with the dew of the sky, and let it live with the animals in the grass of the land.

Daniel 4:16 Let his mind be altered from that of a human being, and let an animal's mind be given to him, and let seven periods of time go by for him.

Daniel 4:17 This announcement is by the decree of the sentinels; this decision is by the pronouncement of the holy ones, so that those who are alive may understand that the Most High has authority over human kingdoms, and he bestows them on whomever he wishes. He establishes over them even the lowliest of human beings.'

Daniel 4:18 "This is the dream that I, King Nebuchadnezzar, saw. Now you, Belteshazzar, declare its interpretation, for none of the wise men in my kingdom are able to make known to me the interpretation. But you can do so, for a spirit of the holy gods is in you."

Daniel 4:19 Then Daniel (whose name is also Belteshazzar) was upset for a brief time; his thoughts were alarming him. The king said, "Belteshazzar, don't let the dream and its interpretation alarm you." But Belteshazzar replied, "Sir, if only the dream were for your enemies and its interpretation applied to your adversaries!

Daniel 4:20 The tree that you saw that grew large and strong, whose top reached to the sky, and which could be seen in all the land, Daniel 4:21 whose foliage was attractive and its fruit plentiful, and from which there was food available for all, under whose branches wild animals used to live, and in whose branches birds of the sky used to nest–

Daniel 4:22 it is you, O king! For you have become great and strong. Your greatness is such that it reaches to heaven, and your authority to the ends of the earth.

Daniel 4:23 As for the king seeing a holy sentinel coming down from heaven and saying, ‘Chop down the tree and destroy it, but leave its taproot in the ground, with a band of iron and bronze around it, surrounded by the grass of the field. Let it become damp with the dew of the sky, and let it live with the wild animals, until seven periods of time go by for him’–

Daniel 4:24 this is the interpretation, O king! It is the decision of the Most High that this has happened to my lord the king.

Daniel 4:25 You will be driven from human society, and you will live with the wild animals. You will be fed grass like oxen, and you will become damp with the dew of the sky. Seven periods of time will pass by for you, before you understand that the Most High is ruler over human kingdoms and gives them to whomever he wishes.

Daniel 4:26 They said to leave the taproot of the tree, for your kingdom will be restored to you when you come to understand that heaven rules.

Daniel 4:27 Therefore, O king, may my advice be pleasing to you. Break away from your sins by doing what is right, and from your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor. Perhaps your prosperity will be prolonged.”

Daniel 4:28 Now all of this happened to King Nebuchadnezzar.

Daniel 4:29 After twelve months, he happened to be walking around on the battlements of the royal palace of Babylon.

Daniel 4:30 The king uttered these words: “Is this not the great Babylon that I have built for a royal residence by my own mighty strength and for my majestic honor?”

Daniel 4:31 While these words were still on the king’s lips, a voice came down from heaven: “It is hereby announced to you, King Nebuchadnezzar, that your kingdom has been removed from you!

Daniel 4:32 You will be driven from human society, and you will live with the wild animals. You will be fed grass like oxen, and seven periods of time will pass by for you before you understand that the Most High is ruler over human kingdoms and gives them to whomever he wishes.”

Daniel 4:33 Now in that very moment this pronouncement about Nebuchadnezzar came true. He was driven from human society, he ate grass like oxen, and his body became damp with the dew of the sky, until his hair became long like an eagle’s feathers, and his nails like a bird’s claws.

Daniel 4:34 But at the end of the appointed time I, Nebuchadnezzar, looked up toward heaven, and my sanity returned to me. I extolled the Most High, and I praised and glorified the one who lives forever. For his authority is an everlasting authority, and his kingdom extends from one generation to the next.

Daniel 4:35 All the inhabitants of the earth are regarded as nothing. He does as he wishes with the army of heaven and with those who inhabit the earth. No one slaps his hand and says to him, ‘What have you done?’

Daniel 4:36 At that time my sanity returned to me. I was restored to the honor of my kingdom, and my splendor returned to me. My ministers and my nobles were seeking me out, and I was reinstated over my kingdom. I became even greater than before.

Daniel 4:37 Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and exalt and glorify the King of heaven, for all his deeds are right and his ways are just. He is able to bring down those who live in pride.

Daniel 5:1 King Belshazzar prepared a great banquet for a thousand of his nobles, and he was drinking wine in front of them all.

Daniel 5:2 While under the influence of the wine, Belshazzar issued an order to bring in the gold and silver vessels– the ones that Nebuchadnezzar his father had confiscated from the temple in Jerusalem– so that the king and his nobles, together with his wives and his concubines, could drink from them.

Daniel 5:3 So they brought the gold and silver vessels that had been confiscated from the temple, the house of God in Jerusalem, and the king and his nobles, together with his wives and concubines, drank from them.

Daniel 5:4 As they drank wine, they praised the gods of gold and silver, bronze, iron, wood, and stone.

Daniel 5:5 At that very moment the fingers of a human hand appeared and wrote on the plaster of the royal palace wall, opposite the lampstand. The king was watching the back of the hand that was writing.

Daniel 5:6 Then all the color drained from the king’s face and he became alarmed. The joints of his hips gave way, and his knees began knocking together.

Daniel 5:7 The king called out loudly to summon the astrologers, wise men, and diviners. The king proclaimed to the wise men of Babylon that anyone who could read this inscription and disclose its interpretation would be clothed in purple and have a golden collar placed on his neck and be third ruler in the kingdom.

Daniel 5:8 So all the king’s wise men came in, but they were unable to read the writing or to make known its interpretation to the king.

Daniel 5:9 Then King Belshazzar was very terrified, and he was visibly shaken. His nobles were completely dumbfounded.

Daniel 5:10 Due to the noise caused by the king and his nobles, the queen mother then entered the banquet room. She said, “O king, live forever! Don’t be alarmed! Don’t be shaken!

Daniel 5:11 There is a man in your kingdom who has within him a spirit of the holy gods. In the days of your father, he proved to have insight, discernment, and wisdom like that of the gods. King Nebuchadnezzar your father appointed him chief of the magicians, astrologers, wise men, and diviners.

Daniel 5:12 Thus there was found in this man Daniel, whom the king renamed Belteshazzar, an extraordinary spirit, knowledge, and skill to interpret dreams, solve riddles, and decipher knotty problems. Now summon Daniel, and he will disclose the interpretation.”

Daniel 5:13 So Daniel was brought in before the king. The king said to Daniel, “Are you that Daniel who is one of the captives of Judah, whom my father the king brought from Judah?

Daniel 5:14 I have heard about you, how there is a spirit of the gods in you, and how you have insight, discernment, and extraordinary wisdom.

Daniel 5:15 Now the wise men and astrologers were brought before me to read this writing and make known to me its interpretation. But they were unable to disclose the interpretation of the message.

Daniel 5:16 However, I have heard that you are able to provide interpretations and to decipher knotty problems. Now if you are able to read this writing and make known to me its interpretation, you will wear purple and have a golden collar around your neck and be third ruler in the kingdom.”

Daniel 5:17 But Daniel replied to the king, “Keep your gifts, and give your rewards to someone else! However, I will read the writing for the king and make known its interpretation.

Daniel 5:18 As for you, O king, the most high God bestowed on your father Nebuchadnezzar a kingdom, greatness, honor, and majesty.

Daniel 5:19 Due to the greatness that he bestowed on him, all peoples, nations, and language groups were trembling with fear before him. He killed whom he wished, he spared whom he wished, he exalted whom he wished, and he brought low whom he wished.

Daniel 5:20 And when his mind became arrogant and his spirit filled with pride, he was deposed from his royal throne and his honor was removed from him.

Daniel 5:21 He was driven from human society, his mind was changed to that of an animal, he lived with the wild donkeys, he was fed grass like oxen, and his body became damp with the dew of the sky, until he came to understand that the most high God rules over human kingdoms, and he appoints over them whomever he wishes.

Daniel 5:22 “But you, his son Belshazzar, have not humbled yourself, although you knew all this.

Daniel 5:23 Instead, you have exalted yourself against the Lord of heaven. You brought before you the vessels from his temple, and you and your nobles, together with your wives and concubines, drank wine from them. You praised the gods of silver, gold, bronze, iron, wood, and stone– gods that cannot see or hear or comprehend! But you have not glorified the God who has in his control your very breath and all your ways!

Daniel 5:24 Therefore the palm of a hand was sent from him, and this writing was inscribed.

Daniel 5:25 “This is the writing that was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEQEL, and PHARSIN.

Daniel 5:26 This is the interpretation of the words: As for mene– God has numbered your kingdom’s days and brought it to an end.

Daniel 5:27 As for teqel– you are weighed on the balances and found to be lacking.

Daniel 5:28 As for peres– your kingdom is divided and given over to the Medes and Persians.”

Daniel 5:29 Then, on Belshazzar’s orders, Daniel was clothed in purple, a golden collar was placed around his neck, and he was proclaimed third ruler in the kingdom.

Daniel 5:30 And in that very night Belshazzar, the Babylonian king, was killed.

Daniel 5:31 So Darius the Mede took control of the kingdom when he was about sixty-two years old.

Daniel 6:1 It seemed like a good idea to Darius to appoint over the kingdom 120 satraps who would be in charge of the entire kingdom.

Daniel 6:2 Over them would be three supervisors, one of whom was Daniel. These satraps were accountable to them, so that the king’s interests might not incur damage.

Daniel 6:3 Now this Daniel was distinguishing himself above the other supervisors and the satraps, for he had an extraordinary spirit. In fact, the king intended to appoint him over the entire kingdom.

Daniel 6:4 Consequently the supervisors and satraps were trying to find some pretext against Daniel in connection with administrative matters. But they were unable to find any such damaging evidence, because he was trustworthy and guilty of no negligence or corruption.

Daniel 6:5 So these men concluded, “We won’t find any pretext against this man Daniel unless it is in connection with the law of his God.”

Daniel 6:6 So these supervisors and satraps came by collusion to the king and said to him, “O King Darius, live forever!

Daniel 6:7 To all the supervisors of the kingdom, the prefects, satraps, counselors, and governors it seemed like a good idea for a royal edict to be issued and an interdict to be enforced. For the next thirty days anyone who prays to any god or human other than you, O king, should be thrown into a den of lions.

Daniel 6:8 Now let the king issue a written interdict so that it cannot be altered, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be changed.

Daniel 6:9 So King Darius issued the written interdict.

Daniel 6:10 When Daniel realized that a written decree had been issued, he entered his home, where the windows in his upper room opened toward Jerusalem. Three times daily he was kneeling and offering prayers and thanks to his God just as he had been accustomed to do previously.

Daniel 6:11 Then those officials who had gone to the king came by collusion and found Daniel praying and asking for help before his God.

Daniel 6:12 So they approached the king and said to him, “Did you not issue an edict to the effect that for the next thirty days anyone who prays to any god or human other than to you, O king, would be thrown into a den of lions?” The king replied, “That is correct, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be changed.”

Daniel 6:13 Then they said to the king, “Daniel, who is one of the captives from Judah, pays no attention to you, O king, or to the edict that you issued. Three times daily he offers his prayer.”

Daniel 6:14 When the king heard this, he was very upset and began thinking about how he might rescue Daniel. Until late afternoon he was struggling to find a way to rescue him.

Daniel 6:15 Then those men came by collusion to the king and said to him, “Recall, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians that no edict or decree that the king issues can be changed.”

Daniel 6:16 So the king gave the order, and Daniel was brought and thrown into a den of lions. The king consoled Daniel by saying, “Your God whom you continually serve will rescue you!”

Daniel 6:17 Then a stone was brought and placed over the opening to the den. The king sealed it with his signet ring and with those of his nobles so that nothing could be changed with regard to Daniel.

Daniel 6:18 Then the king departed to his palace. But he spent the night without eating, and no diversions were brought to him. He was unable to sleep.

Daniel 6:19 In the morning, at the earliest sign of daylight, the king got up and rushed to the lions' den.

Daniel 6:20 As he approached the den, he called out to Daniel in a worried voice, "Daniel, servant of the living God, was your God whom you continually serve able to rescue you from the lions?"

Daniel 6:21 Then Daniel spoke to the king, "O king, live forever!

Daniel 6:22 My God sent his angel and closed the lions' mouths so that they have not harmed me, because I was found to be innocent before him. Nor have I done any harm to you, O king."

Daniel 6:23 Then the king was delighted and gave an order to haul Daniel up from the den. So Daniel was hauled up out of the den. He had no injury of any kind, because he had trusted in his God.

Daniel 6:24 The king gave another order, and those men who had maliciously accused Daniel were brought and thrown into the lions' den–they, their children, and their wives. They did not even reach the bottom of the den before the lions overpowered them and crushed all their bones.

Daniel 6:25 Then King Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations, and language groups who were living in all the land: "Peace and prosperity!

Daniel 6:26 I have issued an edict that throughout all the dominion of my kingdom people are to revere and fear the God of Daniel. "For he is the living God; he endures forever. His kingdom will not be destroyed; his authority is forever.

Daniel 6:27 He rescues and delivers and performs signs and wonders in the heavens and on the earth. He has rescued Daniel from the power of the lions!"

Daniel 6:28 So this Daniel prospered during the reign of Darius and the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

Daniel 7:1 In the first year of King Belshazzar of Babylon, Daniel had a dream filled with visions while he was lying on his bed. Then he wrote down the dream in summary fashion.

Daniel 7:2 Daniel explained: "I was watching in my vision during the night as the four winds of the sky were stirring up the great sea.

Daniel 7:3 Then four large beasts came up from the sea; they were different from one another.

Daniel 7:4 "The first one was like a lion with eagles' wings. As I watched, its wings were pulled off and it was lifted up from the ground. It was made to stand on two feet like a human being, and a human mind was given to it.

Daniel 7:5 “Then a second beast appeared, like a bear. It was raised up on one side, and there were three ribs in its mouth between its teeth. It was told, ‘Get up and devour much flesh!’

Daniel 7:6 “After these things, as I was watching, another beast like a leopard appeared, with four bird-like wings on its back. This beast had four heads, and ruling authority was given to it.

Daniel 7:7 “After these things, as I was watching in the night visions a fourth beast appeared– one dreadful, terrible, and very strong. It had two large rows of iron teeth. It devoured and crushed, and anything that was left it trampled with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that came before it, and it had ten horns.

Daniel 7:8 “As I was contemplating the horns, another horn– a small one– came up between them, and three of the former horns were torn out by the roots to make room for it. This horn had eyes resembling human eyes and a mouth speaking arrogant things.

Daniel 7:9 “While I was watching, thrones were set up, and the Ancient of Days took his seat. His attire was white like snow; the hair of his head was like lamb’s wool. His throne was ablaze with fire and its wheels were all aflame.

Daniel 7:10 A river of fire was streaming forth and proceeding from his presence. Many thousands were ministering to him; Many tens of thousands stood ready to serve him. The court convened and the books were opened.

Daniel 7:11 “Then I kept on watching because of the arrogant words of the horn that was speaking. I was watching until the beast was killed and its body destroyed and thrown into the flaming fire.

Daniel 7:12 As for the rest of the beasts, their ruling authority had already been removed, though they were permitted to go on living for a time and a season.

Daniel 7:13 I was watching in the night visions, “And with the clouds of the sky one like a son of man was approaching. He went up to the Ancient of Days and was escorted before him.

Daniel 7:14 To him was given ruling authority, honor, and sovereignty. All peoples, nations, and language groups were serving him. His authority is eternal and will not pass away. His kingdom will not be destroyed.

Daniel 7:15 “As for me, Daniel, my spirit was distressed, and the visions of my mind were alarming me.

Daniel 7:16 I approached one of those standing nearby and asked him about the meaning of all this. So he spoke with me and revealed to me the interpretation of the vision:

Daniel 7:17 ‘These large beasts, which are four in number, represent four kings who will arise from the earth.

Daniel 7:18 The holy ones of the Most High will receive the kingdom and will take possession of the kingdom forever and ever.’

Daniel 7:19 “Then I wanted to know the meaning of the fourth beast, which was different from all the others. It was very dreadful, with two rows of iron teeth and bronze claws, and it devoured, crushed, and trampled anything that was left with its feet.

Daniel 7:20 I also wanted to know the meaning of the ten horns on its head, and of that other horn which came up and before which three others fell. This was the horn that had eyes and a mouth speaking arrogant things, whose appearance was more formidable than the others.

Daniel 7:21 While I was watching, that horn began to wage war against the holy ones and was defeating them,

Daniel 7:22 until the Ancient of Days arrived and judgment was rendered in favor of the holy ones of the Most High. Then the time came for the holy ones to take possession of the kingdom.

Daniel 7:23 “This is what he told me: ‘The fourth beast means that there will be a fourth kingdom on earth that will differ from all the other kingdoms. It will devour all the earth and will trample and crush it.

Daniel 7:24 The ten horns mean that ten kings will arise from that kingdom. Another king will arise after them, but he will be different from the earlier ones. He will humiliate three kings.

Daniel 7:25 He will speak words against the Most High. He will harass the holy ones of the Most High continually. His intention will be to change times established by law. They will be delivered into his hand For a time, times, and half a time.

Daniel 7:26 But the court will convene, and his ruling authority will be removed– destroyed and abolished forever!

Daniel 7:27 Then the kingdom, authority, and greatness of the kingdoms under all of heaven will be delivered to the people of the holy ones of the Most High. His kingdom is an eternal kingdom; all authorities will serve him and obey him.’

Daniel 7:28 “This is the conclusion of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my thoughts troubled me greatly, and the color drained from my face. But I kept the matter to myself.”

Daniel 8:1 In the third year of King Belshazzar’s reign, a vision appeared to me, Daniel, after the one that had appeared to me previously.

Daniel 8:2 In this vision I saw myself in Susa the citadel, which is located in the province of Elam. In the vision I saw myself at the Ulai Canal.

Daniel 8:3 I looked up and saw a ram with two horns standing at the canal. Its two horns were both long, but one was longer than the other. The longer one was coming up after the shorter one.

Daniel 8:4 I saw that the ram was butting westward, northward, and southward. No animal was able to stand before it, and there was none who could deliver from its power. It did as it pleased and acted arrogantly.

Daniel 8:5 While I was contemplating all this, a male goat was coming from the west over the surface of all the land without touching the ground. This goat had a conspicuous horn between its eyes.

Daniel 8:6 It came to the two-horned ram that I had seen standing beside the canal and rushed against it with raging strength.

Daniel 8:7 I saw it approaching the ram. It went into a fit of rage against the ram and struck it and broke off its two horns. The ram had no ability to resist it. The goat hurled the ram to the ground and trampled it. No one could deliver the ram from its power.

Daniel 8:8 The male goat acted even more arrogantly. But no sooner had the large horn become strong than it was broken, and there arose four conspicuous horns in its place, extending toward the four winds of the sky.

Daniel 8:9 From one of them came a small horn. But it grew to be very big, toward the south and the east and toward the beautiful land.

Daniel 8:10 It grew so big it reached the army of heaven, and it brought about the fall of some of the army and some of the stars to the ground, where it trampled them.

Daniel 8:11 It also acted arrogantly against the Prince of the army, from whom the daily sacrifice was removed and whose sanctuary was thrown down.

Daniel 8:12 The army was given over, along with the daily sacrifice, in the course of his sinful rebellion. It hurled truth to the ground and enjoyed success.

Daniel 8:13 Then I heard a holy one speaking. Another holy one said to the one who was speaking, “To what period of time does the vision pertain– this vision concerning the daily sacrifice and the destructive act of rebellion and the giving over of both the sanctuary and army to be trampled?”

Daniel 8:14 He said to me, “To 2,300 evenings and mornings; then the sanctuary will be put right again.”

Daniel 8:15 While I, Daniel, was watching the vision, I sought to understand it. Now one who appeared to be a man was standing before me.

Daniel 8:16 Then I heard a human voice coming from between the banks of the Ulai. It called out, “Gabriel, enable this person to understand the vision.”

Daniel 8:17 So he approached the place where I was standing. As he came, I felt terrified and fell flat on the ground. Then he said to me, “Understand, son of man, that the vision pertains to the time of the end.”

Daniel 8:18 As he spoke with me, I fell into a trance with my face to the ground. But he touched me and stood me upright.

Daniel 8:19 Then he said, “I am going to inform you about what will happen in the latter time of wrath, for the vision pertains to the appointed time of the end.

Daniel 8:20 The ram that you saw with the two horns stands for the kings of Media and Persia.

Daniel 8:21 The male goat is the king of Greece, and the large horn between its eyes is the first king.

Daniel 8:22 The horn that was broken and in whose place there arose four others stands for four kingdoms that will arise from his nation, though they will not have his strength.

Daniel 8:23 Toward the end of their rule, when rebellious acts are complete, a rash and deceitful king will arise.

Daniel 8:24 His power will be great, but it will not be by his strength alone. He will cause terrible destruction. He will be successful in what he undertakes. He will destroy powerful people and the people of the holy ones.

Daniel 8:25 By his treachery he will succeed through deceit. He will have an arrogant attitude, and he will destroy many who are unaware of his schemes. He will rise up against the Prince of princes, yet he will be broken apart– but not by human agency.

Daniel 8:26 The vision of the evenings and mornings that was told to you is correct. But you should seal up the vision, for it refers to a time many days from now.”

Daniel 8:27 I, Daniel, was exhausted and sick for days. Then I got up and again carried out the king’s business. But I was astonished at the vision, and there was no one to explain it.

Daniel 9:1 In the first year of Darius son of Ahasuerus, who was of Median descent and who had been appointed king over the Babylonian empire–

Daniel 9:2 in the first year of his reign I, Daniel, came to understand from the sacred books that, according to the word of the LORD disclosed to the prophet Jeremiah, the years for the fulfilling of the desolation of Jerusalem were seventy in number.

Daniel 9:3 So I turned my attention to the Lord God to implore him by prayer and requests, with fasting, sackcloth, and ashes.

Daniel 9:4 I prayed to the LORD my God, confessing in this way: “O Lord, great and awesome God who is faithful to his covenant with those who love him and keep his commandments, Daniel 9:5 we have sinned! We have done what is wrong and wicked; we have rebelled by turning away from your commandments and standards.

Daniel 9:6 We have not paid attention to your servants the prophets, who spoke by your authority to our kings, our leaders, and our ancestors, and to all the inhabitants of the land as well.

Daniel 9:7 "You are righteous, O Lord, but we are humiliated this day– the people of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem and all Israel, both near and far away in all the countries in which you have scattered them, because they have behaved unfaithfully toward you.

Daniel 9:8 O LORD, we have been humiliated– our kings, our leaders, and our ancestors– because we have sinned against you.

Daniel 9:9 Yet the Lord our God is compassionate and forgiving, even though we have rebelled against him.

Daniel 9:10 We have not obeyed the LORD our God by living according to his laws that he set before us through his servants the prophets.

Daniel 9:11 "All Israel has broken your law and turned away by not obeying you. Therefore you have poured out on us the judgment solemnly threatened in the law of Moses the servant of God, for we have sinned against you.

Daniel 9:12 He has carried out his threats against us and our rulers who were over us by bringing great calamity on us– what has happened to Jerusalem has never been equaled under all heaven!

Daniel 9:13 Just as it is written in the law of Moses, so all this calamity has come on us. Still we have not tried to pacify the LORD our God by turning back from our sin and by seeking wisdom from your reliable moral standards.

Daniel 9:14 The LORD was mindful of the calamity, and he brought it on us. For the LORD our God is just in all he has done, and we have not obeyed him.

Daniel 9:15 "Now, O Lord our God, who brought your people out of the land of Egypt with great power and made a name for yourself that is remembered to this day– we have sinned and behaved wickedly.

Daniel 9:16 O Lord, according to all your justice, please turn your raging anger away from your city Jerusalem, your holy mountain. For due to our sins and the iniquities of our ancestors, Jerusalem and your people are mocked by all our neighbors.

Daniel 9:17 "So now, our God, accept the prayer and requests of your servant, and show favor to your devastated sanctuary for your own sake.

Daniel 9:18 Listen attentively, my God, and hear! Open your eyes and look on our desolated ruins and the city called by your name. For it is not because of our own righteous deeds that we are praying to you, but because your compassion is abundant.

Daniel 9:19 O Lord, hear! O Lord, forgive! O Lord, pay attention, and act! Don't delay, for your own sake, O my God! For your city and your people are called by your name."

Daniel 9:20 While I was still speaking and praying, confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel and presenting my request before the LORD my God concerning his holy mountain–

Daniel 9:21 yes, while I was still praying, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen previously in a vision, was approaching me in my state of extreme weariness, around the time of the evening offering.

Daniel 9:22 He spoke with me, instructing me as follows: "Daniel, I have now come to impart understanding to you.

Daniel 9:23 At the beginning of your requests a message went out, and I have come to convey it to you, for you are of great value in God's sight. Therefore consider the message and understand the vision:

Daniel 9:24 "Seventy weeks have been determined concerning your people and your holy city to put an end to rebellion, to bring sin to completion, to atone for iniquity, to bring in perpetual righteousness, to seal up the prophetic vision, and to anoint a most holy place.

Daniel 9:25 So know and understand: From the issuing of the command to restore and rebuild Jerusalem until an anointed one, a prince arrives, there will be a period of seven weeks and sixty-two weeks. It will again be built, with plaza and moat, but in distressful times.

Daniel 9:26 Now after the sixty-two weeks, an anointed one will be cut off and have nothing. As for the city and the sanctuary, the people of the coming prince will destroy them. But his end will come speedily like a flood. Until the end of the war that has been decreed there will be destruction.

Daniel 9:27 He will confirm a covenant with many for one week. But in the middle of that week he will bring sacrifices and offerings to a halt. On the wing of abominations will come one who destroys, until the decreed end is poured out on the one who destroys."

Daniel 10:1 In the third year of King Cyrus of Persia a message was revealed to Daniel (who was also called Belteshazzar). This message was true and concerned a great war. He understood the message and gained insight by the vision.

Daniel 10:2 In those days I, Daniel, was mourning for three whole weeks.

Daniel 10:3 I ate no choice food; no meat or wine came to my lips, nor did I anoint myself with oil until the end of those three weeks.

Daniel 10:4 On the twenty-fourth day of the first month I was beside the great river, the Tigris.

Daniel 10:5 I looked up and saw a man clothed in linen; around his waist was a belt made of gold from Upaz.

Daniel 10:6 His body resembled yellow jasper, and his face had an appearance like lightning. His eyes were like blazing torches; his arms and feet had the gleam of polished bronze. His voice thundered forth like the sound of a large crowd.

Daniel 10:7 Only I, Daniel, saw the vision; the men who were with me did not see it. On the contrary, they were overcome with fright and ran away to hide.

Daniel 10:8 I alone was left to see this great vision. My strength drained from me, and my vigor disappeared; I was without energy.

Daniel 10:9 I listened to his voice, and as I did so I fell into a trance-like sleep with my face to the ground.

Daniel 10:10 Then a hand touched me and set me on my hands and knees.

Daniel 10:11 He said to me, "Daniel, you are of great value. Understand the words that I am about to speak to you. So stand up, for I have now been sent to you." When he said this to me, I stood up shaking.

Daniel 10:12 Then he said to me, "Don't be afraid, Daniel, for from the very first day you applied your mind to understand and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard. I have come in response to your words.

Daniel 10:13 However, the prince of the kingdom of Persia was opposing me for twenty-one days. But Michael, one of the leading princes, came to help me, because I was left there with the kings of Persia.

Daniel 10:14 Now I have come to help you understand what will happen to your people in the latter days, for the vision pertains to future days."

Daniel 10:15 While he was saying this to me, I was flat on the ground and unable to speak.

Daniel 10:16 Then one who appeared to be a human being was touching my lips. I opened my mouth and started to speak, saying to the one who was standing before me, "Sir, due to the vision, anxiety has gripped me and I have no strength.

Daniel 10:17 How, sir, am I able to speak with you? My strength is gone, and I am breathless."

Daniel 10:18 Then the one who appeared to be a human being touched me again and strengthened me.

Daniel 10:19 He said to me, "Don't be afraid, you who are valued. Peace be to you! Be strong! Be really strong!" When he spoke to me, I was strengthened. I said, "Sir, you may speak now, for you have given me strength."

Daniel 10:20 He said, “Do you know why I have come to you? Now I am about to return to engage in battle with the prince of Persia. When I go, the prince of Greece is coming.

Daniel 10:21 However, I will first tell you what is written in a dependable book. (There is no one who strengthens me against these princes, except Michael your prince.

Daniel 11:1 And in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood to strengthen him and to provide protection for him.)

Daniel 11:2 Now I will tell you the truth. “Three more kings will arise for Persia. Then a fourth king will be unusually rich, more so than all who preceded him. When he has amassed power through his riches, he will stir up everyone against the kingdom of Greece.

Daniel 11:3 Then a powerful king will arise, exercising great authority and doing as he pleases.

Daniel 11:4 Shortly after his rise to power, his kingdom will be broken up and distributed toward the four winds of the sky– but not to his posterity or with the authority he exercised, for his kingdom will be uprooted and distributed to others besides these.

Daniel 11:5 “Then the king of the south and one of his subordinates will grow strong. His subordinate will resist him and will rule a kingdom greater than his.

Daniel 11:6 After some years have passed, they will form an alliance. Then the daughter of the king of the south will come to the king of the north to make an agreement, but she will not retain her power, nor will he continue in his strength. She, together with the one who brought her, her child, and her benefactor will all be delivered over at that time.

Daniel 11:7 “There will arise in his place one from her family line who will come against their army and will enter the stronghold of the king of the north and will move against them successfully.

Daniel 11:8 He will also take their gods into captivity to Egypt, along with their cast images and prized utensils of silver and gold. Then he will withdraw for some years from the king of the north.

Daniel 11:9 Then the king of the north will advance against the empire of the king of the south, but will withdraw to his own land.

Daniel 11:10 His sons will wage war, mustering a large army which will advance like an overflowing river and carrying the battle all the way to the enemy’s fortress.

Daniel 11:11 “Then the king of the south will be enraged and will march out to fight against the king of the north, who will also muster a large army, but that army will be delivered into his hand.

Daniel 11:12 When the army is taken away, the king of the south will become arrogant. He will be responsible for the death of thousands and thousands of people, but he will not continue to prevail.

Daniel 11:13 For the king of the north will again muster an army, one larger than before. At the end of some years he will advance with a huge army and enormous supplies.

Daniel 11:14 “In those times many will oppose the king of the south. Those who are violent among your own people will rise up in confirmation of the vision, but they will falter.

Daniel 11:15 Then the king of the north will advance and will build siege mounds and capture a well-fortified city. The forces of the south will not prevail, not even his finest contingents. They will have no strength to prevail.

Daniel 11:16 The one advancing against him will do as he pleases, and no one will be able to stand before him. He will prevail in the beautiful land, and its annihilation will be within his power.

Daniel 11:17 His intention will be to come with the strength of his entire kingdom, and he will form alliances. He will give the king of the south a daughter in marriage in order to destroy the kingdom, but it will not turn out to his advantage.

Daniel 11:18 Then he will turn his attention to the coastal regions and will capture many of them. But a commander will bring his shameful conduct to a halt; in addition, he will make him pay for his shameful conduct.

Daniel 11:19 He will then turn his attention to the fortresses of his own land, but he will stumble and fall, not to be found again.

Daniel 11:20 There will arise after him one who will send out an exactor of tribute to enhance the splendor of the kingdom, but after a few days he will be destroyed, though not in anger or battle.

Daniel 11:21 “Then there will arise in his place a despicable person to whom the royal honor has not been rightfully conferred. He will come on the scene in a time of prosperity and will seize the kingdom through deceit.

Daniel 11:22 Armies will be suddenly swept away in defeat before him; both they and a covenant leader will be destroyed.

Daniel 11:23 After entering into an alliance with him, he will behave treacherously; he will ascend to power with only a small force.

Daniel 11:24 In a time of prosperity for the most productive areas of the province he will come and accomplish what neither his fathers nor their fathers accomplished. He will distribute loot, spoils, and property to his followers, and he will devise plans against fortified cities, but not for long.

Daniel 11:25 He will rouse his strength and enthusiasm against the king of the south with a large army. The king of the south will wage war with a large and very powerful army, but he will not be able to prevail because of the plans devised against him.

Daniel 11:26 Those who share the king’s fine food will attempt to destroy him, and his army will be swept away; many will be killed in battle.

Daniel 11:27 These two kings, their minds filled with evil intentions, will trade lies with one another at the same table. But it will not succeed, for there is still an end at the appointed time.

Daniel 11:28 Then the king of the north will return to his own land with much property. His mind will be set against the holy covenant. He will take action, and then return to his own land.

Daniel 11:29 At an appointed time he will again invade the south, but this latter visit will not turn out the way the former one did.

Daniel 11:30 The ships of Kittim will come against him, leaving him disheartened. He will turn back and direct his indignation against the holy covenant. He will return and honor those who forsake the holy covenant.

Daniel 11:31 His forces will rise up and profane the fortified sanctuary, stopping the daily sacrifice. In its place they will set up the abomination that causes desolation.

Daniel 11:32 Then with smooth words he will defile those who have rejected the covenant. But the people who are loyal to their God will act valiantly.

Daniel 11:33 These who are wise among the people will teach the masses. However, they will fall by the sword and by the flame, and they will be imprisoned and plundered for some time.

Daniel 11:34 When they stumble, they will be granted some help. But many will unite with them deceitfully.

Daniel 11:35 Even some of the wise will stumble, resulting in their refinement, purification, and cleansing until the time of the end, for it is still for the appointed time.

Daniel 11:36 “Then the king will do as he pleases. He will exalt and magnify himself above every deity and he will utter presumptuous things against the God of gods. He will succeed until the time of wrath is completed, for what has been decreed must occur.

Daniel 11:37 He will not respect the gods of his fathers– not even the god loved by women. He will not respect any god; he will elevate himself above them all.

Daniel 11:38 What he will honor is a god of fortresses– a god his fathers did not acknowledge he will honor with gold, silver, valuable stones, and treasured commodities.

Daniel 11:39 He will attack mighty fortresses, aided by a foreign deity. To those who recognize him he will grant considerable honor. He will place them in authority over many people, and he will parcel out land for a price.

Daniel 11:40 “At the time of the end the king of the south will attack him. Then the king of the north will storm against him with chariots, horsemen, and a large armada of ships. He will invade lands, passing through them like an overflowing river.

Daniel 11:41 Then he will enter the beautiful land. Many will fall, but these will escape: Edom, Moab, and the Ammonite leadership.

Daniel 11:42 He will extend his power against other lands; the land of Egypt will not escape.

Daniel 11:43 He will have control over the hidden stores of gold and silver, as well as all the treasures of Egypt. Libyans and Ethiopians will submit to him.

Daniel 11:44 But reports will trouble him from the east and north, and he will set out in a tremendous rage to destroy and wipe out many.

Daniel 11:45 He will pitch his royal tents between the seas toward the beautiful holy mountain. But he will come to his end, with no one to help him.

Daniel 12:1 “At that time Michael, the great prince who watches over your people, will arise. There will be a time of distress unlike any other from the nation’s beginning up to that time. But at that time your own people, all those whose names are found written in the book, will escape.

Daniel 12:2 Many of those who sleep in the dusty ground will awake– some to everlasting life, and others to shame and everlasting abhorrence.

Daniel 12:3 But the wise will shine like the brightness of the heavenly expanse. And those bringing many to righteousness will be like the stars forever and ever.

Daniel 12:4 “But you, Daniel, close up these words and seal the book until the time of the end. Many will dash about, and knowledge will increase.”

Daniel 12:5 I, Daniel, watched as two others stood there, one on each side of the river.

Daniel 12:6 One said to the man clothed in linen who was above the waters of the river, “When will the end of these wondrous events occur?”

Daniel 12:7 Then I heard the man clothed in linen who was over the waters of the river as he raised both his right and left hands to the sky and made an oath by the one who lives forever: “It is for a time, times, and half a time. Then, when the power of the one who shatters the holy people has been exhausted, all these things will be finished.”

Daniel 12:8 I heard, but I did not understand. So I said, “Sir, what will happen after these things?”

Daniel 12:9 He said, “Go, Daniel. For these matters are closed and sealed until the time of the end.

Daniel 12:10 Many will be purified, made clean, and refined, but the wicked will go on being wicked. None of the wicked will understand, though the wise will understand.

Daniel 12:11 From the time that the daily sacrifice is removed and the abomination that causes desolation is set in place, there are 1,290 days.

Daniel 12:12 Blessed is the one who waits and attains to the 1,335 days.

Daniel 12:13 But you should go your way until the end. You will rest and then at the end of the days you will arise to receive what you have been allotted."

Hosea

1:1 This is the word of the LORD which was revealed to Hosea son of Beeri during the time when Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah ruled Judah, and during the time when Jeroboam son of Joash ruled Israel.

Hosea 1:2 When the LORD first spoke through Hosea, he said to him, "Go marry a prostitute who will bear illegitimate children conceived through prostitution, because the nation continually commits spiritual prostitution by turning away from the LORD."

Hosea 1:3 So Hosea married Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim. Then she conceived and gave birth to a son for him.

Hosea 1:4 Then the LORD said to Hosea, "Name him 'Jezreel,' because in a little while I will punish the dynasty of Jehu on account of the bloodshed in the valley of Jezreel, and I will put an end to the kingdom of Israel.

Hosea 1:5 At that time, I will destroy the military power of Israel in the valley of Jezreel."

Hosea 1:6 She conceived again and gave birth to a daughter. Then the LORD said to him, "Name her 'No Pity' (Lo-Ruhamah) because I will no longer have pity on the nation of Israel. For I will certainly not forgive their guilt.

Hosea 1:7 But I will have pity on the nation of Judah. I will deliver them by the LORD their God; I will not deliver them by the warrior's bow, by sword, by military victory, by chariot horses, or by chariots."

Hosea 1:8 When she had weaned 'No Pity' (Lo-Ruhamah) she conceived again and gave birth to another son.

Hosea 1:9 Then the LORD said: "Name him 'Not My People' (Lo-Ammi), because you are not my people and I am not your God."

Hosea 1:10 However, in the future the number of the people of Israel will be like the sand of the sea which can be neither measured nor numbered. Although it was said to them, "You are not my people," it will be said to them, "You are children of the living God!"

Hosea 1:11 Then the people of Judah and the people of Israel will be gathered together. They will appoint for themselves one leader, and will flourish in the land. Certainly, the day of Jezreel will be great!

Hosea 2:1 Then you will call your brother, “My People” (Ammi)! You will call your sister, “Pity” (Ruhamah)!

Hosea 2:2 Plead earnestly with your mother (for she is not my wife, and I am not her husband), so that she might put an end to her adulterous lifestyle, and turn away from her sexually immoral behavior.

Hosea 2:3 Otherwise, I will strip her naked, and expose her like she was when she was born. I will turn her land into a wilderness and make her country a parched land, so that I might kill her with thirst.

Hosea 2:4 I will have no pity on her children, because they are children conceived in adultery.

Hosea 2:5 For their mother has committed adultery; she who conceived them has acted shamefully. For she said, “I will seek out my lovers; they are the ones who give me my bread and my water, my wool, my flax, my olive oil, and my wine.

Hosea 2:6 Therefore, I will soon fence her in with thorns; I will wall her in so that she cannot find her way.

Hosea 2:7 Then she will pursue her lovers, but she will not catch them; she will seek them, but she will not find them. Then she will say, “I will go back to my husband, because I was better off then than I am now.”

Hosea 2:8 Yet until now she has refused to acknowledge that I was the one who gave her the grain, the new wine, and the olive oil; and that it was I who lavished on her the silver and gold– which they used in worshiping Baal!

Hosea 2:9 Therefore, I will take back my grain during the harvest time and my new wine when it ripens; I will take away my wool and my flax which I had provided in order to clothe her.

Hosea 2:10 Soon I will expose her lewd nakedness in front of her lovers, and no one will be able to rescue her from me!

Hosea 2:11 I will put an end to all her celebration: her annual religious festivals, monthly new moon celebrations, and weekly Sabbath festivities– all her appointed festivals.

Hosea 2:12 I will destroy her vines and fig trees, about which she said, “These are my wages for prostitution that my lovers gave to me!” I will turn her cultivated vines and fig trees into an uncultivated thicket, so that wild animals will devour them.

Hosea 2:13 “I will punish her for the festival days when she burned incense to the Baal idols; she adorned herself with earrings and jewelry, and went after her lovers, but she forgot me!” says the LORD.

Hosea 2:14 However, in the future I will allure her; I will lead her back into the wilderness, and speak tenderly to her.

Hosea 2:15 From there I will give back her vineyards to her, and turn the “Valley of Trouble” into an “Opportunity for Hope.” There she will sing as she did when she was young, when she came up from the land of Egypt.

Hosea 2:16 “At that time,” declares the LORD, “you will call, ‘My husband’; you will never again call me, ‘My master.’

Hosea 2:17 For I will remove the names of the Baal idols from your lips, so that you will never again utter their names!”

Hosea 2:18 “At that time I will make a covenant for them with the wild animals, the birds of the air, and the creatures that crawl on the ground. I will abolish the warrior’s bow and sword– that is, every weapon of warfare– from the land, and I will allow them to live securely.”

Hosea 2:19 I will commit myself to you forever; I will commit myself to you in righteousness and justice, in steadfast love and tender compassion.

Hosea 2:20 I will commit myself to you in faithfulness; then you will acknowledge the LORD.”

Hosea 2:21 “At that time, I will willingly respond,” declares the LORD. “I will respond to the sky, and the sky will respond to the ground;

Hosea 2:22 then the ground will respond to the grain, the new wine, and the olive oil; and they will respond to ‘God Plants’ (Jezreel)!

Hosea 2:23 Then I will plant her as my own in the land. I will have pity on ‘No Pity’ (Lo-Ruhamah). I will say to ‘Not My People’ (Lo-Ammi), ‘You are my people!’ And he will say, ‘You are my God!’“

Hosea 3:1 The LORD said to me, “Go, show love to your wife again, even though she loves another man and continually commits adultery. Likewise, the LORD loves the Israelites although they turn to other gods and love to offer raisin cakes to idols.”

Hosea 3:2 So I paid fifteen shekels of silver and about seven bushels of barley to purchase her.

Hosea 3:3 Then I told her, “You must live with me many days; you must not commit adultery or have sexual intercourse with another man, and I also will wait for you.”

Hosea 3:4 For the Israelites must live many days without a king or prince, without sacrifice or sacred fertility pillar, without ephod or idols.

Hosea 3:5 Afterward, the Israelites will turn and seek the LORD their God and their Davidic king. Then they will submit to the LORD in fear and receive his blessings in the future.

Hosea 4:1 Hear the word of the LORD, you Israelites! For the LORD has a covenant lawsuit against the people of Israel. For there is neither faithfulness nor loyalty in the land, nor do they acknowledge God.

Hosea 4:2 There is only cursing, lying, murder, stealing, and adultery. They resort to violence and bloodshed.

Hosea 4:3 Therefore the land will mourn, and all its inhabitants will perish. The wild animals, the birds of the sky, and even the fish in the sea will perish.

Hosea 4:4 Do not let anyone accuse or contend against anyone else: for my case is against you priests!

Hosea 4:5 You stumble day and night, and the false prophets stumble with you; You have destroyed your own people!

Hosea 4:6 You have destroyed my people by failing to acknowledge me! Because you refuse to acknowledge me, I will reject you as my priests. Because you reject the law of your God, I will reject your descendants.

Hosea 4:7 The more the priests increased in numbers, the more they rebelled against me. They have turned their glorious calling into a shameful disgrace!

Hosea 4:8 They feed on the sin offerings of my people; their appetites long for their iniquity!

Hosea 4:9 I will deal with the people and priests together: I will punish them both for their ways, and I will repay them for their deeds.

Hosea 4:10 They will eat, but not be satisfied; they will engage in prostitution, but not increase in numbers; because they have abandoned the LORD by pursuing other gods.

Hosea 4:11 Old and new wine take away the understanding of my people.

Hosea 4:12 They consult their wooden idols, and their diviner’s staff answers with an oracle. The wind of prostitution blows them astray; they commit spiritual adultery against their God.

Hosea 4:13 They sacrifice on the mountaintops, and burn offerings on the hills; they sacrifice under oak, poplar, and terebinth, because their shade is so pleasant. As a result, your daughters have become cult prostitutes, and your daughters-in-law commit adultery!

Hosea 4:14 I will not punish your daughters when they commit prostitution, nor your daughters-in-law when they commit adultery. For the men consort with harlots, they sacrifice with temple prostitutes. It is true: “A people that lacks understanding will come to ruin!”

Hosea 4:15 Although you, O Israel, commit adultery, do not let Judah become guilty! Do not journey to Gilgal! Do not go up to Beth Aven! Do not swear, “As surely as the LORD lives!”

Hosea 4:16 Israel has rebelled like a stubborn heifer! Soon the LORD will put them out to pasture like a lamb in a broad field!

Hosea 4:17 Ephraim has attached himself to idols; Do not go near him!
